

What does it mean to be a host facility for a Classical Conversations community?

BENEFITS OF PARTNERING

- Provide your congregation's families with another educational option
- Exposure to new families in your community
- Bring additional young life to your church and help parents make connections (education and discipleship go hand-in-hand)
- Classical Conversations members work to leave your facility as clean or cleaner when they leave
- Forming a relationship that encourages resource sharing
- Opportunities for service projects between the church and Classical Conversations communities

WHAT TO EXPECT

FROM CLASSICAL CONVERSATIONS' MEMBERS

- Clear point of contact or leader for events and maintenance
- Classical Conversations' Mission Statement should be compatible with the church's Mission Statement
- Classical Conversations will abide by the church's policies regarding the facility and will respect your building and facility grounds

FROM THE CHURCH

- Clear policies regarding the usage of various rooms etc, in the facility's building and surrounding grounds
- Clear agreed upon dates and times for use
- Clear point of contact or leader for events and access to facility at agreed upon times, including use of other large group areas such as nursery, fellowship hall, gym, kitchen, etc.

LEGAL TALK

By making your facilities available to Classical Conversations, you are helping to expand Christian education.

- Some tax assessors have specifically determined that the Christian-based education offered through homeschool communities using Classical Conversations' curriculum constitutes worship, which supports the religious purpose associated with the use of church property.
- The mission of Classical Conversations' homeschool communities is to continue to foster Christian-based education, which in turn promotes the beliefs and objectives of the church. Therefore by using the church property, Classical Conversations' homeschool communities are able to further the primary use of each church property.

Classical Conversations® is a classical education resource used by homeschoolers in all 50 states and more than 45 countries worldwide. We now have over 109,800 students enrolled in our tutoring programs, which are provided by almost 2,114 Classical Conversations communities. We provide resources, guidance and a community for a Christian home school curriculum using classical education in three developmental stages: grammar, dialectic and rhetoric.

Classical Conversations desires to make this a good experience for both the church and the families involved.

“We have been greatly blessed by the presence of your families in our building over the past several months. They are energetic, enthusiastic, and a pleasant addition to our days here. We are encouraged to see families so dedicated to Christ's principles and to a proper education for their children.”

— Chris Schaefer, Minister
Randolph Church of Christ, Texas
