

Call 311 To Report Animal Cruelty in New York City

Virtually all puppies sold in pet stores come from Puppy Mills.

What are Puppy Mills? Crude, outdoor breeding farms that mass produce puppies for sale to pet stores. Puppy Mills typically confine large numbers of dogs in rows of crudely constructed, overcrowded pens. The floors are constructed of wiring to allow feces and urine to drop to the ground below. Wire cages cause discomfort and injure to the animal's paws. Puppy Mill dogs are considered nothing more than breeding stock, mother dogs are forced to have litters at an early age, and kept continually pregnant. Mother dogs are killed when they're no longer able to produce a profitable litter size. Puppy Boutique purchases their dogs from Puppy Mills located in rural Missouri.
