Star Jumper mission Orion parameters Rules of Engagement. Federation Family member unknown race/ female. Adult (?) apparently location is a water World resort for dignitaries Alurra{?} bluish flesh tone 6" 7'... jet black hair. Lucid blue eyes as though liquid blue. Lithfully athletic . First contact was on approaching location from time jump to location. Looks to be high rise. Clouds engulfing outside circumference of towers. Observation included a tall very tall red headed individual/species moving outside on twenty something levels up (?) distance balconies where enshrouded in clouds (?)What else could that be...? The personage gave This Vibration stealthily looking to gain entrance from any open window.

Now hopefully what is being shared is not just fanciful imaginings. This is an actual encounter at least as Eye fight to remember this... and the more that is written, the more details are expressed.

The target is not expressly made evident. As there are hundreds, thousands of people milling about this ' water resort or ...(?)

Heading towards the lower easement to gain entrance to the facility, lobby(?) without impedance. Then eye notice that this vibration is just that.

Without a visible body. Moved to gain the upper floors and just floated up or down not sure since perceptions are a different here. Everything seems to merge with its environmental structure.

Noting that everything flows from the structures/ consciousness. Intuitively located family members individually. Three so far, Husband i'taac, Corporate Dignitaries Union Head of expansion, help mate Whose name is difficult to remember at this writing.Ti' Itierr'a (?).

The young one... {?} still searching. Do take note that there's no clocks nor time As comprehended in third density. No idea of when/where/location deductively ascertained based on visual/empathic/ Scanning as eye fit in. So then this technology renders my aura non-detectable or totally invisible to this Race who apparently are benevolent. Attire is form fitting with its own medical Workup infused into this material, if one can call this material. Would love to bring back to Terra. Would make an awesome superhero outfit. Being impervious to mostly anything.

Sky dome /rooftop/ dignitaries... finally large area not full. But clustered enough.

The love here is fragrant. The clouds seems to provide a refreshing surge of always fragrant wisps of , Eye don't know. But this is pleasantly relaxing. Honey !!! This smells like honey(?) reassures suspicions that this species didn't just die off...

21st century, only seven species of honey bee are recognized, with a total of 44 subspecies,[1] though historically seven to eleven species were recognized. Link here.//.

In this “Resort” location, witnessed a love that was/is familiar. Though never seen her before, lithe and athletic though Gracefully beautiful, sensually extremely alluring. All this was just by her walk/gait.

Her face not able to see much due to the coverings, which seemed to flow over her presence. This as it turned out was whom Eye am to protect/watch over without her becoming aware of me. Hence, my coverings...she’s very adept at getting lost in a crowd. Teenager (?) came to my /Heart/mind... why else the music which eye heard emanating from around here.

Trailing at a distance, looking/watching/Scanning Surveying for who would be following her. And where was she heading? The linked YouTube music seems to help remember these details, apparently she likes Terran Music. She abruptly stops in the middle of hallway turns as if she can see Me. Still her facial features are blurred. She’s wearing an illusion mask of some type. Like a merging of features to protect who she is. Though from her outline, she is a stunningly beautiful and no doubt brilliant Person. It’s her eyes{I’s}... they portray the compassion within. This explicitly denotes a spiritual persona. When eye looked into them would’ve sworn she actively scanned My entire Soul. And eye also looked into her heart. Fearlessness.

Rambunctiousness and a Mind like a adamantium trap. Just then eye snapped out of her gaze. She had managed to get entrance to a lift. Eye then bolted towards the entrance which immediately shut. Materialized within the hull watching the tube zipping upwards.

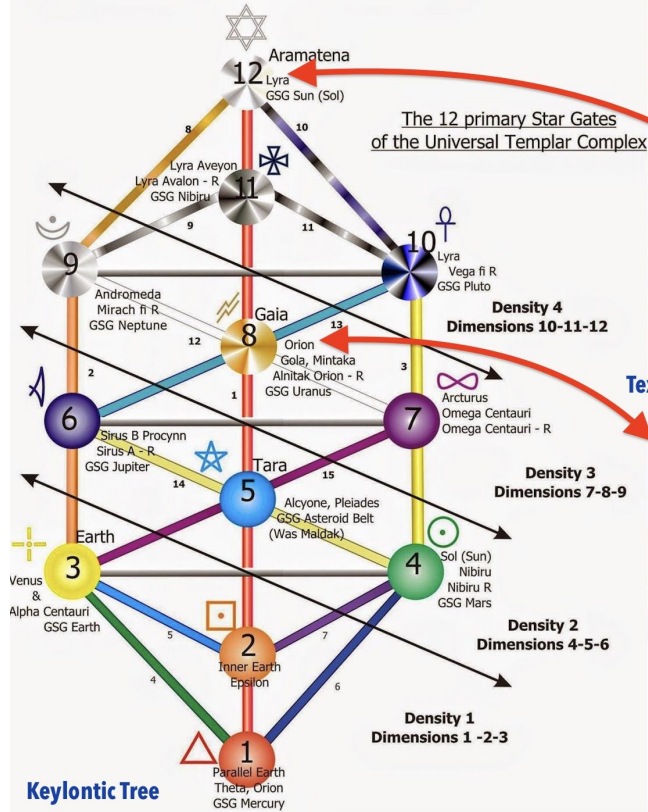

Then Eye woke up... 03:33 AM 12/18/2019 sweating like one just ran 23 miles in 17 minutes. Then started to put pen to paper while still listening to what Eye linked in the YouTube link...

Will research any water planets in or around Orian constellations... currently 07:20 AM 12/19/2019...(?) Missing a day (?) or time (?)...!!! Thought this was 12/18/2019. Actually it’s 12/19/2019.

Not unexpectedly thrown off by time manipulation. It’s just that usually the dates are accurate. Thursday.
