Urgent Need For Men's Clothing

by Kathy Giordano

Through the efforts of a few tireless Saint Mary's Parishioners, a successful clothing drive was held at the Parish Hall last Thursday evening to benefit the homeless men at Long Island Hospital. The response was gratifying, but the need for more clothing is tremendous.

A Long Island Hospital spokesperson stated that "There is a desperate, urgent need for clean and wearable men's clothing. We need winter coats, gloves, boots, sox, shoes, sweaters, hats, shirts and especially new underwear.

Dental Program At B.H.H.C. To Close Effective January 1st

The Massachusetts General Hospital has announced that effective January 1, 1987, the Dental Program at the MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center will be closing.

The MGH is proud of its contribution to the dental health of Charlestown residents since 1968. Over the past several years, the gaps in the availability of dentistry have been eliminated making care easily accessible to the community.

This was verified by Dr.

Roger H. Sweet, Director of the MGH-Community Health Associates, in his remarks that due to the proliferation of dental practices in Charlestown and to the significant decrease in demand for dental services at the MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center, the decision has been made to close the Center's Dental Program. Approximately six year ago there were over 900 visits a month, currently there are about 300.

The MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center's staff will make every effort to assist (continued on page 20)

Back Where He Belongs . . .

by Kathy Giordano

To the delight of many local residents, the new owner of 284 - 286 Bunker Hill Street, Silvana Veltkamp, has replaced the statue of a lion that for many years graced the building's entrance.

Veltkamp was intrigued by the many stories she was told about the old statue by long time residents of the neighborhood and decided to name the new condominium complex being created there, the "Lion House Condominiums." The contractor working on the site, John Stevens of Charlestown Construction, found a suitable substitute lion and placed it on its pedestal this past week.

Veltkamp stated that she has been very careful to preserve as much detail as possible during the extensive renovation of the buildings to retain the character of the late 1800's, when the houses were built. Replacing the lion at the entrance gives it a final touch.

Veltkamp had been told by her neighbors that the old lion, who mysteriously "disappeared" during the night many years ago, was made of brass and that it especially was a kindred spirit to the children who

Many "old timers" recalled the many times they had gone out of their way to stop before the lion on their way to school and rub his nose for good luck when faced with a difficult test that day.

Many more remembered dropping coins in an opening for "good luck."

No-one recalls whether these superstitious actions did any good, but all agreed that it was fun doing it!

Sexual Assault Unit Speaker At Police Community Relations Meeting

by Kathy Giordano

This month's Police Community Relations meeting was conducted by Sergeant Walter Canney of Area A of the Boston Police Department. Sergeant Canney has recently been appointed to head the Detective Unit of Area A. He is a Charlestown resident and very familiar with the problems and concerns of the community. He advised the residents that he can be reached at his office between 6:00 and 8:30 p.m. to answer questions or offer assistance. The telephone number is 247-4248.

The new Community Relations Officer, Joe McNulty, was introduced to the audience and Officer Maria Treta was also on hand to answer questions.

Officer McNulty stated that since taking over his new assignment, he has made it a point to go through the community and introduce himself. He said that he is making himself aware of the trouble spots, such as Main Street, with the groups of kids drinking and raising Cain, noting that the department is working to eliminate that situation. He commented that he has not heard any major complaints from the neighborhood.

The meeting was then opened for complaints and requests from the audience. At this point, a resident from Winthrop Square asked if there was a policy for patrolling the area around the Training Field. His complaint concerned a group of teenagers congregating in the Training Field and the noise they make, talking and yelling and tossing footballs which hit cars and house windows.

He further stated that the problem starts after school and continues up to 11:00 p.m. He did state that no vandalism of the new benches installed in the park has been seen, nor has graffiti been put on the monument or walls. He stated that the noise is disturbing and the police have been called by residents and do respond, but the problem persists. Sergeant Canney assured the resident that this area will be put on the schedule of routine patrols in the future.

Another persistent trouble spot was the subject of complaints — that being the area around the Eden Street Park. A resident of that area complained that from Thursday on through the weekend, starting at 2:00 a.m., the school yard of the Clarence R. Edwards has become a car rally, with cars doing figure eight's in the parking lot, and kids drinking and driving under the influence. "They're breaking the law — pull them in!"

Another resident asked if the sign was still posted at Sullivan Square, prohibiting heavy trucks from driving down Main Street. She stated that these trucks can be heard hitting the pot holes in the early morning hours creating a disturbance.

Sergeant Canney stated that a similar problem exists on Bunker Hill Street and that it will be brought to the attention of the officer on duty during those hours and a check will be made to see if the signs are still in place.

At this point in the meeting, Lieutenant Margaret O'Malley, in charge of the Sexual Assault Unit of the Boston Police Department, was introduced. Lieutenant O'Malley stated that this Unit was operated city-wide. It was established in 1984 and consists of 12 well trained officers on duty 24 hours a day. She gave the following statistics:

- Area A (which includes Charlestown) had fewer rapes in 1985 than in any other part of the City.
- Charlestown is not plagued with this problem.
- Rape is a serious and usually violent crime.

- There is an average of 450 reported rapes a year in Boston.

- Thus far in 1986, 225 child sexual abuse cases have been reported to the Unit from the Division of Social Services alone.

- The age group of females most frequently victimized is between 16 and 19 years of age. The next age group is 12 to 15 years of age followed by females between 20 and 24 years of age who are more likely to become victims.

- In a city of 250,000 residents, such as Boston, a woman is four times more likely to become a victim of rape than in a less populated area.

Lieutenant O'Malley stated that the Sexual Assault Unit is called in for every reported sexual assault in Boston. When such a crime is reported, the uniformed officer is the first on the scene and he/she dispatches a call to the Unit, which immediately responds to either the scene of the crime or to the hospital where the victim has been sent. The officers from the Sexual Assault Unit stay with the victim from that point on, through prosecution, probable cause hearings, and right through a trial in Superior Court.

O'Malley stated, "Each investigation has a Detective assigned to the assault/rape complaint, as well as officers from the Unit. The combined training and experience of the Unit and the expertise of the Detective assigned to the area in which the crime was committed, with his knowledge of his area and potential suspects, helps the investigation immensely."

Other services provided by the Sexual Assault Unit are geared toward awareness. They provide speakers who will go out to a local group, school, church, organization, etc., and give useful advice on how to avoid becoming a victim. They stress using common sense such as staying away from dark areas at night and not walking alone. They also give a demonstration on self protection.

The conviction rate on rape cases is going well, stated Lieutenant O'Malley. No longer can defense lawyers badger a victim with probing questions. Many times when the case goes before the local court, the session is closed to the public to prevent further embarrassment to the victim. In child abuse/assault cases, these sessions are usually held in closed session to protect the child.

At the conclusion of this presentation, the audience was once again asked for comments or concerns.

Complaints were voiced on the 911 call-in system. The length of time between call-in and police response time was a concern raised by the gathering. The operation procedure of 911 was described by the officers, along with an explanation of categorizing the crimes for dispatch to the cars. It was reported that every call is prioritized and it is up to the discretion of the dispatcher as to what call is given to the sector car first.

According to the officers, response time by the car, once it receives the call, is usually no more than two minutes. However, 15 to 20 minutes could elapse between when the call is placed and when the car receives it. The officers continued, noting that it all depends on cars available, the seriousness of the crime and how many requests (calls) have been made. They stated that on Fridays and Saturdays, during the night hours, 20 calls can be waiting for a response at any given time.

There are three cars assigned to Charlestown — one rapid response car with two officers, and two patrol cars with one officer in each, according to Sergeant Canney. He requested that if there is a specific area in Charlestown that needs more coverage, residents should let the department know and during any free time that a patrol car would have between calls, that area would be patrolled.

The next Police Community Relations Meeting will be held on Tuesday, December 9, 1986 at 7:00 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill Street.

Urgent Need For Men's Clothing

The most serious problem facing these men is frost bite. Warm clothing is very short in supply and our need is urgent."

In answer to the Hospital's plea, these same parishioners plan to hold another clothing drop off night within the next few weeks. The date and place for this drop off will be announced in the next edition of the Patriot (December 4, 1986).

It is requested that you take some time over this long holiday weekend and dig out those items of clothing that are no longer useful to you and put them aside for the upcoming clothing drive.

Watch the Patriot for specific date, times and drop off location.

For those who are unable to drop off donated items

a telephone number will also be listed in order to have the clothing picked up.

Over this Thanksgiving weekend, be thankful for what you have and give to others less fortunate that which you no longer use!

Successful Candy Drive

by Khan Ngo, Grade 6

Saint Catherine's School recently held a Candy Drive which was a great success.

All the grades did a great job in selling the candy bars. The profit from the Drive helped to set up our Computer Program. The students in Grade 6 were the top sellers and won the sellers' prize of a Pizza Party.

The three top sellers were: Paul Hooley - First prize, Jaime Poole - Second prize and Beth Cannizzaro - Third prize.

We thank all those wonderful people who supported our Candy Drive.

All of us wish our friends and neighbors a harvest of blessings. May this holiday be happy and filled with the companionship of family, friends and loved ones.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

Still almost a month away, Christmas is taking shape at the Navy Yard in the form of gift wrapping.

On First Avenue, Basilica Associates is feverishly creating its condominium complex. The northern end of the building, number 106, is wrapped in royal blue plastic and the top is canary yellow. An unusual Christmas color; but no doubt this completed package will bring joy to the lucky inhabitants.

Additionally, the appearance is reminiscent of the work accomplished by Cristo. This renowned artist and designer has wrapped a Florida island, as well as monolithics in the major cities. Quite a sight!

While in the vicinity gaze above. The Mystic Tobin Bridge, under Massport, has old glory looking down on the area. Just below, on the massive pole, is the POW flag. Nice to see it, reinforcing us not to forget the military heroes left behind in South East Asia.

With its surrogate master, "Pudgy" O'Connor, giving commands, Chico saunters about the Yard. Whether carrying a frisbee or proudly displaying his bandana, Chico has become the Mascot of the Yard. Nice to hear that Chico sustained no serious injury from his recent plunge into the Mystic. As "Pudgy" stated, he sought the sanctuary of his warm home for a few days. Rejuvenated, he has returned to his rituals. To "Pudgy" and Chico, you are legend "Townies."

Few power or sail leisure vessels spotted in the harbor. The standard traffic now is commercial.

My late maternal grandmother, Elizabeth Reagan Teaffe, related to me on numerous occasions about the history and function of the Yard. Her favorite story dealt with the neighbor who took a job part time and retired fifty years later as a foreman. Tis not a job, tis a position.

As the days move forward, the activity at the gates is increasing at an increasing rate. This pedestrian traffic is not reminiscent of the hordes who entered on a daily basis prior to the 1974 closing, but will challenge it. With a projected 1,200 residential units, in addition to 7,000 employees, the local economy will bode well.

A nice walk along Pier 8, adjacent to the Gazebo, put you in the winter wonderland mood last week. With the sudden dumping of snow, the contrast of winter and summer pleasures was spontaneous and simultaneous.

With all the hoopla given by the electronic and print media regarding the Boston Redevelopment Authority Japanese trip, many are left yening. That's right yening not yawning for the influx of revenue. Neil St. John Raymond played his trump card in obtaining a long range commitment from the Nishimatsu Company to invest in a varied community atmosphere. The reported $25-30 million figure warrants a substantial endeavor.

I hope Ted and his staff demonstrated their pleasure to the Japanese contingent with a trinket. Most appropriate would have been a "Townie" T-Shirt or portrait of "Old Ironsides."

From the Tokyo Dai Ichi Kangyo Limited Bank to the "Townies" with love.

If A Turkey Could Talk

by Charlie McGonagle

*If a Turkey could talk, what would it say,
With the doom of Thanksgiving not far away?
I fear that his words would ripple with grief
As he shouted quite loudly, "Please try the Beef!"*

*Or maybe, just maybe, he'd be more at ease,
As he stated quite calmly, "Have you thought about Cheese?"
It's hard for us humans to know how he'd feel,
As he sat at the table saying, "Please pass the Veal."*

*He'd probably promote peanut butter and jam
And ask for an order of "Smoked Shoulder Ham."
Do you think that perhaps he'd be popping his cork
If he stood tall and shouted, "Why not the pork?"*

*Or maybe collecting his thoughts, he'd stand steady
And speak of the benefits derived from spaghetti,
"Why is it turkey?" might be one of his cries,
"When for only a dollar, it's burgers and fries?"*

*And lastly, I guess, he'd wonder aloud, (While flapping his feathers, and strutting quite proud)
"Would the Pilgrims have given us Turkeys a try,
If an innocent pheasant was happening by?"*

"Memory Lane"

I want to thank Charlie McGonagle for bringing back some fond memories. My four sons and four daughters stood in line at the First National to deliver bundles. They earned some change and had a lot of fun. The boys were Boys' Club members and also went to Camp Unity and Duxbury. Some were on a work program and painted the pool at camp as part of their chores. The only thing you forgot, Charlie, was bringing home the Xmas tree. We didn't have a car like so many others, so the kids had to carry it. They always managed to get the biggest tree in captivity. My husband, Sam, had to saw at least two feet off or it would never have gotten into our home. Thanks again, Charlie, and thank you, Gloria, for a good job done all the time.

Happy Turkey Day!

Not For Nothin' ... But Have You Heard That ...

• Those 18 wheelers on Main and Bunker Hill Streets are rattling a lot of windows, especially in the early morning hours. Police have been notified — lets hope they stop the violators.

• Speaking of violations — wait 'til you hear this one! . . . Would you believe a resident received a warning in his mailbox from the local constabulary for not shoveling the snow off his sidewalk after the snow fell last week? It will cost him $15.00 next time!

• Stop the presses . . . It was overheard that Bernie K. almost bought a round of coffee at The Coffee Shop . . .

• When you get tired of cooking this weekend, do yourself a favor and drop in at the Towne Lyne Cafe, located right before the Holiday Inn on Cambridge Street. Their food is sooo good and their prices so reasonable, you will go back again and again.

• Speaking of dining out . . . the Elderly Thanksgiving Dinner was a feast for over 425 of our seniors yesterday at the Knights of Columbus Hall. You did another great job, Margie Kent! Many pols and local names in the know were seen giving a helping hand. A good time was had by all.

One of the volunteers seen in the kitchen mashing potatoes was "Townie" Fran Maher, representing the Kenney Development Company, one of the developers of the Navy Yard. Thanks, Bob, for lending your support to one of Charlestown's annual events!

• When you want to know what's going on in the "Yard," just read Ronan FitzPatrick's column for all the "in" news. Keep up the good work, Ronan! Very enjoyable for us on either side of the "Wall."

• Christmas can't be far away now that Thanksgiving is here. Don't start your Christmas shopping until you visit our local stores first. One in particular is the Charlestown Jewelers located at One Thompson Square — the finest jewelry at affordable prices and the only place in Town to get your "Townie" jewelry, not to mention their large selection of Claddagh jewelry!

• Then go down to the USS Constitution Museum Gift Shop in the Navy Yard for unusual gift ideas from trinkets to treasures in a variety of price ranges and all purchases go to benefit the non-profit museum!

• Can't talk about Christmas without reminding you good folks to contribute to "Townie Santa." Drop those coins in a canister or send a contribution in any amount to P.O. Box 482. Santa will be so happy!

• Have you seen Tuttle's new store front at the corner of Monument Avenue and Main Street? It is really beautifully done. But what could be going on across the street? Saint Michael's Emporium, St. Dominic's Emporium or Donelli's Emporium? It has borne many names over the past few weeks during renovations!

☆☆ Happy Thanksgiving to one and all . . . ☆☆

City Offices Opened Additional Hours During Tax Bill Period

As a service to taxpayers of the City of Boston, the Assessing Department and the Collector-Treasurer's offices will be opened expanded hours during the tax bill period.

Effective now through December 22, 1986 the hours will be: Monday 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m., and Tuesday through Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

The tax bill period began on Friday, November 21st, and ends Monday, December 22nd. To avoid interest and late charges first half tax bills must be paid on or before December 22, 1986.

Enclosed with this year's tax bill will be a detailed description of each exemption and the applicable eligibility requirements. Additionally, taxpayers are encouraged to contact the Department's Social Service Unit at 725-4298 to review qualifications.

Commissioner Coughlin

Graduates From Pilot Training

Second Lieutenant John P. Leone, Jr., son of John P. and Florence R. Leone of Malden, has graduated with honors from U.S. Air Force pilot training and has been awarded silver wings at Columbus Air Force Base, Mississippi.

His wife, Patricia, is the daughter of John J. and Rita Dunbar of 73 School Street, Charlestown.

notes that consistent with the policies of Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, the City will again increase the dollar amount of clause exemptions by up to 100%. "There are several exemptions available to qualified elderly, widows/widowers, blind, surviving minor children, disabled veterans, and property owners with extreme hardship. The Flynn administration will again allow clause exemption recipients who may see a tax increase because of increased values, an additional exemption from their property tax of up to twice the amount of their exemption eligibility." In FY86, these additional exemptions resulted in nearly $1 million tax exempted, and affected over 9,000 taxpayers.

Commissioner Coughlin further notes, "The Department will work closely with those taxpayers who are unable to pay all or a portion of their tax bills because of extreme hardship."

For further information on your tax bill, please visit our Taxpayer's Assistance Unit in City Hall, Room 301 or call at 725-4287. For questions on how to pay your bill, or the amount to be paid, please call the Taxpayer's Services Unit of the Treasury Department at 725-4120.

Charlestown Preservation Society Presents Awards At Recent Membership Night Reception

Charlestown Preservation Society Presents Awards

The Charlestown Preservation Society recently held their annual social for members and guests at the Commandant's House in the Navy Yard.

A sumptuous buffet was served, an update on planned renovations in that portion of the Navy Yard under the aegis of the National Park Service was presented by John Debo, Assistant Superintendent of the National Historical Park, and entertainment was provided by The Monument Singers.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of several awards honoring individuals for their preservation efforts in the Charlestown community. The accomplishments of each recipient were noted by John Tobin, President of the Charlestown Preservation Society, followed by the presentation of a plaque to each of those selected by the Society.

The first presentation was made to Thomas Flatley, President of The Flatley Company, developers of The Schrafft Center in Sullivan Square. Flatley expressed pride in the Charlestown community and noted that The Schrafft Center is approximately 40% occupied, with the recent tenancy of Orion and Target Productions. He related the story of bringing his mother to Charlestown for the first time — actually, in some respects, a return to Charlestown as she came from Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland.

Mary MacInnes, Chairman of the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force was honored for her efforts and those of the Task Force in seeking the funding to rehabilitate, especially the abandoned buildings, in the Bunker Hill Housing Project to secure additional affordable rental units within the Housing Project.

Tom Howley and Allen

Doris Praised

Senator Francis D. Doris was recently commended by the Massachusetts Municipal Association for his service to the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Kuenedy received the Society's award for saving a house on Warren Street.

tine Crescent, and also the Boston Redevelopment Authority, for their cooperation. Kuenedy added their thanks to the area neighbors.

AWARDS were presented to individuals involved in preservation projects in the Charlestown Community, by the Charlestown Preservation Society at their annual social held, this year, at the Commandant's House in the Charlestown Navy Yard. Shown front row (l. to r.) Thomas Flatley, developer of The Schrafft Center; Mary MacInnes, Chairman of the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force; Thomas Howley, who, along with Allen Kue-ney, moved and is restoring a Warren Street house; John Keane of Keane Incorporated, developer of Roughan Hall. Standing (l. to r.) Linda C. Neshamkin and Jack French, who developed the former Bunker Hill School and Bunker Hill Court; Allen Kue-ney; John Tobin, President of the Charlestown Preservation Society; and William Lamb, Architect.

Tobin, in presenting the award to Architect William Lamb, commended Lamb for his several years of work on various public and private projects in the community. He continued by stating that the presence of Lamb along with Mary MacInnes might indicate that the Society might be most effective when they work with other groups.

John Keane, President of Keane Associates, developers of Roughan Hall in City Square was cited by Tobin for his business to relocate in Charlestown and to save Roughan Hall. Keane, in his response, stated that he had heard much about Charlestown and works with a man (Phil Harkins) who grew up here in Charlestown. He continued by noting that Charlestown is a special place, with its proximity to Boston. He said that a lot of people in Charlestown care about the destiny of this town and added that they are pleased to be a part of this community.

Award recipients who were not present at the ceremony included Jim Adams, developer of the Tontine Crescent; Edward Barry, President of the Congress Group; and Lee Eiseman, was honored for his "preservation" of the Society's music series.

Senior Hockey League Selects Captains and Co-Captains

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

The "Drum-Head Election" for Captain and Co-Captain took place on Monday night, November 17, 1986 before the scheduled Senior League double header at the Emmons-Horrigan-O'Neil Rink. The team players selected the team leaders for the 1986-87 hockey season.

The new leaders selected were as follows:

CRUSADERS

Captain — Eddie "Musgy" Kelly
Co-Captain — Mike "Duffer" Yandle

HUSKIES

Captain — Richie "Max" Hart
Co-Captain — Jimmy "Cobra" Greene

TERRIERS

Captain — Paul "Gung-Ho" Wilkins
Co-Captain — John "Shake & Bake" Dowd

EAGLES

Captain — Joe "Ditso" Doherty
Co-Captain — Mike "Cuddles" Doherty

Huskies Over Terriers 14 - 15, Eagles Dump Crusaders 11 - 2

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

HUSKIES HOWL, TERRIER'S YELL "FOWL" 14-5!

Needless to say, by the end of the first period, the "Terriers" were yelling "Fowl." I suppose because Thanksgiving is coming, or because they were smelling the rink out . . . you know "fowl odor!"

Meanwhile, the Huskies were putting it all together, making it count! They had enough goals in the first period to win!

Joe Burton combined with the "Reeker," Richie Smart, to start the scoring at 16:07 of the first period; and it was all downhill for the Terriers from then on.

The Huskies, according to the scorekeeper's game sheet, listed Mr. "X," pudgy cheap shot, and other "aliases" too disgusting to remember, as the leading point scorer for the game! I know there's a mistake somewhere that will need clarifying or an explanation. A simple explanation could be he got credit for Jimmy "Cobra" Greene's goals! Unfortunately, we'd need a good lawyer to expose this "sham," but you know how lawyers stick together.

For the record, "Mr. X," or pudgy, had two goals and three assists, for a total of five points, to vault him up the top scorers' list. John Sodergren had the "Hat Trick," while Jimmy "Cobra" Greene had two goals and two assists, Richie "Reeker" Hart had two goals and two assists, along with Billy Kelly, who had two goals and two assists.

The gentleman from "An Officer and a Gentleman," the Norwich University grad, "Bob Harty," also had two assists in the win!

It's sad to see the 1985-86 Championship Terrier Team falling behind their peers, because they have the makings of another winning team!

If anyone knows how to turn a losing situation around, they do! Their spectacular finale of last year still rings with pain to some of the players still having nightmares remembering the Championship game that got away!

Perhaps it's just a slow start, an adjustment period, then look out — here they come!

The Terrier scoring began at 17:40 of the first period when Steve "Rocket" Smith took a pass from Jay Yandle for the first score of the game.

John "Shake & Bake" Dowd had two goals for the record book, along with Brian Smith with one goal and Phil Smith with an unassisted goal!

Steve Smith also had an assist on John Dowd's goal!

EAGLES TOY WITH CRUSADERS . . . 11 - 2

By the time the first period ended, the Crusaders were ready for the showers! You talk about sick puppies, why they couldn't even pass the puck to one another! And the more the game went on the worse it got. In summary, the Crusaders had better put their act together, or they are in for a long cold winter!

Well to begin with, Darryl "Comet" Locke, the speedster with laser lightening quickness, redeemed himself for his poor showing last week. He put his rockets on and literally defeated the Crusaders single handedly! He started his scoring at 18:44 of the first period, and scored his last goal at 5:33 of the third period, after he accounted for seven goals and one assist. This scoring prowess is no freak or accident, this guy can score goals! The skating speed he propels and his stick handling ability, makes him a constant threat to defensemen and goal keepers alike when he crosses the blue line!

Mike Giordano, former Eagle goalie, filling in for Crusader Goalie Brad Michals, had his first game back in nets shattered, battered, and scattered by his old teammates, with no hurt intended, but only to win the game! Mike may have to get back into his old form if he is to survive. This is war. Man! Just think, Mike, you can tell your kids how Darryl Locke and you played on the same team, then when you played against him, he got mad . . . How mad did he get Mike?? Seven goals filled your net.

Close on Darryl's heels is Jackie Sullivan, who can score goals as well. Jackie, who had a "bad day," had one goal and three assists for four points, only to be surpassed by his teammate, Darryl Locke. Between these two great scorers, the Eagles enjoy the league leadership, but they dare not take their eyes off of the Huskies! Along with the leaders is the newest rising star, who seems to be making a name for himself by his determination to become a part of the scoring. I refer to none other than Chris Thornton, who continues to get the goals and assists with his team hustle. Another emerging star in the horizon is Joe Doherty, who also plugs away at the goals and assists to become another star to watch.

One of the unsung heroes of the Eagle Team, who puts the puck in play and does the digging in the corners, is former Christopher Columbus great and former Marine, doing front line work, none other than the Eagle left defenseman Joe "Rambo" Gauthier — one of the keys to the Eagle success this year.

Joe Sullivan had one goal and one assist for his effort, Paul Wrenn with one goal, and the ever hustling Richie "Hunso" Doherty with an assist, contributed to the Eagle victory.

Scott Geezil continued to contribute to the Crusader cause, with 1 goal and 1 assist! Paul Cotter, the newest Crusader had 1 goal in the waning cause! Final score was Eagles 11, Crusaders 2.

Senior Hockey League Update and Comments!

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

After completing the scheduled five games for all teams in the Senior Hockey League, which adds up to 20% of the games played out of the 20 game schedule, one could say that all players on all teams should have adjusted to the game of hockey. But more importantly players should have adjusted to the comradery of their teammates, who together should blend their talents proudly and pursue victory as the attainable goal. Now, having said that . . . Ahem??

Extremely loud crying has emerged about the "Huskie's and Eagle's Dynasty" or the "Stacked Deck Syndrome," as some of the senior "baby" hockey players have called them. They are "not guilty" of roster padding or the "Canadian Connection" deals as alleged by the "whiners" and "whimpering" about "Softie" MacNamara "wheeling and dealing" some players through the "back door" and onto the Huskie Team. "These allegations are not true," stated Commissioner Eddie Johnson.

The real truth is that the Huskie and Eagle players do work together and put all their efforts into "winning," not "whining" and prove their theory works — just look at the records.

If the "guilt" lies with anyone, it lies with me, Bernie Kelly, because I set up the team rosters for all teams and in my judgment I felt each team was equally balanced with capable players who could play well enough to compliment his selection to the team to which he was assigned. Now, if a player can't live up to at least a decent showing of his talents or skills in hockey, then, shame on him!!!

For those of you who cry, or is it "whine," "they got all the good players," why don't you take up "street hockey" at the Saugus Skate 3 and hang up your skates!

JUST A THOUGHT . . .

Where has C-Town competitive spirit to win gone??? What about "pride and shame," doesn't anyone possess these qualities anymore??

And finally, what "fool" would spend his time and money each week just going through the motions of playing hockey, and be satisfied losing each week. With some effort they could turn the whole thing around and win those games! If this sounds like your team, then do something about it!

I rest my case and will answer to my critics in this column . . . if time allows! Amen!!

Matt O'Neil's Junior "A" Club Settles For A Tie . . . 4 - 4!

by Bernie "Scoop" Kelly

The tension was clearly visible last Sunday night at the Emmons-Horrigan-O'Neil Rink, as the Matt O'Neil Junior "A" Club played host to the South Shore Braves before an enthusiastic crowd of boosters and buffs. The Matt O'Neil Juniors, under the coaching of Johnny Tibbetts, worked hard on a come from behind effort to salvage a tie against the Braves. The visitors were quite proficient in scoring and play making, and some luck was needed for either team to win!

Although Johnny Tibbetts tried quick line changes, his strategy was matched by the determined vi-

Mike Messier, the speedster, opened the scoring at 17:56 of the first period with an assist from his winger John Campbell! Messier also had an unassisted goal to tie the game at 8:16 of the third period.

Others who helped in the scoring were Derek Agri, who scored at 11:40 of the second period with an assist from Matt Borricelli; Jim Peterson, who lit the lite at 6:17 of the second period to put the O'Neil Club within one; and John Connors had his hands full in the nets for the O'Neil Club with 30 saves, some of which were rocketing to lite the light.

ABCD To Hold Audition For Documentary Film On Shared Living

Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) is sponsoring the production of a documentary film on the subject of shared living as a housing option for the elderly.

Senior citizens who currently share their housing situation with others in order to resolve problems like fixed income, rising costs and declining health, are being sought as possible candidates for the subject of this film. At present, ABCD is looking for people who are willing to be interviewed on the merits and drawbacks of shared living.

The purpose of this documentary is to inform people about this housing alternative, that brings older people together in arrangements where they share some living space but also maintain needed privacy. The 20 minute film, to be produced by the Boston University Film Unit, will be shown to groups who have an interest in the topic.

The film will explore a range of shared living options. It will cover extended-family living in private homes, congregate housing, home-match arrangements, lodging houses, foster care situations, as well as individuals who share their homes with roommates.

For more information, call Virginia Robinson, ABCD Elder Specialist at 357-6000, extension 204.

Roughan's Restaurant And Deli — Something For Everyone

by Rebecca Nevers

One of Charlestown's newest eating establishments that provides good food and good service is quickly proving to be a town favorite.

Roughan's Restaurant and Deli, located in City Square offers a varied menu that strives for satisfaction, said owner Annette Harkins.

"We're trying to bring to this spot things that people are looking for," Harkins said. "The concept is that people can come and get whatever they want for a meal."

tastes like, Harkins added.

"They find it hard to go back to the trucks," she said.

For those people who do not want to go home after a long day and cook, Harkins offers a special frozen foods section in her restaurant.

Customers may choose from frozen pasta dishes, soups, sauces, Turkey pies and lasagna or ravioli, among other items, Harkins said. They can be heated quickly in a microwave.

"It's great for people who are on their way home," she added.

Harkins and her family are not strangers to Charlestown.

Her husband was born in Charlestown and still has relatives here.

And his uncle, Philip, ran dances in Roughan's Hall in the 1920's, she added.

ANNETTE HARKINS, owner of Roughan's Restaurant and Deli in the newly restored Roughan's Hall at 10 City Square, points out a few of the specialty items that are carried by Roughan's, including breads, preserves, crackers, and cheeses.

When those were gone, she sold pies.

"I had a neighbor who called and needed two pies for a party that evening,"

Harkins added.

"I enjoy having people satisfied with having good food."

A CUSTOMER makes a selection from the wide variety of deli meats and salads available at Roughan's Restaurant and Deli.

Daily luncheon specials, priced at $3.99, vary, Harkins said. Barbecued chicken, spare ribs, fish and hot quiche are some items available, she added.

And the meals are not skimpy, she said. For example, the chicken box comes with side dishes to complete the meal.

"A lot of people want to have a hearty lunch," she noted.

If a heavy meal is too much, assorted salads and sandwiches also are available, Harkins said.

For those who cannot make lunch at Roughan's, continental breakfast is served in the morning, Harkins said. Muffins, croissants and danish are baked in the kitchen on the premises.

And those people who have been purchasing their morning cup of coffee from the coffee trucks have discovered what good coffee

Desserts also are available. She brings cakes and pies in from Piece of Cake and Elegant Endings.

After working in the restaurant business for six years as a cook and manager, Harkins said she decided to open her own place.

And Charlestown was a logical place to start.

Her husband works for the Keane Corporation, housed above the restaurant. Harkins also said there was a need for a restaurant serving "light fare" food.

Many of her customers are local business people and tourists who come across the street from the Constitution Museum or cross the Charlestown Bridge.

She attributes her early success partially to the location of the restaurant.

"It's a great spot," Harkins said. "It's the gateway to Charlestown."

ALL IN THE FAMILY: Mark Harkins, son of Roughan's Restaurant and Deli owner, Annette Harkins, mans the cash register on a recent Saturday.

Family involvement does not stop there. Her sister, Michele Bouchard, was persuaded to return from working in Europe to help in the restaurant.

Harkins said she is proud of her first restaurant.

"I enjoy feeding people," she said. "I love food. I love cooking. I love baking."

Word is spreading quickly about the new restaurant that has been open for four weeks.

"We get repeat customers," Harkins said. "But we're just growing and people are spreading the word."

Her goal is to provide good food at a moderate price and to reach people who want something different.

Harkins said she got her start when her children were bored. One day, while living in Iran, she baked cookies for the children to sell.

National Park Service Seeks Applicants For Summer Jobs In Boston

The National Park Service has announced that it is seeking qualified applicants to fill 30 temporary Park Ranger positions at Boston National Historical Park for the summer of 1987 in the areas of interpretation and law enforcement. The Boston National Historical Park includes the Freedom Trail, a Visitor Center at 15 State Street in Boston, and eight historic sites in downtown Boston, Dorchester Heights, and Charlestown, including the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Seasonal employees perform a variety of work that includes conducting guided tours along the Freedom Trail and other historic sites, providing visitor information, directing vehicles and pedestrian traffic, and making routine foot and vehicle patrols.

Applicants for all positions must be U.S. Citizens and at least 18 years of age. The position of Park Ranger (GS-025-03) requires one year of general experience in park operations or related fields, or one year of academic study beyond high school to include at least six semester hours in natural science, history, archeology, or police science. Eligible applicants for Park Ranger (GS-025-04) must have one year of general and one year of specialized experience in park operations or a related field, or have completed two years of college and at least 12 semester hours in the above subject areas.

Applications may be obtained by calling the Boston National Historical Park Personnel Office at 242-5638, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The deadline for application is December 31, 1986.

Employment in the building trades has not been a traditional career path for women. Leaving the mainstream to pursue careers as pipefitters, ironworkers, carpenters and plumbers, has always been an uphill climb for women — but times are changing. Now there is a new program which can help interested women change their lives and their standards of living. First year apprentices in many of the building trades can expect to earn approximately $8.00 an hour or more.

Mayor Raymond L. Flynn has announced a new training program called, "Women in Construction," sponsored by the Women's Technical Institute, the Network of Women in the Trades and the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services.

The Women in Construction training program will focus on introducing women to employment in the building trades. During the first six weeks, 100 interested participants will meet with a panel of veteran female union trade members. This panel will describe the types of careers available and provide the group with an understanding of what it's like to be a construction worker.

Those who wish to pursue the program will take a basic math test and 15 - 30 participants will enter the training program beginning in late January. To qualify, women must be Boston residents, have a high school diploma or GED equivalency and must be determined income-eligible.

This group will receive instruction in six trade professions, ironwork, sheet-metal work, pipefitting, engineering, carpentry and roofing. The program is flexible and additional trades will be included based on interest. The participants will receive 30 hours of hands-on training and 30 hours of classroom instruction, during the 12 week course.

For further information on how to enter this program call Jane Gronholm at 266-2243.

Building Variances Vs. Usual Rule

by Barbara Thornton

According to the dictionary, the word "variance" means "difference, a license to engage in an act contrary to a usual rule." As Charlestown has undergone a boom in renovation and new construction, we hear this word with increasing frequency. The word has a very specific and important meaning in the context of construction.

To understand a "variance" we must first review the "usual rule". All building, including renovations and new construction, must abide by a set of several legally established, codified rules. Rules include the state Building Code, Architectural Barriers Board regulations, and the Boston Zoning Code. These rules set standards for electrical, mechanical, architectural, energy, structural and fire safety features. The zoning code regulates building height, building volume, side yard and setback requirements, parking space requirements and building use.

Before any renovations or new construction take place in the city, the builder is required to obtain a permit from the city's Inspectional Services Department (ISD). To apply for a permit, the builder must bring a set of plans to the Plans Examination Unit on the eighth floor of City Hall. This Unit is headed by Walter Adams. The plans are reviewed for compliance with the "usual rules" described above. Larger construction projects requiring something other than the "short form" application also must be reviewed by the ISD Zoning Review Unit, headed by Ellen Pinkos. If the plans comply with the rules, a building permit may be issued.

However, a great many multi-unit projects do not comply with the usual rules. These projects are not necessarily poorly designed. The Building Code, and particularly the Zoning Code, constitute a very complicated set of rules. The Codes can not anticipate every situation. The building code covers rural Greenfield County as well as urban Charlestown. The Zoning Code covers only the City, but it was written in 1956 and covers neighborhoods as suburban as West Roxbury and as densely urban as Charlestown and Beacon Hill, with the same set of standards.

Most new construction in Charlestown would find it almost impossible to comply with existing residential zoning that requires 400 square feet of usable open space per dwelling unit, a front yard at least 20 feet deep and 50 feet wide and a small side yard. Very few of the existing buildings would comply with these standards but are a comfortable part of Charlestown architecture.

The City has established a legal process for determining whether a permit should be issued for buildings which, either because of the building codes or the zoning codes, or both do not comply with the "usual rules". The builder is denied a permit and is referred to the Zoning Board of Appeals where a public hearing is held to determine if a Variance should be granted. The Zoning Board of Appeals can only grant a variance if they find certain circumstances to be in existence. These will be described in a future column.

(Barbara Thornton is a city planner and writes occasional columns for the Patriot on planning and development issues.)

Gilbert And Sullivan Series Continues With Two Performances Of "Patience"

"Patience," the fifth in Boston Academy of Music's cycle of the complete operas of Gilbert and Sullivan, will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, November 28th and 29th at 8:00 p.m. at Harvard University's Sanders Theatre. A parody of the "aesthetic movement" in London in the 1880's, "Patience" is one of Gilbert's wittiest librettos and contains some of Sullivan's most beautiful music.

Charles Peltz, making his Boston Academy of Music debut, will conduct the orchestra and some of New England's leading singers including Marion

Dry, Gale Fuller, Margaret O'Keefe, Elizabeth Sheldon, Flicka Wilmore, Richard Conrad of Charlestown, Bryan McNeil and Warren Huffman, many of whom are BAM favorites from past Gilbert and Sullivan evenings. The fully costumed production will be directed by Lynn Binstock.

Two Charlestown Teenagers Arrested For Murder

Boston's 99th homicide for 1986 took place in Charlestown on Saturday, November 22nd with the murder of Arthur Godfrey, 29 years of age, of East Boston. Shots were heard at 2:30 a.m. in the area of Tibbetts Town Way in Mishawum Park.

Upon investigation, Police discovered the body of Godfrey at the corner of Eden and Main Streets. He was rushed to Massachusetts General Hospital where he died of gunshot wounds at 4:30 a.m.

Shots had reportedly been fired at Godfrey's car, a 1976 Ford Granada, while it was parked outside 60 Tibbetts Town Way. Apparently, Godfrey fled from the scene and collapsed on Main Street where he was found. A companion, Jennifer Peckham of Somerville, reportedly also in the car at the time of the shooting, received gunshot wounds in the leg and was taken to Massachusetts General Hospital where she underwent surgery on Sunday. She is listed in good condition.

Joseph DeAngelo, 18, of

Sullivan Street, surrendered at the Area A Police Station on Sunday, November 23rd at 6:00 a.m. A second suspect, Dennis Quirk, 17, of Dunstable Street, was arrested Sunday evening.

Both men were arraigned at the Charlestown District Court on Monday. DeAngelo was released on $10,000 cash bail. Quirk was held without bail and sent to the Charles Street Jail. A Probable Cause hearing will take place for both men on Wednesday, December 3, 1986.
