

Diamond Price

When it comes to buying diamonds, you should familiarize yourself with the terms loose diamonds and wholesale diamonds. Buying loose diamonds at wholesale prices will easily save you 50% off retail margins, which makes it possible for you to purchase a higher quality diamond with the same budget. For wholesale diamond prices, diamond dealers use the diamond carat price to express the value of the diamond.

The world's most comprehensive diamond price and information platform.

The DIAMOND REGISTRY

SINCE 1961

Diamond Price Chart

Our diamond price tool will help you to better define what you want and will deliver an estimated market price of Round diamonds and Fancy shapes like Emerald cut, Princess cut, Asscher cut, Cushion cut, Pear Shaped, Radiant Cut, Marquise Cut, Oval Diamond, Heart Shaped Diamond,...

Our updated diamond price list is a major source of diamond prices and market fluctuations used by wholesales professionals to establish diamond prices.

All Diamond prices are per carat in $USD. To calculate the total Diamond Price, multiple the size by the diamond price per carat.

For example, if you wanted to buy a 2 carat round VVS₁ D Color diamond, the total diamond price would be $2 \times $38,800 = $77,600$

Price Of Diamonds

Our service streamlines worldwide diamond sales and supply so you can easily and quickly purchase or sell every quality, size and shape of diamond to fit your needs.

The Diamond Registry provides high quality service by creating a bridge between the wholesale diamond industry and the consumer. Through The Diamond Registry the consumers can buy GIA certified loose diamonds at wholesale prices. In addition, the consumers can create jewelry with a highly experienced team of in-house jewelry designers from a trendy 3 carat diamond ring to a very popular princess cut engagement ring. In other words, the service gives the public more control and allows them to buy diamonds closer to the source which means they do not have to pay the inflated retail prices of “branded diamonds”.

With over 50 years of experience, The Diamond Registry has proven a reliable, careful, precise and personal service.

Diamond Prices

CEO of Diamond Registry Nissan Perla aims to bring transparency to the diamond purchasing process, turning the industry's best kept secrets into the industry's best known facts. The Diamond Registry is a Member-in-Good-Standing with the following associations:

- The Diamond Dealers Club of New York
- World Federation of Diamond Bourses
- The Jewelers Board of Trade
- Jewelry Information Center
- Jewelers Information Center
- Jewelers Vigilance Committee
- Gemological Association of Great Britain

The Diamond Registry connects you instantly to hundreds of diamond suppliers — its own membership network of participating cutters and importers both located in the United States and worldwide. The Diamond Registry created and controls the earliest, most extensive worldwide database of diamonds and diamond prices available for both the purchase and sales of diamonds.

Diamond Price

For inquiries please visit :

www.diamondregistry.com

