Welcome to Synthfarm ! A three day residency set in the lush tropical surroundings within a spacious green farm, at Dattopukur (45 kms outside urban Kolkata). A bi-annual summit where a milieu of producers, DJs, musicians, sound-engineers and DIY geeks gather from all over the country to learn, collaborate and showcase emerging technology. Synthfarm aims to demystify music production, sound synthesis and understand the studio. One can learn how to build your own sound gadgets.

Synthfarm episode five (9/10/11 February 2018)

presents brand new courses, faculty and new immersive experiences. 2018, Synthfarm completes 5 editions since it's inception in March 2015 counting over 70 attendees and 8 expert faculty. This year featuring artists and faculty from Switzerland, Spain and India.

Whether you are an aspiring Producer, DJ, Sound Engineer or Synth-geek or Tech-nerd, Synthfarm is an unique opportunity to learn, enhance and share your skills. Synth-Farm offers a three day journey into multiple learning experiences in the field of electronic music and sound. The residency is based on a series of courses per day, be it basic, professional or practical as per your needs.

The founders of Synthfarm have created an unique space, the only one in India, with an attitude based on sharing and caring. Synthfarm invites you to a very affordable yet incredibly unique residency.

In addition to 15 hours of workshops spread over 3 days, you can enjoy the flora and fauna and eat chef-prepared fresh organic farm produce. Further, we suggest you indulge in the night barbecues with music listening sessions. In addition, Synthfarm attendees get access to selected reading, listening and viewing media in the field of electronic music and related technology.
