WHAT MIGHT TRAINING LOOK LIKE FOR AN EXPECTANT PARENT?

As the service is bespoke, everyone's process will look slightly different, however the below will hopefully give you an idea of the topics you will cover in a general sense.

As with all dog training, the outcome of our work together will be highly dependent on your consistency and commitment to working on our plan with your dog outside of sessions, as well as the nature of any pre-existing behavioural issues.

STAGE ONE / FIRST TRIMESTER

- Creating a plan of action to address any unwanted behaviours, particularly focussing on those that may have a negative impact in relation to your baby or your mental health around this.
- Teaching / refreshing skills that will be of benefit to life with a baby around.
- Developing an understanding of any of your dog's sensitivities and putting processes in place to address these.

STAGE TWO / SECOND TRIMESTER

- Practicing for future situations! Preparing your dog for changes in your body language and behaviour when baby arrives.
- Become experts in safety, management and appropriate levels of interaction.
- Building confidence, understanding and boundaries around baby equipment.

STAGE THREE / THIRD TRIMESTER

- Planning, planning, planning! I'll help you think about logistics + provide top tips for every scenario.
- Together, we'll create a plan for the bit you're probably most excited / apprehensive about - bringing baby home!
- Preparation for the first few weeks, from building positive associations to practical tips to feel in control in day to day life with a dog and a baby.
