

Description

In Mayor you control most decisions, lead your city and the people through hard decisions. Establish an infrastructure by invoking political decisions, bribe or blackmail your opponents, hire or fire official employees to your likings. You are the ultimate boss and every decision you make has a consequence that may empower you or be your fall.

You are in control over the City Council which includes representatives from the Police, Healthcare, City Attorney, Finance Director, Fire Chief, Public Works Director and the Planning Director. Surround yourself with loyal people and lower the risk of losing your power. But trust no one, even the most loyal friend may be plotting to take your seat – anything can happen!

Each day random events will appear, some even requires an action taken. Some actions are taken at ease while others are harder to make. Every decision you make will affect the gameplay in one way or another. You may lose popularity, influence, money, employees or even your job.

Features

- Run around at the City Hall in a 3rd person view, commit actions at your office and attend meetings at the meeting room.
- Up to 120 different random events that can happen every day or at any time. Ranging from the simplest "Can you sign my poster of you?" to "There is an Zombie Apocalypse. What are we going to do?"
- Invoke laws to provide a better life in your city, or to spread terror into your citizens life`s.
