

A woman with long dark hair, smiling and looking down, stands in a festive holiday setting. She is wearing a black dress with a large pink and orange floral pattern and black boots. To her left is a green Christmas tree. To her right is a stack of wrapped gifts in black, gold, and silver paper, topped with gold starburst ornaments. The background is a dark, textured curtain.

A nighttime street scene with a building, trees, and a car, serving as a background for the text. The scene is dimly lit with warm, yellowish light from street lamps and building windows. A white car is parked on the left side of the street. A person's arm and hand holding a bag are visible on the right side. A green bollard is in the foreground on the left.
