

This Minecraft Stranger Things Build Is Excellent

Minecraft doesn't have any official Stranger Things DLC, at least not yet, but it was only a matter of time until people started building things from the Netflix show anyway. It's not like horror is completely against Minecraft's mission. But, you can still stumble across the Warden and know that it's true. Lalalalal It takes some effort to make Minecraft creepy in a cute game.

Redditors Fiki and Biki, Redditors from Reddit, decided to build the Creel House out of Voxels. They took to Reddit to post up some images from the build, and the photo editing on the first one really adds a sense of unease to the whole thing. You can see how it was built on YouTube.

Editing has made most of the edge imbued, but little things like removing leaves from The Upside Down version help tremendously. A few players also said it would be an excellent idea to build a nether portal in the overworld one, warp through it, and then recreate the house around it perfectly too. This would accurately replicate the show and is a solid idea as a map.

Recreating things perfectly takes a lot of time and effort, but imagine running through scenes from the show in both the nether and the overworld, all of which are like for like aside from the different enemies running around. It'd be a wonderfully unsettling experience.
