

This, my friends, is the quiet before the storm. I am so happy to report that we are making great inroads on identifying the so-called "counter-protesters" who came to protest against our protest of the pro-genital mutilation policy of the AAP. These "people" claim to be PPC, a euphemism for pro-parents choice, but in fact identify themselves as being "circumsexual".

I wonder if his employer knows he is such an advocate for child sex abuse?

Their existence confirms that we are winning. Other than that, they are insignificant.
