

DeFi Alliance moves to DAO to boost Web3 after raising $50 million - news btc

Seeking to expand make money ware coin , DeFi Alliance, a leading organization in the incubation of startup DeFi projects, has transformed itself into a DAO model.

On Jan. 13, DeFi Alliance announced the change with the Alliance DAO brand with the support of hundreds of builders from across the blockchain space.

etc trader

More than 300 investors participated in Alliance DAO in the organization's first round of mobilization, contributing about $50 million. Among them are the famous names such as Gemini's boss duo, Cameron and Tyler Winklevoss, Crypto.com co-founder Bobby Bao and OpenSea CEO Devin Finzer. The list also features hundreds of other people who have built Web1 and Web2.