MDPW Meeting To Address Saturday Work On CANA Project

The Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) will sponsor a public information meeting to discuss the inclusion of Saturday work hours for the Central Artery North Area (CANA) project on Thursday, November 5 at 7:00 p.m. in the lower hall of the Knights of Columbus, 75 West School Street.

According to the MDPW, allowing the contractor to work Saturdays, extending the project work week from five eleven-hour work days to six, will effectively cut a year off the project's completion date.

A question and answer period will follow the discussion of the issue and CANA staff members will be present to answer questions and listen to comments and suggestions concerning CANA related activities.

If you have any questions concerning the meeting or the CANA project, please call David Flanagan or John McDermott at the CANA Hotline's new number, 242-5980.

Over Five Hundred Votes Cast In Neighborhood Council Election

Council member Steve Spinnetto, chairman of the election committee, stated that he was delighted at the participation from the community, especially with the election being held on a Saturday and with such gorgeous weather. He thanked the residents for taking the time to vote, and commended the election committee on their handling of the election process.

The Charlestown Boys and Girls Club was bustling with activity on Saturday, October 24th — not just with youngsters headed for programs at the Club, but also with some 503 Charlestown residents who took the time to cast a vote for a candidate for the Charlestown Neighborhood Council from their respective precincts.

Shades of municipal elections past were in evidence as candidates and their supporters greeted residents on their way to vote with a friendly handshake and a request to be considered for a seat on the Council. Hotly contested races in five of the seven precincts made for an interesting and involved election.

CANA Archaeology Work Nears Completion

A series of important urban archaeological digs related to the Central Artery North Area (CANA) project in Charlestown are ending as researchers excavate the Great House site in Charlestown's City Square.

Archaeologists contracted by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) have excavated eight sites in the City Square area since June of 1985. Their work uncovered the foundation of the Great House, the residence of the first governor of the Commonwealth, John Winthrop. The Great House was the first substantial building in the Boston area (erected in 1629) and was used as a meetinghouse by revolutionaries and it was later used as a tavern.

Neill DePaolo, recorder and assistant field supervisor for the archaeological team, said the Great House foundation is a valuable find because of its historical importance to democracy but, he added, artifacts such as pottery, plates, musketballs, wooden barrels, glassware and utensils are equally important because they help archaeologists and historians formulate an accurate account of colonial life.

"The difficulty of an urban archaeological dig is that the site is rarely in pristine condition, it is often chopped up. So, the problem for the team is to try and determine what items were originally present at the site," DePaolo said.

The Great House foundation will be excavated, removed, documented and carefully stored until a decision is made on where to place it. The foundation, and the rest of the artifacts, are the property of the MDPW and will be treated to prevent deterioration and stored until a suitable site is found for an exhibit.

DePaolo said the dampness of the dig sites helped to preserve many of the artifacts. Wooden objects dating from the early 1600's, which often deteriorate swiftly, such as treenails (pegs used in building construction), barrels and floors were in good condition because of their wet surroundings.

The Charlestown excavations are the last stage of ar-

LOW STRESS REAL ESTATE SALES

Whether you're buying or selling, making a move gets high marks on the stress scale. Not only are huge amounts of money involved, but there is a lot that can, and sometimes does, go wrong.

A good Realtor will work hard to minimize the stress in your move. We monitor the progress of our client's loan application and make sure that the paperwork is being properly handled by the settlement attorneys. We remind sellers about any repairs that are to be made before closing. We also try to help both parties coordinate the settlement and their moves to give the sellers time to clear out before the buyer's moving van arrives. We will explain how to ensure a smooth transition with utility companies to make sure final meter readings have been arranged by the sellers and new accounts have been set up for the buyers. With our help, you can be prepared, and this will help to eliminate those little goof-ups and make your settlement easy and stressless.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Century 21, Silva Realty Associates. Call us at 242-7470 or stop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Joe Tierney Wants To Bring Leadership To The Neighborhoods Of Boston

Joe Tierney has been accused of running an invisible campaign by some of the media, yet, the veteran City Councillor has strong ideas on how Boston should be run. Councillor Tierney would like to challenge Ray Flynn on many issues.

Ray Flynn backed away from televised debates. He has refused to inform radio and television whether he'll show up or not, causing the media outlets to cancel the event entirely.

The public has the right to know exactly where the candidates stand on the issues. Crime is getting worse in the City of Boston, as is traffic, the plight of the homeless and the conditions in the schools.

Joe Tierney wants the people to know he has solutions. He has sent a letter to the General Managers of Channels 2, 4, 5 and 7, requesting they air the televised debate shown recently on Channel A-23, Cablevision. Many citizens don't have cable and many of the elderly have cancelled their subscriptions because Mayor Flynn raised the rate from two to twelve dollars.

Tierney has sent a telegram to the F.C.C. complaining that the area television stations, 2, 4, 5 and 7, have failed to fulfill their mandate to the Federal Communications Commission to serve the public in Boston. The public also has the right to know that Mayor Flynn won't tell the media if he'll show up or not for debates.

Joe Tierney wants to bring leadership, not lip-service, to the neighborhoods of Boston.

Reconstruction Problems Continue To Plague Main And Warren Street Residents

by Kathy Giordano

On Tuesday of this week, another walking tour was made on Warren and Main Streets to check on the progress of the reconstruction work and to investigate the complaints of residents received during this past week.

The only visible work in the area was the bricklayers laying sidewalk bricks in various locations. It was noted last week that the crew had dwindled down to three men from the original fifteen or so seen on the job when the brickwork was begun. This week, complaints continue to be heard on the quality of that work.

The tree openings that cover the width of the sidewalk on Warren Street between Church Court and Cordis Street are still untouched, causing very difficult walking conditions through that area. A steel plate was left on the roadway at the bottom of Cordis Street over the weekend creating so much noise that it would be heard on High Street whenever a car went over it. Similar steel plates can be seen along the reconstruction route thrown on sidewalks and roadways for no apparent reason, since they are not covering an open hole.

At 81 Warren Street, not only has a pile of debris been left in the gutter for days, but the newly laid brickwork is so uneven, a depression in the sidewalk has resulted. The bottom step of the house at 77 Warren Street has been made level with the new sidewalk at the new owner's expense.

DEBRIS has been left in the gutter at 81 Warren Street for over four days. Neighbors are fearful that bricks will be thrown through their windows, as has happened on Main Street in the past.

Brick sidewalk work continues along the odd side of Warren Street — the side of the street that has had the sidewalks narrowed. The Massachusetts Department of Public Works (MDPW) is in the process of obtaining reconstruction cost figures on widening this sidewalk. However, if the MDPW gives the go ahead, that work would not be done until the spring.

On Main Street, the sidewalks have not as yet been bricked from City Square to Pleasant Street, but problems persist there that have to be corrected before the bricklayers get that far. At the corner of Winthrop Street, there is a hole on the sidewalk large enough for a barrel to fit into it and the sunken hole outside St.

DANGEROUS HOLE on the sidewalk at 55 Main Street at the corner of Winthrop Street.

Michael's Emporium still has not been touched.

The courtyard entrance at 50 Main Street has been left so broken that the owner is worried about the condition it will be left in after the bricklayers are finished. Survey markers in that location are not painted for easy visibility and residents have reported that they have fallen due to this problem. Gas and water gates are also protruding. Residents ask that if these sidewalks are not finished this fall, will they be left in this condition all winter? One resident stated that although she was getting impatient with the slow progress of the reconstruction work, she would rather see a good job done instead of a speedy job. "I

Housing And Development Committee Seeks 50 Per Cent Moderate Income Housing On Parcel P-2A

by Mary Ziniti
Anyone who thinks of New England as a quiet, quaint little area of the country obviously has never attended a meeting of Charlestown's Housing and Development Committee of the Neighborhood Council when a heated issue is the topic of the evening's agenda.

The October 21st meeting, appropriately held at the Charlestown Working Theater, concerned the status of Parcel P-2A, located at the corner of Main and Bunker Hill Streets, and featured dramatics not apparent in many a play.

With the consent of the community attending this meeting, the Committee voted to request that the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) ask the four developers submitting proposals for the land, to include 50 per cent market rate and 50 per cent moderate affordable housing, excluding the low-income housing consideration. Proposals submitted for development of the Parcel by Charlestown Garden Townhouses/Conroy Development Corporation, Myerson/Allen and Company and Crowninshield Corporation included plans for 25 per cent low income affordable, 25 per cent moderate affordable and 50 per cent market rate housing. The fourth developer, Gate Five Associates, listed housing for the Parcel at 70 per cent market rate and 30 per cent affordable.

In the BRA's Request for Proposal in seeking a developer for the site called for 25 per cent being designated as affordable while 25 per cent would be low affordable. The remaining 50 per cent of the housing would sell at market rate.

Committee members and residents expressed their objections, both at this meeting as well as at previous meetings, to the inclusion of low income housing in this development. At various points in the meeting, both groups said that Charlestown has its share of low income housing and now needs more affordable housing to allow its own residents to stay in the community. There was some concern that the low-income component would translate into more persons from outside the town obtaining houses, to the exclusion of current residents.

Charlestown resident Dan Kovacevic said that more affordable housing could be attained for the community through the 50/50 percentage. Although many people agreed with him throughout the evening, Committee member Tom Cunha said, after a short break in the meeting, that he realized that Kovacevic was correct. Cunha said that no matter what the actual number of units are eventually built on the parcel, at least half of them would be affordable housing. Thus, the shift of the discussion and opinion focused upon the 50/50 percentage without the low income housing.

The Committee originally wanted a 70/30 ratio as members felt that more affordable housing would become available for "Townies" through this percentage, without the low income component. In fact, Committee member Julia Rodriguez said that the Committee expected to examine the developers' proposals with the 70/30 percentages at this meeting in order to compare the plans of the four developers. Cunha said that they had requested that the BRA speak with the developers to arrange this. However, the BRA did not follow this through.

Residents, Committee members and representatives of the BRA extensively and emotionally discussed the percentages of affordable and market rate housing proposed by the four developers who have submitted their plans for the Parcel. A decision on P-2A was expected some time ago but the decision has been delayed due to questions that have arisen concerning the percentages.

A communications problem appeared to exist between the Committee and the BRA staff concerning past discussions of the percentages. In an attempt to clarify whether the percentages involved in previous discussions were 25/25/50 or 70/30, Committee Chairperson Petie Hilsinger read a chronology sent by Neighborhood Council President John Tobin that detailed events and correspondence between the BRA and the Council. The chronology did not list any of the relevant figures.

Larry Brophy of the BRA stated that if he had misled anyone about the numbers, he had not intended to do so and apologized if that was the case. Additionally, Brophy said that this 25/25/50 breakdown is a city-wide policy that attempts to maximize the amount of affordable housing to be gained. Brophy stressed that this low-income housing would not produce a project.

At the request of one resident at the meeting, Brophy listed the figures that defined the criteria for encompassing low and moderate incomes of families. A yearly income of $35,500 for a family of two with an additional $1,500 for each dependent after that defines a moderate family income, while $17,700 a year for a family of two with $1,500 for each additional dependent defines a low-income family, Brophy said.

At one point in the meeting, Hilsinger asked the audience to express their opinion on the matter by a show of hands. When asked how many wanted to change the RFP from 25 per cent low affordable, 25 per cent moderate affordable and 50 per cent market rate, almost a unanimous response was in favor of a change. One resident voted no to this question. Further, when questioned whether the RFP should be changed to 70/30 or 50/50, more voted for the 50/50 ratio.

At this point the residents walked out of the room, so Hilsinger called for a break in the meeting. When the meeting resumed, only half the audience returned.

Several residents made references to the 25 per cent community equity going back into the development to bring down the price of the housing. Cunha said that was already discussed by the Committee, but the Neighborhood Council did not agree with this proposal at their last meeting and two out of the four developers begged off, noting prior commitments to organizations. Committee member Dennis McLaughlin added that he didn't remember it being stated that the 25 per cent equity should be promised to a specific organization. Instead, he said that the 25 per cent should just be set aside for the community, with no definite tag.

BOSTON CITY COUNCILLOR AT-LARGE
NO. SIX ON THE BALLOT

I would like to begin this ad by thanking everyone that voted for me in the recent Primary Election. I can assure you that I will never forget it as long as I live. You were great!

In this ad, I am going to put all the cards on the table. I want to let you know what is happening in the City Council that is never printed in the newspapers.

- In a recent City Council meeting, the Councillors voted to fire two gay people who work for Councillor David Scondras because they joined a new organization that condones homosexuals having sex with children. I was one of nine votes to fire them and I am proud of that vote.
- I was the only Councillor that voted against the spending of your money to create a Commission for Gay and Lesbian Rights ($221,000). Can you imagine 12 Councillors voting for such a commission? I stood alone on this issue. I am sick of it all.
- I was the only Councillor that voted against the entire budget that had 703 new political jobs tucked away in it. You don't see that in the newspapers. Imagine, 703 new political hacks to be put on the payroll. What we should have done with that money was to hire more police to protect the citizens of this City. I can see why my fellow Councillors voted for the 703 jobs PATRONAGE — AND NOTHING ELSE. Good luck to them. I never sold my vote for a cheap lousy job, they did. I am telling you how I vote, but will the present City Councillors tell you how they vote? No! And neither will the press.
- I am a full time Councillor doing what I am being paid for, I am not out practicing law when I should be in the Council.
- Please listen to me: there are a few radical activists running for the City Council. We have enough of them here as it is. Please study these candidates before you vote — I know who they are, and I know who is supporting them in this election.
- I want you to be aware of the organizations who would like to get rid of me. They are the Gay and Lesbian Alliance, the Americans for Democratic Action, the American Civil Liberties Union, and every social planning do-gooder liberal organization that exists. I know that my people are with me and that is all that I care about.
- Did you ever get a $30,000 pay raise in one day? It happened here in the City Council when 28 department heads were recommended for a $30,000 pay raise. Those that were getting $40,000 a year, went to $70,000 and those that were getting $50,000 a year went to $80,000. The Mayor went from $65,000 to $100,000. This tax-payers' rip-off was retroactive which gave most of them a $10,000 retroactive check. Of course, I voted against it. What I am trying to tell you is that it really happened. What I don't understand is the newspapers never tell the public just what is going on in the Council. It is a damned shame that I have to pay for my ads in order to inform the public about what is happening here at the Council. No wonder I am frustrated.
- Again, I was the only one who voted against a Federal grant of $18,000 for jobs for refugees, what about our own?
- Now for the elderly. I am their champion, and always have been. When I see all the phony Federal grants that come through here — millions of dollars and nothing for the elderly. I can't help but wonder what is happening to this great country.
- Please take your time when you go to vote, try and learn more about the backgrounds of the candidates running for At-Large seats for the Boston City Council.
- On Election Day you will see many signs, literature, poll workers — this is overwhelming for the voters. Remember, signs and literature can't vote. Like yourselves, I do not like to be bothered by signs and hand outs on Election Day. This is why I limit my volunteers at the polls.
- I would like to tell you about the endorsements I have received. I have the endorsement of the Greater Boston Labor Council, which consists of so many unions that I cannot name them all. I have a 100% voting record on labor and I am proud of it. The Boston Police Patrolman's Association, the Boston Firefighters, and the Ring Four Boxing Association.
- In conclusion, the following is a synopsis of my background and organizations I am affiliated with. The Hugh O'Brien School in Roxbury, Roxbury Memorial High School (I walked to school, I wasn't bused), Suffolk University Law School (left to go into the service) and Staley College. Can I take this opportunity to make a special plea to all the Veteran Organizations in Boston to go out and vote for me and bring your friends and families (I need you). God knows, when you needed me I was there, now it is your turn to help me.
- I am at all of the following and represent all the people in this City: Zoning Board of Appeals, Boston Licensing Board, Licensing Division, Boston Redevelopment City Council Meetings, Committee Hearings. A lot of people reading this notice know that I am telling the truth.
- Organizations that I am associated with are: V.F.W., American Legion, Silver Star D.A.V., AMVETS, Irish American Veterans (seven battle stars for Beachhead landings), Presidential Citation from the late Harry S. Truman, President of the United States, Bronze Arrowhead for Beachhead Landings, Irish Social Club, Emerald Society, Boston Police Department, Boston Lodge of Elks, Fraternal Order of Eagles (Hyde Park), Castle Island Association, International Boxing Association, Member of the Board of Directors Parkway Boys and Girls Club, West Roxbury.

REMEMBER: I AM NUMBER SIX (6) ON THE BALLOT AND I ASK YOU FOR ONE OF YOUR FOUR VOTES FOR CITY COUNCILLOR AT-LARGE.

PLEASE COME OUT AND VOTE ON NOVEMBER 3, 1987.

THANKS,

Albert L. "Dapper" O'Neil

Murphy "Stands Up, Stands Out ..."

The young Bostonian who many political observers believe will be elected to the City Council next Tuesday, says he will "Get traffic moving in town and vote to ship sludge out-of-town."

Stephen J. Murphy, the only Boston born and bred contender and Number Four on the ballot, told a group of enthusiastic local supporters last night he also feels that Crime is the Number One issue in this neighborhood and that he will introduce legislation calling for an additional one thousand Boston police officers.

"Crime and drugs slither unhindered through our neighborhoods," the Boston Latin and Stonehill College graduate stated, "and if they are not stopped now, they certainly will win the war they have declared upon us."

Murphy, himself the son of a former Boston police officer, said the City Council campaign, which ends next week "has been a long, long ordeal, made even more difficult than usual by the media which annoys some candidates and ignores others with whose philosophy they disagree."

"Unfortunately," Murphy said, "I have been one of those ignored by the press and TV, most of whom live outside the city. I have been ignored because I will not bow and scrape and conform to their liberal leanings. Boston belongs to the people of the city, not to assignment editors or city editors."

"Fortunately I have NOT been ignored by those who count the most — by you, the residents and voters of Boston. For far too long, Boston has been the work place for far too many whose only contribution to the city is more and more traffic on our streets. "It is time to get Boston on the move again, savoring our traditions but breathing a new life into an old and stale City Council. Get Boston moving with Murphy. I'm Number Four on November Three."

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

With five days to Election Day, the scarcity of campaign literature is a phenomenon. To date, the ubiquitous flyers and Dear Friend cards have avoided the area. I am sure, to some, this occurrence is a delight, but to exercise the vote, candidate information is a necessity. Evidently, the electronic and print media is the wave of the future. For the initial grass roots organization, the door-to-door approach has that lasting personal touch. At any rate, don't bypass the election. Navy Yard residents — cast your vote on Tuesday, November 3rd at the Kent Community School at 55 Bunker Hill Street.

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority has enlisted another capable employee. "Townie" resident Winnie Walsh has joined the agency, bringing her organizational skills and superb personality. A true walk-on who made the effort to ascertain the availability of positions at MWRA. Her initiative will lead, no doubt, to a lasting bond. If we could only schedule a shuttle from Main and Sullivan Streets to First Avenue, Winnie would be delighted.

While we are on the shuttle issue, Massachusetts General Hospital Shuttle has surfaced during the work week of Building 149. Many a happy employee enjoys this perk. Entering primarily via Gate 5, the drop off is managed effortlessly by the M.G.H.S. operator. As the populace expands, the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority should explore the feasibility of a permanent bus route. Boasting an outstanding team of bus rodeo finalists, the traffic pattern will pose no obstacle. Close to the head of the bidding list will be Walter Papisodoro. This change in venue will allow Walter to dine at his favorite place away from home, his mother-in-law Kay Murphy's kitchen on Bunker Hill Street.

Shut-ins won't be shut out, and out-of-towners will not be out counted — this is the policy of Mr. Absentee Voter Agent, Jim Doherty. A life-long "Townie," Jim has been coordinating absentee ballots for decades. Approaching eighty ballots in Ward Two, Jim is expanding to residents in the Yard. On a past evening, his jovial nature and quick wit was displayed at the Anchorage, as he collected forms. Jim's attention to detail is legendary. With the Presidential Primary this winter, Jim will be active once again collecting his ballots. Boundless energy, coupled with his community pride, makes Jim the perfect envoy for the Boston Election Department.

Thursday evening the twenty-second had Engine 50 and its companion, Ladder Truck 8, entering Gate 4 and proceeding to the Park Service Grounds. Whirling past the scale house, the firefighters arrived in front of the ceremonial cannon. After reconnoitering, all appeared in order. No hits, no runs — this monumental call was history. Returning to their respective houses, they settled in for the fifth game of the World Series, resulting in a more bountiful activity.

Halloween will bring a profusion of treats to the children of the Shipways condominiums. At last count, there were four children, representing the Ezekiel and Stellar households. What a haul they will garner from the residents of the Yard! I know the residents of the Anchorage are looking forward to viewing their costumes. Incidentally, the aforementioned families are displaying the best and biggest Halloween decorations within the Yard.

This gracious lady was not the Hingham to Boston commuter vessel, but the First Lady of Boston. On Sunday the twenty-fifth, First Lady Catherine Flynn graced the Anchorage Community Room with her warmth and concern. Her visit was enjoyed by all. This gesture by the Mayor's Office of Elderly Affairs, under the direction of Commissioner Michael Taylor, was highlighted by the distribution of carnations to those in attendance — a pleasant happening for a Sunday afternoon.

Congratulations to newly elected Neighborhood Council member Terry Cullen, a resident of the Yard. Petie Hilsinger and myself look forward to working with you, Terry, on the myriad of issues.

'Radicals' attempt takeover of Boston's City Council

DON FEDER

A BATTLE is brewing for the soul of Boston's City Council. David Scondras, radical councilor and gay activist, is intent on gaining control of the Hub's governing body.

Scondras' vehicle for the power grab is a seemingly innocuous ex-nun named Rosaria Salerno. A newcomer to city politics, Salerno surprised observers by coming in third in the preliminary election for four at-large council seats.

Should she win in November, it will shift the council's ideological center of gravity far to the left. Presently, Boston has four moderate-to-conservative councilors (James Byrne, Joseph Tierney, Jimmy Kelly and Albert "Dapper" O'Neil), and two liberal swing votes (Tom Menino and Joe Travaglini). There are four ultra-liberals (Bruce Bolling, Maura Hennigan-Cassey, Michael McCormack and Christopher Ianella) and three radicals (Michael McLaughlin, Charles Yancey and Scondras).

In the past session, moderates have occasionally stemmed the tide of lunacy, by winning over the swing votes and persuading one or more of the ultras to take their side. By subtracting Tierney (who's vacating his seat for a mayoral quest) from the conservative column, and adding Salerno to the radicals, the Scondras forces will have an invulnerable majority.

So far, Salerno has succeeded by projecting a nice gal/good government image: ex-nun, neighborhood activist, a woman who cares about the elderly, cares about affordable housing, cares about families. But that's not all she cares about.

Developers, landlords and middle-class taxpayers should shudder at the prospect of Salerno on the City Council. She supports draconian rent control, a permit system which would, in effect, ban condo conversion in Boston, more public housing boondoggles and a scam to force developers to pay for day care (via linkage funds).

And that's only the visible part of her agenda. In September, the lady addressed a pro-homosexual rally on the Boston Common. As a chaplain at Boston College and Northeastern she boosted all of the trendy left causes: nuclear disarmament, abortion, and feminization of the Catholic Church. ("The holder the church made Mary ... the easier it was for the clergy to keep women down," la belle libber informed a student paper.)

Show me who you walk with and I'll tell you what you think. The roster of those endorsing Salerno's candidacy reads like Jane Fonda's Christmas card list: Americans for Democratic Action, NOW, the Boston Gay and Lesbian Caucus, CPPAX, the Mass. Tenants Organization, U.S. Rep. Barney Frank, Mel King and David ("I don't care-if-they-advocate-fornicating-with-grasshoppers") Scondras.

The latter isn't just a Salerno backer, he's her political mentor. Scondras has put together a radical coalition to push Salerno's candidacy, provided staff support, and even held joint fund-raisers with her.

Scondras does enough damage on the Council without giving him a proxy vote. The body's unofficial political com-missar, he has sponsored resolutions to establish a Gay and Lesbian Rights Day, declare the city's solidarity with the communist government of Nicaragua, endorse unilateral disarmament and support the Marxist African National Congress.

The resolutions aren't all that damaging in themselves, other than making Bostonians the nation's laughingstock, but serve as a testing ground for fractional strength on questions which will affect the quality of life in the city: more special privileges for gays, a comparable worth ordinance and the destruction of Boston's private housing market. It is here that the most harm can be done by adding Salerno to the Che Guevara alliance.

The sane majority of Bostonians can do more than merely making a commitment not to vote for Salerno. They can support a sensible alternative: Joe Casper.

A two-term member of the Boston School Committee, Casper led the fight against proposed birth control clinics for the city's schools. He forced the system to go public with weekly reports of violence, drafted a new code of discipline for dealing with student troublemakers, and established a 24-hour student safety hotline.

He takes a tough law and order stand, a rational approach to growth, and would provide true representation for the city's parents, elderly, property owners and businessmen.

If you don't get involved in this fight, you have no one but yourself to blame if Salerno, Scondras and their allies succeed in turning Boston into Managua North.

POWERS ENDORSES TASSINARI FOR SCHOOL COMMITTEE SEAT

Attorney and former School Committee candidate Michael Powers, formally endorsed Attorney Steve Tassinari for Boston's District One School Committee (Charlestown, North End, East Boston) this past week. Powers, who is from Charlestown, finished a close third in the September primary.

Political sources indicate that this endorsement will probably provide Tassinari many of the Charlestown votes that Powers received in the primary. Powers received a whopping 1,956 votes in Ward 2 (Charlestown).

"I know many people in Charlestown and I think that this endorsement means something to them," stated Powers.

Powers said that he gave the endorsement because of Tassinari's "past record of accomplishments."

"He (Tassinari) is the only one running who, like myself, has children," Powers added.

Both Powers and Tassinari have worked together on the Legal Counsel for the Boston Police Commissioner.

Powers said that Tassinari has the qualities to "reshape Boston Public School policy" and feels that, with Tassinari in office, the "community will be well represented on the Boston School Committee."

TASSINARI ENDORSEMENT - District One School Committee candidate Steve Tassinari was officially endorsed by former opponent Michael Powers of Charlestown. Powers, who finished a close third in the primary, strongly endorsed Tassinari and stated that he endorsed Tassinari because of his "past record of accomplishments."

TASSINARI ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL WITH CHARLESTOWN FRIENDS

Stephen Tassinari pauses to donate to the Toys for Puppies and Kitts program.

Jerry and Kathy Benoit and their children join Stephen Tassinari as he seeks the District One School Committee seat. Tassinari, himself a family man, was pleased to have the Benoit family at his side on the campaign trail.

Mary MacInnes and Barbara Mento assist Stephen Tassinari by handing out literature as he meets residents while campaigning in the Bunker Hill Mall.

Rita Walsh-Tomasini Candidate For School Committee At-Large

Boston School Committee member At-Large, Rita Walsh-Tomasini has announced her candidacy for re-election. Walsh-Tomasini was elected to the Boston School Committee in November, 1981. During her campaign she promised the voters of the City of Boston to work in three main areas — curriculum, early childhood education, and student safety. These promises have been kept.

In September of 1984 the kindergarten-one program was returned to the Boston Public Schools. This program, providing education for children four years and older, had been abolished after the passage of Proposition 2½. Rita Walsh-Tom-asini saw the need for restoring the program. This year she fought for the establishment of two early learning centers which provide a full day program for children three years nine months and older. With early intervention, problems can be corrected and prevent expensive remediation.

For the first time in many years, the Boston Public Schools has a city-wide curriculum for all grades and all subjects. Teachers and parents can evaluate the progress of the students and can be assured that the children, no matter what school they attend, are receiving the same basic instruction. For the first time in the history of the public schools, there are definite promotional standards for all students.

Rita Walsh-Tomasini is asking for voter support for her re-election so that she can continue her work for the children. The programs instituted in the last six years have to be continued and strengthened. Parents should have the option of either extended day or half-day kindergarten. She will work for more parental involvement in the schools and will continue to visit schools on a daily basis, talking to parents, teachers, and students about their needs.

Rita Walsh-Tomasini is the third name on the ballot for the office of Boston School Committee At-Large.

Casper Brings "Dares To Challenge" Message To Boston's Voters

"When city streets are not cleaned, and abandoned vehicles are not towed, residents have a right to ask why not. When deteriorating buildings and litter-strewn lots blight our neighborhoods, pot holes cover our streets, trash accumulates in our gutters, crime soars, education levels decrease, drug abuse skyrockets and city government just doesn't seem to respond to the most basic needs of the neighborhoods, I say the city needs a voice which Dares To Challenge the status-quo and ask why these conditions are allowed to continue.

"When the city council passes more ordinances and resolutions on the conduct of foreign affairs than it does on addressing the needs of the homeless and the elderly in this city, I say the city needs a voice which Dares to Challenge the status-quo and ask why this practice continues.

"When the city council rubber stamps the budget as it does each year, authorizing higher spending levels in all departments at the very time when basic city services are not being delivered, I say the city needs a voice which Dares To Challenge the status-quo and ask why we don't use the power of budget oversight to ensure that these services are delivered.

"When the budget includes three times as much funding for the Mayor's Policy Office as it does for the Commission on Handicapped Affairs, I say the city needs a voice which Dares To Challenge the status-quo and ask the hard questions about this administration's priorities.

"As a citywide city councillor, I will bring the same dedication and hard work to that office as I brought to the Boston School Committee where I Dared To Challenge the status-quo of that body, and made that body more responsive.

"As a member of the city council, I will be the one who Dares To Challenge those who say we cannot do anything about the growing level of violence on our streets.

"I will be the one who Dares To Challenge the lack of initiative on the issue of homelessness. And in that regard, I will be the one who Dares To Challenge the practice of lumping the homeless people together, mixing alcoholics, drug addicts, vagrants and run away youth with elderly, handicapped, displaced women with children and fire or flood victims.

"I will be the one who Dares To Challenge the present charter structure, and who has the courage to ask the voters of this city to ensure that district representation works for, not against the city as a whole.

"I will be the one who Dares To Challenge an administration to work harder, and be more receptive to using incentives to create affordable housing in our neighborhoods.

"I will be the one who Dares To Challenge" bloated budgets. And I will be the one who Dares To Challenge a budget which fails to deliver every penny worth of service the taxpayers have a right to expect."

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

- Congratulations . . . to the soon to be appointed Associate Commissioner of the MDC, Jack "Sugar" Whelan of Monument Avenue. "Sugar" will be sworn in on November 9th at the State House. Our warmest wishes to you, Jack, as you assume your new duties.
- Hurray . . . the underpass through Sullivan Square has been reopened. Now traffic from Alford Street to Rutherford Avenue does not have to travel through the square, making it easier for cars going around the rotary to get through.
- Where is it? . . . On a recent "Harry McGraw and the Law" show that is filmed in Boston, Harry made reference to a criminal being placed in the Charlestown prison! Wake up, Harry! We haven't had a prison for quite a few years and our community is called CharlesTOWN! Maybe the writers should get out more often and take a tour of the town they are shooting from!
- BIG 50 . . . was celebrated by Chickie Donovan LaPage this week. Many happy returns, Chickie!
- Get Well Wishes . . . go out to Anna Kent, John O'Halloran and Glenn Luce all recuperating at MGH and to Pat Horne in Beth Israel. Speedy recovery to you all.
- Has It Really Been 17 Years? . . . Seems like only yesterday, but it was 17 years ago today! Happy Anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. G., and many, many more.
- Happy Halloween . . . Watch Out For The Kids . . . Kids, Don't go out alone and only visit houses that are well lit. Make sure your parents check all your treats before you dive into them! Let's make it a safe night for all our children.
- Speaking Of Halloween . . . The Monster Dash will be held at noon on Sunday, November 1 in front of Faneuil Hall. More than 300,000 are expected to line the route between Congress Street, the Public Garden, Boston Common and City Hall Plaza to view the 8,000 costumed runners. For more info, call the Monster Dash Hotline at 461-0808.
- Blooper of the Week . . . We didn't have to look far to find this one! Nice sign, spelled correctly — but put about 200 feet down Main Street. Thompson Square is located in the "square" — you know — the place with the two islands, where they put the Christmas tree each December! Check it out. According to the City's listing, it must be at the back door of the VNA office in the Bunker Hill Mall.

- Complaint Department . . . Where do drivers get their permits to go the wrong way on one way streets? . . . Case in point . . . Friday morning a Michelob Beer delivery truck took a right turn from Warren onto Winthrop toward the Monument . . . and the driver had the nerve to make an obscene gesture to a man who called to tell him he was going the wrong way.
- Question of the Week . . . when work is being done at one end of a one way street, why isn't a barrier put up on the other end so that drivers, finding their way blocked, will not have to back up (or down) the street into traffic?
- Complaints on the Increase . . . concerning trash placed out on the sidewalk for pick up . . . one, two and even three days before the scheduled collection day. There's no excuse for this. Trash should not be put out before 5:00 p.m. on the evening prior to collection. Long time residents should be aware of the collection schedule — newcomers should check with their neighbors or City Hall.
- OOPS . . . We forgot . . . October 21st marked the 190th Birthday of the USS Constitution . . . Happy Birthday to US!

Remember, Tuesday is Election Day

Winthrop Street has had some brickwork done on the sidewalks, but a pile of bricks at the corner of Main Street makes it impossible to walk through. Also, the question arises as to why a new hydrant has been installed on Winthrop Street in the middle of the sidewalk.

Talks still continue on the State and City levels. The final result of these meetings is still unknown. Residents are urged to continue to contact their representatives in the City and State governments to voice their concerns on the overall project. The Patriot is grateful for the many calls re-

Columbus Girls Win First Varsity Volleyball Game

by Bob DeCristoforo, Athletic Director

Volleyball has come to Christopher Columbus like lightning. We needed a Girls' Fall sport to give our ladies a complete year-round Varsity Sports Program, and Volleyball was the logical choice.

We applied for admission into the Catholic Suburban League last spring and we were accepted with full League privileges. A very good response from the freshman and sophomore classes, plus a League error, gave us an unexpected Junior Varsity schedule and with the interest, we were able to field both teams.

Like anything new, there were ups and downs, and Christopher Columbus Volleyball would be no different. The Junior Varsity has definitely held its own, picking up a number of wins, but the Varsity, despite the hard work of the players, had their troubles. Games were close, but the wins were not there.

On Friday, October 23, all the Varsity frustration came to an end. Our girls — Varsity and Junior Varsity — won. This would be the first Varsity win. Lightning had finally struck and Cathedral would be the victim.

Coach Jack Torosian called it a "complete TEAM win," but for the seniors — Nancy Saia, Christine Mahoney, Sharon Fidler, Kathy Mahoney and Captain Lynn Longo, it was especially great!

The Cambridge team got all 26 points in that first half, two of which came on interceptions by the defense. Columbus' lone two points came via a fourth quarter safety.

COLLEGE HOCKEY NEWS

According to Salem State

Head Coach, Bill O'Neil, he has 19 hockey veterans returning this year, and he has high hopes of claiming all Division II honors when they open their season in Genesco, New York on November 6 and 7.

While praising all players, he also mounted heaps of accolades on his Team Captain Paul Anthony, son of Joe and Winnie Anthony. Anthony is a senior this year as is his dynamic teammate, the "Donegal Dynamo" Danny Campbell, son of Gracie and Danny Campbell.

Coach O'Neil will be placing great hopes on these two "Townies" to lead their respective lines during this season's toughest games against Bowdoin and Norwich.

Coach O'Neil stated that the team's first home game will take place on November 10th at Salem State, reminding all you "Townie" boosters that a cheering section should be on hand to greet the "Vikings" of Salem State when they open up at home. Give me a "S" . . . you've got your "S" . . . given me an "A" . . . you've got your "A" . . . right, Gracie?

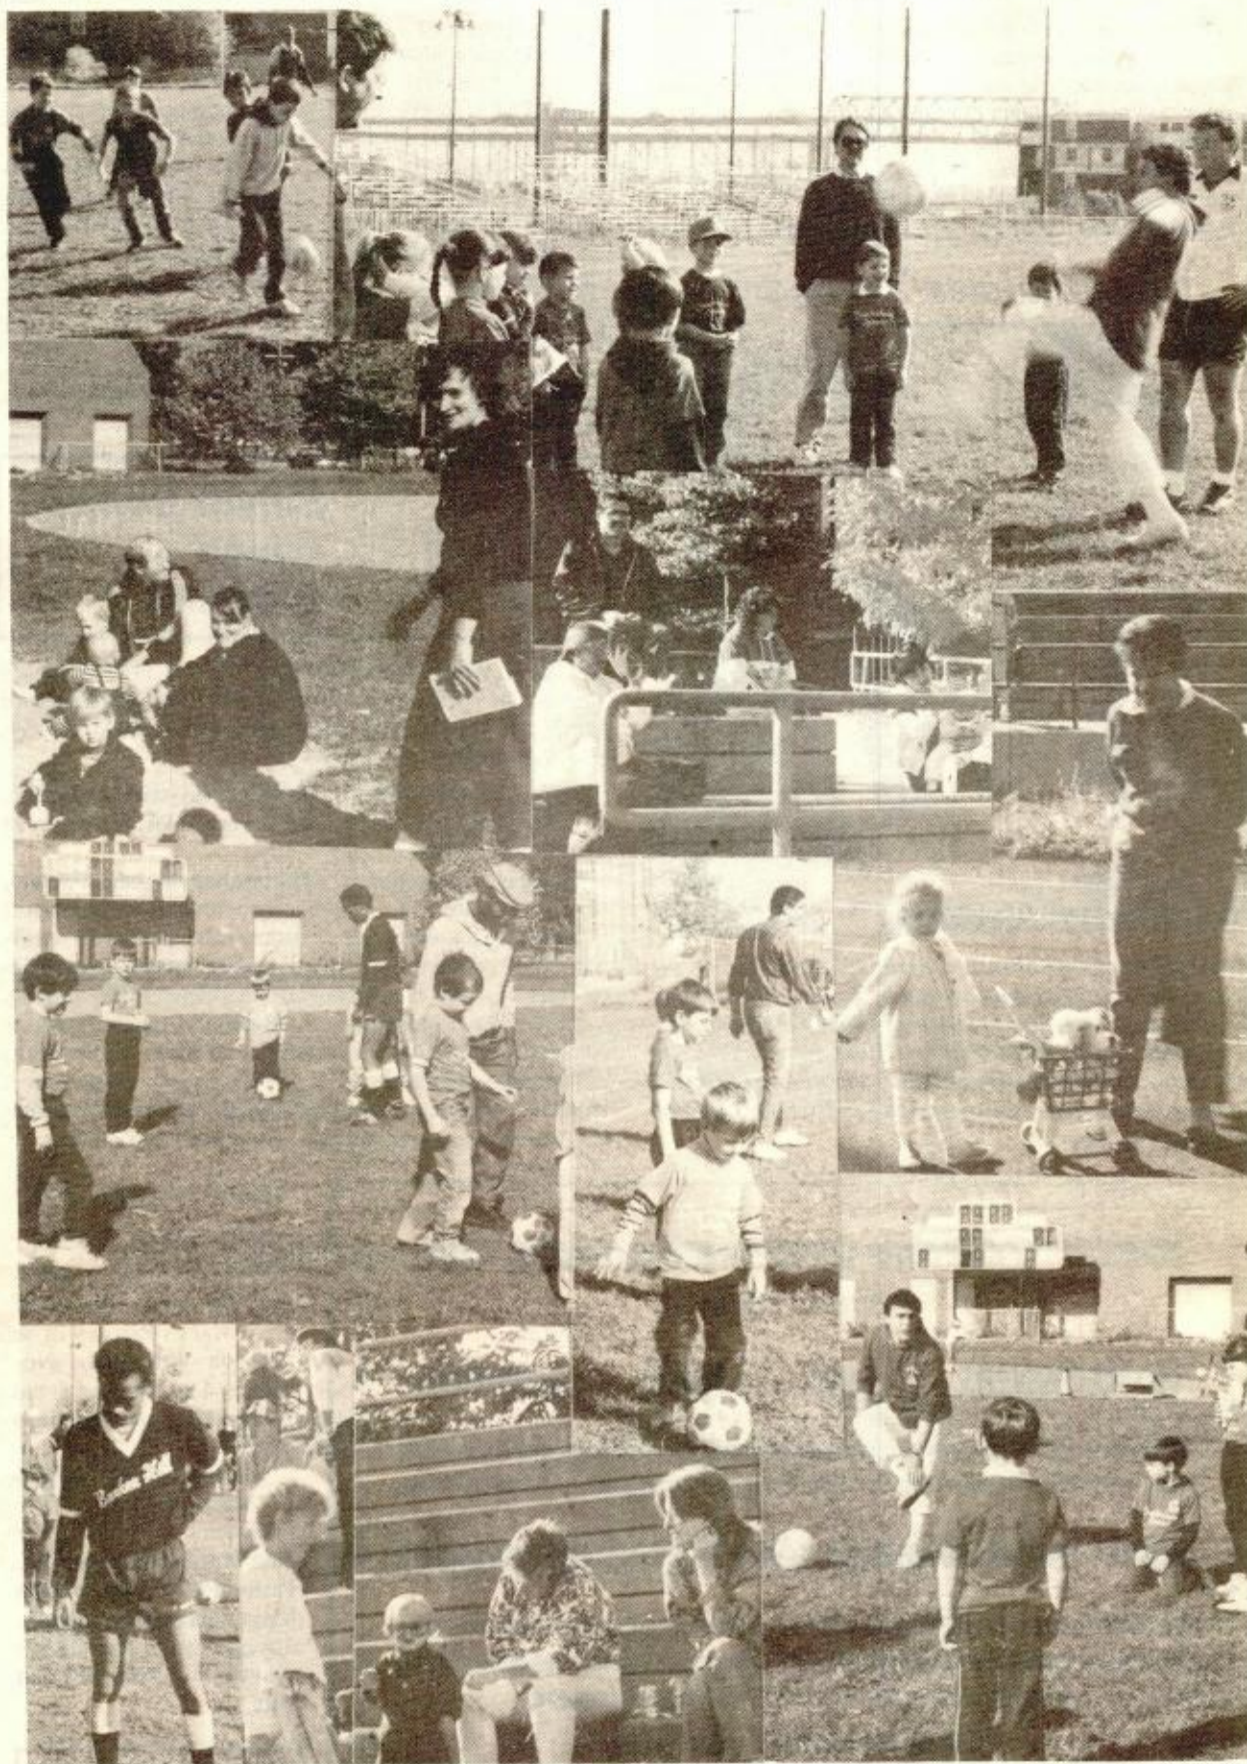

Meanwhile at Merrimack College, C-Town's own Jim Vesey got high praises from Head Coach Ron Anderson, who singled Vesey out for his unique ability on the ice as a playmaker and scorer. His warm personality and his discreet, manly ways off the ice are a hallmark of his upbringing.

Since this year is Vesey's final "Hurrah" at Merrimack as he is a senior, we wish Vesey well as Captain of the "Warriors" (blue and gray), and send our moral support in his quest to set some records in scoring, capping off a brilliant college career in sports.

You can still see Vesey perform his magic when the Merrimack "Warriors" begin their home games, facing Brown University on November 7th at Volpe Rink, Merrimack College. For game time, call Merrimack College at 1-683-7111.

We have heard through the "Fire Hydrant Grape Vine" (a certain fireman), that there is another "Dynamo," who is also a Tri-Captain on the "Warriors" and hails out of Oshawa, Ontario, Canada. This "Dynamo," imitates the hockey style of another Canadian presently coaching the Bruins, namely Terry O'Reilly, and this guy's name is Mike Boyce. According to Coach Anderson, Boyce gets the job done. Coach Anderson says, "There isn't an airline stewardess from here to Anchorage, Alaska who doesn't speak well of Mikey Boyce and when it comes to 'class,' Mike can score 'toe-to-toe' with any of them."

Boyce will be rapping up his college career along with Vesey and the third

Tri-Captain of the "Warriors," Bob Jay out of Burlington, Massachusetts. Coach Anderson concluded with praise for Bob Jay on his contributions to the team's success and summarized Jay's college stay as a classic example of true achievement whatever the challenges may be and called him a delightful person to coach.

Good luck to Coach Ron Anderson, to the "Warriors" of Merrimack College and to their leaders — Vesey, Boyce and Jay.

Halloween Safety Tips

by Boston Police Area A Deputy Superintendent Ronald X. Conway

Children in Charlestown will be trick or treating for Halloween on Saturday, October 31st.

Youngsters will be walking the streets thinking about fun, not safety, said Conway. "This puts an added burden on motorists who need to be especially careful when driving in residential areas."

Deputy Conway has some advice for parents to help make this Halloween safe for their children:

- The most important thing is visibility. Make sure your children can see and be seen. If the children must be out at night, they should wear light colored costumes, preferably outlined in reflective tape.
- A flashlight will not only allow them to light their path, it will serve as a warning to oncoming motorists.
- Face masks can reduce peripheral vision. An alternative is makeup.
- If a face mask is necessary, make sure the children know to take off the mask before crossing the street.
- Make sure a parent, older brother or sister, or guardian goes with the children when they trick or treat.
- If someone older cannot go along, be sure children travel in groups rather than alone.
- Plan the trick or treat route ahead of time. Pick streets that are well-lighted.
- Remind children to cross only at corners. Never cross the street between cars or in the middle of the block.
- If there is no sidewalk, walk facing traffic.
- Wait until getting home to sort, check, and eat treats. Teamwork between parents, drivers and children can help make a safe Halloween.

Our Gratitude

We would like to extend our sincere gratitude and appreciation to everyone who participated in anyway to make the Five Mile Walk for Saint Francis de Sales School such a grand success. We especially would like to thank all the walkers, from the youngest to the oldest, and offer our appreciation for the pledges collected for our Parish School.

Thank You

A sincere thank you to my neighbors and friends from Precinct 6 for your support during the Neighborhood Council Election.

Ellen D'Ambrosio

All the beautiful flowers, plants and many, many cards helped me get through the last five weeks. We want to thank everyone who said a Novena, or a rosary, or even a small prayer, because I feel this helped me and the outcome.

Though small, our son, John Steven Collins, was born on October 15th at 10:01 a.m. and was 13½ inches long and weighed one pound, 11½ ounces. He is doing very well at the moment, so please keep on praying. Hopefully we will have him home by Christmas.

Thank you again — and it's true what they say about "Townies," when someone is down or in trouble, "Townies" always pull through in the end. There is nothing like "Townie Pride." "Townies" are always there when you need them.

Letter to the Editor
The Boston Globe
William T. Morrissey Boulevard
Boston, MA 02107

Dear Sir:

I am writing to you in the last stages of my fruitless efforts to solve a disastrous "garbage problem" at 358 Main Street (or 3 Essex Street, as entrance to building was moved) adjoining my house in Charlestown. I have tried every avenue, barring none, to rectify this situation — to no avail. To name a few — the Inspectional Services Division, the Board of Health, Rodent Patrol, Neighborhood Services of Charlestown, the Boston Fire Department, my weekly newspaper The Charlestown Patriot, etc., etc.

I started sixteen months ago, initially contacting the perpetrators, occupants of a nineteen unit condominium next door to me. They, with the permission of the building owner, dispose of their garbage in my yard. I sent them gracious letters, pleaded with them through their intercoms, and finally succumbed to cleaning their garbage every pick-up day and placing it at its appointed place. After six months of maid service, I gave up and since then have been torturing City Hall, inspectors, anyone who will listen to me. As of this writing, I have had no success, and today there are close to sixty "hefty" trash bags, full of garbage, spilling out everywhere, and duly so, rats feasting on them, witnessed by a health inspector who I flagged down two weeks ago in the neighborhood.

Please, someone heed the aforementioned and help. This is a prime example of condo-conversion and the victims who lie in its wake.

Thank you,
Maryanne Ryan

Thanks To The Residents Of Charlestown

Dear Gloria,

As you probably have heard, Yellow Cab of Somerville has been purchased by Green Cab Company, Inc. of Somerville as of January 1, 1988.

I would like to take this time and opportunity to thank all the wonderful Charlestown residents that I have met and served while employed by Yellow Cab of Somerville.

I wrote you an article, which you published in your paper a few years back, pertaining to the rock throwing and robbing of cab drivers, which ceased after the good citizens of Charlestown took charge of the situation.

As I am now employed by Green Cab Company, I am looking forward to serving my many Charlestown friends. Whether it's my cab or the cab of one of my co-workers, we hope to give the residents devoted and dedicated and prompt service.

A memo from our president, Jerry Chaille, to the drivers calls for good service, and he means business!

Sincerely yours,
Jim Sneec
(formerly Yellow Cab Number 23)

With Sincere Thanks

It gives me great pleasure to express my thanks and appreciation for a very successful 50th Birthday Party.

I'd like to acknowledge everyone individually, however, that would be impossible. I would like to thank a few people that come into my mind, including Jean Tobin for her decorations and clever ideas and my beautiful daughter, Kerri, for her hard work.

Thank you so much.

Seeks Assistance In Solving Garbage Problem

Letter to the Editor
The Boston Globe
William T. Morrissey Boulevard
Boston, MA 02107

Dear Sir:

I am writing to you in the last stages of my fruitless efforts to solve a disastrous "garbage problem" at 358 Main Street (or 3 Essex Street, as entrance to building was moved) adjoining my house in Charlestown. I have tried every avenue, barring none, to rectify this situation — to no avail. To name a few — the Inspectional Services Division, the Board of Health, Rodent Patrol, Neighborhood Services of Charlestown, the Boston Fire Department, my weekly newspaper The Charlestown Patriot, etc., etc.

I started sixteen months ago, initially contacting the perpetrators, occupants of a nineteen unit condominium next door to me. They, with the permission of the building owner, dispose of their garbage in my yard. I sent them gracious letters, pleaded with them through their intercoms, and finally succumbed to cleaning their garbage every pick-up day and placing it at its appointed place. After six months of maid service, I gave up and since then have been torturing City Hall, inspectors, anyone who will listen to me. As of this writing, I have had no success, and today there are close to sixty "hefty" trash bags, full of garbage, spilling out everywhere, and duly so, rats feasting on them, witnessed by a health inspector who I flagged down two weeks ago in the neighborhood.

Please, someone heed the aforementioned and help. This is a prime example of condo-conversion and the victims who lie in its wake.

Thank you,
Maryanne Ryan

Mothers Bereaved In Childhood Subject Of Study

Mothers, who during their childhood lost their own mothers through death, is the focus of a study being conducted by Donald S. Zall, LICSW, a doctoral candidate at Boston College School of Social Work. The study is being supervised by Dr. Richard Mackey, Professor of Social Work at Boston College.

According to Zall, "One of the greatest fears of children is that both, or one of their parents will die or leave them. When this comes true, the impact can be lifelong." He also notes that, unfortunately, this kind of loss occurs more frequently than people think.

Although there are no official statistics kept, it has been estimated that as many as 1½ million children in the United States have one, or both, parents die before they are 15 years old. There is very little actually known about what happens to these young children, whose mother died during their childhood, when they become mothers themselves. An important question is whether this early loss effects how these mothers parent their children.

Zall is planning to interview 15 mothers. He estimates that four to six hours spread over two to three sessions will be needed to complete the interviews. Mothers who participate in the study will be paid $50.

Anyone interested should contact Zall at 782-0028, or

Dr. Mackey's office at 552-4047.

Stenciling, as developed in the early period of the United States, was an inexpensive alternative to costly imported wallpapers and carpets. The versatility and creativity allowed by the nature of the craft soon led to other uses and many styles.

Rinaldi and Nesbit will talk about the history of stenciling and current uses. Examples of various pieces of work will be used to discuss technique.

Nucci "Hopeful" For Tuesday Win

The campaign for Boston School Committee President John Nucci's first bid for city-wide office comes to a close this week and Nucci said he was "hopeful" that he would remain on the Committee by winning one of the four At-Large seats.

Voters in this neighborhood, who can vote for both their district representative and At-Large candidate Nucci, have been receptive to the School Committee President as he has campaigned all Summer and Fall.

According to Nucci, he has "tried to meet as many voters as possible and to remain focused on the critical issues and problems facing our schools. I decided to remain on the School Committee because I see my work as being unfinished. Boston's youngsters are our future and they need, in fact deserve, the same quality education as young people anywhere else."

Nucci has been President of the Boston School Committee for the past three consecutive terms, a feat unrivaled in the last 60 years of Boston political history.

Nucci has been recognized as a leader for Boston, having recently been named one of "Boston's Ten Outstanding Young Leaders" by the Boston JayCees and listed in the "Boston Herald 100," a compilation of influential decision makers for the entire city.

Nucci's campaign has gathered impressive endorsements. He has been endorsed by Democratic Ward Committees covering Jamaica Plain, Fenway, Brighton, Mission Hill, South End, East Boston, and Roxbury. Along with endorsements from the Boston Herald and Boston Globe, Nucci has been endorsed by a host of elected officials.

A Boston College and Boston Latin graduate, Nucci also holds a Masters

SUFFOLK COUNTY SHERIFF Bob Ruffo (left), shown above with Boston School Committee President John Nucci, last week praised Nucci's "leadership and commitment to improving the quality of education for Boston's youngsters." Nucci, who has served as President of the Boston School Committee for the past three years, stated that he was "pleased to have been able to work with Sheriff Ruffo on a number of issues affecting youth and safety in our neighborhoods." Last week, President Nucci and Sheriff Ruffo presented to the Boston School Committee a new program called "Jail Brake." The program is designed to stem youth from entering a life of crime by exposing them to life in the Charles Street Jail.

Degree in Public Administration from Suffolk University. He is married with two children, John Francis, 2, and Michael, 8 months.

His wife, Peggy, has been a special needs teacher in Boston for over ten years.

You don't have to go to Calcutta to see open sewers.

Come to Charlestown.

This sad street is ironically named Green. That's raw sewage you can see running down the center.

This public disgrace was reported to the mayor's office five months ago. And the poor neighbors have raised a stink countless times since.

But the city has done nothing. Absolutely nothing. It's just part of the mayor's policy of facing the cameras, not the issues.

Issues: like nightmare traffic, rampant crime, derelict streets and arrogant development.

Issues which Joe Tierney with his years of experience will not only face. He will do something about!
