- ⚓ that extends to two continents - Europe and Asia,
- ⚓ where four seasons can be experienced,
- ⚓ embraced by the natural beauties and the historical places,

Istanbul is also a city for yachts,
with its beautiful marinas for short and long stays.

Istanbul is a city where you definitely should spend around
2-3 days before you start exploring the other parts of Turkey.

- ⚓ Turkish Palaces
- ⚓ Mosques
- ⚓ Monuments
- ⚓ Princes's Islands
- ⚓ Grand Bazaar
- ⚓ Water fountains
- ⚓ Night Clubs

Istanbul for Sea Lovers...

Istanbul is still one of the undiscovered places!

Travelling gets less exciting every day due to globalization making all the cities look alike; same clothing stores, same fast-food restaurants, same cafés everywhere. Luckily, Istanbul is still one of the undiscovered places, where there are a lot of unique things to do, that you absolutely can not find anywhere else in the world.

-  Taste the specialties of the Istanbul's street life: Awfully delicious food!
-  Visit the only place in the World that has served to three religions throughout the history.
-  Have breakfast in Europe with the view of Asia and have lunch in Asia with the view of Europe on the same day.

Istanbul for Sea Lovers...

Istanbul is still one of the undiscovered places!

Get properly dressed in the morning to visit the great Blue Mosque, and get properly undressed for a crazy night out by the Bosphorus.

Go shopping in the most-visited tourist attraction in the world: Grand Bazaar!

Climb to the historical tower that has witnessed the flight of the first human ever to fly on his own.

Swim in between Europe and Asia, in a pool, that's on the sea; but it's sea-water. Sounds complicated? But it's beautiful.
