IZ PASIONSKOG FUNDUSA MUZEJA MIMARA

Muzej Mimara, Rooseveltov trg 5
1.-17. travnja 2017.

Izložba Iz pasionskog fundusa Muzeja Mimara, postavljena u Muzeju Mimara od 1. do 17. travnja 2017., jedno je od najvažnijih događanja u sklopu ovogodišnjeg obilježavanja 30. obljetnice djelovanja Muzeja.

Bogatstvo fundusa Muzeja Mimara u svojoj je začudnoj slojevitosti izvorište brojnih spoznaja o povijesti i kulturi življenja, a izlošcima su ispričane stotine priča koje nas svojom motivikom uvode u najtanjanije slojeve ljudske duše, spoznaje i htijenja. Upravo je tematika u kojoj se isprepleće dubina proživljenih trenutaka ljudske vjere i ufanja našla svoj izričaj u djelima zbirke slikarstva, skulpture i primijenjenih umjetnosti, a dnevi Kristova života, njegove bezvremenske ljubavi i patnje u nekim su od njih našli svoje ponajbolje utjelovljenje.

Odabrana djela iz fundusa Muzeja Mimara prezentirana na ovoj izložbi posvjedočuju svu snagu istinske vjere te obilježavaju još jednu u nizu izložbi isklične kakvoće koja je obilježila našu dosadašnju suradnju. Gotičko slikarstvo Italije; Čovjek boli, djelo iz kruga Alberta Bouts-a; njemačko renesansno reljefno Raspeće s Marijom i Ivanom, djelo Sebastiana Loschera; Križ iz Limogesa (XIV. st.); Raspeti Krist, talijanska skulptura s početka XVII. st. – samo su neka od izloženih djela koja pred nas donose vječnost Kristove biti. Njihova kakvoća i umještost njihove izradbe ponajbolja su potvrda predanosti vjeri i vječnoj ljudskoj potrebi za ljepotom koja u uskrsnuću i trajanju svega što uživisuje i oplemenjuje ljudsko biće nalazi smisao postojanja.

Sigurni smo kako će i ova izložba ostaviti dojmljiv trag u brojnim slojevima djelovanja Udruge Pasionska baština te ujedno uveličati 30. obljetnicu djelovanja Muzeja Mimara.

Na ovoj je izložbi prezentirano 36 umjetnina s temom muke i uskrsnuća Gospodinova iz zbirk slike i umjetničkog obrta i kiparstva iz stalnog postava Muzeja.

Malo Raspelo (ATM 678), nastalo u krugu firentinskog slikara Lorenza di Niccolò, znanog kao Lorenzo di Niccolò di Martino, primjer je tipa slikanog raspela kakvo je u Italiji bilo osobito popularno u XIV. st., premda se pojavljuje već od XII. st. U središtu drvene ploče oblika latinskog križa naslikan je patnički lik raspetog Krista okružen bogatim detaljima.

Mala slika Uskrsnuće Kristovo (ATM 1964), rad nepoznatog sljedbenika Sandra Botticellija, tipičan je primjer umjetnosti renesanse koja ističe ljepotu ljudskog tijela, pa i u liku uskrasnolog Krista.

Od slike s vremenom svakako treba izdvojiti i rasklopjeni triptih – mali prijenosni oltar – koji u središnjem dijelu prikazuje Čovjeka boli (ATM 1974), izmucenoga i ranjenog Krista, a na svakom krilu po jednog anđela

s atributima muke. Zatvoreni triptih predstavlja personifikaciju smrti, koja nenadano hvata mladića odjevenoga u raskošnu građansku odjeću XV. st. Ta je ikonografska tema bila omiljena u Njemačkoj od XV. st. nadalje.

Na izložbi je još jedna slika s prikazom Čovjeka boli (ATM 1902), a riječ je o devocionalnoj slici namijenjenoj meditaciji. Bolni izraz živoga Krista govori o njegovoj ljudskoj naravi, izložene rane o uskrsnuću, a uzdignute ruke o ulozi suca u posljednjem sudu.

Mala slika Uskrsnuće Kristovo (ATM 1964), rad nepoznatog sljedbenika Sandra Botticellija, tipičan je primjer umjetnosti renesanse koja ističe ljepotu ljudskog tijela, pa i u liku uskrasnolog Krista.

Slika Krist nosi križ Vicenza Catene (ATM 1956) prikazuje Krista u profilu, do struka, kako nosi križ. Posve suzdržanog izraza lica, smirenje je i zamisljeno oborio pogled. Glava mu je ovjenčana gusto isprepletena nom trnovom krunom, a nad njemenom mu se nadvija tanka aureola.

Na slici Mater dolorosa (ATM 888) na maniristički je način prikazana Bogorodičina bol zbog muke i smrti Kristove. Taj se tip prikaza Bogorodice nastavlja na Tizianov, u kojem je oština Bogorodičina lica nagnuta.

U španjolskom slikarstvu čest je prikaz raspetog Krista s mističnim držanjem tijela. Primjer tog stila jest slika Raspeća (ATM 1926) nepoznatog slikara s kraja XVI. st. Izmučeno Kristovo tijelo visi na križu shrzano patnjom koju je proživio, ali mu je lice u smrti posve smireno jer je muka Očeva volja koju Krist kao poslušni Sin prihvata.

Oltarni križ (ATM 411) i dvije aplike Raspelog Krista (ATM 391 i ATM 419) s križeva koji nisu sačuvani izrađeni su u XIII. st. u francuskom gradu Limogesu, koji je tijekom srednjeg vijeka bio poznat po proizvodnji predmeta u tehnici emajla. Osobitost tih limoških križeva bio je prikaz Krista na križu s kraljevskom krunom na glavi, kao pobjednika nad smrću, otvorenih očiju izrađenih od kapljica tamnoplavog emajla.

Španjolski sakralni predmeti ističu se specifičnim oblicima i ukrasnim detaljima svojstvenim bogatome kulturnom nasleđu iz kojega potječu. Procesijski križ (ATM 468) sa stražnje je strane u središtu ukrašen pločicom s prikazom Krista na prijestolju s knjigom naslonjenom na koljeno. Preuzet je sa znamenitoga ranogotičkog portala Puerta de Sarmiento na južnom transeptu katedrale hodočasničkoga grada Burgosa, a izrađen je između 1230. i 1240. i tipičan je za križeve iz gradskih radionica.

Raskošno ukrašen Oltarni križ (ATM 552) s detaljima od gorskog kristala i dragog kamenja iz druge pol. XVI. st. oblikovan je u renesansnom stilu.

Prozirnost gorskog kristala kao materijala virtuozno je iskoristio talijanski umjetnik s kraja

XVI. st. koji je na Oltarnom križu (ATM 486), finim urezima u tehnici intaglio, usmjerenim lomom dostojanstvene, nijeme patnje. Lako zapravo zadržava srednjovjekovnu kompoziciju, ta Pietà nosi i neke odlike sjevernjačke renesanse.

Tema Raspeća jedna je od najvažnijih kršćanskih tema pariških radionica, s brojnim minijaturnim likovima koji su, pod utjecajem sitno slikanih rukopisa iz toga vremena, smješteni unutar stiliziranoga arhitektonskog kadra.

Rezbarena školjka s Raspećem i prizorima iz Kristova života (ATM 541) tipičan je suvenir koji su palestinski pučki umjetnici sredinom XIX. st. izrađivali i prodavali kršćanskim vjernicima koji su hodočastili u Jeruzalem i Betlehem.

U kasnogotičkoj skulpturi česta je tema Bogorodice s mrtvim Kristom na koljenima, prizor koji prenosi jake emocije. Drvena Pietà (ATM 1288), unatoč dramatičnom pokretu, na Isusovu licu odražava smirenje koje mu je donijela smrt, a Majčino je lice skamenjeno u izrazu dostojanstvene, nijeme patnje. Lako zapravo zadržava srednjovjekovnu kompoziciju, ta Pietà nosi i neke odlike sjevernjačke renesanse.

kaza u vremenu i u zemljama u kojima su nastali.

Na dva mramorna reljefa s prikazom Raspeća s Marijom i sv. Ivanom, koja su nastala u približno isto vrijeme, mogu se uočiti razlike u načinu na koji umjetnici obrađuju istu temu. Firentinski majstor (ATM 2306) "smjestio" je temu na oltar: Krist nema trnovu krunu, tijelo mu je pravilno oblikovano, a Marija i Ivan sa strane, u očaju, raširenih ruku, gledaju umirućeg Krista.

Njemački kipar Sebastian Loscher na svom je reljefu (ATM 2307) s jedne strane križa prikazao frontalno postavljenu Bogorodicu, mirnu u boli i aktivnu u molitvi, a Ivan je, pak, u teatralnom pokretu. Okrunio je Krista trnovom krunom, a muskulatura Isusova tijela se, unatoč smrti, snažno ocrtava. Na oba je reljefa prikazana i Adamova lubanja, simbol grijeha otkupljenih Kristovom žrtvom.

Medaljerstvo se osobito razvilo u Italiji u doba renesanse, a od XVI. st. na medaljama se prikazuju i prizori kršćanske ikonografije. Na aversu Medalje Majstora I. P. (ATM 2328) prikazano je raspeće s Kristom na križu, a na reversu je Abrahamova žrtva. Na minuciozno izrađenoj medalji Kristovo je tijelo oblikованo u visokom reljefu, a dobar i zao razbojnik sa strane, vojnici i drugi likovi ispod i uokolo izrađeni su u vrlo plitkom reljefu.

Po broju izloženih umjetnina nevelika, izložba Iz pasionskog fundusa Muzeja Mimara pokazuje kvalitetan presjek umjetničkih djela nastalih ponajviše u Europi od XI. do XVII. st.

Ona je ujedno nastavak višegodišnje kontinuirane suradnje Udruge Pasionska baština i Muzeja Mimara u izlagачkoj djelatnosti za vrijeme korizmenih dana, prije svega u kvalitetnome i raznovrsnom programu kojim se slavi muka i uskrsnuće Gospodinovo.

THE PASSION OF CHRIST IN ART FROM THE MIMARA MUSEUM COLLECTION

The Mimara Museum, Rooseveltov trg 5

1st to 17th April, 2017

The Exhibition entitled The Passion of Christ in Art from of The Mimara Museum Collection, held at The Mimara Museum from the 1st to the 17th of April, 2017, is one of the most important events marking the 30th anniversary of The Museum this year. It is the result of The Museum's cooperation with the Passion Heritage Society, which has given us over 26 years of its work veritable gems of folk religiosity, literature, music ... Recognizing in the work of the Society a true commitment to the timeless values of human creativity enthused by the eternal awareness of Christ's passion, suffering and forgiveness, The Museum has repeatedly opened its doors to the rich programmes of the days of Passion Heritage, so that 19 exhibitions featuring works by masters of contemporary Croatian art and young artists have been held at the Museum. The wealth of The Mimara Museum collection, in all its wondrous complexity, is a source of numerous insights into the history and culture of living; the art objects tell hundreds of stories whose motifs take us into the finest fabrics of the human soul, of knowledge, and of striking. The themes that entwine the depth of the experiences of human faith and hope have often found an expression in the works of painting, sculpture and applied arts, and in some of them the days of the passion of Christ, and of his timeless love and suffering, have found their best embodiment. The works from The Mimara Museum collection selected for this Exhibition testify to all of the power of true faith, and make this Exhibition another in a series of exhibitions of excellent quality that have characterized our cooperation so far. The Gothic painting of Italy, Man of Sorrows, a work from the circle of Aelbert Bouts, the Crucifixion with the Virgin and St. John, a German Renaissance relief by Sebastian Loscher, the Crucifix from Limoges (14th century), Crucified Christ, an Italian scul-ture from the beginning of the 17th century – these are some among the exhibited objects that bring before us the eternity of Christ's essence. Their quality and craftsmanship are the best evidence of commitment to faith and the eternal human need for beauty which finds the meaning of existence in the resurrection and the durability of everything that elevates and ennobles the human being. We are certain that this Exhibition will also have a memorable place in the many aspects of the work of the Passion Heritage Society, and that it will make an important contribution to the marking of the 30th anniversary of The Mimara Museum.

Lada Ratković Bukovčan,

M.A., museum adviser, Director of The Mimara Museum

This Exhibition presents 36 works of art depicting the passion and resurrection of Christ, from the painting, applied arts and sculpture collections of the permanent exhibit of The Mimara Museum.

The small crucifix (no. ATM 678), created in the circle of the Florentine painter Lorenzo di Niccolò, also known as Lorenzo di Niccolò di Martino, is an example of the painted crucifix that was especially popular in Italy in the 14th century, although it can be traced as early as the 12th century. The centre of the wooden panel shaped like a Latin cross contains the painting of the suffering image of crucified Christ, surrounded by the Virgin, St. John the Evangelist, and St. Peter with the keys in his hands. Above Christ's head there is a pelican feeding her young with her blood, the symbol of Christ's sacrifice on the cross.

Among the paintings one should also mention the open triptych – a small portable altar – with the image of the Man of Sorrows (no. ATM 1974), that is, the suffering and wounded Christ, in the middle panel, and an angel with symbols of the passion on each of the side panels. The closed triptych depicts personifications of death, which unexpectedly seizes a young man dressed in lavish bourgeois attire of the 15th century. This iconographic theme was popular in Germany from the 15th century on.

The Exhibition features another painting depicting the Man of Sorrows (no. ATM 1902); this is a devotional painting meant to be used for meditation. The pained expression of the living Christ speaks of his human nature, the exposed wounds speak of resurrection, and the hands held up speak of the role of judge in the last judgment.

The small painting Resurrection of Christ (no. ATM 1964), work of an unknown follower of Sandro Botticelli, is a typical example of Renaissance art emphasizing the beauty of the human body, in the image of resurrected Christ too.

The painting Christ Bearing the Cross by Vicenzo Catena (no. ATM 1956) shows Christ from the side and from the waist up, bearing the cross. His face has a restrained expression, and his eyes are cast down in serenity and thought. His head wears the crown of thickly woven thorns, and there is a thin halo around the top of his head.

The painting Mater Dolorosa (no. ATM 888) is a mannerist depiction of the pain of the Mother of God caused by the passion and death of Christ. This type of representation of the Virgin is related to Titian's style, in which the contours of Virgin's face are more emphatically rendered.

The image of crucified Christ in a mystical posture is common in Spanish painting. An example of that style is the painting Crucifixion (no. ATM 1926), by an unknown painter from the end of the 16th century. The suffering body of Christ hangs on the cross, overcome by the passion he has gone through, but his face in death is quite calm, because the passion is the will of the Father that Christ accepts as an obedient Son.

The Altar Cross (no. ATM 411) and the two appliques of Crucified Christ (no. ATM 391 and no. ATM 419) from the crucifixes that were lost were made in the 13th century in the French town of Limoges, which was known for its production of objects with enamel decoration in the medieval period. The specific feature of the Limoges crosses was the depiction of Christ on the cross with the crown of thorns on his head as victorious over death, his eyes, made of droplets of dark blue enamel, open.

Spanish sacral objects are interesting for the designs and decorative details specific to their rich cultural heritage. The middle of the back side of the Processional Cross (no. ATM 468) is decorated with a plaque depicting Christ on the throne with a book resting on his knee. This motif was taken from the famous early Gothic portal Puerta de Sarmental on the southern transept of the Cathedral in the town of Burgos, frequented by pilgrims. It was made between 1230 and 1240, and it is characteristic of the crosses made in the town workshops. The lavishly decorated Altar Cross (no. ATM 552) from the second half of the 16th century, with details in rock crystal and precious stones, is designed in the Renaissance style.

The transparency of rock crystal was used in a masterly fashion by the Italian artist from the end of the 16th century, whose Altar Cross (no. ATM 486) features the image of crucified Christ created by the fine engraving in the intaglio technique with its refractions of light.

The ivory Plaque depicting the Crucifixion and the Entombment (no. ATM 965), from the end of the 14th century, has all the features of the Late Gothic style of Paris workshops, with miniature figures framed within a stylized architectural image, showing an influence of miniature painting from illuminated manuscripts of the time.

The carved shell depicting the Crucifixion with scenes from the life of Christ (no. ATM 541) is a typical souvenir of the kind that Palestinian folk artists made and sold to Christians going on pilgrimages to Jerusalem and Bethlehem in mid-19th century.

The theme of the Virgin Mary with the dead Christ on her knees is a common theme in late Gothic sculpture; it is an image that conveys strong emotion. In spite of the dramatic character of the scene, the wooden Pietà (no. ATM 1288) features on the face of Jesus serenity brought to him by death, and the Virgin's face wears the expression of dignified and quiet suffering. Although it does retain the medieval style of composition, this Pietà also possesses some elements of northern Renaissance.

The theme of crucifixion, symbolizing Christ's sacrifice, is one of the most important Christian themes. The crucified Christ has been represented in different ways over the centuries: sometimes alive, sometimes dead, with the crown of thorns or without one, his head reclining on his right shoulder or held up high towards the sky, his body suffering from the wounds and dying or, especially in Italy during the Renaissance and later, his body represented almost in accordance with the classical ideas of beauty. Since the Renaissance artists stopped adhering to strict iconographic norms, and many representations of Christ were informed by individual artistic conceptions.

The three Crucified Christ representations from The Mimara Museum (no. ATM 608, no. ATM 2284, and no. ATM 1318) exemplify, each in its own way, the representational styles of the period and the area in which they were made.

The two marble reliefs depicting the Crucifixion with the Virgin and St. John, which were made at approximately the same time, display differences in the treatment of the same theme. The Florentine artist (no. ATM 2306) set the theme on the altar: Christ does not have the crown of thorns, the musculature of his body is not strongly delineated, and Mary and St. John watch the dying Christ from the side, in despair and with their arms spread wide.

The German sculptor Sebastian Loscher made the relief (no. ATM 2307), with a frontally facing Virgin on one side of the cross, peaceful in pain and active in prayer, while St. John is rendered in dramatic movement. The head of Christ wears the crown of thorns, while the musculature of his body is strongly delineated, in spite of death. Both reliefs also feature the skull of Adam, the symbol of the sin redeemed by the sacrifice of Christ.

The art of medal making developed significantly in Italy during the Renaissance, and from the 16th century there are medals representing scenes from Christian iconography. The obverse of the Medal by Master I.P.

(no. ATM 2328) represents the crucifixion with Christ on the cross, and the reverse represents Abraham's sacrifice of Isaac. The delicately crafted medal features Christ's body in high relief, while the good thief and the bad thief, the soldiers and other characters around are done in very low relief.

Although the number of exhibited art works is not large, the Exhibition The Passion of Christ in Art from The Mimara Museum Collection presents a high-quality selection of art objects made mostly in Europe from the 11th century to the 17th century.

The Exhibition is a continuation of the many years of cooperation between Passion Heritage and The Mimara Museum in mounting exhibitions during the Lent, primarily in the form of a high-quality and rich programme that celebrates the passion and resurrection of Christ.
