

District Representation Hearing Saturday

by Maria Girvin

The Boston City Council has named a five-member Special Committee on Electoral Districts with Councillor Terence McDermott Chairman and Councillor Bruce Bolling Vice-Chairman. Also on the committee are Councillors Maura Hennigan, Frederick Langone, and Raymond Flynn.

The Committee will hold a series of Public Hearings, in City Council Chambers, to gather input from the City's neighborhoods on the drawing of district lines for the 1983

City Council and School Committee Elections. Representatives of local neighborhood groups, civic associations, and individuals will present their plans for dividing the city into districts at the Public Hearing. Charlestown is scheduled to give their presentation on Saturday, January 23 in the City Council Chambers at 4:00 p.m.

Another hearing will be held in City Council Chambers on Monday, February 1, 1982 at 7:00 p.m., for any group unable to attend the Saturday sessions. The committee reminds all groups planning to testify and/or submit plans that the legislation provides that all districts must:

*Be compact and contain an approximately equal number of residents - (70,000)

*Be composed of contiguous existing precincts

*Be drawn in such a way that the integrity of existing neighborhoods be preserved

All parties planning to testify are asked to bring written copies of their plans and to limit their speaking time.

Elderly Face Heating Problem

by Maria Girvin

When the elderly apartments in the Mary Colbert Elderly Apartment Complex (formerly the Harvard School) opened in Summer of 1980 the elderly became envied by the town. For the Colbert Apartments were to be a tribute to the retired and the widowed. No one foresaw the very serious defects that would mar the purpose of the complex - to provide a comfortable and safe place for the elderly to live in.

With the recent two weeks of below zero weather, residents of the Colbert Apartments have found themselves with no, or very little, heat.

Late December is when the telephone calls began to come into the Patriot office with complaints of no heat. At that time the gas meter was found frozen. But it took nearly 24 hours and the intervention of City Councillor Ray Flynn to get the heat back on, after communicating to the Boston Gas Company that the Colbert Apartments were an elderly complex and that the unpaid gas bill of nearly $5,000 (in 90 days arrears) was not reason enough for the gas company to refuse a service call to the complex.

The unpaid bill, cited by the Kennedy Center as an oversight due to the loss of their business manager, was quickly paid and the meter unfrozen but the heat problem has still not been solved. In frustration tenants called a meeting last Sunday to discuss the situation.

Each related stories of how cold his or her apartment was. Some were using their ovens to provide extra warmth and were concerned about the electrical bills they would have to face. Two tenants were often seen by others taking refuge from their cold apartments in the lounge areas of the building which are located in the center of the complex, thus insulated from the drafts that pour through many of the complex's windows. The windows are thermo-pane and designed not to need storm windows. However, faulty installation of these windows was evidenced by strong drafts.

An on-premise inspection of the heating system by a private Reading heating contractor revealed a faulty relief valve over one of the burners, allowing heated water to flow out of the boilers and flooding the

St. Mary's Cabaret

The next meeting in preparation for St. Mary's Cabaret, which will be held on March 12 and 13th, 1982, will be on Sunday, January 31, 1982 at 2:00 p.m., at St. Mary's Parish Hall, Winthrop Street. There is still time if you are interested in taking part in the show. For further information call Kay Whelan, Director, at 242-0817.

Monument Defaced With Graffiti

"Let it be supposed that our object (to erect the Monument) is not to perpetuate national hostility or even to cherish a mere military spirit. It is higher, purer, nobler. We consecrate our work to the spirit of national independence and we wish that the light of peace may rest on it forever."

Daniel Webster
at the laying of the Bunker Hill Monument
Cornerstone, June 17, 1825

Although the above expressed Webster's intent 157 years ago, someone has seen fit to make the Bunker Hill Monument the victim of radical slogans and graffiti in the name of independence for Northern Ireland.

DEFACING THE BUNKER HILL MONUMENT are anti-British slogans and the Irish Flag which will cost thousands to be removed.

The Bunker Hill Monument has been assaulted twice with graffiti, once in December, and more recently, last weekend when someone painted an Irish flag on one side of the Monument after having written pro-IRA slogans on two other sides of the obelisk, which stands for freedom.

"I've been thinking about all types of analogies between this type of vandalism and what the Monument stands for," said Phil Walsh of the National Park Service. "The whole thing is puzzling."

"It's sad to put graffiti on the Monument. It is like taking away from its life, since removal means taking away the granite through sand blasting. It's a very misplaced statement," said Ellen Finamore, Park Technician who is stationed at the Monument.

The Park Service finds themselves facing a problem they never had before and that is how to remove the illegal messages. According to Walsh, a study will have to be conducted to find the best way to remove the paint and this could run into thousands of dollars. Already, thousands were spent to re-point the Monument granite and do a superficial sandblasting last year.

Walsh said security will be stepped up to prevent further defacing. Should the graffiti vandals be caught they face a $500 fine and/or six months, imprisonment.

Thinking About Selling?

HOW TO COPE WITH HIGH INTEREST RATES

Gibson Can Help

There are many serious buyers who can't afford today's 17% mortgage rates.

That's where we can help. There are a number of ways to finance a home sale at well below today's high rates: Many mortgages can be assumed; Several banks will arrange "blend" mortgages; There's mortgage "buydown"; There will soon be a state assisted mortgage plan for first-time buyers.

For many home-sellers financing part or all of the sale can be very advantageous in terms of selling a home faster at a higher price and providing a source of long-term income.

We will be happy to explain ways to help you and the buyer cope with high mortgage rates. Please call us at our new Charlestown telephone: 242-3073

NOTICE OF OPPORTUNITY FOR PUBLIC REVIEW
The Boston Redevelopment Authority hereby gives notice, pursuant to 24CFR Section 58.23 (a) and Executive Order 11988, that improvements are planned for Dry Dock 2 in the Charlestown Navy Yard, Boston, Ma., which is in an identified flood hazard area. Financial assistance for the project of which these improvements are a part is being sought from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, Washington, D.C., through an Urban Development Action Grant.

These improvements will ensure the safety of visitors to all areas of Shipyard Park, a 16-acre public park which includes a landscaped section incorporating meadows, tree-lined paths, shrubs, flower beds, a large granite fountain reminiscent of a dry dock; a pavillion created by a segment of a building which stood on the site, and a children's play area; a public pier; and a pedestrian promenade around the perimeter of Dry Dock 2. Dry Dock 2 is a flooded dry dock which dates from the late 1890's. Shipyard Park emphasizes vistas of Boston's skyline, and provides public access to Boston Harbor.

The planned Dry Dock 2 improvements consist of demolition of abandoned utilities, construction of new electrical distribution and lighting, installation of protective fencing, and construction of surface drainage and ground plane treatment around the periphery of the dry dock. These improvements are vital to the safety of Park visitors.

Additional information on this project is available for public inspection during business hours, Monday through Friday, at the Office of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, One City Hall Square, Boston Mass., Room 948. Written comments will be received by the Authority's Environmental Review Officer, Richard B. Mertens, no later than fifteen (15) days from the date of this publication.

floor. This hot water took with it the needed degrees to raise temperatures in the apartments. According to the Reading contractor, who volunteered his time during the Sunday meeting, the intake of cold water replacing the lost hot water was causing the temperature in one of the tanks to remain constantly inadequate to help the other three boilers heat all of the apartments. During this inspection he questioned the ability of the heating system to adequately heat the whole complex. He also questioned the architect's design of placing the hot air vents directly over the intake vents which could be causing warm air to be sucked out of the apartments.

However, original contractors Neblecott repaired the valve, suggested that all the apartment filters be changed and instructed maintenance man Ted Horne to close down an intake valve so cold water would not be flowing into tanks at a faster rate than it could be heated.

Tuesday night was the last time, prior to publishing, that the Colbert Apartment tenants met. At that time, they complained before City Councillor Ray Flynn and Kennedy Center Board Members Joe Foley, Charles Johnson and Joe Kent.

While Flynn sought answers, the board members said they were unable to answer questions, claiming they were "kept in the dark" by the Kennedy Center. However, they did say that possible pressure on the Kennedy Center to rectify the heating system could be pursued through Congressman Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill's office and his intervention with HUD (Federal Housing and Urban Development), financier of the Colbert Apartments.

According to HUD officials, a large sum of money is still owed to the EDC (Economic Development Corporation), a subsidiary of the Kennedy Center and should be cleared through Washington offices once the Kennedy Center's request to re-mortgage is approved.

KEEPING THE BASEMENT WARM: Rising steam from a leaking relief valve allows needed hot water to flood the basement floor instead of heating apartments.

Colbert residents requested the board members to set up a meeting between EDC members and the tenants so they could discuss the complex's problems.

According to John Gardiner, director of the Kennedy Center, everything possible is being done and he has called in heating specialists Bay State York of Brookline, to troubleshoot the heating problem. At the time of publishing the heat in the Colbert Apartments was adequate but Bay State York was unable to explain why. Also the weather was 20 degrees warmer.

Gardiner said he has contacted the architect, Vitols, and requested a statement from their engineers to determine whether the boilers are adequate for the complex. Gardiner also said he is looking into the possibility of placing fans in the ceilings of apartments, controlled by a light switch, to throw down warm air collecting at the top of the high ceilings. He also said the window leaks will have to be investigated.

But the problems of the Colbert apartments do not stop here. Last week, the tenants were without hot water for six days, because of frozen pipes. No insulation was the reason given.

Prior to that the elevator often jammed and at one time had residents trapped inside for an hour and a half until the Fire Department rescued them with the "Jaws of Life", tearing open the elevator frame to force the doors open.

According to Judy Fessenden, of Shannon

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen, D.M.D.

FLUORIDE FACTS

Dental literature is replete with facts on the effectiveness of fluoride in preventing tooth decay. How does it work? Sugars in the mouth set up a favorite environment for the growth and development of germs. These germs produce acids that cause decay and leave behind deposits that injure the gums. One of the big defenses against this process is fluoride which builds up the resistance of teeth to these acids. It should be in your child's drinking water so it can be absorbed in his growing teeth; it should also be in your child's toothpaste, and applied regularly on his teeth by the family dentist.

Chicago (the first big city to fluoridate its water supply) reports that tooth decay has been cut in half among its school children, and credits fluoride for this improvement. As an added plus, Chicago parents are saving an estimated $20 million a year in dental bills.

In areas where the water is not fluoridated, children's teeth can be substantially protected against cavities by fluoride in drop or tablet form.

Elevator, installers of the elevator, the problems have been corrected and it has not malfunctioned in three months. Fessenden said the elevator was tested last month and has since received its Certificate of Safety from the City of Boston. "Like everything else it was new. Hopefully we've ironed out the bugs," said Fessenden. Because they were able to rectify the elevator's problems, pending litigation between Shannon and the building's contractors has been smoothed out. Several residents expressed fear of eviction if they discussed the problems in the apartments with the press or outsiders. Chapter IV of HUD regulations provides guidelines to protect the tenant and these are available at the HUD office.

"Now don't get this wrong," said one of the Colbert tenants, "If we could get the elevator and the heat fixed and get someone for emergencies, this place would be perfect."

Plans for the First Annual Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society Banquet are being finalized. The date is set for March 20th and is sure to be a sell out. Plan to get your tickets early. Save the date - more information on this shortly.

It's A Girl

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Dickey of 7 Elwood Street, announce the birth of their first granddaughter, Carey Lynn Foley, born January 15. The proud parents are Lynn Marie (Doherty) and William Foley of Monument Street. The Foley's also have a son Christopher Paul.

The historical committee of the Society is planning some lectures on Ireland and cultural stories from Erin by interesting speakers from the local area and abroad. More on this later....

The new mailing address for the Society is Post Office Box 202, Charlestown, MA 02129.

The next meeting of the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society will be held at the Community Room of the Mary Colbert Apartments (downstairs, rear), 20 Devens Street, on Wednesday, January 27, 1982 which will be for the purpose of nominating the slate of officers for the Society's first election to be held on Wednesday, March 3, 1982.

All members are urged to take part in this important event...the nomination of the first President of the Society. The installation of the newly elected officers will take place on March 20th at 6:30 p.m., just prior to the Banquet (which will, naturally, feature a corned beef dinner). This promises to be a grand evening for this new organization.

REMINDER: Keep an eye on the Patriot for news on upcoming events...and please note that tickets for events will be for members first, so get your application for membership in as soon as possible.

New Computer System To Streamline Mazow Accounting And Insurance

"More individualized attention" is the goal Attorney Richard Mazow of Mazow & Mazow, 2 Dexter Row, who has recently purchased a California Computer System from Computer City of Charlestown. Mazow, whose expertise also lies in accounting and insurance, is the third generation of Mazows to keep an office in Charlestown, and the business continues to expand. With his new computer he expects to better serve his clients in accounting and eventually in his law practice as the computer has word processing capabilities. For the last two months, and with the assistance of Ellen Franklin, Mazow has input 20 file drawers of information on his clients' 1980 tax returns in order to begin tax forms for 1981. "In this way, I'll be able to have a more professional output while spending less time with the procedures such as math, etc. This will cut down the time between the interview and the final product. The California Computer System is a total in-house system allowing all data and files to remain on the premises. The concept of computers in these fields is new and when utilized is usually done by sending the information out to a firm to be processed. However, Mazow has taken the concept one step further.

HOLD ON TO YOUR DIME CHARLESTOWN, YOU MAY NOT NEED IT AFTER YOU READ THIS:

They may not look it, but pay phones in your area are changing. Because we're converting them to phones that give you a dial tone before you give them a dime.

They're called "Dial Tone First" phones—and they're easy to recognize. They have an orange plate next to the coin slot, and a new instruction card like the one shown here. And when you pick up the receiver, you hear a dial tone right away.

That means you can call for emergency assistance without depositing a dime.

Or you can make operator-assisted calls—like credit card and collect calls—and calls to Directory Assistance without using any change.

Of course, you'll still need to deposit a dime before dialing local and long distance calls directly. It's all explained on your pay phone instruction card.

So keep your eyes open for this card. And hold on to your money.

Secretarial School Opportunity

The Boston Business School is currently accepting applications for the second semester class beginning January 25, 1982. The Boston Business School, founded in 1914, is a postgraduate, junior college level school, which utilizes the latest in modern business technology and equipment. For the high school graduate of any age who needs skills for employment, the Boston Business School offers an excellent opportunity to acquire superior training in typewriting, shorthand, accounting, bookkeeping, machine transcription, word processing, and computer technology. Students can complete the program of studies at the school in one to two years, depending upon the course selected and individual effort. All graduates of the Business School are placed by the school in good positions in the business offices throughout the Greater Boston area.

It is significant to note that many Business School graduates go on to four-year colleges to acquire a bachelor's degree.

The School Committee of the City of Boston provides residents of all ages with a chance to obtain a sound, junior college level education and a good job at minimum cost at the Business School. Non-residents of Boston may also enroll by paying full tuition.

Interested persons are welcome to visit the Business School, 989 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, MA 02215, or to call, 787-5600, for an application and additional information.

ARE YOU WORRIED THAT SOCIAL SECURITY WILL STOP WORKING BEFORE YOU DO?

For a program that looks out for hundreds of millions of people, you can't beat The System. Social Security has been working hard for Americans since 1935.

The trouble is, it isn't working so well anymore. Because it's being taxed in ways that weren't anticipated back when it was started. And now we're starting to realize that if we're going to be able to afford to retire, we'd better begin to save for it now.

At Charlestown Savings, we're proud of our long history of helping people with their financial planning. And we're ready to help you plan for your retirement years with our newly expanded IRA accounts and our new Life Saver Plan.

With a Charlestown IRA you could retire with a fortune.

Starting now, everyone who works can set up his own retirement plan. Because now everyone is eligible to open a Charlestown Savings IRA. Whether or not you have a company pension or profit-sharing plan. Whether or not you're salaried or self-employed.

And starting now, you can shelter up to $2,000 of your income every year. Up to $4,000 if you file with a working spouse. And up to $2,250 if you're married but your spouse doesn't work.†

You can choose to have us invest your IRA contributions in any of a number of different savings plans. Including a brand new 18-month certificate with a fixed simple interest rate that's guaranteed for the entire 18 months. And a new 18-month certificate with a variable interest rate which will change monthly, based on the 13-week U.S. Treasury Bill auctions.

18-month fixed rate certificate.	18-month variable rate certificate.
14.40%	11.69%	12.58%
annual rate	annual rate	effective annual yield

But at any rate, you're going to wind up with a lot of money. All of which is fully insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the Deposit Insurance Fund of Massachusetts. How much money? Amounts will vary depending upon your age, contributions, and prevailing interest rates, but the following chart shows some impressive projections.

Current Age	Years to Retirement	Future Pre-Tax Value
		10%*	12%*	14.40%
25	40	$1,176,480	$2,250,194	$3,436,594
30	35	700,385	1,216,728	1,746,095
35	30	413,616	654,256	883,345
40	25	240,886	348,127	443,037
45	20	136,845	181,514	218,325
50	15	74,177	90,834	103,643
55	10	36,430	41,480	45,114
60	5	13,695	14,619	15,244

* Assumes continuous compounding on one annual deposit of $2,000 at average rates as stated.
  Assumes simple interest on one annual deposit of $2,000.

Save on taxes and save the savings.

Besides the savings you'll realize through your annual IRA contributions, you'll save significantly on your taxes. For example, if you're in the 30% tax bracket and you deposit $2,000 a year in your Charlestown Savings IRA, you'll save $600 on your taxes. If you and your spouse contribute $4,000 a year, you'll enjoy tax savings of $1,200.

† Contributions up to the legal limits are deductible for Federal income tax purposes, but not for Massachusetts income tax. Interest earned on contributions is tax-deferred until distribution for both Federal and Massachusetts income tax. All amounts distributed and not previously taxed are usually taxed as ordinary income in the year of distribution.

Now, if you invest that money, in a high yield certificate for example, in 30 years your tax savings alone could add up to $18,000 and $36,000 respectively. Very respectable sums to add to your retirement cushion.

And don't forget. In addition to the money you're saving in taxes, your annual contribution and the interest it earns remain tax free until you retire or withdraw your money. And since you'll be between the ages of 59½ and 70 by then, you'll probably be in a much lower tax bracket than you are right now.

Probable Tax Bracket	Annual Tax Savings on $2,000 Contribution	Accumulated Tax Savings (Years to Retirement)
		10	20	25	30	35
29%	$580	$5,800	$11,600	$14,500	$17,400	$20,300
33%	660	6,600	13,200	16,500	19,800	23,100
39%	780	7,800	15,600	19,500	23,400	27,300
44%	880	8,800	17,600	22,000	26,400	30,800
49%	980	9,800	19,600	24,500	29,400	34,300

No more than $100 needed to start your IRA. No service charge to maintain it.

With as little as $100 you can set up your Charlestown Savings Individual Retirement Account. And there are quite a few ways you can do it. You can have your contributions deducted from your paycheck (we can arrange this with your employer). You can make a lump sum deposit. Or you can make weekly or monthly deposits which will be handled exactly like statement savings accounts, with quarterly statements.

At Charlestown Savings, there's no service charge attached to your IRA. It's absolutely free. And Charlestown Savings personnel are also free to give seminars and talks to community groups or companies. Just call 482-2600 and ask for the Marketing Department.

If you prefer, you may set up an appointment to discuss your own personal IRA with a Charlestown Savings Bank IRA specialist. Just stop in at any of Charlestown Savings 14 convenient offices or call 482-2600.

A Life Saver for savers with $5,000 and more.

If you have even more money that you want to invest, we have the perfect place for it. A Charlestown Savings Life Saver Annuity. It starts with a minimum of $5,000 and can end with a million or more. In addition to providing a high yield it gives you tax-deferred interest, emergency withdrawal privileges and safety of principal. Ask us about it when you call or stop in to talk about your personal IRA.

Helping you gain financial security in your retirement years. Another reason why when we say Charlestown Savings, people all over Boston say, "That's my bank. For my future."

My Aunt Mary

by Charlie McGonagle

Everybody has an Aunt Mary. Her name may well be different, and in some cases she may not really be related, but yes, everybody has an Aunt Mary.

She is the one who spent more time over tea with your mother than all the others, the one whose home you visited most frequently, the one whose children were your closest friends in your earliest years.

I'd like to tell you about my Aunt Mary.

For just about as long as I can remember, she lived on the second floor of our three family home on Elm Street. Her older daughter, also Mary, was within six months of my own age. She was my closest cousin, my closest friend, and as is usually the case in a relationship of this type, my most hated enemy. Being a bit older than I, she was naturally tougher, faster, and smarter. A scar which decorates my upper lip, even to this day, is the result of one of the many fights I lost to her. My brother, Leo, shared a similar relationship with Aunt Mary's younger daughter, Peggy, though I doubt he lost as many fights.

During the summer months of July and August, our two families would move up to "The Lake", a misnomer at best.

"The Lake" was a summer camp located a full mile from the nearest body of water, Silver Lake. My Uncle Tom Walsh and his father, Maurice had built it when Tom was seventeen years old. It had served as a home away from home during the summer months for all of our pre-working years.

At "The Lake" we pumped water from a well, used an outhouse, and slept on floors. We walked more than two miles each Sunday to attend Mass, and a greater distance on Friday nights to see a movie. We climbed trees, pulled commando type raids on apple, pear, and peach orchards, planted a garden, played Peggity and Kick The Can, and walked to Silver Lake to swim and build castles in the sand. We were city kids, totally out of our element, but loving every minute of it.

And back at the camp, my mother and Aunt Mary reigned supreme. There was no family car, and as a result my father and Mary's husband, Dick, stayed home during the week to work, arriving only on Friday evening by bus to spend the weekend.

For two months each year we were one family with two mothers, for the remainder of the year the same home on Elm Street was shared by the McGonagle and Williams Clans.

The years, marriage, and families have taken cousins Mary and Peggy to homes outside of Charlestown, but they are back often to visit their mother who has stayed, and still stays on the second floor of my parent's house.

Yes, we all do have an Aunt Mary, and when something unexpected, something unfortunate happens to her, we are touched more deeply.

Back in late October or early November, my Aunt Mary suffered a broken pelvis from a fall, an accident which promised to set her back for a few weeks, but also promised to have her home to Elm Street in plenty of time to prepare her annual Thanksgiving Day Dinner for her children and grandchildren. However, between her fall and the holiday, fate intervened, dealing Aunt Mary a series of

An Open Letter Of Gratitude

Recently I was confronted with a tragic and most difficult situation. My initial reaction to the loss of my wife and son was one of total despair. Only through the encouragement of my family and friends, through their support and prayers, was I, along with my daughter, able to cope.

I have now come to realize that true friendship is best measured in such trying times. The old adage "A friend in need is a friend indeed," has never been more appropriate.

From the most casual of acquaintances to the closest of friends, we have received heartwarming and greatly appreciated support and condolences.

Although time may help to ease our burden, our loss can never be minimized - nor will time ever erase the feelings of sincere gratitude we have for those who assisted us through this ordeal.

There are no more sincere words that I can find to express this gratitude than, "Thank You."

Sincerely,
Francis "Wimpy" Lynch
and daughter, Patricia Morello

Charlestown Resident Learns Trade In City Program

Bob McGrath of Charlestown, together with the City of Boston's Employment and Economic Policy Administration (EEPA), is helping to meet the personnel needs of local employers.

Bob is taking a welding training course, funded by EEPA and operated by the Boston Technical Center (BTC), which will prepare him for an exciting new career in a field with high demand. The BTC welding course, and other EEPA-funded vocational training courses are part of an intensified effort by EEPA to train economically disadvantaged Boston residents in fields where local businesses need workers.

In the 24-week course, Bob is learning the safe operation of electric arc welding equipment for shielded metal arc, gas metal arc, gas tungsten arc, and in the oxyacetylene welding, brazing and flame cutting equipment.

Bob McGrath, who was unemployed for six months before entering the program, said: "I've been learning a lot here. The teachers are very good and helpful to everybody. I've always been interested in this kind of a trade, and now I'm getting the background to go out and get a job in it."

Bob's chances of getting a job are good. In the past year, the BTC welding program has placed 96% of its graduates in the unsubsidized private sector jobs. And the employment outlook for welders is bright.

Gary Erickson of H.P. Westinghouse, which has hired several graduates of the BTC welding course, said: "Over the next three years there will be numerous opportunities for welders in Boston and bordering states such as Rhode Island and Connecticut. The people we've hired from the Boston Technical Center have made a real contribution to our company; they have good work habits and good technical ability in

toral district were presented Tuesday night, at the Charlestown Town Council Meeting, at the American Legion Hall on Chestnut Street. Bobbi Harden was the moderator of this month's meeting.

William McClellan, representing the Committee for Neighborhood Representation, presented the CNR plan to combine Charlestown with the areas of Beacon Hill, Back Bay, Kenmore Square and Longwood Avenue (the medical areas).

Under this plan, each of the neighborhoods mentioned have populations ranging from approximately 11,000 to over 17,000. Charlestown's population listed as 16,877, would be outnumbered by approximately 1,000 persons in the Back Bay area. Some opponents of the plan said that in an election the Beacon Hill, Back Bay, Kenmore Square and Longwood Medical Area would probably create a block vote, and would outnumber Charlestown by a 3 to 10 margin.

However, McClellan said that a "Townie" has a very good chance of being elected for representation because there is no dominant ethnic group to contend with.

McClellan also said these areas had many issues in common such as large elderly populations, housing needs, condominium conversion, gentrification and the threat of displacement.

A second plan was presented by Sal Giarratani. Under his proposal, Charlestown would be teamed with the North End, the Waterfront area, Beacon Hill, the West End and part of the South End. Again, it was considered that these areas face similar issues as Charlestown, however, opponents to the plan questioned the attainability of the plan because it left East Boston isolated and unaccounted for.

City Councillor Albert "Dapper" O'Neil, who opposed the districting plan from the start, said that the only way he would vote for a plan was if it allowed one representative from Charlestown, one from Mission Hill, one from East Boston and one from the South End.

O'Neil also demonstrated how the present nine councillors already cover the other districts in the city just by their residences. However, the O'Neil's plan would be impossible under law as each district must constitute a population of 70 thousand.

"This is going to wind up in Mayor Kevin White's lap and ultimately in the courts," said O'Neil who has attended five other districting meetings which he termed as chaotic.

Resident Bobby Wallace addressed the gathering, citing opposition to a district that includes Wards 1, 2, 3 - East Boston, Charlestown, North End. This plan has been proposed by the Committee for District Representation which is being led by Mel King. Wallace stated that CDR is trying to take away any opportunity for Charlestown to elect a Councillor. He cited the strong ethnic vote in the North End and East Boston as one of the main factors.

City Councillor Frederick Langone also spoke on the districting issue, saying "We're (the City Council) at a loss in giving Charlestown, Roslindaie and the South End adequate representation. They will be the most severely wounded." However, Langone did say he thought the CNR plan was the best he had seen for Charlestown.

City Councillor Ray Flynn, who favors districting reminded residents that accountability was the most important. "We can't have an elected official from every part of the city - that's not the objective. It's to give everyone a fair and equitable opportunity to elect someone to the city council or school committee and to provide accountability."

Also present at the meeting was City Councillor Michael McCormack and David Flanagan, administrative assistant to Councillor Maura Hennigan.

Anna Butler, 86, was surprised last Sunday when she found herself the focus of attention at a surprise birthday party at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Everett.

Besides her five children and their spouses, Anna found herself surrounded by her 23 grandchildren and 33 great grandchildren. They celebrated her birthday with a buffet dinner and presented Anna with a money tree.

Anna is a life-long resident of Charlestown and presently lives on O'Reilly Way.

For paternal grandparents John and Alice Curtin of 24 Monument Square, Charlestown, this is also their eleventh grandchild.

My Aunt Mary

losing hands from his cards of destiny. Several setbacks, totally unrelated to the original injury, kept her in the hospital through Thanksgiving, through Christmas, and through the New Year. She was bounced back and forth from hospital to rehabilitation centers. A person of lesser courage may have broken, but Aunt Mary fought fate with her God given strength, and two weeks ago, seemed to have emerged victorious.

However, just when all the unexpected complications were finally put in check, when her strength and color were returning, it was discovered that a pin which was used to set the pelvic bone more than three months before, had slipped. Just when the ordeal of an entirely too long and too painful hospital stay seemed to be reaching a welcomed end, more surgery was ordered for this week.

What was to be a few weeks of hospitalization has now stretched into nearly four months.

Most of you do not know my Aunt Mary. All of you know your own. With your Aunt Mary in mind, say a prayer for mine. She belongs on Elm Street. We'd like to see her there.
