Doing for self: The way to success

“We build things and then we invite others in that don’t have our best interests at heart. Every system that we built for self-reliance was infiltrated and eventually was destroyed,.” - Charles Bowlds

“Sacrifice, purposeful action”

Peace Family!!! I pray all is well. With every tragic moment we have as a community and with every life that is lost, the silver lining is we're starting to see things the same. It's like when it's a funeral that's when you get the whole family under one roof. It's a good sight to see everyone in solidarity, but make no mistake that's just step one. Now what's the next step? In my humble opinion we need to show our independence through pooling our resources. Putting our monies together, bringing our gifts and talents together so that we can thrive together. The Honorable Elijah Muhammad outlined in Muhammad Speaks newspaper nearly 50 years ago, a plan addressing the economic plight of Blacks in the United States. It was presented as an "Economic Savings Program" and a "3-Year Savings Plan" that called on all Black wage earners across political, religious and ideological lines to make regular, affordable contributions into a single national treasury. So for example just imagine;

$$5\text{¢} \times 16 \text{ MILLION} = $291 \text{ MILLION IN 1 YEAR}$$

A DAY WAGE EARNERS

Unlike other groups, such as the Koreans, Chinese and Jews, Blacks are hardly involved in purposeful saving and investing so why not change that. In order to do so we must separate, you see separation is the only way to end black suffering. "The American dream is built on a Black nightmare," said Min. Farrakhan. America only likes separation when it suits her purpose, whether foreign or domestic, he said. The same thing that worked for the separatist founders of America and separatist movements across the globe can work for Black people in America, he said.

At the end of the day we're in the valley of decision, its a spiritual war going on in high places (Good vs Evil). What side of the fence are we choosing? We are God's choosing people ain't no way around that, so why not come together start small if you have too, start hosting town hall meetings again in your communities, let's start planning how to improve our conditions outside of social media. Let's take break from sport, play and partying and let's have these real conversations on what actions can be taken to do for ourselves and separate from the same enemy that's been oppressing us for so long. Yes its going to be uncomfortable but its even more uncomfortable when they murder your relative or friend in the streets for the world to see and then they get off the hook with a slap on the wrist. It's time for us to have home-court advantage now, time for us to create our own court rooms, time to dish out our own punishment.
