- Making strange bubbling or gurgling noises - if your drains aren't draining properly due to a clog or corrosion, you may hear strange sounds as the water passes through your pipes. It's important to call a plumber if you hear unusual noises coming from your drains to resolve the issue quickly before additional damage is done to your pipes.
- Emitting unpleasant odors - when hair or grease gets trapped in your pipes they can start to emit foul smells. If you notice unpleasant smells coming out from your drains whenever you run water down your faucet, you could benefit from having a professional come take a look. They can determine the right solution and get your drains functioning normally in no time.
