

The Most Recent Minecraft Snapshot Includes 'Wither Boss' Baked Potatoes and Invisibility Potions

The latest install-at-your-own-risk Minecraft update (snapshot "12w34a") is now available over at the official Mojang blog. After installation, there will be many fundamental modifications to the way maps and nether portals operate. Wzjzz.Com You will also receive some new items as well as things to make with said items. This is possibly the most amazing creature you've ever seen.

The game is dubbed the "Wither Boss," this new baddie is a three-headed floating body that shoots explosive skulls from each head. It doesn't appear as though the creature actually exists in the game at present but the files are there, ready to be hacked in if you've got some kind of death wish (as shown in the demonstration video above by Sethbling).

This update also adds carrots and potatoes. The former is a reagent for baking potatoes, and the latter being a major ingredient in invisibility potions of all things. The potion makes you invisibly to all creatures around you however it will not alter your armor or other objects. It's not wise to pour baked potatoes on your head.
