

Grooming Gangs-Is There An Islam Link?

I always thought these things to be right wing stories, because we never see arrests for murders in the news. But it seems to happen and it does look like Muslims are responsible in most cases ,even shown on BBC, which is an appologist network for most. It's a wonder that parents of victims have not organised to liquidate these monsters, then we would see what religion they were from. I tried to research this before in India, but since I can not read that language ,I could not find the needed details. In this research I do get more detailed information, so now I can see if I can link some specific deeds to the character that Islam creates as teaching. If you believe a religious book to be fact then you will use reasoning that fits what that ideology teaches ,as you take that as your Ethics.

I have already seen over a hundred videos and a bunch of articles to get known with the situation and I already found some Islamic reasoning in the reactions that people give about what happened. So I will give you a load of articles about the topic and video links with time codes to point out specific points within the documentary.

This research I will not do like I normally do as in showing 2 sides of the conflict, you probably still get some other view points as that is just my way of researching, but I will skip most of those opinions. My goal with this research is trying to find points that link the events to the Islamic thought patern ,that the teaching creates. After seeing the same things happening in India where I could not pin it to Islam, I am prety sure that it is linked to Islam. So now trying to find indicating clues that point to this.

So this will be a bias report ,as it has been long enough that we made up excuses for Islam, while these evil things just continued ,because we were not smart enough to see the religious link in all of it. I found some links and will show them, and will even try to add the verses to it that imo motivate the choices, behaviour. First I will go through the information and will note down every micro clue I can find. And at the end I will judge if the points I found are strong enough indicators that it indeed is linked with Islam or not. This again is an emotional topic ,so I definitely will get angry in my text while creating the text. But in the end I will weigh it all, and remember, when I say animals and those kind of words then i'm talking about the people that do these horrific things, not every Muslim !

I have let this research go, because I replied at Tommy Robinson, and that reply was removed. And I do not support hypocrites, so I deleted my other reply that he kept as well. As if you stand for free speech then deleting replies is not what you do if you disagree but then you supposed to refute the thing you do not agree with by use of your free opinion. But ones opinions get deleted then the person is acting the same way that our government does. And then you have no leg left to stand on.

So I have deleted all my support info for Tommy as that is not my path. You can not only like free speech when it suits you and drop it ones it does not. Free speech has to be consequent !

If you want to finish the research feel free to do so, but my motivation is gone after this hypocrisy. So i'll go on building my case by documenting historical events to back up my reasoning.

Most of the Telford info is in here and on the bottom various other cities where the same things happened. Was planning to put all of them in the research as I did with Telford, but now that is up to someone else now, , I will not even participate if cheating is the way to do it, The way is fact and if fact gets denied then the cause gets ignored and the problem will never be solved.

Police slammed for ‘victim-blaming’ over ‘consensual sex’ note

INDEX

UK police have been accused of “victim-blaming” after the rape and exploitation of hundreds of children. More than 1,000 cases could ultimately be uncovered in Telford. However, a note has reportedly emerged that claims the sex was ‘consensual.’ Children as young as 11 apparently gave permission for their abusers to have sex with them, an internal police message relating to the Telford sex-abuse scandal said. The message has been uncovered in the probe looking into the sex abuse of children, many of whom were sold for abuse, beaten and forced into taking drugs. It allegedly read “in most cases the sex is consensual.”

Outrage has spread among campaigners and those involved in the case, as West Mercia Police comes under fire for the latest grooming-gang scandal to rock the UK. Child-abuse lawyer Dino Nocivelli of Bolt Burdon Kemp, told the Daily Mirror: “The authorities just don't seem to get it. Children cannot agree to sex. Just because a child is not being physically forced to carry out sexual acts, it doesn't mean they consented. Many of these children will have been groomed and manipulated by their abusers and would have been threatened to keep silent. How can you say an 11-year-old is capable of consenting to sex with a 40-year old? This is rape.”

Officers are being accused of “victim blaming” the children. It is currently unclear how many victims the police could unearth, but some claims say 1,000-plus children may have been groomed over four decades in the Shropshire town. A probe found that two predatory pedophiles began targeting girls from a local children's home in 1981. This appears to have been the starting point for years of systemic abuse, according to the investigation. Home Office figures show that Telford, a town of 170,000 people, has the third-highest number of child sexual offences recorded in the UK, after Blackpool and Rotherham. West Mercia Police Supt Tom Harding has, however, disputed claims that this could be the UK's worst scandal.

“I don't believe Telford is any worse than lots of places across England and Wales,” he told the BBC. “I am confident that, in the main, we do know the scale of CSE. Therefore, I significantly dispute the 1,000-plus figure and do feel it is sensationalized. “Read the headlines, read the reports. What are they actually discussing? They're discussing cases from 20 or 30 years ago, offending back in the 1990s. We've never said there aren't cases, there are always cases we are working on and seeking to prosecute.” However, West Mercia Police has said tackling child sexual exploitation remained its 'number one priority' for officers in Telford. In 2017, the approach of the officers was 'subject to independent scrutiny' from the Home Office last year.

Horror cases from the area have emerged, including the treatment of Lucy Lowe. The child, 16, was pregnant with her second child when she was murdered by her ‘boyfriend’ alongside her sister Sarah, 17, and their mother Eileen, 49. Taxi-driver Azhar Ali Mehmood first targeted Lucy in 1997. She gave birth to his child when she was just 14. Two years later, her burned down their house in Telford. He was never arrested or charged with any sex abuse crimes over his involvement with the young girl.

Becky Watson suffered two years of sex abuse at the hands of a grooming gang, which began when she was 11. She was 13 when she died in March 2002 after falling from the bonnet of a car near her youth club, in what driver Ahmed Nawaz claimed was a 'prank' which went tragically wrong

Becky Watson, 13, was killed after a car she was in crashed. It later emerged she had been the victim of Child Sex Exploitation (CSE) for two years. Vicky Round, a friend of Becky's, was forced into a crack-cocaine addiction, aged 12. She died aged 20 after a suspected drug overdose. Torron Watson, Becky's mother, said: "Girls like Becky were treated like criminals. A girl of 13 is not a criminal for being raped and abused, she is a victim and it is the disgusting perverts who abused and violated her who are the criminals," she said.

Vicky Round, a friend of Becky's, was abused by the same gang. She was just 20 when she died of a suspected overdose. She had been forced into crack cocaine and heroin addiction by her abusers

Other women who survived abuse spoke about being taken to “rape houses” where they were repeatedly abused. Their sickening adult abusers reportedly told them that they would “burn their house down” if they told anyone – referring to the killing of Lucy Lowe. Prime Minister Theresa May told the Commons it is important that an inquiry into child sexual exploitation in Telford gets under way as quickly as possible. Seven members of a grooming gang were jailed in 2013 after a police investigation. Officers admitted at the time that up to 200 men from across the country had been involved in the ring, but many remained unidentified.

This is not the first such scandal to rock the UK. Asian grooming gangs were found to have raped and systematically abused hundreds of girls in Rotherham. Local MEP Jane Collins called for an "urgent, immediate investigation into the apparent industrial scale child sexual exploitation in and around Telford." "It brings me to tears to think that despite everything people said had been learnt from the scandal in Rotherham, and the suffering and abuse of those victims, we still have young girls being raped by predominantly Pakistani Muslim men, just as they were and, I believe, still are in Rotherham," she said. "When did some people in the police, in social services and in local and national government, start thinking that the systematic rape and abuse of children was acceptable, which trying to stop an investigation seems to indicate?"

Driver jailed over bonnet prank death 5 August, 2002

The incident happened in Marton Drive

A driver who "snuffed out" a young girl's life in a prank that went wrong has been jailed for three years.

Rebecca Watson, 13, suffered fatal head injuries after she fell from the bonnet of a car being driven by Ahmed Nawaz. At Stoke-on-Trent Crown Court on Monday, the 21-year-old admitted his reckless driving had caused Rebecca's death. The court heard that Nawaz, from King Street, in the Wellington area of Telford, Shropshire, had been driving his Honda Civic car in the area when the incident occurred on 4 March 2002.

Conflicting reports

The prosecution said that Rebecca had been with friends in Telford's Martin Drive and had struck up a conversation with Nawaz. Prosecutor Nicholas Webb said there were conflicting reports of what happened next - some witnesses said that Nawaz's car wheels spun before moving off. Police statements said the girl had been screaming for him to stop, while others said she had been in conversation with him while the car was moving.

Police investigators concluded the Honda car had been travelling between 20 and 25mph when the accident happened. Mr Webb said it was unclear whether Rebecca had fallen or jumped off the car but she had been on the bonnet for a distance of 200 metres and the whole journey lasted about 30 seconds.

“ There was evidence that she was enjoying it - but she simply should not have done it. ”

Denis Desmond, defence counsel

'Tragic prank'

Nawaz, a restaurant worker, was originally charged with manslaughter but pleaded guilty to death by dangerous driving. Denis Desmond, defending, described the incident as a "prank that went tragically wrong". "It is right she sat on the bonnet and there was evidence that she was enjoying it - but she simply should not have done it. "He accepts that he was going too fast and that he should not have done it. "Mr Nawaz simply did not think that she would jump off."

Driving ban

Passing sentence, Judge Granville Styler said that Nawaz had "snuffed out" Rebecca's life. "Your driving on that evening was very dangerous and it had tragic consequences. "This court takes a dim view of people using their motor cars for dangerous pranks and this case has shown what the consequences of that are."

Nawaz was also banned from driving for five years and ordered to re-sit his test when the ban ended.

Rebecca Watson-KILLED AT 13 IN CAR PRANK BY DRIVER, 21

Rebecca Watson was just 13 when she died in a car accident which was described in court as 'prank that went tragically wrong.' The youngster, pictured, suffered fatal head injuries in 2002 after she fell from the bonnet of a car being driven by a 21-year-old who admitted reckless driving.

The Mirror said it had diaries that revealed her torment at being made to 'sleep around'. Her mother Torron Watson yesterday claimed her daughter, known as Becky, had suffered abuse at the hands of an Asian grooming gang from the age of 11. She said she had repeatedly reported her daughter's abuse and given police a list of suspects. She told the Sunday Mirror: 'Girls like Becky were treated like criminals. I was crying out for help but it felt like I had nowhere to turn.

'If Becky's abuse had been properly investigated by the authorities more girls could have been saved from going through this hell.'

Father of murdered Telford teenager Lucy Lowe is told to 'be careful' in a chilling threat sent after he spoke out about his fears his daughter was groomed, 13 March 2018

<http://www.dailymail.co.uk/news/article-5493247/Father-murdered-Lucy-Lowe-told-careful-threat.html#ixzz59cbtbSAW>

- Lucy Lowe was pregnant when she was murdered in a house fire in Telford
- Azhar Ali Mehmood, 26, set the house fire which killed his girlfriend Lucy, 16
- Mehmood was convicted of murder but was never charged over sex abuse
- Telford has the third highest number of child sexual offences recorded in the UK

The father of a murdered teenager now linked to a child grooming epidemic told of his fears last night after police received a threat to his safety. Lucy Lowe was 16 and pregnant with her second child when she was murdered alongside her sister Sarah, 17, and their mother Eileen, 49, in a house fire in Telford set by Lucy's 26-year-old boyfriend, Azhar Ali Mehmood. The taxi driver was later jailed for life after being convicted of three counts of murder – but was never arrested or charged over sex abuse.

The couple's 15-month-old daughter was found wrapped in a blanket under a tree in the back garden – after being moved to safety before the fire was lit. A Sunday newspaper claimed this weekend that Lucy could be one of up to 1,000 victims of grooming or childhood sexual abuse in the Shropshire town over the past four decades – making it potentially one of the worst scandals of its kind in modern Britain.

It can now be revealed that Telford has the third highest number of child sexual offences recorded in the UK, just behind Blackpool and Rotherham, according to the Home Office. Last night, as there were calls from the charity Barnado's for an independent inquiry into the growing scandal, Lucy's father George said he was fearful of reprisals as he spoke out about his fears his daughter was groomed. Mr Lowe, 73, told how police received a call from an untraceable pay-as-you-go handset last week warning that the bereaved father needed to 'be careful' – as it emerged Lucy and another local potential grooming victim who died in her teens, 13-year-old Rebecca Watson, had displayed classic signs of being abused in the run up to their deaths.

Azhar Ali Mehmood was later jailed for life after being convicted of three counts of murder – but was never arrested or charged over sex abuse

The worrying incident comes almost 18 years after Mr Lowe’s family was wiped out in the fire at their home in Leegomery, Telford, Shropshire. Mehmood was jailed for life with a minimum 18-year tariff. Mr Lowe, who now lives in Wellington, just outside Telford, said: ‘A police officer visited me last week and said they would be implementing security measures at my home as a result of this phone call. They are not discounting the possibility of another arson attack and were talking about installing a fireproof letterbox.’

Mr Lowe and his sister, Edna Jackson, also told how Lucy became ‘unruly’ after getting together with Mehmood, often truanting from her school – where the family were later told taxis would congregate to pick up pupils. Mr Lowe added: ‘I don’t know if that was how she first encountered him or not. ‘She began truanting. I tried my best to get her to school but I couldn’t forcibly drag her there.’ He said he ‘should have been tougher’ and put a stop to his daughter’s relationship with the older man, but said the taxi driver had claimed he was four years younger than his true age.

Mrs Jackson, 72, added: ‘Lucy would climb out of windows in order to get out if she was grounded. Back then, I just thought it was her being a teenager but now we all know a lot more about grooming and the effects such abuse can have on the victims. Lucy’s behaviour fits that picture. I can’t bear to think she was being groomed and wasn’t able to ask for help.’ Rebecca Watson was 13 when she died in March 2002 after falling from the bonnet of a car near her youth club, in what driver Ahmed Nawaz claimed was a ‘prank’ which went tragically wrong.

The Sunday Mirror claimed it had diaries that revealed her torment at being made to sleep around, while her mother, Torron, told the newspaper her daughter had been abused since the age of 11 but that police failed to properly investigate. Yesterday another relative told the Mail the teenager had gone from being a model pupil and daughter to a troublesome child after falling under the spell of an older female friend.

The relative, who asked not to be identified, said: 'Becky's behaviour changed soon afterwards. We knew something was wrong but she wouldn't say what the problem was. But even then we kept asking ourselves what an 18-year-old wanted with a 13-year-old. 'Now of course we know that victims of sexual abuse are sometimes themselves used by their abusers to lure in more victims.'

Nawaz, who was 21, at the time of the teenager's death, was jailed for three years and banned from driving for five years after admitting reckless driving. He denied knowing anything about childhood sexual abuse in the Telford area when approached by the Mail last night, and categorically denied any involvement in such activity himself. Last night Barnardo's chief executive Javed Khan said: 'The scale of the abuse in Telford is deeply shocking and those responsible must be held accountable for any failings uncovered. 'Barnardo's would support a public inquiry to understand what went wrong so the same mistakes are never made again. It is vital that police and other agencies leave no stone unturned to bring child sex abusers to justice.'

Yesterday Clive Jones, director of children and adult services at Telford and Wrekin Council, said he was not aware of any murders associated with child abuse in Telford and said he did not recognise the figure of 1,000 potential victims. He rejected calls for an independent inquiry, saying: 'I do not know why it would be necessary.' He said the council had worked hard to tackle child sexual exploitation and victims now had greater confidence to report abuse. In 2016-17 the local authority received 337 contacts raising concerns about child sexual exploitation relating to 224 young people, more than half of whom were referred to child protection teams. Mr Jones said: 'All (reports) have been investigated with rigour. Because of all the work that we have done I would expect those figures to be high ... because young people and parents are prepared to disclose.' West Mercia Police said it was unable to comment on any 'operational decisions' that may have been taken by its officers in relation to Mr Lowe.

One of the Telford grooming victims has spoken out about her horrendous four-year ordeal at the hands of a gang who sold her 'countless times' for sex - and slammed the authorities who did 'nothing' to help her. It is believed gangs in the town abused up to 1,000 girls, some as young as 11, over a four-decade period. The girls were often drugged, beaten and raped, one was murdered alongside her mother and sister and two others died in incidents linked to the sickening scandal. Telford has the third highest number of child sexual offences recorded in the UK, just behind Blackpool and Rotherham, according to the Home Office. 'And from there it was just a whirlwind of rape every day basically. I was going into the doctors and the youth sexual health clinic to get the morning after pill, probably twice a week, and nobody even questioned anything. 'I had two abortions, still nothing was said to me. I was in cars that were stopped by the police and they asked me no questions of why I was there with a much older man... it got to the point where I tried to commit suicide, and still nobody asked me any questions about what was going on in my life and why I was reacting the way I was reacting.'

Holly added: 'The way I got out of it was by actually leaving Telford and isolating myself from my friends and family and everybody else that I knew. 'The reason why it went on for so long was because the men were blackmailing me saying that they were going to rape my family members or burn my house down.' Asked by Susanna Reid how many men she thinks were responsible for the abuse she suffered, 'Holly' said: 'I couldn't even put a figure on it, it's that many. The main abusers, I'd say seven, but I was being sold every day, countless times, for four years.'

Holly spoke out about her horrendous four-year ordeal at the hands of a gang who sold her 'countless times' every day for sex - and slammed the authorities who did 'nothing' to help her. She spoke out as it emerged that the social services department at the centre of Britain's worst ever child grooming scandal acted on just half of the warnings they received, it emerged today. Telford and Wrekin Council in Shropshire were given 715 child sexual exploitation referrals in three years, but just 324 of the cases were referred. Seven men were jailed in 2013 following Operation Chalice, a police inquiry into child prostitution in the Telford area.

Mubarek Ali, 34, sold teenage girls, some as young as 13, for sex above an Indian restaurant in Telford, Shropshire, after grooming them. His brother Ahdel Ali, 27, was handed a 26-year sentence after the pair sexually abused, trafficked, prostituted or tried to prostitute four teenagers. But authorities were warned of the abuse a decade before Operation Chalice. Only 303 were passed to its Children Abused Through Exploitation team, according to the figures released under freedom of information laws. Last night, as there were calls from the charity Barnado's for an independent inquiry into the growing scandal.

BBC under fire over its coverage

MPs from across the political divide yesterday accused the BBC of failing to cover the Telford scandal adequately. Sarah Champion, Labour MP for Rotherham, and Lucy Allan, Tory MP for Telford, both attacked the broadcaster over the story, which has featured prominently in newspapers since the weekend. One paper claimed that up to 1,000 vulnerable mainly white teenagers in Telford could have been targeted by 'groups of mainly Asian men' since 1980.

Miss Allan said in a tweet that the BBC was 'not strong on standing up for white working class'. Miss Champion, whose Rotherham constituency suffered a child sex abuse scandal, condemned both the BBC and ITV for their failure to devote enough screen time to the story. A BBC spokesman said: 'It is incorrect to suggest that the BBC has ignored this story, which has been covered widely across our output for two days.'

Telford's Conservative MP, Lucy Allan, has previously called for a Rotherham-style inquiry into the allegations and called the latest reports 'extremely serious and shocking'. A council spokesman told The Mirror, who obtained the figures, that they 'do not paint the whole picture'. He added: 'A referral to children's safeguarding service is just one of a number of appropriate outcomes to a contact of this type.'

Telford's Conservative MP, Lucy Allan (pictured), has called for a Rotherham-style inquiry

'Our analysis shows that all the contacts received a proportionate response. 'In addition to the 33 per cent referred to Children Safeguarding Service, a further 38 per cent were referred to another council or partner service and the remaining 29 per cent receiving information and advice.'

Speaking this morning, Holly added: 'I feel angry that I'm still being denied an inquiry in Telford – a specific inquiry in Telford. I'm not shocked at the scale of the abuse because I saw it with my own eyes. People need to open their eyes and admit there have been massive failings. Not only do I need answers, my family need answers and the whole community need answers. 'I'm going to keep fighting for everybody else – the survivors who haven't got a voice – to have the opportunity to have a voice and I will continue doing that.'

In Rotherham around 1,400 girls, many of them under-age, were sexually abused over a 16 year period at the hands of men from the town's Pakistani community. An estimate of the number of victims in Telford was calculated with the help of Professor Liz Kelly, from the Child and Woman Abuse Studies Unit at London Metropolitan University, who reviewed the Mirror's figures. Dino Nocivelli, a specialist child abuse solicitor, said: 'These children were treated as sexual commodities by men who inflicted despicable acts of abuse. The survivors deserve an inquiry. 'They need to know how abuse took place for so long and why so many perpetrators have never been brought to justice.'

Mubarek Ali, 34, sold teenage girls for sex above an Indian restaurant in Telford after grooming them. He was sentenced at Stafford Crown Court (pictured)

The paper says authorities were warned of the abuse a decade before Operation Chalice. One victim, who was targeted by paedophiles and forced to sleep with dozens of men, said: 'The police have betrayed the children of this town for a second time.' 'I dread to think how many victims there have been over the years – it wouldn't surprise me if the offending was on the same scale as Rotherham. 'It has been going on for at least two decades. When will it stop?' West Mercia Police have admitted errors were made in the way detailed reports had from street pastors on night patrol had been handled by police. Some of the street pastors had witnessed teenagers being sold drugs at under-age parties and gangs of men grooming intoxicated children.

A spokesperson for Telford and Wrekin Council told the paper:

'Child sexual exploitation (CSE) is a vile, evil crime. It's an issue right across the UK and has been for a long time. 'Telford will be covered by the national CSE review. We welcome this. All agencies continue to work very closely together and this remains our top priority.' Police said 100 girls could have become victims in Telford between 2007 and 2009. Supt Tom Harding, of West Mercia Police, said communication had improved dramatically in recent years. He added: 'Incidents identified by pastors point to potential signs of child sexual exploitation and we use this as intelligence, to target individuals who may need to be investigated.'

A victim has previously spoken out about the abuse she suffered (file photo)

The terrified victim of a Telford grooming gang has previously told how she was raped by a pair of cousins in a traumatising campaign of abuse during which she was told her life would be 'made hell'.

Former A-Level student Paula - whose real name has not been reported to protect her identity - bravely spoke about her ordeal to the Birmingham Mail in March 2015.

She recalled harrowing details of how one of her abusers broke into her home to rape her.

Paula said at first she thought the threats were 'a joke' but after she was raped she was "very, very scared".

Worn down by the attacks from the depraved cousins, she fell into a cycle of abuse involving other Asian men. The details are too harrowing to recount, but she was also subject to violence including stones being thrown at her face and being beaten.

The victim later saw both of her abusers brought to justice.

Mohammed Ali Sultan, 31, was jailed for seven years after being convicted of two counts of rape and one of attempted rape of the former A Level student, who bravely went on to rebuild her life to become a nurse.

Underage sex now ‘normal part of growing up’ in Britain: 8 May, 2017

<https://www.rt.com/uk/387603-child-abuse-sex-exploitation/>

INDEX

Children are increasingly at risk of being sexually abused because underage sex has become “a normal part of growing up” in the UK, a new report argues.

The Family Education Trust says health and social agencies are increasingly taking it for granted that children under the age of 16, Britain’s legal age of consent, are engaging in sexual activities. The report said the “expectation” of underage sex is leaving children vulnerable to abuse and exploitation, as health and social workers fail to ask individuals about their partners.

“Relaxed attitudes towards underage sex has led to what can only be described as a paralysis in child protection agencies as far apart as Rochdale in the north, Torbay in the south, Thurrock in the east and Liverpool in the west,” said Norman Wells, who is the director of the trust and author of the report, the Daily Mail reports. Speaking on TalkRadio, Wells said the confidential provision of contraception to under-16s is “giving young people the impression that it is ok to engage in underage sex.” He said he hoped the report would help policymakers and professionals weigh the evidence and engage in a national debate on underage sex.

The research follows reports that young girls are being exploited and groomed by older men after being failed by police and social services.

It looked into seven serious case reviews, including alleged abuse in Bristol, Oxfordshire, and Rotherham, that took place over the past four years. It found a common tendency of social and health agencies to refrain from asking young people about underage sex for fear of sounding judgmental, meaning any signs of abuse inevitably go undisclosed. The report claimed, in the case of Rochdale, underage sex went “unchallenged” and “many young people were placed at risk of sexual exploitation” because reducing the number of teenage pregnancies was the main priority for agencies. In one case, no action was taken after a 14-year-old girl informed a crisis intervention team that a 21-year-old man had made her pregnant.

“Even though the normalization of underage sex has been identified repeatedly in the serious case reviews as a reason for the complacency of child protection agencies, there is no indication of a willingness to address these underlying issues either at the local or the national level,” Wells said.

Professor David Paton of Nottingham University Business School called the 152-page report “utterly damning,” while warning against promoting a culture of “confidentiality.” “A clear picture emerges of a culture in which underage sexual activity has come to be viewed as a normal part of growing up and seen as relatively harmless as long as it is consensual,” Paton was reported saying in the Daily Mail.

“An unhealthy emphasis on confidentiality has been used too often as an excuse to exclude parents who might have been in a position to help stop the abuse at an earlier stage,” he added. The report calls for new guidelines giving “explicit recognition to the role of parents,” as well as a review of the Crown Prosecution Service guidance so that “due rigour is restored to the law on the age of consent.”

THE most striking thing about Sarah is her bright smile and sweet tendency to collapse into giggles.

She chats animatedly so it's hard to believe that behind her sunny disposition lies a devastating secret - she is the victim of one of the most sickening crimes this country has ever seen.

"It was at least once a week, sometimes twice a week, and sometimes it was two in one day," she tells me in that matter-of-fact way that I've found victims sometimes recount their experiences of brutal rape.

For Sarah it all started in Telford, Shropshire, when a group of men living close by started to take an interest in her and would come knocking on her door.

She says that right from the outset, it made her feel uncomfortable.

"I sort of knew them and I was friendly to them, but I didn't really go out of my way to hang out with them," she continues.

Nonetheless, the men continued to appear at her door. This is typical of how these gangs operate. Once they've chosen a target, usually a vulnerable or young girl, some groups use charm and gifts to win them over, others harass and bombard them with unwanted attention.

Victims of sex gangs are groomed this way for months before being unexpectedly and savagely attacked by men they believe to be their friends. In Sarah's case it was a matter of weeks.

Just a month after meeting a man introduced to her by a "friend," he came knocking on her door. She tried to turn him away but he forced his way in.

THREATS

She says she reported the rape to the police but then told them she didn't want him arrested because he lived nearby.

Two days later, before she'd even begun to process what had happened, in a manner fitting the pattern of sexual exploitation, Sarah was attacked again.

This time another man joined in. Then, barely a week later, she was raped by several men. And so began a horrendous ordeal that was to last four years.

Sarah quickly became too frightened to report it to police because the men all lived close by and some were hardened crooks.

She was visited repeatedly and says rape and gang rape became a way of life for her. Sarah was controlled by her abusers and says she was passed around 72 men.

Sarah's story is so horrific it stops me in my tracks.

She was taken to many other towns and cities in the UK to be used for sex. A chart she made shows how the men were connected through social circles or family.

I'm staggered when she absentmindedly describes a particularly chilling incident as consensual - it involved 10 men in one night. I realise that she has been so convincingly groomed and brainwashed that she knew no other pattern for healthy sexual activity.

Sarah is one of thousands of victims of gang grooming in the UK.

I first reported the phenomenon for Dispatches two years ago and case after case has since hit the headlines.

The Office of the Children's Commissioner estimates at least 10,000 children may have been victims of this kind of exploitation. At long last, the secret of this appalling crime may finally be out.

However, that has turned out to be only half the battle. Cases like this are notoriously difficult to get through the courts.

For the past three years, Dispatches has been following one of the biggest police investigations of its kind, code-named Operation Chalice.

More than 50 officers, now led by Det Chief Insp Neil Jamieson at West Mercia Police, have worked around the clock to gain the trust of vulnerable girls, some as young as 11 when they were first abused.

They've learnt how grooming usually starts with friendship and gifts and quickly moves to coercion, threats and violence.

Officers have heard appalling accounts about men abusing girls and gang-raping them while they're held hostage for hours, or even days - all the while being forced to listen to the screams of girls in other rooms with other men.

It was thanks to the will and determination of one such parent in Telford that the Police managed to get an enormously difficult investigation going on the ground at all.

David, whose daughter was being groomed by a paedophile, told how he watched his daughter's behaviour change.

"She was sleeping all day, getting numerous texts, harassing texts and calls, shouting at 10.30 at night, waiting until you've gone to bed and then you'd hear the door shutting," he says.

The grooming process is so sophisticated that often the parents have no idea of the horrors their child is enduring.

Victims become very secretive about their new lives and friends and are often returned home on time so their parents don't become too suspicious.

In Abby's case David was unable to stop her because of the power the gang had over her. So he turned detective and made notes of the cars she disappeared into - registrations, makes, models. He then passed this on to the police.

In one particularly horrific incident Abby disappeared for three days. During this time she was drugged, plied with alcohol, gang-raped and locked up.

"When she did come back, she was subdued and secretive," Abby's mum 'Julia' says.

These parents lost count of how many times they reported their daughter missing. The gang took complete control of her over 18 months. David breaks down as he explains the pernicious methods used by the gang to get his daughter to comply.

FRIGHTENED

"The main reason she carried on was because she was frightened of the threats made against us," he says in tears.

Threats made to the child about their family meant the young person being exploited often decides to take a terrible vow of silence to protect everyone.

Mike Hand, a child trafficking expert, has examined how the grooming process destroys the child's normal support systems so they become isolated. "People say why do the children keep going back? Well why wouldn't they?" he tells me. "They haven't got anywhere to go. All their support comes from these controllers."

Thankfully there are many who find the wherewithal to overcome the control their attackers have on them and go to the police.

Yet seeking justice brings other disturbing challenges. Not only do the girls have to feel confident enough to report it but when the arrests take place, the threats increase in intensity, with some victims moving house.

Then there is the court case itself. The girls have told us the most gruelling part is being cross-examined by barristers and accused of lying.

Sarah says she felt she was being forced to relive her ordeal.

"It was horrible. They tried to make out that it was my fault," she says angrily. "It was like it was happening again because they were just making up stuff about me."

Sarah stood her ground but for Abby, the experience was so overwhelming she became severely withdrawn.

"She couldn't talk about the trial," says her mum. "It was like she sort of went into herself. It was heartbreaking to watch her come home and have no expression."

Sheila Taylor, who works closely with child victims of sexual exploitation says it's very difficult for young people to go through the courts system.

"We need a review of our judicial system," Sheila tells me, "so they're not re-victimised, traumatised and violated by the system of prosecution."

The Director of Public Prosecutions, Keir Starmer, has also called for urgent reform.

As Det Chief Insp Alan Edwards, who earlier led the investigation, says: "We've got approximately 90-100 victims - I think we are just scratching the surface."

"Names have been changed."

SPECIAL SUNDAY MIRROR INVESTIGATION: Authorities failed to act over 40 years - despite repeated warnings to social workers - with up to 1,000 girls, some as young as 11, abused in Telford

Girls as young as 11 have been lured from their families to be drugged, beaten and raped in an epidemic that, say victims, is still ongoing (Image: Sunday Mirror)

Up to 1,000 children could have suffered in Britain's worst known abuse scandal - where sex gangs targeted girls as young as 11. The rape hell of vulnerable young girls in one town - Telford - went on for a shocking 40 years, the Sunday Mirror can reveal. As many as 1,000 children could have suffered at the merciless hands of perverts and torturers in Telford since the 1980s. Girls as young as 11 have been lured from their families to be drugged, beaten and raped in an epidemic that, say victims, is still ongoing. THREE people were murdered and two others died in tragedies linked to the scandal.

Despite similar high-profile cases in Rochdale and Rotherham, authorities in Telford repeatedly failed to stamp out a network of abusers. The Mirror's 18-month investigation reveals abuse on unprecedented levels.

We found:

- Social workers knew of abuse in the 1990s but police took a decade to launch a probe
- Council staff viewed abused and trafficked children as “prostitutes” instead of victims, according to previously unseen files
- Authorities failed to keep details of abusers from Asian communities for fear of “racism”
- Police failed to investigate one recent case five times until an MP intervened
- One victim said cops tried to stop her finding out why her abusers had not been prosecuted because they feared she would talk to us

The scale of the abuse uncovered in Telford – population 170,000 – is feared to be the most brutal and long-running of all. The Rotherham toll was put at 1,500 – but that was in a community of 260,000. Telford's Tory MP Lucy Allan has demanded a public inquiry and said our findings were “extremely serious and shocking”.

She said: “There must now be an independent inquiry into child sexual exploitation in Telford so that our community can have absolute confidence in the authorities.” Specialist child abuse solicitor Dino Nocivelli, of Bolt Burdon Kemp, said: “These children were treated as sexual commodities by men who inflicted despicable acts of abuse. “The survivors deserve an inquiry. They need to know how abuse took place for so long and why so many perpetrators have never been brought to justice.” Our investigators have spoken to 12 victims, most of them unconnected. They accused more than 70 abusers and claimed that violent rapes were still taking place just months ago.

MIRROR INVESTIGATES

The Mirror has been at the forefront of exposing the child sex abuse scandals (Image: Sunday Mirror)

One 14-year-old, groomed and abused after her phone number was sold to paedophiles, said: “I hated what was happening and my abusers made my skin crawl but I was told that if I said a word to anyone they’d come for my little sisters and tell my mum I was a prostitute. “Night after night, I was forced to have sex with multiple men in disgusting takeaways and filthy houses. “I must have been getting the morning after pill from a local clinic at least twice a week but no one asked any questions.

“I fell pregnant twice and had two abortions. Hours after my second termination, I was taken by one of my abusers to be raped by more men. “The worst moment came just after my 16th birthday when I was drugged and gang raped by five men. “Days later, the ringleader turned up at my house and told me he’d burn it down if I breathed a word of what had happened.” Documents which will be passed to the Home Office reveals authorities knew of the horrors a decade before investigating – and shows how they tried to hamper our probe. We presented our findings to Professor Liz Kelly, from the Child and Woman Abuse Studies Unit at London Metropolitan University. She helped estimate the number of victims based on figures gathered by our investigators.

Prof Kelly said: “We are acting as if we didn’t know about child sex abuse rings. We have an unfortunate capacity to choose to forget.” Sheila Taylor, of the NWG Network, worked on the Rotherham Inquiry. She said the true scale of the Telford problem might never be known because many victims were unlikely to come forward. She said: “There is probably a whole cohort of young people that are not identified. “We are good at identifying white girls but are less able to identify young men, young people from ethnic minority backgrounds, from travelling communities, or with learning or other disabilities.” A police investigation called Operation Chalice identified more than 100 potential victims abused between 2007 and 2009. Cops also said there could be as many as 200 perpetrators – but just nine were caged and the case was then closed.

Today our investigation reveals the authorities were told of the abuse epidemic more than a decade before Chalice. Our probe – backed by documents obtained under the Freedom of Information Act – found two predatory paedophiles began targeting girls from a local children’s home in 1981. One of the abusers earned thousands a night for years trafficking girls around the country for sex with hundreds of men, according to one victim. In another case, a 14-year-old was groomed by an 18-year-old Asian man in 1985. After she had his baby he passed her to friends to have sex with and allegedly rape her.

The Mirror has repeatedly asked questions over the response by authorities (Image: Sunday Mirror)

The girl, now 47, says she reported her abuse to the council and school but does not believe action was taken. She says her doctor said she was mentally ill and should take medication. The vast majority of those targeted were young white girls but teenagers from the Asian community also fell victim. One report commissioned by local Telford and Wrekin Council in 2013 admitted: "From the late 1990s professionals had concerns about the nature of some of the child sexual abuse cases presented to them."

But it blamed "understanding and learning at that time" and "existing procedures". Two separate investigations were launched at the same time as Operation Chalice after two victims named dozens more abusers. The victim in one case – groomed at 13, sold for sex and gang raped said she pulled out of the investigation because she "didn't feel she was being emotionally supported" by police. Another victim claims officers discouraged her from pursuing her request for evidence after she told them she was speaking to the Mirror.

Victims: Five dead as abusers' tentacles leave trail of pain and tragedy

A mum and four girls have died in tragedies linked to the abuse. Lucy Lowe, 16, was killed in 2000 along with her mother and sister after her 26-year-old abuser Azhar Ali Mehmood set fire to their house. Cabbie Mehmood targeted Lucy in 1997 and she was just 14 when she gave birth to his daughter. He was jailed for murdering Lucy, her mum Eileen and 17-year-old sister Sarah. But he was never arrested nor charged in connection with any child sex crimes over his illegal relationship with the schoolgirl. Lucy's death was used as a warning to other girls, according to victims. One, drugged and gang raped by nine men two years later, said the threats drove her to attempt suicide. She said: "I was scared my family would die like Lucy's. I thought they'd only be safe if I killed myself." In 2002, 13-year-old Becky Watson died in a car accident that was reported at the time as a "prank"

The Mirror investigation found she suffered two years of abuse by an Asian grooming gang which began when she was just 11. Tragic diaries obtained by the Mirror reveal her torment at being made to "sleep around". Her mum Torron Watson said she repeatedly told police that Becky was being abused – and even gave them a list of suspects. She told the Sunday Mirror: "Girls like Becky were treated like criminals. I was crying out for help but it felt like I had nowhere to turn. If Becky's abuse had been properly investigated by the authorities more girls could have been saved from going through this hell."

Vicky Round, a friend of Becky's, was abused by the same gang who got her hooked on crack cocaine aged 12 and on heroin by 14. She died aged 20 of a drugs incident and her sister Emma told us: "I have no doubt Vicky would still be here if she hadn't been so badly abused – yet the people who made her life hell still walk the streets."

Telford timeline of abuse

Early 1980s Vulnerable Telford girls are targeted by groups of mainly Asian men.

1996 A concerned resident claims she tells police about the activities of a key abuser selling underage girls for sex.

Late 1990s Files reveal social workers learn of the problem but do little to help.

2000 Lucy Lowe, 16, is killed alongside her mum and sister in an arson attack by abuser Azhar Ali Mehmood, who made her pregnant at 14.

2002 Abuse victim Becky Watson, 13, is killed in a road accident described as a "prank".

2009 Becky's friend Vicky Round dies in a drugs-related incident after enduring nine years of sex hell at the hands of a string of paedophiles.

2010-2012 Police probe dubbed Operation Chalice identifies a potential 200 abusers but only nine are jailed. Two further probes collapse.

August 2016 The Sunday Mirror reports that the problem is continuing outside underage discos in the town but some complaints provided by volunteer street pastors are not properly logged.

September 2016 MP Lucy Allan calls for a public inquiry but police and council officials in Telford write to Home Secretary Amber Rudd saying this isn't necessary.

March 2018 The Sunday Mirror reveals there could be up to 1,000 victims of the scandal and links five deaths to the abuse.

Response: These horrific crimes are a No.1 priority say police and council

Martin Evans, Assistant Chief Constable for West Mercia Police, said: "We are aware of the information you have provided" (Image: Warwickshire Police)

Police and local authority chiefs yesterday said all reports of child sex exploitation were taken "extremely seriously".

Martin Evans, Assistant Chief Constable for West Mercia Police, said: "We are aware of the information you have provided.

"Tackling such horrific offences is the number one priority for police in Telford and we have not only increased officer numbers to tackle this type of offending, but use all of our resources and technology available to prosecute anyone who sexually offends against children whether that offending took place today, yesterday or decades ago.

“Operation Chalice in 2013 was one of the first national complex critical investigations into grooming offences. It centred on historic offending in Telford and Wrekin and ultimately resulted in seven men jailed for a total of 49 years.

“Over the subsequent years we have continuously focused on this area, whilst working very closely with our communities to ensure there is confidence to report issues people become aware of. Last year officials from the Home Office paid thanks to the commitment of staff working to protect young people at risk from sexual exploitation.”

A spokesperson for Telford and Wrekin Council said yesterday: “Child sexual exploitation (CSE) is a vile, evil crime. It’s an issue right across the UK and has been for a long time.

“Telford will be covered by the national CSE review. We welcome this. All agencies continue to work very closely together and this remains our top priority.

“Our approach to CSE is now very different from 10-20 years ago. We have learned lots of lessons and are constantly on the lookout for indicators of CSE so that we can pass information on to police and bring these evil criminals to justice. Indeed, further cases are now coming to court.”

An OFSTED inspection into Telford’s child services in 2016 said: “Work with children and young people at risk of sexual exploitation is very strong... work to protect children who go missing from home or care is thorough and improving.”

Why weren't they saved? Whistleblowers silenced for trying to expose Britain's worst ever child sex abuse scandal, 11 MAR 2018

<https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/uk-news/werent-saved-whistleblowers-silenced-trying-12170716>

One schoolgirl fell pregnant six times in four years in Telford, Shropshire, where there were up to 1,000 grooming victims over 40 years - including at least three who were murdered

Two whistleblowers were punished for trying to expose Britain’s worst child abuse scandal which affected up to 1,000 girls for 40 years, the Mirror can reveal today.

A Labour MP last night joined calls for a public inquiry after girls as young as 11 were lured from families to be drugged, beaten and raped in an epidemic that, say victims, continues today.

Three were murdered and two others died in tragedies linked to the scandal.

As our case histories show, many were ignored after reporting rapes to police.

But, despite similar high-profile cases in Rochdale and Rotherham, authorities in Telford did nothing for years to stop the horrific abuse network exposed yesterday by The Sunday Mirror.

Hundreds of victims have been failed. Police even told one victim they had destroyed evidence of her rape claim after they tried to contact her.

A council-commissioned report told how social workers knew of the child sex crimes in the late 90s. And in 2016, whistleblowing police chaplain Keith Osmund-Smith was suspended after passing papers to the Mirror.

We asked police what was done about allegations of abuse in the 150-page report and they said they had not been properly logged.

A second whistleblower employed by Axis Counselling – a charity helping sex abuse victims – was forced to leave her post after speaking out.

Notes of her disciplinary meeting show officials admitted she had done nothing wrong but feared funding from authorities would be cut if she kept expressing views about the lack of action over the scandal by the council and police.

The majority of Axis Counselling’s funding comes from West Mercia Police and Crime Commissioner, John Campion – who has opposed calls from an MP and the Sunday Mirror for a Rotherham-style inquiry into child sexual exploitation in Telford.

In September 2016, Tory MP for Telford, Lucy Allan, called for an inquiry after an abuse victim told her that many of the worst offenders had not been prosecuted and still lived in the area.

The same month, Tory Champion and nine others on the Labour-run council wrote to Home Secretary Amber Rudd, saying the inquiry was not necessary. The whistleblowers' concerns came on top of complaints from victims who were ignored or treated like criminals. Cabbie Mehmood targeted Lucy in 1997 and she was just 14 when she gave birth to his daughter. He was jailed in 2001 for murdering Lucy, her mum Eileen and 17-year-old sister Sarah.

Becky Watson, 13, died in a car crash described as a “prank”. But she had suffered two years of abuse by an Asian grooming gang. Her mum Torron Watson said she repeatedly told police Becky was being abused and named suspects.

In another case, Lucy Lowe, 16, was killed with her mum Eileen and 17-year-old sister Sarah in an a house fire set by her abuser Azhar Ali Mehmood, 44.

Police probe Operation Chalice, identified at least 100 potential victims between 2007 and 2009 – but just nine were jailed and the case was closed.

Among them were: Mubarek Ali, 34, jailed for 14 years, and brother Ahdel, 27, for 18. They were both convicted of a string of horrific child sex crimes at Worcester crown court in 2012. Police said there could have been as many as 200 abusers. But Professor Liz Kelly, of London Metropolitan University's Child and Woman Abuse Studies Unit, estimated the number of victims, based on our investigation, as up to 1,000. Freedom of Information Act papers revealed two predatory paedophiles had begun targeting girls from a local children's home in 1981. Today we can also reveal officers were allegedly told as early as 1996 about one of the key players who is said to have made thousands grooming girls and selling them for sex. One victim gave so much evidence to police in 2010 that officers launched a probe, called Operation Thesis, around her evidence. But this led to no prosecutions.

One expert predicts there could have been as many as 1,000 grooming victims in the Shropshire town of Telford over 40 years (Image: ALAMY) When the victim last year asked for her police files to understand why nobody had faced justice, the officer handling her request admitted she had “expressed concerns” to a senior detective. He also played a leading role in Operation Chalice. He sent an officer to the victim’s home who allegedly tried to discourage her. When files were provided months later, the first disk was unreadable. Whistleblower Chaplain Osmund-Smith has returned to work. Police said: “An internal investigation was carried out and made a number of recommendations which we have worked with him to address.” The second whistleblower won an out-of-court settlement on a no fault basis. Axis Counselling declined to comment.

Tory Police and Crime Champion was among a group who wrote to Home Secretary Amber Rudd saying an inquiry was not necessary (Image: Facebook)

Since 2014, Champion and predecessor Bill Longmore have given Axis Counselling nearly £1million in grants. Champion denied knowledge of the woman's situation.

He said: "I have made a clear commitment to making sure victims of all crimes in West Mercia get the support they need to cope and recover.

"I have bolstered specialist support for victims of sexual violence, and AXIS has a record of delivering the right support to extremely vulnerable people in Telford and Shropshire.

"Beyond commissioning their expertise and resources, neither myself nor my wider office, has any involvement in the day to day running of Axis. This specific case is not something my office had any knowledge of or involvement in, and that has been verified in a freedom of information disclosure to the Mirror.

"The most recent coverage of child sexual exploitation in Telford has not brought to light any new information which safeguarding partners were not already aware of. We await the outcome of the national CSE review. In the meantime, we continue to acknowledge the seriousness of the issue and build on the good progress made in recent years to help more victims, catch more criminals, prevent more cases and protect more of our most vulnerable young people."

Former Shadow Equalities Minister and Rotherham MP Sarah Champion last night joined Ms Allan's calls for a government inquiry. She said: "It's definitely time."

Telford council leader Shaun Davies says he will ask for the Telford aspect of a national child sexual exploitation probe to be moved forward.

Devastated after being told abuser wouldn't face trial

First targeted in 2014 at nightclubs in Telford at 15, the girl claims to have been repeatedly raped and abused for four years.

She was devastated when police told her late last year a man alleged to have raped her in January 2017 would not go on trial.

Police files confirm she gave extensive forensic evidence to officers hours after she said she was attacked. She told officers she had been given drugs and remembers little. The man was also spotted leaving her house on CCTV. She suffered broken ribs.

Teen begged cops to investigate but it took MP to help

A teenager says she begged cops to investigate her rape five times but they only took action when her MP helped.

The girl, now 19, claims she told social workers she was being groomed online aged 13, in 2013, but they did nothing.

She says the man, described as white and in his 30s, lured her to his home and attacked her two years later. The girl claims she contacted police repeatedly but they wouldn't probe allegations or take a statement.

She was eventually interviewed at MP Lucy Allan's office and it is understood the man she accused has been arrested.

'I was pregnant six times during four years of abuse'

A schoolgirl was pregnant six times in four years after being targeted by abusers in 2004.

She was just 15 when a suspected drug dealer in his 20s and another man preyed on the girl for four years.

The mixed-race girl had a baby to each man, and three abortions and one miscarriage.

She lived in fear of violence. Council files show social services, teachers and mental health workers were fully aware of what was happening but did little.

They also failed to tell police. Files admitted failing on "concerns of physical abuse and sexual exploitation".

A police dossier, seen by our team, shows forensic evidence was destroyed by officers after they tried to contact the victim.

Family of Telford paedophile victim say police ignored their pleas to prosecute girl's killer
<https://www.mirror.co.uk/news/uk-news/family-telford-paedophile-victim-say-12175969>

Lucy Lowe was just 14 when sick Azhar Ali Mehmood murdered her along with her mum and sister in 2000 - now her family want to know why the police failed to act on their warnings
The family of murdered Telford victim Lucy Lowe have revealed police snubbed pleas to prosecute her killer for child abuse 18 years ago.

Paedophile Azhar Ali Mehmood fathered her baby when she was 14 and then murdered her along with mum Eileen and sister Sarah, 17, in an arson attack on the family home in 2000.

Mehmood – 10 years older than Lucy and described as her “boyfriend” – got life over the deaths the next year but was never prosecuted for child abuse.

He is now eligible for parole and her family are horrified that he may be back on the streets soon.

Lucy’s uncle, Ed Lowe, believes her murder should have alerted authorities to the town’s grooming scandal – which is feared to have up to 1,000 victims.

He said: “Mehmood had sex with an underage girl. I raised it with police when she died but nothing ever came of it. I’ve never got my head around that. Why has he never been punished for it?”

“He might call himself her boyfriend but she was underage. Why weren’t social services involved? This should have raised alarm bells. I believe this is still ongoing.”

Paedophile Azhar Ali Mehmood is now eligible for parole

Ed, 60, from Telford, is the brother of Lucy’s dad George, who survived the arson strike with her infant daughter Tazneem. Lucy was pregnant by Mehmood, now 44, again when she died.

Ed said: “Now he is up for parole after taking three lives and ruining a fourth. I asked victim support why he had not been prosecuted for child abuse. They told me he was prosecuted for the most serious crime. He should not come out.”

One victim told us she spoke to West Mercia Police after Lucy’s death, giving details of the grooming network targeting schoolgirls. She claims that she told officers she was a victim but no probe was launched.

The woman was also a close friend of Becky Watson, the next Telford grooming victim to die.

Becky was targeted at 11 and died in a road accident at 13. The man at the wheel, a friend of her abusers, was jailed for dangerous driving.

A-Level student was abused by Mohammed Ali Sultan and Shahmeel Khan, but saw both brought to justice

The victim of a Telford grooming gang predator had previously told how she was raped by him and his cousin - and later saw both brought to justice.

Former A-Level student Paula - not her real name - bravely spoke about her ordeal to the Birmingham Mail in March 2015.

Mohammed Ali Sultan, 31, was jailed for seven years after being convicted of two counts of rape and one of attempted rape of the former A Level student, who bravely went on to rebuild her life to become a Birmingham nurse.

The monster had previously been jailed for being part of an Asian gang that had sexually exploited vulnerable youngsters in the Telford area of Shropshire.

One victim of married Sultan was just 13-years-old.

Mohammed Ali Sultan

Yesterday a Sunday Mirror investigation said the Telford grooming scandal could have involved 1,000 victims, dating back to the 1980s.

There are now calls for a public inquiry into the child sexual exploitation gangs, with claims some girls were murdered by their abusers.

Paula told in 2015 how unemployed factory worker Ali Sultan had first abused her two days after she had been brutally raped by his cousin, Shahmeel Khan.

She later bravely gave evidence against Khan, from Victoria Avenue, Wellington, to see him jailed for 10 years.

Sultan, also from Victoria Avenue, was jailed for seven years after the determined victim took the witness stand at Wolverhampton Crown Court to help convict him of the two rapes and one attempted rape. He was cleared of one rape charge.

Paula spoke to the Mail in March 2015 about her harrowing ordeal to shine a light on the long-hidden problem of child sexual exploitation (CSE) and to offer hope to other young girls in similar terrifying situations.

“Predators can read a person, they get very good at it,” she said.

“Because of everything that has happened to me I can tell who is a predator, I can tell when someone is trying to chat someone up in an inappropriate way. But what experience does a 12,13,14-year-old girl have?

“What chance do they have up against a man who might have 15 years’ experience of raping and tricking and grooming girls? How on earth can a young girl be expected to get out of that situation?

“These men can see who is vulnerable.”

Shahmeel Khan

Softly-spoken Paula came from a middle-class background and had been studying for her A Levels. She moved into her own flat in the Telford area in May 2007.

A friend and neighbour was being bullied by Sultan into letting him use his flat for sex session with girls at the time. Before long, Paula was being targeted by Sultan and his convict cousin.

She recalled: "Sultan kept calling me when my friend wasn't with me and trying to talk to me. I was having none of it at the time.

"He started knocking on my door, at first asking for my friend. If my friend wasn't in, I'd say he wasn't. He would ask if he could come in and I'd say, 'No, you can't. He isn't here'.

"He started saying things like, 'Who is in there?'. I'd say, 'No one'. It was just a trick to find out if I was on my own.

"Around the same time his cousin Shahmeel Khan got out of prison. Two weeks later, on June 17 in 2007, Shahmeel broke into my flat and raped me."

Convicted robber Khan returned to rape his terrified victim twice more.

It was during this terrifying period that Sultan also began abusing the traumatised teenager.

Paula said: "Two days after Shahmeel raped me, Sultan came to my flat with one of his friends and made me perform a sex act on him and his friend. That's one of the counts of rape he was convicted of.

"I reported his friend but failed to correctly pick him out in an ID parade. I only knew his first name and only saw him that once and never saw him again.

"When I gave evidence in court I told them that when Sultan first started coming round he would be very polite. When I'd say no, he'd say, 'Why not? Are we not friends?' I couldn't say no because I knew that as soon as I said we were not friends, he'd get aggressive with me and push his way in.

"When Sultan and his friends first used to go on about me performing sex acts I used to think it was them just joking. But after Shahmeel raped me I was very, very scared. And I realised that Sultan was not joking.

"I think I just gave up after Shahmeel raped me. When Sultan came round two days after the rape I was still in shock, still traumatised. I had no fight left in me.

"He used to say he would make my life hell and said I didn't want to play games with him. He would say he would kick my door in and when I said 'you won't because of the locks', he said 'I will kick your head in then’.”

Worn down by the attacks from the depraved cousins, she fell into a cycle of abuse involving other Asian men. The details are too harrowing to recount, but she was also subject to violence including stones being thrown at her face and being beaten.

Eventually she somehow summoned the courage to break free and went to the police, first about Khan who was jailed for 10 years in December 2011. He will not be eligible for parole until 2020 because of other sentences.

Posed by model

When Paula reported Mohammed Ali Sultan to police she discovered detectives were just concluding Operation Chalice, an investigation into an Asian child sexual exploitation gang.

The operation saw him jailed for seven years in November 2012 after admitting sexually abusing two underage girls, including one aged just 13.

Paula said: “I went to the police about Sultan in June 2010. I got included in Operation Chalice at the end, not in the court case, but as a victim, because I went to the police once the case had started.

“I was training at university at the time and had no idea the case was going on. It was a coincidence I went to the police while they were in the middle of investigating Operation Chalice.

“Partly because of that, they didn’t arrest Sultan for what he did to me until after Operation Chalice had finished. They had to produce him from prison, arrest him and get his statement.”

“I don’t feel as if anyone listened to me, nobody cared, so how was I supposed to think about what was happening to me?”

Incredibly, despite her unimaginable ordeal, Paula has managed to rebuild her life and completed a nursing degree before working for a health trust in Birmingham. She has now moved to another part of the country to be near her supportive family.

This remarkable young woman went on to offer practical help to other girls being groomed and abused by CSE gangs. Paula is also determined to give advice to police and social workers who can often fail to listen to victims, forcing them back into the clutches of their abusers,

“I went to the police initially after Shahmeel raped me, but I told them I was too scared to have him arrested,” she said.

“Instead of encouraging me and making me feel better and giving me some options, they just said if I didn’t want him arrested then they’d have to say it was consensual.

“I don’t feel as if anyone listened to me, nobody cared, so how was I supposed to think about what was happening to me?”

“In the privacy of my own flat I was so scared and didn’t know what to do because everybody thought it was my own fault.

“I’d be at home crying, saying to myself that I had to come up with a plan to stop it happening the next time. I’d listen to my music loud on headphones so I couldn’t hear the door banging.

“Now, I’d really like to give advice to young girls in this position. I want to help them.”

Paula's Advice On How Girls Can Protect Themselves:

1. “Try and memorise street names, door numbers, car registrations and things like that, so you can tell someone you trust where you are in case things go wrong. Always have taxi numbers available and secret money.”
2. “Always remember that you can run away. Some of my biggest regrets are when one abuser was driving me around that I just didn’t get out of the car and run off. You can run away, even though they may have manipulated you into feeling that you can’t.”
3. “If you want to say no, and they are pushing you into it, just keep saying no. Sometimes the hell you put up with for not putting out is more traumatising than having the sex. I can sit at home and remember the trauma that I went through not to have sex and I can feel proud of myself for those times.”
4. “Never give up on your parents. They might shout or get angry or not understand but that’s because they really care about you. And they are the only thing that’s always there, boyfriends come and go but your parents will love you forever. Talk to them, try to help each other. Your family are your team, they’re on your side.”

Operation Chalice: The men brought to justice

Mohammed Ali Sultan was among seven men jailed after a three-year investigation into a child exploitation ring in Telford.

Youth workers first raised the alarm when teenage girls in Wellington started telling them the same stories about a network of Muslim men abusing them. They were finally convicted in cases stretching over two years after judges heard heartbreaking evidence from four girls, who were aged 13 to 16 when abused between 2007 and 2009.

Ahdel Ali

The leading grooming gang members were brothers Ahdel and Mubarek Ali, of Regent Street, Wellington. Ahdel Ali, 25, was jailed for 18 years.

His 29-year-old brother Mubarek was jailed for 14 years. Also convicted were Tanveer Ahmed, 40, of Urban Gardens, Wellington, who was jailed for two and half years after admitting controlling a child for prostitution.

Mohammed Islam Choudhrey, 53, of Solway Drive, Sutton Hill, was jailed for two and half years after admitting having sex with a Telford schoolgirl. Mahroof Khan, 35, of Caradoc Flats, Kingshaye Road, Wellington, was jailed for 30 months after admitting having sex with a 15-year-old girl. Mohammed Younis, 61, of Kingsland, Arleston, was jailed for two and a half years for allowing his property to be used as a brothel, by allowing a man to have sex with a girl being controlled as a prostitute.

The Hunt for Britain's Sex Gangs

The Hunt for Britain's Sex Gangs (Channel 4, 9pm)

With the conviction last week of seven men in Oxford for running a child sex abuse ring, this harrowing Dispatches film about a similar, earlier case in Telford, Shropshire couldn't be more timely.

Three years ago, Telford police granted the Dispatches crew unprecedented access to Operation Chalice – one of the biggest child sex abuse cases in the UK.

The film, which includes gruelling first hand accounts from victims, and parents as well as the dawn raids and the police interviews with the accused, unravels the evil and shocking extent of child grooming carried out by these gangs.

The investigation encompassed over 100 victims, some as young as 11 who were abused by a network of around 200 men. And once the police had got their heads around the still hard to believe fact that something of this scale could actually go on, and worked out how best to tackle it, this film also shows very clearly how the lumbering legal system is ill-equipped to protect the victims.

Perhaps the worst insult is that having been gang-raped by a series of men, the girls were subjected to a similar ordeal in court when seven barristers all took their turn to accuse them of lying.

Directed by documentary maker Anna Hall, who first learned about this phenomenon of predominantly Pakistani men grooming white schoolgirls 17 years ago, The Hunt for Britain's Sex Gangs is her third film for Channel 4 on the subject.

(4:100) He who emigrates in the way of Allah will find in the earth enough room for refuge and plentiful resources. And he who goes forth from his house as a migrant in the way of Allah and His Messenger, and whom death overtakes, his reward becomes incumbent on Allah. *131). It should be understood clearly that it is only permissible for a person who believes in the true religion enjoined by God to live under the dominance of an un-Islamic system on one of the following conditions.

First, that the believer struggles to put an end to the hegemony of the un-Islamic system and to have it replaced by the Islamic system of life, as the Prophets and their early followers had done.

Second, that he lacks the means to get out of his homeland and thus stays there, but does so with utmost disinclination and unhappiness.

If neither of these conditions exist, a believer who continues to live in a land where an un-Islamic order prevails, commits an act of continuous sin.

✔ So they even have to do it else they live in sin. Check links i do not make this up. I'm into history and the extremists started to destroy my love ancient ruins. So now the historian is on his Greater-Jihad to see if knowledge of scripture can put an end to this.

This is a Trojan Horse and no one in government seems to know as they do not read the scripture, i do so found this and think it to be very worrying. I rather prove it now so we can ban without killing, then wait till Europe turns into the next Yugoslavia and we start slaughtering them. So this actually is a quest for peace, but you can't have peace with a trojan horse in the back garden.

We have been warned in 2007 by the ultimate professor, over a hundred years of age wrote uncountable amounts of papers. Have we really abandoned knowledge and thinking, WHAT must one do to wake others up about a Trojan Horse that is invisible to those who never studied the topic ? If you warn them your labelled racist while i'm not even right, i'm into history, know about Islam as the extremists started to destroy my beloved ruins. So started to research it to be able to defend history so others can't turn history into a new religion cos we have no more ruins left to prove people lived before us and accomplished amazing things.

And the excuse that the bible has violent verses is simply invalid. The Quran is Allah his word directly to believer through the angel Gabriel. So in the Quran God speaks directly to the follower. The bible are books of all kinds of different friends of Jesus who wrote about their experiences with Jesus. There is no Gospel of God or Jesus, so in the bible you criticize, Mark, Matthew or Luke if you have trouble with verses, not God himself. Christians have to interpret verses else their no longer monotheist since then all gospel writers as seen as trustworthy as god himself. If you doubt the Quran then you do doubt gods word. That is also why any extremism from Christians is own choice, while with Muslims it is doing as your lord ordered you. It is a HUGE difference who the writer is and some people do not seem to see this.

Do the groomers let the victims sign papers every time before they get abused ? Or when they are "Sold" ? Prostitution is not allowed in Islam, but there are 2 ways around that problem:

1 Mu'tah Temporary marriage, but then they would have to sign and 2 witnesses have to be there. Because that is a contract, so then the ladies would have needed to sign. Might be honour problem, reason to keep it unknown, but that would be important info
2 Those who the right hand possesses, Slaves

So if it is Muslim related then one of the 2 must be in use in their strategy else they go against their own ideology as far as i know. Already saw that Slave link, as in ladies being sold. But the prove would be a lot clearer if the victims had to sign papers. In Indonesia they use mu'tah, but there the girls are Muslim. So think they do not have to marry when it concerns disbelievers as them they are allowed to take as slaves, not those of their own religion. I think that is why they use temp marriage in Indonesia and Slavery with non Muslim ladies. But if they had to sign, then also in UK Mu'tah was used.

The Slavery verse

(33:50) O Prophet, We have made lawful for you your wives whose bridal dues you have paid, *87 and the slave-girls you possess from among the prisoners of war, and the daughters of your paternal uncles and paternal aunts, and the daughters of your maternal uncles and maternal aunts who have migrated with you, and a believing woman who gives herself to the Prophet and whom he wants to take in marriage. *88 (O Prophet), this privilege is yours alone to the exclusion of other believers. *89 We know well what restrictions We have imposed upon them as regards their wives and those whom their right hands possess, (and have exempted you from those restrictions) that there may be no constraint upon you. *90 Allah is Most Forgiving, Most Merciful.
<http://quran.ksu.edu.sa/tafseer/tafheem/sura33-aya50.html>

Those restrictions:

(4:3) If you fear that you might not treat the orphans justly, then marry the women that seem good to you: two, or three, or four. *4 If you fear that you will not be able to treat them justly, then marry (only) one, *5 or marry from among those whom your right hands possess. *6 This will make it more likely that you will avoid injustice.

<http://quran.ksu.edu.sa/tafseer/tafheem/sura4-aya3.html>

This verse also teaches that you do not have to treat slave girls justly, but here need to marry em.

Verification:

(4:24) And also forbidden to you are all married women (muhsanat) except those women whom your right hands have come to possess (as a result of war). *44 This is Allah's decree and it is binding upon you. But it is lawful for you to seek out all women except these, offering them your wealth and the protection of wedlock rather than using them for the unfettered satisfaction of lust. And in exchange of what you enjoy by marrying them pay their bridal-due as an obligation. But there is no blame on you if you mutually agree to alter the settlement after it has been made. Surely Allah is All-Knowing, All-Wise.

<http://quran.ksu.edu.sa/tafseer/tafheem/sura4-aya24.html>

I'm trying to finally get these facts on the table as if this is caused because of their religious thinking then steps have to be taken, as the free choice of religion does not mean that your allowed to harm others because your religion accepts it. As if that is the case then we are dealing with discrimination and a teaching that creates evil beings. Islam is against the free choice of religion as disbelieve is Shirq, the worst crime possible. And the soul purpose of Islam is to end Shirq. So that means to end the free choice of religion, and that is worth fighting for.

And if you think why would they think their at war with us ?

And also some links where Islamic teachers say that they do not think this is accepted in Islam.

Nikāḥ al-mut'ah (Arabic: زواج المتعة, literally "temporary marriage"), also known as sgeh or sigheh in Iran, is a type of marriage permitted in Twelver Shia Islam, where the duration of the marriage and the mahr must be specified and agreed upon in advance.[1]23 It is a private contract made in a verbal or written format. A declaration of the intent to marry and an acceptance of the terms are required (as they are in nikah).

According to Twelver Shia jurisprudence, preconditions for Nikah mut'ah are: The bride must not be married, she must be Muslim or belong to Ahl al-Kitab (People of the Book), she should be chaste, not addicted to fornication and she should not be a young virgin (especially if her father is absent and cannot give consent).[4] At the end of the contract, the marriage ends and the wife must undergo iddah, a period of abstinence from marriage (and thus, sexual intercourse). The iddah is intended to give paternal certainty to any child/ren should the wife become pregnant during the temporary marriage contract.

Convicted child rapist paid by police to spy on underage sex parties: 9 Aug, 2017

<https://www.rt.com/uk/399097-sex-ring-newcastle-rapist/>

INDEX

Police paid a convicted child rapist almost £10,000 to spy on “sex parties” as part of an investigation into a grooming gang in Newcastle that saw 18 people convicted, it can be revealed. Seventeen men and one woman have been found guilty of involvement in a sex grooming network in the northern English city that saw underage and vulnerable female victims raped and abused over many years.

In a series of trials at Newcastle Crown Court, it was heard that older men preyed on immature teenagers who were plied with cocaine, cannabis, alcohol or mephedrone, then raped or persuaded into engaging in sexual activity at the parties known as “sessions.”

Over the course of four trials that have run over more than two years, 20 young women gave evidence covering a period from 2011 to 2014. The trials, the first of which finished in October 2015, could not be reported on until all were concluded for fear that they would be prejudiced. Juries found the men, in their 30s and 40s, guilty of a catalogue of nearly 100 offenses ranging from rape, human trafficking, conspiracy to incite prostitution and drug supply, according to the Guardian.

The victims, all female and between the ages of 13 and 25, were targeted because they were vulnerable and “less likely to complain because of their circumstances,” the prosecution argued. Northumbria Police launched a major investigation, Operation Sanctuary, after receiving information from social workers and initially spoke to 108 potential victims.

Operation Sanctuary has clear similarities to grooming scandals in Rotherham and Rochdale, which featured gangs of British Asian men abusing white girls. The convicted men are from a wider range of backgrounds, including Bangladeshi, Pakistani, Indian, Iraqi, Iranian and Turkish.

During the trials, the court heard how Northumbria Police paid a convicted child rapist £9,680 (US$12,500) over 21 months to spy on the network, attending parties where victims were suspected of being abused.

The jury did not hear evidence from the informant, a British-Asian man in his 30s with links to the defendants. A judge described him as “inherently unreliable.”

During the pre-trial hearings, defense barristers argued the cases of more than 10 men should be thrown out due to the informant's involvement.

In the final trial, which concluded on Wednesday, Habibur Rahim, 34, was found guilty of rape, the trafficking of seven victims, conspiracy to incite prostitution against seven victims, as well as drug offenses.

Abdul Sabe, 40, was found guilty of conspiracy to commit sexual assault against two victims, trafficking for the purpose of sexual assault against four victims, and conspiracy to incite prostitution against four victims, as well as drugs offenses.

Badrul Hussain, 37, was found guilty of providing premises for the supply of cocaine, mephedrone and cannabis. Mohibur Rahman, 44, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to incite prostitution for gain, three counts of providing mephedrone, and two counts of providing premises for the supply of mephedrone.

Child sex offenders still at large in Rochdale, says former detective: 16 May, 2017

<https://www.rt.com/uk/388570-child-sex-abuse-rochdale/>

INDEX

Victims of the Rochdale child sex abuse ring, exposed in 2012, are still at risk of being exploited by offenders who are still at large in the community, according to a former detective who worked on the case.

Margaret Oliver, former detective constable for Greater Manchester Police (GMP), investigated reports of child grooming before resigning over the Crown Prosecution Service's (CPS) mishandling of the case.

Oliver said she is in contact with some of the victims and told many of the offenders are still living freely in the community.

Speaking before the launch of the BBC 1 drama 'Three Girls', which documents the experience of three of 47 victims, Oliver said: "I'm speaking to kids who are telling me that even to this day they are seeing offenders that they've named walking around Rochdale.

"Somebody saw one in London, another person told me that one has moved around the corner from her.

"That's why I'm saying things haven't changed, because those men have been named by those girls [to the police] and I know that they're still out there walking around," Oliver said.

Nine Asian men from Rochdale and Oldham were sentenced to a total of 77 years in prison in 2012 after being found guilty of offences including rape. The jury at Liverpool Crown Court heard that between 2005 and 2008 the men plied the five victims, some as young as 13, with drinks and drugs and "passed them around" for sex.

Oliver, who will be played by Lesley Sharp in the three-part series, said police are yet to learn the lessons of Rochdale. She called for laws to hold authorities to account for negligence.

Under current laws, police officers cannot be prosecuted for negligence.

"If the police were accountable then perhaps we would see proper changes," says Oliver.

Oliver worked on Operation Span investigating reports of child grooming in Rochdale for seven months before she chose to resign amid concerns that the police force was failing to appropriately record allegations of sexual abuse.

"I tried with every ounce of my determination to highlight to the chief constable and all the agencies – the IPCC, the children’s commissioner, the Home Office Select Committee – what was going on, but without success.

“No one really wanted to hear what I was saying and eventually I was left with a stark choice,” she said.

“There were so many big holes in what was going on ... I had never seen a job being run this way before. There were lots of things that were just not right. They wanted to do a quick job with a quick result.

“Children had spent months giving evidence in video interviews, disclosing men who had abused them and places where the abuse had happened, but those allegations were not being officially recorded and to this day have still not been recorded.”

Reports of sexual assault on two girls were first brought to the attention of police back in 2008, but investigations into allegations of child sex abuse only launched in 2009 when further claims were brought forward.

In 2015, a GMP report highlighted failures “at individual and force level” in dealing with victims between 2008 and 2010, but none of the 13 officers being investigated were disciplined.

One of the victims said she is “fuming” and “overall disgusted.”

“They and Rochdale Social Services let me down, and they’re letting me down now,” she said, according to the Guardian.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=12m31s>

Why are these blokes doing it ? This is how uninformed and lost we as humanity are.

The thought of terrorizing doesn't even enter her mind as she bought the Islam is peace lie, all the way.

Has no clue what Shirk is about, and thinks ISIS has nothing to do with Islam, the basic format after governmental brainwashing.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=19m20s>

□ Here a clear example of how the media plays that Racism card to propagade hatred towards the EDL.

Ethnic background of the perpetrators, eventhough one of the conficted was white.

EDL screams Muslims, not hatred towards a race ! Muslims are not a race so that white man probably is a converted white Muslim.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=22m07s>

Here we see that dispatches went from Undercover Mosque to apologist propaganda.

With all prove they just gave the bias observation of EDL and now this apologist non sense.

INDEED we have to put it in context and the context is their God teaches them to hate us.

Moderates can control their urges while reading the hate of the verses, these extremists let em selves go.

Allah will reward them for it as he hates everyone that does not take him as the highest order.

They did it with Muslim girls too he said, PROVE IT !

I do not believe you and if there was a case then i bet it was related to honor killing, that again is not a sex crime but terrorism, to make an example so others learn not to resist them.

And here you clearly see how these derailed individuals think, he completely turns the situation around.

Instead of opening the files so we can validate if their Muslim or not, which would clear his name if he was right,

He wants it to stay hidden else EDL will use it against him.

OFF COURSE facts will be used against you that is how justice works not by hiding the cause of the problem !

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=24m25s>

Another man solicitating to be laid down by a bunch of men to get a rear enlargement threatment. These kinds of simpletons will only see that tree ones they bump into it face first.

"And they were allowed to get involved that is the trouble", Without them we probably still would not know about it.

And even more girls would have been a victim while this nutcase gives himself a tap on the shoulder for his defence of PC.

Disgustic entity and are those kind of pieces of dirt that run our governments, incompetent loser !

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=25m11s>

Here you see the true nature of the mind which the Quran created by poisoning this jinn's mind. The example of the Jahaliah, the time of ignorance. This figure takes these words from his book as serious as one could.

We are beasts because we do not share his god, so we are worth nothing as the vile creatures his god told us to be.

THAT is why the Quran must be fixed as the form it has now, creates creatures that should never have seen daylight.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=25m56s>

Here hope that there really are still decent Muslims, pitty the guy after him ruins it again by playing apologist instead of just condemning the madness.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=27m35s>

Here we get the hijab logic perfectly explained, to again look within the mind of Islamic reasoning. They learn that the prophet said you always have to speak to me from behind a veil to not show your beauty as then i might be distracted.

So a woman who does not hide her beauty is asking for it. My logic is if you do not go near them then you do not put yourself in that position.

My thought comes from prefenting the confrontation, his preventing him from acting on his barbaric senses to take over.

That Medina teaching perverts the mind and just makes the believer think like a monster

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=28m09s>

AGAIN Supreme Muslim being says if the system were right then the girl would not be out at 11 o'clock at night.

NO braindeath one ! If you had taught your child human norms and values instead of a book ful of hatred.

Then your son probably would have had the decency to keep his willy in his pants.

Kiraman Katibin remember YOU are responsible for your deeds and thoughts not your surroundings.

Folks like this dude have a brain the size of a nut.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=30m17s>

Here you see how mentally ill that ideology makes humans, he does not even think of it as rape.

WHY did our governments ever let these kind of monsters into our civilisation?
How can you expect any good contribution to Europe from folks with such a twisted look on reality ?

My jaw drops to the floor that he even dares to say what he says on camera, no shame at all.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=30m40s>

Parents of a 12 year young victim interviewed
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=31m50s>

Why you think their targetting white girls? Because the others take revenge and whites do not.
So we know what to do then.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=35m05s>

Their parents didn't do it, their grand parents didn't do it.
Indeed in 1958 the hijab was laughed away in Egypt, since the Muslim Brotherhood has invaded everywhere we hardly ever see a Muslima without hijab.
Political Correctness simply made us too tolerant and you can not allow such a weakness with these hyena like extremists.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=38m11s>

You can not be a practising Muslim while being active with sexual grooming.
Really this man never heard about a Harem ? Lies again, always lies to create apologies
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=42m30s>

Indeed you have to face the facts not hide them as then you do not know what caused it and can't fix it.
Some active cells left so in that nut brain of his.
<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y1cFoPFF-as&t=45m06s>

Is there a patern with these perpetrators ?
Yes there is love but for you to understand that you must first research what it is they believe.

That is why the man is allowed to get a non Muslim wife but a woman not allowed to get a non Muslim man.

Time Line

"Localised Grooming" Gangs (convictions from 1997)

This list is compiled based on definitions provided by Andrew Norfolk, The Times, 5 January 2011:

"The 17 cases identified by The Times which showed a pattern of exploitation"

<http://www.thetimes.co.uk/tto/news/uk/crime/article2863078.ece>

Andrew Norfolk won the Orwell Prize for Journalism for his reporting on grooming gangs. He was the only journalist who provided expert testimony to the House of Commons select committee, in their (2012-2013) investigation into the grooming gangs. This parliamentary investigation (published June 2013) concluded that it "would certainly seem to be the case" that most of grooming gangs are muslim. <http://bit.ly/13sh94D> See p.52.

99 convictions

6 non-muslims (maybe they saw muslims getting away with it, so copied them)

20% of those convicted in the grooming gangs are called "Mohammed"

94% of those convicted in the grooming gangs are muslims

The Times article from Jan 5 2011, on this grooming phenomenon shows a realisation (at least in one newspaper) of the scale of the problem (attached as a PDF here). You can see his original list (to the end of 2010). There have been as many convictions since 2010, as there were in the previous 13 years investigated by Norfolk.
