

Drain Cleaning Expert Serving Farmington Hills, MI

Many homeowners aren't aware of it, but regular drain cleaning in Farmington Hills, MI, can help prevent a myriad of plumbing and clogging issues in the home. Clogs are caused by backups in the home's pipes and drains, causing issues that jeopardize the home's entire plumbing system. The best thing to do in this case is to prevent clogs in the first place. By working with a drain cleaning company like Carter's Plumbing on a regular basis, you can avoid the costs and headaches of major repairs down the road.

Watch Out for Common Clog Issues

There are several issues that can cause seriously clogged and drainage issues in the home.

Grease poured down the sink can cause a serious clog drain. The grease sticks to the inside of the pipes, causing a backup. Hot water poured down the drain doesn't help because the water eventually cools, causing the grease to solidify.

Items that are flushed down the toilet but shouldn't have been a major cause of drain and pipe clogs. They prevent the water from flowing through, causing a major backup of waste and sewage. Tree roots that have broken through pipes and grown inside of them also cause clogs. This situation not only causes your pipes to get clogged up, but it also causes your home's entire foundation to become compromised.

Food that's washed down sinks often gets caught inside the pipes, causing major blockages. Drain snaking can sometimes take care of the problem if the clog isn't too deeply embedded inside of the pipes. If the problem is deep down, you'll need to enlist the services of a plumber in Farmington Hills, MI, from Carter's Plumbing.

How DIY Drain Cleaning Can Lead to Damaged Drains

One of the worst things you can do is to try and fix your clogged drain or clogged pipe yourself. You may also think you can do your regular drain openings yourself, but this is also a bad idea. There are so many different issues that can cause backups and clogs, but there isn't a one-size-fits-all solution. Each type of clog requires its own fix, and a professional plumber will know exactly what that fix is. If you use the wrong tools to fix your clog or clean your drain, you will most likely make the situation even worse. It's really in your best interest to work with a professional to make sure that your plumbing system remains safe.

Another mistake you can make is hiring plumbers with little experience in drain openings. Drain cleaning is such a serious task that you don't want people with little experience using strong tools on such a sensitive part of your home. Your plumbing system can be brought down by one tiny clog, so you need to work with people who have extensive experience with drain openings and repairs.
