Tobin/Mystic Bridge Detour To Begin Tuesday

Representative Richard A. Voke has contacted the Massachusetts Department of Public Works with his concern over the construction and detour that vehicles will be forced to take. Since it will disrupt the familiar traffic and public transportation routes for persons traveling north across the Tobin/Mystic Bridge, Representative Voke sought and obtained the following clarification from the State D.P.W. Acting Commissioner Ellen M. DiGeronimo of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works announced beginning Tuesday, October 11, 1983 a detour will be in effect for vehicles approaching the Tobin/Mystic Bridge from City Square, North Washington Street and Rutherford Avenue in Charlestown. Work currently underway on the Chelsea/Water Streets Connector project will require the closing of the Chelsea Street on-ramp to the Tobin Mystic Bridge from City Square.

In addition the northbound expressway approach to the bridge will be reduced from three to two lanes with the closing of the extreme right-hand land of the approach.

Starting Tuesday morning, passenger vehicles, vans and pick-up trucks heading northbound will be detoured from the Chelsea Street approach to the bridge onto Joiner Street to Water Street. They will then follow Water Street to the Chelsea/Water Street Connector and onto a northbound connection to the bridge.

Trucks and buses will be required to follow a separate detour due to the restrictive turning movements. They will be directed via City Square to the northbound I-93 ramp onto I-93 to the Route 28/Fellsway Interchange, Exit 3, Somerville, to reverse direction and follow I-93 southbound to the Tobin/Mystic Bridge approach ramp.

This new traffic pattern and detour is expected to be in effect until November 30, 1983.

The $5 million project presently underway consists of constructing a Chelsea and Water Streets Connector and reconstruction and widening existing Chelsea and Water Streets. Also included is a new bridge across the Little Mystic Channel from Terminal Street to Chelsea Street along with two new exit ramps from the Central Artery and a new Access Road to the industrial area at the easterly end of Terminal Street.

The work is being done by the R. Zoppo Co., Inc. of Avon Mass., and has completion date of November 17, 1984.

Representative Voke understands that the new detour may cause some confusion. He encourages residents with questions and complaints to contact him at his State House Office. You can reach the Representative by calling him at 722-2130 or writing to him at the State House, Room 130, Boston, MA 02133.

A PERSONAL
TRAVAGLINI

"About one year ago, I began my campaign for District City Councillor. I began this journey with great enthusiasm and a commitment to running a vigorous, clean campaign which addressed the issues. The Travaglini campaign has brought its message to the people of Charlestown, East Boston and the North End, and I have been the recipient of many kind gestures on the part of hundreds of old supporters and new friends. As a first time candidate, my experience has been humbling and rewarding.

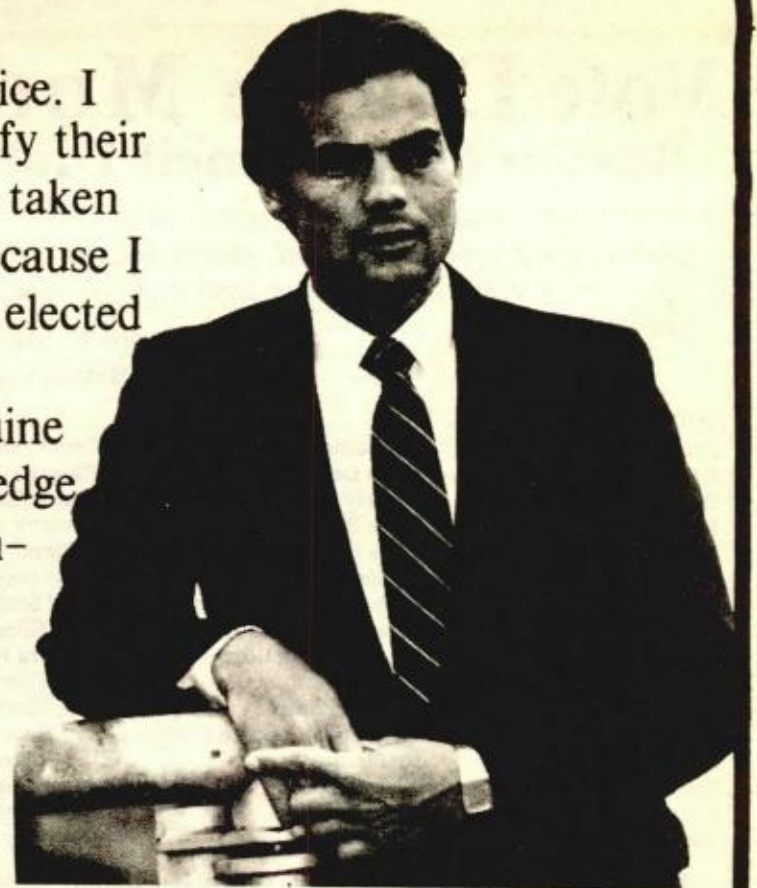

"Now, as Election Day draws near, the enthusiasm surrounding our campaign is overwhelming and I am prepared to meet and accept your decision in the voting booth. One task remains, and that is to say "Thank You" to the many people who have opened their homes to me, who have listened as I discussed the issues, and who have worked so hard to put the Travaglini campaign on top.

"My entire life has been dedicated to public service. I believe that government exists to serve people, to satisfy their needs and to improve the quality of their lives. I have taken specific positions on the major issues which face us because I believe the people have the right to know where their elected officials stand on the issues.

"I pledge nothing more or less than honest, genuine and effective representation on the City Council. I pledge that our neighborhood will have access to city government like never before. I pledge to work as hard as I can to make you proud of me, and proud of your choice."

Sincerely,

Robert E. Travaglini

Modica Receives Charlestown Local 799 Endorsement

Diane Modica, candidate for the District 1 seat on the Boston City Council, which includes Charlestown, East Boston, and the North End, recently received the endorsements of three local labor unions.

The AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, Charlestown Local 799, East Boston Local 805, and the AFL-CIO's Weigher's and Sampler's Union Local 1495, all unanimously endorsed Modica.

Modica, born and brought up on the East Boston waterfront, understands first-hand the importance of the maritime industry in the City of Boston. Modica's father, Nuno Modica, and uncles Peter, Joe and Mike Modica, have all been active members of the longshoremen's unions.

"For many years, my father and uncles worked side-by-side with longshoremen from Charlestown and developed friendships and mutual respect that has endured to this day," Modica said.

"Coming from a family with a long history of hard work on the Boston waterfront, I understand the valuable contributions that many longshoremen have made and will continue to make in the port of Boston." Modica has been campaigning actively in the district and has received a very warm reception from many longshoremen who remember the Modica family on the waterfront.

As the District 1 City Councillor, Modica pledges to be accessible and sensitive to the needs and concerns of the longshoring community. Modica has been active in public service at the local, state and federal levels for over 13 years.

B.R.A. Gives Initial Approval To Development Of Elderly Housing

The Boston Redevelopment Authority has given initial approval to the development of 120 units of elderly housing in Charlestown by a team consisting of the Planning Office for Urban Affairs of the Archdiocese of Boston and Cooperative Services, Inc., a nonprofit corporation specializing in the construction of publicly assisted housing.

The $4 million project will include a total rehabilitation of the former St. Mary's grammar school on Winthrop Street and construction of a new building on an adjacent site owned by the BRA but now occupied by Catalano Trucking Company. The grammar school itself will contain 31 apartments and the new addition will contain 89 units. The new building will be seven stories on Warren Street and five stories on Park Street. The main entrance for the new complex will be off Park Street and will lead from a courtyard which is presently the playground for the grammar school.

The development is being financed under the Federal government's Section 202/8 program, which means that residents of the new units will pay between 25 and 30 percent of their income for rent.

BRA Director Robert J. Ryan said, "We are delighted at this project. Our staff has had extensive discussions with Father Boyle and we all concur that the elderly housing is a use more in keeping with the desire of so many parishioners who supported the school for so many years."

BRA Chairman Robert L. Farrell, a native of Charlestown, said "This is a case where the BRA, working with the archdiocese and the local parish, was able to come up with a project that will continue to serve the community. We think this is a convenient location for this kind of housing and we feel the proposed design will have a positive impact on the residential character of Charlestown."

St. Mary's Parish had made their intentions known to the Archdiocesan Planning Office for Urban Affairs and a one year planning process eventually produced the possibility of providing money for development of the school into elderly housing.

The Archdiocese of Boston has successfully sponsored two similar developments, one involving 80 units in St. Anthony's Parish in Allston and the other with 100 units at St. Mary's in Lynn.

Cooperative Services, Inc. will provide management services for the housing and work to develop a cooperatively managed building where residents provide most of the support, maintenance and fiscal services necessary to maintain the building.

Cooperative Services, Inc., developer of more than 2000 units of publically assisted housing, has met with great success in other developments using a similar management system.

A construction start is planned for spring 1984 and interested persons should call the Planning Office for Urban Affairs, 227-2200 in order to leave their names for more information as it is developed. It is anticipated the new development will be completed in early 1985.

Architects for the project are the Boston Architectural Team, which has designed similar elderly developments.

Representative Voke Reacts To DPW Dumping

Representative Richard A. Voke, reacting to the horrendous dumping situation which has arisen behind the Charlestown YMCA along Boston Sand and Gravel Road, has taken steps to rectify the problem. In his capacity as the State Representative for the people of Charlestown, he has put pressure on the delinquent party, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, to remove the unsightly mound of tangled metal and road debris.

Representative Voke, in recent communications with the D.P.W. expressed his grave concern and outrage over the pile. He demanded the pile be removed immediately.

The Charlestown Representative made the following comments: "When I was alerted of the situation, I proceeded immediately to the site to observe it for myself. I was shocked and dismayed at the utter lack of respect the D.P.W. has shown towards the Charlestown community; to think that residents would allow that refuse heap to exist this long!"

"Working through the D.P.W. Commissioner's office I was able to elicit a definite confirmation on removal of the pile. The money needed for the project was finally released late last week and steps are now being taken to hire a solid waste contractor."

Representative Voke has warned the D.P.W. that their inaction and insensitivity would not be tolerated. He plans to watch their future activities closely.

Representative Voke is committed to making sure that state agencies, existing and operating in Charlestown, respect community wishes and deliver the highest quality services.

Nucci, speaking before a group of Charlestown campaign workers noted, "The campaign has been most productive. We have attempted to visibly bring out for discussion the complex problems facing our schools today. Our campaign stands alone in the District One field in genuine airing of the issues."

Nucci's candidacy has drawn the overwhelming support of numerous community leaders and labor union groups. Recently, Nucci was endorsed by both the Boston Teachers Union and the Greater Boston Labor Council,

Nucci Thanks Supporters

AFL-CIO, as well as the Boston Globe.

Nucci is a graduate of Boston Latin School, Boston College, and holds a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Suffolk University. His long list of community activities have contributed to the significant recognition he has gained in Charlestown. "If there is one thing I have attempted to stress throughout this campaign, it is that Boston cannot afford to abandon public education as a viable alternative for our children," Nucci stated. "Today's pupils are tomorrow's leaders and unless we adequately prepare them for these challenges, we are to blame," he added. Nucci has put forward a platform of "restored stability of student assignments, safety in the schools, improved teacher morale, and improved student reading, writing, and computation competencies."

JOHN A. NUCCI
Nucci is married to Peggy (Noons) Nucci, who has been a teacher of special needs children in Boston for eight years. As a closing statement to Charlestown supporters, Nucci noted "the importance of getting your friends to vote on October 11. Regardless of their choices, the right and privilege of voting is an important one, and it should be exercised. Boston faces a crucial year and every voter in the city should have their voices heard," Nucci added.

BOSTON CITY COUNCIL - AT LARGE

VOTE—VOTE—VOTE ON OCTOBER 11, 1983 TO RE-ELECT ALBERT L. "DAPPER" O'NEIL

for an
AT LARGE
Seat on the
Boston City Council
Number 6 on the ballot

I am asking the voters to give serious thought in giving me one of your four votes for City Councillor AT LARGE. In plain layman's language, I want to break down just what makes me tick as your City Councillor. People say that I am rather controversial, and I might say I am, and proud of it.

1. It is on rare occasions that I send out batches of press releases because when I do, they never print them anyway - they don't want the readers and voters to know the Gospel truth as to just what goes on here in the City Council. So, my good people, I have to pay for an ad like this in order to get my message across.
2. I put full time on this job, and have never had another income like others do.
3. I have never missed a meeting in my twelve years on the City Council.
4. I attend all of the Regulatory hearings in City Hall and in the districts because this is what I am being paid for.
5. I am not out practicing Law when I am supposed to be here in the Council doing my job.
6. I never went to Law School (days) when I should have been here minding the store. You would be surprised at just how many of my colleagues have gone to school days when they should have been here. (I am sick of it).
7. I was one of three Councillors that voted against the creation of the Water and Sewer Commission. (Look at your bills for water and sewer now)-Increased five times. No matter, for the others voted for the Sewer and Water Commission — they gave out 400 new jobs — you can read between the lines.
8. We have Committee hearings here in the Council, and it is very difficult to even get a quorum to preside. Why? Because everybody is practicing law or going to school (days).
9. When I think of all the millions of dollars that this council votes on, and votes peanuts for the elderly that made this country - It makes me sick.
10. I was the only Councillor that voted against the creation of this Fair Housing Commission. It is nothing but more patronage, and now they want to tell you just who will live in your home that you worked so hard to get. No way.
11. There isn't one thing that comes before the Council that I don't question, and I will continue to question everything.
12. I am Chairman of the Special Committee on School matters, and I want you, as Tax Payers to read this carefully. In 1975, just before FORCED BUSING went into effect in this City, the School Budget was $107,000,000. We had 93,000 students in the system. In 1976 FORCED BUSING started and this is what happened. We lost 50,000 students, we closed down 30 schools, we laid off 1100 teachers, spent $40,000,000 on the purchase of buses and now we are down to 43,000 students, and the School Committee is coming in with a budget of $250,000,000. What in God's name are they running over there at School Headquarters? This is fiscal insanity. But no, you are not supposed to say anything, but you can bet I will when that budget comes in.
13. What, or why, do we need all these Deputy Mayors for?
14. Why do we have to have a Parkman House? This costs $90,000 a year to maintain.
15. Why do the Deputy Mayors have to have chauffeurs?
16. Look at all of the Deputy Superintendents and Superintendents of the Boston Police. What do we need them for?
17. Would you believe that this City owes $650,000,000 in long and short term loans to the bankers. Nobody wants to hear that, but I will tell you it is true.

18. I need help here in order to put a stop to a lot of things that go on in here. I am tired of being alone, and face many periods of solid frustration.
19. Read this: For 15 straight years, I have filed legislation in the Great and General Court to tax the colleges, dormitories, hospitals, Port Authority, and the Turnpike Authority. Fifteen years ago, the tax-free property in Boston was 31 percent, and now it is 63.05 percent, so I guess I know what I am talking about, but they will not listen to me at the State House. Did you know that? If you build a house in Boston, do you get a Chapter 121A tax break? NO, but the Developers do — why not you? That is just what is wrong in this City. It is who you know, and then you will be alright. The Sumner Tunnel and the Callahan Tunnel are right here in this City, and also the Tobin Bridge, and do you know that we don't get one cent from the Turnpike Authority for the fares they collect. When will it all stop — please tell me. God knows, I try to stop it, but everybody runs for the hills when I file legislation to put a stop to all of it.
20. Why don't these candidates for Mayor bring these kind of things up? WHY NOT? This is what people in this City want to hear, not a lot of double talk.
21. I hope that I am around long enough to see a Tax revolt in this City, because it is not far away. People are sick of it, so help me.
22. These Federal Grants are nothing but hand-outs for political patronage and it makes me sick. We have certain people in this City that all they want is hand-outs and I don't like it. Go to work like everybody else and stop demanding other people's money that work hard for a living.
23. People ask me what I think of Affirmative Action, and I tell them that it makes me sick. I happen to be a Minority also, and I don't make demands on taxpayers' money. Good example, I take a Civil Service examination and I get a mark of 96 percent, and a so called Minority gets a passing mark of 40 percent and they get the job. That to me is discrimination and I don't like it. Do you? Tell me, do you?
24. What is this business of Gay and Lesbian rights? They, as far as I am concerned, are not entitled to anymore rights than I get — so I am against that kind of business, and told them so.
25. Look at the Courts today. They are the cause of a lot of things that go on in this City, and the Country as a matter of fact. I am all in favor of electing Judges, and then they might not be so liberal.
26. Everything for the Criminal, and no rights for the victims of terrible crimes. When will it all stop?
27. I voted against the increase of the Council from nine members to 13 members because just to bring in four new Councillors, it is going to cost the tax payers $2,000,000 for new office space and staff, and another $2,000,000 to bring in new members to the School Committee. That's what I predicted would happen, but again, nobody wanted to listen to me.
28. Please believe me, ladies and gentlemen, it is not easy in here trying to do the job you want me to do, but I need people in here with guts and not go along with the tide because of cheap patronage. I never sold my vote for a few summer jobs, and that is just what happens around here, so help me.

I want to conclude now, to ask you to give me one of your four votes for the City Council AT LARGE, and I will try to keep doing a good job as I have since I have been on the City Council.

Don't forget number 6 on the ballot.

(Paid for by the Committee to Re-Elect Albert L. O'Neil)

I hope that you are planning to attend to bring your congratulations to Joe and the other award recipients. Tickets are $20.00 per person. This includes a sit-down meal and live entertainment. Presidential candidate, John Glenn, will deliver the keynote address. Call me for ticket reservations as soon as possible at 241-8866.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S REPORT

To paraphrase Mark Twain, rumors of our demise have been greatly exaggerated. There are those in Charlestown who derive great pleasure from bad news concerning the Kennedy Center. During previous meetings, I have described openly and without reservation the problems and shortcomings of the Kennedy Center. Apparently, candor has been confused with eulogy, nothing could be further from the truth. The Kennedy Center is alive, well and operating. We have come a long way together since November 1982. We have withstood crisis after crisis, beginning with the mass resignation of "concerned" Board members, followed by the Attorney General's inquiries, the assault by ABCD, financial cutbacks, licensing of Head Start and mismanaged accounts.

Our greatest detractors have been community residents who believe they will derive benefit from the Kennedy Center's failures. These detractors operate with innuendo and half truths to muddy the reputation of the Kennedy Center.

The truth is that the Kennedy Center has re-established itself as the Charlestown human service agency. The Board has acted prudently and honestly and always in the best interest of the corporation.

The following has been accomplished in the previous 10 months. We have established accounting, bookkeeping, and administrative procedures that are clear and understandable for staff and Board alike. We have renegotiated contracts to maintain our services. We have established up-to-date, clear operable Personnel Policies. The EDC has been cleared as an independent corporation; loans between corporations have stopped. We have reorganized the internal administration of programs to insure the maximum number of direct services. The Head Start Care Program has been licensed. Increases in day care, counselling, homemakers, and detox services have been negotiated and contracts signed. The parks in Charlestown are now beginning to be influenced by the community through the Boston Urban Partners Program. And this is just the beginning.

We are pursuing every avenue to receive funds to support our programs. While most other community service agencies are winding down and laying off staff due to federal and state cutbacks, we are staying even. We will maintain at least the 1.3 million dollar budget we had last year. All non-profit agencies are suffering through the hard times of Reaganomics; we are no different, but we have contracts through 1984 that will allow us to maintain ourselves.

Our primary accomplishment, one about which we should all be proud, is the establishment of real community control over the administration of public money in Charlestown, open and accessible. This also applies to the Charlestown Economic Development Corporation. The Boards are truly open community organizations.

IMPROVEMENT CAN BE COSTLY

You can make a million mistakes trying to sell your own home. And one of them is making the wrong improvements. Many times, an expensive addition or repair can be the kind of thing that'll cost you far more than you get back.

True, the house should present a favorable appearance - mowed lawn, trimmed shrubs, and no obvious indications of neglect, but it's rare when a large financial undertaking will bring more than its cost in the final selling price.

There is always the financial risk of miscalculation too. Home repair costs frequently end up a lot higher than originally anticipated. You may end up with a faster sale and less inconvenience if you lower the selling price an equivalent amount.

Instead of guessing as to how much, if any, repair work, to undertake, a see a Realtor. He can tell you what to do to make your home salable. And what not to do so you won't lose money.

Boston has only one Mayor. That person must speak with ONE voice. That person cannot be all things to all people. Our Mayor is our ambassador to the state legislature, to other Mayors, to the Governor and to Congress.

Our Mayor, in dealing with these individuals and groups, must speak with ONE voice. His word MUST be good or we, in our city, will suffer.

When we think of Boston's future,
both in good times and in bad, doesn't it really make sense to have
DAVE FINNEGAN
as our Mayor?

Working Hard As Primary Approaches

Robert (Meaney) Cappucci, candidate for the District 1 City Council seat, continues to work hard at campaigning as the October 11 primary approaches. He has been attending many functions and activities throughout the District (North End, East Boston, Charlestown). He stated that his vigorous style of campaigning has brought him many well wishes and praises from the voters.

The Council candidate said that if elected Councillor, he will protect the interests of all his constituents and see to it that the inner workings of government are managed in an effective and professional manner. Cappucci is the only candidate in the race with a degree in political science. He believes the people are not receiving their fair share of service for the amount of tax payer dollars being spent. District 1 needs a Councillor, he said, who will speak out on all issues and concerns no matter how large or small. If elected Councillor, Cappucci stated that "I will speak out with a strong, clear, unattached voice and I plan to work with the new administration in a true spirit of cooperation". He stated that elected officials cannot afford the luxury of waiting to react to issues - they must act to prevent negative consequences and produce beneficial results that will induce a positive affect within their community.

He continued by saying he would scrutinize and examine each and every concern and will take the initiative when appropriate to develop and implement new policies that will serve the residents and tax payers of his district satisfactorily.

The Council candidate closed by saying he hoped everyone who is registered will take advantage of this privilege and vote on Primary day, Tuesday, October 11. Cappucci is the last name on the ballot.

"We may have come on different ships, but we're all in the same boat now. I welcome Charlestown aboard my campaign to bring Boston together for good."

- Quality education citywide.
- Stop the drugs from coming into Charlestown.

SHOWING ITS RIBS. The Spirit of Massachusetts stands naked in the Charlestown Navy Yard. Recently, volunteers had an old fashion barn-raising to shelter the schooner and workers during the winter.

The Spirit Of Massachusetts Recaptures The Romance Of Years Long Forgotten

by Maria Girvin

The Charlestown Navy Yard is once again hosting the building of a ship, a tall ship, a ship that when finished, will symbolize all that is good in Massachusetts and be the product of numerous volunteers who were interested in keeping alive the ancient craft of boat building. She will be called, appropriately, The Spirit of Massachusetts.

Until recently, a walk into the Historical part of the Navy Yard could give you a distant look at the fishing schooner's skeletal frame, as volunteers, both men and women, worked in her shadow, smoothing timbers, drilling holes or nailing support beams in place. With the salt breeze blowing across the yard, one could easily imagine the early days of Boston when she was known for her shipbuilding. The ship is now housed in a barn, that volunteers raised several weekends ago, in preparation for the winter.

The ship is being built by the New England Historic Seaport Society who organized in 1976 just in time to conduct Op-Sail 76 in celebration of America's birthday and Op-Sail 80 for those who couldn't get enough of the majestic tall ships that sailed into Boston Harbor, attracting thousands from all over New England.

The society is building the ship for numerous reasons, one being that it will be more economic for their organization's training programs in which 15 to 30 persons, at a time, are taken out for a two week sailing course and taught the skill of maneuvering the large boat in unity with nature.

However, New England Historic Seaport is also reaching at a less tangible goal but a more important one. They are not taking the name "Spirit of Massachusetts" lightly.

"The Spirit of Massachusetts will be shown as a flagship for the Commonwealth," said Project Director Robin Traverse. "She will be a showpiece, encouraging tourism and business within the state, but she will also be more than that.

"She will embody the spirited contributions and involvement of people who like the idea of keeping a traditional craft alive. Fishing and ship building was the livelihood of many when this area was being settled. It involved all types of people, . . . all immigrants. It was quite an enterprise and it took a hearty spirit. If you compared Massachusetts to New York or the southern states, you will see that our people had some pretty rough living, yet Boston, through its enterprising spirit, kept alive.

"We're applying that same spirit in building this schooner. It's a way to let people understand the integrity of the past in simple terms for today."

Indeed the Spirit of Massachusetts has attracted men and women who volunteer their time and energy for the honor and glory of learning an ancient skill and building such a romantic sailing vessel.

Traverse said approximately 70 volunteers from all walks of life donate hours to work on The Spirit. At any given time three or four workers can be found at the building site working under Master Shipwright Andy Davis. They have nearly completed the ship's framing and will soon begin laying down floors. Traverse welcomed any additional volunteers, saying the crew can absorb volunteers as quickly as the volunteers learn a particular skill.

"We clearly have an apprentice," said Traverse. "He was going to go to boat building school. He had no carpentry skills but we still took him on. It's an old time way of learning a skill. - He's doing quite well."

Traverse spoke about a software engineer from Digital who took his vacation weeks, one day at a time, spending each day working on the Spirit. "He wanted to see the ship's progress. He did everything from rigging to learning how to use all means of drilling and wood shaping tools. He learned the basics of patterns and woods," said Traverse.

According to Traverse, many of the men who started early on the project with simple carpentry skills or experience building a small boat are now full-fledged shipwrights.

The integrity and skills of these men are not all

A SELECTION OF WOODWORKING TOOLS are unknowingly displayed to a casual onlooker as this worker chisels notches into the beam.

PROJECT DIRECTOR ROBIN TRAVERSE said it is difficult to go out and see the progress on the ship without picking up a hammer and doing a little work. Above volunteers examine their work thus far. The radio headsets on the worker and the power tool in his hand are luxuries never dreamed of by shipbuilders of the past.

that the Spirit of Massachusetts will reflect. New England Historic Seaport is diligently trying to order all of the ship's building supplies from within Massachusetts. It is not an easy task.

"Building the boat is like walking out onto Newbury Street with an 1890 supply list," said Traverse. The builders had to go to Guyana, South America to find their largest timbers which they will need when building the masts.

However, with a little imagination and the cooperative spirit of Massachusetts businesses,

The Spirit will be launched next June literally made of the stuff, that her ancestral sister ships were made of.

Wooden nails have come through the telephone company. New England Boat in Chelsea has also come through with special requests for the Spirit, allowing the crew to build as close a replica of the past as possible. A mill in Brimfield stops major production, time to time, to cut lumber for the ship. Catalogue Paint Company in Ashland has chemists analyzing old-time paint so that they can produce a similar paint when the Spirit is ready for the finishing touches.

When she is finished, The Spirit will be a fore and aft schooner 127 feet long, 24 feet wide with her masts towering 100 feet above the deck. She will carry a crew of eight who will train students in off-shore sea experiences. . . experiences that will instill the spirit of Massachusetts.

Get some respect. Right where you live.

You know what we've never had?

A Mayor who lives like we do. Same neighborhood. Same schools. Same house. Same mortgage. Same busted muffler. Same worries.

He'd be one of those smart street kids who worked his way up. Honors graduate. All American ball player. Graduate degree from Harvard. A career in government. But he'd never forget where he came from.

He'd be the City Councilor who never walked away from us, the one who always showed up when we needed him.

For once we'd get some respect in our neighborhoods.

And for once we'd be able to "tell it to City Hall" and the Mayor would understand exactly where we're coming from.

Because that's where he comes from.

Get some respect. Right where you live.

A Piece Of History Returns To Charlestown

RESIDENTS of the Mary Colbert Apartments were on hand to join in the celebration of the installation of the iron fence. Residents were unanimous in their praise of the new fence in enhancing the property. Shown kneeling in front is President of the Economic Development Corporation

Recently the Economic Development Corporation (EDC), a subsidiary corporation of the Kennedy Center, held a ribbon cutting ceremony for Charlestown residents, celebrating the installation of an historical iron fence around the Mary Colbert Apartments on Devens Street.

Finally, after several years of litigation and funding problems, a piece of Charlestown history was returned to the community, after being stored in Malden.

The iron fence was originally that fence which surrounded the Thompson Square elevated subway station before it was torn down. Given to the Charlestown Preservation Society, who in turn donated it to the Colbert Apartments, the fence remained stored for numerous years at Gino's Metal Ironworks in Malden.

It was this company that installed the fence at the cost of $21 thousand, money which had been kept in escrow for the eventual installation of the fence.

Two years ago, the people of Boston voted to give their neighborhoods a stronger voice in city government and public education.

As a result, this year nine members of the City Council and School Committee will be elected from nine neighborhood districts. Four members of each body will be elected at large.

Boston's business community has a stake in better government and better public schools. So we put our resources behind district representation. And we're still behind the idea wholeheartedly.

But we're concerned. Concerned that the confusion over district lines and the dates of the elections will cause people to stay home, rather than going to the polls.

If that happens, some neighborhoods - maybe yours - won't have a full say about Boston's future.

To encourage every neighborhood to have its say, we're publishing this map. It's the map that will be used to choose district Councillors and School Committee Members.

Find out how your neighborhood fits in. Find out about the candidates in your district.

Then make your neighborhood count. Vote in the Preliminary Election on Tuesday, October 11.

NEXT TUESDAY, MAKE YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD COUNT.

I.L.A. MEANS "I LOVE AMERICA"

Perhaps you've seen that bumper sticker or window decal, and now the International Association of Longshoremen of Boston haven proven it ... again!

During the last weekend of September, a Russian merchant vessel entered Boston Harbor laden with a cargo of plywood and, as is the normal procedure, was posted for three longshore gangs for a Monday 8:00 a.m. "start."

As a consequence of an old friendship born of several instances of joint participation in anti-communist activities (and on the heels of our last column, "Know Thine Enemy, And Do Something About It"), we were invited to join with those of the (KAL-007) Memorial Service Committee who made immediate plans to stage a protest rally in front of the Castle Island Gate, the entrance way to the dock facility at which the Russian freighter was berthed. It was a privilege to accept and participate as an individual American citizen, and to bear our nation's colors, appropriately festooned with black mourning streamers in commemoration of those Americans who lost their lives on the Korean Air Lines flight which was barbarically destroyed by a Russian missile.

The demonstration was peacefully conducted three successive mornings, devoid of intimidation and/or harassment and the committee members held a sincere respect and appreciation for the serious decisions facing the available longshoremen reporting to "face" for work on the vessel.

The rest is history, but we're personally bursting with pride at the turn of events which resulted in the eventual sailing of the vessel from our shores ... without her cargo being discharged! Individual actions of our brother members of Local 1066 halted work progress on Monday, mushroomed into a complete work standstill Tuesday by all locals involved and, notwithstanding a court order, it still remained unmanned Wednesday ... causing a decision to sail to be effected. The personal sacrifices endured by those members of the I.L.A. directly involved cannot be minimized, but it's far from the first time such personal actions have taken by this "great bunch of guys." In this instance, those of us pre-assigned to other work facilities on the waterfront envy our brothers their act of unselfishness but they know we share their spirit of patriotism in acknowledging, in such a meaningful and visible way, the needless deaths of too many of our fellow Americans. Too, we all hope it has helped to relieve the anguish and heartaches of the surviving members of the families of this tragic flight. We're doubly proud, as an I.L.A. member, to be part of an organization that has successfully turned the Russian "bear" into a cub, and we hope the vessel in question continues to be a "ship without a friendly port."

We would be remiss if we didn't also commend Marlboro

Free Flu Shots For Senior Citizens At B.H.H.C.

The coming of Fall and cooler weather means the flu season will soon be here. As a public service during October and November, Boston's Department of Health and Hospitals is conducting an immunization program for the city's most vulnerable residents.

The annual free flu shot campaign is directed to the elderly (age 65 and older) and the chronically ill of any age. The program is being implemented through Boston's twenty-five Neighborhood Health Centers and other health care providers in the city.

The flu vaccination is a widely accepted preventive health measure. Physicians strongly recommend flu vaccination for older people and the chronically ill because they are the most susceptible to medical complications from the flu.

Dr. George Lamb, director of Family Health and Community Epidemiology for the Department of Health and Hospitals points out that although influenza, or the flu as it is commonly called, is usually not fatal, related secondary infections can be fatal. Pneumonia, the most common secondary infection, is the fifth leading cause of death for those age 65 and older.

The free flu shot program will continue through the end of November.

In this community, the free flu shots are available Monday through Friday by appointment at Bunker Hill Health Center, 73 High Street, telephone 242-5758.

On January 1, your phone won't turn into a monster.

If you're like most people, you've heard that the Bell System is breaking up. And that, after January 1, 1984, you'll have to look to separate sources for local phone service, long-distance phone service, and equipment.

If you're like most people, you're concerned that this will turn your phone service into a monster.

It won't.

New England Telephone will still be your local phone company. We'll still provide you with the same good service New Englanders have counted on for the last 100 years.

Divestiture will mean some changes. For individuals, for business—and for the future.

We think most of the changes will be for the better. And, as they happen, we'll tell you about them. Because the more you know about change, the easier it is to handle.

Some things won't change.

New England Telephone will still provide local phone service. All you have to do is pick up the phone and call. The way you always have.

You've probably heard that the cost of local calling will increase after divestiture. That's because long-distance charges will no longer pay part of the cost of local service. However, the cost of long-distance calling may be reduced. And New England Telephone also offers options—like Measured Service or Unlimited Service—to help you control the cost of local service.

Some things will change.

Among the things that are changing are the ways you obtain equipment and repairs.

New England Telephone will no longer provide home telephone equipment. If you want to buy phones, you can buy them from any number of suppliers. So shop around. Compare prices, features, and service warranties to get the best buys for your money.

If you prefer to lease your phones, simply keep the ones we've provided. But after January 1, you'll automatically be leasing them from AT&T.

Whoever supplies your phones will be responsible for their repair. Of course, New England Telephone will continue to maintain and repair your phone lines.

A short course on long-distance options.

After the break-up, New England Telephone will continue to provide you with long distance service within your area code. And we'll give you access to long-distance service outside your area code. So you can still make and receive long-distance calls.

Your current long-distance service will continue after January 1.

However, if you want to choose a new long-distance company, check your Yellow Pages for a complete listing. Then compare rates and services and make your choice.

What lies ahead?

New England Telephone's been in the forefront of changes in telephone service and technology for the last 100 years. And that's just where we intend to stay.

We're managing today's changes, and we'll continue to offer you new options, all geared to making your phone service the best it can be.

There's been a lot of noise about the Bell System breaking up, but just remember New England Telephone's got it all together.

If you have any questions about the ways these changes will affect you, call our special, toll-free "Let's Talk" number. It's 1 800 555-5000. Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

overview of personal financial planning including information on investments, mutual funds, IRA's, tax sheltered annuities and tax shelters such as real estate limited partnerships. Two books which Mr. Orlando highly recommends are Andrew Tobias' updated "The Only Investment Guide You'll

Columbus Falls Short, Pope John Wins 18-13

by Bob Cristoforo
Athletic Director

They had enough, but once again it came too late, and the Christopher Columbus Football Friars found themselves on the short end of a long football game. Lesson learned; you don't spot anyone a lead in this league if you want to win.

Paul Caramanica, Pope John Co-Captain, was the star of the game offensively and defensively. His 32 yard run opened the Pope John scoring, and he added another 31 yard TD run to give the 'Tigers' a 12-0 lead before the Friars got moving.

Dennis Donovan, once again was the mover. He took QB Mike Wallace's 25 yard pass into the end zone. This, plus senior Chris Fratalia's successful kick, cut the margin in half, but Caramanica wasn't through with his first half offensive show. A gutsy last minute PJ drive was capped by a Caramanica two yard TD plunge.

With just 28 seconds to go in the first half, Columbus did some gutsy things themselves. QB Mike Wallace rolled down the field, and the last second's drive ended on the ten as the clock ran out.

The Friars were alive, but the score was 18-7. The second half was Columbus. The defense played fairly solid, and Brian O'Donnell's 62 yard TD run lit the scoreboard, and ignited the team. More ignition was Ed Pistorino's fumble recovery, and when the Friars took over with minutes to go things looked excellent.

Pope John was looking for a hero, and Caramanica was not ready to give up the title. He intercepted what might have been the game winning pass. Pope John 'ate' up the rest of the clock, and the 'Tigers' went home with a well earned 18-13 victory, and the Friars went back to the drawing board.

Next game for Columbus' Varsity will be on Saturday morning at Archbishop Williams, and will be carried live on WJDA radio, beginning around 10:00 a.m.

From the FRIAR-ing PAN: The Freshmen Friars lost a tough one to Arlington Catholic. A costly play set up the AC lone touchdown of the game giving them an 8-0 win. Bright spots for the young Friars included Freddy DellaPorta, Joe Casey, Shane Noone and Carl Bonfiglio. The Freshman team will be hosting Williams on the Charles this Friday.

Columbus' Junior Varsity team travels to Austin Prep in Reading on Monday.

In the stands we spotted last year's Captain Bob Buckley, now a freshmen at Bridgewater State; former player Dom DiCenso, now a freshmen at Bentley; and in the press booth we got a visit from Columbus Super Bowl coach Bob Hennessey.

Heartbreak Hill Road Race

Greg Meyer and Joan Benoit, men's and women's winners of the 1983 Boston Marathon, top the list of elite runners competing in the Seventh Annual Purity Supreme Heartbreak 10K Road Race on November 6, 1983 in Newton. Running with them up the Hill made famous by being the final major hurdle along the course of the Boston Marathon will be 4,200 participants of all ages.

Purity Supreme, the sponsor of the Race which benefits the Kennedy Memorial Hospital for Children, has enhanced the stature of the event this year by bringing Meyer and Benoit to the starting line. The invitation of other top New England athletes focuses the sporting world on the seven-year-old road

Pop Warner Corner

In the first game in Medford last Sunday morning, the Charlestown Pop Warner D-Team won by the score of 18-0. This was only the second win for the D-Team in three years. The first touchdown was scored on a quarterback sweep by David Matson. The second touchdown was scored with just seven seconds left in the half on a pass play from David Matson to his brother, Tony Matson. The third touchdown was scored by Shawn Connelly on a run up the middle. The entire D-Team squad played great ball - keep it up!

In the C-Team game, Charlestown lost by the score of 7-0. Medford scored late in the fourth quarter to get the win. If the C-Team can come up with a little more offense, Charlestown will win a few games this year.

The B-Team game was won by Medford by the score of 25-0. Better luck this week at Malden.

Charlestown won the A-Team game by the score of 28-0. This was the A-Team's third straight shutout victory. The game was a great team effort with all the players getting a lot of playing time.

This week, the games are in Malden at MacDonald Park, where Malden High plays. The field is located by the government center.

Rides to Malden are needed, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Bobby Orr Visits Columbus High School

by Bob DeCristoforo
Athletic Director

In the past few years President Jimmy Carter, Olympic Star Jack O'Callahan, and New England Patriot President Billy Sullivan have all "DISCOVERED COLUMBUS", and last Friday another distinguished name was added to the guest list.

It was a very special day for the entire Christopher Columbus High School Community and for me a dream come true.

A little after noontime, I walked into the school gym, the whole school community was on its feet clapping and chanting 'Bobby, Bobby, Bobby!'. The clapping and chanting was familiar, but it was not at Boston Garden, today. It was right here at Columbus and the man to my right was hockey's golden star, Bobby Orr. It was a highly emotional moment, and you could tell that Bobby Orr appreciated it, because he was visibly moved.

The event was COLUMBUS SPIRIT DAY, coordinated by the Development Office and the Athletic Department. It was a day when Columbus people, old and new, realized what it really meant to be a part of Columbus, and to be proud of Columbus.

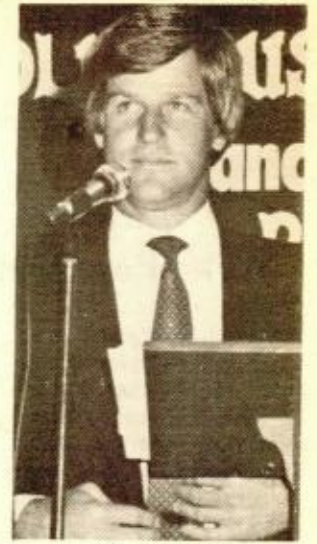

Bobby Orr was magnificent. No other word could describe the man. His talk touched on many subjects, and they were stated in a way only he could say them. You could hear a pin drop in the packed gym as he spoke, and then he took questions from the floor answering them all.

Columbus Hockey Captain Jim Vesey presented Orr with a school jacket, which he promptly put on to the delight of the crowd.

It was a small gift in comparison to what Bobby Orr gave us that day, but it was directly from the Columbus heart.

It was truly a special day, and I'm sure it won't be forgotten by all of us who were there.

BOBBY ORR

To Begin Parent And Tot Swim Program

The Boys and Girls Club announces that it will initiate a parents and tots (ages 1 to 5) swim program. The program, which will start in October and continue for ten weeks, includes activities in the swimming pool.

The swimming program provides an opportunity for parents and tots to be together in a learning experience. The main emphasis will be on adjustment to the water, not the development of swimming skills. Children can acquire a sense of confidence and enjoyment in the water by kicking, putting their faces in the water, and doing the doggie paddle.

Parents must be in the pool with their children at all times and children who are not toilet trained must wear rubber pants - not diapers.

The fee is $25.00 per child for ten weeks of classes. A completed application form and $25.00 is needed on the first day of class. To obtain an application form come up to the Club or call and one will be sent to you. For more information call 242-1775, extension 116.

Alumni League At Boys And Girls Club

Break out the old Converse sneakers and oil up those "squeaky" knees because it's alumni basketball time. If you have a team that believes they can beat the "old timers", led by Denny Borden and Jerry Driscoll, then get your rosters to John Brennan at the gym at the Boys and Girls Club, 15 Green Street.

Rosters are limited to ten members and all participants must be Club members. You must be 18-years-old or older, and no slower than Paul Jackson to be eligible.

Adult Exercises At Boys And Girls Club

The Boys and Girls Club will be offering an adult exercise class three nights a week. The classes, conducted by Mary Beth Flynn, involve vigorous aerobic exercises that will help you trim down and feel fit.

The cost is an incredibly low $25 yearly membership fee at the Club. The hours are Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m., Wednesdays from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., and Fridays from 7 to 8 p.m. The classes are now in progress. Call 242-1775 for registration.

Road Race

race giving it national significance.

Prizes will be awarded to the top three finishers in each age division, the top three corporate teams, club teams, and the top three finishers in the wheelchair divisions. Registration is $7.00 and applications can be obtained by calling Conventures at 267-0055.

Teen Basketball

At Boys And Girls Club

All 13 to 17 year old Larry Bird's are invited to join the Boys and Girls Club teen basketball league.

Rosters are limited to ten players and all players must be members of the Boys and Girls Club. The league will start at the end of October if there is enough interest. The league will be limited to six teams.

They Did Not Forget

September 29, 1983

To the Editor,

I am writing to let you know about unsung Americans, better known as Longshoremen. These men, as many times before, stood by the American beliefs when Russia shot down civilian Korean Jetliner 007, taking 269 lives of all nationalities, including Americans.

These Longshoremen forgot about such things as tuitions, lights, gas, rent, food, and money to show Russia and our Nation of America their sacrifice. Not to unload the Russian lumber ship was not defiance of the law, but a show of their love of mankind, regardless of their Race, Creed, or Color. The best way they could express this honest feeling for all mankind was the refusal to unload the Russian lumber ship.

My hat is off to all these Longshoremen and I hope the rest of the world will realize that Longshoremen are not a bunch of brawling drunks, but the first to care, and the first to come up with a give the bucks that they could use, and they give for any and all causes without a beef.

We, the people of our Nation and the world, should never forget.

An Open Letter To The Pop Warner Association

Editor
Charlestown Patriot

After having played football for the Pop Warner League for the past two years, my son was denied his eligibility this year because he did not present his birth certificate. At the time of sign-up, I was told that it would not be necessary to present one, since the league had one on file from previous years. At weigh-in time, however, I was told that it had been "misplaced" and that I had a week to get another. Two days later, my son was informed that he would not be allowed to play because he had not turned over a new birth certificate.

The Pop Warner Association continues to emphasize in their columns that they need help from the parents. I did help out—I transported players and cheerleaders to games, passed out uniforms, and helped with clean-ups. I feel that both my son and I have been penalized, despite our enthusiastic participation, by some very avoidable red tape and lack of communication on the part of the Pop Warner League.

Surely a little more consideration should have been given my son, a boy who sincerely wanted to play football.

AN ANGRY PARENT
Joseph J. Kelley

To the editor,

At a recent Kennedy Center Board meeting, the subject of a new multi-social service center at the Bunker Hill Housing Project came up for discussion.

Apparently, an agency other than the JFK Family Service Center will probably be going into the new site at the project. This appears to be the way it is going to be. While I feel the Kennedy Center would be the best agency for the project, the Tenant Task Force has a right to make it's own selection. After all, those are the folks who live in the project and when management offers you a real role in the project, one should take it.

An Open Letter . . . .

I grew up in housing projects and I know tenant task forces weren't even conceived then. Tenants have a right in having a real say in housing project life.

Whoever finally gets to operate the new project social service program, will get it because that's who project residents want.

I know that whoever gets the project program will provide much-needed services in the project. All Charlestown has a vested interest in seeing this new concept that management is offering, work.

I only hope that services offered will be inclusive of all of Charlestown. The project is not an island but part and parcel of all Charlestown and should always be so. All of us are here together.

No one is the loser in this issue as long as a multi-service program is started at the project. I really don't think the name on the door is, or should be, an issue. I wish the operators of the program well and wish it every success.

Tenant task forces have the right to choose the agencies coming in. And no one should even question that concept.

The Kennedy Center will always be here providing social services to all Charlestown and that's what the present Board of Directors is committed to. And no one should even question that concept.

Sincerely,
Sal Giarratani, Secretary
Kennedy Center Board of Directors

P.S. I write this letter as an individual member of the Board with my personal views on the matter.

Clarification Offered By CharlesNewtown Management

September 28, 1983

The Editor
The Charlestown Patriot

Charlestown, MA 02129

ATTENTION: Maria Girvin, Assoc. Editor

Dear Ms. Girvin:

Your article in the September 22 issue of The Charlestown Patriot regarding the CharlesNewtown Cooperative and the decisions which its shareholders are being faced with deserves further clarification on my part as a representative of the management agent and the cop.

CharlesNewtown was originally established as a non-profit entity with a concept in housing which would afford low and moderate income individuals the opportunity to participate in home ownership. This concept was accomplished through the development of the CharlesNewtown Cooperative whereby individuals who qualified based on income limits set forth by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development could purchase a share of stock in the cooperative for a modest down payment of $250.00.

Contrary to your statement that a resident of CharlesNewtown was to be able to sell his or her apartment at a later date for a profit, this does not enter into the program.

A shareholder does not have title to his or her apartment. A shareholder may only reside in his or her unit as long as the family and make up allows for such occupation. As families change and grow larger or smaller it is conceivable that a shareholder could relocate within the cooperative to accomodate those needs and accomodate HUD's requirements for occupancy.

The concept allows for a shareholder to participate in the amortized portion of the mortgage indebtedness should he or she choose to leave the development. There is no provision which would allow a shareholder to sell a stock certificate at a profit. They are merely entitled to their equity position at the time that they vacate.

Your statement that HUD estimated that the cooperative needs an additional $1,000,000 to improve its facility and pay off its debts is false. A representative of HUD has

This would include the refurbishing of certain living units which are presently uninhabitable and boarded up. In addition, there is an account payable of approximately $500,000 which cannot, within the existing cash flow, be addressed.

The gross potential income based on the limits which are set by HUD is presently at $140,000. Our current gross income is $109,000. This generates a monthly operating deficit of $31,000.

There are a number of factual mis-statements in your article which I would like clarified for the benefit of all.

1. Of the 262 living units at CharlesNewtown, 59 units are without any rental assistance program available.

2. Of the 59 units noted, 7 are presently considered uninhabitable and are boarded. We estimate approximately $25,000 per unit necessary to make them habitable. There are 3 units presently occupied by employees of the co-op, not 10 as you have stated in your article. There are 10 units within the co-op that are not generating any income. This is comprised of 7 uninhabitable units and 3 units occupied by employees.

3. Of the 59 units noted above, 18 units are considered as "sweat equity" occupied. These individuals are paying approximately $75.00/month and the average carrying charge for these units approximates $500.00.

The Board of Directors will be meeting again on Wednesday, September 28 to discuss what took place in the meeting at the St. Catherine's Church the other evening. Out of this meeting will come a decision as to how to proceed.

By no means was this meeting an emergency meeting, as although the situation could be categorized as an emergency situation, no one can be expected to make a decision of this magnitude without having ample time to review all of the facts and all of the alternatives.

In our opinion the solution to the problems facing CharlesNewtown cannot be found at HUD. HUD is unwilling to fund any further needed capital improvements or deficits.

The only other alternative is to raise money through a private source which means offering the property for sale.

The shareholders will be asked to consider selling the property to a private investor. Presently, we have Mr. Quinn and his associates substantially interested in undertaking this purchase. It is important to understand that a vote to dissolve the co-op is not a vote to sell the property to Mr. Quinn. It merely authorized the Board of Directors, legal counsel, and the duly authorized representatives of CharlesNewtown including HUD to negotiate with Mr. Quinn for the purchase of the property.

The opportunity is here to negotiate a sale on terms which are favorable to the Cooperatives of CharlesNewtown and its occupants.

The alternatives which were discussed in the recent meeting do not offer the same set of circumstances. The likelihood of a foreclosure is not imminent, however, it is there. In the event of a foreclosure the property would be sold at auction and there would be no control over the process. In the alternative, one of major creditors, such as Boston Edison or Boston Gas, might be in a position to force the property into receivership, in which case it is likely that a sale could also take place or that a foreclosure could be forced upon us. In either case control over the future of CharlesNewtown would be removed completely from the hands of the Board of Directors and possibly HUD.

Our role as managing agent for CharlesNewtown is to attempt to provide the most favorable solution to their problems. We have given much thought to the various options and we are recommending that without substantial financial assistance from HUD or any other source that the only solution is the sale of the real estate.

You are correct when you state that there are no guarantees after the pay off of the HUD mortgage which has approximately thirty years remaining.

It should be pointed out that the syndication which Mr. Quinn proposes to create for purposes of purchasing the real estate will be set up with the thought in mind that HUD financing is available at the low market interest rates and that rental assistance programs are in place. It seems unlikely and illogical that the owners of the real estate thirty years from today would wish to alter the nature of the property even after the loan is paid off. Further, a syndication of the type contemplated by Mr. Quinn would not expect to pay off this HUD mortgage over the next thirty years.

At some point in time it is entirely possible that the ownership would elect to refinance the real estate through some HUD vehicle, thereby maintaining HUD as a partner in this development for many years beyond the anticipated thirty.

I am hopeful that you will publish this letter for the benefit of those individuals who are in the process of making their decision.

Sincerely,
Gregg R. Jordan

Charlestown Is Proud Of You

To the Editor:

I would like to express my appreciation to the Longshoremens who refused to unload the Russian ship that came into Boston last week.

They took a chance — giving up their pay and putting themselves on the spot to prove a point.

I say "Good for You". I wish I could have been one of you just for that day.

Charlestown is proud of you.

Sincerely,
Ruth Howell Thomas

Charlestown Police Line

From The Desk of
Deputy Superintendent Joseph V. Saia Jr.
Commanding Officer District A
East Boston, Charlestown, Downtown

On September 23, Officers Higgins and Curran received a radio call for a Breaking and Entering at Old Landing Way. Upon arrival, the officers spoke to the victim, who stated that the occupant of the second floor of the building had tried to break into the victim's apartment by kicking down the door. The suspect was then arrested and brought to Area A where he was booked and read his rights. During the booking procedure, the suspect ripped up the booking sheet, spit at the Officers, and assaulted one of the Officers by punching him in the face. The suspect was restrained and placed in a cell.

On September 24, Officer Kraft was on patrol and noticed a 1983 Audi, with smoke coming from it on Terminal Street. The car was located near a security booth. The Officer questioned the Security Guard in the booth, who gave him information on a suspect youth. The Officer then made a search of the area, and found the suspect. The youth was brought back to the security booth where the Security Guard identified him as the person who had set the 1983 Audi on fire. The youth was brought to Area A, where he was arrested and charged with Larceny of a Motor Vehicle and Arson of a Motor Vehicle.

On September 25, Officers observed a 1980 Subaru with it's fender hanging and dragging on the street in the City Square area. The Officers stopped the vehicle, and found that both the driver and the passenger were intoxicated. The driver of the car was found to be a Cambridge resident. He refused the breathalyzer test at Area A and was charged with Operating Under the Influence of Alcohol. The passenger was put into a detoxification cell for his safety.

On September 25, Officers responded to a motor vehicle accident, with drunk driving involved, on Main Street. When the Officers arrived at the scene, they spoke to the victim who stated he was traveling north on Main Street, when he was struck head on by a vehicle traveling in the opposite direction. The operator of the suspect vehicle fled the scene after the accident. The suspect was found a few moments later, intoxicated. While the suspect was being booked at Area A, he was searched, and the Officer found what appeared to be a small bag of Marijuana in suspect's pocket. The suspect was charged with Operating Under the Influence of Alcohol, and Possession of Class D, Marijuana.

The next Community Service Meeting will be held on Tuesday, October 18 at 7:00 p.m. The location for this and all meetings will be the Kent School, 50 Bunker Hill Street. This meeting is being held a week later than the regular meetings, which are held on the second Tuesday of each month, because of the City of Boston Primary Elections.

Hub Hot Car Hotline Installed By Boston Police

The public has been given a direct phone line to the Boston police auto theft squad to help investigators crack down on professional thieves and owner fraud.

The "Hub Hot Car Hotline," announced this week by Commissioner Joseph Jordan, however, is not to be used to report thefts.

The police would also appreciate information about abandoned vehicles, chop shop operations, and joyriding youths.

Completes Basic Training

Army Reserve Pvt. Joseph R. Beaton, son of Joseph R. and Eleanor J. Beaton of 18 O'Meara Court, Charlestown, has completed basic training at Fort Jackson, S.C.

During the training, students received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Children's Films

The Fall Film Program for Children will be held on Tuesday, October 11, 1983 at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street. The pre-school program will be held at 10:30 a.m. and the school-age program will be held at 3:30 p.m.

The films will include: "Byron B. Blackbear and the Scientific Method", in which Scientist Alfred Clothears studies poor Byron to discover when bears hibernate; "Pluto's Surprise Package", where Pluto finds adventure during his walk to the post office; and "The Tomten", in which the tomten, a troll, spends his nights visiting the farm animals.

"I am calling on all residents of the city to take the time to call and report these types of incidents," Jordan said.

More than 20,000 cars valued at $100 million were stolen in the city last year, with 60 percent of them traceable to juveniles.

Jordan also announced that Suffolk County District Attorney, Newman Flanagan would assign a special assistant district attorney to speed up handling of stolen car investigations.

The hotline — 266-9495 — will be manned 8 a.m. to 1 a.m. seven days a week.
