Charlestown Boys & Girls Club Wins National Award

MEMBERS of the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club who participated in a program at Christmas to help homeless mothers and their children, proudly display the National Honor Award presented to them by the Boys Clubs of America. Some 410 applications were received by the national organization to be considered for the coveted awards and six of those were selected for the honor, and

Jerry Steimel, director of the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, recently attended the Boys Clubs of America conference in Houston, Texas and brought back with him an honor for the members and staff of the Charlestown clubhouse.

It was announced at the conference that the Charlestown club was one of only six clubs in the nation to receive the coveted National Honor Award for a program carried out by members. The six awards were selected from a field of 410 applicants.

The local program, under the guidance of Membership and Day Camp Director Eileen O'Brien, provided gifts for homeless mothers and their children at Christmas.

Last fall, Mattel and Parker Bros. toy companies were contacted by the local club, and both made donations of toys to the project. In addition, the group sponsored a Dance-A-Thon in early December that raised $500. Gifts were purchased for the mothers and children from those monies, and the members wrapped each gift in preparation for delivery. Two days before Christmas, the members, accompanied by O'Brien and Santa Claus, visited the motel in Malden that was the temporary home for these families and brought the spirit of Christmas to them.

Members taking part in this award-winning program included: Benjamin Burnett, Michael Carroll, Kelly Gilgunn, Erin McDonough, Lynn O'Brien, Helena Reilly, Julie Treanor, Ian Urquhart, Brian Ward and Stephanie Ward.

Safety Program For Youngsters

Children enrolled in the Tiny Tots program, along with their parents, will meet with representatives of the Boston Police Department on Wednesday, June 6 at 9 a.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St.

Uniformed police officers will discuss public health and safety issues, including what to do when a child finds a needle, with the children and their parents.

Community parents and their young children are invited to attend.

The program, which is part of the Mayor's Safe Neighborhood Plan, is co-sponsored by the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, Charlestown Against Drugs, Community Schools, Charlestown Neighborhood Council and the Charlestown Youth Campaign.

Teens Honor Teens At Annual Sports Banquet

THE TEEN CONNECTION Sports Banquet celebrates the achievements of Charlestown's young people in volleyball, ball hockey, basketball and flag football each spring. Among the nearly 300 teens honored at this

Townies Visit Saudi Arabia

by Bob DeCristoforo

Five youngsters from the Bunker Hill Housing Development visited Saudi Arabia this past week.

No, they didn't fly off to a foreign country, but they did visit the Saudi Arabia: Yesterday and Today exhibition at the World Trade Center.

While there are certainly many differences between the United States and Saudi Arabia, the young people also found that the two nations have much in common.

Highlights for the youngsters were the multimedia laser show and the children's area where they could try on actual Saudi Arabian clothes.

Participating in the field trip were Francis McDougall, Dom Tamburello, Santos Figeroroso, Angel Mondanarello and Shane Fisher.

DO YOU NEED AN APPRAISAL WHEN YOU LIST YOUR HOME?

Sometimes, sellers wonder if they should spend $250 to $300 for a professional appraisal of their property before placing it on the market. After all, setting the right list price is an important first step in getting a home sold.

To help you decide, it's important to understand just what an appraisal is — it is the appraiser's opinion of the property's market value based on recent sales of homes similar to yours. Different professional appraisers could come up with different numbers. Even if all of them agreed, there is no guarantee that you would receive that amount for your property. An alternative is to call in a professional Realtor for a written market analysis, which will include information about recent sales in your neighborhood and an explanation of how those homes compare to yours. We will provide this service with no charge or obligation. Then, if you are still unsure of your home's value, you may wish to pay for having an appraisal done.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Silva Realty. Call us at 242-7470 or stop by our office at 371 Somerville Ave. in Somerville.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

Scaffolding on high and sailors on ground was the action of the day. For the former, the duration could be well into the fall, while the latter has only 17 days to complete its objective.

Patent Corp. has assembled its structures at the Hoo-sac site of the former warehouse distributing facility. The Schrafft logo, which graced the building for many years, will undergo cosmetic renovations. Pointing of the facade will be undertaken with pampering. Exterior restoration of this famous landmark, which bears a Tudor Wharf plaque, will be hailed when finalized.

Sailors, for the majority of their hitch, are on the oceans and seas of the seven continents. One of the exceptions is the contingent assigned to the USS Constitution. This year the sailors will put to the ocean twice. In addition to their July 4 turnaround, a special journey by lottery will take place on June 16.

On a past Thursday morning the group was preparing for its June 17 Bunker Hill Day march starting from Hayes Square. Under the orders of the officer-in-charge, they carried out their drill with banner, pikes and weapons flawlessly. With the temperature hovering around 48 degrees, paramount on their minds was perfect execution so they could disband. Be assured, Navy personnel of the Constitution, that state Public Safety Commissioner and Bunker Hill Day Parade Chief Marshal William McCabe guarantees sunshine and warm weather for your march. We are looking forward to the parade and commemoration of the 215th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Staggering crowds have flocked to Disney World and its multiplicity of entertaining features. Still an enormous attraction is the "Pirates of the Caribbean." It is amazing what the technocrats of Disney Studios have accomplished to sustain this intriguing voyage. Simulation and the deft designs of the staff make all a believer.

At Constellation Wharf, simulation is not necessary, but the reality of waterfront living is. While the boats under the structure are handled by a professional crew, their ride is work and not pleasure. Extensive examination will lead to appropriate action on the supporting pilings for this 65-unit luxury condominium complex. This is another immediate response by The Raymond Group to maintain the quality of living on Pier 7.

Appearances are not always an indication that everything is copacetic. Gracing the window entrance to the Anchorage is a new shining name plate to guide many a lost seeker.

Inside the multifloor dwelling many are at a loss over two departed friends. Mary A. "Sis" Brown Campbell passed away on May 10 after a long illness. Sis brought much joy to her family and host of friends. She fondly looked forward to the annual Charlestown Old School-girls Reunion, relishing the old times and being brought up to date on the current events. As an active member of the Daughters of Isabella No. 1, Sis always had time for its charitable programs and had great fun in the overall activities. Her courage will never be forgotten by the Anchorage group. To her husband Lawrence and daughters Mary, Rose and Joanne, our condolences.

On May 16, Helen Evers Bentini passed away after a lengthy bout with cancer. A determined and assured woman, Helen involved herself in the happenings of the Anchorage and the Malden Irish American Club. Hailing from a family of 11, Helen was no stranger to looking after family and friends. She and her sister Dolly Ferreira, also an Anchorage resident, were inseparable. Whether they were relaxing in the surroundings of the facility or off for Chinese food they were together. Helen's loving and caring character will perpetually be remembered. For her son George, daughter-in-law Eileen, and grandchildren Brian, Steven, John and Kevin, our condolences. For both Sis and Helen, all our prayers are with them.

Not For Nothin' ... But Have You Heard ...

• Very Appropriate ... June is National Rose Month. So, on June 8th Charlestown will be crowning its own Rose out of a field of eight lovelies to represent this fair town at the Western Rose Festival in Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland ... Mark your calendar to make sure you're present at the K. of C. that night (starting at 8 p.m.) to see who the rose will be! Each of the young ladies would be a perfect choice. Our best wishes to each of them.

• Say It Ain't So ... our Tim is graduating from high school! Tim Conway will receive his diploma from Newman Prep today and his "godmothers" at the Patriot can't believe he'll be off to college in the fall ... Gosh! We're so proud!

• Point Of History ... on June 3, 1675, the General Court of Massachusetts passed a law requiring the locking of church doors during services to STOP people from leaving before services were over ... Area pastors take note, this law might still be on the books!!!

• Many More Happy Returns ... on your 66th anniversary day to Peter and Dorothy Scott who'll be celebrating one more year of wedded bliss on June 4th! Hope it's the best ever.

• Celebrating Their First Anniversary ... this week are John and Amy (Farrell) O'Brien. John is the Charlestown Navy Yard Coordinator for the BRA. Have a great one!

• Mmm, Mmm, Good! ... There will be a Bake Sale at the Newworld Bank in Thompson Square on Friday, June 1st during banking hours to benefit Camp Bunker Hill ... Stop by and pick up some goodies for a good cause.

• Update ... Neighbors of Olives restaurant on Main Street will be delighted to hear that the owners of the eatery have hired a consultant on the smoke emission problem. We're told that the vent will be inspected and improved per order of the Environmental Protection Agency ... Stay tuned!

• Birthday Celebrations ... will be taking place this week for Gina Quinn whose big day is June 1st ... Mary "Babs" Cole, who'll be congratulated by all her friends and family on June 3rd, and May Rinaldi will celebrate her 7th with a gala party with all her school chums this weekend ... Have a wonderful year, ladies!

• A Patient At Mt. Auburn Hospital ... is Marge Coleman of Lawrence Street. Marge underwent surgery yesterday and would love (we're sure) to hear well wishes from her many friends and relatives. The address is: 330 Mt. Auburn St., Cambridge.

• Recuperating ... from recent surgery at Brigham & Women's Hospital is June Ann Reilly of 66 Tremont St. She's home now, resting comfortably, and would love to get a card of good cheer from all her friends.

• Reminder ... to all you little "Dollies" who'll be marching in this year's Doll Carriage Parade in the Training Field on June 16th — Don't forget to preregister your entry! The entry form can be found on page 4 in this week's Patriot ... The purpose of the early registration is simple. Chairlady Edna Kelly wants to make sure that there will be a prize for each child who participates. Why not take a minute and fill out the form to ensure that every child will receive a suitable award?

• Father Jack Lord ... formerly of Charlestown, has been named Pastor of the Immaculate Conception Parish in Norwood, N.J. Father Jack will be assuming his new duties on June 1st. He is the son of Mary Lord Murphy, formerly of St. Martin Street, now residing in Medford.

• It Has Now Been ... 69 Days ... and counting ... since a Charlestown Community Liaison has been at work on the CANA project. Battle lines are being drawn. Community reactions are being heard on both sides of the issue. Your requests for a community person on the job in City Square are being heard. Stay tuned for further updates! Better still, let us know how you feel on the issue!

Teens Toast Teens At

by Lynn Peters

More than 300 kids and their parents turned out for the third annual Teen Connection Sports Banquet at the Knights of Columbus hall on May 17 to recognize the achievements and spiritedness of Charlestown's young people. Campaigning and elected officials, such as City Councillors Robert Travaglini and Rosaria Salerno, School Committeeman Robert Cappuci, and State Senate Candidate Mark Strahan made time for the event as did Los Angeles Raider Steve Strahan.

Strahan spoke briefly about his experience in sports, mentioning his friendship with team mate and former Charlestown resident Howie Long, but emphasized self-esteem.

"Don't let anyone tell you that you can't accomplish what you want to," Strahan said. If you stick to it, whatever that may be, "hopefully, your dreams will come true."

With that, Charlestown Community Schools staff members and Boston Housing Authority Youth Outreach Worker Bob DeCristoforo spoke a few words but left most of the speech making and awards presentations to the teens themselves. There was pride and shouts of appreciation among the teens for their peers and themselves, and the banquet made every one of the 260 kids involved with Teen Connection activities a winner.

The CHARLESTOWN Against Drugs Corner . . .

WATCH FOR THE SIGNS

Parents should know the facts about kids abusing alcohol and drugs. Here are some of the signs:

- slurred speech or lack of coordination
- use of gum, mints, mouthwash, etc., to mask alcohol on the breath
- use of Visine or eye washes to clear up redness
- excessive sleeping, especially at unusual times
- complaints about feeling sick or actual illness, especially headaches or nausea
- poor grades or inconsistent schoolwork
- frequent, abrupt mood swings
- isolation from family, friends or social activities, or an excessive social life and going out every night.

(from "Facts About Alcohol & Youth")

By not being informed or aware, parents can actually help a child drink or use drugs. Here's how:

- by not insisting that parties be supervised
- by not setting limits and enforcing them
- by being unaware of where their children are
- by offering alcohol to their own and other youngsters. This ranges from one glass of wine at dinner to supplying alcohol at a graduation or other party.
- by hosting a party where alcohol or other drugs are being used with the rationalizations that "I'd rather have them here drinking than somewhere else," or "I'll take their keys so they can't drive"
- by ignoring the evidence that may be left in a house after a party or in a child's room or car
- by leaving youngsters unattended for a week or weekend.

(From "The Straight Source, Vol. 2, No. 2, 1989" and "Michigan Communities In Action For Drug-Free Youth, February 1990")

The Boston City Council has approved the Flynn Administration's request for capital loan orders, enabling the city of Boston to implement the fifth year of its Capital Plan "Rebuilding Boston: 1990-94." Released late in March, the plan encompasses over 600 projects at a cost of $1.01 billion. To date over 300 projects have been completed or are under construction.

Mary Nee, director of the Office of Capital Planning, said: "This year's plan is not full of new and expensive initiatives — but neither is it one which retreats from previous commitments. Over the next five years we will move the city forward by rebuilding our infrastructure and our public facilities and through strategic investment which serves to stimulate the private economy."

Mayor Raymond Flynn noted: "Despite the difficult financial times which have overtaken the Commonwealth, Boston remains determined to continue the work of rebuilding. In fact we will use our public dollars to maintain the economic momentum in Boston — to infuse our city and our neighborhoods with confidence and hope."

Charlestown has already started enjoying the benefits of the first five years of investment under the capital program. Over $1.2 million has been earmarked for parks and playgrounds. Barry Playground has already been completed along with Doherty Playground, while Ryan Playground is nearing completion. Work on Thompson and Hayes squares is slated to begin this summer, with the Harvard Mall slated for 1991 attention.

Infrastructure work on the Sullivan Square overpass has already been completed at a cost of over $6.4 million. Over $2 million has been earmarked for work on the North Washington Street Bridge. The Boston Redevelopment Authority has also been involved in major capital investments at the Navy Yard.

Funds have been committed for the Kent Community School and work has already been completed at Charlestown High School and $515,000 of renovation work is underway at the Edwards Middle School.

Looking beyond Charlestown, this plan includes a study which would precede the development of a headquarters for the Police Department. Also included are ongoing capital investments of $200 million for Health and Hospitals, $165 million for schools, $90 million for parks, $276 million for public works and $57.8 million for police and fire.

Campership Application Deadline Is June 4

The Councils For Children's campership applications are due by June 4. This funding is available for Charlestown children who wish to attend day or overnight camp this summer but whose families may not be able to afford the full cost. Families must meet income guidelines.

THE PATHWAY TO HEAVEN

The pathway to heaven is paved with the finished work of the Lord Jesus Christ. He is the second person in the Trinity who came to earth and took upon Him a body of flesh. He was conceived in the womb of the Virgin Mary and was born without a sinful nature. He lived His life without ever sinning. He was crucified and bore our sins in His own body in a death which was for us. He was buried and rose from the dead on the third day. He appeared unto His disciples, commanded them to preach the good news of salvation to the whole world, and then ascended up to heaven. There He is seated at the right hand of God the Father, waiting to receive sinners who will come to Him by faith. He is the only Mediator (1 Tim. 2:5) whom God will accept to make intercession for men (Heb. 7:25). He offers eternal life to all who will come to Him (John 10:28). The pathway to heaven is not paved with man's efforts to please God but with the merits of Jesus Christ with whom God is "well pleased," (Matt. 3:17). Sinner, will you pray to Him today and ask Him to save you? He said, "Him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out" (John 6:37).

CANA Questions And Complaints Are Being Handled

Dear Gloria,

I am writing in response to the article in last week's Patriot regarding the hiring of a new CANA liaison.

I am a Charlestown Townie and work for the Department of Public Works Central Artery-North Area Project. I can understand the people of Charlestown wanting a community liaison to inform them of what is taking place during the construction period, and I am not for or against hiring a new liaison to take over David Flanagan's old job.

I write this letter to give credit where credit is due. Since David resigned, calls have been forwarded to the CANA office on Rutherford Avenue. All calls have been handled by Edward Barr, CANA coordinator, and he has done everything in his power to satisfy the Charlestown residents, but that often goes unnoticed.

I would like to at this time thank all the CANA engineers, especially Horace DelGrosso, Edward Barr, Anthony Petronio, William Rogers and John Boland, for all their efforts in helping the project run smoothly and safely. I also thank them for assisting Charlestown residents with their questions and complaints.

Sincerely,
Debbie Giordano

The Importance Of A Liaison

I do not think that the community of Charlestown should be made to deal with the remaining construction and the completion of the CANA roadway project without a liaison from the Charlestown community.

This is a thankless job, but we need someone like the former liaison David Flanagan to keep after the Massachusetts Department of Public Works and their engineers to make sure the remaining construction goes as smoothly as possible for the abutters, who have to deal with this project every day.

I, myself, had problems with the contractors and the MDPW involving an easement and a storm drain at the back of 11 Ellwood St. for the owner Mary T. Vesey. If it was not for David Flanagan, I would still be fighting with them and getting nowhere.

Now I would like to know what they are going to do about all the dust this construction is raising, and the hot weather has not yet hit us. Will we have to keep our windows closed all day? Will we have to turn on our air conditioners all day? The dust will clog up the filters.

Think about it . . . think hard.

Helping Those With Huntington's Disease

by Margaret Evans

A great goal was scored recently for the Massachusetts Chapter of the Huntington's Disease Society of America. As president of the state's chapter since 1988, Charlestown attorney Willard J. Stievater is pleased to report that the recent 11th annual Hoop-a-thon raised a record amount for the organization. Stievater estimated the funds raised at $40,000 and added that a large portion of that would go toward supporting a summer camp program for young adults affected by Huntington's Disease.

WILLARD STIEVATER, president of the Mass. chapter of the Huntington's Disease Society of America.

Huntington's Disease is a fatal genetic nervous disorder which generally begins to show symptoms when a person affected with the disease reaches middle age. The defective gene causes deterioration of certain brain cells that control the nervous system throughout the body. The early symptoms are usually erratic and uncontrolled movement of the arms and legs, difficulty in swallowing and speech. These symptoms gradually worsen over a period of time, usually 10 to 20 years. Eventually the person is totally incapacitated and unable to communicate. Death soon occurs thereafter.

There is no cure for Huntington's Disease at the present time. There is, however, research going on to find a cure at the Mass. General Hospital's Neurological Department, located in Building 149 in the Charlestown Navy Yard. This research is headed by Drs. James Gusella and Marian Figlin.

In addition to his role as president of the Mass. chapter of HDSEA, Stievater also gathered a team of attorneys from his Charlestown-based law firm, McCullough, Stievater & Polvere, who were among the several hundred participants in the Hoop-a-thon. Highlighting the event was the annual Celebrity Shoot-Out, featuring state politicians and personalities from local radio and TV.

According to Stievater, the success of this event moves the organization further toward achieving some of its goals. He said that the funds raised support the national organization as well as efforts in the New England area to provide information to families affected with Huntington's and toward funding for research, care and treatment of the disease.

For information about HDSEA, please call the Mass. chapter at 638-8333.
