

Flickr Find: Say Hello To The Mac-incraft

In the massive Sandbox game Minecraft you can build a myriad of things, like a floating Macintosh computer. Flickr user Caius Durling made this floating replica of his Minecraft world. He put it together pixelbrick-by-pixelbrick and added an ethereal "Hi".

It's pretty impressive. Modded minecraft servers " on the Minecraft materials isn't quite good enough to show the Mac OS running on the machine, but he did get the dimensions right, and he even integrated the handle into the back of the machine. All it requires now is a single button mouse, isn't it?
