Cable Task Force Seeks Community Input

John Barrett, Chairman of the Charlestown Cable Television Task Force, has extended an invitation to residents of the community to become actively involved in the several committees that have been set up by the Task Force in preparation for the wiring of Charlestown for Cable TV, tentatively scheduled to begin here in early 1983.

The goals of the Charlestown Task Force are:

- *Recommend to the City the kinds of innovative and imaginative programming which should be included in the Municipal Access Channels;

- *Help the City and Cablevision design the Public Institutional Network (PIN), the 50 channel cable to be used by Boston's public and non-profit institutions;

- *Prepare a final report to the City, including the analysis of the programming interests and goals of the Charlestown community; and

- *Develop a mechanism to ensure on-going neighborhood participation in programming decisions and needs ascertainment.

By the development of various working committees, the Task Force hopes to expand the scope of involvement and input from the many and varied interests within the community so that the final report to the City will be comprehensive and as representative of the community as possible.

A knowledge of cable television is NOT a prerequisite to getting involved on a Task Force committee — just a

Schrafft's Awaiting HUD Approval Of City Loan

by Maria Girvin

Schrafft's Candy Company is patiently waiting the approval of a $1 million, 10 thousand dollar Urban Development Action Grant (UDAG) by Washington offices of HUD (Housing and Urban Development).

The proposal to loan this money to Schrafft's comes through the Economic Development and Industrial Corporation of Boston (EDIC/Boston) and was approved recently by the Boston City Council. Thus far, the application for the UDAG grant has received the approval of the mayor, the city council, members of Charlestown Board of Trade, U.S. Speaker of the House Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill and Senator Francis Doris, among others.

With the UDAG loan, Schrafft's will combine another $7 million, which will become available through industrial revenue bonds, secured through the Boston Industrial Development Financing Authority, staffed by EDIC. Once the money is secured, Schrafft's will update its fifty year old equipment and hopefully create 200 more jobs for Boston residents in addition to the 600 it already provides at the height of the candy making season.

Ten years ago, Schrafft's employed 1460 people. However, economic hard times hit the candy industry with the price increase in sugar and the consumption of candy on the decrease. Schrafft's was particularly vulnerable to these hard times because of its outdated equipment which hindered efficient production.

A year and a half ago, Gulf Western sold Schrafft's to American Safety Razor who already had several other candy companies like Bartons of New York. At that time, their intent was to increase the production of candy while returning to the high standards of production which made Schrafft candy famous. But subsequently, they cut their crew to a minimum.

Today, Schrafft's is considered to engage 12 percent of the employment in the food processing industry which is the third largest industry in the greater Boston area. Most of the Boston employees at Schrafft's are residents of Charlestown, and constitute approximately 27 percent of the employees. The remaining employees live in adjacent blue-collar cities that ring Boston, such as Cambridge, Somerville, Everett, Chelsea, Revere, Malden and Medford.

Proponents of the application, such as Charlestown Board of Trade President Joseph Flaherty, feel that the loss of Schrafft's would send ripples of economic turmoil through the entire community of Charlestown by the loss of mid-day meals at local restaurants, the loss of purchases at neighborhood stores and the purchase of manufacturing goods, such as sugar from other Charlestown industries.

Of the $8 million total financing plan, Schrafft's plans to use about $2 million for physical renovations and improvements to the structure and $6 million for the purchase and installation of new equipment.

The $1 million, $10 thousand is expected to come at a low cost loan through EDIC, made possible by a HUD grant. The $10 thousand will go to EDIC to cover administrative costs. The $7 million loan will have a 15-year mortgage, carrying a 10% interest rate with the interest deferred for the first five years.

The background of all this, said EDIC spokeswoman Lee Chelminiak, "is to help Charlestown community rise after an economic decline." Chelminiak reminded that H.P. Hood was also recipient of a similiar financial package.

"I think it will work out well," said Senator Doris who testified at the July 20th City Council hearing which discussed Schrafft's future. "Two of the highlights of this package is the point that we're trying to provide the Charlestown residents with the 200 new jobs and that Schrafft's use the local media for employment advertisement."

Eventually, American Safety Razor hopes to see Schrafft's as their main candy production headquarters.

Representative Richard A. Voke has announced that Office Hours held on Thursday evenings at the American Legion Hall will be discontinued as of Thursday, August 19th for the remainder of the summer.

A Tough New Law Against Drunk Driving

by Governor Edward J. King

Last year, during the holiday week between Christmas and New Year's Day, seven people died at the hands of the drunk driver on our roadways. This sounds like just one of the many unfortunate statistics we have come to know because of the drunk driver...until you stop and think of the real tragedy involved. One alleged drunk driver killed an entire family from Dedham and another killed three Charlestown residents who were looking forward to a day of ice skating on Cape Cod. The list goes on and on, but the variables never change. Between the first of this year and today, 341 others have died on our roadways; more than half of these deaths were alcohol-related.

We now have a law that will help end this tragedy. In the early morning hours of Wednesday, August 4th, the legislature passed and sent to my desk the tough drunk driving bill that all of us have been waiting for. I plan to sign the bill as quickly as possible and when I do, we will have one of the toughest drunk driving bills in the country.

The use of mandatory sentences will at last take the drunk driver off the road, and at the same time provide the shock effect that is necessary to help end this very serious problem in the Commonwealth. This is particularly important when you consider how ineffective past remedies for drunk driving have been.

Under the new law, second offenders will have to serve up to seven days in jail or 14 days in a residential alcohol treatment program. They will also lose their license for two years and pay up to a $1000 fine. Third offenders will get a 60 day jail sentence, lose their license for five years, and pay up to a $1000 fine. Those who are caught drunk while driving for the first time will lose their license for 30 days and be required to attend an alcohol abuse program that could cost up to $400.

This is the type of action the public was crying out for. This is the type of action that is needed to get the drunk driver off our roads.

The use of these mandatory sentences will help us in a number of areas. First, it will help us deal with repeat offenders by taking them off the road and keeping them off the road. It will help us deal with the drunk driver who kills. This is something that has been missing in our state laws for too many years. These people will now be treated as criminals. The crimes they commit will no longer be misdemeanors; they will be felonies. The use of mandatory sentences will help us deal with those who illegally continue to drive after losing their license because, it will keep the person with a serious drinking problem off our highways and roadways.

By sending this bill to my desk, the Legislature has allowed us to take that very important first step in getting the drunk driver off the road, once and for all.

I want to thank the Great and General Court for returning and addressing this very important issue. I also want to thank MADD, the Mothers Against Drunk Driving, and SADD, the Students Against Driving Drunk for bringing this issue to the public's attention and organizing the support that was needed to help us end the senseless carnage on our highways and roads. The drunk driving bill was one which, I believe, everyone in the Commonwealth wanted.

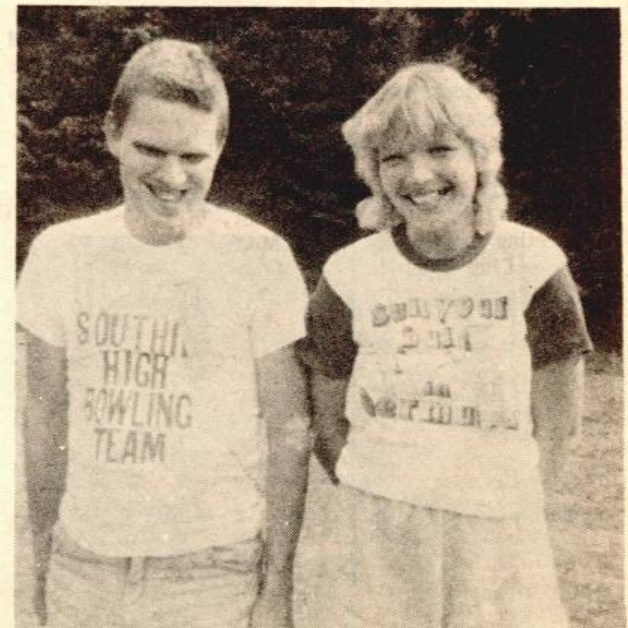

The day after the Legislature sent the drunk driving bill to my desk, I traveled to Washington to testify before the Senate Subcommittee on Alcohol and Drug Abuse. I went there to tell their fact finding hearing about the initiatives we have had in Massachusetts to fight the drunk driver. These have included my raising the drinking age from 18 to 20, expanding the implied consent law, and funding the selective enforcement teams that have worked to get the drunk driver off the road.

With these measures and the new drunk driving bill, we are providing an excellent model for national legislation to stop the drunk driver.

Developer Named For Hoosac Pier Complex

the largely unused Pier into a modern office complex will add to the economic base of the City, produce at least 150 new construction jobs for Boston area trades during the 12-month construction phase, and return this valuable waterfront real estate to productive commercial use," Massport Executive Director David W. Davis said.

"For the Charlestown community, this project will provide residents with direct access to their waterfront while serving as an important complement to the revitalization now taking place at the Navy Yard and at the Boston National Historic Park adjacent to Hoosac Pier."

"This project is a good business deal for Massport, for the Commonwealth, and for the people of Charlestown," Davis added.

The project will get underway in the Spring of 1983 and is expected to be completed by December, 1984.

The joint venture development team of O'Connell Development Company and Corcoran, Mullins, Jennison was designated by the Massport Board at a special Facilities Committee meeting on July 21st.

O'Connell Development, who will carry out the construction, and Corcoran, Mullins, Jennison, joint venture partners in the project, were selected because of their established track record with commercial construction and adaptive reuse," Davis said.

The development team has already begun negotiations with a major Boston firm to become prime tenants in the office portion of the Hoosac Pier project. If a lease is successfully negotiated, the firm would establish its national headquarters at the site, keeping 450 jobs in the City of Boston.

John Drew, President of the joint venture, which is called "Hoosac Pier Company" said: "This very exciting historic location will serve as an ideal major corporate headquarters.

The office building and restaurant complex is the next step in the revitalization of the Charlestown waterfront and it will complement the new housing in the Charlestown Navy Yard and stimulate the development of City Square."

Hoosac Pier was acquired by Massport in 1959 as one of the original Port properties under the statute creating the Port Authority. It was used for the receipt and shipment of water-borne general cargo until the shift to containerization of cargo. The construction of Moran Terminal in 1972 rendered the Pier obsolete as an active maritime facility. Since 1972, Hoosac Pier has been used for warehouse purposes.

Massport in 1979 initiated extensive studies of the Pier's condition, local community needs, and the economic benefits of alternative uses. The Pier's increasing maintenance costs and deteriorating condition prompted Massport in 1981 to market the site to the local real estate community.

Preliminary designs and site planning for the Hoosac Pier office building were developed under the direction of Henry Reeder and Jim Davies, principals of Architectural Resources Cambridge, Inc.

The Hoosac Pier reuse project marks the final round in Massport's successful efforts to return its obsolete pier properties to productive uses. Other harborfront reuse projects underway include:

*The $85 million redevelopment of Commonwealth Pier into a 1.1 million square foot merchandise and marketing center for the computer and communications industry; and.

*The $18 million rehabilitation of the Boston Fish Pier for fishing industry uses. Scheduled for completion in 1983, the modernization has already stimulated $12 million in new private investment in the Pier area.

Chairperson is Joe Foley (242-0127).

Committees will be forming over the next two weeks. If persons are interested in a particular aspect of this Cable Task Force, they should contact the committee chairman at once.

The next meeting of the Charlestown Cable Task Force will be held on Wednesday, September 8, 1982 at 7:00 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens Street.

Dear Mr. Silva:

I would like to express my appreciation for the helpfulness and consideration shown me by you and the members of your firm during the difficult and trying circumstances surrounding the purchase of my house.

Everyone was more than generous and I am grateful for the many kindnesses extended to me.

I would like to convey my special thanks to Joe Gannon for all his efforts on my behalf and Ethel McGoff who performed beyond the line of duty. If it hadn't been for Ethel's encouragement and warm personal support I am not certain I would have had the confidence to consider making an offer on this house and the endurance to see the purchase through.

I am delighted with my new home and very pleased that I will enjoy the assistance of Silva Realty and especially Ethel's help and able guidance in the rental of my apartments.

Thank you for all your courtesy.

A SNUB BY THE N.A.A.C.P.

Dr. Mildred Fay Jefferson, the internationally-known Boston surgeon who is the only Negro candidate seeking statewide office in Massachusetts in 1982, has advised that she was rebuffed in her efforts to greet the delegates at the recently concluded 73rd Annual NAACP Convention held here in Boston, and that a letter request to Dr. Margaret Bush Wilson (Chairman of the Board of NAACP), requesting the privilege of an introduction at the banquet ending their meeting went unanswered.

A subsequent press release on this matter indicates that when asked her impression of the Convention and its undue emphasis on the appearances of former Vice President Walter Mondale (D-Minn.), and Senators Kennedy (D) and Tsongas (D) of Mass., and Senator Lowell Weicker (R-Conn.), all active candidates for the Presidency or reelection (except Senator Tsongas), Dr. Jefferson replied:

"One must question the wisdom of such a strongly partisan posture and political tone at a general convention. The organization and its membership have been placed in a poor bargaining position by allowing such bias to be shown.

The array of political figures displayed reminds me that many slaves fought side-by-side with their master to preserve slavery and the Confederacy. The insistence of NAACP leadership on encouraging the people to accept jaded perceptions and failed solutions to human problems demands that the descendants of slaves replace slavery of the body with slavery of the mind. Such leaders must protect themselves with tired ideas of the past because they are either unwilling or unable to prepare themselves for the ideas that must come."

This leaves us to wonder if one must have views that correspond with "the party-line" on all issues in order to achieve recognized involvement with the organization and/or be a member of the NAACP. Dr. Jefferson hasn't, and isn't!

"I MUST BE ABOUT MY FATHER'S BUSINESS"...

With this vignette, we publicly commend and express our admiration for one Reverend Richard A. Bucci of Providence, Rhode Island, presently embroiled in an open controversy with the Sister of Mercy order, and his Ordinary, Bishop Louis E. Gelineau, because of his recent "letter to the editor" in the Providence Journal wherein he took announced candidate for the office of R.I. Attorney General, Sister Arlene Violet, RSM, to task for her contumacy regarding present Church law which forbids her running for political office (e.g. Fr. Robert Drinan of Massachusetts).

Space requires us to synopsise the situation so, basically put, Sister Violet was originally admonished by the good Bishop for entering the political arena, and Father Bucci's letter to the newspaper followed. Bishop Gelineau then rebuked Fr. Bucci, warning him not to write any more letters to the editor without his clearance, stating that if he did publish "some kind of canonical proceeding could be started" to have him suspended. It has also been reported elsewhere that Bishop Gelineau subsequently called provincial administrator, Sr. Mary Noel Blute, to express his regrets about the letter.

All those steadfastly addressing the many moral issues infecting our country will recognize a part of themselves in this "standing up alone" type of courage, and we note that Fr. Bucci has been described (in an article from "The Wanderer") as "an out-spoken conservative, who has written other letters to the editor on such topics as abortion and promiscuity." Where the clergy are concerned, isn't this type of stuff Saints are made of? Or martyrs?

Fr. Bucci's remarks regarding the total situation included the following: "What more could we expect from a group whose major superior insulted the Vicar of Christ on television (Theresa Kane); whose members celebrate pseudo-Eucharists with pseudo-priests, whose members abandoned our schools and children for high paying jobs, whose members abandoned the holy habit of their foundress for the rainbow possibilities of rainbow polyester?" In quite another capacity, we have been in touch with those involved to the extent possible, and will be happy to share correspondence developed and received with anyone providing a business-size, self-addressed, stamped envelope to S.T.O.P., P.O. Box 133, So. Boston, Mass. 02127-0133.

Our files disclose an anecdote attributed to the late, beloved Archbishop Fulton Sheen ("Uncle Fultie"), and its message seems to parallel some of the basic points made by Fr. Bucci in the present controversy. In any event, the story went around that Archbishop Sheen was stormed by a woman in lay clothes at a busy airport. The woman said:

"Why Archbishop Sheen! Imagine meeting you here! I'm Sister Catherine."

The Archbishop replied, "Sister Catherine? I thought you were Sister Peter."

"No, I'm Sister Catherine."

"You must be Sister Peter," the Archbishop returned firmly. "You know Peter denied Our Lord Three times. Where is your rosary? Where is your crucifix? Where is your habit with veil? You must be Sister Peter."

Further words on our part are unnecessary, but do let us have your comments in care of this paper. We will forward all published letters, pro or con, to the principals involved, including Most Reverend Archbishop Pio Laghi, Apostolic Delegate to the United States. Promise!

UP WEXFORD...

It was our privilege to participate with several others (especially Joe Casper and an unidentified Irish colleen) at the inaugural, AOH-sponsored, picket of The Boston Globe. The Ancient Order of Hibernians feel, as many, that the Globe's one-sided editorializing on the Irish situation places them in the same league as the British propaganda machine...and we agree!

For instance, how many times have they expounded on the I.R.A. as compared to the U.D.A.? Most never heard of the latter, and won't - if the Globe holds sway. And from their reporting, in general, you'd be hard-pressed to deduce that England is an occupying, foreign force within Ireland. Using their yardstick, one might also conclude that George Washington and the colonists were terrorists, that we shouldn't have declared our independence and, perhaps, that "the butcher's apron" should now be flying over our own capitol at D.C.!

More about this later, but we'd like to invite our readers to ponder the following words of Bobby Sands, who said: "There can never be peace in Ireland until the foreign oppressive British presence is removed, leaving all the Irish people as a unit to control their own affairs and determine their own destinies as a sovereign people, free in mind and body, separate and distinct physically, culturally and economically."

Picketing will continue to take place in front of the newspaper's plant on Morrissey Blvd., Dorchester, on Saturdays (2 to 4 p.m.), until further notice. See you there!

LIFE IS FRAGILE. HANDLE WITH PRAYER

Irish Update

by John J. Walsh

One of our senior members of the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society left Charlestown last Monday evening. Bill Hallisey of School Street, retired after 30 years with the Boston Gas Company, hails from Kenmare, County Kerry, and plans to spend a month at home in the old sod with relatives. Bill is well known around the Bunker Hill Mall, and I dare say will be missed by all his friends, especially the girls at McDonald's. Good luck and safe passage across.

Many Society members recently welcomed the Irish Limerick Minstrels from Ireland, a group of singing teenagers who performed at sites around greater Boston, including the Irish American Club in Malden. They gave a grand performance and were invited to the Kennedy Compound for a celebration honoring Rose Kennedy's 92nd birthday.

I may add that the Minstrels and their entourage were given a police escort to the Irish American Club by our own M.D.C. officer Bill Connell of Bunker Hill Street.

We are finalizing plans to print our quarterly news letter to be sent to all members. Any member wishing to contribute any story or article may send same to our Society's Post Office Box 202, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

TOO BROAD A BRUSH STROKE...

On Tuesday, July 27th, the Boston Globe's Editorial page carried an editorial cartoon by the Chicago Tribune's syndicated cartoonist, Jeff MacNelly, entitled "The Leprechaun." The cartoon depicted a rat with an Irish hat perched on his head preparing to depress the plunger on an explosive detonator. It is not surprising that a wave of anti-IRA sentiment has surfaced following the London bombings. What is surprising, however, and shocking is its insensitivity - is that this sledge hammer cartoon makes no distinction, subtle or otherwise, between the I.R.A. actions and the overwhelming majority of peace-loving Irish men and women who abhor violence and death no matter where. The Society members as well as the Boston Irish-American Community were shocked at this form of stereotyped generalization. It would seem that the Boston Globe owes the Irish American community an apology for its failure to say what it meant, if indeed it did mean to say something else.

(Excerpted from Boston Irish Echo, August 7, 1982)

Note of Interest...

The Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society recently welcomed many new members from Dorchester, Medford, Arlington and Melrose. As you may suspect, our club is still growing rapidly and we are looking forward to the fall activities.

Crewman Of The U.S.S. Constitution Pitch In At Phipp's Street Burial Ground

by Maria Girvin

Their reasons of "why" they volunteered to clean up the Phipps Street Burial Ground, located behind Mishawum Park, were not elaborate.

"Well, I didn't have anything better planned for the day," said one sailor from the U.S.S. Constitution.

"We were standing in line and someone poked me in the back," quipped another sailor with a grin across his face and a rake in his hand.

Nevertheless about ten of the Constitution's crew volunteered their Saturday morning, last week, to mowing grass, cutting down tall weeds, picking up an endless trail of broken beer bottles and trimming around tombstones.

The project included two other graveyards and volunteers from two other ships. Crewman from the U.S.S. Vulcan and the U.S.S. Garcia also cleaned up the Old South Burying Ground in Boston and Copp's Hill in the North End.

The entire project was a product of the Preservation Alliance, a local group of historians who are trying to get the city and state more aware of their responsibility to care for these burying grounds which are among some of the oldest in the country. Boston Parks and Recreation Department and the Naval Air Station in South Weymouth also helped in the project.

Views On Dental Health

SMOKING AND ORAL CANCER

You already know that smoking can be instrumental in the cause of bronchitis, lung cancer, emphysema and heart disease. But what does smoking have to do with oral health? It affects your whole mouth in many ways - none of which are beneficial.

By far, the most serious risk is the development of oral cancer. Smokers have a four times greater risk of oral cancer than nonsmokers.

Tobacco in any form can cause cancer of the mouth and throat. So don't think you can avoid cancer by switching from cigarettes to a pipe or cigars.

This year an estimated 24,000 people will be stricken by oral cancer. Within five years many of these people will be dead. Each year, approximately 8,000 people die from oral cancer. One of the reasons for this high death rate is that oral cancer victims do not recognize the need to see their dentist or physician until it becomes too late for treatment to be successful. Yet, ironically, mouth cancer is one of the few varieties that can be easily recognized by a visual diagnosis in its early stages.

Townie Tidbits

TIME FOR SOME YAZ BREAD?

Charlestown is a sports-minded town and when people aren't actively involved in playing on the various "Townie" sports teams, they're diehard Bruin, Celtic or Red Sox fans.

We have plenty to offer big kids and little kids baseball, softball, hockey, basketball, football and even Irish football.

Competition, excitement, fun, you name it, we got it. As a former little kid growing up in the South End/lower Roxbury community, sports teams for the neighborhood were luxuries we heard of out in the suburbs but they just didn't exist for us. All we had were ragtag teams bucking up on Sundays in a parking lot for a game of softball.

I remember one year, 1965. Catholic Churches in the Inner City put into place a baseball league and I played one season with St. Philip Phillies. I had the record for reaching base. I went to bat fifteen times, reached base ten times, never got a hit and struck out five times. I was Don Buddin at bat and Dick Stuart in the field. Knowing baseball was not my game, I returned to softball where at least I could hit with some semblance of power.

My softball game has improved with age. I hit with more power now at 34 than I ever did before. My fielding has improved to the point where errors are far and few between. I've played first base all my life because that was where I could do the least damage but now I play there because I'm good.

However, most of my new found ability was due to a drastic reduction of weight I went through a few years back. I can even play right field now, a position I would never touch in my younger days. There's one catch though, the older you get, the more you become injury prone. I'm playing on a Newton team this year and have missed half the games due to a variety of injuries: Twisted ankle, tendonitis of the left shoulder, sprained back. Sometimes after a game I feel ready to be rolled into the 4077 M*A*S*H* camp.

Now I know how professional players like Carl Yastrzemski or Willie Stargell must feel when their desire to play is not equaled by their body's ability to play on a regular basis.

I'm going to continue playing softball forever, if possible, or at least a few more years. Old timers like us are what make softball such an equalizing game. The thrill of hitting a ball hard, running faster, making a Willie Mays-type fielding play are things I still want to do, still try to strive for. Softball is a necessary part of the American way of life. After mom, apple pie and the flag comes watching baseball and playing softball.

You know, I never ever tried YAZ Bread which was big on the Sports Huddle following Carl's super '67 season. Maybe, it might give me some renewed strength the way spinach does its thing for Popeye...But, you know, maybe I just keep on keeping on with or without my YAZ Bread. You don't really need YAZ Bread when you're riding a natural high anyways, RIGHT!...PLAY BALL!!!

Rush Tractor Heads Invaders For Revere Derby

Rush Tractor, the beaten favorite in the St. Petersburg's Derby, heads a strong list of outside invaders coming in the 48th annual $150,000 Wonderland Derby series which started Wednesday, August 11, continues August 12 and concludes Saturday, August 28.

Derby contenders have arrived at the Revere oval from five states — Massachusetts, Connecticut, Oregon, W. Virginia and Florida — and as far away as Caliente, Mexico.

Rush Tractor, owned by Charles Schoup, was a leading winner at St. Pete and more recently Daytona Beach. Other invaders include Win I Do, winner of the $50,000 Conn. Derby, Pink Lloyd, Ask Jimmy and RJP's Tony from Plainfield; Cyclone Sue, Swift Flora and Fast Ted from Taunton; Susie Darlin and Bee Peter Pan from Lincoln; Derek's George and BB Crooktail from Florida; To Bold To Hold (fourth in the $130,000 Floridian) from Oregon; Mercury Queen from West Virginia; Whitey Mighty from Mexico.

Frank Fulginiti's Minstrel Kid, the defending Derby champ, has recovered from an injury and will pace a deep list of local routers. At the head of the class is D.Q. Williams' 25-time winner Ijusplanowinner, who has already captured the Endurance Countdown and Bunker Hill Marathon this season.

A pair of sprinters, Wayne Strong's 14-time winner Rediscovery and Williams' Roughneck's Girl, are moving up to the 3/8ths-mile Revere Course.

First place is worth $40,000 this season, the highest purse in the track's history.

Second-round action is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday (August 16-17), third-round Friday (August 20) and the semifinals Tuesday (August 24).

$100 For Every Patriot Point

Every point scored by the New England Patriots against rivals this coming season during the four pre-season and 16 regular games will mean $100 for the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston.

Last year the Patriots scored 415 points and Frito-Lay, maker of Lay's and Ruffles brand potato chips and Fritos brand corn chips, donated $41,500 to the non-profit community organization of more than 5,000 youngsters.

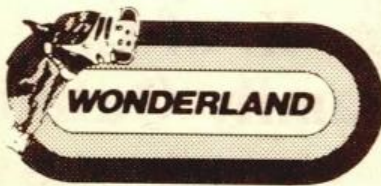

This is the seventh year that Frito-Lay has teamed with the Patriots in this worthy community project, according to Philip Thomas, Frito-Lay Division Sales Manager. During this period, a total of $268,800 has been donated to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston.

So, in addition to the thousands of football fans cheering the Patriots this season, there are more than 5,000 youngsters of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston rooting for the team to score more points for this worthy endeavor.

There are two great Derbies in this country, and the other one's in Kentucky. So, in case you missed that one, we proudly offer you this one: the 48th annual running of the Wonderland Derby. □ It's the oldest, grandest, most prestigious greyhound racing event in America -- and the winner, by definition, will be the best greyhound in America. □ But the best part is this: While the other Derby is about a thousand miles away (and all gone, at that), this one's just around the corner—and it's coming at you now.

June Assembly At Warren-Prescott School

by Harold G. Robinson
The 1981-1982 school year came to a wonderful conclusion with the outstanding assembly program presented by the children of the first grade classes of Mrs. Ellen Whelan and Miss Regina Marsolini and the second grade class of Mrs. Ruth O'Rourke. What a nice way to bring a successful academic school year to a close and the children worked very industriously on their presentation. Indeed, their efforts were well in evidence. They learned their parts and the words to their songs in first class tradition.

The program opened in the usual patriotic manner with the salute to the flag and the singing of "America", accompanied by Mrs. Smith of the music department on the piano. The program which took place on Tuesday, June 22nd included many patriotic numbers and poems saluting two great holidays in the merry month of June; namely, Flag Day and a holiday dear to the hearts of all "Townies", Bunker Hill Day.

Of course, "You're A Grand Old Flag" was one of the songs presented to a large crowd of appreciative parents and classmates as well as the faculty. The program included children from grade two reciting a poem, "How It Happened" and the participants included: Jessica Chow, David Delmedico, Melissa Leung, Christopher Luongo, Melissa Marrs, Elsie Ruiz, Kelsey Thomas and Sasha Williams. Four additional children recited a patriotic poem and the speakers were Takuanda Blackmore, Doris Der, David Lee and Timothy O'Brien. Then followed a poem about our flag and the speakers were Alcides Rodriguez and Benny Wong.

Following the assembly, the annual awards program was held and Mrs. Marilyn R. Kiely presented a great number of awards to worthy students who had earned them during the school year. Some of the awards for the children included recognition for the Alice Casey Award, Safety Patrol Service, Reading Awards, Perfect Attendance, Honor Roll, Merit Award and School Spirit and the recipients were greeted with appropriate applause. The entire program was a huge success and Mrs. Kiely wished one and all a most enjoyable and relaxing summer.

THOMAS SIMPSON accepts award from Mrs. Kiely, principal, Warren-Prescott School at annual end of year award ceremony.

ERIC FOLEY receives award for Safety Patrol Service during the school year, 1981-82.

Three TV Courses To Be Offered

The evening Division of Continuing Education at Bunker Hill Community College will offer three TV courses during the Fall semester on Station WBGX-TV, Channel 44.

They are Computer Literacy: Making it Count, a comprehensive introductory course in computer principles; Principles of Psychology; Understanding Human Behavior, an introduction to psychology that encourages an understanding and appreciation of the scientific approach of the study of human behavior and The American Story: Beginnings in 1877, the fascinating story of America from its prehistoric beginnings to the Centennial celebration in 1876.

The TV courses may be the students' answer to going back to school after being away from the classroom; fitting that "extra" course into a busy schedule; meeting the basic requirements for an associate degree or saving time, travel expense and energy by learning at home.

The broadcast schedule will start with a preview week on September 6 and regular classes will air starting on September 13.

It is the seventh year that the College has provided stimulating and relevant courses for college credit, using TV through the College of the Air program.

For more information, call 241-8600, ext. 444.

BHCC Has

Monies For Loans

There have been stories recently indicating that certain colleges in the Boston area would not receive additional federal funds to meet student demands for the Federal loan program. The President of Bunker Hill Community College would like to assure prospective students that the College has available monies to meet the loan needs of eligible students.

Job Bank For Senior Citizens

Boston's Commission on Affairs of the Elderly is currently operating a "Job Bank" to assist area seniors seeking employment. The Job Bank provides a roster of primarily part-time positions available in the Boston area, serving both employers and employees.

The Elderly Commission recognizes that many citizens over the age of 60, who wish to return to the work force, and supplement their income often encounter an inordinate amount of difficulty. For these individuals, the employment service currently maintains listings of part-time jobs, preferably for older workers. Many of these positions now listed are located in easily accessible downtown areas, with some in the neighborhoods. Many of the jobs offered involve various types of sales work in stores, others are clerical. There are medically related positions for orderlies and LPN's, as well as in home assistant jobs.

Employers, and business owners throughout the city, who require dependable, experienced part of full time help are encouraged to consider the older worker. Businesses with appropriate positions to fill can contact Phil Gold, at the Elderly Commission, 725-3987.
