Dear Frank Volk,

I am Jeff Helbert from Richlands, VA. I have been an employee of Blackjewel LLC since April 2016. On Monday, July 1, 2019 I was told no work until further notice. On Wednesday, July 3, 2019 I found out that the payroll check that I had deposited on June 28, 2019 from Blackjewell had been withdrawn from my account. I had paid bills from this account so this left my account negative $2070+. This has severely impacted my family because I have two kids to support. One of those being a special needs daughter. Also I had worked another week and one day into the next with the rest supposed to be holiday and vacation days, that was supposed to be paid this Friday, July 12, 2019. Which I'm sure that I won't be receiving this check either. This will make a total of a full month that I will not receive a payroll check. Even if we get back to work it will be another month before I receive any pay. How am I supposed to support my family when the hours that I work are not being paid to me? My creditors are calling wanting to know where their money is and all I have to my name is $15. This has been one of the most stressful times for me and my family. I just want to know when I can plan on getting my finances back in order. I do NOT operate like this!!! It is shameful to me and my family that we can't pay our bills and buy groceries for us to eat!

Sincerely,

Jeff Helbert and Family
