“It is clear to all of us in the space, that as more Canadians become aware of this kind of help there is going to be a tremendous need for clinicians to be trained in how to safely use this medicine. There has got to be the development of good practice guidelines, and that requires you granting an exemption to these clinicians as they go through their training to take this medicine themselves...the longer we wait to get these exemptions the more this bottleneck will begin to pile up and so I ask you to grant us permission to use this medicine in our training protocols.” .
