$70-Million Pirate Museum Proposed For Charlestown Navy Yard

THE PIRATE SHIP WHYDAH is the centerpiece of a proposed $70-million museum on Parcel 5/Dry Dock 5 at the Yard's End section of the Charlestown Navy Yard.

by Kathy Giordano

With financial backing in place, the Whydah Management Company Inc. came before the Charlestown Neighborhood Council on June 2 with a proposal to build a $70-million museum on Parcel 5/Dry Dock 5 at the Yard's End section of the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Principal partners in the Whydah Pirate Complex, Roland Betts and Tom Bernstein, presented plans to create a museum dedicated to the pirate ship Whydah, lost off Marconi Beach, Cape Cod during a violent northeaster in April 1717. Over 100,000 artifacts were recovered from the sunken ship beginning in 1985 during an expedition by Barry Clifford. These artifacts would be the focal point of the museum.

The Yard's End parcel where the Whydah Pirate Complex proposes to build the museum is the same location that the New England Aquarium had hoped to build a new and expanded facility. The Aquarium's plan to relocate to the Charlestown Navy Yard fell through when the real estate market went sour. According to Paul Barrett, deputy director of Economic Development for the Boston

Redevelopment Authority, "This group has financing to build in the Navy Yard. This project can be built."

The Whydah Pirate Complex would use cutting-edge interactive exhibits and computer-age technology to bring the Whydah's history to life. The facility would be expected to yield significant economic benefits for the city, enhance efforts to revive the waterfront and pro-

Bands May Be Cancelled Due To Lack Of Funds

The Patriot has been informed by the chairman of the Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee that unless there is a last minute increase in financial support from the local businesses, organizations and residents, he will be forced to cancel the appearances of at least four or five of the bands that have been scheduled to appear in Charlestown for the parade on June 14.

Young Townie Attacked Steps From His Home

Dear Gloria:

Tragedy strikes again! Last Thursday evening, May 28th (Ascension Day) my son Billy, age 25, was brutally assaulted and nearly stabbed to death outside of our home on 2 Concord St. This incident occurred between 11:15 and 11:45 p.m. He was attacked by three local youths and is presently being hospitalized. Doctors at Mass. General Hospital said he narrowly escaped death and he sustained critical knife wounds and bodily injuries.

Fellow Townies, let me tell you about my son Billy and my family. I am one of nine children from parents who immigrated from Ireland and settled in Charlestown. I married my wife, the former Betty Hennessy from County Waterford, Ireland. We made a choice to live here and raise our three children. My children have grown up like any other Townie, attending the Boys & Girls Clubs and swimming in the local pool.

Billy attended Boston Latin School and graduated from Lake Forest College in Chicago two years ago. Last New Year's Day, my son and some friends were walking through Times Square in New York for the annual celebration. He collapsed on the pavement and suffered a seizure. He was diagnosed with a malignant brain tumor. He was sent on to Boston, where he endured 12 hours of brain surgery. Bill survived the surgery. He also survived living in Europe for a year and has traveled extensively, but he almost did not survive this brutal attack outside of his own home.

Bill was on chemotherapy treatments and his body was rejecting the treatment. His blood platelets were falling in count. The tremendous blood loss of this incident will not help his condition. Billy was to begin his first radiation treatment the following morning.

Last Thursday evening, he called me upon arriving in South Station after a short vacation and said, "Dad, 'I'll be home in 20 minutes'. Coming along Monument Square, he crossed paths with these three animals. Billy said nothing to them, as he did not know them and they were much younger than him. One approached him with some vulgarity, and "sucker" punched him, knocking him down and breaking his glasses. Billy was then kicked repeatedly in the head and the groin. Bill was screaming for mercy and holding his head to protect the 18-inch scar on his head which has not yet healed. He begged them to leave him alone, and told them to, "please stop, I have a brain tumor". In response to his pleading, a third one produced what he called a Shiv (real can talk) and slashed him across the leg and back side. While Bill was on his knees, he stabbed him twice in the back, inches from the heart, having tried at first to stab him in the groin area. What could possess someone to do that to a young man?

My wife heard Billy screaming her name. I ran outside to find him lying in a heap in the doorway, crying for help.

The rest is history now. His radiation has been delayed indefinitely. There is no way to justify this malicious and unprovoked attack. Could this have happened to a weaker person? Wasn't your unsolicited jumping enough? I hope that as you sit here reading this, you know what you did to a fellow Townie who, in his condition, isn't capable of hurting anyone.

My son Billy is fighting a battle against cancer. How could you maggots feel like you have the power to take that away? Billy spent his 25th birthday in the Mass. General Hospital. I am appalled and outraged that these sick, ruthless delinquents are allowed to walk the streets. How dare they call themselves Proud Townies. How could they be proud of anything when they stabbed a boy in his condition? I hope that these animals never enjoy a moment's rest after the cruelty and suffering that they have placed upon my son.

I would like to thank our Bartlett Street neighbor Dr. Jed Gorlin who administered first aid to Billy and possibly saved him from bleeding to death.

Sincerely,
John J. Walsh

Tibbetts Selected As Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Winner

by Ronan FitzPatrick

The Michael P. Quinn Scholarship Fund Committee is pleased to announce that Paul John Tibbetts has been selected as the 1992 scholarship winner.

Tibbetts is the eldest son of John and Judy (Semonian) Tibbetts of 46 Cook St. A 1992 graduate of Don Bosco Technical High School, he is the 23rd Quinn scholar.

While at Don Bosco, Tibbetts was a member of the National Honor Society, participated in the science fair and was associated with the peer leadership program. His final class rank of fourth out of 160 students, coupled with his overall mastery of the courses taken, was outstanding.

Varsity sports played an important role in Tibbetts' Don Bosco years. His major varsity sport was hockey, which he played for four years. As a junior, he added cross-country running to his schedule. The electricity he demonstrated on the hockey squad was truly superlative. Dual achievements of captaining the team and his selection as a Catholic Conference All-Star are fitting tributes to Tibbetts' character and prowess.

Tibbetts was a 1988 graduate of St. Francis de Sales School. He is a member of the Boys & Girls Club where he has been involved with The Teen Center and the Keystone Club.

As this year's recipient of the Quinn Scholarship, Tibbetts will be joining a talented group of 15 men and eight women from the community who have been honored with this scholarship since the first award was presented to Robert C. Ir- gens in 1970. With his selection, Tibbetts becomes the fifth recipient hailing from Don Bosco.

In September, Tibbetts will be entering Stonehill College in North Easton, Mass. Stonehill is an independent Catholic four-year coed college founded in 1948. He will be matriculating with the Class of 1996 as an accounting major, with criminal justice as a minor.

All associated with the Quinn organization know Tibbetts will bring additional pride to his family and community as a Quinn scholar while attending Stonehill College.

The city of Boston Public Works Department is recycling newspapers every other week in Charlestown. Bundles should be placed out with your trash, in plain view, by 6:30 a.m.

In Charlestown, newspaper recycling for the month of June will be on the weeks of the 8th and the 22nd, in all weather rain or shine.

Bunker Hill Celebration Features Events For Residents Of All Ages

More than a week of activities celebrating Bunker Hill Day and Charlestown Pride Week will get underway starting on Sunday, June 7. Events have been planned for residents of all ages marking the 217th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill. This year's celebration not only honors our patriot forefathers of over two centuries ago, but is also dedicated to the veterans of the Korean "The Forgotten" War, especially those who made the supreme sacrifice.

A concert on the grounds of the Bunker Hill Monument from 6 to 8 p.m. on Sunday, June 7 is the first event on the Charlestown Pride Week agenda. The evening of music will feature the ever-popular Pat Benti and the Shaboom Band. Please refer to the Bunker Hill Associates advertisement on page 20 for the complete list of Charlestown Pride Week events.

Three special features for the children will be taking place next weekend. The annual Bunker Hill Day Doll Carriage Parade will be held on Saturday, June 13 at 10 a.m. in the Training Field. The deadline for registering children for participation is Monday, June 8. There will be no registrations accepted on the day of the event. The application form may be found on page 10.

The second children's event will also be held on Saturday, June 13 from 1 to 3 p.m. at Doherty Park on Bunker Hill Street. Charlestown's own Disney Characters will be on hand to pose for pictures with the children and there will be free balloons for the kids.

On Sunday morning, June 14, the third children's event will take place when the annual Costume Contest gets underway at 10 a.m. at the Doherty Playground on Bunker Hill Street.

These events are as much fun for the adults to watch as they are for the children participants.

The Aqua String (Mummers) Band from Philadelphia will make first Charlestown appearance on Saturday, June 13 with a 5 p.m. concert at the Bunker Hill Monument. This is always a toe-tapping fun event for all ages. Residents are asked to remove their cars from Monument Square between Monument Avenue and Pleasant Street by 4 p.m.

The gala Bunker Hill Day Parade, led by Chief Marshal Rev. Patrick Healy, O.M.I., will get underway from Hayes Square at 12:30 p.m. on Sunday, June 14. Over 25 musical groups have committed to march in the parade and various organizations are planning floats. Donations are needed to ensure the success of the parade and celebration, and booster stickers and chance books are presently being sold by members of the Parade Committee. Residents are asked to remove their vehicles from the parade route by 9 a.m. on June 14. (The map of the parade route will appear in next week's Patriot.)

The commemoration of the 217th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will be held on Wednesday, June 17. An Ecumenical Service at St. Francis de Sales Church, atop Bunker Hill, will begin at 8:30 a.m. A procession will then form on Bunker Hill Street and march to the Monument Grounds for the patriotic exercises. The Monument Orator will be John P. "Jake" Comer, Past National Commander of The American Legion and Korean War veteran.

The day's activities will continue with the 169th anniversary (continued on page 10)

WATCH THE MONUMENT GROW — HELP SUPPORT THE BUNKER HILL DAY PARADE

With just over a week to the celebration, funds are lacking for the Bunker Hill Day events. Your help is needed, and any amount will be appreciated.

$20,000 is needed to put the Bunker Hill Day Parade on the streets on Sunday, June 14 and the contributions to date amount to only $6,500. With the fiscal constraints on the city of Boston, only a limited amount of money is being allocated to the celebration by the city and each unit is asking for an increase in its fee. Thus the success of the celebration depends on you — the residents, merchants and organizations. Donations of $25 and over will be publicly acknowledged.

★ Arrests Made In Assault . . . Two Charlestown men were arrested in connection with a May 28 stabbing on Bartlett Street.

William Walsh of Concord Street was returning to his home on Thursday night after a trip to Cape Cod. Two houses away from his front door, he was attacked and knocked to the ground by four assailants. The unprovoked attack resulted in Walsh receiving three stab wounds to his lower back and leg. He was taken to Mass. General Hospital for treatment.

Walsh is a 25-year-old lifelong resident of the community. He is a graduate of Lake Forest College in Chicago. He is currently undergoing treatment for a malignant brain tumor and was to begin radiation treatments the day after the attack. Because of the severity of his wounds, treatment had to be postponed.

Boston Police Officers from Area A arrested an 18-year-old resident of 5 Hancock St. on May 29 and a 19-year-old resident of 18 Carney Court on May 30 and charged them with the assault. Both men were arraigned in Charlestown District Court on June 1. Justice Peter Agnes set $10,000 cash bail for each of the two men and sent them to the Nashua Street Jail when neither could come up with the bail.

Two suspects in the assault are still at large.

In a similar incident, a Texas man was assaulted on the Gilmore Bridge around midnight on May 25 by two teen-agers wielding golf clubs.

Thomas Forman, who was visiting friends on Prescott Street, got off a MBTA train at the Community College Station when he was attacked by two teens who, according to the victim, told him "We're going to kill you."

Forman was chased by the two males who beat him repeatedly with golf clubs until he was able to lose them at Austin and Washington streets.

He was taken to Mass. General Hospital where he received over 50 stitches to close the wounds on his head and back as the result of the unprovoked attack.

No arrests have been made in the Forman assault. Police are investigating any similarity between the two incidents.

★ The Life Focus Center . . . Charlestown's facility for providing education, employment and recreation for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped fell victim to thieves on Saturday evening, May 30, when the building at One City Square was forcibly entered.

The thieves gained entry by breaking the glass front doors. While inside, they ransacked the facility and stole two-way radios, a computer, a microwave oven and inventory from the Country Crafters program.

The center's executive director Jack Millerick related the importance to the program of the items stolen. He explained that the two-way radios are used to keep the transportation vans and the center in close contact and are vital to the agency. He went on to say that the stolen computer, while of value in and of itself, contained three week's work by one of the physically handicapped clients being done on a contract basis. In addition, he said that the clients make and sell items for various retail outlets under the Country Crafters program and the clients depend on sales for their pay.

Millerick stated: "It is so sad that at times like this, the neediest people who have the tools and the determination to make themselves self-sufficient have their resources stolen from them, probably by people who just want to feed their drug or alcohol habit."

★ Charlestown Neighborhood Council Meetings . . .

— The Community Benefits Committee will meet on Monday, June 8 from 5:30 to 7 p.m. at the Senior Lounge, 55 Bunker Hill St.

Chairperson Nancy Keyes announced that a workshop will be held at this meeting to assist representatives of local groups in preparing the application to be considered for a grant from the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority under its mitigation agreement with the city. Applications will be available at the meeting or can be picked up after that date at the Patriot office, One Thompson Square.

For additional information, contact Community Liaison Judy Evers at the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, 635-3485.

— The Public Safety/Police Community Relations meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 9 at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, 75 West School St. (Please note the change in location.)

The first item on the agenda will be the report by the Boston Police Department Area A Community Relations Officer Joe McNulty on recent crime-related incidents in the community.

Following McNulty's report, Public Safety Committee Chairman Mel Stillman will conduct an informational meeting on Sail '92. Representatives from the Boston Transportation Department, Boston Police Department, Mayor's Office of Business and Cultural Affairs, Sail '92 and the Raymond Group are expected to be present to discuss what Charlestown residents should expect relative to this upcoming event.

Residents should be advised that because of the expected popularity of Sail '92 and the use of the Charlestown Navy Yard for docking some of the over 150 participating boats during the weekend of July 11 and 12, it is predicted that hundreds of thousands of visitors will be in the area. Traffic and parking will become a problem for residents, especially those living in and around the Charlestown Navy Yard. Planners of the event have stated that City Square will be closed off on Saturday, July 11 and Sunday, July 12 from 5 a.m. to 9 p.m.

— The Mitigation Committee will meet on Thursday, June 11 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St.

Voke Hosts Charlestown Delegation At Democratic Convention

Rep. Richard Voke was one of four state leaders chosen to chair the 1992 Democratic Issues Convention at the Worcester Centrum on May 30. Over 4,000 Democratic Party activists met to outline the party's agenda for the upcoming elections.

On the eve of the convention, Voke sponsored a dinner reception for the Charlestown delegates. "It was fitting that we met to discuss the important issues that confront the community and Massachusetts. I was pleased to host this informal dinner to exchange ideas on ways to build a stronger Democratic Party," said Voke.

In his opening remarks from the convention podium, Voke said Democrats must unite to define and articulate their core values. "By setting an agenda with the conviction to stand up for the principles that we as a society hold so dear, the Democratic Party need not re-invent the wheel. We must remember our roots as the party of the working class, the party with compassion for those less fortunate, as well as the party that stands ready to lead the Commonwealth and the nation into the 21st century," commented Voke.

Representatives of the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority will discuss the landscaping plan for Medford Street at the former Revere Sugar Refinery site. A representative from Massport will also address the issue. Chairman Moe Gillen and Vice Chairman Bill Galvin will conduct the meeting.

— The Development Committee, chaired by Tom Cunha, will conduct a series of public meetings to discuss the proposal by Whydah Pirate Complex Development and Management Inc. to construct a museum on Parcel 5 in the Yard's End section of the Charlestown Navy Yard. The meetings will be held on four consecutive Mondays — June 15, 22 and 29 and July 6 — at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, 75 West School St.

Residents and business persons are welcome to attend these open, public meetings.

★ MWRA Valve Work . . . The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority Waterworks Division will be exercising main-line valves during the weeks of June 8, 15 and 22, which may affect neighborhoods in Charlestown.

The valve work is not expected to cause pressure changes, but rusty water can be anticipated by residents of Perkins Street and Broadway at the Somerville line.

According to William A. Brutsch, director of the division, rusty water does not create a health hazard.

★ Charlestown Street Reconstruction Update . . . Reconstruction of the Mead Street Stairs (40 Flights) began on June 2, reducing the steps down to a level of gravel, according to Ralph Cunningham, resident engineer for Bryant Associates, engineering firm overseeing this project and the street reconstruction contracts.

Street work forges ahead despite the heavy rain on June 1. The major thrust of the work continues on Adams and Chestnut streets.

Major water work was completed on Chestnut Street with only the replacement of the remaining lead services and the turning on of the last house services left to be done. The testing and chlorination was done and accepted prior to the line being activated. Other crews have moved onto the street to do the drainage work and install the light bases. Most of the roof drains have been connected and the stripping of pavement for the actual street rebuilding has begun.

Asphalt was laid on Adams Street on June 3. Gas connections have been installed and the curb reset. A new sidewalk was poured this week with the new brick accent strip to be installed shortly.

The drainage crew moved onto Old Rutherford Avenue and started installing catch basins. Catch basins were installed and drain pipe work was done on Devens Street. Essex Street was also paved on June 3.

During the upcoming week, work will continue on Old Rutherford Avenue and it is expected to begin on Putnam and Ellwood streets.

Residents with questions on the Street Reconstruction Project should call the Mahoney Construction Co. at 696-8446, and ask for Megan Mahoney. Concerns about work on the Mead Street Stairs can be directed to the Middlesex Paving Co. at (508) 256-6534.

First Youth Leadership Conference Held In Boston

Wars (MOWW). The conference consisted of a four-day, three-night program centered around the Freedom Trail. Guest speakers included renown historian and Vice President of the Freedoms Foundation (Valley Forge) Dr. Charles Hepburn; National Director and Chairman of Sea Cadet program of the Navy League of the U.S. Raymond R. Couture; Vice President and Dean of Students at Boston University W. Norman Johnson; and the National Cmdr. of the MOWW Col. John Lawler USAFR (Ret).

The Boston schools were well represented with students from Brighton, Charlestown and West Roxbury high schools. Highlights of the conference included a special ecumenical service on board USS Constitution on Sunday, touring the downtown portion of the Freedom Trail on Monday, visiting and climbing the Bunker Hill Monument on Tuesday and a tour of Boston Harbor on Wednesday. The students maintained individual notebooks to record the events of the day. Classes were held each night to focus on the lessons learned from the sites visited. A special treat was the Tuesday night dinner at which over 50 attendees were entertained with an old-fashioned sing-a-long and talent show put on by the students. All in all, it was a very busy and highly productive few days.

Charlestown High School student and "Townie" John Cowan was a most enthusiastic attendee. He assisted in guiding the group in and around the Charlestown area. He also was the first to lend a hand to get a job done.

At the closing ceremonies on Wednesday, Col. Lawler presented each student with a certificate of completion for the conference. All students were given a year's membership in the Foundation.

When asked if the Foundation and the MOWW were going to make this an annual event, Cmdr. Bob Gillen, YPAL president, Mass. Department Commander of the MOWW and fellow Townie, said: "Absolutely, everybody thought it was a great success so we plan to do it again." Gillen noted that the outstanding support of many people from many agencies including USS Constitution, Mayor's office, National Park Service, Coast Guard Support Center, the Old North Church and various other sources contributed to the success of the program. The services of Capt. Leo Lazo USNR (Ret.) as a counselor and chaperone made this year's program possible.

With continued dedicated support like this, it seems clear that we will be hearing from this Youth Leadership Conference in the future. Anyone interested in learning more about the Youth Leadership and Patriotic Foundation should write to YPAL, P.O. Box 105, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

Charlestown Neighborhood Council Elects New Chairman

by Kathy Giordano

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council elected a new chairman and two vice chairmen at its June 2 monthly meeting. With the sudden death of Chairman Dennis McLaughlin on May 2, council members were obliged by their by-laws to fill the vacant chairmanship and the at-large seat held by Mr. McLaughlin at this meeting.

Nominations were accepted from the members, and First Vice Chairman Peter Looney was elected chairman by a unanimous vote. Subsequently, Second Vice Chairman Tom Cunha was nominated and elected to First Vice Chairman and Mel Stillman was elected Second Vice Chairman.

Other council members present at the meeting were: Secretary Jim Mansfield, Treasurer Nancy Keyes and members Jim Conway, Moe Gillen, Kevin Roche, Marty O'Brien Sr., Ed Callahan, Bob Scalli, Tom Pitts, Mel Stillman, Bill Galvin, Judy Brennan, Ken Stone, Kate McDonough, Jeanne Davis and Matt O'Neil.

The council had sought nominations from the community to fill the at-large seat. Former council member Bob Wallace was the only resident to express an interest. He was unanimously elected by the council to fill the unexpired term of Mr. McLaughlin until elections are held in October of this year.

After the completion of the election formalities, the council heard a presentation by the Whydah Management Company Inc. on a $70-million proposal to build a pirate museum in the Yard's End section of the Charlestown Navy Yard. Please see the related story on page one.

Massachusetts Water Resources Authority Community Relations representative Carrie Fuchs reported back to the council on its request for MWRA employee figures. The council was interested in obtaining information on the number of Charlestown residents employed by MWRA, especially since the Authority is based in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Fuchs reported that the MWRA employs a total of 1,661 persons, 40 of which are Charlestown residents. Of that number, 28 work at MWRA headquarters in the Navy Yard and 12 work in the field.

During fiscal year 1991, Fuchs said, 109 employees were hired. Of that number, one was a Charlestown resident. The number of Charlestown residents employed, she explained, worked out to be 2.4 percent of the total MWRA workforce.

Conway stated: "We're interested in jobs for Charlestown residents. How many have applied for positions and were not hired? Why don't we have more jobs with MWRA?"

To that Looney added: "I think we're entitled to more jobs, especially entry-level positions. We're not getting our fair share." He added that MWRA could have left the Navy Yard when its lease ran out, but decided to stay. "You're not showing us that you're a good neighbor," he stated.

On another subject, Fuchs reported that the MWRA expects to open its personnel transfer site at the former Revere Sugar Refinery on Medford Street on June 15. At that time, she said, an estimated 150 cars will be utilizing the parking facility that has been designed to accommodate up to 300 cars. "The number of cars will gradually move up until the beginning of 1993 when we should realize a full capacity of 300 cars," Fuchs stated.

She said that according to the Memorandum of Understanding worked out through the council's mitigation process, the personnel transfer ferries between Charlestown and Deer Island will leave the Medford Street site at 6:25 a.m. and return at 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. During those rush hours, police details will be stationed at the gate on Medford Street and at the intersection of Bunker Hill, Main and Medford streets.

Fuchs informed the council that negotiations are ongoing between the MWRA and the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) on jobs for the ILA membership. "A service contract should be signed later this month," she said. "The companies bidding on the contract are Boston Line, Paterson Wilde, John T. Clarke and ITO Corp." The positions that would be available to the longshoremen are line handlers, longshoremen and clerks, she added. Their time schedule would run between 5 a.m. and 8 p.m., Monday through Friday.

According to Fuchs, the MWRA would meet with the Mitigation Committee at 7 p.m. on Thursday, June 11, at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St., to discuss the landscaping plan for the Medford Street boundary of the former sugar refinery.

City Square Park Designer Selection Process Begins

Excited by the momentum that continues to build for the construction of a new park in City Square, Rep. Richard Voke says the Department of Environmental Management's (DEM's) preparedness to advertise for a park designer is another good sign that all forces are coming together to produce a local park befitting the community.

"The seeds we have planted are starting to grow," said Voke, who as then Chairman of the House Committee on Ways and Means, was able to secure two separate appropriations to design and build a park to be constructed in Charlestown at the completion of the Central Artery North Area (CANA) Project.

Now, as House Majority Leader, Voke has continued to push agency officials forward toward keeping their commitment to aid Voke and local residents in their goal of returning City Square to its past magnificence.

"DEM, under the guidance of Commissioner Peter Webber, is really embracing this project. The agency is not only putting the designer selection process on a fast track by advertising for landscape architects, they have also been quite receptive to the local participation I have urged them to follow," noted Voke.

Once a designer is selected, the landscape architect will begin to develop a concept for the park, based upon past information gathered by the City Square Park Committee and various public and private agencies involved in CANA. Upon the development of such conceptual designs, full community input will be solicited. Voke's goal is to have the entire process worked out so that next spring an actual design can be approved and construction can begin.

"We have waited a long time since I first was able to secure money for this park back in 1987. Now that the date is growing near, I am anxious to see what so many of us have been working to achieve. While the design still needs to be developed, I am sure that the park, however it looks, will be a great testament to local people, one that serves to further enhance all that makes Charlestown such a wonderful place," concluded Voke.

vide a unique educational resource for residents and visitors.

"Given the Charlestown Navy Yard's prominent place in maritime history," stated Betts, "it is an ideal location to house the Whydah's legacy and bring it to life."

Bernstein added, "The Whydah Pirate Complex will be a unique facility that will not only attract new visitors to the city, but will be a magnet for the Boston waterfront. It will be a perfect complement to historic landmarks like Faneuil Hall, the USS Constitution and other cultural attractions."

The project would create 300 union construction jobs and 350 new permanent jobs. Construction wages would be projected to total $35 million, and wages for permanent employees would be expected to be $6 million annually when the museum opened in 1994, growing to $9 million within a decade. A wide range of permanent professional and service positions would become available at the complex.

Bernstein stated: "We want to make sure that this project yields significant benefits for the Charlestown community. We will be aggressively recruiting employees from the neighborhood." He added: "We'll be working closely with the Charlestown Neighborhood Council to develop a comprehensive program of benefits for the community and with local educators on special programs for Boston school children."

The Whydah Pirate Complex would rely upon an inventory of Charlestown union members prepared by the Boston Building Trades Council to ensure that as many of the construction jobs as possible would go to union members who are Charlestown residents. The developer would also abide by the city's ordinance that 50 percent of all construction worker hours must go to Boston residents, 25 percent to minorities and 10 percent to women.

The permanent jobs that would become available with the opening of the museum would include full-time, part-time and seasonal employment opportunities. The jobs would vary in requirements with differing degrees of skill and experience. The museum would actively recruit Charlestown residents to fill the employment opportunities created at the facility.

In the first year of operation, it is expected that the Whydah Pirate Complex would generate $10 million in contracts for goods and services, a figure expected to nearly double within 10 years.

Vendor contracts would be advertised in the community to ensure that as many of the contracts as possible would go to qualified Charlestown businesses. A bidder's conference would be sponsored to assist Charlestown businesses learn how they could benefit from opportunities that would be created.

The developers will work with the Charlestown Neighborhood Council throughout the planning and review process and propose to establish a presence in the Navy Yard during the construction period. With the start of the project, residents of the community will be invited to participate on a Charlestown Community Task Force. The Task Force will provide on-going input regarding employment, community programs, local vendor opportunities and other community-related issues.

A comprehensive community benefits package will be presented as an integral part of the developer's final plans for land designation.

A series of public meetings will take place over the next four weeks. Conducted by the Charlestown Neighborhood Council Development Committee, the meetings will focus on all aspects of the complex. It will allow community participation in the development process and also provide an opportunity for the developers to present their plans for the five-acre land parcel.

Committee Chairman Tom Cunha has scheduled these meetings for June 15, 22, 29 and July 6, all Mondays, starting at 7 p.m. They will be held in the upper hall of the Knights of Columbus on 75 West School St.

for community non-profit organizations to submit applications to be considered for a grant under the community benefits package from the MWRA. Galvin stated that fiscal year '92 would end on June 30 and he feared that if applications were submitted after that date, the first year's portion of the $150,000 MWRA three-year grant might be lost.

Mansfield stated that he had worked personally on the MOU and this was not a genuine concern. "I spoke to the city's attorney and was told 'no' [the money wouldn't be lost]," he added.

Looney told the council that he would "find out if we have a problem and if we do, I'll call a special council meeting to address the issue."

Keyes, chairperson of the Community Benefits Committee was not present when reports were called for, but the council was informed that a meeting has been scheduled from 5:30 to 7 p.m. on Monday, June 8 at the Senior Lounge, 55 Bunker Hill St. to discuss the application process.

Applications will be available at the meeting or at the Patriot office, One Thompson Square, after June 8.

Brennan, as chairperson of the Environmental Committee, reported on a recent tour of Boston Edison's Mystic Station on Alford Street by community residents. She said that the Mystic Station operates more efficiently and effectively than does the station in South Boston which is the result of the Alford Street facility providing cleaner burn and lower emissions. She added that natural gas is burned 50 percent of the time in the Mystic 7 unit, creating less air pollution.

Brennan told the council that she was pleased with the report presented by Boston Edison that outlined its present and future plans for air quality monitoring and improvements to the Mystic Station.

Cunha reported that the Development Committee would schedule a meeting at some future date to review outstanding development issues with the community. Among these issues are development proposals for Building 104 in the Charlestown Navy Yard, Parcel R-87 on Tremont Street and Parcel P-2 at the intersection of Main and Bunker Hill streets, adjacent to the Charlestown Community Gardens.

Cunha also stated that he anticipates that the Development Committee will be able to make a report to the council at its July 7 monthly meeting on the discussions at the four upcoming community meetings regarding the Whydah Pirate Complex proposed for the Navy Yard. He told the members he hoped that the council would vote on the proposal at the July meeting.

Stone reported that the Billboard Committee has been gaining support from elected officials to fight the plan by Rite Media Inc. to erect a billboard on top of the building at 50 Brighton St. A hearing will be held today, Thursday, June 4, at 2:30 p.m. at the Outdoor Advertising Division office in the Transportation Building at Park Plaza to further discuss the installation of this billboard. Stone asked that council members and residents attend this meeting to let their voices be heard in opposition to this billboard.

Other issues addressed at the meeting included traffic congestion at Sullivan Square caused by the reconstruction work on the Alford Street Bridge. Gillen requested that the council send a letter to the Transportation Department, the Mayor's Office and the Police Department requesting the elimination of safety hazards that the reconstruction work had created. Davis added that one person had already been injured in the area.

Pitts noted that traffic along Main Street has increasingly worsened over the past few months. The traffic congestion, he stated, is generated from the CANA project in City Square. He added that the police detail in City Square gives preference to traffic on Rutherford Avenue, leaving Main Street traffic to back up as far as the Eden Street Park.

Stephen Collins, community liaison with the CANA/CA/T projects, stated that he will address the issue with the police details in City Square and at the Cambridge side of the Gilmore Bridge to get their assistance in alleviating the problem.

Roche reported on the inadequate street lighting in Mishawum Park. He stated that street lights were not functioning properly due to the adjacent trees that need to be trimmed. He also said that birds were nesting within the lights, causing them to malfunction.

Roche will work with Stillman to speak to the management of Mishawum Park to seek a resolution to these problems.

Brennan ended the meeting with a request that the city stop tagging cars on street cleaning days in the areas that are living through the Street Reconstruction Project. "We have no place to put our cars as it is," she stated. She suggested that the street cleaning policy be modified for the duration of the project on the streets affected by the contracts.

Looney said that he would forward the complaint and see what could be done.

The next scheduled meeting of the Neighborhood Council will be on Tuesday, July 7 at 7 p.m. at the K. of C. Hall, 75 West School St.

McCarthy Running Club News

"The McCarthys Respond"

The recent hoopla and the defection of Frankie Keane prompted an emergency meeting of R.I.C.H.I.E. (Run If Cheating Helps Impress Everyone).

To prevent The Red Store from stealing . . . ahem, signing . . . runners from other clubs and Marathon Tours from stacking the deck with "elite pros," the following new rules were voted in for this year's Bunker Hill Road Race for the Merchant's Trophy:

1. Merchants must be in business in Charlestown for at least 100 years; and
2. Owner's relatives must have settled in Charlestown in the 19th century . . . (not Medford, Ned!)

It has also come to light that Ned Rosselle has wasted . . . ahem, invested . . . all his marbles on his runners so that no money was left to sponsor his softball team this year . . . The McCarthys were happy to pick up the ball and sponsor the team.

Finally, Harry McCarthy was in Las Vegas for the annual liquor convention in March. Harry had the odds for the race set at the Mirage Sports Book:

McCarthy Liquors	Even Money
Marathon Travel	3-1
Collier's Market	8-1
REM Club (Red Store)	300-1

Good luck to the "Cold Cut King" at Monument and Bunker Hill, to the Colliers up the hill, to Thom Gilligan and Marathon Travel (last year's seconds will seem like hours) . . . See "yooz" at the finish line . . . We'll be waiting!

Rounding out the team will be Suffolk University stars Ellen Crotty, all-time leading woman scorer, and Jerry Wallace, who left a 1,000-point legacy at the university. BOB D'S BEAT

Bob DeCristoforo

■ Achievement '92 . . . On Friday evening, over 100 young men received their diplomas from Don Bosco Tech. These 100-plus are representative of each member of the Class of 1992 who will be graduating this year.

The achievement of each graduate is important. Getting a diploma or degree is no easy task, and you are to be commended on your accomplishment. We are very proud of you.

Don't let your "little piece of paper" go to waste. Use what you have earned, make it work for you and make your achievement worthwhile for others.

■ Bunker Hill Summer Ball Hockey . . . Rosters are now available from Bob D. for the 20-and-under Bunker Hill Ball Hockey League. We hope to have six to eight teams. This will be the third year of what has been a successful program.

■ Brian McGonagle . . . There are a lot of beautiful people in the world, and Brian McGonagle is one of them. He is a person who shares his "Townie Pride" with others, and he has a certain knack of bringing good cheer and good humor to all he meets.

■ Joe Jackson . . . One of the main reasons why the Winners Circle Program is a success citywide is the work of Joe Jackson. He does a great job, and he is always willing to go that "extra step" to see that everything works well. He did it at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club, he did it at the South Boston Boys & Girls Club and now he is doing it in the Winner's Circle Program.

■ Golden Bear . . . Congratulations to Dave Walsh who received the prestigious Golden Bear Award as a graduating senior at Don Bosco High School.

■ Lacrosse Star . . . One reason why Buckingham, Browne and Nichols Middle School "B" Lacrosse team was undefeated this season was the outstanding performance of young Townie Tegan Leonard.

■ Hayes Square Cup . . . The goaltender of the defeated "Youngsters" in an exclusive interview tells me that, and I quote, "If I had some underweight defensemen in front of me, the results would have been different."

■ Softball All-Star . . . Matignon freshman sensation Corey Gallagher was named by Catholic Central League coaches to the 1992 League All-Star Team.

■ Reminder . . . The BHA Multi-Cultural Festival is Saturday, June 6 at City Hall Plaza.

■ Tom Yawkey Baseball . . . Joey Upton pitched another fine game as Charlestown upped its record to 3 and 0 in the Tom Yawkey Baseball League, defeating Cambridge 10-5.

Upcoming games, all starting at 7:30 p.m., are: Monday, June 8 - Charlestown vs. Al Thomas at Ryan Wednesday, June 10 - Charlestown vs. Shamrocks at Murray

The Raymond Group/Constitution Quarters Battle Of Bunker Hill 8K Road Race

by Charlie McGonagle

When the Charlestown Boys Club initiated its annual road race in the late 1960s few, if any, who either organized or participated in the inaugural event could possibly envision the success the event would enjoy over the ensuing years.

In the beginning, a good number of the 100 or so runners came directly from the club's membership rolls, but as word began to spread, the Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race, as it has come to be known, gained in popularity throughout the running community of Greater Boston.

The increased interest in the event can be traced to several factors including the challenging hills of Charlestown and the many sites bearing historic significance which the runners pass along the way.

Each year the number of runners accepting the challenge of the Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race has increased significantly. This year nearly 1,000 participants are expected to weave their way through the eight-kilometer course. The number of entrants is due in large part to the sanctioning of the event by The Athletic Congress (TAC). The race organizers anticipate the largest field of runner in the event's 24-year history.

The championship 8K, to be run at 9:30 on the morning of June 14, is not the only race being conducted by the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club on that day. One hour earlier, at 8:30, a two-mile novice race will take place. Both events will start on Chelsea Street in front of the Navy Yard, and finish within the confines of the rehabilitated historic yard.

The 8K course will weave its way through the streets of Charlestown and over the top of Bunker Hill before returning to the finish in the Navy Yard.

As an added incentive to the entrants in this year's edition of the Raymond Group/Constitution Quarters Battle of Bunker Hill 8K Road Race, a free raffle ticket will be included in each runner's pre-race package. A drawing, held in conjunction with the road race, will reward the winner with a week-long trip for two to Bermuda. With a large field of runners expected to participate, the raffle winner may well come from the list of race entrants.

One of the more interesting and spirited areas of competition in the race involves the quest for the team title. Groups may enter teams of five runners and the team compiling the lowest combined time of all five runners will be declared the winner.

The team competition provided a great deal of local interest in the 1991 Battle of Bunker Hill as McCarthy Brothers narrowly defeated representatives of Marathon Tours by less than one minute overall. The Marathon runners have been questioning their pre-race strategy for the past 12 months, and they have predicted that with a slight change of plan, victory in this year's edition is imminent.

McCarthy representatives counter this claim, however, by pointing out that they have had a full year to prepare for an even better effort.

One Marathon member was heard to say, "They are not getting better, they are getting older. If you get within 10 feet of any of them, you can actually hear their arteries hardening."

The 1992 Battle of Bunker Hill Road Race will provide the platform from which this particular drama will unfold.

It goes without saying that the two road races need the assistance of volunteers in order to present a safe and successful competition. With the expected large field of runners, more volunteers than ever before will be required. The Charlestown Boys & Girls Club is seeking help from anybody who might be interested in giving an hour of two of his or her time on the morning of June 14. Volunteers need not be knowledgeable in road racing rules. Some of the duties they might be expected to perform would include holding directional arrows, calling out split times to the runners at each mile mark, manning water stops, assisting in the registration of runners, etc.

Registration on the morning of the race will be held at Flagship Wharf in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Those interested in volunteering should contact Clubhouse Director Jerry Steimel at 242-1775 as soon as possible. It is helpful if volunteers are assigned to specific tasks prior to race day.

In making the announcement, Elizabeth A. White, Branch Officer of the Charlestown Bank, commented:

"Our Business Alliance members represent an outstanding cross section of business expertise and management talent. Their knowledge and experience with the Charlestown market will enhance our ability to provide high quality, responsive service to the community."

Members of the Business Alliance are: Donald F. Breen, president of Donald F. Breen & Co., P.C.; Philip X. Carr, president of Frank Carr Funeral Home; Marilyn Darling, president of Signet Consulting Group; Thom Gilligan, president of Marathon Tours and Travel; Ellen Kraft, director of USS Constitution Museum; and Andrew Sferruzza, president of Air & Refrigeration, Inc.

Mayor Raymond Flynn has announced that the city of Boston, through the Environment Department is sponsoring a Household Hazardous Waste Drop-Off Day on Saturday, June 13, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the University of Massachusetts Boston, Harbor Campus.

Residents are encouraged to take advantage of this opportunity to safely dispose of items such as pesticides, solvents, oil-based and latex paints and photographic chemicals. Note that aerosol cans are not hazardous when empty so they will not be accepted at the drop-off. Also not acceptable are radioactive materials, asbestos, gas canisters and explosives.

This year at the drop-off site the Boston area organization Neighbor Care Inc. will be collecting usable, white, exterior latex paint. Neighbor Care is a private non-profit group that utilizes a volunteer workforce of 350 people to paint the homes at no cost for elderly and low-income residents in Boston neighborhoods. Other paint that is still usable will also be accepted for use as part of a city program to spruce-up the neighborhoods.

The city, in conjunction with the Boston Water and Sewer Commission and the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority, also collects used motor oil every Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon at 112 Southhampton St., near the Fire Department Headquarters.

Theft Of Flags Is A Personal Loss

An Open Letter to the Residents of Charlestown:

The members of Bunker Hill Council No. 62, Knights of Columbus were shocked to discover on Sunday, May 31 that the Council flags had been stolen from the flagpoles in front of our building on West School Street.

Not only are we outraged that such an act of disrespect would occur in this community, but the theft of these two flags in particular is a personal loss to our membership. Both flags, an American flag and a MIA/POW flag, had been donated to the Council by family members in respect for their deceased veterans and/or imprisoned veterans. These were more than just flags to many of our Council members.

We urge persons with information on the whereabouts of these flags to contact any member of Council 62 or call 242-9672. No questions will be asked.

Council 62 wishes to expedite the return of these flags for the annual Bunker Hill Day celebration — which, by the way, is on Flag Day, June 14th.

Fraternally yours,
Grand Knight Ned Rosselle and
The Officer and Members of Council 62

Asks MWRA To Work With Community

Douglas B. MacDonald, Executive Director
Massachusetts Water Resources Authority
100 First Avenue
Charlestown, Mass. 02129

Dear Mr. MacDonald:

I am writing as a result of a meeting which was held with the Charlestown community relative to the landscaping plans for the MWRA personnel transfer site in Charlestown. It has come to my attention that both area abutters and members of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council are not satisfied with the current plan presented by the Authority.

It is important that the negative impacts imposed upon the community as a result of MWRA's operation are mitigated. Although there is no specific language contained in our MOA regarding a buffer zone for the site, it was our intention to ensure that environmental and noise protection be provided for area residents. It would be beneficial for the Authority to work with the community to reach an acceptable compromise on this issue.

Additionally, it is my understanding that the MWRA is planning to begin operations at this site in June. I would like to request that an operational plan be presented to the Transportation Department prior to the start-up of your facility. It is imperative that your activities be coordinated with other projects that are currently underway in this community.

Sincerely,

Richard A. Dimino, Commissioner
Boston Transportation Department

unending nightmare. The murder of James Boyden should outrage every resident of the town. Instead, everyone sits back and still believes that murder did not affect me so I will just keep quiet about it. If we all remain silent about this when it happens to someone else, when it happens to someone that we love we cannot expect any different reaction from anyone else.

James Boyden was tried and convicted in the news. Whatever happened to innocent until proven guilty? Especially since he was not alive to defend himself against what the news or other people said about him. I understand that he was a good husband and friend to his wife Ronnie, and a loving son to his mom and dad, a loyal brother to his siblings, a loving dad to his kids and also a very good neighbor. First and foremost, he was a victim who was murdered outside his home at 9:30 p.m. If it can happen to James Boyden and 51 other victims — one a baby, some young girls and countless young men, including my two sons — it can happen to you. Is anyone willing to take that chance? I hope not.

My condolences to the Boyden family, his relatives, friends and neighbors.

Sandy King,

Guest speaker for the event will be Dave McNeill from the New England Herpetological Society.

nold, Snakes are Hunters by Patricia Lauber and Snaky Riddles by Katy Hall.

Cassin Receives Outstanding Achievement Award

Martha Cassin of Charlestown was recently recognized with an outstanding employee achievement award as a member of the Carroll Society at a ceremony held at the Bank of Boston.

The Carroll Society Awards, conducted annually by the Carroll Center for the Blind and the Mass. Commission for the Blind, are designed to recognize some of the outstanding achievements of the blind and visually impaired persons in the workplace, thereby demonstrating the contribution that can be made by persons who are vision impaired.

Cassin works as Assistant to the Director of the Cancer Center of the Mass. General Hospital. She is responsible for the administration and finance of the multi-million dollar cancer research center, where she has worked for almost three years.

In her capacity, she is responsible for the hiring and supervision of 100 persons that include support staff, laboratory technicians, chemists and scientists and manages an annual budget of $6-8 million. Cassin serves as the center's principal grant proposal writer and currently supervises the budgets for 100 different ongoing grants. She implements company policy and is the liaison between the center and the Mass. General Hospital.

Recently Cassin developed a new computerized database which has dramatically improved the center's ability to monitor the finances. In operating her computer, she has received training from the Carroll Center and rehabilitation engineering from the Mass. Commission for the Blind to set up adaptive equipment.

Cassin first became legally blind 2½ years ago from a combination of eye diseases that have caused her vision to deteriorate. As a positive thinking and productive acting individual all of her life, Cassin explored all of her options for either improving her vision or adjusting to her reduced vision.

As a newly blinded person, she sought out available services and resources that would enable her to continue her independent lifestyle. She visited agencies, attended meetings, explored adaptive computer equipment and low-vision devices and continues even today to seek out every opportunity for her to be as independent and productive as possible.

In her job, Cassin carries out her tremendous amount of responsibility with the utmost efficiency and accuracy, yet she never forgets that those who work under her direction require a management that understands and appreciates their contribution to the center's mission. As an employee, a manager and administrator, Cassin is considered in the highest regard by her director for her outstanding ability and competence, and is highly respected by her employees for her fairness and sensitivity.

According to the center's director, she is an invaluable support to the day-to-day operations of the Cancer Center and she encompasses all of the qualities of a superior employee and manager. Upper management is so pleased with her contribution to the center's operation, they claim that they don't know how they functioned without her before she arrived.

In her limited free time, Cassin enjoys sailing and is active as a Big Sister to a youngster in the Boston area.
