Commissioner Roache To Speak On Community Safety

Boston Police Commissioner Francis "Mickey" Roache will be the guest speaker at the Police Community/Public Safety meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St. Roache will address residential concerns and advise the community as to the steps his department is taking to alleviate the problems facing Charlestown.

Also attending the meeting will be Area A Commander, Deputy Superintendent Ron Conway; Public Relations Officer Joe McNulty; and other police department officials. Representatives from BAD (Boston Against Drugs) and CHAD (Charlestown Against Drugs) will also be on hand to make a presentation. Gary Webster of the Mayor's Drug Awareness Program, working out of the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, will add his expertise to the discussions.

Free BAD T-Shirts and a video cassette of the Boston Bruins 1988 season highlights will be given to everyone attending the meeting.

According to committee chairman Mel Stillman, the meeting should interest every resident of Charlestown, young or old. Stillman hopes that the hall will be filled with families, senior citizens and new residents to show the police commissioner that Charlestown cares about its community and the safety of its residents.

The meeting will be co-chaired by Stillman and Peter Looney.

Council Ends Summer On A Quiet Note

by Kathy Giordano

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council's monthly meeting on Sept. 5 was a summer's-end delight. There were no major disruptions in discussing major issues and, since there had been no council meeting since July 5, committee reports were brief.

Council members in attendance were chairman Dennis McLaughlin, vice chairman Bill Galvin, treasurer John Lynch, secretary Stephen Collins, Kay Whelan, Jim Conway, Moe Gillen, Jim Mansfield, Kate McDonough, Tom Cunha, Dan Kovacevic, Mel Stillman, Ellen D'Ambrosio, Peter Looney and Kevin Roche.

The meeting opened with an announcement by McDonough, director of the Kennedy Center, that the Action for Boston Community Development (ABCD) 1989 Charlestown neighborhood award recipient would be Judy Evers, community liaison from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services. This announcement was met with a loud round of applause, directed toward Evers, who was sitting in the audience. McDonough stated that the awards dinner would take place on Oct. 27, and those who want to see Evers receive this much-coveted award should call the Kennedy Center at 241-8866 for ticket information.

John Lynch, chairman

Lynch stated that meetings on the Charlestown I.P.O.D. have been put on hold until Boston Redevelopment Authority Deputy Director Paul Barrett assigns a staff member to the committee. This, according to Barrett, will take place after a reorganization of the Charlestown BRA office. No date for the appointment of a staff person, however, has been announced.

Lynch reported on an issue that came to his attention in Precinct 5, which he represents on the council, regarding a development project at Medford and Pearl streets by the Charlestown Construction Co. Residents were concerned about a rumor that the development company had gone bankrupt. Lynch contacted John Stevenson of the

CHIROPRACTICS AND YOU

By Dr. Kevin J. Loughlin
North End Chiropractic

ARTHRITIS MAY NOT BE WHAT YOU THINK

Many of us have preconceived — and often misconceived — ideas about certain diseases. The most obvious and topical example is AIDS, but misinformation also surrounds older and less controversial ailments. Arthritis is a case in point.

First of all, we often assume that arthritis is one disease. This misconception is fueled by drug manufacturers and sometimes by the medical community itself. There are, in fact, a number of types of arthritis, the most familiar being osteoarthritis, rheumatoid arthritis and gout.

Secondly, most of us think of arthritis as a disease of "old age," while osteoarthritis does tend to appear more frequently as people age, it is not limited to the elderly. Rheumatoid arthritis can be particularly devastating to youngsters.

Finally, and perhaps most significantly, we often consider arthritis to be incurable, a disease to be endured and hopefully made bearable by aspirin and/or cortisone. Depending on the type and severity of the arthritis, this is not necessarily true. If you have been diagnosed as arthritic, you may want to discuss your case with a chiropractor. The chiropractic profession has an amazing track record in the treatment of this "incurable" disease.

Regular chiropractic care is a wise way to maintain good health. For an appointment with Dr. Kevin Loughlin call North End Chiropractic at 742-5797. My practice is located at 350 Hanover St. in Boston.

Abutters Question Improvement Plan For Massport Land Under The Bridge

by Lynn Peters

The first phase of a Massport $200,000 beautification plan under the Tobin Bridge began this week with some questions from abutters to the property, who are concerned about the future of the site and neighborhood safety. The work involves grading soil, paving and fencing the entire area under the bridge bordered by Vine, Decatur and Medford streets, putting in curbs and sidewalks on both sides of city-owned property on Decatur Street, installing 10 drain pipes and planting 17 trees.

About a dozen Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force members, area residents and organization representatives met with Massport officials in an Aug. 31 informational discussion of Phase I of the Charlestown Community Project. Residents are fearful that the work is being done so that the property can eventually be used as a public parking lot, an issue they have been fighting since late 1988 discussions with Boston Redevelopment Authority and New England Aquarium representatives.

Task Force member Dora Atkinson says she is cynical about Massport intentions for the area.

"Eventually, there will be a parking lot there," Atkinson comments, questioning why Massport is suddenly spending money on improving its Charlestown and Chelsea properties. "Massport is staying a step ahead of the aquarium."

Dorothy Connolly, Massport community liaison, assures residents, however, that there are no plans for a parking lot.

"We discourage the idea of putting a parking lot there and discourage other agencies from even suggesting it," she says.

Among the other problems for abutters to the property are concerns about the fence and their children's safety. Massport engineers have called for a wooden fence, much like the one at Barry Playground, which residents argue will not be secure enough. Connolly says that there will be four-foot-deep support beams spaced close enough to prevent cars from driving through the fence, while abutters have suggested concrete supports.

Residents also worry that construction equipment will entice their children to play there, which could eventually result in serious injuries. Connolly says the contractor will be asked to lock up equipment on Massport property at the Moran Terminal or to provide 24-hour security.

Mike McDonough, executive director of the Task Force, says he isn't sure about what the landscaping improvements will bring. For him, the project will mostly invite parking and the area children.

"The property will make for great street hockey, bike riding and skateboarding," McDonough says. "It will be a major temptation for the children."

The Task Force has asked for more information from Massport on the improvement plan, the first phase of which is expected to be completed sometime in November.

During the project, parking may be restricted on portions of Decatur and Vine streets, but both streets will remain open to residential traffic. A police detail will be assigned when necessary for traffic and safety concerns. Residents can expect work to begin about 7 a.m. and continue until 3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The plan will be presented to the Neighborhood Council's Basic Services Committee on Tuesday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, 50 Bunker Hill St.

HOW LOCATION AFFECTS VALUE

There's an old saying in real estate that there are three big factors that determine a house's value: location, location, location. What makes a property well located?

First, there is the fashionable factor. Some neighborhoods are just trendier than others and command a higher price tag. A beautiful home on a congested street may sell for less than its counterpart on a quiet cul-de-sac. Convenience to good schools, transportation and shopping can also increase property values. Many buyers want a home that is an easy commute to their workplace, and they may be willing to pay top dollar to cut down travel time. Just as location will influence strongly what you will pay for a home, it will also determine its resale value.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Silva Realty Associates. Come by our offices at 142 Main St., Charlestown or call us at 242-7470.

Massport Fire Boat Ride Enjoyable And Informative

by Kathy Giordano
Massport treated a group of Charlestown residents to an Aug. 23 tour of the authority's waterfront facilities. Riding aboard Massport's fire boat, the group dined on a delicious buffet and enjoyed delightful summer weather, while viewing sites from the Mystic River in Charlestown to those along the coastline of Boston Harbor.

As each site came into view, Massport personnel informed the group of its significance, including interesting bits of background and plans for the future. On hand from Massport to answer questions and inform the group of the sites were Evelyn McElroy, assistant director for the Tobin Bridge; Toni Whitmore, maritime development project manager; Cathy Leonard-McLean, assistant director of community affairs; Lana Razadan, senior public affairs manager; and Dorothy Connolly, community liaison.

Sites included along the tour were the former Revere Sugar refinery, the Moran Container Terminal, Mystic Piers, Constitution Plaza and Marina, Logan Airport and the East Boston piers, Massport Marine Terminal, Black Falcon Cruise Terminal, the World Trade Center, Boston Fish Piers, the Tobin Bridge and the future site of the third harbor tunnel.

The tour was part of a series of community tours which included the Tobin Bridge and Massport land sites in Charlestown.

SUMMER BREEZES were enjoyed by a group of Charlestown residents who recently toured Boston Harbor as the guests of Massport. Residents were updated as to ongoing programs and plans by the authority for its various facilities by staff members. Shown front row (l. to r.) Mary MacInnes and Elaine McCarthy. Back row (l. to r.) Diabetic Foot Care We care for people... not just feet

Over time, poor blood circulation caused by diabetes can take a heavy toll on skin, nails and nerves. Persons who contract diabetes should seek an initial foot care evaluation by a podiatrist and continue to have regular check ups.

Any foot infection, redness, ingrown nails, numbness, pain or skin discoloration should be attended to immediately. Prompt action is important because diabetes can affect the nerves and result in odd pain sensations or lack of feeling.

We are foot care specialists who place a high priority on personal care and patient education. Call us today.

Jobstart Proudly Celebrates Two Years Serving Charlestown

In August 1987, Jobstart set up shop at the Bunker Hill Housing Development Tenants Task Force office. Word spread quickly about Jobstart, and in February of 1988 the Jobstart team moved to new and larger headquarters at One Thompson Square.

Since then, Jobstart has helped nearly 1,000 Charlestown residents find jobs, training or education programs which would lead to better wages and a better job. Celebrating its second anniversary this summer, Charlestown Jobstart proudly looks forward to another year of bringing the best career and training opportunities the city has to offer directly to neighborhood residents.

"The past two years have been as rewarding for me as they have been for my clients," said Charlestown counselor and resident Sherry Jackson. "When people find jobs or go through training programs as a result of coming through our doors, I really feel that we're helping to make Charlestown a better community."

A large number of Jackson's clients have skills but are not prepared to market themselves to employers. In such cases, clients are referred to the Boston Jobs Academy where they learn techniques for interviewing, presentation and resume preparation.

After placing a client in a job, the Jobstart counselor conducts 30-, 60- and 90-day follow-ups with both the client and the employer to ensure that both parties are satisfied with the placement.

Although there will be fewer training opportunities available due to funding reductions, the Jobstart office will still be open to help Charlestown residents with job and training counseling. Stop by and see Sherry Jackson or call 242-3352.

Pier 4 Rocks As Cat-Tunes Entertain At Life Focus Center Benefit Dance

Music and laughter filled the air on Charlestown Navy Yard's Pier 4 on a recent Friday night as friends of the Life Focus Center gathered for an evening of music and dancing to benefit the center's programs for the mentally retarded and physically handicapped.

Francis Kirk, attired in a white dinner jacket, opened the evening's festivities. He welcomed the crowd and thanked them for their support of the center.

The Cat-Tunes, under the direction of Mark Morris, kept the evening swinging and the dance floor crowded. Disc Jockey Bill Connell spun records during the band's breaks, so the entertainment was non-stop.

One of the highlights of the evening was when "Skipper" Correira took the microphone, belting out a rock-'n-roll number accompanied by the Cat-Tunes that would put many a professional singer to shame. His outstanding vocal was met with a standing ovation.

The benefit dance was organized by the staff of Life Focus Center, under the direction of John Reilly.

Charlestown Educator Joins Innovative Pilot Computer Education Program

Brimmer and May School in Chestnut Hill announced that Lurette Bourne of Charlestown has completed the first phase of an innovative computer education pilot program, the "Science and Whole Learning Project," sponsored by the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, under the direction of Professor Seymour Papert, inventor of the educational software LOGO, and his Media Laboratory team — The Learning and Epistemology Group.

Bourne, a graduate of Wheelock College, currently heads the Brimmer and May Computer Education Program.

The pilot program of the Science and Whole Learning Project involves two phases: in the first, Bourne and five Brimmer and May colleagues joined Professor Papert at MIT for training this summer in software that will tie together science, language arts, social studies, and mathematics.

The second phase of the Science and Whole Learning Program brings members of the MIT Team to the Brimmer and May Chestnut Hill Campus in the fall, where they will be in residence to work with the entire Lower School faculty, to supervise implementation of the Pilot Program, and to conduct research.

The Brimmer and May School, an independent day school founded in 1880, is one of 60 schools to be admitted to the Coalition of Essential Schools by Theodore Sizer, chair of the Brown University Education Department.

LUETTE BOURNE of Charlestown, educator at Brimmer and May School in Chestnut Hill, was selected recently to participate in Massachusetts Institute of Technology's Science and Whole Learning Project.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, You who solve all problems, light all roads so that I can attain my goal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evil against me and in all instances of my life. You are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things as You confirm once again that I never want to be separated from You even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with You in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy toward me and mine. (Say for three consecutive days - favor will be granted.) Prayer must be published.

Casper Says: 'Let's Stop Playing War Games'

The first responsibility of government is the safety of its citizens. Government exists to enforce the law, maintain the peace, administer justice, and protect innocent lives and property. In this fundamental duty, the government of the city of Boston has been tried, and found not merely wanton, but criminally negligent.

In my 1987 position paper on public safety, I stated that: "Drug dealers, petty criminals and murderers have moved into the neighborhoods and turned our streets into shooting galleries, endangering the lives of the innocent ... they have destroyed order in our classrooms and have literally terrorized defenseless residents."

Public safety in Boston has not improved in the last two years. In fact, it has become considerably worse. With over 100 murders in the city in 1988, homicides have increased 36 percent, drug-related killings by 250 percent. Innocent bystanders, including helpless children, are being shot down in the crossfire or murdered by predatory street gangs. Boston taxpayers have had enough. The police are overworked. The criminals behave like they own the streets. The elderly are prisoners in their own homes. For years City Hall ignored the safety of the public.

Boston is now waging war against crime, drugs and gang violence. It is engaged in a public relations charade. The time has come to break the stalemate and commence serious, effective and decisive action against the deadly epidemic on our streets.

Let's stop playing war games.

Youth gangs should be targeted for extinction. Existing provisions for mandatory sentencing and for seizure of assets of drug dealers should be broadened and strengthened. The National Guard should be called into high-crime areas, and since prison space is not available, Prisoner of War camps should be established for drug dealers and violent offenders.

All persons who commit violent crimes should be required to serve at least two-thirds of their sentence before becoming eligible for parole, instead of one-third or one-half of their sentence, as many do now. Finally, as I have repeatedly called for since 1981, the death penalty for first-degree murderers must be restored. The recent national poll revealed that three-quarters of all Americans support capital punishment.

The question of who will control the streets of the city, law-abiding citizens and the police, or ruthless drug dealers, vicious murderers and defiant gang members, must be decided in 1989. Public safety must be our first priority. Let's stop playing war games.

Painting Retrospective at Bunker Hill Community College Art Gallery

"Retrospective," a sampling of 40 years of paintings by Boston artist and professor Robert DiGiovanni, is featured at the Bunker Hill Community College Art Gallery now through Sept. 28.

This exhibit, according to the artist, has been mounted to share with the viewer the various styles his painting has undergone over the past 40 years. His early attempts in the 1950s to master the academic style in recording nature quickly gave way to a more romantic style involving a gentle distortion of the figure with muted color.

In the 1960s, DiGiovanni became involved in abstraction, geometric shapes and bold color. These non-objective paintings became the bridge to the semiabstract landscapes which began to evolve in the late '70s. That theme has been sustained over the past decade, fed by his travels throughout the world.

"My intent is to capture the emotional response one experiences when one is emerged in a new culture — a different environment," DiGiovanni says. "I hope that my paintings will transport a viewer to that shared sensual response."

DiGiovanni is on the BHCC faculty, teaching courses in the fine, creative and performing arts program. His paintings have been exhibited throughout the United States.

The exhibit is sponsored with support provided by the college's Program Development Fund, and runs from 9 a.m. to noon, Mondays through Fridays. A reception with DiGiovanni will be held on Thursday, Sept. 14, from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m.

Quick Response Averts Major Damage

QUICK RESPONSE by members of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works helped avert major environmental damage recently when a tanker truck carrying liquid asphalt rolled over near Boston's North Station. Crew members were able to contain virtually all the leaking material by erecting earth barriers around the vehicle and nearby catch basins. Among those in the crew was Michael Lacey (second left) of Charlestown.

1,000 YEARS FROM NOW

Have you wondered where you will be 1,000 years from now? The Bible reveals that you will be either in Heaven or Hell. There is no other place. You will either be raised from the dead to go into eternal life with God or into eternal damnation without God or hope. Jesus said, "All that are in the graves shall hear His voice, and shall come forth; they that have done good, unto the resurrection of Life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation" (John 5:28,29). Those who have "done good" are those who have accepted God's Son as their Savior from sin. Those who have "done evil" are those who have rejected God's plan of Salvation, which is Christ dying for sins and rising again to save men and give them eternal life. Jesus said, "Verily, Verily, I say unto you, he that heareth my word, and believeth on Him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life" (John 5:24). You must make your decision for eternity in this life now, in order to be sure where you will be 1,000 years from now. Where will you be? Come to Church where the Bible is explained.

Open Letter From St. Catherine's C.C.D. Program

Dear Parents:

In just a matter of 10 days, our parish will be opening classes for Religious Education. Mark your calendar for two important dates: Registration Day, Sept. 10 from 9:45 a.m. till noon, in the lower rectory, and Sept. 17 classes will begin in full from 9:45 to 10:30 a.m. C.C.D. classes are held every Sunday morning after the 9 a.m. Mass. We strongly encourage all our students to attend this Mass for the purpose of learning more about their Catholic faith.

Before you come to register your child, please be sure to bring along a copy of your child's baptism record, only if your child was not baptized here at St. Catherine's.

There will be a $10 book fee this year. A whole new selection of text books has just been ordered for your child's best learning abilities.

Last, but not least, our parish has always had a two-year policy involving the sacraments. For instance, if your child did not attend C.C.D. classes in the first grade, here or elsewhere, he or she will have to repeat the year before being able to receive the confirmation in the seventh and eighth grade.

We are looking forward to meeting many new and old friends on registration day.

Sincerely in Christ,
C.R.E. Julie Quinn

My Thanks

Dear Gloria,
Through you and The Charlestown Patriot I would like to express my sincere thanks to all who sent cards, flowers and prayers during my recent surgery and convalescence. One good neighbor, Jim Lordan, walked to Beth Israel Hospital to bring me flowers.
I am deeply indebted to all, and especially to my brother Edwin, who came from England to be with me during this time. Thanks to you, Gloria, for allowing me to express my feelings.

Sincerely,
Velma E. Glynn

Note Of Thanks

I would like to personally congratulate and thank John Reilly, chairman of the Life Focus Center (LFC) fund raising dance, recently held at Pier 4 in the Charlestown Navy Yard, for a job well-done.

LFC is also indebted to the many staff members and supporters who so ably assisted John in making this dance a social and financial success. We at the Life Focus Center also want to express our personal thanks to the following for their cooperation and assistance that contributed to the success of the dance: Mark Morris and the Cat-Tunes, Boston Redevelopment Authority, Boston National Historical Park, City Councillor Robert Travaglini, McCarthy Bros., Bunker Hill Council 62, Knights of Columbus, St. Mary's Parish, Officer O'Malley of the Boston Police Department, The Charlestown Patriot, Charlestown Merchants, South Boston Merchants and The South Boston Tribune.

Council Ends Summer On A Quiet Note

(continued from page one) construction company who denied the rumor and stated that the delay was due to a BRA design review approval he needed before continuing the project. Lynch added that according to Stevenson, this approval has been received, and construction of modular units will begin once they are delivered to the site.

Public Safety Committee Mel Stillman, chairman

Stillman reported on a meeting with Boston Police Commissioner Francis "Mickey" Roache, which resulted in a follow-up meeting set for Tuesday, Sept. 12 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School. Concerns raised at the prior meeting, that will be further discussed at this upcoming meeting, include: pedestrian safety in City Square, Main Street near the Eden Street Park and at Hayes Square; speed limits in the community; drug abuse; licenses for dirt bikes and mopeds; motorcycle registration; and other topics that residents feel should be addressed by the commissioner.

Council members related their individual experiences and concerns for pedestrian safety in City Square. Stillman stated that David Flanagan, community liaison for the CANA project, and other "top CANA guys" have been in that area daily to monitor the situation.

Cunha requested that the council be invited to the next CANA meeting to address the issue of pedestrian safety.

"It's CANA's responsibility to get (police) details in the square," Cunha stated. "They pay for them. They should be held accountable for their presence there."

Stillman reported that a speed trap set up on Main Street at various times during the past month has met with great success with speeders being ticketed.

McLaughlin requested that the Public Safety Committee "stay on top of this issue." He stated that this will be an "ongoing issue for quite some time. Stay on it," he concluded.

Basic Services Committee Peter Looney, chairman

Looney reported that, although his committee had not held any meetings, members have attended a Charlestown Against Drugs (CHAD) meeting and visited Camp Bunker Hill to see the program in action.

"I would like to see more people from the community attend some of these meetings on drugs and other issues," he stated. "People just don't want to believe that there is a drug problem in town."

Looney listed upcoming committee meetings. The first will take place on Monday, Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. at the Mary Colbert Apartments to discuss exhaust emissions from Olives on Main Street; on Tuesday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. at the Kent Community School, Massport representatives will present plans to beautify the area under the Tobin Bridge; and on Thursday, Sept. 28 at 7 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, all sports organizations in Charlestown who cater to children 17 and younger will be brought together in an attempt to establish an organized Charlestown youth sports group to help all teams obtain the money necessary to put the children who want to play on the field.

"I don't think people in this town realize how much it costs to put a child in sports," he stated. "Keeping them busy in sports, keeps them off the corners and from getting involved in drugs." Looney hopes that everyone involved in organized sports teams in the community will attend the meeting.

Mitigation Committee Bill Galvin, chairman

Galvin reported that he had received a letter from Marine Park Ltd. Partnership stating that a 75,000-square-foot, first-floor section of the former Amstar building on Medford Street had been leased to Bay State Express Co., which was formerly located at 50 Terminal St.

According to the letter: "Bay State is primarily in the business of trucking and warehousing freight shipped to this country from overseas, and it intends to transport containers and non-containing cargo from the Moran Container Terminal and Castle Island to warehouse space at this facility. It is also a customs-bonded warehouse, accepting merchandise still under custom's custody and is seeking a license as a customs container station."

The letter also stated that Bay State meets Chapter 91 license requirements and is a maritime use, as required by the law.

Galvin is setting up a meeting to discuss the lease between Bay State Express and Marine Park Ltd., a lease, he stated, that was entered into without notifying the community as had been promised at previous meetings with representatives of the partnerships.

"The meeting would discuss planned hours of operation, the number of trucks that will commute to the facility, environmental impacts such as noise, air pollution and traffic patterns, and how they work out with the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA)," stated Galvin.

Scheduling the meeting has posed problems because of other committee meetings. The Patriot will be notified when a date has been set.

Galvin also had trouble scheduling a meeting on the placement of a curb cut on Monument Avenue. "The curb cut is extremely unsafe," stated Galvin.

This meeting will also be announced in the Patriot.

Election Committee Kevin Roche, chairman

Roche reported that nomination papers have been distributed to various locations in the community for the Sept. 23 council election for the seven precinct seats. He stressed the need for volunteers to help out on the day of the election and requested that council members not up for re-election participate. The election will be held at the JobStart Office, One Thompson Square, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. The deadline for submitting nomination papers is Wednesday, Sept. 13 at 5 p.m. at JobStart.

Central Artery North Area Project

by David Flanagan

Community Liaison, Mass. Dept. of Public Works

The Aug. 31 water shut-off work on a high-service line in City Square was successful. The contractor was able to perform some critical work, and the impact on the community was far less than what was anticipated.

It was difficult to anticipate exactly how many homes and businesses would be affected. After contacting people the day after the shut-off, it appears as though the work had little or no impact. However, it will be necessary to shut off water services four more times over the next 18 months, and I would appreciate hearing from anyone inconvenienced by the work.

If you have any questions concerning the CANA project, please contact David Flanagan at the CANA hot line 241-5560 or 973-7500.

Boston's Commission on the Affairs of the Elderly will hold a Senior Town Meeting in Charlestown on Friday, Sept. 15 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Golden Age Center, 382 Main St. Seniors will be advised of the range of services offered by the commission, and problems which senior citizens encounter in seeking assistance will be discussed.

Another purpose of the meeting, according to Elder Affairs Commissioner Diane Watson is to "allow our seniors an opportunity to meet staff members, particularly the Community Service Advocates who work closely with individual seniors and groups in the neighborhoods on a daily basis."

Watson adds that the neighborhood forum will complement the needs assessment surveys conducted each spring by the Area Agency on Aging, which provides documentation and analysis of the many needs and concerns of Boston's elders in areas such as transportation, home care, health care, nutrition and other vital services.

FREE HEARING TESTS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

Free electronic hearing tests worth $100 will be given at Sable Hearing Service 10 a.m. - 6 p.m. at the following locations and dates:

BOSTON	EVERETT

Fri., Sept. 8 and	Mon., Sept. 11 and
Mon., Sept. 11	Thurs., Sept. 14

Joel and Marlene Sable, hearing aid specialists, will be available to give these free tests. The tests have been arranged for the many senior citizens who suspect they are losing their hearing. Such persons generally say they can hear but cannot understand conversation. Testing with the latest electronic equipment will indicate whether such a hearing problem exists and whether it can be helped electronically. For those who wish, an explanation of the causes of hearing loss and diagrams of how the ear functions will be made available by Mr. Sable.

Everyone, especially those over 60, should have an electronic hearing test at least once a year, Mr. Sable emphasized. If there is a hearing problem, a free electronic hearing test may reveal that newly developed methods of correction will help, even those now using hearing aids and those who have been told in the past that a hearing aid would not help them.

For those senior citizens wishing the free test but want to avoid waiting, an appointment for a specific day and time may be arranged by phoning Boston: 426-4543, or Everett: 389-0547.

tor Stephen Coyle requesting a meeting to discuss the relocation of the New England Aquarium to the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Coyle's request stated: "We have asked the Aquarium to study an alternative scaled-down design for Dry Dock 2 and an alternative location in Dry Dock 5, Parcel 5 (Pier II, Yard's End). Since either scenario presented a given program and proposal, I feel it would be necessary to bring it back to the Neighborhood Council for their advice and consent before the BRA Board would consider the matter for tentative designation." The council scheduled a meeting for Sept. 14 to hear a presentation on the proposals for the aquarium.

Subsequent to Tuesday's council meeting, BRA Deputy Director Ed Roche stated: "Because the New England Aquarium's architects and engineers need more time, the presentation material on the Dry Dock 5 location will not be ready to be presented to the Neighborhood Council until sometime in October. At the request of the New England Aquarium, the BRA Board review is postponed pending the Neighborhood Council presentation. Therefore, the New England Aquarium is not an agenda item for the BRA Board meeting this month."

In light of this information, McLaughlin polled members of the council and the consensus was that the aquarium meeting be postponed until a detailed presentation could be made to the council.

poned until a detailed presentation could be made to the council.

Korean War Memorial Committee Jim Conway, chairman

Conway reported that no committee meeting took place since the last council meeting, but that BRA representatives met with the principals involved in placing the memorial in Shipyard Park in the Charlestown Navy Yard. The planning and funding of the project is being looked into before the process proceeds further.

Bylaws Committee Moe Gillen, chairman

Gillen stated that the language in the council bylaws is confusing on election procedures. He requested a meeting to discuss clarifying the language. This meeting will be announced in the Patriot when a date and location is set.

New Business

McLaughlin read a letter from Don Gillis, director, Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, which requested a meeting with the council and the Water and Sewer Commission to address the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority's affect on water and sewer rates in Charlestown. The council agreed to invite a representative from the commission to the October monthly meeting.

McLaughlin also turned a request over to Stillman to set up a meeting on a Request For Proposal from Massport to lease Mystic Pier 1 in Charlestown. He asked that the Teamsters and ILA be informed of the meeting date and that Anne Aylward, Massport maritime director, be invited. This meeting will be announced in the Patriot.

The next scheduled Charlestown Neighborhood Council meeting will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 3.

We Must Address Problems Facing Boston Neighborhoods

At a recent gathering to discuss campaign strategy for Althea Garrison, she announced her candidacy for the Boston City Council At-Large.

"I am running because the city council as it exists today has failed to address the crucial problems facing Boston neighborhoods. They have failed to address the problem of real affordable housing for working families. They have failed to address the problem of drugs and its killings. They have failed in improving city services; in providing adequate services for senior citizens and they have failed to improve the quality of life for all American citizens," Garrison said.

"As taxpayers, we are constantly asked to pay more and more, and we are getting less and less. The recent 15 percent increase in taxes from working-family wages means less money for you and your family. On top of that, double water and sewage rates for small home owners mean higher expenses for less services. We are already paying too much in high taxes and getting less and less. A better future for Boston and its neighborhoods means some changes, not business as usual, are needed on the Boston City Council. Make the changes that are so badly needed; it will do you good," she said.

Garrison, has a broad range of educational, political and civil experience and states: "I am well-qualified for the job to serve my constituency and will work to pass legislation that will benefit We The People only."

Garrison has a B.S.B.A. from Suffolk University, a master's degree from the Lesley College Graduate School and a Certificate of Special Studies from Harvard University. She received a 1989 Honorary Member Award from the National Foundation for Cancer Research and is vice president of the Uphams Alumni Association, a 1989 DAV Commanders Club member and an Honorary Fellow at the J.F.K. Library. She also received a Senator's Citation Award for Outstanding Community Service.

Garrison has more than five years of governmental service experience and over five years of work experience in private industry. This is her fourth time running for City Council At-Large, and she won two primaries.

Something Stirring At The Charlestown Navy Yard

There'll be plenty stirring at the Charlestown Navy Yard on Saturday, Sept. 16 ... fifteen Bay State restaurants and the U.S. Navy frigate USS Trippe will be participating in this year's annual Chowdafest, held in conjunction with Harborpark Day.

The Chowdafest, sponsored by Bud Light in cooperation with the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of New England and WBCN-FM, will feature unlimited chowder and continuous live music by the Errol Strength Conscious Reggae Band and other musical groups. There will be special appearances by Bim Skala Bim and Judy's Tiny Head. WBCN personalities will be on hand too, with "Chachi" acting as master of ceremonies and Maurice Lewis doing live call-ins from the event.
