

Here are the signs to detect an extramarital affair.

Accurate forecasts and men consult astrologers to find out if their horoscopes indicate an ongoing affair. "How can I get my husband to stop having an extramarital affair?" or "What should I do about my unfaithful wife?" are among the most frequently asked astrological questions.

Here are the signs the astrologer looks for to detect an extramarital affair.

Extramarital affairs are likely when

Mars and Venus are conjunct the Scorpio sign in the 9th house ruled by Scorpio.

When Mercury and Moon are in Gemini, men and women are equally likely to cheat.

The Moon is in trine to Mercury if it is in the natal chart of your future spouse or bride, in which case there is a possibility of adultery.

If the Moon and Sun are strongly afflicted in the fourth house, this may also indicate a tendency toward secrecy.

If the Moon is conjunct Venus, it is likely that the person will experience feelings of intense sensuality, which may indicate a desire for extramarital partnerships.

A combination of these signs in the zodiac may increase the likelihood of infidelity.