Abdul-Nasir Jangda

Jangda is a Texas-based cleric who serves as an instructor at the Qalam Institute. According to a dossier of some detailed notes published by Jangda's students, Jangda defends the use of female sex slaves, advocates killing adulterers and chopping off the hands of thieves, supports whipping those who drink alcohol, and said of wives' duties towards their husbands: "The thing to understand is that the husband has his set of divinely given rights one of which is the right to have his physical desires satisfied."

Hussain Kamani

Kamani is a colleague of Jangda's at the Qalam Institute. In his courses and lectures, Kamani has endorsed sex slavery:

And then Allah...said if a person wishes to fulfil his desires, his common desires, there are only two ways he can fulfill these desires where he will not be held responsible for it. ... How? What are the two things? ... The first thing is that he fulfills his desires with a spouse. The second thing is that he fulfills his desires with a female slave that belongs to him.

One of the Qalam Institute's most popular courses – titled "The Prophetic Code" and taught by Kamani – warns Muslims to seek "cleanliness" and "purity", so "do not resemble the Jews." Kamani also cites religious commentary to advise parents: "Order your children to pray at the age of seven. And beat them (lightly) if they do not do so by the age of ten."

In a talk titled "Sex, Masturbation and Islam," Kamani explains that Muslim men may fulfill any sexual desires "with a female slave that belongs to him." Those who commit adultery or have sex outside of marriage, Kamani explains, must be "stoned to death." And when Muslim husbands are learning to "train their wives," beating them, Kamani concedes, should only be a "last measure."

Western society, Kamani declares, is "filth. ... We are surrounded by filth ... our environment is full of this filth, everywhere we turn."

Omar Suleiman

Omar Suleiman was condemned by moderate Muslim activists in 2013 after he described homosexuality as a "disease" and a "repugnant shameless sin." He refers to the Islamic death penalty for the "people that practiced sodomy."

In a 2012 talk titled "Fighting Zina," Suleiman claims that women who are too close with their brothers are likely to commit incest. Women, he declares, should never be alone with a man outside of her family. Further, he warns, without condemnation, that women who commit adultery risk being killed by a family member: "Sisters ... you know what happens with a really jealous Dad? He kills you and he kills the guy. You are offending Allah ... whenever you make yourself promiscuous or you open yourself up to a relationship."

Suleiman also works as an "instructor" at the Al Maghrib Institute, a prominent Salafi institution. His colleagues include Abdullah Hakim Quick, who calls upon God to "clean and purify Al-Aqsa from the filth of the Yahood [Jews]"; and Abu Eesa Niamatullah, who says of Jews: "They find it so easy and natural to do what they do....Look at them today, look at the way they massacre. They blow up babies like as if it's a computer game. They have no humanity, no morality, no ethics."

Suleiman Hani

Suleiman Hani is a hardline cleric, who writes that "'Freedom of speech' is a facade of a tool that is used inconsistently by those in power." It is used, he claims, to stifle "objective discussion" of the "Holocaust and Jews." Those who question the Holocaust, he claims, are "labeled as Anti-Semites, or 'inciters of hate speech.'"

Hani also promotes 9/11 conspiracy theories – he notes "the very strange collapse of building 7" and "the arguments about the actual perpetrators of 9/11 (and the plethora of evidence on both sides of the debate)." He concludes that "this smokescreen of a 'war on terror' has continuously been exposed as a war on Islam multiple times."

He also warns Muslims against looking at women, claiming that "lowering your gaze" will provide "insight" – the "opposite of that is the blindness which Allah attributed to the homosexuals."

Kifah Mustapha

In a video introduced as evidence during a terror financing trial in 2008, Mustapha can be heard praising terrorism, chanting: "O mother, Hamas for Jihad. Over mosques' loudspeakers, with freedom. Every day it resists with stones and the dagger. Tomorrow, with God's help, it will be with a machine gun and a rifle."

Attorney General Lisa Madigan filed a motion in federal court in 2013 noting that Mustapha "aided and abetted, or at least cheered for, terrorism" after he was caught on a video chanting "terrorist lyrics."

In October 2015, during the outbreak of the "stabbing intifada" in Israel, Mustapha posted on Facebook in support of the attacks.

Wesley Lebron

Also known as Abu Sumayyah Lebron, Wesley Lebron is a Puerto Rican activist. He runs the New Jersey chapter of IslamInSpanish, which circulates Islamic knowledge in the Spanish language.

On Facebook, Lebron is a vociferous anti-Semite. He warns Muslims "not to become like the Jews" and posts videos titled "Zionist Jew Bill Maher owned by Glenn Greenwald" and "Jews did 9/11."

Brothers and Sisters, GUARD your Deen! The only way to do so is through knowledge and by checking the sources. Lets not become like the Christians who go to church, listen to the preacher and his word becomes bond. Also, lets not become like the Jews who when brought the truth, deny and run away from it. This is your way of life, our way of life, your jannah, our jannah, your Lord, our Lord, your Prophet, Our Prophet. Give from your time to learn what will catapult you into paradise and do not go half way or a quarter of the way for we do not know if this will be enough gas to make it. Fill you tank and be prepared for the ride!

Reflect, Think, & Contemplate!
