

Bibliography

Andrews, Nancy C. "The other physician-scientist problem: where have all the young girls gone?." Nature medicine 8.5 (2002): 439-441.

"A Study on the Status of Women Faculty in Science at MIT" MIT (1999)

"A Study on the Status of Women Faculty in Science at MIT, 1996-1999" MIT Museum (2011)

Gillooly, Patrick. "New report details status of women in science and engineering at MIT." MIT News (2011)

"History Behind the 'MIT Report'" Tribute to President Charles M Vest from Women's and Gender Studies and Allies

Hopkins, Nancy. "MIT and gender bias: Following up on victory." The Chronicle of Higher Education 45.40 (1999): B4-B5.

Ingram, Janine. "IX Reasons STEM Needs Title IX: Lessons From Center Court." The Huffington Post (2014)

Lindberg, Marie. "Title IX is about STEM Too" American Association of University Women (AAUW) (2012)

Loder, Natasha. "US science shocked by revelations of sexual discrimination" Nature (2000)

"Report of the Committee on Women Faculty in the School of Engineering at MIT" MIT (2002)

"Report on the Status of Women Faculty in Science and Engineering" MIT (2011)

Sarah Rankin, Institute Title IX Coordinator. (2016, November 4). Personal interview.

Schaeffer, Sabrina. "STEM Title IX Before it Hits the Classroom" The Huffington Post (2012)

Schulte, Brigid. "Does Title IX equality for females come at males' expense?" The Washington Post (2013)

"The Next Generation of Title IX: STEM (fact sheet)" National Women's Law Center (2012)

Walters, Julie, and Connie L. McNeely. "Recasting Title IX: Addressing gender equity in the science, technology, engineering, and mathematics professoriate." Review of Policy Research 27.3 (2010): 317-332.

Wright, Sarah H. "MIT completes ground-breaking studies on status of women faculty" MIT News (2002)