

How to pick up women

Most men have the misconception that the hardest part about knowing how to pick up women is the right approach. The stress on first impression is over rated but is important nevertheless. However it is how you move forward after creating the initial good impression that matters.

The key to successfully picking up women is to be confident and project an air of self assuredness and invulnerability. You don't have to be cocky or brash, though sometimes you could be surprised to see how many women get turned on by the bad boy attitude as well. Being scared or having a gutless attitude would turn off almost any women, except those who are dominatrix's Learn how to pick up women at kezia-noble.com

The one thing you should be aware before you set out to seduce women is that there are many women out there and you don't have to make just one of them the focus of your attention. If you don't strike gold in the first attempt, try again. Being confident and self assured does not mean that you can walk right up to a woman and proposition her. You could end up getting thwacked and rebutted shamefully.

Be sure to radiate confidence and a positive attitude while at the same time maintaining charm and sophistication. Women respond positively to men with a chivalrous gentlemanly attitude. Even if you don't have one, try to cultivate it. This would be the first step in learning how to pick up women.

Learning how to smooth talk women into falling for you or having the gift of the gab is another advantageous quality you can help you learn how to pick up women. A great sense of humor helps as most women like men who can crack a joke and get them laughing. A guy with a funny bone often scores above the charming and sophisticated bloke who would appear grouchy in comparison. See how to pick up women at kezia noble ltd

The idea is to infuse a feel good factor and make the women around you comfortable and enjoying themselves. You need not behave like a clown. Women like men with a sense of humor and are not just turned on by a funny guy. If you can be funny and at the same time retain your charming ways and make it seem that your entire focus is on them, then the cat is in the bag.

Once you have made them comfortable and liking your company, the next step to know about how to pick up women are ways to get their phone number. Never ask a women for her number. Always make sure that they either give it you on their own accord or you give yours to them. There is never any hurry to do this.

Always let the oven heat up before you put the bun in. Wait for the right moment till they air is charged with amorous attraction and you are confident that the women in whose company you have been wishes to see more of you. Then fake an interruption and make an excuse to leave their company while making it clear you want to see more of them and casually write your number on a piece of paper and give it to them. It would be all done with so fast that they would be sitting there staring at your number and missing all the excitement that they had until then. How to pick up women at kezia-noble.com

A different technique to employ would be to let them know in subtle ways that it is time to leave and you would like to see them again and have the joy of their company. Then wait around for them to figure out if they want to give your number either by paying the bill or by finishing your drink. More often than not you can catch them trying to hurriedly jot down their number on a piece of paper to give to you. Otherwise you could help them out of their confusion by offering your number. Learning how to pick up women is an art as well as a marketing technique. All of us have the qualities to successfully engage in this practice but few of us do it. Most men who are adept at the seduction game would be avoided as being players and have to make sure that they don't come off as such. Pick up women using kezia noble website