Preservation Society Raises Important Questions Over Boston Edison's Coal Conversion Plan

Boston Edison has proposed that the Mystic

Power Plant, just across the river from us in Everett, be converted from oil to coal. This conversion could have a major effect on Charlestown's environment and raises many important questions: How will Boston Edison minimize coal dust in the air? How will they muffle noise from the coal crushing operation? How will solid wastes from the plant be handled? Will waste disposal result in more trucks being routed through Charlestown? What have wind studies shown about fumes blowing into Charlestown?

Perhaps the most important questions concern how Boston Edison will deal with the sulphur dioxide given off by the burning coal. Sulphur dioxide combines with moisture in the air to form sulphuric acid, the harmful component in acid rain. At present, Boston Edison has no plans to install scrubbers to remove sulphur dioxide from the coal plant emissons. By using low sulphur coal, Boston Edison may be able to meet current EPA air quality standards without scrubbers. However, will they be able to meet the stiffer standards of the acid rain legislation now being considered by Congress? Will low sulphur fuel be readily available 5 or 10 years from now, as more and more utilities convert to coal?

Carl Gustin, Director of Boston Edison's Public Information Department and another representative from Boston Edison's Environmental Department will come to the next meeting of the Charlestown Preservation Society on Sunday, April 10 at 7:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Community Center, 14 Green Street to discuss these issues. It is important to start informing ourselves now so that we can take an active role in the regulatory hearings that must be held prior to coal conversion. Let's make sure Boston Edison does it right. Come to the meeting.

Parade Committee To Meet

The Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee will meet on Tuesday evening, April 12, 1983 at 7:30 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 27 Chestnut Street.

ASBESTOS LUNG DISEASE

Asbestos dust causes serious lung ailments; the diseases appear suddenly, years after exposure. Today numerous shipyard workers, masons, and pipefitters of the 1930's-1970's have lung afflictions because they inhaled asbestos particles many years ago.

If you worked in one of those professions then and now have a lung disease, you may be eligible to receive money damages or workers' compensation. Relatives of living and deceased victims can also recover in some cases.

Quinn Scholarship Update

Ann-Marie Duffy, a 1977 graduate of Boston Technical High School, became the first woman to win the Quinn Scholarship upon graduation that year. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Duffy of Wallace Court, Charlestown, went on to attend Simmons College where she was graduated in 1981.

Presently, Ann-Marie is a unit manager for the Massachusetts General Hospital and makes her home in Medford. In the near future Ms. Duffy plans to return to school to pursue an MBA degree in graduate studies. The first woman recipient recently stated, "The Quinn Scholarship was a tremendous aid in helping finance my education. Without scholarships such as the Quinn, I think it would be impossible for many talented Charlestown students to seek a quality education. It is definitely an investment in the future of the community."

Ann-Marie in 1977, was a trend setter. She continues to set the pace for future winners as she actively pursues new life goals, while she builds on her past accomplishments. In her own words the Quinn Scholarship was an "investment". As Ann-Marie continues to prosper, she has become an investment that has achieved blue chip dividends.

ABCD Questions Kennedy Center On Board Turnover And Other Issues

sed to Kennedy Center Board President Joseph Kent and dated March 25, from ABCD Executive Director Robert M. Coard questioning the recent turnover on the Kennedy Center Board of Directors and the resignation of "many key staff positions." The letter also requested a statement from the center's auditors on its financial condition and stated that a status evaluation of Head Start, the Neighborhood Employment Center and community programs will be done.

The receipt of the letter by Kent, the Kennedy Center Board, and Kennedy Center Executive Director Leo Carey came as an additional surprise, following in the wake of the one they received during the March 28, 1983 full board meeting. At that time, the board was shown a copy of the minutes of the February 23, 1983 ABCD Board Meeting in which the Kennedy Center was negatively discussed, saying, the center "had a complete turnover in staff and board members over the past few months."

The minutes also said that ABCD had "received conflicting reports both in the local press and through reports issued by the former board officers as to the financial condition of the center."

The minutes continued saying that Coard would communicate with the Kennedy Center requesting appropriate information and reports as to the center's financial condition and administrative capability.

"I don't think the letter from Mr. Coard is fair," said Carey in an interview. "I feel the center is under fire and that conclusions have been drawn in such a way as to give misleading inferences."

"I think the Kennedy Center board has been trying to correct past problems in an appropriate manner. The letter would make it appear the opposite."

"Unfortunately, ABCD has forced us into a public airing of all the facts," said Carey, adding that the complete text of the letter will be answered in a letter to the editor in next week's edition of the Patriot.

"I'm very surprised," said Kent. "I feel that Coard has been misled and that the letter is full of inconsistencies. This appears to be vindictive. Someone is out to hurt me but they are really hurting the people of Charlestown."

Neither Kent nor Carey knew how Coard was receiving information regarding the center as Coard has not been in touch with either man. However, it is known that one major link between the ABCD board and Kennedy Center Board members who resigned, in mass, last December is Charlestown resident Jean Babcock who until March 31, 1983 served on the ABCD Board as City

Councillor Ray Flynn's representative. Babcock sat on the ABCD Board as Vice President.

However, Flynn has issued a letter to Coard stating that he has appointed Robert Wallace as his representative to the ABCD Board. Wallace serves on the Kennedy Center Board and is EDC (Economic Development Corporation—a subsidiary corporation of the Kennedy Center) President. Under ABCD's Charter, all Boston City Councillors have a seat on the full ABCD board.

In his letter, Coard seems most concerned with the changes in the board membership, employee resignations and the center's financial situation, all which are explainable.

The major turnover in the Kennedy Center Board came as a result of the October, 1982 APAC/Kennedy Center Elections in which board members Matthew O'Neil, Michael Donovan and Helen Lawler lost their bids for re-election and were replaced by new board members.

In December, 1982, former Board President James Cushman, Board Secretary Joseph Owens, Board Treasurer Joseph Blaikie and board members Mary Sexton, Mary Noyes and Susan Werman-Dole resigned unexpectedly. At that time, Babcock also submitted her resignation, however, her appointed term as a Kennedy Center Board Member had already expired in November.

With these resignations and the October election, considerable changes were made to the Kennedy Center Board of Directors, once vacated seats were filled.

Concerning the resignation of staff, three employees resigned. They included former director John Gardiner, who resigned effective September 30, 1982, to accept a position as an Area Director for the Massachusetts Department of Social Services; Blaine Stone, former business manager; and Steve Shuman, Headstart Director who left to pursue career goals. No other resignations have occurred, nor has Carey dismissed any employees.

The letter also referred to the Kennedy Center's deficit of $182 thousand which conflicted with a statement of a "potential $165 thousand surplus" as expressed in the December 1982 letter of resignation from former board members. "That's true," said Carey.

"However, they didn't read the next line in the story (January 27, 1983 edition of Charlestown Patriot) which said we expected to break even in a few months." Since Carey's appointment as director of the center, he has found the center's budget had been seriously hurt by past poor accounting practices which disguised the center's true financial situation and instead made it look as though the center had cash on hand.

"I think ABCD has cast a cloud on the Kennedy Center while trying to cover their own inadequacies," said Carey referring to a portion of a letter in which Coard said an independent audit of the center was requested February 12, 1982.

"If Cushman ever received a letter stating that," said Kent, "then he never told us. However, prior to that letter, in a February 9, 1982 board meeting (former board member) Representative Richard Voke asked, in a motion that a full report be given on the Kennedy Center."

This motion concerned all expenditures from February 12, 1980 involving credit cards under the name of the Kennedy Center and requested dates, amounts, names and purposes for which those funds were expended. The full request of that motion was never complied with by then Director John Gardiner.

In his letter, Coard said that reports furnished by the Kennedy Center, at his request, will be reviewed by the Neighborhood Programs/Planning and Evaluation Committee of the ABCD Board and recommendations would follow.

The Kennedy Center receives $465,027 annually from ABCD which would be jeopardized if the center is found in non-compliance with governmental funding requirements.

Attorney General's Office Continues Investigation Of Kennedy Center

by Maria Girvin

The Kennedy Center continues correspondence with the attorney general's office according to discussion that took place during the March 28 Kennedy Center board meeting. Meanwhile, three audits are being conducted on the center, one by Peat Marwick and Mitchel & Co. who annually audit agencies who receive federal money; Kiley and Kitses who annually audit the center's books; and by state auditors, who now audit all state vendors in accordance with a recently passed law requiring that all vendors be audited once every two years.

According to Executive Director Leo Carey, he is not sure whether the state audit is being done in accordance with the new law or has been ordered by the attorney general's office as part of their probe into Kennedy Center activities. Carey said he knew that the auditors had been in touch with the investigating assistant attorney general Kevin Sufern's office.

Facts surrounding the probe are being kept under wraps by board members on advice of the Kennedy Center's lawyer. However, it was mentioned during the board meeting that the A.G.'s office is investigating checks written by former Executive Director John Gardiner for unknown reasons.

The board voted a Personnel Committee to review personnel policy changes made recently during an executive board meeting to comply with OFC (Office for Children) guidelines for day care centers.

Presently, the Kennedy Center is in the process of applying for a new day care license from OFC, as their last license for a day care facility in the First Baptist Church was allowed to expire.

Eileen McClellan, Brian Hickey, Anne Wallace, Phil Coleman and Edna Kelly were voted to sit on the committee which must iron out the personnel policies which already have caused some trouble for the center, in particular, concerning former business manager Blaine Stone.

According to Carey, the Kennedy Center was ordered by the State Labor Relations Board to pay Stone $125 for wages withheld prior to Stone's abrupt resignation.

Carey also said that under Gardiner's leadership, some employees were allowed tuition reimbursement, however, Carey would like to see such a policy enacted for all staff members of the center who meet certain criteria outlined by the Kennedy Center Board.

Other issues that will be addressed by the Personnel Committee will concern the pay week which presently is computed a week in advance, before the employees actually work. Carey would like to have time cards submitted after the work week and pay checks issued every other week rather than twice a month.

The topic of considerable heated discussion at the board meeting was the elderly van provided by the Kennedy Center, which board member Ellie Marino says is scheduled with prejudice rather than on a first-come, first-serve basis.

It was agreed by Carey that a presentation would be given at the next board meeting on how the van was scheduled and the problems which surround this type of operation.

Other issues discussed included:

*That Carey meet with members of the Kent School Community Program Council to discuss the Kennedy Center's involvement with the teen center in so far as whether anti-drug literature can be made available to teens who utilize the center.

*To investigate the condition of a Kennedy Center owned van, loaned to the Life Focus Center, to see if the van is operable. If not operable, Carey has been ordered by the board to cancel auto insurance now being paid on the van.

*The center has received a $9 thousand grant from the Boston Parks and Recreation Department to create a club house at Ryan Park for recreational programming. The Kennedy Center has agreed to maintain the park in return for the grant. The club house will be run between May 15 and October 15, 1983.

*Brian Hickey was voted by the full board to fill the ABCD board seat, vacated recently by Reverend Isaiah Sears.

*The Community Center Advisory Board has agreed to turn over all financial information to the Kennedy Center so that they may consolidate their bookkeeping, however, the advisory board will continue control over the Community Center's activities.

Heart Care Program At The Library

Heart Disease among older adults is a common concern but few of us think of it in relation to children. Nevertheless, as many as 40,000 children are born with heart defects each year, and, even among healthy children, poor diet or illness can affect a child's heart. Carol Moskowitz, of the American Heart Association, will discuss heart care and children during the Parents' Discussion Group program "Heart Health for Children" at 10:00 a.m. Friday, April 8.

In Virginia Apgar's "Is My Baby Alright?" the doctor-author discusses the different congenital heart diseases and the surgery and treatments available. She stresses that while the prognosis for many children is good, some infants die shortly after birth because of the severity of their birth defect. In "The Heart Doctors' Heart Book," a team of doctors prescribe exercise and a good diet to help children maintain a healthy heart, and Dr. Milton Levine offers an excellent exercise and diet plan for young children in "Your Overweight Child." For more information about medical books or programs available at the library, stop by the library at 179 Main Street or call 242-1248.

Views On Dental Health

by Jeffrey D. Cohen,
D.M.D.

QUACK DENTAL CURES

According to the American Dental Association, Americans spend an estimated $2 billion a year on health quacks and quack products. Denture (false teeth) construction and repair is one of the areas abused by quacks.

Dentures fitted by unqualified persons and mail order dentures, can damage mouth tissues. Some damage, such as excessive bone loss, is irreversible. Constant irritation from an ill-fitting denture, if continued over a long period of time, may contribute to the development of open sores and other serious lesions such as tumors.

Persons in extreme discomfort from the ill-fitting dentures tend not to use them. This is not only a waste of good money but could lead to shrinking gums which will make the fit even worse, and eating without teeth can lead to digestive problems.

Poorly-fitting dentures can cost you more in the long run when the damage they cause has to be corrected. For your health, comfort, pleasure and appearance, go only to professionals when it comes to your dental health.

A public service to promote better dental health.

Irish Update

by Marty O'Brien

The monthly meeting of the Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society was held on Wednesday, evening, March 30, at the American Legion Hall. This, the first meeting of the newly elected Executive Board, was a most productive meeting consisting of general discussion of the upcoming events of the Society and passage of several motions vital to the progress of the Society.

One such motion, which will hopefully clear up some confusion, was a motion concerning dues for members. This motion requires all NEW members to pay an initiation fee of $10.00. All other members are only obliged to pay a $5.00 renewal for 1983.

The Constitution and By-Laws Committee met on Monday evening, April 4th to finalize the re-writing of the Society's Constitution and By-Laws. The final draft will be presented for approval at the April meeting.

The cultural committees on Irish History, Irish Music, Irish Literature, and Irish Language will meet this Tuesday evening, April 12, at 7:00 p.m. at the American Legion Hall. Anyone interested in working on any of these committees is welcome to attend.

Besides the above mentioned committees, there are numerous other committees of the BHIHS looking for the participation of the membership. The Finance, Social, Athletic, and Installation Committees are but a few of those committees that could use a helping hand. With membership in the vicinity of 800 members, it should be possible to spread the workload of the various committees to a large number of those members. If anyone is interested in any specific committee(s), please drop a line to the BHIHS, P.O. Box 202, Charlestown, MA 02129.

The 1983 Gaelic Football season is about to begin. The chairman of the Irish Athletic Committee of the BHIHS, Paul Morceau, has scheduled registration for Thursday, April 7th, at the Medford Street Gym from 6 to 9:00 p.m.; and Tuesday, April 12th, at the American Legion Hall from 6 to 8:00 p.m. There are teams for boys age 9 through 18, and the registration fee will be $4.00 per player.

The Gaelic Athletic Association (GAA) is looking for adults to referee Gaelic football games. Anyone interested in this aspect of the game can contact Paul Morceau at 242-4781 or Pat Locke at 242-4057.

Congratulations to Dennis McLaughlin on his nomination and subsequent election to fill the vacant position of Advocate of the BHIHS.

Plans are being made for another BHIHS social to be held in May. Tentative plans are for May 14th at St. Catherine's Hall. Watch the Patriot for further information.

Charlestown Woman Writes Book

Available in the Charlestown Public Library is a Todd & Honeywell publication entitled Education in Lust at the Glass School House by Paula Stone. This is the type of story which all America fears but a true story which has to be told.

The novel concerns a former Charlestown woman who is forced to deal with her uncaring family and unfaithful husband.

It is also a disturbing picture of life at the Denny School, a typical educational establishment with a typical "extra-curricular" activities - sex and lust, alcohol, and drugs.

This action packed story includes incredible incidents of human cruelty as mental illness and alcohol addiction threaten a family. And, as this is a true story, readers should not look for the proverbial silver lining - just a poignant, realistic picture of life in America.

CWT To Begin Season With "Awake And Sing"

The Charlestown Working Theater (CWT) is rehearsing their first play of the season entitled Awake and Sing by Clifford Odets which will begin performances Thursday, May 12 and run through Tuesday, June 7.

Laurie Zallen of Charlestown, will be making her CWT directing debut as director of Awake And Sing. Zallen has been an actor with CWT since the theater began. She has directed one other play before.

Jim Doherty and Willie Holgate of Charlestown have been cast in the play and two other Charlestown residents, Randy Warren and Suzanne Kovise will be in charge of sets and costumes, respectively.

Awake and Sing was chosen by CWT's play review committee because of the similarities between it and Charlestown. Although a story about the inter-relations of a Jewish family, Awake and Sing is also about a blue-collar, extended family in the 1930's and involves a young man and woman in their early 20's, a mother and father, a grandfather and uncle and a boarder.

"It's a story about people who are poor and struggling to take command over their lives," explained Barbara Thornton, a Charlestown volunteer helping with the spring production.

Also in the play are Bob Sacchetti, Edie Rabinowitz, Sherryl DeVries, Josh Perlstein, Ira Soulette, Gary Kirby, and Charles Bring.

While casting has been completed for Awake and Sing, many are needed to help with props, make-up, costume and backstage. All are welcomed to volunteer.

Upcoming plays at CWT include Margaret's Ghost which will open in early July and a dance show June 4 and 5 by Charlestown children who have been training under Bobbie DiCarlo. "A lot of little 'Townies' will be making their debut in that one," said Thornton.

Children's Films

The Spring Films for School-age Children Program will be held on Tuesday afternoon, April 12, 1983 at 3:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street.

The featured films will be "Dinosaur," a report about dinosaurs come to life for a fifth-grade class; "Grizzly Golfer," a story of when Mr. Magoo and his nephew meet a bear on the golf course; and "Mother Rabbit's Family," a story of Hoppy the Bunny's curiosity and how it gets him in trouble.

REHEARSING the upcoming CWT production of "Awake and Sing," the cast sits in an empty theatre waiting for volunteers to help design props, and other production tasks.

IN CHARGE OF SETS, Randy Warren follows the script as the cast of "Awake and Sing" rehearse their parts.

COSTUME DESIGNER Suzanne Kovise studies the script during a thoughtful moment.

DIRECTOR Laurie Zallen listens to her performers read their scripts. This will be Zallen's first CWT Directorship.

Shipbuilding Returns To Charlestown Navy Yard

Shipbuilding will return to historic Charlestown Navy Yard on April 16, 1983 with the keel-laying of the "Spirit of Massachusetts", a two-masted schooner designed to recapture Massachusetts' glorious days of wooden ships and China trade. The ceremony will take place at 2:30 p.m. before an audience of government and maritime officials. The public is invited to attend. (Rain date: Sunday, April 17, 1983).

The ship is being built by New England Historic Seaport, Inc. in association with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and is funded by public and private donations.

Governor Michael S. Dukakis will burn the ship's name and logo into the schooner's keel with a hand-forged branding iron made for the ceremony by Rob Lyon, Old Sturbridge Village's blacksmith.

Henry Dormitzer of New England Historic Seaport; Commander H.O. Sudholtz, U.S.N.; Ernest A. Lucci, Commerce Commissioner, will join the Governor at the ceremony.

The new windjammer will be launched and fitted in time to welcome the return of the tall ships to Boston in June 1984 for the Donald McKay Festival. McKay was the master shipbuilder whose East Boston shipyard produced the fastest vessels in the world during the era of the China trade and the California gold rush.

The design of the "Spirit", by Melbourne Smith, follows the traditional lines of the two-masted, fore and aft schooners. Approximately 125 feet to the tip of her bowsprit with a 100 foot mainmast, the schooner will have a 70 foot keel of close-grain hardwood.

"The 'Spirit of Massachusetts' will be a worthy good-will ambassador for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and her sponsors," said Evelyn F. Murphy, Secretary of Economic Affairs. "She will be a symbol of our proud maritime heritage."

"The building of the schooner will provide a learning opportunity at the Navy Yard for Massachusetts school children to see how the great ships were built 100 years ago," Dormitzer said. "It will be an open air classroom on our maritime history."

The "Spirit of Massachusetts" will spend approximately three months of the year in Boston Harbor with on-board tours for school children, tour groups, and the general public. She will also serve as a training ship for young people who will learn seamanship above deck and history and navigation below deck.

The ship will cruise the shores of North and South America and the Caribbean. She will also be available to corporate contributors for on-board entertaining and charters.

To Appear In Court Friday

In the news story in the March 31, 1983 edition of the Patriot, entitled "Seven Arrested On Rape and Kidnapping Charges," it was reported that John Aubrey turned himself in to police on Tuesday, March 29. It should have read that Joel Durham was one of the two who turned themselves in.

Also, in testimony presented in Charlestown District Court at the arraignment of the seven arrested on these charges, Suffolk County Assistant District Attorney Donald Feener told the open court that all the defendants but Aubrey had "extensive involvement with police" and that Mahoney is on bail "on another case similar to this." According to records at Suffolk Superior Court, this case is currently pending trial.

The seven defendants, all of whom pled not guilty to the charges, are slated to appear in Charlestown District Court on Friday, April 8 for a Probable Cause Hearing.

Ida Moore, A Decade Of Volunteer Services

by Karen Miller

Ida Moore of Charlestown celebrated her 85th birthday on March 31st and also marked her 10th year as a volunteer at the Rutherford Avenue elderly nutrition site. She gives all the credit for her long, healthy life to her mother, who she says, "brought me up right!"

Ida was born in Haverhill, Massachusetts, and grew up mainly in Brookline. She attended the Warren-Prescott School in Charlestown. Ida explains, "Those days were hard. My mother worked twelve hours a day to support me, my sister, and my grandmother who also lived with us."

Ida was very close to her grandmother, a retired college teacher, who taught her how to read, write, and spell at a very young age. As a result, Ida was double-promoted from first to third grade. Ida's mom died at age 57. Her grandmother lived to be 82.

Ida says she really enjoyed school and would have liked to go on to college, but her family couldn't afford it, something her mother always regretted. To help with the family finances, Ida attended Charlestown High School at night and worked days as a cashier/bundle girl at Raymond's Department Store in downtown Boston. She was also employed for a short time at the Hood Rubber Company in Watertown where she cemented boot linings.

At age 23 Ida married her husband of 57 years, William, whom she had met through her mother. He played piano at the local church and drove a truck for an Everett company. They had one son, Edward, now a machinist living in southern California with his wife. They have two children and two grandchildren. Ida enjoyed a visit and vacation with them just last year.

Serious illness clouded the last ten years of William's life. Even when he became completely confined to the house, Ida did her best to keep her husband at home and care for him herself. William died six years ago at age 87 but Ida says she still misses him to this day.

Ida feels fortunate to have a place like the nutrition site to come to each day. She says it's a nice change of pace, an opportunity to meet nice people, and it keeps her from getting too lonesome. Her help in serving about thirty meals each day has been invaluable to the program.

Margaret Turner has been the manager since the site opened at Rutherford Avenue nearly ten years ago. She states, "In ten years Ida has hardly missed a day. She is very dependable, dedicated, and certainly an asset to the program. She's very kind and fair, always willing to help and always has a good word to say about everyone."

Ida loves Charlestown and its people. Throughout her years as a resident, she's remained active in the Green Street Congregational Church and volunteers at its special suppers and craft fairs. She also enjoys playing beano at the Kennedy Center, a neighborhood social service agency.

Ida attributes her good health to many years of getting lots of fresh air, eating good food, and helping others. She claims she never smoked or drank liquor and loved to walk wherever she went.

Though a little arthritis in her feet has slowed her down, she hopes to stay active as a volunteer for as long as she's able.

The Charlestown Youth Mite Hockey Team sporting an impressive 14-3-3 record in the Beverly Mite Instructional League has clinched second place and with one game remaining can garner 33 points out of a total possible 44 points. The Charlestown Mites will enter the Playoffs on April 10 and will play either the Cape Ann or Lynnfield Team in the first round.

The team, featuring a strong defensive unit led by Jimmy Gillen, Mark Chardavoyne, Billy Lynch and first year player Paul Hooley, have been outstanding all year and largely responsible for the team's success. Goalie Pat Owens, new to the position, has adapted well and become a team leader as he has kept the team in the many close games during the second half of the season.

The nine forwards, all first year players, have developed impressively during the year and will become the foundation of future Charlestown hockey success. The forward corps includes Richie Hagerty, Josh Smith, Jonathan Lent, Chris Donovan, Brian Lacey, Mark Mansfield, Sam Richardson, Justin Raymond and Paul Myers. Coaches Tom Lent, Mike Donovan and Charlie Richardson have been enthusiastic and helpful in developing a cohesive team spirit and keeping the game in perspective for the boys so that the 1982-83 hockey season has been enjoyable as well as successful. Good luck in the Playoffs!

Local Players In Team USA Tourney

by Andrea Morin

The North Star Youth Forum in Westboro will play host to the Team USA International Hockey Tournament, April 4-10.

Representing Charlestown on the Melrose Sports Shop Major Junior "A" Team will be, Danny Campbell, John Fidler and Paul Anthony of Malden Catholic High School and Eddie and Dan Considine of Charlestown High School.

Bob Harris, co-ordinator of International Sports and Team USA, is sponsoring the tournament for the third year to help his Team USA players gain competition experience before going overseas.

The Melrose Jr. "A" team, selected by Coach Bob Simpson, will face off against current high school hockey sensation Brian Lawton and the Rhode Island Rebels in their opening game Friday, April 8 at 6:40. On Saturday, April 9 at 9:10, their opponents will be St. John's Prep (Danvers), and on Sunday, April 10 they'll meet the Flyers at 7:30.

"I think our chances are excellent," Simpson stated. "We had a powerful team." In addition to the "Townie Connection", Melrose features Craig Cheevers, son of Boston Bruin coach, Gerry Cheevers; St. John's Eddie McCarthy; the coach's son, John Simpson, and Elio DiBiase (St. John's Danvers) in nets.

"We usually get a pretty big gathering," Bob Simpson said, but conceded that the tournament's attendance may be down this year because the Hockey Night In Boston Super Series (featuring Massachusetts high school players against the best Minnesota high school players) takes place April 8-10. Because of Hockey Night In Boston commitments, "I've lost Ken Hodge and Peter Heinze for this tournament,"

Simpson said.

Teams for mites to midgets, junior "A" and oldtimers will take part in the tournament. There are eight teams in each group and they are divided into two divisions of four teams each. The teams with the best record in the divisional grouping will meet for the championship on April 12.

Tickets prices are $2 for a game, $5 for the tournament. Further information may be obtained by calling Melrose Sporting Goods at 665-6468.

John Curtin

Vesey And Considine — Superstar Centers

by Andrea Morin

They showed that they could skate with the best of New England's hockey players. Hockey Night In Boston's lowly (0-4) Division Two team did. And Charlestown's own superstar centers Jimmy Vesey (Columbus) and Dan Considine (Charlestown High) finished near the top of the Division Two scoring charts.

Vesey, with one goal and two assists, finished the All Scholastic Tournament tied for second place with Rich Evans (also one goal, two assists) from Cohasset.

Considine had two goals, out of the team total of twelve, which tied him for third place with four other Division Two players. Division Two's high scorer was Dan Bowen of Cohasset with three goals and one assist.

Division Two was swept out of the tourney by scores of 7-2, Private; 5-4, North; 13-2, South; and 7-4 Catholic, on successive days starting March 26.

"We were as good as anybody in Division One," tri-coach Buddy Ferreira said. "The other teams had more depth than we did. We came on at the very end, the last two games," he continued, "and I thought we played well. Except for the game against South, I thought we were in all of them."

"We lost two close games," Vesey agreed. "I thought we played good.

We could play with those kids."

The Hockey Night In Boston Scholastic Tournament was a showcase of top New England hockey talent for college and professional scouts. "I thought it (the Tourney) was pretty good because you got to play in front of the scouts," Vesey said. "It's good exposure to the college coaches."

"Both Danny and Jimmy are hard workers," Ferreira said. "Jimmy is a little more aggressive. He uses his body; he's more of a banger."

"Considine is more of a fitness player. He can move the puck; he can deke you; he can do a lot of things."

"They're both excellent players," Ferreira continued. "Both guys can put it in the net."

Vesey and Considine impressed some scouts. "He'll be a good Division One college player," one college coach said of Vesey.

"Danny's got a real good shot," Boston College assistant coach Steve Cedorchuk said. "He makes good plays and he's as tough as nails. Some of the pro teams are interested in him."

Maybe they did get something out of the tourney besides an embarrassing 0-4 record. They showed they could skate with the best, and maybe this June they'll go one step further.

Local Hockey Players In "College Day" Tourney

by Andrea Morin

"Aren't there any rules in this game?" a spectator asked as the action became heated during the Massachusetts Junior Hockey League's "College Day" game between the MJHL 1982-83 Champion Lowell Chief Juniors and the Boston Junior Beacons at Boston College's McHugh Forum, Sunday, March 27.

There's an old cliché that aptly sums up game one of the two game tourney, "I went to a fight and a hockey game broke out." Not even funny? Neither is a stick fight.

The score had already been settled, 5-3 in favor of Lowell. With 55 seconds left in the game Eddie Considine for the "Beacons" and Jim McCann for Lowell were given major penalties for fighting. McCann also picked up a minor for slashing. They went to the penalty box, not the locker room. After the final buzzer sounded the benches emptied and both teams converged onto the ice. Danny Considine and a Lowell player exchanged "words". As the referee was leading Considine away from a possible altercation, McCann turned to Eddie Considine and hit him with a two hander squarely on the helmet. "He started jabbing me in the face with his stick," Considine said, "and then he hit me over the head with it." Considine retaliated and their teammates jumped in fists flying.

The "Beacons" John Torchetti claims that the melee started, "because the refs should have put (Considine and McCann) in the locker room. There wasn't enough time left there for them to expire the penalty."

Now back to hockey.

The "Beacons" held a 2-1 lead on two Torchetti goals going into the third period. The first goal came with 1:40 left in the first period after a faceoff in the "Beacon's" offensive zone. Torchetti was in front of the net and directed home the rebound of an Eddie Considine slapshot. Torchetti's second goal came on the powerplay at 8:47 of the second period with Eric Mandell in the penalty box for high sticking. That score was the result of "playing positional hockey" Torchetti said. "The puck went from Eddie (Considine) to Danny (Considine) to me, and I just put in the rebound."

Lowell tied the score with 35 seconds gone in the third period when Danny Ryan connected from Terry Gorman. Dave Hallet came back to haunt the "Townies" when the Medfield High star scored Lowell's go ahead goal unassisted at 2:09. (Medfield defeated Charlestown in the first round of the MIAA High School Tournament mainly due to the play of Hallet and Bobby Davis.)

The "Beacons" let down after Lowell's third goal and the "Chiefs" took the game to them. Bobby Davis (also from Medfield) and Terry Gorman on the powerplay tallied for Lowell.

Paul Anderson, unassisted, got the margin to within two goals when he scored the "Beacons" final goal with 1:33 left in the game.

Lowell opened the scoring at 9:48 of the first period when Dean Snell slid a backhand between Mike Giordano's pads.

"It was a rough game," Danny Considine said. But "it was a good game. They just kept the pressure in our end," added Bobby Allen.

The "Beacons" used three goalies; Giordano started in the nets. He was replaced by Joe Bernardini after the end of the first period, and Eric Johnson relieved Bernardini with 1:04 left in the second. Lowell out shot the "Beacons" 30-24. Giordano stopped nine, Bernardini ten and Johnson 11.

The MJHL planned "College Day", a two game tournament, to showcase players who haven't received attention from college scouts or the media in their high school leagues, according to Joe Mallon, head coach of the "Beacons" for the "College Day" game and head hockey coach at U-Mass, Boston.

The "Beacons" featured Boston City League All Stars and other players from City League teams and Boston Latin School. The players were selected for the team on the basis of an open tryout.

The roster for the "Beacons" was: Joe Sodergren, Eric Johnson, Bobby Allen, Dan Considine, Eddie Considine and Kevin Woods from Charlestown High; Brian Walsh, South Boston; Jeff Fiore, Hyde Park; Bernardini, Torchetti and Joe Beal, Jamaica Plain; Giordano, Brian Smith and Chris Walsh, Boston Latin; Eddie Amico and John Currie, Latin Academy; and Charles Cambria and Eddie Ciano, East Boston.

Game two was won by the Southeast Corsairs, 2-1, over the Boston Junior Mariners. Charlestown locals who played for the "Mariners" were Dan Campbell, John Fidler and Larry Campbell all of Malden Catholic and Gerry O'Neil of Boston Latin.

Makes Appointment To ABCD Board

March 31, 1983

Mr. Robert M. Coard
Executive Director
Action for Boston Community Development, Inc.
178 Tremont Street
Boston, Mass. 02111
Re: March 25, 1983 letter from Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. to the John F. Kennedy Family Service Center in Charlestown.

Dear Mr. Coard:
I am deeply concerned about the possible loss of crucial funding for the John F. Kennedy Service Center.

As you are aware, the Action for Boston Community Development, Inc. has allocated $465,027 of its annual budget for the operation of several programs, and has done so for many years.

In my opinion, the Kennedy Center Board as it is presently constituted is an extremely conscientious community-spirited group of people and has an outstanding professional staff as well, who are committed to bringing worthwhile social programs to that community. Loss of funding would result in the curtailment of vital programs so essential to the well-being of the Charlestown community. These programs include: Head Start, the Neighborhood Employment Center and other community programs that serve many residents including the elderly. Let me be as strong in my support to the retention of this funding as I possibly can.

Additionally, as we discussed several weeks ago, it has always been my personal feeling that a member of the Kennedy Center Board should be represented on the ABCD Board. To continue that status, I am henceforth submitting the name of Mr. Robert Wallace of 11 Mt. Vernon Street, Charlestown, to be my representative on the ABCD Board. I feel that Mr. Wallace who is a member of the Kennedy Center Board and who has a demonstrated longstanding record of concern to the people of Charlestown, as well as other neighborhoods of the city of Boston would make an excellent representative. Mr. Wallace is also the President of the Charlestown Economic Development Corporation.

I would be more than happy to discuss any of the above with you at your earliest convenience.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Raymond L. Flynn,
Boston City Councillor

Pledges To Work For Boston Poor

April 5, 1983

Boston City Councillor Raymond L. Flynn
Boston City Council
Boston, Mass. 02201
Dear Councillor Flynn:

I appreciate your confidence in selecting me to represent you at the A.B.C.D. Board of Directors. I willingly accept the seat as your representative and promise that I will act prudently and honestly and in the best interest of all Boston residents serviced by that agency. Charlestown is my primary interest so I must confess I will do whatever is within my power to assure that Charlestown is treated fairly and equitably. I believe that the best way to accomplish that end is to insure that all A.B.C.D. activities are open for public review and scrutiny. The mandate of A.B.C.D. is to serve all Boston's poor and as along as A.B.C.D. provides those services fairly and openly to all eligible Boston residents then Charlestown will benefit.

Again, thank you for your confidence.

Sincerely,
Bob Wallace

Interest Is Jobs For Charlestown

March 30, 1983

Jane Duetch
Director of Personnel
Massport
Boston, Mass.

Dear Ms. Duetch:

The Board of the Kennedy Center has directed me to inform Massport of its concern regarding the participation of Charlestown residents in employment opportunities available with the Authority.

The Kennedy Center, as Charlestown's Human Service Agency, has a direct interest in advocating for the inclusion of community residents in all employment opportunities, full time, part-time, seasonal, and temporary.

The impact of Massport in Charlestown is immense while the number of Charlestown residents employed by the Authority is proportionately small. How Massport arrived at this inequitable ratio is unimportant.

Our interest is in insuring that in the future there will be adequate representation of Charlestown residents in the filling of all job openings at Massport.

We invite you to meet with the officers and staff of the Kennedy Center at your convenience.

Sincerely,
Leo Carey
Executive Director

Charlestown Historical Society To Meet

There will be a meeting of the membership of the Charlestown Historical Society on Monday evening, April 11, 1983 at 7:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall on 27 Chestnut Street. A special feature of the evening will be a tape and slide presentation produced by the Kennedy Center entitled "Charlestown, Our Home Town".

The main topic for discussion at this meeting will be the future of the Bunker Hill Museum. Hopefully, at this time negotiations between The National Park Service and the city of Boston for a lease arrangement for the Old Library Building will have been completed. This will allow the Park Service to make some major repairs to the building such as installing a new boiler. While the Park service and the city have been negotiating a lease arrangement, the Board of Directors have been holding discussions with the Park Service for a special use permit. All of this will allow the Society to continue to operate the museum and to have the first floor hall for meetings and other programs.

While the Park service will assume the responsibility for major alterations to the museum building, the society will still be required to provide for the daily upkeep of the building. In order to meet these expenses the society will be holding a "time" on Friday evening, April 29, 1983 at the American Legion Hall. Tickets are priced at $5.00 and may purchased by calling Arthur Hurley at 242-2724 or Florence Johnson at 241-8131.
