

Flickr Find: Say Hello To The Mac-in-Craft

You can build a number of things in the gigantic sandbox game Minecraft, including a gigantic floating Macintosh computer. Flickr user Caius Durling created this floating replica of his Minecraft world. Mclijst assembled it pixelbrick-by-pixelbrick and added an ethereal "Hi".

It's pretty impressive. The "resolution" on the Minecraft materials isn't good enough to display the Mac OS running on the machine, but he did get the dimensions correct, and he integrated the handle into the back. It's only a single button mouse.
