

Two more sponsor deals for 2018 announced

GRUNTo eSPORTs announced today that two more sponsorship deals have been made with Techni Sport Gaming chairs and Rogue Energy. I spoke with co-creator and CEO of GRUNTo eSPORTs Tony "GRUNTo311" Mancini and he had the following to say about the sponsor ships:

"When I heard we landed Techni Sport I almost fell out of my chair! I am lame I know, but seriously, it was amazing news and they will make a great addition to the family."

For more information on Techni Sport Chairs (and a nice discount when you pick something up) click here and use the discount code 'GRUNTo'.

And with the Rogue Energy sponsor Mr. Mancini had this to say, "Well, after some research we noticed they were a newer company themselves. One thing I know is that most new companies are hungry, as we are. We felt it was a great match-up then for two newer orgs to come together and fight our way to the top."

That brings the total thus far to four sponsors for the up and coming organization, the future is looking bright for GRUNTo eSPoRTS.
