Northampton Schools Superintendent's Goals Scrutinized

By Stefanie Jackson

A Northampton school board member's criticism of Superintendent Eddie Lawrence's annual performance goals resulted in Chairman William Oakley calling for an impromptu closed session Sept. 12, without specifying the reason for his request.

"Let me finish, I want to answer this," Lawrence protested when Chairman William Oakley banged the gavel and asked for a motion to go into closed session.

Oakley later explained he called for the closed session because the discussion had shifted to personnel-related issues.

Lawrence was attempting to address the concerns of school board member Nancy Proto, who had expected to see not just a list of goals, but also "a strategic plan to reach the goals and each one of the standards addressed," meaning the Virginia Department of Education's performance standards for school superintendents.

The standards address superintendent performance regarding the school division's mission, vision, and goals, school safety, student academic progress, instructional leadership, planning and assessment, community relations, and professionalism.

Lawrence had set three main goals for the 2019-2020 school year, each written on a separate form as required. Each form included a space to write a goal and another space to list the "indicators of success" for that goal.

"As I look at this, the goal is stated, but the goal is just simply restated un-

Rocket Lab Inches Closer to Electron Launch with Platform Completion

By Linda Cicoira

The launch platform at Rocket Lab's Launch Complex 2 on Wallops Island has been installed and is "a significant step in enabling an Electron launch from U.S. soil" in early 2020, Shaun D'Mello, the New Zealand company's vice president of launch reported Wednesday.

In the coming weeks, Rocket Lab and Virginia Space "will focus on final build and integration of various launch pad systems that will process, load propellant, and launch," an announcement stated. The final step is integration and test activities, which are expected to be completed by December.

Since February when construction began, more than 1,400 cubic yards of concrete have been poured to create the pad on which the launch platform is mounted. The 66-ton platform is ready for the 44-foot, 7.6-ton strongback that will be mounted in the upcoming weeks. Both were built by Steel America, in Norfolk, Va.

The site "largely mirrors" Rocket Lab's facility in New Zealand, "where the Electron launch vehicle transports horizontally down the launch ramp, and then is lifted vertically by the strongback to be ready for launch," an announcement explained.

"I'm immensely proud of the Rocket Lab team here at Launch Complex 2 and am continuously impressed by the drive and dedication of Virginia Space, MARS (the Mid-Atlantic Regional Spaceport), and NASA teams, as we'll as our many local suppliers, as we've worked together to build a launch site in record time," said D'Mello.

"NASA is actively advancing all aspects of small spacecraft missions to the greatest national benefit, and Rocket Lab's progress on Launch Complex 2 over the past several months has been nothing short of incredible," said NASA Wallops Flight Facility Director David Pierce. "The company's Electron rocket helps fill a key national need for providing more – and more frequent – launch opportunities for small satellites, and NASA's Launch Range at GSFC/Wallops, which has enabled commercial space operations for decades, is poised and ready to support these missions."

Virginia Space CEO Dale Nash said, "Emplacement of the launch mount is a major milestone on our march toward completion of Launch Complex 2 in less than 12 months. It is a remarkable partnership we have developed with Rocket Lab, NASA, (the Department of Defense) DoD, and the supplier base from Virginia to New Zealand and back again. The first launch of the Electron from Launch Complex 2 at MARS on Wallops Island is just over the horizon – you can almost hear the roar, and see the smoke and fire."

Virginia Space has also started construction on an Integration and Control Facility at Wallops Research Park to support the local Rocket Lab team. It is the first business to locate at the park since its inception a decade ago.

The facility will house Electron launch vehicles for pre-launch integration and will be home to the complex's range control operations, payload integrations cleanrooms, and offices, where up to 30 people will work in engineering, launch safety, and administrative positions.

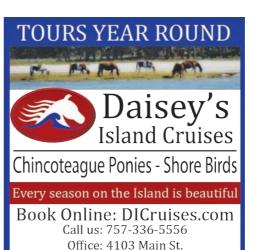

Launch Complex 1 on the Mahia Peninsula, New Zealand, is the world's only private orbital launch site and is licensed for up to 120 launches a year. The Wallops complex will be able to support up to 12 launches a year and is being tailored specifically for government missions. Its customer for the first mission will be announced in late 2019.

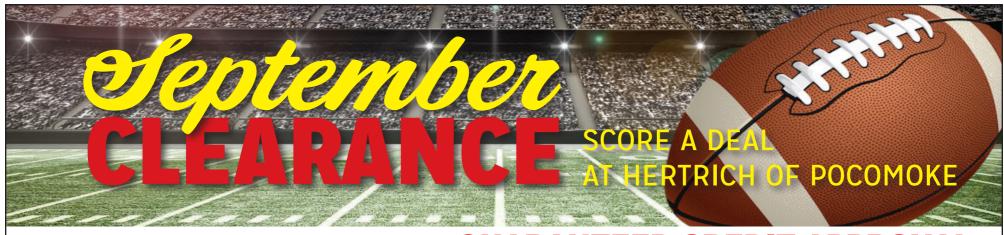

Rocket Lab has delivered 39 satellites to orbit on the Electron launch vehicle, enabling operations in space debris mitigation, Earth observation, ship and airplane tracking, and radio communications.

Post-Game Brawls: Will the School Board Pull the Plug on Friday Football?

By Stefanie Jackson

The Accomack school board might have to decide to switch off the Friday night lights for good.

"My concern is for the violence that is happening after our school football games in the parking lots, on the field, spilling over into the Food Lion and Sonic parking lot," a parent of two Arcadia High School students told the school board Tuesday night.

Colin Redmond, of Oak Hall, has two other children who attend or have graduated from Accomack public schools. He is also the president of the Phoenix Fire Cheer squad.

"I deal with athlete safety and regulations on a daily basis," so knowing there are dangerous situations on the school's athletic field "hits close to home," he said.

On two occasions, both on Friday nights when Arcadia High School hosted football games, police officers had to separate students fighting and disperse the crowd gathered around to watch.

"I am asking you, members of the school board, to take action and come up with a plan to help prevent any future violence occurring at these games, for the safety of the players on the field, the cheerleaders, the band members, parents, and staff attending these games," Redmond said.

"Please take action. Please stand up for their rights for safer after-school events," he said.

Redmond also asked the school board to imagine how embarrassing it would be if a college sports recruiter attended a Friday night football game, saw students in a "barroom brawl," and never returned.

"Now you're talking about our children's future, not just their safety," he said.

"Friday's events weren't random, they were planned," Redmond added. His own children informed him that students knew the fight was going to happen and were waiting to watch and videotape the incident. There were even rumors of possible gun violence.

"At this time, they were using fists. Next time it could be guns," Redmond said. "Please don't wait to take action when it's too late."

Accomack County Public Schools recently announced that 10 of its 11 schools are accredited for the 2019-2020 school year. Above, Superintendent Chris Holland (right) celebrates the achievement by presenting a cake to the school board. Vice Chairman Ronnie Holden (left) and Chairman Paul Bull accept the token of appreciation on behalf of the board.

School board chairman Paul Bull said he had heard about the incident and talked about it with Superintendent Chris Holland.

Bull noted that the school board cannot control incidents that occur beyond school grounds.

Redmond said parents have suggested having football games on Saturdays instead of Friday nights, and school board members immediately agreed with that as a possible solution.

Parents also have suggested prohibiting anyone under age 21 from entering school property during football games. That suggestion did not appear to grab the attention of the school board.

"It's a privilege to attend these games after school, not a right," and often students don't watch the games, they use the athletic field as a "hangout," Redmond said.

Parents who commented about the incident on the Phoenix Fire Cheer squad's Facebook page called for the suspension of all students involved in the fight, including students visiting from other schools.

"They should be suspended, simple as that," Crystal Simpson said. Arcadia High School Principal Shaun O'Shea "said it pretty clear in the freshman orientation that fighting will not be tolerated in or on the school premises."

School board member Gary Reese said the school's administration had security measures in place at the football game and he did not expect everything to "fall apart in the parking lot."

Holland said he has talked to Arcader 'indicators of success," Proto said.

For example, one goal was "All four schools in Northampton County will be fully state accredited," and one of the indicators of success was "The goal is for all of our schools to be fully accredited."

"What really needs to be there are the steps – essentially, the work plan of what you're going to do to achieve that particular goal," Proto said.

It appeared that Proto interpreted "indicators of success" as the actions by which goals are achieved, and Lawrence interpreted "indicators of success" as the results – measurable data – that prove goals have been achieved.

Proto suggested there's a difference between a goal and "what you do" to achieve the goal. "You're coming to us with your plan," she told Lawrence.

"You just threw my plan out," he said.
"I don't see a plan. I see 'We want to be accredited," Proto said.

With that remark, Oakley requested a closed session and all members of the public in attendance were ushered out of the conference room into the hall, where they remained for about 20 minutes.

When the public was allowed to return to the room, Oakley did not poll the board to certify that the board did not discuss anything during the closed session that is required by Virginia law to be discussed in an open session.

Oakley said the school board members discussed the superintendent's goals, and they will write a separate set of goals that they want him to achieve in the upcoming school year.

At the end of the meeting, the school board went into another closed session to conduct Lawrence's performance evaluation for the 2018-2019 school year.

A concerned citizen reminded Oakley that he did not certify the previous closed session. Oakley certified both closed sessions simultaneously when the board returned to open session for the final time that evening.

He said the school board was satisfied with Lawrence's performance and he will continue to serve as superintendent.

Lawrence's three main goals for the 2019-2020 school year for all four Northampton public schools are achieving full state accreditation, increasing scores on the Standards of Learning (SOL) writing test by 10 points, and decreasing chronic absenteeism rates by 10 points (except at Kiptopeke Elementary school, which has already met the state standard for attendance).

To achieve those goals, the school division will need to figure out how to motivate students to learn and how to engage parents in the educational process. Lawrence said.

"We have to transition from education being totally the teacher's responsibility to a shared responsibility between the teacher, the student, and the family."

School board member Ronnie Holden added that the Accomack sheriff's department should be involved in any plans to increase school security.

He said the "worst case scenario" solution will be scheduling football games on Saturdays.

"We cannot afford to let some child be injured beyond where it ends up in a death."

dia High School administration, and additional steps will be taken in the future to prevent trespassing on school property by parents, coaches, or students from other counties.

Accomack To Seek State Funds To Make Teacher Salaries Competitive

By Linda Cicoira

Accomack supervisors continued to seek additional state funds Wednesday to help recruit and retain teachers who might seek higher salaries in Marvland.

The board authorized County Administrator Mike Mason to work with Northampton officials in sending a letter to Onancock area native Gov. Ralph Northam to request competing adjustment (COCA) funding. Eighteen Northern Virginia school divisions receive the monies to provide additional compensation to school workers to keep them from going to Maryland or Washington, D.C.

Accomack wants its share so it can compete with Worcester County, Md., which includes Ocean City with four times the taxable value of Accomack and higher per capita income levels.

"An Accomack teacher with 10 years' experience gets an $11,000 boost in (annual) salary to go to Maryland," said Supervisor Robert Crockett. "We just think it's fair that we get ... to compete with Worcester County (Md.)

Ocean East REALTY

6373 Maddox Blvd..

I think we have a better chance now. This year it's Gov. Northam's two-year budget," instead of the former governor's plan, the supervisor added.

"It is believed that a joint letter to the governor requesting these state funds signed by Accomack and Northampton officials is the most effective first step," Mason said.

Supervisors Receive Cake

Superintendent Chris Holland, of Accomack County Public Schools, was there to give a report to the board and to present a cake for the $18 million in local funds the county provided. "We owe you that," Holland said. "You helped us with the money for a 3% raise."

Enrollment is up with 5,043 students; capital projects like the new roof at Pungoteague Elementary School, septic system at Chincoteague, and boiler at Tangier are continuing; and all 11 schools are accredited. "I'm very pleased with how we are doing right now," Holland said.

"You've always been known for running a tight ship," said Supervisor

Linda Budd Vicky Thornton Donna Jones

Gravson Chesser, when he asked about a fight at Arcadia High School after last Friday night's football game. (See related article on Page 4.)

Holland said he had a meeting with principals on the subject. "We've had problems. It's not always Accomack County students. It's adults. Some from out of state. We want to do things right. I go to most of the games. We have other people there. We don't want that. Our society has changed. I've watched them ... I'm worried about the violence. Yes, I am. We've had a good four years."

Maj. Shane Childress, of the Accomack County Sheriff's Office, said his office was never contacted about an incident at Arcadia High School. But at around 10:35 p.m., deputies were dispatched to the Sonic restaurant, in Oak Hall, where a large crowd gathered after the game. A male juvenile was charged with disorderly conduct. a misdemeanor, and charges are pending against "several" others, Childress said. He believed the fighting started at the school, moved to Oak Hall, occurred among Arcadia students, and was not gang-related.

Money For Water Testing

The supervisors also voted to spend $31,000 for water sampling pertaining to stormwater runoff. Expansion of poultry house operations has raised concerns for water quality impacts on sides of the Eastern Shore where harvesting marine resources and aquaculture operations may be affected.

For the past two years, the Virginia Institute of Marine Science has borne the entire cost of water quality testing. In the third year they offered to fund $12,000. In 2018, results did not show impacts from poultry operations. Results from 2019 have not yet been released.

"This is so important because this is hard data," said Chesser. "So much of the data for a model comes from various places across the bay that are a different world than we are. VIMS is certainly a respected organization. This is money well spent."

Tangier Woman Rescued

While Hurricane Dorian was passing by and Accomack County had declared a state of emergency, a woman with a heart condition on Tangier Island needed to get to a hospital, Chairman Donald Hart, the director of emergency services, reported.

Hart praised Public Safety Director C. Ray Pruitt who contacted state authorities in Richmond when no other help was available. Pruitt then called the Coast Guard in Atlantic City, N.J., which flew its helicopter to Tangier and got the woman to Peninsula Regional Medical Center, in Salisbury, Md.

"It saved a person's life," said Hart. "She is alive today. It scared them on Crockett agreed. "We are fortunate to have C. Ray as a director. He had the feel for it because he's been here all his life."

Fire Medic Recruiting

The board authorized Pruitt to extend offers to six or seven full-time recruits with a start date of Nov. 1. The move will temporarily exceed the number of vacancies but is within the approved salary budget and will provide cost savings on recruiting, training and overtime.

"It's always great to be out in front and you're doing that," Supervisor Ron Wolf said. "It's going to pay off. We've got to take that chance."

Supervisor Paul Muhly said he and Pruitt have discussed the possibility of an EMT course being offered to high school seniors as an elective. "Holland is receptive but there are a lot of things to work out ... They would walk right into a $32,000 a year job. Or go to college and schedule classes on their off-hours."

Opioid Lawsuit News

County Attorney Cela Burge reported that Purdue Pharma, one of the 53 companies Accomack blamed for the local opioid epidemic in a lawsuit, has filed for bankruptcy and is working on a settlement. Burge said Accomack is among 2,600 litigants. "We are following this very carefully."

about $17,000.

Security

Additional security cameras have been installed in and around the county administration building in the latest step to increase customer and employee security. Cameras are also in the treasurer's office and other facilities.

Cape Charles Town Manager To Leave Post in March

By Stefanie Jackson

Another top official in Cape Charles will be leaving his post – Town Manager Larry DiRe, who has served in the position for about a year.

"We definitely appreciate everything he's done so far," said Mayor Smitty Dize. "We'll continue to work with you until you move on to greener pastures," he told DiRe.

DiRe will continue as Cape Charles' town manager for about six more months. His last day on the job will be March 31, 2020.

DiRe's contract originally extended to Sept. 30, 2020, but it was recently modified to allow him to quit earlier.

He did not state any dissatisfaction with his employment.

The town council has begun searching for DiRe's replacement.

DiRe became the Cape Charles town manager last year after Bob Panek resigned. At the time, DiRe was the town planner, Zach Ponds now fills that position.

One of DiRe's recent projects is a proposal for a leash law.

Some citizens want a leash law to protect themselves, their neighbors, visitors, and other animals from aggressive dog behavior and possible injury.

Others oppose a leash law because they believe it would ruin Cape Charles' reputation as a "dog-friendly" town.

DiRe proposed a law that would require any dog to be on a leash when it's not on its owner's property.

The law would also extend the times that dogs are allowed on Cape Charles public beach.

There are no beach restrictions for dogs when it is not tourist season.

But during tourist season – the period between April 1 and Labor Day – dogs are allowed on the beach only after 9 p.m. and before 9 a.m., according to town code.

The new law would define tourist season as the period between May 1 and Sept. 15, giving dog owners more opportunities to take their canine companions to the beach.

The Cape Charles town council was expected to vote on the leash law at its Sept. 19 meeting, but the meeting was canceled. A special meeting is set for Thursday, Sept. 26.

NORTHAMPTON RESTARTS COMPREHENSIVE PLAN UPDATE WITH PUBLIC MEETINGS

By Stefanie Jackson

Northampton County has restarted the process of updating its comprehensive plan with greater emphasis on citizen input – Sept. 9 kickoff meetings were open to the public at five locations, one in each voting district – but one citizen felt shut out when he wasn't also invited to what he dubbed a "secret stakeholder group" meeting the next morning.

He called the events of Sept. 9 a "watch the shiny nickel" attempt to distract citizens from "secrecy, the scheming, and apparent hidden agendas" possibly behind the Sept. 10 meeting.

The accusation was made in a Sept. 12 letter addressed to the Northampton County Board of Supervisors by Ken Dufty, a Wardtown resident who operates a small business in Exmore.

Northampton Deputy County Administrator Janice Williams said the Sept. 10 meeting was an informal gathering of representatives of the Berkley Group — the consulting firm hired to facilitate the update of the comprehensive plan — and individuals and leaders of businesses and organizations invested in the county's continued growth and development.

Advertising the meeting was not required and no minutes were taken, she added.

Attendees representing Northampton schools included Superintendent Eddie Lawrence, Assistant Superintendent Christine Hill, Chief Financial Officer Brook Thomas, two school board members, five teachers, and four students.

Commissioner of the Revenue Charlene Gray, Northampton Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Laura Dodson, two real estate agents, a farmer, an environmental activist, and a pastor were also among the attendees.

Berkley Group Chief Operating Officer Drew Williams said the firm is not compiling its own list of Northampton stakeholders, nor will the firm hold separate meetings on the comprehensive plan for stakeholders.

All members of the Northampton community are allowed to participate in all of the Berkley Group's public meetings on the comprehensive plan.

Spencer Murray, chairman of the board of supervisors, echoed the Berkley Group's statements in a Sept. 18 letter sent to his fellow supervisors and the members of the county planning commission.

Murray and Dixon Leatherbury, chairman of the planning commission, "are in total agreement that every citizen of Northampton is a 'stakeholder' in the development of the plan for the future of Northampton. We also agree there is no 'stakeholder group.'

"The label 'stakeholder' has taken an exclusive and toxic quality when our objective is and always has been to be fully inclusive."

"Effectively immediately, the Berkley Group will coordinate directly with the planning commission and its support staff to identify, schedule, and conduct any direct communication with individuals, groups, and communities," Murray added.

After reading Murray's letter, Dufty stated that he is "confident that we are back on track."

The Berkley Group will provide a community survey for citizens to take, likely in early October. The survey will be available for 46 weeks in digital format on the county's official website and in print.

Its next public meeting will be in November, before Thanksgiving, at one location in Northampton, Williams said.

A draft of the comprehensive plan will be published in spring 2020, followed by another public input session.

The plan should be completed by late fall or early winter 2020, Williams said.

Northampton's comprehensive plan is a decade old, even though Virginia law states comprehensive plans should be reviewed every five years and amended if needed.

After Northampton supervisors rejected the county planning commission's latest draft of the updated plan in December 2018, they decided to hire the Berkley Group to clean up the "mess," as one supervisor called it.

Northampton citizens seem to approve of the Berkley Group's work so far.

Dufty stated in his Sept. 12 letter that the group's members "obviously are professional and true to their mission to fully involve the public."

Berkley Group Chief Executive Officer Darren Coffey assured citizens that Northampton's updated comprehensive plan will be "the people's plan."

Sewage District Would Not Inject Treated Water Into Local Aquifers

By Linda Cicoira

Accomack supervisors informally agreed Wednesday that getting the Hampton Roads Sanitation District involved in local sewage operations is vital to the Eastern Shore.

"This is an extremely important infrastructure," Supervisor Robert Crockett said of expanding the sewage line south to places like Exmore. "This is a first step of a very, very important infrastructure. It opens up the door to address Chincoteague. I can't imagine not wanting to be a part of this."

Crockett said expansion could cost $24 million. The HRSD has tentatively "offered to pay for that investment ... I can't stress enough how important it is."

The promise will not come with HRSD using its technology to inject treated water back to local aquifers, members of the Eastern Shore Ground Water Committee were told Tuesday.

"It was really interesting how they were treating water to a quality that could be put back in the aquifer," Grayson Chesser, a supervisor and committee member, said later. "But it really didn't pertain to us."

"Onancock got a lot of grants and other stuff" and "now they have a sewage plant that runs at half capacity," he continued. Having HRSD run it would be a "no brainer. I don't think an opportunity like that will come very often. It's up to Onancock. I would certainly think it would be a smart move."

Charles Bott, a native of Jamesville, and director of the HRSD's Water Technology and Research, said the injection method could not be considered in this area because of the population. Such a task would need 50,000 people to use the system. "Probably never enough people (on the Shore) at this stage of technology," he said.

Even so, Bott went on to use various diagrams to tell about the advanced treatment plants and he showed lists of chemicals that are removed from the wastewater in those plants. He also invited the board to tour the research center and take the final step, which is to taste the treated water.

Ken Dufty, of Citizens For Open Government, who has spoken out against local aquifers being replenished with treated wastewater, was in attendance at the committee meeting.

"We can either learn our lesson from what we see happening in the Hampton Roads area by aggressively managing and protecting our sole source aquifers, or we can try to collect as much sewage as we can and direct it to one place," the Onancock sewage plant, Dufty previously said.

But injecting treated water is not the only issue Dufty appears to have with HRSD. He expressed concern Tuesday that the cost of sanitation projects across the bay would be shared by local users if the district manages waste here.

"In my limited calculations, this appears to add up to over $1 billion in costs that ratepayers, including those in Accomack and Northampton county, if they avail themselves of this service, will have to share over the next nine years," Dufty said.

He concluded that with high poverty rates locally, people on the Shore will not be able to afford to help fund projects in Hampton Roads.

Dufty included in his presentation an excerpt from HRSD's Capital Improvement Program's budget that stated costs for the Hampton Roads program total approximately $2.79 billion.

Officials did not address that concern.

Last week, Exmore Town Manager Robert Duer said joining HRSD would not be a good thing for his town because it would limit the town's chances for obtaining grants and low-interest loans.

Gunshot Victim Reported

Police found a gunshot victim early Monday morning on Hillcrest Drive in Atlantic, according to a report made just before deadline Thursday by Sheriff Todd Godwin.

Godwin's office was alerted to the shooting at 12:08 a.m. When deputies arrived on the scene they found a 23-year-old man sitting in his vehicle and suffering from multiple gunshot wounds. The victim was not identified. Oak Hall Rescue took him to Peninsula Regional Medical Center, in Salisbury, Md. The state police assisted in the investigation.

Anyone with information about the crime is asked to contact Godwin's office at 757-787-1131 or 757-824-5666. Tips may be submitted to the sheriff's website at accomackcountysheriffsoffice.org

Sentence Reduced

A young man's prison sentence for having carnal knowledge with a 13-year-old was reduced by six months Monday in Accomack Circuit Court because the defendant's family provided $105,000 in restitution for future medical treatment of the victim.

Yun "Joshua" Kim, 20, whose address was listed as Vanalden Avenue in Northridge, Calif., was sentenced in January to 10 years in prison with all but two years and six months of the term suspended for the crime, which occurred between April 4 and May 31, 2017.

Defense lawyer Paul Watson asked for the sentence to be reconsidered and for the term to run concurrently with sentences that were handed down in Albemarle County Circuit Court for other crimes.

Retired Judge Burke K. McCahill declined to make a decision about resentencing at a June hearing because he wanted to consider what the child's mother had to say about it.

Kim was sentenced in Albemarle to 10 years with all but a year suspended each for two counts of carnal knowledge. The terms were set to run consecutively. The crimes occurred Aug. 21 and 27, 2017. Restitution of $400,000 was ordered, according to court records.

Also in Albemarle, Kim was given a fiveyear suspended sentence for possession of child pornography, 10 years with nine suspended for a second count of possession of child pornography, and a 10-year suspended sentence for a third count. Those offenses all occurred Sept. 1, 2017.

Kim will be on probation for five years upon release. He was 19 when the crimes occurred. Testimony Monday was that Kim will likely be deported back to Korea at that time.

Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan was opposed to a sentence reduction. It was "already a low sentence under the guidelines," he told McCahill. Morgan said he recognized that Kim's family "put forth a great deal of money. It's a separate matter. Punitive responsibility. Consider leaving the sentence," he said.

The victim's mother, who is not being identified by the Eastern Shore Post to protect the identity of the victim, said, "The family has voluntarily apologized and I'm grateful of that.... I am grateful that they have tried to make amends," she said of the money. "I can't speak to that," she said of a reduced term.

Watson described Kim as being a prematurely born infant with damaged vocal cords, who was slow to acquire motor skills and maturity, bounced around and attended boarding school, and had no parental guidance. He urged the judge to let him voluntarily go back to Korea for "care and treatment. Obviously, he was an adult but didn't act or look like an adult. A lost person here. Didn't know how to deal with people ... just a very unfortunate situation," said Watson.

"Two years in jail I have been regretting what I've done and for the hurt that I've caused," Kim told the judge. "This will not ever ever happen again. I will be a productive member of society. ... Please have mercy on me."

"Rarely do you see a person with the family resources pay this level of restitution," the judge said. "The first time I've seen it. Usually a struggle. They don't have money to pay it. Paid an amount suggested by the victim ... none of the trauma of going through litigation. We don't let people buy their way out of trouble either."

McCahill said if he had known the family was going to come forward with the funds he would have considered that at sentencing. "I'm not going to make this concurrent. I feel like concurrent sentences are like no sentence at all."

Felony Charges Placed

Several local residents were charged with felony offenses recently, according to records filed in Accomack General District Court.

Stephanie Muslimani, 29, of Parsons Road in Greenbush, is accused of making a threat on Sept. 11, in writing, to kill or do bodily harm to Nayda M. Ortiz, a family member. Muslimani was arrested Sept. 17. Deputy N. Kugler, of the Accomack County Sheriff's Office, investigated. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for Oct. 9.

Larry Olanda Ayers, 56, of Lankford Highway in Parksley, was charged with possession of a Schedule I or II drug on Sept. 15. He was arrested the same day. A secured bail was set at $1,000. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for Dec. 16. Deputy K.A. Reese, of ACSO, investigated.

Trina Nolita McLaughlin, 48, of Gargatha Landing Road in Parksley, was charged with embezzling more than $500 worth of cash and cigarettes belonging to Royal Farms between Aug. 5 and Sept. 5. She was arrested Sept. 13. An unsecured bond of $750 was set. Deputy Tyler Marks, of ACSO, investigated. A preliminary hearing was scheduled for Nov. 25.

Lorenzo Jermelle Stith Jr., 36, of Wilson Court in Cheriton, was accused of stealing beer and chicken valued at less than $500 from Walmart, in Onley, on Sept. 16. A video showed the "defendant went past all points of sale (and) was stopped in the vestibule," the record stated. The charge is a felony because it is the third or subsequent offense of petty larceny for Stith. He was free on bond for an unrelated offense when he was arrested on Sept. 16. Deputy J. Sharp, of ACSO, investigated. A preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 25.

Chelsea Frisby, 23, of Fairview Road in Cape Charles, and George Louis Valentin, 26, of Houston Street in Exmore, were each convicted Monday of misdemeanor shoplifting. The offense occurred June 16 at Walmart, in Onley. Both were initially charged with a felony. They were each given a 10-day suspended sentence.

Karl Lee Williamson, 35, of Andover Drive in Exton, Pa., will not be prosecuted for a charge of distribution of between a half-ounce and five pounds of marijuana. A count of possession of heroin with intent to distribute was certified to an Accomack grand jury. The crimes occurred May 11.

Man Sentenced for Murder Conspiracy

The Parksley area man who delivered $1,000 to a hired assassin for an attempted hit of an Eastern Shore Drug Task Force informant in 2017 will serve a year in jail for his involvement in the murder-for-hire conspiracy.

Debrandon Pierre Harmon, 30, of Dennis Drive, was sentenced last week in Accomack Circuit Court to five years for possession of cocaine with intent to distribute the drug and 10 years for conspiring to commit capital murder of Nathaniel "Nate" Johnson. All but six months on each term was suspended. The sentences were set to run consecutively. Harmon could have been given 60 years and fined $600,000 for those offenses.

Harmon was also charged with possession of a gun while in possession of cocaine, capital murder-for-hire, and obstruction of justice. Commonwealth's Attorney Spencer Morgan did not prosecute those charges. The defendant was represented by attorney Carl Bundick.

Harmon's mother, Cynthia Harmon, 53, also of Parksley, admitted to being partners with Evron Terrell Strand Sr., 44, of Nelsonia. Strand was being held in Accomack Jail on cocaine distribution charges and wanted Johnson dead so the informant couldn't testify against him. Cynthia Harmon admitted to setting up phone calls between prospective hitmen and Strand.

On one occasion, she handed the phone to her son so Strand could enlist him for the murder. After Johnson and his girlfriend were shot near Painter, the Harmons met one of the hitmen at Walmart to pay him.

In another case, Keith Carver, 54, of Shoremain Drive in Bloxom, was sentenced to a total of six years in prison with all but six months suspended for financially exploiting a mentally incapacitated person last year.

Carver was allowed to remain free on bail while he appeals the decision. The victim, Ricky Burford, 68, a retired teacher, is related to Carver's wife, Terry Lynn Carver, 63. Carver contends he was only trying to help the victim when he withdrew a total of $4,800 from Burford's bank account in May and June 2018. The Carvers live in Burford's former salon and flower shop, which is near Burford's home.

Carver said he used Burford's ATM card to get money out at Royal Farms in Onley and Parksley as Burford instructed. The six ATM visits included multiple withdrawals each time and occurred May 28 and 29 and June 3, 5, 9, and 12. Videos of Carver using the ATM machines were shown during the trial.

Terry Lynn Carver was also charged with the crimes but she has not prosecuted. A doctor found Burford to be incompetent due to progressive vascular dementia on May 15, 2018.

Martinis Drummond, 39, of Doe Crossing Lane in Melfa, will serve seven years in prison for counts of breaking into the homes

OBITUARIES

Ethel Pace Habel

Mrs. Ethel Pace Habel, 88, wife of the late Kurt Carter Habel and a resident of Pungoteague, passed away peacefully Tuesday, Sept. 10, 2019, at her home. Born Dec. 14, 1930, in Hinton, W.Va., she was the daughter of the late Rosco D. Pace and the late Ella Jefferson Pace.

Mrs. Habel graduated from Howard University and began her career as the head of nursing for the National Institutes of Health (NIH). As fate would have it, she met Mrs. Habel Kurt at NIH where he served as the assistant director. She later transferred to the Rock Creek Foundation of Mental Health and worked as a nurse within the Montgomery County school system and health department. Following Kurt's retirement, they relocated to the Eastern Shore of Virginia, where Mrs. Habel worked for the Accomack County Health Department.

Survivors include her two children, Kyle C. Habel, of Silver Spring, Md., and Courtenay A. Habel, of Onancock; four grandchildren, Jerome Habel, Robert Palmer III and wife, Desiree, Melissa Palmer, and Jada Palmer; seven great-grandchildren, Maniyah Scott, Jayden Habel, Robert Palmer IV, Elijah Palmer, Jerimich Palmer, Nevaeh Palmer, and Skyler Howard; sister-in-law, Mary Rinehart and husband, John, and their children, Kevin Nelson and wife, Kim, and Diedre Rinehart; four great-nieces; and two greatnephews. In addition to her husband and parents, she was predeceased by her nephew, Gary Rinehart.

To honor Mrs. Habel's wishes, no public service will be held.

He was born in Salisbury, Md., April 11, 1981, to Erick Hansen and Phyllis Tolbert Cox. He was a member of Christ United Methodist Church. Mr. Hansen was employed at Raytheon.

He loved watching his son play baseball, racing, fixing stuff and working on four wheelers with his son. He loved camping and being on the water.

Mr. Hansen

Mr. Hansen is survived by his loving spouse of 16 years, Stephanie Leigh Hansen, of New Church; son, Cody James Hansen, of New Church; mother, Phyllis Cox, of New Church; father Erick Hansen and his wife, Patty Woodhurst, of New Church; stepfather, Tim Cox, of New Church; three brothers, Eric Olson, of Pennsylvania, Fred Cox, of Chincoteague Island, Dustin Woodhurst and his wife, Mandy, of Atlantic; two sisters, Heather Olson and her husband, Brent, of Idaho, Nicolette Hickman and her husband, Mark, of New Church: four-legged fur baby, Lacey Lou; and several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

He was preceded in death by both sets of grandparents, Wayne and Kathryn Tolbert, and Arne and Olga Hansen.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, Sept. 28, 2019, 2 p.m. at the Christ United Methodist Church, Chincoteague, with the Rev. Maurice Enright officiating.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to Eastern Shore SPCA, 26528 Lankford Highway, Onley, VA 23418.

Services entrusted to Salyer Funeral Home, Inc., Chincoteague. Condolences may be made online at www.salyerfh.com

John Willis Kellam

Mr. John Willis Kellam, devoted husband, father, grandfather, greatgrandfather and community servant, passed away with his loving family by his side Wednesday, Sept. 11, 2019, at the age of 88. A native of Onley, he was born in his family home June 10, 1931, to the late Garnett Ashby Kellam and the late Mildred Walter Kellam.

Mr. Kellam shared 58 beautiful years of marriage with the love of his life, Ruth Taylor Kellam, who passed away in 2016. He is survived by their children, Garnett A. Kellam and wife, Jane, of Mappsville, and Ann Kellam Lawson and husband, Robbie, of Painter; grandchildren, Rachel C. Kellam, of Occohannock

Mr. Kellam

Neck, Hannah Kellam Kloch and husband, Andy, of Pawleys Island, S.C., and Robert Lawson IV and Jessie, and their son, Robert "Bobby" Lawson V, of Willis Wharf; beloved cousin and friend, Evelyn Walter Prettyman; his caregivers, Barbara Lee, Mildred "Peaches" Wise, and Kishima Johnson; and many other extended family members, all of whom he very much adored. Other than his wife and parents, he was predeceased by his sister, Mary Ashby Teaff.

Mr. Kellam worked as a special agent for the Virginia ABC Board, retiring in 1991 after 32 years of service. He proudly dedicated his life to serving his community, beginning with his lifelong commitment to his church, Onley United Methodist. As a faithful and active member, he was a longtime board member and past chairman of the church's administrative counsel and volunteered his time in many capacities over the years. He was a 58-year member of the Central Lodge #300, A.F. & A.M., 50-year member of Central Shore Lions Club and Shriners International: longtime member of Eastern Shore Christian Businessmen's Association; founding member of the Onley Volunteer Fire & Rescue Company; served on the board for Camp Occohannock on the Bay for decades; and past director on the board for the Society of the Preservation of Onancock Cemeteries. As a native of Onley, Mr. Kellam was very passionate about his town and ensured its success through his service on the town's zoning board, town council, and six terms as mayor. In addition to his involvement locally, he was a senior chief in the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve for 42 years. Mr. Kellam was the 2017 recipient of the Onancock Rotary Club's Community Paul Harris Fellowship Award, presented in recognition of his significant impact throughout the Eastern Shore community. Mr. Kellam exemplified true compassion, loyalty and goodness, all of which will be forever remembered and honored through his life's work.

A service to celebrate Mr. Kellam's life was held at the Onley United Methodist Church Saturday, Sept. 14, 2019, with the Rev. James D. Canody and the Rev. Alan Layman officiating. Interment, with Masonic Rites, followed in the Mount Holly Cemetery.

Mr. Kellam's family requests that you continue his legacy of philanthropy with a contribution to the Onley United Methodist Church, P.O. Box 98, Onley, VA 23418; Camp Occohannock on the Bay, 9403 Camp Lane, Belle Haven, VA 23306; Central Shore Lions Club, c/o Ben Kidd, 2 Ashton Street, Onancock, VA 23417; or to the charity of one's choice.

Jimmy Parker

Mr. James E. "Jimmy" Parker Jr., 68, devoted husband of Glenna Hickman Parker and a resident of Cashville, passed away peacefully Thursday, Sept. 12, 2019, with his loving family by his side. Born July 10, 1951, in Nassawadox, he was the son of the late James E. Parker Sr. and Frances Matthews Parker.

A life defined by commitment and loyalty, Jimmy's first priority was always to his family. Beginning with the unbreakable bond he shared with his brother to the storybook love he shared with Glenna and continuing with the adoration and infinite love he had for his children and grandchildren, he stopped at nothing to ensure their happiness. As a young man, Jimmy began working for Verizon where he later retired as a supervisor after decades of service. Following retirement, he began working alongside his brother, Harry, at Coastal Homes, which only brought them closer as brothers and friends. There were few things Jimmy looked forward to more than watching one of his grandchildren play sports, and you could bet he never missed a game, even if it meant live streaming the event. Those who know the Parker family, know you will never see just one Parker – they stick together, they love, and they support. Jimmy instilled the value and importance of family in the hearts of his loved ones, and they will honor his memory as they continue to stick together, to love, and to support one another.

In addition to his wife of 47 years, he is survived by his daughters, Missy Parker Murphy and husband, Billy, Heather Parker Hall and husband. Ben, and Kim Parker Justice and husband, Bryan, all of Onancock; brother and best friend, Harry Parker and wife, Pat, of Onancock; grandchildren, Austin and Parker Murphy, Chloe, Rylee and Brody Hall, and Haylie and Reagan Justice; nephews, Matt and Jake Parker; and great-nephew, Landon.

A time of remembrance and visitation will be held at the Island House Restaurant in Wachapreague, Sunday, Sept. 22, 2019, from 2 p.m. until 4 p.m. Please come as you are (casual attire), just as Jimmy would have wanted.

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in Jimmy's memory to a charity of one's choice.

Woman Given Probation for Faking NASA Lab Results

By Linda Cicoira

A former NASA Wallops Flight Facility lab manager/quality assurance officer will not serve time in prison for making false statements or representations about Total Kjeldahl Nitrogen, known as TKN, or discharges that are "important because excess nitrogen in a waterway may lead to reduced levels of dissolved oxygen and negatively impact aquatic plants and other organisms," according to court records.

Monica Kristine Borowicz, 50, of Mount Wharton Estates in Assawoman, was given three years of probation last week in U.S. District Court, in Norfolk, Va. District Judge Raymond A. Jackson also fined Borowicz $5,000 and ordered her to make restitution of $6,717.75 to NASA. She was also ordered to pay a special assessment of $100.

Borowicz was working for contractor LJT & Associates when she went on vacation in March 2018 and another worker began updating control charts and found lab records had discrepancies that couldn't be justified.

She pleaded guilty to the charge in May. The other worker also worked for LJT and was not identified. The plea was part of a bargaining agreement with U.S. States Attorney G. Zachary Terwilliger and U.S. Assistant States Attorney Joseph L. Kosky. The prosecutors agreed not to go forward with any other charges against Borowicz in return for her waiving indictment and pleading guilty to the single charge.

She could have been sentenced to a maximum of two years in prison and fined $250,000.

"Although Borowicz falsified the da-of Kristen Tapman, Patricia Cherricks, and Beverly Fletcher and stealing property belonging to Tapman, Cherricks, and Mike Smolinski, possession of burglary tools, and receiving stolen property. He was sentenced to a total of 75 years but some of the time was suspended and other terms ran concurrently. Restitution of $12,425 was ordered.

Ramel Jaquan Crippen, 17, no address available, was treated by the court as an adult. He pleaded guilty to stealing a vehicle belonging to Johnny Irvin and felony eluding. The offenses occurred May 29. A presentence report was ordered. Sentencing was set for Oct 24.

Kelsey Elizabeth Kilmon, 33, of Mink Farm Road in Onancock, pleaded guilty ta, there is no evidence to believe that the Wallops discharge was in excess of the permit limit or that the Wallops discharge was a danger to the environment," the court file stated. "TKN testing done since March 2018 on the Wallops discharge has always demonstrated that it was below the applicable permit limit."

Datasheets filed since Dec. 4, 2017, were missing and others showed figures for different dates and different tests contained identical readings, a result that is not possible, the court records show. "These irregularities resulted in internal and external audits being conducted on the LJT lab." The record stated, "111 of 219 TKN analyses from Jan. 4, 2017 to March 20, 2018, (were) considered to be 'suspect' because documentation was unavailable, missing, incorrect, or copied from other data. An internal audit of tests conducted April 1, 2014, through the end of 2016, identified 408 NASA samples as suspect because of TKN non-conformities. All of these analyses were conducted by Borowicz."

She "was qualified and knowledgeable in performance of the TKN testing," the prosecutors said. "Borowicz had worked as a laboratory technician for over 27 years. As part of her certification, she was required to perform and pass a biannual TKN proficiency test."

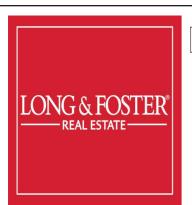

An audit also showed "Borowicz did not perform TKN tests for NASA in December 2017 and January 2018." And that she gave the "false and fabricated results" in the required reported she filed with the Virginia Department of Environmental Quality "for December 2017 and January 2018 as part of (the) Wallops discharge permit."

to stealing about $2,000 from the office of Tim Valentine, owner of the Club Car Cafe, in Parksley, on Feb. 15. The door to Valentine's office was locked but the business was open when the crime occurred.

Kilmon admitted to police she broke into the office by sliding a credit card along the lock in the door. Restitution was made. A presentence report was ordered. Sentencing was set for Dec. 19.

David Anthony McCain, 28, of Boston Road in Painter, was sentenced to three years each for obtaining money by false pretense and a third or subsequent offense of petty larceny from Walmart, in Onley, on Sept. 21, 2018. All but three months of the terms were suspended. McCain was put on good behavior for five years. He was ordered to report to jail Sept. 20.

Eastern Shore Sports Warriors Defeat Firebirds in Full Moon Showdown

Joseph Teasley drags defenders for Nandua's first score of the game.

By Matthew Yoder

The Nandua Warriors relied on the legs and efforts of Joseph Teasley and Jaheim Bailey in sync with a well-thought-out and executed defensive plan to secure a 23-20 victory against the Arcadia Firebirds last Friday.

Under a full harvest moon, the Warriors made hay early, capitalizing on a fumble on Arcadia's opening drive. Nandua stuck to its game plan early with quarterback Teasley effectively gaining yards on the ground, in addition to handing off to Bailey, who stretched the field all night. Teasley barreled forward five yards amidst a throng of tacklers for Nandua's first score, giving the Warriors an early 7-0 lead.

Arcadia had a series of drives stall out in the first quarter with penalties, incomplete passes, and strong pursuit by Teasley and Larry Jones chasing Lethon Williams and the Firebirds into third and long situations.

Dezmon Jackson ran in a blocked punt for the Warriors second score of the quarter and the game was beginning to resemble a Friday the 13th horror story for the Firebirds and their stunned fans.

On the following drive, Arcadia failed to convert on good field position after Nandua was assessed an unsportsmanlike penalty for excessive celebration. Tevon Bunting opened the drive with a 12-yard run, but able tackling by Markay Collins sent Arcadia's punt unit back to work.

The Warriors took over, but their momentum against a reeling Firebird team was interrupted on the very first play of the drive. Jaden Hope stripped the ball from Bailey and tiptoed the sideline to the endzone. The Firebirds failed on the extra point but, for the time being, diverted the course of the game.

The seesaw nature of the first half continued as Arcadia's defense then continued its early-season trend of rising to the occasion, on this night in response to Nandua's pressing ground game. Hope chased Teasley on the Warriors' first possession of the second quarter, aiding a sack by Demonta Copes and William Scarborough. A failed option exchange on the next play was recovered by Keith Grinnage. The Firebirds ran the ball three consecutive times to cross midfield and a face mask penalty on the defense put them within the Warriors' 25-yard line.

Williams connected on a quick pass to Hope, who again used his speed to run 23 yards for a touchdown. A successful two-point conversion set the game level at 14 apiece.

Hope, who predominantly accounted for Arcadia's first half scoring, didn't seem overcome by Nandua's fast start.

"It's nothing we've never seen before," he said. "Our defense is doing the job, and our offense has to push through and block a little more."

Poor special teams play by Arcadia surrendered a safety, shifting the score to 16-14. The remainder of the first half was marked by failed attempts by Nandua to convert on offense and continued efforts by Grinnage, Scarborough, and Arcadia's defense to

Broadwater Stops Blessed Sacrament, 30-7

Story by Brennan Waldorf

Broadwater Academy got another win on the road last weekend Sept. 15, against the Blessed Sacrament-Huguenot Knights. After a home loss that left the Vikings out gas in the second half, the Vikings conditioning was the focal point in practice with an emphasis on having a better balance between the run and pass on offense.

The Vikings unit struggled with the passing on offense advancing the ball into the Knights rezone three times in the first half but were unable to score. The pass was aborted and the Vikings offense reverted to the Power-I formation. The running formation worked well for the Vikings as Gunnar Gustafon exploded for 294 yards and four touchdowns on the day. Vikings head coach Eddie Spencer credits defensive coordinator Reid Hall and his defensive unit for the win, with a key interception by Wade Williams in the third quarter that turned the game in their favor.

This week the Vikings will travel to Chesapeake, Va., to face a speedy Atlantic Shores team on Sept. 20.

E.S. Cross-Country Season Begins

Story and Photos by Brennan Waldorf

Eastern Shore Cross-Country opened up last week Sept. 12 with Arcadia, Chincoteague, Nandua, and Northampton competing at Nandua High School. The conditions were not ideal for the first meet where runners endured a sunny day that featured no wind and heat exceeding 90 degrees. Through sheer determination and toughness the runners pushed their bodies and minds to overcome both the course and the less than ideal weather conditions.

Scoring in cross-country is based on the top five runners vour team. Where they finish in the meet correlates to their simiscore: lar to golf, the lower the score the better. For this meet, the boys Nandua finished first place with their top runners claiming the top five spots. Northampton placed second with 71 points, Chincoteague placed third with 89 points, and Arcadia finished fourth with 90 points.

Arcadia's girls team claimed the top spot as they were the only team with a full squad of five. More females will be running as the season progresses.

Top finishers in the girls category were 1. Daniela Gonzalez (NHS) 2. Areli Enrique (NAN) 3. Victoria Shaw (AHS) 4. Wendy Martinez (NHS) 5. Lacey Gouldin (NAN) 6. Arisbeth Gomez (AHS) 7. Yadira Gomez (AHS) 8.Carley Fragda (CHS) 9. Nora Bahn (NAN) 10. Ally Pearce (CHS)

Top finishers in the boys category were 1. Carlo Balmoria (NAN) 2. David Gastelum 3. Bryan Tinoco (NAN) 4. Sebastian Bonilla (NAN) 5. Ethan Harrower (NAN) 6. Panuncio Chavez (NAN) 7.Riley Bull (NAN) 8. Cameron Mears (NAN) 9. Eddie Maldonado (NHS) 10. Jackson Mcguire (CHS)

Warriors Fight Hard, Defeated by Vikings

Broadwater Academy defeated Nandua at home, taking three of four sets (27-25, 25-23, 25-11, 25-9) on Sept. 17.

The two teams met for the first time this season with the Warriors stealing the first set of the series.

Nandua was battling from behind throughout the series but managed to steal the first game from the Vikings who held the lead throughout the set. Nandua got off to unusual slow start as the Warriors struggled to find their groove but rallied behind the strong hitting from Lyric Sampson and Abigail Killmon. Nandua was down 19-12 as Broadwater's strong play found success serving the ball behind the line. The Warriors were resilient as the Vikings looked out of sorts towards the end of the set eventually falling to the Warriors 25-27.

The next set was just exciting as Virginia Ross made several strong plays at the net that put the Vikings ahead. The Vikings strongest hitter Emily Nordwall was taken out of the game after a collision with another player and the floor; she would not return to the contest. The Vikings were able to close the game without her assistance but not without a fight from the Warriors who closed the gap and had the score locked at 21 before exchanging points and dropping the set 23-25.

The last two sets were all Broadwater as the Warriors began to slide downward not being able to find the groove that allowed them to stay in the sets before. They would drop both sets 11-25 and 9-25 to the Broadwater Vikings.

The Warriors will be in back in action at home against district rival Arcadia Sept. 19. Broadwater will hit the road Sept. 23 to face the Gateway Christian School squad.

Broadwater's Virgina Ross recorded 10 blocks on the night as she hits one over Nandua blockers Lyric Sampson and Abigail Killmon.

keep them in the game.

Arcadia's coach Alan Hall praised his defense headed into halftime for the second consecutive week, emphatically responding with "yes" when asked if this unit was keeping the game within reach for his team. Hall's assistant, Dan Macca, urged his defense throughout, saying, "the team will lean on us until the offense catches up, that's what family does."

The attendance for this rivalry on the night was a robust 532, and opinions and predictions on the sidelines were equally large. Calvin Hagins was at a loss for words when trying to make sense of Arcadia's first-half effort, but believed the passionate nature of this rivalry would carry them through the second half.

"I can't figure this one out," Hagins said. "We gotta take it away from them and play Arcadia football."

On the Nandua side, Calvin Bailey, father of Jaheim Bailey, roared in spirited, colorful language and made his own predictions.

"We're looking real good, they (Nandua) are gonna win this game," said Bailey.

On the field, the game bogged down into a war of attrition in the third quarter. Penalties soared, the teams traded turnovers, scoring halted, and Arcadia lost a number of players to cramps and various injuries.

The Warriors' scheme on defense challenged Williams physically all night. He was replaced by Collin Marshall at quarterback.

Nandua's coach Thomas Rotkowski lamented previous losses where Williams shredded his defense and was determined to keep this from happening again.

"Lethon killed us for two years, we had to come up with a different plan," Rotkowski said. "The kids executed from Monday at the plan."

The plan was punishing for Williams. He fought through pain, lined up at receiver, and was still running the ball, but with each hit by Collins and Jones, Williams was knocked further from the game.

"He was beat and bruised," Hall said. Arcadia's defense was left to keep the game at bay and stop Bailey. Bailey's father continued to prognosticate.

"Put it in the paper: Daddy said he's gonna break one," said Bailey.

Almost immediately following, Bailey had a strong punt return, then broke one into Arcadia's red zone. Teasley pushed the ball across the goal line on a quarterback keeper. The score was 23-14.

Bailey was undeniably a workhorse on the evening.

"He does not go down," said Rotkowski. "He's always level with his shoulder pads."

The team's traded unsuccessful drives and the clock raced against Arcadia's favor. A pair of pass plays to Tiair Bibbins resulted in big yardage for the Firebirds and led them downfield to the Warriors' goal line. Marshall pushed the pile for a touchdown with 41 seconds left to play. The score was 23-20.

Left only to the desperation of an onside kick, Arcadia failed to recover and the game was in the books.

Preparation was a common theme discussed by coaches following the game.

"We had ideas coming into this game that didn't work out," Hall said. "District rivalries are unlike any other game and it's all about whoever is more prepared for the game."

Rotkowski sensed early in the week that his team was facing a great effort on the road.

"It was a tough week at practice, the kids really got at it, they have heart," Rotkowski said.

"It wasn't a pretty game, but there is no such thing as an ugly win at Arcadia."

Bailey, who ran hard and determined all night, summed up his evening smiling. "I feel pretty good, my line did excellent. We had some mental breakdowns, but we got it together."

This week Nandua is home against Bennett. Arcadia travels to Snow Hill for a 6 p.m. matchup with the Eagles.

GOLF TOURNEY AT ESY&CC RAISES FUNDS FOR ESCADY

The Ladies Golf Association (LGA) and the Eastern Shore Coalition Against Domestic Violence (ESCADV) held an invitational tournament Aug. 27 at the Eastern Shore Yacht and Country Club, raising more than $13,000 for victims of violence.

Peaches Dodge said there were 54 sponsors for the tournament and approximately 35 prizes donated by local artists and merchants.

Winning low gross was the twosome of Sandy Lee and Joy Cinburke, from the Richmond, Va., area with a 75.

Peggy Tilghman of the Eastern Shore Yacht & Country Club won a prize for longest drive.

Cougars 41, Jackets 36

The Yellow Jackets started the game on the Surry 47-yard line and immediately deployed its hard nose running offense. The Jackets called five run plays in a row before a false start caused fourth-and-13; they would run a trick play next that showed punt but ended with number 20 rushing for a short gain that turned the ball over to Surry County.

The Cougars would also start their offense with three straight runs but were halted by the Jackets defense causing a three and out. Surry County opened scoring on their next possession through the air after capitalizing on good field position but would miss the field goal making the score 6-0.

The Jackets would answer with a score of their own after a fake handoff saw number 28 Dustin Splawn rush to the left for a 28-yard TD. Tyrell Crockett would punch the go-ahead 2-point conversion in on the next play making the score 8-6.

The Cougars would fumble on their next possession with the Jackets recovering the ball on the 28-yard line. With the same play in action, which allowed them to score before, Dustin Splawn would break out a 39-yard run to the left before being hawked down just 4 yards shy of the end zone. The Jackets' Liam Sayers, who had several tough runs on the night, would finish the drive with a hard rushing TD. The Jackets would go on to miss their field goal and trade interceptions with the Cougars before allowing a 47-yard rushing TD that brought the score to 14-14 at the half.

The second half was one the Jackets would like to have back as they battled their way back from a 34-14 hole. Surry County's Kahorie Batten would find the Yellow Jacket end zone three times in the half on carries of 38, 50. and 70 yards. The Jackets continued to move the chains with several strong runs but costly turnovers, penalties, and questionable calls hampered their mounting comeback. The score was 41-28 with 2:02 on the clock when Dustin Splawn made a dazzling one-handed interception. The Jackets' Liam Flynn would connect with a Yellow Jacket down the sideline for a score but there simply wasn't enough time on the clock. The Jackets would lose their third game of the season at home on alumni night. They'll be home this Friday. Sept. 20, for a blackout game (the crowd and team wears black) against Windsor High School.

Number 28 Dustin Splawn finds running room on a well-constructed running play that allowed him to score a 28-yard TD.

Hard Efforts Lead to Victory for Ponies

In the stands, the game had less of the intensity of last week's five-set affair, but on the court, it was Chincoteague's dominating play that made it so. The Ponies came out expertly prepared and won in straight sets, 25-10, 25-19, 25-20, against the Firebirds Tuesday night.

Imani Press opened the game for Arcadia with a spike, but Emma Jackson responded for Chincoteague similarly and all night. In pregame drills, she brought maximum effort and delivered her enthusiasm to the match.

"I was ready to win," Jackson said.
"We're trying to win a district title."
Chincoteague appeared every bit a team on a mission from the outset.
They made early and timely substitutions to keep players fresh and execute on a game plan. Caroline Shelley also played strong at the net and substantial points were gained on her serve in the first set, which was a runaway start for the Ponies.

Chincoteague coach Sarah Sharpley, always one to pay attention to every point and placement of defenders on the court, made adjustments following the lengthy match with Arcadia just a week prior.

"The strategy is to be smart with the ball and look for the open spots," said Sharpley.

The Ponies scrimmage with this plan in mind and completely took the crowd out of the game by executing with precision.

Jackson continued to dominate in the second set and was aided by strong plays at the net by Natalie Scelci and Allie Bell. Arcadia rolled off five consecutive points following a powerful mid-court spike by Haley McDaniel but failed to sustain against relentless pressure by Chincoteague.

Coach Jimmy Bloxom urged his Ponies to "stay aggressive" to avoid a repeat of last week.

Following the second set victory by Chincoteague, he turned to a Post reporter and said, "deja vu," as they again entered the third set having dominated to build a substantial lead.

On this night they kept their composure entering the third set, taking the court with smiles and appearing decidedly confident. Arcadia's players seemed a little more dispirited, their fans, outside of some toss-up calls by referees, disheartened.

Alanna Hall shined for the Ponies in the final set. She commanded the net well. Delilah Flores tickled the net with a number of serves, one resulting in an ace. Another rally late in the set was no match for Chincoteague as they continued to rotate fresh legs and prioritize playing time for players down the depth chart.

Emma Jackson was quick to bestow praise upon the efforts of the team as a whole.

Caroline Shelley dominates at the net for Chincoteague.

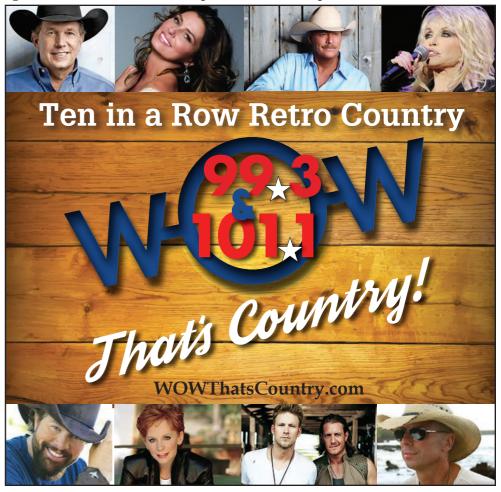

"It's not just me, everything pieced together," Jackson said.

For the 4-2 Ponies and Bloxom, however, their ascension is bolstered by the play of a humble Jackson.

"If we keep feeding number 12 the ball we'll be fine," said Bloxom. On the Arcadia side, an 0-3 record is not indicative of their effort. They fight hard against insurmountable leads up until the final point.

"They just need to support each other, they'll work it out," said coach Anna Williams.

Postgame they convened as a team to make adjustments moving forward. "We all try to talk about what to fix," said McDaniel, and tomorrow's match is always an opportunity to brush aside the past.

Fishing from the Shore By Bill Hall

For the first time this month, a whole week of fishing has passed which was not impacted by the effects of a major weather system! With slowly falling air temperatures and humidity, this time of year can be a great time to be out on the water, especially while fishing the surf of our undeveloped barrier islands. A wide variety of species will be available in the surf, including red drum, black drum, bluefish, striped bass, whiting, croaker, and spot, as well as the unwelcome assortment of sharks, skates, and rays. Depending on how mild the autumn is, good surf fishing can last through Thanksgiving. On the Chesapeake Bay side, we are seeing increasing numbers of small striped bass/ rockfish and steady numbers of speckled trout, bluefish, and spot.

Lower Bay – Mark Snook, at Chris' Bait & Tackle, reported anglers are still releasing a few red drum during the evenings. A 50-inch red drum was landed from the Kiptopeke State Park Pier. Sightcasters are faring well with cobia as they exit the bay, with most of the fish now being found from the fourth island of the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel south along the Virginia Beach oceanfront to the Sandbridge area. The little bridge section of the bridge-tunnel is producing spot and flounder, with flounder also being taken around the high rise section of the bridge. Speckled trout catches have come from inside the bayside creeks and around the pound nets along the beach off Kiptopeke. Snook had not heard of any recent action with puppy drum and sea mullet/whiting.

Jeb Brady, of Bailey's Bait & Tackle, reported speckled trout fishing keeps improving on both sides of the peninsula. Anglers are reporting limits of "nice fish." Most of the trout have been in the 16- to 20-inch range, with an occasional larger fish to 24 inches. Large red drum continue to be caught along the bridge-tunnel. The Cape Charles pier has produced keeper-sized spot, croakers, and small gray trout.

Chincoteague - Donna Rae Roeske, at Captain Bob's Marina, reported Chincoteague Channel is producing a variety of small panfish on squid strips and bloodworm-flavored baits. A few flounder, gray trout, and bluefish are still being caught in the main channel. Sharks are still dominating the action around the inlet, with Queen Sound also holding some of the toothy critters. Black drum and small rockfish/stripers are starting to make a showing in the surf, with surf fishermen using clam, cut spot, finger mullet, and crab for baits. The Blackfish Banks/subway cars are still holding flounder, trout spadefish, and Spanish mackerel. according to Roeske.

Pete Vasiliou, of Captain Steve's Bait & Tackle, reported they are starting to see some slot-sized red drum in the surf of Assateague. On Sunday and Monday mornings, surf fishermen casting in and just behind the wash enjoyed a run of pompano, with some kingfish/whiting and croaker mixed in. Flounder fishing inside has been better with the clearing water. Jimmy Vasiliou said some anglers fishing the waters off Saxis are finding striped bass to 36 inches and some "nice-sized" speckled trout. He added that the shop weighed in a citation pompano caught from the surf and a 27-inch black drum. Surf anglers targeting puffers were enjoying success on small, long-shanked hooks, tipped with bloodworm-flavored baits.

Upper Shore – Captain Matt Abell, of the Sea Hawk Sports Center, reported he and some members of his family had just returned from a successful smallmouth bass fishing trip on the Susquehanna River. A little closer to home, anglers have been catching speckled trout and rockfish while casting paddletails in the bayside shallows on both sides of the Maryland/Virginia state line. Farther south, anglers were still releasing a few red drum in the waters off Bayford. On the seaside, Abell said he had not received any flounder fishing reports from inside the inlets, but flounder and black sea bass were coming from the inshore structures. One group of customers had a catch of yellowfin tuna and a swordfish during an offshore trip last weekend.

Bill Hall was the first Eastern Shore resident to achieve Virginia Salt Water Master Angler Status. He has been named Virginia Saltwater Angler of the Year and Virginia Saltwater Release Angler of the Year. Bill is an I.G.F.A. International Committee Representative and a longtime member of the Virginia Saltwater Fishing Tournament Committee. He is the Virginia Recreation Fishing representative on the ASMFC Striped Bass Management Panel and is a past recipient of the CCAVA Virginia Outdoor Writer Conservation Leadership Award.

Children's Fishing Event a Big Success

Eighty-two Eastern Shore youngsters gathered on a bright and warm day at the Saxis Fishing Pier. Nearly 150 fish of various species were caught by the children, all of whom received a fishing rod and reel and a great introduction to angling under the auspices of the Eastern Shore of Virginia Anglers Club (www.esanglersclub.org).

After the rigors of baiting hooks and landing fish, the children enjoyed hot dogs and soda and a presentation of fishing tackle to the three youngsters who caught the largest fish. The free event was made possible in part by a grant from the Recreational Fisheries Development Fund administered by the Virginia Marine Resources Commission; numerous volunteers from the Eastern Shore of Virginia Anglers Club; and the assistance of Sea Hawk Sports Center.

Home Builders Needed Now!

There is a tremendous growing demand for quality new homes near the NASA / Wallops Island flight facility and Chincoteague Island area.

Olde Mill Pointe is a young thriving community in New Church that adjoins NASA. Already this year 6 homes have been built or are underway. The last available spec home built sold the first weekend on the market.

As new families move in and this area continues to grow, there is a great opportunity for a quality builder to meet this demand for new homes.

Available lots include waterfront, waterview and wooded. Lots are fully improved and ready to build on. Amenities include paved roads, underground utilities and community pool.

Special 5 & 10 lot incentive packages for local builders. Imagine the benefits and effciencies for your company being able to build multiple homes in a single development without the need to constantly move from location to location.

Absentee Voting Begins Sept. 20 for November Election

Submitted Article

Absentee voting for the Nov. 5 General Election begins statewide on Friday, Sept. 20. Qualified Virginia voters may vote absentee in-person at their local voter registration office or by mail.

To vote absentee, registered voters must meet one of 20 eligibility requirements listed on the Virginia Absentee Ballot Application and at www.elections.virginia.gov/absentee

"If you can't make it to the polls on Election Day, casting an absentee ballot is a great option," said Department of Elections Commissioner Christopher Piper.

Voters can request an absentee ballot online at www.elections.virginia.gov/absentee

Important dates to remember if voting in the Nov. 5 General Election:

- The deadline to register to vote for the November General Election is Tuesday, Oct. 15.
- The deadline to apply for an

- absentee ballot by mail is 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 29.
- In-person absentee voting is available Monday through Friday during regular voting registration office hours, and on Saturday, Oct. 26, and Saturday, Nov. 2. To find information about your local voter registration office, visit www. elections.virginia.gov/vro
- The deadline to vote absentee in-person is Saturday, Nov. 2.
- The deadline for voter registration offices to receive absentee ballots is 7 p.m. on Election Day, Nov. 5.

If requesting an absentee ballot by mail, the Department of Elections advises applying as early as possible to account for any potential delays in mail delivery. Virginia law requires voters to present an acceptable photo ID when voting in-person. For a list of acceptable forms of photo identification, or to find out how to obtain a free Virginia Voter Photo ID Card, please visit www.elections.virginia.gov/voterid

Kiptopeke Highlighted for National Public Lands Day

Across the state, Virginia State Parks will join the celebration of National Public Lands Day on Sept. 28 with free parking, special programs, and volunteer events. Virginia State Parks are managed by the Virginia Department of Conservation and Recreation.

The theme of National Public Lands Day is Connecting to Nature Through Service, and volunteer opportunities at nearly all Virginia State Parks will allow the public to help improve the environment while connecting with the outdoors.

Projects include invasive species removal, shoreline cleanup, trail maintenance, habitat restoration, and environmental education activities. Follow the link for a complete list of the programs.

Volunteers should dress for the weather, and the project, and bring water, insect repellent, and sunscreen.

Virginia State Parks is partnering with the National Environmental Education Foundation, which has selected Kiptopeke State Park on the Eastern Shore as a National Public Lands Day Highlighted Site.

Kiptopeke will have live animal presentations, a live butterfly tent, wagon rides, and programs about the unique culture of the Chesapeake Bay and Eastern Shore of Virginia.

Sept. 28 is also Bike Your Park Day, and visitors are encouraged to bring their bikes to Virginia State Parks.

A&N Electric Urges Members to Call to Help Resolve Higher-Than-Normal Bills

Submitted Article

A&N Electric Cooperative is aware that some of our members have experienced higher-than-normal bills recently, which is related to meter exchanges for our meter system upgrade.

Unfortunately, a delay in a portion of meter exchanges caused them to become out of sync with our normal meter reading schedule. This resulted in some of our members having bills that include usage in excess of the preferred 30-day bill period. Not all members who have received a new meter were affected by this issue.

The cooperative has identified the issue and has taken steps to minimize the effects on cooperative members moving forward.

A&N Electric Cooperative is asking members who received a larger-than-normal bill because of the additional days, to contact us. Please call the cooperative at 757-787-9750. Our member service representatives are ready to work with those members to help minimize the effects of this issue.

Literacy Week Is Sept. 22-28

Submitted Article

The annual Adult Education and Family Literacy Week is Sept. 22-28. According to Pro Literacy, the leading membership organization advancing the cause of adult literacy and basic education in the nation, reading, writing, and basic math remain an elusive target for 36 million adults nationwide. These numbers include 28.5% of residents in Accomack County and 37.5% of the residents in Northampton County who live below the poverty level and have less than a high school diploma or GED.

The Eastern Shore Literacy Council is part of the national network of organizations that works to end the adult literacy crisis. The organization's volunteer tutors provide free tutoring at 16 sites in Accomack and Northampton County to adults who struggle with basic reading and writing. In addition, Family Literacy activities are scheduled on a monthly basis for parents of ESOL (English to Speakers of Other Languages) learners at Metompkin and Pungoteague Elementary schools. These activities teach parents reading strategies to help increase child's language and literacy outcomes as well as bring in representatives from local organizations to increase parent awareness of available services in their community.

Worldwide Photo Walk Comes to Cape Charles Oct. 5

Submitted Article

The Scott Kelby Worldwide Photo Walk, dubbed the world's largest global and social photography event, is happening Oct. 5 all over the world, including Cape Charles.

The event has grown immensely in size and popularity since the inaugural walk in 2007. Last year, more than 24,000 photographers of all walks of life and skill level converged to explore their corners of the world through photography and social community.

The concept of a Photo Walk is simple. Photo Walks are created by walk leaders, and walkers meet up at a pre-designated location to spend a few hours socializing, capturing images, and sharing with like-minded people. At the end of the Photo Walk, most groups convene at local restaurants or taverns to share their images and experiences over food.

In addition to the event, photo walkers will be able to upload their favorite picture to the Photo Walk contest for a chance to win prizes like a DSLR camera, gift cards, apps, and camera bags. A grand prize winner and 10 finalists will be selected by nationally known author and photographer Scott Kelby.

Every year, we encourage every photo walker to help support the initiative to "Walk with a Purpose" by donating to the Springs of Hope Orphanage in Kenya (gofundme.com/2019-worldwide-photowalk-donations).

The event is free, but pre-registration is required. Register at www.worldwidephotowalk.com Locate your city and complete the free sign up form.

Additionally, participants can connect socially before, during, and after the event using the hashtag #WW-PW2019 hashtag on Twitter, Facebook and Instagram.

All are invited to join the Cape Charles walk. For information about the Photo Walk in Cape Charles please go to the website above to register or for further questions contact Pamela Girtman at 757-331-2378 or email lizzy2naples@gmail.com

Northampton Historic Preservation Society To Present 'Lecture on the Lawn of Eyre Rectory'

Submitted Article

The Northampton Historic Preservation Society is offering a "Lecture on the Lawn at Eyre Rectory" on Sunday, Sept. 29 at 2 p.m. The home was built in the 1850s as a rectory for the minister of Hungars Parish on six acres donated by Maria Robins and funds contributed by Mr. John Eyre of "Eyre Hall." It served as a home for the ministers of Hungars Parish until about 1908 when a new rectory was built in Eastville, across Courthouse Road from Christ Church. Since then, it has had several owners, including Dr. Raymond Brown who was a general practitioner in Eastville for many years.

The land where Eyre Rectory was built was originally given to the local Native Americans in the 1640s. They lived on this seaside land until the 1830s when they gradually sold their property to their more prosperous neighbors. The sad story of the Eastern Shore Native Americans will be addressed.

No fees are charged for this lecture, but we ask that individuals each consider a $10 donation to support ongoing NHPS preservation and education efforts.

Important: Be sure to bring a lawn chair and dress comfortably. Check the website for any last-minute inclement weather cancellations/postponements. Directions to Eyre Rectory can be also be found on the Northampton Historic Preservation Society website one week before the program. (www.northamptonhistoricpreservationsociety.com) Questions can be sent to nhps100@gmail.com.

Char-Grilled Oysters with Garlic-Herb Butter: The Seafood-Lover's Fall Dish

By Laura Davis

Fall has unofficially arrived here on the Eastern Shore of Virginia – which means, oyster harvests will be in full swing in the waters surrounding our little peninsula. From the salts on the seaside to the sweeter guys harvested out of the Chesapeake Bay and the rivers on the western shore, we have such an amazing variety of oysters here in our great state.

While they're ideal in the simplest preparation of enjoying right out of the half shell, or breaded and single-fried, sometimes it's fun to do something a little fancier with them.

Oysters on the half, brushed with a simple garlic-herb butter while on the grill, couldn't get easier, more delicious, or more impressive. If shucking isn't your thing, you can steam them until they pop open, and then pry off the top shell – the garlic butter will still keep them plump and juicy.

If you're really lucky, like I was on this particular day, you may find a tiny friend lurking inside your oyster. Pea crabs are considered a delicacy by many around here, tender yet slightly crunchy little crustacean parasites that like to set up shop inside our oysters. We eat them, but if it's not your thing — by all means, serve them their final eviction notice before enjoying.

A few minutes on the grill is all you need, just until you see the butter start to sizzle. A little squeeze of fresh lemon juice to finish. Enjoy them hot, and be prepared to reload the grill. You can't eat just one!

Ingredients

1 cup (2 sticks) salted butter 12 cloves garlic, minced 2 tablespoons fresh parsley, minced 1 tablespoon fresh thyme, minced 24 large oysters, shucked and on the half-shell

Fresh lemon wedges, for serving

In a small saucepan, melt the butter over low heat. Add the garlic and herbs and let simmer for five minutes. Remove from heat and set aside.

Heat your grill to the low end of the high spectrum (about 450 degrees).

Carefully place oysters on the grill and spoon a small amount of the garlic butter into the center of each oyster (about 1 teaspoon). Cover, and let oysters cook for about five minutes.

Once the butter is sizzling and the oysters have plumped up, they're ready. Remove from the grill and let cool for a couple of minutes.

Serve with lemon wedges and give a squeeze just before enjoying.

Swine & Wine Fundraiser To Benefit Boys & Girls Club

By Bill Sterling Special to the Eastern Shore Post

The 2019 Swine & Wine dinner and dance benefiting the Boys & Girls Clubs of Southeast Virginia - Eastern Shore Club is rapidly approaching, but tickets are still available for the gala event on Saturday, Oct. 19

The Swine & Wine will again be staged at the Mary N. Smith Cultural Enrichment Center outside of Accomac.

Held from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., Swine & Wine will feature roast pig and chicken plus wine and other beverages. This year the H.M. Johnson Band will provide the music for enjoyment and dancing. A silent auction will feature Eastern Shore art, golfing trips, fishing gear, and many other items.

Swine & Wine is the biggest fundraiser of the year for Boys & Girls Club. The Eastern Shore Club has approximately 200 members with 55 percent of the membership qualifying for free or reduced meals at schools and 59 percent coming from single parent homes. Last year the club served over 25,000 meals at programs that are conducted after school from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. and all day on weekdays during the summer.

The mission focus of the club is for club members to achieve academic success, develop good character and citizenship, and maintain healthy lifestyles.

Sponsorships are available for Swine & Wine that will help the club meet its mission. A $2,000 Whole Hog sponsorship includes 10 tickets to the event. A $1,000 Suckling Pig Sponsor receives eight tickets. A $500 Spiral Ham Sponsor receives four tickets, and a $250 Rack of Ribs Sponsor gets two tickets. There is also the $150 Slab of Bacon donation.

Tickets to the event are $50 and $40 for young adults 30 years and younger.

For information on sponsorships or to purchase tickets, call Shannon Gordon at 787-7577 or go to www.swinean-dwineforthekids.com.

"You can be assured the funds raised at this event will change the lives of youth here on the Eastern Shore," said Bill Payne, president of the Eastern Shore Board of Boys & Girls Clubs of Southeast Virginia.

COAST GUARD ADVISES BOATERS ON PREVENTING INJURIES

Submitted Article

Broken bones happen aboard boats for a couple of reasons. A primary cause being that the helmsman changes speed or turns suddenly without warning the crew. So always yell out "Coming up!" when increasing speed or "Coming down!" when decreasing speed.

The second reason is being inattentive and having the boat hit by a sudden wave. Always maintaining a lookout is required and the first one to see an oncoming wave should yell out "Wake! (or Wave)!"

But if a broken bone occurs regardless, what can you do? The best advice we have received is that as long as there is no bleeding, immobilize the broken area as best you can, especially any joints above or below the break. Don't try to straighten the break. Use something like a rolled-up towel or blanket to cushion the broken bone and hold it with belts or ropes tied above and below the break. Then call the Coast Guard on Channel 16, give them the information they need, especially your nearest port and head. Take your time so you have a smooth easy ride to make the victim as comfortable as possible.

Local Aids Notices: There are no new aids notices on the Eastern Shore. On the southern shore, Hampton River Channel lighted buoy 22 is missing.

Birding Event Receives Tourism Grant

Governor Ralph Northam announced that Eastern Shore Birding and Wildlife Programs Inc. (ESBWP) received $2,700 from the Virginia Tourism Corporation (VTC) Marketing Leverage Grant Fund program. In total, VTC awarded more than $965,000 for 44 tourism marketing projects across the state to help increase visitation and revenue for Virginia's localities through tourism.

Eastern Shore Birding and Wildlife

Programs Inc. received the grant for marketing its Birds, Brews & BBQ event that happened last weekend. ESBWP partnered with Cape Charles Brewing Company, Coastal Virginia Wildlife Observatory, and the Eastern Shore of Virginia Tourism Commission to support the project through matching funds and co-marketing for the event, which highlighted the outdoor birding and craft beer experiences of Northampton County.

Announcements

The family of the late John L. Savage (Johnny) would like to thank each and everyone for every act of kindness, every prayer that was expressed during his illness and passing.
Also, sincere thanks to the nurses
at Riverside Shore Memorial Hospital and the Hospice Staff.
May God forever bless you.

To the Parksley VFD Ambulance Crew From the sister at 21402 Lankford Hwy., Parksley, VA

The Savages, Pettits, Toneys, and Moores

I would like to express my deepest gratitude and a heartfelt
Thank You for the services you all provided for my brother:

Patience ~ Care ~ Compassion that I witnessed each and every time I called, whether it was once a week or two times in one day, you responded with compassion, patience, and care not because it was required of you but because of the teamwork I witnessed in your skills and medical techniques that you performed on my brother. I pray that God will forever bless all of you as you continue providing medical services with patience, care, and compassion.

By Linda Cicoira

If you ever wonder how long things will last in this constantly changing world, never fear as I have done a little research and I am about to tell you.

A landline telephone will last five years or less. That information was gained by me personally as I recently had to replace my home system. I learned via an article in last year's Wall Street Journal that "once thought doomed, landline phones are answering the call of people who are sick of mobiles' spotty service—and the constant pinging distractions of texts and alerts." My service is definitely spotty and sometimes nonexistent despite that I have the gadget connected to Wi-Fi.

"The average battery life of a cordless telephone is about one to two years," according to www.google.com Car batteries in colder climates last longer. The average is two to five years, but it could last for six. "The average smartphone lasts two to three years," Google stated. I know that's not right as I've had mine for almost five years. My younger brother has the same phone. He recently read the company will stop updating it next year. It's an iPhone 6s plus.

Cold symptoms typically last about three days. They usually go away in four to 10 days without any special medicine. I am a big believer in Cold-Eeze, a zinc lozenge that I take at the first sign of the scratchy throat. It is the greatest thing for fending off a cold, although I can't really prove it if I didn't get one. I believe it shortens the length of a cold too. I am not a stockholder or an employee of the company.

It takes six to eight hours for a human to totally digest, absorb, and eliminate food. If you accidentally swallow a stick or tab of gum, your body will pass it in a few days not the seven years that you may have been told.

If a cat lives inside exclusively, its typical lifespan is between 13 and 17 years, according to the ASPCA. However, it isn't unusual for some indoor cats to live to 20. Yippee! My Little Bit is about 13 and her best friend is Bandit, a nine-year-old dog.

The average pup lives to be between 10 to 13 years. I had a little dog who lived to be 26, and a medium-sized dog who was 17 when he died, so I'm not sure I agree with those figures. Horses live between 25 and 30 years. Lions live 10 to 14 years. While it might seem much longer, a housefly lives an average of 28 days.

The United States ranks 53 of 228 counties for life expectancy of its residents. A chart on www.geoba.se states we last until about 79. Our women last longer at nearly 82. Men are lucky to get to 77. The lowest life rate was in Namibia, Africa, where people are expected to live just past a half-century. The highest longevity was in Monaco at 89. The women there live to be about 93. Men live to be about 85.5.

According to the U.S. Census Bureau, the average length of retirement is 18 years. The average age at which people retire is 63.

Google says the average life of a washing machine is 14 years regardless if it is a front or top loader. This is based on an average of seven loads of laundry per week, or a load a day. A tax company made an estimate of appliances a few years ago. It stated a dishwasher will last about nine years, a cooking stove between 13 and 15 years, a refrigerator between 13 and 19 years, and a water heater from 10 to 25 years.

According to Consumer Reports, the average life of a car is about eight years or 150,000 miles. That can vary with care, it stated.

Some plumbers would say a toilet can last up to 50 years. "The typical couch should remain functional for 10 to 15 years, but one with inferior craftsmanship may wear out sooner," says Google. My couch is older and still very comfortable. A mattress should be replaced within 10 years. A decade can go by pretty fast. An all-leather handbag with a good lining should last 100 years.

If refrigerated, milk will last four to seven days past its "sell-by" date. If unopened, whole milk will last five to seven days past its date, reduced-fat and skim milk will last seven days, and nonfat and lactose-free milk will last seven to 10 days. Lactose-free chocolate milk will last about three hours at my house. Yippee!

Burford Will Look Out for Students, Teachers, and Staff

Dear Editor:

This letter is for concerned citizens of District 4, (Parksley, Bloxom, and Saxis Fire Department voters). There is a very important election coming up in November that can bring a wonderful opportunity for fresh ideas and a welcomed change to our school board. A change that over 70% of the Eastern Shore voters wanted when it was proposed on the ballot, yet so few districts are going to be able to see. Luckily District 4 is one of the places where there is a possibility for a change on the board.

As a parent, I hope that everyone takes the time to educate themselves on who is running in our district and what they have to offer our children and the future of our schools. Lord knows we need someone with a better plan than what we have now. Our buildings are neglected until problems are huge and causing health issues, some schools wouldn't be able to run without the loyal substitutes they have because we are lacking in so many teachers, sometimes students don't receive the books they need for classes until weeks into the semester, they have cut programs so badly that they are virtually nonexistent, and the children are eating lunches that I wouldn't feed my dogs (but at least it's free for all). The list goes on and on. Let's not even discuss how we cannot keep educators here, unless they absolutely love this place, because we pay them squat and then there's the cost of the healthcare for school employees. That's criminal. And believe me it didn't go un-noticed that until recently, the special education department needed its own accommodations to barely function.

All of these things and so much more are the reason that I am supporting Connie Burford for the school board in District 4.

When I first moved here, I met Connie at a volley-ball game. Both of our daughters played. She was a passionate, caring, and understanding person who was easy to talk to. We became friends. Anytime I had questions about school policy or rules she was quick to give me an answer. When I was upset about the music/band program being cut at the high school, I called her again and asked her advice. She helped me with a presentation to the board. I received a letter of response back from the board saying that more money would be put into band and the music program the following year. It never was.

I know that Connie will continue to look out for the students, teachers and support staff the way she always has over the years. She won't change once she gets on the board and that's exactly what that board needs.

Shelley Bessie, Parksley

Riggs Balances Interests

Dear Editor:

As we approach the elections in November, I hope that we can secure leadership that will enhance and support solid objectives for a better Accomack County.

I have read Miriam Riggs' top priorities if elected, and believe she has a solid grasp on the needs of the county. Her first priority is to be accessible and listen to concerns, an admirable goal that will go a long way in building relationships and improving trust in our leaders. Individuals need to know that their concerns are being heard and addressed.

Decisions that are made must promote growth and prosperity but also protect the health and welfare of the community. I know Miriam well and I believe that she understands the balance that needs to be achieved to ensure a better future for the county and its citizens.

More can be learned about Miriam and her platform by attending the Citizens for a Better Eastern Shore local candidates forum scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 8, 7-9 p.m. at Nandua High School auditorium in Onley.
