It is reported that the incident occurred during one of the live TV show talent "American Idol". 19-year-old musician Benjamin Glaze took to the stage, and began to talk about himself before the start of his musical number. Soon it turned out that the guy had never kissed a girl. Then Katy Perry suggested that Glaze come up, and when he did that, he kissed him right in front of the camera.

After such an event, the guy even asked how much Katy Perry liked the kiss, but the celebrity did not respond. According to the source, before he started his musical number, the guy even asked the judges for water to cope with his excitement.
