

Cliché as it may look, it's extremely safe to say that no man is an island. After countless first dates and continuous night-outs, we eventually get tired of putting ourselves out there and wish she will be "the one". At the conclusion of the day, maybe what we are yearning for is to have somebody who is a constant part of our lives, day-in and day-out.

Unfortunately, it will not come easy. 1 tricky part of the relationship cycle is knowing when to transition from going outside and getting to know each other to formally being in a relationship.

Here are 21 signs which can help you figure out if the woman that you're currently visiting is a keeper who is worthy of your efforts and time.

She loves and accepts you for who you are

Love means carrying everything -- the good, the bad, and the unknown. Being with someone who accepts you for who you are will make you more comfortable and at ease to show your true personality. Like any ordinary human being, most of us have flaws. Being with a loving woman means being admired despite the negative traits that you possess. An perfect partner would not attempt to change you forcibly just to comply with a particular set of criteria. Furthermore, being with a girl whom you could be crazy with, without the anxiety of being judged or frowned upon, is a telltale indication of being with someone for keeps. You seriously think she is cool and funny

In case you can't state a single non-physical attribute when asked why you love a person, you might most likely be just infatuated or in love with the idea of owning a constant companion. Superior looks disappear, but a fantastic sense of humor will certainly stand the test of time. A great sense of humor is really a breath of fresh air, and also a good-natured person will surely be able to find the good in every circumstance. Sharing the same set of pursuits and lifestyle perspectives helps a lot in building a solid foundation for a connection. Spending long hours only hanging out and talking to the girl that you're now dating is 1 indicator that she is girlfriend material.
