Committee Requests BRA Draft Alternative Proposals For Parcel R-87

by Kathy Giordano
The Housing and Development Committee met last Tuesday evening, May 31, at the Knights of Columbus Hall to discuss alternative housing options for Parcel R-87, located at the intersection of Tremont and Prospect Streets and Lowney Way.

This parcel had been the subject of a special Neighborhood Council meeting last week when representatives from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, the Boston Housing Authority and the Department of Mental Retardation made presentations to the Council. They were proposing to construct an eight-unit, two-story structure on a 10,000 square foot portion of the site to house Chapter 689 clients. The Council took four separate votes, all of which were in opposition to the proposal.

Meetings on the future development of this 57,000 square foot parcel had taken place, dating back to 1986. The Neighborhood Council voted on October 6, 1986 to amend the Boston Redevel-

DO YOU KNOW WHAT'S IN THE MAYOR'S CONDO PERMIT ORDINANCE?

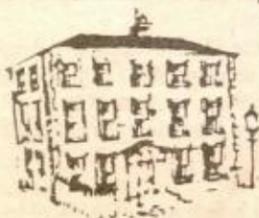

There may be some unwelcome surprises, such as:

— You could own a condominium and not be allowed to live in it! For condominiums created after May 4 the owner (developer or buyer) could not evict a tenant in order to occupy the condominium.

— In some cases unrelated to condominium conversion, a landlord would not be allowed to evict a tenant to make an apartment available to the landlord's family.

For a copy of the ordinance, stop by the

Charlestown Families Honored At Foster Parent Appreciation Event

The Department of Social Services East Boston and Charlestown Area Offices held its Foster Parent Appreciation Night recently at the French Club in Chelsea.

The 25 foster and adoptive parents were recognized for their love and commitment to the children of the Charlestown, East Boston, Beacon Hill and North End communities.

Representatives from Little Folks Day Care in East Boston, the Kennedy Center in Charlestown, Harbor-side Community School, and City Councillor Robert Travaglini and Area Board Members were among the 80 people who shared in this special occasion.

Four Charlestown families receiving awards were: Judy and Bernie Evers, Michael and Linda Lacey, Bob and Carol Scalli and Madeline and Ernie Barker.

"I really appreciate the high level of professionalism used by our foster parents in caring for the children," stated Area Director Susan L. Gang. The foster parents received appreciation certificates and other gratuities for their continuing services.

There are currently 38 foster homes and 74 children in foster care in the communities covered by the East Boston and Charlestown Area Offices. Anyone interested in becoming a foster parent can call the statewide Recruitment Hotline at 1-800-345-4343.

Graduate From MSJA

The 103rd graduation exercises of Mount Saint Joseph Academy, Brighton were held out-of-doors in the early evening ceremony on Tuesday, May 31. The graduates, including four from Charlestown, proceeded across the campus accompanied by a phalanx of trustees, teachers and administrators.

Diplomas were conferred by Sister Ellen Pumphret, CSJ on 142 young women from Greater Boston and 22 surrounding cities. Charlestown graduates were Kimberly Campbell, Lisa Dewey, Susan Kilcoyne and Maureen Sullivan.

Frances X. Hogan of Everett, a member of the 25th anniversary class, past president of the Massachusetts Citizens for Life and partner in the law firm of Lyne, Woodworth and Evarts, addressed the graduates.

Dow Attends Young Politicians Workshop

David Dow Jr. of Charlestown was among 25 students from throughout Massachusetts attending the fifth annual "Workshop for Young Politicians" held recently at the Kennedy Library. Dow was nominated to participate in this program by Congressman Joseph P. Kennedy II.

This workshop was organized for young people who have demonstrated a keen interest in politics and government and who have the promise of one day contributing their time and energy to public service. During the sessions at the Kennedy Library, the group participated in discussion on such topics as women in American politics, the role of the media, energy and public policy, polls and political images, the Black factor in American politics and party politics in Massachusetts.

Among the speakers and discussion leaders for the program were: Maura Hennigan Casey, Boston City Councillor; Joe Day, Channel 7 political reporter; Eugene Robinson, former city editor of The Washington Post; Michael Kennedy, president, Citizens Energy Corporation; Louis DiNatali, political consultant; Michael Frisby, City Hall bureau chief, The Boston Globe; Edmund Beard, director, John W. McCormack Institute of Public Affairs; John Froio, Malden City Councillor; Timothy McDonough, Norwood School Committee; Daniel O'Brien, Saugus School Committee; William Golden, state senator from Weymouth and John Sears, former Republican gubernatorial candidate.

John Kennedy was committed to both the belief and practice that politics and public service are honorable endeavors. It is in this spirit that the Kennedy Library sponsors programs such as this workshop to interest more young people in the challenges and rewards of political life.

EXPLORING A REAL ESTATE CAREER

Are you highly motivated? Are you a "people person"? Do you prefer unlimited earning capacity to the certainty of a modest pay check on a 9 to 5 job? Do you have good communication skills? Do you enjoy the prestige that goes with being a successful professional? If you can answer yes to these questions, you should consider a career in real estate sales.

Selling real estate isn't for everyone. Purchase agreements are among the most complicated contracts most people encounter, and there's a lot to learn. You must work hard and learn to understand how people operate under the stress of buying or selling a home. There's a lot of responsibility. Our agents are serving a most basic human need, and they must offer highly skilled professional assistance involving large amounts of money and our client's most valuable assets — their homes. To make it in this business, you must be not only competitive, but very, very competent.

For solid advice on buying or selling real estate, consult the professionals at Century 21, Silva Realty Associates. Please call us at 242-7470 or drop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

As time warranted between his daily bricklayer's job in the Custom House section of downtown and watching his children play in the early afternoon in the Training Field, returned "Townie," Mike Casso, visited the Yard. He hailed it the best rebirth of a forgotten historic facility that he has witnessed over the last two decades. Returning to his family home on Chestnut Street, Mike knew the Yard well from his boyhood years in St. Mary's Parish. Recently Mike ran a restaurant in North Conway, New Hampshire. Viewing the potential of the Navy Yard for resident, employee and visitor, his merchandising skills were rekindled. Mike was last observed entering the BRA Harborpark office on First Avenue with a host of questions. Nice to see you and the family home again, Mike. Best wishes in all your ventures.

Rain or shine, the application of Dupont stainmaster was scheduled for the railings at the Shipways, an integral part of the overall updating. From appearances, its durability justifies its appellation. The acid test was the torrent of rain that baptized its new white surface during our recent monsoon season.

In possession of a group of azaleas from her mother's Florida home, a Shipway's One resident was appreciative of the gift. Her only lament was that the buds of the local azalea are still struggling to bloom. Wagers are being accepted for the passages of spring. Many a resident, including Bobbi, will be booking flights to warmer climates if the stranglehold of unpleasant conditions don't improve.

Ambience, Deckadence — nouns, yes, but they are also yachts that graced the slips recently. Slipping away is the "Spenser For Hire" television series, which had the Yard as backdrop for many of its scenes. Returning at the slips is 007, not for a James Bond flick, but for a bacchanal. This is a most fascinating ocean going vessel. When the occasion permits, stroll down to Pier 8 and enjoy the new and old sights.

Boston Veterans Service Deputy Commissioner Thomas Lyons, no stranger to the Harborpark office, has been rewarded for his herculean efforts in the veteran causes. Mayor Raymond L. Flynn has designated Tommy for the summer program at the Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University. This is truly a great honor for Tommy who is deserving of the appointment. Ambulating in the vicinity of the Harvard Mall, could it be that Tommy was attempting to solicit the advice of a nearby resident? Developer and philanthropist Gerard Doherty could indoctrinate Tommy to the nuances of his alma mater. This was a great choice by Mayor Flynn which will yield a great benefit for all parties.

St. Francis de Sales Parish was well represented by the Doe and Dow family members taking advantage of an unfamiliar happening . . . the sun. Enjoying the Shipyard Park and adjoining promenade before the summer crowd arrives, these union oriented families must be pleased to witness their fellow labor members bringing the Yard to completion.

A resolution reminiscent of the Shays' Rebellion 1786-1787 is fermenting with area Cablevision subscribers. Long and frustrating outages have led to outrage among the populace. Explanations were shoddy at best for the periods of up to the five days the blackout persisted. A common response was "we are working on it." One issue that will require detailed work will be at the credit office. To those burdened by the non-service, examine your monthly invoice and guarantee that the adjustments have been calculated. During the hiatus, the good old American standby, the radio, mollified many.

We are pleased to announce that the Bunker Hill Associates, under President John "Fox" McLaughlin, have planned an exciting and fun filled week for all. On Saturday, June 11, the Second Annual Field Day will be held at the Barry Playground (Oilies) outside Gate 5 on Medford Street. Games, food and rides will be available with the cooperation of Boston Police Athletic League. A softball game will be hotly contested. So, bring your appetite and a glove for an exercising and entertaining day. On June 15, a benefit game between a women's pro-team and the City All-Star Team will be action packed. "Mayor of Charlestown" Claire Lynch will be the hostess on June 16 at Eden Street Park for a grand old Irish Party. Headlining the affair will be Andy Healy and the Country Roads. All residents should experience this worthwhile community gala.

Committee Requests BRA Draft Alternative Proposals For Parcel R-87

(continued from page one) opment Authority's (BRA) Request For Proposal (RFP) for the parcel "to be divided into single family lots not more than 3,000 square feet" in size, negating an earlier action on the parcel. At that time, many of the Council members expressed their desire to offer the community an opportunity to build single family homes, and, if possible, at affordable prices.

At the May 5, 1987 meeting of the Neighborhood Council, a vote was taken to send a letter to the BRA recommending that the plan for individual house lots be awarded in a lottery system, that a park and Chapter 689 housing be included on the site and that linkage funds be applied to support affordable units. No RFP was forthcoming from the BRA, and no further discussion had taken place on Parcel R-87 until last week's Council meeting.

Although this past Tuesday's meeting had a few heated moments, discussions were fruitful and abutters obtained requested information to better understand what will happen to the parcel of vacant land located across from their homes. David Armanetti, junior planner for the BRA, opened the meeting by stating his hope to "start fresh and start discussing exactly what we want to see on the parcel and what the consequences and factors would be that go into it, whether single family lots, Chapter 689 housing or a park — whatever you'd like to see." He continued, "We're here to listen and answer questions on what you'd like to see. We'd like to start fresh and get it moving in a positive manner."

Dennis McLaughlin, chairman of the Neighborhood Council, expressed his concerns on the previous Council vote that would divide the parcel into individual house lots. He felt that the cost could be prohibitive to most Charlestown residents looking to build on the site. When asked how much such a house could cost, BRA Senior Project Coordinator Bob Rush stated that, including the cost of the land, a house could cost approximately $200,000. "Although there would be people who would be able and willing to build at that price, it would by no means be considered an affordable unit," he stated.

McLaughlin said that since the last Council vote on R-87, he has received a lot of feedback from the community as to the practicality of single family lots due to the cost involved. Although he first objected to a developer building on the site, he expressed his concerns with individuals coordinating the overall development. He pointed out problems that could arise including the hook up of utilities, trying to get the entire parcel built at the same time, the number of stories each house would have, as well as the number of rooms, etc. "A single developer might solve all these problems," he stated.

Ann Considine, a Tufts Street resident, referring to the Chapter 689 housing, stated that although it had been discussed at previous meetings, it had never been fully explained to the neighborhood, except that it was handicapped housing. "We don't feel that it should be located so close to the school and there is no guarantee that any Charlestown residents would be housed there," said Considine.

Linda Lacey, an advocate of congregate housing, said that the concept of Chapter 689 housing was explained at the May 5, 1987 meeting. She stated that "Congregate housing in Charlestown will happen at the Lexington Street site. It is an executive order from the State that each community has to have both types of congregate housing, mentally retarded or mentally ill, or advanced stage for elderly. We are getting the advanced stage for the elderly and, hopefully, we'll be getting [housing for] the mentally retarded, because these people have the right to affordable housing," noted Lacey.

Council member Jim Mansfield referred to a statement from a resident that housing for the mentally ill was not wanted. He clarified the Chapter 689 housing as being for the mentally retarded, not mentally ill. "There is a big difference between the mentally retarded and mentally ill. The mentally ill will have emotional problems, but the mentally retarded do not, and they have the same right to housing as you do. Putting them in our community would only enrich our community by having them here. They have a right to affordable housing," he stated.

McLaughlin stated that "special needs people are a part of this community and someone has to speak for them. These people should not be confined to institutional settings. You can't say that they can't live here."

Council member Tom Cunha said that he was under the impression that this meeting was called to discuss Parcel R-87 in its entirety. "We have to address house lots. I think it is important, besides Chapter 689, to find out what will happen to the rest of the site. If you live there, you want to know what's going up around you." Cunha requested that the BRA draft two separate RFP proposals, one that would include individual house lots and the other affordable row houses. Each RFP would include off-street parking and a park. He also requested information on affordable housing possibilities.

Residents stated that they did not want condos, but rather housing for people who want to stay in the community. It was also suggested that the BRA look into different types of housing, such as pre-fab units, that would cost considerably less than the traditional houses built elsewhere in the city. Rush stated that the housing that was built on Lonsdale Street in Dorchester following the fire there last summer, was pre-fab construction that cost approximately $125 per square foot.

Both the BRA and the Council agreed that a series of workshops be set up to advise residents on the feasibility of building or buying an affordable unit in Charlestown. Rush stated that "it really gets complicated. You really need workshops to explain all the ins and outs." Rush said that there are five questions that should be addressed with the RFP: 1) The level of affordability; 2) The size of units; 3) What fits on the lot; 4) Ownership - legal structure and 5) Parking issues.

Sullivan Street resident Kevin Roche stated he shared impatience with the Council in getting "the job done. I'm all for simplifying the process, but have a cynical attitude that the BRA is not worthy of the trust of this board. The best plan for Charlestown has to be done apart from the BRA. Unless we get the top man there, you don't get the correct answer. The credibility of the BRA is zero. If you want local credibility, you have to pick your own path to the truth. We have to deal with reality. If you know what you want — get it."

In response to Roche's statement, Rush stated that the BRA will ultimately make the decision on R-87 and that all the neighborhood can do is recommend to the BRA Board what they would like on the site. Cunha asked the audience to respond as to what they wanted to tell the BRA to place on the parcel. A motion was passed to ask for the two separate RFP drafts Cunha requested for the site and that they be brought back to the community for their consideration.

McLaughlin requested that an amendment be placed on the motion that Chapter 689 housing be included in the RFP drafts. This raised concern from the residents in the audience who felt that this issue was voted down at the Council meeting last week. Nevertheless, committee members voted to include 689 housing in the RFP draft requests. Council member Betty Golden stated that "any vote taken should take into consideration the feelings of the abutters. They are the ones affected."

Parcel R-87 will be discussed at future Housing and Development Committee meetings. In the meantime, no affordable units are yet available to Charlestown residents, something that concerns the Affordable Housing Group who has been actively trying to bring these units into the community.

"I'll Never Do That:" An Evening of Drug and Alcohol Awareness will be held on Monday, June 13 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown Community School Auditorium, 254 Medford Street. Sponsored by the Bunker Hill Associates, the Charlestown Adolescent Task Force and Mayor Raymond L. Flynn, the event is one in a series celebrating Charlestown Pride Week.

"I'll Never Do That:" An Evening of Alcohol and Drug Awareness will consist of a performance by the Improbable Players, a Boston area theater company whose four actors are recovering alcoholics and drug addicts. Delivered in communities across the state, "I'll Never Do That"

Drug And Alcohol Awareness For Charlestown

has created an opportunity for people, young and old alike, to recognize drug related problems, encourage open discussion about them and to find relief from the sense of aloneness through the awareness that there is help available through a variety of existing resources within Charlestown.

"This is a first step in, not only creating awareness of the dangers of alcohol and drug use, but in recognizing the detrimental affects that they have on our community at large," said Joe Travis, co-coordinator of the Charlestown Community Schools. "The organizing committee hopes that all members of the community, from teens to seniors, will embrace this issue so that together we may develop community-wide strategies to deal with the ripple effects of substance use in Charlestown."

One major goal of the forum is the formulation of a committee comprised of Charlestown business persons and residents to address the pressing need for drug and alcohol awareness in the community. To ensure the success of this effort, Charlestown needs its sons and daughters, parents and friends to participate in this community-based event.

"I'll Never Do That:" An Evening of Drug and Alcohol Awareness is open to the general public at no cost. Refreshments will be served throughout the discussion to follow the performance. Again, Charlestown residents are encouraged to attend this event on Monday, June 13 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown Community School. Now is the time for all of us to confront this issue which is plaguing our community.

For additional information, contact the Charlestown Community School at 242-2770 or the Kennedy Center at 241-8866.

Meetings Continue With Abutters And Medford Street Developer

by Lynn Peters

Abutters are still asking developer John Stevens to scale down his redevelopment plans for 286-290 Medford Street.

Stevens, of the Charlestown Construction Company and owner of the property, presented yet another proposal at a May 25 meeting with abutters. But the neighbors want him to decrease the number of units.

Initially, in April, Stevens planned to build 13 units, which he hoped to rent, with an entrance and courtyard off Pearl Street and 16 underground parking spaces off Medford Street. The thirteenth unit would actually sit on Simpson Place.

Abutters opposed Stevens' ideas for the lot, calling it a "monstrosity," out of synch with the size, height and aesthetics of their neighborhood homes. He and his architects, Bob Konuch and Fred Bremer of Supplemental Architectural Services, trimmed down their dimensions this time by 1,500 square feet, opened up space in the rear of the lot by moving the building back and decreased the number of bedrooms from 26 to 20.

"I feel confident about coming to an agreement," Stevens said, but added that he is not sure how much more he can do. In the meantime, he has been seeking advice on his project from a BRA representative.

Neighborhood Council Housing and Development Committee Member and abutter John Lynch stressed the "positive tone" of the meetings between Stevens and neighbors. "The developers have been cooperative so far," Lynch said. "It's at a sticky point right now when the

“Charlestown Loves A Healthy Heart Day” Offers Health Screening For Residents

“Charlestown Loves A Healthy Heart Day” was held recently at Johnnie’s Foodmaster in the Bunker Hill Mall to allow residents to obtain a profile of their cardiovascular health. This event was sponsored by the Community Advisory Board on Cardiac Health Enhancement of the MGH-Bunker Hill Health Center and Johnnie’s Foodmaster.

Healthy Heart Day enabled Charlestown residents to learn of their risks of developing cardiac disease. Free blood cholesterol, blood sugar, blood pressure, height and weight screenings were provided and participants were asked to complete a questionnaire regarding stress, exercise and smoking habits. All the obtained information was fed into a computer to determine an individual comprehensive cardiac risk profile. Staff members from the Bunker Hill Health Center were available to counsel participants on how to lower their risk factors.

Cooking demonstrations and displays on exercise, stress, nutrition and smoking were available throughout the store.

The Lion’s Club Eyemobile, sponsored by the Charlestown Lion’s Club was available at the Mall for free screening for Glaucoma and visual acuity.

To assist Charlestown’s senior citizens in visiting the Healthy Heart Day Program, members of Teamsters Local 25 volunteered their time and the use of their van to pick up resident of elderly housing and return them to their homes.

WELCOMING residents to the “Charlestown Loves A Healthy Heart” Day activities held recently at Johnnie’s Foodmaster in the Bunker Hill Mall were (l. to r.) Peggy Carolan, manager, Bunker Hill Health Center; Larry Mulrey, director of personnel, Johnnie’s; Dick Morin, manager, Johnnie’s; and T.J. The Clown (Tom Jackson).

Charlestown's "Urban Singles" Sets Full June Calendar

Charlestown's new organization for single people — US — met on Thursday, May 26 and prepared a diverse schedule of events for the month of June. These will include a day at Fenway Park cheering on the Red Sox, a night out at the movies, a wine tasting party, a Bunker Hill Day party on the parade route, a softball game against the Boston Ski & Sports Club, a games night which will also be highlighted by a half hour slide show on historical Charlestown and a hike up Mount Monadnock.

The month of May was closed out with a Sunday bicycle ride and a group trip to watch the Memorial Day fireworks from the Navy Yard.

Three committees have been formed: one to work toward achieving the status of a non-profit corporation, a second to plan and coordinate group activities and a third to function as a telephone network, making sure that US members are all informed of the organization's activities.

Seeks More Male Participation

US would also like to encourage more of Charlestown's single gentlemen to join and participate. This is a great opportunity to meet a fine group of attractive single women, guys.

Next Activity Planned

The next US activity, a parlor games night hosted by Reverend Brian Murdoch, will take place on Thursday, June 16 at 8 p.m. in the library of Saint John's Episcopal Church at 27 Devens Street (a half block from the Warren Tavern). Erik Anderson of Harvard Street, a professional photographer, will present a half hour of historical slides of Charlestown to open the evening. A meeting of the US Activities Planning Committee will be held at 7 p.m. at the same location.

Further information on US membership and events can be obtained by calling Mark Dullea at 242-9657 or Barbara Sammon at 241-7659.

Charlestown Collaborative Day Camp

Once again the Charlestown Collaboratives, made up of the Charlestown Community Schools, The Boys and Girls Club and The Kennedy Center, will conduct a two session day camp in Charlestown.

The camp will be divided into two sections, one section for children 6 to 8 and another section for those 9 to 12. The first session will run from July 5 to July 22 and session two will run from July 25 to August 14.

We are planning an eventful summer of arts and crafts, swimming, sailing and field trips coupled with cultural enrichment and educational awareness. Many former employees are returning for the summer and will provide an experienced and capable staff.

This year the Collaboratives have adopted a sliding fee scale to provide sufficient funding for the many activities planned for the campers. The scale is as follows:

Session 1	Income	Session 2	Summer
A) $15	0-$16,000	$15	$30
B) $30	$16,000-28,000	$30	$50
C) $45	$28,000 plus	$45	$75

If there is more than one child per family, the Collaborative will go to the next scale (no child will be denied acceptance because of funding). Payment must be made at the time of registration. You may sign up for either session or both at the reduced rate.

Because of reduced funding we are limiting the camp to 80 enrollees per session. Selection will be made on a first come basis.

The program will run daily from 8:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. A lunch and snacks will be provided. A weekly schedule will be provided in advance.

Please be sure the application is completed fully so your child can be assured a spot in the camp. Income verification - three recent check stubs or public assistance verification will be necessary for people in the A and B categories.

A parent orientation will be held prior to the start of the camp to go over all details and to answer any of your questions.

Thank you for your cooperation.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who made me see everything and showed me the way to reach my ideal. You who gave me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me and you who are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Persons must pray the prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After the 3rd day your wish may be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then promise to publish this dialogue as soon as this favor is granted.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

• Where There's A Will . . . Joe Kent has been attempting to determine whether the four flag poles at the intersection of Main and Austin Streets at the opening of the small park outside Newworld Bank have pullies so that flags might be raised. He has tried to enlist the services of several city agencies with equipment that could assist him — finally finding one to take a look atop the poles. Well, when Joe gets working on something, it will get done. Stay tuned for further details, or better still, watch for the flags positioned on the poles.

• Happy Anniversary . . . to Peter and Dorothy Scott who will be celebrating their 64th on June 4th. Our best to both of you.

• Happy Birthday . . . to Clare Wilkins of High Street who'll celebrate her 12th on June 7th. Have a great year, Clare.

• Welcome Home . . . from Booth Bay, Maine to Linda and David Flanagan who just spent a few well deserved days of rest.

• Get Well Wishes . . . go out to Kay Whelan who'll be spending some time at the Winchester Hospital and to Mary Kelley of Elm Street who is in the Mass. General. Our warmest wishes to you both for speedy recoveries.

• Prominent Woman of Charlestown . . . who has been receiving some long overdue notoriety for her playwriting skills is Monument Square's Phoebe Blake. Phoebe has written several plays, one of which has found its way over to Ireland. Great news, Phoebe!

• For Those Who Want To Know . . . Last week's "street of the week" was Foss Street, and several residents knew where it could be found. Did you? Well, it's located off 61 Chelsea Street — now you know. Ready for this week's? Where is SIMPSON COURT?

• Put This Under "I Can't Believe It" . . . or "How low can you get" . . . Three local stores have reported that the canisters used in the fund raising efforts for the Bunker Hill Day Parade have been stolen! Rest assured that these "punks" will be the first lined up, beer bottle in hand, to watch the parade . . . the wreath placed at the marker for one of our deceased veterans during Memorial Day weekend has been desecrated by unthinking and uncaring persons. These memorials to men and women who served their country in time of war deserve respect and should not be destroyed . . . and the clock given to the elderly tenants at Constitution Cooperative by the former students of Saint Mary's School has been stolen. This token of a passage from the old to the new was meant to be a reminder of the school that once occupied that residence . . . What can be said? Sorry to say that such people live among us.

• Complaint Department . . . residents are upset with a display on the counter of Store 24. Right next to the small toys and candy sits a display selling camouflaged condoms. It is felt that, to say the least, this is very insensitive to the many children who buy at that counter. While we're at it, the smut magazines should be turned to the back cover, out of sight of the youngsters.

• The Night of the Roses . . . will be this Friday when ten young women compete for the title of "Charlestown Rose." Susan Lyons has served this community well this past year as our "Rose." Stop down to the K. of C. Hall on June 3rd to see who will represent our community in Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland come August. Best wishes to each and every contestant.

Benefit Game Set For June 15 At C.H.S. Gymnasium

The talented Hollywood Hot Shots will be lining up against the celebrity laden Mayor Raymond Flynn team to raise money for the Bob McGrath Scholarship Fund, on Wednesday, June 15 at Charlestown High School.

Bob McGrath, a native of Charlestown and a member of the Boston Municipal Police force, was killed last January. McGrath's untimely death has had a devastating affect on the whole Charlestown community. Commissioner of the Boston Municipal Police, Rick Calnan, stated, "Bob McGrath was the top of the line as a person and as a police officer. He is greatly missed by the entire department. We sincerely hope that Charlestown will come out on the 15th and support this worthy cause."

The Mayor's Office of Business and Cultural Development and Etonic have combined to put together a great night of basketball entertainment. The Mayor's team coach Brian Wallace has stated, "The people of Charlestown are in for a real treat. The Hollywood Hot Shots are the most talented female basketball team in the Country. They have five or six bonafide All-American, as well as four or five former professional (WPBA) players. We have enlisted the aid of some of Charlestown's best to counter the high flying Hot Shot offense. Former Boston College and legendary Charlestown High star Bob Smith will be playing with us along with another former Charlestown great, Kevin O'Halloran. We'll also suit up former Christopher Columbus and Saint Anselm's phenom, Leo Boucher, for some board strength."

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on June 15 at the Charlestown High School Gymnasium. Admission is $5. You won't want to miss it.

Clubhouse Road Race Call For Volunteers

As the excitement mounts for the annual Battle of Bunker Hill 10K Road Race to benefit the Charlestown Boys and Girls Club, so does the need for volunteers.

Because the race consistently attracts more and more runners each year, race organizers need manpower to make the event a success. The race will take place on Sunday, June 19th, before the start of the Bunker Hill Day Parade.

Volunteers are needed to fill several important positions, including:

Race Course Monitors - stationed along the race route and at the finish line to alert runners to mileage and time.

Registration Personnel - for pre-race registration on the day of the event.

Water Station Monitors - to make water available to runners along the race course.

Finish Line Monitors - to record runners' numbers with correct time of finish and order of finish.

Directional Guides - stationed along the course to direct the runners.

Refreshment Station Monitors - to dispense juice, etc., at the finish line.

Distribution of Posters and Registration Forms - at other road races, gyms, sporting goods outlets, health clubs, and throughout the community.

With your help, this year's Battle of Bunker Hill 10K Road Race will be the biggest and best yet. Volunteers of all ages should contact Linda Smith or Tammy January at The Raymond Group, sponsor of the race, 241-7700.

689 Housing Vote A Disgrace

Dear Editor,
As the parent of a special needs child, I watched the recent Charlestown Neighborhood Council's command performance. It was a total disgrace as members voted against the proposed 689 Housing for eight mentally retarded individuals.

There is a power company which abuts my property and supplies all of you with your materialistic pleasures. Would you also have voted against anyone having the opportunity to have electricity? Shame on you!!!

Those Were The Days, My Friends!

We, the senior citizens of Charlestown, are a hardy bunch! We, the people of yesterday, have forgotten more than the young of today will ever know. We have fought many battles in our years to keep our town, but we have survived.

We were here before electric lights, hot water, dryers, washing machines, panty hose, TVs, VCRs, credit cards, Papa Gino's, McDonalds! How did we ever do it?

The women wore earrings, not the men — now you have to look to see who is who!

We don't have to clean the streets anymore after the horses, but we do have to look for a parking space — which in both cases stink!

We never heard of Florida, just Dewey Beach. Our cruise was a trip on the ferry from Charlestown to East Boston. The only grass we ever heard of was in our yard — now they smoke it.

O yes, we got married, then lived together.

We do remember the banquets at the Armory on the night before June 17th. In 1952, Vaughn Munroe was the orchestra. The rallies for the politicians were wonderful, not like today. Then a truck with a piano on it would park on Bunker Hill Street and everyone would sing until the rally got "hot."

We all have such happy memories. We go along with the changes, but we remember best of all the old days — that is what keeps us going.

Those WERE the days, my friends!

An Open Letter To The Residents Of Charlestown

May 25, 1988

Last evening (May 24), I attended a special meeting of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, of which I am a member. The purpose of this meeting was to hear a presentation from the Boston Housing Authority relative to the development of 689 (special needs) housing on parcel R-87, which is located on a vacant lot of land on the corner of Tremont and Prospect Streets.

Many legitimate concerns were raised by both the Council and community residents. It is my opinion that these concerns were satisfactorily addressed. Opposition was voiced mainly by people who lived in the surrounding area or believed that affordable housing should be built on this parcel. I would like to take this time to address both of these issues.

Special Needs Housing has always been regarded by Charlestown residents as a "good thing," but when a decision has been made to develop an area, people back away because of their ignorance. This housing will not lower real estate values or cause problems in the affected area. These

Bunker Hill Health Center Merits Our Praise And Recognition

Dear Editor,

We who value public health are indeed fortunate to be served by the outstanding staff of the Bunker Hill Health Center. While their worth was very evident at the recently held "Charlestown Loves a Healthy Heart" Day, the Health Center's constant efforts throughout the year on local public health issues merit our praise and recognition. BHHC has demonstrated a determined desire to act in the best interest of Charlestown's residents. For this, we should all be quite grateful.

Healthy Heart Day appropriately focused on a major risk to the public health, cardiac disease. Thanks to our friends at the Center, many of us were afforded the opportunity to learn more about our blood pressure, sugar and cholesterol. We were able to witness cooking demonstrations and examine the effects of exercise, stress, nutrition and smoking on our health. Most importantly, everyone who took part in this rewarding program discovered how to limit their own risk of getting heart illness. By helping people understand their own mortality through this day full of activity, BHHC has taken a major step towards improving the quality of life all of Charlestown enjoys.

The importance of BHHC to Charlestown, however, cannot be measured in terms of this event alone. While many rightly recognize the Center for its excellence in providing quality medical attention, some may be surprised to learn of its efforts on other issues pertaining to the public health. It is through full examination of all its actions that one can come to truly respect and appreciate BHHC.

For example, the Health Center has been the lead agency in coordinating the study activities of the Massachusetts Department of Public Health's investigation of excess mortality rates in Charlestown. In addition, the Health Center has been actively working on a local smoking cessation program. Having had the great opportunity to join with BHHC on these and other efforts, I can sincerely attest to the positive and lasting affects the Health Center is having on local public health issues.

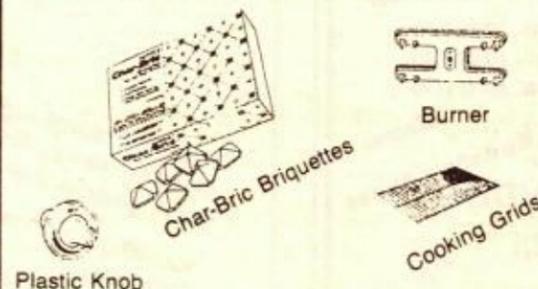

No gift can be more valuable than the gift of good health. I applaud the leadership and professionalism the Bunker Hill Health Center has demonstrated while assisting local residents to realize their own personal health goals. With BHHC's continued guidance, we can all look forward to many happy and healthy days ahead.

Very truly yours,
Richard A. Voke

special people are supervised around the clock by certified Department of Mental Retardation staff and the possibility of inappropriate behavior is minimal. There is an extreme difference between mentally retarded people and mentally ill people and the two should not be confused. Mentally retarded people are not cruel or violent, for the most part they are gentle and caring individuals.

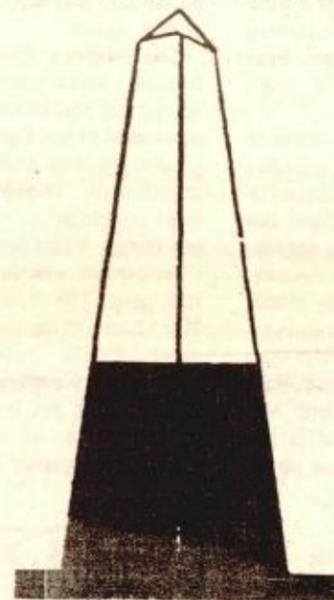

Affordable housing is a very big priority of mine, but I do not want to turn down other beneficial developments because of this need. It is my belief that 689 housing is affordable housing, it is home to mostly low income clients who deserve a decent environment in which to live. Additionally, it is my recollection that 689 housing was a component of this parcel originally. There will be enough room left over to build several affordable housing units on this parcel.

I am not questioning the vote that was taken by the Council, but I am embarrassed and ashamed of it. Charlestown has always prided itself on taking care of its own, but this was definitely not the case last evening. This is one problem we cannot blame on the "new people;" the blame lies on the "Townies" themselves. The one "new person" on the council, that was present last evening, voted in favor of this housing.

The attitude "let's build special needs housing, but don't build it in my neighborhood" is wrong and the people who share this attitude are selfish and insensitive. Maybe one day your family will have the experience of having a mentally retarded relative and know how truly special these people are.

Sincerely,
Jim Mansfield

Third Party Billing Training Program Continues At BHCC

At Bunker Hill Community College, 16 women are halfway through a program that will prepare them to be third party billers — a high demand field. They are in the ninth week of the 18 week program and are succeeding at it, although it is sometimes rigorous. Although most of the students have not been to school in years, they are doing better than they dreamed possible.

The third party billing training program is a pilot cooperative effort between Massachusetts General Hospital, The Raymond Group, developers of the Massachusetts General Building at the Charlestown Navy Yard, and the Mayor's Office of Jobs and Community Services, Dimock Community Health Center in Roxbury supplied the books and teachers.

The group is comprised of nine women, many of whom live in the Bunker Hill Housing Development. Some have been away from school for years and were nervous about passing the course, which includes an English and math review in addition to a general office skills course and medical vocabulary instruction.

Charlestown women enrolled in the program are: Patricia Keigney, Margaret Arroyo, Marion Haggerty, Donna Flammini, Alice Evers, Michele King, Joyce Tucker, Ramona Tamburello and Debra Lynch.

The students are about to enter the clinical phase of their preparation and will work in the billing departments of area hospitals one day a week in addition to their classroom study.

Some of the students in the class had not been to school in years, and making the initial adjustment too was a challenge. "We have a pretty compact program, but these are very able students who are motivated to learn and 18 weeks is ample time to give them the skills they need to get positions as third party billers," said Dorothy Shukri, who teaches medical terminology and the math and English review.

Most of the students have enjoyed returning to school and meeting the new challenge. "I like it, it's different and I learn something new everyday that I don't usually see. The review of English and math is good. A few of us have been out of school for a while. We start clinical training this week and will get to apply what we've learned in the classroom," said Donna Flammini.

The women in the class, some of whom are mothers with young children, appreciate

"USS Constitution" Receives "New-Old" Cannons

USS Constitution recently replaced two of its older cannons with two "new" ones as part of a program to make the ship historically accurate.

The new cannons are 32-pound carronades, a type of weapon in use aboard Constitution during the War of 1812. USS Constitution's charter calls for the ship to be as representative of the 1812 period as is possible.

To build authentic replicas of the cannons, the United States Navy's oldest shipyard, the Norfolk Naval Shipyard in Norfolk, Virginia, used many of the same methods that were in place when Constitution was built. The basic process called for carving a wooden model to use to form sand-molds that were, in turn, used to cast the 1.5 ton carronades.

Named after Scotland's Carron Iron Foundry, the carronades were nicknamed "The Smasher" because they fired a slow 32-pound shot that smashed through wooden hulls creating deadly splinters. Most cannons of the day fired a lighter shot that travelled farther, but punched a "neat hole" in the hull that left most of the crew unscathed.

Constitution's current "armament" is 18 carronades, 32 long guns (1,200 yard range), two 24-pound bow chasers (1,500 yard range), and, except for the new carronades, was cast in 1924.

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main Street on Tuesday, June 7 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "How To Play Baseball," in which Goofy demonstrates his skill on the mound; in "Toccata For Toy Trains," a train journeys through toy villages and countryside; and children explain the rules of safety in and around their playground in "Safety As We Play."

Will Lisa's scheme for a "scoop" backfire? Find out in "Lisa Makes The Headlines" shown only at 3:30 p.m.

The suggested readings in conjunction with these films are Shortstop by Bob Cluck, Deadline: From News to Newspaper by Gail Gibbons and The Little Engine that Could by Watty Piper.
