

Per Course Instructor Teaching Opportunities - Winter 2017
Memorial University of Newfoundland
Faculty of Humanities & Social Sciences; Department of Political Science, Law and Society

Subject to sufficient enrolment and budgetary restrictions, the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences may appoint several Per Course Instructors to teach courses in Law and Society in the Winter 2017 semester. Letters of application, along with curriculum vitae, a teaching dossier and the names and contact information of three referees should be submitted to the address provided below by Monday, October 17th. All required information must be received before applications will be considered; applicants are responsible for ensuring that their applications are complete.

LWSO 1000 (001) Law, Democracy and Social Justice

The Law and Society Program seeks suitably qualified applications for the position, Per Course Instructor, LWSO 1000, Law, Democracy and Social Justice, offered on campus (St. John's) in the winter academic term 2017 (05 January – 20 April 2017).

Timing: Monday & Wednesday @ 15:30-16:45

Law, Democracy and Social Justice examines the nature and aims of democracy and contemporary issues related to social justice through a law and society perspective.

Required qualifications:

Master's degree in a related discipline (i.e., social sciences and humanities with a specialization in law) or law degree; demonstrated knowledge and expertise in the area of law and society, democracy and social justice; and demonstrated evidence of teaching at the undergraduate level.

LWSO 1000 (081) Law, Democracy and Social Justice

The Law and Society Program seeks suitably qualified applications for the position, Per Course Instructor, LWSO 1000, Law, Democracy and Social Justice, offered by distance (CITL) in the winter academic term 2017 (05 January – 20 April 2017).

Law, Democracy and Social Justice examines the nature and aims of democracy and contemporary issues related to social justice through a law and society perspective.

Required qualifications:

Master's degree in a related discipline (i.e., social sciences and humanities with a specialization in law) or law degree; demonstrated knowledge and expertise in the area of law and society, democracy and social justice; demonstrated evidence of teaching at the undergraduate level; and, recent experience teaching through distance education.

LWSO 2000 (081) Law and Society in Canada

The Law and Society Program seeks suitably qualified applications for the position, Per Course Instructor, LWSO 2000, Law and Society in Canada, offered by distance (CITL) in the winter academic term 2017 (05 January – 20 April 2017).

Law and Society in Canada is an introduction to law in Canadian Society and the role which it has played in societies past and present.

Required qualifications:

Master's degree in a related discipline (i.e., social sciences and humanities with a specialization in law) or law degree; demonstrated knowledge and expertise in the area of law and society in Canadian legal systems; demonstrated evidence of teaching at the undergraduate level; and, recent experience teaching through distance education.

LWSO 3400 (001) Organized Crime in Canada: National and Global Perspectives

The Law and Society Program seeks suitably qualified applications for the position, Per Course Instructor, LWSO 3400, Law and Society in Canada, offered on campus (St. John's) in the winter academic term 2017 (05 January – 20 April 2017).

Timing: Tuesday & Thursday @ 15:30-16:45

Organized Crime in Canada: National and Global Perspectives examines the origins, expansion, and changing character of organized crime in Canada from the early twentieth century to the present, as well as Canada's role in transnational organized criminal activity. Laws relating to criminal activity, law enforcement and available tools to combat organized crime are assessed according to the inherent problems of investigation, evidence, and litigation.

Required qualifications:

Master's degree in a related discipline (i.e., social sciences and humanities with a specialization in law) or law degree; demonstrated knowledge and expertise in the area of law and society in Canadian legal systems; demonstrated evidence of teaching at the undergraduate level; and, recent experience teaching through distance education.

LWSO 4000 (081) Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Law and Society, 4000

The Law and Society Program seeks suitably qualified applications for the position, Per Course Instructor, Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Law and Society, offered by distance (CITL) in the winter academic term 2017 (05 January – 20 April 2017).

Multidisciplinary Perspectives on Law and Society is an appreciation and understanding of those rules and activities termed legal which can be gained from a variety of disciplinary perspectives. The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the different ways in which law may be approached within the humanities and social sciences. Through readings, discussion and research, students will gain a wider understanding of the role of law in society and of the diverse academic approaches for understanding it.

Required qualifications:

Master's degree in a related discipline (i.e., social sciences and humanities with a specialization in law) or law degree; demonstrated knowledge and expertise in the area of law and society and in the Canadian legal system; demonstrated evidence of experience teaching at the undergraduate level; and, recent experience teaching through distance education.

The rate of pay for all positions is according to the LUMUN Collective Agreement.

Memorial University of Newfoundland is committed to employment equity and encourages applications from qualified women and men, visible minorities, aboriginal people and persons with disabilities. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority.

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: Monday, October 17th, 2016

Applicants should send a cover letter outlining their qualifications, a Curriculum Vitae and the names of three references who can be contacted. Applications can be submitted to:

Renée Shute
Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences
Memorial University of Newfoundland
St. John's, NL
A1C 5S7

Email: rshute@mun.ca