New Members Elected To Neighborhood Council At Monthly Meeting

by Kathy Giordano

The Charlestown Neighborhood Council's monthly meeting on Nov. 14 had its highs and lows that brought laughter, and at times, shouting to the proceedings.

Committee reports were brief, if there was one to report at all. Council members who were in attendance were: Chairman Dennis McLaughlin, Vice-chairman Bill Galvin, Treasurer John Lynch, Secretary Stephen Collins, Bud Coleman, Kay Whelan, Jim Conway, Peter Looney, Tom Cunha, Dan Kovacevic, Kate McDonough, Moe

Dry Dock 2 Out Of Contention As Site For New Aquarium

— Harborpark Zoning Amendments
Reserve Parcel 5/Dry Dock 5 For Public Aquarium

by Lynn Peters

Boston Redevelopment Authority Director Stephen Coyle announced Tuesday that Shipyard Park, which includes Dry Dock 2, in the Charlestown Navy Yard will remain as public open space, preventing the New England Aquarium from building a new facility there. The Nov. 14 draft amendments to the Boston Zoning Code for sites within the city's Harborpark districts now zone Parcel 5/Dry Dock 5 in the Navy Yard for aquarium research.

Coyle's decision ends long-standing neighborhood controversy over a NEA move from Central Wharf to an historic Dry (continued on page 7)

Local Amateur Artist Recognized At Art Show

Nancy Perkins d'Rodriquez of Charlestown displayed her artwork in a Newton-Wellesley Hospital employee art show and won an honorable mention. Her color sampler of handmade paper was one of only 18 amateur art pieces chosen for recognition from among nearly 100 entries at the September show.

Perkins d'Rodriquez, who works in the hospital's labor and delivery department, entered the first "On My Own Time" show, sponsored by an employee committee and Tufts Health Plan. Her work was judged by her co-workers and local professional artists.

Charlestown Man Puts Together International Museum Exhibit

by Lynn Peters

Tickets for the upcoming world-recognized Claude Monet exhibit in February at the Museum of Fine Arts went on sale this week. Not only is it a must-see because of its historical significance in the art world, but Paul Hayes Tucker of Monument Square organized the show.

Tucker was invited by the museum because of his extensive background in Monet, Impressionism and French paintings, having been noted as a leading Monet specialist. As the guest curator of the exhibit, Tucker has traveled around the world to locate some 90 Monet paintings from private and public collections in places like Leningrad, Paris, Tokyo and Malibu. He has managed to gather nearly a third of the artist's work from the 1890s for the first collective showing of these pieces in 100 years.

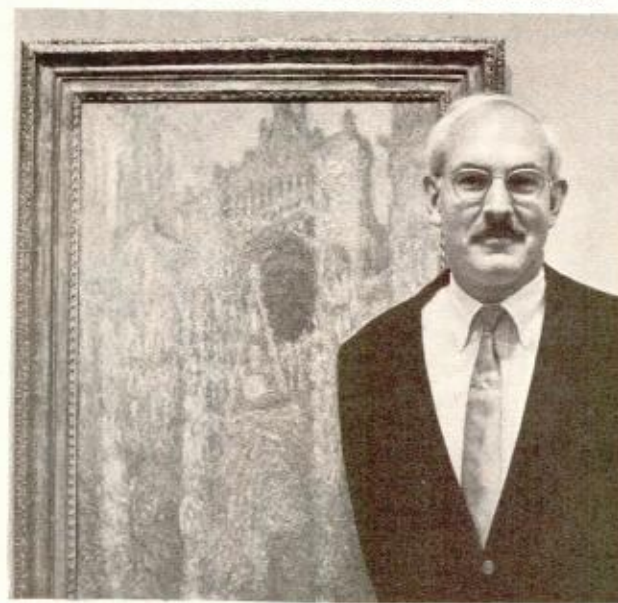

"Monet in the '90s: The Series Paintings" includes pieces from the Grainstacks, Poplar, Rouen Cathedral and other lesser-known series, presented together in the way the artist wanted them to be seen. The 1890 series paintings are a culmination of Monet's lifelong concern with his homeland, and the 1990 exhibit reassembles the artist's own exhibits and brings paintings together for their intended collective impact.

"Monet in the '90s" also culminates Tucker's personal fascination with the artist and his mid-life years in an evolving France during that time in history. Tucker's impressive background in the art world includes being the author of the 1982 book Monet at Argenteuil, and having to his credit a number of chapters, articles, reviews and lecture topics on Monet, Impressionism and French paintings. He has been an associate professor in the art department at the University of Massachusetts/Boston since 1978 and is a Robert Sterling Clark visiting professor at Williams College.

Tucker's choice in selected pieces, including a few never seen before, and his avid interest in Monet's work has created an exhibit that neither art lover nor history enthusiast will want to miss. Tickets went on sale Nov. 14, the 149th anniversary of Monet's birth. The exhibit is supported by a $1.4 million grant from Digital Equipment Corp., the largest corporate grant in the Museum of Fine Art's history, and received indemnities from the Federal Council of the Arts and Humanities, Her Majesty's Government under the National Heritage Act of 1980, and the Museums and Galleries Commission. Only in Boston from Feb. 7 through April 29, the exhibit will travel to the Art Institute of Chicago and onto the Royal Academy of Arts in London until Dec. 9, just four days short of the 64th anniversary of Monet's death.

Charlestown boasts of many important residents who are accomplished in a variety of areas and interests. Our community members' successes reflect on everyone in the neighborhood. Besides his involvement in the study of art, Tucker has been an important member of the Charlestown Preservation Society. He was involved in the four years of planning on the nearly complete and successful Thompson Square beautification project, and some may know him from Halloween's as the Friendly Wizard on Monument Square. His wife Maggie Moss-Tucker is also a recognized name in the community, and the longtime Charlestown couple live here with their two children Jonathan, 6, and Jennie, 3.

PAUL HAYES TUCKER of Monument Square was invited by the Museum of Fine Arts as guest curator of the upcoming three-city international "Monet in the '90s: The Series Paintings" exhibit. Tucker, a member of the Charlestown Preservation Society, will be the featured guest speaker at the Society's special reception on Friday, Feb. 23 from 6 to 10 p.m. in the museum's Tapestry Room.

The Charlestown Preservation Society will toast Tucker's involvement in the museum exhibit and his neighborhood participation at a special reception on Feb. 23. His curatorship has given him the opportunity to write the text for the exhibit's accompanying catalogue, a more than 300-page effort that includes 100 color and 100 black and white reproductions of Monet's work. The 6 to 10 p.m. February reception in the museum's Tapestry Room will feature Tucker, who will sign catalogues, as the guest speaker. Tucker is donating his time and talents to the community on this special Charlestown evening.

Tickets for Charlestown's special evening are available through Annette Tecce at 242-6004, or by sending $25 per person to the Charlestown Preservation Society, Box 201, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

THE IMPORTANCE OF CONDOMINIUM DOCUMENTS

As condominiums become a popular form of home ownership, especially for first-time buyers, many local governments are passing laws giving buyers an opportunity to review the condo documents before committing themselves to the purchase of a unit. Even where such laws don't exist, buyers may request a document-review contingency in the contract.

The most important papers are the condo association's Bylaws, Rules and Regulations, and the most recent budget showing income, maintenance and capital improvements costs, and the financial reserves. By examining these documents, you will find answers to most of your questions about the venture. Can you have pets? Who is responsible for repairs? What is included in the condo fee? Are there any special assessments to cover improvements not covered by the reserve funds? Are the fees likely to increase? If you take the time to examine your condo papers carefully, your purchase will be fully informed.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Silva Realty Associates are ready to serve you. Call us at 242-7470 or drop by our offices at 142 Main St. in Charlestown.

Life Behind The Wall

by Ronan FitzPatrick

The rate of arrivals and departures doesn't measure anywhere near the activity at Logan Airport with its controllers tower visible from many a home in the Yard. Former Shipway residents Allan and Janet Kincaid have moved south of Boston with their son Jonathan. Schooling, additional living space and acres of roaming land for their wandering feline Buzzy required the purchase of a home. The Kincaids won't be totally removed from the region. As proprietors of the Harborwatch Restaurant on Pier 6, their presence will be felt daily. To the family, enjoy the new surroundings and happy mousing to Buzzy.

By month's end, lifelong Townie Rebecca Doherty will take up residence at the affordable housing site on Thirteenth Street. Her schedule has been expanded over the last month. Consolidating and discarding acquired possessions has indeed been time consuming. This problem will pass, and the joy and gratification of owning her new unit will surmount any and all moving debacles. Rebecca didn't have to go to far for her moving crew. Brothers Tommy and Eddy and brother-in-law Hank Sheridan will provide the necessary bulk to make the move smooth. Rebecca will host the post-moving meal at Barrett's. Knowing the aforementioned, the entree will be seafood. To Rebecca, welcome neighbor, enjoy your new home and we hope you don't exceed your budget at Barrett's.

Its advertisement hails it as Boston Harbor's premiere marina, and Shipyard Quarters Marina at Pier 8 is seeking winter rentals. Featuring free pier parking, full live-aboard accommodations, four-point tie off, ice-free ships and docks, laundry services and professional year-round staff, S.Q.M. will gladly respond to your inquiries and reservations at 242-2020.

Anchorage residents Buzz and Mary Cole were strolling along Pier 8 for both a constitution and conditioning. Observing Night Rider II at dockside on Pier 8, the fine fall day allowed them to linger as the Live out of Nassau sailed south. At the end of the pier the Seaturtle, port of origin Annapolis, Md., was being winterized not far from the King Fish. The Coles have added more walking mileage since arriving in the Yard. They certainly make the most of our outstanding waterfront scenery.

For the harried college student, busy professional or retired administrator, C.Q. Personnel has the panacea. Having established offices at C-2 Shipways Place off Thirteenth Street, it brings full-scale secretarial services to the consumer. Presently, they offer a wide menu of business needs. A short walk from Pier 8, C.Q. has eight paramount services: Dbase mailings, dictaphone, copier, computer graphics, fax service, postage machine, shorthand/over the phone and word processing. They provide contemporary work-place concepts without a journey to downtown Boston. There is free pick and delivery, and all are available by dialing 242-8847.

Construction noise is to be expected, although it is bothersome to some residents. In general, Turner Construction Co. and its sub-contractors have been performing with professionalism. Over the Veterans Day holiday, Boston Sand and Gravel and Dorel Steel were delivering their products to Flagship Wharf with skill. Marketing has been good, and The Raymond Group is looking forward to on-schedule completion by mid 1990. At the adjacent Constitution Quarters, The Raymond Group handled some ugly party scenes with quick dispatch. They will not tolerate the noise and rowdiness that visited on a past weekend. Evictions and criminal actions will be the method to guarantee a non-occurrence. The rights of the law-abiding tenants were protected, and once again The Raymond Group has demonstrated its commitment to preserve and maintain a healthy and peaceful neighborhood.

The return of the U.S. Marine Corps sign on the former barracks didn't make the recent 214th anniversary of the Corps, but the paint job will be completed before the year ends and the sign will be repositioned. This will make a couple of abutters by the names of Ned Rosselli and Tom White happy. They are staunch supporters of the Corps and its motto: Semper Parati!

James Carroll To Speak At Charlestown Library

The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library will present noted Boston author James Carroll, reading from his work The Genius and the Corruption of the Irish Arrival in America on Thursday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.

A reception and book-signing will follow.

Help Decorate Charlestown

On Saturday, Dec. 2 at 10 a.m. the gaslight poles in the Town Hill area including the Harvard Mall, Harvard Street, Prescott Street, as well as Main and Warren streets to Thompson Square and the Training Field, will be decorated for the Christmas Walk and the holiday season. More than 220 gaslight poles are scheduled to be decorated with pine boughs and red ribbons.

Volunteers are needed, and people interested in helping for a few hours are requested to come to the Prudential Gibson Real Estate Office at 6 Pleasant St. The task is an easy one, and with many people helping will go much quicker.

Robert J. 'Bob' Farrell To Be Honored At Reception

Robert J. "Bob" Farrell, former chairman of the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) Board of Directors, will be honored for his many years of service to the Board and the city of Boston, at a reception to take place on Tuesday, Nov. 21 beginning at 6 p.m. at the Commandant's House in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Farrell, a Townie who grew up on Bartlett Street, served on the BRA Board for over 19 years, and as its chairman for more than 16 of those years. Charlestown residents will best remember Farrell for his contributions and concern for Charlestown issues. He never forgot fellow Townies or Townie organizations. His presence at community functions was also noted by those who appreciated his thoughtfulness and generosity to their cause.

The reception will include hors d'oeuvres and refreshments and a $20 contribution per person is requested. For tickets or more information, contact Susan Hannon at 722-4300, ext. 4337 or John O'Brien at the Charlestown BRA office, Building 34, First Avenue in the Charlestown Navy Yard, 242-2282.

Boston Parks Department Opens Edward's Tot Lot

LONGTIME CHARLESTOWN resident and park neighbor John Grestorex cuts the ribbon officially opening Edward's Tot Lot at the Eden Street Park in Charlestown. Looking on are Patrick Harrington (left), deputy commissioner of the Parks and Recreation Department, and City Councillor Robert Travaglini. The $60,000 in improvements to the tot lot includes metal climbing structures, toddler swings, a slide and a sanded play area. According to Parks Department Regional Administrator James "Stretch" Walsh, who oversees Charlestown's parks and playgrounds, community leaders and neighbors played a large role in designing and completing the project.

'Outward Bound' Documentary To Feature Charlestown Students

Cablevision will air its locally produced documentary, "Outward Bound — A Time for Trust," beginning Nov. 16 at 8 p.m. on channel A-23. The program documents Boston's Outward Bound High School Program conducted on Thompson Island in Boston Harbor. Cablevision will repeat this program on Nov. 18 at 7:30 p.m. and throughout November.

Produced by Cablevision's Kathy Cleaver, "A Time for Trust" examines the inner changes in Boston high school students as they encounter the rigors of the internationally acclaimed Outward Bound. Taped on Thompson Island, Cablevision's documentary follows 24 high school students from Charlestown and Hyde Park as they learn to develop outdoor survival skills.

"We see the students on rope courses and learning navigation skills, but what Outward Bound is really teaching these inner city kids is trust, confidence and teamwork," said Cleaver.

The Thompson Island Outward Bound Education Center is this year's recipient of the Wizard Award for an Outstanding Non-profit Organization.

Dock 2 with its accompanying deed restrictions that name it permanent open space, or to a smaller dilapidated Parcel 5, which includes Piers 10 and 11 and Dry Dock 5. Preservation groups were threatening to sue earlier this year when the BRA considered transferring the title to NEA for $1 or securing legislation to lift the restrictions on the land through Congress.

Zoning regulations for the city's Harbortown project, which include building height restrictions and setback guidelines on all of Boston's waterfront property, have been in the discussion phase for approximately four years. Paul Barrett, director of Harbor Planning and Development for the BRA, said Wednesday that rather than holding up the process any longer, Coyle made the decision to preclude one of the choices for the aquarium in the Navy Yard and move toward completing the zoning process. Barrett said he now hopes that NEA planners will have enough time to make a decision soon.

"We need to have the aquarium site in place before we go before the BRA Board of Directors," Barrett said, adding that the Navy Yard Master Plan and the city's waterfront development depends on where the aquarium will go.

NEA has been studying the possibility of Parcel 5 for the aquarium rather seriously since the community pressured for an investigation of its feasibility. On Wednesday, NEA planners were meeting in San Francisco to discuss the preliminary results of a Parcel 5 architectural and exhibit feasibility study. According to NEA's new project manager William Whitney, the San Francisco-based firm Eshe- rick, Homsey, Dodge and Davis, known for its design success on the Monterey Aquarium, presented findings to a group of trustees.

Although Whitney would not be specific, he said that because the sites were entirely different, "there will be a different kind of exhibit and display, but there are opportunities on the Parcel 5 site not afforded on Dry Dock 2."

Whitney said that the cost of an aquarium on Parcel 5 would stay within the same $150 million budgeted for a Dry Dock 2 facility.

Whitney added that the BRA had invited aquarium planners to look at the Parcel 5 site as an alternative to Dry Dock 2 in August, and even though Dry Dock 2 is now unavailable, Whitney did not expect the trustees to make any decisions before December.

Meanwhile, the recent draft amendment to the city's Harbortown zoning will be available to the public on Nov. 17 at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. BRA representatives will make a public presentation of the new regulations on Monday, Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown High School auditorium, 240 Medford St. The meeting will be held in conjunction with the Charlestown Neighborhood Council IPOD Committee, which has been working on Charlestown-specific zoning for more than two years.

The BRA Board of Directors is scheduled to discuss the draft amendments at a Dec. 14 citywide public hearing.

The Navy Yard's First Day-Care Center Opening

The Children's Place opened with a ribbon-cutting ceremony Tuesday morning as the first on-site day-care center in the Charlestown Navy Yard.

Located on the ground floor of Building 36, 100 First Ave., the new center has cribs for 14 infants and can care for 38 more youngsters up to 5 years old. Working parents who work or live in Charlestown now have the opportunity to keep their young children close by. The center is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., and parents can also stop by during lunch hours to eat with their children.

The Children's Place is owned and operated by Workplace Connections, a consulting and management firm in Waltham that boasts of establishing the first on-site office park day-care center in the state in 1985. The new Navy Yard center was designed by Anthony Platt of Notter, Finegold & Alexander Inc., and includes classrooms, crib rooms and a fenced-in play area with a slide and climbing equipment facing Shipyard Park.

Proposed Zoning Code Amendments For The Harbortown District

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, in preparation for a citywide hearing before the BRA Board on Dec. 14, will present the proposed amendments to the Boston Zoning Code as it relates to the Harbortown District to the Charlestown community at a meeting on Monday, Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown High School, 240 Medford St. The area under review in Charlestown extends from the North Washington Street Bridge, includes the Charlestown Navy Yard and continues to the land bordering the Little Mystic River.

Included among the points in the draft amendment are:

- Charlestown Gateway Building Height and Floor Area Ratio. Within the Charlestown Gateway, which extends from the North Washington Street Bridge to the Navy Yard, and includes the Tudor Wharf project, there would be a maximum building height of 75 feet on land and 55 feet on piers. A floor area ratio of three would be allowed.

- Charlestown Navy Yard Building Height. Within the Charlestown Navy Yard Housing Priority Area, which extends from the National Historical Park to Yard's End between First Avenue and the water, the maximum height within 200 feet of the seaward end of piers would be 55 feet, and to 75 feet in height from greater than 200 feet.

Within the Yard's End, the building heights would range from 110 feet to 155 feet, with one building permitted up to a maximum of 200 feet in height.

The Historic Monument Transfer Area would carry a maximum building height of 85 feet.

Shipyard Park and the National Historical Park would be designated an Open Space-Recreation Subdistrict with no structure, except in the National Historical Park as an accessory to active or passive recreation, being allowed. Accessory structures shall not exceed 35 feet.

- Yard's End Build-Out. The build-out of Yard's End would be as follows:

Parcel 4 — 350,000-square-foot hotel to be built before Jan. 1, 1994.

Parcel 5 — 275,000-square-foot aquarium to be built before Jan. 1, 1994, with 125,000 square feet to be built after that date.

Parcel 6 and 7 — 550,000-square-foot office/research facility to be built before Jan. 1, 1994, with 450,000 square feet to be constructed after that date.

- Charlestown Navy Yard Housing Priority Area Build-Out Regulations. At the completion of development, there will be 1,200 dwelling units in the Navy Yard, 25 percent of which will be affordable. Construction of proposed projects in the Housing Priority Area is limited to 75 dwelling units in Building 104 and 110 units on Piers 5 and 6. An additional 75 dwelling units, 50 of which would be affordable, would be constructed. Fifty would be constructed in the Priority Area, and 25 would be built elsewhere in the Yard.

- Waterfront Yard Area Setback Requirements. The Waterfront Yard Area of any waterfront lot shall be a minimum of 12 feet in depth from the mean high tide line along the sides of the lot and a minimum of 35 feet from the seaward end of the lot. A waterfront pier shall be at least 12 feet along the sides, and 50 feet from the seaward end.

- Required Affordable Housing Creation for Yard's End. A proposed project on Parcel 6 in Yard's End may be permitted to exceed the building height of 155 feet, up to a maximum of 200 feet, if the applicant creates or causes to be created affordable housing in Charlestown at a ratio of one square foot of floor area above the 155-foot limit for each square foot of floor area of such affordable housing. The affordable housing must be on Parcels R-87 and P-2, or both.

Children's Films

The Film Program for Children will be presented at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., on Tuesday, Nov. 21 at 10:30 a.m. and 3:30 p.m.

The features will be "A Mouse and Ben," in which Igor, the dancing mouse, dreams of life in Big Ben; find out whether the lion will show the mouse any mercy in "The Lion and the Mouse;" and a snowdrift nearly foils dog's rescue attempt in "Animal's Best Friend."

Bouncing Tigger upsets Rabbit's revenge in "Winnie the Pooh and Tigger Too," which will be shown shown only at 3:30 p.m.

The suggested readings in conjunction with these films are: Once a Mouse by Marcia Brown; The House at Pooh Corner by A.A. Milne; and Alexander and the Wind-up Mouse by Leo Lionni.

MADD In Charlestown

CHARLESTOWN YOUNG PEOPLE contributed to the Greater Boston Chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Driving in preparation for this year's Red Ribbon Campaign, a safe holiday awareness effort to remind people not to drink and drive. Youngsters at the Boys & Girls Club cut and tied thousands of ribbons for the Boston-area campaign,

Adult Discussion

The Adult Discussion Group will meet on Wednesday, Nov. 22 at 10:15 a.m. at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St.

This session, moderated by Adult Librarian Tess Nesbit, will be an evaluation of the first two month's programs. In addition, plans for crafts sessions will be discussed.

LOCAL MADD ACTIVIST Janice Fernandes (right), stands before a mound of ribbons for the organization's Red Ribbon Campaign with Donna Packer, who just lost her daughter Lacey to a drunk driver. Fernandes has been active in MADD's Greater Boston Chapter since her sister Lynne was killed New Year's Day seven years ago by a drunk driver. Red ribbons are being distributed for people to tie on their cars as a statement against drinking and driving this holiday season. The campaign kicked off on Nov. 12 with a rally at City Hall attended by the mayor and other city officials and will continue through the holidays until Jan. 1.

Gillen, Kevin Roche, Bob Wallace, Mel Stillman, Jim Mansfield and Ken Stone.

The meeting was opened with a presentation of an engraved plaque by McLaughlin, on behalf of the council, to Judy Evers, Charlestown liaison from the Mayor's Office of Neighborhood Services, in recognition of her service to the Neighborhood Council and the community.

New Members

The first order of business was the election of council members to fill three vacant seats, representing Precincts 2, 4 and 6. Five candidates had applied for the vacancies.

Ellen D'Ambrosio, recently elected council member from Precinct 6, moved into Precinct 2 since the September election. She resigned her seat in Precinct 6 to run for the Precinct 2 seat. Robert Brooks, a resident of the Navy Yard for the past three years, also vied for the seat to represent his area on the council.

Precinct 4 had only one candidate, Edward O'Connell of Bartlett St.

Two candidates, both former council members, sought to represent Precinct 6. The candidates were Nancy Keyes, former representative of the Charlestown Merchants Association, who had been replaced on the council by Galvin following a vote by the association, and Marty O'Brien Sr., who held a council seat on the original appointed board. Council members recorded their votes on paper ballots, which were signed, and the votes were tabulated under the auspices of Election Committee Chairman Kevin Roche. D'Ambrosio, O'Connell and Keyes were elected and seated on the council, bringing the council to its full membership of 21.

Committee reports were as follows:

Development Committee Tom Cunha, chairman

The committee met on Oct. 24 to discuss the planned development of Tudor Wharf. Cunha reported that the developers had made a presentation, which was followed by a question and answer period. Concerns raised included the affordability of leased space for local businesses and the status of the Massport request for proposals for the adjacent parcel of land.

Cunha stated that the developers have presented plans that would encompass both parcels of land and are being delayed awaiting Massport's decision on its adjacent parcel. According to Cunha, a Massport representative has stated that they are still considering the future use of this parcel, and feel that they have not received enough response to the request for proposals.

Other issues included the infestation of rodents when construction began, the appropriate avenue for the dispersal of linkage money and parking for marina residents.

The Development Committee voted to request that the council approve the preliminary plans for Tudor Wharf as presented to the committee, and recommend that the development team proceed to the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) design professionals and return to the council for continued design review and further discussions. The council voted to approve the committee report and allow the developers to proceed to the next step in the development process. Council members made it clear that this was not a vote of endorsement for the Tudor Wharf development, only a vote to proceed.

Council member Gillen requested that the Development Committee find out the status of the development plans for Parcel R-87, located between Tremont and Prospect streets, and investigate the possibility of the BRA approving the construction of pre-fabricated or modular housing as affordable units as another alternative to get people into affordable housing.

McLaughlin stated that a request could be made that a representative from the BRA attend the next council meeting to address the issue. He informed the council that there are ongoing meetings on all aspects of affordable housing to speed up the process and make more units available citywide.

Cunha stated that his committee would check in to Gillen's requests and report back to the council next month.

Basic Services

Peter Looney, chairman

Looney announced that he was planning to hold a meeting to discuss the budget cutbacks affecting Camp Bunker Hill, and another meeting with Massport personnel on the authority's beautification project taking place under the Tobin Bridge.

He also stated that he is attempting to gather information on organizations that regulate and offer assistance to skateboard enthusiasts in the formation of leagues. This is in response to a group of young people who are seeking the placement of a designated skateboard area in Charlestown.

Looney also announced an upcoming Christmas Party for community youngsters at the Charlestown Courthouse on Dec. 7 from 3 to 5 p.m. Also, referring to the Courthouse, he urged all concerned residents to attend a 9 a.m. meeting on Nov. 16 to discuss plans to close the Charlestown Court.

Bylaws Committee

Moe Gillen, chairman

Gillen had no committee report, but requested that a meeting be scheduled to discuss the upcoming election of officers. When this meeting is scheduled, it will be announced in the Patriot.

Mitigation Committee

Bill Galvin, Chairman

There has been no Mitigation Committee meeting since the last council meeting, but Galvin stated that a meeting would be scheduled to address the contents of correspondence between Massport and the Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) regarding the future use of the former Revere Sugar site on Medford Street.

The letter stated that "MWRA has determined that the leased property is suitable as a personnel ferry site rather than a construction staging site," and went on to state Massport's position. "In keeping with our staff discussion with MWRA, renegotiations of the lease will not be undertaken until MWRA has received MEPA approval for the project change and a mitigation agreement has been reached with the Charlestown community." No meeting date had been established at presstime, but will be announced when the information becomes available.

The committee also received correspondence from Harold Brown through Hamilton Realty requesting their "review and potential approval" for a lease agreement in the Charlestown Marine Park for Spinnaker Software Corp. that wishes to relocate from Cambridge to Charlestown.

The letter states that 60 to 80 jobs would be created,

by Kathy Giordano

When Sorelle Bakery and Cafe opened under new management on Oct. 1, new owners Marc Perelman and Mark Sills quietly set out to maintain the quality of service that their customers had become accustomed to from former owners Marie Piraino and Joanne Masaro.

"We knew that Marie and Joanne had done a great job and built a fantastic reputation," stated Perelman, "and we wanted to not only maintain their high standards of integrity but build on their quality of service by eventually adding to our hours of operation and expanding the business by offering new products and a delivery service."

Sorelle's reputation for excellence began the day the new bakery opened on March 12, 1987, and spread quickly throughout the community by word of mouth. Eventually residents of Boston and well beyond became aware through glowing articles found on numerous occasions in the Boston daily newspapers and popular magazines. Sorelle had become a place to visit to add that special touch to any occasion.

Perelman was delighted to state that along with acquiring a successful business, the Sorelle recipes that have become so popular and sought after were also included, and continue to be offered daily.

Sills has been delighted with the warmth and friendliness which has greeted them since they came into Charlestown. "We have been getting good feedback and treated well by the community," he stated. "They have made us feel welcome." Sills said that he and Perelman have already made plans to get involved in the annual Christmas Walk and want to become more involved in community activities in hopes of becoming a real part of Charlestown.

Both men bring with them extensive backgrounds in management and cooking. Perelman has managed well-known restaurants in Boston, New York and Philadelphia. Sills, who fills the position as chef at Sorelle's, has been cooking for the past 15 years. "It was something I've always enjoyed doing, starting at the age of 15 in Connecticut and continuing through high school and summers during the '70s at Cape Cod," he stated. He has also had experience in management and bartending. Perelman explained that the two met while working together at The Winery in Boston several years ago.

They decided to go into business together and set out to find the right spot in — The Boston Phoenix

THERE'S MORE TO CHARLESTOWN THAN YOU THOUGHT!

Less than a 10-minute WALK from the Warren Tavern, Sorelle, the Front Page and Olives is another AWARD-WINNING place where your senses will be aroused, . . .

THE CHARLESTOWN WORKING THEATER!

Across the street from The Schrafft Center stands a renovated Victorian firehouse, The Charlestown Working Theater, and it's not too late to become a charter subscriber. Even though "Fo's Fables," which featured Tommy Derrah, a leading actor from the American Repertory Theater, and Israeli TV. and theater actress, Leora Rivlin, has already passed, the theater is offering a three-play package for the January, March and May shows — starting as low as $23 for three plays!

Our Boston premiere Mainstage Productions will be:

- Opening Jan. 4 — "The Construction Of Boston," with music and direction by Scott Wheeler and words by Kenneth Koch, is a musical that condenses 300 years of Boston history into one evening!

When the John Oliver Chorale performed the music for the first time in 1989, The Boston Globe praised it as a "charming and substantial masque."

- March 9 - April 8 — "The Woman Who Shot Lenin"

Written by Soviet emigre Svetlana Boym, is a playful examination of history and truth that reveals the way violent acts by women are often reduced and revised to fit narrow prejudices.

- May 18 - June 17 — "Molly Bloom"

Molly dissects the foibles of her men with unsparing Irish honesty and lyrical Irish wit! Included is a sampling of traditional Irish songs performed by some of the area's best musicians.

SPECIAL EVENTS

In a series scheduled between Mainstage Productions, the most exciting of Boston's developing theater scene will be presented, including —

- "Tony, Dean and Sammy: The One Man Show," an evening of comedy with Charlestown's own TONY V.

- "The Real Miss America Pageant," created and written by Laurie Zallen, Shelila Curran and Lisa Finneran-Niden.

- Children's Theater Workshop. Back by popular demand, CWT present a series of performances and workshops specially created to teach theater skills, juggling, puppetry and movement, to children.

Subscribers to CWT's Mainstage season will receive priority notification and ticket discounts for both the Special Event Series and the Children's Theater Workshops.

Plans Underway For LFC Olympics

The Life Focus Center (LFC) Olympics will be held on Saturday, Dec. 9 at 2 p.m. at the Lt. Michael Quinn, USMC, Athletic Complex, 255 Medford St., Charlestown.

These olympics, held annually by and for children and adults who are mentally retarded or physically handicapped, have made a real difference in their lives. It allows them not only a day of athletic fun, but gives them an opportunity to compete in their own olympics. The LFC Olympics offers not only the symbolic lighting of the torch, fanfare and competition on their level, but it also enhances their self confidence.

In order to help financially underwrite the LFC Olympics, a program/ad book is being prepared. Residents and businesses are being asked to give a helping hand to the mentally retarded and physically handicapped by taking an ad in the Program Book which will have a distribution of 1,000.

Advertisements are priced at $125 for a full page, $70 a half page, $40 a quarter page, $25 an eighth page, or a sponsor listing is $5 per name.

Please made checks payable to the LFC Olympics, and forward to Jim Conway, Program/Ad Book Chairman, Life Focus Center Inc., One City Square, Charlestown, Mass. 02129.

The deadline for advertising copy is Dec. 1.

LFC Executive Director Jack Millerick extends warm and sincere thanks for the community's continuing support of the Life Focus Center and its programs such as the olympics, and invites residents and business persons to join them on Dec. 9 for the LFC Olympics.

Third Annual Charlestown Christmas Walk Sunday, Dec. 10

★ ADOPT A GASLIGHT POLE ★

Residents are invited to take part in this year's Christmas Walk by "adopting" one of the many charming gas-lit posts along the walk route.

When you adopt a pole, it is decorated by one of our committee members with a ribbon, pine bough, bow and a card with the name of the donor. If you choose, you may adopt a pole in someone's name or as a gift! The minimum donation is $10, however, the more you can contribute, the more events and festivities we can add to the walk.

Please send a check payable to the Charlestown Christmas Walk Inc. and mail it to: The Charlestown Christmas Walk, c/o Rosemary Kverek, Prudential Gibson Real Estate, 6 Pleasant St., Charlestown, Mass. 02129. Include your name, and the name or names to be attached to the pole.

All donations, which are tax-deductible, must be received by Wednesday, Nov. 29

HOUSE AND DOOR

★ DECORATING CONTEST ★

Charlestown residents and businesses are invited to join in an old-fashioned house and door decorating contest. Prizes donated by local merchants will be awarded at the tree-lighting ceremony in Thompson Square the afternoon of the Christmas Walk.

To take part, residence and business decorations must be in place by Wednesday, Dec. 6. On the evenings of Dec. 7-9, please have your lights on between 6 and 9 p.m. so that judges may view your decorations.

Prizes will be awarded to homes and businesses decorated traditionally. In keeping with the old-fashioned theme of the walk, the use of white lights, pine boughs, holly berries, sea shells and the like, is encouraged. Exceptional creativity will also be noted.

If you have any questions on the contest, call Jamie at 242-0472.

★ SHIP DECORATING CONTEST ★

Those who have boats or ships on Charlestown's waterfront are invited to enter the Christmas Walk's ship decorating contest. First, second and third prizes will be awarded.

To take part, your ship decorations must be in place by Wednesday, Dec. 6, and on the evenings of Dec. 7-9 your lights should be on so that judges may view the decorations.

If you have any questions, call Jamie at 242-0472.

★ NEXT MEETING ★

The next meeting of the Christmas Walk Committee will be held on Monday, Nov. 20 at 5:30 p.m. at Otis & Ahearn, 90 Main St.

Anyone interested in helping with the Walk is welcome to attend.

Over The River And Through The Woods To Sweeney's

by Judie Dunphy

It may not be grandma's house, but last year on Thanksgiving Day you wouldn't have known it looking at all of the happy faces at Sweeney's Bunker Hill Seafood located at 106 Bunker Hill St.

So, why eat alone this year? Get out, meet new friends and enjoy a delicious Thanksgiving dinner served with love as a guest of owner Bob Sweeney.

Sweeney, his wife Carol and his family decided last year to do something to bring a feeling of joy and togetherness to local folks who have no family with whom to share Thanksgiving dinner.

Their endeavor was so successful that they are planning to expand their good will. This year, not only will the Sweeneys and their friendly volunteers be serving dinner from noon to 3 p.m. at the restaurant, but they have arranged to have meals delivered to shut-ins unable to make the trip down to the restaurant.

If you know of anyone who is a shut-in and will be spending a lonely Thanksgiving at home, please call Sweeney's at 241-5955 to make arrangements to have a little Thanksgiving warmth delivered to them courtesy of Sweeney's.

with preference given to Charlestown residents. The company handles software duplication, testing, packaging and shipping, and operates during normal business hours. According to Brown, no heavy trucking would be involved.

Galvin stated that a representative from Spinneraker would be invited to attend the next Mitigation meeting to present their proposed relocation plans.

New England Aquarium Committee-of-the-Whole Dennis McLaughlin, chairman

McLaughlin stated that no meetings had been held since the last council meeting, but informed the council that BRA Director Stephen Coyle had stated at a Navy Yard ribbon-cutting ceremony earlier in the day that Dry Dock 2 and Shipyard Park had been designated as open space, which led the chairman to believe that Dry Dock 2 was no longer a consideration as a site for the aquarium.

This information clearly disturbed certain council members. Cunha was first to respond, stating, "The Neighborhood Council endorsed in writing Dry Dock 2 as the New England Aquarium site. I would appreciate a written response from the BRA that Dry Dock 2 is no longer the site for the aquarium. If we endorsed the aquarium in Dry Dock 2 after blood-letting, we deserve a response on what they have decided. It is only appropriate to inform us why our vote was overlooked."

Conway made a recommendation that Coyle send a letter to the council before the next meeting explaining the status of the project. "We have gone on record endorsing Dry Dock 2 but haven't heard anything since (the vote)," he stated.

McLaughlin stated that he would request a letter from Coyle on the status of the proposal. He added that any decisions on the appropriate zoning required for the aquarium would have to receive council approval.

IPOD Committee

John Lynch, chairman

Lynch announced that a meeting on Harborpark zoning will be held on Monday, Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. at the Charlestown High School auditorium, 240 Medford St. A limited number of copies of the drafted amendment to Harborpark zoning will be made available late Friday afternoon, Nov. 17 at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. and at the offices of The Charlestown Patriot, One Thompson Square.

The council opened the meeting for comment from the floor and the first to speak was Parks Department Regional Administrator Jim "Stretch" Walsh who reported that the Parks Department had made a stand in area parks by installing signs stating dogs were not allowed. This, he said, caused an uproar from dog owners, and the department wanted to hear from the council on their reaction to the ban.

McLaughlin informed Walsh that the complaints of dog litter in area parks far out-weighs the concern of dog owners. Conway stated that "we should vote to endorse the Parks Department's current policy." Coleman commended Walsh and his department on the job well done in Sullivan Square. The council, after much banter back and forth aimed toward Walsh, voted unanimously to endorse the Parks Department policy of banning dogs from city parks and also to commend the department for their excellent job at Sullivan Square.

Dorothy Connolly, community liaison from Massport, addressed the council on the ongoing beautification project under the Tobin Bridge, and stated that her office was willing to meet with the community on the project as it progresses. In answer to Looney's request for information on skateboarding under the bridge, Connolly stated that it was not the appropriate site but that Massport was willing to work with the community on the matter.

Boston Police Community Relations Officer Joe McNulty was present and answered questions from the council. Council members voiced their concerns on speeding cars through the neighborhood streets, the status of setting up a model drug unit, as Commissioner Francis "Mike" Roache had stated would be done at his recent public meeting, parking restrictions at Monument and Thompson squares and the success of the radar patrol in catching speeders on Main Street and in Sullivan Square.

Stillman and Looney remarked that the appropriate time to ask such questions was at the monthly Public Safety Committee meeting. They reminded the council that these meetings are very poorly attended, but were always well prepared with guest speakers by the Police Department.

Evers said that her office has been working on replacing the crossing guard outside St. Francis de Sales school and asked McNulty to update the situation. He stated that the Police Department had hired a replacement but it would take two to three weeks to process the position. In the interim, he stated, a police cruiser would be dispatched to cross the children.

New Business

Looney requested information on the reconstruction of the 40 flights. Evers stated that she was informed that it turned out to be a bigger job than anticipated because pipes were found under the stairs. Proper signs will be posted and work will go forward in the spring, she stated. The council voted to recommend the stairs be made safe and passable for the winter.

Looney also requested information on the status of the parking lot at the Clarence R. Edwards School. He stated that neighbors had complained to him that they no longer could park in the lot because they were told it would be used for teachers at the school, tenants in the former DaPrato building at Essex and Main streets and the residents that will move into the newly renovated housing at High and Walker streets.

He was informed by members that parking in the lot for the new housing at High and Walker streets was agreed upon by a vote when that development project came before the council. It was not known why DaPrato residents were included in those who were allowed to park in the lot.

Galvin stated that although everyone was in favor of elderly housing, he was upset when the Public Facilities Department announced recently that they planned to develop the Municipal Building at the corner of Lexington and Bunker Hill streets into elderly housing without coming before the community to discuss the project. "We have to protect the process. We have to insist that the Public Facilities Department uphold that process," he added.

Galvin also commented on the placement of curb cuts on neighborhood streets without notification to abutters. He requested that the council and abutters be notified before any permit was issued to a resident for a curb cut. "Each time a curb cut is granted, two parking spaces on the street are lost," he stated. The council voted to include the matter of issuing curb cuts in the new zoning requirements to be established by the IPOD Committee, to request prior notification from the city on future issuance of curb-cut permits and, if that is not possible, request the City Council through Councillor Robert Travaglini to address the issue.

Coleman stated that the MWRA would vote on Nov. 15 on whether to remain in Charlestown or move their office space elsewhere. He requested some action by the council to notify MWRA of our desire for them to remain in the Charlestown Navy Yard and thus keep the jobs for Charlestown residents. McLaughlin stated that he would write a letter and attend the meeting to present it to the authority.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday, Dec. 5 at 7 p.m. at the Knight of Columbus Hall.

With Thanksgiving fast approaching, Townie Santa can't be far behind. Plans are being made to bring a little cheer into the lives and homes of Charlestown's elderly, needy shut-ins — persons 60 years of age or older with little or no family contact — with the delivery of Christmas baskets on Sunday, Dec. 17. The baskets will contain useful items such as canned goods and toiletries, along with a hot turkey dinner and some surprises.

GIFTS ARE BEING REQUESTED

Donations of new gift items, suitable for an elderly man or woman, are being requested. Gifts donated to Townie Santa will be wrapped by the committee and added to the Christmas baskets. Please drop them off at The Charlestown Patriot office at One Thompson Square by Dec. 4.

WATCH FOR THE CANISTERS

Townie Santa canisters will be found on the counters of our local stores within a few days. Drop your change in the container — it will be used wisely and well.

SAVE THE DATES

The packing of the Christmas baskets will get underway on Monday, Dec. 4 at the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens St. Volunteers are needed to assist with this monumental undertaking.

The work dates scheduled thus far are:

Packing and Wrapping — Monday, Dec. 4, 7 p.m.

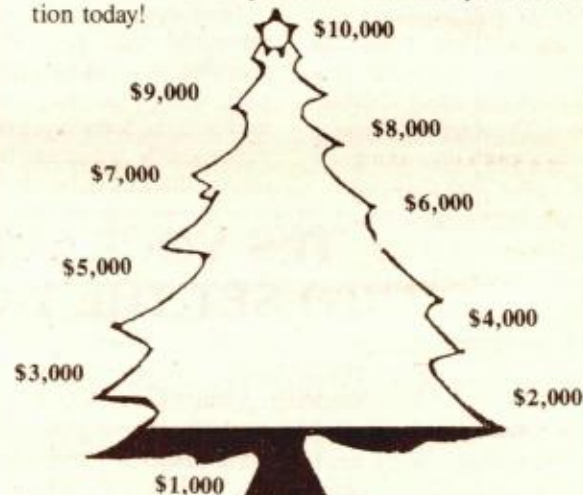

Packing and Wrapping — Tuesday, Dec. 5, 7 p.m.

Delivery — Sunday, Dec. 17, 11 a.m.

WATCH THE CHRISTMAS TREE GROW!

Contributions for Townie Santa have started to arrive, but much more is needed. The committee is asking for your assistance in making the Christmas tree grow! All donations will be publicly acknowledged.

Not For Nothin' . . . But Have You Heard . . .

• I Peeked . . . and let me tell you about the best buys in town! They'll be found this Saturday at St. Mary's Annual Christmas Bazaar in the Parish Hall on Winthrop Street between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. See you there!

• And While You Are In The Christmas Mood . . . Be sure to stop by the Life Focus Center Christmas Bazaar on Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at One City Square. You'll be glad you did!

• Welcome . . . to newly elected Neighborhood Council members Ed O'Connell, Ellen D'Ambrosio and Nancy Keyes. They were seated Tuesday night, and will represent their precincts for the next two years. Congrats!

• Get Well Wishes . . . go out to Peg Sullivan of Main Street. Peg, who is secretary for the Daughters of Isabella, is undergoing testing at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital. Why not drop her a card to cheer her up? Send it to her at the hospital on Governor's Avenue, Medford, Mass. 02155 — Room 235. Get well soon, Peg!

• Recuperating . . . in Kensington, Md., after recent eye surgery is Bill Whelan, patriarch of the Whelan clan. Hope you're up and about and able to read this get-well wish by now, Bill!!

• Just Wondering . . . have you seen the new housing going up on Belmont Street? It's pre-fab, and the jury is still out on whether it gets a plus or a minus.

• Close To The Mark . . . were Jim Walsh's prediction on the recent election. Did you ever think of becoming an election consultant, Jim?

• Twenty Years Ago . . . Nov. 15 marked the milestone for Jamsie and Carol Connors of High Street who celebrated this special anniversary with a weekend get-away at Cape Cod. Congrats and best wishes!

• Tickets Are Going Fast . . . for the Bob Farrell reception on Tuesday, Nov. 21 at the Commandant's House in the Navy Yard. Tickets at $20 each can be picked up at the BRA office on First Avenue in the Yard, or call John O'Brien at 242-2282.

• And The Winner Is . . . Jean Collins of Thirteenth Street. Jean was the first lucky winner in the Smoke Shoppe's monthly losers drawing. Customers enter their losing Mass. Millions, Megabucks and Daily Number tickets bought at the Smoke Shoppe for a shot at a $25 Mass. Millions seasons ticket. A young customer drew Jean's name on Wednesday from the hundreds of entries. Congrats, Jean! Hop your luck continues with the Mass. Millions!!!

• Birthday Wishes . . . go to Pawcatuck, Conn. resident and one of the Patriot's staunchest supporters, Dorothy Scott, who'll be celebrating her big day on Nov. 20. Have a great year, Dot! . . . and a little closer to home . . . Barry Scadding, grounds keeper for Old Ironside Way, celebrated his birthday yesterday, Nov. 15. Heard you've been doing a fantastic job there in CharlesNewtown, Barry! Have a wonderful year!

• Proudly She Has Served . . . Dora Atkinson was reported in last week's Patriot as a newly elected member of the Bunker Hill Tenants Task Force Board — when, in fact, Dora has informed us — she was re-elected last week having served her fellow residents going on five years. Good for you, Dora!

• No One Asked, But . . . I'm still waiting to see who'll win the 1,000 pound turkey at the St. Francis raffle this Sunday. Tickets are still available, folks. Contact the school office at 242-4636, the rectory at 242-0147, or see the ushers after Mass this weekend.

• Walk-A-Thon Winners . . . St. Francis de Sales proudly announced the winning walkers who went that extra mile to raise funds for the school. The first place winner of $100, donated by City Councillor Robert Travaglini, was fifth-grader John McAteer who raised $385; second place went to sixth-grader Jill Kelly who raised $276 and won $50 for her efforts that was donated by Mayor Raymond Flynn; third place winner of $25, donated by Carmen Merlino of High Pharmacy (who also donated the trophies), is Shannon Lundin from grade five who raised $215; and fourth place winner for raising $212 was Lisa Fratalia of grade 6 who won $25 donated by School Committee member Rita Walsh-Tomasini. Awards will be presented at the school's Thanksgiving Prayer Service. Great job, kids!

• The Grinch Has Been Spotted . . . He's still in the Navy Yard but has moved from the BRA office into more plush surroundings further down First Avenue. He still refuses to place that Christmas tree inside Gate 4 and has been overheard remarking, "I'm not interested." . . . Imagine that? Me thinks a little bit of Scrooge has taken over this situation . . . Stay tuned, folks! Will the residents of the Navy Yard be deprived of their tree? Will the children of the community go without this beautiful tradition? . . . Say it ain't so!

• The Christmas Tree HAS Gone Up In Thompson Square . . . Only 39 days till . . .

BNN-TV To Cover English-Latin Football Game

BNN-TV will cover the Boston English-Boston Latin High School football game on Thanksgiving Day. The play-by-play cablecast of the holiday game by the century-long rival teams will take place on that Thursday evening at 6 p.m. on cable channels 3 and 8.

Richard Levine, sports anchor for BNN-TV's Neighborhood Network News, will provide the play-by-play commentary and will interview players and coaches. Julie Mallen is the sports producer for the game, and has undertaken this role for all the high school football coverage this year as well as for all girls and boys high school basketball games. Brian O'Sullivan, chief engineer, is technical director for the game. Production crew members include Jim Moran of Charlestown.

Boys & Girls Club To Sponsor Decathlon

The Keystone Club at the Charlestown Boys & Girls Club is sponsoring a Decathlon, the first of what will be an annual event, for boys and girls ages 13 to 18. It will be held on Saturday, Nov. 25 starting at 1 p.m. in the Teen Center at 60 High St. It is not necessary to be a club member to participate.

The Decathlon will consist of 10 events. Participants must compete in at least seven of the events.

The entry fee is $4 for a team of two if sign up is done in advance. For Saturday sign up, the fee is $5.

Trophies will be given to the winning team and refreshments will be available.

All proceeds will go to benefit the Keystone Club.

For more information, please call 242-1775, ext. 225.

Basketball Clinic To Start Dec. 1

Boys and girls 6 to 16 are invited to learn the secrets of better basketball from Jamie Most, Johnnie's son, and neighborhood enthusiasts at a Friday, Dec. 1 basketball clinic from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Kent Community School gym, 50 Bunker Hill St.

The clinic is free and is designed to give kids a chance to learn the game or play better. The clinic will emphasize certain skills, such as lay-ups, passing and how to handle the ball. The clinic is a brand-new Charlestown Against Drugs-sponsored activity, developed by local volunteers in conjunction with The Raymond Group.

To register for the Dec. 1 clinic, call Tom Desmond at 242-8932, Bob McGann at 242-2770 or Linda Smith at 241-7700 with your name, age and address.

More coaching volunteers are always needed, and anyone interested is invited to call and sign up to help. Charlestown people already involved in coaching are Tom Desmond of Harvard Street, Bob McGann of Charlestown Community Schools, Peter Looney of Main Street, Kevin Smith of Old Ironside Way, Judith Evers of St. Martin Street, and Dan Smith, Don Dennis and John Brady of Harvard Street.

Girls Ball Hockey Update

Another explosive evening of ball hockey was in store last Thursday. All-out effort and hustle was evident in each participant.

Stand-in referee Greg "Out of the Action" Jackson had his hands full with heated confrontations and hard-played games.

The first game was postponed, and will be played at a later date if necessary.

The night's second encounter featured Eden Street against the Barbies. Goalies Noreen Hagarty and Christine Sorrentino combined for a shutout. Hagarty scored two goals which, along with a pair from Joanne Wallace, assured a Barbie victory.

Mary Kay Tkachuk gave the Parkies an early lead in the evening's finale. Shannon McLaughlin put home the first of her two goals, followed by scores from Melissa Doherty and Nancy Kane, to allow the Chiefs to take the lead. Tkachuk reduced the deficit to 3-2 at the midway point. The second half was all Chiefs, as Kane and McLaughlin finished the scoring and handed the Parkies team its first loss.

Don Bosco And Dom Savio To Meet Thanksgiving Day

Don Bosco Technical High School of Boston and St. Dominic Savio High School of East Boston will meet on the gridiron to inaugurate an annual Thanksgiving Day football game.

Although the two teams have met three times before, with Savio winning two of three games, this year will be their first Thanksgiving game.

The game starts at 10 a.m. at East Boston Stadium at the airport.

In the past, Don Bosco has played Cambridge Rindge and Latin on Thanksgiving morning, and Dominic Savio has opposed Christopher Columbus High School in the North End which has discontinued football.

Ice Skate And Feel Great!

Ice skate and feel great! Skating is a lifetime sport to be enjoyed by all ages. Instruction is available at the Charlestown MDC rink, which officially opened on Sunday, Nov. 12. The Bay State Ice Skating School will offer group lessons for children age 5 and up and adults.

The Bay State Ice Skating School's professional staff is devoted to making ice skating fun! Students are grouped according to ability with seven to 10 students per teacher. Afternoon classes meet at 3, 3:30 and 4 p.m.; Saturday classes are mid-morning and at noon; Sunday classes are in the morning; and evening classes are at 7 p.m.

Most series are seven weeks for $42 plus a weekly rink admission fee of 75¢ per child and $3 per adult, a reasonable fee for keeping yourself in shape, healthy and full of pep! Skating is a nice group activity. You can learn the basics and also what's new. Classes are co-ed and either hockey or figure skates can be worn.

Come skate with Bay State. Whether you are a first-timer or have ice skated before, join us today! Classes begin Mid-November. Call now for registration information, Bay State Ice Skating School, 965-4460.
