

The Word
Elohim.
A Bible for

The Holy Scriptures.

This version of the Word of Elohim has a number of key features that are often downplayed, ignored and even hidden in many other versions.

Even the most corrupted versions of Scripture can still lead to saving Faith in Our Lord, Elohim and Saviour, YAHshua/Joshua/Jesus. And in regards to understanding, the Holy Spirit will teach you and be your teacher, you just need to ask YAH.

Main features first, There is no division called new testament and old testament between the books, the scriptures commonly called the old testament from Genesis to Malachi also contain the proof and much explanation of the New testament in His Blood , and were used as such by the early church to demonstrate that YAHshua was the prophesied saviour and Lord. Yes there is an old testament and there is the New testament in His Blood, but there is not such an artificial division in this edition of His word, because it was a device and division of all Scripture that prevented Jewish people from being saved more often.

The New Testament in His blood and resurrection, and the Old testament via Moshe, is contained in the whole of Scripture from Genesis to Revelation

The Name of Elohim.

In the English translations of many versions of scriptures the word God(from the archaic gud, the name of an ancient deity in Europe who was supposedly benign and good, also another word form originating from gud, that is the word good) was chosen to represent the Hebrew word Elohim. So to avoid lots of confusion I have put Elohim back. Also His Holy Name as/is YHVH(meaning I am, see Gen 3v14 John 8v58, hence, I am, being a synonym for YHVH) as opposed to YHWH(which is a scribe Pharisee gnostic Talmudic Kabbalist Freemason device to deceive believers), in a later edition I will put the Hebrew word for YHVH/יהוה and I am/אהיה to fully resolve this issue, for it then is, and cant be separated, in comparison to the deliberate confusion propagated about YHVH vs YHWH within the English language for deliberate and selfish reasons by men and devils. Also that more than 6000 times His Name YHVH has been hidden under capital letters in the KJV , with the words LORD or GOD in capital letters.

The English usage of J is a recent phenomenon, meaning less than 600 years old, so to again demonstrate another confusion about YHVH, a very long time ago before there was English as a language, the vowels for the word Lord(Adonai) in Hebrew, were transferred to YHVH in Hebrew, for translation purpose it was claimed to enable His name to be spoken properly, so when we do get to English as a Language, we now find a series of sad and egregious errors and deceits used to claim primacy about His name, and all it has really done is cause more confusion, deception and mistrust, for when people now say Jehovah, they are propagating a lie and a deceit, which gives a certain cult more credence, who claim that name as being His Holy Name, simplicity is this if you go to modern Israel, you will never find this word sound jehovah for His Name, you will find the word sound YAH/YAHVEH/HalleluYAH etc., in Israel the rabbis try to get people to say HaShem, which means Lord instead of saying His Name, and this is where the great confusion and deceits entered into the English language about the usage and meaning of Lord, Yes He is our Lord, however the fact the translators used the scribes and Pharisees deceit to Hide His Name YHVH under the capital letter words LORD and GOD, is in itself a deep wickedness and deception.

Scripture is very clear about the innumerable and I mean hundreds and hundreds of blessings in scripture from Genesis to Revelation in regards to the wonderful blessings of Knowing, honouring and saying His Name. YAH is the short form of YHVH, and our Lord, Elohim and Saviours name is YAHshua as that is spoken in Hebrew and sounds in English (the true English translation of YAHshua is Joshua, Jesus is a transliteration not a translation). There are many variant spellings, YAHshua I have chosen as best, to demonstrate the direct connection it is with YHVH, HalleluYAH YAHshua. And that being baptised in the Name of the Father and the Son and The Holy Spirit happens through YAH/YAHshua/YHVH. If you were baptised, meaning fully immersed in Jesus/Jesu etc, translation/transliterations of His Name, no problem by faith in Him you are.

KJV also had Holy Ghost instead of Holy Spirit, the Greek word KJV Uses for the word Spirit is the same as the one the KJV uses for Ghost. So to avoid confusion about The eternal Holy Spirit, and the departed souls of men, I have made all references Holy Spirit.

The words in Italics.

In the KJV the translators added many words that are not in the Greek(or Hebrew, to achieve it was said, to help explain the passages), all those non scriptural additions have been removed as well.

Books.

First let me explain there are many older branches of the Vine than just English speaking protestantism, and some of them , for example the Ethiopian church have more than 80 books listed as scripture in their canon, so I have included in this version of scriptures all the books that were in the KJV until the mid 1800s, I have not included Enoch, but in another work called the History of the Faith I have.

In regards to the LXX over the Masoretic /Jamnia text, The scribes and Pharisees along with high priest and set, became so concerned about so many Jews getting saved in the first 100 years of the church, that they ended up having a special gathering called the Council of Jamnia, where they systematically removed all references , or changed tenses and words throughout the scriptures that related in anyway as prophesy in regards to our Lord YAHshua, as Messiah/Christ, and other related themes, then they systemically searched out as many copies of the original Hebrew texts as they could find and destroyed them replacing them with their altered and doctored text we now know as the Masoretic text. The dead Sea scrolls in the main, side with the LXX, with some minor exceptions. The difference between the LXX and Masoretic texts are significant and many. Therefore one is more correct and one is greatly altered, I have used Brentons English LXX. As The Lord, the Living Word and by whom all things were created , and hence would know, along with the Apostles etc., from Matthew to Revelations, all use quotes that are from the LXX, in the KJV(and hence Greek manuscripts), and that was when the Hebrew scriptures were in the temple and read daily as well, which means there was no difference at the time between the Hebrew scriptures and the LXX.

Prayers.

Please pray that this version is shared widely, and please feel free to share and do so, there is no copy-write on His Word, so freely I give as freely I was given, Amen YAH

Genesis

(Gen 1:1) In the beginning Elohim made the heaven and the earth.

(Gen 1:2) But the earth was unsightly and unfurnished, and darkness was over the deep, and the Spirit of Elohim moved over the water.

(Gen 1:3) And Elohim said, Let there be light, and there was light.

(Gen 1:4) And Elohim saw the light that it was good, and Elohim divided between the light and the darkness.

(Gen 1:5) And Elohim called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night, and there was evening and there was morning, the first day.

(Gen 1:6) And Elohim said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the water, and let it be a division between water and water, and it was so.

(Gen 1:7) And Elohim made the firmament, and Elohim divided between the water which was under the firmament and the water which was above the firmament.

(Gen 1:8) And Elohim called the firmament Heaven, and Elohim saw that it was good, and there was evening and there was morning, the second day.

(Gen 1:9) And Elohim said, Let the water which is under the heaven be collected into one place, and let the dry land appear, and it was so. And the water which was under the heaven was collected into its places, and the dry land appeared.

(Gen 1:10) And Elohim called the dry land Earth, and the gatherings of the waters he called Seas, and Elohim saw that it was good.

(Gen 1:11) And Elohim said, Let the earth bring forth the herb of grass bearing seed according to its kind and according to its likeness, and the fruit-tree bearing fruit whose seed is in it, according to its kind on the earth, and it was so.

(Gen 1:12) And the earth brought forth the herb of grass bearing seed according to its kind and according to its likeness, and the fruit tree bearing fruit whose seed is in it, according to its kind on the earth, and Elohim saw that it was good.

(Gen 1:13) And there was evening and there was morning, the third day.

(Gen 1:14) And Elohim said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth, to divide between day and night, and let them be for signs and for seasons and for days and for years.

(Gen 1:15) And let them be for light in the firmament of the heaven, so as to shine upon the earth, and it was so.

(Gen 1:16) And Elohim made the two great lights, the greater light for regulating the day and the lesser light for regulating the night, the stars also.

(Gen 1:17) And Elohim placed them in the firmament of the heaven, so as to shine upon the earth, (Gen 1:18) and to regulate day and night, and to divide between the light and the darkness. And Elohim saw that it was good.

(Gen 1:19) And there was evening and there was morning, the fourth day.

(Gen 1:20) And Elohim said, Let the waters bring forth reptiles having life, and winged creatures flying above the earth in the firmament of heaven, and it was so.

(Gen 1:21) And Elohim made great whales, and every living reptile, which the waters brought forth according to their kinds, and every creature that flies with wings according to its kind, and Elohim saw that they were good.

(Gen 1:22) And Elohim blessed them saying, Increase and multiply and fill the waters in the seas, and let the creatures that fly be multiplied on the earth.

(Gen 1:23) And there was evening and there was morning, the fifth day.

(Gen 1:24) And Elohim said, Let the earth bring forth the living creature according to its kind, quadrupeds and reptiles and wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and it was so.

(Gen 1:25) And Elohim made the wild beasts of the earth according to their kind, and cattle according to their kind, and all the reptiles of the earth according to their kind, and Elohim saw that they were good.

(Gen 1:26) And Elohim said, Let us make man according to our image and likeness, and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the flying creatures of heaven, and over the cattle and all the earth, and over all the reptiles that creep on the earth.

(Gen 1:27) And Elohim made man, according to the image of Elohim he made him, male and female he made them.

(Gen 1:28) And Elohim blessed them, saying, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and subdue it, and have dominion over the fish of the seas and flying creatures of heaven, and all the cattle and all the earth, and all the reptiles that creep on the earth.

(Gen 1:29) And Elohim said, Behold I have given to you every seed-bearing herb sowing seed which is upon all the earth, and every tree which has in itself the fruit of seed that is sown, to you it shall be for food.

(Gen 1:30) And to all the wild beasts of the earth, and to all the flying creatures of heaven, and to every reptile creeping on the earth, which has in itself the breath of life, even every green plant for food; and it was so.

(Gen 1:31) And Elohim saw all the things that he had made, and, behold, they were very good. And there was evening and there was morning, the sixth day.

(Gen 2:1) And the heavens and the earth were finished, and the whole world of them.

(Gen 2:2) And Elohim finished on the sixth day his works which he made, and he ceased on the seventh day from all his works which he made.

(Gen 2:3) And Elohim blessed the seventh day and sanctified it, because in it he ceased from all his works which Elohim began to do.

(Gen 2:4) This is the book of the generation of heaven and earth, when they were made, in the day in which YHVH Elohim made the heaven and the earth,

(Gen 2:5) and every herb of the field before it was on the earth, and all the grass of the field before it sprang up, for Elohim had not rained on the earth, and there was not a man to cultivate it.

(Gen 2:6) But there rose a fountain out of the earth, and watered the whole face of the earth.

(Gen 2:7) And Elohim formed the man of dust of the earth, and breathed upon his face the breath of life, and the man became a living soul.

(Gen 2:8) And Elohim planted a garden eastward in Edem, and placed there the man whom he had formed.

(Gen 2:9) And Elohim made to spring up also out of the earth every tree beautiful to the eye and good for food, and the tree of life in the midst of the garden, and the tree of learning the knowledge of good and evil.

(Gen 2:10) And a river proceeds out of Edem to water the garden, thence it divides itself into four heads.

(Gen 2:11) The name of the one, Phisom, this it is which encircles the whole land of Evilat, where there is gold.

(Gen 2:12) And the gold of that land is good, there also is carbuncle and emerald.

(Gen 2:13) And the name of the second river is Geon, this it is which encircles the whole land of Ethiopia.

(Gen 2:14) And the third river is Tigris, this is that which flows forth over against the Assyrians. And the fourth river is Euphrates.

(Gen 2:15) And YHVH Elohim took the man whom he had formed, and placed him in the garden of Delight, to cultivate and keep it.

(Gen 2:16) And YHVH Elohim gave a charge to Adam, saying, Of every tree which is in the garden thou mayest freely eat, (Gen 2:17) but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil of it ye shall not eat, but in whatsoever day ye eat of it, ye shall surely die.

(Gen 2:18) And YHVH Elohim said, It is not good that the man should be alone, let us make for him a help suitable to him.

(Gen 2:19) And Elohim formed yet farther out of the earth all the wild beasts of the field, and all the birds of the sky, and he brought them to Adam, to see what he would call them, and whatever Adam called any living creature, that was the name of it.

(Gen 2:20) And Adam gave names to all the cattle and to all the birds of the sky, and to all the wild beasts of the field, but for Adam there was not found a help like to himself.

(Gen 2:21) And Elohim brought a trance upon Adam, and he slept, and he took one of his ribs, and filled up the flesh instead thereof.

(Gen 2:22) And Elohim formed the rib which he took from Adam into a woman, and brought her to Adam.

(Gen 2:23) And Adam said, This now is bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh; she shall be called woman, because she was taken out of her husband.

(Gen 2:24) Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave to his wife, and they two shall be one flesh.

(Gen 3:1) And the two were naked, both Adam and his wife, and were not ashamed.

(Gen 3:2) Now the serpent was the most crafty of all the brutes on the earth, which YHVH Elohim made, and the serpent said to the woman, Wherefore has Elohim said, Eat not of every tree of the garden?

(Gen 3:3) And the woman said to the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden, (Gen 3:4) but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, Elohim said, Ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die.

(Gen 3:5) And the serpent said to the woman, Ye shall not surely die.

(Gen 3:6) For Elohim knew that in whatever day ye should eat of it your eyes would be opened, and ye would be as gods, knowing good and evil.

(Gen 3:7) And the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes to look upon and beautiful to contemplate, and having taken of its fruit she ate, and she gave to her husband also with her, and they ate.

(Gen 3:8) And the eyes of both were opened, and they perceived that they were naked, and they sewed fig leaves together, and made themselves aprons to go round them.

(Gen 3:9) And they heard the voice of YHVH Elohim walking in the garden in the afternoon; and both Adam and his wife hid themselves from the face of YHVH Elohim in the midst of the trees of the garden.

(Gen 3:10) And YHVH Elohim called Adam and said to him, Adam, where art thou?

(Gen 3:11) And he said to him, I heard thy voice as thou walkedst in the garden, and I feared because I was naked and I hid myself.

(Gen 3:12) And Elohim said to him, Who told thee that thou wast naked, unless thou hast eaten of the tree concerning which I charged thee of it alone not to eat?

(Gen 3:13) And Adam said, The woman whom thou gavest to be with me she gave me of the tree and I ate.

(Gen 3:14) And YHVH Elohim said to the woman, Why hast thou done this? And the woman said, The serpent deceived me and I ate.

(Gen 3:15) And YHVH Elohim said to the serpent, Because thou hast done this thou art cursed above all cattle and all the brutes of the earth, on thy breast and belly thou shalt go, and thou shalt eat earth all the days of thy life.

(Gen 3:16) And I will put enmity between thee and the woman and between thy seed and her seed, he shall watch against thy head, and thou shalt watch against his heel.

(Gen 3:17) And to the woman he said, I will greatly multiply thy pains and thy groanings; in pain thou shalt bring forth children, and thy submission shall be to thy husband, and he shall rule over thee.

(Gen 3:18) And to Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened to the voice of thy wife, and eaten of the tree concerning which I charged thee of it only not to eat of that thou hast eaten, cursed is the ground in thy labours, in pain shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life.

(Gen 3:19) Thorns and thistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the herb of the field.

(Gen 3:20) In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat thy bread until thou return to the earth out of which thou wast taken, for earth thou art and to earth thou shalt return.

(Gen 3:21) And Adam called the name of his wife Life, because she was the mother of all living.

(Gen 3:22) And YHVH Elohim made for Adam and his wife garments of skin, and clothed them.

(Gen 3:23) And Elohim said, Behold, Adam is become as one of us, to know good and evil, and now lest at any time he stretch forth his hand, and take of the tree of life and eat, and so he shall live forever.

(Gen 3:24) So YHVH Elohim sent him forth out of the garden of Delight to cultivate the ground out of which he was taken.

(Gen 3:25) And he cast out Adam and caused him to dwell over against the garden of Delight, and stationed the cherubs and the fiery sword that turns about to keep the way of the tree of life.

(Gen 4:1) And Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and brought forth Cain and said, I have gained a man through Elohim.

(Gen 4:2) And she again bore his brother Abel. And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.

(Gen 4:3) And it was so after some time that Cain brought of the fruits of the earth a sacrifice to YHVH.

(Gen 4:4) And Abel also brought of the first born of his sheep and of his fatlings, and Elohim looked upon Abel and his gifts, (Gen 4:5) but Cain and his sacrifices he regarded not, and Cain was exceedingly sorrowful and his countenance fell.

(Gen 4:6) And YHVH Elohim said to Cain, Why art thou become very sorrowful and why is thy countenance fallen?

(Gen 4:7) Hast thou not sinned if thou hast brought it rightly, but not rightly divided it? be still, to thee shall be his submission, and thou shalt rule over him.

(Gen 4:8) And Cain said to Abel his brother, Let us go out into the plain; and it came to pass that when they were in the plain Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him.

(Gen 4:9) And YHVH Elohim said to Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? and he said, I know not, am I my brother's keeper?

(Gen 4:10) And YHVH said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood cries to me out of the ground.

(Gen 4:11) And now thou art cursed from the earth which has opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand.

(Gen 4:12) When thou tillest the earth, then it shall not continue to give its strength to thee: thou shalt be groaning and trembling on the earth.

(Gen 4:13) And Cain said to YHVH Elohim, My crime is too great for me to be forgiven.

(Gen 4:14) If thou castest me out this day from the face of the earth, and I shall be hidden from thy presence, and I shall be groaning and trembling upon the earth, then it will be that any one that finds me shall slay me.

(Gen 4:15) And YHVH Elohim said to him, Not so, any one that slays Cain shall suffer seven-fold vengeance; and YHVH Elohim set a mark upon Cain that no one that found him might slay him.

(Gen 4:16) So Cain went forth from the presence of Elohim and dwelt in the land of Nod over against Edem.

(Gen 4:17) And Cain knew his wife, and having conceived she bore Enoch; and he built a city; and he named the city after the name of his son, Enoch.

(Gen 4:18) And to Enoch was born Gaidad; and Gaidad begot Maleleel; and Maleleel begot Mathusala; and Mathusala begot Lamech.

(Gen 4:19) And Lamech took to himself two wives; the name of the one was Ada, and the name of the second Sella.

(Gen 4:20) And Ada bore Jobel; he was the father of those that dwell in tents, feeding cattle.

(Gen 4:21) And the name of his brother was Jubal; he it was who invented the psaltery and harp.

(Gen 4:22) And Sella also bore Thobel; he was a smith, a manufacturer both of brass and iron; and the sister of Thobel was Noema.

(Gen 4:23) And Lamech said to his wives, Ada and Sella, Hear my voice, ye wives of Lamech, consider my words, because I have slain a man to my sorrow and a youth to my grief.

(Gen 4:24) Because vengeance has been exacted seven times on Cain's behalf, on Lamech's it shall be seventy times seven.

(Gen 4:25) And Adam knew Eve his wife, and she conceived and bore a son, and called his name Seth, saying, For Elohim has raised up to me another seed instead of Abel, whom Cain slew.

(Gen 4:26) And Seth had a son, and he called his name Enos: he hoped to call on the name of YHVH Elohim.

(Gen 5:1) This is the genealogy of men in the day in which Elohim made Adam; in the image of Elohim he made him:

(Gen 5:2) male and female he made them, and blessed them; and he called his name Adam, in the day in which he made them.

(Gen 5:3) And Adam lived two hundred and thirty years, and begot a son after his own form, and after his own image, and he called his name Seth.

(Gen 5:4) And the days of Adam, which he lived after his begetting Seth, were seven hundred years; and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:5) And all the days of Adam which he lived were nine hundred and thirty years, and he died.

(Gen 5:6) Now Seth lived two hundred and five years, and begot Enos.

(Gen 5:7) And Seth lived after his begetting Enos, seven hundred and seven years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:8) And all the days of Seth were nine hundred and twelve years, and he died.

(Gen 5:10) And Enos lived after his begetting Cainan, seven hundred and fifteen years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:11) And all the days of Enos were nine hundred and five years, and he died.

(Gen 5:12) And Cainan lived an hundred and seventy years, and he begot Maleleel.

(Gen 5:13) And Cainan lived after his begetting Maleleel, seven hundred and forty years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:14) And all the days of Cainan were nine hundred and ten years, and he died.

(Gen 5:15) And Maleleel lived an hundred and sixty and five years, and he begot Jared.

(Gen 5:16) And Maleleel lived after his begetting Jared, seven hundred and thirty years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:17) And all the days of Maleleel were eight hundred and ninety and five years, and he died.

(Gen 5:18) And Jared lived an hundred and sixty and two years, and begot Enoch:

(Gen 5:19) and Jared lived after his begetting Enoch, eight hundred years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:20) And all the days of Jared were nine hundred and sixty and two years, and he died.

(Gen 5:21) And Enoch lived an hundred and sixty and five years, and begat Mathusala.

(Gen 5:22) And Enoch was well-pleasing to Elohim after his begetting Mathusala, two hundred years, and he begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:23) And all the days of Enoch were three hundred and sixty and five years.

(Gen 5:24) And Enoch was well-pleasing to Elohim, and was not found, because Elohim translated him.

(Gen 5:26) And Mathusala lived after his begetting Lamech eight hundred and two years, and begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:27) And all the days of Mathusala which he lived, were nine hundred and sixty and nine years, and he died.

(Gen 5:28) And Lamech lived an hundred and eighty and eight years, and begot a son.

(Gen 5:29) And he called his name Noe, saying, This one will cause us to cease from our works, and from the toils of our hands, and from the earth, which YHVH Elohim has cursed.

(Gen 5:30) And Lamech lived after his begetting Noe, five hundred and sixty and five years, and begot sons and daughters.

(Gen 5:31) And all the days of Lamech were seven hundred and fifty-three years, and he died.

(Gen 6:1) And Noe was five hundred years old, and he begot three sons, Sem, Cham, and Japheth.

(Gen 6:2) And it came to pass when men began to be numerous upon the earth, and daughters were born to them,

(Gen 6:3) that the sons of Elohim having seen the daughters of men that they were beautiful, took to themselves wives of all whom they chose.

(Gen 6:4) And YHVH Elohim said, My Spirit shall certainly not remain among these men for ever, because they are flesh, but their days shall be an hundred and twenty years.

(Gen 6:5) Now the giants were upon the earth in those days; and after that when the sons of Elohim were wont to go in to the daughters of men, they bore children to them, those were the giants of old, the men of renown.

(Gen 6:6) And YHVH Elohim, having seen that the wicked actions of men were multiplied upon the earth, and that every one in his heart was intently brooding over evil continually, (Gen 6:7) then Elohim laid it to heart that he had made man upon the earth, and he pondered it deeply.

(Gen 6:8) And Elohim said, I will blot out man whom I have made from the face of the earth, even man with cattle, and reptiles with flying creatures of the sky, for I am grieved that I have made them.

(Gen 6:9) But Noe found grace before YHVH Elohim.

(Gen 6:10) And these are the generations of Noe. Noe was a just man; being perfect in his generation, Noe was well-pleasing to Elohim.

(Gen 6:11) And Noe begot three sons, Sem, Cham, Japheth.

(Gen 6:12) But the earth was corrupted before Elohim, and the earth was filled with iniquity.

(Gen 6:13) And YHVH Elohim saw the earth, and it was corrupted; because all flesh had corrupted its way upon the earth.

(Gen 6:14) And YHVH Elohim said to Noe, A period of all men is come before me; because the earth has been filled with iniquity by them, and, behold, I destroy them and the earth.

(Gen 6:15) Make therefore for thyself an ark of square timber; thou shalt make the ark in compartments, and thou shalt pitch it within and without with pitch.

(Gen 6:16) And thus shalt thou make the ark; three hundred cubits the length of the ark, and fifty cubits the breadth, and thirty cubits the height of it.

(Gen 6:17) Thou shalt narrow the ark in making it, and in a cubit above thou shalt finish it, and the door of the ark thou shalt make on the side; with lower, second, and third stories thou shalt make it.

(Gen 6:18) And behold I bring a flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh in which is the breath of life under heaven, and whatsoever things are upon the earth shall die.

(Gen 6:19) And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt enter into the ark, and thy sons and thy wife, and thy sons' wives with thee.

(Gen 6:20) And of all cattle and of all reptiles and of all wild beasts, even of all flesh, thou shalt bring by pairs of all, into the ark, that thou mayest feed them with thyself: male and female they shall be.

(Gen 6:21) Of all winged birds after their kind, and of all cattle after their kind, and of all reptiles creeping upon the earth after their kind, pairs of all shall come in to thee, male and female to be fed with thee.

(Gen 6:22) And thou shalt take to thyself of all kinds of food which ye eat, and thou shalt gather them to thyself, and it shall be for thee and them to eat.

(Gen 6:23) And Noe did all things whatever YHVH Elohim commanded him, so did he.

(Gen 7:1) And YHVH Elohim said to Noe, Enter thou and all thy family into the ark, for thee have I seen righteous before me in this generation.

(Gen 7:2) And of the clean cattle take in to thee sevens, male and female, and of the unclean cattle pairs male and female.

(Gen 7:3) And of clean flying creatures of the sky sevens, male and female, and of all unclean flying creatures pairs, male and female, to maintain seed on all the earth.

(Gen 7:4) For yet seven days having passed I bring rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and I will blot out every offspring which I have made from the face of all the earth.

(Gen 7:5) And Noe did all things whatever YHVH Elohim commanded him.

(Gen 7:6) And Noe was six hundred years old when the flood of water was upon the earth.

(Gen 7:7) And then went in Noe and his sons and his wife, and his sons' wives with him into the ark, because of the water of the flood.

(Gen 7:8) And of clean flying creatures and of unclean flying creatures, and of clean cattle and of unclean cattle, and of all things that creep upon the earth,

(Gen 7:9) pairs went in to Noe into the ark, male and female, as Elohim commanded Noe.

(Gen 7:10) And it came to pass after the seven days that the water of the flood came upon the earth.

(Gen 7:11) In the six hundredth year of the life of Noe, in the second month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on this day all the fountains of the abyss were broken up, and the flood-gates of heaven were opened.

(Gen 7:12) And the rain was upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

(Gen 7:13) On that very day entered Noe, Sem, Cham, Japheth, the sons of Noe, and the wife of Noe, and the three wives of his sons with him into the ark.

(Gen 7:14) And all the wild beasts after their kind, and all cattle after their kind, and every reptile moving itself on the earth after its kind, and every flying bird after its kind,

(Gen 7:15) went in to Noe into the ark, pairs, male and female of all flesh in which is the breath of life.

(Gen 7:16) And they that entered went in male and female of all flesh, as Elohim commanded Noe, and YHVH Elohim shut the ark outside of him.

(Gen 7:17) And the flood was upon the earth forty days and forty nights, and the water abounded greatly and bore up the ark, and it was lifted on high from off the earth.

(Gen 7:18) And the water prevailed and abounded exceedingly upon the earth, and the ark was borne upon the water.

(Gen 7:19) And the water prevailed exceedingly upon the earth, and covered all the high mountains which were under heaven.

(Gen 7:20) Fifteen cubits upwards was the water raised, and it covered all the high mountains.

(Gen 7:21) And there died all flesh that moved upon the earth, of flying creatures and cattle, and of wild beasts, and every reptile moving upon the earth, and every man.

(Gen 7:22) And all things which have the breath of life, and whatever was on the dry land, died.

(Gen 7:23) And Elohim blotted out every offspring which was upon the face of the earth, both man and beast, and reptiles, and birds of the sky, and they were blotted out from the earth, and Noe was left alone, and those with him in the ark.

(Gen 7:24) And the water was raised over the earth an hundred and fifty days.

(Gen 8:1) And Elohim remembered Noe, and all the wild beasts, and all the cattle, and all the birds, and all the reptiles that creep, as many as were with him in the ark, and Elohim brought a wind upon the earth, and the water stayed.

(Gen 8:2) And the fountains of the deep were closed up, and the flood-gates of heaven, and the rain from heaven was withheld.

(Gen 8:3) And the water subsided, and went off the earth, and after an hundred and fifty days the water was diminished, and the ark rested in the seventh month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, on the mountains of Ararat.

(Gen 8:4) And the water continued to decrease until the tenth month.

(Gen 8:5) And in the tenth month, on the first day of the month, the heads of the mountains were seen.

(Gen 8:6) And it came to pass after forty days Noe opened the window of the ark which he had made.

(Gen 8:7) And he sent forth a raven; and it went forth and returned not until the water was dried from off the earth.

(Gen 8:8) And he sent a dove after it to see if the water had ceased from off the earth.

(Gen 8:9) And the dove not having found rest for her feet, returned to him into the ark, because the water was on all the face of the earth, and he stretched out his hand and took her, and brought her to himself into the ark.

(Gen 8:10) And having waited yet seven other days, he again sent forth the dove from the ark.

(Gen 8:11) And the dove returned to him in the evening, and had a leaf of olive, a sprig in her mouth; and Noe knew that the water had ceased from off the earth.

(Gen 8:12) And having waited yet seven other days, he again sent forth the dove, and she did not return to him again any more.

(Gen 8:13) And it came to pass in the six hundred and first year of the life of Noe, in the first month, on the first day of the month, the water subsided from off the earth, and Noe opened the covering of the ark which he had made, and he saw that the water had subsided from the face of the earth.

(Gen 8:14) And in the second month the earth was dried, on the twenty-seventh day of the month.

(Gen 8:15) And YHVH Elohim spoke to Noe, saying,

(Gen 8:16) Come out from the ark, thou and thy wife and thy sons, and thy sons' wives with thee.

(Gen 8:17) And all the wild beasts as many as are with thee, and all flesh both of birds and beasts, and every reptile moving upon the earth, bring forth with thee: and increase ye and multiply upon the earth.

(Gen 8:18) And Noe came forth, and his wife and his sons, and his sons' wives with him.

(Gen 8:19) And all the wild beasts and all the cattle and every bird, and every reptile creeping upon the earth after their kind, came forth out of the ark.

(Gen 8:20) And Noe built an altar to YHVH, and took of all clean beasts, and of all clean birds, and offered a whole burnt-offering upon the altar.

(Gen 8:21) And YHVH Elohim smelled a smell of sweetness, and YHVH Elohim having considered, said, I will not any more curse the earth, because of the works of men, because the imagination of man is intently bent upon evil things from his youth, I will not therefore any more smite all living flesh as I have done.

(Gen 8:22) All the days of the earth, seed and harvest, cold and heat, summer and spring, shall not cease by day or night.

(Gen 9:1) And Elohim blessed Noe and his sons, and said to them, Increase and multiply, and fill the earth and have dominion over it.

(Gen 9:2) And the dread and the fear of you shall be upon all the wild beasts of the earth, on all the birds of the sky, and on all things moving upon the earth, and upon all the fishes of the sea, I have placed them under your power.

(Gen 9:3) And every reptile which is living shall be to you for meat, I have given all things to you as the green herbs.

(Gen 9:5) For your blood of your lives will I require at the hand of all wild beasts, and I will require the life of man at the hand of his brother man.

(Gen 9:6) He that sheds man's blood, instead of that blood shall his own be shed, for in the image of Elohim I made man.

(Gen 9:7) But do ye increase and multiply, and fill the earth, and have dominion over it.

(Gen 9:8) And Elohim spoke to Noe, and to his sons with him, saying,

(Gen 9:9) And behold I establish my covenant with you, and with your seed after you,

(Gen 9:10) and with every living creature with you, of birds and of beasts, and with all the wild beasts of the earth, as many as are with you, of all that come out of the ark.

(Gen 9:11) And I will establish my covenant with you and all flesh shall not any more die by the water of the flood, and there shall no more be a flood of water to destroy all the earth.

(Gen 9:12) And YHVH Elohim said to Noe, This is the sign of the covenant which I set between me and you, and between every living creature which is with you for perpetual generations.

(Gen 9:13) I set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a sign of covenant between me and the earth.

(Gen 9:14) And it shall be when I gather clouds upon the earth, that my bow shall be seen in the cloud.

(Gen 9:15) And I will remember my covenant, which is between me and you, and between every living soul in all flesh, and there shall no longer be water for a deluge, so as to blot out all flesh.

(Gen 9:16) And my bow shall be in the cloud, and I will look to remember the everlasting covenant between me and the earth, and between every living soul in all flesh, which is upon the earth.

(Gen 9:17) And Elohim said to Noe, This is the sign of the covenant, which I have made between me and all flesh, which is upon the earth.

(Gen 9:18) Now the sons of Noe which came out of the ark, were Sem, Cham, Japheth. And Cham was father of Chanaan.

(Gen 9:19) These three are the sons of Noe, of these were men scattered over all the earth.

(Gen 9:20) And Noe began to be a husbandman, and he planted a vineyard.

(Gen 9:21) And he drank of the wine, and was drunk, and was naked in his house.

(Gen 9:22) And Cham the father of Chanaan saw the nakedness of his father, and he went out and told his two brothers without.

(Gen 9:23) And Sem and Japheth having taken a garment, put it on both their backs and went backwards, and covered the nakedness of their father; and their face was backward, and they saw not the nakedness of their father.

(Gen 9:24) And Noe recovered from the wine, and knew all that his younger son had done to him.

(Gen 9:25) And he said, Cursed be the servant Chanaan, a slave shall he be to his brethren.

(Gen 9:26) And he said, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Sem, and Chanaan shall be his bond-servant.

(Gen 9:27) May Elohim make room for Japheth, and let him dwell in the habitations of Sem, and let Chanaan be his servant.

(Gen 9:28) And Noe lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.

(Gen 9:29) And all the days of Noe were nine hundred and fifty years, and he died.

(Gen 10:1) Now these are the generations of the sons of Noe, Sem, Cham, Japheth; and sons were born to them after the flood.

(Gen 10:2) The sons of Japheth, Gamer, and Magog, and Madoi, and Jovan, and Elisa, and Thobel, and Mosoch, and Thiras.

(Gen 10:3) And the sons of Gamer, Aschanaz, and Riphath, and Thorgama.
(Gen 10:4) And the sons of Jovan, Elisa, and Tharseis, Cetians, Rhodians.
(Gen 10:5) From these were the islands of the Gentiles divided in their land, each according to his tongue, in their tribes and in their nations.
(Gen 10:6) And the sons of Cham, Chus, and Mesrain, Phud, and Chanaan.
(Gen 10:7) And the sons of Chus, Saba, and Evila, and Sabatha, and Rhegma, and Sabathaca. And the sons of Rhegma, Saba, and Dadan.
(Gen 10:8) And Chus begot Nebrod: he began to be a giant upon the earth.
(Gen 10:9) He was a giant hunter before YHVH Elohim; therefore they say, As Nebrod the giant hunter before YHVH.
(Gen 10:10) And the beginning of his kingdom was Babylon, and Orech, and Archad, and Chalanne, in the land of Senaar.
(Gen 10:11) Out of that land came Assur, and built Ninevi, and the city Rhooboth, and Chalach, (Gen 10:12) and Dase between Ninevi and Chalach: this is the great city.
(Gen 10:13) And Mesrain begot the Ludiim, and the Nephthalim, and the Enemetiim, and the Labiim, (Gen 10:14) and the Patrosoniim, and the Chasmoniim (whence came forth Phylistiim) and the Gaphthoriim.
(Gen 10:15) And Chanaan begot Sidon his first-born, and the Chettite,
(Gen 10:16) and the Jebusite, and the Amorite, and the Girgashite,
(Gen 10:17) and the Evite, and the Arukite, and the Asennite,
(Gen 10:18) and the Aradian, and the Samarean, and the Amathite; and after this the tribes of the Chananites were dispersed.
(Gen 10:19) And the boundaries of the Chananites were from Sidon till one comes to Gerara and Gaza, till one comes to Sodom and Gomorrha, Adama and Seboim, as far as Dasa.
(Gen 10:20) There were the sons of Cham in their tribes according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.
(Gen 10:21) And to Sem himself also were children born, the father of all the sons of Heber, the brother of Japheth the elder.
(Gen 10:22) Sons of Sem, Elam, and Assur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram, and Cainan.
(Gen 10:23) And sons of Aram, Uz, and Ul, and Gater, and Mosoch.
(Gen 10:24) And Arphaxad begot Cainan, and Cainan begot Sala. And Sala begot Heber.
(Gen 10:25) And to Heber were born two sons, the name of the one, Phaleg, because in his days the earth was divided, and the name of his brother Jektan.
(Gen 10:26) And Jektan begot Elmodad, and Saleth, and Sarmoth, and Jarach, (Gen 10:27) and Odorrha, and Aibel, and Decla,
(Gen 10:28) Eval, and Abimael, and Saba,
(Gen 10:29) and Uphir, and Evila, and Jobab, all these were the sons of Jektan.
(Gen 10:30) And their dwelling was from Masse, till one comes to Saphera, a mountain of the east.
(Gen 10:31) These were the sons of Sem in their tribes, according to their tongues, in their countries, and in their nations.
(Gen 10:32) These are the tribes of the sons of Noe, according to their generations, according to their nations: of them were the islands of the Gentiles scattered over the earth after the flood.

(Gen 11:1) And all the earth was one lip, and there was one language to all.

(Gen 11:2) And it came to pass as they moved from the east, they found a plain in the land of Senaar, and they dwelt there.

(Gen 11:3) And a man said to his neighbour, Come, let us make bricks and bake them with fire. And the brick was to them for stone, and their mortar was bitumen.

(Gen 11:4) And they said, Come, let us build to ourselves a city and tower, whose top shall be to heaven, and let us make to ourselves a name, before we are scattered abroad upon the face of all the earth.

(Gen 11:5) And YHVH came down to see the city and the tower, which the sons of men built.

(Gen 11:6) And YHVH said, Behold, there is one race, and one lip of all, and they have begun to do this, and now nothing shall fail from them of all that they may have undertaken to do.

(Gen 11:7) Come, and having gone down let us there confound their tongue, that they may not understand each the voice of his neighbour.

(Gen 11:8) And YHVH scattered them thence over the face of all the earth, and they left off building the city and the tower.

(Gen 11:9) On this account its name was called Confusion, because there YHVH confounded the languages of all the earth, and thence YHVH scattered them upon the face of all the earth.

(Gen 11:10) And these are the generations of Sem: and Sem was a hundred years old when he begot Arphaxad, the second year after the flood.

(Gen 11:11) And Sem lived, after he had begotten Arphaxad, five hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:12) And Arphaxad lived a hundred and thirty-five years, and begot Cainan.

(Gen 11:13) And Arphaxad lived after he had begotten Cainan, four hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died. And Cainan lived a hundred and thirty years and begot Sala; and Canaan lived after he had begotten Sala, three hundred and thirty years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:14) And Sala lived an hundred and thirty years, and begot Heber.

(Gen 11:15) And Sala lived after he had begotten Heber, three hundred and thirty years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:16) And Heber lived an hundred and thirty-four years, and begot Phaleg.

(Gen 11:17) And Heber lived after he had begotten Phaleg two hundred and seventy years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:18) And Phaleg lived and hundred and thirty years, and begot Ragau.

(Gen 11:19) And Phaleg lived after he had begotten Ragau, two hundred and nine years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:20) And Ragau lived and hundred thirty and two years, and begot Seruch.

(Gen 11:21) And Raau lived after he had begotten Seruch, two hundred and seven years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:22) And Seruch lived a hundred and thirty years, and begot Nachor.

(Gen 11:23) And Seruch lived after he had begotten Nachor, two hundred years, and begot sons and daughters, and died.

(Gen 11:24) And Nachor lived a hundred and seventy-nine years, and begot Tharrha.

(Gen 11:25) And Nachor lived after he had begotten Tharrha, an hundred and twenty-five years, and begot sons and daughters, and he died.

(Gen 11:27) And these are the generations of Tharrha. Tharrha begot Abram and Nachor, and Arrhan; and Arrhan begot Lot.

(Gen 11:28) And Arrhan died in the presence of Tharrha his father, in the land in which he was born, in the country of the Chaldees.

(Gen 11:29) And Abram and Nachor took to themselves wives, the name of the wife of Abram was Sara, and the name of the wife of Nachor, Malcha, daughter of Arrhan, and he was the father of Malcha, the father of Jescha.

(Gen 11:30) And Sara was barren, and did not bear children.

(Gen 11:31) And Tharrha took Abram his son, and Lot the son Arrhan, the son of his son, and Sara his daughter-in-law, the wife of Abram his son, and led them forth out of the land of the Chaldees, to go into the land of Chanaan, and they came as far as Charrhan, and he dwelt there.

(Gen 11:32) And all the days of Tharrha in the land of Charrhan were two hundred and five years, and Tharrha died in Charrhan.

(Gen 12:1) And YHVH said to Abram, Go forth out of thy land and out of thy kindred, and out of the house of thy father, and come into the land which I will shew thee.

(Gen 12:2) And I will make thee a great nation, and I will bless thee and magnify thy name, and thou shalt be blessed.

(Gen 12:3) And I will bless those that bless thee, and curse those that curse thee, and in thee shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed.

(Gen 12:4) And Abram went as YHVH spoke to him, and Lot departed with him, and Abram was seventy-five years old, when he went out of Charrhan.

(Gen 12:5) And Abram took Sara his wife, and Lot the son of his brother, and all their possessions, as many as they had got, and every soul which they had got in Charrhan, and they went forth to go into the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 12:6) And Abram traversed the land lengthwise as far as the place Sychem, to the high oak, and the Chananites then inhabited the land.

(Gen 12:7) And YHVH appeared to Abram, and said to him, I will give this land to thy seed. And Abram built an altar there to YHVH who appeared to him.

(Gen 12:8) And he departed thence to the mountain eastward of Baethel, and there he pitched his tent in Baethel near the sea, and Aggai toward the east, and there he built an altar to YHVH, and called on the name of YHVH.

(Gen 12:9) And Abram departed and went and encamped in the wilderness.

(Gen 12:10) And there was a famine in the land, and Abram went down to Egypt to sojourn there, because the famine prevailed in the land.

(Gen 12:11) And it came to pass when Abram drew nigh to enter into Egypt, Abram said to Sara his wife, I know that thou art a fair woman.

(Gen 12:12) It shall come to pass then that when the Egyptians shall see thee, they shall say, This is his wife, and they shall slay me, but they shall save thee alive.

(Gen 12:13) Say, therefore, I am his sister, that it may be well with me on account of thee, and my soul shall live because of thee.

(Gen 12:14) And it came to pass when Abram entered into Egypt the Egyptians having seen his wife that she was very beautiful

(Gen 12:15) that the princes of Pharaoh saw her, and praised her to Pharaoh and brought her into the house of Pharaoh.

(Gen 12:16) And they treated Abram well on her account, and he had sheep, and calves, and asses, and men-servants, and women-servants, and mules, and camels.

(Gen 12:17) And Elohim afflicted Pharaoh with great and severe afflictions, and his house, because of Sara, Abram's wife.

(Gen 12:18) And Pharaoh having called Abram, said, What is this thou hast done to me, that thou didst not tell me that she was thy wife?

(Gen 12:19) Wherefore didst thou say, She is my sister? and I took her for a wife to myself; and now, behold, thy wife is before thee, take her and go quickly away.

(Gen 12:20) And Pharaoh gave charge to men concerning Abram, to join in sending him forward, and his wife, and all that he had.

(Gen 13:1) And Abram went up out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him, into the wilderness.

(Gen 13:2) And Abram was very rich in cattle, and silver, and gold.

(Gen 13:3) And he went to the place whence he came, into the wilderness as far as Baethel, as far as the place where his tent was before, between Baethel and Aggai,

(Gen 13:4) to the place of the altar, which he built there at first, and Abram there called on the name of YHVH.

(Gen 13:5) And Lot who went out with Abram had sheep, and oxen, and tents.

(Gen 13:6) And the land was not large enough for them to live together, because their possessions were great; and the land was not large enough for them to live together.

(Gen 13:7) And there was a strife between the herdmen of Abram's cattle, and the herdmen of Lot's cattle, and the Chananites and the Pherezites then inhabited the land.

(Gen 13:8) And Abram said to Lot, Let there not be a strife between me and thee, and between my herdmen and thy herdmen, for we are brethren.

(Gen 13:9) Lo! is not the whole land before thee? Separate thyself from me; if thou goest to the left, I will go to the right, and if thou goest to the right, I will go to the left.

(Gen 13:10) And Lot having lifted up his eyes, observed all the country round about Jordan, that it was all watered, before Elohim overthrew Sodom and Gomorrhah, as the garden of YHVH, and as the land of Egypt, until thou come to Zogora.

(Gen 13:11) And Lot chose for himself all the country round Jordan, and Lot went from the east, and they were separated each from his brother. And Abram dwelt in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 13:12) And Lot dwelt in a city of the neighbouring people, and pitched his tent in Sodom.

(Gen 13:13) But the men of Sodom were evil, and exceedingly sinful before Elohim.

(Gen 13:14) And Elohim said to Abram after Lot was separated from him,

Look up with thine eyes, and behold from the place where thou now art northward and southward, and eastward and seaward;

(Gen 13:15) for all the land which thou seest, I will give it to thee and to thy seed for ever.

(Gen 13:16) And I will make thy seed like the dust of the earth; if any one is able to number the dust of the earth, then shall thy seed be numbered.

(Gen 13:17) Arise and traverse the land, both in the length of it and in the breadth; for to thee will I give it, and to thy seed for ever.

(Gen 13:18) And Abram having removed his tent, came and dwelt by the oak of Mambre, which was in Chebrom, and he there built an altar to YHVH.

(Gen 14:1) And it came to pass in the reign of Amarphal king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Ellasar, that Chodollogomor king of Elam, and Thargal king of nations, (Gen 14:2) made war with Balla king of Sodom, and with Barsa king of Gomorrha, and with Sennaar, king of Adama, and with Symobor king of Seboim and the king of Balac, this is Segor.

(Gen 14:3) All these met with one consent at the salt valley; this is now the sea of salt.

(Gen 14:4) Twelve years they served Chodollogomor, and the thirteenth year they revolted.

(Gen 14:5) And in the fourteenth year came Chodollogomor, and the kings with him, and cut to pieces the giants in Astaroth, and Carnain, and strong nations with them, and the Ommaeans in the city Save.

(Gen 14:6) And the Chorrhaeans in the mountains of Seir, to the turpentine tree of Pharan, which is in the desert.

(Gen 14:7) And having turned back they came to the well of judgment; this is Cades, and they cut in pieces all the princes of Amalec, and the Amorites dwelling in Asasonthamar.

(Gen 14:8) And the king of Sodom went out, and the king of Gomorrha, and king of Adama, and king of Seboim, and king of Balac, this is Segor, and they set themselves in array against them for war in the salt valley, (Gen 14:9) against Chodollogomor king of Elam, and Thargal king of nations, and Amarphal king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Ellasar, the four kings against the five.

(Gen 14:10) Now the salt valley consists of slime-pits. And the king of Sodom fled and the king of Gomorrha, and they fell in there: and they that were left fled to the mountain country.

(Gen 14:11) And they took all the cavalry of Sodom and Gomorrha, and all their provisions, and departed.

(Gen 14:12) And they took also Lot the son of Abram's brother, and his baggage, and departed, for he dwelt in Sodom.

(Gen 14:13) And one of them that had been rescued came and told Abram the Hebrew; and he dwelt by the oak of Mamre the Amorite the brother of Eschol, and the brother of Aunan, who were confederates with Abram.

(Gen 14:14) And Abram having heard that Lot his nephew had been taken captive, numbered his own home-born servants three hundred and eighteen, and pursued after them to Dan.

(Gen 14:15) And he came upon them by night, he and his servants, and he smote them and pursued them as far as Choba, which is on the left of Damascus.

(Gen 14:16) And he recovered all the cavalry of Sodom, and he recovered Lot his nephew, and all his possessions, and the women and the people.

(Gen 14:17) And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after he returned from the slaughter of Chodollogomor, and the kings with him, to the valley of Saby; this was the plain of the kings.

(Gen 14:18) And Melchisedec king of Salem brought forth loaves and wine, and he was the priest of the most high Elohim.

(Gen 14:19) And he blessed Abram, and said, Blessed be Abram of the most high Elohim, who made heaven and earth, (Gen 14:20) and blessed be the most high Elohim who delivered thine enemies into thy power. And Abram gave him the tithe of all.

(Gen 14:21) And the king of Sodom said to Abram, Give me the men, and take the horses to thyself.

(Gen 14:22) And Abram said to the king of Sodom, I will stretch out my hand to YHVH the most high Elohim, who made the heaven and the earth,

(Gen 14:23) that I will not take from all thy goods from a string to a shoe-latchet, lest thou shouldst say, I have made Abram rich.

(Gen 14:24) Except what things the young men have eaten, and the portion of the men that went with me, Eschol, Aunan, Mambre, these shall take a portion.

(Gen 15:1) And after these things the word of YHVH came to Abram in a vision, saying, Fear not, Abram, I shield thee, thy reward shall be very great.

(Gen 15:2) And Abram said, Master and Lord, what wilt thou give me? whereas I am departing without a child, but the son of Masek my home-born female slave, this Eliezer of Damascus is mine heir.

(Gen 15:3) And Abram said, I am grieved since thou hast given me no seed, but my home-born servant shall succeed me.

(Gen 15:4) And immediately there was a voice of YHVH to him, saying, This shall not be thine heir; but he that shall come out of thee shall be thine heir.

(Gen 15:5) And he brought him out and said to him, Look up now to heaven, and count the stars, if thou shalt be able to number them fully, and he said, Thus shall thy seed be.

(Gen 15:6) And Abram believed Elohim, and it was counted to him for righteousness.

(Gen 15:7) And he said to him, I am Elohim that brought thee out of the land of the Chaldeans, so as to give thee this land to inherit.

(Gen 15:8) And he said, Master and Lord, how shall I know that I shall inherit it?

(Gen 15:9) And he said to him, Take for me an heifer in her third year, and a she-goat in her third year, and a ram in his third year, and a dove and a pigeon.

(Gen 15:10) So he took to him all these, and divided them in the midst, and set them opposite to each other, but the birds he did not divide.

(Gen 15:11) And birds came down upon the bodies, even upon the divided parts of them, and Abram sat down by them.

(Gen 15:12) And about sunset a trance fell upon Abram, and lo! a great gloomy terror falls upon him.

(Gen 15:13) And it was said to Abram, Thou shalt surely know that thy seed shall be a sojourner in a land not their won, and they shall enslave them, and afflict them, and humble them four hundred years.

(Gen 15:14) And the nation whomsoever they shall serve I will judge; and after this, they shall come forth hither with much property.

(Gen 15:15) But thou shalt depart to thy fathers in peace, nourished in a good old age.

(Gen 15:16) And in the fourth generation they shall return hither, for the sins of the Amorites are not yet filled up, even until now.

(Gen 15:17) And when the sun was about to set, there was a flame, and behold a smoking furnace and lamps of fire, which passed between these divided pieces.

(Gen 15:18) In that day YHVH made a covenant with Abram, saying, To thy seed I will give this land, from the river of Egypt to the great river Euphrates.

(Gen 15:19) The Kenites, and the Kenezites, and the Kedmonians,

(Gen 15:20) and the Chettites, and the Pherezites, and the Raphaim, (Gen 15:21) and the Amorites, and the Chananites, and the Evites, and the Gergesites, and the Jebusites.

(Gen 16:1) And Sara the wife of Abram bore him no children; and she had an Egyptian maid, whose name was Agar.

(Gen 16:2) And Sara said to Abram, Behold, YHVH has restrained me from bearing, go therefore in to my maid, that I may get children for myself through her. And Abram hearkened to the voice of Sara.

(Gen 16:3) So Sara the wife of Abram having taken Agar the Egyptian her handmaid, after Abram had dwelt ten years in the land of Chanaan, gave her to Abram her husband as a wife to him.

(Gen 16:4) And he went in to Agar, and she conceived, and saw that she was with child, and her mistress was dishonoured before her.

(Gen 16:5) And Sara said to Abram, I am injured by thee; I gave my handmaid into thy bosom, and when I saw that she was with child, I was dishonoured before her. YHVH judge between me and thee.

(Gen 16:6) And Abram said to Sara, Behold thy handmaid is in thy hands, use her as it may seem good to thee. And Sara afflicted her, and she fled from her face.

(Gen 16:7) And an angel of YHVH found her by the fountain of water in the wilderness, by the fountain in the way to Sur.

(Gen 16:8) And the angel of YHVH said to her, Agar, Sara's maid, whence comest thou, and wither goest thou? and she said, I am fleeing from the face of my mistress Sara.

(Gen 16:9) And the angel of YHVH said to her, Return to thy mistress, and submit thyself under her hands.

(Gen 16:10) And the angel of YHVH said to her, I will surely multiply thy seed, and it shall not be numbered for multitude.

(Gen 16:11) And the angel of YHVH said to her, Behold thou art with child, and shalt bear a son, and shalt call his name Ismael, for YHVH hath hearkened to thy humiliation.

(Gen 16:12) He shall be a wild man, his hands against all, and the hands of all against him, and he shall dwell in the presence of all his brethren.

(Gen 16:13) And she called the name of YHVH Elohim who spoke to her, Thou art Elohim who seest me; for she said, For I have openly seen him that appeared to me.

(Gen 16:14) Therefore she called the well, The well of him whom I have openly seen; behold it is between Cades and Barad.

(Gen 16:15) And Agar bore a son to Abram; and Abram called the name of his son which Agar bore to him, Ismael.

(Gen 16:16) And Abram was eighty-six years old, when Agar bore Ismael to Abram.

(Gen 17:1) And Abram was ninety-nine years old, and YHVH appeared to Abram and said to him, I am thy Elohim, be well-pleasing before me, and be blameless.

(Gen 17:2) And I will establish my covenant between me and thee, and I will multiply thee exceedingly.

(Gen 17:3) And Abram fell upon his face, and Elohim spoke to him, saying,

(Gen 17:4) And I, behold! my covenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of a multitude of nations.

(Gen 17:5) And thy name shall no more be called Abram, but thy name shall be Abraam, for I have made thee a father of many nations.

(Gen 17:6) And I will increase thee very exceedingly, and I will make nations of thee, and kings shall come out of thee.

(Gen 17:7) And I will establish my covenant between thee and thy seed after thee, to their generations, for an everlasting covenant, to be thy Elohim, and the Elohim of thy seed after thee.

(Gen 17:8) And I will give to thee and to thy seed after thee the land wherein thou sojournest, even all the land of Chanaan for an everlasting possession, and I will be to them a Elohim.

(Gen 17:9) And Elohim said to Abraam, Thou also shalt fully keep my covenant, thou and thy seed after thee for their generations.

(Gen 17:10) And this is the covenant which thou shalt fully keep between me and you, and between thy seed after thee for their generations; every male of you shall be circumcised.

(Gen 17:11) And ye shall be circumcised in the flesh of your foreskin, and it shall be for a sign of a covenant between me and you.

(Gen 17:12) And the child of eight days old shall be circumcised by you, every male throughout your generations, and the servant born in the house and he that is bought with money, of every son of a stranger, who is not of thy seed.

(Gen 17:13) He that is born in thy house, and he that is bought with money shall be surely circumcised, and my covenant shall be on your flesh for an everlasting covenant.

(Gen 17:14) And the uncircumcised male, who shall not be circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin on the eighth day, that soul shall be utterly destroyed from its family, for he has broken my covenant.

(Gen 17:15) And Elohim said to Abraam, Sara thy wife her name shall not be called Sara, Sarrha shall be her name.

(Gen 17:16) And I will bless her, and give thee a son of her, and I will bless him, and he shall become nations, and kings of nations shall be of him.

(Gen 17:17) And Abraam fell upon his face, and laughed; and spoke in his heart, saying, Shall there be a child to one who is a hundred years old, and shall Sarrha who is ninety years old, bear?

(Gen 17:18) And Abraam said to Elohim, Let this Ismael live before thee.

(Gen 17:19) And Elohim said to Abraam, Yea, behold, Sarrha thy wife shall bear thee a son, and thou shalt call his name Isaac; and I will establish my covenant with him, for an everlasting covenant, to be a Elohim to him and to his seed after him.

(Gen 17:20) And concerning Ismael, behold, I have heard thee, and, behold, I have blessed him, and will increase him and multiply him exceedingly; twelve nations shall he beget, and I will make him a great nation.

(Gen 17:21) But I will establish my covenant with Isaac, whom Sarrha shall bear to thee at this time, in the next year.

(Gen 17:23) And Abraam took Ismael his son, and all his home-born servants, and all those bought with money, and every male of the men in the house of Abraam, and he circumcised their foreskins in the time of that day, according as Elohim spoke to him.

(Gen 17:24) And Abraam was ninety-nine years old, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

(Gen 17:25) And Ismael his son was thirteen years old when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskin.

(Gen 17:26) And at the period of that day, Abraam was circumcised, and Ismael his son, (Gen 17:27) and all the men of his house, both those born in the house, and those bought with money of foreign nations.

(Gen 18:1) And Elohim appeared to him by the oak of Mambre, as he sat by the door of his tent at noon.

(Gen 18:2) And he lifted up his eyes and beheld, and lo! three men stood before him; and having seen them he ran to meet them from the door of his tent, and did obeisance to the ground.

(Gen 18:3) And he said, Lord, if indeed I have found grace in thy sight, pass not by thy servant.

(Gen 18:4) Let water now be brought, and let them wash your feet, and do ye refresh yourselves under the tree.

(Gen 18:5) And I will bring bread, and ye shall eat, and after this ye shall depart on your journey, on account of which refreshment ye have turned aside to your servant. And he said, So do, as thou hast said.

(Gen 18:6) And Abraam hastened to the tent to Sarrha, and said to her, Hasten, and knead three measures of fine flour, and make cakes.

(Gen 18:7) And Abraam ran to the kine, and took a young calf, tender and good, and gave it to his servant, and he hastened to dress it.

(Gen 18:8) And he took butter and milk, and the calf which he had dressed; and he set them before them, and they did eat, and he stood by them under the tree.

(Gen 18:9) And he said to him, Where is Sarrha thy wife? And he answered and said, Behold! in the tent.

(Gen 18:10) And he said, I will return and come to thee according to this period seasonably, and Sarrha thy wife shall have a son; and Sarrha heard at the door of the tent, being behind him.

(Gen 18:11) And Abraam and Sarrha were old, advanced in days, and the custom of women ceased with Sarrha.

(Gen 18:12) And Sarrha laughed in herself, saying, The thing has not as yet happened to me, even until now, and my lord is old.

(Gen 18:13) And YHVH said to Abraam, Why is it that Sarrha has laughed in herself, saying, Shall I then indeed bear? but I am grown old.

(Gen 18:14) Shall anything be impossible with YHVH? At this time I will return to thee seasonably, and Sarrha shall have a son.

(Gen 18:15) But Sarrha denied, saying, I did not laugh, for she was afraid. And he said to her, Nay, but thou didst laugh.

(Gen 18:16) And the men having risen up from thence looked towards Sodom and Gomorrhah. And Abraam went with them, attending them on their journey.

(Gen 18:17) And YHVH said, Shall I hide from Abraam my servant what things I intend to do?

(Gen 18:18) But Abraam shall become a great and populous nation, and in him shall all the nations of the earth be blest.

(Gen 18:19) For I know that he will order his sons, and his house after him, and they will keep the ways of YHVH, to do justice and judgment, that YHVH may bring upon Abraam all things whatsoever he has spoken to him.

(Gen 18:20) And YHVH said, The cry of Sodom and Gomorrhah has been increased towards me, and their sins are very great.

(Gen 18:21) I will therefore go down and see, if they completely correspond with the cry which comes to me, and if not, that I may know.

(Gen 18:22) And the men having departed thence, came to Sodom; and Abraam was still standing before YHVH.

(Gen 18:23) And Abraam drew nigh and said, Wouldest thou destroy the righteous with the wicked, and shall the righteous be as the wicked?

(Gen 18:24) Should there be fifty righteous in the city, wilt thou destroy them? wilt thou not spare the whole place for the sake of the fifty righteous, if they be in it?

(Gen 18:25) By no means shalt thou do as this thing is so as to destroy the righteous with the wicked, so the righteous shall be as the wicked: by no means. Thou that judgest the whole earth, shalt thou not do right?

(Gen 18:26) And YHVH said, If there should be in Sodom fifty righteous in the city, I will spare the whole city, and the whole place for their sakes.

(Gen 18:27) And Abraam answered and said, Now I have begun to speak to my Lord, and I am earth and ashes.

(Gen 18:28) But if the fifty righteous should be diminished to forty-five, wilt thou destroy the whole city because of the five wanting? And he said, I will not destroy it, if I should find there forty-five.

(Gen 18:29) And he continued to speak to him still, and said, But if there should be found there forty? And he said, I will not destroy it for the forty's sake.

(Gen 18:30) And he said, Will there be anything against me, Lord, if I shall speak? but if there be found there thirty? And he said, I will not destroy it for the thirty's sake.

(Gen 18:31) And he said, Since I am able to speak to YHVH, what if there should be found there twenty? And he said, I will not destroy it, if I should find there twenty.

(Gen 18:32) And he said, Will there be anything against me, Lord, if I speak yet once? but if there should be found there ten? And he said, I will not destroy it for the ten's sake.

(Gen 18:33) And YHVH departed, when he left off speaking to Abraam, and Abraam returned to his place.

(Gen 19:1) And the two angels came to Sodom at evening. And Lot sat by the gate of Sodom, and Lot having seen them, rose up to meet them, and he worshipped with his face to the ground, and said,

(Gen 19:2) Lo! my lords, turn aside to the house of your servant, and rest from your journey, and wash your feet, and having risen early in the morning ye shall depart on your journey. And they said, Nay, but we will lodge in the street.

(Gen 19:3) And he constrained them, and they turned aside to him, and they entered into his house, and he made a feast for them, and baked unleavened cakes for them, and they did eat.

(Gen 19:4) But before they went to sleep, the men of the city, the Sodomites, compassed the house, both young and old, all the people together.

(Gen 19:5) And they called out Lot, and said to him, Where are the men that went in to thee this night? bring them out to us that we may be with them.

(Gen 19:6) And Lot went out to them to the porch, and he shut the door after him, (Gen 19:7) and said to them, By no means, brethren, do not act villanously.

(Gen 19:8) But I have two daughters, who have not known a man. I will bring them out to you, and do ye use them as it may please you, only do not injury to these men, to avoid which they came under the shelter of my roof.

(Gen 19:9) And they said to him, Stand back there, thou camest in to sojourn, was it also to judge? Now then we would harm thee more than them. And they pressed hard on the man, even Lot, and they drew nigh to break the door.

(Gen 19:10) And the men stretched forth their hands and drew Lot in to them into the house, and shut the door of the house.

(Gen 19:11) And they smote the men that were at the door of the house with blindness, both small and great, and they were wearied with seeking the door.

(Gen 19:12) And the men said to Lot, Hast thou here sons-in-law, or sons or daughters, or if thou hast any other friend in the city, bring them out of this place.

(Gen 19:13) For we are going to destroy this place; for their cry has been raised up before YHVH, and YHVH has sent us to destroy it.

(Gen 19:14) And Lot went out, and spoke to his sons-in-law who had married his daughters, and said, Rise up, and depart out of this place, for YHVH is about to destroy the city; but he seemed to be speaking absurdly before his sons-in-law.

(Gen 19:15) But when it was morning, the angels hastened Lot, saying, Arise and take thy wife, and thy two daughters whom thou hast, and go forth; lest thou also be destroyed with the iniquities of the city.

(Gen 19:16) And they were troubled, and the angels laid hold on his hand, and the hand of his wife, and the hands of his two daughters, in that YHVH spared him.

(Gen 19:17) And it came to pass when they brought them out, that they said, Save thine own life by all means; look not round to that which is behind, nor stay in all the country round about, escape to the mountain, lest perhaps thou be overtaken together with them.

(Gen 19:18) And Lot said to them, I pray, Lord,
(Gen 19:19) since thy servant has found mercy before thee, and thou hast magnified thy righteousness, in what thou doest towards me that my soul may live, but I shall not be able to escape to the mountain, lest perhaps the calamity overtake me and I die.
(Gen 19:20) Behold this city is near for me to escape thither, which is a small one, and there shall I be preserved, is it not little? and my soul shall live because of thee.
(Gen 19:21) And he said to him, Behold, I have had respect to thee also about this thing, that I should not overthrow the city about which thou hast spoken.
(Gen 19:22) Hasten therefore to escape thither, for I shall not be able to do anything until thou art come thither; therefore he called the name of that city, Segor.
(Gen 19:23) The sun was risen upon the earth, when Lot entered into Segor.
(Gen 19:24) And YHVH rained on Sodom and Gomorrha brimstone and fire from YHVH out of heaven.
(Gen 19:25) And he overthrew these cities, and all the country round about, and all that dwelt in the cities, and the plants springing out of the ground.
(Gen 19:26) And his wife looked back, and she became a pillar of salt.
(Gen 19:27) And Abraam rose up early to go to the place, where he had stood before YHVH.
(Gen 19:28) And he looked towards Sodom and Gomorrha, and towards the surrounding country, and saw, and behold a flame went up from the earth, as the smoke of a furnace.
(Gen 19:29) And it came to pass that when Elohim destroyed all the cities of the region round about, Elohim remembered Abraam, and sent Lot out of the midst of the overthrow, when YHVH overthrew those cities in which Lot dwelt.
(Gen 19:30) And Lot went up out of Segor, and dwelt in the mountain, he and his two daughters with him, for he feared to dwell in Segor; and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters with him.
(Gen 19:31) And the elder said to the younger, Our father is old, and there is no one on the earth who shall come in to us, as it is fit in all the earth.
(Gen 19:32) Come and let us make our father drink wine, and let us sleep with him, and let us raise up seed from our father.
(Gen 19:33) So they made their father drink wine in that night, and the elder went in and lay with her father that night, and he knew not when he slept and when he rose up.
(Gen 19:34) And it came to pass on the morrow, that the elder said to the younger, Behold, I slept yesternight with our father, let us make him drink wine in this night also, and do thou go in and sleep with him, and let us raise up seed of our father.
(Gen 19:35) So they made their father drink wine in that night also, and the younger went in and slept with her father, and he knew not when he slept, nor when he arose.
(Gen 19:36) And the two daughters of Lot conceived by their father.
(Gen 19:37) And the elder bore a son and called his name Moab, saying, He is of my father. This is the father of the Moabites to this present day.
(Gen 19:38) And the younger also bore a son, and called his name Amman, saying, The son of my family. This is the father of the Ammanites to this present day.

(Gen 20:1) And Abraam removed thence to the southern country, and dwelt between Cades and Sur, and sojourned in Gerara.

(Gen 20:2) And Abraam said concerning Sarrha his wife, She is my sister, for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest at any time the men of the city should kill him for her sake. So Abimelech king of Gerara sent and took Sarrha.

(Gen 20:3) And Elohim came to Abimelech by night in sleep, and said, Behold, thou diest for the woman, whom thou hast taken, whereas she has lived with a husband.

(Gen 20:4) But Abimelech had not touched her, and he said, Lord, wilt thou destroy an ignorantly sinning and just nation?

(Gen 20:5) Said he not to me, She is my sister, and said she not to me, He is my brother? with a pure heart and in the righteousness of my hands have I done this.

(Gen 20:6) And Elohim said to him in sleep, Yea, I knew that thou didst this with a pure heart, and I spared thee, so that thou shouldest not sin against me, therefore I suffered thee not to touch her.

(Gen 20:7) But now return the man his wife; for he is a prophet, and shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live; but if thou restore her not, know that thou shalt die and all thine.

(Gen 20:8) And Abimelech rose early in the morning, and called all his servants, and he spoke all these words in their ears, and all the men feared exceedingly.

(Gen 20:9) And Abimelech called Abraam and said to him, What is this that thou hast done to us? Have we sinned against thee, that thou hast brought upon me and upon my kingdom a great sin? Thou hast done to me a deed, which no one ought to do.

(Gen 20:10) And Abimelech said to Abraam, What hast thou seen in me that thou hast done this?

(Gen 20:11) And Abraam said, Why I said, Surely there is not the worship of Elohim in this place, and they will slay me because of my wife.

(Gen 20:12) For truly she is my sister by my father, but not by my mother, and she became my wife.

(Gen 20:13) And it came to pass when Elohim brought me forth out of the house of my father, that I said to her, This righteousness thou shalt perform to me, in every place into which we may enter, say of me, He is my brother.

(Gen 20:14) And Abimelech took a thousand pieces of silver, and sheep, and calves, and servants, and maid-servants, and gave them to Abraam, and he returned him Sarrha his wife.

(Gen 20:15) And Abimelech said to Abraam, Behold, my land is before thee, dwell wheresoever it may please thee.

(Gen 20:16) And to Sarrha he said, Behold, I have given thy brother a thousand pieces of silver, those shall be to thee for the price of thy countenance, and to all the women with thee, and speak the truth in all things.

(Gen 20:17) And Abraam prayed to Elohim, and Elohim healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his women servants, and they bore children.

(Gen 20:18) Because YHVH had fast closed from without every womb in the house of Abimelech, because of Sarrha Abraam's wife.

(Gen 21:1) And YHVH visited Sarrha, as he said, and YHVH did to Sarrha, as he spoke.

(Gen 21:2) And she conceived and bore to Abraam a son in old age, at the set time according as YHVH spoke to him.

(Gen 21:3) And Abraam called the name of his son that was born to him, whom Sarrha bore to him, Isaac.

(Gen 21:4) And Abraam circumcised Isaac on the eighth day, as Elohim commanded him.

(Gen 21:5) And Abraam was a hundred years old when Isaac his son was born to him.

(Gen 21:6) And Sarrha said, YHVH has made laughter for me, for whoever shall hear shall rejoice with me.

(Gen 21:7) And she said, Who shall say to Abraam that Sarrha suckles a child? for I have born a child in my old age.

(Gen 21:8) And the child grew and was weaned, and Abraam made a great feast the day that his son Isaac was weaned.

(Gen 21:9) And Sarrha having seen the son of Agar the Egyptian who was born to Abraam, sporting with Isaac her son, (Gen 21:10) then she said to Abraam, Cast out this bondwoman and her son, for the son of this bondwoman shall not inherit with my son Isaac.

(Gen 21:11) But the word appeared very hard before Abraam concerning his son.

(Gen 21:12) But Elohim said to Abraam, Let it not be hard before thee concerning the child, and concerning the bondwoman; in all things whatsoever Sarrha shall say to thee, hear her voice, for in Isaac shall thy seed be called.

(Gen 21:13) And moreover I will make the son of this bondwoman a great nation, because he is thy seed.

(Gen 21:14) And Abraam rose up in the morning and took loaves and a skin of water, and gave them to Agar, and he put the child on her shoulder, and sent her away, and she having departed wandered in the wilderness near the well of the oath.

(Gen 21:15) And the water failed out of the skin, and she cast the child under a fir tree.

(Gen 21:16) And she departed and sat down opposite him at a distance, as it were a bow-shot, for she said, Surely I cannot see the death of my child: and she sat opposite him, and the child cried aloud and wept.

(Gen 21:17) And Elohim heard the voice of the child from the place where he was, and an angel of Elohim called Agar out of heaven, and said to her, What is it, Agar? fear not, for Elohim has heard the voice of the child from the place where he is.

(Gen 21:18) Rise up, and take the child, and hold him in thine hand, for I will make him a great nation.

(Gen 21:19) And Elohim opened her eyes, and she saw a well of springing water; and she went and filled the skin with water, and gave the child drink.

(Gen 21:20) And Elohim was with the child, and he grew and dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer.

(Gen 21:21) And he dwelt in the wilderness, and his mother took him a wife out of Pharan of Egypt.

(Gen 21:22) And it came to pass at that time that Abimelech spoke, and Ochozath his friend, and Phichol the chief captain of his host, to Abraam, saying, Elohim is with thee in all things, whatsoever thou mayest do.

(Gen 21:23) Now therefore swear to me by Elohim that thou wilt not injure me, nor my seed, nor my name, but according to the righteousness which I have performed with thee thou shalt deal with me, and with the land in which thou hast sojourned.

(Gen 21:24) And Abraam said, I will swear.

(Gen 21:25) And Abraam reproved Abimelech because of the wells of water, which the servants of Abimelech took away.

(Gen 21:26) And Abimelech said to him, I know not who has done this thing to thee, neither didst thou tell it me, neither heard I it but only to-day.

(Gen 21:27) And Abraam took sheep and calves, and gave them to Abimelech, and both made a covenant.

(Gen 21:28) And Abraam set seven ewe-lambs by themselves.

(Gen 21:29) And Abimelech said to Abraam, What are these seven ewe-lambs which thou hast set alone?

(Gen 21:30) And Abraam said, Thou shalt receive the seven ewe-lambs of me, that they may be for me as a witness, that I dug this well.

(Gen 21:31) Therefore he named the name of that place, The Well of the Oath, for there they both swore.

(Gen 21:32) And they made a covenant at the well of the oath. And there rose up Abimelech, Ochozath his friend, and Phichol the commander-in-chief of his army, and they returned to the land of the Phylistines.

(Gen 21:33) And Abraam planted a field at the well of the oath, and called there on the name of YHVH, the everlasting Elohim.

(Gen 21:34) And Abraam sojourned in the land of the Phylistines many days.

(Gen 22:1) And it came to pass after these things that Elohim tempted Abraam, and said to him, Abraam, Abraam; and he said, Lo! I am here.

(Gen 22:2) And he said, Take thy son, the beloved one, whom thou hast loved Isaac, and go into the high land, and offer him there for a whole-burnt-offering on one of the mountains which I will tell thee of.

(Gen 22:3) And Abraam rose up in the morning and saddled his ass, and he took with him two servants, and Isaac his son, and having split wood for a whole-burnt-offering, he arose and departed, and came to the place of which Elohim spoke to him, (Gen 22:4) on the third day; and Abraam having lifted up his eyes, saw the place afar off.

(Gen 22:5) And Abraam said to his servants, Sit ye here with the ass, and I and the lad will proceed thus far, and having worshipped we will return to you.

(Gen 22:6) And Abraam took the wood of the whole-burnt-offering, and laid it on Isaac his son, and he took into his hands both the fire and the knife, and the two went together.

(Gen 22:7) And Isaac said to Abraam his father, Father. And he said, What is it, son? And he said, Behold the fire and the wood, where is the sheep for a whole-burnt-offering?

(Gen 22:8) And Abraam said, Elohim will provide himself a sheep for a whole-burnt-offering, my son. And both having gone together,

(Gen 22:9) came to the place which Elohim spoke of to him; and there Abraam built the altar, and laid the wood on it, and having bound the feet of Isaac his son together, he laid him on the altar upon the wood.

(Gen 22:10) And Abraam stretched forth his hand to take the knife to slay his son.

(Gen 22:11) And an angel of YHVH called him out of heaven, and said, Abraam, Abraam. And he said, Behold, I am here.

(Gen 22:12) And he said, Lay not thine hand upon the child, neither do anything to him, for now I know that thou fearest Elohim, and for my sake thou hast not spared thy beloved son.

(Gen 22:13) And Abraam lifted up his eyes and beheld, and lo! a ram caught by his horns in a plant of Sabec; and Abraam went and took the ram, and offered him up for a whole-burnt-offering in the place of Isaac his son.

(Gen 22:14) And Abraam called the name of that place, YHVH hath seen; that they might say to-day, In the mount YHVH was seen.

(Gen 22:15) And an angel of YHVH called Abraam the second time out of heaven, saying,

(Gen 22:16) I have sworn by myself, says YHVH, because thou hast done this thing, and on my account hast not spared thy beloved son,

(Gen 22:17) surely blessing I will bless thee, and multiplying I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven, and as the sand which is by the shore of the sea, and thy seed shall inherit the cities of their enemies.

(Gen 22:18) And in thy seed shall all the nations of the earth be blessed, because thou hast hearkened to my voice.

(Gen 22:19) And Abraam returned to his servants, and they arose and went together to the well of the oath; and Abraam dwelt at the well of the oath.

(Gen 22:20) And it came to pass after these things, that it was reported to Abraam, saying, Behold, Melcha herself too has born sons to Nachor thy brother,

(Gen 22:21) Uz the first-born, and Baux his brother, and Camuel the father of the Syrians, and Chazad, and

(Gen 22:22) Azav and Phaldes, and Jeldaph, and Bathuel, and Bathuel begot Rebecca;

(Gen 22:23) these are eight sons, which Melcha bore to Nachor the brother of Abraam.

(Gen 22:24) And his concubine whose name was Rheuma, she also bore Tabec, and Taam, and Tochos, and Mocha.

(Gen 23:1) And the life of Sarrha was an hundred and twenty-seven years.

(Gen 23:2) And Sarrha died in the city of Arboc, which is in the valley, this is Chebron in the land of Chanaan; and Abraam came to lament for Sarrha and to mourn.

(Gen 23:3) And Abraam stood up from before his dead; and Abraam spoke to the sons of Chet, saying,

(Gen 23:4) I am a sojourner and a stranger among you, give me therefore possession of a burying-place among you, and I will bury my dead away from me.

(Gen 23:5) And the sons of Chet answered to Abraam, saying, Not so, Sir, (Gen 23:6) but hear us; thou art in the midst of us a king from Elohim; bury thy dead in our choice sepulchres, for not one of us will by any means withhold his sepulchre from thee, so that thou shouldest not bury thy dead there.

(Gen 23:7) And Abraam rose up and did obeisance to the people of the land, to the sons of Chet.

(Gen 23:8) And Abraam spoke to them, saying, If ye have it in your mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, hearken to me, and speak for me to Ephron the son Saar.

(Gen 23:9) And let him give me the double cave which he has, which is in a part of his field, let him give it me for the money it is worth for possession of a burying-place among you.

(Gen 23:10) Now Ephron was sitting in the midst of the children of Chet, and Ephron the Chettite answered Abraam and spoke in the hearing of the sons of Chet, and of all who entered the city, saying,

(Gen 23:11) Attend to me, my lord, and hear me, I give to thee the field and the cave which is in it; I have given it thee before all my country men; bury thy dead.

(Gen 23:12) And Abraam did obeisance before the people of the land.

(Gen 23:13) And he said in the ears of Ephron before the people of the land, Since thou art on my side, hear me; take the price of the field from me, and I will bury my dead there.

(Gen 23:14) But Ephron answered Abraam, saying,

(Gen 23:15) Nay, my lord, I have heard indeed, the land is worth four hundred silver didrachms, but what can this be between me and thee? nay, do thou bury thy dead.

(Gen 23:16) And Abraam hearkened to Ephron, and Abraam rendered to Ephron the money, which he mentioned in the ears of the sons of Chet, four hundred didrachms of silver approved with merchants.

(Gen 23:17) And the field of Ephron, which was in Double Cave, which is opposite Mambre, the field and the cave, which was in it, and every tree which was in the field, and whatever is in its borders round about, were made sure in its borders round about, were made sure

(Gen 23:18) to Abraam for a possession, before the sons of Chet, and all that entered into the city.

(Gen 23:19) After this Abraam buried Sarrha his wife in the Double Cave of the field, which is opposite Mambre, this is Chebron in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 23:20) So the field and the cave which was in it were made sure to Abraam for possession of a burying place, by the sons of Chet.

(Gen 24:1) And Abraam was old, advanced in days, and YHVH blessed Abraam in all things.

(Gen 24:2) And Abraam said to his servant the elder of his house, who had rule over all his possessions, Put thy hand under my thigh,

(Gen 24:3) and I will adjure thee by YHVH the Elohim of heaven, and the Elohim of the earth, that thou take not a wife for my son Isaac from the daughters of the Chananites, with whom I dwell, in the midst of them.

(Gen 24:4) But thou shalt go instead to my country, where I was born, and to my tribe, and thou shalt take from thence a wife for my son Isaac.

(Gen 24:5) And the servant said to him, Shall I carry back thy son to the land whence thou camest forth, if haply the woman should not be willing to return with me to this land?

(Gen 24:6) And Abraam said to him, Take heed to thyself that thou carry not my son back thither.

(Gen 24:7) YHVH the Elohim of heaven, and the Elohim of the earth, who took me out of my father's house, and out of the land whence I sprang, who spoke to me, and who swore to me, saying, I will give this land to thee and to thy seed, he shall send his angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife to my son from thence.

(Gen 24:8) And if the woman should not be willing to come with thee into this land, thou shalt be clear from my oath, only carry not my son thither again.

(Gen 24:9) And the servant put his hand under the thigh of his master Abraam, and swore to him concerning this matter.

(Gen 24:10) And the servant took ten camels of his master's camels, and he took of all the goods of his master with him, and he arose and went into Mesopotamia to the city of Nachor.

(Gen 24:11) And he rested his camels without the city by the well of water towards evening, when damsels go forth to draw water.

(Gen 24:12) And he said, YHVH Elohim of my master Abraam, prosper my way before me to day, and deal mercifully with my master Abraam.

(Gen 24:13) Lo! I stand by the well of water, and the daughters of them that inhabit the city come forth to draw water.

(Gen 24:14) And it shall be, the virgin to whomsoever I shall say, Incline thy water-pot, that I may drink, and she shall say, Drink thou, and I will give thy camels drink, until they shall have done drinking even this one thou hast prepared for thy servant Isaac, and hereby shall I know that thou hast dealt mercifully with my master Abraam.

(Gen 24:15) And it came to pass before he had done speaking in his mind, that behold, Rebecca the daughter of Bathuel, the son of Melcha, the wife of Nachor, and the same the brother of Abraam, came forth, having a water-pot on her shoulders.

(Gen 24:16) And the virgin was very beautiful in appearance, she was a virgin, a man had not known her; and she went down to the well, and filled her water-pot, and came up.

(Gen 24:17) And the servant ran up to meet her, and said, Give me a little water to drink out of thy pitcher;

(Gen 24:18) and she said, Drink, Sir; and she hasted, and let down the pitcher upon her arm, and gave him to drink, till he ceased drinking.

(Gen 24:19) And she said, I will also draw water for thy camels, till they shall all have drunk.

(Gen 24:20) And she hasted, and emptied the water-pot into the trough, and ran to the well to draw again, and drew water for all the camels.

(Gen 24:21) And the man took great notice of her, and remained silent to know whether YHVH had made his way prosperous or not.

(Gen 24:22) And it came to pass when all the camels ceased drinking, that the man took golden ear-rings, each of a drachm weight, and he put two bracelets on her hands, their weight was ten pieces of gold.

(Gen 24:23) And he asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? Tell me if there is room for us to lodge with thy father.

(Gen 24:24) And she said to him, I am the daughter of Bathuel the son of Melcha, whom she bore to Nachor.

(Gen 24:25) And she said to him, We have both straw and much provender, and a place for resting.

(Gen 24:26) And the man being well pleased, worshipped YHVH,

(Gen 24:27) and said, Blessed be YHVH the Elohim of my master Abraam, who has not suffered his righteousness to fail, nor his truth from my master, and YHVH has brought me prosperously to the house of the brother of my lord.

(Gen 24:28) And the damsel ran and reported to the house of her mother according to these words.

(Gen 24:29) And Rebecca had a brother whose name was Laban; and Laban ran out to meet the man, to the well.

(Gen 24:30) And it came to pass when he saw the ear-rings and the bracelets on the hands of his sister, and when he heard the words of Rebecca his sister, saying, Thus the man spoke to me, that he went to the man, as he stood by the camels at the well.

(Gen 24:31) And he said to him, Come in hither, thou blessed of YHVH, why standest thou without, whereas I have prepared the house and a place for the camels?

(Gen 24:32) And the man entered into the house, and unloaded the camels, and gave the camels straw and provender, and water to wash his feet, and the feet of the men that were with him.

(Gen 24:33) And he set before them loaves to eat; but he said, I will not eat, until I have told my errand. And he said, Speak on.

(Gen 24:34) And he said, I am a servant of Abraam;

(Gen 24:35) and YHVH has blessed my master greatly, and he is exalted, and he has given him sheep, and calves, and silver, and gold, servants and servant-maids, camels, and asses.

(Gen 24:36) And Sarrha my master's wife bore one son to my master after he had grown old; and he gave him whatever he had.

(Gen 24:37) And my master caused me to swear, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my son of the daughters of the Chananites, among whom I sojourn in their land.

(Gen 24:38) But thou shalt go to the house of my father, and to my tribe, and thou shalt take thence a wife for my son.

(Gen 24:39) And I said to my master, Haply the woman will not go with me.

(Gen 24:40) And he said to me, YHVH Elohim to whom I have been acceptable in his presence, himself shall send out his angel with thee, and shall prosper thy journey, and thou shalt take a wife for my son of my tribe, and of the house of my father.

(Gen 24:41) Then shalt thou be clear from my curse, for whensoever thou shalt have come to my tribe, and they shall not give her to thee, then shalt thou be clear from my oath.

(Gen 24:42) And having come this day to the well, I said, Lord Elohim of my master Abraam, if thou prosperest my journey on which I am now going,

(Gen 24:43) behold, I stand by the well of water, and the daughters of the men of the city come forth to draw water, and it shall be that the damsel to whom I shall say, Give me a little water to drink out of thy pitcher,

(Gen 24:44) and she shall say to me, Both drink thou, and I will draw water for thy camels, this shall be the wife whom YHVH has prepared for his own servant Isaac; and hereby shall I know that thou hast wrought mercy with my master Abraam.

(Gen 24:45) And it came to pass before I had done speaking in my mind, straightway Rebecca came forth, having her pitcher on her shoulders; and she went down to the well, and drew water; and I said to her, Give me to drink.

(Gen 24:46) And she hastened and let down her pitcher on her arm from her head, and said, Drink thou, and I will give thy camels drink; and I drank, and she gave the camels drink.

(Gen 24:47) And I asked her, and said, Whose daughter art thou? tell me; and she said, I am daughter of Bathuel the son of Nachor, whom Melcha bore to him; and I put on her the ear-rings, and the bracelets on her hands.

(Gen 24:48) And being well-pleased I worshipped YHVH, and I blessed YHVH the Elohim of my master Abraam, who has prospered me in a true way, so that I should take the daughter of my master's brother for his son.

(Gen 24:49) If then ye will deal mercifully and justly with my lord, tell me, and if not, tell me, that I may turn to the right hand or to the left.

(Gen 24:50) And Laban and Bathuel answered and said, This matter has come forth from YHVH, we shall not be able to answer thee bad or good.

(Gen 24:51) Behold, Rebecca is before thee, take her and go away, and let her be wife to the son of thy master, as YHVH has said.

(Gen 24:52) And it came to pass when the servant of Abraam heard these words, he bowed himself to YHVH down to the earth.

(Gen 24:53) And the servant having brought forth jewels of silver and gold and raiment, gave them to Rebecca, and gave gifts to her brother, and to her mother.

(Gen 24:54) And both he and the men with him ate and drank and went to sleep. And he arose in the morning and said, Send me away, that I may go to my master.

(Gen 24:55) And her brethren and her mother said, Let the virgin remain with us about ten days, and after that she shall depart.

(Gen 24:56) But he said to them, Hinder me not, for YHVH has prospered my journey for me; send me away, that I may depart to my master.

(Gen 24:57) And they said, Let us call the damsel, and enquire at her mouth.

(Gen 24:58) And they called Rebecca, and said to her, Wilt thou go with this man? and she said, I will go.

(Gen 24:59) So they sent forth Rebecca their sister, and her goods, and the servant of Abraam, and his attendants.

(Gen 24:60) And they blessed Rebecca, and said to her, Thou art our sister; become thou thousands of myriads, and let thy seed possess the cities of their enemies.

(Gen 24:61) And Rebecca rose up and her maidens, and they mounted the camels and went with the man; and the servant having taken up Rebecca, departed.

(Gen 24:62) And Isaac went through the wilderness to the well of the vision, and he dwelt in the land toward the south.

(Gen 24:63) And Isaac went forth into the plain toward evening to meditate; and having lifted up his eyes, he saw camels coming.

(Gen 24:64) And Rebecca lifted up her eyes, and saw Isaac; and she alighted briskly from the camel, (Gen 24:65) and said to the servant, Who is that man that walks in the plain to meet us? And the servant said, This is my master; and she took her veil and covered herself.

(Gen 24:66) And the servant told Isaac all that he had done.

(Gen 24:67) And Isaac went into the house of his mother, and took Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loved her; and Isaac was comforted for Sarrha his mother.

(Gen 25:2) And she bore to him Zombran, and Jezan, and Madal, and Madiam, and Jesboc, and Soie.

(Gen 25:3) And Jezan begot Saba and Dedan. And the sons of Dedan were the Assurians and the Latusians, and Laomim.

(Gen 25:4) And the sons of Madiam were Gephar and Apher, and Enoch, and Abeida, and Eldaga; all these were sons of Chettura.

(Gen 25:5) But Abraam gave all his possessions to Isaac his son.

(Gen 25:6) But to the sons of his concubines Abraam gave gifts, and he sent them away from his son Isaac, while he was yet living, to the east into the country of the east.

(Gen 25:7) And these were the years of the days of the life of Abraam as many as he lived, a hundred and seventy-five years.

(Gen 25:8) And Abraam failing died in a good old age, an old man and full of days, and was added to his people.

(Gen 25:9) And Isaac and Ismael his sons buried him in the double cave, in the field of Ephron the son of Saar the Chettite, which is over against Mambre:

(Gen 25:10) even the field and the cave which Abraam bought of the sons of Chet; there they buried Abraam and Sarrha his wife.

(Gen 25:11) And it came to pass after Abraam was dead, that Elohim blessed Isaac his son, and Isaac dwelt by the well of the vision.

(Gen 25:12) And these are the generations of Ismael the son of Abraam, whom Agar the Egyptian the hand-maid of Sarrha bore to Abraam.

(Gen 25:13) And these are the names of the sons of Ismael, according to the names of their generations. The firstborn of Ismael, Nabaioth, and Kedar, and Nabdeel, and Massam,

(Gen 25:14) and Masma, and Duma, and Masse,

(Gen 25:15) and Choddan, and Thaeman, and Jetur, and Naphes, and Kedma.

(Gen 25:16) These are the sons of Ismael, and these are their names in their tents and in their dwellings, twelve princes according to their nations.

(Gen 25:17) And these are the years of the life of Ismael, a hundred and thirty-seven years; and he failed and died, and was added to his fathers.

(Gen 25:18) And he dwelt from Evilat to Sur, which is opposite Egypt, until one comes to the Assyrians; he dwelt in the presence of all his brethren.

(Gen 25:20) Abraam begot Isaac. And Isaac was forty years old when he took to wife Rebecca, daughter of Bathuel the Syrian, out of Syrian Mesopotamia, sister of Laban the Syrian.

(Gen 25:21) And Isaac prayed YHVH concerning Rebecca his wife, because she was barren; and YHVH heard him, and his wife Rebecca conceived in her womb.

(Gen 25:22) And the babes leaped within her; and she said, If it will be so with me, why is this to me? And she went to enquire of YHVH.

(Gen 25:23) And YHVH said to her, There are two nations in thy womb, and two peoples shall be separated from thy belly, and one people shall excel the other, and the elder shall serve the younger.

(Gen 25:24) And the days were fulfilled that she should be delivered, and she had twins in her womb.

(Gen 25:25) And the first came out red, hairy all over like a skin; and she called his name Esau.

(Gen 25:26) And after this came forth his brother, and his hand took hold of the heel of Esau; and she called his name Jacob. And Isaac was sixty years old when Rebecca bore them.

(Gen 25:27) And the lads grew, and Esau was a man skilled in hunting, dwelling in the country, and Jacob a simple man, dwelling in a house.

(Gen 25:28) And Isaac loved Esau, because his venison was his food, but Rebecca loved Jacob.

(Gen 25:29) And Jacob cooked pottage, and Esau came from the plain, fainting.

(Gen 25:30) And Esau said to Jacob, Let me taste of that red pottage, because I am fainting; therefore his name was called Edom.

(Gen 25:31) And Jacob said to Esau, Sell me this day thy birthright.

(Gen 25:32) And Esau said, Behold, I am going to die, and for what good does this birthright belong to me?

(Gen 25:33) And Jacob said to him, Swear to me this day; and he swore to him; and Esau sold his birthright to Jacob.

(Gen 25:34) And Jacob gave bread to Esau, and pottage of lentiles; and he ate and drank, and he arose and departed; so Esau slighted his birthright.

(Gen 26:1) And there was a famine in the land, besides the former famine, which was in the time of Abraam; and Isaac went to Abimelech the king of the Phylistines to Gerara.

(Gen 26:2) And YHVH appeared to him and said, Go not down to Egypt, but dwell in the land, which I shall tell thee of.

(Gen 26:3) And sojourn in this land; and I will be with thee, and bless thee, for I will give to thee and to thy seed all this land; and I will establish my oath which I swore to thy father Abraam.

(Gen 26:4) And I will multiply thy seed as the stars of heaven; and I will give to thy seed all this land, and all the nations of the earth shall be blest in thy seed.

(Gen 26:5) Because Abraam thy father hearkened to my voice, and kept my injunctions, and my commandments, and my ordinances, and my statutes.

(Gen 26:6) And Isaac dwelt in Gerara.

(Gen 26:7) And the men of the place questioned him concerning Rebecca his wife, and he said, She is my sister, for he feared to say, She is my wife, lest at any time the men of the place should slay him because of Rebecca, because she was fair.

(Gen 26:8) And he remained there a long time, and Abimelech the king of Gerara leaned to look through the window, and saw Isaac sporting with Rebecca his wife.

(Gen 26:9) And Abimelech called Isaac, and said to him, Is she then thy wife? why hast thou said, She is my sister? And Isaac said to him, I did so, for I said, Lest at any time I die on her account.

(Gen 26:10) And Abimelech said to him, Why hast thou done this to us? one of my kindred within a little had lain with thy wife, and thou wouldest have brought a sin of ignorance upon us.

(Gen 26:11) And Abimelech charged all his people, saying Every man that touches this man and his wife shall be liable to death.

(Gen 26:12) And Isaac sowed in that land, and he found in that year barley and hundred-fold, and YHVH blessed him.

(Gen 26:13) And the man was exalted, and advancing he increased, till he became very great.

(Gen 26:14) And he had cattle of sheep, and cattle of oxen, and many tilled lands, and the Philistines envied him.

(Gen 26:15) And all the wells which the servants of his father had dug in the time of his father, the Philistines stopped them, and filled them with earth.

(Gen 26:16) And Abimelech said to Isaac, Depart from us, for thou art become much mightier than we.

(Gen 26:17) And Isaac departed thence, and rested in the valley of Gerara, and dwelt there.

(Gen 26:18) And Isaac dug again the wells of water, which the servants of his father Abraam had dug, and the Philistines had stopped them, after the death of his father Abraam; and he gave them names, according to the names by which his father named them.

(Gen 26:19) And the servants of Isaac dug in the valley of Gerara, and they found there a well of living water.

(Gen 26:20) And the shepherds of Gerara strove with the shepherds of Isaac, saying that the water was theirs; and they called the name of the well, Injury, for they injured him.

(Gen 26:21) And having departed thence he dug another well, and they strove also for that; and he named the name of it, Enmity.

(Gen 26:22) And he departed thence and dug another well; and they did not strive about that; and he named the name of it, Room, saying, Because now YHVH has made room for us, and has increased us upon the earth.

(Gen 26:23) And he went up thence to the well of the oath.

(Gen 26:24) And YHVH appeared to him in that night, and said, I am the Elohim of Abraam thy father; fear not, for I am with thee, and I will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for the sake of Abraam thy father.

(Gen 26:25) And he built there an altar, and called on the name of YHVH, and there he pitched his tent, and there the servants of Isaac dug a well in the valley of Gerara.

(Gen 26:26) And Abimelech came to him from Gerara, and so did Ochozath his friend, and Phicol the commander-in-chief of his army.

(Gen 26:27) And Isaac said to them, Wherefore have ye come to me? whereas ye hated me, and sent me away from you.

(Gen 26:28) And they said, We have surely seen that YHVH was with thee, and we said, Let there be an oath between us and thee, and we will make a covenant with thee,

(Gen 26:29) that thou shalt do no wrong by us, as we have not abhorred thee, and according as we have treated thee well, and have sent thee forth peaceably; and now thou art blessed of YHVH.

(Gen 26:30) And he made a feast for them, and they ate and drank.

(Gen 26:31) And they arose in the morning, and swore each to his neighbour; and Isaac sent them forth, and they departed from him in safety.

(Gen 26:32) And it came to pass in that day, that the servants of Isaac came and told him of the well which they had dug; and they said, We have not found water.

(Gen 26:33) And he called it, Oath: therefore he called the name of that city, the Well of Oath, until this day.

(Gen 26:34) And Esau was forty years old; and he took to wife Judith the daughter of Beoch the Chettite, and Basemath, daughter of Helon the Chettite.

(Gen 26:35) And they were provoking to Isaac and Rebecca.

(Gen 27:1) And it came to pass after Isaac was old, that his eyes were dimmed so that he could not see; and he called Esau, his elder son, and said to him, My son; and he said, Behold, I am here.

(Gen 27:2) And he said, Behold, I am grown old, and know not the day of my death.

(Gen 27:3) Now then take the weapons, both thy quiver and thy bow, and go into the plain, and get me venison,

(Gen 27:4) and make me meats, as I like them, and bring them to me that I may eat, that my soul may bless thee, before I die.

(Gen 27:5) And Rebecca heard Isaac speaking to Esau his son; and Esau went to the plain to procure venison for his father.

(Gen 27:6) And Rebecca said to Jacob her younger son, Behold, I heard thy father speaking to Esau thy brother, saying, (Gen 27:7) Bring me venison, and prepare me meats, that I may eat and bless thee before YHVH before I die.

(Gen 27:8) Now then, my son, hearken to me, as I command thee.

(Gen 27:9) And go to the cattle and take for me thence two kids, tender and good, and I will make them meats for thy father, as he likes.

(Gen 27:10) And thou shalt bring them in to thy father, and he shall eat, that thy father may bless thee before he dies.

(Gen 27:11) And Jacob said to his mother Rebecca, Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I a smooth man.

(Gen 27:12) Peradventure my father may feel me, and I shall be before him as one ill-intentioned, and I shall bring upon me a curse, and not a blessing.

(Gen 27:13) And his mother said to him, On me be thy curse, son; only hearken to my voice, and go and bring them me.

(Gen 27:14) So he went and took and brought them to his mother; and his mother made meats, as his father liked them.

(Gen 27:15) And Rebecca having taken the fine raiment of her elder son Esau which was with her in the house, put it on Jacob her younger son.

(Gen 27:16) And she put on his arms the skins of the kids, and on the bare parts of his neck.

(Gen 27:17) And she gave the meats, and the loaves which she had prepared, into the hands of Jacob her son.

(Gen 27:18) And he brought them to his father, and said, Father; and he said, Behold I am here; who art thou, son?

(Gen 27:19) And Jacob said to his father, I, Esau thy first-born, have done as thou toldest me; rise, sit, and eat of my venison, that thy soul may bless me.

(Gen 27:20) And Isaac said to his son, What is this which thou hast quickly found? And he said, That which YHVH thy Elohim presented before me.

(Gen 27:21) And Isaac said to Jacob, Draw night to me, and I will feel thee, son, if thou art my son Esau or not.

(Gen 27:22) And Jacob drew nigh to his father Isaac, and he felt him, and said, The voice is Jacob's voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

(Gen 27:23) And he knew him not, for his hands were as the hands of his brother Esau, hairy; and he blessed him, (Gen 27:24) and he said, Art thou my son Esau? and he said, I am.

(Gen 27:25) And he said, Bring hither, and I will eat of thy venison, son, that my soul may bless thee; and he brought it near to him, and he ate, and he brought him wine, and he drank.

(Gen 27:26) And Isaac his father said to him, Draw nigh to me, and kiss me, son.

(Gen 27:27) And he drew nigh and kissed him, and smelled the smell of his garments, and blessed him, and said, Behold, the smell of my son is as the smell of an abundant field, which YHVH has blessed.

(Gen 27:28) And may Elohim give thee of the dew of heaven, and of the fatness of the earth, and abundance of corn and wine.

(Gen 27:29) And let nations serve thee, and princes bow down to thee, and be thou lord of thy brother, and the sons of thy father shall do thee reverence; accursed is he that curses thee, and blessed is he that blesses thee.

(Gen 27:30) And it came to pass after Isaac had ceased blessing his son Jacob, it even came to pass, just when Jacob had gone out from the presence of Isaac his father, that Esau his brother came in from his hunting.

(Gen 27:31) And he also had made meats and brought them to his father; and he said to his father, Let my father arise and eat of his son's venison, that thy soul may bless me.

(Gen 27:32) And Isaac his father said to him, Who art thou? And he said, I am thy first-born son Esau.

(Gen 27:33) And Isaac was amazed with very great amazement, and said, Who then is it that has procured venison for me and brought it to me? and I have eaten of all before thou camest, and I have blessed him, and he shall be blessed.

(Gen 27:34) And it came to pass when Esau heard the words of his father Isaac, he cried out with a great and very bitter cry, and said, Bless, I pray thee, me also, father.

(Gen 27:35) And he said to him, Thy brother has come with subtlety, and taken thy blessing.

(Gen 27:36) And he said, Rightly was his name called Jacob, for lo! this second time has he supplanted me; he has both taken my birthright, and now he has taken my blessing; and Esau said to his father, Hast thou not left a blessing for me, father?

(Gen 27:37) And Isaac answered and said to Esau, If I have made him thy lord, and have made all his brethren his servants, and have strengthened him with corn and wine, what then shall I do for thee, son?

(Gen 27:38) And Esau said to his father, Hast thou only one blessing, father? Bless, I pray thee, me also, father. And Isaac being troubled, Esau cried aloud and wept.

(Gen 27:39) And Isaac his father answered and said to him, Behold, thy dwelling shall be of the fatness of the earth, and of the dew of heaven from above.

(Gen 27:40) And thou shalt live by thy sword, and shalt serve thy brother; and there shall be a time when thou shalt break and loosen his yoke from off thy neck.

(Gen 27:41) And Esau was angry with Jacob because of the blessing, with which his father blessed him; and Esau said in his mind, Let the days of my father's mourning draw nigh, that I may slay my brother Jacob.

(Gen 27:42) And the words of Esau her elder son were reported to Rebecca, and she sent and called Jacob her younger son, and said to him, Behold, Esau thy brother threatens thee to kill thee.

(Gen 27:43) Now then, my son, hear my voice, and rise and depart quickly into Mesopotamia to Laban my brother into Charran.

(Gen 27:44) And dwell with him certain days, until thy brother's anger

(Gen 27:45) and rage depart from thee, and he forget what thou hast done to him; and I will send and fetch thee thence, lest at any time I should be bereaved of you both in one day.

(Gen 27:46) And Rebecca said to Isaac, I am weary of my life, because of the daughters of the sons of Chet; if Jacob shall take a wife of the daughters of this land, wherefore should I live?

(Gen 28:1) And Isaac having called for Jacob, blessed him, and charged him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of the Chananites.

(Gen 28:2) Rise and depart quickly into Mesopotamia, to the house of Bathuel the father of thy mother, and take to thyself thence a wife of the daughters of Laban thy mother's brother.

(Gen 28:3) And may my Elohim bless thee, and increase thee, and multiply thee, and thou shalt become gatherings of nations.

(Gen 28:4) And may he give thee the blessing of my father Abraam, even to thee and to thy seed after thee, to inherit the land of thy sojourning, which Elohim gave to Abraam.

(Gen 28:5) So Isaac sent away Jacob, and he went into Mesopotamia to Laban the son of Bethuel the Syrian, the brother of Rebecca the mother of Jacob and Esau.

(Gen 28:6) And Esau saw that Isaac blessed Jacob, and sent him away to Mesopotamia of Syria as he blessed him, to take to himself a wife thence, and that he charged him, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife of the daughters of the Chananites;

(Gen 28:7) and that Jacob hearkened to his father and his mother, and went to Mesopotamia of Syria.

(Gen 28:8) And Esau also having seen that the daughters of Chanaan were evil before his father Isaac, (Gen 28:9) Esau went to Ismael, and took Maeleth the daughter of Ismael, the son of Abraam, the sister of Nabeoth, a wife in addition to his other wives.

(Gen 28:10) And Jacob went forth from the well of the oath, and departed into Charrhan.

(Gen 28:11) And came to a certain place and slept there, for the sun had gone down; and he took one of the stones of the place, and put it at his head, and lay down to sleep in that place,

(Gen 28:12) and dreamed, and behold a ladder fixed on the earth, whose top reached to heaven, and the angels of Elohim ascended and descended on it.

(Gen 28:13) And YHVH stood upon it, and said, I am the Elohim of thy father Abraam, and the Elohim of Isaac; fear not, the land on which thou liest, to thee will I give it, and to thy seed.

(Gen 28:14) And thy seed shall be as the sand of the earth; and it shall spread abroad to the sea, and the south, and the north, and to the east; and in thee and in thy seed shall all the tribes of the earth be blessed.

(Gen 28:15) And behold I am with thee to preserve thee continually in all the way wherein thou shalt go; and I will bring thee back to this land; for I will not desert thee, until I have done all that I have said to thee.

(Gen 28:16) And Jacob awaked out of his sleep, and said, YHVH is in this place, and I knew it not.

(Gen 28:17) And he was afraid, and said, How fearful is this place! this is none other than the house of Elohim, and this is the gate of heaven.

(Gen 28:18) And Jacob rose up in the morning, and took the stone he had laid there by his head, and he set it up as a pillar, and poured oil on the top of it.

(Gen 28:19) And he called the name of that place, the House of Elohim; and the name of the city before was Ulam-luz.

(Gen 28:20) And Jacob vowed a vow, saying, If YHVH Elohim will be with me, and guard me throughout on this journey, on which I am going, and give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

(Gen 28:21) and bring me back in safety to the house of my father, then shall YHVH be for a Elohim to me.

(Gen 28:22) And this stone, which I have set up for a pillar, shall be to me a house of Elohim; and of all whatsoever thou shalt give me, I will tithe a tenth for thee.

(Gen 29:1) And Jacob started and went to the land of the east to Laban, the son of Bathuel the Syrian, and the brother of Rebecca, mother of Jacob and Esau.

(Gen 29:2) And he looks, and behold! a well in the plain; and there were there three flocks of sheep resting at it, for out of that well they watered the flocks, but there was a great stone at the mouth of the well.

(Gen 29:3) And there were all the flocks gathered, and they used to roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, and water the flocks, and set the stone again in its place on the mouth of the well.

(Gen 29:4) And Jacob said to them, Brethren, whence are ye? and they said, We are of Charrhan.

(Gen 29:5) And he said to them, Know ye Laban, the son of Nachor? and they said, We do know him.

(Gen 29:6) And he said to them, Is he well? And they said, He is well. And behold Rachel his daughter came with the sheep.

(Gen 29:7) And Jacob said, it is yet high day, it is not yet time that the flocks be gathered together; water ye the flocks, and depart and feed them.

(Gen 29:8) And they said, We shall not be able, until all the shepherds be gathered together, and they shall roll away the stone from the mouth of the well, then we will water the flocks.

(Gen 29:9) While he was yet speaking to them, behold, Rachel the daughter of Laban came with her father's sheep, for she fed the sheep of her father.

(Gen 29:10) And it came to pass when Jacob saw Rachel the daughter of Laban, his mother's brother, and the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother, that Jacob came and rolled away the stone from the mouth of the well, and watered the sheep of Laban, his mother's brother.

(Gen 29:11) And Jacob kissed Rachel, and cried with a loud voice and wept.

(Gen 29:12) And he told Rachel that he was the near relative of her father, and the son of Rebecca; and she ran and reported to her father according to these words.

(Gen 29:13) And it came to pass when Laban heard the name of Jacob, his sister's son, he ran to meet him, and embraced and kissed him, and brought him into his house; and he told Laban all these sayings.

(Gen 29:14) And Laban said to him, Thou art of my bones and of my flesh; and he was with him a full month.

(Gen 29:15) And Laban said to Jacob, Surely thou shalt not serve me for nothing, because thou art my brother; tell me what thy reward is to be.

(Gen 29:16) Now Laban had two daughters, the name of the elder was Lea, and the name of the younger, Rachel.

(Gen 29:17) And the eyes of Lea were weak. But Rachel was beautiful in appearance, and exceedingly fair in countenance.

(Gen 29:18) And Jacob loved Rachel, and said, I will serve thee seven years for thy younger daughter Rachel.

(Gen 29:19) And Laban said to him, It is better that I should give her to thee, than that I should give her to another man; dwell with me.

(Gen 29:20) And Jacob served for Rachel seven years, and they were before him as a few days, by reason of his loving her.

(Gen 29:21) And Jacob said to Laban, Give me my wife, for my days are fulfilled, that I may go in to her.

(Gen 29:22) And Laban gathered together all the men of the place, and made a marriage-feast.

(Gen 29:23) And it was even, and he took his daughter Lea, and brought her in to Jacob, and Jacob went in to her.

(Gen 29:24) And Laban gave to his daughter Lea, Zelpha his handmaid, as a handmaid for her.

(Gen 29:25) And it was morning, and behold it was Lea; and Jacob said to Laban, What is this that thou hast done to me? did I not serve thee for Rachel? and wherefore hast thou deceived me?

(Gen 29:26) And Laban answered, It is not done thus in our country, to give the younger before the elder.

(Gen 29:27) Fulfil then her sevens, and I will give to thee her also in return for thy labour, which thou labourest with me, yet seven other years.

(Gen 29:28) And Jacob did so, and fulfilled her sevens; and Laban gave him his daughter Rachel to wife.

(Gen 29:29) And Laban gave to his daughter his handmaid Balla, for a handmaid to her.

(Gen 29:30) And he went in to Rachel; and he loved Rachel more than Lea; and he served him seven other years.

(Gen 29:31) And when YHVH Elohim saw that Lea was hated, he opened her womb; but Rachel was barren.

(Gen 29:32) And Lea conceived and bore a son to Jacob; and she called his name, Ruben; saying, Because YHVH has looked on my humiliation, and has given me a son, now then my husband will love me.

(Gen 29:33) And she conceived again, and bore a second son to Jacob; and she said, Because YHVH has heard that I am hated, he has given to me this one also; and she called his name, Simeon.

(Gen 29:34) And she conceived yet again, and bore a son, and said, In the present time my husband will be with me, for I have born him three sons; therefore she called his name, Levi.

(Gen 29:35) And having conceived yet again, she bore a son, and said, Now yet again this time will I give thanks to YHVH; therefore she called his name, Juda; and ceased bearing.

(Gen 30:1) And Rachel having perceived that she bore Jacob no children, was jealous of her sister; and said to Jacob, Give me children; and if not, I shall die.

(Gen 30:2) And Jacob was angry with Rachel, and said to her, Am I in the place of Elohim, who has deprived thee of the fruit of the womb?

(Gen 30:3) And Rachel said to Jacob, Behold my handmaid Balla, go in to her, and she shall bear upon my knees, and I also shall have children by her.

(Gen 30:4) And she gave him Balla her maid, for a wife to him; and Jacob went in to her.

(Gen 30:5) And Balla, Rachel's maid, conceived, and bore Jacob a son.

(Gen 30:6) And Rachel said, Elohim has given judgment for me, and hearkened to my voice, and has given me a son; therefore she called his name, Dan.

(Gen 30:7) And Balla, Rachel's maid, conceived yet again, and bore a second son to Jacob.

(Gen 30:8) And Rachel said, Elohim has helped me, and I contended with my sister and prevailed; and she called his name, Nephthalim.

(Gen 30:9) And Lea saw that she ceased from bearing, and she took Zelpha her maid, and gave her to Jacob for a wife; and he went in to her.

(Gen 30:10) And Zelpha the maid of Lea conceived, and bore Jacob a son.

(Gen 30:11) And Lea said, It is happily: and she called his name, Gad.

(Gen 30:12) And Zelpha the maid of Lea conceived yet again, and bore Jacob a second son.

(Gen 30:13) And Lea said, I am blessed, for the women will pronounce me blessed; and she called his name, Aser.

(Gen 30:14) And Ruben went in the day of barley-harvest, and found apples of mandrakes in the field, and brought them to his mother Lea; and Rachel said to Lea her sister, Give me of thy son's mandrakes.

(Gen 30:15) And Lea said, Is it not enough for thee that thou hast taken my husband, wilt thou also take my son's mandrakes? And Rachel said, Not so: let him lie with thee to-night for thy son's mandrakes.

(Gen 30:16) And Jacob came in out of the field at even; and Lea went forth to meet him, and said, Thou shalt come in to me this day, for I have hired thee for my son's mandrakes; and he lay with her that night.

(Gen 30:17) And Elohim hearkened to Lea, and she conceived, and bore Jacob a fifth son.

(Gen 30:18) And Lea said, Elohim has given me my reward, because I gave my maid to my husband; and she called his name Issachar, which is, Reward.

(Gen 30:19) And Lea conceived again, and bore Jacob a sixth son.

(Gen 30:20) And Lea said, Elohim has given me a good gift in this time; my husband will choose me, for I have born him six sons: and she called his name, Zabulon.

(Gen 30:21) And after this she bore a daughter; and she called her name, Dina.

(Gen 30:22) And Elohim remembered Rachel, and Elohim hearkened to her, and he opened her womb.

(Gen 30:23) And she conceived, and bore Jacob a son; and Rachel said, Elohim has taken away my reproach.

(Gen 30:24) And she called his name Joseph, saying, Let Elohim add to me another son.

(Gen 30:25) And it came to pass when Rachel had born Joseph, Jacob said to Laban, Send me away, that I may go to my place and to my land.

(Gen 30:26) Restore my wives and my children, for whom I have served thee, that I may depart, for thou knowest the service wherewith I have served thee.

(Gen 30:27) And Laban said to him, If I have found grace in thy sight, I would augur well, for YHVH has blessed me at thy coming in.

(Gen 30:28) Appoint me thy wages, and I will give them.

(Gen 30:29) And Jacob said, Thou knowest in what things I have served thee, and how many cattle of thine are with me.

(Gen 30:30) For it was little thou hadst before my time, and it is increased to a multitude, and YHVH Elohim has blessed thee since my coming; now then, when shall I set up also my own house?

(Gen 30:31) And Laban said to him, What shall I give thee? and Jacob said to him, Thou shalt not give me anything; if thou wilt do this thing for me, I will again tend thy flocks and keep them.

(Gen 30:32) Let all thy sheep pass by to-day, and separate thence every grey sheep among the rams, and every one that is speckled and spotted among the goats this shall be my reward.

(Gen 30:33) And my righteousness shall answer for me on the morrow, for it is my reward before thee: whatever shall not be spotted and speckled among the goats, and grey among the rams, shall be stolen with me.

(Gen 30:34) And Laban said to him, Let it be according to thy word.

(Gen 30:35) And he separated in that day the spotted and speckled he-goats, and all the spotted and speckled she-goats, and all that was grey among the rams, and every one that was white among them, and he gave them into the hand of his sons.

(Gen 30:36) And he set a distance of a three days' journey between them and Jacob. And Jacob tended the cattle of Laban that were left behind.

(Gen 30:37) And Jacob took to himself green rods of storax tree and walnut and plane-tree; and Jacob peeled in them white stripes; and as he drew off the green, the white stripe which he had made appeared alternate on the rods.

(Gen 30:38) And he laid the rods which he had peeled, in the hollows of the watering-troughs, that whensoever the cattle should come to drink, as they should have come to drink before the rods, the cattle might conceive at the rods.

(Gen 30:39) So the cattle conceived at the rods, and the cattle brought forth young speckled, and streaked and spotted with ash-coloured spots.

(Gen 30:40) And Jacob separated the lambs, and set before the sheep a speckled ram, and every variegated one among the lambs, and he separated flocks for himself alone, and did not mingle them with the sheep of Laban.

(Gen 30:41) And it came to pass in the time wherein the cattle became pregnant, conceiving in the belly, Jacob put the rods before the cattle in the troughs, that they might conceive by the rods.

(Gen 30:42) But he did not put them in indiscriminately whenever the cattle happened to bring forth, but the unmarked ones were Laban's, and the marked ones were Jacob's.

(Gen 30:43) And the man became very rich, and he had many cattle, and oxen, and servants, and maid-servants, and camels, and asses.

(Gen 31:1) And Jacob heard the words of the sons of Laban, saying, Jacob has taken all that was our father's, and of our father's property has he gotten all this glory.

(Gen 31:2) And Jacob saw the countenance of Laban, and behold it was not toward him as before.

(Gen 31:3) And YHVH said to Jacob, Return to the land of thy father, and to thy family, and I will be with thee.

(Gen 31:4) And Jacob sent and called Lea and Rachel to the plain where the flocks were.

(Gen 31:5) And he said to them, I see the face of your father, that it is not toward me as before, but the Elohim of my father was with me.

(Gen 31:6) And ye too know that with all my might I have served your father.

(Gen 31:7) But your father deceived me, and changed my wages for the ten lambs, yet Elohim gave him not power to hurt me.

(Gen 31:8) If he should say thus, The speckled shall be thy reward, then all the cattle would bear speckled; and if he should say, The white shall be thy reward, then would all the cattle bear white.

(Gen 31:9) So Elohim has taken away all the cattle of your father, and given them to me.

(Gen 31:10) And it came to pass when the cattle conceived and were with young, that I beheld with mine eyes in sleep, and behold the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots.

(Gen 31:11) And the angel of Elohim said to me in a dream, Jacob; and I said, What is it?

(Gen 31:12) And he said, Look up with thine eyes, and behold the he-goats and the rams leaping on the sheep and the she-goats, speckled and variegated and spotted with ash-coloured spots; for I have seen all things that Laban does to thee.

(Gen 31:13) I am Elohim that appeared to thee in the place of Elohim where thou anointedst a pillar to me, and vowedst to me there a vow; now then arise and depart out of this land, depart into the land of thy nativity, and I will be with thee.

(Gen 31:14) And Rachel and Lea answered and said to him, Have we yet a part or inheritance in the house of our father?

(Gen 31:15) Are we not considered strangers by him? for he has sold us, and quite devoured our money.

(Gen 31:16) All the wealth and the glory which Elohim has taken from our father, it shall be our's and our children's; now then do whatsoever Elohim has said to thee.

(Gen 31:17) And Jacob arose and took his wives and his children up on the camels;

(Gen 31:18) and he took away all his possessions and all his store, which he had gotten in Mesopotamia, and all that belonged to him, to depart to Isaac his father in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 31:19) And Laban went to shear his sheep; and Rachel stole her father's images.

(Gen 31:20) And Jacob hid the matter from Laban the Syrian, so as not to tell him that he ran away.

(Gen 31:21) And he departed himself and all that belonged to him, and passed over the river, and went into the mountain Galaad.

(Gen 31:22) But it was told Laban the Syrian on the third day, that Jacob was fled.

(Gen 31:23) And having taken his brethren with him, he pursued after him seven days' journey, and overtook him on Mount Galaad.

(Gen 31:24) And Elohim came to Laban the Syrian in sleep by night, and said to him, Take heed to thyself that thou speak not at any time to Jacob evil things.

(Gen 31:25) And Laban overtook Jacob; and Jacob pitched his tent in the mountain; and Laban stationed his brothers in the mount Galaad.

(Gen 31:26) And Laban said to Jacob, What hast thou done? wherefore didst thou run away secretly, and pillage me, and lead away my daughters as captives taken with the sword?

(Gen 31:27) Whereas if thou hadst told me, I would have sent thee away with mirth, and with songs, and timbrels, and harp.

(Gen 31:28) And I was not counted worthy to embrace my children and my daughters; now then thou hast wrought foolishly.

(Gen 31:29) And now my hand has power to hurt thee; but the Elohim of thy father spoke to me yesterday, saying, Take heed to thyself that thou speak not evil words to Jacob.

(Gen 31:30) Now then go on thy way, for thou hast earnestly desired to depart to the house of thy father; wherefore hast thou stolen my gods?

(Gen 31:31) And Jacob answered and said to Laban, Because I was afraid; for I said, Lest at any time thou shouldest take away thy daughters from me, and all my possessions.

(Gen 31:32) And Jacob said, With whomsoever thou shalt find thy gods, he shall not live in the presence of our brethren; take notice of what I have of thy property, and take it; and he observed nothing with him, but Jacob knew not that his wife Rachel had stolen them.

(Gen 31:33) And Laban went in and searched in the house of Lea, and found them not; and he went out of the house of Lea, and searched in the house of Jacob, and in the house of the two maid-servants, and found them not; and he went also into the house of Rachel.

(Gen 31:35) And she said to her father, Be not indignant, Sir; I cannot rise up before thee, for it is with me according to the manner of women. Laban searched in all the house, and found not the images.

(Gen 31:36) And Jacob was angry, and strove with Laban; and Jacob answered and said to Laban, What is my injustice, and what my sin, that thou hast pursued after me, (Gen 31:37) and that thou hast searched all the furniture of my house? what hast thou found of all the furniture of thine house? set it here between thy relations and my relations, and let them decide between us two.

(Gen 31:38) These twenty years have I been with thee; thy sheep, and thy she-goats have not failed in bearing; I devoured not the rams of thy cattle.

(Gen 31:39) That which was taken of beasts I brought not to thee; I made good of myself the thefts of the day, and the thefts of the night.

(Gen 31:40) I was parched with heat by day, and chilled with frost by night, and my sleep departed from my eyes.

(Gen 31:41) These twenty years have I been in thy house; I served thee fourteen years for thy two daughters, and six years among thy sheep, and thou didst falsely rate my wages for ten lambs.

(Gen 31:42) Unless I had the Elohim of my father Abraam, and the fear of Isaac, now thou wouldest have sent me away empty; Elohim saw my humiliation, and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee yesterday.

(Gen 31:43) And Laban answered and said to Jacob, The daughters are my daughters, and the sons my sons, and the cattle are my cattle, and all things which thou seest are mine, and the property of my daughters; what shall I do to them to-day, or their children which they bore?

(Gen 31:44) Now then come, let me make a covenant, both I and thou, and it shall be for a witness between me and thee; and he said to him, Behold, there is no one with us; behold, Elohim is witness between me and thee.

(Gen 31:46) And Jacob said to his brethren, Gather stones; and they gathered stones and made a heap, and ate there upon the heap; and Laban said to him, This heap witnesses between me and thee to-day.

(Gen 31:47) And Laban called it, the Heap of Testimony; and Jacob called it, the Witness Heap.

(Gen 31:48) And Laban said to Jacob, Behold this heap, and the pillar, which I have set between me and thee; this heap witnesses, and this pillar witnesses; therefore its name was called, the Heap witnesses.

(Gen 31:49) And the vision of which he said Let Elohim look to it between me and thee, because we are about to depart from each other,

(Gen 31:50) If thou shalt humble my daughters, if thou shouldest take wives in addition to my daughters, see, there is no one with us looking on. Elohim is witness between me and thee.

(Gen 31:51) And Laban said to Jacob, Behold, this heap, and this pillar are a witness.

(Gen 31:52) For if I should not cross over unto thee, neither shouldest thou cross over to me, for mischief beyond this heap and this pillar.

(Gen 31:53) The Elohim of Abraam and the Elohim of Nachor judge between us; and Jacob swore by the Fear of his father Isaac.

(Gen 31:54) And he offered a sacrifice in the mountain, and called his brethren, and they ate and drank, and slept in the mountain.

(Gen 31:55) And Laban rose up in the morning, and kissed his sons and his daughters, and blessed them; and Laban having turned back, departed to his place.

(Gen 32:1) And Jacob departed for his journey; and having looked up, he saw the host of Elohim encamped; and the angels of Elohim met him.

(Gen 32:2) And Jacob said, when he saw them, This is the Camp of Elohim; and he called the name of that place, Encampments.

(Gen 32:3) And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother to the land of Seir, to the country of Edom.

(Gen 32:4) And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye say to my lord Esau: Thus saith thy servant Jacob; I have sojourned with Laban and tarried until now.

(Gen 32:5) And there were born to me oxen, and asses, and sheep, and men-servants and women-servants; and I sent to tell my lord Esau, that thy servant might find grace in thy sight.

(Gen 32:6) And the messengers returned to Jacob, saying, We came to thy brother Esau, and lo! he comes to meet thee, and four hundred men with him.

(Gen 32:7) And Jacob was greatly terrified, and was perplexed; and he divided the people that was with him, and the cows, and the camels, and the sheep, into two camps.

(Gen 32:8) And Jacob said, If Esau should come to one camp, and smite it, the other camp shall be in safety.

(Gen 32:9) And Jacob said, Elohim of my father Abraam, and Elohim of my father Isaac, YHVH, thou art he that said to me, Depart quickly to the land of thy birth, and I will do thee good.

(Gen 32:10) Let there be to me a sufficiency of all the justice and all the truth which thou hast wrought with thy servant; for with this my staff I passed over this Jordan, and now I am become two camps.

(Gen 32:11) Deliver me from the hand of my brother, from the hand of Esau, for I am afraid of him, lest haply he should come and smite me, and the mother upon the children.

(Gen 32:12) But thou saidst, I will do thee good, and will make thy seed as the sand of the sea, which shall not be numbered for multitude.

(Gen 32:13) And he slept there that night, and took of the gifts which he carried with him, and sent out to Esau his brother,

(Gen 32:14) two hundred she-goats, twenty he-goats, two hundred sheep, twenty rams,

(Gen 32:15) milch camels, and their foals, thirty, forty kine, ten bulls, twenty asses, and ten colts.

(Gen 32:16) And he gave them to his servants each drove apart; and he said to his servants, Go on before me, and put a space between drove and drove.

(Gen 32:17) And he charged the first, saying, If Esau my brother meet thee, and he ask thee, saying, Whose art thou? and whither wouldest thou go, and whose are these possessions advancing before thee?

(Gen 32:18) Thou shalt say, Thy servant Jacob's; he hath sent gifts to my lord Esau, and lo! he is behind us.

(Gen 32:19) And he charged the first and the second and the third, and all that went before him after these flocks, saying, Thus shall ye speak to Esau when ye find him;

(Gen 32:20) and ye shall say, Behold thy servant Jacob comes after us. For he said, I will propitiate his countenance with the gifts going before his presence, and afterwards I will behold his face, for peradventure he will accept me.

(Gen 32:21) So the presents went on before him, but he himself lodged that night in the camp.

(Gen 32:22) And he rose up in that night, and took his two wives and his two servant-maids, and his eleven children, and crossed over the ford of Jaboch.

(Gen 32:23) And he took them, and passed over the torrent, and brought over all his possessions.

(Gen 32:24) And Jacob was left alone; and a man wrestled with him till the morning.

(Gen 32:25) And he saw that he prevailed not against him; and he touched the broad part of his thigh, and the broad part of Jacob's thigh was benumbed in his wrestling with him.

(Gen 32:26) And he said to him, Let me go, for the day has dawned; but he said, I will not let thee go, except thou bless me.

(Gen 32:27) And he said to him, What is thy name? and he answered, Jacob.

(Gen 32:28) And he said to him, Thy name shall no longer be called Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name; for thou hast prevailed with Elohim, and shalt be mighty with men.

(Gen 32:29) And Jacob asked and said, Tell me thy name; and he said, Wherefore dost thou ask after my name? and he blessed him there.

(Gen 32:30) And Jacob called the name of that place, the Face of Elohim; for, said he, I have seen Elohim face to face, and my life was preserved.

(Gen 32:31) And the sun rose upon him, when he passed the Face of Elohim; and he halted upon his thigh.

(Gen 32:32) Therefore the children of Israel will by no means eat of the sinew which was benumbed, which is on the broad part of the thigh, until this day, because the angel touched the broad part of the thigh of Jacob even the sinew which was benumbed.

(Gen 33:1) And Jacob lifted up his eyes, and beheld, and lo! Esau his brother coming, and four hundred men with him; and Jacob divided the children to Lea and to Rachel, and the two handmaidens.

(Gen 33:2) And he put the two handmaidens and their children with the first, and Lea and her children behind, and Rachel and Joseph last.

(Gen 33:3) But he advanced himself before them, and did reverence to the ground seven times, until he drew near to his brother.

(Gen 33:4) And Esau ran on to meet him, and embraced him, and fell on his neck, and kissed him; and they both wept.

(Gen 33:5) And Esau looked up and saw the women and the children, and said, What are these to thee? And he said, The children with which Elohim has mercifully blessed thy servant.

(Gen 33:6) And the maid-servants and their children drew near and did reverence.

(Gen 33:7) And Lea and her children drew near and did reverence; and after this drew near Rachel and Joseph, and did reverence.

(Gen 33:8) And he said, What are these things to thee, all these companies that I have met? And he said, That thy servant might find grace in thy sight, my lord.

(Gen 33:9) And Esau said, I have much, my brother; keep thine own.

(Gen 33:10) And Jacob said, If I have found grace in thy sight, receive the gifts through my hands; therefore have I seen thy face, as if any one should see the face of Elohim, and thou shalt be well-pleased with me.

(Gen 33:11) Receive my blessings, which I have brought thee, because Elohim has had mercy on me, and I have all things; and he constrained him, and he took them.

(Gen 33:12) And he said, Let us depart, and proceed right onward.

(Gen 33:13) And he said to him, My lord knows, that the children are very tender, and the flocks and the herds with me are with young; if then I shall drive them hard one day, all the cattle will die.

(Gen 33:14) Let my lord go on before his servant, and I shall have strength on the road according to the ease of the journey before me, and according to the strength of the children, until I come to my lord to Seir.

(Gen 33:15) And Esau said, I will leave with thee some of the people who are with me. And he said, Why so? it is enough that I have found favour before thee, my lord.

(Gen 33:17) And Jacob departs to his tents; and he made for himself there habitations, and for his cattle he made booths; therefore he called the name of that place, Booths.

(Gen 33:18) And Jacob came to Salem, a city of Secima, which is in the land of Chanaan, when he departed out of Mesopotamia of Syria, and took up a position in front of the city.

(Gen 33:19) And he bought the portion of the field, where he pitched his tent, of Emmor the father of Sychem, for a hundred lambs.

(Gen 33:20) And he set up there an alter, and called on the Elohim of Israel.

(Gen 34:1) And Dina, the daughter of Lea, whom she bore to Jacob, went forth to observe the daughters of the inhabitants.

(Gen 34:2) And Sychem the son of Emmor the Evite, the ruler of the land, saw her, and took her and lay with her, and humbled her.

(Gen 34:3) And he was attached to the soul of Dina the daughter of Jacob, and he loved the damsel, and he spoke kindly to the damsel.

(Gen 34:4) Sychem spoke to Emmor his father, saying, Take for me this damsel to wife.

(Gen 34:5) And Jacob heard that the son of Emmor had defiled Dina his daughter (now his sons were with his cattle in the plain). And Jacob was silent until they came.

(Gen 34:6) And Emmor the father of Sychem went forth to Jacob, to speak to him.

(Gen 34:7) And the sons of Jacob came from the plain; and when they heard, the men were deeply pained, and it was very grievous to them, because the man wrought folly in Israel, having lain with the daughter of Jacob, and so it must not be.

(Gen 34:8) And Emmor spoke to them, saying, Sychem my son has chosen in his heart your daughter; give her therefore to him for a wife,

(Gen 34:9) and intermarry with us. Give us your daughters, and take our daughters for your sons.

(Gen 34:10) And dwell in the midst of us; and, behold, the land is spacious before you, dwell in it, and trade, and get possessions in it.

(Gen 34:11) And Sychem said to her father and to her brothers, I would find grace before you, and we will give whatever ye shall name.

(Gen 34:12) Multiply your demand of dowry very much, and I will give accordingly as ye shall say to me, only ye shall give me this damsel for a wife.

(Gen 34:13) And the sons of Jacob answered to Sychem and Emmor his father craftily, and spoke to them, because they had defiled Dina their sister.

(Gen 34:14) And Symeon and Levi, the brothers of Dina, said to them, We shall not be able to do this thing, to give our sister to a man who is uncircumcised, for it is a reproach to us.

(Gen 34:15) Only on these terms will we conform to you, and dwell among you, if ye also will be as we are, in that every male of you be circumcised.

(Gen 34:16) And we will give our daughters to you, and we will take of your daughters for wives to us, and we will dwell with you, and we will be as one race.

(Gen 34:17) But if ye will not hearken to us to be circumcised, we will take our daughter and depart.

(Gen 34:18) And the words pleased Emmor, and Sychem the son of Emmor.

(Gen 34:19) And the young man delayed not to do this thing, for he was much attached to Jacob's daughter, and he was the most honourable of all in his father's house.

(Gen 34:20) And Emmor and Sychem his son came to the gate of their city, and spoke to the men of their city, saying,

(Gen 34:21) These men are peaceable, let them dwell with us upon the land, and let them trade in it, and behold the land is extensive before them; we will take their daughters to us for wives, and we will give them our daughters.

(Gen 34:22) Only on these terms will the men conform to us to dwell with us so as to be one people, if every male of us be circumcised, as they also are circumcised.

(Gen 34:23) And shall not their cattle and their herds, and their possessions, be ours? only in this let us conform to them, and they will dwell with us.

(Gen 34:24) And all that went in at the gate of their city hearkened to Emmor and Sychem his son, and they were circumcised in the flesh of their foreskin every male.

(Gen 34:25) And it came to pass on the third day, when they were in pain, the two sons of Jacob, Symeon and Levi, Dina's brethren, took each man his sword, and came upon the city securely, and slew every male.

(Gen 34:26) And they slew Emmor and Sychem his son with the edge of the sword, and took Dina out of the house of Sychem, and went forth.

(Gen 34:27) But the sons of Jacob came upon the wounded, and ravaged the city wherein they had defiled Dina their sister.

(Gen 34:28) And their sheep, and their oxen, and their asses they took, and all things whatsoever were in the city, and whatsoever were in the plain.

(Gen 34:29) And they took captive all the persons of them, and all their store, and their wives, and plundered both whatever things there were in the city, and whatever things there were in the houses.

(Gen 34:30) And Jacob said to Symeon and Levi, Ye have made me hateful so that I should be evil to all the inhabitants of the land, both among the Chananites and the Pherezites, and I am few in number; they will gather themselves against me and cut me in pieces, and I shall be utterly destroyed, and my house.

(Gen 34:31) And they said, Nay, but shall they treat our sister as an harlot?

(Gen 35:1) And Elohim said to Jacob, Arise, go up to the place, Baethel, and dwell there; and make there an altar to the Elohim that appeared to thee, when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.

(Gen 35:2) And Jacob said to his house, and to all that were with him, Remove the strange gods that are with you from the midst of you, and purify yourselves, and change your clothes.

(Gen 35:3) And let us rise and go up to Baethel, and let us there make an altar to Elohim who hearkened to me in the day of calamity, who was with me, and preserved me throughout in the journey, by which I went.

(Gen 35:4) And they gave to Jacob the strange gods, which were in their hands, and the ear-rings which were in their ears, and Jacob hid them under the turpentine tree which is in Secima, and destroyed them to this day.

(Gen 35:5) So Israel departed from Secima, and the fear of Elohim was upon the cities round about them, and they did not pursue after the children of Israel.

(Gen 35:6) And Jacob came to Luza, which is in the land of Chanaan, which is Baethel, he and all the people that were with him.

(Gen 35:7) And he built there an altar, and called the name of the place Baethel; for there Elohim appeared to him, when he fled from the face of his brother Esau.

(Gen 35:8) And Deborra, Rebecca's nurse, died, and was buried below Baethel under the oak; and Jacob called its name, The Oak of Mourning.

(Gen 35:9) And Elohim appeared to Jacob once more in Luza, when he came out of Mesopotamia of Syria, and Elohim blessed him.

(Gen 35:10) And Elohim said to him, Thy name shall not be called Jacob, but Israel shall be thy name; and he called his name Israel.

(Gen 35:11) And Elohim said to him, I am thy Elohim; increase and multiply; for nations and gatherings of nations shall be of thee, and kings shall come out of thy loins.

(Gen 35:12) And the land which I gave to Abraam and Isaac, I have given it to thee; and it shall come to pass that I will give this land also to thy seed after thee.

(Gen 35:13) And Elohim went up from him from the place where he spoke with him.

(Gen 35:14) And Jacob set up a pillar in the place where Elohim spoke with him, even a pillar of stone; and offered a libation upon it, and poured oil upon it.

(Gen 35:15) And Jacob called the name of the place in which Elohim spoke with him, Baethel.

(Gen 35:16) [And Jacob removed from Baethel, and pitched his tent beyond the tower of Gader,] and it came to pass when he drew nigh to Chabratha, to enter into Ephratha, Rachel travailed; and in her travail she was in hard labour.

(Gen 35:17) And it came to pass in her hard labour, that the midwife said to her, Be of good courage, for thou shalt also have this son.

(Gen 35:18) And it came to pass in her giving up the ghost (for she was dying), that she called his name, The son of my pain; but his father called his name Benjamin.

(Gen 35:19) So Rachel died, and was buried in the way of the course of Ephratha, this is Bethleem.

(Gen 35:20) And Jacob set up a pillar on her tomb; this is the pillar on the tomb of Rachel, until this day.

(Gen 35:21) And it came to pass when Israel dwelt in that land, that Ruben went and lay with Balla, the concubine of his father Jacob; and Israel heard, and the thing appeared grievous before him.

(Gen 35:22) And the sons of Jacob were twelve.

(Gen 35:23) The sons of Lea, the first-born of Jacob; Ruben, Symeon, Levi, Judas, Issachar, Zabulon.

(Gen 35:24) And the sons of Rachel; Joseph and Benjamin.

(Gen 35:25) And the sons of Balla, the hand-maid of Rachel; Dan and Nephthalim.

(Gen 35:26) And the sons of Zelpha, the hand-maid of Lea; Gad and Aser. These are the sons of Jacob, which were born to him in Mesopotamia of Syria.

(Gen 35:27) And Jacob came to Isaac his father to Mambre, to a city of the plain; this is Chebron in the land of Chanaan, where Abraam and Isaac sojourned.

(Gen 35:28) And the days of Isaac which he lived were an hundred and eighty years.

(Gen 35:29) And Isaac gave up the ghost and died, and was laid to his family, old and full of days; and Esau and Jacob his sons buried him.

(Gen 36:2) And Esau took to himself wives of the daughters of the Chananites; Ada, the daughter of Ælom the Chettite; and Olibema, daughter of Ana the son of Sebegon, the Evite;

(Gen 36:3) and Basemath, daughter of Ismael, sister of Nabaioth.

(Gen 36:4) And Ada bore to him Eliphaz; and Basemath bore Raguel.

(Gen 36:5) And Olibema bore Jeus, and Jeglom, and Core; these are the sons of Esau, which were born to him in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 36:6) And Esau took his wives, and his sons, and his daughters, and all the persons of his house, and all his possessions, and all his cattle, and all that he had got, and all things whatsoever he had acquired in the land of Chanaan; and Esau went forth from the land of Chanaan, from the face of his brother Jacob.

(Gen 36:7) For their substance was too great for them to dwell together; and the land of their sojourning could not bear them, because of the abundance of their possessions.

(Gen 36:8) And Esau dwelt in mount Seir; Esau, he is Edom.

(Gen 36:9) And these are the generations of Esau, the father of Edom in the mount Seir.

(Gen 36:10) And these are the names of the sons of Esau. Eliphaz, the son of Ada, the wife of Esau; and Raguel, the son of Basemath, wife of Esau.

(Gen 36:11) And the sons of Eliphaz were Thaeman, Omar, Sophar, Gothom, and Kenez.

(Gen 36:12) And Thamna was a concubine of Eliphaz, the son of Esau; and she bore Amalec to Eliphaz. These are the sons of Ada, the wife of Esau.

(Gen 36:13) And these are the sons of Raguel; Nachoth, Zare, Some, and Moze. These were the sons of Basemath, wife of Esau.

(Gen 36:14) And these are the sons of Olibema, the daughter of Ana, the son of Sebegon, the wife of Esau; and she bore to Esau, Jeus, and Jeglom, and Core.

(Gen 36:15) These are the chiefs of the son of Esau, even the sons of Eliphaz, the first-born of Esau; chief Thaeman, chief Omar, chief Sophar, chief Kenez, (Gen 36:16) chief Core, chief Gothom, chief Amalec. These are the chiefs of Eliphaz, in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Ada.

(Gen 36:17) And these are the sons of Raguel, the son of Esau; chief Nachoth, chief Zare, chief Some, chief Moze. These are the chiefs of Raguel, in the land of Edom; these are the sons of Basemath, wife of Esau.

(Gen 36:18) And these are the sons of Olibema, wife of Esau; chief Jeus, chief Jeglom, chief Core. These are the chiefs of Olibema, daughter of Ana, wife of Esau.

(Gen 36:19) These are the sons of Esau, and these are the chiefs; these are the sons of Edom.

(Gen 36:20) And these are the sons of Seir, the Chorrhite, who inhabited the land; Lotan, Sobal, Sebegon, Ana,

(Gen 36:21) and Deson, and Asar, and Rison. These are the chiefs of the Chorrhite, the son of Seir, in the land of Edom.

(Gen 36:22) And the sons of Lotan were Chorrhi and Haeman; and the sister of Lotan, Thamna.

(Gen 36:23) And these are the sons of Sobal; Golam, and Manachath, and Gaebel, and Sophar, and Omar.

(Gen 36:24) And these are the sons of Sebegon; Aie, and Ana; this is the Ana who found Jamin in the wilderness, when he tended the beasts of his father Sebegon.

(Gen 36:25) And these are the sons of Ana; Deson and Olibema was daughter of Ana.

(Gen 36:27) And these are the sons of Asar; Balaam, and Zucam, and Jucam.

(Gen 36:31) these are the kings which reigned in Edom, before a king reigned in Israel.

(Gen 36:32) And Balac, son of Beor, reigned in Edom; and the name of his city was Dennaba.

(Gen 36:33) And Balac died; and Jobab, son of Zara, from Bosorrha reigned in his stead.

(Gen 36:34) And Jobab died; and Asom, from the land of the Thaemanites, reigned in his stead.

(Gen 36:35) And Asom died; and Adad son of Barad, who cut off Madiam in the plain of Moab, ruled in his stead; and the name of his city was Getthaim.

(Gen 36:36) And Adad died; and Samada of Massecca reigned in his stead.

(Gen 36:37) Samada died; and Saul of Rhooboth by the river reigned in his stead.

(Gen 36:38) And Saul died; and Ballenon the son of Achobor reigned in his stead.

(Gen 36:39) And Ballenon the son of Achobor died; and Arad the son of Barad reigned in his stead; and the name of his city was Phogor; and the name of his wife was Metebeel, daughter of Matraith, son of Maizoob.

(Gen 36:42) chief Kenez, chief Thaeman, chief Mazar,

(Gen 36:44) And Jacob dwelt in the land where his father sojourned, in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 37:1) And these are the generations of Jacob. And Joseph was seventeen years old, feeding the sheep of his father with his brethren, being young; with the sons of Balla, and with the sons of Zelpha, the wives of his father; and Joseph brought to Israel their father their evil reproach.

(Gen 37:3) And Jacob loved Joseph more than all his sons, because he was to him the son of old age; and he made for him a coat of many colours.

(Gen 37:4) And his brethren having seen that his father loved him more than all his sons, hated him, and could not speak anything peaceable to him.

(Gen 37:5) And Joseph dreamed a dream, and reported it to his brethren.

(Gen 37:6) And he said to them, Hear this dream which I have dreamed.

(Gen 37:7) I thought ye were binding sheaves in the middle of the field, and my sheaf stood up and was erected, and your sheaves turned round, and did obeisance to my sheaf.

(Gen 37:8) And his brethren said to him, Shalt thou indeed reign over us, or shalt thou indeed be lord over us? And they hated him still more for his dreams and for his words.

(Gen 37:9) And he dreamed another dream, and related it to his father, and to his brethren, and said, Behold, I have dreamed another dream: as it were the sun, and the moon, and the eleven stars did me reverence.

(Gen 37:10) And his father rebuked him, and said to him, What is this dream which thou hast dreamed? shall indeed both I and thy mother and thy brethren come and bow before thee to the earth?

(Gen 37:11) And his brethren envied him; but his father observed the saying.

(Gen 37:13) And Israel said to Joseph, Do not thy brethren feed their flock in Sychem? Come, I will send thee to them; and he said to him, Behold, I am here.

(Gen 37:14) And Israel said to him, Go and see if thy brethren and the sheep are well, and bring me word; and he sent him out of the valley of Chebron, and he came to Sychem.

(Gen 37:15) And a man found him wandering in the field; and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

(Gen 37:16) And he said, I am seeking my brethren; tell me where they feed their flocks.

(Gen 37:17) And the man said to him, They have departed hence, for I heard them saying, Let us go to Dothaim; and Joseph went after his brethren, and found them in Dothaim.

(Gen 37:18) And they spied him from a distance before he drew nigh to them, and they wickedly took counsel to slay him.

(Gen 37:19) And each said to his brother, Behold, that dreamer comes.

(Gen 37:20) Now then come, let us kill him, and cast him into one of the pits; and we will say, An evil wild beast has devoured him; and we shall see what his dreams will be.

(Gen 37:21) And Ruben having heard it, rescued him out of their hands, and said, Let us not kill him.

(Gen 37:22) And Ruben said to them, Shed not blood; cast him into one of these pits in the wilderness, but do not lay your hands upon him; that he might rescue him out of their hands, and restore him to his father.

(Gen 37:23) And it came to pass, when Joseph came to his brethren, that they stripped Joseph of his many-coloured coat that was upon him.

(Gen 37:24) And they took him and cast him into the pit; and the pit was empty, it had not water.

(Gen 37:25) And they sat down to eat bread; and having lifted up their eyes they beheld, and lo, Ismaelitish travellers came from Galaad, and their camels were heavily loaded with spices, and resin, and myrrh; and they went to bring them to Egypt.

(Gen 37:26) And Judas said to his brethren, What profit is it if we slay our brother, and conceal his blood?

(Gen 37:27) Come, let us sell him to these Ismaelites, but let not our hands be upon him, because he is our brother and our flesh; and his brethren hearkened.

(Gen 37:28) And the men, the merchants of Madian, went by, and they drew and lifted Joseph out of the pit, and sold Joseph to the Ismaelites for twenty pieces of gold; and they brought Joseph down into Egypt.

(Gen 37:29) And Ruben returned to the pit, and sees not Joseph in the pit; and he rent his garments.

(Gen 37:30) And he returned to his brethren and said, The boy is not; and I, whither am I yet to go?

(Gen 37:31) And having taken the coat of Joseph, they slew a kid of the goats, and stained the coat with the blood.

(Gen 37:32) And they sent the coat of many colours; and they brought it to their father, and said, This have we found; know if it be thy son's coat or no. And he recognised it, and said, It is my son's coat, an evil wild beast has devoured him; a wild beast has carried off Joseph.

(Gen 37:34) And all his sons and his daughters gathered themselves together, and came to comfort him; but he would not be comforted, saying, I will go down to my son mourning to Hades; and his father wept for him.

(Gen 37:35) And the Madianites sold Joseph into Egypt; to Petephres, the eunuch of Pharaoh, captain of the guard.

(Gen 38:1) And it came to pass at that time that Judas went down from his brethren, and came as far as to a certain man of Odollam, whose name was Iras.

(Gen 38:2) And Judas saw there the daughter of a Chananitish man, whose name was Sava; and he took her, and went in to her.

(Gen 38:3) And she conceived and bore a son, and called his name, Er.

(Gen 38:4) And she conceived and bore a son again; and called his name, Aunan.

(Gen 38:5) And she again bore a son; and called his name, Selom: and she was in Chasbi when she bore them.

(Gen 38:6) And Judas took a wife for Er his first-born, whose name was Thamar.

(Gen 38:7) And Er, the first-born of Judas, was wicked before YHVH; and Elohim killed him.

(Gen 38:8) And Judas said to Aunan, Go in to thy brother's wife, and marry her as her brother-in-law, and raise up seed to thy brother.

(Gen 38:9) And Aunan, knowing that the seed should not be his it came to pass when he went in to his brother's wife, that he spilled it upon the ground, so that he should not give seed to his brother's wife.

(Gen 38:10) And his doing this appeared evil before Elohim; and he slew him also.

(Gen 38:11) And Judas said to Thamar, his daughter-in-law, Sit thou a widow in the house of thy father-in-law, until Selom my son be grown; for he said, lest he also die as his brethren; and Thamar departed, and sat in the house of her father.

(Gen 38:12) And the days were fulfilled, and Sava the wife of Judas died; and Judas, being comforted, went to them that sheared his sheep, himself and Iras his Shepherd the Odollamite, to Thamna.

(Gen 38:13) And it was told Thamar his daughter-in-law, saying, Behold, thy father-in-law goeth up to Thamna, to shear his sheep.

(Gen 38:14) And having taken off the garments of her widowhood from her, she put on a veil, and ornamented her face, and sat by the gates of Ænan, which is in the way to Thamna, for she saw that Selom was grown; but he gave her not to him for a wife.

(Gen 38:15) And when Judas saw her, he thought her to be a harlot; for she covered her face, and he knew her not.

(Gen 38:16) And he went out of his way to her, and said to her, Let me come in to thee; for he knew not that she was his daughter-in-law; and she said, What wilt thou give me if thou shouldest come in to me?

(Gen 38:17) And he said, I will send thee a kid of the goats from my flock; and she said, Well, if thou wilt give me an earnest, until thou send it.

(Gen 38:18) And he said, What is the earnest that I shall give thee? and she said, Thy ring, and thy bracelet, and the staff in thy hand; and he gave them to her, and went in to her, and she conceived by him.

(Gen 38:19) And she arose and departed, and took her veil from off her, and put on the garments of her widowhood.

(Gen 38:20) And Judas sent the kid of the goats by the hand of his shepherd the Odollamite, to receive the pledge from the woman; and he found her not.

(Gen 38:21) And he asked the men of the place, Where is the harlot who was in Ænan by the way-side? and they said, There was no harlot here.

(Gen 38:22) And he returned to Judas, and said, I have not found her; and the men of the place say, There is no harlot here.

(Gen 38:23) And Judas said, Let her have them, but let us not be ridiculed; I sent this kid, but thou hast not found her.

(Gen 38:24) And it came to pass after three months, that it was told Judas, saying, Thamar thy daughter-in-law has grievously played the harlot, and behold she is with child by whoredom; and Judas said, Bring her out, and let her be burnt.

(Gen 38:25) And as they were bringing her, she sent to her father-in-law, saying, I am with child by the man whose these things are; and she said, See whose is this ring and bracelet and staff.

(Gen 38:26) And Judas knew them, and said, Thamar is cleared rather than I, forasmuch as I gave her not to Selom my son: and he knew her not again.

(Gen 38:27) And it came to pass when she was in labour, that she also had twins in her womb.

(Gen 38:28) And it came to pass as she was bringing forth, one thrust forth his hand, and the midwife having taken hold of it, bound upon hid hand a scarlet thread, saying, This one shall come out first.

(Gen 38:29) And when he drew back his hand, then immediately came forth his brother; and she said, Why has the barrier been cut through because of thee? and she called his name, Phares.

(Gen 38:30) And after this came forth his brother, on whose hand was the scarlet thread; and she called his name, Zara.

(Gen 39:1) And Joseph was brought down to Egypt; and Petephres the eunuch of Pharaoh, the captain of the guard, an Egyptian, bought him of the hands of the Ismaelites, who brought him down thither.

(Gen 39:2) And YHVH was with Joseph, and he was a prosperous man; and he was in the house with his lord the Egyptian.

(Gen 39:3) And his master knew that YHVH was with him, and YHVH prospers in his hands whatsoever he happens to do.

(Gen 39:4) And Joseph found grace in the presence of his lord, and was well-pleasing to him; and he set him over his house, and all that he had he gave into the hand of Joseph.

(Gen 39:5) And it came to pass after that he was set over his house, and over all that he had, that YHVH blessed the house of the Egyptian for Joseph's sake; and the blessing of YHVH was on all his possessions in the house, and in his field.

(Gen 39:6) And he committed all that he had into the hands of Joseph; and he knew not of anything that belonged to him, save the bread which he himself ate. And Joseph was handsome in form, and exceedingly beautiful in countenance.

(Gen 39:7) And it came to pass after these things, that his master's wife cast her eyes upon Joseph, and said, Lie with me.

(Gen 39:8) But he would not; but said to his master's wife, If because of me my master knows nothing in his house, and has given into my hands all things that belong to him:

(Gen 39:9) and in this house there is nothing above me, nor has anything been kept back from me, but thou, because thou art his wife how then shall I do this wicked thing, and sin against Elohim?

(Gen 39:10) And when she talked with Joseph day by day, and he hearkened not to her to sleep with her, so as to be with her,

(Gen 39:11) it came to pass on a certain day, that Joseph went into the house to do his business, and there was no one of the household within.

(Gen 39:12) And she caught hold of him by his clothes, and said, Lie with me; and having left his clothes in her hands, he fled, and went forth.

(Gen 39:13) And it came to pass, when she saw that he had left his clothes in her hands, and fled, and gone forth,

(Gen 39:14) that she called those that were in the house, and spoke to them, saying, See, he has brought in to us a Hebrew servant to mock us he came in to me, saying, Lie with me, and I cried with a loud voice.

(Gen 39:15) And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled, and went forth out.

(Gen 39:16) So she leaves the clothes by her, until the master came to his house.

(Gen 39:17) And she spoke to him according to these words, saying, The Hebrew servant, whom thou broughtest in to us, came in to me to mock me, and said to me, I will lie with thee.

(Gen 39:18) And when he heard that I lifted up my voice and cried, having left his clothes with me, he fled and departed forth.

(Gen 39:19) And it came to pass, when his master heard all the words of his wife, that she spoke to him, saying, Thus did thy servant to me, that he was very angry.

(Gen 39:20) And his master took Joseph, and cast him into the prison, into the place where the king's prisoners are kept, there in the prison.

(Gen 39:21) And YHVH was with Joseph, and poured down mercy upon him; and he gave him favour in the sight of the chief keeper of the prison.

(Gen 39:22) And the chief keeper of the prison gave the prison into the hand of Joseph, and all the prisoners as many as were in the prison; and all things whatsoever they do there, he did them.

(Gen 39:23) Because of him the chief keeper of the prison knew nothing, for all things were in the hand of Joseph, because YHVH was with him; and whatever things he did, YHVH made them to prosper in his hands.

(Gen 40:1) And it came to pass after these things, that the chief cupbearer of the king of Egypt and the chief baker trespassed against their lord the king of Egypt.

(Gen 40:3) And he put them in ward, into the prison, into the place whereinto Joseph had been led.

(Gen 40:4) And the chief keeper of the prison committed them to Joseph, and he stood by them; and they were some days in the prison.

(Gen 40:5) And they both had a dream in one night; and the vision of the dream of the chief cupbearer and chief baker, who belonged to the king of Egypt, who were in the prison, was this.

(Gen 40:6) Joseph went in to them in the morning, and saw them, and they had been troubled.

(Gen 40:7) And he asked the eunuchs of Pharaoh who were with him in the prison with his master, saying, Why is it that your countenances are sad to-day?

(Gen 40:8) And they said to him, We have seen a dream, and there is no interpreter of it. And Joseph said to them, Is not the interpretation of them through god? tell them than to me.

(Gen 40:9) And the chief cupbearer related his dream to Joseph, and said, In my dream a vine was before me.

(Gen 40:10) And in the vine were three stems; and it budding shot forth blossoms; the clusters of grapes were ripe.

(Gen 40:11) And the cup of Pharaoh was in my hand; and I took the bunch of grapes, and squeezed it into the cup, and gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

(Gen 40:12) And Joseph said to him, This is the interpretation of it. The three stems are three days.

(Gen 40:13) Yet three days and Pharaoh shall remember thy office, and he shall restore thee to thy place of chief cupbearer, and thou shalt give the cup of Pharaoh into his hand, according to thy former high place, as thou wast wont to be cupbearer.

(Gen 40:14) But remember me of thyself, when it shall be well with thee, and thou shalt deal mercifully with me, and thou shalt make mention of me to Pharaoh, and thou shalt bring me forth out of this dungeon.

(Gen 40:15) For surely I was stolen away out of the land of the Hebrews, and here I have done nothing, but they have cast me into this pit.

(Gen 40:16) And the chief baker saw that he interpreted aright; and he said to Joseph, I also saw a dream, and methought I took up on my head three baskets of mealy food.

(Gen 40:17) And in the upper basket there was the work of the baker of every kind which Pharaoh eats; and the fowls of the air ate them out of the basket that was on my head.

(Gen 40:18) And Joseph answered and said to him, This is the interpretation of it; The three baskets are three days.

(Gen 40:19) Yet three days, and Pharaoh shall take away thy head from off thee, and shall hang thee on a tree, and the birds of the sky shall eat thy flesh from off thee.

(Gen 40:20) And it came to pass on the third day that it was Pharaoh's birthday, and he made a banquet for all his servants, and he remembered the office of the cupbearer and the office of the baker in the midst of his servants.

(Gen 40:21) And he restored the chief cupbearer to his office, and he gave the cup into Pharaoh's hand.

(Gen 40:22) And he hanged the chief baker, as Joseph, interpreted to them.

(Gen 40:23) Yet did not the chief cupbearer remember Joseph, but forgot him.

(Gen 41:1) And it came to pass after two full years that Pharaoh had a dream. He thought he stood upon the bank of the river.

(Gen 41:2) And lo, there came up as it were out of the river seven cows, fair in appearance, and choice of flesh, and they fed on the sedge.

(Gen 41:3) And other seven cows came up after these out of the river, ill-favoured and lean-fleshed, and fed by the other cows on the bank of the river.

(Gen 41:4) And the seven ill-favoured and lean cows devoured the seven well-favoured and choice-fleshed cows; and Pharaoh awoke.

(Gen 41:6) And, behold, seven ears thin and blasted with the wind, grew up after them.

(Gen 41:7) And the seven thin ears and blasted with the wind devoured the seven choice and full ears; and Pharaoh awoke, and it was a dream.

(Gen 41:8) And it was morning, and his soul was troubled; and he sent and called all the interpreters of Egypt, and all her wise men; and Pharaoh related to them his dream, and there was no one to interpret it to Pharaoh.

(Gen 41:9) And the chief cupbearer spoke to Pharaoh, saying, I this day remember my fault:

(Gen 41:10) Pharaoh was angry with his servants, and put us in prison in the house of the captain of the guard, both me and the chief baker.

(Gen 41:11) And we had a dream both in one night, I and he; we saw, each according to his dream.

(Gen 41:12) And there was there with us a young man, a Hebrew servant of the captain of the guard; and we related to him our dreams, and he interpreted them to us.

(Gen 41:13) And it came to pass, as he interpreted them to us, so also it happened, both that I was restored to my office, and that he was hanged.

(Gen 41:14) And Pharaoh having sent, called Joseph; and they brought him out from the prison, and shaved him, and changed his dress, and he came to Pharaoh.

(Gen 41:15) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, I have seen a vision, and there is no one to interpret it; but I have heard say concerning thee that thou didst hear dreams and interpret them.

(Gen 41:16) And Joseph answered Pharaoh and said, Without Elohim an answer of safety shall not be given to Pharaoh.

(Gen 41:17) And Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, saying, In my dream methought I stood by the bank of the river;

(Gen 41:18) and there came up as it were out of the river, seven cows well-favoured and choice-fleshed, and they fed on the sedge.

(Gen 41:19) And behold seven other cows came up after them out of the river, evil and ill-favoured and lean-fleshed, such that I never saw worse in all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:20) And the seven ill-favoured and thin cows ate up the seven first good and choice cows.

(Gen 41:21) And they went into their bellies; and it was not perceptible that they had gone into their bellies, and their appearance was ill-favoured, as also at the beginning; and after I awoke I slept,

(Gen 41:22) and saw again in my sleep, and as it were seven ears came up on one stem, full and good.

(Gen 41:23) And other seven ears, thin and blasted with the wind, sprang up close to them.

(Gen 41:24) And the seven thin and blasted ears devoured the seven fine and full ears: so I spoke to the interpreters, and there was no one to explain it to me.

(Gen 41:25) And Joseph said to Pharaoh, The dream of Pharaoh is one; whatever Elohim does, he has shewn to Pharaoh.

(Gen 41:26) The seven good cows are seven years, and the seven good ears are seven years; the dream of Pharaoh is one.

(Gen 41:27) And the seven thin kine that came up after them are seven years; and the seven thin and blasted ears are seven years; there shall be seven years of famine.

(Gen 41:28) And as for the word which I have told Pharaoh, whatsoever Elohim intends to do, he has shewn to Pharaoh:

(Gen 41:29) behold, for seven years there is coming great plenty in all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:30) But there shall come seven years of famine after these, and they shall forget the plenty that shall be in all Egypt, and the famine shall consume the land.

(Gen 41:31) And the plenty shall not be known in the land by reason of the famine that shall be after this, for it shall be very grievous.

(Gen 41:32) And concerning the repetition of the dream to Pharaoh twice, it is because the saying which is from Elohim shall be true, and Elohim will hasten to accomplish it.

(Gen 41:33) Now then, look out a wise and prudent man, and set him over the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:34) And let Pharaoh make and appoint local governors over the land; and let them take up a fifth part of all the produce of the land of Egypt for the seven years of the plenty.

(Gen 41:35) And let them gather all the food of these seven good years that are coming, and let the corn be gathered under the hand of Pharaoh; let food be kept in the cities.

(Gen 41:36) And the stored food shall be for the land against the seven years of famine, which shall be in the land of Egypt; and the land shall not be utterly destroyed by the famine.

(Gen 41:37) And the word was pleasing in the sight of Pharaoh, and in the sight of all his servants.

(Gen 41:38) And Pharaoh said to all his servants, Shall we find such a man as this, who has the Spirit of Elohim in him?

(Gen 41:39) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Since Elohim has shewed thee all these things, there is not a wiser or more prudent man than thou.

(Gen 41:40) Thou shalt be over my house, and all my people shall be obedient to thy word; only in the throne will I excel thee.

(Gen 41:41) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Behold, I set thee this day over all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:42) And Pharaoh took his ring off his hand, and put it on the hand of Joseph, and put on him a robe of fine linen, and put a necklace of gold about his neck.

(Gen 41:43) And he mounted him on the second of his chariots, and a herald made proclamation before him; and he set him over all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:44) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, I am Pharaoh; without thee no one shall lift up his hand on all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:45) And Pharaoh called the name of Joseph, Psonthomphanech; and he gave him Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, to wife.

(Gen 41:46) And Joseph was thirty years old when he stood before Pharaoh, king of Egypt. And Joseph went out from the presence of Pharaoh, and went through all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:47) And the land produced, in the seven years of plenty, whole handfuls of corn.

(Gen 41:48) And he gathered all the food of the seven years, in which was the plenty in the land of Egypt; and he laid up the food in the cities; the food of the fields of a city round about it he laid up in it.

(Gen 41:49) And Joseph gathered very much corn as the sand of the sea, until it could not be numbered, for there was no number of it.

(Gen 41:50) And to Joseph were born two sons, before the seven years of famine came, which Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, bore to him.

(Gen 41:51) And Joseph called the name of the first-born, Manasse; for Elohim, said he, has made me forget all my toils, and all my father's house.

(Gen 41:52) And he called the name of the second, Ephraim; for Elohim, said he, has increased me in the land of my humiliation.

(Gen 41:53) And the seven years of plenty passed away, which were in the land of Egypt.

(Gen 41:54) And the seven years of famine began to come, as Joseph said; and there was a famine in all the land; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread.

(Gen 41:55) And all the land of Egypt was hungry; and the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. And Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, Go to Joseph, and do whatsoever he shall tell you.

(Gen 41:56) And the famine was on the face of all the earth; and Joseph opened all the granaries, and sold to all the Egyptians.

(Gen 41:57) And all countries came to Egypt to buy of Joseph, for the famine prevailed in all the earth.

(Gen 42:1) And Jacob having seen that there was a sale of corn in Egypt, said to his sons, Why are ye indolent?

(Gen 42:2) Behold, I have heard that there is corn in Egypt; go down thither, and buy for us a little food, that we may live, and not die.

(Gen 42:3) And the ten brethren of Joseph went down to buy corn out of Egypt.

(Gen 42:4) But Jacob sent not Benjamin, the brother of Joseph, with his brethren; for he said, Lest, haply, disease befall him.

(Gen 42:5) And the sons of Israel came to buy with those that came, for the famine was in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 42:6) And Joseph was ruler of the land; he sold to all the people of the land. And the brethren of Joseph, having come, did reverence to him, bowing with the face to the ground.

(Gen 42:7) And when Joseph saw his brethren, he knew them, and estranged himself from them, and spoke hard words to them; and said to them, Whence are ye come? And they said, Out of the land of Chanaan, to buy food.

(Gen 42:8) And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

(Gen 42:9) And Joseph remembered his dream, which he saw; and he said to them, Ye are spies; to observe the marks of the land are ye come.

(Gen 42:10) But they said, Nay, Sir, we thy servants are come to buy food;

(Gen 42:11) we are all sons of one man; we are peaceable, thy servants are not spies.

(Gen 42:12) And he said to them, Nay, but ye are come to observe the marks of the land.

(Gen 42:13) And they said, We thy servants are twelve brethren, in the land of Chanaan; and, behold, the youngest is with our father to-day, but the other one is not.

(Gen 42:14) And Joseph said to them, This is it that I spoke to you, saying, ye are spies;

(Gen 42:15) herein shall ye be manifested; by the health of Pharaoh, ye shall not depart hence, unless your younger brother come hither.

(Gen 42:16) Send one of you, and take your brother; and go ye to prison, till your words be clear, whether ye speak the truth or not; but, if not, by the health of Pharaoh, verily ye are spies.

(Gen 42:17) And he put them in prison three days.

(Gen 42:18) And he said to them on the third day, This do, and ye shall live, for I fear Elohim.

(Gen 42:19) If ye be peaceable, let one of your brethren be detained in prison; but go ye, and carry back the corn ye have purchased.

(Gen 42:20) And bring your younger brother to me, and your words shall be believed; but, if not, ye shall die. And they did so.

(Gen 42:21) And each said to his brother, Yes, indeed, for we are in fault concerning our brother, when we disregarded the anguish of his soul, when he besought us, and we hearkened not to him; and therefore has this affliction come upon us.

(Gen 42:22) And Ruben answered them, saying, Did I not speak to you, saying, Hurt not the boy, and ye heard me not? and, behold, his blood is required.

(Gen 42:23) But they knew not that Joseph understood them; for there was an interpreter between them.

(Gen 42:24) And Joseph turned away from them, and wept; and again he came to them, and spoke to them; and he took Symeon from them, and bound him before their eyes.

(Gen 42:25) And Joseph gave orders to fill their vessels with corn, and to return their money to each into his sack, and to give them provision for the way; and it was so done to them.

(Gen 42:26) And having put the corn on the asses, they departed thence.

(Gen 42:27) And one having opened his sack to give his asses fodder, at the place where they rested, saw also his bundle of money, for it was on the mouth of his sack.

(Gen 42:28) And he said to his brethren, My money has been restored to me, and behold this is in my sack. And their heart was wonder-struck, and they were troubled, saying one to another, What is this that Elohim has done to us?

(Gen 42:29) And they came to their father, Jacob, into the land of Chanaan, and reported to him all that had happened to them, saying,

(Gen 42:30) The man, the lord of the land, spoke harsh words to us, and put us in prison as spies of the land.

(Gen 42:31) And we said to him, We are men of peace, we are not spies.

(Gen 42:32) We are twelve brethren, sons of our father; one is not, and the youngest is with his father to-day in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 42:33) And the man, the lord of the land, said to us, Herein shall I know that ye are peaceable; leave one brother here with me, and having taken the corn ye have purchased for your family, depart.

(Gen 42:34) And bring to me your younger brother; then I shall know that ye are not spies, but that ye are men of peace: and I will restore you your brother, and ye shall trade in the land.

(Gen 42:35) And it came to pass as they were emptying their sacks, there was each man's bundle of money in his sack; and they and their father saw their bundles of money, and they were afraid.

(Gen 42:36) And their father Jacob said to them, Ye have bereaved me. Joseph is not, Symeon is not, and will ye take Benjamin? all these things have come upon me.

(Gen 42:37) And Ruben spoke to his father, saying, Slay my two sons, if I bring him not to thee; give him into my hand, and I will bring him back to thee.

(Gen 42:38) But he said, My son shall not go down with you, because his brother is dead, and he only has been left; and suppose it shall come to pass that he is afflicted by the way by which ye go, then ye shall bring down my old age with sorrow to Hades.

(Gen 43:1) But the famine prevailed in the land.

(Gen 43:2) And it came to pass, when they had finished eating the corn which they had brought out of Egypt, that their father said to them, Go again; buy us a little food.

(Gen 43:3) And Judas spoke to him, saying, The man, the lord of the country, positively testified to us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, unless your younger brother be with you.

(Gen 43:4) If, then, thou send our brother with us, we will go down, and buy thee food;

(Gen 43:5) but if thou send not our brother with us, we will not go: for the man spoke to us, saying, Ye shall not see my face, unless your younger brother be with you.

(Gen 43:6) And Israel said, Why did ye harm me, inasmuch as ye told the man that ye had a brother?

(Gen 43:7) And they said, The man closely questioned us about our family also, saying, Does your father yet live, and have ye a brother? and we answered him according to this question: did we know that he would say to us, Bring your brother?

(Gen 43:8) And Judas said to his father Israel, Send the boy with me, and we will arise and go, that we may live and not die, both we and thou, and our store.

(Gen 43:9) And I engage for him; at my hand do thou require him; if I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty toward thee for ever.

(Gen 43:10) For if we had not tarried, we should now have returned twice.

(Gen 43:11) And Israel, their father, said to them, If it be so, do this; take of the fruits of the earth in your vessels, and carry down to the man presents of gum and honey, and frankincense, and stacte, and turpentine, and walnuts.

(Gen 43:12) And take double money in your hands, and the money that was returned in your sacks, carry back with you, lest peradventure it is a mistake.

(Gen 43:13) And take your brother; and arise, go down to the man.

(Gen 43:14) And my Elohim give you favour in the sight of the man, and send away your other brother, and Benjamin, for I accordingly as I have been bereaved, am bereaved.

(Gen 43:15) And the men having taken these presents, and the double money, took in their hands also Benjamin; and they rose up and went down to Egypt, and stood before Joseph.

(Gen 43:16) And Joseph saw them and his brother Benjamin, born of the same mother; and he said to the steward of his household, Bring the men into the house, and slay beasts and make ready, for the men are to eat bread with me at noon.

(Gen 43:17) And the man did as Joseph said; and he brought the men into the house of Joseph.

(Gen 43:18) And the men, when they perceived that they were brought into the house of Joseph, said, We are brought in because of the money that was returned in our sacks at the first; even in order to inform against us, and lay it to our charge; to take us for servants, and our asses.

(Gen 43:19) And having approached the man who was over the house of Joseph, they spoke to him in the porch of the house,

(Gen 43:20) saying, We pray thee, Sir; we came down at first to buy food.

(Gen 43:21) And it came to pass, when we came to unlade, and opened our sacks, there was also this money of each in his sack; we have now brought back our money by weight in our hands.

(Gen 43:22) And we have brought other money with us to buy food; we know not who put the money into our sacks.

(Gen 43:23) And he said to them, Elohim deal mercifully with you; be not afraid; your Elohim, and the Elohim of your fathers, has given you treasures in your sacks, and I have enough of your good money. And he brought Simeon out to them.

(Gen 43:24) And he brought water to wash their feet; and gave provender to their asses.

(Gen 43:25) And they prepared their gifts, until Joseph came at noon, for they heard that he was going to dine there.

(Gen 43:26) And Joseph entered into the house, and they brought him the gifts which they had in their hands, into the house; and they did him reverence with their face to the ground.

(Gen 43:27) And he asked them, How are ye? and he said to them, Is your father, the old man of whom ye spoke, well? Does he yet live?

(Gen 43:28) And they said, Thy servant our father is well; he is yet alive. And he said, Blessed be that man by Elohim; and they bowed, and did him reverence.

(Gen 43:29) And Joseph lifted up his eyes, and saw his brother Benjamin, born of the same mother; and he said, Is this your younger brother, whom ye spoke of bringing to me? and he said, Elohim have mercy on thee, my son.

(Gen 43:30) And Joseph was troubled, for his bowels yearned over his brother, and he sought to weep; and he went into his chamber, and wept there.

(Gen 43:31) And he washed his face and came out, and refrained himself, and said, Set on bread.

(Gen 43:32) And they set on bread for him alone, and for them by themselves, and for the Egyptians feasting with him by themselves, for the Egyptians could not eat bread with the Hebrews, for it is an abomination to the Egyptians.

(Gen 43:33) And they sat before him, the first-born according to his seniority, and the younger according to his youth; and the men looked with amazement every one at his brother.

(Gen 43:34) And they took their portions from him to themselves; but Benjamin's portion was five times as much as the portions of the others. And they drank and were filled with drink with him.

(Gen 44:1) And Joseph charged the steward of his house, saying, Fill the men's sacks with food, as much as they can carry, and put the money of each in the mouth of his sack.

(Gen 44:2) And put my silver cup into the sack of the youngest, and the price of his corn. And it was done according to the word of Joseph, as he said.

(Gen 44:3) The morning dawned, and the men were sent away, they and their asses.

(Gen 44:4) And when they had gone out of the city, and were not far off, then Joseph said to his steward, Arise, and pursue after the men; and thou shalt overtake them, and say to them, Why have ye returned evil for good?

(Gen 44:5) Why have ye stolen my silver cup? is it not this out of which my lord drinks? and he divineth augury with it; ye have accomplished evil in that which ye have done.

(Gen 44:6) And he found them, and spoke to them according to these words.

(Gen 44:7) And they said to him, Why does our lord speak according to these words? far be it from thy servants to do according to this word.

(Gen 44:8) If we brought back to thee out of the land of Chanaan the money which we found in our sacks, how should we steal silver or gold out of the house of thy lord?

(Gen 44:9) With whomsoever of thy servants thou shalt find the cup, let him die; and, moreover, we will be servants to our lord.

(Gen 44:10) And he said, Now then it shall be as ye say; with whomsoever the cup shall be found, he shall be my servant, and ye shall be clear.

(Gen 44:11) And they hastened, and took down every man his sack on the ground, and they opened every man his sack.

(Gen 44:12) And he searched, beginning from the eldest, until he came to the youngest; and he found the cup in Benjamin's sack.

(Gen 44:13) And they rent their garments, and laid each man his sack on his ass, and returned to the city.

(Gen 44:14) And Judas and his brethren came in to Joseph, while he was yet there, and fell on the ground before him.

(Gen 44:15) And Joseph said to them, What is this thing that ye have done? know ye not that a man such as I can surely divine?

(Gen 44:16) And Judas said, What shall we answer to our lord, or what shall we say, or wherein should we be justified? whereas Elohim has discovered the unrighteousness of thy servants; behold, we are slaves to our lord, both we and he with whom the cup has been found.

(Gen 44:17) And Joseph said, Far be it from me to do this thing; the man with whom the cup has been found, he shall be my servant; but do ye go up with safety to your father.

(Gen 44:18) And Judas drew near him, and said, I pray, Sir, let thy servant speak a word before thee, and be not angry with thy servant, for thou art next to Pharaoh.

(Gen 44:19) Sir, thou askedst thy servants, saying, Have ye a father or a brother?

(Gen 44:20) And we said to my lord, We have a father, an old man, and he has a son of his old age, a young one, and his brother is dead, and he alone has been left behind to his mother, and his father loves him.

(Gen 44:21) And thou saidst to they servants, Bring him down to me, and I will take care of him.

(Gen 44:22) And we said to my lord, The child will not be able to leave his father; but if he should leave his father, he will die.

(Gen 44:23) But thou saidst to they servants, Except your younger brother come down with you, ye shall not see my face again.

(Gen 44:24) And it came to pass, when we went up to thy servant our father, we reported to him the words of our lord.

(Gen 44:25) And our father said, Go again, and buy us a little food.

(Gen 44:26) And we said, We shall not be able to go down; but if our younger brother go down with us, we will go down; for we shall not be able to see the man's face, our younger brother not being with us.

(Gen 44:27) And thy servant our father said to us, Ye know that my wife bore me two sons;

(Gen 44:28) and one is departed from me; and ye said that he was devoured of wild beasts, and I have not seen him until now.

(Gen 44:29) If then ye take this one also from my presence, and an affliction happen to him by the way, then shall ye bring down my old age with sorrow to the grave.

(Gen 44:30) Now then, if I should go in to they servant, and our father, and the boy should not be with us, (and his life depends on this lad's life)

(Gen 44:31) it shall even come to pass, when he sees the boy is not with us, that he will die, and thy servants will bring down the old age of thy servant, and our father, with sorrow to the grave.

(Gen 44:32) For thy servant has received the boy in charge from his father, saying, If I bring him not to thee, and place him before thee, I shall be guilty towards my father for ever.

(Gen 44:33) Now then I will remain a servant with thee instead of the lad, a domestic of my lord; but let the lad go up with his brethren.

(Gen 44:34) For how shall I go up to my father, the lad not being with us? lest I behold the evils which will befall my father.

(Gen 45:1) And Joseph could not refrain himself when all were standing by him, but said, Dismiss all from me; and no one stood near Joseph, when he made himself known to his brethren.

(Gen 45:2) And he uttered his voice with weeping; and all the Egyptians heard, and it was reported to the house of Pharaoh.

(Gen 45:3) And Joseph said to his brethren, I am Joseph; doth my father yet live? And his brethren could not answer him, for they were troubled.

(Gen 45:4) And Joseph said to his brethren, Draw nigh to me; and they drew nigh; and he said, I am your brother Joseph, whom ye sold into Egypt.

(Gen 45:5) Now then be not grieved, and let it not seem hard to you that ye sold me hither, for Elohim sent me before you for life.

(Gen 45:6) For this second year there is famine on the earth, and there are yet five years remaining, in which there is to be neither ploughing, nor mowing.

(Gen 45:7) For Elohim sent me before you, that there might be left to you a remnant upon the earth, even to nourish a great remnant of you.

(Gen 45:8) Now then ye did not send me hither, but Elohim; and he hath made me as a father of Pharaoh, and lord of all his house, and ruler of all the land of Egypt.

(Gen 45:9) Hasten, therefore, and go up to my father, and say to him, These things saith thy son Joseph; Elohim has made me lord of all the land of Egypt; come down therefore to me, and tarry not.

(Gen 45:10) And thou shalt dwell in the land of Gesem of Arabia; and thou shalt be near me, thou and thy sons, and thy sons' sons, thy sheep and thine oxen, and whatsoever things are thine.

(Gen 45:11) And I will nourish thee there: for the famine is yet for five years; lest thou be consumed, and thy sons, and all thy possessions.

(Gen 45:12) Behold, your eyes see, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin, that it is my mouth that speaks to you.

(Gen 45:13) Report, therefore, to my father all my glory in Egypt, and all things that ye have seen, and make haste and bring down my father hither.

(Gen 45:14) And he fell on his brother Benjamin's neck, and wept on him; and Benjamin wept on his neck.

(Gen 45:15) And he kissed all his brethren, and wept on them; and after these things his brethren spoke to him.

(Gen 45:16) And the report was carried into the house of Pharaoh, saying, Joseph's brethren are come; and Pharaoh was glad, and his household.

(Gen 45:17) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Say to thy brethren, Do this; fill your waggons, and depart into the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 45:18) And take up your father, and your possessions, and come to me; and I will give you of all the goods of Egypt, and ye shall eat the marrow of the land.

(Gen 45:19) And do thou charge them thus; that they should take for them waggons out of the land of Egypt, for your little ones, and for your wives; and take up your father, and come.

(Gen 45:20) And be not sparing in regard to your property, for all the good of Egypt shall be yours.

(Gen 45:21) And the children of Israel did so; and Joseph gave to them waggons, according to the words spoken by king Pharaoh; and he gave them provision for the journey.

(Gen 45:22) And he gave to them all two sets of raiment apiece; but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of gold, and five changes of raiment.

(Gen 45:23) And to his father he sent presents at the same rate, and ten asses, bearing some of all the good things of Egypt, and ten mules, bearing bread for his father for thy journey.

(Gen 45:24) And he sent away his brethren, and they went; and he said to them, Be not angry by the way.

(Gen 45:25) And they went up out of Egypt, and came into the land of Chanaan, to Jacob their father.

(Gen 45:26) And they reported to him, saying, Thy son Joseph is living, and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt; and Jacob was amazed, for he did not believe them.

(Gen 45:27) But they spoke to him all the words uttered by Joseph, whatsoever he said to them; and having seen the chariots which Joseph sent to take him up, the spirit of Jacob their father revived.

(Gen 45:28) And Israel said, It is a great thing for me if Joseph my son is yet alive. I will go and see him before I die.

(Gen 46:1) And Israel departed, he and all that he had, and came to the well of the oath; and he offered sacrifice to the Elohim of his father Isaac.

(Gen 46:2) And Elohim spoke to Israel in a night vision, saying, Jacob, Jacob; and he said, What is it?

(Gen 46:3) And he says to him, I am the Elohim of thy fathers; fear not to go down into Egypt, for I will make thee there a great nation.

(Gen 46:4) And I will go down with thee into Egypt, and I will bring thee up at the end; and Joseph shall put his hands on thine eyes.

(Gen 46:5) And Jacob rose up from the well of the oath; and the sons of Israel took up their father, and the baggage, and their wives on the waggons, which Joseph sent to take them.

(Gen 46:6) And they took up their goods, and all their property, which they had gotten in the land of Chanaan; they came into the land of Egypt, Jacob, and all his seed with him.

(Gen 46:7) The sons, and the sons of his sons with him; his daughters, and the daughters of his daughters; and he brought all his seed into Egypt.

(Gen 46:8) And these are the names of the sons of Israel that went into Egypt with their father Jacob Jacob and his sons. The first-born of Jacob, Ruben.

(Gen 46:9) And the sons of Ruben; Enoch, and Phallus, Asron, and Charmi.

(Gen 46:10) and the sons of Symeon; Jemuel, and Jamin, and Aod, and Achin, and Saar, and Saul, the son of a Chananitish woman.

(Gen 46:11) And the sons of Levi; Gerson, Cath, and Merari.

(Gen 46:12) And the sons of Judas; Er, and Aunan, and Selom, and Phares, and Zara: and Er and Aunan died in the land of Chanaan.

(Gen 46:13) And the sons of Phares were Ebron, and Jemuel. And the sons of Issachar; Thola, and Phua, and Asum, and Sambran.

(Gen 46:14) And the sons of Zabulun, Sered, and Allon, and Achoel.

(Gen 46:15) These are the sons of Lea, which she bore to Jacob in Mesopotamia of Syria, and Dina his daughter; all the souls, sons and daughters, thirty-three.

(Gen 46:16) And the sons of Gad; Saphon, and Angis, and Sannis, and Thasoban, and Aedis, and Aroedis, and Areelis.

(Gen 46:17) And the sons of Aser; Jemna, Jessua, and Jeul, and Baria, and Sara their sister. And the sons of Baria; Chobor, and Melchiil.

(Gen 46:18) These are the sons of Zelpha, which Laban gave to his daughter Lea, who bore these to Jacob, sixteen souls.

(Gen 46:19) And the sons of Rachel, the wife of Jacob; Joseph, and Benjamin.

(Gen 46:20) And there were sons born to Joseph in the land of Egypt, whom Aseneth, the daughter of Petephres, priest of Heliopolis, bore to him, even Manasses and Ephraim. And there were sons born to Manasses, which the Syrian concubine bore to him, even Machir. And Machir begot Galaad. And the sons of Ephraim, the brother of Manasses; Sutalaam, and Taam. And the sons of Sutalaam; Edom.

(Gen 46:21) and the sons of Benjamin; Bala, and Bochor, and Asbel. And the sons of Bala were Gera, and Noeman, and Anchis, and Ros, and Mamphim. And Gera begot Arad.

(Gen 46:22) These are the sons of Rachel, which she bore to Jacob; all the souls eighteen.

(Gen 46:23) And the sons of Dan; Asom.

(Gen 46:24) And the sons of Nephthalim; Asiel, and Goni, and Issaar, and Sollem.

(Gen 46:25) These are the sons of Balla, whom Laban gave to his daughter Rachel, who bore these to Jacob; all the souls, seven.

(Gen 46:26) And all the souls that came with Jacob into Egypt, who came out of his loins, besides the wives of the sons of Jacob, even all the souls were sixty-six.

(Gen 46:27) And the sons of Joseph, who were born to him in the land of Egypt, were nine souls; all the souls of the house of Jacob who came with Joseph into Egypt, were seventy-five souls.

(Gen 46:28) And he sent Judas before him to Joseph, to meet him to the city of Heroes, into the land of Ramesses.

(Gen 46:29) And Joseph having made ready his chariots, went up to meet Israel his father, at the city of Heroes; and having appeared to him, fell on his neck, and wept with abundant weeping.

(Gen 46:30) And Israel said to Joseph, After this I will gladly die, since I have seen thy face, for thou art yet living.

(Gen 46:31) And Joseph said to his brethren, I will go up and tell Pharaoh, and will say to him, My brethren, and my father's house, who were in the land of Chanaan, are come to me.

(Gen 46:32) And the men are shepherds; for they have been feeders of cattle, and they have brought with them their cattle, and their kine, and all their property.

(Gen 46:33) If then Pharaoh call you, and say to you, What is your occupation?

(Gen 46:34) Ye shall say, We thy servants are herdsmen from our youth until now, both we and our fathers: that ye may dwell in the land of Gesem of Arabia, for every shepherd is an abomination to the Egyptians.

(Gen 47:1) And Joseph came and told Pharaoh, saying, My father, and my brethren, and their cattle, and their oxen, and all their possessions, are come out of the land of Chanaan, and behold, they are in the land of Gesem.

(Gen 47:2) And he took of his brethren five men, and set them before Pharaoh.

(Gen 47:3) And Pharaoh said to the brethren of Joseph, What is your occupation? and they said to Pharaoh, Thy servants are shepherds, both we and our father.

(Gen 47:4) And they said to Pharaoh, We are come to sojourn in the land, for there is no pasture for the flocks of thy servants, for the famine has prevailed in the land of Chanaan; now then, we will dwell in the land of Gesem. And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Let them dwell in the land of Gesem; and if thou knowest that there are among them able men, make them overseers of my cattle. So Jacob and his sons came into Egypt, to Joseph; and Pharaoh, king of Egypt, heard of it.

(Gen 47:5) And Pharaoh spoke to Joseph, saying, Thy father, and thy brethren, are come to thee.

(Gen 47:6) Behold, the land of Egypt is before thee; settle thy father and thy brethren in the best land.

(Gen 47:7) And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharaoh; and Jacob blessed Pharaoh.

(Gen 47:8) And Pharaoh said to Jacob, How many are the years of the days of thy life?

(Gen 47:9) And Jacob said to Pharaoh, The days of the years of my life, wherein I sojourn, are a hundred and thirty years; few and evil have been the days of the years of my life, they have not attained to the days of the life of my fathers, in which days they sojourned.

(Gen 47:10) And Jacob blessed Pharaoh, and departed from him.

(Gen 47:11) And Joseph settled his father and his brethren, and gave them a possession in the land of Egypt, in the best land, in the land of Ramesses, as Pharaoh commanded.

(Gen 47:12) And Joseph gave provision to his father, and his brethren, and to all the house of his father, corn for each person.

(Gen 47:13) And there was no corn in all the land, for the famine prevailed greatly; and the land of Egypt, and the land of Chanaan, fainted for the famine.

(Gen 47:14) And Joseph gathered all the money that was found in the land of Egypt, and the land of Chanaan, in return for the corn which they bought, and he distributed corn to them; and Joseph brought all the money into the house of Pharaoh.

(Gen 47:15) And all the money failed out of the land of Egypt, and out of the land of Chanaan; and all the Egyptians came to Joseph, saying, Give us bread, and why do we die in thy presence? for our money is spent.

(Gen 47:16) And Joseph said to them, Bring your cattle, and I will give you bread for your cattle, if your money is spent.

(Gen 47:17) And they brought their cattle to Joseph; and Joseph gave them bread in return for their horses, and for their sheep, and for their oxen, and for their asses; and Joseph maintained them with bread for all their cattle in that year.

(Gen 47:18) And that year passed, and they came to him in the second year, and said to him, Must we then be consumed from before our lord? for if our money has failed, and our possessions, and our cattle, brought to thee our lord, and there has not been left to us before our lord more than our own bodies and our land, we are indeed destitute.

(Gen 47:19) In order, then, that we die not before thee, and the land be made desolate, buy us and our land for bread, and we and our land will be servants to Pharaoh: give seed that we may sow, and live and not die, so our land shall not be made desolate.

(Gen 47:20) And Joseph bought all the land of the Egyptians, for Pharaoh; for the Egyptians sold their land to Pharaoh; for the famine prevailed against them, and the land became Pharaoh's.

(Gen 47:21) And he brought the people into bondage to him, for servants, from one extremity of Egypt to the other,

(Gen 47:22) except only the land of the priests; Joseph bought not this, for Pharaoh gave a portion in the way of gift to the priests; and they ate their portion which Pharaoh gave them; therefore they sold not their land.

(Gen 47:23) And Joseph said to all the Egyptians, Behold, I have bought you and your land this day for Pharaoh; take seed for you, and sow the land.

(Gen 47:24) And there shall be the fruits of it; and ye shall give the fifth part to Pharaoh, and the four remaining parts shall be for yourselves, for seed for the earth, and for food for you, and all that are in your houses.

(Gen 47:25) And they said, Thou hast saved us; we have found favour before our lord, and we will be servants to Pharaoh.

(Gen 47:26) And Joseph appointed it to them for an ordinance until this day; to reserve a fifth part for Pharaoh, on the land of Egypt, except only the land of the priests, that was not Pharaoh's.

(Gen 47:27) And Israel dwelt in Egypt, in the land of Gesem, and they gained an inheritance upon it; and they increased and multiplied very greatly.

(Gen 47:28) And Jacob survived seventeen years in the land of Egypt; and Jacob's days of the years of his life were a hundred and forty-seven years.

(Gen 47:29) and the days of Israel drew nigh for him to die: and he called his son Joseph, and said to him, If I have found favour before thee, put thy hand under my thigh, and thou shalt execute mercy and truth toward me, so as not to bury me in Egypt.

(Gen 47:30) But I will sleep with my fathers, and thou shalt carry me up out of Egypt, and bury me in their sepulchre. And he said, I will do according to thy word.

(Gen 47:31) And he said, Swear to me; and he swore to him. And Israel did reverence, leaning on the top of his staff.

(Gen 48:1) And it came to pass after these things, that it was reported to Joseph, Behold, thy father is ill; and, having taken his two sons, Manasse and Ephraim, he came to Jacob.

(Gen 48:2) And it was reported to Jacob, saying, Behold, thy son Joseph cometh to thee; and Israel having strengthened himself, sat upon the bed.

(Gen 48:3) And Jacob said to Joseph, My Elohim appeared to me in Luz, in the land of Chanaan, and blessed me,

(Gen 48:4) and said to me, Behold, I will increase thee, and multiply thee, and will make of thee multitudes of nations; and I will give this land to thee, and to thy seed after thee, for an everlasting possession.

(Gen 48:5) Now then thy two sons, who were born to thee in the land of Egypt, before I came to thee into Egypt, are mine; Ephraim and Manasse, as Ruben and Simeon they shall be mine.

(Gen 48:6) And the children which thou shalt beget hereafter, shall be in the name of their brethren; they shall be named after their inheritances.

(Gen 48:7) And as for me, when I came out of Mesopotamia of Syria, Rachel, thy mother, died in the land of Chanaan, as I drew nigh to the horse-course of Chabratha of the land of Chanaan, so as to come to Ephratha; and I buried her in the road of the course; this is Bethlehem.

(Gen 48:8) And when Israel saw the sons of Joseph, he said, Who are these to thee?

(Gen 48:9) And Joseph said to his father, They are my sons, whom Elohim gave me here; and Jacob said, Bring me them, that I may bless them.

(Gen 48:10) Now the eyes of Israel were dim through age, and he could not see; and he brought them near to him, and he kissed them, and embraced them.

(Gen 48:11) And Israel said to Joseph, Behold, I have not been deprived of seeing thy face, and lo! Elohim has showed me thy seed also.

(Gen 48:14) But Israel having stretched out his right hand, laid it on the head of Ephraim, and he was the younger; and his left hand on the head of Manasse, guiding his hands crosswise.

(Gen 48:15) And he blessed them and said, The Elohim in whose sight my fathers were well pleasing, even Abraam and Isaac, the Elohim who continues to feed me from my youth until this day;

(Gen 48:16) the angel who delivers me from all evils, bless these boys, and my name shall be called upon them, and the name of my fathers, Abraam and Isaac; and let them be increased to a great multitude on the earth.

(Gen 48:17) And Joseph having seen that his father put his right hand on the head of Ephraim it seemed grievous to him; and Joseph took hold of the hand of his father, to remove it from the head of Ephraim to the head of Manasse.

(Gen 48:18) And Joseph said to his father, Not so, father; for this is the first-born; lay thy right-hand upon his head.

(Gen 48:19) And he would not, but said, I know it, son, I know it; he also shall be a people, and he shall be exalted, but his younger brother shall be greater than he, and his seed shall become a multitude of nations.

(Gen 48:20) And he blessed them in that day, saying, In you shall Israel be blessed, saying, Elohim make thee as Ephraim and Manasse; and he set Ephraim before Manasse.

(Gen 48:21) And Israel said to Joseph, Behold, I die; and Elohim shall be with you, and restore you to the land of your fathers.

(Gen 48:22) And I give to thee Sicima, a select portion above thy brethren, which I took out of the hand of the Amorites with my sword and bow.

(Gen 49:1) And Jacob called his sons, and said to them,

(Gen 49:2) Assemble yourselves, that I may tell you what shall happen to you in the last days. Gather yourselves together, and hear me, sons of Jacob; hear Israel, hear your father.

(Gen 49:3) Ruben, thou art my first-born, thou my strength, and the first of my children, hard to be endured, hard and self-willed.

(Gen 49:4) Thou wast insolent like water, burst not forth with violence, for thou wentest up to the bed of thy father; then thou defiledst the couch, whereupon thou wentest up.

(Gen 49:6) Let not my soul come into their counsel, and let not mine inward parts contend in their conspiracy, for in their wrath they slew men, and in their passion they houghed a bull.

(Gen 49:7) Cursed be their wrath, for it was willful, and their anger, for it was cruel: I will divide them in Jacob, and scatter them in Israel.

(Gen 49:8) Juda, thy brethren have praised thee, and thy hands shall be on the back of thine enemies; thy father's sons shall do thee reverence.

(Gen 49:9) Juda is a lion's whelp: from the tender plant, my son, thou art gone up, having couched thou liest as a lion, and as a whelp; who shall stir him up?

(Gen 49:10) A ruler shall not fail from Juda, nor a prince from his loins, until there come the things stored up for him; and he is the expectation of nations.

(Gen 49:11) Binding his foal to the vine, and the foal of his ass to the branch of it, he shall wash his robe in wine, and his garment in the blood of the grape.
(Gen 49:12) His eyes shall be more cheering than wine, and his teeth whiter than milk.
(Gen 49:13) Zabulon shall dwell on the coast, and he shall be by a haven of ships, and shall extend to Sidon.
(Gen 49:14) Issachar has desired that which is good; resting between the inheritances.
(Gen 49:15) And having seen the resting place that it was good, and the land that it was fertile, he subjected his shoulder to labour, and became a husbandman.
(Gen 49:16) Dan shall judge his people, as one tribe too in Israel.
(Gen 49:17) And let Dan be a serpent in the way, besetting the path, biting the heel of the horse (and the rider shall fall backward),
(Gen 49:18) waiting for the salvation of YHVH.
(Gen 49:19) Gad, a plundering troop shall plunder him; but he shall plunder him, pursuing him closely.
(Gen 49:20) Aser, his bread shall be fat; and he shall yield dainties to princes.
(Gen 49:21) Nephthalim is a spreading stem, bestowing beauty on its fruit.
(Gen 49:22) Joseph is a son increased; my dearly loved son is increased; my youngest son, turn to me.
(Gen 49:23) Against whom men taking evil counsel reproached him, and the archers pressed hard upon him.
(Gen 49:24) But their bow and arrows were mightily consumed, and the sinews of their arms were slackened by the hand of the mighty one of Jacob; thence is he that strengthened Israel from the Elohim of thy father;
(Gen 49:25) and my Elohim helped thee, and he blessed thee with the blessing of heaven from above, and the blessing of the earth possessing all things, because of the blessing of the breasts and of the womb,
(Gen 49:26) the blessings of thy father and thy mother it has prevailed above the blessing of the lasting mountains, and beyond the blessings of the everlasting hills; they shall be upon the head of Joseph, and upon the head of the brothers of whom he took the lead.
(Gen 49:27) Benjamin, as a ravaging wolf, shall eat still in the morning, and at evening he gives food.
(Gen 49:28) All these are the twelve sons of Jacob; and their father spoke these words to them, and he blessed them; he blessed each of them according to his blessing.
(Gen 49:29) And he said to them, I am added to my people; ye shall bury me with my fathers in the cave, which is in the field of Ephron the Chettite,
(Gen 49:30) in the double cave which is opposite Mambre, in the land of Chanaan, the cave which Abraam bought of Ephron the Chettite, for a possession of a sepulchre.
(Gen 49:31) There they buried Abraam and Sarrha his wife; there they buried Isaac, and Rebecca his wife; there they buried Lea;
(Gen 49:32) in the portion of the field, and of the cave that was in it, purchased of the sons of Chet.
(Gen 49:33) And Jacob ceased giving charges to his sons; and having lifted up his feet on the bed, he died, and was gathered to his people.

(Gen 50:1) And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept on him, and kissed him.

(Gen 50:2) And Joseph commanded his servants the embalmers to embalm his father; and the embalmers embalmed Israel.

(Gen 50:3) And they fulfilled forty days for him, for so are the days of embalming numbered; and Egypt mourned for him seventy days.

(Gen 50:4) And when the days of mourning were past, Joseph spoke to the princes of Pharaoh, saying, If I have found favour in your sight, speak concerning me in the ears of Pharaoh, saying,

(Gen 50:5) My father adjured me, saying, In the sepulchre which I dug for myself in the land of Chanaan, there thou shalt bury me; now then I will go up and bury my father, and return again.

(Gen 50:6) And Pharaoh said to Joseph, Go up, bury thy father, as he constrained thee to swear.

(Gen 50:7) So Joseph went up to bury his father; and all the servants of Pharaoh went up with him, and the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt.

(Gen 50:8) And all the household of Joseph, and his brethren, and all the house of his father, and his kindred; and they left behind the sheep and the oxen in the land of Gesem.

(Gen 50:9) And there went up with him also chariots and horsemen; and there was a very great company.

(Gen 50:10) And they came to the threshing-floor of Atad, which is beyond Jordan; and they bewailed him with a great and very sore lamentation; and he made a mourning for his father seven days.

(Gen 50:11) And the inhabitants of the land of Chanaan saw the mourning at the floor of Atad, and said, This is a great mourning to the Egyptians; therefore he called its name, The mourning of Egypt, which is beyond Jordan.

(Gen 50:12) And thus his sons did to him.

(Gen 50:13) So his sons carried him up into the land of Chanaan, and buried him in the double cave, which cave Abraam bought for possession of a burying place, of Ephrom the Chettite, before Mambre.

(Gen 50:14) And Joseph returned to Egypt, he and his brethren, and those that had gone up with him to bury his father.

(Gen 50:15) And when the brethren of Joseph saw that their father was dead, they said, Let us take heed, lest at any time Joseph remember evil against us, and recompense to us all the evils which we have done against him.

(Gen 50:16) And they came to Joseph, and said, Thy father adjured us before his death, saying,

(Gen 50:17) Thus say ye to Joseph, Forgive them their injustice and their sin, forasmuch as they have done thee evil; and now pardon the injustice of the servants of the Elohim of thy father. And Joseph wept while they spoke to him.

(Gen 50:18) And they came to him and said, We, these persons, are thy servants.

(Gen 50:19) And Joseph said to them, Fear not, for I am Elohim's.

(Gen 50:20) Ye took counsel against me for evil, but Elohim took counsel for me for good, that the matter might be as it is to-day, and much people might be fed.

(Gen 50:21) And he said to them, Fear not, I will maintain you, and your families: and he comforted them, and spoke kindly to them.

(Gen 50:22) And Joseph dwelt in Egypt, he and his brethren, and all the family of his father; and Joseph lived a hundred and ten years.

(Gen 50:23) And Joseph saw the children of Ephraim to the third generation; and the sons of Machir the son of Manasse were borne on the sides of Joseph.

(Gen 50:24) And Joseph spoke to his brethren, saying, I die, and Elohim will surely visit you, and will bring you out of this land to the land concerning which Elohim sware to our fathers, Abraam, Isaac, and Jacob.

(Gen 50:25) And Joseph adjured the sons of Israel, saying, At the visitation with which Elohim shall visit you, then ye shall carry up my bones hence with you.

(Gen 50:26) And Joseph died, aged an hundred and ten years; and they prepared his corpse, and put him in a coffin in Egypt.

Exodus.

(Exo 1:1) These are the names of the sons of Israel that came into Egypt together with Jacob their father; they came in each with their whole family.

(Exo 1:2) Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Judas,

(Exo 1:3) Issachar, Zabulon, Benjamin,

(Exo 1:4) Dan and Nephthalim, Gad and Aser.

(Exo 1:5) But Joseph was in Egypt. And all the souls born of Jacob were seventy-five.

(Exo 1:6) And Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

(Exo 1:7) And the children of Israel increased and multiplied, and became numerous and grew exceedingly strong, and the land multiplied them.

(Exo 1:8) And there arose up another king over Egypt, who knew not Joseph.

(Exo 1:9) And he said to his nation, Behold, the race of the children of Israel is a great multitude, and is stronger than we:

(Exo 1:10) come then, let us deal craftily with them, lest at any time they be increased, and whensoever war shall happen to us, these also shall be added to our enemies, and having prevailed against us in war, they will depart out of the land.

(Exo 1:11) And he set over them task-masters, who should afflict them in their works; and they built strong cities for Pharaoh, both Pitho, and Ramesses, and On, which is Heliopolis.

(Exo 1:12) But as they humbled them, by so much they multiplied, and grew exceedingly strong; and the Egyptians greatly abhorred the children of Israel.

(Exo 1:13) And the Egyptians tyrannised over the children of Israel by force.

(Exo 1:14) And they embittered their life by hard labours, in the clay and in brick-making, and all the works in the plains, according to all the works, wherein they caused them to serve with violence.

(Exo 1:15) And the king of the Egyptians spoke to the midwives of the Hebrews; the name of the one was, Sephora; and the name of the second, Phua.

(Exo 1:16) And he said, When ye do the office of midwives to the Hebrew women, and they are about to be delivered, if it be a male, kill it; but if a female, save it.

(Exo 1:17) But the midwives feared Elohim, and did not as the king of Egypt appointed them; and they saved the male children alive.

(Exo 1:18) And the king of Egypt called the midwives, and said to them, Why is it that ye have done this thing, and saved the male children alive?

(Exo 1:19) And the midwives said to Pharaoh, The Hebrew women are not as the women of Egypt, for they are delivered before the midwives go in to them. So they bore children.

(Exo 1:20) And Elohim did well to the midwives, and the people multiplied, and grew very strong.

(Exo 1:21) And as the midwives feared Elohim, they established for themselves families.

(Exo 1:22) And Pharaoh charged all his people, saying, Whatever male child shall be born to the Hebrews, cast into the river; and every female, save it alive.

(Exo 2:1) And there was a certain man of the tribe of Levi, who took to wife one of the daughters of Levi.

(Exo 2:2) And she conceived, and bore a male child; and having seen that he was fair, they hid him three months.

(Exo 2:3) And when they could no longer hide him, his mother took for him an ark, and besmeared it with bitumen, and cast the child into it, and put it in the ooze by the river.

(Exo 2:4) And his sister was watching from a distance, to learn what would happen to him.

(Exo 2:5) And the daughter of Pharaoh came down to the river to bathe; and her maids walked by the river's side, and having seen the ark in the ooze, she sent her maid, and took it up.

(Exo 2:6) And having opened it, she sees the babe weeping in the ark: and the daughter of Pharaoh had compassion on it, and said, This is one of the Hebrew's children.

(Exo 2:7) And his sister said to the daughter of Pharaoh, Wilt thou that I call to thee a nurse of the Hebrews, and shall she suckle the child for thee?

(Exo 2:8) And the daughter of Pharaoh said, Go: and the young woman went, and called the mother of the child.

(Exo 2:9) And the daughter of Pharaoh said to her, Take care of this child, and suckled it for me, and I will give thee the wages; and the woman took the child, and suckled it.

(Exo 2:10) And when the boy was grown, she brought him to the daughter of Pharaoh, and he became her son; and she called his name, Moses, saying, I took him out of the water.

(Exo 2:11) And it came to pass in that length of time, that Moses having grown, went out to his brethren the sons of Israel: and having noticed their distress, he sees an Egyptian smiting a certain Hebrew of his brethren the children of Israel.

(Exo 2:12) And having looked round this way and that way, he sees no one; and he smote the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

(Exo 2:13) And having gone out the second day he sees two Hebrew men fighting; and he says to the injurer, Wherefore smitest thou thy neighbour?

(Exo 2:14) And he said, Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us? wilt thou slay me as thou yesterday slewest the Egyptian? Then Moses was alarmed, and said, If it be thus, this matter has become known.

(Exo 2:15) And Pharaoh heard this matter, and sought to slay Moses; and Moses departed from the presence of Pharaoh, and dwelt in the land of Madiam; and having come into the land of Madiam, he sat on the well.

(Exo 2:16) And the priest of Madiam had seven daughters, feeding the flock of their father Jothor; and they came and drew water until they filled their pitchers, to water the flock of their father Jothor.

(Exo 2:17) And the shepherds came, and were driving them away; and Moses rose up and rescued them, and drew water for them, and watered their sheep.

(Exo 2:18) And they came to Raguel their father; and he said to them, Why have ye come so quickly to-day?

(Exo 2:19) And they said, An Egyptian delivered us from the shepherds, and drew water for us and watered our sheep.

(Exo 2:20) And he said to his daughters, And where is he? and why have ye left the man? call him therefore, that he may eat bread.

(Exo 2:21) And Moses was established with the man, and he gave Sephora his daughter to Moses to wife.

(Exo 2:22) And the woman conceived and bore a son, and Moses called his name Gersam, saying, I am a sojourner in a strange land.

(Exo 2:23) And in those days after a length of time, the king of Egypt died; and the children of Israel groaned because of their tasks, and cried, and their cry because of their tasks went up to Elohim.

(Exo 2:24) And Elohim heard their groanings, and Elohim remembered his covenant made with Abraam and Isaac and Jacob.

(Exo 2:25) And Elohim looked upon the children of Israel, and was made known to them.

(Exo 3:1) And Moses was feeding the flock of Jothor his father-in-law, the priest of Madiam; and he brought the sheep nigh to the wilderness, and came to the mount of Choreb.

(Exo 3:2) And an angel of YHVH appeared to him in flaming fire out of the bush, and he sees that the bush burns with fire, but the bush was not consumed.

(Exo 3:3) And Moses said, I will go near and see this great sight, why the bush is not consumed.

(Exo 3:4) And when YHVH saw that he drew nigh to see, YHVH called him out of the bush, saying, Moses, Moses; and he said, What is it?

(Exo 3:5) And he said, Draw not nigh hither: loose thy sandals from off thy feet, for the place whereon thou standest is holy ground.

(Exo 3:6) And he said, I am the Elohim of thy father, the Elohim of Abraam, and the Elohim of Isaac, and the Elohim of Jacob; and Moses turned away his face, for he was afraid to gaze at Elohim.

(Exo 3:7) And YHVH said to Moses, I have surely seen the affliction of my people that is in Egypt, and I have heard their cry caused by their task-masters; for I know their affliction.

(Exo 3:8) And I have come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land, and to bring them into a good and wide land, into a land flowing with milk and honey, into the place of the Chananites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Pherezites, and Gergesites, and Evites, and Jebusites.

(Exo 3:9) And now, behold, the cry of the children of Israel is come to me, and I have seen the affliction with which the Egyptians afflict them.

(Exo 3:10) And now come, I will send thee to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt bring out my people the children of Israel from the land of Egypt.

(Exo 3:11) And Moses said to Elohim, Who am I, that I should go to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and that I should bring out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt?

(Exo 3:12) And Elohim spoke to Moses, saying, I will be with thee, and this shall be the sign to thee that I shall send thee forth, when thou bringest out my people out of Egypt, then ye shall serve Elohim in this mountain.

(Exo 3:13) And Moses said to Elohim, Behold, I shall go forth to the children of Israel, and shall say to them, The Elohim of our fathers has sent me to you; and they will ask me, What is his name? What shall I say to them?

(Exo 3:14) And Elohim spoke to Moses, saying, I am that I am; and he said, Thus shall ye say to the children of Israel, I am, has sent me to you.

(Exo 3:15) And Elohim said again to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the sons of Israel, YHVH Elohim of our fathers, the Elohim of Abraam, and Elohim of Isaac, and Elohim of Jacob, has sent me to you: this is my name for ever, and my memorial to generations of generations.

(Exo 3:16) Go then and gather the elders of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, YHVH Elohim of our fathers has appeared to me, the Elohim of Abraam, and Elohim of Isaac, and Elohim of Jacob, saying, I have surely looked upon you, and upon all the things which have happened to you in Egypt.

(Exo 3:17) And he said, I will bring you up out of the affliction of the Egyptians to the land of the Chananites and the Chettites, and Amorites and Pherezites, and Gergesites, and Evites, and Jebusites, to a land flowing with milk and honey.

(Exo 3:18) And they shall hearken to thy voice, and thou and the elders of Israel shall go in to Pharaoh king of Egypt, and thou shalt say to him, The Elohim of the Hebrews has called us; we will go then a journey of three days into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to our Elohim.

(Exo 3:19) But I know that Pharaoh king of Egypt will not let you go, save with a mighty hand;

(Exo 3:20) and I will stretch out my hand, and smite the Egyptians with all my wonders, which I shall work among them, and after that he will send you forth.

(Exo 3:21) And I will give this people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and whenever ye shall escape, ye shall not depart empty.

(Exo 3:22) But every woman shall ask of her neighbour and fellow lodger, articles of gold and silver, and apparel; and ye shall put them upon your sons and upon your daughters, and spoil ye the Egyptians.

(Exo 4:1) And Moses answered and said, If they believe me not, and do not hearken to my voice (for they will say, Elohim has not appeared to thee), what shall I say to them?

(Exo 4:2) And YHVH said to him, What is this thing that is in thine hand? and he said, A rod.

(Exo 4:3) And he said, Cast it on the ground: and he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent, and Moses fled from it.

(Exo 4:4) And YHVH said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand, and take hold of its tail: so he stretched forth his hand and took hold of the tail, (Exo 4:5) and it became a rod in his hand, that they may believe thee, that the Elohim of thy fathers has appeared to thee, the Elohim of Abraam, and Elohim of Isaac, and Elohim of Jacob.

(Exo 4:6) And YHVH said again to him, Put thine hand into thy bosom; and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and his hand became as snow.

(Exo 4:7) And he said again, Put thy hand into thy bosom; and he put his hand into his bosom, and brought his hand out of his bosom, and it was again restored to the complexion of his other flesh.

(Exo 4:8) And if they will not believe thee, nor hearken to the voice of the first sign, they will believe thee because of the voice of the second sign.

(Exo 4:9) And it shall come to pass if they will not believe thee for these two signs, and will not hearken to thy voice, that thou shalt take of the water of the river and pour it upon the dry land, and the water which thou shalt take from the river shall be blood upon the dry land.

(Exo 4:10) And Moses said to YHVH, I pray, Lord, I have not been sufficient in former times, neither from the time that thou hast begun to speak to thy servant: I am weak in speech, and slow-tongued.

(Exo 4:11) And YHVH said to Moses, Who has given a mouth to man, and who has made the very hard of hearing, and the deaf, the seeing and the blind? have not I, Elohim?

(Exo 4:12) And now go and I will open thy mouth, and will instruct thee in what thou shalt say.

(Exo 4:13) And Moses said, I pray thee, Lord, appoint another able person whom thou shalt send.

(Exo 4:14) And YHVH was greatly angered against Moses, and said, Lo! is not Aaron the Levite thy brother? I know that he will surely speak to thee; and, behold, he will come forth to meet thee, and beholding thee he will rejoice within himself.

(Exo 4:15) And thou shalt speak to him; and thou shalt put my words into his mouth, and I will open thy mouth and his mouth, and I will instruct you in what ye shall do.

(Exo 4:16) And he shall speak for thee to the people, and he shall be thy mouth, and thou shalt be for him in things pertaining to Elohim.

(Exo 4:17) And this rod that was turned into a serpent thou shalt take in thine hand, wherewith thou shalt work miracles.

(Exo 4:18) And Moses went and returned to Jothor his father-in-law, and says, I will go and return to my brethren in Egypt, and will see if they are yet living. And Jothor said to Moses, Go in health. And in those days after some time, the king of Egypt died.

(Exo 4:19) And YHVH said to Moses in Madiam, Go, depart into Egypt, for all that sought thy life are dead.

(Exo 4:20) And Moses took his wife and his children, and mounted them on the beasts, and returned to Egypt; and Moses took the rod which he had from Elohim in his hand.

(Exo 4:21) And YHVH said to Moses, When thou goest and returnest to Egypt, see all the miracles I have charged thee with, thou shalt work before Pharaoh: and I will harden his heart, and he shall certainly not send away the people.

(Exo 4:22) And thou shalt say to Pharaoh, These things saith YHVH, Israel is my first-born.

(Exo 4:23) And I said to thee, Send away my people, that they may serve me: now if thou wilt not send them away, see, I will slay thy first-born son.

(Exo 4:24) And it came to pass that the angel of YHVH met him by the way in the inn, and sought to slay him.

(Exo 4:25) and Sephora having taken a stone cut off the foreskin of her son, and fell at his feet and said, The blood of the circumcision of my son is staunch:

(Exo 4:26) and he departed from him, because she said, The blood of the circumcision of my son is staunch.

(Exo 4:27) And YHVH said to Aaron, Go into the wilderness to meet Moses; and he went and met him in the mount of Elohim, and they kissed each other.

(Exo 4:28) And Moses reported to Aaron all the words of YHVH, which he sent, and all the things which he charged him.

(Exo 4:29) And Moses and Aaron went and gathered the elders of the children of Israel.

(Exo 4:30) And Aaron spoke all these words, which Elohim spoke to Moses, and wrought the miracles before the people.

(Exo 4:31) and the people believed and rejoiced, because Elohim visited the children of Israel, and because he saw their affliction: and the people bowed and worshipped.

(Exo 5:1) And after this went in Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things says YHVH Elohim of Israel, Send my people away, that they may keep a feast to me in the wilderness.

(Exo 5:2) And Pharaoh said, Who is he that I should hearken to his voice, so that I should send away the children of Israel? I do not know YHVH, and I will not let Israel go.

(Exo 5:3) And they say to him, The Elohim of the Hebrews has called us to him: we will go therefore a three days' journey into the wilderness, that we may sacrifice to YHVH our Elohim, lest at any time death or slaughter happen to us.

(Exo 5:4) And the king of Egypt said to them, Why do ye, Moses and Aaron, turn the people from their works? depart each of you to your works.

(Exo 5:5) And Pharaoh said, Behold now, the people is very numerous; let us not then give them rest from their work.

(Exo 5:6) And Pharaoh gave orders to the task-masters of the people and the accountants, saying, (Exo 5:7) Ye shall no longer give straw to the people for brick-making as yesterday and the third day; but let them go themselves, and collect straw for themselves.

(Exo 5:8) And thou shalt impose on them daily the rate of brick-making which they perform: thou shalt not abate anything, for they are idle; therefore have they cried, saying, Let us arise and do sacrifice to our Elohim.

(Exo 5:9) Let the works of these men be made grievous, and let them care for these things, and not care for vain words.

(Exo 5:10) And the taskmasters and the accountants hastened them, and they spoke to the people, saying, thus says Pharaoh, I will give you straw no longer.

(Exo 5:11) Go ye, yourselves, get for yourselves straw whencesoever ye can find it, for nothing is diminished from your rate.

(Exo 5:12) So the people were dispersed in all the land of Egypt, to gather stubble for straw.

(Exo 5:13) and the taskmasters hastened them, saying, Fulfil your regular daily tasks, even as when straw was given you.

(Exo 5:14) And the accountants of the race of the children of Israel, who were set over them by the masters of Pharaoh, were scourged, [and questioned,] men saying, Why have ye not fulfilled your rates of brick-work as yesterday and the third day, to-day also?

(Exo 5:15) And the accountants of the children of Israel went in and cried to Pharaoh, saying, Why dost thou act thus to thy servants?

(Exo 5:16) Straw is not given to thy servants, and they tell us to make brick; and behold thy servants have been scourged: thou wilt therefore injure thy people.

(Exo 5:17) And he said to them, Ye are idle, ye are idlers: therefore ye say,

Let us go and do sacrifice to our Elohim.

(Exo 5:18) Now then go and work, for straw shall not be given to you, yet ye shall return the rate of bricks.

(Exo 5:19) And the accountants of the children of Israel saw themselves in an evil plight, men saying, Ye shall not fail to deliver the daily rate of the brick-making.

(Exo 5:20) And they met Moses and Aaron coming forth to meet them, as they came forth from Pharaoh.

(Exo 5:21) And they said to them, YHVH look upon you and judge you, for ye have made our savour abominable before Pharaoh, and before his servants, to put a sword into his hands to slay us.

(Exo 5:22) And Moses turned to YHVH, and said, I pray, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? and wherefore hast thou sent me?

(Exo 5:23) For from the time that I went to Pharaoh to speak in thy name, he has afflicted this people, and thou hast not delivered thy people.

(Exo 6:1) And YHVH said to Moses, Now thou shalt see what I will do to Pharaoh; for he shall send them forth with a mighty hand, and with a high arm shall he cast them out of his land.

(Exo 6:2) And Elohim spoke to Moses and said to him, I am YHVH.

(Exo 6:3) And I appeared to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, being their Elohim, but I did not manifest to them my name Lord.

(Exo 6:4) And I established my covenant with them, to give them the land of the Chananites, the land wherein they sojourned, in which also they dwelt as strangers.

(Exo 6:5) And I hearkened to the groaning of the children of Israel (the affliction with which the Egyptians enslave them) and I remembered the covenant with you.

(Exo 6:6) Go, speak to the children of Israel, saying, I am YHVH; and I will lead you forth from the tyranny of the Egyptians, and I will deliver you from bondage, and I will ransom you with a high arm, and great judgment.

(Exo 6:7) And I will take you to me a people for myself, and will be your Elohim; and ye shall know that I am YHVH your Elohim, who brought you out from the tyranny of the Egyptians.

(Exo 6:8) And I will bring you into the land concerning which I stretched out my hand to give it to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, and I will give it you for an inheritance: I am YHVH.

(Exo 6:9) And Moses spoke thus to the sons of Israel, and they hearkened not to Moses for faint-heartedness, and for their hard tasks.

(Exo 6:10) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 6:11) Go in, speak to Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he send forth the children of Israel out of his land.

(Exo 6:12) And Moses spoke before YHVH, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearkened not to me, and how shall Pharaoh hearken to me? and I am not eloquent.

(Exo 6:13) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, and gave them a charge to Pharaoh king of Egypt, that he should send forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

(Exo 6:14) And these are the heads of the houses of their families: the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel; Enoch and Phallus, Asron, and Charmi, this is the kindred of Ruben.

(Exo 6:15) And the sons of Symeon, Jemuel and Jamin, and Aod, and Jachin and Saar, and Saul the son of a Phoenician woman, these are the families of the sons of Symeon.

(Exo 6:16) And these are the names of the sons of Levi according to their kindreds, Gedson, Caath, and Merari; and the years of the life of Levi were a hundred and thirty-seven.

(Exo 6:17) And these are the sons of Gedson, Lobeni and Semei, the houses of their family. And the sons of Caath, (Exo 6:18) Ambram and Issaar, Chebron, and Oziel; and the years of the life of Caath were a hundred and thirty-three years.

(Exo 6:19) And the sons of Merari, Mooli, and Omusi, these are the houses of the families of Levi, according to their kindreds.

(Exo 6:20) And Ambram took to wife Jochabed the daughter of his father's brother, and she bore to him both Aaron and Moses, and Mariam their sister: and the years of the life of Ambram were a hundred and thirty-two years.

(Exo 6:21) And the sons of Issaar, Core, and Naphec, and Zechri.

(Exo 6:22) And the sons of Oziel, Misael, and Elisaphan, and Segri.

(Exo 6:23) And Aaron took to himself to wife Elisabeth daughter of Aminadab sister of Naasson, and she bore to him both Nadab and Abiud, and Eleazar and Ithamar.

(Exo 6:24) And the sons of Core, Asir, and Elkana, and Abiasar, these are the generations of Core.

(Exo 6:25) And Eleazar the son of Aaron took to himself for a wife one of the daughters of Phutiel, and she bore to him Phinees. These are the heads of the family of the Levites, according to their generations.

(Exo 6:26) This is Aaron and Moses, whom Elohim told to bring out the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt with their forces.

(Exo 6:27) These are they that spoke with Pharao king of Egypt, and Aaron himself and Moses brought out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt,

(Exo 6:28) in the day in which YHVH spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt;

(Exo 6:29) then YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, I am YHVH: speak to Pharao king of Egypt whatsoever I say to thee.

(Exo 6:30) And Moses said before YHVH, Behold, I am not able in speech, and how shall Pharao hearken to me?

(Exo 7:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Behold, I have made thee a god to Pharao, and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet.

(Exo 7:2) And thou shalt say to him all things that I charge thee, and Aaron thy brother shall speak to Pharao, that he should send forth the children of Israel out of his land.

(Exo 7:3) And I will harden the heart of Pharao, and I will multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.

(Exo 7:4) And Pharao will not hearken to you, and I will lay my hand upon Egypt; and will bring out my people the children of Israel with my power out of the land of Egypt with great vengeance.

(Exo 7:5) And all the Egyptians shall know that I am YHVH, stretching out my hand upon Egypt, and I will bring out the children of Israel out of the midst of them.

(Exo 7:6) And Moses and Aaron did as YHVH commanded them, so did they.

(Exo 7:7) And Moses was eighty years old, and Aaron his brother was eighty-three years old, when he spoke to Pharaoh.

(Exo 7:8) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Exo 7:9) Now if Pharaoh should speak to you, saying, Give us a sign or a wonder, then shalt thou say to thy brother Aaron, Take thy rod and cast it upon the ground before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it shall become a serpent.

(Exo 7:10) And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and they did so, as YHVH commanded them; and Aaron cast down his rod before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and it became a serpent.

(Exo 7:11) But Pharaoh called together the wise men of Egypt, and the sorcerers, and the charmers also of the Egyptians did likewise with their sorceries.

(Exo 7:12) And they cast down each his rod, and they became serpents, but the rod of Aaron swallowed up their rods.

(Exo 7:13) and the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as YHVH charged them.

(Exo 7:14) and YHVH said to Moses, The heart of Pharaoh is made hard, so that he should not let the people go.

(Exo 7:15) Go to Pharaoh early in the morning: behold, he goes forth to the water; and thou shalt meet him on the bank of the river, and thou shalt take in thine hand the rod that was turned into a serpent.

(Exo 7:16) And thou shalt say to him, YHVH Elohim of the Hebrews has sent me to thee, saying, Send my people away, that they may serve me in the wilderness, and, behold, hitherto thou hast not hearkened.

(Exo 7:17) These things saith YHVH: Hereby shalt thou know that I am YHVH: behold, I strike with the rod that is in my hand on the water which is in the river, and it shall change it into blood.

(Exo 7:18) And the fish that are in the river shall die, and the river shall stink thereupon, and the Egyptians shall not be able to drink water from the river.

(Exo 7:19) And YHVH said to Moses, Say to thy brother Aaron, Take thy rod in thy hand, and stretch forth thy hand over the waters of Egypt, and over their rivers, and over their canals, and over their ponds, and over all their standing water, and it shall become blood: and there was blood in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and of stone.

(Exo 7:20) and Moses and Aaron did so, as YHVH commanded them; and Aaron having lifted up his hand with his rod, smote the water in the river before Pharaoh, and before his servants, and changed all the water in the river into blood.

(Exo 7:21) And the fish in the river died, and the river stank thereupon; and the Egyptians could not drink water from the river, and the blood was in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 7:22) And the charmers also of the Egyptians did so with their sorceries; and the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, even as YHVH said.

(Exo 7:23) And Pharaoh turned and entered into his house, nor did he fix his attention even on this thing.

(Exo 7:24) And all the Egyptians dug round about the river, so as to drink water, for they could not drink water from the river.

(Exo 7:25) and seven days were fulfilled after YHVH has smitten the river.

(Exo 8:1) And YHVH said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him, These things says YHVH: send forth my people, that they may serve me.

(Exo 8:2) And if thou wilt not send them forth, behold, I afflict all thy borders with frogs:

(Exo 8:3) and the river shall teem with frogs, and they shall go up and enter into thy houses, and into thy bed-chambers, and upon thy beds, and upon the houses of thy servants, and of thy people and on thy dough, and on thine ovens.

(Exo 8:4) And upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, shall the frogs come up.

(Exo 8:5) And YHVH said to Moses, Say to Aaron thy brother, Stretch forth with the hand thy rod over the rivers, and over the canals, and over the pools, and bring up the frogs.

(Exo 8:6) And Aaron stretched forth his hand over the waters of Egypt, and brought up the frogs: and the frog was brought up, and covered the land of Egypt.

(Exo 8:7) And the charmers of the Egyptians also did likewise with their sorceries, and brought up the frogs on the land of Egypt.

(Exo 8:8) And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, and said, Pray for me to YHVH, and let him take away the frogs from me and from my people; and I will send them away, and they shall sacrifice to YHVH.

(Exo 8:9) And Moses said to Pharaoh, Appoint me a time when I shall pray for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, to cause the frogs to disappear from thee, and from thy people, and from your houses, only in the river shall they be left behind.

(Exo 8:10) And he said, On the morrow: he said therefore, As thou has said; that thou mayest know, that there is no other Elohim but YHVH.

(Exo 8:11) And the frogs shall be removed away from thee, and from your houses and from the villages, and from thy servants, and from thy people, only in the river they shall be left.

(Exo 8:12) And Moses and Aaron went forth from Pharaoh, and Moses cried to YHVH concerning the restriction of the frogs, as Pharaoh appointed him.

(Exo 8:13) And YHVH did as Moses said, and the frogs died out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields.

(Exo 8:14) And they gathered them together in heaps, and the land stank.

(Exo 8:15) And when Pharaoh saw that there was relief, his heart was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, as YHVH spoke.

(Exo 8:16) And YHVH said to Moses, Say to Aaron, Stretch forth thy rod with thy hand and smite the dust of the earth; and there shall be lice both upon man, and upon quadrupeds, and in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 8:17) So Aaron stretched out his rod with his hand, and smote the dust of the earth; and the lice were on men and on quadrupeds, and in all the dust of the earth there were lice.

(Exo 8:18) And the charmers also did so with their sorceries, to bring forth the louse, and they could not. And the lice were both on the men and on the quadrupeds.

(Exo 8:19) So the charmers said to Pharaoh, This is the finger of Elohim. But the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he hearkened not to them, as YHVH said.

(Exo 8:20) And YHVH said to Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh: and behold, he will go forth to the water, and thou shalt say to him, These things says YHVH: Send away my people, that they may serve me in the wilderness.

(Exo 8:21) And if thou wilt not let my people go, behold, I send upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy people, and upon your houses, the dog-fly; and the houses of the Egyptians shall be filled with the dog-fly, even throughout the land upon which they are.

(Exo 8:22) and I will distinguish marvellously in that day the land of Gesem, on which my people dwell, in which the dog-fly shall not be: that thou mayest know that I am YHVH the Elohim of all the earth.

(Exo 8:23) And I will put a difference between my people and thy people, and on the morrow shall this be on the land. And YHVH did thus.

(Exo 8:24) And the dog-fly came in abundance into the houses of Pharaoh, and into the houses of his servants, and into all the land of Egypt; and the land was destroyed by the dog-fly.

(Exo 8:25) And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go and sacrifice to YHVH your Elohim in the land.

(Exo 8:26) And Moses said, It cannot be so, for we shall sacrifice to YHVH our Elohim the abominations of the Egyptians; for if we sacrifice the abominations of the Egyptians before them, we shall be stoned.

(Exo 8:27) We will go a journey of three days into the wilderness, and we will sacrifice to YHVH our Elohim, as YHVH said to us.

(Exo 8:28) And Pharaoh said, I will let you go, and do ye sacrifice to your Elohim in the wilderness, but do not go very far away: pray then for me to YHVH.

(Exo 8:29) And Moses said, I then will go forth from thee and pray to Elohim, and the dog-fly shall depart both from thy servants, and from thy people tomorrow. Do not thou, Pharaoh, deceive again, so as not to send the people away to do sacrifice to YHVH.

(Exo 8:30) And Moses went out from Pharaoh, and prayed to Elohim.

(Exo 8:31) And YHVH did as Moses said, and removed the dog-fly from Pharaoh, and from his servants, and from his people, and there was not one left.

(Exo 8:32) And Pharaoh hardened his heart, even on this occasion, and he would not send the people away.

(Exo 9:1) And YHVH said to Moses, Go in to Pharaoh, and thou shalt say to him, These things saith YHVH Elohim of the Hebrews; Send my people away that they may serve me.

(Exo 9:2) If however thou wilt not send my people away, but yet detainest them:

(Exo 9:3) behold, the hand of YHVH shall be upon thy cattle in the fields, both on the horses, and on the asses, and on the camels and oxen and sheep, a very great mortality.

(Exo 9:4) And I will make a marvellous distinction in that time between the cattle of the Egyptians, and the cattle of the children of Israel: nothing shall die of all that is of the children's of Israel.

(Exo 9:5) And Elohim fixed a limit, saying, To-morrow YHVH will do this thing on the land.

(Exo 9:6) And YHVH did this thing on the next day, and all the cattle of the Egyptians died, but of the cattle of the children of Israel there died not one.

(Exo 9:7) And when Pharaoh saw, that of all the cattle of the children of Israel there died not one, the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

(Exo 9:8) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying, Take you handfuls of ashes of the furnace, and let Moses scatter it toward heaven before Pharaoh, and before his servants.

(Exo 9:9) And let it become dust over all the land of Egypt, and there shall be upon men and upon beasts sore blains breaking forth both on men and on beasts, in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 9:10) So he took of the ashes of the furnace before Pharaoh, and Moses scattered it toward heaven, and it became sore blains breaking forth both on men and on beasts.

(Exo 9:11) And the sorcerers could not stand before Moses because of the sores, for the sores were on the sorcerers, and in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 9:12) And YHVH hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he hearkened not to them, as YHVH appointed.

(Exo 9:13) And YHVH said to Moses, Rise up early in the morning, and stand before Pharaoh; and thou shalt say to him, These things saith YHVH Elohim of the Hebrews, Send away my people that they may serve me.

(Exo 9:14) For at this present time do I send forth all my plagues into thine heart, and the heart of thy servants and of thy people; that thou mayest know that there is not another such as I in all the earth.

(Exo 9:15) For now I will stretch forth my hand and smite thee and kill thy people, and thou shalt be consumed from off the earth.

(Exo 9:16) And for this purpose hast thou been preserved, that I might display in thee my strength, and that my name might be published in all the earth.

(Exo 9:17) Dost thou then yet exert thyself to hinder my people, so as not to let them go?

(Exo 9:18) Behold, to-morrow at this hour I will rain a very great hail, such as has not been in Egypt, from the time it was created until this day.

(Exo 9:19) Now then hasten to gather thy cattle, and all that thou hast in the fields; for all the men and cattle as many as shall be found in the fields, and shall not enter into a house, (but the hail shall fall upon them,) shall die.

(Exo 9:20) He of the servants of Pharaoh that feared the word of YHVH, gathered his cattle into the houses.

(Exo 9:21) And he that did not attend in his mind to the word of YHVH, left the cattle in the fields.

(Exo 9:22) And YHVH said to Moses, Stretch out thine hand to heaven, and there shall be hail on all the land of Egypt, both on the men and on the cattle, and on all the herbage on the land.

(Exo 9:23) And Moses stretched forth his hand to heaven, and YHVH sent thunderings and hail; and the fire ran along upon the ground, and YHVH rained hail on all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 9:24) So there was hail and flaming fire mingled with hail; and the hail was very great, such as was not in Egypt, from the time there was a nation upon it.

(Exo 9:25) And the hail smote in all the land of Egypt both man and beast, and the hail smote all the grass in the field, and the hail broke in pieces all the trees in the field.

(Exo 9:26) Only in the land of Gesem where the children of Israel were, the hail was not.

(Exo 9:27) And Pharaoh sent and called Moses and Aaron, and said to them, I have sinned this time: YHVH is righteous, and I and my people are wicked.

(Exo 9:28) Pray then for me to YHVH, and let him cause the thunderings of Elohim to cease, and the hail and the fire, and I will send you forth and ye shall remain no longer.

(Exo 9:29) And Moses said to him, When I shall have departed from the city, I will stretch out my hands to YHVH, and the thunderings shall cease, and the hail and the rain shall be no longer, that thou mayest know that the earth is YHVH's.

(Exo 9:30) But as for thee and thy servants, I know that ye have not yet feared YHVH.

(Exo 9:31) And the flax and the barley were smitten, for the barley was advanced, and the flax was seeding.

(Exo 9:32) But the wheat and the rye were not smitten, for they were late.

(Exo 9:33) And Moses went forth from Pharaoh out of the city, and stretched out his hands to YHVH, and the thunders ceased and the hail, and the rain did not drop on the earth.

(Exo 9:34) And when Pharaoh saw that the rain and the hail and the thunders ceased, he continued to sin; and he hardened his heart, and the heart of his servants.

(Exo 9:35) And the heart of Pharaoh was hardened, and he did not send forth the children of Israel, as YHVH said to Moses.

(Exo 10:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Go in to Pharaoh: for I have hardened his heart and the heart of his servants, that these signs may come upon them; in order

(Exo 10:2) that ye may relate in the ears of your children, and to your children's children, in how many things I have mocked the Egyptians, and my wonders which I wrought among them; and ye shall know that I am YHVH.

(Exo 10:3) And Moses and Aaron went in before Pharaoh, and they said to him, These things saith YHVH Elohim of the Hebrews, How long dost thou refuse to reverence me? Send my people away, that they may serve me.

(Exo 10:4) But if thou wilt not send my people away, behold, at this hour tomorrow I will bring an abundance of locusts upon all thy coasts.

(Exo 10:5) And they shall cover the face of the earth, and thou shalt not be able to see the earth; and they shall devour all that is left of the abundance of the earth, which the hail has left you, and shall devour every tree that grows for you on the land.

(Exo 10:6) And thy houses shall be filled, and the houses of thy servants, and all the houses in all the land of the Egyptians; things which thy fathers have never seen, nor their forefathers, from the day that they were upon the earth until this day. And Moses turned away and departed from Pharaoh.

(Exo 10:7) And the servants of Pharaoh say to him, How long shall this be a snare to us? send away the men, that they may serve their Elohim; wilt thou know that Egypt is destroyed?

(Exo 10:8) And they brought back both Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh; and he said to them, Go and serve YHVH your Elohim; but who are they that are going with you?

(Exo 10:9) And Moses said, We will go with the young and the old, with our sons, and daughters, and sheep, and oxen, for it is a feast of YHVH.

(Exo 10:10) And he said to them, So let YHVH be with you: as I will send you away, must I send away your store also? see that evil is attached to you.

(Exo 10:11) Not so, but let the men go and serve Elohim, for this ye yourselves seek; and they cast them out from the presence of Pharaoh.

(Exo 10:12) And YHVH said to Moses, Stretch out thine hand over the land of Egypt, and let the locust come up on the land, and it shall devour every herb of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which the hail left.

(Exo 10:13) And Moses lifted up his rod towards heaven, and YHVH brought a south wind upon the earth, all that day and all that night: the morning dawned, and the south wind brought up the locusts, (Exo 10:14) and brought them up over all the land of Egypt. And they rested in very great abundance over all the borders of Egypt. Before them there were not such locusts, neither after them shall there be.

(Exo 10:15) And they covered the face of the earth, and the land was wasted, and they devoured all the herbage of the land, and all the fruit of the trees, which was left by the hail: there was no green thing left on the trees, nor on all the herbage of the field, in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 10:16) And Pharaoh hastened to call Moses and Aaron, saying, I have sinned before YHVH your Elohim, and against you;

(Exo 10:17) pardon therefore my sin yet this time, and pray to YHVH your Elohim, and let him take away from me this death.

(Exo 10:18) And Moses went forth from Pharaoh, and prayed to Elohim.

(Exo 10:19) And YHVH brought in the opposite direction a strong wind from the sea, and took up the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea, and there was not one locust left in all the land of Egypt.

(Exo 10:20) And YHVH hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not send away the children of Israel.

(Exo 10:21) And YHVH said to Moses, Stretch out thy hand to heaven, and let there be darkness over the land of Egypt darkness that may be felt.

(Exo 10:22) And Moses stretched out his hand to heaven, and there was darkness very black, even a storm over all the land of Egypt three days.

(Exo 10:23) And for three days no man saw his brother, and no man rose up from his bed for three days: but all the children of Israel had light in all the places where they were.

(Exo 10:24) And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron, saying, Go, serve YHVH your Elohim, only leave your sheep and your oxen, and let your store depart with you.

(Exo 10:25) And Moses said, Nay, but thou shalt give to us whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices, which we will sacrifice to YHVH our Elohim.

(Exo 10:26) And our cattle shall go with us, and we will not leave a hoof behind, for of them we will take to serve YHVH our Elohim: but we know not in what manner we shall serve YHVH our Elohim, until we arrive there.

(Exo 10:27) But YHVH hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he would not let them go.

(Exo 10:28) And Pharaoh says, Depart from me, beware of seeing my face again, for in what day thou shalt appear before me, thou shalt die.

(Exo 10:29) And Moses says, Thou hast said, I will not appear in thy presence again.

(Exo 11:1) And YHVH said to Moses, I will yet bring one plague upon Pharaoh and upon Egypt, and after that he will send you forth thence; and whenever he sends you forth with every thing, he will indeed drive you out.

(Exo 11:2) Speak therefore secretly in the ears of the people, and let every one ask of his neighbour jewels of silver and gold, and raiment.

(Exo 11:3) And YHVH gave his people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and they lent to them; and the man Moses was very great before the Egyptians, and before Pharaoh, and before his servants.

(Exo 11:4) And Moses said, These things saith YHVH, About midnight I go forth into the midst of Egypt.

(Exo 11:5) And every first-born in the land of Egypt shall die, from the first-born of Pharaoh that sits on the throne, even to the first-born of the woman-servant that is by the mill, and to the first-born of all cattle.

(Exo 11:6) And there shall be a great cry through all the land of Egypt, such as has not been, and such shall not be repeated any more.

(Exo 11:7) But among all the children of Israel shall not a dog snarl with his tongue, either at man or beast; that thou mayest know how wide a distinction YHVH will make between the Egyptians and Israel.

(Exo 11:8) And all these thy servants shall come down to me, and do me reverence, saying, Go forth, thou and all the people over whom thou presidest, and afterwards I will go forth.

(Exo 11:9) And Moses went forth from Pharaoh with wrath. And YHVH said to Moses, Pharaoh will not hearken to you, that I may greatly multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt.

(Exo 11:10) And Moses and Aaron wrought all these signs and wonders in the land of Egypt before Pharaoh; and YHVH hardened the heart of Pharaoh, and he did not hearken to send forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt.

(Exo 12:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron in the land of Egypt, saying, (Exo 12:2) This month shall be to you the beginning of months: it is the first to you among the months of the year.

(Exo 12:3) Speak to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, On the tenth of this month let them take each man a lamb according to the houses of their families, every man a lamb for his household.

(Exo 12:4) And if they be few in a household, so that there are not enough for the lamb, he shall take with himself his neighbour that lives near to him, as to the number of souls, every one according to that which suffices him shall make a reckoning for the lamb.

(Exo 12:5) It shall be to you a lamb unblemished, a male of a year old: ye shall take it of the lambs and the kids.

(Exo 12:6) And it shall be kept by you till the fourteenth of this month, and all the multitude of the congregation of the children of Israel shall kill it toward evening.

(Exo 12:7) And they shall take of the blood, and shall put it on the two doorposts, and on the lintel, in the houses in which soever they shall eat them.

(Exo 12:8) And they shall eat the flesh in this night roast with fire, and they shall eat unleavened bread with bitter herbs.

(Exo 12:9) Ye shall not eat of it raw nor sodden in water, but only roast with fire, the head with the feet and the appurtenances.

(Exo 12:10) Nothing shall be left of it till the morning, and a bone of it ye shall not break; but that which is left of it till the morning ye shall burn with fire.

(Exo 12:11) And thus shall ye eat it: your loins girded, and your sandals on your feet, and your staves in your hands, and ye shall eat it in haste. It is a passover to YHVH.

(Exo 12:12) and I will go throughout the land of Egypt in that night, and will smite every first-born in the land of Egypt both man and beast, and on all the gods of Egypt will I execute vengeance: I am YHVH.

(Exo 12:13) And the blood shall be for a sign to you on the houses in which ye are, and I will see the blood, and will protect you, and there shall not be on you the plague of destruction, when I smite in the land of Egypt.

(Exo 12:14) And this day shall be to you a memorial, and ye shall keep it a feast to YHVH through all your generations; ye shall keep it a feast for a perpetual ordinance.

(Exo 12:15) Seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread, and from the first day ye shall utterly remove leaven from your houses: whoever shall eat leaven, that soul shall be utterly destroyed from Israel, from the first day until the seventh day.

(Exo 12:16) And the first day shall be called holy, and the seventh day shall be a holy convocation to you: ye shall do no servile work on them, only as many things as will necessarily be done by every soul, this only shall be done by you.

(Exo 12:17) And ye shall keep this commandment, for on this day will I bring out your force out of the land of Egypt; and ye shall make this day a perpetual ordinance for you throughout your generations.

(Exo 12:18) Beginning the fourteenth day of the first month, ye shall eat unleavened bread from evening, till the twenty-first day of the month, till evening.

(Exo 12:19) Seven days leaven shall not be found in your houses; whosoever shall eat anything leavened, that soul shall be cut off from the congregation of Israel, both among the occupiers of the land and the original inhabitants.

(Exo 12:20) Ye shall eat nothing leavened, but in every habitation of your ye shall eat unleavened bread.

(Exo 12:21) And Moses called all the elders of the children of Israel, and said to them, Go away and take to yourselves a lamb according to your kindreds, and slay the passover.

(Exo 12:22) And ye shall take a bunch of hyssop, and having dipped it into some of the blood that is by the door, ye shall touch the lintel, and shall put it upon both door-posts, even of the blood which is by the door; but ye shall not go out every one from the door of his house till the morning.

(Exo 12:23) And YHVH shall pass by to smite the Egyptians, and shall see the blood upon the lintel, and upon both the door-posts; and YHVH shall pass by the door, and shall not suffer the destroyer to enter into your houses to smite you.

(Exo 12:24) And keep ye this thing as an ordinance for thyself and for thy children for ever.

(Exo 12:25) And if ye should enter into the land, which YHVH shall give you, as he has spoken, keep this service.

(Exo 12:26) And it shall come to pass, if your sons say to you, What is this service?

(Exo 12:27) that ye shall say to them, This passover is a sacrifice to YHVH, as he defended the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, when he smote the Egyptians, but delivered our houses.

(Exo 12:28) And the people bowed and worshipped. And the children of Israel departed and did as YHVH commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

(Exo 12:29) And it came to pass at midnight that YHVH smote all the first-born in the land of Egypt, from the first-born of Pharaoh that sat on the throne, to the first-born of the captive-maid in the dungeon, and the first-born of all cattle.

(Exo 12:30) And Pharaoh rose up by night, and his servants, and all the Egyptians; and there was a great cry in all the land of Egypt, for there was not a house in which there was not one dead.

(Exo 12:31) And Pharaoh called Moses and Aaron by night, and said to them, Rise and depart from my people, both ye and the children of Israel. Go and serve YHVH your Elohim, even as ye say.

(Exo 12:32) And take with you your sheep, and your oxen: bless me also, I pray you.

(Exo 12:33) And the Egyptians constrained the people, so that they cast them out of the land with haste, for they said, We all shall die.

(Exo 12:34) And the people took their dough before their meal was leavened, bound up as it was in their garments, on their shoulders.

(Exo 12:35) And the children of Israel did as Moses commanded them, and they asked of the Egyptians articles of silver and gold and apparel.

(Exo 12:36) And YHVH gave his people favour in the sight of the Egyptians, and they lent to them; and they spoiled the Egyptians.

(Exo 12:37) And the children Israel departed from Ramesses to Socchoth, to the full number of six hundred thousand footmen, even men, besides the baggage.

(Exo 12:38) And a great mixed company went up with them, and sheep and oxen and very much cattle.

(Exo 12:39) And they baked the dough which they brought out of Egypt, unleavened cakes, for it had not been leavened; for the Egyptians cast them out, and they could not remain, neither did they prepare provision for themselves for the journey.

(Exo 12:40) And the sojourning of the children of Israel, while they sojourned in the land of Egypt and the land of Chanaan, was four hundred and thirty years.

(Exo 12:41) And it came to pass after the four hundred and thirty years, all the forces of YHVH came forth out of the land of Egypt by night.

(Exo 12:42) It is a watch kept to YHVH, so that he should bring them out of the land of Egypt; that very night is a watch kept to YHVH, so that it should be to all the children of Israel to their generations.

(Exo 12:43) And YHVH said to Moses and Aaron, This is the law of the passover: no stranger shall eat of it.

(Exo 12:44) And every slave or servant bought with money him thou shalt circumcise, and then shall he eat of it.

(Exo 12:45) A sojourner or hireling shall not eat of it.

(Exo 12:46) In one house shall it be eaten, and ye shall not carry of the flesh out from the house; and a bone of it ye shall not break.

(Exo 12:48) And if any proselyte shall come to you to keep the passover to YHVH, thou shalt circumcise every male of him, and then shall he approach to sacrifice it, and he shall be even as the original inhabitant of the land; no uncircumcised person shall eat of it.

(Exo 12:49) There shall be one law to the native, and to the proselyte coming among you.

(Exo 12:50) And the children of Israel did as YHVH commanded Moses and Aaron for them, so they did.

(Exo 12:51) And it came to pass in that day that YHVH brought out the children of Israel from the land of Egypt with their forces.

(Exo 13:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 13:2) Sanctify to me every first-born, first produced, opening every womb among the children of Israel both of man and beast: it is mine.

(Exo 13:3) And Moses said to the people, Remember this day, in which ye came forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, for with a strong hand YHVH brought you forth thence; and leaven shall not be eaten.

(Exo 13:4) For on this day ye go forth in the month of new corn.

(Exo 13:5) And it shall come to pass when YHVH thy Elohim shall have brought thee into the land of the Chananites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Evites, and Jebusites, and Gergesites, and Pherezites, which he sware to thy fathers to give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, that thou shalt perform this service in this month.

(Exo 13:6) Six days ye shall eat unleavened bread, and on the seventh day is a feast to YHVH.

(Exo 13:7) Seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread; nothing leavened shall be seen with thee, neither shalt thou have leaven in all thy borders.

(Exo 13:8) And thou shalt tell thy son in that day, saying, Therefore YHVH dealt thus with me, as I was going out of Egypt.

(Exo 13:9) And it shall be to thee a sign upon thy hand and a memorial before thine eyes, that the law of YHVH may be in thy mouth, for with a strong hand YHVH Elohim brought thee out of Egypt.

(Exo 13:10) And preserve ye this law according to the times of the seasons, from year to year.

(Exo 13:11) And it shall come to pass when YHVH thy Elohim shall bring thee into the land of the Chananites, as he sware to thy fathers, and shall give it thee, (Exo 13:12) that thou shalt set apart every offspring opening the womb, the males to YHVH, every one that opens the womb out of the herds or among thy cattle, as many as thou shalt have: thou shalt sanctify the males to YHVH.

(Exo 13:13) Every offspring opening the womb of the ass thou shalt change for a sheep; and if thou wilt not change it, thou shalt redeem it: every first-born of man of thy sons shalt thou redeem.

(Exo 13:14) And if thy son should ask thee hereafter, saying, What is this?

then thou shalt say to him, With a strong hand YHVH brought us out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

(Exo 13:15) And when Pharaoh hardened his heart so as not to send us away, he slew every first-born in the land of Egypt, both the first-born of man and the first-born of beast; therefore do I sacrifice every offspring that opens the womb, the males to YHVH, and every first-born of my sons I will redeem.

(Exo 13:16) And it shall be for a sign upon thy hand, and immovable before thine eyes, for with a strong hand YHVH brought thee out of Egypt.

(Exo 13:17) And when Pharaoh sent forth the people, Elohim led them not by the way of the land of the Philistines, because it was near; for Elohim said, Lest at any time the people repent when they see war, and return to Egypt.

(Exo 13:18) And Elohim led the people round by the way to the wilderness, to the Red Sea: and in the fifth generation the children of Israel went up out of the land of Egypt.

(Exo 13:19) And Moses took the bones of Joseph with him, for he had solemnly adjured the children of Israel, saying, Elohim will surely visit you, and ye shall carry up my bones hence with you.

(Exo 13:20) And the children of Israel departed from Socchoth, and encamped in Othom by the wilderness.

(Exo 13:21) And Elohim led them, in the day by a pillar of cloud, to show them the way, and in the night by a pillar of fire.

(Exo 13:22) And the pillar of cloud failed not by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, before all the people.

(Exo 14:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 14:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and let them turn and encamp before the village, between Magdol and the sea, opposite Beel-sepphon: before them shalt thou encamp by the sea.

(Exo 14:3) And Pharaoh will say to his people, As for these children of Israel, they are wandering in the land, for the wilderness has shut them in.

(Exo 14:4) And I will harden the heart of Pharaoh, and he shall pursue after them; and I will be glorified in Pharaoh, and in all his host, and all the Egyptians shall know that I am YHVH. And they did so.

(Exo 14:5) And it was reported to the king of the Egyptians that the people had fled: and the heart of Pharaoh was turned, and that of his servants against the people; and they said, What is this that we have done, to let the children of Israel go, so that they should not serve us?

(Exo 14:6) So Pharaoh yoked his chariots, and led off all his people with himself:

(Exo 14:7) having also taken six hundred chosen chariots, and all the cavalry of the Egyptians, and rulers over all.

(Exo 14:8) And YHVH hardened the heart of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and of his servants, and he pursued after the children of Israel; and the children of Israel went forth with a high hand.

(Exo 14:9) And the Egyptians pursued after them, and found them encamped by the sea; and all the cavalry and the chariots of Pharaoh, and the horsemen, and his host were before the village, over against Beel-sepphon.

(Exo 14:10) And Pharaoh approached, and the children of Israel having looked up, beheld, and the Egyptians encamped behind them: and they were very greatly terrified, and the children of Israel cried to YHVH;

(Exo 14:11) and said to Moses, Because there were no graves in the land of Egypt, hast thou brought us forth to slay us in the wilderness? What is this that thou hast done to us, having brought us out of Egypt?

(Exo 14:12) Is not this the word which we spoke to thee in Egypt, saying, Let us alone that we may serve the Egyptians? for it is better for us to serve the Egyptians than to die in this wilderness.

(Exo 14:13) And Moses said to the people, Be of good courage: stand and see the salvation which is from YHVH, which he will work for us this day; for as ye have seen the Egyptians to-day, ye shall see them again no more for ever.

(Exo 14:14) YHVH shall fight for you, and ye shall hold your peace.

(Exo 14:15) and YHVH said to Moses, Why criest thou to me? speak to the children of Israel, and let them proceed.

(Exo 14:16) And do thou lift up thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand over the sea, and divide it, and let the children of Israel enter into the midst of the sea on the dry land.

(Exo 14:17) And lo! I will harden the heart of Pharaoh and of all the Egyptians, and they shall go in after them; and I will be glorified upon Pharaoh, and on all his host, and on his chariots and his horses.

(Exo 14:18) And all the Egyptians shall know that I am YHVH, when I am glorified upon Pharaoh and upon his chariots and his horses.

(Exo 14:19) And the angel of Elohim that went before the camp of the children of Israel removed and went behind, and the pillar of the cloud also removed from before them and stood behind them.

(Exo 14:20) And it went between the camp of the Egyptians and the camp of Israel, and stood; and there was darkness and blackness; and the night passed, and they came not near to one another during the whole night.

(Exo 14:21) And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and YHVH carried back the sea with a strong south wind all the night, and made the sea dry, and the water was divided.

(Exo 14:22) And the children of Israel went into the midst of the sea on the dry land, and the water of it was a wall on the right hand and a wall on the left.

(Exo 14:23) And the Egyptians pursued them and went in after them, and every horse of Pharaoh, and his chariots, and his horsemen, into the midst of the sea.

(Exo 14:24) And it came to pass in the morning watch that YHVH looked forth on the camp of the Egyptians through the pillar of fire and cloud, and troubled the camp of the Egyptians, (Exo 14:25) and bound the axle-trees of their chariots, and caused them to go with difficulty; and the Egyptians said, Let us flee from the face of Israel, for YHVH fights for them against the Egyptians.

(Exo 14:26) And YHVH said to Moses, Stretch forth thine hand over the sea, and let the water be turned back to its place, and let it cover the Egyptians coming both upon the chariots and the riders.

(Exo 14:27) And Moses stretched forth his hand over the sea, and the water returned to its place toward day; and the Egyptians fled from the water, and YHVH shook off the Egyptians in the midst of the sea.

(Exo 14:28) and the water returned and covered the chariots and the riders, and all the forces of Pharaoh, who entered after them into the sea: and there was not left of them even one.

(Exo 14:29) But the children of Israel went along dry land in the midst of the sea, and the water was to them a wall on the right hand, and a wall on the left.

(Exo 14:30) So YHVH delivered Israel in that day from the hand of the Egyptians, and Israel saw the Egyptians dead by the shore of the sea.

(Exo 14:31) And Israel saw the mighty hand, the things which YHVH did to the Egyptians; and the people feared YHVH, and they believed Elohim and Moses his servant.

(Exo 15:1) Then sang Moses and the children of Israel this song to Elohim, and spoke, saying, Let us sing to YHVH, for he is very greatly glorified: horse and rider he has thrown into the sea.

(Exo 15:2) He was to me a helper and protector for salvation: this is my Elohim and I will glorify him; my father's Elohim, and I will exalt him.

(Exo 15:3) YHVH bringing wars to nought, YHVH is his name.

(Exo 15:4) He has cast the chariots of Pharaoh and his host into the sea, the chosen mounted captains: they were swallowed up in the Red Sea.

(Exo 15:5) He covered them with the sea: they sank to the depth like a stone.

(Exo 15:6) Thy right hand, O Elohim, has been glorified in strength; thy right hand, O Elohim, has broken the enemies.

(Exo 15:7) And in the abundance of thy glory thou hast broken the adversaries to pieces: thou sentest forth thy wrath, it devoured them as stubble.

(Exo 15:8) And by the breath of thine anger the water parted asunder; the waters were congealed as a wall, the waves were congealed in the midst of the sea.

(Exo 15:9) The enemy said, I will pursue, I will overtake, I will divide the spoils; I will satisfy my soul, I will destroy with my sword, my hand shall have dominion.

(Exo 15:10) Thou sentest forth thy wind, the sea covered them; they sank like lead in the mighty water.

(Exo 15:11) Who is like to thee among the gods, YHVH? who is like to thee? glorified in holiness, marvellous in glories, doing wonders.

(Exo 15:12) Thou stretchedst forth thy right hand, the earth swallowed them up.

(Exo 15:13) Thou hast guided in thy righteousness this thy people whom thou hast redeemed, by thy strength thou hast called them into thy holy resting-place.

(Exo 15:14) The nations heard and were angry, pangs have seized on the dwellers among the Philistines.

(Exo 15:15) Then the princes of Edom, and the chiefs of the Moabites hasted; trembling took hold upon them, all the inhabitants of Chanaan melted away.

(Exo 15:16) Let trembling and fear fall upon them; by the greatness of thine arm, let them become as stone; till thy people pass over, YHVH, till this thy people pass over, whom thou hast purchased.

(Exo 15:17) Bring them in and plant them in the mountain of their inheritance, in thy prepared habitation, which thou, YHVH, hast prepared; the sanctuary, YHVH, which thine hands have made ready.

(Exo 15:18) YHVH reigns for ever and ever and ever.

(Exo 15:19) For the horse of Pharaoh went in with the chariots and horsemen into the sea, and YHVH brought upon them the water of the sea, but the children of Israel walked through dry land in the midst of the sea.

(Exo 15:20) And Mariam the prophetess, the sister of Aaron, having taken a timbrel in her hand then there went forth all the women after her with timbrels and dances.

(Exo 15:21) And Mariam led them, saying, Let us sing to YHVH, for he has been very greatly glorified: the horse and rider has he cast into the sea.

(Exo 15:22) So Moses brought up the children of Israel from the Red Sea, and brought them into the wilderness of Sur; and they went three days in the wilderness, and found no water to drink.

(Exo 15:23) and they came to Merrha, and could not drink of Merrha, for it was bitter; therefore he named the name of that place, Bitterness.

(Exo 15:24) And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drink?

(Exo 15:25) And Moses cried to YHVH, and YHVH shewed him a tree, and he cast it into the water, and the water was sweetened: there he established to him ordinances and judgments, and there he proved him, (Exo 15:26) and said, If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, and do things pleasing before him, and wilt hearken to his commands, and keep all his ordinances, no disease which I have brought upon the Egyptians will I bring upon thee, for I am YHVH thy Elohim that heals thee.

(Exo 15:27) And they came to Ælim, and there were there twelve fountains of water, and seventy stems of palm-trees; and they encamped there by the waters.

(Exo 16:1) And they departed from Ælim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came to the wilderness of Sin, which is between Ælim and Sina; and on the fifteenth day, in the second month after their departure from the land of Egypt,

(Exo 16:3) And the children of Israel said to them, Would we had died smitten by YHVH in the land of Egypt, when we sat by the flesh-pots, and ate bread to satiety! for ye have brought us out into this wilderness, to slay all this congregation with hunger.

(Exo 16:4) And YHVH said to Moses, Behold, I will rain bread upon you out of heaven: and the people shall go forth, and they shall gather their daily portion for the day, that I may try them whether they will walk in my law or not.

(Exo 16:5) And it shall come to pass on the sixth day that they shall prepare whatsoever they have brought in, and it shall be double of what they shall have gathered for the day, daily.

(Exo 16:6) And Moses and Aaron said to all the congregation of the children of Israel, At even ye shall know that YHVH has brought you out of the land of Egypt;

(Exo 16:7) and in the morning ye shall see the glory of YHVH, inasmuch as he hears your murmuring against Elohim; and who are we, that ye continue to murmur against us?

(Exo 16:8) And Moses said, This shall be when YHVH gives you in the evening flesh to eat, and bread in the morning to satiety, because YHVH has heard your murmuring, which ye murmur against us: and what are we? for your murmuring is not against us, but against Elohim.

(Exo 16:9) And Moses said to Aaron, Say to all the congregation of the children of Israel, Come near before Elohim; for he has heard your murmuring.

(Exo 16:10) And when Aaron spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, and they turned toward the wilderness, then the glory of YHVH appeared in a cloud.

(Exo 16:11) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 16:12) I have heard the murmuring of the children of Israel: speak to them, saying, Towards evening ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be satisfied with bread; and ye shall know that I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Exo 16:13) And it was evening, and quails came up and covered the camp:

(Exo 16:14) in the morning it came to pass as the dew ceased round about the camp, that, behold, on the face of the wilderness was a small thing like white coriander seed, as frost upon the earth.

(Exo 16:15) And when the children of Israel saw it, they said one to another, What is this? for they knew not what it was; and Moses said to them, (Exo 16:16) This is the bread which YHVH has given you to eat. This is that which YHVH has appointed: gather of it each man for his family, a homer for each person, according to the number of your souls, gather each of you with his fellow-lodgers.

(Exo 16:17) And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some much and some less.

(Exo 16:18) And having measured the homer full, he that gathered much had nothing over, and he that had gathered less had no lack; each gathered according to the need of those who belonged to him.

(Exo 16:19) And Moses said to them, Let no man leave of it till the morning.

(Exo 16:20) But they did not hearken to Moses, but some left of it till the morning; and it bred worms and stank: and Moses was irritated with them.

(Exo 16:21) And they gathered it every morning, each man what he needed, and when the sun waxed hot it melted.

(Exo 16:22) And it came to pass on the sixth day, they gathered double what was needed, two homers for one man; and all the chiefs of the synagogue went in and reported it to Moses.

(Exo 16:23) And Moses said to them, Is not this the word which YHVH spoke? To-morrow is the Sabbath, a holy rest to YHVH: bake that ye will bake, and seethe that ye will seethe, and all that is over leave to be laid by for the morrow.

(Exo 16:24) And they left of it till the morning, as Moses commanded them; and it stank not, neither was there a worm in it.

(Exo 16:25) And Moses said, Eat that to-day, for to-day is a Sabbath to YHVH: it shall not be found in the plain.

(Exo 16:26) Six days ye shall gather it, and on the seventh day is a Sabbath, for there shall be none on that day.

(Exo 16:27) And it came to pass on the seventh day that some of the people went forth to gather, and found none.

(Exo 16:28) And YHVH said to Moses, How long are ye unwilling to hearken to my commands and my law?

(Exo 16:29) See, for YHVH has given you this day as the Sabbath, therefore he has given you on the sixth day the bread of two days: ye shall sit each of you in your houses; let no one go forth from his place on the seventh day.

(Exo 16:30) And the people kept Sabbath on the seventh day.

(Exo 16:31) And the children of Israel called the name of it Man; and it was as white coriander seed, and the taste of it as a wafer with honey.

(Exo 16:32) And Moses said, This is the thing which YHVH hath commanded, Fill an homer with manna, to be laid up for your generations; that they may see the bread which ye ate in the wilderness, when YHVH led you forth out of the land of Egypt.

(Exo 16:33) And Moses said to Aaron, Take a golden pot, and cast into it one full homer of manna; and thou shalt lay it up before Elohim, to be kept for your generations, (Exo 16:34) as YHVH commanded Moses: and Aaron laid it up before the testimony to be kept.

(Exo 16:35) And the children of Israel ate manna forty years, until they came to the land they ate the manna, until they came to the region of Phoenicia.

(Exo 16:36) Now the homer was the tenth part of three measures.

(Exo 17:1) And all the congregation of the children of Israel departed from the wilderness of Sin, according to their encampments, by the word of YHVH; and they encamped in Raphidin: and there was no water for the people to drink.

(Exo 17:2) And the people reviled Moses, saying, Give us water, that we may drink; and Moses said to them, Why do ye revile me, and why tempt ye YHVH?

(Exo 17:3) And the people thirsted there for water, and there the people murmured against Moses, saying, Why is this? hast thou brought us up out of Egypt to slay us and our children and our cattle with thirst?

(Exo 17:4) And Moses cried to YHVH, saying, What shall I do to this people? yet a little while and they will stone me.

(Exo 17:5) And YHVH said to Moses, Go before this people, and take to thyself of the elders of the people; and the rod with which thou smotest the river, take in thine hand, and thou shalt go.

(Exo 17:6) Behold, I stand there before thou come, on the rock in Choreb, and thou shalt smite the rock, and water shall come out from it, and the people shall drink. And Moses did so before the sons of Israel.

(Exo 17:7) And he called the name of that place, Temptation, and Reviling, because of the reviling of the children of Israel, and because they tempted YHVH, saying, Is YHVH among us or not?

(Exo 17:8) And Amalec came and fought with Israel in Raphidin.

(Exo 17:9) And Moses said to YAHshua, Choose out for thyself mighty men, and go forth and set the army in array against Amalec to-morrow; and, behold, I shall stand on the top of the hill, and the rod of Elohim will be in my hand.

(Exo 17:10) And YAHshua did as Moses said to him, and he went out and set the army in array against Amalec, and Moses and Aaron and Or went up to the top of the hill.

(Exo 17:11) And it came to pass, when Moses lifted up his hands, Israel prevailed; and when he let down his hands, Amalec prevailed.

(Exo 17:12) But the hands of Moses were heavy, and they took a stone and put it under him, and he sat upon it; and Aaron and Or supported his hands one on this side and the other on that, and the hands of Moses were supported till the going down of the sun.

(Exo 17:13) And YAHshua routed Amalec and all his people with the slaughter of the sword.

(Exo 17:14) And YHVH said to Moses, Write this for a memorial in a book, and speak this in the ears of YAHshua; for I will utterly blot out the memorial of Amalec from under heaven.

(Exo 17:15) And Moses built an altar to YHVH, and called the name of it, YHVH my Refuge.

(Exo 17:16) For with a secret hand YHVH wages war upon Amalec to all generations.

(Exo 18:1) And Jothor the priest of Madiam, the father-in-law of Moses, heard of all that YHVH did to his people Israel; for YHVH brought Israel out of Egypt.

(Exo 18:2) And Jothor the father-in-law of Moses, took Sephora the wife of Moses after she had been sent away,

(Exo 18:3) and her two sons: the name of the one was Gersam, his father saying, I was a sojourner in a strange land;

(Exo 18:4) and the name of the second Eliezer, saying, For the Elohim of my father is my helper, and he has rescued me out of the hand of Pharaoh.

(Exo 18:5) And Jothor the father-in-law of Moses, and his sons and his wife, went forth to Moses into the wilderness, where he encamped on the mount of Elohim.

(Exo 18:6) And it was told Moses, saying, Behold, thy father-in-law Jothor is coming to thee, and thy wife and two sons with him.

(Exo 18:7) And Moses went forth to meet his father-in-law, and did him reverence, and kissed him, and they embraced each other, and he brought them into the tent.

(Exo 18:8) And Moses related to his father-in-law all things that YHVH did to Pharaoh and all the Egyptians for Israel's sake, and all the labour that had befallen them in the way, and that YHVH had rescued them out of the hand of Pharaoh, and out of the hand of the Egyptians.

(Exo 18:9) And Jothor was amazed at all the good things which YHVH did to them, forasmuch as he rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh.

(Exo 18:10) And Jothor said, Blessed be YHVH, because he has rescued them out of the hand of the Egyptians and out of the hand of Pharaoh.

(Exo 18:11) Now know I that YHVH is great above all gods, because of this, wherein they attacked them.

(Exo 18:12) And Jothor the father-in-law of Moses took whole burnt-offerings and sacrifices for Elohim, for Aaron and all the elders of Israel came to eat bread with the father-in-law of Moses before Elohim.

(Exo 18:13) And it came to pass after the morrow that Moses sat to judge the people, and all the people stood by Moses from morning till evening.

(Exo 18:14) And Jothor having seen all that Moses did to the people, says, What is this that thou doest to the people? wherefore sittest thou alone, and all the people stand by thee from morning till evening?

(Exo 18:15) And Moses says to his father-in-law, Because the people come to me to seek judgment from Elohim.

(Exo 18:16) For whenever there is a dispute among them, and they come to me, I give judgment upon each, and I teach them the ordinances of Elohim and his law.

(Exo 18:17) And the father-in-law of Moses said to him, Thou dost not this thing rightly, (Exo 18:18) thou wilt wear away with intolerable weariness, both those and all this people which is with thee: this thing is hard, thou wilt not be able to endure it thyself alone.

(Exo 18:19) Now then hearken to me, and I will advise thee, and Elohim shall be with thee: be thou to the people in the things pertaining to Elohim, and thou shalt bring their matters to Elohim.

(Exo 18:20) And thou shalt testify to them the ordinances of Elohim and his law, and thou shalt shew to them the ways in which they shall walk, and the works which they shall do.

(Exo 18:21) And do thou look out for thyself out of all the people able men, fearing Elohim, righteous men, hating pride, and thou shalt set over the people captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties, and captains of tens.

(Exo 18:22) And they shall judge the people at all times, and the too burdensome matter they shall bring to thee, but they shall judge the smaller cases; so they shall relieve thee and help thee.

(Exo 18:23) If thou wilt do this thing, Elohim shall strengthen thee, and thou shalt be able to attend, and all this people shall come with peace into their own place.

(Exo 18:24) And Moses hearkened to the voice of his father-in-law, and did whatsoever he said to him.

(Exo 18:25) And Moses chose out able men out of all Israel, and he made them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and captains of fifties and captains of tens over the people.

(Exo 18:26) And they judged the people at all times; and every too burdensome matter they brought to Moses, but every light matter they judged themselves.

(Exo 18:27) And Moses dismissed his father-in-law, and he returned to his own land.

(Exo 19:1) And in the third month of the departure of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, on the same day, they came into the wilderness of Sina.

(Exo 19:2) And they departed from Raphidin, and came into the wilderness of Sina, and there Israel encamped before the mountain.

(Exo 19:3) And Moses went up to the mount of Elohim, and Elohim called him out of the mountain, saying, These things shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and thou shalt report them to the children of Israel.

(Exo 19:4) Ye have seen all that I have done to the Egyptians, and I took you up as upon eagles' wings, and I brought you near to myself.

(Exo 19:5) And now if ye will indeed hear my voice, and keep my covenant, ye shall be to me a peculiar people above all nations; for the whole earth is mine.

(Exo 19:6) And ye shall be to me a royal priesthood and a holy nation: these words shalt thou speak to the children of Israel.

(Exo 19:7) And Moses came and called the elders of the people, and he set before them all these words, which Elohim appointed them.

(Exo 19:8) And all the people answered with one accord, and said, All things that Elohim has spoken, we will do and hearken to: and Moses reported these words to Elohim.

(Exo 19:9) And YHVH said to Moses, Lo! I come to thee in a pillar of a cloud, that the people may hear me speaking to thee, and may believe thee for ever: and Moses reported the words of the people to YHVH.

(Exo 19:10) And YHVH said to Moses, Go down and solemnly charge the people, and sanctify them to-day and to-morrow, and let them wash their garments.

(Exo 19:11) And let them be ready against the third day, for on the third day YHVH will descend upon mount Sina before all the people.

(Exo 19:12) And thou shalt separate the people round about, saying, Take heed to yourselves that ye go not up into the mountain, nor touch any part of it: every one that touches the mountain shall surely die.

(Exo 19:13) A hand shall not touch it, for every one that touches shall be stoned with stones or shot through with a dart, whether beast or whether man, it shall not live: when the voices and trumpets and cloud depart from off the mountain, they shall come up on the mountain.

(Exo 19:14) And Moses went down from the mountain to the people, and sanctified them, and they washed their clothes.

(Exo 19:15) And he said to the people, Be ready: for three days come not near to a woman.

(Exo 19:16) And it came to pass on the third day, as the morning drew nigh, there were voices and lightnings and a dark cloud on mount Sina: the voice of the trumpet sounded loud, and all the people in the camp trembled.

(Exo 19:17) And Moses led the people forth out of the camp to meet Elohim, and they stood by under the camp.

(Exo 19:18) The mount of Sina was altogether on a smoke, because Elohim had descended upon it in fire; and the smoke went up as the smoke of a furnace, and the people were exceedingly amazed.

(Exo 19:19) And the sounds of the trumpet were waxing very much louder. Moses spoke, and Elohim answered him with a voice.

(Exo 19:20) And YHVH came down upon mount Sina on the top of the mountain; and YHVH called Moses to the top of the mountain, and Moses went up.

(Exo 19:21) And Elohim spoke to Moses, saying, Go down, and solemnly charge the people, lest at any time they draw nigh to Elohim to gaze, and a multitude of them fall.

(Exo 19:22) And let the priests that draw nigh to YHVH Elohim sanctify themselves, lest he destroy some of them.

(Exo 19:23) And Moses said to Elohim, The people will not be able to approach to the mount of Sina, for thou hast solemnly charged us, saying, Set bounds to the mountain and sanctify it.

(Exo 19:24) And YHVH said to him, Go, descend, and come up thou and Aaron with thee; but let not the priests and the people force their way to come up to Elohim, lest YHVH destroy some of them.

(Exo 19:25) And Moses went down to the people, and spoke to them.

(Exo 20:1) And YHVH spoke all these words, saying:

(Exo 20:2) I am YHVH thy Elohim, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

(Exo 20:3) Thou shalt have no other gods beside me.

(Exo 20:4) Thou shalt not make to thyself an idol, nor likeness of anything, whatever things are in the heaven above, and whatever are in the earth beneath, and whatever are in the waters under the earth.

(Exo 20:5) Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them; for I am YHVH thy Elohim, a jealous Elohim, recompensing the sins of the fathers upon the children, to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me, (Exo 20:6) and bestowing mercy on them that love me to thousands of them, and on them that keep my commandments.

(Exo 20:7) Thou shalt not take the name of YHVH thy Elohim in vain; for YHVH thy Elohim will not acquit him that takes his name in vain.

(Exo 20:8) Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy.

(Exo 20:9) Six days thou shalt labour, and shalt perform all thy work.

(Exo 20:10) But on the seventh day is the Sabbath of YHVH thy Elohim; on it thou shalt do no work, thou, nor thy son, nor thy daughter, thy servant nor thy maidservant, thine ox nor thine ass, nor any cattle of thine, nor the stranger that sojourns with thee.

(Exo 20:11) For in six days YHVH made the heaven and the earth, and the sea and all things in them, and rested on the seventh day; therefore YHVH blessed the seventh day, and hallowed it.

(Exo 20:12) Honour thy father and thy mother, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long on the good land, which YHVH thy Elohim gives to thee.

(Exo 20:13) Thou shalt not commit adultery.

(Exo 20:14) Thou shalt not steal.

(Exo 20:18) And all the people perceived the thundering, and the flashes, and the voice of the trumpet, and the mountain smoking; and all the people feared and stood afar off, (Exo 20:19) and said to Moses, Speak thou to us, and let not Elohim speak to us, lest we die.

(Exo 20:20) And Moses says to them, Be of good courage, for Elohim is come to you to try you, that his fear may be among you, that ye sin not.

(Exo 20:21) And the people stood afar off, and Moses went into the darkness where Elohim was.

(Exo 20:22) And YHVH said to Moses, Thus shalt thou say to the house of Jacob, and thou shalt report it to the children of Israel, Ye have seen that I have spoken to you from heaven.

(Exo 20:23) Ye shall not make to yourselves gods of silver, and gods of gold ye shall not make to yourselves.

(Exo 20:24) Ye shall make to me an altar of earth; and upon it ye shall sacrifice your whole burnt-offerings, and your peace-offerings, and your sheep and your calves in every place, where I shall record my name; and I will come to thee and bless thee.

(Exo 20:25) And if thou wilt make to me an altar of stones, thou shalt not build them hewn stones; for thou hast lifted up thy tool upon them, and they are defiled.

(Exo 20:26) Thou shalt not go up to my altar by steps, that thou mayest not uncover thy nakedness upon it.

(Exo 21:1) And these are the ordinances which thou shalt set before them.

(Exo 21:2) If thou buy a Hebrew servant, six years shall he serve thee, and in the seventh year he shall go forth free for nothing.

(Exo 21:3) If he should have come in alone, he shall also go forth alone; and if his wife should have gone in together with him, his wife also shall go out.

(Exo 21:4) Moreover, if his master give him a wife, and she have born him sons or daughters, the wife and the children shall be his master's; and he shall go forth alone.

(Exo 21:5) And if the servant should answer and say, I love my master and wife and children, I will not go away free;

(Exo 21:6) his master shall bring him to the judgment-seat of Elohim, and then shall he bring him to the door, to the door-post, and his master shall bore his ear through with an awl, and he shall serve him for ever.

(Exo 21:7) And if any one sell his daughter as a domestic, she shall not depart as the maid-servants depart.

(Exo 21:8) If she be not pleasing to her master, after she has betrothed herself to him, he shall let her go free; but he is not at liberty to sell her to a foreign nation, because he has trifled with her.

(Exo 21:9) And if he should have betrothed her to his son, he shall do to her according to the right of daughters.

(Exo 21:10) And if he take another to himself, he shall not deprive her of necessaries and her apparel, and her companionship with him.

(Exo 21:11) And if he will not do these three things to her, she shall go out free without money.

(Exo 21:12) And if any man smite another and he die, let him be certainly put to death.

(Exo 21:13) But as for him that did it not willingly, but Elohim delivered him into his hands, I will give thee a place whither the slayer may flee.

(Exo 21:14) And if any one lie in wait for his neighbour to slay him by craft, and he go for refuge, thou shalt take him from my altar to put him to death.

(Exo 21:15) Whoever smites his father or his mother, let him be certainly put to death.

(Exo 21:16) Whosoever shall steal one of the children of Israel, and prevail over him and sell him, and he be found with him, let him certainly die.

(Exo 21:17) He that reviles his father or his mother shall surely die.

(Exo 21:18) And if two men revile each other and smite the one the other with a stone or his fist, and he die not, but be laid upon his bed;

(Exo 21:19) if the man arise and walk abroad on his staff, he that smote him shall be clear; only he shall pay for his loss of time, and for his healing.

(Exo 21:20) And if a man smite his man-servant or his maid-servant, with a rod, and the party die under his hands, he shall be surely punished.

(Exo 21:21) But if the servant continue to live a day or two, let not the master be punished; for he is his money.

(Exo 21:22) And if two men strive and smite a woman with child, and her child be born imperfectly formed, he shall be forced to pay a penalty: as the woman's husband may lay upon him, he shall pay with a valuation.

(Exo 21:23) But if it be perfectly formed, he shall give life for life,

(Exo 21:24) eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot,

(Exo 21:26) And if one smite the eye of his man-servant, or the eye of his maid-servant, and put it out, he shall let them go free for their eye's sake.

(Exo 21:27) And if he should smite out the tooth of his man-servant, or the tooth of his maid-servant, he shall send them away free for their tooth's sake.

(Exo 21:28) And if a bull gore a man or woman and they die, the bull shall be stoned with stones, and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the bull shall be clear.

(Exo 21:29) But if the bull should have been given to goring in former time, and men should have told his owner, and he have not removed him, but he should have slain a man or woman, the bull shall be stoned, and his owner shall die also.

(Exo 21:30) And if a ransom should be imposed on him, he shall pay for the ransom of his soul as much as they shall lay upon him.

(Exo 21:31) And if the bull gore a son or daughter, let them do to him according to this ordinance.

(Exo 21:32) And if the bull gore a man-servant or maid-servant, he shall pay to their master thirty silver didrachms, and the bull shall be stoned.

(Exo 21:33) And if any one open a pit or dig a cavity in stone, and cover it not, and an ox or an ass fall in there, (Exo 21:34) the owner of the pit shall make compensation; he shall give money to their owner, and the dead shall be his own.

(Exo 21:35) And if any man's bull gore the bull of his neighbour, and it die, they shall sell the living bull and divide the money, and they shall divide the dead bull.

(Exo 21:36) But if the bull be known to have been given to goring in time past, and they have testified to his owner, and he have not removed him, he shall repay bull for bull, but the dead shall be his own.

(Exo 22:1) And if one steal an ox or a sheep, and kill it or sell it, he shall pay five calves for a calf, and four sheep for a sheep.

(Exo 22:2) And if the thief be found in the breach made by himself and be smitten and die, there shall not be blood shed for him.

(Exo 22:3) But if the sun be risen upon him, he is guilty, he shall die instead; and if a thief have nothing, let him be sold in compensation for what he has stolen.

(Exo 22:4) And if the thing stolen be left and be in his hand alive, whether ox or sheep, he shall restore them two-fold.

(Exo 22:5) And if any one should feed down a field or a vineyard, and should send in his beast to feed down another field, he shall make compensation of his own field according to his produce; and if he shall have fed down the whole field, he shall pay for compensation the best of his own field and the best of his vineyard.

(Exo 22:6) And if fire have gone forth and caught thorns, and should also set on fire threshing-floors or ears of corn or a field, he that kindled the fire shall make compensation.

(Exo 22:7) And if any one give to his neighbour money or goods to keep, and they be stolen out of the man's house, if the thief be found he shall repay double.

(Exo 22:8) But if the thief be not found, the master of the house shall come forward before Elohim, and shall swear that surely he has not wrought wickedly in regard of any part of his neighbour's deposit, (Exo 22:9) according to every injury alleged, both concerning a calf, and an ass, and a sheep, and a garment, and every alleged loss, whatsoever in fact it may be, the judgment of both shall proceed before Elohim, and he that is convicted by Elohim shall repay to his neighbour double.

(Exo 22:10) And if any one give to his neighbour to keep a calf or sheep or any beast, and it be wounded or die or be taken, and no one know, (Exo 22:11) an oath of Elohim shall be between both, each swearing that he has surely not at all been guilty in the matter of his neighbour's deposit; and so his master shall hold him guiltless, and he shall not make compensation.

(Exo 22:12) And if it be stolen from him, he shall make compensation to the owner.

(Exo 22:13) And if it be seized of beasts, he shall bring him to witness the prey, and he shall not make compensation.

(Exo 22:14) And if any one borrow ought of his neighbour, and it be wounded or die or be carried away, and the owner of it be not with it, he shall make compensation.

(Exo 22:15) But if the owner be with it, he shall not make compensation: but if it be a hired thing, there shall be a compensation to him instead of his hire.

(Exo 22:16) And if any one deceive a virgin that is not betrothed, and lie with her, he shall surely endow her for a wife to himself.

(Exo 22:17) And if her father positively refuse, and will not consent to give her to him for a wife, he shall pay compensation to her father according to the amount of the dowry of virgins.

(Exo 22:18) Ye shall not save the lives of sorcerers.

(Exo 22:19) Every one that lies with a beast ye shall surely put to death.

(Exo 22:20) He that sacrifices to any gods but to YHVH alone, shall be destroyed by death.

(Exo 22:21) And ye shall not hurt a stranger, nor afflict him; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

(Exo 22:22) Ye shall hurt no widow or orphan.

(Exo 22:23) And if ye should afflict them by ill-treatment, and they should cry aloud to me, I will surely hear their voice.

(Exo 22:24) And I will be very angry, and will slay you with the sword, and your wives shall be widows and your children orphans.

(Exo 22:25) And if thou shouldst lend money to thy poor brother who is by thee, thou shalt not be hard upon him thou shalt not exact usury of him.

(Exo 22:26) And if thou take thy neighbour's garment for a pledge, thou shalt restore it to him before sunset.

(Exo 22:27) For this is his clothing, this is the only covering of his nakedness; wherein shall he sleep? If then he shall cry to me, I will hearken to him, for I am merciful.

(Exo 22:28) Thou shalt not revile the gods, nor speak ill of the ruler of thy people.

(Exo 22:29) Thou shalt not keep back the first-fruits of thy threshing floor and press. The first-born of thy sons thou shalt give to me.

(Exo 22:30) So shalt thou do with thy calf and thy sheep and thine ass; seven days shall it be under the mother, and the eighth day thou shalt give it to me.

(Exo 22:31) And ye shall be holy men to me; and ye shall not eat flesh taken of beasts, ye shall cast it to the dog.

(Exo 23:1) Thou shalt not receive a vain report: thou shalt not agree with the unjust man to become an unjust witness.

(Exo 23:2) Thou shalt not associate with the multitude for evil; thou shalt not join thyself with a multitude to turn aside with the majority so as to shut out judgment.

(Exo 23:4) And if thou meet thine enemy's ox or his ass going astray, thou shalt turn them back and restore them to him.

(Exo 23:5) And if thou see thine enemy's ass fallen under its burden, thou shalt not pass by it, but shalt help to raise it with him.

(Exo 23:6) Thou shalt not wrest the sentence of the poor in his judgment.

(Exo 23:7) Thou shalt abstain from every unjust thing: thou shalt not slay the innocent and just, and thou shalt not justify the wicked for gifts.

(Exo 23:8) And thou shalt not receive gifts; for gifts blind the eyes of the seeing, and corrupt just words.

(Exo 23:9) And ye shall not afflict a stranger, for ye know the heart of a stranger; for ye were yourselves strangers in the land of Egypt.

(Exo 23:10) Six years thou shalt sow thy land, and gather in the fruits of it.

(Exo 23:11) But in the seventh year thou shalt let it rest, and leave it, and the poor of thy nation shall feed; and the wild beasts of the field shall eat that which remains: thus shalt thou do to thy vineyard and to thine oliveyard.

(Exo 23:12) Six days shalt thou do thy works, and on the seventh day there shall be rest, that thine ox and thine ass may rest, and that the son of thy maid-servant and the stranger may be refreshed.

(Exo 23:13) Observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and ye shall make no mention of the name of other gods, neither shall they be heard out of your mouth.

(Exo 23:14) Keep ye a feast to me three times in the year.

(Exo 23:15) Take heed to keep the feast of unleavened bread: seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread, as I charged thee at the season of the month of new corn, for in it thou camest out of Egypt: thou shalt not appear before me empty.

(Exo 23:16) And thou shalt keep the feast of the harvest of first-fruits of thy labours, whatsoever thou shalt have sown in thy field, and the feast of completion at the end of the year in the gathering in of thy fruits out of thy field.

(Exo 23:17) Three times in the year shall all thy males appear before YHVH thy Elohim.

(Exo 23:18) For when I shall have cast out the nations from before thee, and shall have widened thy borders, thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice with leaven, neither must the fat of my feast abide till the morning.

(Exo 23:19) Thou shalt bring the first-offerings of the first-fruits of thy land into the house of YHVH thy Elohim. Thou shalt not seethe a lamb in its mother's milk.

(Exo 23:20) And, behold, I send my angel before thy face, that he may keep thee in the way, that he may bring thee into the land which I have prepared for thee.

(Exo 23:21) Take heed to thyself and hearken to him, and disobey him not; for he will not give way to thee, for my name is on him.

(Exo 23:22) If ye will indeed hear my voice, and if thou wilt do all the things I shall charge thee with, and keep my covenant, ye shall be to me a peculiar people above all nations, for the whole earth is mine; and ye shall be to me a royal priesthood, and a holy nation: these words shall ye speak to the children of Israel, If ye shall indeed hear my voice, and do all the things I shall tell thee, I will be an enemy to thine enemies, and an adversary to thine adversaries.

(Exo 23:23) For my angel shall go as thy leader, and shall bring thee to the Amorite, and Chettite, and Pherezite, and Chananite, and Gergesite, and Evite, and Jebusite, and I will destroy them.

(Exo 23:24) Thou shalt not worship their gods, nor serve them: thou shalt not do according to their works, but shalt utterly destroy them, and break to pieces their pillars.

(Exo 23:25) And thou shalt serve YHVH thy Elohim, and I will bless thy bread and thy wine and thy water, and I will turn away sickness from you.

(Exo 23:26) There shall not be on thy land one that is impotent or barren. I will surely fulfil the number of thy days.

(Exo 23:27) And I will send terror before thee, and I will strike with amazement all the nations to which thou shalt come, and I will make all thine enemies to flee.

(Exo 23:28) And I will send hornets before thee, and thou shalt cast out the Amorites and the Evites, and the Chananites and the Chettites from thee.

(Exo 23:29) I will not cast them out in one year, lest the land become desolate, and the beasts of the field multiply against thee.

(Exo 23:30) By little and little I will cast them out from before thee, until thou shalt be increased and inherit the earth.

(Exo 23:31) And I will set thy borders from the Red Sea, to the sea of the Phylistines, and from the wilderness to the great river Euphrates; and I will give into your hand those that dwell in the land, and will cast them out from thee.

(Exo 23:33) And they shall not dwell in thy land, lest they cause thee to sin against me; for if thou shouldst serve their gods, these will be an offence to thee.

(Exo 24:1) And to Moses he said, Go up to YHVH, thou and Aaron and Nadab and Abiud, and seventy of the elders of Israel: and they shall worship YHVH from a distance.

(Exo 24:2) And Moses alone shall draw nigh to Elohim; and they shall not draw nigh, and the people shall not come up with them.

(Exo 24:3) And Moses went in and related to the people all the words of Elohim and the ordinances; and all the people answered with one voice, saying, All the words which YHVH has spoken, we will do and be obedient.

(Exo 24:4) And Moses wrote all the words of YHVH; and Moses rose up early in the morning, and built an altar under the mountain, and set up twelve stones for the twelve tribes of Israel.

(Exo 24:5) And he sent forth the young men of the children of Israel, and they offered whole burnt-offerings, and they sacrificed young calves as a peace-offering to Elohim.

(Exo 24:6) And Moses took half the blood and poured it into bowls, and half the blood he poured out upon the altar.

(Exo 24:7) And he took the book of the covenant and read it in the ears of the people, and they said, All things whatsoever YHVH has spoken we will do and hearken therein.

(Exo 24:8) And Moses took the blood and sprinkled it upon the people, and said, Behold the blood of the covenant, which YHVH has made with you concerning all these words.

(Exo 24:9) And Moses went up, and Aaron, and Nadab and Abiud, and seventy of the elders of Israel.

(Exo 24:10) And they saw the place where the Elohim of Israel stood; and under his feet was as it were a work of sapphire slabs, and as it were the appearance of the firmament of heaven in its purity.

(Exo 24:11) And of the chosen ones of Israel there was not even one missing, and they appeared in the place of Elohim, and did eat and drink.

(Exo 24:12) And YHVH said to Moses, Come up to me into the mountain, and be there; and I will give thee the tables of stone, the law and the commandments, which I have written to give them laws.

(Exo 24:13) And Moses rose up and YAHshua his attendant, and they went up into the mount of Elohim.

(Exo 24:14) And to the elders they said, Rest there till we return to you; and behold, Aaron and Or are with you: if any man have a cause to be tried, let them go to them.

(Exo 24:15) And Moses and YAHshua went up to the mountain, and the cloud covered the mountain.

(Exo 24:16) And the glory of Elohim came down upon the mount Sina, and the cloud covered it six days; and YHVH called Moses on the seventh day out of the midst of the cloud.

(Exo 24:17) And the appearance of the glory of YHVH was as burning fire on the top of the mountain, before the children of Israel.

(Exo 24:18) And Moses went into the midst of the cloud, and went up to the mountain, and was there in the mountain forty days and forty nights.

(Exo 25:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 25:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and take first-fruits of all, who may be disposed in their heart to give; and ye shall take my first-fruits.

(Exo 25:3) And this is the offering which ye shall take of them; gold and silver and brass,

(Exo 25:4) and blue, and purple, and double scarlet, and fine spun linen, and goats' hair,

(Exo 25:5) and rams' skins dyed red, and blue skins, and incorruptible wood,

(Exo 25:6) and oil for the light, incense for anointing oil, and for the composition of incense, (Exo 25:7) and sardius stones, and stones for the carved work of the breast-plate, and the full-length robe.

(Exo 25:8) And thou shalt make me a sanctuary, and I will appear among you.

(Exo 25:9) And thou shalt make for me according to all things which I shew thee in the mountain; even the pattern of the tabernacle, and the pattern of all its furniture: so shalt thou make it.

(Exo 25:10) And thou shalt make the ark of testimony of incorruptible wood; the length of two cubits and a half, and the breadth of a cubit and a half, and the height of a cubit and a half.

(Exo 25:11) And thou shalt gild it with pure gold, thou shalt gild it within and without; and thou shalt make for it golden wreaths twisted round about.

(Exo 25:12) And thou shalt cast for it four golden rings, and shalt put them on the four sides; two rings on the one side, and two rings on the other side.

(Exo 25:13) And thou shalt make staves of incorruptible wood, and shalt gild them with gold.

(Exo 25:14) And thou shalt put the staves into the rings on the sides of the ark, to bear the ark with them.

(Exo 25:15) The staves shall remain fixed in the rings of the ark.

(Exo 25:16) And thou shalt put into the ark the testimonies which I shall give thee.

(Exo 25:17) And thou shalt make a propitiatory, a lid of pure gold; the length of two cubits and a half, and the breadth of a cubit and a half.

(Exo 25:18) And thou shalt make two cherubs graven in gold, and thou shalt put them on both sides of the propitiatory.

(Exo 25:19) They shall be made, one cherub on this side, and another cherub on the other side of the propitiatory; and thou shalt make the two cherubs on the two sides.

(Exo 25:20) The cherubs shall stretch forth their wings above, overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings; and their faces shall be toward each other, the faces of the cherubs shall be toward the propitiatory.

(Exo 25:21) And thou shalt set the propitiatory on the ark above, and thou shalt put into the ark the testimonies which I shall give thee.

(Exo 25:22) And I will make myself known to thee from thence, and I will speak to thee above the propitiatory between the two cherubs, which are upon the ark of testimony, even in all things which I shall charge thee concerning the children of Israel.

(Exo 25:23) And thou shalt make a golden table of pure gold, in length two cubits, and in breadth a cubit, and in height a cubit and a half.

(Exo 25:24) And thou shalt make for it golden wreaths twisted round about, and thou shalt make for it a crown of an hand-breadth round about.

(Exo 25:25) And thou shalt make a twisted wreath for the crown round about.

(Exo 25:26) And thou shalt make four golden rings; and thou shalt put the four rings upon the four parts of its feet under the crown.

(Exo 25:27) And the rings shall be for bearings for the staves, that they may bear the table with them.

(Exo 25:28) And thou shalt make the staves of incorruptible wood, and thou shalt gild them with pure gold; and the table shall be borne with them.

(Exo 25:29) And thou shalt make its dishes and its censers, and its bowls, and its cups, with which thou shalt offer drink-offerings: of pure gold shalt thou make them.

(Exo 25:30) And thou shalt set upon the table shewbread before me continually.

(Exo 25:31) And thou shalt make a candlestick of pure gold; thou shalt make the candlestick of graven work: its stem and its branches, and its bowls and its knops and its lilies shall be of one piece.

(Exo 25:32) And six branches proceeding sideways, three branches of the candlestick from one side of it, and three branches of the candlestick from the other side.

(Exo 25:33) And three bowls fashioned like almonds, on each branch a knop and a lily; so to the six branches proceeding from the candlestick, (Exo 25:34) and in the candlestick four bowls fashioned like almonds, in each branch knops and the flowers of the same.

(Exo 25:35) A knop under two branches out of it, and a knop under four branches out of it; so to the six branches proceeding from the candlestick; and in the candlestick four bowls fashioned like almonds.

(Exo 25:36) Let the knops and the branches be of one piece, altogether graven of one piece of pure gold.

(Exo 25:37) And thou shalt make its seven lamps: and thou shalt set on it the lamps, and they shall shine from one front.

(Exo 25:38) And thou shalt make its funnel and its snuff-dishes of pure gold.

(Exo 25:39) All these articles shall be a talent of pure gold.

(Exo 25:40) See, thou shalt make them according to the pattern shewed thee in the mount.

(Exo 26:1) And thou shalt make the tabernacle, ten curtains of fine linen spun, and blue and purple, and scarlet spun with cherubs; thou shalt make them with work of a weaver.

(Exo 26:2) The length of one curtain shall be eight and twenty cubits, and one curtain shall be the breadth of four cubits: there shall be the same measure to all the curtains.

(Exo 26:3) And the five curtains shall be joined one to another, and the other five curtains shall be closely connected the one with the other.

(Exo 26:4) And thou shalt make for them loops of blue on the edge of one curtain, on one side for the coupling, and so shalt thou make on the edge of the outer curtain for the second coupling.

(Exo 26:5) Fifty loops shalt thou make for one curtain, and fifty loops shalt thou make on the part of the curtain answering to the coupling of the second, opposite each other, corresponding to each other at each point.

(Exo 26:6) And thou shalt make fifty golden rings; and thou shalt join the curtains to each other with the rings, and it shall be one tabernacle.

(Exo 26:7) And thou shalt make for a covering of the tabernacle skins with the hair on, thou shalt make them eleven skins.

(Exo 26:8) The length of one skin thirty cubits, and the breadth of one skin four cubits: there shall be the same measure to the eleven skins.

(Exo 26:9) And thou shalt join the five skins together, and the six skins together; and thou shalt double the sixth skin in front of the tabernacle.

(Exo 26:10) And thou shalt make fifty loops on the border of one skin, which is in the midst for the joinings; and thou shalt make fifty loops on the edge of the second skin that joins it.

(Exo 26:11) And thou shalt make fifty brazen rings; and thou shalt join the rings by the loops, and thou shalt join the skins, and they shall be one.

(Exo 26:12) And thou shalt fix at the end that which is over in the skins of the tabernacle; the half of the skin that is left shalt thou fold over, according to the overplus of the skins of the tabernacle; thou shalt fold it over behind the tabernacle.

(Exo 26:13) A cubit an this side, and a cubit on that side of that which remains of the skins, of the length of the skins of the tabernacle: it shall be folding over the sides of the tabernacle on this side and that side, that it may cover it.

(Exo 26:14) And thou shalt make for a covering of the tabernacle rams' skins dyed red, and blue skins as coverings above.

(Exo 26:15) And thou shalt make the posts of the tabernacle of incorruptible wood.

(Exo 26:16) Of ten cubits shalt thou make one post, and the breadth of one post of a cubit and a half.

(Exo 26:17) Two joints shalt thou make in one post, answering the one to the other: so shalt thou do to all the posts of the tabernacle.

(Exo 26:18) And thou shalt make posts to the tabernacle, twenty posts on the north side.

(Exo 26:19) And thou shalt make to the twenty posts forty silver sockets; two sockets to one post on both its sides, and two sockets to the other post on both its sides.

(Exo 26:20) And for the next side, toward the south, twenty posts, (Exo 26:21) and their forty silver sockets: two sockets to one post on both its sides, and two sockets to the other post on both its sides.

(Exo 26:22) And on the back of the tabernacle at the part which is toward the west thou shalt make six posts.

(Exo 26:23) And thou shalt make two posts on the corners of the tabernacle behind.

(Exo 26:24) And it shall be equal below, they shall be equal toward the same part from the heads to one joining; so shalt thou make to both the two corners, let them be equal.

(Exo 26:25) And there shall be eight posts, and their sixteen silver sockets; two sockets to one post on both its sides, and two sockets to the other post.

(Exo 26:26) And thou shalt make bars of incorruptible wood; five to one post on one side of the tabernacle, (Exo 26:27) and five bars to one post on the second side of the tabernacle, and five bars to the hinder posts, on the side of the tabernacle toward the sea.

(Exo 26:28) And let the bar in the middle between the posts go through from the one side to the other side.

(Exo 26:29) And thou shalt gild the posts with gold; and thou shalt make golden rings, into which thou shalt introduce the bars, and thou shalt gild the bars with gold.

(Exo 26:30) And thou shalt set up the tabernacle according to the pattern shewed thee in the mount.

(Exo 26:31) And thou shalt make a veil of blue and purple and scarlet woven, and fine linen spun: thou shalt make it cherubs in woven work.

(Exo 26:32) And thou shalt set it upon four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their tops shall be gold, and their four sockets shall be of silver.

(Exo 26:33) And thou shalt put the veil on the posts, and thou shalt carry in thither within the veil the ark of the testimony; and the veil shall make a separation for you between the holy and the holy of holies.

(Exo 26:34) And thou shalt screen with the veil the ark of the testimony in the holy of holies.

(Exo 26:35) And thou shalt set the table outside the veil, and the candlestick opposite the table on the south side of the tabernacle; and thou shalt put the table on the north side of the tabernacle.

(Exo 26:36) And thou shalt make a screen for the door of the tabernacle of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet and fine linen spun, the work of the embroiderer.

(Exo 26:37) And thou shalt make for the veil five posts, and thou shalt gild them with gold; and their chapiters shall be gold; and thou shalt cast for them five brazen sockets.

(Exo 27:1) And thou shalt make an altar of incorruptible wood, of five cubits in the length, and five cubits in the breadth; the altar shall be square, and the height of it shall be of three cubits.

(Exo 27:2) And thou shalt make the horns on the four corners; the horns shall be of the same piece, and thou shalt overlay them with brass.

(Exo 27:3) And thou shalt make a rim for the altar; and its covering and its cups, and its flesh-hooks, and its fire-pan, and all its vessels shalt thou make of brass.

(Exo 27:4) And thou shalt make for it a brazen grate with net-work; and thou shalt make for the grate four brazen rings under the four sides.

(Exo 27:5) And thou shalt put them below under the grate of the altar, and the grate shall extend to the middle of the altar.

(Exo 27:6) And thou shalt make for the altar staves of incorruptible wood, and thou shalt overlay them with brass.

(Exo 27:7) And thou shalt put the staves into the rings; and let the staves be on the sides of the altar to carry it.

(Exo 27:8) Thou shalt make it hollow with boards: according to what was shewed thee in the mount, so thou shalt make it.

(Exo 27:9) And thou shalt make a court for the tabernacle, curtains of the court of fine linen spun on the south side, the length of a hundred cubits for one side.

(Exo 27:10) And their pillars twenty, and twenty brazen sockets for them, and their rings and their clasps of silver.

(Exo 27:11) Thus shall there be to the side toward the north curtains of a hundred cubits in length; and their pillars twenty, and their sockets twenty of brass, and the rings and the clasps of the pillars, and their sockets overlaid with silver.

(Exo 27:12) And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the west curtains of fifty cubits, their pillars ten and their sockets ten.

(Exo 27:13) And in the breadth of the tabernacle toward the south, curtains of fifty cubits; their pillars ten, and their sockets ten.

(Exo 27:14) And the height of the curtains shall be of fifty cubits for the one side of the gate; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

(Exo 27:15) And for the second side the height of the curtains shall be of fifteen cubits; their pillars three, and their sockets three.

(Exo 27:16) And a veil for the door of the court, the height of it of twenty cubits of blue linen, and of purple, and spun scarlet, and of fine linen spun with the art of the embroiderer; their pillars four, and their sockets four.

(Exo 27:17) All the pillars of the court round about overlaid with silver, and their chapiters silver and their brass sockets.

(Exo 27:18) And the length of the court shall be a hundred cubits on each side, and the breadth fifty on each side, and the height five cubits of fine linen spun, and their sockets of brass.

(Exo 27:19) And all the furniture and all the instruments and the pins of the court shall be of brass.

(Exo 27:20) And do thou charge the children of Israel, and let them take for thee refined pure olive-oil beaten to burn for light, that a lamp may burn continually

(Exo 27:21) in the tabernacle of the testimony, without the veil that is before the ark of the covenant, shall Aaron and his sons burn it from evening until morning, before YHVH: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the children of Israel.

(Exo 28:1) And do thou take to thyself both Aaron thy brother, and his sons, even them of the children of Israel; so that Aaron, and Nadab and Abiud, and Eleazar and Ithamar, sons of Aaron, may minister to me.

(Exo 28:2) And thou shalt make holy apparel for Aaron thy brother, for honour and glory.

(Exo 28:3) And speak thou to all those who are wise in understanding, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom and perception; and they shall make the holy apparel of Aaron for the sanctuary, in which apparel he shall minister to me as priest.

(Exo 28:4) And these are the garments which they shall make: the breast-plate, and the shoulder-piece, and the full-length robe, and the tunic with a fringe, and the tire, and the girdle; and they shall make holy garments for Aaron and his sons to minister to me as priests.

(Exo 28:5) And they shall take the gold, and the blue, and the purple, and the scarlet, and the fine linen.

(Exo 28:6) And they shall make the shoulder-piece of fine linen spun, the woven work of the embroiderer.

(Exo 28:7) It shall have two shoulder-pieces joined together, fastened on the two sides.

(Exo 28:8) And the woven work of the shoulder-pieces which is upon it, shall be of one piece according to the work, of pure gold and blue and purple, and spun scarlet and fine twined linen.

(Exo 28:9) And thou shalt take the two stones, the stones of emerald, and thou shalt grave on them the names of the children of Israel.

(Exo 28:10) Six names on the first stone, and the other six names on the second stone, according to their births.

(Exo 28:11) It shall be the work of the stone-engraver's art; as the graving of a seal thou shalt engrave the two stones with the names of the children of Israel.

(Exo 28:13) And thou shalt make circlets of pure gold;

(Exo 28:14) and thou shalt make two fringes of pure gold, variegated with flowers wreathen work; and thou shalt put the wreathen fringes on the circlets, fastening them on their shoulder-pieces in front.

(Exo 28:15) And thou shalt make the oracle of judgment, the work of the embroiderer: in keeping with the ephod, thou shalt make it of gold, and blue and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen spun.

(Exo 28:16) Thou shalt make it square: it shall be double; of a span the length of it, and of a span the breadth.

(Exo 28:17) And thou shalt interweave with it a texture of four rows of stone; there shall be a row of stones, a sardius, a topaz, and emerald, the first row.

(Exo 28:20) and the fourth row, a chrysolite, and a beryl, and an onyx stone, set round with gold, bound together with gold: let them be according to their row.

(Exo 28:21) And let the stones of the names of the children of Israel be twelve according to their names, engravings as of seals: let them be for the twelve tribes each according to the name.

(Exo 28:22) And thou shalt make on the oracle woven fringes, a chain-work of pure gold.

(Exo 28:23) And Aaron shall take the names of the children of Israel, on the oracle of judgment on his breast; a memorial before Elohim for him as he goes into the sanctuary.

(Exo 28:24) And thou shalt put the fringes on the oracle of judgment; thou shalt put the wreaths on both sides of the oracle, (Exo 28:25) and thou shalt put the two circlets on both the shoulders of the ephod in front.

(Exo 28:26) And thou shalt put the Manifestation and the Truth on the oracle of judgment; and it shall be on the breast of Aaron, when he goes into the holy place before YHVH; and Aaron shall bear the judgments of the children of Israel on his breast before YHVH continually.

(Exo 28:27) And thou shalt make the full-length tunic all of blue.

(Exo 28:28) And the opening of it shall be in the middle having a fringe round about the opening, the work of the weaver, woven together in the joining of the same piece that it might not be rent.

(Exo 28:29) And under the fringe of the robe below thou shalt make as it were pomegranates of a flowering pomegranate tree, of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen spun, under the fringe of the robe round about: golden pomegranates of the same shape, and bells round about between these.

(Exo 28:30) A bell by the side of a golden pomegranate, and flower-work on the fringe of the robe round about.

(Exo 28:31) And the sound of Aaron shall be audible when he ministers, as he goes into the sanctuary before YHVH, and as he goes out, that he die not.

(Exo 28:32) And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and thou shalt grave on it as the graving of a signet, Holiness of YHVH.

(Exo 28:33) And thou shalt put it on the spun blue cloth, and it shall be on the mitre: it shall be in the front of the mitre.

(Exo 28:34) And it shall be on the forehead of Aaron; and Aaron shall bear away the sins of their holy things, all that the children of Israel shall sanctify of every gift of their holy things, and it shall be on the forehead of Aaron continually acceptable for them before YHVH.

(Exo 28:35) And the fringes of the garments shall be of fine linen; and thou shalt make a tire of fine linen, and thou shalt make a girdle, the work of the embroiderer.

(Exo 28:36) And for the sons of Aaron thou shalt make tunics and girdles, and thou shalt make for them tires for honour and glory.

(Exo 28:37) And thou shalt put them on Aaron thy brother, and his sons with him, and thou shalt anoint them and fill their hands: and thou shalt sanctify them, that they may minister to me in the priest's office.

(Exo 28:38) And thou shalt make for them linen drawers to cover the nakedness of their flesh; they shall reach from the loins to the thighs.

(Exo 28:39) And Aaron shall have them, and his sons, whenever they enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when they shall advance to the altar of the sanctuary to minister, so they shall not bring sin upon themselves, lest they die: it is a perpetual statute for him, and for his seed after him.

(Exo 29:1) And these are the things which thou shalt do to them: thou shalt sanctify them, so that they shall serve me in the priesthood; and thou shalt take one young calf from the herd, and two unblemished rams;

(Exo 29:2) and unleavened loaves kneaded with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil: thou shalt make them of fine flour of wheat.

(Exo 29:3) And thou shalt put them on one basket, and thou shalt offer them on the basket, and the young calf and the two rams.

(Exo 29:4) And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and thou shalt wash them with water.

(Exo 29:5) And having taken the garments, thou shalt put on Aaron thy brother both the full-length robe and the ephod and the oracle; and thou shalt join for him the oracle to the ephod.

(Exo 29:6) And thou shalt put the mitre on his head; and thou shalt put the plate, even the Holiness, on the mitre.

(Exo 29:7) And thou shalt take of the anointing oil, and thou shalt pour it on his head, and shalt anoint him, (Exo 29:8) and thou shalt bring his sons, and put garments on them.

(Exo 29:9) And thou shalt gird them with the girdles, and put the tires upon them, and they shall have a priestly office to me for ever; and thou shalt fill the hands of Aaron and the hands of his sons.

(Exo 29:10) And thou shalt bring the calf to the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the calf, before YHVH, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 29:11) And thou shalt slay the calf before YHVH, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 29:12) And thou shalt take of the blood of the calf, and put it on the horns of the altar with thy finger, but all the rest of the blood thou shalt pour out at the foot of the altar.

(Exo 29:13) And thou shalt take all the fat that is on the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and shalt put them upon the altar.

(Exo 29:14) But the flesh of the calf, and his skin, and his dung, shalt thou burn with fire without the camp; for it is an offering on account of sin.

(Exo 29:15) And thou shalt take one ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

(Exo 29:16) And thou shalt kill it, and take the blood and pour it on the altar round about.

(Exo 29:17) And thou shalt divide the ram by his several limbs, and thou shalt wash the inward parts and the feet with water, and thou shalt put them on the divided parts with the head.

(Exo 29:18) And thou shalt offer the whole ram on the altar, a whole burnt-offering to YHVH for a sweet-smelling savour: it is an offering of incense to YHVH.

(Exo 29:19) And thou shalt take the second ram, and Aaron and his sons shall lay their hands on the head of the ram.

(Exo 29:21) And thou shalt take of the blood from the altar, and of the anointing oil; and thou shalt sprinkle it upon Aaron and on his garments, and on his sons and on his sons' garments with him; and he shall be sanctified and his apparel, and his sons and his sons' apparel with him: but the blood of the ram thou shalt pour round about upon the altar.

(Exo 29:22) And thou shalt take from the ram its fat, both the fat that covers the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder, for this is a consecration.

(Exo 29:23) And one cake made with oil, and one cake from the basket of unleavened bread set forth before YHVH.

(Exo 29:24) And thou shalt put them all on the hands of Aaron, and on the hands of his sons, and thou shalt separate them as a separate offering before YHVH.

(Exo 29:25) And thou shalt take them from their hands, and shalt offer them up on the altar of whole burnt-offering for a sweet-smelling savour before YHVH: it is an offering to YHVH.

(Exo 29:26) And thou shalt take the breast from the ram of consecration which is Aaron's, and thou shalt separate it as a separate offering before YHVH, and it shall be to thee for a portion.

(Exo 29:27) And thou shalt sanctify the separated breast and the shoulder of removal which has been separated, and which has been removed from the ram of consecration, of the portion of Aaron and of that of his sons.

(Exo 29:28) And it shall be a perpetual statute of the children of Israel to Aaron and his sons, for this is a separate offering; and it shall be a special offering from the children of Israel, from the peace-offerings of the children of Israel, a special offering to YHVH.

(Exo 29:29) And the apparel of the sanctuary which is Aaron's shall be his son's after him, for them to be anointed in them, and to fill their hands.

(Exo 29:30) The priest his successor from among his sons who shall go into the tabernacle of witness to minister in the holies, shall put them on seven days.

(Exo 29:31) And thou shalt take the ram of consecration, and thou shalt boil the flesh in the holy place.

(Exo 29:32) And Aaron and his sons shall eat the flesh of the ram, and the loaves in the basket, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 29:33) They shall eat the offerings with which they were sanctified to fill their hands, to sanctify them; and a stranger shall not eat of them, for they are holy.

(Exo 29:34) And if aught be left of the flesh of the sacrifice of consecration and of the loaves until the morning, thou shalt burn the remainder with fire: it shall not be eaten, for it is a holy thing.

(Exo 29:35) And thus shalt thou do for Aaron and for his sons according to all things that I have commanded thee; seven days shalt thou fill their hands.

(Exo 29:36) And thou shalt sacrifice the calf of the sin-offering on the day of purification, and thou shalt purify the altar when thou dost perform consecration upon it, and thou shalt anoint it so as to sanctify it.

(Exo 29:37) Seven days shalt thou purify the altar and sanctify it; and the altar shall be most holy, every one that touches the altar shall be hallowed.

(Exo 29:38) And these are the offerings which thou shalt offer upon the altar; two unblemished lambs of a year old daily on the altar continually, a constant offering.

(Exo 29:39) One lamb thou shalt offer in the morning, and the second lamb thou shalt offer in the evening.

(Exo 29:40) And a tenth measure of fine flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of beaten oil, and a drink-offering the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb.

(Exo 29:41) And thou shalt offer the second lamb in the evening, after the manner of the morning-offering, and according to the drink-offering of the morning lamb; thou shalt offer it an offering to YHVH for a sweet-smelling savour, (Exo 29:42) a perpetual sacrifice throughout your generations, at the door of the tabernacle of witness before YHVH; wherein I will be known to thee from thence, so as to speak to thee.

(Exo 29:43) And I will there give orders to the children of Israel, and I will be sanctified in my glory.

(Exo 29:44) And I will sanctify the tabernacle of testimony and the altar, and I will sanctify Aaron and his sons, to minister as priests to me.

(Exo 29:45) And I will be called upon among the children of Israel, and will be their Elohim.

(Exo 29:46) And they shall know that I am YHVH their Elohim, who brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, to be called upon by them, and to be their Elohim.

(Exo 30:1) And thou shalt make the altar of incense of incorruptible wood.

(Exo 30:2) And thou shalt make it a cubit in length, and a cubit in breadth: it shall be square; and the height of it shall be of two cubits, its horns shall be of the same piece.

(Exo 30:3) And thou shalt gild its grate with pure gold, and its sides round about, and its horns; and thou shalt make for it a wreathen border of gold round-about.

(Exo 30:4) And thou shalt make under its wreathen border two rings of pure gold; thou shalt make it to the two corners on the two sides, and they shall be bearings for the staves, so as to bear it with them.

(Exo 30:5) And thou shalt make the staves of incorruptible wood, and shalt gild them with gold.

(Exo 30:6) And thou shalt set it before the veil that is over the ark of the testimonies, wherein I will make myself known to thee from thence.

(Exo 30:7) And Aaron shall burn upon it fine compound incense every morning; whensoever he trims the lamps he shall burn incense upon it.

(Exo 30:8) And when Aaron lights the lamps in the evening, he shall burn incense upon it; a constant incense-offering always before YHVH for their generations.

(Exo 30:9) And thou shalt not offer strange incense upon it, nor and offering made by fire, nor a sacrifice; and thou shalt not pour a drink-offering upon it.

(Exo 30:10) And once in the year Aaron shall make atonement on its horns, he shall purge it with the blood of purification for their generations: it is most holy to YHVH.

(Exo 30:11) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 30:12) If thou take account of the children of Israel in the surveying of them, and they shall give every one a ransom for his soul to YHVH, then there shall not be among them a destruction in the visiting of them.

(Exo 30:13) And this is what they shall give, as many as pass the survey, half a didrachm which is according to the didrachm of the sanctuary: twenty oboli go to the didrachm, but the half of the didrachm is the offering to YHVH.

(Exo 30:14) Every one that passes the survey from twenty years old and upwards shall give the offering to YHVH.

(Exo 30:15) The rich shall not give more, and the poor shall not give less than the half didrachm in giving the offering to YHVH, to make atonement for your souls.

(Exo 30:16) And thou shalt take the money of the offering from the children of Israel, and shalt give it for the service of the tabernacle of testimony; and it shall be to the children of Israel a memorial before YHVH, to make atonement for your souls.

(Exo 30:17) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 30:18) Make a brazen laver, and a brazen base for it, for washing; and thou shalt put it between the tabernacle of witness and the altar, and thou shalt pour forth water into it.

(Exo 30:20) Whensoever they shall go into the tabernacle of witness, they shall wash themselves with water, so they shall not die, whensoever they advance to the altar to do service and to offer the whole burnt-offerings to YHVH.

(Exo 30:21) They shall wash their hands and feet with water, whensoever they shall go into the tabernacle of witness; they shall wash themselves with water, that they die not; and it shall be for them a perpetual statute, for him and his posterity after him.

(Exo 30:22) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 30:23) Do thou also take sweet herbs, the flower of choice myrrh five hundred shekels, and the half of this two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling cinnamon, and two hundred and fifty shekels of sweet-smelling calamus,

(Exo 30:24) and of cassia five hundred shekels of the sanctuary, and a hin of olive oil.

(Exo 30:25) And thou shalt make it a holy anointing oil, a perfumed ointment tempered by the art of the perfumer: it shall be a holy anointing oil.

(Exo 30:26) And thou shalt anoint with it the tabernacle of witness, and the ark of the tabernacle of witness,

(Exo 30:27) and all its furniture, and the candlestick and all its furniture, and the altar of incense, (Exo 30:28) and the altar of whole burnt-offerings and all its furniture, and the table and all its furniture, and the laver.

(Exo 30:29) And thou shalt sanctify them, and they shall be most holy: every one that touches them shall be hallowed.

(Exo 30:30) And thou shalt anoint Aaron and his sons, and sanctify them that they may minister to me as priests.

(Exo 30:31) And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, This shall be to you a holy anointing oil throughout your generations.

(Exo 30:32) On man's flesh it shall not be poured, and ye shall not make any for yourselves according to this composition: it is holy, and shall be holiness to you.

(Exo 30:33) Whosoever shall make it in like manner, and whosoever shall give of it to a stranger, shall be destroyed from among his people.

(Exo 30:34) And YHVH said to Moses, Take for thyself sweet herbs, stacte, onycha, sweet galbanum, and transparent frankincense; there shall be and equal weight of each.

(Exo 30:35) And they shall make with it perfumed incense, tempered with the art of a perfumer, a pure holy work.

(Exo 30:36) And of these thou shalt beat some small, and thou shalt put it before the testimonies in the tabernacle of testimony, whence I will make myself known to thee: it shall be to you a most holy incense.

(Exo 30:37) Ye shall not make any for yourselves according to this composition; it shall be to you a holy thing for YHVH.

(Exo 30:38) Whosoever shall make any in like manner, so as to smell it, shall perish from his people.

(Exo 31:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 31:2) Behold, I have called by name Beseleel the son of Urias the son of Or, of the tribe of Juda.

(Exo 31:3) And I have filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom, and understanding, and knowledge, to invent in every work,

(Exo 31:4) and to frame works, to labour in gold, and silver, and brass, and blue, and purple, and spun scarlet,

(Exo 31:5) and works in stone, and for artificers' work in wood, to work at all works.

(Exo 31:6) And I have appointed him and Eliab the son of Achisamach of the tribe of Dan, and to every one understanding in heart I have given understanding; and they shall make all things as many as I have appointed thee,

(Exo 31:7) the tabernacle of witness, and the ark of the covenant, and the propitiatory that is upon it, and the furniture of the tabernacle,

(Exo 31:8) and the altars, and the table and all its furniture,
(Exo 31:9) and the pure candlestick and all its furniture, and the laver and its base,
(Exo 31:10) and Aaron's robes of ministry, and the robes of his sons to minister to me as priests,
(Exo 31:11) and the anointing oil and the compound incense of the sanctuary; according to all that I have commanded thee shall they make them.
(Exo 31:12) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,
(Exo 31:13) Do thou also charge the children of Israel, saying, Take heed and keep my Sabbaths; for they are a sign with me and among you throughout your generations, that ye may know that I am YHVH that sanctifies you.
(Exo 31:14) And ye shall keep the Sabbaths, because this is holy to YHVH for you; he that profanes it shall surely be put to death: every one who shall do a work on it, that soul shall be destroyed from the midst of his people.
(Exo 31:15) Six days thou shalt do works, but the seventh day is the Sabbath, a holy rest to YHVH; every one who shall do a work on the seventh day shall be put to death.
(Exo 31:16) And the children of Israel shall keep the Sabbaths, to observe them throughout their generations.
(Exo 31:17) It is a perpetual covenant with me and the children of Israel, it is a perpetual sign with me; for in six days YHVH made the heaven and the earth, and on the seventh day he ceased, and rested.
(Exo 31:18) And he gave to Moses when he left off speaking to him in mount Sina the two tables of testimony, tables of stone written upon with the finger of Elohim.
(Exo 32:1) And when the people saw that Moses delayed to come down from the mountain, the people combined against Aaron, and said to him, Arise and make us gods who shall go before us; for this Moses, the man who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt we do not know what is become of him.
(Exo 32:2) And Aaron says to them, Take off the golden ear-rings which are in the ears of your wives and daughters, and bring them to me.
(Exo 32:3) And all the people took off the golden ear-rings that were in their ears, and brought them to Aaron.
(Exo 32:4) And he received them at their hands, and formed them with a graving tool; and he made them a molten calf, and said, These are thy gods, O Israel, which have brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
(Exo 32:5) And Aaron having seen it built an altar before it, and Aaron made proclamation saying, To-morrow is a feast of YHVH.
(Exo 32:6) And having risen early on the morrow, he offered whole burnt-offerings, and offered a peace-offering; and the people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.
(Exo 32:7) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Go quickly, descend hence, for thy people whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt have transgressed;
(Exo 32:8) they have quickly gone out of the way which thou commandedst; they have made for themselves a calf, and worshipped it, and sacrificed to it, and said, These are thy gods, O Israel, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.
(Exo 32:10) And now let me alone, and I will be very angry with them and consume them, and I will make thee a great nation.

(Exo 32:11) And Moses prayed before YHVH Elohim, and said, Wherefore, YHVH, art thou very angry with thy people, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt with great strength, and with thy high arm?

(Exo 32:12) Take heed lest at any time the Egyptians speak, saying, With evil intent he brought them out to slay them in the mountains, and to consume them from off the earth; cease from thy wrathful anger, and be merciful to the sin of thy people, (Exo 32:13) remembering Abraam and Isaac and Jacob thy servants, to whom thou hast sworn by thyself, and hast spoken to them, saying, I will greatly multiply your seed as the stars of heaven for multitude, and all this land which thou spokest of to give to them, so that they shall possess it for ever.

(Exo 32:14) And YHVH was prevailed upon to preserve his people.

(Exo 32:15) And Moses turned and went down from the mountain, and the two tables of testimony were in his hands, tables of stone written on both their sides: they were written within and without.

(Exo 32:16) And the tables were the work of Elohim, and the writing the writing of Elohim written on the tables.

(Exo 32:17) And YAHshua having heard the voice of the people crying, says to Moses, There is a noise of war in the camp.

(Exo 32:18) And Moses says, It is not the voice of them that begin the battle, nor the voice of them that begin the cry of defeat, but the voice of them that begin the banquet of wine do I hear.

(Exo 32:19) And when he drew nigh to the camp, he sees the calf and the dances; and Moses being very angry cast the two tables out of his hands, and broke them to pieces under the mountain.

(Exo 32:20) And having taken the calf which they made, he consumed it with fire, and ground it very small, and scattered it on the water, and made the children of Israel to drink it.

(Exo 32:21) And Moses said to Aaron, What has this people done to thee, that thou hast brought upon them a great sin?

(Exo 32:22) And Aaron said to Moses, Be not angry, my lord, for thou knowest the impetuosity of this people.

(Exo 32:23) For they say to me, Make us gods, which shall go before us; for as for this man Moses, who brought us out of Egypt, we do not know what is become of him.

(Exo 32:24) And I said to them, If any one has golden ornaments, take them off; and they gave them me, and I cast them into the fire, and there came out this calf.

(Exo 32:25) And when Moses saw that the people was scattered, for Aaron had scattered them so as to be a rejoicing to their enemies, (Exo 32:26) then stood Moses at the gate of the camp, and said, Who is on YHVH's side? let him come to me. Then all the sons of Levi came to him.

(Exo 32:27) And he says to them, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, Put every one his sword on his thigh, and go through and return from gate to gate through the camp, and slay every one his brother, and every one his neighbour, and every one him that is nearest to him.

(Exo 32:28) And the sons of Levi did as Moses spoke to them, and there fell of the people in that day to the number of three thousand men.

(Exo 32:29) And Moses said to them, Ye have filled your hands this day to YHVH each one on his son or on his brother, so that blessing should be given to you.

(Exo 32:30) And it came to pass after the morrow had begun, that Moses said to the people, Ye have sinned a great sin; and now I will go up to Elohim, that I may make atonement for your sin.

(Exo 32:31) And Moses returned to YHVH and said, I pray, YHVH, this people has sinned a great sin, and they have made for themselves golden gods.

(Exo 32:32) And now if thou wilt forgive their sin, forgive it; and if not, blot me out of thy book, which thou hast written.

(Exo 32:33) And YHVH said to Moses, If any one has sinned against me, I will blot them out of my book.

(Exo 32:34) And now go, descend, and lead this people into the place of which I spoke to thee: behold, my angel shall go before thy face; and in the day when I shall visit I will bring upon them their sin.

(Exo 32:35) And YHVH smote the people for the making the calf, which Aaron made.

(Exo 33:1) And YHVH said to Moses, Go forward, go up hence, thou and thy people, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, into the land which I swore to Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, saying, I will give it to your seed.

(Exo 33:2) And I will send at the same time my angel before thy face, and he shall cast out the Amorite and the Chettite, and the Pherezite and Gergesite, and Evite, and Jebusite, and Chananite.

(Exo 33:3) And I will bring thee into a land flowing with milk and honey; for I will not go up with thee, because thou art a stiff-necked people, lest I consume thee by the way.

(Exo 33:4) And the people having heard this grievous saying, mourned in mourning apparel.

(Exo 33:5) For YHVH said to the children of Israel, Ye are a stiff-necked people; take heed lest I bring on you another plague, and destroy you: now then put off your glorious apparel, and your ornaments, and I will shew thee what I will do to thee.

(Exo 33:6) So the sons of Israel took off their ornaments and their array at the mount of Choreb.

(Exo 33:7) And Moses took his tabernacle and pitched it without the camp, at a distance from the camp; and it was called the Tabernacle of Testimony: and it came to pass that every one that sought YHVH went forth to the tabernacle which was without the camp.

(Exo 33:8) And whenever Moses went into the tabernacle without the camp, all the people stood every one watching by the doors of his tent; and when Moses departed, they took notice until he entered into the tabernacle.

(Exo 33:9) And when Moses entered into the tabernacle, the pillar of the cloud descended, and stood at the door of the tabernacle, and Elohim talked to Moses.

(Exo 33:10) And all the people saw the pillar of the cloud standing by the door of the tabernacle, and all the people stood and worshipped every one at the door of his tent.

(Exo 33:11) And YHVH spoke to Moses face to face, as if one should speak to his friend; and he retired into the camp: but his servant YAHshua the son of Naue, a young man, departed not forth from the tabernacle.

(Exo 33:12) And Moses said to YHVH, Lo! thou sayest to me, Lead on this people; but thou hast not shewed me whom thou wilt send with me, but thou hast said to me, I know thee above all, and thou hast favour with me.

(Exo 33:13) If then I have found favour in thy sight, reveal thyself to me, that I may evidently see thee; that I may find favour in thy sight, and that I may know that this great nation is thy people.

(Exo 33:14) And he says, I myself will go before thee, and give thee rest.

(Exo 33:15) And he says to him, If thou go not up with us thyself, bring me not up hence.

(Exo 33:16) And how shall it be surely known, that both I and this people have found favour with thee, except only if thou go with us? So both I and thy people shall be glorified beyond all the nations, as many as are upon the earth.

(Exo 33:17) And YHVH said to Moses, I will also do for thee this thing, which thou hast spoken; for thou hast found grace before me, and I know thee above all.

(Exo 33:18) And Moses says, Manifest thyself to me.

(Exo 33:19) And Elohim said, I will pass by before thee with my glory, and I will call by my name, YHVH, before thee; and I will have mercy on whom I will have mercy, and will have pity on whom I will have pity.

(Exo 33:20) And Elohim said, Thou shalt not be able to see my face; for no man shall see my face, and live.

(Exo 33:21) And YHVH said, Behold, there is a place by me: thou shalt stand upon the rock;

(Exo 33:22) and when my glory shall pass by, then I will put thee into a hole of the rock; and I will cover thee over with my hand, until I shall have passed by.

(Exo 33:23) And I will remove my hand, and then shalt thou see my back parts; but my face shall not appear to thee.

(Exo 34:1) And YHVH said to Moses, Hew for thyself two tables of stone, as also the first were, and come up to me to the mountain; and I will write upon the tables the words, which were on the first tables, which thou brokest.

(Exo 34:2) And be ready by the morning, and thou shalt go up to the mount Sina, and shalt stand there for me on the top of the mountain.

(Exo 34:3) And let no one go up with thee, nor be seen in all the mountain; and let not the sheep and oxen feed near that mountain.

(Exo 34:4) And Moses hewed two tables of stone, as also the first were; and Moses having arisen early, went up to the mount Sina, as YHVH appointed him; and Moses took the two tables of stone.

(Exo 34:5) And YHVH descended in a cloud, and stood near him there, and called by the name of YHVH.

(Exo 34:6) And YHVH passed by before his face, and proclaimed, YHVH

Elohim, pitiful and merciful, longsuffering and very compassionate, and true, (Exo 34:7) and keeping justice and mercy for thousands, taking away iniquity, and unrighteousness, and sins; and he will not clear the guilty; bringing the iniquity of the fathers upon the children, and to the children's children, to the third and fourth generation.

(Exo 34:8) And Moses hastened, and bowed to the earth and worshipped;

(Exo 34:9) and said, If I have found grace before thee, let my Lord go with us; for the people is stiff-necked: and thou shalt take away our sins and our iniquities, and we will be thine.

(Exo 34:10) And YHVH said to Moses, Behold, I establish a covenant for thee in the presence of all thy people; I will do glorious things, which have not been done in all the earth, or in any nation; and all the people among whom thou art shall see the works of YHVH, that they are wonderful, which I will do for thee.

(Exo 34:11) Do thou take heed to all things whatsoever I command thee: behold, I cast out before your face the Amorite and the Chananite and the Pherezite, and the Chettite, and Evite, and Gergesite and Jebusite:

(Exo 34:12) take heed to thyself, lest at any time thou make a covenant with the dwellers on the land, into which thou art entering, lest it be to thee a stumbling-block among you.

(Exo 34:13) Ye shall destroy their altars, and break in pieces their pillars, and ye shall cut down their groves, and the graven images of their gods ye shall burn with fire.

(Exo 34:14) For ye shall not worship strange gods, for YHVH Elohim, a jealous name, is a jealous Elohim;

(Exo 34:15) lest at any time thou make a covenant with the dwellers on the land, and they go a whoring after their gods, and sacrifice to their gods, and they call thee, and thou shouldest eat of their feasts, (Exo 34:16) and thou shouldest take of their daughters to thy sons, and thou shouldest give of thy daughters to their sons; and thy daughters should go a whoring after their gods, and thy sons should go a whoring after their gods.

(Exo 34:17) And thou shalt not make to thyself molten gods.

(Exo 34:18) And thou shalt keep the feast of unleavened bread: seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread, as I have charged thee, at the season in the month of new corn; for in the month of new corn thou camest out from Egypt.

(Exo 34:19) The males are mine, everything that opens the womb; every first-born of oxen, and every first-born of sheep.

(Exo 34:20) And the first-born of an ass thou shalt redeem with a sheep, and if thou wilt not redeem it thou shalt pay a price: every first-born of thy sons shalt thou redeem: thou shalt not appear before me empty.

(Exo 34:21) Six days thou shalt work, but on the seventh day thou shalt rest: there shall be rest in seed-time and harvest.

(Exo 34:22) And thou shalt keep to me the feast of weeks, the beginning of wheat-harvest; and the feast of ingathering in the middle of the year.

(Exo 34:23) Three times in the year shall every male of thine appear before YHVH the Elohim of Israel.

(Exo 34:24) For when I shall have cast out the nations before thy face, and shall have enlarged thy coasts, no one shall desire thy land, whenever thou mayest go up to appear before YHVH thy Elohim, three times in the year.

(Exo 34:25) Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifices with leaven, neither shall the sacrifices of the feast of the passover remain till the morning.

(Exo 34:26) The first-fruits of thy land shalt thou put into the house of YHVH thy Elohim: thou shalt not boil a lamb in his mother's milk.

(Exo 34:27) And YHVH said to Moses, Write these words for thyself, for on these words I have established a covenant with thee and with Israel.

(Exo 34:28) And Moses was there before YHVH forty days, and forty nights; he did not eat bread, and he did not drink water; and he wrote upon the tables these words of the covenant, the ten sayings.

(Exo 34:29) And when Moses went down from the mountain, there were the two tables in the hands of Moses, as then he went down from the mountain, Moses knew not that the appearance of the skin of his face was glorified, when Elohim spoke to him.

(Exo 34:30) And Aaron and all the elders of Israel saw Moses, and the appearance of the skin of his face was made glorious, and they feared to approach him.

(Exo 34:31) And Moses called them, and Aaron and all the rulers of the synagogue turned towards him, and Moses spoke to them.

(Exo 34:32) And afterwards all the children of Israel came to him, and he commanded them all things, whatsoever YHVH had commanded him in the mount of Sina.

(Exo 34:33) And when he ceased speaking to them, he put a veil on his face.

(Exo 34:34) And whenever Moses went in before YHVH to speak to him, he took off the veil till he went out, and he went forth and spoke to all the children of Israel whatsoever YHVH commanded him.

(Exo 34:35) And the children of Israel saw the face of Moses, that it was glorified; and Moses put the veil over his face, till he went in to speak with him.

(Exo 35:1) And Moses gathered all the congregation of the children of Israel together, and said, These are the words which YHVH has spoken for you to do them.

(Exo 35:2) Six days shalt thou perform works, but on the seventh day shall be rest a holy Sabbath a rest for YHVH: every one that does work on it, let him die.

(Exo 35:3) Ye shall not burn a fire in any of your dwellings on the Sabbath-day; I am YHVH.

(Exo 35:4) And Moses spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which YHVH has appointed you, saying,

(Exo 35:5) Take of yourselves an offering for YHVH: every one that engages in his heart shall bring the first-fruits to YHVH; gold, silver, brass,

(Exo 35:6) blue, purple, double scarlet spun, and fine linen spun, and goats' hair,

(Exo 35:7) and rams' skins dyed red, and skins dyed blue, and incorruptible wood,

(Exo 35:8) and sardine stones, and stones for engraving for the shoulder-piece and full-length robe.

(Exo 35:9) And every man that is wise in heart among you, let him come and work all things whatsoever YHVH has commanded.

(Exo 35:10) The tabernacle, and the cords, and the coverings, and the rings, and the bars, and the posts,

(Exo 35:11) and the ark of the testimony, and its staves, and its propitiatory, and the veil,

(Exo 35:12) and the curtains of the court, and its posts,

(Exo 35:13) and the emerald stones,

(Exo 35:14) and the incense, and the anointing oil,

(Exo 35:15) and the table and all its furniture,

(Exo 35:16) and the candle-stick for the light and all its furniture,

(Exo 35:17) and the altar and all its furniture;

(Exo 35:18) and the holy garments of Aaron the priest, and the garments in which they shall do service;

(Exo 35:19) and the garments of priesthood for the sons of Aaron and the anointing oil, and the compound incense.

(Exo 35:20) And all the congregation of the children of Israel went out from Moses. And they brought, they whose heart prompted them, and they to whomsoever it seemed good in their mind, each and offering:

(Exo 35:21) and they brought an offering to YHVH for all the works of the tabernacle of witness, and all its services, and for all the robes of the sanctuary.

(Exo 35:22) And the men, even every one to whom it seemed good in his heart, brought from the women, even brought seals and ear-rings, and finger-rings, and necklaces, and bracelets, every article of gold.

(Exo 35:23) And all as many as brought ornaments of gold to YHVH, and with whomsoever fine linen was found; and they brought skins dyed blue, and rams' skins dyed red.

(Exo 35:24) And every one that offered an offering brought silver and brass, the offerings to YHVH; and they with whom was found incorruptible wood; and they brought offerings for all the works of the preparation.

(Exo 35:25) And every woman skilled in her heart to spin with her hands, brought spun articles, the blue, and purple, and scarlet and fine linen.

(Exo 35:26) And all the women to whom it seemed good in their heart in their wisdom, spun the goats' hair.

(Exo 35:27) And the rulers brought the emerald stones, and the stones for setting in the ephod, and the oracle, (Exo 35:28) and the compounds both for the anointing oil, and the composition of the incense.

(Exo 35:29) And every man and woman whose mind inclined them to come in and do all the works as many as YHVH appointed them to do by Moses they the children of Israel brought an offering to YHVH.

(Exo 35:30) And Moses said to the children of Israel, Behold, Elohim has called by name Beseleel the son of Urias the son of Or, of the tribe of Juda,

(Exo 35:31) and has filled him with a divine spirit of wisdom and understanding, and knowledge of all things,

(Exo 35:32) to labour skillfully in all works of cunning workmanship, to form the gold and the silver and the brass, (Exo 35:33) and to work in stone, and to fashion the wood, and to work in every work of wisdom.

(Exo 35:34) And Elohim gave improvement in understanding both to him, and to Eliab the son of Achisamach of the tribe of Dan.

(Exo 35:35) And Elohim filled them with wisdom, understanding and perception, to understand to work all the works of the sanctuary, and to weave the woven and embroidered work with scarlet and fine linen, to do all work of curious workmanship and embroidery.

(Exo 36:1) And Beseleel wrought, and Eliab and every one wise in understanding, to whom was given wisdom and knowledge, to understand to do all the works according to the holy offices, according to all things which YHVH appointed.

(Exo 36:2) And Moses called Beseleel and Eliab, and all that had wisdom, to whom Elohim gave knowledge in their heart, and all who were freely willing to come forward to the works, to perform them.

(Exo 36:3) And they received from Moses all the offerings, which the children of Israel brought for all the works of the sanctuary to do them; and they continued to receive the gifts brought, from those who brought them in the morning.

(Exo 36:4) And there came all the wise men who wrought the works of the sanctuary, each according to his own work, which they wrought.

(Exo 36:5) And one said to Moses, The people bring an abundance too great in proportion to all the works which YHVH has appointed them to do.

(Exo 36:6) And Moses commanded, and proclaimed in the camp, saying, Let neither man nor woman any longer labour for the offerings of the sanctuary; and the people were restrained from bringing any more.

(Exo 36:7) And they had materials sufficient for making the furniture, and they left some besides.

(Exo 36:8) And every wise one among those that wrought made the robes of the holy places, which belong to Aaron the priest, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 36:9) And he made the ephod of gold, and blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined.

(Exo 36:10) And the plates were divided, the threads of gold, so as to interweave with the blue and purple, and with the spun scarlet, and the fine linen twined, they made it a woven work;

(Exo 36:11) shoulder-pieces joined from both sides, a work woven by mutual twisting of the parts into one another.

(Exo 36:12) They made it of the same material according to the making of it, of gold, and blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, as YHVH commanded Moses;

(Exo 36:13) and they made the two emerald stones clasped together and set in gold, graven and cut after the cutting of a seal with the names of the children of Israel;

(Exo 36:14) and he put them on the shoulder-pieces of the ephod, as stones of memorial of the children of Israel, as YHVH appointed Moses.

(Exo 36:15) And they made the oracle, a work woven with embroidery, according to the work of the ephod, of gold, and blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined.

(Exo 36:16) They made the oracle square and double, the length of a span, and the breadth of a span, double.

(Exo 36:17) And there was interwoven with it a woven work of four rows of stones, a series of stones, the first row, a sardius and topaz and emerald;

(Exo 36:18) and the second row, a carbuncle and sapphire and jasper;

(Exo 36:19) and the third row, a ligure and agate and amethyst;

(Exo 36:20) and the fourth row a chrysolite and beryl and onyx set round about with gold, and fastened with gold.

(Exo 36:21) And the stones were twelve according to the names of the children of Israel, graven according to their names like seals, each according to his own name for the twelve tribes.

(Exo 36:22) And they made on the oracle turned wreaths, wreathen work, of pure gold, (Exo 36:23) and they made two golden circlets and two golden rings.

(Exo 36:24) And they put the two golden rings on both the upper corners of the oracle;
(Exo 36:25) and they put the golden wreaths on the rings on both sides of the oracle, and the two wreaths into the two couplings.
(Exo 36:26) And they put them on the two circlets, and they put them on the shoulders of the ephod opposite each other in front.
(Exo 36:27) And they made two golden rings, and put them on the two projections on the top of the oracle, and on the top of the hinder part of the ephod within.
(Exo 36:28) And they made two golden rings, and put them on both the shoulders of the ephod under it, in front by the coupling above the connexion of the ephod.
(Exo 36:29) And he fastened the oracle by the rings that were on it to the rings of the ephod, which were fastened with a string of blue, joined together with the woven work of the ephod; that the oracle should not be loosed from the ephod, as YHVH commanded Moses.
(Exo 36:30) And they made the tunic under the ephod, woven work, all of blue.
(Exo 36:31) And the opening of the tunic in the midst woven closely together, the opening having a fringe round about, that it might not be rent.
(Exo 36:32) And they made on the border of the tunic below pomegranates as of a flowering pomegranate tree, of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined.
(Exo 36:33) And they made golden bells, and put the bells on the border of the tunic round about between the pomegranates:
(Exo 36:34) a golden bell and a pomegranate on the border of the tunic round about, for the ministration, as YHVH commanded Moses.
(Exo 36:35) And they made vestments of fine linen, a woven work, for Aaron and his sons,
(Exo 36:36) and the tires of fine linen, and the mitre of fine linen, and the drawers of fine linen twined;
(Exo 36:37) and their girdles of fine linen, and blue, and purple, and scarlet spun, the work of an embroiderer, according as YHVH commanded Moses.
(Exo 36:38) And they made the golden plate, a dedicated thing of the sanctuary, of pure gold;
(Exo 36:39) and he wrote upon it graven letters as of a seal, Holiness to YHVH.
(Exo 36:40) And they put it on the border of blue, so that it should be on the mitre above, as YHVH commanded Moses.
(Exo 37:1) And they made ten curtains for the tabernacle;
(Exo 37:2) of eight and twenty cubits the length of one curtain: the same measure was to all, and the breadth of one curtain was of four cubits.
(Exo 37:3) And they made the veil of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, the woven work with cherubs.
(Exo 37:4) And they put it on four posts of incorruptible wood overlaid with gold; and their chapiters were gold, and their four sockets were silver.
(Exo 37:5) And they made the veil of the door of the tabernacle of witness of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined, woven work with cherubs,

(Exo 37:6) and their posts five, and the rings; and they gilded their chapters and their clasps with gold, and they had five sockets of brass.

(Exo 37:7) And they made the court toward the south; the curtains of the court of fine linen twined, a hundred cubits every way,

(Exo 37:8) and their posts twenty, and their sockets twenty;

(Exo 37:9) and on the north side a hundred every way, and on the south side a hundred every way, and their posts twenty and their sockets twenty.

(Exo 37:10) And on the west side curtains of fifty cubits, their posts ten and their sockets ten.

(Exo 37:11) And on the east side curtains of fifty cubits of fifteen cubits behind, (Exo 37:12) and their pillars three, and their sockets three.

(Exo 37:13) And at the second back on this side and on that by the gate of the court, curtains of fifteen cubits, their pillars three and their sockets three;

(Exo 37:14) all the curtains of the tabernacle of fine linen twined.

(Exo 37:15) And the sockets of their pillars of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapters overlaid with silver, and all the posts of the court overlaid with silver:

(Exo 37:16) and the veil of the gate of the court, the work of an embroiderer of blue, and purple, and spun scarlet, and fine linen twined; the length of twenty cubits, and the height and the breadth of five cubits, made equal to the curtains of the court;

(Exo 37:17) and their pillars four, and their sockets four of brass, and their hooks of silver, and their chapters overlaid with silver.

(Exo 37:18) And all the pins of the court round about of brass, and they were overlaid with silver.

(Exo 37:19) And this was the construction of the tabernacle of witness, accordingly as it was appointed to Moses; so that the public service should belong to the Levites, through Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

(Exo 37:20) And Beseleel the son of Urias of the tribe of Juda, did as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 37:21) And Eliab the son of Achisamach of the tribe of Dan was there, who was chief artificer in the woven works and needle-works and embroideries, in weaving with the scarlet and fine linen.

(Exo 38:1) And Beseleel made the ark,

(Exo 38:2) and overlaid it with pure gold within and without;

(Exo 38:3) and he cast for it four golden rings, two on the one side, and two on the other,

(Exo 38:4) wide enough for the staves, so that men should bear the ark with them.

(Exo 38:5) And he made the propitiatory over the ark of pure gold,

(Exo 38:6) and the two cherubs of gold;

(Exo 38:7) one cherub on the one end of the propitiatory, and another cherub on the other end of the propitiatory, (Exo 38:8) overshadowing the propitiatory with their wings.

(Exo 38:9) And he made the set table of pure gold,

(Exo 38:10) and cast for it four rings: two on the one side and two on the other side, broad, so that men should lift it with the staves in them.

(Exo 38:11) And he made the staves of the ark and of the table, and gilded them with gold.

(Exo 38:12) And he made the furniture of the table, both the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the bowls with which he should offer drink-offerings, of gold.

(Exo 38:13) And he made the candlestick which gives light, of gold;

(Exo 38:14) the stem solid, and the branches from both its sides;

(Exo 38:15) and blossoms proceeding from its branches, three on this side, and three on the other, made equal to each other.

(Exo 38:16) And as to their lamps, which are on the ends, knops proceeded from them; and sockets proceeding from them, that the lamps might be upon them; and the seventh socket, on the top of the candlestick, on the summit above, entirely of solid gold.

(Exo 38:17) And on the candlestick seven golden lamps, and its snuffers gold, and its funnels gold.

(Exo 38:18) He overlaid the posts with silver, and cast for each post golden rings, and gilded the bars with gold; and he gilded the posts of the veil with gold, and made the hooks of gold.

(Exo 38:19) He made also the rings of the tabernacle of gold; and the rings of the court, and the rings for drawing out the veil above of brass.

(Exo 38:20) He cast the silver chapiters of the tabernacle, and the brazen chapiters of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court; and he made silver hooks for the posts, he overlaid them with silver on the posts.

(Exo 38:21) He made the pins of the tabernacle and the pins of the court of brass.

(Exo 38:22) He made the brazen altar of the brazen censers, which belonged to the men engaged in sedition with the gathering of Core.

(Exo 38:23) He made all the vessels of the altar and its grate, and its base, and its bowls, and the brazen flesh-hooks.

(Exo 38:24) He made an appendage for the altar of network under the grate, beneath it as far as the middle of it; and he fastened to it four brazen rings on the four parts of the appendage of the altar, wide enough for the bars, so as to bear the altar with them.

(Exo 38:25) He made the holy anointing oil and the composition of the incense, the pure work of the perfumer.

(Exo 38:26) He made the brazen laver, and the brazen base of it of the mirrors of the women that fasted, who fasted by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, in the day in which he set it up.

(Exo 38:27) And he made the laver, that at it Moses and Aaron and his sons might wash their hands and their feet: when they went into the tabernacle of witness, or whensoever they should advance to the altar to do service, they washed at it, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 39:1) All the gold that was employed for the works according to all the fabrication of the holy things, was of the gold of the offerings, twenty-nine talents, and seven hundred and twenty shekels according to the holy shekel.

(Exo 39:2) And the offering of silver from the men that were numbered of the congregation a hundred talents, and a thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels, one drachm apiece, even the half shekel, according to the holy shekel.

(Exo 39:3) Every one that passed the survey from twenty years old and upwards to the number of six hundred thousand, and three thousand five hundred and fifty.

(Exo 39:4) And the hundred talents of silver went to the casting of the hundred chapters of the tabernacle, and to the chapters of the veil;

(Exo 39:5) a hundred chapters to the hundred talents, a talent to a chapter.

(Exo 39:6) And the thousand seven hundred and seventy-five shekels he formed into hooks for the pillars, and he gilt their chapters and adorned them.

(Exo 39:7) And the brass of the offering was seventy talents, and a thousand five hundred shekels;

(Exo 39:8) and they made of it the bases of the door of the tabernacle of witness,

(Exo 39:9) and the bases of the court round about, and the bases of the gate of the court, and the pins of the tabernacle, and the pins of the court round about;

(Exo 39:10) and the brazen appendage of the altar, and all the vessels of the altar, and all the instruments of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 39:11) And the children of Israel did as YHVH commanded Moses, so did they.

(Exo 39:12) And of the gold that remained of the offering they made vessels to minister with before YHVH.

(Exo 39:13) And the blue that was left, and the purple, and the scarlet they made into garments of ministry for Aaron, so that he should minister with them in the sanctuary;

(Exo 39:14) and they brought the garments to Moses, and the tabernacle, and its furniture, its bases and its bars and the posts;

(Exo 39:15) and the ark of the covenant, and its bearers, and the altar and all its furniture.

(Exo 39:16) And they made the anointing oil, and the incense of composition, and the pure candlestick,

(Exo 39:17) and its lamps, lamps for burning, and oil for the light,

(Exo 39:18) and the table of shewbread, and all its furniture, and the shewbread upon it,

(Exo 39:19) and the garments of the sanctuary which belong to Aaron, and the garments of his sons, for the priestly ministry;

(Exo 39:20) and the curtains of the court, and the posts, and the veil of the door of the tabernacle, and the gate of the court,

(Exo 39:21) and all the vessels of the tabernacle and all its instruments: and the skins, even rams' skins dyed red, and the blue coverings, and the coverings of the other things, and the pins, and all the instruments for the works of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 39:22) Whatsoever things YHVH appointed Moses, so did the children of Israel make all the furniture.

(Exo 39:23) And Moses saw all the works; and they had done them all as YHVH commanded Moses, so had they made them; and Moses blessed them.

(Exo 40:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Exo 40:2) On the first day of the first month, at the new moon, thou shalt set up the tabernacle of witness,

(Exo 40:3) and thou shalt place in it the ark of the testimony, and shalt cover the ark with the veil,

(Exo 40:4) and thou shalt bring in the table and shalt set forth that which is to be set forth on it; and thou shalt bring in the candlestick and place its lamps on it.

(Exo 40:5) And thou shalt place the golden altar, to burn incense before the ark; and thou shalt put a covering of a veil on the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Exo 40:6) And thou shalt put the altar of burnt-offerings by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt set up the tabernacle round about, and thou shalt hallow all that belongs to it round about.

(Exo 40:9) And thou shalt take the anointing oil, and shalt anoint the tabernacle, and all things in it; and shalt sanctify it, and all its furniture, and it shall be holy.

(Exo 40:10) And thou shalt anoint the altar of burnt-offerings, and all its furniture; and thou shalt hallow the altar, and the altar shall be most holy.

(Exo 40:12) And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and thou shalt wash them with water.

(Exo 40:13) And thou shalt put on Aaron the holy garments, and thou shalt anoint him, and thou shalt sanctify him, and he shall minister to me as priest.

(Exo 40:14) And thou shalt bring up his sons, and shalt put garments on them.

(Exo 40:15) And thou shalt anoint them as thou didst anoint their father, and they shall minister to me as priests; and it shall be that they shall have an everlasting anointing of priesthood, throughout their generations.

(Exo 40:16) And Moses did all things whatsoever YHVH commanded him, so did he.

(Exo 40:17) And it came to pass in the first month, in the second year after their going forth out of Egypt, at the new moon, that the tabernacle was set up.

(Exo 40:18) And Moses set up the tabernacle, and put on the chapiters, and put the bars into their places, and set up the posts.

(Exo 40:19) And he stretched out the curtains over the tabernacle, and put the veil of the tabernacle on it above as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 40:20) And he took the testimonies, and put them into the ark; and he put the staves by the sides of the ark.

(Exo 40:21) And he brought the ark into the tabernacle, and put on it the covering of the veil, and covered the ark of the testimony, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 40:22) And he put the table in the tabernacle of witness, on the north side without the veil of the tabernacle.

(Exo 40:23) And he put on it the shewbread before YHVH, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 40:24) And he put the candlestick into the tabernacle of witness, on the side of the tabernacle toward the south.

(Exo 40:25) And he put on it its lamps before YHVH, as YHVH had commanded Moses.

(Exo 40:26) And he put the golden altar in the tabernacle of witness before the veil;

(Exo 40:27) and he burnt on it incense of composition, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Exo 40:29) And he put the altar of the burnt-offerings by the doors of the tabernacle.

(Exo 40:31) And he set up the court round about the tabernacle and the altar; and Moses accomplished all the works.

(Exo 40:34) And the cloud covered the tabernacle of witness, and the tabernacle was filled with the glory of YHVH.

(Exo 40:35) And Moses was not able to enter into the tabernacle of testimony, because the cloud overshadowed it, and the tabernacle was filled with the glory of YHVH.

(Exo 40:36) And when the cloud went up from the tabernacle, the children of Israel prepared to depart with their baggage.

(Exo 40:37) And if the cloud went not up, they did not prepare to depart, till the day when the cloud went up.

(Exo 40:38) For a cloud was on the tabernacle by day, and fire was on it by night before all Israel, in all their journeyings.

Leviticus.

(Lev 1:1) And YHVH called Moses again and spoke to him out of the tabernacle of witness, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, (Lev 1:2) If any man of you shall bring gifts to YHVH, ye shall bring your gifts of the cattle and of the oxen and of the sheep.

(Lev 1:3) If his gift be a whole-burnt-offering, he shall bring an unblemished male of the herd to the door of the tabernacle of witness, he shall bring it as acceptable before YHVH.

(Lev 1:4) And he shall lay his hand on the head of the burnt-offering as a thing acceptable for him, to make atonement for him.

(Lev 1:5) And they shall slay the calf before YHVH; and the sons of Aaron the priests shall bring the blood, and they shall pour the blood round about on the altar, which is at the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 1:6) And having flayed the whole burnt-offering, they shall divide it by its limbs.

(Lev 1:7) And the sons of Aaron the priests shall put fire on the altar, and shall pile wood on the fire.

(Lev 1:8) And the sons of Aaron the priests shall pile up the divided parts, and the head, and the fat on the wood on the fire, the wood which is on the altar.

(Lev 1:9) And the entrails and the feet they shall wash in water, and the priests shall put all on the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 1:10) And if his gift be of the sheep to YHVH, or of the lambs, or of the kids for whole-burnt-offerings, he shall bring it a male without blemish.

(Lev 1:11) And he shall lay his hand on its head; and they shall kill it by the side of the altar, toward the north before YHVH, and the sons of Aaron the priests shall pour its blood on the altar round about.

(Lev 1:12) And they shall divide it by its limbs, and its head and its fat, and the priests shall pile them up on the wood which is on the fire, on the altar.

(Lev 1:13) And they shall wash the entrails and the feet with water, and the priest shall bring all the parts and put them on the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 1:14) And if he bring his gift, a burnt-offering to YHVH, of birds, then shall he bring his gift of doves or pigeons.

(Lev 1:15) And the priest shall bring it to the altar, and shall wring off its head; and the priest shall put it on the altar, and shall wring out the blood at the bottom of the altar.

(Lev 1:16) And he shall take away the crop with the feathers, and shall cast it forth by the altar toward the east to the place of the ashes.

(Lev 1:17) And he shall break it off from the wings and shall not separate it, and the priest shall put it on the altar on the wood which is on the fire: it is a burnt-offering, a sacrifice, a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH.

(Lev 2:1) And if a soul bring a gift, a sacrifice to YHVH, his gift shall be fine flour; and he shall pour oil upon it, and shall put frankincense on it: it is a sacrifice.

(Lev 2:2) And he shall bring it to the priests the sons of Aaron: and having taken from it a handful of the fine flour with the oil, and all its frankincense, then the priest shall put the memorial of it on the altar: it is a sacrifice, an odour of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 2:3) And the remainder of the sacrifice shall be for Aaron and his sons, a most holy portion from the sacrifices of YHVH.

(Lev 2:4) And if he bring as a gift a sacrifice baked from the oven, a gift to YHVH of fine flour, he shall bring unleavened bread kneaded with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil.

(Lev 2:5) And if thy gift be a sacrifice from a pan, it is fine flour mingled with oil, unleavened offerings.

(Lev 2:6) And thou shalt break them into fragments and pour oil upon them: it is a sacrifice to YHVH.

(Lev 2:7) And if thy gift be a sacrifice from the hearth, it shall be made of fine flour with oil.

(Lev 2:8) And he shall offer the sacrifice which he shall make of these to YHVH, and shall bring it to the priest.

(Lev 2:9) And the priest shall approach the altar, and shall take away from the sacrifice a memorial of it, and the priest shall place it on the altar: a burnt offering, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 2:10) And that which is left of the sacrifice shall be for Aaron and his sons, most holy from the burnt-offerings of YHVH.

(Lev 2:11) Ye shall not leaven any sacrifice which ye shall bring to YHVH; for as to any leaven, or any honey, ye shall not bring of it to offer a gift to YHVH.

(Lev 2:12) Ye shall bring them in the way of fruits to YHVH, but they shall not be offered on the altar for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH.

(Lev 2:13) And every gift of your sacrifice shall be seasoned with salt; omit not the salt of the covenant of YHVH from your sacrifices: on every gift of yours ye shall offer salt to YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 2:14) And if thou wouldest offer a sacrifice of first-fruits to YHVH, it shall be new grains ground and roasted for YHVH; so shalt thou bring the sacrifice of the first-fruits.

(Lev 2:15) And thou shalt pour oil upon it, and shalt put frankincense on it: it is a sacrifice.

(Lev 2:16) And the priest shall offer the memorial of it taken from the grains with the oil, and all its frankincense: it is a burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 3:1) And if his gift to YHVH be a peace-offering, if he should bring it of the oxen, whether it be male or whether it be female, he shall bring it unblemished before YHVH.

(Lev 3:2) And he shall lay his hands on the head of the gift, and shall slay it before YHVH, by the doors of the tabernacle of witness. And the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour the blood on the altar of burnt-offerings round about.

(Lev 3:3) And they shall bring of the peace-offering a burnt-sacrifice to YHVH, the fat covering the belly, and all the fat on the belly.

(Lev 3:4) And the two kidneys and the fat that is upon them; he shall take away that which is on the thighs, and the caul above the liver together with the kidneys.

(Lev 3:5) And the priests the sons of Aaron shall offer them on the altar on the burnt-offering, on the wood which is on the fire upon the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 3:6) And if his gift be of the sheep, a peace-offering to YHVH, male or female, he shall bring it unblemished.

(Lev 3:7) If he bring a lamb for his gift, he shall bring it before YHVH.

(Lev 3:8) And he shall lay his hands on the head of his offering, and shall slay it by the doors of the tabernacle of witness; and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about.

(Lev 3:9) And he shall bring of the peace-offering a burnt-sacrifice to YHVH: the fat and the hinder part unblemished he shall take away with the loins, and having taken away all the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly,

(Lev 3:10) and both the kidneys and the fat that is upon them, and that which is on the thighs, and the caul which is on the liver with the kidneys,

(Lev 3:11) the priest shall offer these on the altar: it is a sacrifice of sweet savour, a burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 3:12) And if his offering be of the goats, then shall he bring it before YHVH.

(Lev 3:13) And he shall lay his hands on its head; and they shall slay it before YHVH by the doors of the tabernacle of witness; and the priests the sons of Aaron shall pour out the blood on the altar round about.

(Lev 3:14) And he shall offer of it a burnt-offering to YHVH, even the fat that covers the belly, and all the fat that is on the belly.

(Lev 3:15) And both the kidneys, and all the fat that is upon them, that which is upon the thighs, and the caul of the liver with the kidneys, shall he take away.

(Lev 3:16) And the priest shall offer it upon the altar: it is a burnt-offering, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH. All the fat belongs to YHVH.

(Lev 3:17) It is a perpetual statute throughout your generations, in all your habitations; ye shall eat no fat and no blood.

(Lev 4:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 4:2) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, If a soul shall sin unwillingly before YHVH, in any of the commandments of YHVH concerning things which he ought not to do, and shall do some of them;

(Lev 4:3) if the anointed priest sin so as to cause the people to sin, then shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned, an unblemished calf of the herd to YHVH for his sin.

(Lev 4:4) And he shall bring the calf to the door of the tabernacle of witness before YHVH, and he shall put his hand on the head of the calf before YHVH, and shall slay the calf in the presence of YHVH.

(Lev 4:5) And the anointed priest who has been consecrated having received of the blood of the calf, shall then bring it into the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 4:6) And the priest shall dip his finger into the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before YHVH, over against the holy veil.

(Lev 4:7) And the priest shall put of the blood of the calf on the horns of the altar of the compound incense which is before YHVH, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and all the blood of the calf shall he pour out by the foot of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 4:8) and all the fat of the calf of the sin-offering shall he take off from it; the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is on the inwards,

(Lev 4:9) and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, which is on the thighs, and the caul that is on the liver with the kidneys, them shall he take away,

(Lev 4:10) as he takes it away from the calf of the sacrifice of peace-offering, so shall the priest offer it on the altar of burnt-offering.

(Lev 4:11) And they shall take the skin of the calf, and all his flesh with the head and the extremities and the belly and the dung, (Lev 4:12) and they shall carry out the whole calf out of the camp into a clean place, where they pour out the ashes, and they shall consume it there on wood with fire: it shall be burnt on the ashes poured out.

(Lev 4:13) And if the whole congregation of Israel trespass ignorantly, and a thing should escape the notice of the congregation, and they should do one thing forbidden of any of the commands of YHVH, which ought not to be done, and should transgress:

(Lev 4:14) and the sin wherein they have sinned should become known to them, then shall the congregation bring an unblemished calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and they shall bring it to the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 4:15) And the elders of the congregation shall lay their hands on the head of the calf before YHVH, and they shall slay the calf before YHVH.

(Lev 4:16) And the anointed priest shall bring in of the blood of the calf into the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 4:17) And the priest shall dip his finger into some of the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle it seven times before YHVH, in front of the veil of the sanctuary.

(Lev 4:18) And the priest shall put some of the blood on the horns of the altar of the incense of composition, which is before YHVH, which is in the tabernacle of witness; and he shall pour out all the blood at the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, which is by the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 4:19) And he shall take away all the fat from it, and shall offer it up on the altar.

(Lev 4:20) And he shall do to the calf as he did to the calf of the sin-offering, so shall it be done; and the priest shall make atonement for them, and the trespass shall be forgiven them.

(Lev 4:21) And they shall carry forth the calf whole without the camp, and they shall burn the calf as they burnt the former calf: it is the sin-offering of the congregation.

(Lev 4:22) And if a ruler sin, and break one of all the commands of YHVH his Elohim, doing the thing which ought not to be done, unwillingly, and shall sin and trespass, (Lev 4:23) and his trespass wherein he has sinned, be known to him, then shall he offer for his gift a kid of the goats, a male without blemish.

(Lev 4:24) And he shall lay his hand on the head of the kid, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings before YHVH; it is a sin-offering.

(Lev 4:25) And the priest shall put some of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offering; and he shall pour out all its blood by the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings.

(Lev 4:26) And he shall offer up all his fat on the altar, as the fat of the sacrifice of peace-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him concerning his sin, and it shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 4:27) And if a soul of the people of the land should sin unwillingly, in doing a thing contrary to any of the commandments of YHVH, which ought not to be done, and shall transgress, (Lev 4:28) and his sin should be known to him, wherein he has sinned, then shall he bring a kid of the goats, a female without blemish shall he bring for his sin, which he has sinned.

(Lev 4:29) And he shall lay his hand on the head of his sin-offering, and they shall slay the kid of the sin-offering in the place where they slay the victims for whole-burnt-offerings.

(Lev 4:30) And the priest shall take of its blood with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings; and all its blood he shall pour forth by the foot of the altar.

(Lev 4:31) And he shall take away all the fat, as the fat is taken away from the sacrifice of peace-offering, and the priest shall offer it on the altar for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH; and the priest shall make atonement for him, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 4:32) And if he should offer a lamb for his sin-offering, he shall offer it a female without blemish.

(Lev 4:33) And he shall lay his hand on the head of the sin-offerings, and they shall kill it in the place where they kill the victims for whole-burnt-offerings.

(Lev 4:34) And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin-offering with his finger, and shall put it on the horns of the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and he shall pour out all its blood by the bottom of the altar of whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 4:35) And he shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the lamb of the sacrifice of peace-offering is taken away, and the priest shall put it on the altar for a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH; and the priest shall make atonement for him for the sin which he sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 5:1) And if a soul sin, and hear the voice of swearing, and he is a witness or has seen or been conscious, if he do not report it, he shall bear his iniquity.

(Lev 5:2) That soul which shall touch any unclean thing, or carcase, or that which is unclean being taken of beasts, or the dead bodies of abominable reptiles which are unclean, or carcasses of unclean cattle, (Lev 5:3) or should touch the uncleanness of a man, or whatever kind, which he may touch and be defiled by, and it should have escaped him, but afterwards he should know, then he shall have transgressed.

(Lev 5:4) That unrighteous soul, which determines with his lips to do evil or to do good according to whatsoever a man may determine with an oath, and it shall have escaped his notice, and he shall afterwards know it, and so he should sin in some one of these things:

(Lev 5:5) then shall he declare his sin in the things wherein he has sinned by that sin.

(Lev 5:6) And he shall bring for his transgressions against YHVH, for his sin which he has sinned, a ewe lamb of the flock, or a kid of the goats, for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make an atonement for him for his sin which he has sinned, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 5:7) And if he cannot afford a sheep, he shall bring for his sin which he has sinned, two turtle-doves or two young pigeons to YHVH; one for a sin-offering, and the other for a burnt-offering.

(Lev 5:8) And he shall bring them to the priest, and the priest shall bring the sin-offering first; and the priest shall pinch off the head from the neck, and shall not divide the body.

(Lev 5:9) And he shall sprinkle of the blood of the sin-offering on the side of the altar, but the rest of the blood he shall drop at the foot of the altar, for it is a sin-offering.

(Lev 5:10) And he shall make the second a whole-burnt-offering, as it is fit; and the priest shall make atonement for his sin which he has sinned, and it shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 5:11) And if he cannot afford a pair of turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, then shall he bring as his gift for his sin, the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a sin-offering; he shall not pour oil upon it, nor shall he put frankincense upon it, because it is a sin-offering.

(Lev 5:12) And he shall bring it to the priest; and the priest having taken a handful of it, shall lay the memorial of it on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH; it is a sin-offering.

(Lev 5:13) And the priest shall make atonement for him for his sin, which he has sinned in one of these things, and it shall be forgiven him; and that which is left shall be the priest's, as an offering of fine flour.

(Lev 5:14) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 5:15) The soul which shall be really unconscious, and shall sin unwillingly in any of the holy things of YHVH, shall even bring to YHVH for his transgression, a ram of the flock without blemish, valued according to shekels of silver according to the shekel of the sanctuary, for his transgression wherein he transgressed.

(Lev 5:16) And he shall make compensation for that wherein he has sinned in the holy things; and he shall add the fifth part to it, and give it to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of transgression, and his sin shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 5:17) And the soul which shall sin, and do one thing against any of the commandments of YHVH, which it is not right to do, and has not known it, and shall have transgressed, and shall have contracted guilt, (Lev 5:18) he shall even bring a ram without blemish from the flock, valued at a price of silver for his transgression to the priest; and the priest shall make atonement for his trespass of ignorance, wherein he ignorantly trespassed, and he knew it not; and it shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 5:19) For he has surely been guilty of transgression before YHVH.

(Lev 6:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 6:2) The soul which shall have sinned, and willfully overlooked the commandments of YHVH, and shall have dealt falsely in the affairs of his neighbour in the matter of a deposit, or concerning fellowship, or concerning plunder, or has in anything wronged his neighbour,

(Lev 6:3) or has found that which was lost, and shall have lied concerning it, and shall have sworn unjustly concerning any one of all the things, whatsoever a man may do, so as to sin hereby;

(Lev 6:4) it shall come to pass, whensoever he shall have sinned, and transgressed, that he shall restore the plunder which he has seized, or redress the injury which he has committed, or restore the deposit which was entrusted to him, or the lost article which he has found of any kind, about which he swore unjustly, he shall even restore it in full; and he shall add to it a fifth part besides; he shall restore it to him whose it is in the day in which he happens to be convicted.

(Lev 6:5) And he shall bring to YHVH for his trespass, a ram of the flock, without blemish, of value to the amount of the thing in which he trespassed.

(Lev 6:6) And the priest shall make atonement for him before YHVH, and he shall be forgiven for any one of all the things which he did and trespassed in it.

(Lev 6:7) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 6:8) Charge Aaron and his sons, saying,

(Lev 6:9) This is the law of whole-burnt-offering; this is the whole-burnt-offering in its burning on the altar all the night till the morning; and the fire of the altar shall burn on it, it shall not be put out.

(Lev 6:10) And the priest shall put on the linen tunic, and he shall put the linen drawers on his body; and shall take away that which has been thoroughly burnt, which the fire shall have consumed, even the whole-burnt-offering from the altar, and he shall put it near the altar.

(Lev 6:11) And he shall put off his robe, and put on another robe, and he shall take forth the offering that has been burnt without the camp into a clean place.

(Lev 6:12) And the fire on the altar shall be kept burning on it, and shall not be extinguished; and the priest shall burn on it wood every morning, and shall heap on it the whole-burnt-offering, and shall lay on it the fat of the peace-offering.

(Lev 6:13) And the fire shall always burn on the altar; it shall not be extinguished.

(Lev 6:14) This is the law of the sacrifice, which the sons of Aaron shall bring near before YHVH, before the altar.

(Lev 6:15) And he shall take from it a handful of the fine flour of the sacrifice with its oil, and with all its frankincense, which are upon the sacrifice; and he shall offer up on the altar a burnt-offering as a sweet-smelling savour, a memorial of it to YHVH.

(Lev 6:16) And Aaron and his sons shall eat that which is left of it: it shall be eaten without leaven in a holy place, they shall eat it in the court of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 6:17) It shall not be baked with leaven. I have given it as a portion to them of the burnt-offerings of YHVH: it is most holy, as the offering for sin, and as the offering for trespass.

(Lev 6:18) Every male of the priests shall eat it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations of the burnt-offerings of YHVH; whosoever shall touch them shall be hallowed.

(Lev 6:19) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 6:20) This is the gift of Aaron and of his sons, which they shall offer to YHVH in the day in which thou shalt anoint him; the tenth of an ephah of fine flour for a sacrifice continually, the half of it in the morning, and the half of it in the evening.

(Lev 6:21) It shall be made with oil in a frying-pan; he shall offer it kneaded and in rolls, an offering of fragments, an offering of a sweet savour unto YHVH.

(Lev 6:22) The anointed priest who is in his place, one of his sons, shall offer it: it is a perpetual statute, it shall all be consumed.

(Lev 6:23) And every sacrifice of a priest shall be thoroughly burnt, and shall not be eaten.

(Lev 6:24) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 6:25) Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, This is the law of the sin-offering; in the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the sin-offerings before YHVH: they are most holy.

(Lev 6:26) The priest that offers it shall eat it: in a holy place it shall be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 6:27) Every one that touches the flesh of it shall be holy, and on whosoever garment any of its blood shall have been sprinkled, whosoever shall have it sprinkled, shall be washed in the holy place.

(Lev 6:28) And the earthen vessel, in whichsoever it shall have been sodden, shall be broken; and if it shall have been sodden in a brazen vessel, he shall scour it and wash it with water.

(Lev 6:29) Every male among the priests shall eat it: it is most holy to YHVH.

(Lev 6:30) And no offerings for sin, of whose blood there shall be brought any into the tabernacle of witness to make atonement in the holy place, shall be eaten: they shall be burned with fire.

(Lev 6:31) And this is the law of the ram for the trespass-offering; it is most holy.

(Lev 6:32) In the place where they slay the whole-burnt-offering, they shall slay the ram of the trespass-offering before YHVH, and he shall pour out the blood at the bottom of the altar round about.

(Lev 6:33) And he shall offer all the fat from it; and the loins, and all the fat that covers the inwards, and all the fat that is upon the inwards, (Lev 6:34) and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, that which is upon the thighs, and the caul upon the liver with the kidney, he shall take them away.

(Lev 6:35) And the priest shall offer them on the altar a burnt-offering to YHVH; it is for trespass.

(Lev 6:36) Every male of the priest shall eat them, in the holy place they shall eat them: they are most holy.

(Lev 6:37) As the sin-offering, so also is the trespass-offering. There is one law of them; the priest who shall make atonement with it, his it shall be.

(Lev 6:38) And as for the priest who offers a man's whole-burnt-offering, the skin of the whole-burnt-offering which he offers, shall be his.

(Lev 6:39) And every sacrifice which shall be prepared in the oven, and every one which shall be prepared on the hearth, or on a frying-pan, it is the property of the priest that offers it; it shall be his.

(Lev 6:40) And every sacrifice made up with oil, or not made up with oil, shall belong to the sons of Aaron, an equal portion to each.

(Lev 7:1) This is the law of the sacrifice of peace-offering, which they shall bring to YHVH.

(Lev 7:2) If a man should offer it for praise, then shall he bring, for the sacrifice of praise, loaves of fine flour made up with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil, and fine flour kneaded with oil.

(Lev 7:3) With leavened bread he shall offer his gifts, with the peace-offering of praise.

(Lev 7:4) And he shall bring one of all his gifts, a separate offering to YHVH: it shall belong to the priest who pours forth the blood of the peace-offering.

(Lev 7:5) And the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering of praise shall be his, and it shall be eaten in the day in which it is offered: they shall not leave of it till the morning.

(Lev 7:6) And if it be a vow, or he offer his gift of his own will, on whatsoever day he shall offer his sacrifice, it shall be eaten, and on the morrow.

(Lev 7:7) And that which is left of the flesh of the sacrifice till the third day, shall be consumed with fire.

(Lev 7:8) And if he do at all eat of the flesh on the third day, it shall not be accepted for him that offers: it shall not be reckoned to him, it is pollution; and whatsoever soul shall eat of it, shall bear his iniquity.

(Lev 7:9) And whatsoever flesh shall have touched any unclean thing, it shall not be eaten, it shall be consumed with fire; every one that is clean shall eat the flesh.

(Lev 7:10) And whatsoever soul shall eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering which is YHVH's, and his uncleanness be upon him, that soul shall perish from his people.

(Lev 7:11) And whatsoever soul shall touch any unclean thing, either of the uncleanness of a man, or of unclean quadrupeds, or any unclean abominable thing, and shall eat of the flesh of the sacrifice of the peace-offering, which is YHVH's, that soul shall perish from his people.

(Lev 7:12) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 7:13) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall eat no fat of oxen or sheep or goats.

(Lev 7:14) And the fat of such animals as have died of themselves, or have been seized of beasts, may be employed for any work; but it shall not be eaten for food.

(Lev 7:15) Every one that eats fat off the beasts, from which he will bring a burnt-offering to YHVH that soul shall perish from his people.

(Lev 7:16) Ye shall eat no blood in all your habitations, either of beasts or of birds.

(Lev 7:17) Every soul that shall eat blood, that soul shall perish from his people.

(Lev 7:18) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 7:19) Thou shalt also speak to the children of Israel, saying, He that offers a sacrifice of peace-offering, shall bring his gift to YHVH also from the sacrifice of peace-offering.

(Lev 7:20) His hands shall bring the burnt-offerings to YHVH; the fat which is on the breast and the lobe of the liver, he shall bring them, so as to set them for a gift before YHVH.

(Lev 7:21) And the priest shall offer the fat upon the altar, and the breast shall be Aaron's and his sons, (Lev 7:22) and ye shall give the right shoulder for a choice piece to the priest of your sacrifices of peace-offering.

(Lev 7:23) He that offers the blood of the peace-offering, and the fat, of the sons of Aaron, his shall be the right shoulder for a portion.

(Lev 7:24) For I have taken the wave-breast and shoulder of separation from the children of Israel from the sacrifices of your peace-offerings, and I have given them to Aaron the priest and his sons, a perpetual ordinance due from the children of Israel.

(Lev 7:25) This is the anointing of Aaron, and the anointing of his sons, their portion of the burnt-offerings of YHVH, in the day in which he brought them forward to minister as priests to YHVH;

(Lev 7:26) as YHVH commanded to give to them in the day in which he anointed them of the sons of Israel, a perpetual statute through their generations.

(Lev 7:27) This is the law of the whole-burnt-offerings, and of sacrifice, and of sin-offering, and of offering for transgression, and of the sacrifice of consecration, and of the sacrifice of peace-offering;

(Lev 7:28) as YHVH commanded Moses in the mount Sina, in the day in which he commanded the children of Israel to offer their gifts before YHVH in the wilderness of Sina.

(Lev 8:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 8:2) Take Aaron and his sons, and his robes and the anointing oil, and the calf for the sin-offering, and the two rams, and the basket of unleavened bread, (Lev 8:3) and assemble the whole congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 8:4) And Moses did as YHVH appointed him, and he assembled the congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 8:5) And Moses said to the congregation, This is the thing which YHVH has commanded you to do.

(Lev 8:6) And Moses brought nigh Aaron and his sons, and washed them with water,

(Lev 8:7) and put on him the coat, and girded him with the girdle, and clothed him with the tunic, and put on him the ephod;

(Lev 8:8) and girded him with a girdle according to the make of the ephod, and clasped him closely with it: and put upon it the oracle, and put upon the oracle the Manifestation and the Truth.

(Lev 8:9) And he put the mitre on his head, and put upon the mitre in front the golden plate, the most holy thing, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 8:10) And Moses took of the anointing oil,

(Lev 8:11) and sprinkled of it seven times on the altar; and anointed the altar, and hallowed it, and all things on it, and the laver, and its foot, and sanctified them; and anointed the tabernacle and all its furniture, and hallowed it.

(Lev 8:12) And Moses poured of the anointing oil on the head of Aaron; and he anointed him and sanctified him.

(Lev 8:13) And Moses brought the sons of Aaron near, and put on them coat and girded them with girdles, and put on them bonnets, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 8:14) And Moses brought near the calf for the sin-offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the calf of the sin-offering.

(Lev 8:15) And he slew it; and Moses took of the blood, and put it on the horns of the altar round about with his finger; and he purified the altar, and poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar, and sanctified it, to make atonement upon it.

(Lev 8:16) And Moses took all the fat that was upon the inwards, and the lobe on the liver, and both the kidneys, and the fat that was upon them, and Moses offered them on the altar.

(Lev 8:17) But the calf, and his hide, and his flesh, and his dung, he burnt with fire without the camp, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 8:18) And Moses brought near the ram for a whole-burnt-offering, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram. And Moses slew the ram: and Moses poured the blood on the altar round about.

(Lev 8:19) And he divided the ram by its limbs, and Moses offered the head, and the limbs, and the fat; and he washed the belly and the feet with water.

(Lev 8:20) And Moses offered up the whole ram on the altar: it is a whole-burnt-offering for a sweet-smelling savour; it is a burnt-offering to YHVH, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 8:21) And Moses brought the second ram, the ram of consecration, and Aaron and his sons laid their hands on the head of the ram, and he slew him;

(Lev 8:24) And he took the fat, and the rump, and the fat on the belly, and the lobe of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right shoulder.

(Lev 8:25) And from the basket of consecration, which was before YHVH, he also took one unleavened loaf, and one loaf made with oil, and one cake; and put them upon the fat, and the right shoulder:

(Lev 8:26) and put them all on the hands of Aaron, and upon the hands of his sons, and offered them up for a wave-offering before YHVH.

(Lev 8:27) And Moses took them at their hands, and Moses offered them on the altar, on the whole-burnt-offering of consecration, which is a smell of sweet savour: it is a burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 8:28) And Moses took the breast, and separated it for a heave-offering before YHVH, from the ram of consecration; and it became Moses' portion, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 8:29) And Moses took of the anointing oil, and of the blood that was on the altar, and sprinkled it on Aaron, and on his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him.

(Lev 8:30) And he sanctified Aaron and his garments, and his sons, and the garments of his sons with him.

(Lev 8:31) And Moses said to Aaron and to his sons, Boil the flesh in the tent of the tabernacle of witness in the holy place; and there ye shall eat it and the loaves in the basket of consecration, as it has been appointed me, YHVH saying, Aaron and his sons shall eat them.

(Lev 8:32) And that which is left of the flesh and of the loaves burn ye with fire.

(Lev 8:33) And ye shall not go out from the door of the tabernacle of witness for seven days, until the day be fulfilled, the day of your consecration; for in seven days shall he consecrate you, (Lev 8:34) as he did in this day on which YHVH commanded me to do so, to make an atonement for you.

(Lev 8:35) And ye shall remain seven days at the door of the tabernacle of witness, day and night; ye shall observe the ordinances of YHVH, that ye die not; for so has YHVH Elohim commanded me.

(Lev 8:36) And Aaron and his sons performed all these commands which YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 9:1) And it came to pass on the eighth day, that Moses called Aaron and his sons, and the elders of Israel, (Lev 9:2) and Moses said to Aaron, Take to thyself a young calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and a ram for a whole-burnt-offering, unblemished, and offer them before YHVH.

(Lev 9:3) And speak to the elders of Israel, saying, Take one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and a young calf, and a lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering, spotless, (Lev 9:4) and a calf and a ram for a peace offering before YHVH, and fine flour mingled with oil, for to-day YHVH will appear among you.

(Lev 9:5) And they took as Moses commanded them before the tabernacle of witness, and all the congregation drew nigh, and they stood before YHVH.

(Lev 9:6) And Moses said, This is the thing which YHVH has spoken; do it, and the glory of YHVH shall appear among you.

(Lev 9:7) And Moses said to Aaron, Draw nigh to the altar, and offer thy sin-offering, and thy whole-burnt-offering, and make atonement for thyself, and for thy house; and offer the gifts of the people, and make atonement for them, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 9:8) And Aaron drew nigh to the altar, and slew the calf of his sin-offering.

(Lev 9:9) And the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he dipped his finger into the blood, and put it on the horns of the altar, and he poured out the blood at the bottom of the altar.

(Lev 9:10) And he offered up on the altar the fat and the kidneys and the lobe of the liver of the sin-offering, according as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 9:11) And the flesh and the hide he burnt with fire outside of the camp.

(Lev 9:12) And he slew the whole-burnt-offering; and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it on the altar round about.

(Lev 9:13) And they brought the whole-burnt-offering, according to its pieces; them and the head he put upon the altar.

(Lev 9:14) And he washed the belly and the feet with water, and he put them on the whole-burnt-offering on the altar.

(Lev 9:15) And he brought the gift of the people, and took the goat of the sin-offering of the people, and slew it, and purified it as also the first.

(Lev 9:16) And he brought the whole-burnt-offering, and offered it in due form.

(Lev 9:17) And he brought the sacrifice and filled his hands with it, and laid it on the altar, besides the morning whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 9:18) And he slew the calf, and the ram of the sacrifice of peace-offering of the people; and the sons of Aaron brought the blood to him, and he poured it out on the altar round about.

(Lev 9:19) And he took the fat of the calf, and the hind quarters of the ram, and the fat covering the belly, and the two kidneys, and the fat upon them, and the caul on the liver.

(Lev 9:20) And he put the fat on the breasts, and offered the fat on the altar.

(Lev 9:21) And Aaron separated the breast and the right shoulder as a choice-offering before YHVH, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 9:22) And Aaron lifted up his hands on the people and blessed them; and after he had offered the sin-offering, and the whole-burnt-offerings, and the peace-offerings, he came down.

(Lev 9:23) And Moses and Aaron entered into the tabernacle of witness. And they came out and blessed all the people, and the glory of YHVH appeared to all the people.

(Lev 9:24) And fire came forth from YHVH, and devoured the offerings on the altar, both the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat; and all the people saw, and were amazed, and fell upon their faces.

(Lev 10:1) And the two sons of Aaron, Nadab and Abiud, took each his censer, and put fire therein, and threw incense thereon, and offered strange fire before YHVH, which YHVH did not command them, (Lev 10:2) and fire came forth from YHVH, and devoured them, and they died before YHVH.

(Lev 10:3) And Moses said to Aaron, This is the thing which YHVH spoke, saying, I will be sanctified among them that draw nigh to me, and I will be glorified in the whole congregation; and Aaron was pricked in his heart.

(Lev 10:4) And Moses called Misadai, and Elisaphan, sons of Oziel, sons of the brother of Aaron's father, and said to them, Draw near and take your brethren from before the sanctuary out of the camp.

(Lev 10:5) And they came near and took them in their coats out of the camp, as Moses said.

(Lev 10:6) And Moses said to Aaron, and Eleazar and Ithamar his sons that were left, Ye shall not make bare your heads, and ye shall not tear your garments; that ye die not, and so there should be wrath on all the congregation: but your brethren, even all the house of Israel, shall lament for the burning, with which they were burnt by YHVH.

(Lev 10:7) And ye shall not go forth from the door of the tabernacle of witness, that ye die not; for YHVH's anointing oil is upon you: and they did according to the word of Moses.

(Lev 10:8) And YHVH spoke to Aaron, saying,

(Lev 10:9) Ye shall not drink wine nor strong drink, thou and thy sons with thee, whensoever ye enter into the tabernacle of witness, or when ye approach the altar, so shall ye not die; it is a perpetual statute for your generations,

(Lev 10:10) to distinguish between sacred and profane, and between clean and unclean, (Lev 10:11) and to teach the children of Israel all the statutes, which YHVH spoke to them by Moses.

(Lev 10:12) And Moses said to Aaron, and to Eleazar and Ithamar, the sons of Aaron who survived, Take the sacrifice that is left of the burnt-offerings of YHVH, and ye shall eat unleavened bread by the altar: it is most holy.

(Lev 10:13) And ye shall eat it in the holy place; for this is a statute for thee and a statute for thy sons, of the burnt-offerings to YHVH; for so it has been commanded me.

(Lev 10:14) And ye shall eat the breast of separation, and the shoulder of the choice-offering in the holy place, thou and thy sons and thy house with thee; for it has been given as an ordinance for thee and an ordinance for thy sons, of the sacrifices of peace-offering of the children of Israel.

(Lev 10:15) They shall bring the shoulder of the choice-offering, and the breast of the separation upon the burnt-offerings of the fat, to separate for a separation before YHVH; and it shall be a perpetual ordinance for thee and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 10:16) And Moses diligently sought the goat of the sin-offering, but it had been consumed by fire; and Moses was angry with Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron that were left, saying, (Lev 10:17) Why did ye not eat the sin-offering in the holy place? for because it is most holy he has given you this to eat, that ye might take away the sin of the congregation, and make atonement for them before YHVH.

(Lev 10:18) For the blood of it was not brought into the holy place: ye shall eat it within, before YHVH, as YHVH commanded me.

(Lev 10:19) And Aaron spoke to Moses, saying, If they have brought nigh to-day their sin-offerings, and their whole-burnt-offerings before YHVH, and these events have happened to me, and yet I should eat to-day of the sin-offerings, would it be pleasing to YHVH?

(Lev 10:20) And Moses heard it, and it pleased him.

(Lev 11:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Lev 11:2) Speak ye to the sons of Israel, saying, These are the beasts which ye shall eat of all beasts that are upon the earth.

(Lev 11:3) Every beast parting the hoof and making divisions of two claws, and chewing the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat.

(Lev 11:4) But of these ye shall not eat, of those that chew the cud, and of those that part the hoofs, and divide claws; the camel, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you.

(Lev 11:5) And the rabbit, because it chews the cud, but does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you.

(Lev 11:6) And the hare, because it does not chew the cud, and does not divide the hoof, this is unclean to you.

(Lev 11:7) And the swine, because this animal divides the hoof, and makes claws of the hoof, and it does not chew the cud, is unclean to you.

(Lev 11:8) Ye shall not eat of their flesh, and ye shall not touch their carcasses; these are unclean to you.

(Lev 11:9) And these are what ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all things that have fins and scales in the waters, and in the seas, and in the brooks, these ye shall eat.

(Lev 11:10) And all things which have not fins or scales in the water, or in the seas, and in the brooks, of all which the waters produce, and of every soul living in the water, are an abomination; and they shall be abominations to you.

(Lev 11:11) Ye shall not eat of their flesh, and ye shall abhor their carcasses.

(Lev 11:12) And all things that have not fins or scales of those that are in the waters, these are an abomination to you.

(Lev 11:13) And these are the things which ye shall abhor of birds, and they shall not be eaten, they are an abomination: the eagle and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle.

(Lev 11:14) And the vulture, and the kite, and the like to it;

(Lev 11:15) and the sparrow, and the owl, and the sea-mew, and the like to it:

(Lev 11:16) and every raven, and the birds like it, and the hawk and his like,
(Lev 11:17) and the night-raven and the cormorant and the stork,
(Lev 11:18) and the red-bill, and the pelican, and swan, (Lev 11:19) and the heron, and the lapwing, and the like to it, and the hoopoe and the bat.
(Lev 11:20) And all winged creatures that creep, which go upon four feet, are abominations to you.
(Lev 11:21) But these ye shall eat of the creeping winged animals, which go upon four feet, which have legs above their feet, to leap with on the earth.
(Lev 11:22) And these of them ye shall eat: the caterpillar and his like, and the attacus and his like, and the cantharus and his like, and the locust and his like.
(Lev 11:23) Every creeping thing from among the birds, which has four feet, is an abomination to you.
(Lev 11:24) And by these ye shall be defiled; every one that touches their carcasses shall be unclean till the evening.
(Lev 11:25) And every one that takes of their dead bodies shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean till the evening.
(Lev 11:26) And whichever among the beasts divides the hoof and makes claws, and does not chew the cud, shall be unclean to you; every one that touches their dead bodies shall be unclean till evening.
(Lev 11:27) And every one among all the wild beasts that moves upon its fore feet, which goes on all four, is unclean to you; every one that touches their dead bodies shall be unclean till evening.
(Lev 11:28) And he that takes of their dead bodies shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean till evening: these are unclean to you.
(Lev 11:29) And these are unclean to you of reptiles upon the earth, the weasel, and the mouse, and the lizard, (Lev 11:30) the ferret, and the chameleon, and the evet, and the newt, and the mole.
(Lev 11:31) These are unclean to you of all the reptiles which are on the earth; every one who touches their carcasses shall be unclean till evening.
(Lev 11:32) And on whatsoever one of their dead bodies shall fall it shall be unclean; whatever wooden vessel, or garment, or skin, or sack it may be, every vessel in which work should be done, shall be dipped in water, and shall be unclean till evening; and then it shall be clean.
(Lev 11:33) And every earthen vessel into which one of these things shall fall, whatsoever is inside it, shall be unclean, and it shall be broken.
(Lev 11:34) And all food that is eaten, on which water shall come from such a vessel, shall be unclean; and every beverage which is drunk in any such vessel, shall be unclean.
(Lev 11:35) And every thing on which there shall fall of their dead bodies shall be unclean; ovens and stands for jars shall be broken down: these are unclean, and they shall be unclean to you.
(Lev 11:36) Only if the water be of fountains of water, or a pool, or confluence of water, it shall be clean; but he that touches their carcasses shall be unclean.
(Lev 11:37) And if one of their carcasses should fall upon any sowing seed which shall be sown, it shall be clean.
(Lev 11:38) But if water be poured on any seed, and one of their dead bodies fall upon it, it is unclean to you.

(Lev 11:39) And if one of the cattle die, which it is lawful for you to eat, he that touches their carcasses shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 11:40) And he that eats of their carcasses shall wash his garments, and be unclean till evening; and he that carries any of their carcasses shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean till evening.

(Lev 11:41) And every reptile that creeps on the earth, this shall be an abomination to you; it shall not be eaten.

(Lev 11:42) And every animal that creeps on its belly, and every one that goes on four feet continually, which abounds with feet among all the reptiles creeping upon the earth ye shall not eat it, for it is an abomination to you.

(Lev 11:43) And ye shall not defile your souls with any of the reptiles that creep upon the earth, and ye shall not be polluted with them, and ye shall not be unclean by them.

(Lev 11:44) For I am YHVH your Elohim; and ye shall be sanctified, and ye shall be holy, because I YHVH your Elohim am holy; and ye shall not defile your souls with any of the reptiles creeping upon the earth.

(Lev 11:45) For I am YHVH who brought you up out of the land of Egypt to be your Elohim; and ye shall be holy, for I YHVH am holy.

(Lev 11:46) This is the law concerning beasts and birds and every living creature moving in the water, and every living creature creeping on the earth;

(Lev 11:47) to distinguish between the unclean and the clean; and between those that bring forth alive, such as should be eaten, and those that bring forth alive, such as should not be eaten.

(Lev 12:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 12:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatsoever woman shall have conceived and born a male child shall be unclean seven days, she shall be unclean according to the days of separation for her monthly courses.

(Lev 12:3) And on the eighth day she shall circumcise the flesh of his foreskin.

(Lev 12:4) And for thirty-three days she shall continue in her unclean blood; she shall touch nothing holy, and shall not enter the sanctuary, until the days of her purification be fulfilled.

(Lev 12:5) But if she should have born a female child, then she shall be unclean twice seven days, according to the time of her monthly courses; and for sixty-six days shall she remain in her unclean blood.

(Lev 12:6) And when the days of her purification shall have been fulfilled for a son or a daughter, she shall bring a lamb of a year old without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering, and a young pigeon or turtle-dove for a sin-offering to the door of the tabernacle of witness, to the priest.

(Lev 12:7) And he shall present it before YHVH, and the priest shall make atonement for her, and shall purge her from the fountain of her blood; this is the law of her who bears a male or a female.

(Lev 12:8) And if she cannot afford a lamb, then shall she take two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, one for a whole-burnt-offering, and one for a sin-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for her, and she shall be purified.

(Lev 13:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Lev 13:2) If any man should have in the skin of his flesh a bright clear spot, and there should be in the skin of his flesh a plague of leprosy, he shall be brought to Aaron the priest, or to one of his sons the priests.

(Lev 13:3) And the priest shall view the spot in the skin of his flesh; and if the hair in the spot be changed to white, and the appearance of the spot be below the skin of the flesh, it is a plague of leprosy; and the priest shall look upon it, and pronounce him unclean.

(Lev 13:4) But if the spot be clear and white in the skin of his flesh, yet the appearance of it be not deep below the skin, and its hair have not changed itself for white hair, but it is dark, then the priest shall separate him that has the spot seven days;

(Lev 13:5) and the priest shall look on the spot the seventh day; and, behold, if the spot remains before him, if the spot has not spread in the skin, then the priest shall separate him the second time seven days.

(Lev 13:6) And the priest shall look upon him the second time on the seventh day; and, behold, if the spot be dark, and the spot have not spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; for it is a mere mark, and the man shall wash his garments and be clean.

(Lev 13:7) But if the bright spot should have changed and spread in the skin, after the priest has seen him for the purpose of purifying him, then shall he appear the second time to the priest, (Lev 13:8) and the priest shall look upon him; and, behold, if the mark have spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a leprosy.

(Lev 13:9) And if a man have a plague of leprosy, then he shall come to the priest;

(Lev 13:10) and the priest shall look, and, behold, if it is a white spot in the skin, and it has changed the hair to white, and there be some of the sound part of the quick flesh in the sore

(Lev 13:11) it is a leprosy waxing old in the skin of the flesh; and the priest shall pronounce him unclean, and shall separate him, because he is unclean.

(Lev 13:12) And if the leprosy should have come out very evidently in the skin, and the leprosy should cover all the skin of the patient from the head to the feet, wheresoever the priest shall look;

(Lev 13:13) then the priest shall look, and, behold, the leprosy has covered all the skin of the flesh; and the priest shall pronounce him clean of the plague, because it has changed all to white, it is clean.

(Lev 13:14) But on whatsoever day the quick flesh shall appear on him, he shall be pronounced unclean.

(Lev 13:15) And the priest shall look upon the sound flesh, and the sound flesh shall prove him to be unclean; for it is unclean, it is a leprosy.

(Lev 13:16) But if the sound flesh be restored and changed to white, then shall he come to the priest;

(Lev 13:17) and the priest shall see him, and, behold, if the plague is turned white, then the priest shall pronounce the patient clean: he is clean.

(Lev 13:18) And if the flesh should have become an ulcer in his skin, and should be healed,

(Lev 13:19) and there should be in the place of the ulcer a white sore, or one looking white and bright, or fiery, and it shall be seen by the priest;

(Lev 13:20) then the priest shall look, and, behold, if the appearance be beneath the skin, and its hair has changed to white, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean; because it is a leprosy, it has broken out in the ulcer. (Lev 13:21) But if the priest look, and behold there is no white hair on it, and it be not below the skin of the flesh, and it be dark-coloured; then the priest shall separate him seven days.

(Lev 13:22) But if it manifestly spread over the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy; it has broken out in the ulcer.

(Lev 13:23) But if the bright spot should remain in its place and not spread, it is the scar of the ulcer; and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

(Lev 13:24) And if the flesh be in his skin in a state of fiery inflammation, and there should be in his skin the part which is healed of the inflammation, bright, clear, and white, suffused with red or very white;

(Lev 13:25) then the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the hair being white is changed to a bright colour, and its appearance is lower than the skin, it is a leprosy; it has broken out in the inflammation, and the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy.

(Lev 13:26) But if the priest should look, and, behold, there is not in the bright spot any white hair, and it should not be lower than the skin, and it should be dark, then the priest shall separate him seven days.

(Lev 13:27) And the priest shall look upon him on the seventh day; and if the spot be much spread in the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a plague of leprosy, it has broken out in the ulcer.

(Lev 13:28) But if the bright spot remain stationary, and be not spread in the skin, but the sore should be dark, it is a scar of inflammation; and the priest shall pronounce him clean, for it is the mark of the inflammation.

(Lev 13:29) And if a man or a woman have in them a plague of leprosy in the head or the beard;

(Lev 13:30) then the priest shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the appearance of it be beneath the skin, and in it there be thin yellowish hair, then the priest shall pronounce him unclean: it is a scurf, it is a leprosy of the head or a leprosy of the beard.

(Lev 13:31) And if the priest should see the plague of the scurf, and, behold, the appearance of it be not beneath the skin, and there is no yellowish hair in it, then the priest shall set apart him that has the plague of the scurf seven days.

(Lev 13:32) And the priest shall look at the plague on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scurf be not spread, and there be no yellowish hair on it, and the appearance of the scurf is not hollow under the skin;

(Lev 13:33) then the skin shall be shaven, but the scurf shall not be shaven; and the priest shall set aside the person having the scurf the second time for seven days.

(Lev 13:34) And the priest shall see the scurf on the seventh day; and, behold, if the scurf is not spread in the skin after the man's being shaved, and the appearance of the scurf is not hollow beneath the skin, then the priest shall pronounce him clean; and he shall wash his garments, and be clean.

(Lev 13:35) But if the scurf be indeed spread in the skin after he has been purified, (Lev 13:36) then the priest shall look, and, behold, if the scurf be spread in the skin, the priest shall not examine concerning the yellow hair, for he is unclean.

(Lev 13:37) But if the scurf remain before him in its place, and a dark hair should have arisen in it, the scurf is healed: he is clean, and the priest shall pronounce him clean.

(Lev 13:38) And if a man or woman should have in the skin of their flesh spots of a bright whiteness, (Lev 13:39) then the priest shall look; and, behold, there being bright spots of a bright whiteness in the skin of their flesh, it is a tetter; it burst forth in the skin of his flesh; he is clean.

(Lev 13:40) And if any one's head should lose the hair, he is only bald, he is clean.

(Lev 13:41) And if his head should lose the hair in front, he is forehead bald: he is clean.

(Lev 13:42) And if there should be in his baldness of head, or his baldness of forehead, a white or fiery plague, it is leprosy in his baldness of head, or baldness of forehead.

(Lev 13:43) And the priest shall look upon him, and, behold, if the appearance of the plague be white or inflamed in his baldness of head or baldness in front, as the appearance of leprosy in the skin of his flesh, (Lev 13:44) he is a leprous man: the priest shall surely pronounce him unclean, his plague is in his head.

(Lev 13:45) And the leper in whom the plague is, let his garments be ungirt, and his head uncovered; and let him have a covering put upon his mouth, and he shall be called unclean.

(Lev 13:46) All the days in which the plague shall be upon him, being unclean, he shall be esteemed unclean; he shall dwell apart, his place of sojourn shall be without the camp.

(Lev 13:47) And if a garment have in it the plague of leprosy, a garment of wool, or a garment of flax,

(Lev 13:48) either in the warp or in the woof, or in the linen, or in the woollen threads, or in a skin, or in any workmanship of skin,

(Lev 13:49) and the plague be greenish or reddish in the skin, or in the garment, either in the warp, or in the woof, or in any utensil of skin, it is a plague of leprosy, and he shall show it to the priest.

(Lev 13:50) And the priest shall look upon the plague, and the priest shall set apart that which has the plague seven days.

(Lev 13:51) And the priest shall look upon the plague on the seventh day; and if the plague be spread in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in the skin, in whatsoever things skins may be used in their workmanship, the plague is a confirmed leprosy; it is unclean.

(Lev 13:52) He shall burn the garment, either the warp or woof in woollen garments or in flaxen, or in any utensil of skin, in which there may be the plague; because it is a confirmed leprosy; it shall be burnt with fire.

(Lev 13:53) And if the priest should see, and the plague be not spread in the garments, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any utensil of skin, (Lev 13:54) then the priest shall give directions, and one shall wash that on which there may have been the plague, and the priest shall set it aside a second time for seven days.

(Lev 13:55) And the priest shall look upon it after the plague has been washed; and if this, even the plague, has not changed its appearance, and the plague does not spread, it is unclean; it shall be burnt with fire: it is fixed in the garment, in the warp, or in the woof.

(Lev 13:56) And if the priest should look, and the spot be dark after it has been washed, he shall tear it off from the garment, either from the warp or from the woof, or from the skin.

(Lev 13:57) And if it should still appear in the garment, either in the warp or in the woof, or in any article of skin, it is a leprosy bursting forth: that wherein is the plague shall be burnt with fire.

(Lev 13:58) And the garment, or the warp, or the woof, or any article of skin, which shall be washed, and the plague depart from it, shall also be washed again, and shall be clean.

(Lev 13:59) This is the law of the plague of leprosy of a woollen or linen garment, either of the warp, or woof, or any leathern article, to pronounce it clean or unclean.

(Lev 14:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 14:2) This is the law of the leper: in whatsoever day he shall have been cleansed, then shall he be brought to the priest.

(Lev 14:3) And the priest shall come forth out of the camp, and the priest shall look, and, behold, the plague of the leprosy is removed from the leper.

(Lev 14:4) And the priest shall give directions, and they shall take for him that is cleansed two clean live birds, and cedar wood, and spun scarlet, and hyssop.

(Lev 14:5) And the priest shall give direction, and they shall kill one bird over an earthen vessel over running water.

(Lev 14:6) And as for the living bird he shall take it, and the cedar wood, and the spun scarlet, and the hyssop, and he shall dip them and the living bird into the blood of the bird that was slain over running water.

(Lev 14:7) And he shall sprinkle seven times upon him that was cleansed of his leprosy, and he shall be clean; and he shall let go the living bird into the field.

(Lev 14:8) and the man that has been cleansed shall wash his garments, and shall shave off all his hair, and shall wash himself in water, and shall be clean; and after that he shall go into the camp, and shall remain out of his house seven days.

(Lev 14:9) And it shall come to pass on the seventh day, he shall shave off all his hair, his head and his beard, and his eye-brows, even all his hair shall he shave; and he shall wash his garments, and wash his body with water, and shall be clean.

(Lev 14:10) And on the eighth day he shall take two lambs without spot of a year old, and one ewe lamb without spot of a year old, and three-tenths of fine flour for sacrifice kneaded with oil, and one small cup of oil.

(Lev 14:11) And the priest that cleanses shall present the man under purification, and these offerings before YHVH, at the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 14:12) And the priest shall take one lamb, and offer him for a trespass-offering, and the cup of oil, and set them apart for a special offering before YHVH.

(Lev 14:13) and they shall kill the lamb in the place where they kill the whole-burnt-offerings, and the sin-offerings, in the holy places; for it is a sin-offering: as the trespass-offering, it belongs to the priest, it is most holy.

(Lev 14:15) And the priest shall take of the cup of oil, and shall pour it upon his own left hand.

(Lev 14:16) And he shall dip with the finger of his right hand into some of the oil that is in his left hand, and he shall sprinkle with his finger seven times before YHVH.

(Lev 14:17) And the remaining oil that is in his hand, the priest shall put on the tip of the right ear of him that is under cleansing, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering.

(Lev 14:18) And the remaining oil that is on the hand of the priest, the priest shall put on the head of the cleansed leper, and the priest shall make atonement for him before YHVH.

(Lev 14:19) And the priest shall sacrifice the sin-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for the person under purification to cleanse him from his sin, and afterwards the priest shall slay the whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 14:20) And the priest shall offer the whole-burnt-offering, and the sacrifice upon the altar before YHVH; and the priest shall make atonement for him, and he shall be cleansed.

(Lev 14:21) And if he should be poor, and cannot afford so much, he shall take one lamb for his transgression for a separate-offering, so as to make propitiation for him, and a tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for a sacrifice, and one cup of oil, (Lev 14:22) and two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, as he can afford; and the one shall be for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 14:23) And he shall bring them on the eighth day, to purify him, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of witness before YHVH.

(Lev 14:24) And the priest shall take the lamb of the trespass-offering, and the cup of oil, and place them for a set-offering before YHVH.

(Lev 14:25) And he shall slay the lamb of the trespass-offering; and the priest shall take of the blood of the trespass-offering, and put it on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot.

(Lev 14:28) And the priest shall put of the oil that is on his hand on the tip of the right ear of him that is under purification, and on the thumb of his right hand, and on the great toe of his right foot, on the place of the blood of the trespass-offering.

(Lev 14:29) And that which is left of the oil which is on the hand of the priest he shall put on the head of him that is purged, and the priest shall make atonement for him before YHVH.

(Lev 14:30) And he shall offer one of the turtle-doves or of the young pigeons, as he can afford it,

(Lev 14:31) the one for a sin-offering, the other for a whole-burnt-offering with the meat-offering, and the priest shall make an atonement before YHVH for him that is under purification.

(Lev 14:32) This is the law for him in whom is the plague of leprosy, and who cannot afford the offerings for his purification.

(Lev 14:33) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Lev 14:34) Whensoever ye shall enter into the land of the Chananites, which I give you for a possession, and I shall put the plague of leprosy in the houses of the land of your possession;

(Lev 14:35) then the owner of the house shall come and report to the priest, saying, I have seen as it were a plague in the house.

(Lev 14:36) And the priest shall give orders to remove the furniture of the house, before the priest comes in to see the plague, and thus none of the things in the house shall become unclean; and afterwards the priest shall go in to examine the house.

(Lev 14:37) And he shall look on the plague, and, behold, if the plague is in the walls of the house, he will see greenish or reddish cavities, and the appearance of them will be beneath the surface of the walls.

(Lev 14:38) And the priest shall come out of the house to the door of the house, and the priest shall separate the house seven days.

(Lev 14:39) And the priest shall return on the seventh day and view the house; and, behold, if the plague is spread in the walls of the house,

(Lev 14:40) then the priest shall give orders, and they shall take away the stones in which the plague is, and shall cast them out of the city into an unclean place.

(Lev 14:41) And they shall scrape the house within round about, and shall pour out the dust scraped off outside the city into an unclean place.

(Lev 14:42) And they shall take other scraped stones, and put them in the place of the former stones, and they shall take other plaster and plaster the house.

(Lev 14:43) And if the plague should return again, and break out in the house after they have taken away the stones and after the house is scraped, and after it has been plastered, (Lev 14:44) then the priest shall go in and see if the plague is spread in the house: it is a confirmed leprosy in the house, it is unclean.

(Lev 14:45) And they shall take down the house, and its timbers and its stones, and they shall carry out all the mortar without the city into an unclean place.

(Lev 14:46) And he that goes into the house at any time, during its separation, shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 14:47) And he that sleeps in the house shall wash his garments, and be unclean until evening; and he that eats in the house shall wash his garments, and be unclean until evening.

(Lev 14:48) and if the priest shall arrive and enter and see, and behold the plague be not at all spread in the house after the house has been plastered, then the priest shall declare the house clean, because the plague is healed.

(Lev 14:49) And he shall take to purify the house two clean living birds, and cedar wood, and spun scarlet, and hyssop.

(Lev 14:50) And he shall slay one bird in an earthen vessel over running water.

(Lev 14:51) And he shall take the cedar wood, and the spun scarlet, and the hyssop, and the living bird; and shall dip it into the blood of the bird slain over running water, and with them he shall sprinkle the house seven times.

(Lev 14:52) and he shall purify the house with the blood of the bird, and with the running water, and with the living bird, and with the cedar wood, and with the hyssop, and with the spun scarlet.

(Lev 14:53) And he shall let the living bird go out of the city into the field, and shall make atonement for the house, and it shall be clean.

(Lev 14:54) This is the law concerning every plague of leprosy and scurf,

(Lev 14:55) and of the leprosy of a garment, and of a house,

(Lev 14:56) and of a sore, and of a clear spot, and of a shining one,

(Lev 14:57) and of declaring in what day it is unclean, and in what day it shall be purged: this is the law of the leprosy.

(Lev 15:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Lev 15:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatever man shall have an issue out of his body, his issue is unclean.

(Lev 15:3) And this is the law of his uncleanness; whoever has a gonorrhoea out of his body, this is his uncleanness in him by reason of the issue, by which, his body is affected through the issue: all the days of the issue of his body, by which his body is affected through the issue, there is his uncleanness.

(Lev 15:4) Every bed on which he that has the issue shall happen to lie, is unclean; and every seat on which he that has the issue may happen to sit, shall be unclean.

(Lev 15:5) And the man who shall touch his bed, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 15:6) And whosoever sits on the seat on which he that has the issue may have sat, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:7) And he that touches the skin of him that has the issue, shall wash his garments and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 15:8) And if he that has the issue should spit upon one that is clean, that person shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:9) And every ass's saddle, on which the man with the issue shall have mounted, shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 15:10) And every one that touches whatsoever shall have been under him shall be unclean until evening; and he that takes them up shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:11) And whomsoever he that has the issue shall touch, if he have not rinsed his hands in water, he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:12) And the earthen vessel which he that has the issue shall happen to touch, shall be broken; and a wooden vessel shall be washed with water, and shall be clean.

(Lev 15:13) and if he that has the issue should be cleansed of his issue, then shall he number to himself seven days for his purification; and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be clean.

(Lev 15:14) And on the eighth day he shall take to himself two turtle-doves or two young pigeons, and he shall bring them before YHVH to the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall give them to the priest.

(Lev 15:15) And the priest shall offer them one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him before YHVH for his issue.

(Lev 15:16) And the man whose seed of copulation shall happen to go forth from him, shall then wash his whole body, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:17) And every garment, and every skin on which there shall be the seed of copulation shall both be washed with water, and be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:18) And a woman, if a man shall lie with her with seed of copulation they shall both bathe themselves in water and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:19) And the woman whosoever shall have an issue of blood, when her issue shall be in her body, shall be seven days in her separation; every one that touches her shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:20) And every thing whereon she shall lie in her separation, shall be unclean; and whatever she shall sit upon, shall be unclean.

(Lev 15:21) And whosoever shall touch her bed shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:22) and every one that touches any vessel on which she shall sit, shall wash his garments and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Lev 15:23) And whether it be while she is on her bed, or on a seat which she may happen to sit upon when he touches her, he shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 15:24) And if any one shall lie with her, and her uncleanness be upon him, he shall be unclean seven days; and every bed on which he shall have lain shall be unclean.

(Lev 15:25) And if a woman have an issue of blood many days, not in the time of her separation; if the blood should also flow after her separation, all the days of the issue of her uncleanness shall be as the days of her separation: she shall be unclean.

(Lev 15:26) And every bed on which she shall lie all the days of her flux shall be to her as the bed of her separation, and every seat whereon she shall sit shall be unclean according to the uncleanness of her separation.

(Lev 15:27) Every one that touches it shall be unclean; and he shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and shall be unclean till evening.

(Lev 15:28) But if she shall be cleansed from her flux, then she shall number to herself seven days, and afterwards she shall be esteemed clean.

(Lev 15:29) And on the eighth day she shall take two turtle-doves, or two young pigeons, and shall bring them to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 15:30) And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering, and the priest shall make atonement for her before YHVH for her unclean flux.

(Lev 15:31) And ye shall cause the children of Israel to beware of their uncleanness; so they shall not die for their uncleanness, in polluting my tabernacle that is among them.

(Lev 15:32) This is the law of the man who has an issue, and if one discharge seed of copulation, so that he should be polluted by it.

(Lev 15:33) And this is the law for her that has the issue of blood in her separation, and as to the person who has an issue of seed, in his issue: it is a law for the male and the female, and for the man who shall have lain with her that is set apart.

(Lev 16:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses after the two sons of Aaron died in bringing strange fire before YHVH, so they died.

(Lev 16:2) And YHVH said to Moses, Speak to Aaron thy brother, and let him not come in at all times into the holy place within the veil before the propitiatory, which is upon the ark of the testimony, and he shall not die; for I will appear in a cloud on the propitiatory.

(Lev 16:3) Thus shall Aaron enter into the holy place; with a calf of the herd for a sin-offering, and having a ram for a whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 16:4) And he shall put on the consecrated linen tunic, and he shall have on his flesh the linen drawers, and shall gird himself with a linen girdle, and shall put on the linen cap, they are holy garments; and he shall bathe all his body in water, and shall put them on.

(Lev 16:5) And he shall take of the congregation of the children of Israel two kids of the goats for a sin-offering, and one lamb for a whole-burnt-offering.

(Lev 16:6) And Aaron shall bring the calf for his own sin-offering, and shall make atonement for himself and for his house.

(Lev 16:7) And he shall take the two goats, and place them before YHVH by the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Lev 16:8) and Aaron shall cast lots upon the two goats, one lot for YHVH, and the other for the scape-goat.

(Lev 16:9) And Aaron shall bring forward the goat on which the lot for YHVH fell, and shall offer him for a sin-offering.

(Lev 16:10) and the goat upon which the lot of the scape-goat came, he shall present alive before YHVH, to make atonement upon him, so as to send him away as a scape-goat, and he shall send him into the wilderness.

(Lev 16:11) And Aaron shall bring the calf for his sin, and he shall make atonement for himself and for his house, and he shall kill the calf for his sin-offering.

(Lev 16:12) And he shall take his censer full of coals of fire off the altar, which is before YHVH; and he shall fill his hands with fine compound incense, and shall bring it within the veil.

(Lev 16:13) And he shall put the incense on the fire before YHVH, and the smoke of the incense shall cover the mercy-seat over the tables of testimony, and he shall not die.

(Lev 16:14) And he shall take of the blood of the calf, and sprinkle with his finger on the mercy-seat eastward: before the mercy-seat shall he sprinkle seven times of the blood with his finger.

(Lev 16:15) And he shall kill the goat for the sin-offering that is for the people, before YHVH; and he shall bring in of its blood within the veil, and shall do with its blood as he did with the blood of the calf, and shall sprinkle its blood on the mercy-seat, in front of the mercy-seat.

(Lev 16:16) and he shall make atonement for the sanctuary on account of the uncleanness of the children of Israel, and for their trespasses in the matter of all their sins; and thus shall he do to the tabernacle of witness established among them in the midst of their uncleanness.

(Lev 16:17) and there shall be no man in the tabernacle of witness, when he goes in to make atonement in the holy place, until he shall have come out; and he shall make atonement for himself, and for his house, and for all the congregation of the children of Israel.

(Lev 16:18) And he shall come forth to the altar that is before YHVH, and he shall make atonement upon it; and he shall take of the blood of the calf, and of the blood of the goat, and shall put it on the horns of the altar round about.

(Lev 16:19) And he shall sprinkle some of the blood upon it seven times with his finger, and shall purge it, and hallow it from the uncleanness of the children of Israel.

(Lev 16:20) And he shall finish making atonement for the sanctuary and for the tabernacle of witness, and for the altar; and he shall make a cleansing for the priests, and he shall bring the living goat;

(Lev 16:21) and Aaron shall lay his hands on the head of the live goat, and he shall declare over him all the iniquities of the children of Israel, and all their unrighteousness, and all their sins; and he shall lay them upon the head of the live goat, and shall send him by the hand of a ready man into the wilderness.

(Lev 16:22) And the goat shall bear their unrighteousnesses upon him into a desert land; and Aaron shall send away the goat into the wilderness.

(Lev 16:23) And Aaron shall enter into the tabernacle of witness, and shall put off the linen garment, which he had put on, as he entered into the holy place, and shall lay it by there.

(Lev 16:24) And he shall bathe his body in water in the holy place, and shall put on his raiment, and shall go out and offer the whole-burnt-offering for himself and the whole-burnt-offering for the people: and shall make atonement for himself and for his house, and for the people, as for the priests.

(Lev 16:25) And he shall offer the fat for the sin-offering on the altar.

(Lev 16:26) And he that sends forth the goat that has been set apart to be let go, shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards shall enter into the camp.

(Lev 16:27) And the calf for the sin-offering, and the goat for the sin-offering, whose blood was brought in to make atonement in the holy place, they shall carry forth out of the camp, and burn them with fire, even their skins and their flesh and their dung.

(Lev 16:28) And he that burns them shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards he shall enter into the camp.

(Lev 16:29) And this shall be a perpetual statute for you; in the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall humble your souls, and shall do no work, the native and the stranger who abides among you.

(Lev 16:30) For in this day he shall make an atonement for you, to cleanse you from all your sins before YHVH, and ye shall be purged.

(Lev 16:31) This shall be to you a most holy Sabbath, a rest, and ye shall humble your souls; it is a perpetual ordinance.

(Lev 16:32) The priest whomsoever they shall anoint shall make atonement, and whomsoever they shall consecrate to exercise the priestly office after his father; and he shall put on the linen robe, the holy garment.

(Lev 16:33) And he shall make atonement for the most holy place, and the tabernacle of witness; and he shall make atonement for the altar, and for the priests; and he shall make atonement for all the congregation.

(Lev 16:34) And this shall be to you a perpetual statute to make atonement for the children of Israel for all their sins: it shall be done once in the year, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 17:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 17:2) Speak to Aaron and to his sons, and to all the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, This is the word which YHVH has commanded, saying,

(Lev 17:3) Every man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you, who shall kill a calf, or a sheep, or a goat in the camp, or who shall kill it out of the camp,

(Lev 17:4) and shall not bring it to the door of the tabernacle of witness, so as to sacrifice it for a whole-burnt-offering or peace-offering to YHVH to be acceptable for a sweet-smelling savour: and whosoever shall slay it without, and shall not bring it to the door of the tabernacle of witness, so as to offer it as a gift to YHVH before the tabernacle of YHVH; blood shall be imputed to that man, he has shed blood; that soul shall be cut off from his people.

(Lev 17:5) That the children of Israel may offer their sacrifices, all that they shall slay in the fields, and bring them to YHVH unto the doors of the tabernacle of witness to the priest, and they shall sacrifice them as a peace-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 17:6) And the priest shall pour the blood on the altar round about before YHVH by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall offer the fat for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH.

(Lev 17:7) And they shall no longer offer their sacrifices to vain gods after which they go a whoring; it shall be a perpetual statute to you for your generations.

(Lev 17:8) And thou shalt say to them, Whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the sons of the proselytes abiding among you, shall offer a whole-burnt-offering or a sacrifice, (Lev 17:9) and shall not bring it to the door of the tabernacle of witness to sacrifice it to YHVH, that man shall be destroyed from among his people.

(Lev 17:10) And whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you, shall eat any blood, I will even set my face against that soul that eats blood, and will destroy it from its people.

(Lev 17:11) For the life of flesh is its blood, and I have given it to you on the altar to make atonement for your souls; for its blood shall make atonement for the soul.

(Lev 17:12) Therefore I said to the children of Israel, No soul of you shall eat blood, and the stranger that abides among you shall not eat blood.

(Lev 17:13) And whatever man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers abiding among you shall take any animal in hunting, beast, or bird, which is eaten, then shall he pour out the blood, and cover it in the dust.

(Lev 17:14) For the blood of all flesh is its life; and I said to the children of Israel, Ye shall not eat the blood of any flesh, for the life of all flesh is its blood: every one that eats it shall be destroyed.

(Lev 17:15) And every soul which eats that which has died of itself, or is taken of beasts, either among the natives or among the strangers, shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening: then shall he be clean.

(Lev 17:16) But if he do not wash his garments, and do not bathe his body in water, then shall he bear his iniquity.

(Lev 18:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 18:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 18:3) Ye shall not do according to the devices of Egypt, in which ye dwelt: and according to the devices of the land of Chanaan, into which I bring you, ye shall not do; and ye shall not walk in their ordinances.

(Lev 18:4) Ye shall observe my judgments, and shall keep my ordinances, and shall walk in them: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 18:5) So ye shall keep all my ordinances, and all my judgments, and do them; which if a man do, he shall live in them: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 18:6) No man shall draw nigh to any of his near kindred to uncover their nakedness; I am YHVH.

(Lev 18:7) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father, or the nakedness of thy mother, for she is thy mother; thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

(Lev 18:8) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's wife; it is thy father's nakedness.

(Lev 18:9) The nakedness of thy sister by thy father or by thy mother, born at home or abroad, their nakedness thou shalt not uncover.

(Lev 18:10) The nakedness of thy son's daughter, or thy daughter's daughter, their nakedness thou shalt not uncover; because it is thy nakedness.

(Lev 18:11) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of the daughter of thy father's wife; she is thy sister by the same father: thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

(Lev 18:12) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister, for she is near akin to thy father.

(Lev 18:13) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy mother's sister, for she is near akin to thy mother.

(Lev 18:14) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's brother, and thou shalt not go in to his wife; for she is thy relation.

(Lev 18:15) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy daughter-in-law, for she is thy son's wife, thou shalt not uncover her nakedness.

(Lev 18:16) Thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy brother's wife: it is thy brother's nakedness.

(Lev 18:17) The nakedness of a woman and her daughter shalt thou not uncover; her son's daughter, and her daughter's daughter, shalt thou not take, to uncover their nakedness, for they are thy kinswomen: it is impiety.

(Lev 18:18) Thou shalt not take a wife in addition to her sister, as a rival, to uncover her nakedness in opposition to her, while she is yet living.

(Lev 18:19) And thou shalt not go in to a woman under separation for her uncleanness, to uncover her nakedness.

(Lev 18:20) And thou shalt not lie with thy neighbour's wife, to defile thyself with her.

(Lev 18:21) And thou shalt not give of thy seed to serve a ruler; and thou shalt not profane my holy name; I am YHVH.

(Lev 18:22) And thou shalt not lie with a man as with a woman, for it is an abomination.

(Lev 18:23) Neither shalt thou lie with any quadruped for copulation, to be polluted with it: neither shall a woman present herself before any quadruped to have connexion with it; for it is an abomination.

(Lev 18:24) Do not defile yourselves with any of these things; for in all these things the nations are defiled, which I drive out before you, (Lev 18:25) and the land is polluted; and I have recompensed their iniquity to them because of it, and the land is aggrieved with them that dwell upon it.

(Lev 18:26) And ye shall keep all my statutes and all my ordinances, and ye shall do none of these abominations; neither the native, nor the stranger that joins himself with you:

(Lev 18:27) (for all these abominations the men of the land did who were before you, and the land was defiled,)

(Lev 18:28) and lest the land be aggrieved with you in your polluting it, as it was aggrieved with the nations before you.

(Lev 18:29) For whosoever shall do any of these abominations, the souls that do them shall be destroyed from among their people.

(Lev 18:30) And ye shall keep mine ordinances, that ye may not do any of the abominable practices, which have taken place before your time: and ye shall not be polluted in them; for I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 19:2) Speak to the congregation of the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye shall be holy; for I YHVH your Elohim am holy.

(Lev 19:3) Let every one of you reverence his father and his mother; and ye shall keep my Sabbaths: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:4) Ye shall not follow idols, and ye shall not make to yourselves molten gods: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:5) And if ye will sacrifice a peace-offering to YHVH, ye shall offer it acceptable from yourselves.

(Lev 19:6) In what day soever ye shall sacrifice it, it shall be eaten; and on the following day, and if any of it should be left till the third day, it shall be thoroughly burnt with fire.

(Lev 19:7) And if it should be at all eaten on the third day, it is unfit for sacrifice: it shall not be accepted.

(Lev 19:8) And he that eats it shall bear his iniquity, because he has profaned the holy things of YHVH; and the souls that eat it shall be destroyed from among their people.

(Lev 19:9) And when ye reap the harvest of your land, ye shall not complete the reaping of your field with exactness, and thou shalt not gather that which falls from thy reaping.

(Lev 19:10) And thou shalt not go over the gathering of thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather the remaining grapes of thy vineyard: thou shalt leave them for the poor and the stranger: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:11) Ye shall not steal, ye shall not lie, neither shall one bear false witness as an informer against his neighbour.

(Lev 19:12) And ye shall not swear unjustly by my name, and ye shall not profane the holy name of your Elohim: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:13) Thou shalt not injure thy neighbour, neither do thou rob him, neither shall the wages of thy hireling remain with thee until the morning.

(Lev 19:14) Thou shalt not revile the deaf, neither shalt thou put a stumbling-block in the way of the blind; and thou shalt fear YHVH thy Elohim: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:15) Thou shalt not act unjustly in judgment: thou shalt not accept the person of the poor, nor admire the person of the mighty; with justice shalt thou judge thy neighbour.

(Lev 19:16) Thou shalt not walk deceitfully among thy people; thou shalt not rise up against the blood of thy neighbour: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:17) Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thine heart: thou shalt in any wise rebuke thy neighbour, so thou shalt not bear sin on his account.

(Lev 19:18) And thy hand shall not avenge thee; and thou shalt not be angry with the children of thy people; and thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself; I am YHVH.

(Lev 19:19) Ye shall observe my law: thou shalt not let thy cattle gender with one of a different kind, and thou shalt not sow thy vineyard with diverse seed; and thou shalt not put upon thyself a mingled garment woven of two materials.

(Lev 19:20) And if any one lie carnally with a woman, and she should be a home-servant kept for a man, and she has not been ransomed, and her freedom has not been given to her, they shall be visited with punishment; but they shall not die, because she was not set at liberty.

(Lev 19:21) And he shall bring for his trespass to YHVH to the door of the tabernacle of witness, a ram for a trespass-offering.

(Lev 19:22) And the priest shall make atonement for him with the ram of the trespass-offering, before YHVH, for the sin which he sinned; and the sin which he sinned shall be forgiven him.

(Lev 19:23) And whenever ye shall enter into the land which YHVH your Elohim gives you, and shall plant any fruit-tree, then shall ye purge away its uncleanness; its fruit shall be three years uncleansed to you, it shall not be eaten.

(Lev 19:24) And in the fourth year all its fruit shall be holy, a subject of praise to YHVH.

(Lev 19:25) And in the fifth year ye shall eat the fruit, its produce is an increase to you. I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:26) Eat not on the mountains, nor shall ye employ auguries, nor divine by inspection of birds.

(Lev 19:27) Ye shall not make a round cutting of the hair of your head, nor disfigure your beard.

(Lev 19:28) And ye shall not make cuttings in your body for a dead body, and ye shall not inscribe on yourselves any marks. I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:29) Thou shalt not profane thy daughter to prostitute her; so the land shall not go a whoring, and the land be filled with iniquity.

(Lev 19:30) Ye shall keep my Sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuaries: I am YHVH.

(Lev 19:31) Ye shall not attend to those who have in them divining spirits, nor attach yourselves to enchanters, to pollute yourselves with them: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:32) Thou shalt rise up before the hoary head, and honour the face of the old man, and shalt fear thy Elohim: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:33) And if there should come to you a stranger in your land, ye shall not afflict him.

(Lev 19:34) The stranger that comes to you shall be among you as the native, and thou shalt love him as thyself; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 19:35) Ye shall not act unrighteously in judgment, in measures and weights and scales.

(Lev 19:36) There shall be among you just balances and just weights and just liquid measure. I am YHVH your Elohim, who brought you out of the land of Egypt.

(Lev 19:37) And ye shall keep all my law and all my ordinances, and ye shall do them: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 20:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 20:2) Thou shalt also say to the children of Israel, If there shall be any of the children of Israel, or of those who have become proselytes in Israel, who shall give of his seed to Moloch, let him be surely put to death; the nation upon the land shall stone him with stones.

(Lev 20:3) And I will set my face against that man, and will cut him off from his people, because he has given of his seed to Moloch, to defile my sanctuary, and profane the name of them that are consecrated to me.

(Lev 20:4) And if the natives of the land should in anywise overlook that man in giving of his seed to Moloch, so as not to put him to death;

(Lev 20:5) then will I set my face against that man and his family, and I will destroy him, and all who have been of one mind with him, so that he should go a whoring to the princes, from their people.

(Lev 20:6) And the soul that shall follow those who have in them divining spirits, or enchanters, so as to go a whoring after them; I will set my face against that soul, and will destroy it from among its people.

(Lev 20:7) And ye shall be holy, for I YHVH your Elohim am holy.

(Lev 20:8) And ye shall observe my ordinances, and do them: I am YHVH that sanctifies you.

(Lev 20:9) Every man who shall speak evil of his father or of his mother, let him die the death; has he spoken evil of his father or his mother? he shall be guilty.

(Lev 20:10) Whatever man shall commit adultery with the wife of a man, or whoever shall commit adultery with the wife of his neighbour, let them die the death, the adulterer and the adulteress.

(Lev 20:11) And if any one should lie with his father's wife, he has uncovered his father's nakedness: let them both die the death, they are guilty.

(Lev 20:12) And if any one should lie with his daughter-in-law, let them both be put to death; for they have wrought impiety, they are guilty.

(Lev 20:13) And whoever shall lie with a male as with a woman, they have both wrought abomination; let them die the death, they are guilty.

(Lev 20:14) Whosoever shall take a woman and her mother, it is iniquity: they shall burn him and them with fire; so there shall not be iniquity among you.

(Lev 20:15) And whosoever shall lie with a beast, let him die the death; and ye shall kill the beast.

(Lev 20:16) And whatever woman shall approach any beast, so as to have connexion with it, ye shall kill the woman and the beast: let them die the death, they are guilty.

(Lev 20:17) Whosoever shall take his sister by his father or by his mother, and shall see her nakedness, and she see his nakedness, it is a reproach: they shall be destroyed before the children of their family; he has uncovered his sister's nakedness, they shall bear their sin.

(Lev 20:18) And whatever man shall lie with a woman that is set apart for a flux, and shall uncover her nakedness, he has uncovered her fountain, and she has uncovered the flux of her blood: they shall both be destroyed from among their generation.

(Lev 20:19) And thou shalt not uncover the nakedness of thy father's sister, or of the sister of thy mother; for that man has uncovered the nakedness of one near akin: they shall bear their iniquity.

(Lev 20:20) Whosoever shall lie with his near kinswoman, has uncovered the nakedness of one near akin to him: they shall die childless.

(Lev 20:21) Whoever shall take his brother's wife, it is uncleanness; he has uncovered his brother's nakedness; they shall die childless.

(Lev 20:22) And keep ye all my ordinances, and my judgments; and ye shall do them, and the land shall not be aggrieved with you, into which I bring you to dwell upon it.

(Lev 20:23) And walk ye not in the customs of the nations which I drive out from before you; for they have done all these things, and I have abhorred them:

(Lev 20:24) and I said to you, Ye shall inherit their land, and I will give it to you for a possession, even a land flowing with milk and honey: I am YHVH your Elohim, who have separated you from all people.

(Lev 20:25) And ye shall make a distinction between the clean and the unclean cattle, and between clean and unclean birds; and ye shall not defile your souls with cattle, or with birds, or with any creeping things of the earth, which I have separated for you by reason of uncleanness.

(Lev 20:26) And ye shall be holy to me; because I YHVH your Elohim am holy, who separated you from all nations, to be mine.

(Lev 20:27) And as for a man or woman whosoever of them shall have in them a divining spirit, or be an enchanter, let them both die the death: ye shall stone them with stones, they are guilty.

(Lev 21:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the priests the sons of Aaron, and thou shalt tell them that they shall not defile themselves in their nation for the dead,

(Lev 21:2) but they may mourn for a relative who is very near to them, for a father and mother, and sons and daughters, for a brother,

(Lev 21:3) and for a virgin sister that is near to one, that is not espoused to a man; for these one shall defile himself.

(Lev 21:4) He shall not defile himself suddenly among his people to profane himself.

(Lev 21:5) And ye shall not shave your head for the dead with a baldness on the top; and they shall not shave their beard, neither shall they make gashes on their flesh.

(Lev 21:6) They shall be holy to their Elohim, and they shall not profane the name of their Elohim; for they offer the sacrifices of YHVH as the gifts of their Elohim, and they shall be holy.

(Lev 21:7) They shall not take a woman who is a harlot and profaned, or a woman put away from her husband; for he is holy to YHVH his Elohim.

(Lev 21:8) And thou shalt hallow him; he offers the gifts of YHVH your Elohim: he shall be holy, for I YHVH that sanctify them am holy.

(Lev 21:9) And if the daughter of a priest should be profaned to go a whoring, she profanes the name of her father: she shall be burnt with fire.

(Lev 21:10) And the priest that is chief among his brethren, the oil having been poured upon the head of the anointed one, and he having been consecrated to put on the garments, shall not take the mitre off his head, and shall not rend his garments:

(Lev 21:11) neither shall he go in to any dead body, neither shall he defile himself for his father or his mother.

(Lev 21:12) And he shall not go forth out of the sanctuary, and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his Elohim, because the holy anointing oil of Elohim is upon him: I am YHVH.

(Lev 21:13) He shall take for a wife a virgin of his own tribe.

(Lev 21:14) But a widow, or one that is put away, or profaned, or a harlot, these he shall not take; but he shall take for a wife a virgin of his own people.

(Lev 21:15) And he shall not profane his seed among his people: I am YHVH that sanctifies him.

(Lev 21:16) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 21:17) Say to Aaron, A man of thy tribe throughout your generations, who shall have a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of his Elohim.

(Lev 21:18) No man who has a blemish on him shall draw nigh; a man blind, lame, with his nose disfigured, or his ears cut,

(Lev 21:19) a man who has a broken hand or a broken foot,

(Lev 21:20) or hump-backed, or blear-eyed, or that has lost his eye-lashes, or a man who has a malignant ulcer, or tetter, or one that has lost a testicle.

(Lev 21:21) Whoever of the seed of Aaron the priest has a blemish on him, shall not draw nigh to offer sacrifices to thy Elohim, because he has a blemish on him; he shall not draw nigh to offer the gifts of Elohim.

(Lev 21:22) The gifts of Elohim are most holy, and he shall eat of the holy things.

(Lev 21:23) Only he shall not approach the veil, and he shall not draw nigh to the altar, because he has a blemish; and he shall not profane the sanctuary of his Elohim, for I am YHVH that sanctifies them.

(Lev 21:24) And Moses spoke to Aaron and his sons, and to all the children of Israel.

(Lev 22:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 22:2) Speak to Aaron and to his sons, and let them take heed concerning the holy things of the children of Israel, so they shall not profane my holy name in any of the things which they consecrate to me: I am YHVH.

(Lev 22:3) Say to them, Every man throughout your generations, whoever of all your seed shall approach to the holy things, whatsoever the children of Israel shall consecrate to YHVH, while his uncleanness is upon him, that soul shall be cut off from me: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 22:4) And the man of the seed of Aaron the priest, if he should have leprosy or issue of the reins, shall not eat of the holy things, until he be cleansed; and he that touches any uncleanness of a dead body, or the man whose seed of copulation shall have gone out from him,

(Lev 22:5) or whosoever shall touch any unclean reptile, which will defile him, or who shall touch a man, whereby he shall defile him according to all his uncleanness:

(Lev 22:6) whatsoever soul shall touch them shall be unclean until evening; he shall not eat of the holy things, unless he bathe his body in water,

(Lev 22:7) and the sun go down, and then he shall be clean; and then shall he eat of all the holy things, for they are his bread.

(Lev 22:8) He shall not eat that which dies of itself, or is taken of beasts, so that he should be polluted by them: I am YHVH.

(Lev 22:9) And they shall keep my ordinances, that they do not bear iniquity because of them, and die because of them, if they shall profane them: I am YHVH Elohim that sanctifies them.

(Lev 22:10) And no stranger shall eat the holy things: one that sojourns with a priest, or a hireling, shall not eat the holy things.

(Lev 22:11) But if a priest should have a soul purchased for money, he shall eat of his bread; and they that are born in his house, they also shall eat of his bread.

(Lev 22:12) And if the daughter of a priest should marry a stranger, she shall not eat of the offerings of the sanctuary.

(Lev 22:13) And if the daughter of priest should be a widow, or put away, and have no seed, she shall return to her father's house, as in her youth: she shall eat of her father's bread, but no stranger shall eat of it.

(Lev 22:14) And the man who shall ignorantly eat holy things, shall add the fifth part to it, and give the holy thing to the priest.

(Lev 22:15) And they shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer to YHVH.

(Lev 22:16) So should they bring upon themselves the iniquity of trespass in their eating their holy things: for I am YHVH that sanctifies them.

(Lev 22:17) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 22:18) Speak to Aaron and his sons, and to all the congregation of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Any man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that abide among them in Israel, who shall offer his gifts according to all their confession and according to all their choice, whatsoever they may bring to YHVH for whole-burnt-offerings

(Lev 22:19) your free-will-offerings shall be males without blemish of the herds, or of the sheep, or of the goats.

(Lev 22:20) They shall not bring to YHVH anything that has a blemish in it, for it shall not be acceptable for you.

(Lev 22:21) And whatsoever man shall offer a peace-offering to YHVH, discharging a vow, or in the way of free-will-offering, or an offering in your feasts, of the herds or of the sheep, it shall be without blemish for acceptance: there shall be no blemish in it.

(Lev 22:22) One that is blind, or broken, or has its tongue cut out, or is troubled with warts, or has a malignant ulcer, or tetters, they shall not offer these to YHVH; neither shall ye offer any of them for a burnt-offering on the altar of YHVH.

(Lev 22:23) And a calf or a sheep with the ears cut off, or that has lost its tail, thou shalt slay them for thyself; but they shall not be accepted for thy vow.

(Lev 22:24) That which has broken testicles, or is crushed or gelt or mutilated, thou shalt not offer them to YHVH, neither shall ye sacrifice them upon your land.

(Lev 22:25) Neither shall ye offer the gifts of your Elohim of all these things by the hand of a stranger, because there is corruption in them, a blemish in them: these shall not be accepted for you.

(Lev 22:26) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 22:27) As for a calf, or a sheep, or a goat, whenever it is born, then shall it be seven days under its mother; and on the eighth day and after they shall be accepted for sacrifices, a burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 22:28) And a bullock and a ewe, it and its young, thou shalt not kill in one day.

(Lev 22:29) And if thou shouldest offer a sacrifice, a vow of rejoicing to YHVH, ye shall offer it so as to be accepted for you.

(Lev 22:30) In that same day it shall be eaten; ye shall not leave of the flesh till the morrow: I am YHVH.

(Lev 22:31) And ye shall keep my commandments and do them.

(Lev 22:32) And ye shall not profane the name of the Holy One, and I will be sanctified in the midst of the children of Israel. I am YHVH that sanctifies you, (Lev 22:33) who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your Elohim: I am YHVH.

(Lev 23:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 23:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say unto them, The feasts of YHVH which ye shall call holy assemblies, these are my feasts.

(Lev 23:3) Six days shalt thou do works, but on the seventh day is the Sabbath; a rest, a holy convocation to YHVH: thou shalt not do any work, it is a Sabbath to YHVH in all your dwellings.

(Lev 23:4) These are the feasts to YHVH, holy convocations, which ye shall call in their seasons.

(Lev 23:5) In the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, between the evening times is YHVH's passover.

(Lev 23:6) And on the fifteenth day of this month is the feast of unleavened bread to YHVH; seven days shall ye eat unleavened bread.

(Lev 23:7) And the first day shall be a holy convocation to you: ye shall do no servile work.

(Lev 23:8) And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH seven days; and the seventh day shall be a holy convocation to you: ye shall do no servile work.

(Lev 23:9) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 23:10) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, When ye shall enter into the land which I give you, and reap the harvest of it, then shall ye bring a sheaf, the first-fruits of your harvest, to the priest;

(Lev 23:11) and he shall lift up the sheaf before YHVH, to be accepted for you. On the morrow of the first day the priest shall lift it up.

(Lev 23:12) And ye shall offer on the day on which ye bring the sheaf, a lamb without blemish of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 23:13) And its meat-offering two tenth portions of fine flour mingled with oil: it is a sacrifice to YHVH, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH, and its drink-offering the fourth part of a hin of wine.

(Lev 23:14) And ye shall not eat bread, or the new parched corn, until this same day, until ye offer the sacrifices to your Elohim: it is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

(Lev 23:15) And ye shall number to yourselves from the day after the Sabbath, from the day on which ye shall offer the sheaf of the heave-offering, seven full weeks:

(Lev 23:16) until the morrow after the last week ye shall number fifty days, and shall bring a new meat-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 23:17) Ye shall bring from your dwelling loaves, as a heave-offering, two loaves: they shall be of two tenth portions of fine flour, they shall be baked with leaven of the first-fruits to YHVH.

(Lev 23:18) And ye shall bring with the loaves seven unblemished lambs of a year old, and one calf of the herd, and two rams without blemish, and they shall be a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH: and their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Lev 23:19) And they shall sacrifice one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, and two lambs of a year old for a peace-offering, with the loaves of the first-fruits.

(Lev 23:20) And the priest shall place them with the loaves of the first-fruits an offering before YHVH with the two lambs, they shall be holy to YHVH; they shall belong to the priest that brings them.

(Lev 23:21) And ye shall call this day a convocation: it shall be holy to you; ye shall do no servile work on it: it is a perpetual ordinance throughout your generations in all your habitations.

(Lev 23:22) And when ye shall reap the harvest of your land, ye shall not fully reap the remainder of the harvest of your field when thou reapest, and thou shalt not gather that which falls from thy reaping; thou shalt leave it for the poor and the stranger: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 23:23) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 23:24) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, In the seventh month, on the first day of the month, ye shall have a rest, a memorial of trumpets: it shall be to you a holy convocation.

(Lev 23:25) Ye shall do no servile work, and ye shall offer a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 23:26) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 23:27) Also on the tenth day of this seventh month is a day of atonement: it shall be a holy convocation to you; and ye shall humble your souls, and offer a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Lev 23:28) Ye shall do no work on this self-same day: for this is a day of atonement for you, to make atonement for you before YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 23:29) Every soul that shall not be humbled in that day, shall be cut off from among its people.

(Lev 23:30) And every soul which shall do work on that day, that soul shall be destroyed from among its people.

(Lev 23:31) Ye shall do no manner of work: it is a perpetual statute throughout your generations in all your habitations.

(Lev 23:32) It shall be a holy Sabbath to you; and ye shall humble your souls, from the ninth day of the month: from evening to evening ye shall keep your Sabbaths.

(Lev 23:33) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 23:34) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, On the fifteenth day of this seventh month, there shall be a feast of tabernacles seven days to YHVH.

(Lev 23:35) And on the first day shall be a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

(Lev 23:36) Seven days shall ye offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH, and the eighth-day shall be a holy convocation to you; and ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH: it is a time of release, ye shall do no servile work.

(Lev 23:37) These are the feasts to YHVH, which ye shall call holy convocations, to offer burnt-offerings to YHVH, whole-burnt-offerings and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, that for each day on its day:

(Lev 23:38) besides the Sabbaths of YHVH, and besides your gifts, and besides all your vows, and besides your free-will-offerings, which ye shall give to YHVH.

(Lev 23:39) And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month, when ye shall have completely gathered in the fruits of the earth, ye shall keep a feast to YHVH seven days; on the first day there shall be a rest, and on the eighth day a rest.

(Lev 23:40) And on the first day ye shall take goodly fruit of trees, and branches of palm trees, and thick boughs of trees, and willows, and branches of osiers from the brook, to rejoice before YHVH your Elohim seven days in the year.

(Lev 23:41) It is a perpetual statute for your generations: in the seventh month ye shall keep it.

(Lev 23:42) Seven days ye shall dwell in tabernacles: every native in Israel shall dwell in tents, (Lev 23:43) that your posterity may see, that I made the children of Israel to dwell in tents, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 23:44) And Moses recounted the feasts of YHVH to the children of Israel.

(Lev 24:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 24:2) Charge the children of Israel, and let them take for thee pure olive oil beaten for the light, to burn a lamp continually, (Lev 24:3) outside the veil in the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and his sons shall burn it from evening until morning before YHVH continually, a perpetual statute throughout your generations.

(Lev 24:4) Ye shall burn the lamps on the pure lamp-stand before YHVH till the morrow.

(Lev 24:5) And ye shall take fine flour, and make of it twelve loaves; each loaf shall be of two tenth parts.

(Lev 24:6) And ye shall put them in two rows, each row containing six loaves, on the pure table before YHVH.

(Lev 24:7) And ye shall put on each row pure frankincense and salt; and these things shall be for loaves for a memorial, set forth before YHVH.

(Lev 24:8) On the Sabbath-day they shall be set forth before YHVH continually before the children of Israel, for an everlasting covenant.

(Lev 24:9) And they shall be for Aaron and his sons, and they shall eat them in the holy place: for this is their most holy portion of the offerings made to YHVH, a perpetual statute.

(Lev 24:10) And there went forth a son of an Israelitish woman, and he was son of an Egyptian man among the sons of Israel; and they fought in the camp, the son of the Israelitish woman, and a man who was an Israelite.

(Lev 24:11) And the son of the Israelitish woman named THE NAME and curse; and they brought him to Moses: and his mother's name was Salomith, daughter of Dabri of the tribe of Dan.

(Lev 24:12) And they put him in ward, to judge him by the command of YHVH.

(Lev 24:13) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 24:14) Bring forth him that cursed outside the camp, and all who heard shall lay their hands upon his head, and all the congregation shall stone him.

(Lev 24:15) And speak to the sons of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever shall curse Elohim shall bear his sin.

(Lev 24:16) And he that names the name of YHVH, let him die the death: let all the congregation of Israel stone him with stones; whether he be a stranger or a native, let him die for naming the name of YHVH.

(Lev 24:17) And whosoever shall smite a man and he die, let him die the death.

(Lev 24:18) And whosoever shall smite a beast, and it shall die, let him render life for life.

(Lev 24:19) And whosoever shall inflict a blemish on his neighbour, as he has done to him, so shall it be done to himself in return;

(Lev 24:20) bruise for bruise, eye for eye, tooth for tooth: as any one may inflict a blemish on a man, so shall it be rendered to him.

(Lev 24:21) Whosoever shall smite a man, and he shall die, let him die the death.

(Lev 24:22) There shall be one judgment for the stranger and the native, for I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 24:23) And Moses spoke to the children of Israel, and they brought him that had cursed out of the camp, and stoned him with stones: and the children of Israel did as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Lev 25:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses in the mount Sina, saying,

(Lev 25:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whensoever ye shall have entered into the land, which I give to you, then the land shall rest which I give to you, for its Sabbaths to YHVH.

(Lev 25:3) Six years thou shalt sow thy field, and six years thou shall prune thy vine, and gather in its fruit.

(Lev 25:4) But in the seventh year shall be a Sabbath, it shall be a rest to the land, a Sabbath to YHVH: thou shalt not sow thy field, and thou shalt not prune thy vine.

(Lev 25:5) And thou shalt not gather the spontaneous produce of thy field, and thou shalt not gather fully the grapes of thy dedication: it shall be a year of rest to the land.

(Lev 25:6) And the Sabbaths of the land shall be food for thee, and for thy man-servant, and for thy maid-servant, and thy hireling, and the stranger that abides with thee.

(Lev 25:7) And for thy cattle, and for the wild beats that are in thy land, shall every fruit of it be for food.

(Lev 25:8) And thou shalt reckon to thyself seven Sabbaths of years, seven times seven years; and they shall be to thee seven weeks of years, nine and forty years.

(Lev 25:9) In the seventh month, on the tenth day of the month, ye shall make a proclamation with the sound of a trumpet in all your land; on the day of atonement ye shall make a proclamation with a trumpet in all your land.

(Lev 25:10) And ye shall sanctify the year, the fiftieth year, and ye shall proclaim a release upon the land to all that inhabit it; it shall be given a year of release, a jubilee for you; and each one shall depart to his possession, and ye shall go each to his family.
(Lev 25:11) This is a jubilee of release, the year shall be to you the fiftieth year: ye shall not sow, nor reap the produce that comes of itself from the land, neither shall ye gather its dedicated fruits.
(Lev 25:12) For it is a jubilee of release; it shall be holy to you, ye shall eat its fruits off the fields.
(Lev 25:13) In the year of the release even the jubilee of it, shall each one return to his possession.
(Lev 25:14) And if thou shouldest sell a possession to thy neighbour, or if thou shouldest buy of thy neighbour, let not a man oppress his neighbour.
(Lev 25:15) According to the number of years after the jubilee shalt thou buy of thy neighbour, according to the number of years of the fruits shall he sell to thee.
(Lev 25:16) According as there may be a greater number of years he shall increase the value of his possession, and according as there may be a less number of years he shall lessen the value of his possession; for according to the number of his crops, so shall he sell to thee.
(Lev 25:17) Let not a man oppress his neighbour, and thou shalt fear YHVH thy Elohim: I am YHVH thy Elohim.
(Lev 25:18) And ye shall keep all my ordinances, and all my judgments; and do ye observe them, and ye shall keep them, and dwell securely in the land.
(Lev 25:19) And the land shall yield her increase, and ye shall eat to fullness, and shall dwell securely in it.
(Lev 25:20) And if ye should say, What shall we eat in this seventh year, if we do not sow nor gather in our fruits?
(Lev 25:21) Then will I send my blessing upon you in the sixth year, and the land shall produce its fruits for three years.
(Lev 25:22) And ye shall sow in the eighth year, and eat old fruits till the ninth year: until its fruit come, ye shall eat old fruits of the old.
(Lev 25:23) And the land shall not be sold for a permanence; for the land is mine, because ye are strangers and sojourners before me.
(Lev 25:24) And in every land of your possession, ye shall allow ransoms for the land.
(Lev 25:25) And if thy brother who is with thee be poor, and should have sold part of his possession, and his kinsman who is nigh to him come, then he shall redeem the possession which his brother has sold.
(Lev 25:26) And if one have no near kinsman, and he prosper with his hand, and he find sufficient money, even his ransom;
(Lev 25:27) then shall he calculate the years of his sale, and he shall give what is due to the man to whom he sold it, and he shall return to his possession.
(Lev 25:28) But if his hand have not prospered sufficiently, so as that he should restore the money to him, then he that bought the possessions shall have them till the sixth year of the release; and it shall go out in the release, and the owner shall return to his possession.

(Lev 25:29) And if any one should sell an inhabited house in a walled city, then there shall be the ransom of it, until the time is fulfilled: its time of ransom shall be a full year.

(Lev 25:30) And if it be not ransomed until there be completed of its time a full year, the house which is in the walled city shall be surely confirmed to him that bought it, throughout his generations; and it shall not go out in the release.

(Lev 25:31) But the houses in the villages which have not a wall round about them, shall be reckoned as the fields of the country: they shall always be redeemable, and they shall go out in the release.

(Lev 25:32) And the cities of the Levites, the houses of the cities in their possession, shall be always redeemable to the Levites.

(Lev 25:33) And if any one shall redeem a house of the Levites, then shall their sale of the houses of their possession go out in the release; because the houses of the cities of the Levites are their possession in the midst of the children of Israel.

(Lev 25:34) And the lands set apart for their cities shall not be sold, because this is their perpetual possession.

(Lev 25:35) And if thy brother who is with thee become poor, and he fail in resources with thee, thou shalt help him as a stranger and a sojourner, and thy brother shall live with thee.

(Lev 25:36) Thou shalt not receive from him interest, nor increase: and thou shalt fear thy Elohim: I am YHVH: and thy brother shall live with thee.

(Lev 25:37) Thou shalt not lend thy money to him at interest, and thou shalt not lend thy meat to him to be returned with increase.

(Lev 25:38) I am YHVH your Elohim, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, to give you the land of Chanaan, so as to be your Elohim.

(Lev 25:39) And if thy brother by thee be lowered, and be sold to thee, he shall not serve thee with the servitude of a slave.

(Lev 25:40) He shall be with thee as a hireling or a sojourner, he shall work for thee till the year of release:

(Lev 25:41) and he shall go out in the release, and his children with him; and he shall go to his family, he shall hasten back to his patrimony.

(Lev 25:42) Because these are my servants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt; such an one shall not be sold as a common servant.

(Lev 25:43) Thou shalt not oppress him with labour, and shalt fear YHVH thy Elohim.

(Lev 25:44) And whatever number of men-servants and maid-servants thou shalt have, thou shalt purchase male and female servants from the nations that are round about thee.

(Lev 25:45) And of the sons of the sojourners that are among you, of these ye shall buy and of their relations, all that shall be in your lands; let them be to you for a possession.

(Lev 25:46) And ye shall distribute them to your children after you, and they shall be to you permanent possessions for ever: but of your brethren the children of Israel, one shall not oppress his brother in labours.

(Lev 25:47) And if a stranger or sojourner with thee wax rich, and thy brother in distress be sold to the stranger or the sojourner that is with thee, or to a proselyte by extraction;

(Lev 25:48) after he is sold to him there shall be redemption for him, one of his brethren shall redeem him.

(Lev 25:49) A brother of his father, or a son of his father's brother shall redeem him; or let one of his near kin of his tribe redeem him, and if he should be rich and redeem himself, (Lev 25:50) then shall he calculate with his purchaser from the year that he sold himself to him until the year of release: and the money of his purchase shall be as that of a hireling, he shall be with him from year to year.

(Lev 25:51) And if any have a greater number of years than enough, according to these he shall pay his ransom out of his purchase-money.

(Lev 25:52) And if but a little time be left of the years to the year of release, then shall he reckon to him according to his years, and shall pay his ransom

(Lev 25:53) as a hireling; he shall be with him from year to year; thou shalt not oppress him with labour before thee.

(Lev 25:54) And if he do not pay his ransom accordingly, he shall go out in the year of his release, he and his children with him.

(Lev 25:55) For the children of Israel are my servants: they are my attendants, whom I brought out of the land of Egypt.

(Lev 26:1) I am YHVH your Elohim: ye shall not make to yourselves gods made with hands, or graven; neither shall ye rear up a pillar for yourselves, neither shall ye set up a stone for an object in your land to worship it: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Lev 26:2) Ye shall keep my Sabbaths, and reverence my sanctuaries: I am YHVH.

(Lev 26:3) If ye will walk in my ordinances, and keep my commandments, and do them, (Lev 26:4) then will I give you the rain in its season, and the land shall produce its fruits, and the trees of the field shall yield their fruit.

(Lev 26:5) And your threshing time shall overtake the vintage, and your vintage shall overtake your seed time; and ye shall eat your bread to the full; and ye shall dwell safely upon your land, and war shall not go through your land.

(Lev 26:6) And I will give peace in your land, and ye shall sleep, and none shall make you afraid; and I will destroy the evil beasts out of your land, (Lev 26:7) and ye shall pursue your enemies, and they shall fall before you with slaughter.

(Lev 26:8) And five of you shall chase a hundred, and a hundred of you shall chase tens of thousands; and your enemies shall fall before you by the sword.

(Lev 26:9) And I will look upon you, and increase you, and multiply you, and establish my covenant with you.

(Lev 26:10) And ye shall eat that which is old and very old, and bring forth the old to make way for the new.

(Lev 26:11) And I will set my tabernacle among you, and my soul shall not abhor you;

(Lev 26:12) and I will walk among you, and be your Elohim, and ye shall be my people.

(Lev 26:13) I am YHVH your Elohim, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, where ye were slaves; and I broke the band of your yoke, and brought you forth openly.

(Lev 26:14) But if ye will not hearken to me, nor obey these my ordinances,

(Lev 26:15) but disobey them, and your soul should loathe my judgments, so that ye should not keep all my commands, so as to break my covenant,

(Lev 26:16) then will I do thus to you: I will even bring upon you perplexity and the itch, and the fever that causes your eyes to waste away, and disease that consumes your life; and ye shall sow your seeds in vain, and your enemies shall eat them.

(Lev 26:17) And I will set my face against you, and ye shall fall before your enemies, and they that hate you shall pursue you; and ye shall flee, no one pursuing you.

(Lev 26:18) And if ye still refuse to hearken to me, then will I chasten you yet more even seven times for your sins.

(Lev 26:19) And I will break down the haughtiness of your pride; and I will make your heaven iron, and your earth as it were brass.

(Lev 26:20) And your strength shall be in vain; and your land shall not yield its seed, and the tree of your field shall not yield its fruit.

(Lev 26:21) And if after this ye should walk perversely, and not be willing to obey me, I will further bring upon you seven plagues according to your sins.

(Lev 26:22) And I will send upon you the wild beasts of the land, and they shall devour you, and shall consume your cattle: and I will make you few in number, and your ways shall be desolate.

(Lev 26:23) And if hereupon ye are not corrected, but walk perversely towards me, (Lev 26:24) I also will walk with you with a perverse spirit, and I also will smite you seven times for your sins.

(Lev 26:25) And I will bring upon you a sword avenging the cause of my covenant, and ye shall flee for refuge to your cities; and I will send out death against you, and ye shall be delivered into the hands of your enemies.

(Lev 26:26) When I afflict you with famine of bread, then ten women shall bake your loaves in one oven, and they shall render your loaves by weight; and ye shall eat, and not be satisfied.

(Lev 26:27) And if hereupon ye will not obey me, but walk perversely towards me, (Lev 26:28) then will I walk with you with a froward mind, and I will chasten you seven-fold according to your sins.

(Lev 26:29) And ye shall eat the flesh of your sons, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye eat.

(Lev 26:30) And I will render your pillars desolate, and will utterly destroy your wooden images made with hands; and I will lay your carcasses on the carcasses of your idols, and my soul shall loathe you.

(Lev 26:31) And I will lay your cities waste, and I will make your sanctuaries desolate, and I will not smell the savour of your sacrifices.

(Lev 26:32) And I will lay your land desolate, and your enemies who dwell in it shall wonder at it.

(Lev 26:33) And I will scatter you among the nations, and the sword shall come upon you and consume you; and your land shall be desolate, and your cities shall be desolate.

(Lev 26:34) Then the land shall enjoy its Sabbaths all the days of its desolation.

(Lev 26:35) And ye shall be in the land of your enemies; then the land shall keep its Sabbaths, and the land shall enjoy its Sabbaths all the days of its desolation: it shall keep Sabbaths which it kept not among your Sabbaths, when ye dwelt in it.

(Lev 26:36) And to those who are left of you I will bring bondage into their heart in the land of their enemies; and the sound of a shaken leaf shall chase them, and they shall flee as fleeing from war, and shall fall when none pursues them.

(Lev 26:37) And brother shall disregard brother as in war, when none pursues; and ye shall not be able to withstand your enemies.

(Lev 26:38) And ye shall perish among the Gentiles, and the land of your enemies shall devour you.

(Lev 26:39) And those who are left of you shall perish, because of their sins, and because of the sins of their fathers: in the land of their enemies shall they consume away.

(Lev 26:40) And they shall confess their sins, and the sins of their fathers, that they have transgressed and neglected me, and that they have walked perversely before me,

(Lev 26:41) and I walked with them with a perverse mind; and I will destroy them in the land of their enemies: then shall their uncircumcised heart be ashamed, and then shall they acquiesce in the punishment of their sins.

(Lev 26:42) And I will remember the covenant of Jacob, and the covenant of Isaac, and the covenant of Abraam will I remember.

(Lev 26:43) And I will remember the land, and the land shall be left of them; then the land shall enjoy her Sabbaths, when it is deserted through them: and they shall accept the punishment of their iniquities, because they neglected my judgments, and in their soul loathed my ordinances.

(Lev 26:44) And yet not even thus, while they were in the land of their enemies, did I overlook them, nor did I loathe them so as to consume them, to break my covenant made with them; for I am YHVH their Elohim.

(Lev 26:45) And I will remember their former covenant, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage before the nation, to be their Elohim; I am YHVH.

(Lev 26:46) These are my judgments and my ordinances, and the law which YHVH gave between himself and the children of Israel, in the mount Sina, by the hand of Moses.

(Lev 27:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Lev 27:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever shall vow a vow as the valuation of his soul for YHVH, (Lev 27:3) the valuation of a male from twenty years old to sixty years old shall be his valuation shall be fifty didrachms of silver by the standard of the sanctuary.

(Lev 27:4) And the valuation of a female shall be thirty didrachms.

(Lev 27:5) And if it be from five years old to twenty, the valuation of a male shall be twenty didrachms, and of a female ten didrachms.

(Lev 27:6) And from a month old to five years old, the valuation of a male shall be five didrachms, and of a female, three didrachms of silver.

(Lev 27:7) And if from sixty year old and upward, if it be a male, his valuation shall be fifteen didrachms of silver, and if a female, ten didrachms.

(Lev 27:8) And if the man be too poor for the valuation, he shall stand before the priest; and the priest shall value him: according to what the man who has vowed can afford, the priest shall value him.

(Lev 27:9) And if it be from the cattle that are offered as a gift to YHVH, whoever shall offer one of these to YHVH, it shall be holy.

(Lev 27:10) He shall not change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good; and if he do at all change it, a beast for a beast, it and the substitute shall be holy.

(Lev 27:11) And if it be any unclean beast, of which none are offered as a gift to YHVH, he shall set the beast before the priest.

(Lev 27:12) And the priest shall make a valuation between the good and the bad, and accordingly as the priest shall value it, so shall it stand.

(Lev 27:13) And if the worshipper will at all redeem it, he shall add the fifth part to its value.

(Lev 27:14) And whatsoever man shall consecrate his house as holy to YHVH, the priest shall make a valuation of it between the good and the bad: as the priest shall value it, so shall it stand.

(Lev 27:15) And if he that has sanctified it should redeem his house, he shall add to it the fifth part of the money of the valuation, and it shall be his.

(Lev 27:16) And if a man should hallow to YHVH a part of the field of his possession, then the valuation shall be according to its seed, fifty didrachms of silver for a homer of barley.

(Lev 27:17) And if he should sanctify his field from the year of release, it shall stand according to his valuation.

(Lev 27:18) And if he should sanctify his field in the latter time after the release, the priest shall reckon to him the money for the remaining years, until the next year of release, and it shall be deducted as an equivalent from his full valuation.

(Lev 27:19) And if he that sanctified the field would redeem it, he shall add to its value the fifth part of the money, and it shall be his.

(Lev 27:20) And if he do not redeem the field, but should sell the field to another man, he shall not after redeem it.

(Lev 27:21) But the field shall be holy to YHVH after the release, as separated land; the priest shall have possession of it.

(Lev 27:22) And if he should consecrate to YHVH of a field which he has bought, which is not of the field of his possession, (Lev 27:23) the priest shall reckon to him the full valuation from the year of release, and he shall pay the valuation in that day as holy to YHVH.

(Lev 27:24) And in the year of release the land shall be restored to the man of whom the other bought it, whose the possession of the land was.

(Lev 27:25) And every valuation shall be by holy weights: the didrachm shall be twenty oboli.

(Lev 27:26) And every first-born which shall be produced among thy cattle shall be YHVH's, and no man shall sanctify it: whether calf or sheep, it is YHVH's.

(Lev 27:27) But if he should redeem an unclean beast, according to its valuation, then he shall add the fifth part to it, and it shall be his; and if he redeem it not, it shall be sold according to its valuation.

(Lev 27:28) And every dedicated thing which a man shall dedicate to YHVH of all that he has, whether man or beast, or of the field of his possession, he shall not sell it, nor redeem it: every devoted thing shall be most holy to YHVH.

(Lev 27:29) And whatever shall be dedicated of men, shall not be ransomed, but shall be surely put to death.

(Lev 27:30) Every tithe of the land, both of the seed of the land, and of the fruit of trees, is YHVH's, holy to YHVH.

(Lev 27:31) And if a man should at all redeem his tithe, he shall add the fifth part to it, and it shall be his.

(Lev 27:32) And every tithe of oxen, and of sheep, and whatsoever may come in numbering under the rod, the tenth shall be holy to YHVH.

(Lev 27:33) Thou shalt not change a good for a bad, or a bad for a good; and if thou shouldst at all change it, its equivalent also shall be holy, it shall not be redeemed.

(Lev 27:34) These are the commandments which YHVH commanded Moses for the sons of Israel in mount Sina.

Numbers.

(Num 1:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sina, in the tabernacle of witness, on the first day of the second month, in the second year of their departure from the land of Egypt, saying,

(Num 1:2) Take the sum of all the congregation of Israel according to their kindreds, according to the houses of their fathers' families, according to their number by their names, according to their heads: every male

(Num 1:3) from twenty years old and upwards, every one that goes forth in the forces of Israel, take account of them with their strength; thou and Aaron take account of them.

(Num 1:4) And with you there shall be each one of the rulers according to the tribe of each: they shall be according to the houses of their families.

(Num 1:5) And these are the names of the men who shall be present with you; of the tribe of Ruben, Elisur the son of Sediur.

(Num 1:6) Of Symeon, Salamiel the son of Surisadai.

(Num 1:7) Of Juda, Naasson the son of Aminadab.

(Num 1:8) Of Issachar, Nathanael the son of Sogar.

(Num 1:13) Of Aser, Phagaiel the son of Echran.

(Num 1:14) Of Gad, Elisaph the son of Raguel.

(Num 1:15) Of Nephthali, Achire the son of Ænan.

(Num 1:16) These were famous men of the congregation, heads of the tribes according to their families: these are heads of thousands in Israel.

(Num 1:17) And Moses and Aaron took these men who were called by name.

(Num 1:18) And they assembled all the congregation on the first day of the month in the second year; and they registered them after their lineage, after their families, after the number of their names, from twenty years old and upwards, every male according to their number:

(Num 1:19) as YHVH commanded Moses, so they were numbered in the wilderness of Sina.

(Num 1:20) And the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their heads, were all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that went out with the host (Num 1:21) the numbering of them of the tribe of Ruben, was forty-six thousand and four hundred.

(Num 1:22) For the children of Symeon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host,

(Num 1:23) the numbering of them of the tribe of Symeon, was fifty-nine thousand and three hundred.

(Num 1:24) For the sons of Juda according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, (Num 1:25) the numbering of them of the tribe of Juda, was seventy-four thousand and six hundred.

(Num 1:26) For the sons of Issachar according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host,

(Num 1:27) the numbering of them of the tribe of Issachar, was fifty-four thousand and four hundred.

(Num 1:28) For the sons of Zabulon according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host,

(Num 1:29) the numbering of them of the tribe of Zabulon, was fifty-seven thousand and four hundred.

(Num 1:30) For the sons of Joseph, the sons of Ephraim, according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host,

(Num 1:31) the numbering of them of the tribe of Ephraim, was forty thousand and five hundred.

(Num 1:32) For the sons of Manasse according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out with the host,

(Num 1:33) the numbering of them of the tribe of Manasse, was thirty-two thousand and two hundred.

(Num 1:34) For the sons of Benjamin according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host,

(Num 1:35) the numbering of them of the tribe of Benjamin, was thirty-five thousand and four hundred.

(Num 1:36) For the sons of Gad according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host,

(Num 1:37) the numbering of them of the tribe of Gad, was forty and five thousand and six hundred and fifty.

(Num 1:38) For the sons of Dan according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, all males from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host,

(Num 1:39) the numbering of them of the tribe of Dan, was sixty and two thousand and seven hundred.

(Num 1:40) For the sons of Aser according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes forth with the host, (Num 1:41) the numbering of them of the tribe of Aser, was forty and one thousand and five hundred.

(Num 1:42) For the sons of Nephthali according to their kindreds, according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, every male from twenty years old and upward, every one who goes forth with the host,

(Num 1:43) the numbering of them of the tribe of Nephthali, was fifty-three thousand and four hundred.

(Num 1:44) This is the numbering which Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel, being twelve men, conducted: there was a man for each tribe, they were according to the tribe of the houses of their family.

(Num 1:45) And the whole numbering of the children of Israel with their host from twenty years old and upward, every one that goes out to set himself in battle array in Israel, came to (Num 1:46) six hundred thousand and three thousand and five hundred and fifty.

(Num 1:47) But the Levites of the tribe of their family were not counted among the children of Israel.

(Num 1:48) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 1:49) See, thou shalt not muster the tribe of Levi, and thou shalt not take their numbers, in the midst of the children of Israel.

(Num 1:50) And do thou set the Levites over the tabernacle of witness, and over all its furniture, and over all things that are in it; and they shall do service in it, and they shall encamp round about the tabernacle.

(Num 1:51) And in removing the tabernacle, the Levites shall take it down, and in pitching the tabernacle they shall set it up: and let the stranger that advances to touch it die.

(Num 1:52) And the children of Israel shall encamp, every man in his own order, and every man according to his company, with their host.

(Num 1:53) But let the Levites encamp round about the tabernacle of witness fronting it, and so there shall be no sin among the children of Israel; and the Levites themselves shall keep the guard of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 1:54) And the children of Israel did according to all that YHVH commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

(Num 2:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Num 2:2) Let the children of Israel encamp fronting each other, every man keeping his own rank, according to their standards, according to the houses of their families; the children of Israel shall encamp round about the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 2:3) And they that encamp first toward the east shall be the order of the camp of Juda with their host, and the prince of the sons of Juda, Naasson the son of Aminadab.

(Num 2:4) His forces that were numbered, were seventy-four thousand and six hundred.

(Num 2:5) And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Issachar, and the prince of the sons of Issachar shall be Nathanael the son of Sogar.

(Num 2:6) His forces that were numbered, were fifty-four thousand and four hundred.

(Num 2:7) And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Zabulon, and the prince of the sons of Zabulon shall be Eliab the son of Chaelon.

(Num 2:8) His forces that were numbered, were fifty-seven thousand and four hundred.

(Num 2:9) All that were numbered of the camp of Juda were a hundred and eighty thousand and six thousand and four hundred: they shall move first with their forces.

(Num 2:10) This is the order of the camp of Ruben; their forces shall be toward the south, and the prince of the children of Ruben shall be Elisur the son of Sediur.

(Num 2:11) His forces that were numbered, were forty-six thousand and five hundred.

(Num 2:12) And they that encamp next to him shall be of the tribe of Symeon, and the prince of the sons of Symeon shall be Salamiel the son of Surisadai.

(Num 2:13) His forces that were numbered, were fifty-nine thousand and three hundred.

(Num 2:14) And they that encamp next to them shall be the tribe of Gad; and the prince of the sons of Gad, Elisaph the son of Raguel.

(Num 2:15) His forces that were numbered, were forty-five thousand and six hundred and fifty.

(Num 2:16) All who were numbered of the camp of Ruben, were a hundred and fifty-one thousand and four hundred and fifty: they with their forces shall proceed in the second place.

(Num 2:17) And then the tabernacle of witness shall be set forward, and the camp of the Levites shall be between the camps; as they shall encamp, so also shall they commence their march, each one next in order to his fellow according to their companies.

(Num 2:18) The station of the camp of Ephraim shall be westward with their forces, and the head of the children of Ephraim shall be Elisama the son of Emiud.

(Num 2:19) His forces that were numbered, are forty thousand and five hundred.

(Num 2:20) And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Manasse, and the prince of the sons of Manasse, Gamaliel the son of Phadassur.

(Num 2:21) His forces that were numbered, were thirty-two thousand and two hundred.

(Num 2:22) And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Benjamin, and the prince of the sons of Benjamin, Abidan the son of Gadeoni.

(Num 2:23) His forces that were numbered, were thirty-five thousand and four hundred.

(Num 2:24) All that were numbered of the camp of Ephraim, were one hundred and eight thousand and one hundred: they with their forces shall set out third.

(Num 2:25) The order of the camp of Dan shall be northward with their forces; and the prince of the sons of Dan, Achiezer the son of Amisadai.

(Num 2:26) His forces that were numbered, were sixty-two thousand and seven hundred.

(Num 2:27) And they that encamp next to him shall be the tribe of Aser; and the prince of the sons of Aser, Phagiel the son of Ecran.

(Num 2:28) His forces that were numbered, were forty-one thousand and five hundred.

(Num 2:29) And they that encamp next shall be of the tribe of Nephthali; and the prince of the children of Nephthali, Achire son of Enan.

(Num 2:30) His forces that were numbered were fifty-three thousand and four hundred.

(Num 2:31) All that were numbered of the camp of Dan, were a hundred and fifty-seven thousand and six hundred: they shall set out last according to their order.

(Num 2:32) This is the numbering of the children of Israel according to the houses of their families: all the numbering of the camps with their forces, was six hundred and three thousand, five hundred and fifty.

(Num 2:33) But the Levites were not numbered with them, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 2:34) And the children of Israel did all things that YHVH commanded Moses; thus they encamped in their order, and thus they began their march in succession each according to their divisions, according to the houses of their families.

(Num 3:1) And these are the generations of Aaron and Moses, in the day in which YHVH spoke to Moses in mount Sina.

(Num 3:2) And these are the names of the sons of Aaron; Nadab the first-born; and Abiud, Eleazar and Ithamar.

(Num 3:3) These are the names of the sons of Aaron, the anointed priests whom they consecrated to the priesthood.

(Num 3:4) And Nadab and Abiud died before YHVH, when they offered strange fire before YHVH, in the wilderness of Sina; and they had no children; and Eleazar and Ithamar ministered in the priests' office with Aaron their father.

(Num 3:5) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 3:6) Take the tribe of Levi, and thou shalt set them before Aaron the priest, and they shall minister to him,

(Num 3:7) and shall keep his charges, and the charges of the children of Israel, before the tabernacle of witness, to do the works of the tabernacle.

(Num 3:8) And they shall keep all the furniture of the tabernacle of witness, and the charges of the children of Israel as to all the works of the tabernacle.

(Num 3:9) And thou shalt give the Levites to Aaron, and to his sons the priests; they are given for a gift to me of the children of Israel.

(Num 3:10) And thou shalt appoint Aaron and his sons over the tabernacle of witness; and they shall keep their charge of priesthood, and all things belonging to the altar, and within the veil; and the stranger that touches them shall die.

(Num 3:11) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 3:12) Behold, I have taken the Levites from the midst of the children of Israel, instead of every male that opens the womb from among the children of Israel: they shall be their ransom, and the Levites shall be mine.

(Num 3:13) For every first-born is mine; in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified to myself every first-born in Israel: both of man and beast, they shall be mine: I am YHVH.

(Num 3:14) And YHVH spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sina, saying,

(Num 3:15) Take the number of the sons of Levi, according to the houses of their families, according to their divisions; number ye them every male from a month old and upwards.

(Num 3:16) And Moses and Aaron numbered them by the word of YHVH, as YHVH commanded them.

(Num 3:17) And these were the sons of Levi by their names; Gedson, Caath, and Merari.

(Num 3:18) And these are the names of the sons of Gedson according to their families; Lobeni and Semei:

(Num 3:19) and the sons of Caath according to their families; Amram and Issaar, Chebron and Oziel:

(Num 3:20) and the sons of Merari according to their families, Mooli and Musi; these are the families of the Levites according to the houses of their families.

(Num 3:21) To Gedson belongs the family of Lobeni, and the family of Semei: these are the families of Gedson.

(Num 3:22) The numbering of them according to the number of every male from a month old and upwards, their numbering was seven thousand and five hundred.

(Num 3:23) And the sons of Gedson shall encamp westward behind the tabernacle.

(Num 3:24) And the ruler of the household of the family of Gedson was Elisaph the son of Dael.

(Num 3:25) And the charge of the sons of Gedson in the tabernacle of witness was the tent and the veil, and the covering of the door of the tabernacle of witness, (Num 3:26) and the curtains of the court, and the veil of the door of the court, which is by the tabernacle, and the remainder of all its works.

(Num 3:27) To Caath belonged one division, that of Amram, and another division, that of Issaar, and another division, that of Chebron, and another division, that of Oziel: these are the divisions of Caath, according to number.

(Num 3:28) Every male from a month old and upward, eight thousand and six hundred, keeping the charges of the holy things.

(Num 3:29) The families of the sons of Caath, shall encamp beside the tabernacle toward the south.

(Num 3:30) And the chief of the house of the families of the divisions of Caath, was Elisaphan the son of Oziel.

(Num 3:31) And their charge was the ark, and the table, and the candlestick, and the altars, and all the vessels of the sanctuary wherewith they do holy service, and the veil, and all their works.

(Num 3:32) And the chief over the chief of the Levites, was Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, appointed to keep the charges of the holy things.

(Num 3:33) To Merari belonged the family of Mooli, and the family of Musi: these are the families of Merari.

(Num 3:34) The mustering of them according to number, every male from a month old and upwards, was six thousand and fifty.

(Num 3:35) And the head of the house of the families of the division of Merari, was Suriel the son of Abichail: they shall encamp by the side of the tabernacle northwards.

(Num 3:36) The oversight of the charge of the sons of Merari included the chapters of the tabernacle, and its bars, and its pillars, and its sockets, and all their furniture, and their works, (Num 3:37) and the pillars of the court round about, and their bases, and their pins, and their cords.

(Num 3:38) They that encamp before the tabernacle of witness on the east shall be Moses and Aaron and his sons, keeping the charges of the sanctuary according to the charges of the children of Israel; and the stranger that touches them, shall die.

(Num 3:39) All the numbering of the Levites, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the word of YHVH, according to their families, every male from a month old and upwards, were two and twenty thousand.

(Num 3:40) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Count every first-born male of the children of Israel from a month old and upwards, and take the number by name.

(Num 3:41) And thou shalt take the Levites for me I am YHVH instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of all the first-born among the cattle of the children of Israel.

(Num 3:42) And Moses counted, as YHVH commanded him, every first-born among the children of Israel.

(Num 3:43) And all the male first-born in number by name, from a month old and upwards, were according to their numbering twenty-two thousand and two hundred and seventy-three.

(Num 3:44) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 3:45) Take the Levites instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites instead of their cattle, and the Levites shall be mine; I am YHVH.

(Num 3:46) And for the ransoms of the two hundred and seventy-three which exceed the Levites in number of the first-born of the sons of Israel;

(Num 3:47) thou shalt even take five shekels a head; thou shalt take them according to the holy didrachm, twenty oboli to the shekel.

(Num 3:48) And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and to his sons, the ransom of those who exceed in number among them.

(Num 3:49) And Moses took the silver, the ransom of those that exceeded in number the redemption of the Levites.

(Num 3:50) He took the silver from the first-born of the sons of Israel, a thousand three hundred and sixty-five shekels, according to the holy shekel.

(Num 3:51) And Moses gave the ransom of them that were over to Aaron and his sons, by the word of YHVH, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 4:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Num 4:2) Take the sum of the children of Caath from the midst of the sons of Levi, after their families, according to the houses of their fathers' households;

(Num 4:3) from twenty-five years old and upward until fifty years, every one that goes in to minister, to do all the works in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:4) And these are the works of the sons of Caath in the tabernacle of witness; it is most holy.

(Num 4:5) And Aaron and his sons shall go in, when the camp is about to move, and shall take down the shadowing veil, and shall cover with it the ark of the testimony.

(Num 4:6) And they shall put on it a cover, even a blue skin, and put on it above a garment all of blue, and shall put the staves through the rings.

(Num 4:7) And they shall put on the table set forth for shew-bred a cloth all of purple, and the dishes, and the censers, and the cups, and the vessels with which one offers drink-offerings; and the continual loaves shall be upon it.
(Num 4:8) And they shall put upon it a scarlet cloth, and they shall cover it with a blue covering of skin, and they shall put the staves into it.
(Num 4:9) And they shall take a blue covering, and cover the candlestick that gives light, and its lamps, and its snuffers, and its funnels, and all the vessels of oil with which they minister.
(Num 4:10) And they shall put it, and all its vessels, into a blue skin cover; and they shall put it on bearers.
(Num 4:11) And they shall put a blue cloth for a cover on the golden altar, and shall cover it with a blue skin cover, and put in its staves.
(Num 4:12) And they shall take all the instruments of service, with which they minister in the sanctuary: and shall place them in a cloth of blue, and shall cover them with blue skin covering, and put them upon staves.
(Num 4:13) And he shall put the covering on the altar, and they shall cover it with a cloth all of purple.
(Num 4:14) And they shall put upon it all the vessels with which they minister upon it, and the fire-pans, and the flesh-hooks, and the cups, and the cover, and all the vessels of the altar; and they shall put on it a blue cover of skins, and shall put in its staves; and they shall take a purple cloth, and cover the laver and its foot, and they shall put it into a blue cover of skin, and put it on bars.
(Num 4:15) And Aaron and his sons shall finish covering the holy things, and all the holy vessels, when the camp begins to move; and afterwards the sons of Caath shall go in to take up the furniture; but shall not touch the holy things, lest they die: these shall the sons of Caath bear in the tabernacle of witness.
(Num 4:16) Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest is overseer the oil of the light, and the incense of composition, and the daily meat-offering and the anointing oil, are his charge; even the oversight of the whole tabernacle, and all things that are in it in the holy place, in all the works.
(Num 4:17) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
(Num 4:18) Ye shall not destroy the family of Caath from the tribe out of the midst of the Levites.
(Num 4:19) This do ye to them, and they shall live and not die, when they approach the holy of holies: Let Aaron and his sons advance, and they shall place them each in his post for bearing.
(Num 4:20) And so they shall by no means go in to look suddenly upon the holy things, and die.
(Num 4:21) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,
(Num 4:22) Take the sum of the children of Gedson, and these according to the houses of their lineage, according to their families.
(Num 4:23) Take the number of them from five and twenty years old and upwards until the age of fifty, every one that goes in to minister, to do his business in the tabernacle of witness.
(Num 4:24) This is the public service of the family of Gedson, to minister and to bear.

(Num 4:25) And they shall bear the skins of the tabernacle, and the tabernacle of witness, and its veil, and the blue cover that was on it above, and the cover of the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:26) And all the curtains of the court which were upon the tabernacle of witness, and the appendages, and all the vessels of service that they minister with they shall attend to.

(Num 4:27) According to the direction of Aaron and his sons shall be the ministry of the sons of Gedson, in all their ministries, and in all their works; and thou shalt take account of them by name in all things borne by them.

(Num 4:28) This is the service of the sons of Gedson in the tabernacle of witness, and their charge by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

(Num 4:29) The sons of Merari according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, take ye the number of them.

(Num 4:30) Take the number of them from five and twenty years old and upwards until fifty years old, every one that goes in to perform the services of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:31) And these are the charges of the things borne by them according to all their works in the tabernacle of witness: they shall bear the chapters of the tabernacle, and the bars, and its pillars, and its sockets, and the veil, and there shall be their sockets, and their pillars, and the curtain of the door of the tabernacle.

(Num 4:32) And they shall bear the pillars of the court round about, and there shall be their sockets, and they shall bear the pillars of the veil of the door of the court, and their sockets and their pins, and their cords, and all their furniture, and all their instruments of service: take ye their number by name, and all the articles of the charge of the things borne by them.

(Num 4:33) This is the ministration of the family of the sons of Merari in all their works in the tabernacle of witness, by the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

(Num 4:34) And Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel took the number of the sons of Caath according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage;

(Num 4:35) from five and twenty years old and upwards to the age of fifty years, every one that goes in to minister and do service in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:36) And the numbering of them according to their families was two thousand, seven hundred and fifty.

(Num 4:37) This is the numbering of the family of Caath, every one that ministers in the tabernacle of witness, as Moses and Aaron numbered them by the word of YHVH, by the hand of Moses.

(Num 4:38) And the sons of Gedson were numbered according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage,

(Num 4:39) from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister and to do the services in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:40) And the numbering of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, was two thousand six hundred and thirty.

(Num 4:41) This is the numbering of the family of the sons of Gedson, every one who ministers in the tabernacle of witness; whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the word of YHVH, by the hand of Moses.

(Num 4:42) And also the family of the sons of Merari were numbered according to their divisions, according to the house of their fathers;

(Num 4:43) from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:44) And the numbering of them according to their families, according to the houses of their lineage, was three thousand and two hundred.

(Num 4:45) This is the numbering of the family of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron numbered by the word of YHVH, by the hand of Moses.

(Num 4:46) All that were numbered, whom Moses and Aaron and the rulers of Israel numbered, namely, the Levites, according to their families and according to the houses of their lineage, (Num 4:47) from five and twenty years old and upward till fifty years old, every one that goes in to the service of the works, and the charge of the things that are carried in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 4:48) And they that were numbered were eight thousand five hundred and eighty.

(Num 4:49) He reviewed them by the word of YHVH by the hand of Moses, appointing each man severally over their respective work, and over their burdens; and they were numbered, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 5:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 5:2) Charge the children of Israel, and let them send forth out of the camp every leper, and every one who has in issue of the reins, and every one who is unclean from a dead body.

(Num 5:3) Whether male or female, send them forth out of the camp; and they shall not defile their camps in which I dwell among them.

(Num 5:4) And the children of Israel did so, and sent them out of the camp: as YHVH said to Moses, so did the children of Israel.

(Num 5:5) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 5:6) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Every man or woman who shall commit any sin that is common to man, or if that soul shall in anywise have neglected the commandment and transgressed;

(Num 5:7) that person shall confess the sin which he has committed, and shall make satisfaction for his trespass: he shall pay the principal, and shall add to it the fifth part, and shall make restoration to him against whom he has trespassed.

(Num 5:8) But if a man have no near kinsman, so as to make satisfaction for his trespass to him, the trespass-offering paid to YHVH shall be for the priest, besides the ram of atonement, by which he shall make atonement with it for him.

(Num 5:9) And every first-fruits in all the sanctified things among the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to YHVH, shall be for the priest himself.

(Num 5:10) And the hallowed things of every man shall be his; and whatever man shall give any thing to the priest, the gift shall be his.

(Num 5:11) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 5:12) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whosoever wife shall transgress against him, and slight and despise him,

(Num 5:13) and supposing any one shall lie with her carnally, and the thing shall be hid from the eyes of her husband, and she should conceal it and be herself defiled, and there be no witness with her, and she should not be taken; (Num 5:14) and there should come upon him a spirit of jealousy, and he should be jealous of his wife, and she be defiled; or there should come upon him a spirit of jealousy, and he should be jealous of his wife, and she should not be defiled;

(Num 5:15) then shall the man bring his wife to the priest, and shall bring his gift for her, the tenth part of an ephah of barley-meal: he shall not pour oil upon it, neither shall he put frankincense upon it; for it is a sacrifice of jealousy, a sacrifice of memorial, recalling sin to remembrance.

(Num 5:16) And the priest shall bring her, and cause her to stand before YHVH.

(Num 5:17) And the priest shall take pure running water in an earthen vessel, and he shall take of the dust that is on the floor of the tabernacle of witness, and the priest having taken it shall cast it into the water.

(Num 5:18) And the priest shall cause the woman to stand before YHVH, and shall uncover the head of the woman, and shall put into her hands the sacrifice of memorial, the sacrifice of jealousy; and in the hand of the priest shall be the water of this conviction that brings the curse.

(Num 5:19) And the priest shall adjure her, and shall say to the woman, If no one has lain with thee, and if thou hast not transgressed so as to be polluted, being under the power of thy husband, be free from this water of the conviction that causes the curse.

(Num 5:20) But if being a married woman thou hast transgressed, or been polluted, and any one has lain with thee, beside thy husband:

(Num 5:21) then the priest shall adjure the woman by the oaths of this curse, and the priest shall say to the woman, YHVH bring thee into a curse and under an oath in the midst of thy people, in that YHVH should cause thy thigh to rot and thy belly to swell;

(Num 5:22) and this water bringing the curse shall enter into thy womb to cause thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot. And the woman shall say, So be it, So be it.

(Num 5:23) And the priest shall write these curses in a book, and shall blot them out with the water of the conviction that brings the curse.

(Num 5:24) And he shall cause the woman to drink the water of the conviction that brings the curse; and the water of the conviction that brings the curse shall enter into her.

(Num 5:25) And the priest shall take from the hand of the woman the sacrifice of jealousy, and shall present the sacrifice before YHVH, and shall bring it to the altar.

(Num 5:26) And the priest shall take a handful of the sacrifice as a memorial of it, and shall offer it up upon the altar; and afterwards he shall cause the woman to drink the water.

(Num 5:27) And it shall come to pass, if she be defiled, and have altogether escaped the notice of her husband, then the water of the conviction that brings the curse shall enter into her; and she shall swell in her belly, and her thigh shall rot, and the woman shall be for a curse in the midst of her people.

(Num 5:28) But if the woman have not been polluted, and be clean, then shall she be guiltless and shall conceive seed.

(Num 5:29) This is the law of jealousy, wherein a married woman should happen to transgress, and be defiled;

(Num 5:30) or in the case of a man on whomsoever the spirit of jealousy should come, and he should be jealous of his wife, and he should place his wife before YHVH, and the priest shall execute towards her all this law.

(Num 5:31) Then the man shall be clear from sin, and that woman shall bear her sin.

(Num 6:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 6:2) speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Whatsoever man or woman shall specially vow a vow to separate oneself with purity to YHVH,

(Num 6:3) he shall purely abstain from wine and strong drink; and he shall drink no vinegar of wine or vinegar of strong drink; and whatever is made of the grape he shall not drink; neither shall he eat fresh grapes or raisins,

(Num 6:4) all the days of his vow: he shall eat no one of all the things that come from the vine, wine from the grape-stones to the husk,

(Num 6:5) all the days of his separation: a razor shall not come upon his head, until the days be fulfilled which he vowed to YHVH: he shall be holy, cherishing the long hair of the head,

(Num 6:6) all the days of his vow to YHVH: he shall not come nigh to any dead body, (Num 6:7) to his father or his mother, or to his brother or his sister; he shall not defile himself for them, when they have died, because the vow of Elohim is upon him on his head.

(Num 6:8) All the days of his vow he shall be holy to YHVH.

(Num 6:9) And if any one should die suddenly by him, immediately the head of his vow shall be defiled; and he shall shave his head in whatever day he shall be purified: on the seventh day he shall be shaved.

(Num 6:10) And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtledoves, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 6:11) And the priest shall offer one for a sin-offering; and the other for a whole-burnt-offering; and the priest shall make atonement for him in the things wherein he sinned respecting the dead body, and he shall sanctify his head in that day,

(Num 6:12) in which he was consecrated to YHVH, all the days of his vow; and he shall bring a lamb of a year old for a trespass-offering; and the former days shall not be reckoned, because the head of his vow was polluted.

(Num 6:13) And this is the law of him that has vowed: in whatever day he shall have fulfilled the days of his vow, he shall himself bring his gift to the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 6:14) And he shall bring his gift to YHVH; one he-lamb of a year old without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering, and one ewe-lamb of a year old without blemish for a sin-offering, and one ram without blemish for a peace-offering;

(Num 6:15) and a basket of unleavened bread of fine flour, even loaves kneaded with oil, and unleavened cakes anointed with oil, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offering.

(Num 6:16) And the priest shall bring them before YHVH, and shall offer his sin-offering, and his whole-burnt-offering.

(Num 6:17) And he shall offer the ram as a sacrifice of peace-offering to YHVH with the basket of unleavened bread; and the priest shall offer its meat-offering and its drink-offering.

(Num 6:18) And he that has vowed shall shave the head of his consecration by the doors of the tabernacle of witness, and shall put the hairs on the fire which is under the sacrifice of peace-offering.

(Num 6:19) And the priest shall take the sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened loaf from the basket, and one unleavened cake, and shall put them on the hands of the votary after he has shaved off his holy hair.

(Num 6:20) And the priest shall present them as an offering before YHVH; it shall be the holy portion for the priest beside the breast of the heave-offering and beside the shoulder of the wave-offering: and afterwards the votary shall drink wine.

(Num 6:21) This is the law of the votary who shall have vowed to YHVH his gift to YHVH, concerning his vow, besides what he may be able to afford according to the value of his vow, which he may have vowed according to the law of separation.

(Num 6:22) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 6:23) Speak to Aaron and to his sons, saying, Thus ye shall bless the children of Israel, saying to them,

(Num 6:24) YHVH bless thee and keep thee;

(Num 6:25) YHVH make his face to shine upon thee, and have mercy upon thee;

(Num 6:26) YHVH lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.

(Num 6:27) And they shall put my name upon the children of Israel, and I YHVH will bless them.

(Num 7:1) And it came to pass in the day in which Moses finished the setting-up of the tabernacle, that he anointed it, and consecrated it, and all its furniture, and the altar and all its furniture, he even anointed them, and consecrated them.

(Num 7:2) And the princes of Israel brought gifts, twelve princes of their fathers' houses: these were the heads of tribes, these are they that presided over the numbering.

(Num 7:3) And they brought their gift before YHVH, six covered waggons, and twelve oxen; a waggon from two princes, and a calf from each: and they brought them before the tabernacle.

(Num 7:4) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 7:5) Take of them, and they shall be for the works of the services of the tabernacle of witness: and thou shalt give them to the Levites, to each one according to his ministration.

(Num 7:6) And Moses took the waggons and the oxen, and gave them to the Levites.

(Num 7:7) And he gave two waggons and four oxen to the sons of Gedson, according to their ministrations.

(Num 7:8) And four waggons and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari according to their ministrations, by Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

(Num 7:9) But to the sons of Caath he gave them not, because they have the ministrations of the sacred things: they shall bear them on their shoulders.

(Num 7:10) And the rulers brought gifts for the dedication of the altar, in the day in which he anointed it, and the rulers brought their gifts before the altar.

(Num 7:11) And YHVH said to Moses, One chief each day, they shall offer their gifts a chief each day for the dedication of the altar.

(Num 7:12) And he that offered his gift on the first day, was Naasson the son of Aminadab, prince of the tribe of Juda.

(Num 7:13) And he brought his gift, one silver charger of a hundred and thirty shekels was its weight, one silver bowl, of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering.

(Num 7:14) One golden censer of ten shekels full of incense.

(Num 7:15) One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering;

(Num 7:16) and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

(Num 7:17) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Naasson the son of Aminadab.

(Num 7:18) On the second day Nathanael son of Sogar, the prince of the tribe of Issachar, brought his offering.

(Num 7:19) And he brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour kneaded with oil for a meat-offering.

(Num 7:70) and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

(Num 7:71) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old. This was the gift of Achiezer the son of Amisadai.

(Num 7:72) On the eleventh day the prince of the sons of Aser, Phageel the son of Echan.

(Num 7:73) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering.

(Num 7:74) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense.

(Num 7:75) One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering,

(Num 7:76) and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

(Num 7:77) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Phageel the son of Echan.

(Num 7:78) On the twelfth day the prince of the sons of Nephthali, Achire the son of Enan.

(Num 7:79) He brought his gift, one silver charger, its weight a hundred and thirty shekels; one silver bowl of seventy shekels according to the holy shekel; both full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering.

(Num 7:80) One golden censer of ten shekels, full of incense.

(Num 7:81) One calf of the herd, one ram, one he-lamb of a year old for a whole-burnt-offering,

(Num 7:82) and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

(Num 7:83) And for a sacrifice of peace-offering, two heifers, five rams, five he-goats, five ewe-lambs of a year old: this was the gift of Achire the son of Enan.

(Num 7:84) This was the dedication of the altar in the day in which Moses anointed it, by the princes of the sons of Israel; twelve silver chargers, twelve silver bowls, twelve golden censers:

(Num 7:85) each charger of a hundred and thirty shekels, and each bowl of seventy shekels: all the silver of the vessels was two thousand four hundred shekels, the shekels according to the holy shekel.

(Num 7:86) Twelve golden censers full of incense: all the gold of the shekels, a hundred and twenty shekels.

(Num 7:87) All the cattle for whole-burnt-offerings, twelve calves, twelve rams, twelve he-lambs of a year old, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings: and twelve kids of the goats for sin-offering.

(Num 7:88) All the cattle for a sacrifice of peace-offering, twenty-four heifers, sixty rams, sixty he-goats of a year old, sixty ewe-lambs of a year old without blemish: this is the dedication of the altar, after that Moses consecrated Aaron, and after he anointed him.

(Num 7:89) When Moses went into the tabernacle of witness to speak to Elohim, then he heard the voice of YHVH speaking to him from off the mercy-seat, which is upon the ark of the testimony, between the two cherubs; and he spoke to him.

(Num 8:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 8:2) Speak to Aaron, and thou shalt say to him, Whenever thou shalt set the lamps in order, the seven lamps shall give light opposite the candlestick.

(Num 8:3) And Aaron did so: on one side opposite the candlestick he lighted its lamps, as YHVH appointed Moses.

(Num 8:4) And this is the construction of the candlestick: it is solid, golden its stem, and its lilies all solid: according to the pattern which YHVH shewed Moses, so he made the candlestick.

(Num 8:5) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 8:6) Take the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, and thou shalt purify them.

(Num 8:7) And thus shalt thou perform their purification: thou shalt sprinkle them with water of purification, and a razor shall come upon the whole of their body, and they shall wash their garments, and shall be clean.

(Num 8:8) And they shall take one calf of the herd, and its meat-offering, fine flour mingled with oil: and thou shalt take a calf of a year old of the herd for a sin-offering.

(Num 8:9) And thou shalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of witness; and thou shalt assemble all the congregation of the sons of Israel.

(Num 8:10) And thou shalt bring the Levites before YHVH; and the sons of Israel shall lay their hands upon the Levites.

(Num 8:11) And Aaron shall separate the Levites for a gift before YHVH from the children of Israel: and they shall be prepared to perform the works of YHVH.

(Num 8:12) And the Levites shall lay their hands on the heads of the calves; and thou shalt offer one for a sin-offering, and the other for a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH, to make atonement for them.

(Num 8:13) And thou shalt set the Levites before YHVH, and before Aaron, and before his sons; and thou shalt give them as a gift before YHVH.

(Num 8:14) And thou shalt separate the Levites from the midst of the sons of Israel, and they shall be mine.

(Num 8:15) And afterwards the Levites shall go in to perform the works of the tabernacle of witness; and thou shalt purify them, and present them before YHVH.

(Num 8:16) For these are given to me for a present out of the midst of the children of Israel: I have taken them to myself instead of all the first-born of the sons of Israel that open every womb.

(Num 8:17) For every first-born among the children of Israel is mine, whether of man or beast: in the day in which I smote every first-born in the land of Egypt, I sanctified them to myself.

(Num 8:18) And I took the Levites in the place of every first-born among the children of Israel.

(Num 8:19) And I gave the Levites presented as a gift to Aaron and his sons out of the midst of the children of Israel, to do the service of the children of Israel in the tabernacle of witness, and to make atonement for the children of Israel: thus there shall be none among the sons of Israel to draw nigh to the holy things.

(Num 8:20) And Moses and Aaron, and all the congregation of the children of Israel, did to the Levites as YHVH commanded Moses concerning the Levites, so the sons of Israel did to them.

(Num 8:21) So the Levites purified themselves and washed their garments; and Aaron presented them as a gift before YHVH, and Aaron made atonement for them to purify them.

(Num 8:22) And afterwards the Levites went in to minister in their service in the tabernacle of witness before Aaron, and before his sons; as YHVH appointed Moses concerning the Levites, so they did to them.

(Num 8:23) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 8:24) This is the ordinance for the Levites; From five and twenty years old and upward, they shall go in to minister in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 8:25) And from fifty years old the Levites shall cease from the ministry, and shall not work any longer.

(Num 8:26) And his brother shall serve in the tabernacle of witness to keep charges, but he shall not do works: so shalt thou do to the Levites in their charges.

(Num 9:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses in the wilderness of Sina in the second year after they had gone forth from the land of Egypt, in the first month, saying, (Num 9:2) Speak, and let the children of Israel keep the passover in its season.

(Num 9:3) On the fourteenth day of the first month at even, thou shalt keep it in its season; thou shalt keep it according to its law, and according to its ordinance.

(Num 9:4) And Moses ordered the children of Israel to sacrifice the passover, (Num 9:5) on the fourteenth day of the first month in the wilderness of Sina, as YHVH appointed Moses, so the children of Israel did.

(Num 9:6) And there came men who were unclean by reason of a dead body, and they were not able to keep the passover on that day; and they came before Moses and Aaron on that day.

(Num 9:7) And those men said to Moses, We are unclean by reason of the dead body of a man: shall we therefore fail to offer the gift to YHVH in its season in the midst of the children of Israel?

(Num 9:8) And Moses said to them, stand there, and I will hear what charge YHVH will give concerning you.

(Num 9:9) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 9:10) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Whatever man shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or on a journey far off, among you, or among your posterity; he shall then keep the passover to YHVH,

(Num 9:11) in the second month, on the fourteenth day; in the evening they shall offer it, with unleavened bread and bitter herbs shall they eat it.

(Num 9:12) They shall not leave of it until the morrow, and they shall not break a bone of it; they shall sacrifice it according to the ordinance of the passover.

(Num 9:13) And whatsoever man shall be clean, and is not far off on a journey, and shall fail to keep the passover, that soul shall be cut off from his people, because he has not offered the gift to YHVH in its season: that man shall bear his iniquity.

(Num 9:14) And if there should come to you a stranger in your land, and should keep the passover to YHVH, he shall keep it according to the law of the passover and according to its ordinance: there shall be one law for you, both for the stranger, and for the native of the land.

(Num 9:15) And in the day in which the tabernacle was pitched the cloud covered the tabernacle, the place of the testimony; and in the evening there was upon the tabernacle as the appearance of fire till the morning.

(Num 9:16) So it was continually: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.

(Num 9:17) And when the cloud went up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Israel departed; and in whatever place the cloud rested, there the children of Israel encamped.

(Num 9:18) The children of Israel shall encamp by the command of YHVH, and by the command of YHVH they shall remove: all the days in which the cloud overshadows the tabernacle, the children of Israel shall encamp.

(Num 9:19) And whenever the cloud shall be drawn over the tabernacle for many days, then the children of Israel shall keep the charge of Elohim, and they shall not remove.

(Num 9:20) And it shall be, whenever the cloud overshadows the tabernacle a number of days, they shall encamp by the word of YHVH, and shall remove by the command of YHVH.

(Num 9:21) And it shall come to pass, whenever the cloud shall remain from the evening till the morning, and in the morning the cloud shall go up, then shall they remove by day or by night.

(Num 9:22) When the cloud continues a full month overshadowing the tabernacle, the children of Israel shall encamp, and shall not depart.

(Num 9:23) For they shall depart by the command of YHVH: they kept the charge of YHVH by the command of YHVH by the hand of Moses.

(Num 10:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 10:2) Make to thyself two silver trumpets: thou shalt make them of beaten work; and they shall be to thee for the purpose of calling the assembly, and of removing the camps.

(Num 10:3) And thou shalt sound with them, and all the congregation shall be gathered to the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 10:4) And if they shall sound with one, all the rulers even the princes of Israel shall come to thee.

(Num 10:5) And ye shall sound an alarm, and the camps pitched eastward shall begin to move.

(Num 10:6) And ye shall sound a second alarm, and the camps pitched southward shall move; and ye shall sound a third alarm, and the camps pitched westward shall move forward; and ye shall sound a fourth alarm, and they that encamp toward the north shall move forward: they shall sound an alarm at their departure.

(Num 10:7) And whenever ye shall gather the assembly, ye shall sound, but not an alarm.

(Num 10:8) And the priests the sons of Aaron shall sound with the trumpets; and it shall be a perpetual ordinance for you throughout your generations.

(Num 10:9) And if ye shall go forth to war in your land against your enemies that are opposed to you, then shall ye sound with the trumpets; and ye shall be had in remembrance before YHVH, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.

(Num 10:10) And in the days of your gladness, and in your feasts, and in your new moons, ye shall sound with the trumpets at your whole-burnt-offerings, and at the sacrifices of your peace-offerings; and there shall be a memorial for you before your Elohim: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Num 10:11) And it came to pass in the second year, in the second month, on the twentieth day of the month, the cloud went up from the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 10:12) And the children of Israel set forward with their baggage in the wilderness of Sina; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Pharan.

(Num 10:13) And the first rank departed by the word of YHVH by the hand of Moses.

(Num 10:14) And they first set in motion the order of the camp of the children of Juda with their host; and over their host was Naasson, son of Aminadab.

(Num 10:15) And over the host of the tribe of the sons of Issachar, was Nathanael son of Sogar.

(Num 10:16) And over the host of the tribe of the sons of Zabulon, was Eliab the son of Chaelon.

(Num 10:17) And they shall take down the tabernacle, and the sons of Gedson shall set forward, and the sons of Merari, who bear the tabernacle.

(Num 10:18) And the order of the camp of Ruben set forward with their host; and over their host was Elisur the son of Sediur.

(Num 10:19) And over the host of the tribe of the sons of Symeon, was Salamiel son of Surisadai.

(Num 10:20) And over the host of the tribe of the children of Gad, was Elisaph the son of Raguel.

(Num 10:21) And the sons of Caath shall set forward bearing the holy things, and the others shall set up the tabernacle until they arrive.

(Num 10:22) And the order of the camp of Ephraim shall set forward with their forces; and over their forces was Elisama the son of Semiud.

(Num 10:23) And over the forces of the tribes of the sons of Manasse, was Gamaliel the son of Phadassur.

(Num 10:24) And over the forces of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, was Abidan the son of Gadeoni.

(Num 10:25) And the order of the camp of the sons of Dan shall set forward the last of all the camps, with their forces: and over their forces was Achiezer the son of Amisadai.

(Num 10:26) And over the forces of the tribe of the sons of Aser, was Phageel the son of Echan.

(Num 10:27) And over the forces of the tribe of the sons of Nephthali, was Achire the son of Enan.

(Num 10:28) These are the armies of the children of Israel; and they set forward with their forces.

(Num 10:29) And Moses said to Obad the son of Rabuel the Midianite, the father-in-law of Moses, We are going forward to the place concerning which YHWH said, This will I give to you: Come with us, and we will do thee good, for YHWH has spoken good concerning Israel.

(Num 10:30) And he said to him, I will not go, but I will go to my land and to my kindred.

(Num 10:31) And he said, Leave us not, because thou hast been with us in the wilderness, and thou shalt be an elder among us.

(Num 10:32) And it shall come to pass if thou wilt go with us, it shall even come to pass that in whatsoever things YHWH shall do us good, we will also do thee good.

(Num 10:33) And they departed from the mount of YHWH a three days' journey; and the ark of the covenant of YHWH went before them a three days' journey to provide rest for them.

(Num 10:34) And the cloud overshadowed them by day, when they departed from the camp.

(Num 10:35) And it came to pass when the ark set forward, that Moses said, Arise, YHWH, and let thine enemies be scattered: let all that hate thee flee.

(Num 10:36) And in the resting he said, Turn again, YHWH, the thousands and tens of thousands in Israel.

(Num 11:1) And the people murmured sinfully before YHWH; and YHWH heard them and was very angry; and fire was kindled among them from YHWH, and devoured a part of the camp.

(Num 11:2) And the people cried to Moses: and Moses prayed to YHWH, and the fire was quenched.

(Num 11:3) And the name of that place was called Burning; for a fire was kindled among them from YHWH.

(Num 11:4) And the mixed multitude among them lusted exceedingly; and they and the children of Israel sat down and wept and said, Who shall give us flesh to eat?

(Num 11:5) We remember the fish, which we ate in Egypt freely; and the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the garlic, and the onions.

(Num 11:6) But now our soul is dried up; our eyes turn to nothing but to the manna.

(Num 11:7) And the manna is as coriander seed, and the appearance of it the appearance of hoar-frost.

(Num 11:8) And the people went through the field, and gathered, and ground it in the mill, or pounded it in a mortar, and baked it in a pan, and made cakes of it; and the sweetness of it was as the taste of wafer made with oil.

(Num 11:9) And when the dew came upon the camp by night, the manna came down upon it.

(Num 11:10) And Moses heard them weeping by their families, every one in his door: and YHVH was very angry; and the thing was evil in the sight of Moses.

(Num 11:11) And Moses said to YHVH, Why hast thou afflicted thy servant, and why have I not found grace in thy sight, that thou shouldst lay the weight of this people upon me?

(Num 11:12) Have I conceived all this people, or have I born them? that thou sayest to me, Take them into thy bosom, as a nurse would take her suckling, into the land which thou swarest to their fathers?

(Num 11:13) Whence have I flesh to give to all this people? for they weep to me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.

(Num 11:14) I shall not be able to bear this people alone, for this thing is too heavy for me.

(Num 11:15) And if thou doest thus to me, slay me utterly, if I have found favour with thee, that I may not see my affliction.

(Num 11:16) And YHVH said to Moses, Gather me seventy men from the elders of Israel, whom thou thyself knowest that they are the elders of the people, and their scribes; and thou shalt bring them to the tabernacle of witness, and they shall stand there with thee.

(Num 11:17) And I will go down, and speak there with thee; and I will take of the spirit that is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear together with thee the burden of the people, and thou shalt not bear them alone.

(Num 11:18) And to the people thou shalt say, Purify yourselves for the morrow, and ye shall eat flesh; for ye wept before YHVH, saying, Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in Egypt: and YHVH shall allow you to eat flesh, and ye shall eat flesh.

(Num 11:19) Ye shall not eat one day, nor two, nor five days, nor ten days, nor twenty days;

(Num 11:20) ye shall eat for a full month, until the flesh come out at your nostrils; and it shall be nausea to you, because ye disobeyed YHVH, who is among you, and wept before him, saying, What had we to do to come out of Egypt?

(Num 11:21) And Moses said, The people among whom I am are six hundred thousand footmen; and thou saidst, I will give them flesh to eat, and they shall eat a whole month.

(Num 11:22) Shall sheep and oxen be slain for them, and shall it suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, and shall it suffice them?

(Num 11:23) And YHVH said to Moses, Shall not the hand of YHVH be fully sufficient? now shalt thou know whether my word shall come to pass to thee or not.

(Num 11:24) And Moses went out, and spoke the words of YHVH to the people; and he gathered seventy men of the elders of the people, and he set them round about the tabernacle.

(Num 11:25) And YHVH came down in a cloud, and spoke to him, and took of the spirit that was upon him, and put it upon the seventy men that were elders; and when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied and ceased.

(Num 11:26) And there were two men left in the camp, the name of the one was Eldad, and the name of the other Modad; and the spirit rested upon them, and these were of the number of them that were enrolled, but they did not come to the tabernacle; and they prophesied in the camp.

(Num 11:27) And a young man ran and told Moses, and spoke, saying, Eldad and Modad prophesy in the camp.

(Num 11:28) And YAHshua the son of Naue, who attended on Moses, the chosen one, said, My lord Moses, forbid them.

(Num 11:29) And Moses said to him, Art thou jealous on my account? and would that all YHVH's people were prophets; whenever YHVH shall put his spirit upon them.

(Num 11:30) And Moses departed into the camp, himself and the elders of Israel.

(Num 11:31) And there went forth a wind from YHVH, and brought quails over from the sea; and it brought them down upon the camp a day's journey on this side, and a day's journey on that side, round about the camp, as it were two cubits from the earth.

(Num 11:32) And the people rose up all the day, and all the night, and all the next day, and gathered quails; he that gathered least, gathered ten measures; and they refreshed themselves round about the camp.

(Num 11:33) The flesh was yet between their teeth, before it failed, when YHVH was wroth with the people, and YHVH smote the people with a very great plague.

(Num 11:34) And the name of that place was called the Graves of Lust; for there they buried the people that lusted.

(Num 11:35) The people departed from the Graves of Lust to Aseroth; and the people halted at Aseroth.

(Num 12:1) And Mariam and Aaron spoke against Moses, because of the Ethiopian woman whom Moses took; for he had taken an Ethiopian woman.

(Num 12:2) And they said, Has YHVH spoken to Moses only? has he not also spoken to us? and YHVH heard it.

(Num 12:3) And the man Moses was very meek beyond all the men that were upon the earth.

(Num 12:4) And YHVH said immediately to Moses and Aaron and Mariam, Come forth all three of you to the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 12:5) And the three came forth to the tabernacle of witness; and YHVH descended in a pillar of a cloud, and stood at the door of the tabernacle of witness; and Aaron and Mariam were called; and both came forth.

(Num 12:6) And he said to them, Hear my words: If there should be of you a prophet to YHVH, I will be made known to him in a vision, and in sleep will I speak to him.

(Num 12:7) My servant Moses is not so; he is faithful in all my house.

(Num 12:8) I will speak to him mouth to mouth apparently, and not in dark speeches; and he has seen the glory of YHVH; and why were ye not afraid to speak against my servant Moses?

(Num 12:9) And the great anger of YHVH was upon them, and he departed.

(Num 12:10) And the cloud departed from the tabernacle; and, behold, Mariam was leprous, white as snow; and Aaron looked upon Mariam, and, behold, she was leprous.

(Num 12:11) And Aaron said to Moses, I beseech thee, my lord, do not lay sin upon us, for we were ignorant wherein we sinned.

(Num 12:12) Let her not be as it were like death, as an abortion coming out of his mother's womb, when the disease devours the half of the flesh.

(Num 12:13) And Moses cried to YHVH, saying, O Elohim, I beseech thee, heal her.

(Num 12:14) And YHVH said to Moses, If her father had only spit in her face, would she not be ashamed seven days? let her be set apart seven days without the camp, and afterwards she shall come in.

(Num 12:15) And Mariam was separated without the camp seven days; and the people moved not forward till Mariam was cleansed.

(Num 13:1) And afterwards the people set forth from Aseroth, and encamped in the wilderness of Pharan.

(Num 13:2) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 13:3) Send for thee men, and let them spy the land of the Chananites, which I give to the sons of Israel for a possession; one man for a tribe, thou shalt send them away according to their families, every one of them a prince.

(Num 13:4) And Moses sent them out of the wilderness of Pharan by the word of YHVH; all these were the princes of the sons of Israel.

(Num 13:5) And these are their names: of the tribe of Ruben, Samuel the son of Zachur.

(Num 13:6) Of the tribe of Symeon, Saphat the son of Suri.

(Num 13:7) Of the tribe of Judah, Chaleb the son of Jephonne.

(Num 13:8) Of the tribe of Issachar, Ilaal the son of Joseph.

(Num 13:9) Of the tribe of Ephraim, Ause the son of Naue.

(Num 13:10) Of the tribe of Benjamin, Phalti the son of Raphu.

(Num 13:11) Of the tribe of Zabulon, Gudiel the son of Sudi.

(Num 13:12) Of the tribe of Joseph of the sons of Manasse, Gaddi the son of Susi.

(Num 13:13) Of the tribe of Dan, Amiel the son of Gamali.

(Num 13:14) Of the tribe of Aser, Sathur the son of Michael.

(Num 13:15) Of the tribe of Nephthali, Nabi the son of Sabi.

(Num 13:16) Of the tribe of Gad, Gudiel the son of Macchi.

(Num 13:17) These are the names of the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land; and Moses called Ause the son of Naue, YAHshua.

(Num 13:18) And Moses sent them to spy out the land of Chanaan, and said to them, Go up by this wilderness; and ye shall go up to the mountain,

(Num 13:19) and ye shall see the land, what it is, and the people that dwells on it, whether it is strong or weak, or whether they are few or many.

(Num 13:20) And what the land is on which they dwell, whether it is good or bad; and what the cities are wherein these dwell, whether they dwell in walled cities or unwalled.

(Num 13:21) And what the land is, whether rich or poor; whether there are trees in it or no: and ye shall persevere and take of the fruits of the land: and the days were the days of spring, the forerunners of the grape.

(Num 13:22) And they went up and surveyed the land from the wilderness of Sin to Rhoob, as men go in to Æmath.

(Num 13:23) And they went up by the wilderness, and departed as far as Chebron; and there was Achiman, and Sessi, and Thelami, the progeny of Enach. Now Chebron was built seven years before Tanin of Egypt.

(Num 13:24) And they came to the valley of the cluster and surveyed it; and they cut down thence a bough and one cluster of grapes upon it, and bore it on staves, and they took of the pomegranates and the figs.

(Num 13:25) And they called that place, The valley of the cluster, because of the cluster which the children of Israel cut down from thence.

(Num 13:26) And they returned from thence, having surveyed the land, after forty days.

(Num 13:27) And they proceeded and came to Moses and Aaron and all the congregation of the children of Israel, to the wilderness of Pharan Cades; and they brought word to them and to all the congregation, and they shewed the fruit of the land:

(Num 13:28) and they reported to him, and said, We came into the land into which thou sentest us, a land flowing with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it.

(Num 13:29) Only the nation that dwells upon it is bold, and they have very great and strong walled towns, and we saw there the children of Enach.

(Num 13:30) And Amalec dwells in the land toward the south: and the Chettite and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Amorite dwells in the hill country: and the Chananite dwells by the sea, and by the river Jordan.

(Num 13:31) And Chaleb stayed the people from speaking before Moses, and said to him, Nay, but we will go up by all means, and will inherit it, for we shall surely prevail against them.

(Num 13:32) But the men that went up together with him said, We will not go up, for we shall not by any means be able to go up against the nation, for it is much stronger than we.

(Num 13:33) And they brought a horror of that land which they surveyed upon the children of Israel, saying, The land which we passed by to survey it, is a land that eats up its inhabitants; and all the people whom we saw in it are men of extraordinary stature.

(Num 13:34) And there we saw the giants; and we were before them as locusts, yea even so were we before them.

(Num 14:1) And all the congregation lifted up their voice and cried; and the people wept all that night.

(Num 14:2) And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron; and all the congregation said to them, (Num 14:3) Would we had died in the land of Egypt! or in this wilderness, would we had died! and why does YHVH bring us into this land to fall in war? our wives and our children shall be for a prey: now then it is better to return into Egypt.

(Num 14:4) And they said one to another, Let us make a ruler, and return into Egypt.

(Num 14:5) And Moses and Aaron fell upon their face before all the congregation of the children of Israel.

(Num 14:6) But YAHshua the son of Naue, and Chaleb the son of Jephonne, of the number of them that spied out the land, rent their garments, (Num 14:7) and spoke to all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, The land which we surveyed is indeed extremely good.

(Num 14:8) If YHVH choose us, he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which flows with milk and honey.

(Num 14:9) Only depart not from YHVH; and fear ye not the people of the land, for they are meat for us; for the season of prosperity is departed from them, but YHVH is among us: fear them not.

(Num 14:10) And all the congregation bade stone them with stones; and the glory of YHVH appeared in the cloud on the tabernacle of witness to all the children of Israel.

(Num 14:11) And YHVH said to Moses, How long does this people provoke me? and how long do they refuse to believe me for all the signs which I have wrought among them?

(Num 14:12) I will smite them with death, and destroy them; and I will make of thee and of thy father's house a great nation, and much greater than this.

(Num 14:13) And Moses said to YHVH, So Egypt shall hear, for thou hast brought up this people from them by thy might.

(Num 14:14) Moreover all the dwellers upon this land have heard that thou art Lord in the midst of this people, who, YHVH, art seen by them face to face, and thy cloud rests upon them, and thou goest before them by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire.

(Num 14:15) And if thou shalt destroy this nation as one man; then all the nations that have heard thy name shall speak, saying, (Num 14:16) Because YHVH could not bring this people into the land which he swore to them, he has overthrown them in the wilderness.

(Num 14:17) And now, YHVH, let thy strength be exalted, as thou spakest, saying,

(Num 14:18) YHVH is long-suffering and merciful, and true, removing transgressions and iniquities and sins, and he will by no means clear the guilty, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation.

(Num 14:19) Forgive this people their sin according to thy great mercy, as thou wast favourable to them from Egypt until now.

(Num 14:20) And YHVH said to Moses, I am gracious to them according to thy word.

(Num 14:21) But as I live and my name is living, so the glory of YHVH shall fill all the earth.

(Num 14:22) For all the men who see my glory, and the signs which I wrought in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me this tenth time, and have not hearkened to my voice, (Num 14:23) surely they shall not see the land, which I swore to their fathers; but their children which are with me here, as many as know not good or evil, every inexperienced youth, to them will I give the land; but none who have provoked me shall see it.

(Num 14:24) But my servant Chaleb, because there was another spirit in him, and he followed me, I will bring him into the land into which he entered, and his seed shall inherit it.

(Num 14:25) But Amalec and the Chananite dwell in the valley: to-morrow turn and depart for the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

(Num 14:26) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,
(Num 14:27) How long shall I endure this wicked congregation? I have heard their murmurings against me, even the murmuring of the children of Israel, which they have murmured concerning you.
(Num 14:28) Say to them, As I live, saith YHVH: surely as ye spoke into my ears, so will I do to you.
(Num 14:29) Your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness; and all those of you that were reviewed, and those of you that were numbered from twenty years old and upward, all that murmured against me,
(Num 14:30) ye shall not enter into the land for which I stretched out my hand to establish you upon it; except only Chaleb the son of Jephonne, and YAHshua the son of Naue.
(Num 14:31) And your little ones, who ye said should be a prey, them will I bring into the land; and they shall inherit the land, which ye rejected.
(Num 14:32) And your carcasses shall fall in this wilderness.
(Num 14:33) And your sons shall be fed in the wilderness forty years, and they shall bear your fornication, until your carcasses be consumed in the wilderness.
(Num 14:34) According to the number of the days during which ye spied the land, forty days, a day for a year, ye shall bear your sins forty years, and ye shall know my fierce anger.
(Num 14:35) I YHVH have spoken, Surely will I do thus to this evil congregation that has risen up together against me: in this wilderness they shall be utterly consumed, and there they shall die.
(Num 14:36) And the men whom Moses sent to spy out the land, and who came and murmured against it to the assembly so as to bring out evil words concerning the land,
(Num 14:37) the men that spoke evil reports against the land, even died of the plague before YHVH.
(Num 14:38) And YAHshua the son of Naue and Chaleb the son of Jephonne still lived of those men that went to spy out the land.
(Num 14:39) And Moses spoke these words to all the children of Israel; and the people mourned exceedingly.
(Num 14:40) And they rose early in the morning and went up to the top of the mountain, saying, Behold, we that are here will go up to the place of which YHVH has spoken, because we have sinned.
(Num 14:41) And Moses said, Why do ye transgress the word of YHVH? ye shall not prosper.
(Num 14:42) Go not up, for YHVH is not with you; so shall ye fall before the face of your enemies.
(Num 14:43) For Amalec and the Chananite are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword; because ye have disobeyed YHVH and turned aside, and YHVH will not be among you.
(Num 14:44) And having forced their passage, they went up to the top of the mountain; but the ark of the covenant of YHVH and Moses stirred not out of the camp.
(Num 14:45) And Amalec and the Chananite that dwelt in that mountain came down, and routed them, and destroyed them unto Herman; and they returned to the camp.

(Num 15:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 15:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, When ye are come into the land of your habitation, which I give to you,

(Num 15:3) and thou wilt offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH, a whole-burnt-offering or a meat-offering to perform a vow, or a free-will offering, or to offer in your feasts a sacrifice of sweet savour to YHVH, whether of the herd or the flock:

(Num 15:4) then he that offers his gift to YHVH shall bring a meat-offering of fine flour, a tenth part of an ephah mingled with oil, even with the fourth part of a hin.

(Num 15:5) And for a drink-offering ye shall offer the fourth part of a hin on the whole-burnt-offering, or on the meat-offering: for every lamb thou shalt offer so much, as a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Num 15:6) And for a ram, when ye offer it as a whole-burnt-offering or as a sacrifice, thou shalt prepare as a meat-offering two tenths of fine flour mingled with oil, the third part of a hin.

(Num 15:7) And ye shall offer for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH wine for a drink-offering, the third part of a hin.

(Num 15:8) And if ye sacrifice a bullock from the herd for a whole-burnt-offering or for a sacrifice, to perform a vow or a peace-offering to YHVH, (Num 15:9) then the worshipper shall offer upon the calf a meat-offering, three tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil, even the half of a hin.

(Num 15:10) And wine for a drink-offering the half of a hin, a sacrifice for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Num 15:11) Thus shalt thou do to one calf or to one ram, or to one lamb of the sheep or kid of the goats.

(Num 15:12) According to the number of what ye shall offer, so shall ye do to each one, according to their number.

(Num 15:13) Every native of the country shall do thus to offer such things as sacrifices for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Num 15:14) And if there should be a stranger among you in your land, or one who should be born to you among your generations, and he will offer a sacrifice, a smell of sweet savour to YHVH as ye do, so the whole congregation shall offer to YHVH.

(Num 15:15) There shall be one law for you and for the strangers abiding among you, a perpetual law for your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before YHVH.

(Num 15:16) There shall be one law and one ordinance for you, and for the stranger that abides among you.

(Num 15:17) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 15:18) Speak to the sons of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, When ye are entering into the land, into which I bring you,

(Num 15:19) then it shall come to pass, when ye shall eat of the bread of the land, ye shall separate a wave-offering, a special offering to YHVH, the first-fruits of your dough.

(Num 15:20) Ye shall offer your bread a heave-offering: as a heave-offering from the threshing-floor, so shall ye separate it, (Num 15:21) even the first-fruits of your dough, and ye shall give YHVH a heave-offering throughout your generations.

(Num 15:22) But whosoever ye shall transgress, and not perform all these commands, which YHVH spoke to Moses;

(Num 15:23) as YHVH appointed you by the hand of Moses, from the day which YHVH appointed you and forward throughout your generations,

(Num 15:24) then it shall come to pass, if a trespass be committed unwillingly, unknown to the congregation, then shall all the congregation offer a calf of the herd without blemish for a whole-burnt-offering of sweet savour to YHVH, and its meat-offering and its drink-offering according to the ordinance, and one kid of the goats for a sin-offering.

(Num 15:25) And the priest shall make atonement for all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the trespass shall be forgiven them, because it is involuntary; and they have brought their gift, a burnt-offering to YHVH for their trespass before YHVH, even for their involuntary sins.

(Num 15:26) And it shall be forgiven as respects all the congregation of the children of Israel, and the stranger that is abiding among you, because it is involuntary to all the people.

(Num 15:27) And if one soul sin unwillingly, he shall bring one she-goat of a year old for a sin-offering.

(Num 15:28) And the priest shall make atonement for the soul that committed the trespass unwillingly, and that sinned unwillingly before YHVH, to make atonement for him.

(Num 15:29) There shall be one law for the native among the children of Israel, and for the stranger that abides among them, whosoever shall commit a trespass unwillingly.

(Num 15:30) And whatever soul either of the natives or of the strangers shall do any thing with a presumptuous hand, he will provoke Elohim; that soul shall be cut off from his people, (Num 15:31) for he has set at nought the word of YHVH and broken his commands: that soul shall be utterly destroyed, his sin is upon him.

(Num 15:32) And the children of Israel were in the wilderness, and they found a man gathering sticks on the Sabbath-day.

(Num 15:33) And they who found him gathering sticks on the Sabbath-day brought him to Moses and Aaron, and to all the congregation of the children of Israel.

(Num 15:34) And they placed him in custody, for they did not determine what they should do to him.

(Num 15:35) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Let the man be by all means put to death: do ye all the congregation, stone him with stones.

(Num 15:36) And all the congregation brought him forth out of the camp; and all the congregation stoned him with stones outside the camp, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 15:37) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 15:38) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt tell them; and let them make for themselves fringes upon the borders of their garments throughout their generations: and ye shall put upon the fringes of the borders a lace of blue.

(Num 15:39) And it shall be on your fringes, and ye shall look on them, and ye shall remember all the commands of YHVH, and do them: and ye shall not turn back after your imaginations, and after the sight of your eyes in the things after which ye go a whoring;

(Num 15:40) that ye may remember and perform all my commands, and ye shall be holy unto your Elohim.

(Num 15:41) I am YHVH your Elohim that brought you out of the land of Egypt, to be your Elohim: I am YHVH your Elohim.

(Num 16:1) And Core the son of Isaar the son of Caath the son of Levi, and Dathan and Abiron, sons of Eliab, and Aun the son of Phaleth the son of Ruben, spoke;

(Num 16:2) and rose up before Moses, and two hundred and fifty men of the sons of Israel, chiefs of the assembly, chosen councillors, and men of renown.

(Num 16:3) They rose up against Moses and Aaron, and said, Let it be enough for you that all the congregation are holy, and YHVH is among them; and why do ye set up yourselves against the congregation of YHVH?

(Num 16:4) And when Moses heard it, he fell on his face.

(Num 16:5) And he spoke to Core and all his assembly, saying, Elohim has visited and known those that are his and who are holy, and has brought them to himself; and whom he has chosen for himself, he has brought to himself.

(Num 16:6) This do ye: take to yourselves censers, Core and all his company;

(Num 16:7) and put fire on them, and put incense on them before YHVH tomorrow; and it shall come to pass that the man whom YHVH has chosen, he shall be holy: let it be enough for you, ye sons of Levi.

(Num 16:8) And Moses said to Core, Hearken to me, ye sons of Levi.

(Num 16:9) Is it a little thing for you, that the Elohim of Israel has separated you from the congregation of Israel, and brought you near to himself to minister in the services of the tabernacle of YHVH, and to stand before the tabernacle to minister for them?

(Num 16:10) And he has brought thee near and all thy brethren the sons of Levi with thee, and do ye seek to be priests also?

(Num 16:11) Thus it is with thee and all thy congregation which is gathered together against Elohim: and who is Aaron, that ye murmur against him?

(Num 16:12) And Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiron sons of Eliab; and they said, We will not go up.

(Num 16:13) Is it a little thing that thou hast brought us up to a land flowing with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, and that thou altogether rulest over us?

(Num 16:14) Thou art a prince, and hast thou brought us into a land flowing with milk and honey, and hast thou given us an inheritance of land and vineyards? wouldest thou have put out the eyes of those men? we will not go up.

(Num 16:15) And Moses was exceeding indignant, and said to YHVH, Do thou take no heed to their sacrifice: I have not taken away the desire of any one of them, neither have I hurt any one of them.

(Num 16:16) And Moses said to Core, Sanctify thy company, and be ready before YHVH, thou and Aaron and they, to-morrow.

(Num 16:17) And take each man his censer, and ye shall put incense upon them, and shall bring each one his censer before YHVH, two hundred and fifty censers, and thou and Aaron shall bring each his censer.

(Num 16:18) And each man took his censer, and they put on them fire, and laid incense on them; and Moses and Aaron stood by the doors of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 16:19) And Core raised up against them all his company by the door of the tabernacle of witness; and the glory of YHVH appeared to all the congregation.

(Num 16:20) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Num 16:21) Separate your selves from the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once.

(Num 16:22) And they fell on their faces, and said, O Elohim, the Elohim of spirits and of all flesh, if one man has sinned, shall the wrath of YHVH be upon the whole congregation?

(Num 16:23) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 16:24) Speak to the congregation, saying, Depart from the company of Core round about.

(Num 16:25) And Moses rose up and went to Dathan and Abiron, and all the elders of Israel went with him.

(Num 16:26) And he spoke to the congregation, saying, Separate yourselves from the tents of these stubborn men, and touch nothing that belongs to them, lest ye be consumed with them in all their sin.

(Num 16:27) And they stood aloof from the tent of Core round about; and Dathan and Abiron went forth and stood by the doors of their tents, and their wives and their children and their store.

(Num 16:28) And Moses said, Hereby shall ye know that YHVH has sent me to perform all these works, that I have not done them of myself.

(Num 16:29) If these men shall die according to the death of all men, if also their visitation shall be according to the visitation of all men, then YHVH has not sent me.

(Num 16:30) But if YHVH shall shew by a wonder, and the earth shall open her mouth and swallow them up, and their houses, and their tents, and all that belongs to them, and they shall go down alive into Hades, then ye shall know that these men have provoked YHVH.

(Num 16:31) And when he ceased speaking all these words, the ground clave asunder beneath them.

(Num 16:32) And the ground opened, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that were with Core, and their cattle.

(Num 16:33) And they went down and all that they had, alive into Hades; and the ground covered them, and they perished from the midst of the congregation.

(Num 16:34) And all Israel round about them fled from the sound of them, for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also.

(Num 16:35) And fire went forth from YHVH, and devoured the two hundred and fifty men that offered incense.

(Num 16:36) And YHVH said to Moses,

(Num 16:37) and to Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, Take up the brazen censers out of the midst of the men that have been burnt, and scatter the strange fire yonder, for they have sanctified the censers

(Num 16:38) of these sinners against their own souls, and do thou make them beaten plates a covering to the altar, because they were brought before YHVH and hallowed; and they became a sign to the children of Israel.

(Num 16:39) And Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest took the brazen censers, which the men who had been burnt brought near, and they put them as a covering on the altar:

(Num 16:40) a memorial to the children of Israel that no stranger might draw nigh, who is not of the seed of Aaron, to offer incense before YHVH; so he shall not be as Core and as they that conspired with him, as YHVH spoke to him by the hand of Moses.

(Num 16:41) And the children of Israel murmured the next day against Moses and Aaron, saying, Ye have killed the people of YHVH.

(Num 16:42) And it came to pass when the congregation combined against Moses and Aaron, that they ran impetuously to the tabernacle of witness; and the cloud covered it, and the glory of YHVH appeared.

(Num 16:43) And Moses and Aaron went in, in front of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 16:44) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Num 16:45) Depart out of the midst of this congregation, and I will consume them at once: and they fell upon their faces.

(Num 16:46) And Moses said to Aaron, Take a censer, and put on it fire from the altar, and put incense on it, and carry it away quickly into the camp, and make atonement for them; for wrath is gone forth from the presence of YHVH, it has begun to destroy the people.

(Num 16:47) And Aaron took as Moses spoke to him, and ran among the congregation, for already the plague had begun among the people; and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people.

(Num 16:48) And he stood between the dead and the living, and the plague ceased.

(Num 16:49) And they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, besides those that died on account of Core.

(Num 16:50) And Aaron returned to Moses to the door of the tabernacle of witness, and the plague ceased.

(Num 17:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 17:2) Speak to the children of Israel, and take rods of them, according to the houses of their families, a rod from all their princes, according to the houses of their families, twelve rods, and write the name of each on his rod.

(Num 17:3) And write the name of Aaron on the rod of Levi; for it is one rod for each: they shall give them according to the tribe of the house of their families.

(Num 17:4) And thou shalt put them in the tabernacle of witness, before the testimony, where I will be made known to thee.

(Num 17:5) And it shall be, the man whom I shall choose, his rod shall blossom; and I will remove from me the murmuring of the children of Israel, which they murmur against you.

(Num 17:6) And Moses spoke to the children of Israel, and all their chiefs gave him a rod each, for one chief a rod, according to the house of their families, twelve rods; and the rod of Aaron was in the midst of the rods.

(Num 17:7) And Moses laid up the rods before YHVH in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 17:8) And it came to pass on the morrow, that Moses and Aaron went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Levi blossomed, and put forth a bud, and bloomed blossoms and produced almonds.

(Num 17:9) And Moses brought forth all the rods from before YHVH to all the sons of Israel; and they looked, and each one took his rod.

(Num 17:10) And YHVH said to Moses, Lay up the rod of Aaron before the testimonies to be kept as a sign for the children of the disobedient; and let their murmuring cease from me, and they shall not die.

(Num 17:11) And Moses and Aaron did as YHVH commanded Moses, so did they.

(Num 17:12) And the children of Israel spoke to Moses, saying, Behold, we are cut off, we are destroyed, we are consumed.

(Num 17:13) Every one that touches the tabernacle of YHVH, dies: shall we die utterly?

(Num 18:1) And YHVH spoke to Aaron, saying, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house shall bear the sins of the holy things, and thou and thy sons shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.

(Num 18:2) And take to thyself thy brethren the tribe of Levi, the family of thy father, and let them be joined to thee, and let them minister to thee; and thou and thy sons with thee shall minister before the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 18:3) And they shall keep thy charges, and the charges of the tabernacle; only they shall not approach the holy vessels and the altar, so both they and you shall not die.

(Num 18:4) And they shall be joined to thee, and shall keep the charges of the tabernacle of witness, in all the services of the tabernacle; and a stranger shall not approach to thee.

(Num 18:5) And ye shall keep the charges of the holy things, and the charges of the altar, and so there shall not be anger among the children of Israel.

(Num 18:6) And I have taken your brethren the Levites out of the midst of the children of Israel, a present given to YHVH, to minister in the services of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 18:7) And thou and thy sons after thee shall keep up your priestly ministration, according to the whole manner of the altar, and that which is within the veil; and ye shall minister in the services as the office of your priesthood; and the stranger that comes near shall die.

(Num 18:8) And YHVH said to Aaron, And, behold, I have given you the charge of the first-fruits of all things consecrated to me by the children of Israel; and I have given them to thee as an honour, and to thy sons after thee for a perpetual ordinance.

(Num 18:9) And let this be to you from all the holy things that are consecrated to me, even the burnt-offerings, from all their gifts, and from all their sacrifices, and from every trespass-offering of theirs, and from all their sin-offerings, whatever things they give to me of all their holy things, they shall be thine and thy sons'.

(Num 18:10) In the most holy place shall ye eat them; every male shall eat them, thou and thy sons: they shall be holy to thee.

(Num 18:11) And this shall be to you of the first-fruits of their gifts, of all the wave-offerings of the children of Israel; to thee have I given them and to thy sons and thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance; every clean person in thy house shall eat them.

(Num 18:12) Every first-offering of oil, and every first-offering of wine, their first-fruits of corn, whatsoever they may give to YHVH, to thee have I given them.

(Num 18:13) All the first-fruits that are in their land, whatsoever they shall offer to YHVH, shall be thine: every clean person in thy house shall eat them.

(Num 18:14) Every devoted thing among the children of Israel shall be thine.

(Num 18:15) And every thing that opens the womb of all flesh, whatsoever they bring to YHVH, whether man or beast, shall be thine: only the first-born of men shall be surely redeemed, and thou shalt redeem the first-born of unclean cattle.

(Num 18:16) And the redemption of them shall be from a month old; their valuation of five shekels it is twenty oboli according to the holy shekel.

(Num 18:17) But thou shalt not redeem the first-born of calves and the first-born of sheep and the first-born of goats; they are holy: and thou shalt pour their blood upon the altar, and thou shalt offer the fat as a burnt-offering for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Num 18:18) And the flesh shall be thine, as also the breast of the wave-offering and as the right shoulder, it shall be thine.

(Num 18:19) Every special offering of the holy things, whatsoever the children of Israel shall specially offer to YHVH, I have given to thee and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, a perpetual ordinance: it is a covenant of salt for ever before YHVH, for thee and thy seed after thee.

(Num 18:20) And YHVH said to Aaron, Thou shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any portion among them; for I am thy portion and thine inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel.

(Num 18:21) And, behold, I have given to the sons of Levi every tithe in Israel for an inheritance for their services, whereinsoever they perform ministry in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 18:22) And the children of Israel shall no more draw nigh to the tabernacle of witness to incur fatal guilt.

(Num 18:23) And the Levite himself shall perform the service of the tabernacle of witness; and they shall bear their iniquities, it is a perpetual statute throughout their generations; and in the midst of the children of Israel they shall not receive an inheritance.

(Num 18:24) Because I have given as a distinct portion to the Levites for an inheritance the tithes of the children of Israel, whatsoever they shall offer to YHVH; therefore I said to them, In the midst of the children of Israel they shall have no inheritance.

(Num 18:25) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 18:26) Thou shalt also speak to the Levites, and shalt say to them, If ye take the tithe from the children of Israel, which I have given you from them for an inheritance, then shall ye separate from it a heave-offering to YHVH, a tenth of the tenth.

(Num 18:27) And your heave-offerings shall be reckoned to you as corn from the floor, and an offering from the wine-press.

(Num 18:28) So shall ye also separate them from all the offerings of YHVH out of all your tithes, whatsoever ye shall receive from the children of Israel; and ye shall give of them an offering to YHVH to Aaron the priest.

(Num 18:29) Of all your gifts ye shall offer an offering to YHVH, and of every first-fruit the consecrated part from it.

(Num 18:30) And thou shalt say to them, When ye shall offer the first-fruits from it, then shall it be reckoned to the Levites as produce from the threshing-floor, and as produce from the wine-press.

(Num 18:31) And ye shall eat it in any place, ye and your families; for this is your reward for your services in the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 18:32) And ye shall not bear sin by reason of it, for ye shall have offered an offering of first-fruits from it, and ye shall not profane the holy things of the children of Israel, that ye die not.

(Num 19:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying,

(Num 19:2) This is the constitution of the law, as YHVH has commanded, saying, Speak to the sons of Israel, and let them take for thee a red heifer without spot, which has no spot on her, and on which no yoke has been put.

(Num 19:3) And thou shalt give her to Eleazar the priest; and they shall bring her out of the camp into a clean place, and shall kill her before his face.

(Num 19:4) And Eleazar shall take of her blood, and sprinkle of her blood seven times in front of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 19:5) And they shall burn her to ashes before him; and her skin and her flesh and her blood, with her dung, shall be consumed.

(Num 19:6) And the priest shall take cedar wood and hyssop and scarlet wool, and they shall cast them into the midst of the burning of the heifer.

(Num 19:7) And the priest shall wash his garments, and bathe his body in water, and afterwards he shall go into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean till evening.

(Num 19:8) And he that burns her shall wash his garments, and bathe his body, and shall be unclean till evening.

(Num 19:9) And a clean man shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up in a clean place outside the camp; and they shall be for the congregation of the children of Israel to keep: it is the water of sprinkling, a purification.

(Num 19:10) And he that gathers up the ashes of the heifer shall wash his garments, and shall be unclean until evening; and it shall be a perpetual statute for the children of Israel and for the strangers joined to them.

(Num 19:11) He that touches the dead body of any man, shall be unclean seven days.

(Num 19:12) He shall be purified on the third day and the seventh day, and shall be clean; but if he be not purged on the third day and the seventh day, he shall not be clean.

(Num 19:13) Every one that touches the carcase of the person of a man, if he should have died, and the other not have been purified, has defiled the tabernacle of YHVH: that soul shall be cut off from Israel, because the water of sprinkling has not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him.

(Num 19:14) And this is the law; if a man die in a house, every one that goes into the house, and all things in the house, shall be unclean seven days.

(Num 19:15) And every open vessel which has not a covering bound upon it, shall be unclean.

(Num 19:16) And every one who shall touch a man slain by violence, or a corpse, or human bone, or sepulchre, shall be unclean seven days.

(Num 19:17) And they shall take for the unclean of the burnt ashes of purification, and they shall pour upon them running water into a vessel.

(Num 19:18) And a clean man shall take hyssop, and dip it into the water, and sprinkle it upon the house, and the furniture, and all the souls that are therein, and upon him that touched the human bone, or the slain man, or the corpse, or the tomb.

(Num 19:19) And the clean man shall sprinkle the water on the unclean on the third day and on the seventh day, and on the seventh day he shall purify himself; and the other shall wash his garments, and bathe himself in water, and shall be unclean until evening.

(Num 19:20) And whatever man shall be defiled and shall not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from the midst of the congregation, because he has defiled the holy things of YHVH, because the water of sprinkling has not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean.

(Num 19:21) And it shall be to you a perpetual statute; and he that sprinkles the water of sprinkling shall wash his garments; and he that touches the water of sprinkling shall be unclean until evening.

(Num 19:22) And whatsoever the unclean man shall touch shall be unclean, and the soul that touches it shall be unclean till evening.

(Num 20:1) And the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, came into the wilderness of Sin, in the first month, and the people abode in Cades; and Mariam died there, and was buried there.

(Num 20:2) And there was no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together against Moses and Aaron.

(Num 20:3) And the people reviled Moses, saying, Would we had died in the destruction of our brethren before YHVH!

(Num 20:4) And wherefore have ye brought up the congregation of YHVH into this wilderness, to kill us and our cattle?

(Num 20:5) And wherefore is this? Ye have brought us up out of Egypt, that we should come into this evil place; a place where there is no sowing, neither figs, nor vines, nor pomegranates, neither is there water to drink.

(Num 20:6) And Moses and Aaron went from before the assembly to the door of the tabernacle of witness, and they fell upon their faces; and the glory of YHVH appeared to them.

(Num 20:7) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 20:8) Take thy rod, and call the assembly, thou and Aaron thy brother, and speak ye to the rock before them, and it shall give forth its waters; and ye shall bring forth for them water out of the rock, and give drink to the congregation and their cattle.

(Num 20:9) And Moses took his rod which was before YHVH, as YHVH commanded.

(Num 20:10) And Moses and Aaron assembled the congregation before the rock, and said to them, Hear me, ye disobedient ones; must we bring you water out of this rock?

(Num 20:11) And Moses lifted up his hand and struck the rock with his rod twice; and much water came forth, and the congregation drank, and their cattle.

(Num 20:12) And YHVH said to Moses and Aaron, Because ye have not believed me to sanctify me before the children of Israel, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.

(Num 20:13) This is the water of Strife, because the children of Israel spoke insolently before YHVH, and he was sanctified in them.

(Num 20:14) And Moses sent messengers from Cades to the king of Edom, saying, Thus says thy brother Israel; Thou knowest all the distress that has come upon us.

(Num 20:15) And how our fathers went down into Egypt, and we sojourned in Egypt many days, and the Egyptians afflicted us and our fathers.

(Num 20:16) And we cried to YHVH, and YHVH heard our voice, and sent an angel and brought us out of Egypt; and now we are in the city of Cades, at the extremity of thy coasts.

(Num 20:17) We will pass through thy land: we will not go through the fields, nor through the vineyards, nor will we drink water out of thy cistern: we will go by the king's highway; we will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left, until we have passed thy borders.

(Num 20:18) And Edom said to him, Thou shalt not pass through me, and if otherwise, I will go forth to meet thee in war.

(Num 20:19) And the children of Israel say to him, We will pass by the mountain; and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, I will pay thee: but it is no matter of importance, we will go by the mountain.

(Num 20:20) And he said, Thou shalt not pass through me; and Edom went forth to meet him with a great host, and a mighty hand.

(Num 20:21) So Edom refused to allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Israel turned away from him.

(Num 20:22) And they departed from Cades; and the children of Israel, even the whole congregation, came to Mount Or.

(Num 20:23) And YHVH spoke to Moses and Aaron in mount Or, on the borders of the land of Edom, saying, (Num 20:24) Let Aaron be added to his people; for ye shall certainly not go into the land which I have given the children of Israel, because ye provoked me at the water of strife.

(Num 20:25) Take Aaron, and Eleazar his son, and bring them up to the mount Or before all the congregation;

(Num 20:26) and take Aaron's apparel from off him, and put it on Eleazar his son: and let Aaron die there and be added to his people.

(Num 20:27) And Moses did as YHVH commanded him, and took him up to mount Or, before all the congregation.

(Num 20:28) And he took Aaron's garments off him, and put them on Eleazar his son, and Aaron died on the top of the mountain; and Moses and Eleazar came down from the mountain.

(Num 20:29) And all the congregation saw that Aaron was dead: and they wept for Aaron thirty days, even all the house of Israel.

(Num 21:1) And Arad the Chananitish king who dwelt by the wilderness, heard that Israel came by the way of Atharin; and he made war on Israel, and carried off some of them captives.

(Num 21:2) And Israel vowed a vow to YHVH, and said, If thou wilt deliver this people into my power, I will devote it and its cities to thee.

(Num 21:3) And YHVH hearkened to the voice of Israel, and delivered the Chananite into his power; and Israel devoted him and his cities, and they called the name of that place Anathema.

(Num 21:4) And having departed from mount Or by the way leading to the Red Sea, they compassed the land of Edom, and the people lost courage by the way.

(Num 21:5) And the people spoke against Elohim and against Moses, saying, Why is this? Hast thou brought us ought of Egypt to slay us in the wilderness? for there is not bread nor water; and our soul loathes this light bread.

(Num 21:6) And YHVH sent among the people deadly serpents, and they bit the people, and much people of the children of Israel died.

(Num 21:7) And the people came to Moses and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against YHVH, and against thee: pray therefore to YHVH, and let him take away the serpent from us.

(Num 21:8) And Moses prayed to YHVH for the people; and YHVH said to Moses, Make thee a serpent of brass, and put it on a signal-staff; and it shall come to pass that whenever a serpent shall bite a man, every one so bitten that looks upon it shall live.

(Num 21:9) And Moses made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a signal-staff: and it came to pass that whenever a serpent bit a man, and he looked on the brazen serpent, he lived.

(Num 21:10) And the children of Israel departed, and encamped in Oboth.

(Num 21:11) And having departed from Oboth, they encamped in Achalgai, on the farther side in the wilderness, which is opposite Moab, toward the east.

(Num 21:12) And thence they departed, and encamped in the valley of Zared.

(Num 21:13) And they departed thence and encamped on the other side of Arnon in the wilderness, the country which extends from the coasts of the Amorites; for Arnon is the borders of Moab, between Moab and the Amorites.

(Num 21:14) Therefore it is said in a book, A war of YHVH has set on fire Zoob, and the brooks of Arnon.

(Num 21:15) And he has appointed brooks to cause Er to dwell there; and it lies near to the coasts of Moab.

(Num 21:16) And thence they came to the well; this is the well of which YHVH said to Moses, Gather the people, and I will give them water to drink.

(Num 21:17) Then Israel sang this song at the well, Begin to sing of the well;

(Num 21:18) the princes digged it, the kings of the nations in their kingdom, in their lordship sank it in the rock: and they went from the well to Manthanain, (Num 21:19) and from Manthanain to Naaliel, and from Naaliel to Bamoth, and from Bamoth to Janen, which is in the plain of Moab as seen from the top of the quarried rock that looks toward the wilderness.

(Num 21:20) And Moses sent ambassadors to Seon king of the Amorites, with peaceable words, saying, (Num 21:21) We will pass through thy land, we will go by the road; we will not turn aside to the field or to the vineyard.

(Num 21:22) We will not drink water out of thy well; we will go by the king's highway, until we have past thy boundaries.

(Num 21:23) And Seon did not allow Israel to pass through his borders, and Seon gathered all his people, and went out to set the battle in array against Israel into the wilderness; and he came to Jassa, and set the battle in array against Israel.

(Num 21:24) And Israel smote him with the slaughter of the sword, and they became possessors of his land, from Arnon to Jaboc, as far as the children of Amman, for Jazer is the borders of the children of Amman.

(Num 21:25) And Israel took all their cities, and Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites, in Esebon, and in all cities belonging to it.

(Num 21:26) For Esebon is the city of Seon king of the Amorites; and he before fought against the king of Moab, and they took all his land, from Aroer to Arnon.

(Num 21:27) Therefore say they who deal in dark speeches, Come to Esebon, that the city of Seon may be built and prepared.

(Num 21:28) For a fire has gone forth from Esebon, a flame from the city of Seon, and has consumed as far as Moab, and devoured the pillars of Arnon.

(Num 21:29) Woe to thee, Moab; thou art lost, thou people of Chamos: their sons are sold for preservation, and their daughters are captives to Seon king of the Amorites.

(Num 21:30) And their seed shall perish from Esebon to Daebon; and their women have yet farther kindled a fire against Moab.

(Num 21:31) And Israel dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites.

(Num 21:32) And Moses sent to spy out Jazer; and they took it, and its villages, and cast out the Amorite that dwelt there.

(Num 21:33) And having returned, they went up the road that leads to Basan; and Og the king of Basan went forth to meet them, and all his people to war to Edrain.

(Num 21:34) And YHVH said to Moses, Fear him not; for I have delivered him and all his people, and all his land, into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon.

(Num 21:35) And he smote him and his sons, and all his people, until he left none of his to be taken alive; and they inherited his land.

(Num 22:1) And the children of Israel departed, and encamped on the west of Moab by Jordan toward Jericho.

(Num 22:2) And when Balac son of Sepphor saw all that Israel did to the Amorite, (Num 22:3) then Moab feared the people exceedingly because they were many; and Moab was grieved before the face of the children of Israel.

(Num 22:4) And Moab said to the elders of Madiam, Now shall this assembly lick up all that are round about us, as a calf would lick up the green herbs of the field: and Balac son of Sepphor was king of Moab at that time.

(Num 22:5) And he sent ambassadors to Balaam the son of Beor, to Phathura, which is on a river of the land of the sons of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, a people is come out of Egypt, and behold it has covered the face of the earth, and it has encamped close to me.

(Num 22:6) And now come, curse me this people, for it is stronger than we; if we may be able to smite some of them, and I will cast them out of the land: for I know that whomsoever thou dost bless, they are blessed, and whomsoever thou dost curse, they are cursed.

(Num 22:7) And the elders of Moab went, and the elders of Madiam, and their divining instruments were in their hands; and they came to Balaam, and spoke to him the words of Balac.

(Num 22:8) And he said to them, Tarry here the night, and I will answer you the things which YHVH shall say to me; and the princes of Moab stayed with Balaam.

(Num 22:9) And Elohim came to Balaam, and said to him, Who are these men with thee?

(Num 22:10) And Balaam said to Elohim, Balac son of Sepphor, king of Moab, sent them to me, saying,

(Num 22:11) Behold, a people has come forth out of Egypt, and has covered the face of the land, and it has encamped near to me; and now come, curse it for me, if indeed I shall be able to smite it, and cast it out of the land.

(Num 22:12) And Elohim said to Balaam, Thou shalt not go with them, neither shalt thou curse the people; for they are blessed.

(Num 22:13) And Balaam rose up in the morning, and said to the princes of Balac, Depart quickly to your lord; Elohim does not permit me to go with you.

(Num 22:14) And the princes of Moab rose, and came to Balac, and said, Balaam will not come with us.

(Num 22:15) And Balac yet again sent more princes and more honourable than they.

(Num 22:16) And they came to Balaam, and they say to him, Thus says Balac the son of Sepphor: I beseech thee, delay not to come to me.

(Num 22:17) For I will greatly honour thee, and will do for thee whatsoever thou shalt say; come then, curse me this people.

(Num 22:18) And Balaam answered and said to the princes of Balac, If Balac would give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to go beyond the word of YHVH Elohim, to make it little or great in my mind.

(Num 22:19) And now do ye also tarry here this night, and I shall know what YHVH will yet say to me.

(Num 22:20) And Elohim came to Balaam by night, and said to him, If these men are come to call thee, rise and follow them; nevertheless the word which I shall speak to thee, it shalt thou do.

(Num 22:21) And Balaam rose up in the morning, and saddled his ass, and went with the princes of Moab.

(Num 22:22) And Elohim was very angry because he went; and the angel of YHVH rose up to withstand him. Now he had mounted his ass, and his two servants were with him.

(Num 22:23) And when the ass saw the angel of Elohim standing opposite in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, then the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field; and Balaam smote the ass with his staff to direct her in the way.

(Num 22:24) And the angel of YHVH stood in the avenues of the vines, a fence being on this side and a fence on that.

(Num 22:25) And when the ass saw the angel of Elohim, she thrust herself against the wall, and crushed Balaam's foot against the wall, and he smote her again.

(Num 22:26) And the angel of YHVH went farther, and came and stood in a narrow place where it was impossible to turn to the right or the left.

(Num 22:27) And when the ass saw the angel of Elohim, she lay down under Balaam; and Balaam was angry, and struck the ass with his staff.

(Num 22:28) And Elohim opened the mouth of the ass, and she says to Balaam, What have I done to thee, that thou hast smitten me this third time?

(Num 22:29) And Balaam said to the ass, Because thou hast mocked me; and if I had had a sword in my hand, I would now have killed thee.

(Num 22:30) And the ass says to Balaam, Am not I thine ass on which thou hast ridden since thy youth till this day? did I ever do thus to thee, utterly disregarding thee? and he said, No.

(Num 22:31) And Elohim opened the eyes of Balaam, and he sees the angel of YHVH withstanding him in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand, and he stooped down and worshipped on his face.

(Num 22:32) And the angel of Elohim said to him, Why hast thou smitten thine ass this third time? and, behold, I came out to withstand thee, for thy way was not seemly before me; and when the ass saw me, she turned away from me this third time.

(Num 22:33) And if she had not turned out of the way, surely now, I should have slain thee, and should have saved her alive.

(Num 22:34) And Balaam said to the angel of YHVH, I have sinned, for I did not know that thou wert standing opposite in the way to meet me; and now if it shall not be pleasing to thee for me to go on, I will return.

(Num 22:35) And the angel of YHVH said to Balaam, Go with the men: nevertheless the word which I shall speak to thee, that thou shalt take heed to speak. And Balaam went with the princes of Balac.

(Num 22:36) And when Balac heard that Balaam was come, he went out to meet him, to a city of Moab, which is on the borders of Arnon, which is on the extreme part of the borders.

(Num 22:37) And Balac said to Balaam, Did I not send to thee to call thee? why hast thou not come to me? shall I not indeed be able to honour thee?

(Num 22:38) And Balaam said to Balac, Behold, I am now come to thee: shall I be able to say anything? the word which Elohim shall put into my mouth, that I shall speak.

(Num 22:39) And Balaam went with Balac, and they came to the cities of streets.

(Num 22:40) And Balac offered sheep and calves, and sent to Balaam and to his princes who were with him.

(Num 22:41) And it was morning; and Balac took Balaam, and brought him up to the pillar of Baal, and shewed him thence a part of the people.

(Num 23:1) And Balaam said to Balac, Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven calves, and seven rams.

(Num 23:2) And Balac did as Balaam told him; and he offered up a calf and a ram on every altar.

(Num 23:3) And Balaam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go and see if Elohim will appear to me and meet me, and the word which he shall shew me, I will report to thee. And Balac stood by his sacrifice.

(Num 23:4) And Balaam went to enquire of Elohim; and he went straight forward, and Elohim appeared to Balaam; and Balaam said to him, I have prepared the seven altars, and have offered a calf and a ram on every altar.

(Num 23:5) And Elohim put a word into the mouth of Balaam, and said, thou shalt return to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak.

(Num 23:6) And he returned to him, and moreover he stood over his whole-burnt-offerings, and all the princes of Moab with him; and the Spirit of Elohim came upon him.

(Num 23:7) And he took up his parable, and said, Balac king of Moab sent for me out of Mesopotamia, out of the mountains of the east, saying, Come, curse me Jacob, and Come, call for a curse for me upon Israel.

(Num 23:8) How can I curse whom YHVH curses not? or how can I devote whom Elohim devotes not?

(Num 23:9) For from the top of the mountains I shall see him, and from the hills I shall observe him: behold, the people shall dwell alone, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

(Num 23:10) Who has exactly calculated the seed of Jacob, and who shall number the families of Israel? let my soul die with the souls of the righteous, and let my seed be as their seed.

(Num 23:11) And Balac said to Balaam, What hast thou done to me? I called thee to curse my enemies, and behold thou hast greatly blessed them.

(Num 23:12) And Balaam said to Balac, Whatsoever YHVH shall put into my mouth, shall I not take heed to speak this?

(Num 23:13) And Balac said to him, Come yet with me to another place where thou shalt not see the people, but only thou shalt see a part of them, and shalt not see them all; and curse me them from thence.

(Num 23:14) And he took him to a high place of the field to the top of the quarried rock, and he built there seven altars, and offered a calf and a ram on every altar.

(Num 23:15) And Balaam said to Balac, Stand by thy sacrifice, and I will go to enquire of Elohim.

(Num 23:16) And Elohim met Balaam, and put a word into his mouth, and said, return to Balac, and thus shalt thou speak.

(Num 23:17) And he returned to him: and he also was standing by his whole-burnt-sacrifice, and all the princes of Moab with him; and Balac said to him, What has YHVH spoken?

(Num 23:18) And he took up his parable, and said, rise up, Balac, and hear; hearken as a witness, thou son of Sepphor.

(Num 23:19) Elohim is not as man to waver, nor as the son of man to be threatened; shall he say and not perform? shall he speak and not keep to his word?

(Num 23:20) Behold, I have received commandment to bless: I will bless, and not turn back.

(Num 23:21) There shall not be trouble in Jacob, neither shall sorrow be seen in Israel: YHVH his Elohim is with him, the glories of rulers are in him.

(Num 23:22) It was Elohim who brought him out of Egypt; he has as it were the glory of a unicorn.

(Num 23:23) For there is no divination in Jacob, nor enchantment in Israel; in season it shall be told to Jacob and Israel what Elohim shall perform.

(Num 23:24) Behold, the people shall rise up as a lion's whelp, and shall exalt himself as a lion; he shall not lie down till he have eaten the prey, and he shall drink the blood of the slain.

(Num 23:25) And Balac said to Balaam, Neither curse the people at all for me, nor bless them at all.

(Num 23:26) And Balaam answered and said to Balac, Spoke I not to thee, saying, Whatsoever thing Elohim shall speak to me, that will I do?

(Num 23:27) And Balac said to Balaam, Come and I will remove thee to another place, if it shall please Elohim, and curse me them from thence.

(Num 23:28) And Balac took Balaam to the top of Phogor, which extends to the wilderness.

(Num 23:29) And Balaam said to Balac, build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven calves, and seven rams.

(Num 23:30) And Balac did as Balaam told him, and offered a calf and a ram on every altar.

(Num 24:1) And when Balaam saw that it pleased Elohim to bless Israel, he did not go according to his custom to meet the omens, but turned his face toward the wilderness.

(Num 24:2) And Balaam lifted up his eyes, and sees Israel encamped by their tribes; and the Spirit of Elohim came upon him.

(Num 24:3) And he took up his parable and said, Balaam son of Beor says, the man who sees truly says,

(Num 24:4) he says who hears the oracle of the Mighty One, who saw a vision of Elohim in sleep; his eyes were opened:

(Num 24:5) How goodly are thy habitations, Jacob, and thy tents, Israel!

(Num 24:6) as shady groves, and as gardens by a river, and as tents which Elohim pitched, and as cedars by the waters.

(Num 24:7) There shall come a man out of his seed, and he shall rule over many nations; and the kingdom of Gog shall be exalted, and his kingdom shall be increased.

(Num 24:8) Elohim led him out of Egypt; he has as it were the glory of a unicorn: he shall consume the nations of his enemies, and he shall drain their marrow, and with his darts he shall shoot through the enemy.

(Num 24:9) He lay down, he rested as a lion, and as a young lion; who shall stir him up? they that bless thee are blessed, and they that curse thee are cursed.

(Num 24:10) And Balac was angry with Balaam, and clapped his hands together; and Balac said to Balaam, I called thee to curse my enemy, and behold thou hast decidedly blessed him this third time.

(Num 24:11) Now therefore flee to thy place: I said, I will honour thee, but now YHVH has deprived thee of glory.

(Num 24:12) And Balaam said to Balac, Did I not speak to thy messengers also whom thou sentest to me, saying,

(Num 24:13) If Balac should give me his house full of silver and gold, I shall not be able to transgress the word of YHVH to make it good or bad by myself; whatsoever things Elohim shall say, them will I speak.

(Num 24:14) And now, behold, I return to my place; come, I will advise thee of what this people shall do to thy people in the last days.

(Num 24:15) And he took up his parable and said, Balaam the son of Beor says, the man who sees truly says, (Num 24:16) hearing the oracles of Elohim, receiving knowledge from the Most High, and having seen a vision of Elohim in sleep; his eyes were opened.

(Num 24:17) I will point to him, but not now; I bless him, but he draws not near: a star shall rise out of Jacob, a man shall spring out of Israel; and shall crush the princes of Moab, and shall spoil all the sons of Seth.

(Num 24:18) And Edom shall be an inheritance, and Esau his enemy shall be an inheritance of Israel, and Israel wrought valiantly.

(Num 24:19) And one shall arise out of Jacob, and destroy out of the city him that escapes.

(Num 24:20) And having seen Amalec, he took up his parable and said, Amalec is the first of the nations; yet his seed shall perish.

(Num 24:21) And having seen the Kenite, he took up his parable and said, thy dwelling-place is strong; yet though thou shouldst put thy nest in a rock, (Num 24:22) and though Beor should have a skillfully contrived hiding-place, the Assyrians shall carry thee away captive.

(Num 24:23) And he looked upon Og, and took up his parable and said, Oh, oh, who shall live, when Elohim shall do these things?

(Num 24:24) And one shall come forth from the hands of the Citians, and shall afflict Assur, and shall afflict the Hebrews, and they shall perish together.

(Num 24:25) And Balaam rose up and departed and returned to his place, and Balac went to his own home.

(Num 25:1) And Israel sojourned in Sattin, and the people profaned itself by going a-whoring after the daughters of Moab.

(Num 25:2) And they called them to the sacrifices of their idols; and the people ate of their sacrifices, and worshipped their idols.

(Num 25:3) And Israel consecrated themselves to Beel-phegor; and YHVH was very angry with Israel.

(Num 25:4) And YHVH said to Moses, Take all the princes of the people, and make them examples of judgment for YHVH in the face of the sun, and the anger of YHVH shall be turned away from Israel.

(Num 25:5) And Moses said to the tribes of Israel, Slay ye every one his friend that is consecrated to Beel-phegor.

(Num 25:6) And, behold, a man of the children of Israel came and brought his brother to a Madianitish woman before Moses, and before all the congregation of the children of Israel; and they were weeping at the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(Num 25:7) And Phinees the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the priest, saw it, and rose out of the midst of the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand, (Num 25:8) and went in after the Israelitish man into the chamber, and pierced them both through, both the Israelitish man, and the woman through her womb; and the plague was stayed from the children of Israel.

(Num 25:9) And those that died in the plague were four and twenty thousand.

(Num 25:10) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 25:11) Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest has caused my wrath to cease from the children of Israel, when I was exceedingly jealous among them, and I did not consume the children of Israel in my jealousy.

(Num 25:12) Thus do thou say to him, Behold, I give him a covenant of peace:

(Num 25:13) and he and his seed after him shall have a perpetual covenant of priesthood, because he was zealous for his Elohim, and made atonement for the children of Israel.

(Num 25:14) Now the name of the smitten Israelitish man, who was smitten with the Madianitish woman, was Zambri son of Salmon, prince of a house of the tribe of Symeon.

(Num 25:15) And the name of the Madianitish woman who was smitten, was Chasbi, daughter of Sur, a prince of the nation of Ommoth: it is a chief house among the people of Madiam.

(Num 25:16) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Speak to the children of Israel, saying,

(Num 25:17) Plague the Madianites as enemies, and smite them,

(Num 25:18) for they are enemies to you by the treachery wherein they ensnare you through Phogor, and through Chasbi their sister, daughter of a prince of Madiam, who was smitten in the day of the plague because of Phogor.

(Num 26:1) And it came to pass after the plague, that YHVH spoke to Moses and Eleazar the priest, saying, (Num 26:2) Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Israel, from twenty years old and upward, according to the houses of their lineage, every one that goes forth to battle in Israel.

(Num 26:3) And Moses and Eleazar the priest spoke in Araboth of Moab at the Jordan by Jericho, saying,

(Num 26:4) This is the numbering from twenty years old and upward as YHVH commanded Moses. And the sons of Israel that came out of Egypt are as follows:

(Num 26:5) Ruben was the first-born of Israel: and the sons of Ruben, Enoch, and the family of Enoch; to Phallu belongs the family of the Phalluites.

(Num 26:6) To Asron, the family of Asroni: to Charmi, the family of Charmi.

(Num 26:7) These are the families of Ruben; and their numbering was forty-three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.

(Num 26:8) And the sons of Phallu were Eliab,

(Num 26:9) and the sons of Eliab, Namuel, and Dathan, and Abiron: these are renowned men of the congregation; these are they that rose up against Moses and Aaron in the gathering of Core, in the rebellion against YHVH.

(Num 26:10) And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up them and Core, when their assembly perished, when the fire devoured the two hundred and fifty, and they were made a sign.

(Num 26:11) But the sons of Core died not.

(Num 26:12) And the sons of Symeon: the family of the sons of Symeon: to Namuel, belonged the family of the Namuelites; to Jamin the family of the Jaminites; to Jachin the family of the Jachinites.

(Num 26:13) To Zara the family of the Zaraites; to Saul the family of the Saulites.

(Num 26:14) These are the families of Symeon according to their numbering, two and twenty thousand and two hundred.

(Num 26:15) And the sons of Juda, Er and Aunan; and Er and Aunan died in the land of Chanaan.

(Num 26:16) And these were the sons of Juda, according to their families: to Selom belonged the family of the Selonites; to Phares, the family of the Pharesites; to Zara, the family of the Zaraites.

(Num 26:17) And the sons of Phares were, to Asron, the family of the Asronites; to Jamun, the family of the Jamunites.

(Num 26:18) These are the families of Juda according to their numbering, seventy-six thousand and five hundred.

(Num 26:19) And the sons of Issachar according to their families: to Thola, the family of the Tholaites; to Phua, the family of the Phuites.

(Num 26:20) To Jasub, the family of the Jasubites; to Samram, the family of the Samramites.

(Num 26:21) These are the families of Issachar according to their numbering, sixty-four thousand and four hundred.

(Num 26:22) The sons of Zabulon according to their families: to Sared, the family of the Saredites; to Allon, the family of the Allonites; to Allel, the family of the Allelites.

(Num 26:23) These are the families of Zabulon according to their numbering, sixty thousand and five hundred.

(Num 26:24) The sons of Gad according to their families: to Saphon, the family of the Saphonites; to Angi, the family of the Angites; to Suni, the family of the Sunites;

(Num 26:25) to Azeni, the family of the Azenites; to Addi, the family of the Addites:

(Num 26:26) to Aroadi, the family of the Aroadites; to Ariel, the family of the Arielites.

(Num 26:27) These are the families of the children of Gad according to their numbering, forty-four thousand and five hundred.

(Num 26:28) The sons of Aser according to their families; to Jamin, the family of the Jaminites; to Jesu, the family of the Jesusites; to Baria, the family of the Bariaites.

(Num 26:29) To Choher, the family of the Choherites; to Melchiel, the family of the Melchielites.

(Num 26:30) And the name of the daughter of Aser, Sara.

(Num 26:31) These are the families of Aser according to their numbering, forty-three thousand and four hundred.

(Num 26:32) The sons of Joseph according to their families, Manasse and Ephraim.

(Num 26:33) The sons of Manasse. To Machir the family of the Machirites; and Machir begot Galaad: to Galaad, the family of the Galaadites.

(Num 26:34) And these are the sons of Galaad; to Achiezer, the family of the Achiezerites; to Cheleg, the family of the Chelegites.

(Num 26:35) To Esriel, the family of the Esrielites; to Sychem, the family of the Sychemites.

(Num 26:36) To Symaer, the family of the Symaerites; and to Opher, the family of the Opherites.

(Num 26:37) And to Salpaad the son of Opher there were no sons, but daughters: and these were the names of the daughters of Salpaad; Mala, and Nua, and Eglā, and Melchā, and Thersa.

(Num 26:38) These are the families of Manasse according to their numbering, fifty-two thousand and seven hundred.

(Num 26:39) And these are the children of Ephraim; to Suthala, the family of the Suthalanites; to Tanach, the family of the Tanachites.

(Num 26:40) These are the sons of Suthala; to Eden, the family of the Edenites.

(Num 26:41) These are the families of Ephraim according to their numbering, thirty-two thousand and five hundred: these are the families of the children of Joseph according to their families.

(Num 26:42) The sons of Benjamin according to their families; to Bale, the family of the Balites; to Asyber, the family of the Asyberites; to Jachiran, the family of the Jachiranites.

(Num 26:43) To Sophan, the family of the Sophanites.

(Num 26:44) And the sons of Bale were Adar and Noeman; to Adar, the family of the Adarites; and to Noeman, the family of the Noemanites.

(Num 26:45) These are the sons of Benjamin by their families according to their numbering, thirty-five thousand and five hundred.

(Num 26:46) And the sons of Dan according to their families; to Same, the family of the Sameites; these are the families of Dan according to their families.

(Num 26:47) All the families of Samei according to their numbering, sixty-four thousand and four hundred.

(Num 26:48) The sons of Nephthali according to their families; to Asiel, the family of the Asielites; to Gauni, the family of the Gaunites.

(Num 26:49) To Jeser, the family of the Jeserites; to Sellem, the family of the Sellemites.

(Num 26:50) These are the families of Nephthali, according to their numbering, forty thousand and three hundred.

(Num 26:51) This is the numbering of the children of Israel, six hundred and one thousand and seven hundred and thirty.

(Num 26:52) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 26:53) To these the land shall be divided, so that they may inherit according to the number of the names.

(Num 26:54) To the greater number thou shalt give the greater inheritance, and to the less number thou shalt give the less inheritance: to each one, as they have been numbered, shall their inheritance be given.

(Num 26:55) The land shall be divided to the names by lot, they shall inherit according to the tribes of their families.

(Num 26:56) Thou shalt divide their inheritance by lot between the many and the few.

(Num 26:57) And the sons of Levi according to their families; to Gedson, the family of the Gedsonites; to Caath, the family of the Caathites; to Merari, the family of the Merarites.

(Num 26:58) These are the families of the sons of Levi; the family of the Lobenites, the family of the Chebronites, the family of the Coreites, and the family of the Musites; and Caath begot Amram.

(Num 26:59) And the name of his wife was Jochabed, daughter of Levi, who bore these to Levi in Egypt, and she bore to Amram, Aaron and Moses, and Mariam their sister.

(Num 26:60) And to Aaron were born both Nadab and Abiud, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.

(Num 26:61) And Nadab and Abiud died when they offered strange fire before YHVH in the wilderness of Sina.

(Num 26:62) And there were according to their numbering, twenty-three thousand, every male from a month old and upward; for they were not numbered among the children of Israel, because they have no inheritance in the midst of the children of Israel.

(Num 26:63) And this is the numbering of Moses and Eleazar the priest, who numbered the children of Israel in Araboth of Moab, at Jordan by Jericho.

(Num 26:64) And among these there was not a man numbered by Moses and Aaron, whom, even the children of Israel, they numbered in the wilderness of Sinai.

(Num 26:65) For YHVH said to them, They shall surely die in the wilderness; and there was not left even one of them, except Chaleb the son of Jephonne, and YAHshua the son of Naue.

(Num 27:1) And the daughters of Salpaad the son of Opher, the son of Galaad, the son of Machir, of the tribe of Manasse, of the sons of Joseph, came near; and these were their names, Maala, and Nua, and Egla, and Melcha, and Thersa;

(Num 27:2) and they stood before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the princes, and before all the congregation at the door of the tabernacle of witness, saying,

(Num 27:3) Our father died in the wilderness, and he was not in the midst of the congregation that rebelled against YHVH in the gathering of Core; for he died for his own sin, and he had no sons. Let not the name of our father be blotted out of the midst of his people, because he has no son: give us an inheritance in the midst of our father's brethren.

(Num 27:4) And Moses brought their case before YHVH.

(Num 27:5) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 27:6) The daughters of Salpaad have spoken rightly: thou shalt surely give them a possession of inheritance in the midst of their father's brethren, and thou shalt assign their father's inheritance to them.

(Num 27:7) And thou shalt speak to the children of Israel, saying, (Num 27:8) If a man die, and have no son, ye shall assign his inheritance to his daughter.

(Num 27:9) And if he have no daughter, ye shall give his inheritance to his brother.

(Num 27:10) And if he have no brethren, ye shall give his inheritance to his father's brother.

(Num 27:11) And if there be no brethren of his father, ye shall give the inheritance to his nearest relation of his tribe, to inherit his possessions; and this shall be to the children of Israel an ordinance of judgment, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 27:12) And YHVH said to Moses, Go up to the mountain that is in the country beyond Jordan, this mount Nabau, and behold the land Chanaan, which I give to the sons of Israel for a possession.

(Num 27:13) And thou shalt see it, and thou also shalt be added to thy people, as Aaron thy brother was added to them in mount Or:

(Num 27:14) because ye transgressed my commandment in the wilderness of Sin, when the congregation resisted and refused to sanctify me; ye sanctified me not at the water before them. This is the water of Strife in Cades in the wilderness of Sin.

(Num 27:15) And Moses said to YHVH,

(Num 27:16) Let YHVH Elohim of spirits and of all flesh look out for a man over this congregation, (Num 27:17) who shall go out before them, and who shall come in before them, and who shall lead them out, and who shall bring them in; so the congregation of YHVH shall not be as sheep without a shepherd.

(Num 27:18) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying, Take to thyself YAHshua the son of Naue, a man who has the Spirit in him, and thou shalt lay thy hands upon him.

(Num 27:19) And thou shalt set him before Eleazar the priest, and thou shalt give him a charge before all the congregation, and thou shalt give a charge concerning him before them.

(Num 27:20) And thou shalt put of thy glory upon him, that the children of Israel may hearken to him.

(Num 27:21) And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest, and they shall ask of him before YHVH the judgment of the Urim: they shall go forth at his word, and at his word they shall come in, he and the children of Israel with one accord, and all the congregation.

(Num 27:22) And Moses did as YHVH commanded him; and he took YAHshua, and set him before Eleazar the priest, and before all the congregation.

(Num 27:23) And he laid his hands on him, and appointed him as YHVH ordered Moses.

(Num 28:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 28:2) Charge the children of Israel, and thou shalt speak to them, saying, Ye shall observe to offer to me in my feasts my gifts, my presents, my burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour.

(Num 28:3) And thou shalt say to them, These are the burnt-offerings, all that ye shall bring to YHVH; two lambs of a year old without blemish daily, for a whole-burnt offering perpetually.

(Num 28:4) Thou shalt offer one lamb in the morning, and thou shalt offer the second lamb towards evening.

(Num 28:5) And thou shalt offer the tenth part of an ephah of fine flour for a meat-offering, mingled with oil, with the fourth part of a hin.

(Num 28:6) It is a perpetual whole-burnt-offering, a sacrifice offered in the mount of Sina for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH.

(Num 28:7) And its drink-offering, the fourth part of a hin to each lamb; in the holy place shalt thou pour strong drink as a drink-offering to YHVH.

(Num 28:8) And the second lamb thou shalt offer toward evening; thou shalt offer it according to its meat-offering and according to its drink-offering for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH.

(Num 28:9) And on the Sabbath-day ye shall offer two lambs of a year old without blemish, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat-offering, and a drink-offering.

(Num 28:10) It is a whole-burnt-offering of the Sabbaths on the Sabbath days, besides the continued whole-burnt-offering, and its drink offering.

(Num 28:11) And at the new moons ye shall bring a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH, two calves of the herd, and one ram, seven lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 28:12) Three tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one calf, and two tenth deals of fine flour mingled with oil for one ram.

(Num 28:13) A tenth deal of fine flour mingled with oil for each lamb, as a meat-offering, a sweet-smelling savour, a burnt-offering to YHVH.

(Num 28:14) Their drink-offering shall be the half of a hin for one calf; and the third of a hin for one ram; and the fourth part of a hin of wine for one lamb: this is the whole-burnt-offering monthly throughout the months of the year.

(Num 28:15) And he shall offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering to YHVH; it shall be offered beside the continual whole-burnt-offering and its drink-offering.

(Num 28:16) And in the first month, on the fourteenth day of the month, is the passover to YHVH.

(Num 28:17) And on the fifteenth day of this month is a feast; seven days ye shall eat unleavened bread.

(Num 28:18) And the first day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work.

(Num 28:19) And ye shall bring whole-burnt-offerings, a sacrifice to YHVH, two calves of the herd, one ram, seven lambs of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish.

(Num 28:20) And their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram.

(Num 28:21) Thou shalt offer a tenth for each lamb, for the seven lambs.

(Num 28:22) And thou shalt offer one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you.

(Num 28:23) Beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering in the morning, which is a whole-burnt-sacrifice for a continuance,

(Num 28:24) these shall ye thus offer daily for seven days, a gift, a sacrifice for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering, thou shalt offer its drink-offering.

(Num 28:25) And the seventh day shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work in it.

(Num 28:26) And on the day of the new corn, when ye shall offer a new sacrifice at the festival of weeks to YHVH, there shall be to you a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work, (Num 28:27) and ye shall bring whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH, two calves of the herd, one ram, seven lambs without blemish.

(Num 28:28) Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram.

(Num 28:29) A tenth for each lamb separately, for the seven lambs; and a kid of the goats,

(Num 28:30) for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering: and (Num 28:31) ye shall offer to me their meat-offering. They shall be to you unblemished, and ye shall offer their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:1) And in the seventh month, on the first day of the month, there shall be to you a holy convocation: ye shall do no servile work: it shall be to you a day of blowing the trumpets.

(Num 29:2) And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet savour to YHVH, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 29:3) Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram:

(Num 29:4) a tenth deal for each several ram, for the seven lambs.

(Num 29:5) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you.

(Num 29:6) Beside the whole-burnt-offerings for the new moon, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings, and their perpetual whole-burnt-offering; and their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings according to their ordinance for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH.

(Num 29:7) And on the tenth of this month there shall be to you a holy convocation; and ye shall afflict your souls, and ye shall do no work.

(Num 29:8) And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings for a sweet-smelling savour to YHVH; burnt-sacrifices to YHVH, one calf of the herd, one ram, seven lambs of a year old; they shall be to you without blemish.

(Num 29:9) Their meat-offering shall be fine flour mingled with oil; three tenth deals for one calf, and two tenth deals for one ram.

(Num 29:10) A tenth deal for each several lamb, for the seven lambs.

(Num 29:11) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering, to make atonement for you; beside the sin-offering for atonement, and the continual whole-burnt-offering, its meat-offering, and its drink-offering according to its ordinance for a smell of sweet savour, a burnt-sacrifice to YHVH.

(Num 29:12) And on the fifteenth day of this seventh month ye shall have a holy convocation; ye shall do no servile work; and ye shall keep it a feast to YHVH seven days.

(Num 29:13) And ye shall bring near whole-burnt-offerings, a sacrifice for a smell of sweet savour to YHVH, on the first day thirteen calves of the herd, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old; they shall be without blemish.

(Num 29:14) their meat-offerings shall be fine flour mingled with oil; there shall be three tenth deals for one calf, for the thirteen calves; and two tenth deals for one ram, for the two rams.

(Num 29:15) A tenth deal for every lamb, for the fourteen lambs.

(Num 29:16) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering: there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:17) And on the second day twelve calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 29:18) Their meat-offering and their drink-offering shall be for the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:19) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:20) On the third day eleven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 29:21) Their meat-offering and their drink-offering shall be to the calves and to the rams and to the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:22) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:23) On the fourth day ten calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot.

(Num 29:24) There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:25) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:26) On the fifth day nine calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without spot.

(Num 29:27) Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:28) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:29) On the sixth day eight calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 29:30) There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings to the calves and rams and lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:31) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the perpetual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:32) On the seventh day seven calves, two rams, fourteen lambs of a year old without blemish.

(Num 29:33) Their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings shall be to the calves and the rams and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:34) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:35) And on the eighth day there shall be to you a release: ye shall do no servile work in it.

(Num 29:36) And ye shall offer whole-burnt-offerings as sacrifices to YHVH, one calf, one ram, seven lambs of a year old without spot.

(Num 29:37) There shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings for the calf and the ram and the lambs according to their number, according to their ordinance.

(Num 29:38) And one kid of the goats for a sin-offering; beside the continual whole-burnt-offering; there shall be their meat-offerings and their drink-offerings.

(Num 29:39) These sacrifices shall ye offer to YHVH in your feasts, besides your vows; and ye shall offer your free-will-offerings and your whole-burnt-offerings, and your meat-offerings and your drink-offerings, and your peace-offerings.

(Num 30:1) And Moses spoke to the children of Israel according to all that YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 30:2) And Moses spoke to the heads of the tribes of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which YHVH has commanded.

(Num 30:3) Whatsoever man shall vow a vow to YHVH, or swear an oath, or bind himself with an obligation upon his soul, he shall not break his word; all that shall come out of his mouth he shall do.

(Num 30:4) And if a woman shall vow a vow to YHVH, or bind herself with an obligation in her youth in her father's house; and her father should hear her vows and her obligations, wherewith she has bound her soul, and her father should hold his peace at her, then all her vows shall stand, (Num 30:5) and all the obligations with which she has bound her soul, shall remain to her.

(Num 30:6) But if her father straitly forbid her in the day in which he shall hear all her vows and her obligations, which she has contracted upon her soul, they shall not stand; and YHVH shall hold her guiltless, because her father forbade her.

(Num 30:7) But if she should be indeed married, and her vows be upon her according to the utterance of her lips, in respect of the obligations which she has contracted upon her soul;

(Num 30:8) and her husband should hear, and hold his peace at her in the day in which he should hear, then thus shall all her vows be binding, and her obligations, which she has contracted upon her soul shall stand.

(Num 30:9) But if her husband should straitly forbid her in the day in which he should hear her, none of her vows or obligations which she has contracted upon her soul shall stand, because her husband has disallowed her, and YHVH shall hold her guiltless.

(Num 30:10) And the vow of a widow and of her that is put away, whatsoever she shall bind upon her soul, shall stand to her.

(Num 30:11) And if her vow be made in the house of her husband, or the obligation upon her soul with an oath,

(Num 30:12) and her husband should hear, and hold his peace at her, and not disallow her, then all her vows shall stand, and all the obligations which she contracted against her soul, shall stand against her.

(Num 30:13) But if her husband should utterly cancel the vow in the day in which he shall hear it, none of the things which shall proceed out of her lips in her vows, and in the obligations contracted upon her soul, shall stand to her; her husband has cancelled them, and YHVH shall hold her guiltless.

(Num 30:14) Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict her soul, her husband shall confirm it to her, or her husband shall cancel it.

(Num 30:15) But if he be wholly silent at her from day to day, then shall he bind upon her all her vows; and he shall confirm to her the obligations which she has bound upon herself, because he held his peace at her in the day in which he heard her.

(Num 30:16) And if her husband should in any wise cancel them after the day in which he heard them, then he shall bear his iniquity.

(Num 30:17) These are the ordinances which YHVH commanded Moses, between a man and his wife, and between a father and daughter in her youth in the house of her father.

(Num 31:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 31:2) Avenge the wrongs of the children of Israel on the Madianites, and afterwards thou shalt be added to thy people.

(Num 31:3) And Moses spoke to the people, saying, Arm some of you, and set yourselves in array before YHVH against Madian, to inflict vengeance on Madian from YHVH.

(Num 31:4) Send a thousand of each tribe from all the tribes of the children of Israel to set themselves in array.

(Num 31:5) And they numbered of the thousands of Israel a thousand of each tribe, twelve thousands; these were armed for war.

(Num 31:6) And Moses sent them away a thousand of every tribe with their forces, and Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest: and the holy instruments, and the signal trumpets were in their hands.

(Num 31:7) And they set themselves in array against Madian, as YHVH commanded Moses; and they slew every male.

(Num 31:8) And they slew the kings of Madian together with their slain subjects; even Evi and Rocon, and Sur, and Ur, and Roboc, five kings of Madian; and they slew with the sword Balaam the son of Beor with their other slain.

(Num 31:9) And they made a prey of the women of Madian, and their store, and their cattle, and all their possessions: and they spoiled their forces.

(Num 31:10) And they burnt with fire all their cities in the places of their habitation and they burnt their villages with fire.

(Num 31:11) And they took all their plunder, and all their spoils, both man and beast.

(Num 31:12) And they brought to Moses and to Eleazar the priest, and to all the children of Israel, the captives, and the spoils, and the plunder, to the camp to Araboth Moab, which is at Jordan by Jericho.

(Num 31:13) And Moses and Eleazar the priest and all the rulers of the synagogue went forth out of the camp to meet them.

(Num 31:14) And Moses was angry with the captains of the host, the heads of thousands and the heads of hundreds who came from the battle-array.

(Num 31:15) And Moses said to them, Why have ye saved every female alive?

(Num 31:16) For they were the occasion to the children of Israel by the word of Balaam of their revolting and despising the word of YHVH, because of Phogor; and there was a plague in the congregation of YHVH.

(Num 31:17) Now then slay every male in all the spoil, slay every woman, who has known the lying with man.

(Num 31:18) And as for all the captivity of women, who have not known the lying with man, save ye them alive.

(Num 31:19) And ye shall encamp outside the great camp seven days; every one who has slain and who touches a dead body, shall be purified on the third day, and ye and your captivity shall purify yourselves on the seventh day.

(Num 31:20) And ye shall purify every garment and every leathern utensil, and all furniture of goat skin, and every wooden vessel.

(Num 31:21) And Eleazar the priest said to the men of the host that came from the battle-array, This is the ordinance of the law which YHVH has commanded Moses.

(Num 31:22) Beside the gold, and the silver, and the brass, and the iron, and lead, and tin, (Num 31:23) every thing that shall pass through the fire shall so be clean, nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of sanctification; and whatsoever will not pass through the fire shall pass through water.

(Num 31:24) And on the seventh day ye shall wash your garments, and be clean; and afterwards ye shall come into the camp.

(Num 31:25) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 31:26) Take the sum of the spoils of the captivity both of man and beast, thou and Eleazar the priest, and the heads of the families of the congregation.

(Num 31:27) And ye shall divide the spoils between the warriors that went out to battle, and the whole congregation.

(Num 31:28) And ye shall take a tribute for YHVH from the warriors that went out to battle; one soul out of five hundred, from the men, and from the cattle, even from the oxen, and from the sheep, and from the asses; and ye shall take from their half.

(Num 31:29) And thou shalt give them to Eleazar the priest as the first-fruits of YHVH.

(Num 31:30) And from the half belonging to the children of Israel thou shalt take one in fifty from the men, and from the oxen, and from the sheep, and from the asses, and from all the cattle; and thou shalt give them to the Levites that keep the charges in the tabernacle of YHVH.

(Num 31:31) And Moses and Eleazar the priest did as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 31:32) And that which remained of the spoil which the warriors took, was of the sheep, six hundred and seventy-five thousand:

(Num 31:33) and oxen, seventy-two thousand:

(Num 31:34) and asses, sixty-one thousand.

(Num 31:35) And persons of women who had not known lying with man, all the souls, thirty-two thousand.

(Num 31:36) And the half, even the portion of them that went out to war, from the number of the sheep, was three hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred.

(Num 31:37) And the tribute to YHVH from the sheep was six hundred and seventy-five.

(Num 31:38) And the oxen, six and thirty thousand, and the tribute to YHVH seventy-two.

(Num 31:39) And asses, thirty thousand and five hundred, and the tribute to YHVH, sixty-one:

(Num 31:40) and the persons, sixteen thousand, and the tribute of them to YHVH, thirty-two souls.

(Num 31:41) And Moses gave the tribute to YHVH, the heave-offering of Elohim, to Eleazar the priest, as YHVH commanded Moses;

(Num 31:42) from the half belonging to the children of Israel, whom Moses separated from the men of war.

(Num 31:43) And the half taken from the sheep, belonging to the congregation, was three hundred and thirty-seven thousand and five hundred.

(Num 31:44) And the oxen, thirty-six thousand;

(Num 31:45) asses, thirty thousand and five hundred;

(Num 31:46) and persons, sixteen thousand.

(Num 31:47) And Moses took of the half belonging to the children of Israel the fiftieth part, of men and of cattle, and he gave them to the Levites who keep the charges of the tabernacle of YHVH, as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Num 31:48) And all those who were appointed to be officers of thousands of the host, captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, approached Moses, and said to Moses,

(Num 31:49) Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war with us, and not one is missing.

(Num 31:50) And we have brought our gift to YHVH, every man who has found an article of gold, whether an armlet, or a chain, or a ring, or a bracelet, or a clasp for hair, to make atonement for us before YHVH.

(Num 31:51) And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from them, even every wrought article.

(Num 31:52) And all the wrought gold, even the offering that they offered to YHVH, was sixteen thousand and seven hundred and fifty shekels from the captains of thousands and the captains of hundreds.

(Num 31:53) For the men of war took plunder every one for himself.

(Num 31:54) And Moses and Eleazar the priest took the gold from the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and brought the vessels into the tabernacle of witness, a memorial of the children of Israel before YHVH.

(Num 32:1) And the children of Ruben and the children of Gad had a multitude of cattle, very great; and they saw the land of Jazer, and the land of Galaad; and the place was a place for cattle:

(Num 32:2) and the children of Ruben and the children of Gad came, and spoke to Moses, and to Eleazar the priest, and to the princes of the congregation, saying,

(Num 32:3) Ataroth, and Daebon, and Jazer, and Namra, and Esebon, and Eleale, and Sebama, and Nabau, and Baeon, (Num 32:4) the land which YHVH has delivered up before the children of Israel, is pasture land, and thy servants have cattle.

(Num 32:5) And they said, If we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given to thy servants for a possession, and do not cause us to pass over Jordan.

(Num 32:6) And Moses said to the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben, Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?

(Num 32:7) And why do ye pervert the minds of the children of Israel, that they should not cross over into the land, which YHVH gives them?

(Num 32:8) Did not your fathers thus, when I sent them from Cades Barne to spy out the land?

(Num 32:9) And they went up to the valley of the cluster, and spied the land, and turned aside the heart of the children of Israel, that they should not go into the land, which YHVH gave them.

(Num 32:10) And YHVH was very angry in that day, and sware, saying,

(Num 32:11) Surely these men who came up out of Egypt from twenty years old and upward, who know good and evil, shall not see the land which I sware to give to Abraam and Isaac and Jacob, for they have not closely followed after me:

(Num 32:12) save Caleb the son of Jephonne, who was set apart, and YAHshua the son of Naue, for they closely followed after YHVH.

(Num 32:13) And YHVH was very angry with Israel; and for forty years he caused them to wander in the wilderness, until all the generation which did evil in the sight of YHVH was extinct.

(Num 32:14) Behold, ye are risen up in the room of your fathers, a combination of sinful men, to increase yet farther the fierce wrath of YHVH against Israel.

(Num 32:15) For ye will turn away from him to desert him yet once more in the wilderness, and ye will sin against this whole congregation.

(Num 32:16) And they came to him, and said, We will build here folds for our cattle, and cities for our possessions;

(Num 32:17) and we will arm ourselves and go as an advanced guard before the children of Israel, until we shall have brought them into their place; and our possessions shall remain in walled cities because of the inhabitants of the land.

(Num 32:18) We will not return to our houses till the children of Israel shall have been distributed, each to his own inheritance.

(Num 32:19) And we will not any longer inherit with them from the other side of Jordan and onwards, because we have our full inheritance on the side beyond Jordan eastward.

(Num 32:20) And Moses said to them, If ye will do according to these words, if ye will arm yourselves before YHVH for battle,

(Num 32:21) and every one of you will pass over Jordan fully armed before YHVH, until his enemy be destroyed from before his face, (Num 32:22) and the land shall be subdued before YHVH, then afterwards ye shall return, and be guiltless before YHVH, and as regards Israel; and this land shall be to you for a possession before YHVH.

(Num 32:23) But if ye will not do so, ye will sin against YHVH; and ye shall know your sin, when afflictions shall come upon you.

(Num 32:24) And ye shall build for yourselves cities for your store, and folds for your cattle; and ye shall do that which proceeds out of your mouth.

(Num 32:25) And the sons of Ruben and the sons of Gad spoke to Moses, saying, Thy servants will do as our lord commands.

(Num 32:26) Our store, and our wives, and all our cattle shall be in the cities of Galaad.

(Num 32:27) But thy servants will go over all armed and set in order before YHVH to battle, as our lord says.

(Num 32:28) And Moses appointed to them for judges Eleazar the priest, and YAHshua the son of Naue, and the chiefs of the families of the tribes of Israel.

(Num 32:29) And Moses said to them, If the sons of Ruben and the sons of Gad will pass over Jordan with you, every one armed for war before YHVH, and ye shall subdue the land before you, then ye shall give to them the land of Galaad for a possession.

(Num 32:30) But if they will not pass over armed with you to war before YHVH, then shall ye cause to pass over their possessions and their wives and their cattle before you into the land of Chanaan, and they shall inherit with you in the land of Chanaan.

(Num 32:31) And the sons of Ruben and the sons of Gad answered, saying, Whatsoever YHVH says to his servants, that will we do.

(Num 32:32) We will go over armed before YHVH into the land of Chanaan, and ye shall give us our inheritance beyond Jordan.

(Num 32:33) And Moses gave to them, even to the sons of Gad and the sons of Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manasse of the sons of Joseph, the kingdom of Seon king of the Amorites, and the kingdom of Og king of Basan, the land and its cities with its coasts, the cities of the land round about.

(Num 32:34) And the sons of Gad built Daebon, and Ataroth, and Aroer,

(Num 32:35) and Sophar, and Jazer, and they set them up,
(Num 32:36) and Namram, and Baetharan, strong cities, and folds for sheep.
(Num 32:37) And the sons of Ruben built Esebon, and Eleale, and Kariatham, (Num 32:38) and Beelmeon, surrounded with walls, and Sebama; and they called the names of the cities which they built, after their own names.
(Num 32:39) And a son of Machir the son of Manasse went to Galaad, and took it, and destroyed the Amorite who dwelt in it.
(Num 32:40) And Moses gave Galaad to Machir the son of Manasse, and he dwelt there.
(Num 32:41) And Jair the son of Manasse went and took their villages, and called them the villages of Jair.
(Num 32:42) And Nabau went and took Caath and her villages, and called them Naboth after his name.
(Num 33:1) And these are the stages of the children of Israel, as they went out from the land of Egypt with their host by the hand of Moses and Aaron.
(Num 33:2) And Moses wrote their removals and their stages, by the word of YHVH: and these are the stages of their journeying.
(Num 33:3) They departed from Ramesses in the first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the day after the passover the children of Israel went forth with a high hand before all the Egyptians.
(Num 33:4) And the Egyptians buried those that died of them, even all that YHVH smote, every first-born in the land of Egypt; also YHVH executed vengeance on their gods.
(Num 33:5) And the children of Israel departed from Ramesses, and encamped in Socchoth:
(Num 33:6) and they departed from Socchoth and encamped in Buthan, which is a part of the wilderness.
(Num 33:7) And they departed from Buthan and encamped at the mouth of Iroth, which is opposite Beel-sepphon, and encamped opposite Magdol.
(Num 33:8) And they departed from before Iroth, and crossed the middle of the sea into the wilderness; and they went a journey of three days through the wilderness, and encamped in Picriae.
(Num 33:9) And they departed from Picriae, and came to Ælim; and in Ælim were twelve fountains of water, and seventy palm-trees, and they encamped there by the water.
(Num 33:10) And they departed from Ælim, and encamped by the Red Sea.
(Num 33:11) And they departed from the Red Sea, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin.
(Num 33:12) And they departed from the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Raphaca.
(Num 33:13) And they departed from Raphaca, and encamped in Ælus.
(Num 33:14) And they departed from Ælus, and encamped in Raphidin; and there was no water there for the people to drink.
(Num 33:15) And they departed from Raphidin, and encamped in the wilderness of Sina.
(Num 33:16) And they departed from the wilderness of Sina, and encamped at the Graves of Lust.
(Num 33:17) And they departed from the Graves of Lust, and encamped in Aseroth.

(Num 33:18) And they departed from Aseroth, and encamped in Rathama.
(Num 33:19) And they departed from Rathama, and encamped in Remmon Phares.
(Num 33:20) And they departed from Remmon Phares, and encamped in Lebona.
(Num 33:21) And they departed from Lebona, and encamped in Rissan.
(Num 33:22) And they departed from Rissan, and encamped in Makellath.
(Num 33:23) And they departed from Makellath, and encamped in Saphar.
(Num 33:24) And they departed from Saphar, and encamped in Charadath.
(Num 33:25) And they departed from Charadath, and encamped in Makeloth.
(Num 33:26) And they departed from Makeloth, and encamped in Kataath.
(Num 33:27) And they departed from Kataath, and encamped in Tarath.
(Num 33:28) And they departed from Tarath, and encamped in Mathecca.
(Num 33:29) And they departed from Mathecca, and encamped in Selmona.
(Num 33:30) And they departed from Selmona, and encamped in Masuruth.
(Num 33:31) And they departed from Masuruth, and encamped in Banaea.
(Num 33:32) And they departed from Banaea, and encamped in the mountain Gadgad.
(Num 33:33) And they departed from the mountain Gadgad, and encamped in Etebatha.
(Num 33:34) And they departed from Etebatha, and encamped in Ebrona.
(Num 33:35) And they departed from Ebrona, and encamped in Gesion Gaber.
(Num 33:36) And they departed from Gesion Gaber, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin; and they departed from the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in the wilderness of Pharan; this is Cades.
(Num 33:37) And they departed from Cades, and encamped in mount Or near the land of Edom.
(Num 33:38) And Aaron the priest went up by the command of YHVH, and died there in the fortieth year of the departure of the children of Israel from the land of Egypt, in the fifth month, on the first day of the month.
(Num 33:39) And Aaron was a hundred and twenty-three years old, when he died in mount Or.
(Num 33:40) And Arad the Chananitish king (he too dwelt in the land of Chanaan) having heard when the children of Israel were entering the land
(Num 33:41) then they departed from mount Or, and encamped in Selmona.
(Num 33:42) And they departed from Selmona, and encamped in Phino.
(Num 33:43) And they departed from Phino, and encamped in Oboth.
(Num 33:44) And they departed from Oboth, and encamped in Gai, on the other side Jordan on the borders of Moab.
(Num 33:45) And they departed from Gai, and encamped in Daebon Gad.
(Num 33:46) And they departed from Daebon Gad, and encamped in Gelmon Deblathaim.
(Num 33:47) And they departed from Gelmon Deblathaim, and encamped on the mountains of Abarim, over against Nabau.
(Num 33:48) And they departed from the mountains of Abarim, and encamped on the west of Moab, at Jordan by Jericho.
(Num 33:49) And they encamped by Jordan between Æsimoth, as far as Belsa to the west of Moab.
(Num 33:50) And YHVH spoke to Moses at the west of Moab by Jordan at Jericho, saying,

(Num 33:51) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to pass over Jordan into the land of Chanaan.

(Num 33:52) And ye shall destroy all that dwell in the land before your face, and ye shall abolish their high places, and all their molten images ye shall destroy, and ye shall demolish all their pillars.

(Num 33:53) And ye shall destroy all the inhabitants of the land, and ye shall dwell in it, for I have given their land to you for an inheritance.

(Num 33:54) And ye shall inherit their land according to your tribes; to the greater number ye shall give the larger possession, and to the smaller ye shall give the less possession; to whatsoever part a man's name shall go forth by lot, there shall be his property: ye shall inherit according to the tribes of your families.

(Num 33:55) But if ye will not destroy the dwellers in the land from before you, then it shall come to pass that whomsoever of them ye shall leave shall be thorns in your eyes, and darts in your sides, and they shall be enemies to you on the land on which ye shall dwell;

(Num 33:56) and it shall come to pass that as I had determined to do to them, so I will do to you.

(Num 34:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 34:2) Charge the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are entering into the land of Chanaan: it shall be to you for an inheritance, the land of Chanaan with its boundaries.

(Num 34:3) And your southern side shall be from the wilderness of Sin to the border of Edom, and your border southward shall extend on the side of the salt sea eastward.

(Num 34:4) And your border shall go round you from the south to the ascent of Acrabin, and shall proceed by Ennac, and the going forth of it shall be southward to Cades Barne, and it shall go forth to the village of Arad, and shall proceed by Asemona.

(Num 34:5) And the border shall compass from Asemona to the river of Egypt, and the sea shall be the termination.

(Num 34:6) And ye shall have your border on the west, the great sea shall be the boundary: this shall be to you the border on the west.

(Num 34:7) And this shall be your northern border; from the great sea ye shall measure to yourselves, by the side of the mountain.

(Num 34:8) And ye shall measure to yourselves the mountain from mount Hor at the entering in to Emath, and the termination of it shall be the coasts of Saradac.

(Num 34:9) And the border shall go out to Dephrona, and its termination shall be at Arsenain; this shall be your border from the north.

(Num 34:10) And ye shall measure to yourselves the eastern border from Arsenain to Sepphamar.

(Num 34:11) And the border shall go down from Sepphamar to Bela eastward to the fountains, and the border shall go down from Bela behind the sea Chenereh eastward.

(Num 34:12) And the border shall go down to Jordan, and the termination shall be the salt sea; this shall be your land and its borders round about.

(Num 34:13) And Moses charged the children of Israel, saying, This is the land which ye shall inherit by lot, even as YHVH commanded us to give it to the nine tribes and the half-tribe of Manasse.

(Num 34:14) For the tribe of the children of Ruben, and the tribe of the children of Gad have received their inheritance according to their families; and the half-tribe of Manasse have received their inheritances.

(Num 34:15) Two tribes and half a tribe have received their inheritance beyond Jordan by Jericho from the south eastwards.

(Num 34:16) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 34:17) These are the names of the men who shall divide the land to you for an inheritance; Eleazar the priest and YAHshua the son of Naue.

(Num 34:18) And ye shall take one ruler from each tribe to divide the land to you by lot.

(Num 34:19) And these are the names of the men; of the tribe of Juda Chaleb the son of Jephonne.

(Num 34:20) Of the tribe of Simeon, Salamiel the son of Semiud.

(Num 34:21) Of the tribe of Benjamin, Eldad the son of Chaslon.

(Num 34:22) Of the tribe of Dan the prince was Bacchir the son of Egli.

(Num 34:23) Of the sons of Joseph of the tribe of the sons of Manasse, the prince was Aniel the son of Suphi.

(Num 34:24) Of the tribe of the sons of Ephraim, the prince was Camuel the son of Sabathan.

(Num 34:25) Of the tribe of Zabulon, the prince was Elisaphan the son of Pharnac.

(Num 34:26) Of the tribe of the sons of Issachar, the prince was Phaltiel the son of Oza.

(Num 34:27) Of the tribe of the children of Aser, the prince was Achior the son of Selemi.

(Num 34:28) Of the tribe of Nephthali, the prince was Phadael the son of Jamiud.

(Num 34:29) These did YHVH command to distribute the inheritances to the children of Israel in the land of Chanaan.

(Num 35:1) And YHVH spoke to Moses to the west of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, saying, (Num 35:2) Give orders to the children of Israel, and they shall give to the Levites cities to dwell in from the lot of their possession, and they shall give to the Levites the suburbs of the cities round about them.

(Num 35:3) And the cities shall be for them to dwell in, and their enclosures shall be for their cattle and all their beasts.

(Num 35:4) And the suburbs of the cities which ye shall give to the Levites, shall be from the wall of the city and outwards two thousand cubits round about.

(Num 35:5) And thou shalt measure outside the city on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits; and your city shall be in the midst of this, and the suburbs of the cities as described.

(Num 35:6) And ye shall give the cities to the Levites, the six cities of refuge which ye shall give for the slayer to flee thither, and in addition to these, forty-two cities.

(Num 35:7) Ye shall give to the Levites in all forty-eight cities, them and their suburbs.

(Num 35:8) And as for the cities which ye shall give out of the possession of the children of Israel, from those that have much ye shall give much, and from those that have less ye shall give less: they shall give of their cities to the Levites each one according to his inheritance which they shall inherit.

(Num 35:9) And YHVH spoke to Moses, saying,

(Num 35:10) Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them, Ye are to cross over Jordan into the land of Chanaan.

(Num 35:11) And ye shall appoint to yourselves cities: they shall be to you cities of refuge for the slayer to flee to, every one who has killed another unintentionally.

(Num 35:12) And the cities shall be to you places of refuge from the avenger of blood, and the slayer shall not die until he stands before the congregation for judgment.

(Num 35:13) And the cities which ye shall assign, even the six cities, shall be places of refuge for you.

(Num 35:14) Ye shall assign three cities on the other side of Jordan, and ye shall assign three cities in the land of Chanaan.

(Num 35:15) It shall be a place of refuge for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, and for him that sojourns among you; these cities shall be for a place of refuge, for every one to flee thither who has killed a man unintentionally.

(Num 35:16) And if he should smite him with an iron instrument, and the man should die, he is a murderer; let the murderer by all means be put to death.

(Num 35:17) And if he should smite him with a stone thrown from his hand, whereby a man may die, and he thus die, he is a murderer; let the murderer by all means be put to death.

(Num 35:18) And if he should smite him with an instrument of wood from his hand, whereby he may die, and he thus die, he is a murderer; let the murderer by all means be put to death.

(Num 35:19) The avenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer: whensoever he shall meet him he shall slay him.

(Num 35:20) And if he should thrust him through enmity, or cast any thing upon him from an ambuscade, and the man should die,

(Num 35:21) or if he have smitten him with his hand through anger, and the man should die, let the man that smote him be put to death by all means, he is a murderer: let the murderer by all means be put to death: the avenger of blood shall slay the murderer when he meets him.

(Num 35:22) But if he should thrust him suddenly, not through enmity, or cast any thing upon him, not from an ambuscade,

(Num 35:23) or smite him with any stone, whereby a man may die, unawares, and it should fall upon him, and he should die, but he was not his enemy, nor sought to hurt him;

(Num 35:24) then the assembly shall judge between the smiter and the avenger of blood, according to these judgments.

(Num 35:25) And the congregation shall rescue the slayer from the avenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to his city of refuge, whither he fled for refuge; and he shall dwell there till the death of the high-priest, whom they anointed with the holy oil.

(Num 35:26) But if the slayer should in any wise go out beyond the bounds of the city whither he fled for refuge,

(Num 35:27) and the avenger of blood should find him without the bounds of the city of his refuge, and the avenger of blood should kill the slayer, he is not guilty.

(Num 35:28) For he ought to have remained in the city of refuge till the high-priest died; and after the death of the high-priest the slayer shall return to the land of his possession.

(Num 35:29) And these things shall be to you for an ordinance of judgment throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

(Num 35:30) Whoever kills a man, thou shalt slay the murderer on the testimony of witnesses; and one witness shall not testify against a soul that he should die.

(Num 35:31) And ye shall not accept ransoms for life from a murderer who is worthy of death, for he shall be surely put to death.

(Num 35:32) Ye shall not accept a ransom to excuse his fleeing to the city of refuge, so that he should again dwell in the land, until the death of the high-priest.

(Num 35:33) So shall ye not pollute with murder the land in which ye dwell; for this blood pollutes the land, and the land shall not be purged from the blood shed upon it, but by the blood of him that shed it.

(Num 35:34) And ye shall not defile the land whereon ye dwell, on which I dwell in the midst of you; for I am YHVH dwelling in the midst of the children of Israel.

(Num 36:1) And the heads of the tribe of the sons of Galaad the son of Machir the son of Manasse, of the tribe of the sons of Joseph, drew near, and spoke before Moses, and before Eleazar the priest, and before the heads of the houses of the families of the children of Israel:

(Num 36:2) and they said, YHVH commanded our lord to render the land of inheritance by lot to the children of Israel; and YHVH appointed our lord to give the inheritance of Salpaad our brother to his daughters.

(Num 36:3) And they will become wives in one of the tribes of the children of Israel; so their inheritance shall be taken away from the possession of our fathers, and shall be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which the women shall marry, and shall be taken away from the portion of our inheritance.

(Num 36:4) And if there shall be a release of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be added to the inheritance of the tribe into which the women marry, and their inheritance, shall be taken away from the inheritance of our family's tribe.

(Num 36:5) And Moses charged the children of Israel by the commandment of YHVH, saying, Thus says the tribe of the children of Joseph.

(Num 36:6) This is the thing which YHVH has appointed the daughters of Salpaad, saying, Let them marry where they please, only let them marry men of their father's tribe.

(Num 36:7) So shall not the inheritance of the children of Israel go about from tribe to tribe, for the children of Israel shall steadfastly continue each in the inheritance of his family's tribe.

(Num 36:8) And whatever daughter is heiress to a property of the tribes of the children Israel, such women shall be married each to one of her father's tribe, that the sons of Israel may each inherit the property of his father's tribe.

(Num 36:9) And the inheritance shall not go about from one tribe to another, but the children of Israel shall steadfastly continue each in his own inheritance.
(Num 36:10) As YHVH commanded Moses, so did they to the daughters of Salpaad.
(Num 36:11) So Thersa, and Eglā, and Melcha, and Nua, and Malaa, the daughters of Salpaad, married their cousins;
(Num 36:12) they were married to men of the tribe of Manasse of the sons of Joseph; and their inheritance was attached to the tribe of their father's family.
(Num 36:13) These are the commandments, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which YHVH commanded by the hand of Moses, at the west of Moab, at Jordan by Jericho.

Dueteronomy.

(Deu 1:1) These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel on this side Jordan in the desert towards the west near the Red Sea, between Pharan Tophol, and Lobon, and Aulon, and the gold works.

(Deu 1:2) It is a journey of eleven days from Choreb to mount Seir as far as Cades Barne.

(Deu 1:4) after he had smitten Seon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon, and Og the king of Basan who dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrain;

(Deu 1:5) beyond Jordan in the land of Moab, Moses began to declare this law, saying,

(Deu 1:6) YHVH your Elohim spoke to us in Choreb, saying, Let it suffice you to have dwelt so long in this mountain.

(Deu 1:7) Turn ye and depart and enter into the mountain of the Amorites, and go to all that dwell near about Araba, to the mountain and the plain and to the south, and the land of the Chananites near the sea, and Antilibanus, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates.

(Deu 1:8) Behold, Elohim has delivered the land before you; go in and inherit the land, which I sware to your fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, to give it to them and to their seed after them.

(Deu 1:9) And I spoke to you at that time, saying, I shall not be able by myself to bear you.

(Deu 1:11) YHVH Elohim of your fathers add to you a thousand-fold more than you are, and bless you as he has spoken to you.

(Deu 1:13) Take to yourselves wise and understanding and prudent men for your tribes, and I will set your leaders over you.

(Deu 1:15) So I took of you wise and understanding and prudent men, and I set them to rule over you as rulers of thousands, and rulers of hundreds, and rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens, and officers to your judges.

(Deu 1:17) Thou shalt not have respect to persons in judgment, thou shalt judge small and great equally; thou shalt not shrink from before the person of a man, for the judgment is Elohim's; and whatsoever matter shall be too hard for you, ye shall bring it to me, and I will hear it.

(Deu 1:18) And I charged upon you at that time all the commands which ye shall perform.

(Deu 1:19) And we departed from Choreb, and went through all that great wilderness and terrible, which ye saw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorite, as YHVH our Elohim charged us, and we came as far as Cades Barne.

(Deu 1:20) And I said to you, Ye have come as far as the mountain of the Amorite, which YHVH our Elohim gives to you:

(Deu 1:21) behold, YHVH your Elohim has delivered to us the land before you: go up and inherit it as YHVH Elohim of your fathers said to you; fear not, neither be afraid.

(Deu 1:22) And ye all came to me, and said, Let us send men before us, and let them go up to the land for us; and let them bring back to us a report of the way by which we shall go up, and of the cities into which we shall enter.

(Deu 1:24) And they turned and went up to the mountain, and they came as far as the valley of the cluster, and surveyed it.

(Deu 1:26) Yet ye would not go up, but rebelled against the words of YHVH our Elohim.

(Deu 1:27) And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because YHVH hated us, he has brought us out of the land of Egypt to deliver us into the hands of the Amorites, to destroy us.

(Deu 1:28) Whither do we go up? and your brethren drew away your heart, saying, It is a great nation and populous, and mightier than we; and there are cities great and walled up to heaven: moreover we saw there the sons of the giants.

(Deu 1:30) YHVH your Elohim who goes before your face, he shall fight against them together with you effectually, according to all that he wrought for you in the land of Egypt;

(Deu 1:32) And in this matter ye believed not YHVH our Elohim,

(Deu 1:35) Not one of these men shall see this good land, which I swore to their fathers, (Deu 1:36) except Chaleb the son of Jephonne, he shall see it; and to him I will give the land on which he went up, and to his sons, because he attended to the things of YHVH.

(Deu 1:38) YAHshua the son of Naue, who stands by thee, he shall enter in there; do thou strengthen him, for he shall cause Israel to inherit it.

(Deu 1:39) And every young child who this day knows not good or evil, they shall enter therein, and to them I will give it, and they shall inherit it.

(Deu 1:40) And ye turned and marched into the wilderness, in the way by the Red Sea.

(Deu 1:41) And ye answered and said, We have sinned before YHVH our Elohim; we will go up and fight according to all that YHVH our Elohim has commanded us: and having taken every one his weapons of war, and being gathered together, ye went up to the mountain.

(Deu 1:43) And I spoke to you, and ye did not hearken to me; and ye transgressed the commandment of YHVH; and ye forced your way and went up into the mountain.

(Deu 1:44) And the Amorite who dwelt in that mountain came out to meet you, and pursued you as bees do, and wounded you from Seir to Herma.

(Deu 1:45) And ye sat down and wept before YHVH our Elohim, and YHVH hearkened not to your voice, neither did he take heed to you.

(Deu 1:46) And ye dwelt in Cades many days, as many days as ye dwelt there.

(Deu 2:1) And we turned and departed into the wilderness, by the way of the Red Sea, as YHVH spoke to me, and we compassed mount Seir many days.

(Deu 2:3) Ye have compassed this mount long enough; turn therefore toward the north.

(Deu 2:6) Buy food of them for money and eat, and ye shall receive water of them by measure for money, and drink.

(Deu 2:7) For YHVH our Elohim has blessed thee in every work of thy hands. Consider how thou wentest through that great and terrible wilderness: behold, YHVH thy Elohim has been with thee forty years; thou didst not lack any thing.

(Deu 2:9) And YHVH said to me, Do not ye quarrel with the Moabites, and do not engage in war with them; for I will not give you of their land for an inheritance, for I have given Aroer to the children of Lot to inherit.

(Deu 2:10) Formerly the Ommin dwelt in it, a great and numerous nation and powerful, like the Enakim.

(Deu 2:11) These also shall be accounted Raphain like the Enakim; and the Moabites call them Ommin.

(Deu 2:14) And the days in which we traveled from Cades Barne till we crossed the valley of Zaret, were thirty and eight years, until the whole generation of the men of war failed, dying out of the camp, as YHVH Elohim swore to them.

(Deu 2:15) And the hand of YHVH was upon them to destroy them out of the midst of the camp, until they were consumed.

(Deu 2:16) And it came to pass when all the men of war dying out of the midst of the people had fallen,

(Deu 2:17) that YHVH spoke to me, saying,

(Deu 2:19) and ye shall draw nigh to the children of Amman: do not quarrel with them, nor wage war with them; for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Amman for an inheritance, because I have given it to the children of Lot for an inheritance.

(Deu 2:20) It shall be accounted a land of Raphain, for the Raphain dwelt there before, and the Ammanites call them Zochommin.

(Deu 2:21) A great nation and populous, and mightier than you, as also the Enakim: yet YHVH destroyed them from before them, and they inherited their land, and they dwelt there instead of them until this day.

(Deu 2:23) And the Evites who dwell in Asedoth to Gaza, and the Cappadocians who came out of Cappadocia, destroyed them, and dwelt in their room.

(Deu 2:26) And I sent ambassadors from the wilderness of Kedamoth to Seon king of Esebon with peaceable words, saying, (Deu 2:27) I will pass through thy land: I will go by the road, I will not turn aside to the right hand or to the left.

(Deu 2:28) Thou shalt give me food for money, and I will eat; and thou shalt give me water for money, and I will drink; I will only go through on my feet:

(Deu 2:29) as the sons of Esau did to me, who dwelt in Seir, and the Moabites who dwelt in Aroer, until I shall have passed Jordan into the land which YHVH our Elohim gives us.

(Deu 2:30) And Seon king of Esebon would not that we should pass by him, because YHVH our Elohim hardened his spirit, and made his heart stubborn, that he might be delivered into thy hands, as on this day.

(Deu 2:34) And we took possession of all his cities at that time, and we utterly destroyed every city in succession, and their wives, and their children; we left no living prey.

(Deu 2:35) Only we took the cattle captive, and took the spoil of the cities.

(Deu 2:36) From Aroer, which is by the brink of the brook of Arnon, and the city which is in the valley, and as far as the mount of Galaad; there was not a city which escaped us: YHVH our Elohim delivered all of them into our hands.

(Deu 3:2) And YHVH said to me, Fear him not, for I have delivered him, and all his people, and all his land, into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Seon king of the Amorites who dwelt in Esebon.

(Deu 3:5) all strong cities, lofty walls, gates and bars; besides the very many cities of the Pherezites.

(Deu 3:6) We utterly destroyed them as we dealt with Seon the king of Esebon, so we utterly destroyed every city in order, and the women and the children, (Deu 3:7) and all the cattle; and we took for a prey to ourselves the spoil of the cities.

(Deu 3:13) And the rest of Galaad, and all Basan the kingdom of Og I gave to the half-tribe of Manasse, and all the country round about Argob, all that Basan; it shall be accounted the land of Raphain.

(Deu 3:15) And to Machir I gave Galaad.

(Deu 3:18) And I charged you at that time, saying, YHVH your Elohim has given you this land by lot; arm yourselves, every one that is powerful, and go before your brethren the children of Israel.

(Deu 3:19) Only your wives and your children and your cattle (I know that ye have much cattle), let them dwell in your cities which I have given you;

(Deu 3:20) until YHVH your Elohim give your brethren rest, as also he has given to you, and they also shall inherit the land, which YHVH our Elohim gives them on the other side of Jordan; then ye shall return, each one to his inheritance which I have given you.

(Deu 3:21) And I commanded YAHshua at that time, saying, Your eyes have seen all things, which YHVH our Elohim did to these two kings: so shall YHVH our Elohim do to all the kingdoms against which thou crossest over thither.

(Deu 3:22) Ye shall not be afraid of them, because YHVH our Elohim himself shall fight for you.

(Deu 3:23) And I besought YHVH at that time, saying,

(Deu 3:24) Lord Elohim, thou hast begun to shew to thy servant thy strength, and thy power, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm: for what Elohim is there in heaven or on the earth, who will do as thou hast done, and according to thy might?

(Deu 3:25) I will therefore go over and see this good land that is beyond Jordan, this good mountain and Antilibanus.

(Deu 3:26) And YHVH because of you did not regard me, and hearkened not to me; and YHVH said to me, Let it suffice thee, speak not of this matter to me any more.

(Deu 3:27) Go up to the top of the quarried rock, and look with thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes, for thou shalt not go over this Jordan.

(Deu 3:29) And we abode in the valley near the house of Phogor.

(Deu 4:1) And now, Israel, hear the ordinances and judgments, all that I teach you this day to do: that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, which YHVH Elohim of your fathers gives you.

(Deu 4:3) Your eyes have seen all that YHVH our Elohim did in the case of Beel-phegor; for every man that went after Beel-phegor, YHVH your Elohim has utterly destroyed him from among you.

(Deu 4:4) But ye that kept close to YHVH your Elohim are all alive to-day.

(Deu 4:5) Behold, I have shewn you ordinances and judgments as YHVH commanded me, that ye should do so in the land into which ye go to inherit it.

(Deu 4:6) And ye shall keep and do them: for this is your wisdom and understanding before all nations, as many as shall hear all these ordinances; and they shall say, Behold, this great nation is a wise and understanding people.

(Deu 4:7) For what manner of nation is so great, which has Elohim so near to them as YHVH our Elohim is in all things in whatsoever we may call upon him?

(Deu 4:8) And what manner of nation is so great, which has righteous ordinances and judgments according to all this law, which I set before you this day?

(Deu 4:9) Take heed to thyself, and keep thy heart diligently: forget not any of the things, which thine eyes have seen, and let them not depart from thine heart all the days of thy life; and thou shalt teach thy sons and thy sons' sons, (Deu 4:10) even the things that happened in the day in which ye stood before YHVH our Elohim in Choreb in the day of the assembly; for YHVH said to me, Gather the people to me, and let them hear my words, that they may learn to fear me all the days which they live upon the earth, and they shall teach their sons.

(Deu 4:12) And YHVH spoke to you out of the midst of the fire a voice of words, which ye heard: and ye saw no likeness, only ye heard a voice.

(Deu 4:13) And he announced to you his covenant, which he commanded you to keep, even the ten commandments; and he wrote them on two tables of stone.

(Deu 4:14) And YHVH commanded me at that time, to teach you ordinances and judgments, that ye should do them on the land, into which ye go to inherit it.

(Deu 4:16) lest ye transgress, and make to yourselves a carved image, any kind of figure, the likeness of male or female,

(Deu 4:17) the likeness of any beast of those that are on the earth, the likeness of any winged bird which flies under heaven,

(Deu 4:18) the likeness of any reptile which creeps on the earth, the likeness of any fish of those which are in the waters under the earth;

(Deu 4:19) and lest having looked up to the sky, and having seen the sun and the moon and the stars, and all the heavenly bodies, thou shouldest go astray and worship them, and serve them, which YHVH thy Elohim has distributed to all the nations under heaven.

(Deu 4:20) But Elohim took you, and led you forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the iron furnace, out of Egypt, to be to him a people of inheritance, as at this day.

(Deu 4:21) And YHVH Elohim was angry with me for the things said by you, and swore that I should not go over this Jordan, and that I should not enter into the land, which YHVH thy Elohim giveth thee for an inheritance.

(Deu 4:22) For I am to die in this land, and shall not pass over this Jordan; but ye are to pass over, and shall inherit this good land.

(Deu 4:23) Take heed to yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of YHVH our Elohim, which he made with you, and ye transgress, and make to yourselves a graven image of any of the things concerning which YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee.

(Deu 4:24) For YHVH thy Elohim is a consuming fire, a jealous Elohim.

(Deu 4:25) And when thou shalt have begotten sons, and shalt have sons' sons, and ye shall have dwelt a long time on the land, and shall have transgressed, and made a graven image of any thing, and shall have done wickedly before YHVH your Elohim to provoke him;

(Deu 4:27) And YHVH shall scatter you among all nations, and ye shall be left few in number among all the nations, among which YHVH shall bring you.

(Deu 4:28) And ye shall there serve other gods, the works of the hands of men, wood and stones, which cannot see, nor can they hear, nor eat, nor smell.

(Deu 4:30) And all these things shall come upon thee in the last days, and thou shalt turn to YHVH thy Elohim, and shalt hearken to his voice.

(Deu 4:32) Ask of the former days which were before thee, from the day when Elohim created man upon the earth, and beginning at the one end of heaven to the other end of heaven, if there has happened any thing like to this great event, if such a thing has been heard:

(Deu 4:33) if a nation have heard the voice of the living Elohim speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard and hast lived;

(Deu 4:34) if Elohim has assayed to go and take to himself a nation out of the midst of another nation with trial, and with signs, and with wonders, and with war, and with a mighty hand, and with a high arm, and with great sights, according to all the things which YHVH our Elohim did in Egypt in thy sight.

(Deu 4:35) So that thou shouldest know that YHVH thy Elohim he is Elohim, and there is none beside him.

(Deu 4:38) to destroy nations great and stronger than thou before thy face, to bring thee in, to give thee their land to inherit, as thou hast it this day.

(Deu 4:39) An thou shalt know this day, and shalt consider in thine heart, that YHVH thy Elohim he is Elohim in heaven above, and on the earth beneath, and there is none else but he.

(Deu 4:40) And keep ye his commandments, and his ordinances, all that I command you this day; that it may be well with thee, and with thy sons after thee, that ye may be long-lived upon the earth, which YHVH thy Elohim giveth thee for ever.

(Deu 4:41) Then Moses separated three cities beyond Jordan on the east,

(Deu 4:42) that the slayer might flee thither, who should have slain his neighbour unintentionally, and should not have hated him in times past, and he shall flee to one of these cities and live:

(Deu 4:44) This is the law which Moses set before the children of Israel.

(Deu 4:45) These are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which Moses spoke to the sons of Israel, when they came out of the land of Egypt:

(Deu 4:46) on the other side of Jordan, in the valley near the house of Phogor, in the land of Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, whom Moses and the sons of Israel smote when they came out of the land of Egypt.

(Deu 4:48) From Aroer, which is on the border of the brook Arnon, even to the mount of Seon, which is Aermon.

(Deu 4:49) All Araba beyond Jordan eastward under Asedoth hewn in the rock.

(Deu 5:1) And Moses called all Israel, and said to them, Hear, Israel, the ordinances and judgments, all that I speak in your ears this day, and ye shall learn them, and observe to do them.

(Deu 5:2) YHVH your Elohim made a covenant with you in Choreb.

(Deu 5:3) YHVH did not make this covenant with your fathers, but with you: ye are all here alive this day.

(Deu 5:4) YHVH spoke to you face to face in the mountain out of the midst of the fire.

(Deu 5:5) And I stood between YHVH and you at that time to report to you the words of YHVH, (because ye were afraid before the fire, and ye went not up to the mountain) saying, (Deu 5:6) I am YHVH thy Elohim, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

(Deu 5:7) Thou shalt have no other gods before my face.

(Deu 5:8) Thou shalt not make to thyself an image, nor likeness of any thing, whatever things are in the heaven above, and whatever are in the earth beneath, and whatever are in the waters under the earth.

(Deu 5:9) Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor shalt thou serve them; for I am YHVH thy Elohim, a jealous Elohim, visiting the sins of the fathers upon the children to the third and fourth generation to them that hate me,

(Deu 5:11) Thou shalt not take the name of YHVH thy Elohim in vain, for YHVH thy Elohim will certainly not acquit him that takes his name in vain.

(Deu 5:12) Keep the Sabbath day to sanctify it, as YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee.

(Deu 5:13) Six days thou shalt work, and thou shalt do all thy works;

(Deu 5:14) but on the seventh day is the Sabbath of YHVH thy Elohim: thou shalt do in it no work, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, thine ox, and thine ass, and all thy cattle, and the stranger that sojourns in the midst of thee; that thy man-servant may rest, and thy maid, and thine ox, as well as thou.

(Deu 5:15) And thou shalt remember that thou wast a slave in the land of Egypt, and YHVH thy Elohim brought thee out thence with a mighty hand, and a high arm: therefore YHVH appointed thee to keep the Sabbath day and to sanctify it.

(Deu 5:16) Honour thy father and thy mother, as YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long upon the land, which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee.

(Deu 5:17) Thou shalt not commit murder.

(Deu 5:18) Thou shalt not commit adultery.

(Deu 5:19) Thou shalt not steal.

(Deu 5:20) Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour.

(Deu 5:22) These words YHVH spoke to all the assembly of you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire there was darkness, blackness, storm, a loud voice and he added no more, and he wrote them on two tables of stone, and he gave them to me.

(Deu 5:23) And it came to pass when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the fire, for the mountain burned with fire, that ye came to me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders:

(Deu 5:24) and ye said, Behold, YHVH our Elohim has shewn us his glory, and we have heard his voice out of the midst of the fire: this day we have seen that Elohim shall speak to man, and he shall live.

(Deu 5:25) And now let us not die, for this great fire will consume us, if we shall hear the voice of YHVH our Elohim any more, and we shall die.

(Deu 5:26) For what flesh is there which has heard the voice of the living Elohim, speaking out of the midst of the fire, as we have heard, and shall live?

(Deu 5:27) Do thou draw near, and hear all that YHVH our Elohim shall say, and thou shalt speak to us all things whatsoever YHVH our Elohim shall speak to thee, and we will hear, and do.

(Deu 5:28) And YHVH heard the voice of your words as ye spoke to me; and YHVH said to me, I have heard the voice of the words of this people, even all things that they have said to thee. They have well said all that they have spoken.

(Deu 5:29) O that there were such a heart in them, that they should fear me and keep my commands always, that it might be well with them and with their sons for ever.

(Deu 5:31) but stand thou here with me, and I will tell thee all the commands, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which thou shalt teach them, and let them do so in the land which I give them for an inheritance.

(Deu 5:32) And ye shall take heed to do as YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee; ye shall not turn aside to the right hand or to the left,

(Deu 5:33) according to all the way which YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee to walk in it, that he may give thee rest; and that it may be well with thee, and ye may prolong your days on the land which ye shall inherit.

(Deu 6:1) And these are the commands, and the ordinances, and the judgments, as many as YHVH our Elohim gave commandment to teach you to do so in the land on which ye enter to inherit it.

(Deu 6:3) Hear, therefore, O Israel, and observe to do them, that it may be well with thee, and that ye may be greatly multiplied, as YHVH Elohim of thy fathers said that he would give thee a land flowing with milk and honey: and these are the ordinances, and the judgments, which YHVH commanded the children of Israel in the wilderness, when they had gone forth from the land of Egypt.

(Deu 6:4) Hear, O Israel, YHVH our Elohim is one Lord.

(Deu 6:5) And thou shalt love YHVH thy Elohim with all thy mind, and with all thy soul, and all thy strength.

(Deu 6:12) beware lest thou forget YHVH thy Elohim that brought thee forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

(Deu 6:13) Thou shalt fear YHVH thy Elohim, and him only shalt thou serve; and thou shalt cleave to him, and by his name thou shalt swear.

(Deu 6:14) Go ye not after other gods of the gods of the nations round about you;

(Deu 6:15) for YHVH thy Elohim in the midst of thee is a jealous Elohim, lest YHVH thy Elohim be very angry with thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

(Deu 6:16) Thou shalt not tempt YHVH thy Elohim, as ye tempted him in the temptation.

(Deu 6:18) And thou shalt do that which is pleasing and good before YHVH thy Elohim, that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and inherit the good land, which YHVH sware to your fathers, (Deu 6:19) to chase all thine enemies from before thy face, as YHVH said.

(Deu 6:20) And it shall come to pass when thy son shall ask thee at a future time, saying, What are the testimonies, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which YHVH our Elohim has commanded us?

(Deu 6:21) Then shalt thou say to thy son, We were slaves to Pharaoh in the land of Egypt, and YHVH brought us forth thence with a mighty hand, and with a high arm.

(Deu 6:22) And YHVH wrought signs and great and grievous wonders in Egypt, on Pharaoh and on his house before us.

(Deu 6:24) And YHVH charged us to observe all these ordinances; to fear YHVH our Elohim, that it may be well with us for ever, that we may live, as even to-day.

(Deu 6:25) And there shall be mercy to us, if we take heed to keep all these commands before YHVH our Elohim, as he has commanded us.

(Deu 7:1) And when YHVH thy Elohim shall bring thee into the land, into which thou goest to possess it, and shall remove great nations from before thee, the Chettite, and Gergesite, and Amorite, and Chananite, and Pherezite, and Evite, and Jebusite, seven nations more numerous and stronger than you,

(Deu 7:2) and YHVH thy Elohim shall deliver them into thy hands, then thou shalt smite them: thou shalt utterly destroy them: thou shalt not make a covenant with them, neither shall ye pity them:

(Deu 7:3) neither shall ye contract marriages with them: thou shalt not give thy daughter to his son, and thou shalt not take his daughter to thy son.

(Deu 7:10) and who recompenses them that hate him to their face, to destroy them utterly; and will not be slack with them that hate him: he will recompense them to their face.

(Deu 7:12) And it shall come to pass when ye shall have heard these ordinances, and shall have kept and done them, that YHVH thy Elohim shall keep for thee the covenant and the mercy, which he swore to your fathers.

(Deu 7:13) And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee; and he will bless the off-spring of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep, on the land which YHVH swore to thy fathers to give to thee.
(Deu 7:14) Thou shalt be blessed beyond all nations; there shall not be among you an impotent or barren one, or among thy cattle.
(Deu 7:15) And YHVH thy Elohim shall remove from thee all sickness; and none of the evil diseases of Egypt, which thou hast seen, and all that thou hast known, will he lay upon thee; but he will lay them upon all that hate thee.
(Deu 7:16) And thou shalt eat all the spoils of the nations which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee; thine eye shall not spare them, and thou shalt not serve their gods; for this is an offence to thee.
(Deu 7:17) But if thou shouldst say in thine heart, This nation is greater than I, how shall I be able to destroy them utterly?
(Deu 7:18) thou shalt not fear them; thou shalt surely remember all that YHVH thy Elohim did to Pharaoh and to all the Egyptians:
(Deu 7:21) Thou shalt not be wounded before them, because YHVH thy Elohim in the midst of thee is a great and powerful Elohim.
(Deu 7:22) And YHVH thy Elohim shall consume these nations before thee by little and little: thou shalt not be able to consume them speedily, lest the land become desert, and the wild beasts of the field be multiplied against thee.
(Deu 7:23) And YHVH thy Elohim shall deliver them into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy them with a great destruction, until ye shall have utterly destroyed them.
(Deu 7:24) And he shall deliver their kings into your hands, and ye shall destroy their name from that place; none shall stand up in opposition before thee, until thou shalt have utterly destroyed them.
(Deu 7:25) Ye shall burn with fire the graven images of their gods: thou shalt not covet their silver, neither shalt thou take to thyself gold from them, lest thou shouldst offend thereby, because it is an abomination to YHVH thy Elohim.
(Deu 7:26) And thou shalt not bring an abomination into thine house, so shouldst thou be an accursed thing like it; thou shalt utterly hate it, and altogether abominate it, because it is an accursed thing.
(Deu 8:1) Ye shall observe to do all the commands which I charge you to-day, that ye may live and be multiplied, and enter in and inherit the land, which YHVH your Elohim swore to give to your fathers.
(Deu 8:2) And thou shalt remember all the way which YHVH thy Elohim led thee in the wilderness, that he might afflict thee, and try thee, and that the things in thine heart might be made manifest, whether thou wouldst keep his commandments or no.

(Deu 8:4) Thy garments grew not old from off thee, thy shoes were not worn from off thee, thy feet were not painfully hardened, lo! these forty years.

(Deu 8:5) And thou shalt know in thine heart, that as if any man should chasten his son, so YHVH thy Elohim will chasten thee.

(Deu 8:7) For YHVH thy Elohim will bring thee into a good and extensive land, where there are torrents of waters, and fountains of deep places issuing through the plains and through the mountains:

(Deu 8:8) a land of wheat and barley, wherein are vines, figs, pomegranates; a land of olive oil and honey;

(Deu 8:12) lest when thou hast eaten and art full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt in them;

(Deu 8:13) and thy oxen and thy sheep are multiplied to thee, and thy silver and thy gold are multiplied to thee, and all thy possessions are multiplied to thee,

(Deu 8:15) who brought thee through that great and terrible wilderness, where is the biting serpent, and scorpion, and drought, where there was no water; who brought thee a fountain of water out of the flinty rock:

(Deu 8:17) Lest thou shouldest say in thine heart, My strength, and the power of mine hand have wrought for me this great wealth.

(Deu 8:19) And it shall come to pass if thou do at all forget YHVH thy Elohim, and shouldest go after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall surely perish.

(Deu 9:1) Hear, O Israel: Thou goest this day across Jordan to inherit nations greater and stronger than yourselves, cities great and walled up to heaven;

(Deu 9:2) a people great and many and tall, the sons of Enac, whom thou knowest, and concerning whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Enac?

(Deu 9:5) Not for thy righteousness, nor for the holiness of thy heart, dost thou go in to inherit their land, but because of the wickedness of these nations YHVH will destroy them from before thee, and that he may establish the covenant, which YHVH swore to our fathers, to Abraam, and to Isaac, and to Jacob.

(Deu 9:7) Remember, forget not, how much thou provokedst YHVH thy Elohim in the wilderness: from the day that ye came forth out of Egypt, even till ye came into this place, ye continued to be disobedient toward YHVH.

(Deu 9:8) Also in Choreb ye provoked YHVH, and YHVH was angry with you to destroy you;

(Deu 9:9) when I went up into the mountain to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the covenant, which YHVH made with you, and I was in the mountain forty days and forty nights, I ate no bread and drank no water.

(Deu 9:10) And YHVH gave me the two tables of stone written with the finger of Elohim, and on them there had been written all the words which YHVH spoke to you in the mountain in the day of the assembly.

(Deu 9:11) And it came to pass after forty days and forty nights, YHVH gave me the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant.

(Deu 9:12) And YHVH said to me, Arise, go down quickly from hence, for thy people whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt have transgressed; they have gone aside quickly out of the way which I commanded them, and have made themselves a molten image.

(Deu 9:13) And YHVH spoke to me, saying, I have spoken to thee once and again, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiff-necked people.

(Deu 9:15) And I turned and went down from the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire to heaven; and the two tables of the testimonies were in my two hands.

(Deu 9:16) And when I saw that ye had sinned against YHVH your Elohim, and had made to yourselves a molten image, and had gone astray out of the way, which YHVH commanded you to keep;

(Deu 9:18) And I made my petition before YHVH as also at the first forty days and forty nights: I ate no bread and drank no water, on account of all your sins which ye sinned in doing evil before YHVH Elohim to provoke him.

(Deu 9:19) And I was greatly terrified because of the wrath and anger, because YHVH was provoked with you utterly to destroy you; yet YHVH hearkened to me at this time also.

(Deu 9:21) And your sin which ye had made, even the calf, I took, and burnt it with fire, and pounded it and ground it down till it became fine; and it became like dust, and I cast the dust into the brook that descended from the mountain.

(Deu 9:22) Also in the burning, and in the temptation, and at the graves of lust, ye provoked YHVH.

(Deu 9:24) Ye were disobedient in the things relating to YHVH from the day in which he became known to you.

(Deu 9:25) And I prayed before YHVH forty days and forty nights, the number that I prayed before, for YHVH said that he would utterly destroy you.

(Deu 9:28) Lest the inhabitants of the land whence thou broughtest us out speak, saying, Because YHVH could not bring them into the land of which he spoke to them, and because he hated them, has he brought them forth to slay them in the wilderness.

(Deu 10:1) At that time YHVH said to me, Hew for thyself two stone tables as the first, and come up to me into the mountain, and thou shalt make for thyself an ark of wood.

(Deu 10:3) So I made an ark of boards of incorruptible wood, and I hewed tables of stone like the first, and I went up to the mountain, and the two tables were in my hand.

(Deu 10:4) And he wrote upon the tables according to the first writing the ten commandments, which YHVH spoke to you in the mountain out of the midst of the fire, and YHVH gave them to me.

(Deu 10:5) And I turned and came down from the mountain, and I put the tables into the ark which I had made; and there they were, as YHVH commanded me.

(Deu 10:6) And the children of Israel departed from Beeroth of the sons of Jakim to Misadai: there Aaron died, and there he was buried, and Eleazar his son was priest in his stead.

(Deu 10:7) Thence they departed to Gadgad; and from Gadgad to Etebatha, a land wherein are torrents of water.

(Deu 10:8) At that time YHVH separated the tribe of Levi, to bear the ark of the covenant of YHVH, to stand near before YHVH, to minister and bless in his name to this day.

(Deu 10:10) And I remained in the mount forty days and forty nights: and YHVH heard me at that time also, and YHVH would not destroy you.

(Deu 10:11) And YHVH said to me, Go, set out before this people, and let them go in and inherit the land, which I sware to their fathers to give to them.

(Deu 10:12) And now, Israel, what does YHVH thy Elohim require of thee, but to fear YHVH thy Elohim, and to walk in all his ways, and to love him, and to serve YHVH thy Elohim with all thy heart, and with all thy soul;

(Deu 10:13) to keep the commandments of YHVH thy Elohim, and his ordinances, all that I charge thee to-day, that it may be well with thee?

(Deu 10:15) Only YHVH chose your fathers to love them, and he chose out their seed after them, even you, beyond all nations, as at this day.

(Deu 10:16) Therefore ye shall circumcise the hardness of your heart, and ye shall not harden your neck.

(Deu 10:19) And ye shall love the stranger; for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt.

(Deu 10:22) With seventy souls your fathers went down into Egypt; but YHVH thy Elohim has made thee as the stars of heaven in multitude.

(Deu 11:2) And ye shall know this day; for I speak not to your children, who know not and have not seen the discipline of YHVH thy Elohim, and his wonderful works, and his strong hand, and his high arm,

(Deu 11:3) and his miracles, and his wonders, which he wrought in the midst of Egypt on Pharaoh king of Egypt, and all his land;

(Deu 11:4) and what he did to the host of the Egyptians, and to their chariots, and their cavalry, and their host; how he made the water of the Red Sea to overwhelm the face of them as they pursued after you, and YHVH destroyed them until this day;

(Deu 11:6) and all the things that he did to Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab the son of Ruben, whom the earth opening her mouth swallowed up, and their houses, and their tents, and all their substance that was with them, in the midst of all Israel:

(Deu 11:8) And ye shall keep all his commandments, as many as I command thee to-day, that ye may live, and be multiplied, and that ye may go in and inherit the land, into which ye go across Jordan to inherit it:

(Deu 11:11) but the land into which thou goest to inherit it, is a land of mountains and plains; it shall drink water of the rain of heaven.

(Deu 11:12) A land which YHVH thy Elohim surveys continually, the eyes of YHVH thy Elohim are upon it from the beginning of the year to the end of the year.

(Deu 11:13) Now if ye will indeed hearken to all the commands which I charge thee this day, to love YHVH thy Elohim, and to serve him with all thy heart, and with all thy soul,

(Deu 11:15) And he shall give food in thy fields to thy cattle; and when thou hast eaten and art full,

(Deu 11:16) take heed to thyself that thy heart be not puffed up, and ye transgress, and serve other gods, and worship them:

(Deu 11:17) and YHVH be angry with you, and restrain the heaven; and there shall not be rain, and the earth shall not yield its fruit, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land, which YHVH has given you.

(Deu 11:18) And ye shall store these words in your heart and in your soul, and ye shall bind them as a sign on your hand, and it shall be fixed before your eyes.

(Deu 11:19) And ye shall teach them to your children, so as to speak about them when thou sittest in the house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou sleepest, and when thou risest up.

(Deu 11:20) And ye shall write them on the lintels of your houses, and on your gates;

(Deu 11:21) that your days may be long, and the days of your children, upon the land which YHVH sware to your fathers to give to them, as the days of heaven upon the earth.

(Deu 11:22) And it shall come to pass that if ye will indeed hearken to all these commands, which I charge thee to observe this day, to love YHVH our Elohim, and to walk in all his ways, and to cleave close to him;

(Deu 11:23) then YHVH shall cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall inherit great nations and stronger than yourselves.

(Deu 11:24) Every place whereon the sole of your foot shall tread shall be your; from the wilderness and Antilibanus, and from the great river, the river Euphrates, even as far as the west sea shall be your coasts.

(Deu 11:25) No one shall stand before you; and YHVH your Elohim will put the fear of you and the dread of you on the face of all the land, on which ye shall tread, as he told you.

(Deu 11:27) the blessing, if ye hearken to the commands of YHVH your Elohim, all that I command you this day;

(Deu 11:28) and the curse, if ye do not hearken to the commands of YHVH our Elohim, as many as I command you this day, and ye wander from the way which I have commanded you, having gone to serve other gods, which ye know not.

(Deu 11:29) And it shall come to pass when YHVH thy Elohim shall have brought thee into the land into which thou goest over to inherit it, then thou shalt put blessing on mount Garizin, and the curse upon mount Gaebal.

(Deu 11:30) Lo! are not these beyond Jordan, behind, westward in the land of Chanaan, which lies westward near Golgol, by the high oak?

(Deu 12:1) And these are the ordinances and the judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which YHVH Elohim of your fathers gives you for an inheritance, all the days which ye live upon the land.

(Deu 12:4) Ye shall not do so to YHVH your Elohim.

(Deu 12:7) And ye shall eat there before YHVH your Elohim, and ye shall rejoice in all the things on which ye shall lay your hand, ye and your houses, as YHVH your Elohim has blessed you.

(Deu 12:8) Ye shall not do altogether as we do here to-day, every man that which is pleasing in his own sight.

(Deu 12:10) And ye shall go over Jordan, and shall dwell in the land, which YHVH our Elohim takes as an inheritance for you; and he shall give you rest from all your enemies round about, and ye shall dwell safely.

(Deu 12:11) And there shall be a place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose for his name to be called there, thither shall ye bring all things that I order you to-day; your whole-burnt-offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and the first-fruits of your hands, and every choice gift of yours, whatsoever ye shall vow to YHVH your Elohim.

(Deu 12:12) And ye shall rejoice before YHVH your Elohim, ye and your sons, and your daughters, and your men-servants and your maid-servants, and the Levite that is at your gates; because he has no portion or inheritance with you.

(Deu 12:13) Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy whole-burnt-offerings in any place which thou shalt see;

(Deu 12:15) But thou shalt kill according to all thy desire, and shalt eat flesh according to the blessing of YHVH thy Elohim, which he has given thee in every city; the unclean that is within thee and the clean shall eat it on equal terms, as the doe or the stag.

(Deu 12:17) Thou shalt not be able to eat in thy cities the tithe of thy corn, and of thy wine, and of thine oil, the first-born of thine herd and of thy flock, and all your vows as many as ye shall have vowed, and your thank-offerings, and the first-fruits of thine hands.

(Deu 12:20) And if YHVH thy Elohim shall enlarge thy borders, as he said to thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh; if thy soul should desire to eat flesh, thou shalt eat flesh according to all the desire of thy soul.

(Deu 12:21) And if the place be far from thee, which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose for himself, that his name be called upon it, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock which Elohim shall have given thee, even as I commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy cities according to the desire of thy soul.

(Deu 12:23) Take diligent heed that thou eat no blood, for blood is the life of it; the life shall not be eaten with the flesh.

(Deu 12:24) Ye shall not eat it; ye shall pour it out on the ground as water.

(Deu 12:26) But thou shalt take thy holy things, if thou hast any, and thy vowed-offerings, and come to the place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose to have his name named upon it.

(Deu 12:27) And thou shalt sacrifice thy whole-burnt-offerings, thou shalt offer the flesh upon the altar of YHVH thy Elohim; but the blood of thy sacrifices thou shalt pour out at the foot of the altar of YHVH thy Elohim, but the flesh thou shalt eat.

(Deu 13:1) And if there arise within thee a prophet, or one who dreams a dream, and he gives thee a sign or a wonder,

(Deu 13:2) and the sign or the wonder come to pass which he spoke to thee, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye know not;

(Deu 13:4) Ye shall follow YHVH your Elohim, and fear him, and ye shall hear his voice, and attach yourselves to him.

(Deu 13:5) And that prophet or that dreamer of a dream, shall die; for he has spoken to make thee err from YHVH thy Elohim who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, who redeemed thee from bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee to walk in: so shalt thou abolish the evil from among you.

(Deu 13:6) And if thy brother by thy father or mother, or thy son, or daughter, or thy wife in thy bosom, or friend who is equal to thine own soul, entreat thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known,

(Deu 13:8) thou shalt not consent to him, neither shalt thou hearken to him; and thine eye shall not spare him, thou shalt feel no regret for him, neither shalt thou at all protect him:

(Deu 13:9) thou shalt surely report concerning him, and thy hands shall be upon him among the first to slay him, and the hands of all the people at the last.

(Deu 13:11) And all Israel shall hear, and fear, and shall not again do according to this evil thing among you.

(Deu 13:12) And if in one of thy cities which YHVH Elohim gives thee to dwell therein, thou shalt hear men saying,

(Deu 13:14) then thou shalt enquire and ask, and search diligently, and behold, if the thing is clearly true, and this abomination has taken place among you,

(Deu 14:1) Ye are the children of YHVH your Elohim: ye shall not make any baldness between you eyes for the dead.

(Deu 14:2) For thou art a holy people to YHVH thy Elohim, and YHVH thy Elohim has chosen thee to be a peculiar people to himself of all the nations on the face of the earth.

(Deu 14:3) Ye shall not eat any abominable thing.

(Deu 14:4) These are the beasts which ye shall eat; the calf of the herd, and lamb of the sheep, and kid of the goats;

(Deu 14:5) the stag, and doe, and pygarg, and wild goat, and camelopard.

(Deu 14:6) Every beast that divides the hoofs, and makes claws of two divisions, and that chews the cud among beasts, these ye shall eat.

(Deu 14:7) And these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, and of those that divide the hoofs, and make distinct claws; the camel, and the hare, and the rabbit; because they chew the cud, and do not divide the hoof, these are unclean to you.

(Deu 14:9) And these ye shall eat of all that are in the water, ye shall eat all that have fins and scales.

(Deu 14:10) And all that have not fins and scales ye shall not eat; they are unclean to you.

(Deu 14:11) Ye shall eat every clean bird.

(Deu 14:12) And these of them ye shall not eat; the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the sea-eagle,

(Deu 14:13) and the vulture, and the kite and the like to it,

(Deu 14:16) and the heron, and the swan, and the stork,

(Deu 14:17) and the cormorant, and the hawk, and its like, and the hoopoe, and the raven,

(Deu 14:18) and the pelican, and the diver and the like to it, and the red-bill and the bat.

(Deu 14:19) All winged animals that creep are unclean to you; ye shall not eat of them.

(Deu 14:20) Ye shall eat every clean bird.

(Deu 14:21) Ye shall eat nothing that dies of itself; it shall be given to the sojourner in thy cities and he shall eat it, or thou shalt sell it to a stranger, because thou art a holy people to YHVH thy Elohim. Thou shalt not boil a lamb in his mother's milk.

(Deu 14:22) Thou shalt tithe a tenth of all the produce of thy seed, the fruit of thy field year by year.

(Deu 14:24) And if the journey be too far for thee, and thou art not able to bring them, because the place is far from thee which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose to have his name called there, because YHVH thy Elohim will bless thee;

(Deu 14:27) and the Levite that is in thy cities, because he has not a portion or inheritance with thee.

(Deu 14:28) After three years thou shalt bring out all the tithes of thy fruits, in that year thou shalt lay it up in thy cities.

(Deu 14:29) And the Levite shall come, because he has no part or lot with thee, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which is in thy cities; and they shall eat and be filled, that YHVH thy Elohim may bless thee in all the works which thou shalt do.

(Deu 15:1) Every seven years thou shalt make a release.

(Deu 15:2) And this is the ordinance of the release: thou shalt remit every private debt which thy neighbour owes thee, and thou shalt not ask payment of it from thy brother; for it has been called a release to YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 15:6) (for YHVH thy Elohim has blessed thee in the way of which he spoke to thee,) then thou shalt lend to many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt rule over many nations, but they shall not rule over thee.

(Deu 15:7) And if there shall be in the midst of thee a poor man of thy brethren in one of thy cities in the land, which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee, thou shalt not harden thine heart, neither shalt thou by any means close up thine hand from thy brother who is in want.

(Deu 15:9) Take heed to thyself that there be not a secret thing in thine heart, an iniquity, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, draws nigh; and thine eye shall be evil to thy brother that is in want, and thou shalt not give to him, and he shall cry against thee to YHVH, and there shall be great sin in thee.

(Deu 15:10) Thou shalt surely give to him, and thou shalt lend him as much as he wants, according as he is in need; and thou shalt not grudge in thine heart as thou givest to him, because on this account YHVH thy Elohim will bless thee in all thy works, and in all things on which thou shalt lay thine hand.

(Deu 15:12) And if thy brother or sister, a Hebrew man or a Hebrew woman, be sold to thee, he shall serve thee six years, and in the seventh year thou shalt send him out free from thee.

(Deu 15:16) And if he should say to thee, I will not go out from thee, because he continues to love thee and thy house, because he is well with thee;

(Deu 15:18) It shall not seem hard to thee when they are sent out free from thee, because thy servant has served thee six years according to the annual hire of a hireling; so YHVH thy Elohim shall bless thee in all things whatsoever thou mayest do.

(Deu 15:20) Thou shalt eat it before YHVH year by year in the place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose, thou and thy house.

(Deu 15:23) Only ye shall not eat the blood; thou shalt pour it out on the earth as water.

(Deu 16:1) Observe the month of new corn, and thou shalt sacrifice the passover to YHVH thy Elohim; because in the month of new corn thou camest out of Egypt by night.

(Deu 16:4) Leaven shall not be seen with thee in all thy borders for seven days, and there shall not be left of the flesh which thou shalt sacrifice at even on the first day until the morning.

(Deu 16:9) Seven weeks shalt thou number to thyself; when thou hast begun to put the sickle to the corn, thou shalt begin to number seven weeks.

(Deu 16:10) And thou shalt keep the feast of weeks to YHVH thy Elohim, accordingly as thy hand has power in as many things as YHVH thy Elohim shall give thee.

(Deu 16:11) And thou shalt rejoice before YHVH thy Elohim, thou and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant and thy maid-servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow which dwells among you, in whatsoever place YHVH thy Elohim shall choose, that his name should be called there.

(Deu 16:13) Thou shalt keep for thyself the feast of tabernacles seven days, when thou gatherest in thy produce from thy corn-floor and thy wine-press.

(Deu 16:14) And thou shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, thy man-servant, and thy maid-servant, and the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow that is in thy cities.

(Deu 16:15) Seven days shalt thou keep a feast to YHVH thy Elohim in the place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose for himself; and if YHVH thy Elohim shall bless thee in all thy fruits, and in every work of thy hands, then thou shalt rejoice.

(Deu 16:16) Three times in the year shall all thy males appear before YHVH thy Elohim in the place which YHVH shall choose in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: thou shalt not appear before YHVH thy Elohim empty.

(Deu 16:17) Each one according to his ability, according to the blessing of YHVH thy Elohim which he has given thee.

(Deu 16:18) Thou shalt make for thyself judges and officers in thy cities, which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee in thy tribes, and they shall judge the people with righteous judgment:

(Deu 16:19) they shall not wrest judgment, nor favour persons, nor receive a gift; for gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous.

(Deu 16:21) Thou shalt not plant for thyself a grove; thou shalt not plant for thyself any tree near the altar of thy Elohim.

(Deu 16:22) Thou shalt not set up for thyself a pillar, which YHVH thy Elohim hates.

(Deu 17:3) and they should go and serve other gods, and worship them, the sun, or the moon, or any of the host of heaven, which he commanded thee not to do,

(Deu 17:4) and it be told thee, and thou shalt have enquired diligently, and, behold, the thing really took place, this abomination has been done in Israel;

(Deu 17:6) He shall die on the testimony of two or three witnesses; a man who is put to death shall not be put to death for one witness.

(Deu 17:7) And the hand of the witnesses shall be upon him among the first to put him to death, and the hand of the people at the last; so shalt thou remove the evil one from among yourselves.

(Deu 17:8) And if a matter shall be too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, and between cause and cause, and between stroke and stroke, and between contradiction and contradiction, matters of judgment in your cities;

(Deu 17:9) then thou shalt arise and go up to the place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose, and thou shalt come to the priests the Levites, and to the judge who shall be in those days, and they shall search out the matter and report the judgment to thee.

(Deu 17:10) And thou shalt act according to the thing which they shall report to thee out of the place which YHVH thy Elohim shall choose, and thou shalt observe to do all whatsoever shall have been by law appointed to thee.

(Deu 17:12) And the man whosoever shall act in haughtiness, so as not to hearken to the priest who stands to minister in the name of YHVH thy Elohim, or the judge who shall preside in those days, that man shall die, and thou shalt remove the evil one out of Israel.

(Deu 17:13) And all the people shall hear and fear, and shall no more commit impiety.

(Deu 17:14) And when thou shalt enter into the land which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee, and shalt inherit it and dwell in it, and shalt say, I will set a ruler over me, as also the other nations round about me;

(Deu 17:16) For he shall not multiply to himself horses, and he shall by no means turn the people back to Egypt, lest he should multiply to himself horses; for YHVH said, Ye shall not any more turn back by that way.

(Deu 17:18) And when he shall be established in his government, then shall he write for himself this repetition of the law into a book by the hands of the priests the Levites;

(Deu 17:19) and it shall be with him, and he shall read in it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear YHVH thy Elohim, and to keep all these commandments, and to observe these ordinances:

(Deu 18:1) The priests, the Levites, even the whole tribe of Levi, shall have no part nor inheritance with Israel; the burnt-offerings of YHVH are their inheritance, they shall eat them.

(Deu 18:3) And this is the due of the priests in the things coming from the people from those who offer sacrifices, whether it be a calf or a sheep; and thou shalt give the shoulder to the priest, and the cheeks, and the great intestine:

(Deu 18:4) and the first-fruits of thy corn, and of thy wine, and of thine oil; and thou shalt give to him the first-fruits of the fleeces of thy sheep:

(Deu 18:6) And if a Levite come from one of the cities of all the children of Israel, where he himself dwells, accordingly as his mind desires, to the place which he shall have chosen,

(Deu 18:7) he shall minister to the name of YHVH his Elohim, as all his brethren the Levites, who stand there present before YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 18:8) He shall eat an allotted portion, besides the sale of his hereditary property.

(Deu 18:9) And when thou shalt have entered into the land which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee, thou shalt not learn to do according to the abominations of those nations.

(Deu 18:10) There shall not be found in thee one who purges his son or his daughter with fire, one who uses divination, who deals with omens, and augury, (Deu 18:11) a sorcerer employing incantation, one who has in him a divining spirit, and observer of signs, questioning the dead.

(Deu 18:13) Thou shalt be perfect before YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 18:14) For all these nations whose land thou shalt inherit, they will listen to omens and divinations; but YHVH thy Elohim has not permitted thee so to do.

(Deu 18:15) YHVH thy Elohim shall raise up to thee a prophet of thy brethren, like me; him shall ye hear:

(Deu 18:16) according to all things which thou didst desire of YHVH thy Elohim in Choreb in the day of the assembly, saying, We will not again hear the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, and we will not any more see this great fire, and so we shall not die.

(Deu 18:17) And YHVH said to me, They have spoken rightly all that they have said to thee.

(Deu 18:18) I will raise up to them a prophet of their brethren, like thee; and I will put my words in his mouth, and he shall speak to them as I shall command him.

(Deu 18:19) And whatever man shall not hearken to whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in my name, I will take vengeance on him.

(Deu 18:20) But the prophet whosoever shall impiously speak in my name a word which I have not commanded him to speak, and whosoever shall speak in the name of other gods, that prophet shall die.

(Deu 18:22) Whatsoever words that prophet shall speak in the name of YHVH, and they shall not come true, and not come to pass, this is the thing which YHVH has not spoken; that prophet has spoken wickedly: ye shall not spare him.

(Deu 19:2) thou shalt separate for thyself three cities in the midst of thy land, which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee.

(Deu 19:6) Lest the avenger of blood pursue after the slayer, because his heart is hot, and overtake him, if the way be too long, and slay him, though there is to this man no sentence of death, because he hated him not in time past.

(Deu 19:7) Therefore I charge thee, saying, Thou shalt separate for thy self three cities.

(Deu 19:8) And if YHVH shall enlarge thy borders, as he sware to thy fathers, and YHVH shall give to thee all the land which he said he would give to thy fathers;

(Deu 19:11) But if there should be in thee a man hating his neighbour, and he should lay wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him, that he die, and he should flee to one of these cities,

(Deu 19:13) Thine eye shall not spare him; so shalt thou purge innocent blood from Israel, and it shall be well with thee.

(Deu 19:15) One witness shall not stand to testify against a man for any iniquity, or for any fault, or for any sin which he may commit; by the mouth of two witnesses, or by the mouth of three witnesses, shall every word be established.

(Deu 19:16) And if an unjust witness rise up against a man, alleging iniquity against him;

(Deu 19:18) And the judges shall make diligent inquiry, and, behold, if and unjust witness has borne unjust testimony; and has stood up against his brother;

(Deu 19:20) And the rest shall hear and fear, and do no more according to this evil thing in the midst of you.

(Deu 19:21) Thine eye shall not spare him: thou shalt exact life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

(Deu 20:2) And it shall come to pass whenever thou shalt draw nigh to battle, that the priest shall draw nigh and speak to the people, and shall say to them,

(Deu 20:3) Hear, O Israel; ye are going this day to battle against your enemies: let not your heart faint, fear not, neither be confounded, neither turn aside from their face.

(Deu 20:4) For it is YHVH your Elohim who advances with you, to fight with you against your enemies, and to save you.

(Deu 20:5) And the scribes shall speak to the people, saying, What man is he that has built a new house, and has not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the war, and another man dedicate it.

(Deu 20:6) And what man is he that has planted a vineyard, and not been made merry with it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man be made merry with it.

(Deu 20:7) And what man is he that has betrothed a wife, and has not taken her? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her.

(Deu 20:8) And the scribes shall speak further to the people, and say, What man is he that fears and is cowardly in his heart? Let him go and return to his house, lest he make the heart of his brother fail, as his own.

(Deu 20:9) And it shall come to pass when the scribes shall have ceased speaking to the people, that they shall appoint generals of the army to be leaders of the people.

(Deu 20:11) If then they should answer peaceably to thee, and open to thee, it shall be that all the people found in it shall be tributary and subject to thee.

(Deu 20:12) But if they will not hearken to thee, but wage war against thee, thou shalt invest it;

(Deu 20:13) until YHVH thy Elohim shall deliver it into thy hands, and thou shalt smite every male of it with the edge of the sword:

(Deu 20:15) Thus shalt thou do to all the cities that are very far off from thee, not being of the cities of these nations which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee to inherit their land.

(Deu 20:16) Of these ye shall not take any thing alive;

(Deu 20:17) but ye shall surely curse them, the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Chananite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Gergesite; as YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee:

(Deu 20:18) that they may not teach you to do all their abominations, which they did to their gods, and so ye should sin before YHVH your Elohim.

(Deu 21:2) thine elders and thy judges shall come forth, and shall measure the distances of the cities round about the slain man:

(Deu 21:3) and it shall be that the city which is nearest to the slain man the elders of that city shall take a heifer of the herd, which has not laboured, and which has not borne a yoke.

(Deu 21:4) And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer into a rough valley, which has not been tilled and is not sown, and they shall slay the heifer in the valley.

(Deu 21:8) Be merciful to thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, YHVH, that innocent blood may not be charged on thy people Israel: and the blood shall be atoned for to them.

(Deu 21:9) And thou shalt take away innocent blood from among you, if thou shouldest do that which is good and pleasing before YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 21:11) and shouldest see among the spoil a woman beautiful in countenance, and shouldest desire her, and take her to thyself for a wife,

(Deu 21:12) and shouldest bring her within thine house: then shalt thou shave her head, and pare her nails;

(Deu 21:14) And it shall be if thou do not delight in her, thou shalt send her out free; and she shall not by any means be sold for money, thou shalt not treat her contemptuously, because thou hast humbled her.

(Deu 21:19) then shall his father and his mother take hold of him, and bring him forth to the elders of his city, and to the gate of the place:

(Deu 21:20) and they shall say to the men of their city, This our son is disobedient and contentious, he hearkens not to our voice, he is a reveler and a drunkard.

(Deu 21:21) And the men of his city shall stone him with stones, and he shall die; and thou shalt remove the evil one from yourselves, and the rest shall hear and fear.

(Deu 21:22) And if there be sin in any one, and the judgment of death be upon him, and he be put to death, and ye hang him on a tree:

(Deu 22:2) And if thy brother do not come nigh thee, and thou dost not know him, thou shalt bring it into thy house within; and it shall be with thee until thy brother shall seek them, and thou shalt restore them to him.

(Deu 22:6) And if thou shouldest come upon a brood of birds before thy face in the way or upon any tree, or upon the earth, young or eggs, and the mother be brooding on the young or the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young ones.

(Deu 22:7) Thou shalt by all means let the mother go, but thou shalt take the young to thyself; that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest live long.

(Deu 22:8) If thou shouldest build a new house, then shalt thou make a parapet to thy house; so thou shalt not bring blood-guiltiness upon thy house, if one should in any wise fall from it.

(Deu 22:10) Thou shalt not plough with an ox and an ass together.

(Deu 22:11) Thou shalt not wear a mingled garment, woollen and linen together.

(Deu 22:12) Thou shalt make fringes on the four borders of thy garments, with which soever thou mayest be clothed.

(Deu 22:13) And if any one should take a wife, and dwell with her, and hate her,

(Deu 22:20) But if this report be true, and the tokens of virginity be not found for the damsel;

(Deu 22:21) then shall they bring out the damsel to the doors of her father's house, and shall stone her with stones, and she shall die; because she has wrought folly among the children of Israel, to defile the house of her father by whoring: so thou shalt remove the evil one from among you.

(Deu 22:26) And the damsel has not committed a sin worthy of death; as if a man should rise up against his neighbour, and slay him, so is this thing;

(Deu 22:27) because he found her in the field; the betrothed damsel cried, and there was none to help her.

(Deu 22:28) And if any one should find a young virgin who has not been betrothed, and should force her and lie with her, and be found,

(Deu 22:30) A man shall not take his father's wife, and shall not uncover his father's skirt.

(Deu 23:2) One born of a harlot shall not enter into the assembly of YHVH.

(Deu 23:4) because they met you not with bread and water by the way, when ye went out of Egypt; and because they hired against thee Balaam the son of Beor of Mesopotamia to curse thee.

(Deu 23:5) But YHVH thy Elohim would not hearken to Balaam; and YHVH thy Elohim changed the curses into blessings, because YHVH thy Elohim loved thee.

(Deu 23:7) Thou shalt not abhor an Edomite, because he is thy brother; thou shalt not abhor an Egyptian, because thou wast a stranger in his land.

(Deu 23:10) If there should be in thee a man who is not clean by reason of his issue by night, then he shall go forth out of the camp, and he shall not enter into the camp.

(Deu 23:11) And it shall come to pass toward evening he shall wash his body with water, and when the sun has gone down, he shall go into the camp.

(Deu 23:12) And thou shalt have a place outside of the camp, and thou shalt go out thither,

(Deu 23:15) Thou shalt not deliver a servant to his master, who coming from his master attaches himself to thee.

(Deu 23:17) There shall not be a harlot of the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be a fornicator of the sons of Israel; there shall not be an idolatress of the daughters of Israel, and there shall not be an initiated person of the sons of Israel.

(Deu 23:19) Thou shalt not lend to thy brother on usury of silver, or usury of meat, or usury of any thing which thou mayest lend out.

(Deu 23:22) But if thou shouldest be unwilling to vow, it is not sin in thee.

(Deu 23:23) Thou shalt observe the words that proceed from between thy lips; and as thou hast vowed a gift to YHVH Elohim, so shalt thou do that which thou hast spoken with thy mouth.

(Deu 24:1) And if thou shouldest go into the corn field of thy neighbour, then thou mayest gather the ears with thy hands; but thou shalt not put the sickle to thy neighbour's corn.

(Deu 24:2) And if thou shouldest go into the vineyard of thy neighbour, thou shalt eat grapes sufficient to satisfy thy desire; but thou mayest not put them into a vessel.

(Deu 24:3) And if any one should take a wife, and should dwell with her, then it shall come to pass if she should not have found favour before him, because he has found some unbecoming thing in her, that he shall write for her a bill of divorcement, and give it into her hands, and he shall send her away out of his house.

(Deu 24:4) And if she should go away and be married to another man;

(Deu 24:5) and the last husband should hate her, and write for her a bill of divorcement; and should give it into her hands, and send her away out of his house, and the last husband should die, who took her to himself for a wife;

(Deu 24:7) And if any one should have recently taken a wife, he shall not go out to war, neither shall any thing be laid upon him; he shall be free in his house; for one year he shall cheer his wife whom he has taken.

(Deu 24:8) Thou shalt not take for a pledge the under millstone, nor the upper millstone; for he who does so takes life for a pledge.

(Deu 24:10) Take heed to thyself in regard of the plague of leprosy: thou shalt take great heed to do according to all the law, which the priests the Levites shall report to you; take heed to do, as I have charged you.

(Deu 24:11) Remember all that YHVH thy Elohim did to Mariam in the way, when ye were going out of Egypt.

(Deu 24:12) If thy neighbour owe thee a debt, any debt whatsoever, thou shalt not go into his house to take his pledge:

(Deu 24:13) thou shalt stand without, and the man who is in thy debt shall bring the pledge out to thee.

(Deu 24:14) And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge.

(Deu 24:16) Thou shalt not unjustly withhold the wages of the poor and needy of thy brethren, or of the strangers who are in thy cities.

(Deu 24:18) The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, and the sons shall not be put to death for the fathers; every one shall be put to death for his own sin.

(Deu 24:19) Thou shalt not wrest the judgment of the stranger and the fatherless, and widow; thou shalt not take the widow's garment for a pledge.

(Deu 24:20) And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Egypt, and YHVH thy Elohim redeemed thee from thence; therefore I charge thee to do this thing.

(Deu 24:21) And when thou shalt have reaped corn in thy field, and shalt have forgotten a sheaf in thy field, thou shalt not return to take it; it shall be for the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow, that YHVH thy Elohim may bless thee in all the works of thy hands.

(Deu 25:1) And if there should be a dispute between men, and they should come forward to judgment, and the judges judge, and justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked:

(Deu 25:4) Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treads out the corn.

(Deu 25:6) And it shall come to pass that the child which she shall bear, shall be named by the name of the deceased, and his name shall not be blotted out of Israel.

(Deu 25:7) And if the man should not be willing to take his brother's wife, then shall the woman go up to the gate to the elders, and she shall say, My husband's brother will not raise up the name of his brother in Israel, my husband's brother has refused.

(Deu 25:8) And the elders of his city shall call him, and speak to him; and if he stand and say, I will not take her:

(Deu 25:9) then his brother's wife shall come forward before the elders, and shall loose one shoe from off his foot, and shall spit in his face, and shall answer and say, Thus shall they do to the man who will not build his brother's house in Israel.

(Deu 25:14) Thou shalt not have in thine house divers measures, a great and a small.

(Deu 25:17) Remember what things Amalec did to thee by the way, when thou wentest forth out of the land of Egypt:

(Deu 25:18) how he withstood thee in the way, and harassed thy rear, even those that were weary behind thee, and thou didst hunger and wast weary; and he did not fear Elohim.

(Deu 26:1) And it shall be when thou shalt have entered into the land, which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee to inherit it, and thou shalt have inherited it, and thou shalt have dwelt upon it,

(Deu 26:3) And thou shalt come to the priest who shall be in those days, and thou shalt say to him, I testify this day to YHVH my Elohim, that I am come into the land which YHVH swore to our fathers to give to us.

(Deu 26:7) and we cried to YHVH our Elohim, and YHVH heard our voice, and saw our humiliation, and our labour, and our affliction.

(Deu 26:9) And he brought us into this place, and gave us this land, a land flowing with milk and honey.

(Deu 26:12) And when thou shalt have completed all the tithings of thy fruits in the third year, thou shalt give the second tenth to the Levite, and stranger, and fatherless, and widow; and they shall eat it in thy cities, and be merry.

(Deu 26:13) And thou shalt say before YHVH thy Elohim, I have fully collected the holy things out of my house, and I have given them to the Levite, and the stranger, and the orphan, and the widow, according to all commands which thou didst command me: I did not transgress thy command, and I did not forget it.

(Deu 26:14) And in my distress I did not eat of them, I have not gathered of them for an unclean purpose, I have not given of them to the dead; I have hearkened to the voice of YHVH our Elohim, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

(Deu 26:18) And YHVH has chosen thee this day that thou shouldest be to him a peculiar people, as he said, to keep his commands;

(Deu 26:19) and that thou shouldest be above all nations, as he has made thee renowned, and a boast, and glorious, that thou shouldest be a holy people to YHVH thy Elohim, as he has spoken.

(Deu 27:1) And Moses and the elders of Israel commanded, saying, Keep all these commands, all that I command you this day.

(Deu 27:3) And thou shalt write on these stones all the words of this law, as soon as ye have crossed Jordan, when ye are entered into the land, which YHVH Elohim of thy fathers gives thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, according as YHVH Elohim of thy fathers said to thee.

(Deu 27:5) And thou shalt build there an altar to YHVH thy Elohim, an altar of stones; thou shalt not lift up iron upon it.

(Deu 27:6) Of whole stones shalt thou build an altar to YHVH thy Elohim, and thou shalt offer upon it whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 27:7) And thou shalt there offer a peace-offering; and thou shalt eat and be filled, and rejoice before YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 27:9) And Moses and the priests the Levites spoke to all Israel, saying, Be silent and hear, O Israel; this day thou art become a people to YHVH thy Elohim.

(Deu 27:10) And thou shalt hearken to the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, and shalt do all his commands, and his ordinances, as many as I command thee this day.

(Deu 27:11) And Moses charged the people on that day, saying,

(Deu 27:12) These shall stand to bless the people on mount Garizin having gone over Jordan; Symeon, Levi, Judas, Issachar, Joseph, and Benjamin.

(Deu 27:13) And these shall stand for cursing on mount Gaebal; Ruben, Gad, and Aser, Zabulon, Dan, and Nephthali.

(Deu 27:14) And the Levites shall answer and say to all Israel with a loud voice,

(Deu 27:20) Cursed is he that lies with his father's wife, because he has uncovered his father's skirt: and all the people shall say, So be it.

(Deu 27:22) Cursed is he that lies with his sister by his father or his mother: and all the people shall say, So be it.

(Deu 27:25) Cursed is he whosoever shall have taken a bribe to slay an innocent man: and all the people shall say, So be it.

(Deu 27:26) Cursed is every man that continues not in all the words of this law to do them: and all the people shall say, So be it.

(Deu 28:2) and all these blessings shall come upon thee, and shall find thee. If thou wilt indeed hear the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, (Deu 28:3) blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed shalt thou be in the field.

(Deu 28:4) Blessed shall be the offspring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, and the herds of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep.

(Deu 28:5) Blessed shall be thy barns, and thy stores.

(Deu 28:6) Blessed shalt thou be in thy coming in, and blessed shalt thou be in thy going out.

(Deu 28:7) YHVH deliver thine enemies that withstand thee utterly broken before thy face: they shall come out against thee one way, and they shall flee seven ways from before thee.

(Deu 28:8) YHVH send upon thee his blessing in thy barns, and on all on which thou shalt put thine hand, in the land which YHVH thy Elohim gives thee.

(Deu 28:9) YHVH raise thee up for himself a holy people, as he sware to thy fathers; if thou wilt hear the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, and walk in all his ways.

(Deu 28:10) And all the nations of the earth shall see thee, that the name of YHVH is called upon thee, and they shall stand in awe of thee.

(Deu 28:14) Thou shalt not turn aside from any of the commandments, which I charge thee this day, to the right hand or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them.

(Deu 28:16) Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.

(Deu 28:17) Cursed shall be thy barns and thy stores.

(Deu 28:18) Cursed shall be the offspring of thy body, and the fruits of thy land, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep.

(Deu 28:19) Cursed shalt thou be in thy coming in, and cursed shalt thou be in thy going out.

(Deu 28:20) YHVH send upon thee want, and famine, and consumption of all things on which thou shalt put thy hand, until he shall have utterly destroyed thee, and until he shall have consumed thee quickly because of thine evil devices, because thou hast forsaken me.

(Deu 28:23) And thou shalt have over thine head a sky of brass, and the earth under thee shall be iron.

(Deu 28:25) YHVH give thee up for slaughter before thine enemies: thou shalt go out against them one way, and flee from their face seven ways; and thou shalt be a dispersion in all the kingdoms of the earth.

(Deu 28:26) And your dead men shall be food to the birds of the sky, and to the beasts of the earth; and there shall be none to scare them away.

(Deu 28:27) YHVH smite thee with the botch of Egypt in the seat, and with a malignant scab, and itch, so that thou canst not be healed.

(Deu 28:28) YHVH smite thee with insanity, and blindness, and astonishment of mind.

(Deu 28:32) Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given to another nation, and thine eyes wasting away shall look for them: thine hand shall have no strength.

(Deu 28:33) A nation which thou knowest not shall eat the produce of thy land, and all thy labours; and thou shalt be injured and crushed always.

(Deu 28:34) And thou shalt be distracted, because of the sights of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

(Deu 28:37) An thou shalt be there for a wonder, and a parable, and a tale, among all the nations, to which YHVH thy Elohim shall carry thee away.

(Deu 28:38) Thou shalt carry forth much seed into the field, and thou shalt bring in little, because the locust shall devour it.

(Deu 28:39) Thou shalt plant a vineyard, and dress it, and shalt not drink the wine, neither shalt thou delight thyself with it, because the worm shall devour it.

(Deu 28:40) Thou shalt have olive trees in all thy borders, and thou shalt not anoint thee with oil, because thine olive shall utterly cast its fruit.

(Deu 28:41) Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, and they shall not be thine, for they shall depart into captivity.

(Deu 28:42) All thy trees and the fruits of thy land shall the blight consume.

(Deu 28:45) And all these curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and shall overtake thee, until he shall have consumed thee, and until he shall have destroyed thee; because thou didst not hearken to the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, to keep his commands, and his ordinances which he has commanded thee.

(Deu 28:46) And these things shall be signs in thee, and wonders among thy seed for ever;

(Deu 28:47) because thou didst not serve YHVH thy Elohim with gladness and a good heart, because of the abundance of all things.

(Deu 28:48) And thou shalt serve thine enemies, which YHVH will send forth against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in the want of all things; and thou shalt wear upon thy neck a yoke of iron until he shall have destroyed thee.

(Deu 28:49) YHVH shall bring upon thee a nation from the extremity of the earth, like the swift flying of an eagle, a nation whose voice thou shalt not understand;

(Deu 28:50) a nation bold in countenance, which shall not respect the person of the aged and shall not pity the young.

(Deu 28:51) And it shall eat up the young of thy cattle, and the fruits of thy land, so as not to leave to thee corn, wine, oil, the herds of thine oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep, until it shall have destroyed thee;

(Deu 28:52) and have utterly crushed thee in thy cities, until the high and strong walls be destroyed, in which thou trustest, in all thy land; and it shall afflict thee in thy cities, which he has given to thee.

(Deu 28:55) so as not to give to one of them of the flesh of his children, whom he shall eat, because of his having nothing left him in thy straitness, and in thy affliction, with which thine enemies shall afflict thee in all thy cities.

(Deu 28:56) And she that is tender and delicate among you, whose foot has not assayed to go upon the earth for delicacy and tenderness, shall look with an evil eye on her husband in her bosom, and her son and her daughter,

(Deu 28:58) If thou wilt not hearken to do all the words of this law, which have been written in this book, to fear this glorious and wonderful name, YHVH thy Elohim;

(Deu 28:59) then YHVH shall magnify thy plagues, and the plagues of thy seed, great and wonderful plagues, and evil and abiding diseases.

(Deu 28:60) And he shall bring upon thee all the evil pain of Egypt, of which thou wast afraid, and they shall cleave to thee.

(Deu 28:63) And it shall come to pass that as YHVH rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you, so YHVH will rejoice over you to destroy you; and ye shall be quickly removed from the land, into which ye go to inherit it. (Deu 28:64) And YHVH thy Elohim shall scatter thee among all nations, from one end of the earth to the other; and thou shalt there serve other gods, wood and stone, which thou hast not known, nor thy fathers.

(Deu 28:65) Moreover among those nations he will not give thee quiet, neither by any means shall the sole of thy foot have rest; and YHVH shall give thee there another and a misgiving heart, and failing eyes, and a wasting soul.

(Deu 28:67) In the morning thou shalt say, Would it were evening! and in the evening thou shalt say, Would it were morning! for the fear of thine heart with which thou shalt fear, and for the sights of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

(Deu 28:68) And YHVH shall bring thee back to Egypt in ships, by the way of which I said, Thou shalt not see it again; and ye shall be sold there to your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and none shall buy you.

(Deu 29:2) And Moses called all the sons of Israel and said to them, Ye have seen all things that YHVH did in the land of Egypt before you to Pharaoh and his servants, and all his land;

(Deu 29:3) the great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great wonders.

(Deu 29:4) Yet YHVH Elohim has not given you a heart to know, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, until this day.

(Deu 29:5) And he led you forty years in the wilderness; your garments did not grow old, and your sandals were not worn away off your feet.

(Deu 29:8) And we smote them and took their land, and I gave it for an inheritance to Ruben and Gad, and to the half-tribe of Manasse.

(Deu 29:9) And ye shall take heed to do all the words of this covenant, that ye may understand all things that ye shall do.

(Deu 29:12) that thou shouldest enter into the covenant of YHVH thy Elohim and into his oaths, as many as YHVH thy Elohim appoints thee this day;

(Deu 29:13) that he may appoint thee to himself for a people, and he shall be thy Elohim, as he said to thee, and as he sware to thy fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob.

(Deu 29:14) And I do not appoint to you alone this covenant and this oath;

(Deu 29:15) but to those also who are here with you to-day before YHVH your Elohim, and to those who are not here with you to-day.

(Deu 29:16) For ye know how we dwelt in the land of Egypt, how we came through the midst of the nations through whom ye came.

(Deu 29:17) And ye beheld their abominations, and their idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which are among them.

(Deu 29:18) Lest there be among you man, or woman, or family, or tribe, whose heart has turned aside from YHVH your Elohim, having gone to serve the gods of these nations; lest there be in you a root springing up with gall and bitterness.

(Deu 29:19) And it shall be if one shall hear the words of this curse, and shall flatter himself in his heart, saying, Let good happen to me, for I will walk in the error of my heart, lest the sinner destroy the guiltless with him:

(Deu 29:22) And another generation shall say even your sons who shall rise up after you, and the stranger who shall come from a land afar off, and shall see the plagues of that land and their diseases, which YHVH has sent upon it,

(Deu 29:24) and all the nations shall say, Why has YHVH done thus to this land? what is this great fierceness of anger?

(Deu 29:26) and they went and served other gods, which they knew not, neither did he assign them to them.

(Deu 29:27) And YHVH was exceedingly angry with that land to bring upon it according to all the curses which are written in the book of this law.

(Deu 29:28) And YHVH removed them from their land in anger, and wrath, and very great indignation, and cast them out into another land as at present.

(Deu 29:29) The secret things belong to YHVH our Elohim, but the things that are revealed belong to us and to our children for ever, to do all the words of this law.

(Deu 30:1) And it shall come to pass when all these things shall have come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thy face, and thou shalt call them to mind among all the nations, wherein YHVH shall have scattered thee,

(Deu 30:3) then YHVH shall heal thine iniquities, and shall pity thee, and shall again gather thee out from all the nations, among which YHVH has scattered thee.

(Deu 30:4) If thy dispersion be from one end of heaven to the other, thence will YHVH thy Elohim gather thee, and thence will YHVH thy Elohim take thee.

(Deu 30:8) And thou shalt return and hearken to the voice of YHVH thy Elohim, and shall keep his commands, all that I charge thee this day.

(Deu 30:9) And YHVH thy Elohim shall bless thee in every work of thine hands, in the offspring of thy body, and in the offspring of thy cattle, and in the fruits of thy land, because YHVH thy Elohim will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers:

(Deu 30:12) It is not in heaven above, as if there were one saying, Who shall go up for us into heaven, and shall take it for us, and we will hear and do it?

(Deu 30:13) Neither is it beyond the sea, saying, Who will go over for us to the other side of the sea, and take it for us, and make it audible to us, and we will do it?

(Deu 30:15) Behold, I have set before thee this day life and death, good and evil.

(Deu 30:16) If thou wilt hearken to the commands of YHVH thy Elohim, which I command thee this day, to love YHVH thy Elohim, to walk in all his ways, and to keep his ordinances, and his judgments; then ye shall live, and shall be many in number, and YHVH thy Elohim shall bless thee in all the land into which thou goest to inherit it.

(Deu 30:19) I call both heaven and earth to witness this day against you, I have set before you life and death, the blessing and the curse: choose thou life, that thou and thy seed may live;

(Deu 30:20) to love YHVH thy Elohim, to hearken to his voice, and cleave to him; for this is thy life, and the length of thy days, that thou shouldst dwell upon the land, which YHVH sware to thy fathers, Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, to give to them.

(Deu 31:2) and said to them, I am this day a hundred and twenty years old; I shall not be able any longer to come in or go out; and YHVH said to me, Thou shalt not go over this Jordan.

(Deu 31:4) And YHVH thy Elohim shall do to them as he did to Seon and Og the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, and to their land, as he destroyed them.

(Deu 31:5) And YHVH has delivered them to you; and ye shall do to them, as I charged you.

(Deu 31:7) And Moses called YAHshua, and said to him before all Israel, Be courageous and strong; for thou shalt go in before this people into the land which YHVH swore to your fathers to give to them, and thou shalt give it to them for an inheritance.

(Deu 31:8) And YHVH that goes with thee shall not forsake thee nor abandon thee; fear not, neither be afraid.

(Deu 31:9) And Moses wrote the words of this law in a book, and gave it to the priests the sons of Levi who bear the ark of the covenant of YHVH, and to the elders of the sons of Israel.

(Deu 31:10) And Moses charged them in that day, saying, After seven years, in the time of the year of release, in the feast of tabernacles,

(Deu 31:11) when all Israel come together to appear before YHVH your Elohim, in the place which YHVH shall choose, ye shall read this law before all Israel in their ears, (Deu 31:12) having assembled the people, the men, and the women, and the children, and the stranger that is in your cities, that they may hear, and that they may learn to fear YHVH your Elohim; and they shall hearken to do all the words of this law.

(Deu 31:14) And YHVH said to Moses, Behold, the days of thy death are at hand; call YAHshua, and stand ye by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and I will give him a charge. And Moses and YAHshua went to the tabernacle of testimony, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony.

(Deu 31:15) And YHVH descended in a cloud, and stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony; and the pillar of the cloud stood by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony.

(Deu 31:16) And YHVH said to Moses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, and this people will arise and go a whoring after the strange gods of the land, into which they are entering: and they will forsake me, and break my covenant, which I made with them.

(Deu 31:17) And I will be very angry with them in that day, and I will leave them and turn my face away from them, and they shall be devoured; and many evils and afflictions shall come upon them; and they shall say in that day, Because YHVH my Elohim is not with me, these evils have come upon me. (Deu 31:18) And I will surely turn away my face from them in that day, because of all their evil doings which they have done, because they turned aside after strange gods.

(Deu 31:19) And now write the words of this song, and teach it to the children of Israel, and ye shall put it into their mouth, that this song may witness for me among the children of Israel to their face.

(Deu 31:20) For I will bring them into the good land, which I sware to their fathers, to give to them a land flowing with milk and honey: and they shall eat and be filled and satisfy themselves; then will they turn aside after other gods, and serve them, and they will provoke me, and break my covenant.

(Deu 31:22) And Moses wrote this song in that day, and taught it to the children of Israel.

(Deu 31:23) And he charged YAHshua, and said, Be courageous and strong, for thou shalt bring the sons of Israel into the land, which YHVH sware to them, and he shall be with thee.

(Deu 31:24) And when Moses finished writing all the words of this law in a book, even to the end,

(Deu 31:25) then he charged the Levites who bear the ark of the covenant of YHVH, saying,

(Deu 31:26) Take the book of this law, and ye shall put it in the side of the ark of the covenant of YHVH your Elohim; and it shall be there among you for a testimony.

(Deu 31:27) For I know thy provocation, and thy stiff neck; for yet during my life with you at this day, ye have been provoking in your conduct toward Elohim: how shall ye not also be so after my death?

(Deu 31:28) Gather together to me the heads of your tribes, and your elders, and your judges, and your officers, that I may speak in their ears all these words; and I call both heaven and earth to witness against them.

(Deu 31:29) For I know that after my death ye will utterly transgress, and turn aside out of the way which I have commanded you; and evils shall come upon you in the latter days, because ye will do evil before YHVH, to provoke him to anger by the works of your hands.

(Deu 32:1) Attend, O heaven, and I will speak; and let the earth hear the words out of my mouth.

(Deu 32:2) Let my speech be looked for as the rain, and my words come down as dew, as the shower upon the herbage, and as snow upon the grass.

(Deu 32:5) They have sinned, not pleasing him; spotted children, a froward and perverse generation.

(Deu 32:6) Do ye thus recompense YHVH? is the people thus foolish and unwise? did not he himself thy father purchase thee, and make thee, and form thee?

(Deu 32:8) When the Most High divided the nations, when he separated the sons of Adam, he set the bounds of the nations according to the number of the angels of Elohim.

(Deu 32:9) And his people Jacob became the portion of YHVH, Israel was the line of his inheritance.

(Deu 32:10) He maintained him in the wilderness, in burning thirst and a dry land: he led him about and instructed him, and kept him as the apple of an eye.

(Deu 32:11) As an eagle would watch over his brood, and yearns over his young, receives them having spread his wings, and takes them up on his back:

(Deu 32:16) They provoked me to anger with strange gods; with their abominations they bitterly angered me.

(Deu 32:17) They sacrificed to devils, and not to Elohim; to gods whom they knew not: new and fresh gods came in, whom their fathers knew not.

(Deu 32:18) Thou hast forsaken Elohim that begot thee, and forgotten Elohim who feeds thee.

(Deu 32:20) and said, I will turn away my face from them, and will show what shall happen to them in the last days; for it is a perverse generation, sons in whom is no faith.

(Deu 32:21) They have provoked me to jealousy with that which is not Elohim, they have exasperated me with their idols; and I will provoke them to jealousy with them that are no nation, I will anger them with a nation void of understanding.

(Deu 32:23) I will gather evils upon them, and will fight with my weapons against them.

(Deu 32:26) I said, I will scatter them, and I will cause their memorial to cease from among men.

(Deu 32:27) Were it not for the wrath of the enemy, lest they should live long, lest their enemies should combine against them; lest they should say, Our own high arm, and not YHVH, has done all these things.

(Deu 32:30) How should one pursue a thousand, and two rout tens of thousands, if Elohim had not sold them, and YHVH delivered them up?

(Deu 32:33) Their wine is the rage of serpents, and the incurable rage of asps.

(Deu 32:36) For YHVH shall judge his people, and shall be comforted over his servants; for he saw that they were utterly weakened, and failed in the hostile invasion, and were become feeble:

(Deu 32:37) and YHVH said, Where are their gods on whom they trusted?

(Deu 32:38) the fat of whose sacrifices ye ate, and ye drank the wine of their drink-offerings? let them arise and help you, and be your protectors.

(Deu 32:39) Behold, behold that I am he, and there is no god beside me: I kill, and I will make to live: I will smite, and I will heal; and there is none who shall deliver out of my hands.

(Deu 32:40) For I will lift up my hand to heaven, and swear by my right hand, and I will say, I live for ever.

(Deu 32:41) For I will sharpen my sword like lightning, and my hand shall take hold of judgment; and I will render judgment to my enemies, and will recompense them that hate me.

(Deu 32:43) Rejoice, ye heavens, with him, and let all the angels of Elohim worship him; rejoice ye Gentiles, with his people, and let all the sons of Elohim strengthen themselves in him; for he will avenge the blood of his sons, and he will render vengeance, and recompense justice to his enemies, and will reward them that hate him; and YHVH shall purge the land of his people.

(Deu 32:44) And Moses wrote this song in that day, and taught it to the children of Israel; and Moses went in and spoke all the words of this law in the ears of the people, he and YAHshua the son of Naue.

(Deu 32:45) And Moses finished speaking to all Israel.

(Deu 32:46) And he said to them, Take heed with your heart to all these words, which I testify to you this day, which ye shall command your sons, to observe and do all the words of this law.

(Deu 32:47) For this is no vain word to you; for it is your life, and because of this word ye shall live long upon the land, into which ye go over Jordan to inherit it.

(Deu 32:48) And YHVH spoke to Moses in this day, saying,

(Deu 32:50) and die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be added to thy people; as Aaron thy brother died in mount Or, and was added to his people.

(Deu 32:52) Thou shalt see the land before thee, but thou shalt not enter into it.

(Deu 33:1) And this is the blessing with which Moses the man of Elohim blessed the children of Israel before his death.

(Deu 33:2) And he said, YHVH is come from Sina, and has appeared from Seir to us, and has hasted out of the mount of Pharan, with the ten thousands of Cades; on his right hand were his angels with him.

(Deu 33:3) And he spared his people, and all his sanctified ones are under thy hands; and they are under thee; and he received of his words

(Deu 33:4) the law which Moses charged us, an inheritance to the assemblies of Jacob.

(Deu 33:5) And he shall be prince with the beloved one, when the princes of the people are gathered together with the tribes of Israel.

(Deu 33:6) Let Ruben live, and not die; and let him be many in number.

(Deu 33:7) And this is the blessing of Juda; Hear, Lord, the voice of Juda, and do thou visit his people: his hands shall contend for him, and thou shalt be a help from his enemies.

(Deu 33:13) And to Joseph he said, His land is of the blessing of YHVH, of the seasons of sky and dew, and of the deeps of wells below,

(Deu 33:14) and of the fruits of the changes of the sun in season, and of the produce of the months,

(Deu 33:15) from the top of the ancient mountains, and from the top of the everlasting hills,

(Deu 33:20) And to Gad he said, Blessed be he that enlarges Gad: as a lion he rested, having broken the arm and the ruler.

(Deu 33:22) And to Dan he said, Dan is a lion's whelp, and shall leap out of Basan.

(Deu 33:23) And to Nephthali he said, Nephthali has the fulness of good things; and let him be filled with blessing from YHVH: he shall inherit the west and the south.

(Deu 33:24) And to Aser he said, Aser is blessed with children; and he shall be acceptable to his brethren: he shall dip his foot in oil.

(Deu 33:25) His sandal shall be iron and brass; as thy days, so shall be thy strength.

(Deu 34:1) And Moses went up from Araboth Moab to the mount of Nabau, to the top of Phasga, which is before Jericho; and YHVH shewed him all the mount of Galaad to Dan, and all the land of Nephthali,

(Deu 34:3) and the wilderness, and the country round about Jericho, the city of palm-trees, to Segor.

(Deu 34:4) And YHVH said to Moses, This is the land of which I swore to Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob, saying, To your seed will I give it: and I have shewed it to thine eyes, but thou shalt not go in thither.

(Deu 34:5) So Moses the servant of YHVH died in the land of Moab by the word of YHVH.

(Deu 34:6) And they buried him in Gai near the house of Phogor; and no one has seen his sepulchre to this day.

(Deu 34:7) And Moses was a hundred and twenty years old at his death; his eyes were not dimmed, nor were his natural powers destroyed.

(Deu 34:9) And YAHshua the son of Naue was filled with the spirit of knowledge, for Moses had laid his hands upon him; and the children of Israel hearkened to him; and they did as YHVH commanded Moses.

(Deu 34:10) And there rose up no more a prophet in Israel like Moses, whom YHVH knew face to face,

(Deu 34:12) the great wonders, and the mighty hand which Moses displayed before all Israel.

YAHshua/Joshua.

(YAH 1:1) And it came to pass after the death of Moses, that YHVH spoke to YAHshua the son of Naue, the minister of Moses, saying, (YAH 1:2) Moses my servant is dead; now then arise, go over Jordan, thou and all this people, into the land, which I give them.

(YAH 1:3) Every spot on which ye shall tread I will give it to you, as I said to Moses.

(YAH 1:4) The wilderness and Antilibanus, as far as the great river, the river Euphrates, and as far as the extremity of the sea; your costs shall be from the setting of the sun.

(YAH 1:5) Not a man shall stand against you all the days of thy life; and as I was with Moses, so will I also be with thee, and I will not fail thee, or neglect thee.

(YAH 1:6) Be strong and quit thyself like a man, for thou shalt divide the land to this people, which I sware to give to your fathers.

(YAH 1:7) Be strong, therefore, and quit thyself like a man, to observe and do as Moses my servant commanded thee; and thou shalt not turn therefrom to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest be wise in whatsoever thou mayest do.

(YAH 1:8) And the book of this law shall not depart out of thy mouth, and thou shalt meditate in it day and night, that thou mayest know how to do all the things that are written in it; then shalt thou prosper, and make thy ways prosperous, and then shalt thou be wise.

(YAH 1:9) Lo! I have commanded thee; be strong and courageous, be not cowardly nor fearful, for YHVH thy Elohim is with thee in all places whither thou goest.

(YAH 1:10) And YAHshua commanded the scribes of the people, saying, (YAH 1:11) Go into the midst of the camp of the people, and command the people, saying, Prepare provisions; for yet three days and ye shall go over this Jordan, entering in to take possession of the land, which YHVH Elohim of your fathers gives to you.

(YAH 1:12) And to Ruben, and to Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasse, YAHshua said, (YAH 1:13) Remember the word which Moses the servant of YHVH commanded you, saying, YHVH your Elohim has caused you to rest, and has given you this land.

(YAH 1:14) Let your wives and your children and your cattle dwell in the land, which he has given you; and ye shall go over well armed before your brethren, every one of you who is strong; and ye shall fight on their side;

(YAH 1:15) until YHVH your Elohim shall have given your brethren rest, as also to you, and they also shall have inherited the land, which YHVH your Elohim gives them; then ye shall depart each one to his inheritance, which Moses gave you beyond Jordan eastward.

(YAH 1:16) And they answered YAHshua and said, We will do all things which thou commandest us, and we will go to every place whither thou shalt send us.

(YAH 1:17) Whereinsoever we hearkened to Moses we will hearken to thee; only let YHVH our Elohim be with thee, as he was with Moses.

(YAH 1:18) And whosoever shall disobey thee, and whosoever shall not hearken to thy words as thou shalt command him, let him die; but be thou strong and courageous.

(YAH 2:1) And YAHshua the son of Naue sent out of Sattin two young men to spy the land, saying, Go up and view the land and Jericho: and the two young men went and entered into Jericho; and they entered into the house of a harlot, whose name was Raab, and lodged there.

(YAH 2:2) An it was reported to the king of Jericho, saying, Men of the sons of Israel have come in hither to spy the land.

(YAH 2:3) And the king of Jericho sent and spoke to Raab, saying, Bring out the men that entered into thine house this night; for they are come to spy out the land.

(YAH 2:4) And the woman took the two men and hid them; and she spoke to the messengers, saying, The men came in to me, (YAH 2:5) but when the gate was shut in the evening, the men went out; I know not whither they are gone: follow after them, if ye may overtake them.

(YAH 2:6) But she had brought them up upon the house, and hid them in the flax-stalks that were spread by her on the house.

(YAH 2:7) And the men followed after them in the way to Jordan to the fords; and the gate was shut.

(YAH 2:8) And it came to pass when the men who pursued after them were gone forth, and before the spies had lain down to sleep, that she came up to them on the top of the house;

(YAH 2:9) and she said to them, I know that YHVH has given you the land; for the fear of you has fallen upon us.

(YAH 2:10) For we have heard that YHVH Elohim dried up the Red Sea before you, when ye came out of the land of Egypt, and all that he did to the two kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, to Seon and Og, whom ye utterly destroyed.

(YAH 2:11) And when we heard it we were amazed in our heart, and there was no longer any spirit in any of us because of you, for YHVH your god is Elohim in heaven above, and on the earth beneath.

(YAH 2:12) And now swear to me by YHVH Elohim; since I deal mercifully with you, so do ye also deal mercifully with the house of my father:

(YAH 2:13) and save alive the house of my father, my mother, and my brethren, and all my house, and all that they have, and ye shall rescue my soul from death.

(YAH 2:14) And the men said to her, Our life for yours even to death: and she said, When YHVH shall have delivered the city to you, ye shall deal mercifully and truly with me.

(YAH 2:15) And she let them down by the window;

(YAH 2:16) and she said to them, Depart into the hill-country, lest the pursuers meet you, and ye shall be hidden there three days until your pursuers return from after you, and afterwards ye shall depart on your way.

(YAH 2:17) And the men said to her, We are clear of this thy oath.

(YAH 2:18) Behold, we shall enter into a part of the city, and thou shalt set a sign; thou shalt bind this scarlet cord in the window, by which thou hast let us down, and thou shalt bring in to thyself, into thy house, thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all the family of thy father.

(YAH 2:19) And it shall come to pass that whosoever shall go outside the door of thy house, his guilt shall be upon him, and we shall be quit of this thine oath; and we will be responsible for all that shall be found with thee in thy house.

(YAH 2:20) But if any one should injure us, or betray these our matters, we shall be quit of this thine oath.

(YAH 2:21) And she said to them, Let it be according to your word; and she sent them out, and they departed.

(YAH 2:22) And they came to the hill-country, and remained there three days; and the pursuers searched all the roads, and found them not.

(YAH 2:23) And the two young men returned, and came down out of the mountain; and they went over to YAHshua the son of Naue, and told him all things that had happened to them.

(YAH 2:24) And they said to YAHshua, YHVH has delivered all the land into our power, and all the inhabitants of that land tremble because of us.

(YAH 3:1) And YAHshua rose up early in the morning, and departed from Sattin; and they came as far as Jordan, and lodged there before they crossed over.

(YAH 3:2) And it came to pass after three days, that the scribes went through the camp;

(YAH 3:3) and they charged the people, saying, When ye shall see the ark of the covenant of YHVH our Elohim, and our priests and the Levites bearing it, ye shall depart from your places, and ye shall go after it.

(YAH 3:4) But let there be a distance between you and it; ye shall stand as much as two thousand cubits from it. Do not draw nigh to it, that ye may know the way which ye are to go; for ye have not gone the way before.

(YAH 3:5) And YAHshua said to the people, Sanctify yourselves against to-morrow, for to-morrow YHVH will do wonders among you.

(YAH 3:6) And YAHshua said to the priests, Take up the ark of the covenant of YHVH, and go before the people: and the priests took up the ark of the covenant of YHVH, and went before the people.

(YAH 3:7) And YHVH said to YAHshua, This day do I begin to exalt thee before all the children of Israel, that they may know that as I was with Moses, so will I also be with thee.

(YAH 3:8) And now charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, As soon as ye shall enter on a part of the water of Jordan, then ye shall stand in Jordan.

(YAH 3:9) And YAHshua said to the children of Israel, Come hither, and hearken to the word of YHVH our Elohim.

(YAH 3:10) Hereby ye shall know that the living Elohim is among you, and will utterly destroy from before our face the Chananite, and the Chettite and Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Amorite, and the Gergesite, and the Jebusite.

(YAH 3:11) Behold, the ark of the covenant of YHVH of all the earth passes over Jordan.

(YAH 3:12) Choose for yourselves twelve men of the sons of Israel, one of each tribe.

(YAH 3:13) And it shall come to pass, when the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of YHVH of the whole earth rest in the water of Jordan, the water of Jordan below shall fail, and the water coming down from above shall stop.

(YAH 3:14) And the people removed from their tents to cross over Jordan, and the priests bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH before the people.

(YAH 3:15) And when the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH entered upon Jordan, and the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH were dipped in part of the water of Jordan; (now Jordan overflowed all its banks about the time of wheat harvest:)

(YAH 3:16) then the waters that came down from above stopped; there stood one solid heap very far off, as far as the region of Kariathiarim, and the lower part came down to the sea of Araba, the salt sea, till it completely failed; and the people stood opposite Jericho.

(YAH 3:17) And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH stood on dry land in the midst of Jordan; and all the children of Israel went through on dry land, until all the people had completely gone over Jordan.

(YAH 4:1) And when the people had completely passed over Jordan, YHVH spoke to YAHshua, saying,

(YAH 4:2) Take men from the people, one of each tribe,

(YAH 4:3) and charge them; and ye shall take out of the midst of Jordan twelve fit stones, and having carried them across together with yourselves, place them in your camp, where ye shall encamp for the night.

(YAH 4:4) And YAHshua having called twelve men of distinction among the children of Israel, one of each tribe,

(YAH 4:5) said to them, Advance before me in the presence of YHVH into the midst of Jordan, and each having taken up a stone from thence, let him carry it on his shoulders, according to the number of the twelve tribes of Israel:

(YAH 4:6) that these may be to you continually for an appointed sign, that when thy son asks thee in future, saying, What are these stones to us?

(YAH 4:7) then thou mayest explain to thy son, saying, The river Jordan was dried up from before the ark of the covenant of YHVH of the whole earth, when it passed it: and these stones shall be for a memorial for you for the children of Israel for ever.

(YAH 4:8) And the children of Israel did so, as YHVH commanded YAHshua; and they took up twelve stones out of the midst of Jordan, (as YHVH commanded YAHshua, when the children of Israel had completely passed over,) and carried these stones with them into the camp, and laid them down there.

(YAH 4:9) And YAHshua set also other twelve stones in Jordan itself, in the place that was under the feet of the priests that bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH; and there they are to this day.

(YAH 4:10) And the priests that bore the ark of the covenant stood in Jordan, until YAHshua had finished all that YHVH commanded him to report to the people; and the people hastened and passed over.

(YAH 4:11) And it came to pass when all the people had passed over, that the ark of the covenant of YHVH passed over, and the stones before them.

(YAH 4:12) And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse passed over armed before the children of Israel, as Moses commanded them.

(YAH 4:13) Forty thousand armed for battle went over before YHVH to war, to the city of Jericho.

(YAH 4:14) In that day YHVH magnified YAHshua before all the people of Israel; and they feared him, as they did Moses, as long as he lived.

(YAH 4:15) And YHVH spoke to YAHshua, saying,
(YAH 4:16) Charge the priests that bear the ark of the covenant of the testimony of YHVH, to go up out of Jordan.
(YAH 4:17) And YAHshua charged the priests, saying, Go up out of Jordan.
(YAH 4:18) And it came to pass when the priests who bore the ark of the covenant of YHVH were gone up out of Jordan, and set their feet upon the land, that the water of Jordan returned impetuously to its place, and went as before over all its banks.
(YAH 4:19) And the people went up out of Jordan on the tenth day of the first month; and the children of Israel encamped in Galgala in the region eastward from Jericho.
(YAH 4:20) And YAHshua set these twelve stones which he took out of Jordan, in Galgala, (YAH 4:21) saying, When your sons ask you, saying, What are these stones?
(YAH 4:22) Tell your sons, that Israel went over this Jordan on dry land,
(YAH 4:23) when YHVH our Elohim had dried up the water of Jordan from before them, until they had passed over; as YHVH our Elohim did to the Red Sea, which YHVH our Elohim dried up from before us, until we passed over.
(YAH 4:24) That all the nations of the earth might know, that the power of YHVH is mighty, and that ye might worship YHVH our Elohim in every work.
(YAH 5:1) And it came to pass when the kings of the Amorites who were beyond Jordan heard, and the kings of Phoenicia by the sea, that YHVH Elohim had dried up the river Jordan from before the children of Israel when they passed over, that their hearts failed, and they were terror-stricken, and there was no sense in them because of the children of Israel.
(YAH 5:2) And about this time YHVH said to YAHshua, Make thee stone knives of sharp stone, and sit down and circumcise the children of Israel the second time.
(YAH 5:3) And YAHshua made sharp knives of stone, and circumcised the children of Israel at the place called the "Hill of Foreskins."
(YAH 5:4) And this is the way in which YAHshua purified the children of Israel; as many as were born in the way, and as many as were uncircumcised of them that came out of Egypt,
(YAH 5:5) all these YAHshua circumcised; for forty and two years Israel wondered in the wilderness of Mabdaris
(YAH 5:6) Wherefore most of the fighting men that came out of the land of Egypt, were uncircumcised, who disobeyed the commands of Elohim; concerning whom also he determined that they should not see the land, which YHVH swore to give to their fathers, even a land flowing with milk and honey.
(YAH 5:7) And in their place he raised up their sons, whom YAHshua circumcised, because they were uncircumcised, having been born by the way.
(YAH 5:8) And when they had been circumcised they rested continuing there in the camp till they were healed.
(YAH 5:9) And YHVH said to YAHshua the son of Naue, On this day have I removed the reproach of Egypt from you: and he called the name of that place Galgala.
(YAH 5:10) And the children of Israel kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the month at evening, to the westward of Jericho on the opposite side of the Jordan in the plain.

(YAH 5:11) And they ate of the grain of the earth unleavened and new corn.

(YAH 5:12) In this day the manna failed, after they had eaten of the corn of the land, and the children of Israel no longer had manna: and they took the fruits of the land of the Phoenicians in that year.

(YAH 5:13) And it came to pass when YAHshua was in Jericho, that he looked up with his eyes and saw a man standing before him, and there was a drawn sword in his hand; and YAHshua drew near and said to him, Art thou for us or on the side of our enemies?

(YAH 5:14) And he said to him, I am now come, the chief captain of the host of YHVH.

(YAH 5:15) And YAHshua fell on his face upon the earth, and said to him, Lord, what commandest thou thy servant?

(YAH 5:16) And the captain of YHVH's host said to YAHshua, Loose thy shoe off thy feet, for the place whereon thou now standest is holy.

(YAH 6:1) Now Jericho was closely shut up and besieged, and none went out of it, and none came in.

(YAH 6:2) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Behold, I deliver Jericho into thy power, and its king in it, and its mighty men.

(YAH 6:3) And do thou set the men of war round about it.

(YAH 6:4) And it shall be that when ye shall sound with the trumpet, all the people shall shout together.

(YAH 6:5) And when they have shouted, the walls of the city shall fall of themselves; and all the people shall enter, each one rushing direct into the city.

(YAH 6:6) And YAHshua the son of Naue went in to the priests, and spoke to them, saying, (YAH 6:7) And let seven priests having seven sacred trumpets proceed thus before YHVH, and let them sound loudly; and let the ark of the covenant of YHVH follow.

(YAH 6:8) Charge the people to go round, and encompass the city; and let your men of war pass on armed before YHVH.

(YAH 6:9) And let the men of war proceed before, and the priests bringing up the rear behind the ark of the covenant of YHVH proceed sounding the trumpets.

(YAH 6:10) And YAHshua commanded the people, saying, Cry not out, nor let any one hear your voice, until he himself declare to you the time to cry out, and then ye shall cry out.

(YAH 6:11) And the ark of the covenant of Elohim having gone round immediately returned into the camp, and lodged there.

(YAH 6:12) And on the second day YAHshua rose up in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the covenant of YHVH.

(YAH 6:13) And the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets went on before YHVH; and afterwards the men of war went on, and the remainder of the multitude went after the ark of the covenant of YHVH, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.

(YAH 6:14) And all the rest of the multitude compassed the city six times from within a short distance, and went back again into the camp; this they did six days.

(YAH 6:15) And on the seventh day they rose up early, and compassed the city on that day seven times.

(YAH 6:16) And it came to pass at the seventh circuit the priests blew the trumpets; and YAHshua said to the children of Israel, Shout, for YHVH has given you the city.

(YAH 6:17) And the city shall be devoted, it and all things that are in it, to YHVH of Hosts: only do ye save Raab the harlot, and all things in her house.

(YAH 6:18) But keep yourselves strictly from the accursed thing, lest ye set your mind upon and take of the accursed thing, and ye make the camp of the children of Israel and accursed thing, and destroy us.

(YAH 6:19) And all the silver, or gold, or brass, or iron, shall be holy to YHVH; it shall be carried into the treasury of YHVH.

(YAH 6:20) And the priests sounded with the trumpets: and when the people heard the trumpets, all the people shouted at once with a loud and strong shout; and all the wall fell round about, and all the people went up into the city:

(YAH 6:21) and YAHshua devoted it to destruction, and all things that were in the city, man and woman, young man and old, and calf and ass, with the edge of the sword.

(YAH 6:22) And YAHshua said to the two young men who had acted as spies, Go into the house of the woman, and bring her out thence, and all that she has.

(YAH 6:23) And the two young men who had spied out the city entered into the house of the woman, and brought out Raab the harlot, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and her kindred, and all that she had; and they set her without the camp of Israel.

(YAH 6:24) And the city was burnt with fire with all things that were in it; only of the silver, and gold, and brass, and iron, they gave to be brought into the treasury of YHVH.

(YAH 6:25) And YAHshua saved alive Raab the harlot, and all the house of her father, and caused her to dwell in Israel until this day, because she hid the spies which YAHshua sent to spy out Jericho.

(YAH 6:26) And YAHshua adjured them on that day before YHVH, saying, Cursed be the man who shall build that city: he shall lay the foundation of it in his first-born, and he shall set up the gates of it in his youngest son. And so did Hozan of Baethel; he laid the foundation in Abiron his first-born, and set up the gates of it in his youngest surviving son.

(YAH 6:27) And YHVH was with YAHshua, and his name was in all the land.

(YAH 7:1) But the children of Israel committed a great trespass, and purloined part of the accursed thing; and Achar the son of Charmi, the son of Zambri, the son of Zara, of the tribe of Juda, took of the accursed thing; and YHVH was very angry with the children of Israel.

(YAH 7:2) And YAHshua sent men to Gai, which is by Baethel, saying, Spy out Gai: and the men went up and spied Gai.

(YAH 7:3) And they returned to YAHshua, and said to him, Let not all the people go up, but let about two or three thousand men go up and take the city by siege: carry not up thither the whole people, for the enemy are few.

(YAH 7:4) And there went up about three thousand men, and they fled from before the men of Gai.

(YAH 7:5) And the men of Gai slew of them to the number of thirty-six men, and they pursued them from the gate, and destroyed them from the steep hill; and the heart of the people was alarmed and became as water.

(YAH 7:6) And YAHshua tore his garments; and YAHshua fell on the earth on his face before YHVH until evening, he and the elders of Israel; and they cast dust on their heads.

(YAH 7:7) And YAHshua said, I pray, Lord, wherefore has thy servant brought this people over Jordan to deliver them to the Amorite to destroy us? would we had remained and settled ourselves beyond Jordan.

(YAH 7:8) And what shall I say since Israel has turned his back before his enemy?

(YAH 7:9) And when the Chananite and all the inhabitants of the land hear it, they shall compass us round and destroy us from off the land: and what wilt thou do for thy great name?

(YAH 7:10) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Rise up; why hast thou fallen upon thy face?

(YAH 7:11) The people has sinned, and transgressed the covenant which I made with them; they have stolen from the cursed thing, and put it into their store.

(YAH 7:12) And the children of Israel will not be able to stand before their enemies; they will turn their back before their enemies, for they have become an accursed thing: I will not any longer be with you, unless ye remove the cursed thing from yourselves.

(YAH 7:13) Rise, sanctify the people and tell them to sanctify themselves for the morrow: thus says YHVH Elohim of Israel, The accursed thing is among you; ye shall not be able to stand before your enemies, until ye shall have removed the cursed thing from among you.

(YAH 7:14) And ye shall all be gathered together by your tribes in the morning, and it shall come to pass that the tribe which YHVH shall shew, ye shall bring by families; and the family which YHVH shall shew, ye shall bring by households; and the household which YHVH shall shew, ye shall bring man by man.

(YAH 7:15) And the man who shall be pointed out, shall be burnt with fire, and all that he has; because he has transgressed the covenant of YHVH, and has wrought wickedness in Israel.

(YAH 7:16) And YAHshua rose up early, and brought the people by their tribes; and the tribe of Juda was pointed out.

(YAH 7:17) And it was brought by their families, and family of the Zaraites was pointed out.

(YAH 7:18) And it was brought man by man, and Achar the son of Zambri the son of Zara was pointed out.

(YAH 7:19) And YAHshua said to Achar, Give glory this day to YHVH Elohim of Israel, and make confession; and tell me what thou hast done, and hide it not from me.

(YAH 7:20) And Achar answered YAHshua, and said, Indeed I have sinned against YHVH Elohim of Israel: thus and thus have I done:

(YAH 7:21) I saw in the spoil an embroidered mantle, and two hundred didrachms of silver, and one golden wedge of fifty didrachms, and I desired them and took them; and, behold, they are hid in my tent, and the silver is hid under them.

(YAH 7:22) And YAHshua sent messengers, and they ran to the tent into the camp; and these things were hidden in his tent, and the silver under them.

(YAH 7:23) And they brought them out of the tent, and brought them to YAHshua and the elders of Israel, and they laid them before YHVH.

(YAH 7:24) And YAHshua took Achar the son of Zara, and brought him to the valley of Achor, and his sons, and his daughters, and his calves, and his asses, and all his sheep, and his tent, and all his property, and all the people were with him; and he brought them to Emec Achor.

(YAH 7:25) And YAHshua said to Achar, Why hast thou destroyed us? YHVH destroy thee as at this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones.

(YAH 7:26) And they set up over him a great heap of stones; and YHVH ceased from his fierce anger. Therefore he called the place Emecachor until this day.

(YAH 8:1) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Fear not, nor be timorous: take with thee all the men of war, and arise, go up to Gai; behold, I have given into thy hands the king of Gai, and his land.

(YAH 8:2) And thou shalt do to Gai, as thou didst to Jericho and its king; and thou shalt take to thyself the spoil of its cattle; set now for thyself an ambush for the city behind.

(YAH 8:3) And YAHshua and all the men of war rose to go up to Gai; and YAHshua chose out thirty thousand mighty men, and he sent them away by night.

(YAH 8:4) And he charged them, saying, Do ye lie in ambush behind the city: do not go far from the city, and ye shall all be ready.

(YAH 8:5) Land I and all with me will draw near to the city: and it shall come to pass when the inhabitants of Gai shall come forth to meet us, as before, that we will flee from before them.

(YAH 8:6) And when they shall come out after us, we will draw them away from the city; and they will say, These men flee from before us, as also before.

(YAH 8:7) And ye shall rise up out of the ambuscade, and go into the city.

(YAH 8:8) Ye shall do according to this word, lo! I have commanded you.

(YAH 8:9) And YAHshua sent them, and they went to lie in ambush; and they lay between Baethel and Gai, westward of Gai.

(YAH 8:10) And YAHshua rose up early in the morning, and numbered the people; and he went up, he and the elders before the people to Gai.

(YAH 8:11) And all the men of war went up with him, and they went forward and came over against the city eastward.

(YAH 8:12) And the ambuscade was on the west side of the city.

(YAH 8:14) And it came to pass when the king of Gai saw it, he hastened and went out to meet them direct to the battle, he and all the people that were with him: and he knew not that there was an ambuscade formed against him behind the city.

(YAH 8:15) And YAHshua and Israel saw, and retreated from before them.

(YAH 8:16) And they pursued after the children of Israel, and they themselves went to a distance from the city.

(YAH 8:17) There was no one left in Gai who did not pursue after Israel; and they left the city open, and pursued after Israel.

(YAH 8:18) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Stretch forth thy hand with the spear that is in thy hand toward the city, for I have delivered it into thy hands; and the liers in wait shall rise up quickly out of their place.

(YAH 8:19) And YAHshua stretched out his hand and his spear toward the city, and the ambuscade rose up quickly out of their place; and they came forth when he stretched out his hand; and they entered into the city, and took it; and they hasted and burnt the city with fire.

(YAH 8:20) And when the inhabitants of Gai looked round behind them, then they saw the smoke going up out of the city to heaven, and they were no longer able to flee this way or that way.

(YAH 8:21) And YAHshua and all Israel saw that the ambuscade had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city went up to heaven; and they turned and smote the men of Gai.

(YAH 8:22) And these came forth out of the city to meet them; and they were in the midst of the army, some being on this side, and some on that; and they smote them until there was not left of them one who survived and escaped.

(YAH 8:23) And they took the king of Gai alive, and brought him to YAHshua.

(YAH 8:24) And when the children of Israel had ceased slaying all that were in Gai, and in the fields, and in the mountain on the descent, from whence they pursued them even to the end, then YAHshua returned to Gai, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

(YAH 8:25) And they that fell in that day, men and women, were twelve thousand: they slew all the inhabitants of Gai.

(YAH 8:27) Beside the spoils that were in the city, all things which the children of Israel took as spoil for themselves according to the command of YHVH, as YHVH commanded YAHshua.

(YAH 8:28) And YAHshua burnt the city with fire: he made it an uninhabited heap for ever, even to this day.

(YAH 8:29) And he hanged the king of Gai on a gallows; and he remained on the tree till evening: and when the sun went down, YAHshua gave charge, and they took down his body from the tree, and cast it into a pit, and they set over him a heap of stones until this day.

(YAH 9:1) And when the kings of the Amorites on the other side of Jordan, who were in the mountain country, and in the plain, and in all the coast of the great sea, and those who were near Antilibanus, and the Chettites, and the Chananites, and the Pherezites, and the Evites, and the Amorites, and the Gergesites, and the Jebusites, heard of it, (YAH 9:2) they came all together at the same time to make war against YAHshua and Israel.

(YAH 9:3) And the inhabitants of Gabaon heard of all that YHVH did to Jericho and Gai.

(YAH 9:4) And they also wrought craftily, and they went and made provision and prepared themselves; and having taken old sacks on their shoulders, and old and rent and patched bottles of wine, (YAH 9:5) and the upper part of their shoes and their sandals old and clouted on their feet, and their garments old upon them and the bread of their provision was dry and mouldy and corrupt.

(YAH 9:6) And they came to YAHshua into the camp of Israel to Galgala, and said to YAHshua and Israel, We are come from a far land: now then make a covenant with us.

(YAH 9:7) And the children of Israel said to the Chorrhæan, Peradventure thou dwellest amongst us; and how should I make a covenant with thee?

(YAH 9:8) And they said to YAHshua, We are thy servants: and YAHshua said to them, Whence are ye, and whence have ye come?

(YAH 9:9) And they said, Thy servants are come from a very far country in the name of YHVH thy Elohim: for we have heard his name, and all that he did in Egypt, (YAH 9:10) and all that he did to the kings of the Amorites, who were beyond Jordan, to Seon king of the Amorites, and Og king of Basan, who dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrain.

(YAH 9:11) And our elders and all that inhabit our land when they heard spoke to us, saying, Take to yourselves provision for the way, and go to meet them; and ye shall say to them, We are thy servants, and now make a covenant with us.

(YAH 9:12) These are the loaves we took them hot for our journey on the day on which we came out to come to you; and now they are dried and become mouldy.

(YAH 9:13) And these are the skins of wine which we filled when new, and they are rent; and our garments and our shoes are worn out because of the very long journey.

(YAH 9:14) And the chiefs took of their provision, and asked not counsel of YHVH.

(YAH 9:15) And YAHshua made peace with them, and they made a covenant with them to preserve them; and the princes of the congregation sware to them.

(YAH 9:16) And it came to pass three days after they had made a covenant with them, they heard that they were near neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

(YAH 9:17) And the children of Israel departed and came to their cities; and their cities were Gabaon, and Kephira, and Berot, and the cities of Jarin.

(YAH 9:18) Land the children of Israel fought not with them, because all the princes sware to them by YHVH Elohim of Israel; and all the congregation murmured at the princes.

(YAH 9:19) And the princes said to all the congregation: We have sworn to them by YHVH Elohim of Israel, and now we shall not be able to touch them.

(YAH 9:20) This we will do; take them alive, and we will preserve them: so there shall not be wrath against us by reason of the oath which we swore to them.

(YAH 9:21) They shall live, and shall be hewers of wood and drawers of water to all the congregation, as the princes said to them.

(YAH 9:22) And YAHshua called them together and said to them, Why have ye deceived me, saying, We live very far from you; whereas ye are fellow-countrymen of those who dwell among us?

(YAH 9:23) And now ye are cursed: there shall not fail of you a slave, or a hewer of wood, or a drawer of water to me and my Elohim.

(YAH 9:24) And they answered YAHshua, saying, It was reported to us what YHVH thy Elohim charged his servant Moses, to give you this land, and to destroy us and all that dwelt on it from before you; and we feared very much for our lives because of you, and therefore we did this thing.

(YAH 9:25) And now, behold, we are in your power; do to us as it is pleasing to you, and as it seems good to you.

(YAH 9:26) And they did so to them; and YAHshua rescued them in that day out of the hands of the children of Israel, and they did not slay them.

(YAH 9:27) And YAHshua made them in that day hewers of wood and drawers of water to the whole congregation, and for the altar of Elohim: therefore the inhabitants of Gabaon became hewers of wood and drawers of water for the altar of Elohim until this day, even for the place which YHVH should choose.

(YAH 9:30) Then YAHshua built an alter to YHVH Elohim of Israel in mount Gebal, (YAH 9:31) as Moses the servant of YHVH commanded the children of Israel, as it was written in the law of Moses, an alter of unhewn stones, on which iron had not been lifted up: and he offered there whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH, and a piece offering. And YAHshua wrote upon the stones a copy of the law, even the law of Moses, before the children of Israel.

(YAH 9:33) And all Israel, and their elders, and their judges, and their scribes, passed on one side and on the other, before the ark; and the priests and the levites took up the ark of the covenant of YHVH; and the stranger and the native were there, who were half of them near mount Gebal, as Moses the servant of YHVH commanded at first, to bless the people.

(YAH 9:34) And afterwards YAHshua read accordingly all the words of this law, the blessings and the curses, according to all things written in the law of Moses.

(YAH 9:35) There was not a word of all that Moses charged YAHshua, which YAHshua read not in the ears of all men, and the women, and the children of Israel, and the strangers that joined themselves to Israel.

(YAH 10:1) And when Adoni-bezec king of Jerusalem heard that YAHshua had taken Gai, and had destroyed it, as he did to Jericho and its king, even so they did to Gai and its king, and that the inhabitants of Gabaon had gone over to YAHshua and Israel;

(YAH 10:2) then they were greatly terrified by them, for the king knew that Gabaon was a great city, as one of the chief cities, and all its men were mighty.

(YAH 10:3) So Adoni-bezec king of Jerusalem sent to Elam king of Hebron, and to Phidon king of Jerimuth, and to Jephtha king of Lachis, and to Dabin king of Odollam, saying, (YAH 10:4) Come up hither to me, and help me, and let us take Gabaon; for the Gabaonites have gone over to YAHshua and to the children of Israel.

(YAH 10:5) And the five kings of the Jebusites went up, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jerimuth, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odollam, they and all their people; and encamped around Gabaon, and besieged it.

(YAH 10:6) And the inhabitants of Gabaon sent to YAHshua into the camp to Galgala, saying, Slack not thy hands from thy servants: come up quickly to us, and help us, and rescue us; for all the kings of the Amorites who dwell in the hill country are gathered together against us.

(YAH 10:7) And YAHshua went up from Galgala, he and all the people of war with him, every one mighty in strength.

(YAH 10:8) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Fear them not, for I have delivered them into thy hands; there shall not one of them be left before you.

(YAH 10:9) And when YAHshua came suddenly upon them, he had advanced all the night out of Galgala.

(YAH 10:10) And YHVH struck them with terror before the children of Israel; and YHVH destroyed them with a great slaughter at Gabaon; and they pursued them by the way of the going up of Oronin, and they smote them to Azeca and to Makeda.

(YAH 10:11) And when they fled from the face of the children of Israel at the descent of Oronin, then YHVH cast upon them hailstones from heaven to Azeca; and they were more that died by the hailstones, than those whom the children of Israel slew with the sword in the battle.

(YAH 10:12) Then YAHshua spoke to YHVH, in the day in which YHVH delivered the Amorite into the power of Israel, when he destroyed them in Gabaon, and they were destroyed from before the children of Israel: and YAHshua said, Let the sun stand over against Gabaon, and the moon over against the valley of Ælon.

(YAH 10:13) And the sun and the moon stood still, until Elohim executed vengeance on their enemies; and the sun stood still in the midst of heaven; it did not proceed to set till the end of one day.

(YAH 10:14) And there was not such a day either before or after, so that Elohim should hearken to a man, because YHVH fought on the side of Israel.

(YAH 10:16) And these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave that is in Makeda.

(YAH 10:17) And it was told YAHshua, saying, The five kings have been found hid in the cave that is in Makeda.

(YAH 10:18) And YAHshua said, Roll stones to the mouth of the cave, and set men to watch over them.

(YAH 10:19) But do not ye stand, but pursue after your enemies, and attack the rear of them, and do not suffer them to enter into their cities; for YHVH our Elohim has delivered them into our hands.

(YAH 10:20) And it came to pass when YAHshua and all Israel ceased destroying them utterly with a very great slaughter, that they that escaped took refuge in the strong cities.

(YAH 10:21) And all the people returned safe to YAHshua to Makeda; and no one of the children of Israel murmured with his tongue.

(YAH 10:22) And YAHshua said, Open the cave, and bring out these five kings out of the cave.

(YAH 10:23) And they brought out the five kings out of the cave, the king of Jerusalem, and the king of Chebron, and the king of Jerimuth, and the king of Lachis, and the king of Odollam.

(YAH 10:24) And when they brought them out to YAHshua, then YAHshua called together all Israel, and the chiefs of the army that went with him, saying to them, Come forward and set your feet on their necks; and they came and set their feet on their necks.

(YAH 10:25) And YAHshua said to them, Do not fear them, neither be cowardly; be courageous and strong, for thus YHVH will do to all your enemies, against whom ye fight.

(YAH 10:26) And YAHshua slew them, and hanged them on five trees; and they hung upon the trees until the evening.

(YAH 10:27) And it came to pass toward the setting of the sun, YAHshua commanded, and they took them down from the trees, and cast them into the cave into which they had fled for refuge, and rolled stones to the cave, which remain till this day.

(YAH 10:28) And they took Makeda on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and they utterly destroyed every living thing that was in it; and there was none left in it that was preserved and had escaped; and they did to the king of Makeda, as they did to the king of Jericho.

(YAH 10:29) And YAHshua and all Israel with him departed out of Makeda to Lebna, and besieged Lebna.

(YAH 10:30) And YHVH delivered it into the hands of Israel: and they took it, and its king, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and every thing breathing in it; and there was not left in it any that survived and escaped; and they did to its king, as they did to the king of Jericho.

(YAH 10:31) And YAHshua and all Israel with him departed from Lebna to Lachis, and he encamped about it, and besieged it.

(YAH 10:32) And YHVH delivered Lachis into the hands of Israel; and they took it on the second day, and they put the inhabitants to death with the edge of the sword, and utterly destroyed it, as they had done to Lebna.

(YAH 10:33) Then Elam the king of Gazer went up to help Lachis; and YAHshua smote him and his people with the edge of the sword, until there was not left to him one that was preserved and escaped.

(YAH 10:34) And YAHshua and all Israel with him departed from Lachis to Odollam, and he besieged it and took it.

(YAH 10:35) And YHVH delivered it into the hand of Israel; and he took it on that day, and slew the inhabitants with the edge of the sword, and slew every thing breathing in it, as they did to Lachis.

(YAH 10:36) And YAHshua and all Israel with him departed to Chebron, and encamped about it.

(YAH 10:37) And he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the living creatures that were in it; there was no one preserved: they destroyed it and all things in it, as they did to Odollam.

(YAH 10:38) And YAHshua and all Israel returned to Dabir; and they encamped about it;

(YAH 10:39) and they took it, and its king, and its villages: and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and they destroyed it, and every thing breathing in it; and they did not leave in it any one that was preserved: as they did to Chebron and her king, so they did to Dabir and her king.

(YAH 10:40) And YAHshua smote all the land of the hill country, and Nageb and the plain country, and Asedoth, and her kings, they did not leave of them one that was saved: and they utterly destroyed every thing that had the breath of life, as YHVH Elohim of Israel commanded, (YAH 10:41) from Cades Barne to Gaza, all Gosom, as far as Gabaon.

(YAH 10:42) And YAHshua smote, once for all, all their kings, and their land, because YHVH Elohim of Israel fought on the side of Israel.

(YAH 11:1) And when Jabis the king of Asor heard, he sent to Jobab king of Maron, and to the king of Symoon, and to the king of Aziph,

(YAH 11:2) and to the kings who were by the great Sidon, to the hill country and to Araba opposite Keneroth, and to the plain, and to Phenaeaddor,

(YAH 11:3) and to the Chananites on the coast eastward, and to the Amorites on the coast, and the Chettites, and the Pherezites, and the Jebusites in the mountain, and the Evites, and those dwelling under mount Aeron in the land Massyma.

(YAH 11:4) And they and their kings with them went forth, as the sand of the sea in multitude, and horses, and very many chariots.

(YAH 11:5) And all the kings assembled in person, and came to the same place, and encamped at the waters of Maron to war with Israel.

(YAH 11:6) And YHVH said to YAHshua, Be not afraid of them, for to-morrow at this time I will put them to flight before Israel: thou shalt hough their horses, and burn their chariots with fire

(YAH 11:7) And YAHshua and all the men of war came upon them at the water of Maron suddenly; and they attacked them in the hill country.

(YAH 11:8) And YHVH delivered them into the power of Israel; and they smote them and pursued them to great Sidon, and to Maseron, and to the plains of Massoch eastward; and they destroyed them till there was not one of them left that survived.

(YAH 11:9) And YAHshua did to them, as YHVH commanded him: he houghed their horses, and burned their chariots with fire.

(YAH 11:10) And YAHshua returned at that time, and took Asor and her king; now Asor in former time was the chief of these kingdoms.

(YAH 11:11) And they slew with the sword all that breathed in it, and utterly destroyed them all, and there was no living thing left in it; and they burnt Asor with fire.

(YAH 11:12) And YAHshua took all the cities of the kingdoms, and their kings, and slew them with the edge of the sword; and utterly slew them, as Moses the servant of YHVH commanded.

(YAH 11:13) But all the walled cities Israel burnt not; but Israel burnt Asor only.

(YAH 11:14) And the children of Israel took all its spoils to themselves; and they slew all the men with the edge of the sword, until he destroyed them; they left not one of them breathing.

(YAH 11:15) As YHVH commanded his servant Moses, even so Moses commanded YAHshua; and so YAHshua did, he transgressed no precept of all that Moses commanded him.

(YAH 11:16) And YAHshua took all the hill country, and all the land of Nageb, and all the land of Gosom, and the plain country, and that toward the west, and the mountain of Israel and the low country by the mountain;

(YAH 11:17) from the mountain of Chelcha, and that which goes up to Seir, and as far as Balagad, and the plains of Libanus, under mount Aeron; and he took all their kings, and destroyed, and slew them.

(YAH 11:18) And for many days YAHshua waged war with these kings.

(YAH 11:19) And there was no city which Israel took not; they took all in war.

(YAH 11:20) For it was of YHVH to harden their hearts to go forth to war against Israel, that they might be utterly destroyed, that mercy should not be granted to them, but that they should be utterly destroyed, as YHVH said to Moses.

(YAH 11:21) And YAHshua came at that time, and utterly destroyed the Enakim out of the hill country, from Chebron and from Dabir, and from Anaboth, and from all the race of Israel, and from all the mountain of Juda with their cities; and YAHshua utterly destroyed them.

(YAH 11:22) There was not any one left of the Enakim by the children of Israel, only there was left of them in Gaza, and in Gath, and in Aseldo.

(YAH 11:23) And YAHshua took all the land, as YHVH commanded Moses; and YAHshua gave them for an inheritance to Israel by division according to their tribes; and the land ceased from war.

(YAH 12:1) And these are the kings of the land, whom the children of Israel slew, and inherited their land beyond Jordan from the east, from the valley of Arnon to the mount of Aermon, and all the land of Araba on the east.

(YAH 12:2) Seon king of the Amorites, who dwelt in Esebon, ruling from Arnon, which is in the valley, on the side of the valley, and half of Galaad as far as Jaboc, the borders of the children of Ammon.

(YAH 12:3) And Araba as far as the sea of Chenereth eastward, and as far as the sea of Araba; the salt sea eastward by the way to Asimoth, from Thaeman under Asedoth Phasga.

(YAH 12:4) And Og king of Basan, who dwelt in Astaroth and in Edrain, was left of the giants

(YAH 12:5) ruling from mount Aermon and from Secchai, and over all the land of Basan to the borders of Gergesi, and Machi, and the half of Galaad of the borders of Seon king of Esebon.

(YAH 12:6) Moses the servant of YHVH and the children of Israel smote them; and Moses gave them by way of inheritance to Ruben, and Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasse.

(YAH 12:7) And these are the kings of the Amorites, whom YAHshua and the children of Israel slew beyond Jordan by the sea of Balagad in the plain of Libanus, and as far as the mountain of Chelcha, as men go up to Seir: and YAHshua gave it to the tribes of Israel to inherit according to their portion;

(YAH 12:8) in the mountain, and in the plain, and in Araba, and in Asedoth, and in the wilderness, and Nageb; the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Chananite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite.

(YAH 12:9) The king of Jericho, and the king of Gai, which is near Baethel;

(YAH 12:10) the king of Jerusalem, the king of Chebron,

(YAH 12:11) the king of Jerimuth, the king of Lachis;

(YAH 12:12) the king of Ælam, the king of Gazer;

(YAH 12:13) the king of Dabir, the king of Gader:

(YAH 12:14) the king of Hermath, the king of Ader;

(YAH 12:15) the king of Lebna, the king of Odollam,

(YAH 12:16) the king of Elath,

(YAH 12:17) the king of Taphut, the king of Opher,

(YAH 12:18) the king of Ophec of Aroc,

(YAH 12:19) the king of Asom,

(YAH 12:20) the king of Symoon, the king of Mambroth, the king of Aziph,

(YAH 12:21) the king of Cades, the king of Zachac,

(YAH 12:22) the king of Maredoth, the king of Jecom of Chermel,

(YAH 12:23) the king of Odollam belonging to Phennealdor, the king of Gei of Galilee:

(YAH 12:24) the king of Thersa: all these were twenty-nine kings.

(YAH 13:1) And YAHshua was old and very advanced in years; and YHVH said to YAHshua, Thou art advanced in years, and there is much land left to inherit.

(YAH 13:2) And this is the land that is left: the borders of the Phylistines, the Gesirite, and the Chananite,

(YAH 13:3) from the wilderness before Egypt, as far as the borders of Accaron on the left of the Chananites the land is reckoned to the five principalities of the Phylistines, to the inhabitant of Gaza, and of Azotus, and of Ascalon, and of Geth, and of Accaron, and to the Evite;

(YAH 13:4) from Thaeman even to all the land of Chanaan before Gaza, and the Sidonians as far as Aphec, as far as the borders of the Amorites.

(YAH 13:5) And all the land of Galiath of the Phylistines, and all Libanus eastward from Galgal, under the mountain Aeron as far as the entering in of Emath;

(YAH 13:6) every one that inhabits the hill country from Libanus as far as Masereth Memphomaim. All the Sidonians, I will destroy them from before Israel; but do thou give them by inheritance to Israel, as I charged thee.

(YAH 13:7) And now divide this land by lot to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe of Manasse.

(YAH 13:8) From Jordan to the great sea westward thou shalt give it them: the great sea shall be the boundary. But to the two tribes and to the half tribe of Manasse, to Ruben and to Gad Moses gave an inheritance beyond Jordan: Moses the servant of YHVH gave it to them eastward, (YAH 13:9) from Aroer, which is on the bank of the brook of Arnon, and the city in the midst of the valley, and all Misor from Maedaban.

(YAH 13:10) All the cities of Seon king of the Amorites, who reigned from Esebon to the coasts of the children of Ammon;

(YAH 13:11) and the region of Galaad, and the borders of the Gesirites and the Machatites, the whole mount of Aeron, and all the land of Basan to Acha.

(YAH 13:12) All the kingdom of Og in the region of Basan, who reigned in Astaroth and in Edrain: he was left of the giants; and Moses smote him, and destroyed him.

(YAH 13:13) But the children of Israel destroyed not the Gesirite and the Machatite and the Chananite; and the king of the Gesiri and the Machatite dwelt among the children of Israel until this day.

(YAH 13:14) Only no inheritance was given to the tribe of Levi: YHVH Elohim of Israel, he is their inheritance, as YHVH said to them; and this is the division which Moses made to the children of Israel in Araboth Moab, on the other side of Jordan, by Jericho.

(YAH 13:15) And Moses gave the land to the tribe of Ruben according to their families.

(YAH 13:16) And their borders were from Aroer, which is opposite the brook of Arnon, and theirs is the city that is in the valley of Arnon; and all Misor,

(YAH 13:17) to Esebon, and all the cities in Misor, and Daebon, and Baemon-Baal, and the house of Meelboth;

(YAH 13:18) and Basan, and Bakedmoth, and Maephaad,

(YAH 13:19) and Kariathaim, and Sebama, and Serada, and Sion in mount Enab;

(YAH 13:20) and Baethphogor, and Asedoth Phasga, and Baetthasinoth,

(YAH 13:21) and all the cities of Misor, and all the kingdom of Seon king of the Amorites, whom Moses smote, even him and the princes of Madian, and Evi, and Roboc, and Sur, and Ur, and Robe prince of the spoils of Sion, and the inhabitants of Sion.

(YAH 13:22) And Balaam the son of Baeor the prophet they slew in the battle.

(YAH 13:23) And the borders of Ruben were even Jordan was the boundary; this is the inheritance of the children of Ruben according to their families, these were their cities and their villages.

(YAH 13:24) And Moses gave inheritance to the sons of Gad according to their families.

(YAH 13:25) And their borders were Jazer, all the cities of Galaad, and half the land of the children of Ammon to Araba, which is before Arad.

(YAH 13:26) And from Esebon to Araboth by Massepha, and Botanim, and Maan to the borders of Daebon, (YAH 13:27) and Enadom, and Othargai, and Baenthanabra, and Soccotha, and Saphan, and the rest of the kingdom of Sean king of Esebon: and Jordan shall be the boundary as far as part of the sea of Chenereth beyond Jordan eastward.

(YAH 13:28) This is the inheritance of the children of Gad according to their families and according to their cities: according to their families they will turn their backs before their enemies, because their cities and their villages were according to their families.

(YAH 13:29) And Moses gave to half the tribe of Manasse according to their families.

(YAH 13:30) And their borders were from Maan, and all the kingdom of Basan, and all the kingdom of Og king of Basan, and all the villages of Jair, which are in the region of Basan, sixty cities:

(YAH 13:31) and the half of Galaad, and in Astaroth, and in Edrain, royal cities of Og in the land of Basan, Moses gave to the sons of Machir the sons of Manasse, even to the half-tribe sons of Machir the sons of Manasse, according to their families.

(YAH 13:32) These are they whom Moses caused to inherit beyond Jordan in Araboth Moab, beyond Jordan by Jericho eastward.

(YAH 14:1) And these are they of the children of Israel that received their inheritance in the land of Chanaan, to whom Eleazar the priest, and YAHshua the son of Naue, and the heads of the families of the tribes of the children of Israel, gave inheritance.

(YAH 14:2) They inherited according to their lots, as YHVH commanded by the hand of YAHshua to the nine tribes and the half tribe, on the other side of Jordan.

(YAH 14:3) But to the Levites he gave no inheritance among them.

(YAH 14:4) For the sons of Joseph were two tribes, Manasse and Ephraim; and there was none inheritance in the land given to the Levites, only cities to dwell in, and their suburbs separated for the cattle, and their cattle.

(YAH 14:5) As YHVH commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel; and they divided the land.

(YAH 14:6) And the children of Juda came to YAHshua in Galgal, and Chaleb the son of Jephone the Kenezite said to him, Thou knowest the word that YHVH spoke to Moses the man of Elohim concerning me and thee in Cades Barne.

(YAH 14:7) For I was forty years old when Moses the servant of Elohim sent me out of Cades Barne to spy out the land; and I returned him an answer according to his mind.

(YAH 14:8) My brethren that went up with me turned away the heart of the people, but I applied my self to follow YHVH my Elohim.

(YAH 14:9) And Moses sware on that day, saying, The land on which thou art gone up, it shall be thy inheritance and thy children's for ever, because thou hast applied thyself to follow YHVH our Elohim.

(YAH 14:10) And now YHVH has kept me alive as he said: this is the forty-fifth year since YHVH spoke that word to Moses; and Israel journeyed in the wilderness; and now, behold, I am this day eighty-five years old.

(YAH 14:11) I am still strong this day, as when YHVH sent me: just so strong am I now to go out and to come in for war.

(YAH 14:12) And now I ask of thee this mountain, as YHVH said in that day; for thou heardest this word on that day; and now the Enakim are there, cities great and strong: if then YHVH should be with me, I will utterly destroy them, as YHVH said to me.

(YAH 14:13) And YAHshua blessed him, and gave Chebron to Chaleb the son of Jephone the son of Kenez for an inheritance.

(YAH 14:14) Therefore Chebron became the inheritance of Chaleb the son of Jephone the Kenezite until this day, because he followed the commandment of YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(YAH 14:15) And the name of Chebron before was the city Argob, it is the metropolis of the Enakim: and the land rested from war.

(YAH 15:1) And the borders of the tribe of Juda according to their families were from the borders of Idumea from the wilderness of sin, as far as Cades southward.

(YAH 15:2) And their borders were from the south as far as a part of the salt sea from the high country that extends southward.

(YAH 15:3) And they proceed before the ascent of Acrabin, and go out round Sena, and go up from the south to Cades Barne; and go out to Asoron, and proceed up to Sarada, and go out by the way that is west of Cades.

(YAH 15:4) And they go out to Selmona, and issue at the valley of Egypt; and the termination of its boundaries shall be at the sea: these are their boundaries southward.

(YAH 15:5) And their boundaries eastward are all the salt sea as far as Jordan; and their borders from the north, and from the border of the sea, and from part of Jordan

(YAH 15:6) the borders go up to Baethaglaam, and they go along from the north to Baetharaba, and the borders go on up to the stone of Baeon the son of Ruben.

(YAH 15:7) And the borders continue on to the fourth part of the valley of Achor, and go down to Galgal, which is before the approach of Adammin, which is southward in the valley, and terminate at the water of the fountain of the sun; and their going forth shall be the fountain of Rogel.

(YAH 15:8) And the borders go up to the valley of Ennom, behind Jebus southward; this is Jerusalem: and the borders terminate at the top of the mountain, which is before the valley of Ennom toward the sea, which is by the side of the land of Raphain northward.

(YAH 15:9) And the border going forth from the top of the mountain terminates at the fountain of the water of Naphtho, and terminates at mount Ephron; and the border will lead to Baal; this is the city of Jarim.

(YAH 15:10) And the border will go round from Baal to the sea, and will go on to the mount of Assar behind the city of Jarin northwards; this is Chaslon: and it will come down to the city of Sun, and will go on to the south.

(YAH 15:11) And the border terminates behind Accaron northward, and the borders will terminate at Socchoth, and the borders will go on to the south, and will terminate at Lebna, and the issue of the borders will be at the sea; and their borders shall be toward the sea, the great sea shall be the boundary.

(YAH 15:12) These are the borders of the children of Juda round about according to their families.

(YAH 15:13) And to Chaleb the son of Jephone he gave a portion in the midst of the children of Juda by the command of Elohim; and YAHshua gave him the city of Arboc the metropolis of Enac; this is Chebron.

(YAH 15:14) And Chaleb the son of Jephone destroyed thence the three sons of Enac, Susi, and Tholami, and Achima.

(YAH 15:15) And Chaleb went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; and the name of Dabir before was the city of Letters.

(YAH 15:16) And Chaleb said, Whosoever shall take and destroy the city of Letters, and master it, to him will I give my daughter Ascha to wife.

(YAH 15:17) And Gothoniel the son of Chenez the brother of Chaleb took it; and he gave him Ascha his daughter to wife.

(YAH 15:18) And it came to pass as she went out that she counselled him, saying, I will ask of my father a field; and she cried from off her ass; and Chaleb said to her, What is it?

(YAH 15:19) And she said to him, Give me a blessing, for thou hast set me in the land of Nageb; give me Botthanis: and he gave her Gonaethla the upper, and Gonaethla the lower.

(YAH 15:20) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Juda.

(YAH 15:21) And their cities were cities belonging to the tribe of the children of Juda on the borders of Edom by the wilderness, and Baeseleel, and Ara, and Asor,

(YAH 15:22) and Icam, and Regma, and Aruel,

(YAH 15:23) and Cades, and Asorionain, and Maenam,

(YAH 15:24) and Balmaenan, and their villages,

(YAH 15:25) and the cities of Aseron, this is Asor,

(YAH 15:26) and Sen, and Salmaa, and Molada,

(YAH 15:27) and Seri, and Baephalath,

(YAH 15:28) and Cholaseola, and Beersabee; and their villages, and their hamlets,

(YAH 15:29) Bala and Bacoc, and Asom,

(YAH 15:30) and Elboudad, and Baethel, and Herma,

(YAH 15:31) and Sekelac, and Macharim, and Sethennac,

(YAH 15:32) and Labos, and Sale, and Eromoth; twenty-nine cities, and their villages.

(YAH 15:33) In the plain country Astaol, and Raa, and Assa,

(YAH 15:34) and Ramen, and Tano, and Iluthoth, and Maeani, (YAH 15:35) and Jermuth, and Odollam, and Membra, and Saocho, and Jazeca.

(YAH 15:36) And Sacarim and Gadera, and its villages; fourteen cities, and their villages;

(YAH 15:37) Senna, and Adasan, and Magadalgad,

(YAH 15:38) and Dalad, and Maspha, and Jachareel,
(YAH 15:39) and Basedoth, and Ideadalea;
(YAH 15:40) and Chabra, and Maches, and Maachos,
(YAH 15:41) and Geddor, and Bagadiel, and Noman, and Machedan: sixteen cities, and their villages;
(YAH 15:42) Lebna, and Ithac, and Anoch,
(YAH 15:43) and Jana, and Nasib,
(YAH 15:44) and Keilam, and Akiezi, and Kezib, and Bathesar, and Ælom: ten cities, and their villages;
(YAH 15:45) Accaron and her villages, and their hamlets:
(YAH 15:46) from Accaron, Gemna, and all the cities that are near Asedoth; and their villages.
(YAH 15:47) Asiedoth, and her villages, and her hamlets; Gaza, and its villages and its hamlets as far as the river of Egypt, and the great sea is the boundary.
(YAH 15:48) And in the hill country Samir, and Jether, and Socha,
(YAH 15:49) and Renna and the city of Letters, this is Dabir;
(YAH 15:50) and Anon, and Es, and Man, and Æsam,
(YAH 15:51) and Gosom, and Chalu, and Channa, and Gelom: eleven cities, and their villages;
(YAH 15:52) Ærem, and Remna, and Soma,
(YAH 15:53) and Jemain, and Baethachu, and Phacua,
(YAH 15:54) and Euma, and the city Arboc, this is Chebron, and Soraith: nine cities and their villages:
(YAH 15:55) Maor, and Chermel, and Ozib, and Itan,
(YAH 15:56) and Jariel, and Aricam, and Zacanaim,
(YAH 15:57) and Gabaa, and Thamnatha; nine cities, and their villages;
(YAH 15:58) Ælua, and Bethsur, and Geddon,
(YAH 15:59) and Magaroth, and Baethanam, and Thecum; six cities, and their villages; Theco, and Ephratha, this is Baethleem, and Phagor, and Ætan, and Culon, and Tatam, and Thobes, and Carem, and Galem, and Thether, and Manocho: eleven cities, and their villages,
(YAH 15:60) Cariathbaal, this is the city of Jarim, and Sotheba: two cities, and their villages:
(YAH 15:61) and Baddargeis, and Tharabaam, and Ænon;
(YAH 15:62) and Æochioza, and Naphlazon, and the cities of Sadon, and Ancades; seven cities, and their villages.
(YAH 15:63) And the Jebusite dwelt in Jerusalem, and the children of Juda could not destroy them; and the Jebusites dwelt in Jerusalem to this day.
(YAH 16:1) And the borders of the children of Joseph were from Jordan by Jericho eastward; and they will go up from Jericho to the hill country, to the wilderness, to Baethel Luza.
(YAH 16:2) And they will go out to Baethel, and will proceed to the borders of Achatarothi.
(YAH 16:3) And they will go across to the sea to the borders of Aptalim, as far as the borders of Baethoron the lower, and the going forth of them shall be to the sea.
(YAH 16:4) And the sons of Joseph, Ephraim and Manasse, took their inheritance.

(YAH 16:5) And the borders of the children of Ephraim were according to their families, and the borders of their inheritance were eastward to Ataroth, and Eroc as far as Baethoron the upper, and Gazara.

(YAH 16:6) And the borders will proceed to the sea to Icasmon north of Therma; they will go round eastward to Thenasa, and Selles, and will pass on eastward to Janoca, (YAH 16:7) and to Macho, and Ataroth, and these are their villages; and they will come to Jericho, and will issue at Jordan.

(YAH 16:8) And the borders will proceed from Tapho to the sea to Chelcana; and their termination will be at the sea; this is the inheritance of the tribe of Ephraim according to their families.

(YAH 16:9) And the cities separated to the sons of Ephraim were in the midst of the inheritance of the sons of Manasse, all the cities and their villages.

(YAH 16:10) And Ephraim did not destroy the Chananite who dwelt in Gazer; and the Chananite dwelt in Ephraim until this day, until Pharao the king of Egypt went up and took it, and burnt it with fire; and the Chananites, and Pherezites, and the dwellers in Gaza they destroyed, and Pharao gave them for a dowry to his daughter.

(YAH 17:1) And the borders of the tribe of the children of Manasse, (for he was the first-born of Joseph,) assigned to Machir the first-born of Manasse the father of Galaad, for he was a warrior, were in the land of Galaad and of Basan.

(YAH 17:2) And there was land assigned to the other sons of Manasse according to their families; to the sons of Jezi, and to the sons of Kelez, and to the sons of Jeziel, and to the sons of Sychem, and to the sons of Symarim, and to the sons of Opher: these are the males according to their families.

(YAH 17:3) And Salpaad the sons of Opher had no sons but daughters: and these are the names of the daughters of Salpaad; Maala, and Nua, and Eglā, and Melcha, and Thersa.

(YAH 17:4) And they stood before Eleazar the priest, and before YAHshua, and before the rulers, saying, Elohim gave a charge by the hand of Moses, to give us an inheritance in the midst of our brethren: so there was given to them by the command of YHVH an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

(YAH 17:5) And their lot fell to them from Anassa, and to the plain of Labec of the land of Galaad, which is beyond Jordan.

(YAH 17:6) For the daughters of the sons of Manasse inherited a portion in the midst of their brethren, and the land of Galaad was assigned to the remainder of the sons of Manasse.

(YAH 17:7) And the borders of the sons of Manasse were Delanath, which is before the sons of Anath, and it proceeds to the borders even to Jamin and Jassib to the fountain of Thaphthoth.

(YAH 17:8) It shall belong to Manasse, and Thapheth on the borders of Manasse shall belong to the sons of Ephraim.

(YAH 17:9) And the borders shall go down to the valley of Carana southward by the valley of Jariel, (there is a turpentine tree belonging to Ephraim between that and the city of Manasse:) and the borders of Manasse are northward to the brook; and the sea shall be its termination.

(YAH 17:10) Southward the land belongs to Ephraim, and northward to Manasse; and the sea shall be their cost; and northward they shall border upon Aseb, and eastward upon Issachar.

(YAH 17:11) And Manasses shall have in the portion of Issachar and Aser Baethsan and their villages, and the inhabitants of Dor, and its villages, and the inhabitants of Mageddo, and its villages, and the third part of Mapheta, and its villages.

(YAH 17:12) And the sons of Manasse were not able to destroy these cities; and the Chananite began to dwell in that land.

(YAH 17:13) And it came to pass that when the children of Israel were strong, they made the Chananites subject, but they did not utterly destroy them.

(YAH 17:14) And the sons of Joseph answered YAHshua, saying, Wherefore hast thou caused us to inherit one inheritance, and one line? whereas I am a great people, and Elohim has blessed me.

(YAH 17:15) And YAHshua said to them, If thou be a great people, go up to the forest, and clear the land for thyself, If mount Ephraim be too little for thee.

(YAH 17:16) And they said, The mount of Ephraim does not please us, and the Chananite dwelling in it in Baethsan, and in its villages, and in the valley of Jezrael, has choice cavalry and iron.

(YAH 17:17) And YAHshua said to the sons of Joseph, If thou art a great people, and hast great strength, thou shalt not have only one inheritance.

(YAH 17:18) For thou shalt have the wood, for there is a wood, and thou shalt clear it, and the land shall be thine; even when thou shalt have utterly destroyed the Chananite, for he has chosen cavalry; yet thou art stronger than he.

(YAH 18:1) And all the congregation of the children of Israel were assembled at Selo, and there they pitched the tabernacle of witness; and the land was subdued by them.

(YAH 18:2) And the sons of Israel remained, even those who had not received their inheritance, seven tribes.

(YAH 18:3) And YAHshua said to the sons of Israel, How long will ye be slack to inherit the land, which YHVH our Elohim has given you?

(YAH 18:4) Appoint of yourselves three men of each tribe, and let them rise up and go through the land, and let them describe it before me, as it will be proper to divide it.

(YAH 18:5) And they came to him: and he divided to them seven portions, saying, Juda shall stand to them a border southward, and the sons of Joseph shall stand to them northward.

(YAH 18:6) And do ye divide the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, and I will give you a lot before YHVH our Elohim.

(YAH 18:7) For the sons of Levi have no part among you; for the priesthood of YHVH is his portion; and Gad, and Ruben, and the half tribe of Manasse, have received their inheritance beyond Jordan eastward, which Moses the servant of YHVH gave to them.

(YAH 18:8) And the men rose up and went; and YAHshua charged the men who went to explore the land, saying, Go and explore the land, and come to me, and I will bring you forth a lot here before YHVH in Selo.

(YAH 18:9) And they went, and explored the land: and they viewed it, and described it according to the cities, seven parts in a book, and brought the book to YAHshua.

(YAH 18:10) And YAHshua cast the lot for them in Selo before YHVH.

(YAH 18:11) And the lot of the tribe of Benjamin came forth first according to their families: and the borders of their lot came forth between the children of Juda and the children of Joseph.

(YAH 18:12) And their borders were northward: the borders shall go up from Jordan behind Jericho northward, and shall go up to the mountain westward, and the issue of it shall be Baethon of Mabdara.

(YAH 18:13) And the borders will go forth thence to Luz, behind Luz, from the south of it; this is Baethel: and the borders shall go down to Maatarob Orech, to the hill country, which is southward of Baethoron the lower.

(YAH 18:14) And the borders shall pass through and proceed to the part that looks toward the sea, on the south, from the mountain in front of Baethoron southward, and its termination shall be at Cariath-Baal, this is Cariath-Jarin, a city of the children of Juda; this is the part toward the west.

(YAH 18:15) And the south side on the part of Cariath-Baal; and the borders shall go across to Gasin, to the fountain of the water of Naphtho.

(YAH 18:16) And the borders shall extend down on one side, this is in front of the forest of Sonnam, which is on the side of Emec Raphain northward, and it shall come down to Gaenna behind Jebusai southward: it shall come down to the fountain of Rogel.

(YAH 18:17) And the borders shall go across to the fountain of Baethsamys:

(YAH 18:18) and shall proceed to Galiloth, which is in front by the going up of Æthamin; and they shall come down to the stone of Baeon of the sons of Ruben; and shall pass over behind Baetharaba northward, and shall go down to the borders behind the sea northward.

(YAH 18:19) And the termination of the borders shall be at the creek of the salt sea northward to the side of Jordan southward: these are their southern borders.

(YAH 18:20) And Jordan shall be their boundary on the east: this is the inheritance of the children of Benjamin, these are their borders round about according to their families.

(YAH 18:21) And the cities of the children of Benjamin according to their families were Jericho, and Bethagaeo, and the Amecasis,

(YAH 18:22) and Baethabara, and Sara, and Besana,

(YAH 18:23) and Æein, and Phara, and Ephratha,

(YAH 18:24) and Carapha, and Cephira, and Moni, and Gabaa, twelve cities and their villages:

(YAH 18:25) Gabaon, and Rama, and Beerotha;

(YAH 18:26) and Massema, and Miron, and Amoke;

(YAH 18:27) and Phira, and Caphan, and Nacan, and Selecan, and Thareela, (YAH 18:28) and Jebus (this is Jerusalem); and Gabaoth, Jarim, thirteen cities, and their villages; this is the inheritance of the sons of Benjamin according to their families.

(YAH 19:1) And the second lot came out for the children of Symeon; and their inheritance was in the midst of the lots of the children of Juda.

(YAH 19:2) And their lot was Beersabee, and Samaa, and Caladam,

(YAH 19:3) and Arsola, and Bola, and Jason,

(YAH 19:4) and Erthula, and Bula, and Herma,

(YAH 19:5) and Sikelac, and Baethmachereb, and Sarsusin,

(YAH 19:6) and Batharoth, and their fields, thirteen cities, and their villages.

(YAH 19:7) Eremmon, and Thalcha, and Jether, and Asan; four cities and their villages, (YAH 19:8) round about their cities as far as Balec as men go to Bameth southward: this is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Symeon according to their families.

(YAH 19:9) The inheritance of the tribe of the children of Symeon was a part of the lot of Juda, for the portion of the children of Juda was greater than theirs; and the children of Symeon inherited in the midst of their lot.

(YAH 19:10) And the third lot came out to Zabulon according to their families: the bounds of their inheritance shall be Esedekgola shall be their border, (YAH 19:11) the sea and Magelda, and it shall reach to Baetharaba in the valley, which is opposite Jekman.

(YAH 19:12) And the border returned from Sedduc in a contrary direction eastward from Baethsamys, to the borders of Chaselothaith, and shall pass on to Dabiroth, and shall proceed upward to Phangai.

(YAH 19:13) And thence it shall come round in the opposite direction eastward to Gebere to the city of Catasem, and shall go on to Remmonaa Matharaoza.

(YAH 19:14) And the borders shall come round northward to Amoth, and their going out shall be at Gaephael, (YAH 19:15) and Catanath, and Nabaal, and Symoon, and Jericho, and Baethman.

(YAH 19:16) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Zabulon according to their families, these cities and their villages.

(YAH 19:17) And the fourth lot came out to Issachar.

(YAH 19:18) And their borders were Jazel, and Chasaloth, and Sunam,

(YAH 19:19) and Agin, and Siona, and Reeroth,

(YAH 19:20) and Anachereth, and Dabiron, and Kison, and Rebes,

(YAH 19:21) and Remmas, and Jeon, and Tomman, and Æmarec, and Bersaphes.

(YAH 19:22) And the boundaries shall border upon Gaethbor, and upon Salim westward, and Baethsamys; and the extremity of his bounds shall be Jordan.

(YAH 19:23) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Issachar according to their families, the cities and their villages.

(YAH 19:24) And the fifth lot came out to Aser according to their families.

(YAH 19:25) And their borders were Exeleketh, and Aleph, and Baethok, and Keaph, (YAH 19:26) and Elimelech, and Amiel, and Maasa, and the lot will border on Carmel westward, and on Sion, and Labanath.

(YAH 19:27) And it will return westward from Baethegeneth, and will join Zabulon and Ekgai, and Phthaeel northwards, and the borders will come to Saphthaebaethme, and Inael, and will go on to Chobamasomel, (YAH 19:28) and Elbon, and Raab, and Ememaon, and Canthan to great Sidon.

(YAH 19:29) And the borders shall turn back to Rama, and to the fountain of Masphassat, and the Tyrians; and the borders shall return to Jasiph, and their going forth shall be the sea, and Apoleb, and Echozob, (YAH 19:30) and Archob, and Aphec, and Raau.

(YAH 19:31) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the sons of Aser according to their families, the cities and their villages.

(YAH 19:32) And the sixth lot came out to Nephthali.

(YAH 19:33) And their borders were Moolam, and Mola, and Besemiin, and Arme, and Naboc, and Jephthamai, as far as Dodam; and their goings out were Jordan.

(YAH 19:34) And the coasts will return westward by Athabor, and will go out thence to Jacana, and will border on Zabulon southward, and Aser will join it westward, and Jordan eastward.

(YAH 19:35) And the walled cities of the Tyrians, Tyre, and Omathadaketh, and Kenereth,

(YAH 19:36) and Armaith, and Areal, and Asor,

(YAH 19:37) and Cades, and Assari, and the well of Asor;

(YAH 19:38) and Keroe, and Megalaarim, and Baetthame, and Thessamys.

(YAH 19:39) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Nephthali.

(YAH 19:40) And the seventh lot came out to Dan.

(YAH 19:41) And their borders were Sarath, and Asa, and the cities of Sammaus,

(YAH 19:42) and Salamin, and Ammon, and Silatha,

(YAH 19:43) and Elon, and Thamnatha, and Accaron;

(YAH 19:44) and Alcatha, and Begethon, and Gebeelan,

(YAH 19:45) and Azor, and Banaebacat, and Gethremmon.

(YAH 19:46) And westward of Hieracon the border was near to Joppa.

(YAH 19:47) This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan, according to their families, these are their cities and their villages: and the children of Dan did not drive out the Amorite who afflicted them in the mountain; and the Amorite would not suffer them to come down into the valley, but they forcibly took from them the border of their portion.

(YAH 19:48) And the sons of Dan went and fought against Lachis, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword; and they dwelt in it, and called the name of it Lasendan: and the Amorite continued to dwell in Edom and in Salamin: and the hand of Ephraim prevailed against them, and they became tribute to them.

(YAH 19:49) And they proceeded to take possession of the land according to their borders, and the children of Israel gave an inheritance to YAHshua the son of Naue among them, (YAH 19:50) by the command of Elohim, and they gave him the city which he asked for, Thamnasarach, which is in the mount of Ephraim; and he built the city, and dwelt in it.

(YAH 19:51) These are the divisions which Eleazar the priest divided by lot, and YAHshua the son of Naue, and the heads of families among the tribes of Israel, according to the lots, in Selo before YHVH by the doors of the tabernacle of testimony, and they went to take possession of the land.

(YAH 20:1) And YHVH spoke to YAHshua, saying,

(YAH 20:2) Speak to the children of Israel, saying, Assign the cities of refuge, of which I spoke to you by Moses.

(YAH 20:3) Even a refuge to the slayer who has smitten a man unintentionally; and the cities shall be to you a refuge, and the slayer shall not be put to death by the avenger of blood, until he have stood before the congregation for judgment.

(YAH 20:4) And YAHshua separated Cades in Galilee in the mount Nephthali, and Sychem in the mount Ephraim, and the city of Arboc; this is Chebron, in the mountain of Juda.

(YAH 20:5) And beyond Jordan he appointed Bosor in the wilderness in the plain out of the tribe of Ruben, and Aremoth in Galaad out of the tribe of Gad, and Gaulon in the country of Basan out of the tribe of Manasse.

(YAH 20:6) These were the cities selected for the sons of Israel, and for the stranger abiding among them, that every one who smites a soul unintentionally should flee thither, that he should not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he should stand before the congregation for judgment.

(YAH 21:1) And the heads of the families of the sons of Levi drew near to Eleazar the priest, and to YAHshua the son of Naue, and to the heads of families of the tribes of Israel.

(YAH 21:2) And they spoke to them in Selo in the land of Chanaan, saying, YHVH gave commandment by Moses to give us cities to dwell in, and the country round about for our cattle.

(YAH 21:3) So the children of Israel gave to the Levites in their inheritance by the command of YHVH the cities and the country round.

(YAH 21:4) And the lot came out for the children of Caath; and the sons of Aaron, the priests the Levites, had by lot thirteen cities out of the tribe of Juda, and out of the tribe of Symeon, and out of the tribe of Benjamin.

(YAH 21:5) And to the sons of Caath that were left were given by lot ten cities, out of the tribe of Ephraim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Manasse.

(YAH 21:6) And the sons of Gedson had thirteen cities, out of the tribe of Issachar, and out of the tribe of Aser, and out of the tribe of Nephthali, and out of the half tribe of Manasse in Basan.

(YAH 21:7) And the sons of Merari according to their families had by lot twelve cities, out of the tribe of Ruben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabulon.

(YAH 21:8) And the children of Israel gave to the Levites the cities and their suburbs, as YHVH commanded Moses, by lot.

(YAH 21:9) And the tribe of the children of Juda, and the tribe of the children of Symeon, and part of the tribe of the children of Benjamin gave these cities, and they were assigned (YAH 21:10) to the sons of Aaron of the family of Caath of the sons of Levi, for the lot fell to these.

(YAH 21:11) And they gave to them Cariatharboc the metropolis of the sons of Enac; this is Chebron in the mountain country of Juda, and the suburbs round it.

(YAH 21:12) But the lands of the city, and its villages YAHshua gave to the sons of Chaleb the son of Jephonne for a possession.

(YAH 21:13) And to the sons of Aaron he gave the city of refuge for the slayer, Chebron, and the suburbs belonging to it; and Lemna and the suburbs belonging to it;

(YAH 21:14) and Ælom and its suburbs; and Tema and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:15) and Gella and its suburbs; and Dabir and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:16) and Asa and its suburbs; and Tany and its suburbs; and Baethsamys and its suburbs: nine cities from these two tribes.

(YAH 21:17) And from the tribe of Benjamin, Gabaon and its suburbs; and Gatheth and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:18) and Anathoth and its suburbs; and Gamala and its suburbs; four cities.

(YAH 21:19) All the cities of the sons of Aaron the priests, thirteen.

(YAH 21:20) And to the families, even the sons of Caath the Levites, that were left of the sons of Caath, there was given their priests' city,

(YAH 21:21) out of the tribe of Ephraim; and they gave them the slayer's city of refuge, Sychem, and its suburbs, and Gazara and its appendages, and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:22) and Baethoron and its suburbs: four cities:

(YAH 21:23) and the tribe of Dan, Helcothaim and its suburbs; and Gethedan and its suburbs:

(YAH 21:24) and Ælon and its suburbs; and Getheremmon and its suburbs: four cities.

(YAH 21:25) And out of the half tribe of Manasse, Tanach and its suburbs; and Jebatha and its suburbs; two cities.

(YAH 21:26) In all were given ten cities, and the suburbs of each belonging to them, to the families of the sons of Caath that remained.

(YAH 21:27) And YAHshua gave to the sons of Gedson the Levites out of the other half tribe of Manasse cities set apart for the slayers, Gaulon in the country of Basan, and its suburbs; and Bosora and its suburbs; two cities.

(YAH 21:28) And out of the tribe of Issachar, Kison and its suburbs; and Debba and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:29) and Remmath and its suburbs; and the well of Letters, and its suburbs; four cities.

(YAH 21:30) And out of the tribe of Aser, Basella and its suburbs; and Dabbon and its suburbs;

(YAH 21:31) and Chelcat and its suburbs; and Raab and its suburbs; four cities.

(YAH 21:32) And of the tribe of Nephthali, the city set apart for the slayer, Cades in Galilee, and its suburbs; and Nemmath, and its suburbs; and Themmon and its suburbs; three cities.

(YAH 21:33) All the cities of Gedson according to their families were thirteen cities.

(YAH 21:34) And to the family of the sons of Merari the Levites that remained, he gave out of the tribe of Zabulon, Maan and its suburbs; and Cades and its suburbs, (YAH 21:35) and Sella and its suburbs: three cities.

(YAH 21:36) And beyond Jordan over against Jericho, out of the tribe of Ruben, the city of refuge for the slayer, Bosor in the wilderness; Miso and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs; and Decmon and its suburbs; and Mapha and its suburbs; four cities.

(YAH 21:37) And out of the tribe of Gad the city of refuge for the slayer, both Ramoth in Galaad, and its suburbs; Camin and its suburbs; and Esbon and its suburbs; and Jazer and its suburbs: the cities were four in all.

(YAH 21:38) All these cities were given to the sons of Merari according to the families of them that were left out of the tribe of Levi; and their limits were the twelve cities.

(YAH 21:39) All the cities of the Levites in the midst of the possession of the children of Israel, were forty-eight cities,

(YAH 21:40) and their suburbs round about these cities: a city and the suburbs round about the city to all these cities: and YAHshua ceased dividing the land by their borders: and the children of Israel gave a portion to YAHshua because of the commandment of YHVH: they gave him the city which he asked: they gave him Thamnasachar in mount Ephraim; and YAHshua built the city, and dwelt in it: and YAHshua took the knives of stone, wherewith he circumcised the children of Israel that were born in the desert by the way, and put them in Thamnasachar.

(YAH 21:41) So YHVH gave to Israel all the land which he sware to give to their fathers: and they inherited it, and dwelt in it.

(YAH 21:42) And YHVH gave them rest round about, as he sware to their fathers: not one of all their enemies maintained his ground against them; YHVH delivered all their enemies into their hands.

(YAH 21:43) There failed not one of the good things which YHVH spoke to the children of Israel; all came to pass.

(YAH 22:1) Then YAHshua called together the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse, (YAH 22:2) and said to them, Ye have heard all that Moses the servant of YHVH commanded you, and ye have hearkened to my voice in all that he commanded you.

(YAH 22:3) Ye have not deserted your brethren these many days: until this day ye have kept the commandment of YHVH your Elohim.

(YAH 22:4) And now YHVH our Elohim has given our brethren rest, as he told them: now then return and depart to your homes, and to the land of your possession, which Moses gave you on the other side Jordan.

(YAH 22:5) But take great heed to do the commands and the law, which Moses the servant of YHVH commanded you to do; to love YHVH our Elohim, to walk in all his ways, to keep his commands, and to cleave to him, and serve him with all your mind, and with all your soul.

(YAH 22:6) And YAHshua blessed them, and dismissed them; and they went to their homes.

(YAH 22:7) And to one half the tribe of Manasse Moses gave a portion in the land of Basan, and to the other half YAHshua gave a portion with his brethren on the other side of Jordan westward: and when YAHshua sent them away to their homes, then he blessed them.

(YAH 22:8) And they departed with much wealth to their houses, and they divided the spoil of their enemies with their brethren; very much cattle, and silver, and gold, and iron, and much raiment.

(YAH 22:9) So the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse, departed from the children of Israel in Selo in the land of Chanaan, to go away into Galaad, into the land of their possession, which they inherited by the command of YHVH, by the hand of Moses.

(YAH 22:10) And they came to Galaad of Jordan, which is in the land of Chanaan: and the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse built there an alter by Jordan, a great altar to look at.

(YAH 22:11) And the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse have built an alter at the borders of the land of Chanaan at Galaad of Jordan, on the opposite side to the children of Israel.

(YAH 22:12) And all the children of Israel gathered together to Selo, so as to go up and fight against them.

(YAH 22:13) And the children of Israel sent to the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and to the sons of the half tribe of Manasse into the land of Galaad, both Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest,

(YAH 22:14) and ten of the chiefs with him; there was one chief of every household out of all the tribes of Israel; (the heads of families are the captains of thousands in Israel.)

(YAH 22:15) And they came to the sons of Ruben, and to the sons of Gad, and to the half tribe of Manasse into the land of Galaad; and they spoke to them, saying, (YAH 22:16) Thus says the whole congregation of YHVH, What is this transgression that ye have transgressed before the Elohim of Israel, to turn away today from YHVH, in that ye have built for yourselves an alter, so that ye should be apostates from YHVH?

(YAH 22:17) Is the sin of Phogor too little for you, whereas we have not been cleansed from it until this day, though there was a plague among the congregation of YHVH?

(YAH 22:18) And ye have this day revolted from YHVH; and it shall come to pass if ye revolt this day from YHVH, that to-morrow there shall be wrath upon all Israel.

(YAH 22:19) And now if the land of your possession be too little, cross over to the land of the possession of YHVH, where the tabernacle of YHVH dwells, and receive ye an inheritance among us; and do not become apostates from Elohim, neither do ye apostatize from YHVH, because of your having built an altar apart from the altar of YHVH our Elohim.

(YAH 22:20) Lo! did not Achar the son of Zara commit a trespass taking of the accursed thing, and there was wrath on the whole congregation of Israel? and he himself died alone in his own sin.

(YAH 22:21) And the sons of Ruben, and the sons of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse answered, and spoke to the captains of the thousands of Israel, saying, (YAH 22:22) Elohim even Elohim is YHVH, and Elohim even Elohim himself knows, and Israel he shall know; if we have transgressed before YHVH by apostasy, let him not deliver us this day.

(YAH 22:23) And if we have built to ourselves an altar, so as to apostatize from YHVH our Elohim, so as to offer upon it a sacrifice of whole-burnt-offerings, so as to offer upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering, YHVH shall require it.

(YAH 22:24) But we have done this for the sake of precaution concerning this thing, saying, Lest hereafter your sons should say to our sons, What have ye to do with YHVH Elohim of Israel?

(YAH 22:25) Whereas YHVH has set boundaries between us and you, even Jordan, and ye have no portion in YHVH: so your sons shall alienate our sons, that they should not worship YHVH.

(YAH 22:26) And we gave orders to do thus, to build this altar, not for burnt-offerings, nor for meat-offerings;

(YAH 22:27) but that this may be a witness between you and us, and between our posterity after us, that we may do service to YHVH before him, with our burnt-offerings and our meat-offerings and our peace-offerings: so your sons shall not say to our sons, hereafter, Ye have no portion in YHVH.

(YAH 22:28) And we said, If ever it should come to pass that they should speak so to us, or to our posterity hereafter; then shall they say, Behold the likeness of the altar of YHVH, which our fathers made, not for the sake of burnt-offerings, nor for the sake of meat-offerings, but it is a witness between you and us, and between our sons.

(YAH 22:29) Far be it from us therefore that we should turn away from YHVH this day so as to apostatize from YHVH, so as that we should build an altar for burnt-offerings, and for peace-offerings, besides the altar of YHVH which is before his tabernacle.

(YAH 22:30) And Phinees the priest and all the chiefs of the congregation of Israel who were with him heard the words which the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse spoke; and it pleased them.

(YAH 22:31) And Phinees the priest said to the sons of Ruben, and to the sons of Gad, and to the half of the tribe of Manasse, To-day we know that YHVH is with us, because ye have not trespassed grievously against YHVH, and because ye have delivered the children of Israel out of the hand of YHVH.

(YAH 22:32) So Phinees the priest and the princes departed from the children of Ruben, and from the children of Gad, and from the half tribe of Manasse out of Galaad into the land of Chanaan to the children of Israel; and reported the words to them.

(YAH 22:33) And it pleased the children of Israel; and they spoke to the children of Israel, and blessed the Elohim of the children of Israel, and told them to go up no more to war against the others to destroy the land of the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse: so they dwelt upon it.

(YAH 22:34) And YAHshua gave a name to the altar of the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manasse; and said, It is a testimony in the midst of them, that YHVH is their Elohim.

(YAH 23:1) And it came to pass after many days after YHVH had given Israel rest from all his enemies round about, that YAHshua was old and advanced in years.

(YAH 23:2) And YAHshua called together all the children of Israel, and their elders, and their chiefs, and their judges, and their officers; and said to them, I am old and advanced in years.

(YAH 23:3) And ye have seen all that YHVH our Elohim has done to all these nations before us; for it is YHVH your Elohim who has fought for you.

(YAH 23:4) See, that I have given to you these nations that are left to you by lots to your tribes, all the nations beginning at Jordan; and some I have destroyed; and the boundaries shall be at the great sea westward.

(YAH 23:5) And YHVH our Elohim, he shall destroy them before us, until they utterly perish; and he shall send against them the wild beasts, until he shall have utterly destroyed them and their kings from before you; and ye shall inherit their land, as YHVH our Elohim said to you.

(YAH 23:6) Do ye therefore strive diligently to observe and do all things written in the book of the law of Moses, that ye turn not to the right hand or to the left;

(YAH 23:7) that ye go not in among these nations that are left; and the names of their gods shall not be named among you, neither shall ye serve them, neither shall ye bow down to them.

(YAH 23:8) But ye shall cleave to YHVH our Elohim, as ye have done until this day.

(YAH 23:9) And YHVH shall destroy them before you, even great and strong nations; and no one has stood before us until this day.

(YAH 23:10) One of you has chased a thousand, for YHVH our Elohim, he fought for you, as he said to us.

(YAH 23:11) And take ye great heed to love YHVH our Elohim.

(YAH 23:12) For if ye shall turn aside and attach yourselves to these nations that are left with you, and make marriages with them, and become mingled with them and they with you,

(YAH 23:13) know that YHVH will no more destroy these nations from before you; and they will be to you snares and stumbling-blocks, and nails in your heels, and darts in your eyes, until ye be destroyed from off this good land, which YHVH your Elohim has given you.

(YAH 23:14) But I hasten to go the way of death, as all that are upon the earth also do: and ye know in your heart and in your soul, that not one word has fallen to the ground of all the words which YHVH our Elohim has spoken respecting all that concerns us; there has not one of them failed.

(YAH 23:15) And it shall come to pass, that as all the good things are come upon us which YHVH Elohim will bring upon you all the evil things, until he shall have destroyed you from off this good land, which YHVH has given you, (YAH 23:16) when ye transgress the covenant of YHVH our Elohim, which he has charged us, and go and serve other gods, and bow down to them.

(YAH 24:1) And YAHshua gathered all the tribe of Israel to Selo, and convoked their elders, and their officers, and their judges, and set them before Elohim.

(YAH 24:2) And YAHshua said to all the people, Thus says YHVH Elohim of Israel, Your fathers at first sojourned beyond the river, even Thara, the father of Abraam and the father of Nachor; and they served other gods.

(YAH 24:3) And I took your father Abraam from the other side of the river, and I guided him through all the land, and I multiplied his seed;

(YAH 24:4) and I gave to him Isaac, and to Isaac Jacob and Esau: and I gave to Esau mount Seir for him to inherit: and Jacob and his sons went down to Egypt, and became there a great and populous and mighty nation: and the Egyptians afflicted them.

(YAH 24:5) And I smote Egypt with the wonders that I wrought among them.

(YAH 24:6) And afterwards Elohim brought out our fathers from Egypt, and ye entered into the Red Sea; and the Egyptians pursued after our fathers with chariots and horses into the Red Sea.

(YAH 24:7) And we cried aloud to YHVH; and he put a cloud and darkness between us and the Egyptians, and he brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen all that YHVH did in the land of Egypt; and ye were in the wilderness many days.

(YAH 24:8) And he brought us into the land of the Amorites that dwelt beyond Jordan, and YHVH delivered them into our hands; and ye inherited their land, and utterly destroyed them from before you.

(YAH 24:9) And Balac, king of Moab, son of Sepphor, rose up, and made war against Israel, and sent and called Balaam to curse us.

(YAH 24:10) But YHVH thy Elohim would not destroy thee; and he greatly blessed us, and rescued us out of their hands, and delivered them to us.

(YAH 24:11) And ye crossed over Jordan, and came to Jericho; and the inhabitants of Jericho fought against us, the Amorite, and the Chananite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Chettite, and the Gergesite, and YHVH delivered them into our hands.

(YAH 24:12) And he sent forth the hornet before you; and he drove them out from before you, even twelve kings of the Amorites, not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

(YAH 24:13) And he gave you a land on which ye did not labour, and cities which ye did not build, and ye were settled in them; and ye eat of vineyards and oliveyards which ye did not plant.

(YAH 24:14) And now fear YHVH, and serve him in righteousness and justice; and remove the strange gods, which our fathers served beyond the river, and in Egypt; and serve YHVH.

(YAH 24:15) But if it seem not good to you to serve YHVH, choose to yourselves this day whom ye will serve, whether the gods of your fathers that were on the other side of the river, or the gods of the Amorites, among whom ye dwell upon their land: but I and my house will serve YHVH, for he is holy.

(YAH 24:16) And the people answered and said, Far be it from us to forsake YHVH, so as to serve other gods.

(YAH 24:17) YHVH our Elohim, he is Elohim; he brought up us and our fathers from Egypt, and kept us in all the way wherein we walked, and among all the nations through whom we passed.

(YAH 24:18) And YHVH cast out the Amorite, and all the nations that inhabited the land from before us: yea, we will serve YHVH, for he is our Elohim.

(YAH 24:19) And YAHshua said to the people, Indeed ye will not be able to serve YHVH, for Elohim is holy; and he being jealous will not forgive your sins and your transgressions.

(YAH 24:20) Whensoever ye shall forsake YHVH and serve other gods, then he shall come upon you and afflict you, and consume you, because he has done you good.

(YAH 24:21) And the people said to YAHshua, Nay, but we will serve YHVH.

(YAH 24:22) And YAHshua said to the people, Ye are witnesses against yourselves, that ye have chosen YHVH to serve him.

(YAH 24:23) And now take away the strange gods that are among you, and set your heart right toward YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(YAH 24:24) And the people said to YAHshua, We will serve YHVH, and we will hearken to his voice.

(YAH 24:25) So YAHshua made a covenant with the people on that day, and gave them a law and an ordinance in Selo before the tabernacle of the Elohim of Israel.

(YAH 24:26) And he wrote these words in the book of the laws of Elohim: and YAHshua took a great stone, and set it up under the oak before YHVH.

(YAH 24:27) And YAHshua said to the people, Behold, this stone shall be among you for a witness, for it has heard all the words that have been spoken to it by YHVH; for he has spoken to you this day; and this stone shall be among you for a witness in the last days, whenever ye shall deal falsely with YHVH my Elohim.

(YAH 24:28) And YAHshua dismissed the people, and they went every man to his place.

(YAH 24:29) And it came to pass after these things that YAHshua the son of Naue the servant of YHVH died, at the age of a hundred and ten years.

(YAH 24:30) And they buried him by the borders of his inheritance in Thamnasarach in the mount of Ephraim, northward of the mount of Galaad: there they put with him into the tomb in which they buried him, the knives of stone with which he circumcised the children of Israel in Galgala, when he brought them out of Egypt, as YHVH appointed them; and there they are to this day.

(YAH 24:31) And Israel served YHVH all the days of YAHshua, and all the days of the elders that lived as long as YAHshua, and all that knew all the works of YHVH which he wrought for Israel.

(YAH 24:32) And the children of Israel brought up the bones of Joseph out of Egypt, and buried them in Sicima, in the portion of the land which Jacob bought of the Amorites who dwelt in Sicima for a hundred ewe-lambs; and he gave it to Joseph for a portion.

(YAH 24:33) And it came to pass afterwards that Eleazar the high-priest the son of Aaron died, and was buried in Gabaar of Phinees his son, which he gave him in mount Ephraim.

In that day the children of Israel took the ark of Elohim, and carried it about among them; and Phinees exercised the priest's office in the room of Eleazar his father till he died, and he was buried in his own place Gabaar: but the children of Israel departed every one to their place, and to their own city: and the children of Israel worshipped Astarte, and Astaroth, and the gods of the nations round about them; and YHVH delivered them into the hands of Eglom king of Moab and he ruled over them eighteen years.

Judges.

(Jdg 1:1) And it came to pass after the death of YAHshua, that the children of Israel enquired of YHVH, saying, Who shall go up for us first against the Chananites, to fight against them?

(Jdg 1:2) And YHVH said, Judas shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

(Jdg 1:3) And Judas said to his brother Symeon, Come up with me into my lot, and let us array ourselves against the Chananites, and I also will go with thee into thy lot: and Symeon went with him.

(Jdg 1:4) And Judas went up; and YHVH delivered the Chananite and the Pherezite into their hands, and they smote them in Bezek to the number of ten thousand men.

(Jdg 1:6) And Adonibezek fled, and they pursued after him, and took him, and cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

(Jdg 1:7) And Adonibezek said, Seventy kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their food under my table: as I therefore have done, so Elohim has recompensed me: and they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

(Jdg 1:8) And the children of Judas fought against Jerusalem, and took it, and smote with the edge of the sword, and they burnt the city with fire.

(Jdg 1:9) And afterwards the children of Judas went down to fight with the Chananite dwelling in the hill country, and the south, and the plain country.

(Jdg 1:10) And Judas went to the Chananite who dwelt in Chebron; and Chebron came out against him; [and the name of Chebron before was Cariatharhocsepher:] and they smote Sessi, and Achiman, and Tholmi, children of Enac.

(Jdg 1:11) And they went up thence to the inhabitants of Dabir; but the name of Dabir was before Cariathsepher, the city of Letters.

(Jdg 1:12) And Chaleb said, Whosoever shall smite the city of Letters, and shall first take it, I will give to him Ascha my daughter to wife.

(Jdg 1:13) And Gothoniel the younger son of Kenez the brother of Chaleb took it; and Chaleb gave him his daughter Ascha to wife.

(Jdg 1:14) And it came to pass as she went in, that Gothoniel urged her to ask a field of her father; and she murmured and cried from off her ass, Thou hast sent me forth into a south land: and Chaleb said to her, What is thy request?

(Jdg 1:15) And Ascha said to him, Give me, I pray thee, a blessing, for thou hast sent me forth into a south land, and thou shalt give me the ransom of water: and Chaleb gave her according to her heart the ransom of the upper springs and the ransom of the low springs.

(Jdg 1:17) And Judas went with Symeon his brother, and smote the Chananite that inhabited Sepheth, and they utterly destroyed them; and they called the name of the city Anathema.

(Jdg 1:18) But Judas did not inherit Gaza nor her coasts, nor Ascalon nor her coasts, nor Accaron nor her coasts, nor Azotus nor the lands around it.

(Jdg 1:19) And YHVH was with Judas, and he inherited the mountain; for they were not able to destroy the inhabitants of the valley, for Rechab prevented them.

(Jdg 1:20) And they gave Chebron to Chaleb, as Moses said; and thence he inherited the three cities of the children of Enac.

(Jdg 1:21) But the children of Benjamin did not take the inheritance of the Jebusite who dwelt in Jerusalem; and the Jebusite dwelt with the children of Benjamin in Jerusalem until this day.

(Jdg 1:22) And the sons of Joseph, they also went up to Baethel; and YHVH was with them.

(Jdg 1:23) And they encamped and surveyed Baethel: and the name of the city before was Luza.

(Jdg 1:24) And the spies looked, and behold, a man went out of the city, and they took him; and they said to him, Shew us the way into the city, and we will deal mercifully with thee.

(Jdg 1:25) And he shewed them the way into the city; and they smote the city with the edge of the sword; but they let go the man and his family.

(Jdg 1:26) And the man went into the land of Chettin, and built there a city, and called the name of it Luza; this is its name until this day.

(Jdg 1:27) And Manasse did not drive out the inhabitants of Baethsan, which is a city of Scythians, nor her towns, nor her suburbs; nor Thanac, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Dor, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitant of Balac, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Magedo, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; nor the inhabitants of Jeblaam, nor her suburbs, nor her towns; and the Chananite began to dwell in this land.

(Jdg 1:28) And it came to pass when Israel was strong, that he made the Chananite tributary, but did not utterly drive them out.

(Jdg 1:29) And Ephraim did not drive out the Chananite that dwelt in Gazer; and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of him in Gazer, and became tributary.

(Jdg 1:30) And Zabulon did not drive out the inhabitants of Kedron, nor the inhabitants of Domana: and the Chananite dwelt in the midst of them, and became tributary to them.

(Jdg 1:31) And Aser did not drive out the inhabitants of Accho, and that people became tributary to him, nor the inhabitants of Dor, nor the inhabitants of Sidon, nor the inhabitants of Dalaph, nor Aschazi, nor Chebda, nor Nai, nor Ereo.

(Jdg 1:32) And Aser dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land, for he could not drive him out.

(Jdg 1:33) And Nephthali did not drive out the inhabitants of Baethsamys, nor the inhabitants of Baethanach; and Nephthali dwelt in the midst of the Chananite who inhabited the land: but the inhabitants of Bethsamys and of Baetheneth became tributary to them.

(Jdg 1:34) And the Amorite drove out the children of Dan into the mountains, for they did not suffer them to come down into the valley.

(Jdg 1:35) And the Amorite began to dwell in the mountain of shells, in which are bears, and foxes, in Myrsinon, and in Thalabin; and the hand of the house of Joseph was heavy upon the Amorite, and he became tributary to them.

(Jdg 1:36) And the border of the Amorite was from the going up of Acrabin, from the rock and upwards.

(Jdg 2:1) And an angel of YHVH went up from Galgal to the place of weeping, and to Baethel, and to the house of Israel, and said to them, Thus says YHVH, I brought you up out of Egypt, and I brought you into the land which I swore to your fathers; and I said, I will never break my covenant that I have made with you.

(Jdg 2:2) And ye shall make no covenant with them that dwell in this land, neither shall ye worship their gods; but ye shall destroy their graven images, ye shall pull down their altars: but ye hearkened not to my voice, for ye did these things.

(Jdg 2:3) And I said, I will not drive them out from before you, but they shall be for a distress to you, and their gods shall be to you for an offence.

(Jdg 2:4) And it came to pass when the angel of YHVH spoke these words to all the children of Israel, that the people lifted up their voice, and wept.

(Jdg 2:5) And they named the name of that place Weepings; and they sacrificed there to YHVH.

(Jdg 2:6) And YAHshua dismissed the people, and they went every man to his inheritance, to inherit the land.

(Jdg 2:7) And the people served YHVH all the days of YAHshua, and all the days of the elders that lived many days with YAHshua, as many as knew all the great work of YHVH, what things he had wrought in Israel.

(Jdg 2:8) And YAHshua the son of Naue, the servant of YHVH, died, a hundred and ten years old.

(Jdg 2:9) And they buried him in the border of his inheritance, in Thamnathares, in mount Ephraim, on the north of the mountain of Gaas.

(Jdg 2:10) And all that generation were laid to their fathers: and another generation rose up after them, who knew not YHVH, nor yet the work which he wrought in Israel.

(Jdg 2:11) And the children of Israel wrought evil before YHVH, and served Baalim.

(Jdg 2:12) And they forsook YHVH Elohim of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and walked after other gods, of the gods of the nations round about them; and they worshipped them.

(Jdg 2:13) And they provoked YHVH, and forsook him, and served Baal and the Astartes.

(Jdg 2:14) And YHVH was very angry with Israel; and he gave them into the hands of the spoilers, and they spoiled them; and he sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, and they could not any longer resist their enemies, (Jdg 2:15) among whomsoever they went; and the hand of YHVH was against them for evil, as YHVH spoke, and as YHVH swore to them; and he greatly afflicted them.

(Jdg 2:16) And YHVH raised up judges, and YHVH save them out of the hands of them that spoiled them: and yet they hearkened not to the judges, (Jdg 2:17) for they went a whoring after other gods, and worshipped them; and they turned quickly out of the way in which their fathers walked to hearken to the words of YHVH; they did not so.

(Jdg 2:18) And because YHVH raised them up judges, so YHVH was with the judge, and saved them out of the hand of their enemies all the days of the judge; for YHVH was moved at their groaning by reason of them that besieged them and afflicted them.

(Jdg 2:19) And it came to pass when the judge died, that they went back, and again corrupted themselves worse than their fathers to go after other gods to serve them and to worship them: they abandoned not their devices nor their stubborn ways.

(Jdg 2:20) And YHVH was very angry with Israel, and said, Forasmuch as this nation has forsaken my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and has not hearkened to my voice,

(Jdg 2:21) therefore I will not any more cast out a man of the nations before their face, which YAHshua the son of Naue left in the land. And YHVH left them, (Jdg 2:22) to prove Israel with them, whether they would keep the way of YHVH, to walk in it, as their fathers kept it, or no.

(Jdg 2:23) So YHVH will leave these nations, so as not to cast them out suddenly; and he delivered them not into the hand of YAHshua.

(Jdg 3:1) And these are the nations which YHVH left to prove Israel with them, all that had not known the wars of Chanaan.

(Jdg 3:2) Only for the sake of the generations of Israel, to teach them war, only the men before them knew them not.

(Jdg 3:3) The five lordships of the Phylistines, and every Chananite, and the Sidonian, and the Evite who dwelt in Libanus from the mount of Aermom to Laboemath.

(Jdg 3:4) And this was done in order to prove Israel by them, to know whether they would obey the commands of YHVH, which he charged their fathers by the hand of Moses.

(Jdg 3:5) And the children of Israel dwelt in the midst of the Chananite, and the Chettite, and the Amorite, and the Pherezite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite.

(Jdg 3:6) And they took their daughters for wives to themselves, and they gave their daughters to their sons, and served their gods.

(Jdg 3:7) And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of YHVH, and forgot YHVH their Elohim, and served Baalim and the groves.

(Jdg 3:8) And YHVH was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hand of Chusarsathaim king of Syria of the rivers: and the children of Israel served Chusarsathaim eight years.

(Jdg 3:9) And the children of Israel cried to YHVH; and YHVH raised up a saviour to Israel, and he saved them, Gothoniel the son of Kenez, the brother of Chaleb younger than himself.

(Jdg 3:10) And the Spirit of YHVH came upon him, and he judged Israel; and he went out to war against Chusarsathaim: and YHVH delivered into his hand Chusarsathaim king of Syria of the rivers, and his hand prevailed against Chusarsathaim.

(Jdg 3:11) And the land was quiet forty years; and Gothoniel the son of Kenez died.

(Jdg 3:12) And the children of Israel continued to do evil before YHVH: and YHVH strengthened Eglom king of Moab against Israel, because they had done evil before YHVH.

(Jdg 3:13) And he gathered to himself all the children of Ammon and Amalec, and went and smote Israel, and took possession of the city of Palm-trees.

(Jdg 3:14) And the children of Israel served Eglom the king of Moab eighteen years.

(Jdg 3:15) And the children of Israel cried to YHVH; and he raised up to them a saviour, Aod the son of Gera a son of Jemeni, a man who used both hands alike: and the children of Israel sent gifts by his hand to Eglom king of Moab.

(Jdg 3:16) And Aod made himself a dagger of two edges, of a span long, and he girded it under his cloak upon his right thigh.

(Jdg 3:17) And he went, and brought the presents to Eglom king of Moab, and Eglom was a very handsome man.

(Jdg 3:18) And it came to pass when Aod had made an end of offering his gifts, that he dismissed those that brought the gifts.

(Jdg 3:19) And he himself returned from the quarries that are by Galgal; and Aod said, I have a secret errand to thee, O king! and Eglom said to him, Be silent: and he sent away from his presence all who waited upon him.

(Jdg 3:20) And Aod went in to him; and he sat in his own upper summer chamber quite alone; and Aod said, I have a message from Elohim to thee, O king: and Eglom rose up from his throne near him.

(Jdg 3:21) And it came to pass as he arose, that Aod stretched forth his left hand, and took the dagger off his right thigh, and plunged it into his belly;

(Jdg 3:22) and drove in also the haft after the blade, and the fat closed in upon the blade, for he drew not out the dagger from his belly.

(Jdg 3:23) And Aod went out to the porch, and passed out by the appointed guards, and shut the doors of the chamber upon him, and locked them.

(Jdg 3:24) And he went out: and Eglom's servants came, and saw, and behold, the doors of the upper chamber were locked; and they said, Does he not uncover his feet in the summer-chamber?

(Jdg 3:25) And they waited till they were ashamed, and, behold, there was no one that opened the doors of the upper chamber; and they took the key, and opened them; and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead upon the earth.

(Jdg 3:26) And Aod escaped while they were in a tumult, and no one paid attention to him; and he passed the quarries, and escaped to Setirotha.

(Jdg 3:27) And it came to pass when Aod came into the land of Israel, that he blew the horn in mount Ephraim, and the children of Israel came down with him from the mountain, and he was before them.

(Jdg 3:28) And he said to them, Come down after me, for YHVH Elohim has delivered our enemies, even Moab, into our hand; and they went down after him, and seized on the fords of Jordan before Moab, and he did not suffer a man to pass over.

(Jdg 3:29) And they smote Moab on that day about ten thousand men, every lusty person and every mighty man; and not a man escaped.

(Jdg 3:30) So Moab was humbled in that day under the hand of Israel, and the land had rest eighty years; and Aod judged them till he died.

(Jdg 3:31) And after him rose up Samegar the son of Dinach, and smote the Philistines to the number of six hundred men with a ploughshare such as is drawn by oxen; and he too delivered Israel.

(Jdg 4:1) And the children of Israel continued to do evil against YHVH; and Aod was dead.

(Jdg 4:2) And YHVH sold the children of Israel into the hand of Jabin king of Chanaan, who ruled in Asor; and the chief of his host was Sisara, and he dwelt in Arisoth of the Gentiles.

(Jdg 4:3) And the children of Israel cried to YHVH, because he had nine hundred chariots of iron; and he mightily oppressed Israel twenty years.

(Jdg 4:4) And Debbora, a prophetess, the wife of Lapidoth, she judged Israel at that time.

(Jdg 4:5) And she sat under the palm-tree of Debbora between Rama and Baethel in mount Ephraim; and the children of Israel went up to her for judgment.

(Jdg 4:6) And Debbora sent and called Barac the son of Abineem out of Cades Nephthali, and she said to him, Has not YHVH Elohim of Israel commanded thee? and thou shalt depart to mount Thabor, and shalt take with thyself ten thousand men of the sons of Nephthali and of the sons of Zabulon.

(Jdg 4:7) And I will bring to thee to the torrent of Kison Sisara the captain of the host of Jabin, and his chariots, and his multitude, and I will deliver them into thine hands.

(Jdg 4:8) And Barac said to her, If thou wilt go with me, I will go; and if thou wilt not go, I will not go; for I know not the day on which YHVH prospers his messenger with me.

(Jdg 4:9) And she said, I will surely go with thee; but know that thy honour shall not attend on the expedition on which thou goest, for YHVH shall sell Sisara into the hands of a women: and Debbora arose, and went with Barac out of Cades.

(Jdg 4:10) And Barac called Zabulon and Nephthali out of Cades, and there went up at his feet ten thousand men, and Debbora went up with him.

(Jdg 4:11) And Chaber the Kenite had removed from Caina, from the sons of Jobab the father-in-law of Moses, and pitched his tent by the oak of the covetous ones, which is near Kedes.

(Jdg 4:12) And it was told Sisara that Barac the son of Abineem was gone up to mount Thabor.

(Jdg 4:13) And Sisara summoned all his chariots, nine hundred chariots of iron and all the people with him, from Arisoth of the Gentiles to the brook of Kison.

(Jdg 4:14) And Debbora said to Barac, Rise up, for this is the day on which YHVH has delivered Sisara into thy hand, for YHVH shall go forth before thee: and Barac went down from mount Thabor, and ten thousand men after him.

(Jdg 4:15) And YHVH discomfited Sisara, and all his chariots, and all his army, with the edge of the sword before Barac: and Sisara descended from off his chariot, and fled on his feet.

(Jdg 4:16) And Barac pursued after the chariots and after the army, into Arisoth of the Gentiles; and the whole army of Sisara fell by the edge of the sword, there was not one left.

(Jdg 4:17) And Sisara fled on his feet to the tent of Jael the wife of Chaber the Kenite his friend: for there was peace between Jabin king of Asor and the house of Chaber the Kenite.

(Jdg 4:18) And Jael went, out to meet Sisara, and said to him, Turn aside, my lord, turn aside to me, fear not: and he turned aside to her into the tent; and she covered him with a mantle.

(Jdg 4:19) And Sisara said to her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink, for I am thirsty: and she opened a bottle of milk, and gave him to drink, and covered him.

(Jdg 4:20) And Sisara said to her, Stand now by the door of the tent, and it shall come to pass if any man come to thee, and ask of thee, and say, Is there any man here? then thou shalt say, There is not.

(Jdg 4:21) And Jael the wife of Chaber took a pin of the tent, and took a hammer in her hand, and went secretly to him, and fastened the pin in his temple, and it went through to the earth, and he fainted away, and darkness fell upon him and he died.

(Jdg 4:22) And, behold, Barac was pursuing Sisara: and Jael went out to meet him, and he said to him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest: and he went in to her; and, behold, Sisara was fallen dead, and the pin was in his temple.

(Jdg 4:23) So Elohim routed Jabin king of Chanaan in that day before the children of Israel.

(Jdg 4:24) And the hand of the children of Israel prevailed more and more against Jabin king of Chanaan, until they utterly destroyed Jabin king of Chanaan.

(Jdg 5:1) And Debbora and Barac son of Abineem sang in that day, saying, (Jdg 5:2) A revelation was made in Israel when the people were made willing: Praise ye YHVH.

(Jdg 5:3) Hear, ye kings, and hearken, rulers: I will sing, it is I who will sing to YHVH, it is I, I will sing a psalm to YHVH the god of Israel.

(Jdg 5:4) YHVH, in thy going forth on Seir, when thou wentest forth out of the land of Edom, the earth quaked and the heaven dropped dews, and the clouds dropped water.

(Jdg 5:5) The mountains were shaken before the face of YHVH Eloi, this Sina before the face of YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(Jdg 5:6) In the days of Samegar son of Anath, in the days of Jael, they deserted the ways, and went in by-ways; they went in crooked paths.

(Jdg 5:7) The mighty men in Israel failed, they failed until Debbora arose, until she arose a mother in Israel.

(Jdg 5:8) They chose new gods; then the cities of rulers fought; there was not a shield or spear seen among forty thousand in Israel.

(Jdg 5:9) My heart inclines to the orders given in Israel; ye that are willing among the people, bless YHVH.

(Jdg 5:10) Ye that mount a she-ass at noon-day, ye that sit on the judgment-seat, and walk by the roads of them that sit in judgment by the way; declare (Jdg 5:11) ye that are delivered from the noise of disturbers among the drawers of water; there shall they relate righteous acts: YHVH, increase righteous acts in Israel: then the people of YHVH went down to the cities.

(Jdg 5:12) Awake, awake, Debbora; awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Barac, and lead thy captivity captive, son of Abineem.

(Jdg 5:13) Then went down the remnant to the strong, the people of YHVH went down for him among the mighty ones from me.

(Jdg 5:14) Ephraim rooted them out in Amalec, behind thee was Benjamin among thy people: the inhabitants of Machir came down with me searching out the enemy, and from Zabulon came they that draw with the scribe's pen of record.

(Jdg 5:15) And princess in Issachar were with Debbora and Barac, thus she sent Barac on his feet in the valleys into the portions of Ruben; great pangs reached to the heart.

(Jdg 5:16) Why did they sit between the sheep-folds to hear the bleating of flocks for the divisions of Ruben? there were great searchings of heart.

(Jdg 5:17) Galaad is on the other side of Jordan where he pitched his tents; and why does Dan remain in ships? Aser sat down on the sea-coasts, and he will tabernacle at his ports.

(Jdg 5:18) The people Zabulon exposed their soul to death, and Nephthali came to the high places of their land.

(Jdg 5:19) Kings set themselves in array, then the kings of Chanaan fought in Thanaach at the water of Mageddo; they took no gift of money.

(Jdg 5:20) The stars from heaven set themselves in array, they set themselves to fight with Sisara out of their paths.

(Jdg 5:21) The brook of Kison swept them away, the ancient brook, the brook Kison: my mighty soul will trample him down.

(Jdg 5:22) When the hoofs of the horse were entangled, his mighty ones earnestly hasted

(Jdg 5:24) Blessed among women be Jael wife of Chaber the Kenite; let her be blessed above women in tents.

(Jdg 5:25) He asked for water, she gave him milk in a dish; she brought butter of princes.

(Jdg 5:26) She stretched forth her left hand to the nail, and her right to the hand workman's hammer, and she smote Sisara with it, she nailed through his head and smote him; she nailed through his temples.

(Jdg 5:27) He rolled down between her feet; he fell and lay between her feet; he bowed and fell: where he bowed, there he fell dead.

(Jdg 5:28) The mother of Sisara looked down through the window out of the loophole, saying, Why was his chariot ashamed? why did the wheels of his chariots tarry?

(Jdg 5:29) Her wise ladies answered her, and she returned answers to herself, saying,

(Jdg 5:31) Thus let all thine enemies perish, YHVH: and they that love him shall be as the going forth of the sun in his strength.

(Jdg 5:32) And the land had rest forty years.

(Jdg 6:1) And the children of Israel did evil in the sight of YHVH, and YHVH gave them into the hand of Madiam seven years.

(Jdg 6:2) And the hand of Madiam prevailed against Israel: and the children of Israel made for themselves because of Madiam the caves in the mountains, and the dens, and the holes in the rocks.

(Jdg 6:3) And it came to pass when the children of Israel sowed, that Madiam and Amalec went up, and the children of the east went up together with them.

(Jdg 6:4) And they encamped against them, and destroyed their fruits until they came to Gaza; and they left not the support of life in the land of Israel, not even ox or ass among the herds.

(Jdg 6:5) For they and their stock came up, and their tents were with them, as the locust in multitude, and there was no number to them and their camels; and they came to the land of Israel, and laid it waste.

(Jdg 6:6) And Israel was greatly impoverished because of Madiam.

(Jdg 6:7) And the children of Israel cried to YHVH because of Madiam.

(Jdg 6:8) And YHVH sent a prophet to the children of Israel; and he said to them, Thus says YHVH Elohim of Israel, I am he that brought you up out of the land of Egypt, and I brought you up out of the house of your bondage.

(Jdg 6:9) And I delivered you out of the hand of Egypt, and out of the hand of all that afflicted you, and I cast them out before you; and I gave you their land.

(Jdg 6:10) And I said to you, I am YHVH your Elohim: ye shall not fear the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell; but ye hearkened not to my voice.

(Jdg 6:11) And an angel of YHVH came, and sat down under the fir tree, which was in Ephratha in the land of Joas father of Esdri; and Gedeon his son was threshing wheat in a wine-press in order to escape from the face of Madiam.

(Jdg 6:12) And the angel of YHVH appeared to him and said to him, YHVH is with thee, thou mighty in strength.

(Jdg 6:13) And Gedeon said to him, Be gracious with me, my Lord: but if YHVH is with us, why have these evils found us? and where are all his miracles, which our fathers have related to us, saying, Did not YHVH bring us up out of Egypt? and now he has cast us out, and given us into the hand of Madiam.

(Jdg 6:14) And the angel of YHVH turned to him, and said, Go in this thy strength, and thou shalt save Israel out of the hand of Madiam: behold, I have sent thee.

(Jdg 6:15) And Gedeon said to him, Be gracious with me, my Lord: whereby shall I save Israel? behold, my thousand is weakened in Manasse, and I am the least in my father's house.

(Jdg 6:16) And the angel of YHVH said to him, YHVH shall be with thee, and thou shalt smite Madiam as one man.

(Jdg 6:17) And Gedeon said to him, If now I have found mercy in thine eyes, and thou wilt do this day for me all that thou hast spoken of with me, (Jdg 6:18) depart not hence until I come to thee, and I will bring forth an offering and offer it before thee: and he said, I will remain until thou return.

(Jdg 6:19) And Gedeon went in, and prepared a kid of the goats, and an ephah of fine flour unleavened; and he put the flesh in the basket, and poured the broth into the pot, and brought them forth to him under the turpentine tree, and drew nigh.

(Jdg 6:20) And the angel of Elohim said to him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and put them on that rock, and pour out the broth close by: and he did so.

(Jdg 6:21) And the angel of YHVH stretched out the end of the rod that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened bread; and fire came up out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened bread, and the angel of YHVH vanished from his sight.

(Jdg 6:22) And Gedeon saw that he was an angel of YHVH; and Gedeon said, Ah, ah, Lord my Elohim! for I have seen the angel of YHVH face to face.

(Jdg 6:23) And YHVH said to him, Peace be to thee, fear not, thou shalt not die.

(Jdg 6:24) And Gedeon built there an altar to YHVH, and called it The peace of YHVH, until this day, as it is still in Ephratha of the father of Esdri.

(Jdg 6:25) And it came to pass in that night, that YHVH said to him, Take the young bullock which thy father has, even the second bullock of seven years old, and thou shalt destroy the altar of Baal which thy father has, and the grove which is by it thou shalt destroy.

(Jdg 6:26) And thou shalt build an altar to YHVH thy Elohim on the top of this Maozi in the ordering it, and thou shalt take the second bullock, and shalt offer up whole-burnt-offerings with the wood of the grove, which thou shalt destroy.

(Jdg 6:27) And Gedeon took ten men of his servants, and did as YHVH spoke to him: and it came to pass, as he feared the house of his father and the men of the city if he should do it by day, that he did it by night.

(Jdg 6:28) And the men of the city rose up early in the morning; and behold, the altar of Baal had been demolished, and the grove by it had been destroyed; and they saw the second bullock, which Gedeon offered on the altar that had been built.

(Jdg 6:29) And a man said to his neighbour, Who has done this thing? and they enquired and searched, and learnt that Gedeon the son of Joas had done this thing.

(Jdg 6:30) And the men of the city said to Joas, Bring out thy son, and let him die, because he has destroyed the altar of Baal, and because he has destroyed the grove that is by it.

(Jdg 6:31) And Gedeon the son of Joas said to all the men who rose up against him, Do ye now plead for Baal, or will ye save him? whoever will plead for him, let him be slain this morning: if he be a god let him plead for himself, because one has thrown down his altar.

(Jdg 6:32) And he called it in that day Jerobaal, saying, Let Baal plead thereby, because his altar has been thrown down.

(Jdg 6:33) And all Madiam, and Amalek, and the sons of the east gathered themselves together, and encamped in the valley of Jezrael.

(Jdg 6:34) And the Spirit of YHVH came upon Gedeon, and he blew with the horn, and Abiezer came to help after him.

(Jdg 6:35) And Gedeon sent messengers into all Manasse, and into Aser, and into Zabulon, and into Nephthali; and he went up to meet them.

(Jdg 6:36) And Gedeon said to Elohim, If thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said, (Jdg 6:37) behold, I put the fleece of wool in the threshing-floor: if there be dew on the fleece only, and drought on all the ground, I shall know that thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said.

(Jdg 6:38) And it was so: and he rose up early in the morning, and wrung the fleece, and dew dropped from the fleece, a bowl full of water.

(Jdg 6:39) And Gedeon said to Elohim, Let not, I pray thee, thine anger be kindled with me, and I will speak yet once; I will even yet make one trial more with the fleece: let now the drought be upon the fleece only, and let there be dew on all the ground.

(Jdg 6:40) And Elohim did so in that night; and there was drought on the fleece only, and on all the ground there was dew.

(Jdg 7:1) And Jerobaal rose early, the same is Gedeon, and all the people with him, and encamped at the fountain of Arad; and the camp of Madiam was to the north of him, reaching from Gabaathamorai, in the valley.

(Jdg 7:2) And YHVH said to Gedeon, The people with thee are many, so that I may not deliver Madiam into their hand, lest at any time Israel boast against me, saying, My hand has saved me.

(Jdg 7:3) And now speak in the ears of the people, saying, Who is afraid and fearful? let him turn and depart from mount Galaad: and there returned of the people twenty-two thousand, and ten thousand were left.

(Jdg 7:4) And YHVH said to Gedeon, The people is yet numerous; bring them down to the water, and I will purge them there for thee: and it shall come to pass that of whomsoever I shall say to thee, This one shall go with thee, even he shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I shall say to thee, This one shall not go with thee, even he shall not go with thee.

(Jdg 7:5) And he brought the people down to the water; and YHVH said to Gedeon, Whosoever shall lap of the water with his tongue as if a dog should lap, thou shalt set him apart, and also whosoever shall bow down upon his knees to drink.

(Jdg 7:6) And the number of those that lapped with their hand to their mouth was three hundred men; and all the rest of the people bowed upon their knees to drink water.

(Jdg 7:7) And YHVH said to Gedeon, I will save you by the three hundred men that lapped, and I will give Madiam into thy hand; and all the rest of the people shall go every one to his place.

(Jdg 7:8) And they took the provision of the people in their hand, and their horns; and he sent away every man of Israel each to his tent, and he strengthened the three hundred; and the army of Madiam were beneath him in the valley.

(Jdg 7:9) And it came to pass in that night that YHVH said to him, Arise, go down into the camp, for I have delivered it into thy hand.

(Jdg 7:10) And if thou art afraid to go down, go down thou and thy servant Phara into the camp.

(Jdg 7:11) And thou shalt hear what they shall say, and afterwards thy hands shall be strong, and thou shalt go down into the camp: and he went down and Phara his servant to the extremity of the companies of fifty, which were in the camp.

(Jdg 7:12) And Madiam and Amalec and all the children of the east were scattered in the valley, as the locust for multitude; and there was no number to their camels, but they were as the sand on the seashore for multitude.

(Jdg 7:13) And Gedeon came, and behold a man was relating to his neighbour a dream, and he said, Behold, I have dreamed a dream, and behold, a cake of barley bread rolling into the camp of Madiam, and it came as far as a tent, and smote it, and it fell, and it turned it up, and the tent fell.

(Jdg 7:14) And his neighbour answered and said, This is none other than the sword of Gedeon, son of Joas, a man of Israel: Elohim has delivered Madiam and all the host into his hand.

(Jdg 7:15) And it came to pass when Gedeon heard the account of the dream and the interpretation of it, that he worshipped YHVH, and returned to the camp of Israel, and said, Rise, for YHVH has delivered the camp of Madiam into our hand.

(Jdg 7:16) And he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and put horns in the hands of all, and empty pitchers, and torches in the pitchers:

(Jdg 7:17) and he said to them, Ye shall look at me, and so shall ye do; and behold, I will go into the beginning of the host, and it shall come to pass that as I do, so shall ye do.

(Jdg 7:18) And I will sound with the horn, and all ye with me shall sound with the horn round about the whole camp, and ye shall say, For YHVH and Gedeon.

(Jdg 7:19) And Gedeon and the hundred men that were with him came to the extremity of the army in the beginning of the middle watch; and they completely roused the guards, and sounded with the horns, and they broke the pitchers that were in their hands, (Jdg 7:20) and the three companies sounded with the horns, and broke the pitchers, and held the torches in their left hands, and in their right hands their horns to sound with; and they cried out, A sword for YHVH and for Gedeon.

(Jdg 7:21) And every man stood in his place round about the host; and all the host ran, and sounded an alarm, and fled.

(Jdg 7:22) And they sounded with the three hundred horns; and YHVH set every man's sword in all the host against his neighbour.

(Jdg 7:23) And the host fled as far as Bethseed Tagaragatha Abel-meula to Tabath; and the men of Israel from Nephthali, and from Aser, and from all Manasse, came to help, and followed after Madiam.

(Jdg 7:24) And Gedeon sent messengers into all mount Ephraim, saying, Come down to meet Madiam, and take to yourselves the water as far as Baethera and Jordan: and every man of Ephraim cried out, and they took the water before hand unto Baethera and Jordan.

(Jdg 7:25) And they took the princess of Madiam, even Oreb and Zeb; and they slew Oreb in Sur Oreb, and they slew Zeb in Jakephzeph; and they pursued Madiam, and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon from beyond Jordan.

(Jdg 8:1) And the men of Ephraim said to Gedeon, What is this that thou hast done to us, in that thou didst not call us when thou wentest to fight with Madiam? and they chode with him sharply.

(Jdg 8:2) And he said to them, What have I now done in comparison of you? is not the gleaning of Ephraim better than the vintage of Abiezer?

(Jdg 8:3) YHVH has delivered into your hand the princes of Madiam, Oreb and Zeb; and what could I do in comparison of you? Then was their spirit calmed toward him, when he spoke this word.

(Jdg 8:4) And Gedeon came to Jordan, and went over, himself and the three hundred with him, hungry, yet pursuing.

(Jdg 8:5) And he said to the men of Socchoth, Give, I pray you, bread to feed this people that follow me; because they are faint, and behold, I am following after Zebee and Salmana, kings of Madiam.

(Jdg 8:6) And the princes of Socchoth said, Are the hands of Zebee and Salmana now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy host?

(Jdg 8:7) And Gedeon said, Therefore when YHVH gives Zebee and Salmana into my hand, then will I tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness, and the Barkenim.

(Jdg 8:8) And he went up thence to Phanuel, and spoke to them likewise: and the men of Phanuel answered him as the men of Socchoth had answered him.

(Jdg 8:9) And Gedeon said to the men of Phanuel, When I return in peace, I will break down this tower.

(Jdg 8:10) And Zebee and Salmana were in Carcar, and their host was with them, about fifteen thousand, all that were left of all the host of the aliens; and they that fell were a hundred and twenty thousand men that drew the sword.

(Jdg 8:11) And Gedeon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents, eastward of Nabai and Jegebal; and he smote the host, and the host was secure.

(Jdg 8:12) And Zebee and Salmana fled; and he pursued after them, and took the two kings of Madiam, Zebee and Salmana, and discomfited all the army.

(Jdg 8:13) And Gedeon the son of Joas returned from the battle, down from the battle of Ares.

(Jdg 8:14) And he took prisoner a young lad of the men of Socchoth, and questioned him; and he wrote to him the names of the princes of Socchoth and of their elders, seventy-seven men.

(Jdg 8:15) And Gedeon came to the princes of Socchoth, and said, Behold Zebee and Salmana, about whom ye reproached me, saying, Are the hands of Zebee and Salmana now in thy hand, that we should give bread to thy men that are faint?

(Jdg 8:16) And he took the elders of the city with the thorns of the wilderness and the Barkenim, and with them he tore the men of the city.

(Jdg 8:17) And he overthrew the tower of Phanuel, and slew the men of the city.

(Jdg 8:18) And he said to Zebee and Salmana, Where are the men whom ye slew in Thabor? and they said, As thou, so were they, according to the likeness of the son of a king.

(Jdg 8:19) And Gedeon said, They were my brethren and the sons of my mother: as YHVH lives, if ye had preserved them alive, I would not have slain you.

(Jdg 8:20) And he said to Jether his first-born, Rise and slay them; but the lad drew not his sword, for he was afraid, for he was yet very young.

(Jdg 8:21) And Zebee and Salmana said, Rise thou and fall upon us, for thy power is as that of a man; and Gedeon arose, and slew Zebee and Salmana: and he took the round ornaments that were on the necks of their camels.

(Jdg 8:22) And the men of Israel said to Gedeon, Rule, my lord, over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son; for thou hast saved us out of the hand of Madiam.

(Jdg 8:23) And Gedeon said to them, I will not rule, and my son shall not rule among you; YHVH shall rule over you.

(Jdg 8:24) And Gedeon said to them, I will make a request of you, and do ye give me every man an earring out of his spoils: for they had golden earrings, for they were Ismaelites.

(Jdg 8:25) And they said, We will certainly give them: and he opened his garment, and each man cast therein an earring of his spoils.

(Jdg 8:26) And the weight of the golden earrings which he asked, was a thousand and seven hundred pieces of gold, besides the crescents, and the chains, and the garments, and the purple cloths that were on the kings of Madiam, and besides the chains that were on the necks of their camels.

(Jdg 8:27) And Gedeon made an ephod of it, and set it in his city in Ephratha; and all Israel went thither a whoring after it, and it became a stumbling-block to Gedeon and his house.

(Jdg 8:28) And Madiam, was straitened before the children of Israel, and they did not lift up their head any more; and the land had rest forty years in the days of Gedeon.

(Jdg 8:29) And Jerobaal the son of Joas went and sat in his house.

(Jdg 8:30) And Gedeon had seventy sons begotten of his body, for he had many wives.

(Jdg 8:31) And his concubine was in Sychem, and she also bore him a son, and gave him the name Abimelech.

(Jdg 8:32) And Gedeon son of Joas died in his city, and he was buried in the sepulchre of Joas his father in Ephratha of Abi-Esdri.

(Jdg 8:33) And it came to pass when Gedeon was dead, that the children of Israel turned, and went a whoring after Baalim, and made for themselves a covenant with Baal that he should be their god.

(Jdg 8:34) And the children of Israel remembered not YHVH their Elohim who had delivered them out of the hand of all that afflicted them round about.

(Jdg 8:35) And they did not deal mercifully with the house of Jerobaal, (the same is Gedeon) according to all the good which he did to Israel.

(Jdg 9:1) And Abimelech son of Jerobaal went to Sychem to his mother's brethren; and he spoke to them and to all the kindred of the house of his mother's father, saying, (Jdg 9:2) Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Sychem, saying, Which is better for you, that seventy men, even all the sons of Jerobaal, should reign over you, or that one man should reign over you? and remember that I am your bone and your flesh.

(Jdg 9:3) And his mother's brethren spoke concerning him in the ears of all the men of Sychem all these words; and their heart turned after Abimelech, for they said, He is our brother.

(Jdg 9:4) And they gave him seventy pieces of silver out of the house of Baalberith; and Abimelech hired for himself vain and cowardly men, and they went after him.

(Jdg 9:5) And he went to the house of his father to Ephratha, and slew his brethren the sons of Jerobaal, seventy men upon one stone; but Joatham the youngest son of Jerobaal was left, for he hid himself.

(Jdg 9:6) And all the men of Sicima, and all the house of Bethmaalo, were gathered together, and they went and made Abimelech king by the oak of Sedition, which was at Sicima.

(Jdg 9:7) And it was reported to Joatham, and he went and stood on the top of mount Garizin, and lifted up his voice, and wept, and said to them, Hear me, ye men of Sicima, and Elohim shall hear you.

(Jdg 9:8) The trees went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said to the olive, Reign over us.

(Jdg 9:9) But the olives said to them, Shall I leave my fatness, with which men shall glorify Elohim, and go to be promoted over the trees?

(Jdg 9:10) And the trees said to the fig-tree, Come, reign over us.

(Jdg 9:11) But the fig-tree said to them, Shall I leave my sweetness and my good fruits, and go to be promoted over the trees?

(Jdg 9:12) And the trees said to the vine, Come, reign over us.

(Jdg 9:13) And the vine said to them, Shall I leave my wine that cheers Elohim and men, and go to be promoted over the trees?

(Jdg 9:14) Then all the trees said to the bramble, Come thou and reign over us.

(Jdg 9:15) And the bramble said to the trees, If ye in truth anoint me to reign over you, come, stand under my shadow; and if not, let fire come out from me and devour the cedars of Libanus.

(Jdg 9:16) And now, if ye have done it in truth and integrity, and have made Abimelech king, and if ye have wrought well with Jerobaal, and with his house, and if ye have done to him according to the reward of his hand,

(Jdg 9:17) as my father fought for you, and put his life in jeopardy, and delivered you out of the hand of Madiam;

(Jdg 9:18) and ye are risen up this day against the house of my father, and have slain his sons, being seventy men, upon one stone, and have made Abimelech the son of his bondwoman king over the men of Sicima, because he is your brother:

(Jdg 9:19) if then ye have done truly and faithfully with Jerobaal, and with his house this day, rejoice ye in Abimelech, and let him also rejoice over you:

(Jdg 9:20) but if not, let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Sicima, and the house of Bethmaalo; and let fire come out from the men of Sicima and from the house of Bethmaalo, and devour Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:21) And Joatham fled, and ran away, and went as far as Baer, and dwelt there out of the way of his brother Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:22) And Abimelech reigned over Israel three years.

(Jdg 9:23) And Elohim sent an evil spirit between Abimelech and the men of Sicima; and the men of Sicima dealt treacherously with the house of Abimelech:

(Jdg 9:24) to bring the injury done to the seventy sons of Jerobaal, and to lay their blood upon their brother Abimelech, who slew them, and upon the men of Sicima, because they strengthened his hands to slay his brethren.

(Jdg 9:25) And the men of Sicima set liers in wait against him on the top of the mountains, and robbed every one who passed by them on the way; and it was reported to the king Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:26) And Gaal son of Jobel came, and his brethren, and passed by Sicima, and the men of Sicima trusted in him.

(Jdg 9:27) And they went out into the field, and gathered their grapes, and trod them, and made merry; and they brought the grapes into the house of their god, and ate and drank, and cursed Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:28) And Gaal the son of Jobel said, Who is Abimelech, and who is the son of Sychem, that we should serve him? Is he not the son of Jerobaal, and is not Zebul his steward, his servant with the son of Emmor the father of Sychem? and why should we serve him?

(Jdg 9:29) And would that this people were under my hand! then would I remove Abimelech, and I would say to him, Multiply thy host, and come out.

(Jdg 9:30) And Zebul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gaal the son of Jobel, and he was very angry.

(Jdg 9:31) And he sent messengers to Abimelech secretly, saying, Behold, Gaal the son of Jobel and his brethren are come to Sychem; and behold, they have besieged the city against thee.

(Jdg 9:32) And now rise up by night, thou and the people with thee, and lay wait in the field.

(Jdg 9:33) And it shall come to pass in the morning at sunrising, thou shalt rise up early and draw toward the city; and behold, he and the people with him will come forth against thee, and thou shalt do to him according to thy power.

(Jdg 9:34) And Abimelech and all the people with him rose up by night, and formed an ambuscade against Sychem in four companies.

(Jdg 9:35) And Gaal the son of Jobel went forth, and stood by the door of the gate of the city: and Abimelech and the people with him rose up from the ambuscade.

(Jdg 9:36) And Gaal the son of Jobel saw the people, and said to Zebul, Behold, a people comes down from the top of the mountains: and Zebul said to him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as men.

(Jdg 9:37) And Gaal continued to speak and said, Behold, a people comes down westward from the part bordering on the middle of the land, and another company comes by the way of Helon Maonenim.

(Jdg 9:38) And Zebul said to him, And where is thy mouth as thou spakest, Who is Abimelech that we should serve him? Is not this the people whom thou despisedst? go forth now, and set the battle in array against him.

(Jdg 9:39) And Gaal went forth before the men of Sychem, and set the battle in array against Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:40) And Abimelech pursued him, and he fled from before him; and many fell down slain as far as the door of the gate.

(Jdg 9:41) And Abimelech entered into Arema, and Zebul cast out Gaal and his brethren, so that they should not dwell in Sychem.

(Jdg 9:42) And it came to pass on the second day that the people went out into the field, and one brought word to Abimelech.

(Jdg 9:43) And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and formed an ambush in the field; and he looked, and, behold, the people went forth out of the city, and he rose up against them, and smote them.

(Jdg 9:44) And Abimelech and the chiefs of companies that were with him rushed forward, and stood by the door of the gate of the city; and the two other companies rushed forward upon all that were in the field, and smote them.

(Jdg 9:45) And Abimelech fought against the city all that day, and took the city, and slew the people that were in it, and destroyed the city, and sowed it with salt.

(Jdg 9:46) And all the men of the tower of Sychem heard, and came to the gathering of Baethel-berith.

(Jdg 9:47) And it was reported to Abimelech, that all the men of the tower of Sychem were gathered together.

(Jdg 9:48) And Abimelech went up to the mount of Selmon, and all the people that were with him; and Abimelech took an axe in his hand, and cut down a branch of a tree, and took it, and laid it on his shoulders; and said to the people that were with him, What ye see me doing, do quickly as I.

(Jdg 9:49) And they cut down likewise even every man a branch, and went after Abimelech, and laid them against the place of gathering, and burnt the place of gathering over them with fire; and they died, even all the men of the tower of Sicima, about a thousand men and women.

(Jdg 9:50) And Abimelech went out of Baethel-berith, and encamped against Thebes, and took it.

(Jdg 9:51) And there was a strong tower in the midst of the city; and thither all the men and the women of the city fled, and shut the door without them, and went up on the roof of the tower.

(Jdg 9:52) And Abimelech drew near to the tower, and they besieged it; and Abimelech drew near to the door of the tower to burn it with fire.

(Jdg 9:53) And a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon the head of Abimelech, and broke his skull.

(Jdg 9:54) And he cried out quickly to the young man his armour-bearer, and said to him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, lest at any time they should say, A woman slew him: and his young man thrust him through and he died.

(Jdg 9:55) And the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead; and they went each to his place.

(Jdg 9:56) So Elohim requited the wickedness of Abimelech, which he wrought against his father, in slaying his seventy brethren.

(Jdg 9:57) And all the wickedness of the men of Sychem Elohim requited upon their head; and the curse of Joatham the son of Jerobaal came upon them.

(Jdg 10:1) And after Abimelech Thola the son of Phua rose up to save Israel, being the son of his father's brother, a man of Issachar; and he dwelt in Samir in mount Ephraim.

(Jdg 10:2) And he judged Israel twenty-three years, and died, and was buried in Samir.

(Jdg 10:3) And after him arose Jair of Galaad, and he judged Israel twenty-two years.

(Jdg 10:4) And he had thirty-two sons riding on thirty-two colts, and they had thirty-two cities; and they called them Jair's towns until this day in the land of Galaad.

(Jdg 10:5) And Jair died, and was buried in Rhamnon.

(Jdg 10:6) And the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of YHVH, and served Baalim, and Astaroth, and the gods of Aram, and the gods of Sidon, and the gods of Moab, and the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Phylistines; and they forsook YHVH, and did not serve him.

(Jdg 10:7) And YHVH was very angry with Israel, and sold them into the hands of the Phylistines, and into the hand of the children of Ammon.

(Jdg 10:8) And they afflicted and bruised the children of Israel at that time eighteen years, all the children of Israel beyond Jordan in the land of the Amorite in Galaad.

(Jdg 10:9) And the children of Ammon went over Jordan to fight with Juda, and Benjamin, and with Ephraim; and the children of Israel were greatly afflicted.

(Jdg 10:10) And the children of Israel cried to YHVH, saying, We have sinned against thee, because we have forsaken Elohim, and served Baalim.

(Jdg 10:11) And YHVH said to the children of Israel, Did I not save you from Egypt and from the Amorite, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, (Jdg 10:12) and from the Sidonians, and Amalec, and Madiam, who afflicted you? and ye cried to me, and I saved you out of their hand?

(Jdg 10:13) Yet ye forsook me and served other gods; therefore I will not save you any more.

(Jdg 10:14) Go, and cry to the gods whom ye have chosen to yourselves, and let them save you in the time of your affliction.

(Jdg 10:15) And the children of Israel said to YHVH, We have sinned: do thou to us according to all that is good in thine eyes; only deliver us this day.

(Jdg 10:16) And they put away the strange gods from the midst of them, and served YHVH only, and his soul was pained for the trouble of Israel.

(Jdg 10:17) And the children of Ammon went up, and encamped in Galaad; and the children of Israel were gathered together and encamped on the hill.

(Jdg 10:18) And the people the princes of Galaad said every man to his neighbour, Who is he that shall begin to fight against the children of Ammon? he shall even be head over all that dwell in Galaad.

(Jdg 11:1) And Jephthae the Galaadite was a mighty man; and he was the son of a harlot, who bore Jephthae to Galaad.

(Jdg 11:2) And the wife of Galaad bore him sons; and the sons of his wife grew up, and they cast out Jephthae, and said to him, Thou shalt not inherit in the house of our father, for thou art the son of a concubine.

(Jdg 11:3) And Jephthae fled from the face of his brethren, and dwelt in the land of Tob; and vain men gathered to Jephthae, and went out with him.

(Jdg 11:4) And it came to pass when the children of Ammon prepared to fight with Israel, (Jdg 11:5) that the elders of Galaad went to fetch Jephthae from the land of Tob.

(Jdg 11:6) And they said to Jephthae, Come, and be our head, and we will fight with the sons of Ammon.

(Jdg 11:7) And Jephthae said to the elders of Galaad, Did ye not hate me, and cast me out of my father's house, and banish me from you? and wherefore are ye come to me now when ye want me?

(Jdg 11:8) And the elders of Galaad said to Jephthae, Therefore have we now turned to thee, that thou shouldst go with us, and fight against the sons of Ammon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Galaad.

(Jdg 11:9) And Jephthae said to the elders of Galaad, If ye turn me back to fight with the children of Ammon, and YHVH should deliver them before me, then will I be your head.

(Jdg 11:10) And the elders of Galaad said to Jephthae, YHVH be witness between us, if we shall not do according to thy word.

(Jdg 11:11) And Jephthae went with the elders of Galaad, and the people made him head and ruler over them: and Jephthae spoke all his words before YHVH in Massepha.

(Jdg 11:12) And Jephthae sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What have I to do with thee, that thou hast come against me to fight in my land?

(Jdg 11:13) And the king of the children of Ammon said to the messengers of Jephthae, Because Israel took my land when he went up out of Egypt, from Arnon to Jaboc, and to Jordan: now then return them peaceably and I will depart.

(Jdg 11:14) And Jephthae again sent messengers to the king of the children of Ammon,

(Jdg 11:15) and said to him, Thus says Jephthae, Israel took not the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon;

(Jdg 11:16) for in their going up out of Egypt Israel went in the wilderness as far as the sea of Siph, and came to Cades.

(Jdg 11:17) And Israel sent messengers to the king of Edom, saying, I will pass, if it please thee, by thy land: and the king of Edom complied not: and Israel also sent to the king of Moab, and he did not consent; and Israel sojourned in Cades.

(Jdg 11:18) And they journeyed in the wilderness, and compassed the land of Edom and the land of Moab: and they came by the east of the land of Moab, an encamped in the country beyond Arnon, and came not within the borders of Moab, for Arnon is the border of Moab.

(Jdg 11:19) And Israel sent messengers to Seon king of the Amorite, king of Esbon, and Israel said to him, Let us pass, we pray thee, by thy land to our place.

(Jdg 11:20) And Seon did not trust Israel to pass by his coast; and Seon gathered all his people, and they encamped at Jasa; and he set the battle in array against Israel.

(Jdg 11:21) And YHVH Elohim of Israel delivered Seon and all his people into the hand of Israel, and they smote him; and Israel inherited all the land of the Amorite who dwelt in that land, (Jdg 11:22) from Arnon and to Jaboc, and from the wilderness to Jordan.

(Jdg 11:23) And now YHVH Elohim of Israel has removed the Amorite from before his people Israel, and shalt thou inherit his land?

(Jdg 11:24) Wilt thou not inherit those possessions which Chamos thy god shall cause thee to inherit; and shall not we inherit the land of all those whom YHVH our Elohim has removed from before you?

(Jdg 11:25) And now art thou any better than Balac son of Sepphor, king of Moab? did he indeed fight with Israel, or indeed make war with him, (Jdg 11:26) when Israel dwelt in Esebon and in its coasts, and in the land of Aroer and in its coasts, and in all the cities by Jordan, three hundred years? and wherefore didst thou not recover them in that time?

(Jdg 11:27) And now I have not sinned against thee, but thou wrongest me in preparing war against me: may YHVH the Judge judge this day between the children of Israel and the children of Ammon.

(Jdg 11:28) But the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not to the words of Jephthae, which he sent to him.

(Jdg 11:29) And the spirit of YHVH came upon Jephthae, and he passed over Galaad, and Manasse, and passed by the watch-tower of Galaad to the other side of the children of Ammon.

(Jdg 11:30) And Jephthae vowed a vow to YHVH, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver the children of Ammon into my hand, (Jdg 11:31) then it shall come to pass that whosoever shall first come out of the door of my house to meet me when I return in peace from the children of Ammon, he shall be YHVH's: I will offer him up for a whole-burnt-offering.

(Jdg 11:32) And Jephthae advanced to meet the sons of Ammon to fight against them; and YHVH delivered them into his hand.

(Jdg 11:33) And he smote them from Aroer till one comes to Arnon, in number twenty cities, and as far as Ebelcharmim, with a very great destruction: and the children of Ammon were straitened before the children of Israel.

(Jdg 11:34) And Jephthae came to Massepha to his house; and behold, his daughter came forth to meet him with timbrels and dances; and she was his only child, he had not another son or daughter.

(Jdg 11:35) And it came to pass when he saw her, that he rent his garments, and said, Ah, ah, my daughter, thou hast indeed troubled me, and thou wast the cause of my trouble; and I have opened my mouth against thee to YHVH, and I shall not be able to return from it.

(Jdg 11:36) And she said to him, Father, hast thou opened thy mouth to YHVH? Do to me accordingly as the word went out of thy mouth, in that YHVH has wrought vengeance for thee on thine enemies of the children of Ammon.

(Jdg 11:37) And she said to her father, Let my father now do this thing: let me alone for two months, and I will go up and down on the mountains, and I will bewail my virginity, I and my companions.

(Jdg 11:38) And he said, Go: and he sent her away for two months; and she went, and her companions, and she bewailed her virginity on the mountains.

(Jdg 11:39) And it came to pass at the end of the two months that she returned to her father; and he performed upon her his vow which he vowed; and she knew no man:

(Jdg 11:40) and it was an ordinance in Israel, That the daughters of Israel went from year to year to bewail the daughter of Jephthae the Galaadite for four days in a year.

(Jdg 12:1) And the men of Ephraim assembled themselves, and passed on to the north, and said to Jephthae, Wherefore didst thou go over to fight with the children of Ammon, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn thy house over thee with fire.

(Jdg 12:2) And Jephthae said to them, I and my people and the children of Ammon were very much engaged in war; and I called for you, and ye did not save me out of their hand.

(Jdg 12:3) And I saw that thou wert no helper, and I put my life in my hand, and passed on to the sons of Ammon; and YHVH delivered them into my hand: and wherefore are ye come up against me this day to fight with me?

(Jdg 12:4) And Jephthae gathered all the men of Galaad, and fought with Ephraim; and the men of Galaad smote Ephraim, because they that were escaped of Ephraim said, Ye are of Galaad in the midst of Ephraim and in the midst of Manasse.

(Jdg 12:5) And Galaad took the fords of Jordan before Ephraim; and they that escaped of Ephraim said to them, Let us go over: and the men of Galaad said, Art thou an Ephrathite? and he said, No.

(Jdg 12:6) Then they said to him, Say now Stachys; and he did not rightly pronounce it so: and they took him, and slew him at the fords of Jordan; and there fell at that time of Ephraim two and forty thousand.

(Jdg 12:7) And Jephthae judged Israel six years; and Jephthae the Galaadite died, and was buried in his city Galaad.

(Jdg 12:8) And after him Abaissan of Bethleem judged Israel.

(Jdg 12:9) And he had thirty sons, and thirty daughters, whom he sent forth; and he brought in thirty daughters for his sons from without; and he judged Israel seven years.

(Jdg 12:10) And Abaissan died, and was buried in Bethleem.

(Jdg 12:11) And after him Ælom of Zabulon judged Israel ten years.

(Jdg 12:12) And Ælom of Zabulon died, and was buried in Ælom in the land of Zabulon.

(Jdg 12:13) And after him Abdon the son of Ellel, the Pharathonite, judged Israel.

(Jdg 12:14) And he had forty sons, and thirty grandsons, that rode upon seventy colts: and he judged Israel eight years.

(Jdg 12:15) And Abdon the son of Ellel, the Pharathonite, died, and was buried in Pharathon in the land of Ephraim in the mount of Amalec.

(Jdg 13:1) And the children of Israel yet again committed iniquity before YHVH; and YHVH delivered them into the hand of the Phylistines forty years.

(Jdg 13:2) And there was a man of Saraa, of the family of the kindred of Dan, and his name was Manoe, and his wife was barren, and bore not.

(Jdg 13:3) And an angel of YHVH appeared to the woman, and said to her, Behold, thou art barren and hast not born; yet thou shalt conceive a son.

(Jdg 13:4) And now be very cautious, and drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing;

(Jdg 13:5) for behold, thou art with child, and shalt bring forth a son; and there shall come no razor upon his head, for the child shall be a Nazarite to Elohim from the womb; and he shall begin to save Israel from the hand of the Phylistines.

(Jdg 13:6) And the woman went in, and spoke to her husband, saying, A man of Elohim came to me, and his appearance was as of an angel of Elohim, very dreadful; and I did not ask him whence he was, and he did not tell me his name.

(Jdg 13:7) And he said to me, Behold, thou art with child, and shalt bring forth a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat no unclean thing; for the child shall be holy to Elohim from the womb until the day of his death.

(Jdg 13:8) And Manoe prayed to YHVH and said, I pray thee, YHVH my lord, concerning the man of Elohim whom thou sentest; let him now come to us once more, and teach us what we shall do to the child about to be born.

(Jdg 13:9) And YHVH heard the voice of Manoe, and the angel of Elohim came yet again to the woman; and she sat in the field, and Manoe her husband was not with her.

(Jdg 13:10) And the woman hasted, and ran, and brought word to her husband, and said to him, Behold the man who came in the other day to me has appeared to me.

(Jdg 13:11) And Manoe arose and followed his wife, and came to the man, and said to him, Art thou the man that spoke to the woman? and the angel said, I am.

(Jdg 13:12) And Manoe said, Now shall thy word come to pass: what shall be the ordering of the child, and our dealings with him?

(Jdg 13:13) And the angel of YHVH said to Manoe, Of all things concerning which I spoke to the woman, she shall beware.

(Jdg 13:14) She shall eat of nothing that comes of the vine yielding wine, and let her not drink wine or strong liquor, and let her not eat anything unclean: all things that I have charged her she shall observe.

(Jdg 13:15) And Manoe said to the angel of YHVH, Let us detain thee here, and prepare before thee a kid of the goats.

(Jdg 13:16) And the angel of YHVH said to Manoe, If thou shouldest detain me, I will not eat of thy bread; and if thou wouldest offer a whole-burnt-offering, to YHVH thou shalt offer it: for Manoe knew not that he was an angel of YHVH.

(Jdg 13:17) And Manoe said to the angel of YHVH, What is thy name, that when thy word shall come to pass, we may glorify thee?

(Jdg 13:18) And the angel of YHVH said to him, Why dost thou thus ask after my name; whereas it is wonderful?

(Jdg 13:19) And Manoe took a kid of the goats and its meat-offering, and offered it on the rock to YHVH; and the angel wrought a distinct work, and Manoe and his wife were looking on.

(Jdg 13:20) And it came to pass when the flame went up above the altar toward heaven, that the angel of YHVH went up in the flame; and Manoe and his wife were looking, and they fell upon their face to the earth.

(Jdg 13:21) And the angel appeared no more to Manoe and to his wife: then Manoe knew that this was an angel of YHVH.

(Jdg 13:22) And Manoe said to his wife, We shall surely die, because we have seen Elohim.

(Jdg 13:23) But his wife said to him, If YHVH were pleased to slay us, he would not have received of our hand a whole-burnt-offering and a meat-offering; and he would not have shewn us all these things, neither would he have caused us to hear all these things as at this time.

(Jdg 13:24) And the woman brought forth a son, and she called his name Sampson; and the child grew, and YHVH blessed him.

(Jdg 13:25) And the Spirit of YHVH began to go out with him in the camp of Dan, and between Saraa and Esthaol.

(Jdg 14:1) And Sampson went down to Thamnatha, and saw a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the Philistines.

(Jdg 14:2) And he went up and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the Philistines; and now take her to me for a wife.

(Jdg 14:3) And his father and his mother said to him, Are there no daughters of thy brethren, and is there not a woman of all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines? And Sampson said to his father, Take her for me, for she is right in my eyes.

(Jdg 14:4) And his father and his mother knew not that it was of YHVH, that he sought to be revenged on the Philistines: and at that time the Philistines lorded it over Israel.

(Jdg 14:5) And Sampson and his father and his mother went down to Thamnatha, and he came to the vineyard of Thamnatha; and behold, a young lion roared in meeting him.

(Jdg 14:6) And the spirit of YHVH came powerfully upon him, and he crushed him as he would have crushed a kid of the goats, and there was nothing in his hands: and he told not his father and his mother what he had done.

(Jdg 14:7) And they went down and spoke to the woman, and she was pleasing in the eyes of Sampson.

(Jdg 14:8) And after some time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcase of the lion; and behold, a swarm of bees, and honey were in the mouth of the lion.

(Jdg 14:9) And he took it into his hands, and went on eating, and he went to his father and his mother, and gave to them, and they did eat; but he told them not that he took the honey out of the mouth of the lion.

(Jdg 14:10) And his father went down to the woman, and Sampson made there a banquet for seven days, for so the young men are used to do.

(Jdg 14:11) And it came to pass when they saw him, that they took thirty guests, and they were with him.

(Jdg 14:12) And Sampson said to them, I propound you a riddle: if ye will indeed tell it me, and discover it within the seven days of the feast, I will you give thirty sheets and thirty changes of raiment.

(Jdg 14:13) And if ye cannot tell it me, ye shall give me thirty napkins and thirty changes of apparel: and they said to him, Propound thy riddle, and we will hear it.

(Jdg 14:14) And he said to them, Meat came forth of the eater, and sweetness out of the strong: and they could not tell the riddle for three days.

(Jdg 14:15) And it came to pass on the fourth day, that they said to the wife of Sampson, Deceive now thy husband, and let him tell thee the riddle, lest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: did ye invite us to do us violence?

(Jdg 14:16) And Sampson's wife wept before him, and said, Thou dost but hate me, and lovest me not; for the riddle which thou hast propounded to the children of my people thou hast not told me: and Sampson said to her, If I have not told it to my father and my mother, shall I tell it to thee?

(Jdg 14:17) And she wept before him the seven days, during which their banquet lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she troubled him; and she told it to the children of her people.

(Jdg 14:18) And the men of the city said to him on the seventh day, before sunrise, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? and Sampson said to them, If ye had not ploughed with my heifer, ye would not have known my riddle.

(Jdg 14:19) And the Spirit of YHVH came upon him powerfully, and he went down to Ascalon, and destroyed of the inhabitants thirty men, and took their garments, and gave the changes of raiment to them that told the riddle; and Sampson was very angry, and went up to the house of his father.

(Jdg 14:20) And the wife of Sampson was given to one of his friends, with whom he was on terms of friendship.

(Jdg 15:1) And it came to pass after a time, in the days of wheat harvest, that Sampson visited his wife with a kid, and said, I will go in to my wife even into the chamber: but her father did not suffer him to go in.

(Jdg 15:2) And her father spoke, saying, I said that thou didst surely hate her, and I gave her to one of thy friends: is not her younger sister better than she? let her be to thee instead of her.

(Jdg 15:3) And Sampson said to them, Even for once am I guiltless with regard to the Philistines, in that I do mischief among them.

(Jdg 15:4) And Sampson went and caught three hundred foxes, and took torches, and turned tail to tail, and put a torch between two tails, and fastened it.

(Jdg 15:5) And he set fire to the torches, and sent the foxes into the corn of the Philistines; and every thing was burnt from the threshing floor to the standing corn, and even to the vineyard and olives.

(Jdg 15:6) And the Philistines said, Who has done these things? and they said, Sampson the son-in-law of the Thamnite, because he has taken his wife, and given her to one of his friends; and the Philistines went up, and burnt her and her father's house with fire.

(Jdg 15:7) And Sampson said to them, Though ye may have dealt thus with her, verily I will be avenged of you, and afterwards I will cease.

(Jdg 15:8) And he smote them leg on thigh with a great overthrow; and went down and dwelt in a cave of the rock Etam.

(Jdg 15:9) And the Philistines went up, and encamped in Juda, and spread themselves abroad in Lechi.

(Jdg 15:10) And the men of Juda said, Why are ye come up against us? and the Philistines said, We are come up to bind Sampson, and to do to him as he has done to us.

(Jdg 15:11) And the three thousand men of Juda went down to the hole of the rock Etam, and they said to Sampson, Knowest thou not that the Philistines rule over us? and what is this that thou hast done to us? and Sampson said to them, As they did to me, so have I done to them.

(Jdg 15:12) And they said to him, We are come down to bind thee to deliver thee into the hand of the Philistines: and Sampson said to them, Swear to me that ye will not fall upon me yourselves.

(Jdg 15:13) And they spoke to him, saying, Nay, but we will only bind thee fast, and deliver thee into their hand, and will by no means slay thee: and they bound him with two new ropes, and brought him from that rock.

(Jdg 15:14) And they came to Lechi: and the Philistines shouted, and ran to meet him: and the Spirit of YHVH came mightily upon him, and the ropes that were upon his arms became as tow which is burnt with fire; and his bonds were consumed from off his hands.

(Jdg 15:15) And he found the jaw-bone of an ass that had been cast away, and he put forth his hand and took it, and smote with it a thousand men.

(Jdg 15:16) And Sampson said, With the jaw-bone of an ass I have utterly destroyed them, for with the jaw-bone of an ass I have smitten a thousand men.

(Jdg 15:17) And it came to pass when he ceased speaking, that he cast the jaw-bone out of his hand; and he called that place the Lifting of the jaw-bone.

(Jdg 15:18) And he was very thirsty, and wept before YHVH, and said, Thou hast been well pleased to grant this great deliverance by the hand of thy servant, and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?

(Jdg 15:19) And Elohim broke open a hollow place in the jaw, and there came thence water, and he drank; and his spirit returned and he revived: therefore the name of the fountain was called 'The well of the invoker,' which is in Lechi, until this day.

(Jdg 15:20) And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years.

(Jdg 16:1) And Sampson went to Gaza, and saw there a harlot, and went in to her.

(Jdg 16:2) And it was reported to the Gazites, saying, Sampson is come hither: and they compassed him and laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and they were quiet all the night, saying, Let us wait till the dawn appear, and we will slay him.

(Jdg 16:3) And Sampson slept till midnight, and rose up at midnight, and took hold of the doors of the gate of the city with the two posts, and lifted them up with the bar, and laid them on his shoulders, and he went up to the top of the mountain that is before Chebron, and laid them there.

(Jdg 16:4) And it came to pass after this that he loved a woman in Alsorech, and her name was Dalida.

(Jdg 16:5) And the princess of the Philistines came up to her, and said to her, Beguile him, and see wherein his great strength is, and wherewith we shall prevail against him, and bind him to humble him; and we will give thee each eleven hundred pieces of silver.

(Jdg 16:6) And Dalida said to Sampson, Tell me, I pray thee, wherein is thy great strength, and wherewith thou shalt be bound that thou mayest be humbled.

(Jdg 16:7) And Sampson said to her, If they bind me with seven moist cords that have not been spoiled, then shall I be weak and be as one of ordinary men.

(Jdg 16:8) And the princess of the Philistines brought to her seven moist cords that had not been spoiled, and she bound him with them.

(Jdg 16:9) And the liers in wait remained with her in the chamber; and she said to him, the Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he broke the cords as if any one should break a thread of tow when it has touched the fire, and his strength was not known.

(Jdg 16:10) And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast cheated me, and told me lies; now then tell me wherewith thou shalt be bound.

(Jdg 16:11) And he said to her, If they should bind me fast with new ropes with which work has not been done, then shall I be weak, and shall be as another man.

(Jdg 16:12) And Dalida took new ropes, and bound him with them, and the liers in wait came out of the chamber, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he broke them off his arms like a thread.

(Jdg 16:13) And Dalida said to Sampson, Behold, thou hast deceived me, and told me lies; tell me, I intreat thee, wherewith thou mayest be bound: and he said to her, If thou shouldst weave the seven locks of my head with the web, and shouldst fasten them with the pin into the wall, then shall I be weak as another man.

(Jdg 16:14) And it came to pass when he was asleep, that Dalida took the seven locks of his head, and wove them with the web, and fastened them with the pin into the wall, and she said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he awoke out of his sleep, and carried away the pin of the web out of the wall.

(Jdg 16:15) And Dalida said to Sampson, How sayest thou, I love thee, when thy heart is not with me? this third time thou hast deceived me, and hast not told me wherein is thy great strength.

(Jdg 16:16) And it came to pass as she pressed him sore with her words continually, and straitened him, that his spirit failed almost to death.

(Jdg 16:17) Then he told her all his heart, and said to her, A razor has not come upon my head, because I have been a holy one of Elohim from my mother's womb; if then I should be shaven, my strength will depart from me, and I shall be weak, and I shall be as all other men.

(Jdg 16:18) And Dalida saw that he told her all his heart, and she sent and called the princess of the Philistines, saying, Come up yet this once; for he has told me all his heart. And the chiefs of the Philistines went up to her, and brought the money in their hands.

(Jdg 16:19) And Dalida made Sampson sleep upon her knees; and she called a man, and he shaved the seven locks of his head, and she began to humble him, and his strength departed from him.

(Jdg 16:20) And Dalida said, The Philistines are upon thee, Sampson: and he awoke out of his sleep and said, I will go out as at former times, and shake myself; and he knew not that YHVH was departed from him.

(Jdg 16:21) And the Philistines took him, and put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gaza, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he ground in the prison-house.

(Jdg 16:22) And the hair of his head began to grow as before it was shaven.

(Jdg 16:23) And the chiefs of the Philistines met to offer a great sacrifice to their god Dagon, and to make merry; and they said, Elohim has given into our hand our enemy Sampson.

(Jdg 16:24) And the people saw him, and sang praises to their god; for our god, said they, has delivered into our hand our enemy, who wasted our land, and who multiplied our slain.

(Jdg 16:25) And when their heart was merry, then they said, Call Sampson out of the prison-house, and let him play before us: and they called Sampson out of the prison-house, and he played before them; and they smote him with the palms of their hands, and set him between the pillars.

(Jdg 16:26) And Sampson said to the young man that held his hand, Suffer me to feel the pillars on which the house rests, and I will stay myself upon them.

(Jdg 16:27) And the house was full of men and woman, and there were all the chiefs of the Philistines, and on the roof were about three thousand men and woman looking at the sports of Sampson.

(Jdg 16:28) And Sampson wept before YHVH, and said, YHVH, my lord, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, O Elohim, yet this once, and I will requite one recompense to the Philistines for my two eyes.

(Jdg 16:29) And Sampson took hold of the two pillars of the house on which the house stood, and leaned on them, and laid hold of one with his right hand, and the other with his left.

(Jdg 16:30) And Sampson said, Let my wife perish with the Philistines: and he bowed himself mightily; and the house fell upon the princes, and upon all the people that were in it: and the dead whom Sampson slew in his death were more than those whom he slew in his life.

(Jdg 16:31) And his brethren and his father's house went down, and they took him; and they went up and buried him between Saraa and Esthaol in the sepulchre of his father Manoe; and he judged Israel twenty years.

(Jdg 17:1) And there was a man of mount Ephraim, and his name was Michaias.

(Jdg 17:2) And he said to his mother, The eleven hundred pieces of silver which thou tookest of thyself, and about which thou cursedst me, and spokest in my ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it: and his mother said, Blessed be my son of YHVH.

(Jdg 17:3) And he restored the eleven hundred pieces of silver to his mother; and his mother said, I had wholly consecrated the money to YHVH out of my hand for my son, to make a graven and a molten image, and now I will restore it to thee.

(Jdg 17:4) But he returned the silver to his mother, and his mother took two hundred pieces of silver, and gave them to a silversmith, and he made it a graven and a molten image; and it was in the house of Michaias.

(Jdg 17:5) And the house of Michaias was to him the house of Elohim, and he made an ephod and theraphin, and he consecrated one of his sons, and he became to him a priest.

(Jdg 17:6) And in those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

(Jdg 17:7) And there was a young man in Bethlehem of the tribe of Juda, and he was a Levite, and he was sojourning there.

(Jdg 17:8) And the man departed from Bethlehem the city of Juda to sojourn in whatever place he might find; and he came as far as mount Ephraim, and to the house of Michaias to accomplish his journey.

(Jdg 17:9) And Michaias said to him, Whence comest thou? and he said to him, I am a Levite of Bethlehem Juda, and I go to sojourn in any place I may find.

(Jdg 17:10) And Michaias said to him, Dwell with me, and be to me a father and a priest; and I will give thee ten pieces of silver by the year, and a change of raiment, and thy living.

(Jdg 17:11) And the Levite went and began to dwell with the man; and the young man was to him as one of his sons.

(Jdg 17:12) And Michaias consecrated the Levite, and he became to him a priest, and he was in the house of Michaias.

(Jdg 17:13) And Michaias said, Now I know that YHVH will do me good, because a Levite has become my priest.

(Jdg 18:1) In those days there was no king in Israel; and in those days the tribe of Dan sought for itself an inheritance to inhabit, because no inheritance had fallen to it until that day in the midst of the tribes of the children of Israel.

(Jdg 18:2) And the sons of Dan sent from their families five men of valour, from Saraa and from Esthaol, to spy out the land and to search it; and they said to them, Go and search out the land. And they came as far as the mount of Ephraim to the house of Michaias and they lodged there, (Jdg 18:3) in the house of Michaias, and they recognised the voice of the young man the Levite, and turned in thither; and said to him, Who brought thee in hither? and what doest thou in this place? and what hast thou here?

(Jdg 18:4) And he said to them, Thus and thus did Michaias to me, and he hired me, and I became his priest.

(Jdg 18:5) And they said to him, Enquire now of Elohim, and we shall know whether our way will prosper, on which we are going.

(Jdg 18:6) And the priest said to them, Go in peace; your way in which ye go, is before YHVH.

(Jdg 18:7) And the five men went on, and came to Laisa; and they saw the people in the midst of it dwelling securely, at ease as is the manner of the Sidonians, and there is no one perverting or shaming a matter in the land, no heir extorting treasures; and they are far from the Sidonians, and they have no intercourse with any one.

(Jdg 18:8) And the five men came to their brethren to Saraa and Esthaol, and said to their brethren, Why sit ye here idle?

(Jdg 18:9) And they said, Arise, and let us go up against them, for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good, yet ye are still: delay not to go, and to enter in to possess the land.

(Jdg 18:10) And whensoever ye shall go, ye shall come in upon a people secure, and the land is extensive, for Elohim has given it into your hand; a place where there is no want of anything that the earth affords.

(Jdg 18:11) And there departed thence of the families of Dan, from Saraa and from Esthaol, six hundred men, girded with weapons of war.

(Jdg 18:12) And they went up, and encamped in Cariathiarim in Juda; therefore it was called in that place the camp of Dan, until this day: behold, it is behind Cariathiarim.

(Jdg 18:13) And they went on thence to the mount of Ephraim, and came to the house of Michaias.

(Jdg 18:14) And the five men who went to spy out the land of Laisa answered, and said to their brethren, Ye know that there is in this place an ephod, and theraphin, and a graven and a molten image; and now consider what ye shall do.

(Jdg 18:15) And they turned aside there, and went into the house of the young man, the Levite, even into the house of Michaias, and asked him how he was.

(Jdg 18:16) And the six hundred men of the sons of Dan who were girded with their weapons of war stood by the door of the gate.

(Jdg 18:17) And the five men who went to spy out the land went up, and entered into the house of Michaias, and the priest stood.

(Jdg 18:18) And they took the graven image, and the ephod, and the theraphin, and the molten image; and the priest said to them, What are ye doing?

(Jdg 18:19) And they said to him, Be silent, lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and come with us, and be to us a father and a priest: is it better for thee to be the priest of the house of one man, or to be the priest of a tribe and house for a family of Israel?

(Jdg 18:20) And the heart of the priest was glad, and he took the ephod, and the theraphin, and the graven image, and the molten image, and went in the midst of the people.

(Jdg 18:21) So they turned and departed, and put their children and their property and their baggage before them.

(Jdg 18:22) They went some distance from the house of Michaias, and, behold, Michaias and the men in the houses near Michaias' house, cried out, and overtook the children of Dan.

(Jdg 18:23) And the children of Dan turned their face, and said to Michaias, What is the matter with thee that thou hast cried out?

(Jdg 18:24) And Michaias said, Because ye have taken my graven image which I made, and my priest, and are gone; and what have I remaining? and what is this that ye say to me, Why criest thou?

(Jdg 18:25) And the children of Dan said to him, Let not thy voice be heard with us, lest angry men run upon thee, and take away thy life, and the lives of thy house.

(Jdg 18:26) And the children of Dan went their way; and Michaias saw that they were stronger than himself, and he returned to his house.

(Jdg 18:27) And the children of Dan took what Michaias had made, and the priest that he had, and they came to Laisa, to a people quiet and secure; and they smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire.

(Jdg 18:28) And there was no deliverer, because the city is far from the Sidonians, and they have no intercourse with men, and it is in the valley of the house of Raab; and they built the city, and dwelt in it.

(Jdg 18:29) And they called the name of the city Dan, after the name of Dan their father, who was born to Israel; and the name of the city was Ulamais before.

(Jdg 18:30) And the children of Dan set up the graven image for themselves; and Jonathan son of Gerson son of Manasse, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dan till the time of the carrying away of the nation.

(Jdg 18:31) And they set up for themselves the graven image which Michaias made, all the days that the house of Elohim was in Selom; and it was so in those days that there was no king in Israel.

(Jdg 19:1) And there was a Levite sojourning in the sides of mount Ephraim, and he took to himself a concubine from Bethleem Juda.

(Jdg 19:2) And his concubine departed from him, and went away from him to the house of her father to Bethleem Juda, and she was there four months.

(Jdg 19:3) And her husband rose up, and went after her to speak kindly to her, to recover her to himself; and he had his young man with him, and a pair of asses; and she brought him into the house of her father; and the father of the damsel saw him, and was well pleased to meet him.

(Jdg 19:4) And his father-in-law, the father of the damsel, constrained him, and he stayed with him for three days; and they ate and drank, and lodged there.

(Jdg 19:5) And it came to pass on the fourth day that they rose early, and he stood up to depart; and the father of the damsel said to his son-in-law, Strengthen thy heart with a morsel of bread, and afterwards ye shall go.

(Jdg 19:6) So they two sat down together and ate and drank: and the father of the damsel said to her husband, Tarry now the night, and let thy heart be merry.

(Jdg 19:7) And the man rose up to depart; but his father-in-law constrained him, and he stayed and lodged there.

(Jdg 19:8) And he rose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart; and the father of the damsel said, Strengthen now thine heart, and quit thyself as a soldier till the day decline; and the two ate.

(Jdg 19:9) And the man rose up to depart, he and his concubine, and his young man; but his father-in-law the father of the damsel said to him, Behold now, the day has declined toward evening; lodge here, and let thy heart rejoice; and ye shall rise early to-morrow for your journey, and thou shalt go to thy habitation.

(Jdg 19:10) But the man would not lodge there, but he arose and departed, and came to the part opposite Jebus, (this is Jerusalem,) and there was with him a pair of asses saddled, and his concubine was with him.

(Jdg 19:11) And they came as far as Jebus: and the day had far advanced, and the young man said to his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn aside to this city of the Jebusites, and let us lodge in it.

(Jdg 19:12) And his master said to him, We will not turn aside to a strange city, where there is not one of the children of Israel, but we will pass on as far as Gabaa.

(Jdg 19:13) And he said to his young man, Come, and let us draw nigh to one of the places, and we will lodge in Gabaa or in Rama.

(Jdg 19:14) And they passed by and went on, and the sun went down upon them near to Gabaa, which is in Benjamin.

(Jdg 19:15) And they turned aside thence to go in to lodge in Gabaa; and they went in, and sat down in the street of the city, and there was no one who conducted them into a house to lodge.

(Jdg 19:16) And behold, an old man came out of the field from his work in the evening; and the man was of mount Ephraim, and he sojourned in Gabaa, and the men of the place were sons of Benjamin.

(Jdg 19:17) And he lifted up his eyes, and saw a traveller in the street of the city; and the old man said to him, Whither goest thou, and whence comest thou?

(Jdg 19:18) And he said to him, We are passing by from Bethleem Juda to the sides of mount Ephraim: I am from thence, and I went as far as Bethleem Juda, and I am going home, and there is no man to take me into his house.

(Jdg 19:19) Yet is there straw and food for our asses, and bread and wine for me and my handmaid and the young man with thy servants; there is no want of anything.

(Jdg 19:20) And the old man said, Peace be to thee; only be every want of thine upon me, only do thou by no means lodge in the street.

(Jdg 19:21) And he brought him into his house, and made room for his asses; and they washed their feet, and ate and drank.

(Jdg 19:22) And they were comforting their heart, when, behold, the men of the city, sons of transgressors, compassed the house, knocking at the door: and they spoke to the old man the owner of the house, saying, Bring out the man who came into thy house, that we may know him.

(Jdg 19:23) And the master of the house came out to them, and said, Nay, brethren, do not ye wrong, I pray you, after this man has come into my house; do not ye this folly.

(Jdg 19:24) Behold my daughter a virgin, and the man's concubine: I will bring them out, and humble ye them, and do to them that which is good in your eyes; but to this man do not this folly.

(Jdg 19:25) But the men would not consent to hearken to him; so the man laid hold of his concubine, and brought her out to them; and they knew her, and abused her all night till the morning, and let her go when the morning dawned.

(Jdg 19:26) And the woman came toward morning, and fell down at the door of the house where her husband was, until it was light.

(Jdg 19:27) And her husband rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and went forth to go on his journey; and, behold, the woman his concubine had fallen down by the doors of the house, and her hands were on the threshold.

(Jdg 19:28) And he said to her, Rise, and let us go; and she answered not, for she was dead: and he took her upon his ass, and went to his place.

(Jdg 19:29) And he took his sword, and laid hold of his concubine, and divided her into twelve parts, and sent them to every coast of Israel.

(Jdg 19:30) And it was so, that every one who saw it said, Such a day as this has not happened nor has been seen from the day of the going up of the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt until this day: take ye counsel concerning it, and speak.

(Jdg 20:1) And all the children of Israel went out, and all the congregation was gathered as one man, from Dan even to Bersabee, and in the land of Galaad, to YHVH at Massepha.

(Jdg 20:2) And all the tribes of Israel stood before YHVH in the assembly of the people of Elohim, four hundred thousand footmen that drew sword.

(Jdg 20:3) And the children of Benjamin heard that the children of Israel were gone up to Massepha: and the children of Israel came and said, Tell us, where did this wickedness take place?

(Jdg 20:4) And the Levite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, I and my concubine went to Gabaa of Benjamin to lodge.

(Jdg 20:5) And the men of Gabaa rose up against me, and compassed the house by night against me; they wished to slay me, and they have humbled my concubine, and she is dead.

(Jdg 20:6) And I laid hold of my concubine, and divided her in pieces, and sent the parts into every coast of the inheritance of the children of Israel; for they have wrought lewdness and abomination in Israel.

(Jdg 20:7) Behold, all ye are children of Israel; and consider and take counsel here among yourselves.

(Jdg 20:8) And all the people rose up as one man, saying, No one of us shall return to his tent, and no one of us shall return to his house.

(Jdg 20:9) And now this is the thing which shall be done in Gabaa; we will go up against it by lot.

(Jdg 20:10) Moreover we will take ten men for a hundred for all the tribes of Israel, and a hundred for a thousand, and a thousand for ten thousand, to take provision, to cause them to come to Gabaa of Benjamin, to do to it according to all the abomination, which they wrought in Israel.

(Jdg 20:11) And all the men of Israel were gathered to the city as one man.

(Jdg 20:12) And the tribes of Israel sent men through the whole tribe of Benjamin, saying, What is this wickedness that has been wrought among you?

(Jdg 20:13) Now then give up the men the sons of transgressors that are in Gabaa, and we will put them to death, and purge out wickedness from Israel: but the children of Benjamin consented not to hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Israel.

(Jdg 20:14) And the children of Benjamin were gathered from their cities to Gabaa, to go forth to fight with the children of Israel.

(Jdg 20:15) And the children of Benjamin from their cities were numbered in that day, twenty-three thousand, every man drawing a sword, besides the inhabitants of Gabaa, who were numbered seven hundred chosen men of all the people, able to use both hands alike;

(Jdg 20:16) All these could sling with stones at a hair, and not miss.

(Jdg 20:17) And the men of Israel, exclusive of Benjamin, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew sword; all these were men of war.

(Jdg 20:18) And they arose and went up to Baethel, and enquired of Elohim: and the children of Israel said, Who shall go up for us first to fight with the children of Benjamin? And YHVH said, Juda shall go up first as leader.

(Jdg 20:19) And the children of Israel rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gabaa.

(Jdg 20:20) And they went out, all the men of Israel, to fight with Benjamin, and engaged with them at Gabaa.

(Jdg 20:21) And the sons of Benjamin went forth from Gabaa, and they destroyed in Israel on that day two and twenty thousand men down to the ground.

(Jdg 20:23) And the children of Israel went up, and wept before YHVH till evening, and enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall we again draw nigh to battle with our brethren the children of Benjamin? and YHVH said, Go up against them.

(Jdg 20:24) And the children of Israel advanced against the children of Benjamin on the second day.

(Jdg 20:25) And the children of Benjamin went forth to meet them from Gabaa on the second day, and destroyed of the children of Israel yet further eighteen thousand men down to the ground: all these drew sword.

(Jdg 20:26) And the children of Israel and all the people went up, and came to Baethel; and they wept, and sat there before YHVH; and they fasted on that day until evening, and offered whole-burnt-offerings and perfect sacrifices, before YHVH,

(Jdg 20:27) for the ark of YHVH Elohim was there in those days,

(Jdg 20:28) and Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron stood before it in those days; and the children of Israel enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall we yet again go forth to fight with our brethren the sons of Benjamin? and YHVH said, Go up, to-morrow I will give them into your hands.

(Jdg 20:29) And the children of Israel set an ambush against Gabaa round about it.

(Jdg 20:30) And the children of Israel went up against the children of Benjamin on the third day, and arrayed themselves against Gabaa as before.

(Jdg 20:31) And the children of Benjamin went out to meet the people, and were all drawn out of the city, and began to smite and slay the people as before in the roads, whereof one goes up to Baethel, and one to Gabaa in the field, about thirty men of Israel.

(Jdg 20:32) And the children of Benjamin said, They fall before us as at the first: but the children of Israel said, Let us flee, and draw them out from the city into the roads; and they did so.

(Jdg 20:33) And all the men rose up out of their places, and engaged in Baal Thamar; and the liers in wait of Israel advanced from their place from Maraagabe.

(Jdg 20:34) And there came over against Gabaa ten thousand chosen men out of all Israel; and the fight was severe; and they knew not that evil was coming upon them.

(Jdg 20:35) And YHVH smote Benjamin before the children of Israel; and the children of Israel destroyed of Benjamin in that day a hundred and twenty-five thousand men: all these drew sword.

(Jdg 20:36) And the children of Benjamin saw that they were smitten; and the men of Israel gave place to Benjamin, because they trusted in the ambushade which they had prepared against Gabaa.

(Jdg 20:37) And when they retreated, then the liers in wait rose up, and they moved toward Gabaa, and the whole ambush came forth, and they smote the city with the edge of the sword.

(Jdg 20:38) And the children of Israel had a signal of battle with the liers in wait, that they should send up a signal of smoke from the city.

(Jdg 20:39) And the children of Israel saw that the liers in wait had seized Gabaa, and they stood in line of battle; and Benjamin began to smite down wounded ones among the men of Israel about thirty men; for they said, Surely they fall again before us, as in the first battle.

(Jdg 20:40) And the signal went up increasingly over the city as a pillar of smoke; and Benjamin looked behind him, and behold the destruction of the city went up to heaven.

(Jdg 20:41) And the men of Israel turned back, and the men of Benjamin hasted, because they saw that evil had come upon them.

(Jdg 20:42) And they turned to the way of the wilderness from before the children of Israel, and fled: but the battle overtook them, and they from the cities destroyed them in the midst of them.

(Jdg 20:43) And they cut down Benjamin, and pursued him from Nua closely till they came opposite Gabaa on the east.

(Jdg 20:44) And there fell of Benjamin eighteen thousand men: all these were men of might.

(Jdg 20:45) And the rest turned, and fled to the wilderness to the rock of Remmon; and the children of Israel picked off of them five thousand men; and the children of Israel went down after them as far as Gedan, and they smote of them two thousand men.

(Jdg 20:46) And all that fell of Benjamin were twenty-five thousand men that drew sword in that day: all these were men of might.

(Jdg 20:47) And the rest turned, and fled to the wilderness to the rock of Remmon, even six hundred men; and they sojourned four months in the rock of Remmon.

(Jdg 20:48) And the children of Israel returned to the children of Benjamin, and smote them with the edge of the sword from the city of Methla, even to the cattle, and every thing that was found in all the cities: and they burnt with fire the cities they found.

(Jdg 21:1) Now the children of Israel swore in Massephath, saying, No man of us shall give his daughter to Benjamin for a wife.

(Jdg 21:2) And the people came to Baethel, and sat there until evening before Elohim: and they lifted up their voice and wept with a great weeping;

(Jdg 21:3) and said, Wherefore, YHVH Elohim of Israel, has this come to pass, that to-day one tribe should be counted as missing from Israel?

(Jdg 21:4) And it came to pass on the morrow that the people rose up early, and built there an altar, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings and peace offerings.

(Jdg 21:5) And the children of Israel said, Who of all the tribes of Israel, went not up in the congregation to YHVH? for there was a great oath concerning those who went not up to YHVH to Massephath, saying, He shall surely be put to death.

(Jdg 21:6) And the children of Israel relented toward Benjamin their brother, and said, To-day one tribe is cut off from Israel.

(Jdg 21:7) What shall we do for wives for the rest that remain? whereas we have sworn by YHVH, not to give them of our daughters for wives.

(Jdg 21:8) And they said, What one man is there of the tribes of Israel, who went not up to YHVH to Massephath? and, behold, no man came to the camp from Jabis Galaad to the assembly.

(Jdg 21:9) And the people were numbered, and there was not there a man from the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad.

(Jdg 21:10) And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the strongest, and they charged them, saying, Go ye and smite the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad with the edge of the sword.

(Jdg 21:11) And this shall ye do: every male and every woman that has known the lying with man ye shall devote to destruction, but the virgins ye shall save alive: and they did so.

(Jdg 21:12) And they found among the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad four hundred young virgins, who had not known man by lying with him; and they brought them to Selom in the land of Chanaan.

(Jdg 21:13) And all the congregation sent and spoke to the children of Benjamin in the rock Remmon, and invited them to make peace.

(Jdg 21:14) And Benjamin returned to the children of Israel at that time, and the children of Israel gave them the women whom they had save alive of the daughters of Jabis Galaad; and they were content.

(Jdg 21:15) And the people relented for Benjamin, because YHVH had made a breach in the tribes of Israel.

(Jdg 21:16) And the elders of the congregation said, What shall we do for wives for them that remain? for the women have been destroyed out of Benjamin.

(Jdg 21:17) And they said, There must be an inheritance of them that are escaped of Benjamin; and so a tribe shall not be destroyed out of Israel.

(Jdg 21:18) For we shall not be able to give them wives of our daughters, because we swore among the children of Israel, saying, Cursed is he that gives a wife to Benjamin.

(Jdg 21:19) And they said, Lo! now there is a feast of YHVH from year to year in Selom, which is on the north of Baethel, eastward on the way that goes up from Baethel to Sychem, and from the south of Lebona.

(Jdg 21:20) And they charged the children of Benjamin, saying, Go and lie in wait in the vineyards;

(Jdg 21:22) And it shall come to pass, when their fathers or their brethren come to dispute with us, that we will say to them, Grant them freely to us, for we have not taken every man his wife in the battle: because ye did not give to them according to the occasion, ye transgressed.

(Jdg 21:23) And the children of Benjamin did so; and they took wives according to their number from the dancers whom they seized: and they went and returned to their inheritance, and built the cities, and dwelt in them.

(Jdg 21:24) And the children of Israel went thence at that time every man to his tribe and his kindred; and they went thence every man to his inheritance.

(Jdg 21:25) And in those days there was no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own sight.

Ruth.

(Rth 1:1) And it came to pass when the judges ruled, that there was a famine in the land: and a man went from Bethlehem Juda to sojourn in the land of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

(Rth 1:2) And the man's name was Elimelech, and his wife's name Noemin, and the names of his two sons Maalon and Chelaion, Ephrathites of Bethlehem of Juda: and they came to the land of Moab, and remained there.

(Rth 1:3) And Elimelech the husband of Noemin died; and she was left, and her two sons.

(Rth 1:4) And they took to themselves wives, women of Moab; the name of the one was Orpha, and the name of the second Ruth; and they dwelt there about ten years.

(Rth 1:5) And both Maalon and Chelaion died also; and the woman was left of her husband and her two sons.

(Rth 1:6) And she rose up and her two daughters-in-law, and they returned out of the country of Moab, for she heard in the country of Moab that YHVH had visited his people to give them bread.

(Rth 1:7) And she went forth out of the place where she was, and her two daughters-in-law with her: and they went by the way to return to the land of Juda.

(Rth 1:8) And Noemin said to her daughter-in-law, Go now, return each to the house of her mother: YHVH deal mercifully with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.

(Rth 1:9) YHVH grant you that ye may find rest each of you in the house of her husband: and she kissed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept.

(Rth 1:10) And they said to her, We will return with thee to thy people.

(Rth 1:11) And Noemin said, Return now, my daughters; and why do ye go with me? have I yet sons in my womb to be your husbands?

(Rth 1:12) Turn now, my daughters, for I am too old to be married: for I said, Suppose I were married, and should bear sons;

(Rth 1:13) would ye wait for them till they should be grown? or would ye refrain from being married for their sakes? Not so, my daughters; for I am grieved for you, that the hand of YHVH has gone forth against me.

(Rth 1:14) And they lifted up their voice, and wept again; and Orpha kissed her mother-in-law and returned to her people; but Ruth followed her.

(Rth 1:15) And Noemin said to Ruth, Behold, thy sister-in-law has returned to her people and to her gods; turn now thou also after thy sister-in-law.

(Rth 1:16) And Ruth said, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following thee; for whithersoever thou goest, I will go, and wheresoever thou lodgest, I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy Elohim my Elohim.

(Rth 1:17) And wherever thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried: YHVH do so to me, and more also, if I leave thee, for death only shall divide between me and thee.

(Rth 1:18) And Noemin seeing that she was determined to go with her, ceased to speak to her any more.

(Rth 1:19) And they went both of them until they came to Bethlehem: and it came to pass, when they arrived at Bethlehem, that all the city rang with them, and they said, Is this Noemin?

(Rth 1:20) And she said to them, Nay, do not call me Noemin; call me 'Bitter,' for the Mighty One has dealt very bitterly with me.

(Rth 1:21) I went out full, and YHVH has brought me back empty: and why call ye me Noemin, whereas YHVH has humbled me and the Mighty One has afflicted me?

(Rth 1:22) So Noemin and Ruth the Moabite, her daughter-in-law, returned from the country of Moab; and they came to Bethlehem in the beginning of barley harvest.

(Rth 2:1) And Noemin had a friend an acquaintance of her husband, and the man was a mighty man of the kindred of Elimelech, and his name was Booz.

(Rth 2:2) And Ruth the Moabite said to Noemin, Let me go now to the field, and I will glean among the ears behind the man with whomsoever I shall find favour: and she said to her, Go, daughter.

(Rth 2:3) And she went; and came and gleaned in the field behind the reapers; and she happened by chance to come on a portion of the land of Booz, of the kindred of Elimelech.

(Rth 2:4) And, behold, Booz came from Bethlehem, and said to the reapers, YHVH be with you: and they said to him, YHVH bless thee.

(Rth 2:5) And Booz said to his servant who was set over the reapers, Whose is this damsel?

(Rth 2:6) And his servant who was set over the reapers answered and said, It is the Moabite damsel who returned with Noemin out of the land of Moab.

(Rth 2:7) And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather among the sheaves after the reapers: and she came and stood from morning till evening, and rested not even a little in the field.

(Rth 2:8) And Booz said to Ruth, Hast thou not heard, my daughter? go not to glean in another field; and depart not thou hence, join thyself here with my damsels.

(Rth 2:9) Let thine eyes be on the field where my men shall reap, and thou shalt go after them: behold, I have charged the young men not to touch thee: and when you shalt thirst, then thou shalt go to the vessels, and drink of that which the young men shall have drawn.

(Rth 2:10) And she fell upon her face, and did reverence to the ground, and said to him, How is it that I have found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldst take notice of me, whereas I am a stranger?

(Rth 2:11) And Booz answered and said to her, It has fully been told me how thou hast dealt with thy mother-in-law after the death of thy husband; and how thou didst leave thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy birth, and camest to a people whom thou knewest not before.

(Rth 2:12) YHVH recompense thy work; may a full reward be given thee of YHVH Elohim of Israel, to whom thou hast come to trust under his wings.

(Rth 2:13) And she said, Let me find grace in thy sight, my lord, because thou hast comforted me, and because thou hast spoken kindly to thy handmaid, and behold, I shall be as one of thy servants.

(Rth 2:14) And Booz said to her, Now it is time to eat; come hither, and thou shalt eat of the bread, and thou shalt dip thy morsel in the vinegar: and Ruth sat by the side of the reapers: and Booz handed her meal, and she ate, and was satisfied, and left.

(Rth 2:15) And she rose up to glean; and Booz charged his young men, saying, Let her even glean among the sheaves, and reproach her not.

(Rth 2:16) And do ye by all means carry it for her, and ye shall surely let fall for her some of that which is heaped up; and let her eat, and glean, and rebuke her not.

(Rth 2:17) So she gleaned in the field till evening, and beat out that she had gleaned, and it was about an ephah of barely.

(Rth 2:18) And she took it up, and went into the city: and her mother-in-law saw what she had gleaned, and Ruth brought forth and gave to her the food which she had left from what she had been satisfied with.

(Rth 2:19) And her mother-in-law said to her, Where hast thou gleaned to-day, and where hast thou wrought? blessed be he that took notice of thee. And Ruth told her mother-in-law where she had wrought, and said, The name of the man with whom I wrought to-day is Booz.

(Rth 2:20) And Noemin said to her daughter-in-law, Blessed is he of YHVH, because he has not failed in his mercy with the living and with the dead: and Noemin said to her, The man is near akin to us, he is one of our relations.

(Rth 2:21) And Ruth said to her mother-in-law, Yea, he said also to me, Keep close to my damsels, until the men shall have finished all my reaping.

(Rth 2:22) And Noemin said to Ruth her daughter-in-law, It is well, daughter, that thou wentest out with his damsels; thus they shall not meet thee in another field.

(Rth 2:23) And Ruth joined herself to the damsels of Booz to glean until they had finished the barley-harvest and the wheat-harvest.

(Rth 3:1) And she lodged with her mother-in-law: and Noemin her mother-in-law said to her, My daughter, shall I not seek rest for thee, that it may be well with thee?

(Rth 3:2) And now is not Booz our kinsman, with whose damsels thou wast? behold, he winnows barley this night in the floor.

(Rth 3:3) But do thou wash, and anoint thyself, and put thy raiment upon thee, and go up to the threshing-floor: do not discover thyself to the man until he has done eating and drinking.

(Rth 3:4) And it shall come to pass when he lies down, that thou shalt mark the place where he lies down, and shalt come and lift up the covering of his feet, and shalt lie down; and he shall tell thee what thou shalt do.

(Rth 3:5) And Ruth said to her, All that thou shalt say, I will do.

(Rth 3:6) And she went down to the threshing-floor, and did according to all that her mother-in-law enjoined her.

(Rth 3:7) And Booz ate and drank, and his heart was glad, and he came to lie down by the side of the heap of corn; and she came secretly, and lifted up the covering of his feet.

(Rth 3:8) And it came to pass at midnight that the man was amazed, and troubled, and behold, a woman lay at his feet.

(Rth 3:9) And he said, Who art thou? and she said, I am thine handmaid Ruth; spread therefore thy skirt over thine handmaid, for thou art a near relation.

(Rth 3:10) And Booz said, Blessed be thou of YHVH Elohim, my daughter, for thou hast made thy latter kindness greater than the former, in that thou followest not after young men, whether any be poor or rich.

(Rth 3:11) And now fear not, my daughter, whatever thou shalt say I will do to thee; for all the tribe of my people knows that thou art a virtuous woman.

(Rth 3:12) And now I am truly akin to thee; nevertheless there is a kinsman nearer than I.

(Rth 3:13) Lodge here for the night, and it shall be in the morning, if he will do the part of a kinsman to thee, well—let him do it: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, I will do the kinsman's part to thee, as YHVH lives; lie down till the morning.

(Rth 3:14) And she lay at his feet until the morning; and she rose up before a man could know his neighbour; and Booz said, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

(Rth 3:15) And he said to her, Bring the apron that is upon thee: and she held it, and he measured six measures of barley, and put them upon her, and she went into the city.

(Rth 3:16) And Ruth went in to her mother-in-law, and she said to her, My daughter! and Ruth told her all that the man had done to her.

(Rth 3:17) And she said to her, He gave me these six measures of barley, for he said to me, Go not empty to thy mother-in-law.

(Rth 3:18) And she said, Sit still, my daughter, until thou shalt know how the matter will fall out; for the man will not rest until the matter be accomplished this day.

(Rth 4:1) And Booz went up to the gate, and sat there; and behold, the relative passed by, of whom Booz spoke: and Booz said to him, Turn aside, sit down here, such a one: and he turned aside and sat down.

(Rth 4:2) And Booz took ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye here; and they sat down.

(Rth 4:3) And Booz said to the relative, The matter regards the portion of the field which was our brother Elimelech's which was given to Noemin, now returning out of the land of Moab;

(Rth 4:4) and I said, I will inform thee, saying, Buy it before those that sit, and before the elders of my people: if thou wilt redeem it, redeem it, but if thou wilt not redeem it, tell me, and I shall know; for there is no one beside thee to do the office of a kinsman, and I am after thee: and he said, I am here, I will redeem it.

(Rth 4:5) And Booz said, In the day of thy buying the field of the hand of Noemin and of Ruth the Moabitess the wife of the deceased, thou must also buy her, so as to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.

(Rth 4:6) And the kinsman said, I shall not be able to redeem it for myself, lest I mar my own inheritance; do thou redeem my right for thyself, for I shall not be able to redeem it.

(Rth 4:7) And this was in former time the ordinance in Israel for redemption, and for a bargain, to confirm every word: A man loosed his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour that redeemed his right; and this was a testimony in Israel.

(Rth 4:8) And the kinsman said to Booz, Buy my right for thyself: and he took off his shoe and gave it to him.

(Rth 4:9) And Booz said to the elders and to all the people, Ye are this day witnesses, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and all that belonged to Chelaion and Maalon, of the hand of Noemin.

(Rth 4:10) Moreover I have bought for myself for a wife Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Maalon, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance; so the name of the dead shall not be destroyed from among his brethren, and from the tribe of his people: ye are this day witnesses.

(Rth 4:11) And all the people who were in the gate said, We are witnesses: and the elders said, YHVH make thy wife who goes into thy house, as Rachel and as Lia, who both together built the house of Israel, and wrought mightily in Ephratha, and there shall be a name to thee in Bethleem.

(Rth 4:12) And let thy house be as the house of Phares, whom Tamar bore to Juda, of the seed which YHVH shall give thee of this handmaid.

(Rth 4:13) And Booz took Ruth, and she became his wife, and he went in to her; and YHVH gave her conception, and she bore a son.

(Rth 4:14) And the woman said to Noemin, Blessed is YHVH, who has not suffered a redeemer to fail thee this day, even to make thy name famous in Israel.

(Rth 4:15) And he shall be to thee a restorer of thy soul, and one to cherish thy old age; for thy daughter-in-law which has loved thee, who is better to thee than seven sons, has born him.

(Rth 4:16) And Noemin took the child and laid it in her bosom, and became a nurse to it.

(Rth 4:17) And the neighbours gave it a name, saying, A son has been born to Noemin; and they called his name Obed; this is the father of Jessae the father of David.

(Rth 4:18) And these are the generations of Phares: Phares begot Esrom:

(Rth 4:19) Esrom begot Aram; and Aram begot Aminadab.

(Rth 4:20) And Aminadab begot Naasson; and Naasson begot Salmon.

(Rth 4:21) And Salmon begot Booz; and Booz begot Obed.

(Rth 4:22) And Obed begot Jessae; and Jessae begot David.

1 Samuel.

(1Sa 1:1) There was a man of Armathaim Sipa, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Helkana, a son of Jeremeel the son of Elias the son of Thoke, in Nasib Ephraim.

(1Sa 1:2) And he had two wives; the name of the one was Anna, and the name of the second Phennana. And Phennana had children, but Anna had no child.

(1Sa 1:3) And the man went up from year to year from his city, from Armathaim, to worship and sacrifice to YHVH Elohim of Sabaoth at Selom: and there were Heli and his two sons Ophni and Phinees, the priests of YHVH.

(1Sa 1:4) And the day came, and Helkana sacrificed, and gave portions to his wife Phennana and her children.

(1Sa 1:5) And to Anna he gave a prime portion, because she had no child, only Helkana loved Anna more than the other; but YHVH had closed her womb.

(1Sa 1:6) For YHVH gave her no child in her affliction, and according to the despondency of her affliction; and she was dispirited on this account, that YHVH shut up her womb so as not to give her a child.

(1Sa 1:7) So she did year by year, in going up to the house of YHVH; and she was dispirited, and wept, and did not eat.

(1Sa 1:8) And Helkana her husband said to her, Anna: and she said to him, Here am I, my lord: and he said to her, What ails thee that thou weapest? and why dost thou not eat? and why does thy heart smite thee? am I not better to thee than ten children?

(1Sa 1:9) And Anna rose up after they had eaten in Selom, and stood before YHVH: and Heli the priest was on a seat by the threshold of the temple of YHVH.

(1Sa 1:10) And she was very much grieved in spirit, and prayed to YHVH, and wept abundantly.

(1Sa 1:11) And she vowed a vow to YHVH, saying, YHVH Elohim of Sabaoth, if thou wilt indeed look upon the humiliation of thine handmaid, and remember me, and give to thine handmaid a man-child, then will I indeed dedicate him to thee till the day of his death; and he shall drink no wine nor strong drink, and no razor shall come upon his head.

(1Sa 1:12) And it came to pass, while she was long praying before YHVH, that Heli the priest marked her mouth.

(1Sa 1:13) And she was speaking in her heart, and her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: and Heli accounted her a drunken woman.

(1Sa 1:14) And the servant of Heli said to her, How long wilt thou be drunken? take away thy wine from thee, and go out from the presence of YHVH.

(1Sa 1:15) And Anna answered and said, Nay, my lord, I live in a hard day, and I have not drunk wine or strong drink, and I pour out my soul before YHVH.

(1Sa 1:16) Count not thy handmaid for a pestilent woman, for by reason of the abundance of my importunity I have continued my prayer until now.

(1Sa 1:17) And Heli answered and said to her, Go in peace: the Elohim of Israel give thee all thy petition, which thou hast asked of him.

(1Sa 1:18) And she said, Thine handmaid has found favour in thine eyes: and the woman went her way, and entered into her lodging, and ate and drank with her husband, and her countenance was no more sad.

(1Sa 1:19) And they rise early in the morning, and worship YHVH, and they go their way: and Helkana went into his house at Armathaim, and knew his wife Anna; and YHVH remembered her, and she conceived.

(1Sa 1:20) And it came to pass when the time was come, that she brought forth a son, and called his name Samuel, and said, Because I asked him of YHVH Elohim of Sabaoth.

(1Sa 1:21) And the man Helkana and all his house went up to offer in Selom the yearly sacrifice, and his vows, and all the tithes of his land.

(1Sa 1:22) But Anna did not go up with him, for she said to her husband, I will not go up until the child goes up, when I have weaned him, and he shall be presented before YHVH, and he shall abide there continually.

(1Sa 1:23) And Helkana her husband said to her, Do that which is good in thine eyes, abide still until thou shalt have weaned him; but may YHVH establish that which comes out of thy mouth: and the woman tarried, and suckled her son until she had weaned him.

(1Sa 1:24) And she went up with him to Selom with a calf of three years old, and loaves, and an ephah of fine flour, and a bottle of wine: and she entered into the house of YHVH in Selom, and the child with them.

(1Sa 1:25) And they brought him before YHVH; and his father slew his offering which he offered from year to year to YHVH; and he brought near the child, and slew the calf; and Anna the mother of the child brought him to Heli.

(1Sa 1:26) And she said, I pray thee, my lord, as thy soul liveth, I am the woman that stood in thy presence with thee while praying to YHVH.

(1Sa 1:27) For this child I prayed; and YHVH has given me my request that I asked of him.

(1Sa 1:28) And I lend him to YHVH all his days that he lives, a loan to YHVH: and she said, (1Sa 2:1) My heart is established in YHVH, my horn is exalted in my Elohim; my mouth is enlarged over my enemies, I have rejoiced in thy salvation.

(1Sa 2:2) For there is none holy as YHVH, and there is none righteous as our Elohim; there is none holy besides thee.

(1Sa 2:3) Boast not, and utter not high things; let not high-sounding words come out of your mouth, for YHVH is a Elohim of knowledge, and Elohim prepares his own designs.

(1Sa 2:4) The bow of the mighty has waxed feeble, and the weak have girded themselves with strength.

(1Sa 2:5) They that were full of bread are brought low; and the hungry have forsaken the land; for the barren has born seven, and she that abounded in children has waxed feeble.

(1Sa 2:6) YHVH kills and makes alive; he brings down to the grave, and brings up.

(1Sa 2:7) YHVH makes poor, and makes rich; he brings low, and lifts up.

(1Sa 2:8) He lifts up the poor from the earth, and raises the needy from the dunghill; to seat him with the princes of the people, and causing them to inherit the throne of glory:

(1Sa 2:9) granting his petition to him that prays; and he blesses the years of the righteous, for by strength cannot man prevail.

(1Sa 2:10) YHVH will weaken his adversary; YHVH is holy. Let not the wise man boast in his wisdom, nor let the mighty man boast in his strength, and let not the rich man boast in his wealth; but let him that boasts boast in this, to understand and know YHVH, and to execute judgment and justice in the midst of the earth. YHVH has gone up to the heavens, and has thundered: he will judge the extremities of the earth, and he gives strength to our kings, and will exalt the horn of his Christ. And she left him there before YHVH, (1Sa 2:11) and departed to Armathaim: and the child ministered in the presence of YHVH before Heli the priest.

(1Sa 2:12) And the sons of Heli the priest were evil sons, not knowing YHVH.

(1Sa 2:13) And the priest's claim from every one of the people that sacrificed was this: the servant of the priest came when the flesh was in seething, and a flesh-hook of three teeth was in his hand.

(1Sa 2:14) And he struck it into the great caldron, or into the brazen vessel, or into the pot, and whatever came up with the flesh-hook, the priest took for himself: so they did to all Israel that came to sacrifice to YHVH in Selom.

(1Sa 2:15) And before the fat was burnt for a sweet savour, the servant of the priest would come, and say to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest, and I will by no means take of thee sodden flesh out of the caldron.

(1Sa 2:16) And if the man that sacrificed said, First let the fat be burned, as it is fit, and take for thyself of all things which thy soul desires: then he would say, Nay, for thou shalt give it me now; and if not I will take it by force.

(1Sa 2:17) So the sin of the young men was very great before YHVH, for they set at nought the offering of YHVH.

(1Sa 2:18) And Samuel ministered before YHVH, a child girt with a linen ephod.

(1Sa 2:19) And his mother made him a little doublet, and brought it to him from year to year, in her going up in company with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

(1Sa 2:20) And Heli blessed Helcana and his wife, saying YHVH recompense to thee seed of this woman, in return for the loan which thou hast lent to YHVH: and the man returned to his place.

(1Sa 2:21) And YHVH visited Anna, and she bore yet three sons, and two daughters. And the child Samuel grew before YHVH.

(1Sa 2:22) And Heli was very old, and he heard what his sons did to the children of Israel.

(1Sa 2:23) And he said to them, Why do ye according to this thing, which I hear from the mouth of all the people of YHVH?

(1Sa 2:24) Nay my sons, for the report which I hear is not good; do not so, for the reports which I hear are not good, so that the people do not serve Elohim.

(1Sa 2:25) If a man should at all sin against another, then shall they pray for him to YHVH; but if a man sin against YHVH, who shall intreat for him? But they hearkened not to the voice of their father, because YHVH would by all means destroy them.

(1Sa 2:26) And the child Samuel advanced, and was in favour with Elohim and with men.

(1Sa 2:27) And a man of Elohim came to Heli, and said, Thus says YHVH, I plainly revealed myself to the house of thy father, when they were servants in Egypt to the house of Pharaoh.

(1Sa 2:28) And I chose the house of thy father out of all the tribes of Israel to minister to me in the priest's office, to go up to my altar, and to burn incense, and to wear an ephod. And I gave to the house of thy father all the offerings by fire of the children of Israel for food.

(1Sa 2:29) And wherefore hast thou looked upon my incense-offering and my meat-offering with a shameless eye, and hast honoured thy sons above me, so that they should bless themselves with the first-fruits of every sacrifice of Israel before me?

(1Sa 2:30) Therefore thus says YHVH Elohim of Israel, I said, Thy house and the house of thy father shall pass before me for ever: but now YHVH says, That be far from me; for I will only honour them that honour me, and he that sets me at nought shall be despised.

(1Sa 2:31) Behold, the days come when I will destroy thy seed and the seed of thy father's house.

(1Sa 2:32) And thou shalt not have an old man in my house for ever.

(1Sa 2:33) And if I do not destroy a man of thine from my altar, it shall be that his eyes may fail and his soul may perish; and every one that remains in thy house shall fall by the sword of men.

(1Sa 2:34) And this which shall come upon thy two sons Ophni and Phinees shall be a sign to thee; in one day they shall both die.

(1Sa 2:35) And I will raise up to myself a faithful priest, who shall do all that is in my heart and in my soul; and I will build him a sure house, and he shall walk before my Christ for ever.

(1Sa 2:36) And it shall come to pass that he that survives in thy house, shall come to do obeisance before him for a little piece of silver, saying, Put me into one of thy priest's offices to eat bread.

(1Sa 3:1) And the child Samuel ministered to YHVH before Heli the priest: and the word of YHVH was precious in those days, there was no distinct vision.

(1Sa 3:2) And it came to pass at that time that Heli was sleeping in his place; and his eyes began to fail, and could not see.

(1Sa 3:3) And the lamp of Elohim was burning before it was trimmed, and Samuel slept in the temple, where was the ark of Elohim.

(1Sa 3:4) And YHVH called, Samuel, Samuel; and he said, Behold, here am I.

(1Sa 3:5) And he ran to Heli, and said, Here am I, for thou didst call me: and he said, I did not call thee; return, go to sleep; and he returned and went to sleep.

(1Sa 3:6) And YHVH called again, Samuel, Samuel: and he went to Heli the second time, and said, Behold here am I, for thou didst call me: and he said, I called thee not; return, go to sleep.

(1Sa 3:7) And it was before Samuel knew YHVH, and before the word of YHVH was revealed to him.

(1Sa 3:8) And YHVH called Samuel again for the third time: and he arose and went to Heli, and said, Behold, I am here, for thou didst call me: and Heli perceived that YHVH had called the child.

(1Sa 3:9) And he said, Return, child, go to sleep; and it shall come to pass if he shall call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak for thy servant hears: and Samuel went and lay down in his place.

(1Sa 3:10) And YHVH came, and stood, and called him as before: and Samuel said, Speak, for thy servant hears.

(1Sa 3:11) And YHVH said to Samuel, Behold, I execute my words in Israel; whoever hears them, both his ears shall tingle.

(1Sa 3:12) In that day I will raise up against Heli all things that I have said against his house; I will begin, and I will make an end.

(1Sa 3:13) And I have told him that I will be avenged on his house perpetually for the iniquities of his sons, because his sons spoke evil against Elohim, and he did not admonish them.

(1Sa 3:14) And it shall not go on so; I have sworn to the house of Eli, the iniquity of the house of Eli shall not be atoned for with incense or sacrifices for ever.

(1Sa 3:15) And Samuel slept till morning, and rose early in the morning, and opened the doors of the house of YHVH; and Samuel feared to tell Heli the vision.

(1Sa 3:16) And Heli said to Samuel, Samuel, my son; and he said, Behold, here am I.

(1Sa 3:17) And he said, What was the word that was spoken to thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: may Elohim do these things to thee, and more also, if thou hide from me any thing of all the words that were spoken to thee in thine ears.

(1Sa 3:18) And Samuel reported all the words, and hid them not from him. And Heli said, He is YHVH, he shall do that which is good in his sight.

(1Sa 3:19) And Samuel grew, and YHVH was with him, and there did not fall one of his words to the ground.

(1Sa 3:20) And all Israel knew from Dan even to Bersabee, that Samuel was faithful as a prophet to YHVH.

(1Sa 3:21) And YHVH manifested himself again in Selom, for YHVH revealed himself to Samuel; and Samuel was accredited to all Israel as a prophet to YHVH from one end of the land to the other: and Heli was very old, and his sons kept advancing in wickedness, and their way was evil before YHVH.

(1Sa 4:1) And it came to pass in those days that the Philistines gathered themselves together against Israel to war; and Israel went out to meet them and encamped at Abenezar, and the Philistines encamped in Aphec.

(1Sa 4:2) And the Philistines prepare to fight with Israel, and the battle was turned against them; and the men of Israel fell before the Philistines, and there were smitten in the battle in the field four thousand men.

(1Sa 4:3) And the people came to the camp, and the elders of Israel said, Why has YHVH caused us to fall this day before the Philistines? let us take the ark of our Elohim out of Selom, and let it proceed from the midst of us, and it shall save us from the hand of our enemies.

(1Sa 4:4) And the people sent to Selom, and they take thence the ark of YHVH who dwells between the cherubs: and both the sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were with the ark.

(1Sa 4:5) And it came to pass when the ark of YHVH entered into the camp, that all Israel cried out with a loud voice, and the earth resounded.

(1Sa 4:6) And the Philistines heard the cry, and the Philistines said, What is this great cry in the camp of the Hebrews: and they understood that the ark of YHVH was come into the camp.

(1Sa 4:7) And the Philistines feared, and said, These are the Elohims that are come to them into the camp.

(1Sa 4:8) Woe to us, YHVH, deliver us to-day for such a thing has not happened aforetime: woe to us, who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty Elohim? these are the Elohim that smote Egypt with every plague, and in the wilderness.

(1Sa 4:9) Strengthen yourselves and behave yourselves like men, O ye Philistines, that ye may not serve the Hebrews as they have served us, but be ye men and fight with them.

(1Sa 4:10) And they fought with them; and the men of Israel fall, and they fled every man to his ten; and there was a very great slaughter; and there fell of Israel thirty thousand fighting men.

(1Sa 4:11) And the ark of Elohim was taken, and both the sons of Heli, Ophni, and Phinees, died.

(1Sa 4:12) And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the battle, and he came to Selom on that day: and his clothes were rent, and earth was upon his head.

(1Sa 4:13) And he came, and behold, Heli was upon the seat by the gate looking along the way, for his heart was greatly alarmed for the ark of Elohim: and the man entered into the city to bring tidings; and the city cried out.

(1Sa 4:14) And Heli heard the sound of the cry, and said, What is the voice of this cry? and the men hastened and went in, and reported to Heli.

(1Sa 4:15) Now Heli was ninety years old, and his eyes were fixed, and he saw not.

(1Sa 4:16) And Heli said to them that stood round about him, What is the voice of this sound? And the man hastened and advanced to Heli, and said to him, I am he that is come out of the camp, and I have fled from the battle to-day: and Heli said, What is the even, my son?

(1Sa 4:17) And the young man answered and said, The men of Israel fled from the face of the Philistines, and there was a great slaughter among the people, and both thy sons are dead, and the ark of Elohim is taken.

(1Sa 4:18) And it came to pass, when he mentioned the ark of Elohim, that he fell from the seat backward near the gate, and his back was broken, and he died, for he was an old man and heavy: and he judged Israel twenty years.

(1Sa 4:19) And his daughter-in-law the wife of Phinees was with child, about to bring forth; and she heard the tidings, that the ark of Elohim was taken, and that her father-in-law and her husband were dead; and she wept and was delivered, for her pains came upon her.

(1Sa 4:20) And in her time she was at the point of death; and the women that stood by her, said to her, Fear not, for thou hast born a son: but she answered not, and her heart did not regard it.

(1Sa 4:21) And she called the child Uaebarchaboth, because of the ark of Elohim, and because of her father-in-law, and because of her husband.

(1Sa 4:22) And they said, The glory of Israel is departed, forasmuch as the ark of YHVH is taken.

(1Sa 5:1) And the Philistines took the ark of Elohim, and brought it from Abenezzer to Azotus.

(1Sa 5:2) And the Philistines took the ark of YHVH, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by Dagon.

(1Sa 5:3) And the people of Azotus rose early, and entered into the house of Dagon; and looked, and behold, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of YHVH: and they lifted up Dagon, and set him in his place. And the hand of YHVH was heavy upon the Azotians, and he plagued them, and he smote them in their secret parts, Azotus and her coasts.

(1Sa 5:4) And it came to pass when they rose early in the morning, behold, Dagon had fallen on his face before the ark of the covenant of YHVH; and the head of Dagon and both the palms of his hands were cut off each before the threshold, and both the wrists of his hands had fallen on the floor of the porch; only the stump of Dagon was left.

(1Sa 5:5) Therefore the priests of Dagon, and every one that enters into the house of Dagon, do not tread upon the threshold of the house of Dagon in Azotus until this day, for they step over.

(1Sa 5:6) And the hand of YHVH was heavy upon Azotus, and he brought evil upon them, and it burst out upon them into the ships, and mice sprang up in the midst of their country, and there was a great and indiscriminate mortality in the city.

(1Sa 5:7) And the men of Azotus saw that it was so, and they said, The ark of the Elohim of Israel shall not abide with us, for his hand is heavy upon us and upon Dagon our god.

(1Sa 5:8) And they send and gather the lords of the Philistines to them, and say, What shall we do to the ark of the Elohim of Israel? and the Gittites say, Let the ark of Elohim come over to us; and the ark of the Elohim of Israel came to Geth.

(1Sa 5:9) And it came to pass after it went about to Geth, that the hand of YHVH comes upon the city, a very great confusion; and he smote the men of the city small and great, and smote them in their secret parts: and the Gittites made to themselves images of emerods.

(1Sa 5:10) And they send away the ark of Elohim to Ascalon; and it came to pass when the ark of Elohim went into Ascalon, that the men of Ascalon cried out, saying, Why have ye brought back the ark of the Elohim of Israel to us, to kill us and our people?

(1Sa 5:11) And they send and gather the lords of the Philistines, and they said, Send away the ark of the Elohim of Israel, and let it lodge in its place; and let it not slay us and our people.

(1Sa 5:12) For there was a very great confusion in all the city, when the ark of the Elohim of Israel entered there; and those, who lived and died not were smitten with emerods; and the cry of the city went up to heaven.

(1Sa 6:1) And the ark was seven months in the country of the Philistines, and their land brought forth swarms of mice.

(1Sa 6:2) And the Philistines call their priests, and their prophets, and their enchanters, saying, What shall we do to the ark of YHVH? teach us wherewith we shall send it away to its place.

(1Sa 6:3) And they said, If ye send away the ark of the covenant of YHVH Elohim of Israel, do not on any account send it away empty, but by all means render to it an offering for the plague; and then shall ye be healed, and an atonement shall be made for you: should not his hand be thus stayed from off you?

(1Sa 6:4) And they say, What is the offering for the plague which we shall return to it? and they said,

(1Sa 6:5) According to the number of the lords of the Philistines, five golden emerods, for the plague was on you, and on your rulers, and on the people; and golden mice, the likeness of the mice that destroy your land: and ye shall give glory to YHVH, that he may lighten his hand from off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

(1Sa 6:6) And why do ye harden your hearts, as Egypt and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? was it not so when he mocked them, that they let the people go, and they departed?

(1Sa 6:7) And now take wood and make a new wagon, and take two cows, that have calved for the first time, without their calves; and do ye yoke the cows to the wagon, and lead away the calves from behind them home.

(1Sa 6:8) And ye shall take the ark and put it on the wagon; and ye shall restore to it the golden articles for the trespass-offering in a coffer by the side of it: and ye shall let it go, and sent it away, and ye shall depart.

(1Sa 6:9) And ye shall see, if it shall go the way of its coasts along by Baethsamys, he has brought upon us this great affliction; and if not, then shall we know that his hand has not touched us, but this is a chance which has happened to us.

(1Sa 6:10) And the Philistines did so; and they took two cows that had calved for the first time, and yoked them to the waggon, and shut up their calves at home.

(1Sa 6:11) And they set the ark of YHVH, and the coffer, and the golden mice, on the waggon.

(1Sa 6:12) And the cows went straight on the way to the way of Baethsamys, they went along one track; and laboured, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left, and the lords of the Philistines went after it as far as the coasts of Baethsamys.

(1Sa 6:13) And the men of Baethsamys were reaping the wheat harvest in the valley; and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark of YHVH, and rejoiced to meet it.

(1Sa 6:14) And the waggon entered into the field of Osee, which was in Baethsamys, and they set there by it a great stone; and they split the wood of the waggon, and offered up the cows for a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH.

(1Sa 6:15) And the Levites brought up the ark of YHVH, and the coffer with it, and the golden articles upon it, and placed them on the great stone, and the men of Baethsamys offered whole-burnt-offerings and meat offerings on that day to YHVH.

(1Sa 6:16) And the five lords of the Philistines saw, and returned to Ascalon in that day.

(1Sa 6:17) And these are the golden emerods which the lords of the Philistines gave as a trespass-offering to YHVH; for Azotus one, for Gaza one, for Ascalon one, for Geth one, for Accaron one.

(1Sa 6:18) And the golden mice according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines, belonging to the five lords, from the fenced city to the village of the Pherezite, and to the great stone, on which they placed the ark of the covenant of YHVH, that was in the field of Osee the Baethsamysite.

(1Sa 6:19) And the sons of Jechonias were not pleased with the men of Baethsamys, because they saw the ark of YHVH; and YHVH smote among them seventy men, and fifty thousand men: and the people mourned, because YHVH had inflicted on the people, a very great plague.

(1Sa 6:20) And the men of Baethsamys said, Who shall be able to pass before this holy Lord Elohim? and to whom shall the ark of YHVH go up from us?

(1Sa 6:21) And they send messengers to the inhabitants of Cariathiarim, saying, The Philistines have brought back the ark of YHVH, go down and take it home to yourselves.

(1Sa 7:1) And the men of Cariathiarim come, and bring up the ark of the covenant of YHVH: and they bring it into the house of Aminadab in the hill; and they sanctified Eleazar his son to keep the ark of the covenant of YHVH.

(1Sa 7:2) And it came to pass from the time that the ark was in Cariathiarim, the days were multiplied, and the time was twenty years; and all the house of Israel looked after YHVH.

(1Sa 7:3) And Samuel spoke to all the house of Israel, saying, If ye do with all your heart return to YHVH, take away the strange gods from the midst of you, and the groves, and prepare your hearts to serve YHVH, and serve him only; and he shall deliver you from the hand of the Philistines.

(1Sa 7:4) And the children of Israel took away Baalim and the groves of Astaroth, and served YHVH only.

(1Sa 7:5) And Samuel said, Gather all Israel to Masephath, and I will pray for you to YHVH.

(1Sa 7:6) And they were gathered together to Masephath, and they drew water, and poured it out upon the earth before YHVH. And they fasted on that day, and said, We have sinned before YHVH. And Samuel judged the children of Israel in Masephath.

(1Sa 7:7) And the Philistines heard that all the children of Israel were gathered together to Masephath: and the lords of the Philistines went up against Israel: and the children of Israel heard, and they feared before the Philistines.

(1Sa 7:8) And the children of Israel said to Samuel, Cease not to cry to YHVH thy Elohim for us, and he shall save us out of the hand of the Philistines.

(1Sa 7:9) And Samuel took a sucking lamb, and offered it up as a whole-burnt-offering with all the people to YHVH: and Samuel cried to YHVH for Israel, and YHVH heard him.

(1Sa 7:10) And Samuel was offering the whole-burnt-offering; and the Philistines drew near to war against Israel; and YHVH thundered with a mighty sound in that day upon the Philistines, and they were confounded and overthrown before Israel.

(1Sa 7:11) And the men of Israel went forth out of Masephath, and pursued the Philistines, and smote them to the parts under Baethchor.

(1Sa 7:12) And Samuel took a stone, and set it up between Masephath and the old city; and he called the name of it Abenezzer, stone of the helper; and he said, Hitherto has YHVH helped us.

(1Sa 7:13) So YHVH humbled the Philistines, and they did not anymore come into the border of Israel; and the hand of YHVH was against the Philistines all the days of Samuel.

(1Sa 7:14) And the cities which the Philistines took from the children of Israel were restored; and they restored them to Israel from Ascalon to Azob: and they took the coast of Israel out of the hand of the Philistines; and there was peace between Israel and the Amorite.

(1Sa 7:15) And Samuel judged Israel all the days of his life.

(1Sa 7:16) And he went year by year, and went round Baethel, and Galgala, and Masephath; and he judged Israel in all these consecrated places.

(1Sa 7:17) And his return was to Armathaim, because there was his house; and there he judged Israel, and built there an altar to YHVH.

(1Sa 8:1) And it came to pass when Samuel was old, that he made his sons judges over Israel.

(1Sa 8:2) And these are the names of his sons; Joel the first-born, and the name of the second Abia, judges in Bersabee.

(1Sa 8:3) And his sons did not walk in his way; and they turned aside after gain, and took gifts, and perverted judgments.

(1Sa 8:4) And the men of Israel gather themselves together, and come to Armathaim to Samuel, (1Sa 8:5) and they said to him, Behold, thou art grown old, and thy sons walk not in thy way; and now set over us a king to judge us, as also the other nations have.

(1Sa 8:6) And the thing was evil in the eyes of Samuel, when they said, Give us a king to judge us: and Samuel prayed to YHVH.

(1Sa 8:7) And YHVH said to Samuel, Hear the voice of the people, in whatever they shall say to thee; for they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me from reigning over them.

(1Sa 8:8) According to all their doings which they have done to me, from the day that I brought them out of Egypt until this day, even as they have deserted me, and served other gods, so they do also to thee.

(1Sa 8:9) And now hearken to their voice; only thou shalt solemnly testify to them, and thou shalt describe to them the manner of the king who shall reign over them.

(1Sa 8:10) And Samuel spoke every word of YHVH to the people who asked of him a king.

(1Sa 8:11) And he said, This shall be the manner of the king that shall rule over you: he shall take your sons, and put them in his chariots, and among his horsemen, and running before his chariots, (1Sa 8:12) and his manner shall be to make them to himself captains of hundreds and captains of thousands; and to reap his harvest, and gather his vintage, and prepare his instruments of war, and the implements of his chariots.

(1Sa 8:13) And he will take your daughters to be perfumers, and cooks, and bakers.

(1Sa 8:14) And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your good oliveyards, and give them to his servants.

(1Sa 8:15) And he will take the tithe of your seeds and your vineyards, and give it to his eunuchs, and to his servants.

(1Sa 8:16) And he will take your servants, and your handmaids, and your good herds and your asses, and will take the tenth of them for his works.

(1Sa 8:17) And he will tithe your flocks; and ye shall be his servants.

(1Sa 8:18) And ye shall cry out in that day because of your king whom ye have chosen to yourselves, and YHVH shall not hear you in those days, because ye have chosen to yourselves a king.

(1Sa 8:19) But the people would not hearken to Samuel; and they said to him, Nay, but there shall be a king over us.

(1Sa 8:20) And we also will be like all the nations; and our king shall judge us, and shall go out before us, and fight our battles.

(1Sa 8:21) And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and spoke them in the ears of YHVH.

(1Sa 8:22) And YHVH said to Samuel, Hearken to their voice, and appoint them a king. And Samuel said to the men of Israel, Let each man depart to his city.

(1Sa 9:1) And there was a man of the sons of Benjamin, and his name was Kis, the son of Abiel, the son of Jared, the son of Bachir, the son of Aphec, the son of a Benjamite, a man of might.

(1Sa 9:2) And this man had a son, and his name was Saul, of great stature, a goodly man; and there was not among the sons of Israel a goodlier than he, high above all the people from his shoulders and upward.

(1Sa 9:3) And the asses of Kis the father of Saul were lost; and Kis said to Saul his son, Take with thee one of the young men, and arise ye, and go seek the asses.

(1Sa 9:4) And they went through mount Ephraim, and they went through the land of Selcha, and found them not: and they passed through the land of Segalim, and they were not there: and they passed through the land of Jamin, and found them not.

(1Sa 9:5) And when they came to Siph, then Saul said to his young man that was with him, Come and let us return, lest my father leave the asses, and take care for us.

(1Sa 9:6) And the young man said to him, Behold now, there is a man of Elohim in this city, and the man is of high repute; all that he shall speak will surely come to pass: now then let us go, that he may tell us our way on which we have set out.

(1Sa 9:7) And Saul said to his young man that was with him, Lo, then, we will go; but what shall we bring the man of Elohim? for the loaves are spent out of our vessels, and we have nothing more with us that belongs to us to bring to the man of Elohim.

(1Sa 9:8) And the young man answered Saul again, and said, Behold, there is found in my hand a fourth part of a shekel of silver; and thou shalt give it to the man of Elohim, and he shall tell us our way.

(1Sa 9:9) Now before time in Israel every one in going to enquire of Elohim said, Come and let us go to the seer; for the people beforetime called the prophet, the seer.

(1Sa 9:10) And Saul said to his servant, Well said, come and let us go: and they went to the city where the man of Elohim was.

(1Sa 9:11) As they went up the ascent to the city, they find damsels come out to draw water, and they say to them, Is the seer here?

(1Sa 9:12) And the virgins answered them, and they say to them, He is: behold, he is before you: now he is coming to the city, because of the day, for to-day there is a sacrifice for the people in Bama.

(1Sa 9:13) As soon as ye shall enter into the city, so shall ye find him in the city, before he goes up to Bama to eat; for the people will not eat until he comes in, for he blesses the sacrifice, and afterwards the guests eat; now then go up, for ye shall find him because of the holiday.

(1Sa 9:14) And they go up to the city; and as they were entering into the midst of the city, behold, Samuel came out to meet them, to go up to Bama.

(1Sa 9:15) And YHVH uncovered the ear of Samuel one day before Saul came to him, saying,

(1Sa 9:16) At this time to-morrow I will send to thee a man out of the land of Benjamin, and thou shalt anoint him to be ruler over my people Israel, and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Philistines; for I have looked upon the humiliation of my people, for their cry is come unto me.

(1Sa 9:17) And Samuel looked upon Saul, and YHVH answered him, Behold the man of whom I spoke to thee, this one shall rule over my people.

(1Sa 9:18) And Saul drew near to Samuel into the midst of the city, and said, Tell me now which is the house of the seer?

(1Sa 9:19) And Samuel answered Saul, and said, I am he: go up before me to Bama, and eat with me to-day, and I will send thee away in the morning, and I will tell thee all that is in thine heart.

(1Sa 9:20) And concerning thine asses that have been lost now these three days, care not for them, for they are found. And to whom does the excellency of Israel belong? does it not to thee and to thy father's house?

(1Sa 9:21) And Saul answered and said, Am not I the son of a Benjamite, the least tribe of the people of Israel? and of the least family of the whole tribe of Benjamin? and why hast thou spoken to me according to this word?

(1Sa 9:22) And Samuel took Saul and his servant, and brought them to the inn, and set them there a place among the chief of those that were called, about seventy men.

(1Sa 9:23) And Samuel said to the cook, Give me the portion which I gave thee, which I told thee to set by thee.

(1Sa 9:24) Now the cook had boiled the shoulder, and he set it before Saul; and Samuel said to Saul, Behold that which is left: set before thee, and eat; for it is set thee for a testimony in preference to the others; take of it: and Saul ate with Samuel on that day.

(1Sa 9:25) And he went down from Bama into the city; and they prepared a lodging for Saul on the roof, and he lay down.

(1Sa 9:26) And it came to pass when the morning dawned, that Samuel called Saul on the roof, saying, Rise up, and I will dismiss thee. And Saul arose, and he and Samuel went out.

(1Sa 9:27) As they went down to a part of the city, Samuel said to Saul, Speak to the young man, and let him pass on before us; and do thou stand as to-day, and hearken to the word of Elohim.

(1Sa 10:1) And Samuel took a vial of oil, and poured it on his head, and kissed him, and said to him, Has not YHVH anointed thee for a ruler over his people, over Israel? and thou shalt rule among the people of YHVH, and thou shalt save them out of the hand of their enemies; and this shall be the sign to thee that YHVH has anointed thee for a ruler over his inheritance.

(1Sa 10:2) As soon as thou shalt have departed this day from me, thou shalt find two men by the burial-place of Rachel on the mount of Benjamin, exulting greatly; and they shall say to thee, The asses are found which ye went to seek; and, behold, thy father has given up the matter of the asses, and he is anxious for you, saying, What shall I do for my son?

(1Sa 10:3) And thou shalt depart thence, and shalt go beyond that as far as the oak of Thabor, and thou shalt find there three men going up to Elohim to Baethel, one bearing three kids, and another bearing three vessels of bread, and another bearing a bottle of wine.

(1Sa 10:4) And they shall ask thee how thou doest, and shall give thee two presents of bread, and thou shall receive them of their hand.

(1Sa 10:5) And afterward thou shalt go to the hill of Elohim, where is the encampment of the Philistines; there is Nasib the Philistine: an it shall come to pass when ye shall have entered into the city, that thou shalt meet a band of prophets coming down from the Bama; and before them will be lutes, and a drum, and a pipe, and a harp, and they shall prophesy.

(1Sa 10:6) And the Spirit of YHVH shall come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

(1Sa 10:7) And it shall come to pass when these signs shall come upon thee, then do thou whatsoever thy hand shall find, because Elohim is with thee.

(1Sa 10:8) And thou shalt go down in front of Galgal, and behold, I come down to thee to offer a whole-burnt-offering and peace-offerings: seven days shalt thou wait until I shall come to thee, and I will make known to thee what thou shalt do.

(1Sa 10:9) And it came to pass when he turned his back to depart from Samuel, Elohim gave him another heart; and all these signs came to pass in that day.

(1Sa 10:10) And he comes thence to the hill, and behold a band of prophets opposite to him; and the Spirit of Elohim came upon him, and he prophesied in the midst of them.

(1Sa 10:11) And all that had known him before came, and saw, and behold, he was in the midst of the prophets: and the people said every one to his neighbour, What is this that has happened to the son of Kis? is Saul also among the prophets?

(1Sa 10:12) And one of them answered and said, And who is his father? and therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets?

(1Sa 10:13) And he ceased prophesying, and comes to the hill.

(1Sa 10:14) And his kinsman said to him and to his servant, Whither went ye? and they said, To seek the asses; and we saw that they were lost, and we went in to Samuel.

(1Sa 10:15) And his kinsman said to Saul, Tell me, I pray thee, What did Samuel say to thee?

(1Sa 10:16) And Saul said to his kinsman, he verily told me that the asses were found. But the matter of the kingdom he told him not.

(1Sa 10:17) And Samuel summoned all the people before YHVH to Masephath.

(1Sa 10:18) And he said to the children of Israel, Thus has YHVH Elohim of Israel spoken, saying, I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt, and I rescued you out of the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and out of all the kingdoms that afflicted you.

(1Sa 10:19) And ye have this day rejected Elohim, who is himself your Deliverer out of all your evils and afflictions; and ye said, Nay, but thou shalt set a king over us: and now stand before YHVH according to your tribes, and according to your families.

(1Sa 10:20) And Samuel brought nigh all the tribes of Israel, and the tribe of Benjamin is taken by lot.

(1Sa 10:21) And he brings near the tribe of Benjamin by families, and the family of Mattari is taken by lot: and they bring near the family of Mattari, man by man, and Saul the son of Kis is taken; and he sought him, but he was not found.

(1Sa 10:22) And Samuel asked yet again of YHVH, Will the man come hither? and YHVH said, Behold, he is hid among the stuff.

(1Sa 10:23) And he ran and took him thence, and he set him in the midst of the people; and he was higher than all the people by his shoulders and upwards.

(1Sa 10:24) And Samuel said to all the people, Have ye seen whom YHVH has chosen to himself, that there is none like to him among you all? And all the people took notice, and said, Let the king live!

(1Sa 10:25) And Samuel told the people the manner of the king, and wrote it in a book, and set it before YHVH: and Samuel sent away all the people, and each went to his place.

(1Sa 10:26) And Saul departed to his house to Gabaa; and there went with Saul mighty men whose hearts Elohim had touched.

(1Sa 10:27) But evil men said, Who is this man that shall save us? and they despised him, and brought him no gifts.

(1Sa 11:1) And it came to pass about a month after this, that Naas the Ammanite went up, and encamped against Jabis Galaad: and all the men of Jabis said to Naas the Ammanite, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee.

(1Sa 11:2) Naas the Ammanite said to them, On these terms will I make a covenant with you, that I should put out all your right eyes, and I will lay a reproach upon Israel.

(1Sa 11:3) And the men of Jabis say to him, Allow us seven days, and we will send messengers into all the coasts of Israel: if there should be no one to deliver us, we will come out to you.

(1Sa 11:4) And the messengers came to Gabaa to Saul, and they speak the words into the ears of the people; and all the people lifted up their voice, and wept.

(1Sa 11:5) And, behold, Saul came after the early morning out of the field: and Saul said, Why does the people weep? and they tell him the words of the men of Jabis.

(1Sa 11:6) And the Spirit of YHVH came upon Saul when he heard these words, and his anger was greatly kindled against them.

(1Sa 11:7) And he took two cows, and cut them in pieces, and sent them into all the coasts of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, Whoso comes not forth after Saul and after Samuel, so shall they do to his oxen: and a transport from YHVH came upon the people of Israel, and they came out to battle as one man.

(1Sa 11:8) And he reviews them at Bezek in Bama, every man of Israel six hundred thousand, and the men of Juda seventy thousand.

(1Sa 11:9) And he said to the messengers that came, Thus shall ye say to the men of Jabis, To-morrow ye shall have deliverance when the sun is hot; and the messengers came to the city, and told the men of Jabis, and they rejoiced.

(1Sa 11:10) And the men of Jabis said to Naas the Ammanite, To-morrow we will come forth to you, and ye shall do to us what seems good in your sight.

(1Sa 11:11) And it came to pass on the morrow, that Saul divided the people into three companies, and they go into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and they smote the children of Ammon until the day was hot; at it came to pass that those who were left were scattered, and there were not left among them two together.

(1Sa 11:12) And the people said to Samuel, Who has said that Saul shall not reign over us? Give up the men, and we will put them to death.

(1Sa 11:13) And Saul said, No man shall die this day, for to-day YHVH has wrought deliverance in Israel.

(1Sa 11:14) And Samuel spoke to the people, saying, Let us go to Galgala, and there renew the kingdom.

(1Sa 11:15) And all the people went to Galgala, and Samuel anointed Saul there to be king before YHVH in Galgala, and there he offered meat-offerings and peace-offerings before YHVH: and Samuel and all Israel rejoiced exceedingly.

(1Sa 12:1) And Samuel said to all Israel, Behold, I have hearkened to your voice in all things that ye have said to me, and I have set a king over you.

(1Sa 12:2) And now, behold, the king goes before you; and I am grown old and shall rest; and, behold, my sons are among you; and, behold, I have gone about before you from my youth to this day.

(1Sa 12:3) Behold, here am I, answer against me before YHVH and before his anointed: whose calf have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom of you have I oppressed? or from whose hand have I taken a bribe, even to a sandal? bear witness against me, and I will make restitution to you.

(1Sa 12:4) And they said to Samuel, Thou hast not injured us, and thou hast not oppressed us; and thou hast not afflicted us, and thou hast not taken anything from any one's hand.

(1Sa 12:5) And Samuel said to the people, YHVH is witness among you, and his anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found anything in my hand: and they said, He is witness.

(1Sa 12:6) And Samuel spoke to the people, saying, YHVH who appointed Moses and Aaron is witness, who brought our fathers up out of Egypt.

(1Sa 12:7) And now stand still, and I will judge you before YHVH; and I will relate to you all the righteousness of YHVH, the things which he has wrought among you and your fathers.

(1Sa 12:8) When Jacob and his sons went into Egypt, and Egypt humbled them, then our fathers cried to YHVH, and YHVH sent Moses and Aaron; and they brought our fathers out of Egypt, and he made them to dwell in this place.

(1Sa 12:9) And they forgot YHVH their Elohim, and he sold them into the hands of Sisara captain of the host of Jabis king of Asor, and into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the king of Moab; and he fought with them.

(1Sa 12:10) And they cried to YHVH, and said, We have sinned, for we have forsaken YHVH, and have served Baalim and the groves: and now deliver us out of the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee.

(1Sa 12:11) And he sent Jerobaal, and Barac, and Jephthae, and Samuel, and rescued us out of the hand of our enemies round about, and ye dwelt in security.

(1Sa 12:12) And ye saw that Naas king of the children of Ammon came against you, and ye said, Nay, none but a king shall reign over us; whereas YHVH our Elohim is our king.

(1Sa 12:13) And now behold the king whom ye have chosen; and behold, YHVH has set a king over you.

(1Sa 12:14) If ye should fear YHVH, and serve him, and hearken to his voice, and not resist the mouth of YHVH, and ye and your king that reigns over you should follow YHVH, well.

(1Sa 12:15) But if ye should not hearken to the voice of YHVH, and ye should resist the mouth of YHVH, then shall the hand of YHVH be upon you and upon your king.

(1Sa 12:16) And now stand still, and see this great thing, which YHVH will do before your eyes.

(1Sa 12:17) Is it not wheat-harvest to-day? I will call upon YHVH, and he shall send thunder and rain; and know ye and see, that your wickedness is great which ye have wrought before YHVH, having asked for yourselves a king.

(1Sa 12:18) And Samuel called upon YHVH, and YHVH sent thunders and rain in that day; and all the people feared greatly YHVH and Samuel.

(1Sa 12:19) And all the people said to Samuel, Pray for thy servants to YHVH thy Elohim, and let us not die; for we have added to all our sins this iniquity, in asking for us a king.

(1Sa 12:20) And Samuel said to the people, Fear not: ye have indeed wrought all this iniquity; only turn not from following YHVH, and serve YHVH with all your heart.

(1Sa 12:21) And turn not aside after the gods that are nothing, who will do nothing, and will not deliver you, because they are nothing.

(1Sa 12:22) For YHVH will not cast off his people for his great name's sake, because YHVH graciously took you to himself for a people.

(1Sa 12:23) And far be it from me to sin against YHVH in ceasing to pray for you: but I will serve YHVH, and shew you the good and the right way.

(1Sa 12:24) Only fear YHVH, and serve him in truth and with all your heart, for ye see what great things he has wrought with you.

(1Sa 12:25) But if ye continue to do evil, then shall ye and your king be consumed.

(1Sa 13:1) And Saul chooses for himself three thousand men of the men of Israel: and there were with Saul two thousand who were in Machmas, and in mount Baethel, and a thousand were with Jonathan in Gabaa of Benjamin: and he sent the rest of the people every man to his tent.

(1Sa 13:3) And Jonathan smote Nasib the Philistine that dwelt in the hill; and the Philistines hear of it, and Saul sounds the trumpet through all the land, saying, The servants have despised us.

(1Sa 13:4) And all Israel heard say, Saul has smitten Nasib the Philistine; now Israel had been put to shame before the Philistines; and the children of Israel went up after Saul in Galgala.

(1Sa 13:5) And the Philistines gather together to war with Israel; and then come up against Israel thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people as the sand by the seashore for multitude: and they come up, and encamp in Machmas, opposite Baethoron southward.

(1Sa 13:6) And the men of Israel saw that they were in a strait so that they could not draw nigh, and the people hid themselves in caves, and sheepfolds, and rocks, and ditches, and pits.

(1Sa 13:7) And they that went over went over Jordan to the land of Gad and Galaad: and Saul was yet in Galgala, and all the people followed after him in amazement.

(1Sa 13:8) And he continued seven days for the appointed testimony, as Samuel told him, and Samuel came not to Galgala, and his people were dispersed from him.

(1Sa 13:9) And Saul said, Bring hither victims, that I may offer whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings: and he offered the whole-burnt-offering.

(1Sa 13:10) And it came to pass when he had finished offering the whole-burnt-offering, that Samuel arrived, and Saul went out to meet him, and to bless him.

(1Sa 13:11) And Samuel said, What hast thou done? and Saul said, Because I saw how the people were scattered from me, and thou was not present as thou purposedst according to the set time of the days, and the Philistines were gathered to Machmas.

(1Sa 13:12) Then I said, Now will the Philistines come down to me to Galgala, and I have not sought the face of YHVH: so I forced myself and offered the whole-burnt-offering.

(1Sa 13:13) And Samuel said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly; for thou hast not kept my command, which YHVH commanded thee, as now YHVH would have confirmed thy kingdom over Israel for ever.

(1Sa 13:14) But now thy kingdom shall not stand to thee, and YHVH shall seek for himself a man after his own heart; and YHVH shall appoint him to be a ruler over his people, because thou hast not kept all that YHVH commanded thee.

(1Sa 13:15) And Samuel arose, and departed from Galgala, and the remnant of the people went after Saul to meet him after the men of war, when they had come out of Galgala to Gabaa of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people that were found with him, about six hundred men.

(1Sa 13:16) And Saul and Jonathan his son, and the people that were found with them, halted in Gabaa, of Benjamin; and they wept: and the Philistines had encamped in Machmas.

(1Sa 13:17) And men came forth to destroy out of the land of the Philistines in three companies; one company turning by the way of Gophera toward the land of Sogal, (1Sa 13:18) and another company turning the way of Baethoron, and another company turning by the way of Gabae that turns aside to Gai of Sabim.

(1Sa 13:19) And there was not found a smith in all the land of Israel, for the Philistines said, Lest the Hebrews make themselves sword or spear.

(1Sa 13:20) And all Israel went down to the Land of the Philistines to forge every one his reaping-hook and his tool, and every one his axe and his sickle.

(1Sa 13:21) And it was near the time of vintage: and their tools were valued at three shekels for a plough-share, and there was the same rate for the axe and the sickle.

(1Sa 13:22) And it came to pass in the days of the war of Machmas, that there was not a sword or spear found in the hand of all the people, that were with Saul and Jonathan; but with Saul and Jonathan his son was there found.

(1Sa 13:23) And there went out some from the camp of the Philistines to the place beyond Machmas.

(1Sa 14:1) And when a certain day arrived, Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, and let us go over to Messab of the Philistines that is on the other side yonder; but he told not his father.

(1Sa 14:2) And Saul sat on the top of the hill under the pomegranate tree that is in Magdon, and there were with him about six hundred men.

(1Sa 14:3) And Achia son of Achitob, the brother of Jochabed the son of Phinees, the son of Heli, was the priest of Elohim in Selom wearing an ephod: and the people knew not that Jonathan was gone.

(1Sa 14:4) And in the midst of the passage whereby Jonathan sought to pass over to the encampment of the Philistines, there was both a sharp rock on this side, and a sharp rock on the other side: the name of the one was Bases, and the name of the other Senna.

(1Sa 14:5) The one way was northward to one coming to Machmas, and the other way was southward to one coming to Gabae.

(1Sa 14:6) And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armour, Come, let us go over to Messab of these uncircumcised, if peradventure YHVH may do something for us; for YHVH is not straitened to save by many or by few.

(1Sa 14:7) And his armour-bearer said to him, Do all that thine heart inclines toward: behold, I am with thee, my heart is as thy heart.

(1Sa 14:8) And Jonathan said, Behold, we will go over to the men, and will come down suddenly upon them.

(1Sa 14:9) If they should say thus to us, Stand aloof there until we shall send you word; then we will stand still by ourselves, and will not go up against them.

(1Sa 14:10) But if they should say thus to us, Come up to us; then will we go up, for YHVH has delivered them into our hands; this shall be a sign to us.

(1Sa 14:11) And they both went in to Messab of the Philistines; and the Philistines said, Behold, the Hebrews come forth out of their Caves, where they had hidden themselves.

(1Sa 14:12) And the men of Messab answered Jonathan and his armour-bearer, and said, Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing: and Jonathan said to his armour-bearer, Come up after me, for YHVH has delivered them into the hands of Israel.

(1Sa 14:13) And Jonathan went up on his hands and feet, and his armour-bearer with him; and they looked on the face of Jonathan, and he smote them, and his armour-bearer did smite them after him.

(1Sa 14:14) And the first slaughter which Jonathan and his armour-bearer effected was twenty men, with darts and slings, and pebbles of the field.

(1Sa 14:15) And there was dismay in the camp, and in the field; and all the people in Messab, and the spoilers were amazed; and they would not act, and the land was terror-struck, and there was dismay from the lord.

(1Sa 14:16) And the watchmen of Saul beheld in Gabaa of Benjamin, and, behold, the army was thrown into confusion on every side.

(1Sa 14:17) And Saul said to the people with him, Number yourselves now, and see who has gone out from you: and they numbered themselves, and behold, Jonathan and his armour-bearer were not found.

(1Sa 14:18) And Saul said to Achia, Bring the ephod; for he wore the ephod in that day before Israel.

(1Sa 14:19) And it came to pass while Saul was speaking to the priest, that the sound in the camp of the Philistines continued to increase greatly; and Saul said to the priest, Withdraw thy hands.

(1Sa 14:20) And Saul went up and all the people that were with him, and they come to the battle: and, behold, every man's sword was against his neighbour, a very great confusion.

(1Sa 14:21) And the servants who had been before with the Philistines, who had gone up to the army, turned themselves also to be with the Israelites who were with Saul and Jonathan.

(1Sa 14:22) And all the Israelites who were hidden in mount Ephraim heard also that the Philistines fled; and they also gather themselves after them to battle: and YHVH saved Israel in that day; and the war passed through Bamoth; and all the people with Saul were about ten thousand men.

(1Sa 14:23) And the battle extended itself to every city in the mount Ephraim.

(1Sa 14:24) And Saul committed a great trespass of ignorance in that day, and he lays a curse on the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread before the evening; so I will avenge myself on my enemy: and none of the people tasted bread, though all the land was dining.

(1Sa 14:25) And Jaal was a wood abounding in swarms of bees on the face of the ground.

(1Sa 14:26) And the people went into the place of the bees, and, behold, they continued speaking; and, behold, there was none that put his hand to his mouth, for the people feared the oath of YHVH.

(1Sa 14:27) And Jonathan had not heard when his father adjured the people; and he reached forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and dipped it into the honeycomb, and returned his hand to his mouth, and his eyes recovered their sight.

(1Sa 14:28) And one of the people answered and said, Thy father solemnly adjured the people, saying, Cursed is the man who shall eat bread to-day. And the people were very faint, (1Sa 14:29) and Jonathan knew it, and said, My father has destroyed the land: see how my eyes have received sight now that I have tasted a little of this honey.

(1Sa 14:30) Surely if the people had this day eaten freely of the spoils of their enemies which they found, the slaughter among the Philistines would have been greater.

(1Sa 14:31) And on that day he smote some of the Philistines in Machmas; and the people were very weary.

(1Sa 14:32) And the people turned to the spoil; and the people took flocks, and herds, and calves, and slew them on the ground, and the people ate with the blood.

(1Sa 14:33) And it was reported to Saul, saying, The people have sinned against YHVH, eating with the blood: and Saul said, Out of Getthaim roll a great stone to me hither.

(1Sa 14:34) And Saul said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and tell them to bring hither every one his calf, and every one his sheep: and let them slay it on this stone and sin not against YHVH in eating with the blood: and the people brought each one that which was in his hand, and they slew them there.

(1Sa 14:35) And Saul built an altar there to YHVH: this was the first altar that Saul built to YHVH.

(1Sa 14:36) And Saul said, Let us go down after the Philistines this night, and let us plunder among them till the day break, and let us not leave a man among them. And they said, Do all that is good in thy sight: and the priest said, let us draw nigh hither to Elohim.

(1Sa 14:37) And Saul enquired of Elohim, If I go down after the Philistines, wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Israel? And he answered him not in that day.

(1Sa 14:38) And Saul said, Bring hither all the chiefs of Israel, and know and see by whom this sin has been committed this day.

(1Sa 14:39) For as YHVH lives who has saved Israel, if answer should be against my son Jonathan, he shall surely die. And there was no one that answered out of all the people.

(1Sa 14:40) And he said to all the men of Israel, Ye shall be under subjection, and I and Jonathan my son will be under subjection: and the people said to Saul, Do that which is good in thy sight.

(1Sa 14:41) And Saul said, YHVH Elohim of Israel, why hast thou not answered thy servant this day? is the iniquity in me, or in Jonathan my son? Lord Elohim of Israel, give clear manifestations; and if the lot should declare this, give, I pray thee, to thy people of Israel, give, I pray, holiness. And Jonathan and Saul are taken, and the people escaped.

(1Sa 14:42) And Saul said, Cast lots between me and my son Jonathan: whomsoever YHVH shall cause to be taken by lot, let him die: and the people said to Saul, This thing is not to be done: and Saul prevailed against the people, and they cast lots between him and Jonathan his son, and Jonathan is taken by lot.

(1Sa 14:43) And Saul said to Jonathan, Tell me what thou hast done: and Jonathan told him, and said, I did indeed taste a little honey, with the end of my staff that was in my hand, and, lo! I am to die.

(1Sa 14:44) And Saul said to him, Elohim do so to me, and more also, thou shalt surely die to-day.

(1Sa 14:45) And the people said to Saul, Shall he that has wrought this great salvation in Israel be put to death this day? As YHVH lives, there shall not fall to the ground one of the hairs of his head; for the people of Elohim have wrought successfully this day. And the people prayed for Jonathan in that day, and he died not.

(1Sa 14:46) And Saul went up from following the Philistines; and the Philistines departed to their place.

(1Sa 14:47) And Saul received the kingdom, by lot he inherits the office of ruling over Israel: and he fought against all his enemies round about, against Moab, and against the children of Ammon, and against the children of Edom, and against Baethaeor, and against the king of Suba, and against the Philistines: whithersoever he turned, he was victorious.

(1Sa 14:48) And he wrought valiantly, and smote Amalec, and rescued Israel out of the hand of them that trampled on him.

(1Sa 14:49) And the sons of Saul were Jonathan, and Jessiu, and Melchisa: and these were the names of his two daughters, the name of the first-born Merob, and the name of the second Melchol.

(1Sa 14:50) And the name of his wife was Achinoom, the daughter of Achimaa: and the name of his captain of the host was Abenner, the son of Ner, son of a kinsman of Saul.

(1Sa 14:51) And Kis was the father of Saul, and Ner, the father of Abenezer, was son of Jamin, son of Abiel.

(1Sa 14:52) And the war was vehement against the Philistines all the days of Saul; and when Saul saw any mighty man, and any valiant man, then he took them to himself.

(1Sa 15:1) And Samuel said to Saul, YHVH sent me to anoint thee king over Israel: and now hear the voice of YHVH.

(1Sa 15:2) Thus said YHVH of hosts, Now will I take vengeance for what Amalec did to Israel, when he met him in the way as he came up out of Egypt.

(1Sa 15:3) And now go, and thou shalt smite Amalec and Hierim and all that belongs to him, and thou shalt not save anything of him alive, but thou shalt utterly destroy him: and thou shalt devote him and all his to destruction, and thou shalt spare nothing belonging to him; and thou shalt slay both man and woman, and infant and suckling, and calf and sheep, and camel and ass.

(1Sa 15:4) And Saul summoned the people, and he numbered them in Galgala, four hundred thousand regular troops, and Juda thirty thousand regular troops.

(1Sa 15:5) And Saul came to the cities of Amalec, and laid wait in the valley.

(1Sa 15:6) And Saul said to the Kinite, Go, and depart out of the midst of the Amalekites, lest I put thee with them; for thou dealedst mercifully with the children of Israel when they went up out of Egypt. So the Kinite departed from the midst of Amalec.

(1Sa 15:7) And Saul smote Amalec from Evilat to Sur fronting Egypt.

(1Sa 15:8) And he took Agag the king of Amalec alive, and he slew all the people and Hierim with the edge of the sword.

(1Sa 15:9) And Saul and all the people saved Agag alive, and the best of the flocks, and of the herds, and of the fruits, of the vineyards, and of all the good things; and they would not destroy them: but every worthless and refuse thing they destroyed.

(1Sa 15:10) And the word of YHVH came to Samuel, saying,

(1Sa 15:11) I have repented that I have made Saul to be king: for he has turned back from following me, and has not kept my word. And Samuel was grieved, and cried to YHVH all night.

(1Sa 15:12) And Samuel rose early and went to meet Israel in the morning, and it was told Saul, saying, Samuel has come to Carmel, and he has raised up help for himself: and he turned his chariot, and came down to Galgala to Saul; and, behold, he was offering up a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH, the chief of the spoils which he brought out of Amalec.

(1Sa 15:13) And Samuel came to Saul: and Saul said to him, Blessed art thou of YHVH: I have performed all that YHVH said.

(1Sa 15:14) And Samuel said, What then is the bleating of this flock in my ears, and the sound of the oxen which I hear?

(1Sa 15:15) And Saul said, I have brought them out of Amalec, that which the people preserved, even the best of the sheep, and of the cattle, that it might be sacrificed to YHVH thy Elohim, and the rest have I utterly destroyed.

(1Sa 15:16) And Samuel said to Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what YHVH has said to me this night: and he said to him, Say on.

(1Sa 15:17) And Samuel said to Saul, Art thou not little in his eyes, though a leader of one of the tribes of Israel? and yet YHVH anointed thee to be king over Israel.

(1Sa 15:18) And YHVH sent thee on a journey, and said to thee, Go, and utterly destroy: thou shalt slay the sinners against me, even the Amalekites; and thou shalt war against them until thou have consumed them.

(1Sa 15:19) And why didst not thou hearken to the voice of YHVH, but didst haste to fasten upon the spoils, and didst that which was evil in the sight of YHVH?

(1Sa 15:20) And Saul said to Samuel, Because I listened to the voice of the people: yet I went the way by which YHVH sent me, and I brought Agag the king of Amalec, and I destroyed Amalec.

(1Sa 15:21) But the people took of the spoils the best flocks and herds out of that which was destroyed, to sacrifice before YHVH our Elohim in Galgal.

(1Sa 15:22) And Samuel said, Does YHVH take pleasure in whole-burnt-offerings and sacrifices, as in hearing the words of YHVH? behold, obedience is better than a good sacrifice, and hearkening than the fat of rams.

(1Sa 15:23) For sin is as divination; idols bring on pain and grief. Because thou hast rejected the word of YHVH, YHVH also shall reject thee from being king over Israel.

(1Sa 15:24) And Saul said to Samuel, I have sinned, in that I have transgressed the word of YHVH and thy direction; for I feared the people, and I hearkened to their voice.

(1Sa 15:25) And now remove, I pray thee, my sin, and turn back with me, and I will worship YHVH thy Elohim.

(1Sa 15:26) And Samuel said to Saul, I will not turn back with thee, for thou hast rejected the word of YHVH, and YHVH will reject thee from being king over Israel.

(1Sa 15:27) And Samuel turned his face to depart, and Saul caught hold of the skirt of his garment, and tore it.

(1Sa 15:28) And Samuel said to him, YHVH has rent thy kingdom from Israel out of thy hand this day, and will give it to thy neighbour who is better than thou.

(1Sa 15:29) And Israel shall be divided to two: and Elohim will not turn nor repent, for he is not as a man to repent.

(1Sa 15:30) And Saul said, I have sinned; yet honour me, I pray thee, before the elders of Israel, and before my people; and turn back with me, and I will worship YHVH thy Elohim.

(1Sa 15:31) So Samuel turned back after Saul, and he worshipped YHVH.

(1Sa 15:32) And Samuel said, Bring me Agag the king of Amalec: and Agag came to him trembling; and Agag said Is death thus bitter?

(1Sa 15:33) And Samuel said to Agag, As thy sword has bereaved women of their children, so shall thy mother be made childless among women: and Samuel slew Agag before YHVH in Galgal.

(1Sa 15:34) And Samuel departed to Armathaim, and Saul went up to his house at Gabaa.

(1Sa 15:35) And Samuel did not see Saul again till the day of his death, for Samuel mourned after Saul, and YHVH repented that he had made Saul king over Israel.

(1Sa 16:1) And YHVH said to Samuel, How long dost thou mourn for Saul, whereas I have rejected him from reigning over Israel? Fill thy horn with oil, and come, I will send thee to Jessae, to Bethlehem; for I have seen among his sons a king for me.

(1Sa 16:2) And Samuel said, How can I go? whereas Saul will hear of it, and slay me: and YHVH said, Take a heifer in thine hand and thou shalt say, I am come to sacrifice to YHVH.

(1Sa 16:3) And thou shalt call Jessae to the sacrifice, and I will make known to thee what thou shalt do; and thou shalt anoint him whom I shall mention to thee.

(1Sa 16:4) And Samuel did all that YHVH told him; and he came to Bethlehem: and the elders of the city were amazed at meeting him, and said, Dost thou come peaceably, thou Seer?

(1Sa 16:5) And he said, Peaceably: I am come to sacrifice to YHVH. Sanctify yourselves, and rejoice with me this day: and he sanctified Jessae and his sons, and he called them to the sacrifice.

(1Sa 16:6) And it came to pass when they came in, that he saw Eliab, and said, Surely YHVH's anointed is before him.

(1Sa 16:7) But YHVH said to Samuel, Look not on his appearance, nor on his stature, for I have rejected him; for Elohim sees not as man looks; for man looks at the outward appearance, but Elohim looks at the heart.

(1Sa 16:8) And Jessae called Aminadab, and he passed before Samuel: and he said, Neither has Elohim chosen this one.

(1Sa 16:9) And Jessae caused Sama to pass by: and he said, Neither has Elohim chosen this one.

(1Sa 16:10) And Jessae caused his seven sons to pass before Samuel: and Samuel said, YHVH has not chosen these.

(1Sa 16:11) And Samuel said to Jessae, Hast thou no more sons? And Jessae said, There is yet a little one; behold, he tends the flock. And Samuel said to Jessae, Send and fetch him for we may not sit down till he comes.

(1Sa 16:12) And he sent and fetched him: and he was ruddy, with beauty of eyes, and very goodly to behold. And YHVH said to Samuel, Arise, and anoint David, for he is good.

(1Sa 16:13) And Samuel took the horn of oil, and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of YHVH came upon David from that day forward: and Samuel arose, and departed to Armathaim.

(1Sa 16:14) And the Spirit of YHVH departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from YHVH tormented him.

(1Sa 16:15) And Saul's servants said to him, Behold now, and evil spirit from YHVH torments thee.

(1Sa 16:16) Let now thy servants speak before thee, and let them seek for our lord a man skilled to play on the harp; and it shall come to pass when an evil spirit comes upon thee and he shall play on his harp, that thou shalt be well, and he shall refresh thee.

(1Sa 16:17) And Saul said to his servants, Look now out for me a skillful player, and bring him to me.

(1Sa 16:18) And one of his servants answered and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jessae the Bethlehemite, and he understands playing on the harp, and the man is prudent, and a warrior, and wise in speech, and the man is handsome, and YHVH is with him.

(1Sa 16:19) And Saul sent messengers to Jessae, saying, Send to me thy son David who is with thy flock.

(1Sa 16:20) And Jessae took a homer of bread, and a bottle of wine, and one kid of the goats, and sent them by the hand of his son David to Saul.

(1Sa 16:21) And David went in to Saul, and stood before him; and he loved him greatly; and he became his armour-bearer.

(1Sa 16:22) And Saul sent to Jessae, saying, Let David, I pray thee, stand before me, for he has found grace in my eyes.

(1Sa 16:23) And it came to pass when the evil spirit was upon Saul, that David took his harp, and played with his hand: and Saul was refreshed, and it was well with him, and the evil spirit departed from him.

(1Sa 17:1) And the Philistines gather their armies to battle, and gather themselves to Socchoth of Judaea, and encamp between Socchoth and Azeca Ephermen.

(1Sa 17:2) And Saul and the men of Israel gather together, and they encamp in the valley, and set the battle in array against the Philistines.

(1Sa 17:3) And the Philistines stand on the mountain on one side, and Israel stands on the mountain on the other side, and the valley was between them.

(1Sa 17:4) And there went forth a mighty man out of the army of the Philistines, Goliath, by name, out of Geth, his height was four cubits and a span.

(1Sa 17:5) And he had a helmet upon his head, and he wore a breastplate of chain armour; and the weight of his breastplate was five thousand shekels of brass and iron.

(1Sa 17:6) And greaves of grass were upon his legs, and a brazen target was between his shoulders.

(1Sa 17:7) And the staff of his spear was like a weaver's beam, and the spear's head was formed of six hundred shekels of iron; and his armour-bearer went before him.

(1Sa 17:8) And he stood and cried to the army of Israel, and said to them, Why are ye come forth to set yourselves in battle array against us? Am not I a Philistine, and ye He brews of Saul? Choose for yourselves a man, and let him come down to me.

(1Sa 17:9) And if he shall be able to fight against me, and shall smite me, then will we be your servants: but if I should prevail and smite him, ye shall be our servants, and serve us.

(1Sa 17:10) And the Philistine said, Behold, I have defied the armies of Israel this very day: give me a man, and we will both of us fight in single combat.

(1Sa 17:11) And Saul and all Israel heard these words of the Philistine, and they were dismayed, and greatly terrified.

(1Sa 17:32) And David said to Saul, Let not, I pray thee, the heart of my lord be dejected within him: thy servant will go, and fight with this Philistine.

(1Sa 17:33) And Saul said to David, Thou wilt not in anywise be able to go against this Philistine to fight with him, for thou art a mere youth, and he a man of war from his youth.

(1Sa 17:34) And David said to Saul, Thy servant was tending the flock for his father; and when a lion came and a she-bear, and took a sheep out of the flock, (1Sa 17:35) then I went forth after him, and smote him, and drew the spoil out of his mouth: and as he rose up against me, then I caught hold of his throat, and smote him, and slew him.

(1Sa 17:36) Thy servant smote both the lion and the bear, and the uncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them: shall I not go and smite him, and remove this day a reproach from Israel? For who is this uncircumcised one, who has defied the army of the living Elohim?

(1Sa 17:37) YHVH who delivered me out of the paw of the lion and out the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this uncircumcised Philistine. And Saul said to David, Go, and YHVH shall be with thee.

(1Sa 17:38) And Saul clothed David with a military coat, and put his brazen helmet on his head.

(1Sa 17:39) And he girt David with his sword over his coat: and he made trial walking with them once and again: and David said to Saul, I shall not be able to go with these, for I have not proved them: so they remove them from him.

(1Sa 17:40) And he took his staff in his hand, and he chose for himself five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in the shepherd's scrip which he had for his store, and his sling was in his hand; and he approached the Philistine.

(1Sa 17:42) And Goliath saw David, and despised him; for he was a lad, and ruddy, with a fair countenance.

(1Sa 17:43) And the Philistine said to David, Am I as a dog, that thou comest against me with a staff and stones? [and David said, Nay, but worse than a dog.] And the Philistine cursed David by his gods.

(1Sa 17:44) And the Philistine said to David, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh to the birds of the air, and to the beasts of the earth.

(1Sa 17:45) And David said to the Philistine, Thou comest to me with sword, and with spear, and with shield; but I come to thee in the name of YHVH Elohim of hosts of the army of Israel, which thou hast defied (1Sa 17:46) this day. And YHVH shall deliver thee this day into my hand; and I will slay thee, and take away thy head from off thee, and will give thy limbs and the limbs of the army of the Philistines this day to the birds of the sky, and to the wild beasts of the earth; and all the earth shall know that there is a Elohim in Israel.

(1Sa 17:47) And all this assembly shall know that YHVH delivers not by sword or spear, for the battle is YHVH's, and YHVH will deliver you into our hands.

(1Sa 17:48) And the Philistine arose and went to meet David.

(1Sa 17:49) And David stretched out his hand to his scrip, and took thence a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistine on his forehead, and the stone penetrated through the helmet into his forehead, and he fell upon his face to the ground.

(1Sa 17:51) And David ran, and stood upon him, and took his sword, and slew him, and cut off his head: and the Philistines saw that their champion was dead, and they fled.

(1Sa 17:52) And the men of Israel and Juda arose, and shouted and pursued them as far as the entrance to Geth, and as far as the gate of Ascalon: and the slain men of the Philistines fell in the way of the gates, both to Geth, and to Accaron.

(1Sa 17:53) And the men of Israel returned from pursuing after the Philistines, and they destroyed their camp.

(1Sa 17:54) And David took the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Jerusalem; but he put his armour in his tent.

(1Sa 18:1) And there came out women in dances to meet David out of all the cities of Israel, with timbrels, and with rejoicing, and with cymbals.

(1Sa 18:7) And the women began the strain, and said, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands.

(1Sa 18:8) And it seemed evil in the eyes of Saul concerning this matter, and he said, To David they have given ten thousands, and to me they have given thousands.

(1Sa 18:12) And Saul was alarmed on account of David.

(1Sa 18:13) And he removed him from him, and made him a captain of a thousand for himself; and he went out and came in before the people.

(1Sa 18:14) And David was prudent in all his ways, and YHVH was with him.

(1Sa 18:15) And Saul saw that he was very wise, and he was afraid of him.

(1Sa 18:16) And all Israel and Juda loved David, because he came in and went out before the people.

(1Sa 18:20) And Melchol the daughter of Saul loved David; and it was told Saul, and the thing was pleasing in his eyes.

(1Sa 18:21) And Saul said, I will give her to him, and she shall be a stumbling-block to him. Now the hand of the Philistines was against Saul.

(1Sa 18:22) And Saul charged his servants, saying, Speak ye privately to David, saying, Behold, the king delights in thee, and all his servants love thee, and do thou become the king's son-in-law.

(1Sa 18:23) And the servants of Saul spoke these words in the ears of David; and David said, Is it a light thing in your eyes to become son-in-law to the king? Whereas I am an humble man, an not honourable?

(1Sa 18:24) And the servants of Saul reported to him according to these words, which David spoke.

(1Sa 18:25) And Saul said, Thus shall ye speak to David, The king wants no gift but a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to avenge himself on the kings enemies. Now Saul thought to cast him into the hands of the Philistines.

(1Sa 18:26) And the servants of Saul report these words to David, and David was well pleased to become the son-in-law to the king.

(1Sa 18:27) And David arose, and went, he and his men, and smote among the Philistines a hundred men: and he brought their foreskins, and he becomes the king's son-in-law, and Saul gives him Melchol his daughter to wife.

(1Sa 18:28) And Saul saw that YHVH was with David, and that all Israel loved him.

(1Sa 18:29) And he was yet more afraid of David.

(1Sa 19:1) And Saul spoke to Jonathan his son, and to all his servants, to slay David.

(1Sa 19:2) And Jonathan, Saul's son, loved David much: and Jonathan told David, saying, Saul seeks to kill thee: take heed to thyself therefore to-morrow morning, and hide thyself, and dwell in secret.

(1Sa 19:3) And I will go forth, and stand near my father in the field where thou shalt be, and I will speak concerning thee to my father; and I will see what his answer may be, and I will tell thee.

(1Sa 19:4) And Jonathan spoke favorably concerning David to Saul his father, and said to him, Let not the king sin against thy servant David, for he has not sinned against thee, and his deeds are very good.

(1Sa 19:5) And he put his life in his hand, and smote the Philistine, and YHVH wrought a great deliverance; and all Israel saw, and rejoined: why then dost thou sin against innocent blood, to slay David without a cause?

(1Sa 19:6) And Saul hearkened to the voice of Jonathan; and Saul swore, saying, As YHVH lives, he shall not die.

(1Sa 19:7) And Jonathan called David, and told him all these words; and Jonathan brought David in to Saul, and he was before him as in former times.

(1Sa 19:8) And there was again war against Saul; and David did valiantly, and fought against the Philistines, and smote them with a very great slaughter, and they fled from before him.

(1Sa 19:9) And an evil spirit from Elohim was upon Saul, and he was resting in his house, and a spear was in his hand, and David was playing on the harp with his hands.

(1Sa 19:10) And Saul sought to smite David with the spear; and David withdrew suddenly from the presence of Saul; and he drove the spear into the wall; and David retreated and escaped.

(1Sa 19:11) And it came to pass in that night, that Saul sent messengers to the house of David to watch him, in order to slay him in the morning; and Melchol David's wife told him, saying, Unless thou save thy life this night, tomorrow thou shalt be slain.

(1Sa 19:12) So Melchol lets David down by the window, and he departed, and fled, and escaped.

(1Sa 19:13) And Melchol took images, and laid them on the bed, and she put the liver of a goat by his head, and covered them with clothes.

(1Sa 19:14) And Saul sent messengers to take David; and they say that he is sick.

(1Sa 19:15) And he sends to David, saying, Bring him to me on the bed, that I may slay him.

(1Sa 19:16) And the messengers come, and, behold, the images were on the bed, and the goat's liver at his head.

(1Sa 19:17) And Saul said to Melchol, Why hast thou thus deceived me, and suffered my enemy to depart, and he has escaped? and Melchol said to Saul, He said, let me go, and if not, I will slay thee.

(1Sa 19:18) So David fled, and escaped, and comes to Samuel to Armathaim, and tells him all that Saul had done to him: and Samuel and David went, and dwelt in Navath in Rama.

(1Sa 19:19) And it was told Saul, saying, Behold, David is in Navath in Rama.

(1Sa 19:20) And Saul sent messengers to take David, and they saw the assembly of the prophets, and Samuel stood as appointed over them; and the Spirit of Elohim came upon the messengers of Saul, and they prophesy.

(1Sa 19:21) And it was told Saul, and he sent other messengers, and they also prophesied: and Saul sent again a third set of messengers, and they also prophesied.

(1Sa 19:22) And Saul was very angry, and went himself also to Armathaim, and he comes as far as the well of the threshing floor that is in Sephi; and he asked and said, Where are Samuel and David? And they said, Behold, in Navath in Rama.

(1Sa 19:23) And he went thence to Navath in Rama: and there came the Spirit of Elohim upon him also, and he went on prophesying till he came to Navath in Rama.

(1Sa 19:24) And he took off his clothes, and prophesied before them; and lay down naked all that day and all that night: therefore they said, Is Saul also among the prophets?

(1Sa 20:1) And David fled from Navath in Rama, and comes into the presence of Jonathan; and he said, What have I done, and what is my fault, and wherein have I sinned before thy father, that he seeks my life?

(1Sa 20:2) And Jonathan said to him, Far be it from thee: thou shalt not die: behold, my father will not do any thing great or small without discovering it to me; and why should my father hide this matter from me? This thing is not so.

(1Sa 20:3) And David answered Jonathan, and said, Thy father knows surely that I have found grace in thy sight, and he said, Let not Jonathan know this, lest he refuse his consent: but as YHVH lives and thy soul lives, as I said, the space is filled up between me and death.

(1Sa 20:4) And Jonathan said to David, What does thy soul desire, and what shall I do for thee.

(1Sa 20:5) And David said to Jonathan, Behold, to-morrow is the new moon, and I shall not on any account sit down to eat, but thou shalt let me go, and I will hide in the plain till the evening.

(1Sa 20:6) And if thy father do in anywise enquire for me, then shalt thou say, David earnestly asked leave of me to run to Bethleem his city, for there is there, a yearly sacrifice for all the family.

(1Sa 20:7) If he shall say thus, Well, all is safe for thy servant: but if he shall answer harshly to thee, know that evil is determined by him.

(1Sa 20:8) And thou shalt deal mercifully with thy servant; for thou hast brought thy servant into a covenant of YHVH with thyself: and if there is iniquity in thy servant, slay me thyself; but why dost thou thus bring me to thy father?

(1Sa 20:9) And Jonathan said, That be far from thee: for if I surely know that evil is determined by my father to come upon thee, although it should not be against thy cities, I will tell thee.

(1Sa 20:10) And David said to Jonathan, Who can tell me if thy father should answer roughly?

(1Sa 20:11) And Jonathan said to David, Go, and abide in the field. And they went out both into the field.

(1Sa 20:12) And Jonathan said to David, YHVH Elohim of Israel knows that I will sound my father as I have an opportunity, three several times, and, behold, if good should be determined concerning David, and I do not send to thee to the field, (1Sa 20:13) Elohim do so to Jonathan and more also: as I shall also report the evil to thee, and make it known to thee, and I will let thee go; and thou shalt depart in peace, and YHVH shall be with thee, as he was with my father.

(1Sa 20:14) And if indeed I continue to live, then shalt thou deal mercifully with me; and if I indeed die,

(1Sa 20:16) thou shalt not withdraw thy mercy from my house for ever: and if thou doest not, when YHVH cuts off the enemies of David each from the face of the earth, should it happen that the name of Jonathan be discovered by the house of David, then let YHVH seek out the enemies of David.

(1Sa 20:17) And Jonathan swore yet again to David, because he loved the soul of him that loved him.

(1Sa 20:18) And Jonathan said, To-morrow is the new moon, and thou wilt be enquired for, because thy seat will be observed as vacant.

(1Sa 20:19) And thou shalt stay three days, and watch an opportunity, and shalt come to thy place where thou mayest hide thyself in the day of thy business, and thou shalt wait by that ergab.

(1Sa 20:20) And I will shoot three arrows, aiming them at a mark.

(1Sa 20:21) And behold, I will send a lad, saying, Go find me the arrow.

(1Sa 20:22) If I should expressly say to the lad, The arrow is here, and on this side of thee, take it; then come, for it is well with thee, and there is no reason for fear, as YHVH lives: but if I should say thus to the young man, The arrow is on that side of thee, and beyond; go, for YHVH hath sent thee away.

(1Sa 20:23) And as for the word which thou and I have spoken, behold, YHVH is witness between me and thee for ever.

(1Sa 20:24) So David hides himself in the field, and the new month arrives, and the king comes to the table to eat.

(1Sa 20:25) And he sat upon his seat as in former times, even on his seat by the wall, and he went before Jonathan; and Abenner sat on one side of Saul, and the place of David was empty.

(1Sa 20:26) And Saul said nothing on that day, for he said, It seems to have fallen out that he is not clean, because he has not purified himself.

(1Sa 20:27) And it came to pass on the morrow, on the second day of the month, that the place of David was empty; and Saul said to Jonathan his son, Why has not the son of Jessae attended both yesterday and today at the table?

(1Sa 20:28) And Jonathan answered Saul, and said to him, David asked leave of me to go as far as Bethlehem his city;

(1Sa 20:29) and he said, Let me go, I pray thee, for we have a family sacrifice in the city, and my brethren have sent for me; and now, if I have found grace in thine eyes, I will even go over and see my brethren: therefore he is not present at the table of the king.

(1Sa 20:30) And Saul was exceedingly angry with Jonathan, and said to him, Thou son of traitorous damsels! for do I not know that thou art an accomplice with the son of Jessae to thy same, and to the shame of thy mother's nakedness?

(1Sa 20:31) For so long as the son of Jessae lives upon the earth, thy kingdom shall not be established: now then send and take the young man, for he shall surely die.

(1Sa 20:32) And Jonathan answered Saul, Why is he to die? What has he done?

(1Sa 20:33) And Saul lifted up his spear against Jonathan to slay him: so Jonathan knew that this evil was determined on by his father to slay David.

(1Sa 20:34) And Jonathan sprang up from the table in great anger, and did not eat bread on the second day of the month, for he grieved bitterly for David, because his father determined on mischief against him.

(1Sa 20:35) And morning came, and Jonathan went out to the field, as he appointed to do for a signal to David, and a little boy was with him.

(1Sa 20:36) And he said to the boy, Run, find me the arrows which I shoot:

and the boy ran, and Jonathan shot an arrow, and sent it beyond him.

(1Sa 20:37) And the boy came to the place where the arrow was which Jonathan shot; and Jonathan cried out after the lad, and said, The arrow is on that side of thee and beyond thee.

(1Sa 20:38) And Jonathan cried out after his boy, saying, Make all speed, and stay not. And Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows, and brought the arrows to his master.

(1Sa 20:39) And the boy knew nothing, only Jonathan and David knew.

(1Sa 20:40) And Jonathan gave his weapons to his boy, and said to his boy, Go, enter into the city.

(1Sa 20:41) And when the lad went in, then David arose from the argab, and fell upon his face, and did obeisance to him three times, and they kissed each other, and wept for each other, for a great while.

(1Sa 20:42) And Jonathan said to David, Go in peace, and as we have both sworn in the name of YHVH, saying, YHVH shall be witness between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever even so let it be. And David arose and departed, and Jonathan went into the city.

(1Sa 21:1) And David comes to Nomba to Abimelech the priest: and Abimelech was amazed at meeting him, and said to him, Why art thou alone, and nobody with thee?

(1Sa 21:2) And David said to the priest, The king gave me a command to-day, and said to me, Let no one know the matter on which I send thee, and concerning which I have charged thee: and I have charged my servants to be in the place that is called, The faithfulness of Elohim, phellani maemoni.

(1Sa 21:3) And now if there are under thy hand five loaves, give into my hand what is ready.

(1Sa 21:4) And the priest answered David, and said, There are no common loaves under my hand, for I have none but holy loaves: if the young men have been kept at least from women, then they shall eat them.

(1Sa 21:5) And David answered the priest, and said to him, Yea, we have been kept from women for three days: when I came forth for the journey all the young men were purified; but this expedition is unclean, wherefore it shall be sanctified this day because of my weapons.

(1Sa 21:6) So Abimelech the priest gave him the shewbread; for there were no loaves there, but only the presence loaves which had been removed from the presence of YHVH, in order that hot bread should be set on, on the day on which he took them.

(1Sa 21:7) And there was there on that day one of Saul's servants detained before YHVH, and his name was Doec the Syrian, tending the mules of Saul.

(1Sa 21:8) And David said to Abimelech, See if there is here under thy hand spear or sword, for I have not brought in my hand my sword or my weapons, for the word of the king was urgent.

(1Sa 21:9) And the priest said, Behold the sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou smotest in the valley of Ela; and it is wrapt in a cloth: if thou wilt take it, take it for thyself, for there is no other except it here. And David said, Behold, there is none like it; give it me.

(1Sa 21:10) And he gave it him; and David arose, and fled in that day from the presence of Saul: and David came to Anchus king of Geth.

(1Sa 21:11) And the servants of Anchus said to him, Is not this David the king of the land? Did not the dancing women begin the son to him, saying, Saul has smitten his thousand, and David his ten thousands?

(1Sa 21:12) And David laid up the words in his heart, and was greatly afraid of Achish king of Geth.

(1Sa 21:14) And Achish said to his servants, Lo! ye see the man is mad: why have ye brought him in to me?

(1Sa 21:15) Am I in want of madmen, that ye have brought him in to me to play the madman? He shall not come into the house.

(1Sa 22:1) And David departed thence, and escaped; and he comes to the cave of Adullam, and his brethren hear, and the house of his father, and they go down to him there.

(1Sa 22:2) And there gathered to him every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was troubled in mind; and he was a leader over them, and there were with him about four hundred men.

(1Sa 22:3) And David departed thence to Massepith of Moab, and said to the king of Moab, Let, I pray thee, my father and my mother be with thee, until I know what Elohim will do to me.

(1Sa 22:4) And he persuaded the King of Moab, and they dwell with him continually, while David was in the hold.

(1Sa 22:5) And Gad the prophet said to David, Dwell not in the hold: go, and thou shalt enter the land of Juda. So David went, and came and dwelt in the city of Saric.

(1Sa 22:6) And Saul heard that David was discovered, and his men with him: now Saul dwelt in the hill below the field that is in Rama, and his spear was in his hand, and all his servants stood near him.

(1Sa 22:7) And Saul said to his servants that stood by him, Hear now, ye sons of Benjamin, will the son of Jessae indeed give all of you fields and vineyards, and will he make you all captains of hundreds and captains of thousands?

(1Sa 22:8) That ye are conspiring against me, and there is no one that informs me, whereas my son has made a covenant with the son of Jessae, and there is no one of you that is sorry for me, or informs me, that my son has stirred up my servant against me for an enemy, as it is this day?

(1Sa 22:9) And Doeg the Syrian who was over the mules of Saul answered and said, I saw the son of Jessae as he came to Nob to Abimelech son of Achitob the priest.

(1Sa 22:10) And the priest enquired of Elohim for him, and gave him provision, and gave him the sword of Goliath the Philistine.

(1Sa 22:11) And the king sent to call Abimelech son of Achitob and all his father's sons, the priests that were in Nob; and they all came to the king.

(1Sa 22:12) And Saul said, Hear now, thou son of Achitob. And he said, Lo! I am here, speak, my lord.

(1Sa 22:13) And Saul said to him, Why have thou and the son of Jessae conspired against me, that thou shouldst give him bread and a sword, and shouldst enquire of Elohim for him, to raise him up against me as an enemy, as he is this day?

(1Sa 22:14) And he answered the king, and said, And who is there among all thy servants faithful as David, and he is a son-in-law of the king, and he is executor of all thy commands, and is honourable in thy house?

(1Sa 22:15) Have I begun to-day to enquire of Elohim for him? By no means: let not the king bring a charge against his servant, and against thee whole of my father's house; for thy servant knew not in all these matters anything great or small.

(1Sa 22:16) And king Saul said, Thou shalt surely die, Abimelech, thou, and all thy father's house.

(1Sa 22:17) And the king said to the footmen that attended on him, Draw nigh and slay the priests of YHVH, because their hand is with David, and because they knew that he fled, and they did not inform me. But the servants of the king would not lift their hands to fall upon the priest of YHVH.

(1Sa 22:18) And the king said to Doec, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests: and Doec the Syrian turned, and slew the priests of YHVH in that day, three hundred and five men, all wearing an ephod.

(1Sa 22:19) And he smote Nomba the city of the priest with the edge of the sword, both man, and woman, infant and suckling, and calf, and ox, and sheep.

(1Sa 22:20) And one son of Abimelech son of Achitob escapes, and his name was Abiathar, and he fled after David.

(1Sa 22:21) And Abiathar told David that Saul had slain all the priests of YHVH.

(1Sa 22:22) And David said to Abiathar, I knew it in that day, that Doec the Syrian would surely tell Saul: I am guilty of the death of the house of thy father.

(1Sa 22:23) Dwell with me; fear not, for wherever I shall seek a place of safety for my life, I will also seek a place for thy life, for thou art safely guarded while with me.

(1Sa 23:1) And it was told David, saying, behold, the Philistines war in Keila, and they rob, they trample on the threshing-floors.

(1Sa 23:2) And David enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall I go and smite these Philistines? And YHVH said, Go, and thou shalt smite these Philistines, and shalt save Keila.

(1Sa 23:3) And the men of David said to him, Behold, we are afraid here in Judea; and how shall it be if we go to Keila? Shall we go after the spoils of the Philistines?

(1Sa 23:4) And David enquired yet again of YHVH; and YHVH answered him, and said to him, Arise and go down to Keila, for I will deliver the Philistines into thy hands.

(1Sa 23:5) So David and his men with him went to Keila, and fought with the Philistines; and they fled from before him, and he carried off their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter, and David rescued the inhabitants of Keila.

(1Sa 23:6) And it came to pass when Abiathar the son of Achimelech fled to David, that he went down with David to Keila, having an ephod in his hand.

(1Sa 23:7) And it was told Saul that David was come to Keila: and Saul said, Elohim has sold him into my hands, for he is shut up, having entered into a city that has gates and bars.

(1Sa 23:8) And Saul charged all the people to go down to war to Keila, to besiege David and his men.

(1Sa 23:9) And David knew that Saul spoke openly of mischief against him: and David said to Abiathar the priest, Bring the ephod of YHVH.

(1Sa 23:10) And David said, Lord Elohim of Israel, thy servant has indeed heard, that Saul seeks to come against Keila to destroy the city on my account.

(1Sa 23:11) Will the place be shut up? And now will Saul come down, as thy servant has heard? Lord Elohim of Israel, tell thy servant. And YHVH said, It will be shut up.

(1Sa 23:13) And David arose, and the men with him, in number about four hundred, and they went forth from Keila, and went whithersoever they could go: and it was told Saul that David had escaped from Keila, and he forbore to come.

(1Sa 23:14) And he dwelt in Maserem in the wilderness, in the narrow passes; and dwelt in the wilderness in mount Ziph, in the dry country. And Saul sought him continually, but YHVH delivered him not into his hands.

(1Sa 23:15) And David perceived that Saul went forth to seek David; and David was in the dry mountain in the New Ziph.

(1Sa 23:16) And Jonathan son of Saul rose, and went to David to Caene, and strengthened his hands in YHVH.

(1Sa 23:17) And he said to him, Fear not, for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Israel, and I shall be second to thee; and Saul my father knows it.

(1Sa 23:18) So they both made a covenant before YHVH; and David dwelt in Caene, and Jonathan went to his home.

(1Sa 23:19) And the Ziphites came up out of the dry country to Saul to the hill, saying, Behold, is not David hidden with us in Messara, in the narrows in Caene in the hill of Echela, which is on the right of Jessaemon?

(1Sa 23:20) And now according to all the king's desire to come down, let him come down to us; they have shut him up into the hands of the king.

(1Sa 23:21) And Saul said to them, Blessed be ye of YHVH, for ye have been grieved on my account.

(1Sa 23:22) Go, I pray you, and make preparations yet, and notice his place where his foot shall be, quickly, in that place which ye spoke of, lest by any means he should deal craftily.

(1Sa 23:24) And the Ziphites arose, and went before Saul: and David and his men were in the wilderness of Maon, westward, to the right of Jessaemon.

(1Sa 23:25) And Saul and his men went to seek him: and they brought word to David, and he went down to the rock that was in the wilderness of Maon: and Saul heard, and followed after David to the wilderness of Maon.

(1Sa 23:26) And Saul and his men go on one side of the mountain, and David and his men are on the other side of the mountain: and David was hiding himself to escape from Saul: and Saul and his men encamped against David and his men, in order to take them.

(1Sa 23:27) And there came a messenger to Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come hither, for the Philistines have invaded the land.

(1Sa 23:28) So Saul returned from following after David, and went to meet the Philistines: therefore that place was called The divided Rock.

(1Sa 24:1) And David rose up from thence, and dwelt in the narrow passes of Engaddi.

(1Sa 24:2) And it came to pass when Saul returned from pursuing after the Philistines, that it was reported to him, saying, David is in the wilderness of Engaddi.

(1Sa 24:3) And he took with him three thousand men, chosen out of all Israel, and went to seek David and his men in front of Saddaeem.

(1Sa 24:4) And he came to the flocks of sheep that were by the way, and there was a cave there; and Saul went in to make preparation, and David and his men were sitting in the inner part of the cave.

(1Sa 24:5) And the men of David said to him, Behold, this is the day of which YHVH spoke to thee, that he would deliver thine enemy into thy hands; and thou shalt do to him as it is good in thy sight. So David arose and cut off the skirt of Saul's garment secretly.

(1Sa 24:6) And it came to pass after this that David's heart smote him, because he had cut off the skirt of his garment.

(1Sa 24:7) And David said to his men, YHVH forbid it me, that I should do this thing to my lord the anointed of YHVH, to lift my hand against him; for he is the anointed of YHVH.

(1Sa 24:8) So David persuaded his men by his words, and did not suffer them to arise and slay Saul: and Saul arose and went his way.

(1Sa 24:9) And David rose up and went after him out of the cave: and David cried after Saul, saying, My lord, O king! and Saul looked behind him, and David bowed with his face to the ground, and did obeisance to him.

(1Sa 24:10) And David said to Saul, Why dost thou hearken to the words of the people, saying, Behold, David seeks thy life?

(1Sa 24:11) Behold, thine eyes have seen this day how that YHVH has delivered thee this day into my hands in the cave; and I would not slay thee, but spared thee, and said, I will not lift up my hand against my lord, for he is YHVH's anointed.

(1Sa 24:12) And behold, the skirt of thy mantle is in my hand, I cut off the skirt, and did not slay thee: know then and see to-day, there is no evil in my hand, nor impiety, nor rebellion; and I have not sinned against thee, yet thou layest snares for my soul to take it.

(1Sa 24:13) YHVH judge between me and thee, and YHVH requite thee on thyself: but my hand shall not be upon thee.

(1Sa 24:14) As the old proverb says, Transgression will proceed from the wicked ones: but my hand shall not be upon thee.

(1Sa 24:15) And now after whom dost thou come forth, O king of Israel? After whom dost thou pursue? After a dead dog, and after a flea?

(1Sa 24:16) YHVH be judge and umpire between me and thee, YHVH look upon and judge my cause, and rescue me out of thy hand.

(1Sa 24:17) And it came to pass when David had finished speaking these words to Saul, that Saul said, Is this thy voice, Son David? And Saul lifted up his voice, and wept.

(1Sa 24:18) And Saul said to David, Thou art more righteous than I, for thou hast recompensed me good, but I have recompensed thee evil.

(1Sa 24:19) And thou hast told me to-day what good thou hast done me, how YHVH shut me up into thy hands to-day, and thou didst not slay me.

(1Sa 24:20) And if any one should find his enemy in distress, and should send him forth in a good way, then YHVH will reward him good, as thou has done this day.

(1Sa 24:21) And now, behold, I know that thou shalt surely reign, and the kingdom of Israel shall be established in thy hand.

(1Sa 24:22) Now then swear to me by YHVH, that thou wilt not destroy my seed after me, that thou wilt not blot out my name from the house of my father.

(1Sa 24:23) So David swore to Saul: and Saul departed to his place, and David and his men went up to the strong-hold of Messera.

(1Sa 25:2) And there was a man in Maon, and his flocks were in Carmel, and he was a very great man; and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand she-goats: and he happened to be shearing his flock in Carmel.

(1Sa 25:3) And the man's name was Nabal, and his wife's name was Abigaia: and his wife was of good understanding and very beautiful in person: but the man was harsh, and evil in his doings, and the man was churlish.

(1Sa 25:4) And David heard in the wilderness, that Nabal the Carmelite was shearing his sheep.

(1Sa 25:5) And David sent ten young men, and he said to the young men, Go up to Carmel, and go to Nabal, and ask him in my name how he is.

(1Sa 25:6) And thus shall ye say, May thou and thy house seasonably prosper, and all thine be in prosperity.

(1Sa 25:7) And now, behold, I have heard that thy shepherds who were with us in the wilderness are shearing thy sheep, and we hindered them not, neither did we demand any thing from them all the time they were in Carmel.

(1Sa 25:8) Ask thy servants, and they will tell thee. Let then thy servants find grace in thine eyes, for we are come on a good day; give we pray thee, whatsoever thy hand may find, to thy son David.

(1Sa 25:9) So the servants come and speak these words to Nabal, according to all these words in the name of David.

(1Sa 25:10) And Nabal sprang up, and answered the servants of David, and said, Who is David? and who is the son of Jessae? Now-a-days there is abundance of servants who depart every one from his master.

(1Sa 25:11) And shall I take my bread, and my wine, and my beasts that I have slain for my shearers, and shall I give them to men of whom I know not whence they are?

(1Sa 25:12) So the servants of David turned back, and returned, and came and reported to David according to these words.

(1Sa 25:13) And David said to his men, Gird on every man his sword. And they went up after David, about four hundred men: and two hundred abode with the stuff.

(1Sa 25:14) And one of the servants reported to Abigaia the wife of Nabal, saying, Behold, David sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our lord; but he turned away from them.

(1Sa 25:15) And the men were very good to us; they did not hinder us, neither did they demand from us any thing all the days that we were with them.

(1Sa 25:16) And when we were in the field, they were as a wall round about us, both by night and by day, all the days that we were with them feeding the flock.

(1Sa 25:17) And now do thou consider, and see what thou wilt do; for mischief is determined against our lord and against his house; and he is a vile character, and one cannot speak to him.

(1Sa 25:18) And Abigaia hasted, and took two hundred loaves, and two vessels of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five ephahs of fine flour, and one homer of dried grapes, and two hundred cakes of figs, and put them upon asses.

(1Sa 25:19) And she said to her servants, Go on before me, and behold I come after you: but she told not her husband.

(1Sa 25:20) And it came to pass when she had mounted her ass and was going down by the covert of the mountain, behold, David and his men came down to meet her, and she met them.

(1Sa 25:21) And David said, Perhaps I have kept all his possessions in the wilderness that he should wrong me, and we did not order the taking anything of all his goods; yet he has rewarded me evil for good.

(1Sa 25:22) So Elohim do to David and more also, if I leave one male of all that belong to Nabal until the morning.

(1Sa 25:23) And Abigaia saw David, and she hasted and alighted from her ass; and she felt before David on her face, and did obeisance to him, bowing to the ground

(1Sa 25:24) even to his feet, and said, On me, my lord, be my wrong: let, I pray thee, thy servant speak in thine ears, and hear thou the words of thy servant.

(1Sa 25:25) Let not my lord, I pray thee, take to heart this pestilent man, for according to his name, so is he; Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thy handmaid saw not the servants of my lord whom thou didst send.

(1Sa 25:26) And now, my lord, as YHVH lives, and thy soul lives, as YHVH has kept thee from coming against innocent blood, and from executing vengeance for thyself, now therefore let thine enemies, and those that seek evil against my lord, become as Nabal.

(1Sa 25:27) And now accept this token of goodwill, which thy servant has brought to my lord, and thou shalt give it to the servants that wait on my lord.

(1Sa 25:28) Remove, I pray thee, the trespass of thy servant; for YHVH will surely make for my lord a sure house, for YHVH fights the battles of my lord, and there shall no evil be ever found in thee.

(1Sa 25:29) And if a man shall rise up persecuting thee and seeking thy life, yet shall the life of my lord be bound up in the bundle of life with YHVH Elohim, and thou shalt whirl the life of thine enemies as in the midst of a sling.

(1Sa 25:30) And it shall be when YHVH shall have wrought for my lord all the good things he has spoken concerning thee, and shall appoint thee to be ruler over Israel;

(1Sa 25:31) then this shall not be an abomination and offence to my lord, to have shed innocent blood without cause, and for my lord to have avenged himself: and so may YHVH do good to my lord, and thou shalt remember thine handmaid to do her good.

(1Sa 25:32) And David said to Abigaia, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Israel, who sent thee this very day to meet me:

(1Sa 25:33) and blessed be thy conduct, and blessed be thou, who hast hindered me this very day from coming to shed blood, and from avenging myself.

(1Sa 25:34) But surely as YHVH Elohim of Israel lives, who hindered me this day from doing thee harm, if thou hadst not hasted and come to meet me, then I said, There shall surely not be left to Nabal till the morning one male.

(1Sa 25:35) And David took of her hand all that she brought to him, and said to her, Go in peace to thy house: see, I have hearkened to thy voice, and accepted thy petition.

(1Sa 25:36) And Abigaia came to Nabal: and, behold, he had a banquet in this house, as the banquet of a king, and the heart of Nabal was merry within him, and he was very drunken: and she told him nothing great or small till the morning light.

(1Sa 25:37) And it came to pass in the morning, when Nabal recovered from his wine, his wife told him these words; and his heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

(1Sa 25:38) And it came to pass after about ten days, that YHVH smote Nabal, and he died.

(1Sa 25:39) And David heard it and said, Blessed be YHVH, who has judged the cause of my reproach at the hand of Nabal, and has delivered his servant from the power of evil; and YHVH has returned the mischief of Nabal upon his own head. And David sent and spoke concerning Abigaia, to take her to himself for a wife.

(1Sa 25:40) So the servants of David came to Abigaia to Carmel, and spoke to her, saying, David has sent us to thee, to take thee to himself for a wife.

(1Sa 25:41) And she arose, and did reverence with her face to the earth, and said, Behold, thy servant is for an handmaid to wash the feet of thy servants.

(1Sa 25:42) And Abigaia arose, and mounted her ass, and five damsels followed her: and she went after the servants of David, and became his wife.

(1Sa 25:43) And David took Achinaam out of Jezrael, and they were both his wives.

(1Sa 25:44) And Saul gave Melchol his daughter, David's wife, to Phalti the son of Amis who was of Romma.

(1Sa 26:1) And the Ziphites come out of the dry country to Saul to the hill, saying, Behold, David hides himself with us in the hill Echela, opposite Jessemon.

(1Sa 26:2) And Saul arose, and went down to the wilderness of Ziph, and with him went three thousand men chosen out of Israel, to seek David in the wilderness of Ziph.

(1Sa 26:3) And Saul encamped in the hill of Echela in front of Jessemon, by the way, and David dwelt in the wilderness: and David saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

(1Sa 26:4) And David sent spies, and ascertained that Saul was come prepared out of Keila.

(1Sa 26:5) And David arose secretly, and goes into the place where Saul was sleeping, and there was Abenner the son of Ner, the captain of his host: and Saul was sleeping in a chariot, and the people had encamped along round about him.

(1Sa 26:6) And David answered and spoke to Abimelech the Chettite, and to Abessa the son Saruia the brother of Joab, saying, Who will go in with me to Saul into the camp? And Abessa said, I will go in with thee.

(1Sa 26:7) So David and Abessa go in among the people by night: and behold, Saul was fast asleep in the chariot, and his spear was stuck in the ground near his head, and Abenner and his people slept round about him.

(1Sa 26:8) And Abessa said to David, YHVH has this day shut up thine enemy into thine hands, and now I will smite him to the earth with the spear to the ground once for all, and I will not smite him again.

(1Sa 26:9) And David said to Abessa, Do not lay him low, for who shall lift up his hand against the anointed of YHVH, and be guiltless?

(1Sa 26:10) And David said, As YHVH lives, if YHVH smite him not, or his day come and he die, or he go down to battle and be added to his fathers, do not so.

(1Sa 26:11) YHVH forbid it me that I should lift up my hand against the anointed of YHVH: and now take, I pray thee, the spear from his bolster, and the pitcher of water, and let us return home.

(1Sa 26:12) So David took the spear, and the pitcher of water from his bolster, and they went home: and there was no one that saw, and no one that knew, and there was no one that awoke, all being asleep, for a stupor from YHVH had fallen upon them.

(1Sa 26:13) So David went over to the other side, and stood on the top of a hill afar off, and there was a good distance between them.

(1Sa 26:14) And David called to the people, and spoke to Abenner, saying, Wilt thou not answer, Abenner? and Abenner answered and said, Who art thou that callest?

(1Sa 26:15) And David said to Abenner, Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Israel? Why then dost thou not guard thy lord the king? for one out of the people went in to destroy thy lord the king.

(1Sa 26:16) And this thing is not good which thou hast done. As YHVH lives, ye are worthy of death, ye who guard your lord the king, the anointed of YHVH: and now behold, I pray you, the spear of the king, and the cruse of water: where are the articles that should be at his head?

(1Sa 26:17) And Saul recognized the voice of David, and said, Is this thy voice, son David? and David said, I am thy servant, my lord, O king.

(1Sa 26:18) And he said, Why does my lord thus pursue after his servant? for in what have I sinned? and what unrighteousness has been found in me?

(1Sa 26:19) And now let my lord the king hear the word of his servant. If Elohim stirs thee up against me, let thine offering be acceptable: but if the sons of men, they are cursed before YHVH, for they have cast me out this day so that I should not be established in the inheritance of YHVH, saying, Go, serve other Elohim.

(1Sa 26:20) And now let not my blood fall to the ground before YHVH, for the king of Israel has come forth to seek thy life, as the night hawk pursues its prey in the mountains.

(1Sa 26:21) And Saul said, I have sinned: turn, son David, for I will not hurt thee, because my life was precious in thine eyes; and to-day I have been foolish and have erred exceedingly.

(1Sa 26:22) And David answered and said, Behold, the spear of the king: let one of the servants come over and take it.

(1Sa 26:23) And YHVH shall recompense each according to his righteousness and his truth, since YHVH delivered thee this day into my hands, and I would not lift my hand against YHVH's anointed.

(1Sa 26:24) And, behold, as thy life has been precious this very day in my eyes, so let my life be precious before YHVH, and may he protect me, and deliver me out of all affliction.

(1Sa 26:25) And Saul said to David, Blessed be thou, my son; and thou shalt surely do valiantly, and surely prevail. And David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

(1Sa 27:1) And David said in his heart, Now shall I be one day delivered for death into the hands of Saul; and there is no good thing for me unless I should escape into the land of the Philistines, and Saul should cease from seeking me through every coast of Israel: so I shall escape out of his hand.

(1Sa 27:2) So David arose, and the six hundred men that were with him, and he went to Anchus, son Ammach, king of Geth.

(1Sa 27:3) And David dwelt with Anchus, he and his men, each with his family; and David and both his wives, Achinaam, the Jezraelitess, and Abigaia the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

(1Sa 27:4) And it was told Saul that David had fled to Geth; and he no longer sought after him.

(1Sa 27:5) And David said to Anchus, If now thy servant has found grace in thine eyes, let them give me, I pray thee, a place in one of the cities in the country, and I will dwell there: for why does thy servant dwell with thee in a royal city?

(1Sa 27:6) And he gave him Sekelac in that day: therefore Sekelac came into possession of the king of Judea to this day.

(1Sa 27:7) And the number of the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines was four months.

(1Sa 27:8) And David and his men went up, and made an attack on all the Gesirites and on the Amalekites: and behold, the land was inhabited, (even the land from Gelampsur) by those who come from the fortified cities even to the land of Egypt.

(1Sa 27:9) And he smote the land, and saved neither man nor woman alive; and they took flocks, and herds, and asses, and camels, and raiment; and they returned and came to Anchus.

(1Sa 27:10) And Anchus said to David, On whom have ye made an attack to-day? And David said to Anchus, On the south of Judea, and on the south of Jesmega, and on the south of the Kenezite.

(1Sa 27:11) And I have not saved man or woman alive to bring them to Geth, saying, Lest they carry a report to Geth against us, saying, These things David does. And this was his manner all the days that David dwelt in the country of the Philistines.

(1Sa 27:12) So David had the full confidence of Anchus, who said, He is thoroughly disgraced among his people in Israel and he shall be my servant for ever.

(1Sa 28:1) And it came to pass in those days that the Philistines gathered themselves together with their armies to go out to fight with Israel; and Anchus said to David, Know surely, that thou shalt go forth to battle with me, thou, and thy men.

(1Sa 28:2) And David said to Anchus, Thus now thou shalt know what thy servant will do. And Anchus said to David, So will I make thee captain of my body-guard continually.

(1Sa 28:3) And Samuel died, and all Israel lamented for him, and they bury him in his city, in Armathaim. And Saul had removed those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards, out of the land.

(1Sa 28:4) And the Philistines assemble themselves, and come and encamp in Sonam: and Saul gathers all the men of Israel, and they encamp in Gelbue.

(1Sa 28:5) And Saul saw the camp of the Philistines, and he was alarmed, and his heart was greatly dismayed.

(1Sa 28:6) And Saul enquired of YHVH; and YHVH answered him not by dreams, nor by manifestations, nor by prophets.

(1Sa 28:7) Then Saul said to his servants, Seek for me a woman who has in her a divining spirit, and I will go to her, and enquire of her: and his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman who has in her a divining spirit at Aendor.

(1Sa 28:8) And Saul disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he goes, and two men with him, and they come to the woman by night; and he said to her, Divine to me, I pray thee, by the divining spirit within thee, and bring up to me him whom I shall name to thee.

(1Sa 28:9) And the woman said to him, Behold now, thou knowest what Saul has done, how he has cut off those who had in them divining spirits, and the wizards from the land, and why dost thou spread a snare for my life to destroy it?

(1Sa 28:10) And Saul swore to her, and said, As YHVH lives, no injury shall come upon thee on this account.

(1Sa 28:11) And the woman said, Whom shall I bring up to thee? and he said, Bring up to me Samuel.

(1Sa 28:12) And the woman saw Samuel, and cried out with a loud voice: and the woman said to Saul, Why hast thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

(1Sa 28:13) And the king said to her, Fear not; tell me whom thou has seen. And the woman said to him, I saw gods ascending out of the earth.

(1Sa 28:14) And he said to her, What didst thou perceive? and she said to him, An upright man ascending out of the earth, and he was clothed with a mantle. And Saul knew that this was Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the earth, and did obeisance to him.

(1Sa 28:15) And Samuel said, Why hast thou troubled me, that I should come up? And Saul said, I am greatly distressed, and the Philistines war against me, and Elohim has departed from me, and no longer hearkens to me either by the hand of the prophets or by dreams: and now I have called thee to tell me what I shall do.

(1Sa 28:16) And Samuel said, Why askest thou me, whereas YHVH has departed from thee, and taken part with thy neighbour?

(1Sa 28:17) And YHVH has done to thee, as YHVH spoke by me; and YHVH will rend thy kingdom out of thy hand, and will give it to thy neighbour David.

(1Sa 28:18) because thou didst not hearken to the voice of YHVH, and didst not execute his fierce anger upon Amalec, therefore YHVH has done this thing to thee this day.

(1Sa 28:19) And YHVH shall deliver Israel with thee into the hands of the Philistines, and to-morrow thou and thy sons with thee shall fall, and YHVH shall deliver the army of Israel into the hands of the Philistines.

(1Sa 28:20) And Saul instantly fell at his full length upon the earth, and was greatly afraid because of the words of Samuel; and there was no longer any strength in him, for he had eaten no bread all that day, and all that night.

(1Sa 28:21) And the woman went in to Saul, and saw that he was greatly disquieted, and said to him, Behold now, thine handmaid has hearkened to thy voice, and I have put my life in my hand, and have heard the words which thou has spoken to me.

(1Sa 28:22) And now hearken, I pray thee, to the voice of thine handmaid, and I will set before thee a morsel of bread, and eat, and thou shalt be strengthened, for thou wilt be going on thy way.

(1Sa 28:23) But he would not eat; so his servants and the woman constrained him, and he hearkened to their voice, and rose up from the earth, and sat upon a bench.

(1Sa 28:24) And the woman had a fat heifer in the house; and she hasted and slew it; and she took meal and kneaded it, and baked unleavened cakes.

(1Sa 28:25) And she brought the meat before Saul, and before his servants; and they ate, and rose up, and departed that night.

(1Sa 29:1) And the Philistines gather all their armies to Aphec, and Israel encamped in Aendor, which is in Jezrael.

(1Sa 29:2) And the lords of the Philistines went on by hundreds and thousands, and David and his men went on in the rear with Anchus.

(1Sa 29:3) And the lords of the Philistines said, Who are these that pass by? And Anchus said to the captains of the Philistines, Is not this David the servant of Saul king of Israel? He has been with us some time, even this second year, and I have not found any fault in him from the day that he attached himself to me even until this day.

(1Sa 29:4) And the captains of the Philistines were displeased at him, and they say to him, Send the man away, and let him return to his place, where thou didst set him; and let him not come with us to the war, and let him not be a traitor in the camp: and wherewith will he be reconciled to his master? Will it not be with the heads of those men?

(1Sa 29:5) Is not this David whom they celebrated in dances, saying, Saul has smitten his thousands, and David his ten thousands?

(1Sa 29:6) And Anchus called David, and said to him, As YHVH lives, thou art right and approved in my eyes, and so is thy going out and thy coming in with me in the army, and I have not found any evil to charge against thee from the day that thou camest to me until this day: but thou art not approved in the eyes of the lords.

(1Sa 29:7) Now then return and go in peace, thus thou shalt not do evil in the sight of the lords of the Philistines.

(1Sa 29:8) And David said to Anchus, What have I done to thee? and what hast thou found in thy servant from the first day that I was before thee even until this day, that I should not come and war against the enemies of the lord my king?

(1Sa 29:9) And Anchus answered David, I know that thou art good in my eyes, but the lords of the Philistines say, He shall not come with us to the war.

(1Sa 29:10) Now then rise up early in the morning, thou and the servants of thy lord that are come with thee, and go to the place where I appointed you, and entertain no evil thought in thy heart, for thou art good in my sight: and rise early for your journey when it is light, and depart.

(1Sa 29:11) So David arose early, he and his men, to depart and guard the land of the Philistines: and the Philistines went up to Jezrael to battle.

(1Sa 30:1) And it came to pass when David and his men had entered Sekelac on the third day, that Amalec had made an incursion upon the south, and upon Sekelac, and smitten Sekelac, and burnt it with fire.

(1Sa 30:2) And as to the women and all things that were in it, great and small, they slew neither man nor woman, but carried them captives, and went on their way.

(1Sa 30:3) And David and his men came into the city, and, behold, it was burnt with fire; and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters were carried captive.

(1Sa 30:4) And David and his men lifted up their voice, and wept till there was no longer any power within them to weep.

(1Sa 30:5) And both the wives of David were carried captive, Achinaam, the Jezraelitess, and Abigaia the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

(1Sa 30:6) And David was greatly distressed, because the people spoke of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, each for his sons and his daughters: but David strengthened himself in YHVH his Elohim.

(1Sa 30:7) And David said to Abiathar the priest the son of Achimelech, Bring near the ephod.

(1Sa 30:8) And David enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall I pursue after this troop? shall I overtake them? and he said to him, Pursue, for thou shalt surely overtake them, and thou shalt surely rescue the captives.

(1Sa 30:9) So David went, he and the six hundred men with him, and they came as far as the brook Bosor, and the superfluous ones stopped.

(1Sa 30:10) And he pursued them with four hundred men; and there remained behind two hundred men, who tarried on the other side of the brook Bosor.

(1Sa 30:11) And they find an Egyptian in the field, and they take him, and bring him to David; and they gave him bread and he ate, and they caused him to drink water.

(1Sa 30:12) And they gave him a piece of a cake of figs, and he ate, and his spirit was restored in him; for he had not eaten bread, and had not drunk water three days and three nights.

(1Sa 30:13) And David said to him, Whose art thou? and whence art thou? and the young man the Egyptian said, I am the servant of an Amalekite; and my master left me, because I was taken ill three days ago.

(1Sa 30:14) And we made an incursion on the south of the Chelethite, and on the parts of Judea, and on the south of Chelub, and we burnt Sekelac with fire.

(1Sa 30:15) And David said to him, Wilt thou bring me down to this troop? And he said, Swear now to me by Elohim, that thou wilt not kill me, and that thou wilt not deliver me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee down upon this troop.

(1Sa 30:16) So he brought him down thither, and behold, they were scattered abroad upon the surface of the whole land, eating and drinking, and feasting by reason of all the great spoils which they had taken out of the land of the Philistines, and out of the land of Juda.

(1Sa 30:17) And David came upon them, and smote them from the morning till the evening, and on the next day; and not one of them escaped, except four hundred young men, who were mounted on camels, and fled.

(1Sa 30:18) And David recovered all that the Amalekites had taken, and he rescued both his wives.

(1Sa 30:19) And nothing was wanting to them of great or small, either of the spoils, or the sons and daughters, or anything that they had taken of theirs; and David recovered all.

(1Sa 30:20) And he took all the flocks, and the herds, and led them away before the spoils: and it was said of these spoils, These are the spoils of David.

(1Sa 30:21) And David comes to the two hundred men who were left behind that they should not follow after David, and he had caused them to remain by the brook of Bosor; and they came forth to meet David, and to meet his people with him: and David drew near to the people, and they asked him how he did.

(1Sa 30:22) Then every ill-disposed and bad man of the soldiers who had gone with David, answered and said, Because they did not pursue together with us, we will not give them of the spoils which we have recovered, only let each one lead away with him his wife and his children, and let them return.

(1Sa 30:23) And David said, Ye shall not do so, after YHVH has delivered the enemy to us, and guarded us, and YHVH has delivered into our hands the troop that came against u.

(1Sa 30:24) And who will hearken to these your words? for they are not inferior to us; for according to the portion of him that went down to the battle, so shall be the portion of him that abides with the baggage; they shall share alike.

(1Sa 30:25) And it came to pass from that day forward, that it became an ordinance and a custom in Israel until this day.

(1Sa 30:26) And David came to Sekelac, and sent of the spoils to the elders of Juda, and to his friends, saying, Behold some of the spoils of the enemies of YHVH; (1Sa 30:27) to those in Baethsur, and to those in Rama of the south, and to those in Gethor.

(1Sa 30:28) And to those in Aroer, and to those in Ammadi, and to those in Saphi, and to those in Esthie,

(1Sa 30:29) and to those in Geth, and to those in Cimath, and to those in Saphec, and to those in Themath, and to those in Carmel, and to those in the cities of Jeremeel, and to those in the cities of the Kenezite;

(1Sa 30:30) and to those in Jerimuth, and to those in Bersabee, and to those in Nombe, (1Sa 30:31) and to those in Chebron, and to all the places which David and his men had passed through.

(1Sa 31:1) And the Philistines fought with Israel: and the men of Israel fled from before the Philistines, and they fall down wounded in the mountain in Gelbue.

(1Sa 31:2) And the Philistines press closely on Saul and his sons, and the Philistines smite Jonathan, and Aminadab, and Melchisa son of Saul.

(1Sa 31:3) And the battle prevails against Saul, and the shooters with arrows, even the archers find him, and he was wounded under the ribs.

(1Sa 31:4) And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword and pierce me through with it; lest these uncircumcised come and pierce me through, and mock me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he feared greatly: so Saul took his sword and fell upon it.

(1Sa 31:5) And his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, and he fell also himself upon his sword, and died with him.

(1Sa 31:6) So Saul died, and his three sons, and his armour-bearer, in that day together.

(1Sa 31:7) And the men of Israel who were on the other side of the valley, and those beyond Jordan, saw that the men of Israel fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead; and they leave their cities and flee: and the Philistines come and dwell in them.

(1Sa 31:8) And it came to pass on the morrow that the Philistines come to strip the dead, and they find Saul and his three sons fallen on the mountains of Gelbue.

(1Sa 31:9) And they turned him, and stripped off his armour, and sent it into the land of the Philistines, sending round glad tidings to their idols and to the people.

(1Sa 31:10) And they set up his armour at the temple of Astarte, and they fastened his body on the wall of Baethsam.

(1Sa 31:11) And the inhabitants of Jabis Galaad hear what the Philistines did to Saul.

(1Sa 31:12) And they rose up, even every man of might, and marched all night, and took the body of Saul and the body of Jonathan his son from the wall of Baethsam; and they bring them to Jabis, and burn them there.

(1Sa 31:13) And they take their bones, and bury them in the field that is in Jabis, and fast seven days.

2 Samuel.

(2Sa 1:1) And it came to pass after Saul was dead, that David returned from smiting Amalec, and David abode two days in Sekelac.

(2Sa 1:2) And it came to pass on the third day, that, behold, a man came from the camp, from the people of Saul, and his garments were rent, and earth was upon his head: and it came to pass when he went in to David, that he fell upon the earth, and did obeisance to him.

(2Sa 1:3) And David said to him, Whence comest thou? and he said to him, I have escaped out of the camp of Israel.

(2Sa 1:4) And David said to him, What is the matter? tell me. And he said, The people fled out of the battle, and many of the people have fallen and are dead, and Saul and Jonathan his son are dead.

(2Sa 1:5) And David said to the young man who brought him the tidings, How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his son are dead?

(2Sa 1:6) And the young man that brought the tidings, said to him, I happened accidentally to be upon mount Gelbue; and, behold, Saul was leaning upon his spear, and, behold, the chariots and captains of horse pressed hard upon him.

(2Sa 1:7) And he looked behind him, and saw me, and called me; and I said, Behold, here am I.

(2Sa 1:8) And he said to me, Who art thou? and I said, I am an Amalekite.

(2Sa 1:9) And he said to me, Stand, I pray thee, over me, and slay me, for a dreadful darkness has come upon me, for all my life is in me.

(2Sa 1:10) So I stood over him and slew him, because I knew he would not live after he was fallen; and I took the crown that was upon his head, and the bracelet that was upon his arm, and I have brought them hither to my lord.

(2Sa 1:11) And David laid hold of his garments, and rent them; and all the men who were with him rent their garments.

(2Sa 1:12) And they lamented, and wept, and fasted till evening, for Saul and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of Juda, and for the house of Israel, because they were smitten with the sword.

(2Sa 1:13) And David said to the young man who brought the tidings to him, Whence art thou? and he said, I am the son of an Amalekite sojourner.

(2Sa 1:14) And David said to him, How was it thou wast not afraid to lift thy hand to destroy the anointed of YHVH?

(2Sa 1:15) And David called one of his young men, and said, Go and fall upon him: and he smote him, and he died.

(2Sa 1:16) And David said to him, Thy blood be upon thine own head; for thy mouth has testified against thee, saying, I have slain the anointed of YHVH.

(2Sa 1:17) And David lamented with this lamentation over Saul and over Jonathan his son.

(2Sa 1:18) And he gave orders to teach it the sons of Juda: behold, it is written in the book of Right.

(2Sa 1:19) Set up a pillar, O Israel, for the slain that died upon thy high places: how are the mighty fallen!

(2Sa 1:20) Tell it not in Geth, and tell it not as glad tidings in the streets of Ascalon, lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

(2Sa 1:21) Ye mountains of Gelbue, let not dew no rain descend upon you, nor fields of first-fruits be upon you, for there the shield of the mighty ones has been grievously assailed; the shield of Saul was not anointed with oil.

(2Sa 1:22) From the blood of the slain, and from the fat of the mighty, the bow of Jonathan returned not empty; and the sword of Saul turned not back empty.

(2Sa 1:23) Saul and Jonathan, the beloved and the beautiful, were not divided: comely were they in their life, and in their death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, and they were stronger than lions.

(2Sa 1:24) Daughters of Israel, weep for Saul, who clothed you with scarlet together with your adorning, who added golden ornaments to your apparel.

(2Sa 1:25) How are the mighty fallen in the midst of the battle! O Jonathan, even the slain ones upon thy high places!

(2Sa 1:26) I am grieved for thee, my brother Jonathan; thou wast very lovely to me; thy love to me was wonderful beyond the love of women.

(2Sa 1:27) How are the mighty fallen, and the weapons of war perished!

(2Sa 2:1) And it came to pass after this that David enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall I go up into one of the cities of Juda? and YHVH said to him, Go up. And David said, Whither shall I go up? and he said, To Chebron.

(2Sa 2:2) And David went up thither to Chebron, he and both his wives, Achinaam the Jezraelitess, and Abigaia the wife of Nabal the Carmelite, (2Sa 2:3) and the men that were with him, every one and his family; and they dwelt in the cities of Chebron.

(2Sa 2:4) And the men of Judea come, and anoint David there to reign over the house of Juda; and they reported to David, saying, The men of Jabis of the country of Galaad have buried Saul.

(2Sa 2:5) And David sent messengers to the rulers of Jabis of the country of Galaad, and David said to them, Blessed be ye of YHVH, because ye have wrought this mercy toward your lord, even toward Saul the anointed of YHVH, and ye have buried him and Jonathan his son.

(2Sa 2:6) And now may YHVH deal in mercy and truth towards you: and I also will requite towards you this good deed, because ye have done this.

(2Sa 2:7) And now let your hands be made strong, and be valiant; for your master Saul is dead, and moreover the house of Juda have anointed me to be king over them.

(2Sa 2:8) But Abenner, the son of Ner, the commander-in-chief of Saul's army, took Jebosthe son of Saul, and brought him up from the camp to Manaem

(2Sa 2:9) and made him king over the land of Galaad, and over Thasiri, and over Jezrael, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel.

(2Sa 2:10) Jebosthe, Saul's son was forty years old, when he reigned over Israel; and he reigned two years, but not over the house of Juda, who followed David.

(2Sa 2:11) And the days which David reigned in Chebron over the house of Juda were seven years and six months.

(2Sa 2:12) And Abenner the son of Ner went forth, and the servants of Jebosthe the son of Saul, from Manaem to Gabaon.

(2Sa 2:13) And Joab the son of Saruia, and the servants of David, went forth from Chebron, and met them at the fountain of Gabaon, at the same place: and these sat down by the fountain on this side, and those by the fountain on that side.

(2Sa 2:14) And Abenner said to Joab, Let now the young men arise, and play before us. And Joab said, Let them arise.

(2Sa 2:15) And there arose and passed over by number twelve of the children of Benjamin, belonging to Jebosthe the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

(2Sa 2:16) And they seized every one the head of his neighbour with his hand, and his sword was thrust into the side of his neighbour, and they fall down together: and the name of that place was called The portion of the treacherous ones, which is in Gabaon.

(2Sa 2:17) And the battle was very severe on that day; and Abenner and the men of Israel were worsted before the servants of David.

(2Sa 2:18) And there were there the three sons of Saruia, Joab, and Abessa, and Asael: and Asael was swift in his feet as a roe in the field.

(2Sa 2:19) And Asael followed after Abenner, and turned not to go to the right hand or to the left from following Abenner.

(2Sa 2:20) And Abenner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asael himself? and he said, I am.

(2Sa 2:21) And Abenner said to him, Turn thou to the right hand or to the left, and lay hold for thyself on one of the young men, and take to thyself his armour: but Asael would not turn back from following him.

(2Sa 2:22) And Abenner said yet again to Asael, Stand aloof from me, lest I smite thee to the ground? and how should I lift up my face to Joab?

(2Sa 2:23) And what does this mean? return to Joab thy brother? But he would not stand aloof; and Abenner smites him with the hinder end of the spear on the loins, and the spear went out behind him, and he falls there and dies on the spot: and it came to pass that every one that came to the place where Asael fell and died, stood still.

(2Sa 2:24) And Joab and Abessa pursued after Abenner, and the sun went down: and they went as far as the hill of Amman, which is in the front of Gai, by the desert way of Gabaon.

(2Sa 2:25) And the children of Benjamin who followed Abenner gather themselves together, and they formed themselves into one body, and stood on the top of a hill.

(2Sa 2:26) And Abenner called Joab, and said, Shall the sword devour perpetually? knowest thou not that it will be bitter at last? How long then wilt thou refuse to tell the people to turn from following our brethren?

(2Sa 2:27) And Joab said, As YHVH lives, if thou hadst not spoken, even from the morning the people had gone up every one from following his brother.

(2Sa 2:28) And Joab sounded the trumpet, and all the people departed, and did not pursue after Israel, and did not fight any longer.

(2Sa 2:29) And Abenner and his men departed at evening, and went all that night, and crossed over Jordan, and went along the whole adjacent country, and they come to the camp.

(2Sa 2:30) And Joab returned from following Abenner, and he assembled all the people, and there were missing of the people of David, nineteen men, and Asael.

(2Sa 2:31) And the servants of David smote of the children of Benjamin, of the men of Abenner, three hundred and sixty men belonging to him.

(2Sa 2:32) And they take up Asael, and bury him in the tomb of his father in Bethleem. And Joab and the men with him went all the night, and the morning rose upon them in Chebron.

(2Sa 3:1) And there was war for a long time between the house of Saul and the house of David; and the house of David grew continually stronger; but the house of Saul grew continually weaker.

(2Sa 3:2) And sons were born to David in Chebron: and his first-born was Ammon the son of Achinoom the Jezraelitess.

(2Sa 3:3) And his second son was Daluia, the son of Abigaia the Carmelitess; and the third, Abessalom the son of Maacha the daughter of Tholmi the king of Gessir.

(2Sa 3:4) And the fourth was Ornia, the son of Aggith, and the fifth was Saphatia, the son of Abital.

(2Sa 3:5) And the sixth was Jetheraam, the son of Ægal the wife of David. These were born to David in Chebron.

(2Sa 3:6) And it came to pass while there was war between the house of Saul and the house of David, that Abenner was governing the house of Saul.

(2Sa 3:7) And Saul had a concubine, Respha, the daughter of Jol; and Jebosthe the son of Saul said to Abenner, Why hast thou gone in to my father's concubine?

(2Sa 3:8) And Abenner was very angry with Jebosthe for this saying; and Abenner said to him, Am I a dog's head? I have this day wrought kindness with the house of Saul thy father, and with his brethren and friends, and have not gone over to the house of David, and dost thou this day seek a charge against me concerning injury to a woman?

(2Sa 3:9) Elohim do thus and more also to Abenner, if as YHVH swore to David, so do I not to him this day;

(2Sa 3:10) to take away the kingdom from the house of Saul, and to raise up the throne of David over Israel and over Juda from Dan to Bersabee.

(2Sa 3:11) And Jebosthe could not any longer answer Abenner a word, because he feared him.

(2Sa 3:12) And Abenner sent messengers to David to Thaelam where he was, immediately, saying, Make thy covenant with me, and, behold, my hand is with thee to bring back to thee all the house of Israel.

(2Sa 3:13) And David said, With a good will I will make with thee a covenant: only I demand one condition of thee, saying, Thou shalt not see my face, unless thou bring Melchol the daughter of Saul, when thou comest to see my face.

(2Sa 3:14) And David sent messengers to Jebosthe the son of Saul, saying, Restore me my wife Melchol, whom I took for a hundred foreskins of the Philistines.

(2Sa 3:15) And Jebosthe sent, and took her from her husband, even from Phaltiel the son of Selle.

(2Sa 3:16) And her husband went with her weeping behind her as far as Barakim. And Abenner said to him, Go, return; and he returned.

(2Sa 3:17) And Abenner spoke to the elders of Israel, saying, In former days ye sought David to reign over you;

(2Sa 3:18) and now perform it: for YHVH has spoken concerning David, saying, By the hand of my servant David I will save Israel out of the hand of all their enemies.

(2Sa 3:19) And Abenner spoke in the ears of Benjamin: and Abenner went to speak in the ears of David at Chebron, all that seemed good in the eyes of Israel and in the eyes of the house of Benjamin.

(2Sa 3:20) And Abenner came to David to Chebron, and with him twenty men: and David made for Abenner and his men with him a banquet of wine.

(2Sa 3:21) And Abenner said to David, I will arise now, and go, and gather to my lord the king all Israel; and I will make with him a covenant, and thou shalt reign over all whom thy soul desires. And David sent away Abenner, and he departed in peace.

(2Sa 3:22) And, behold, the servants of David and Joab arrived from their expedition, and they brought much spoil with them: and Abenner was not with David in Chebron, because he had sent him away, and he had departed in peace.

(2Sa 3:23) And Joab and all his army came, and it was reported to Joab, saying, Abenner the son of Ner is come to David, and David has let him go, and he has departed in peace.

(2Sa 3:24) And Joab went in to the king, and said, What is this that thou hast done? behold, Abenner came to thee; and why hast thou let him go, and he has departed in peace?

(2Sa 3:25) Knowest thou not the mischief of Abenner the son of Ner, that he came to deceive thee, and to know thy going out and thy coming in, and to know all things that thou doest?

(2Sa 3:26) And Joab returned from David, and sent messengers to Abenner after him; and they bring him back from the well of Seiram: but David knew it not.

(2Sa 3:27) And he brought back Abenner to Chebron, and Joab caused him to turn aside from the gate to speak to him, laying wait for him: and he smote him there in the loins, and he died for the blood of Asael the brother of Joab.

(2Sa 3:28) And David heard of it afterwards, and said, I and my kingdom are guiltless before YHVH even for ever of the blood of Abenner the son of Ner.

(2Sa 3:29) Let it fall upon the head of Joab, and upon all the house of his father; and let there not be wanting of the house of Joab one that has an issue, or a leper, or that leans on a staff, or that falls by the sword, or that wants bread.

(2Sa 3:30) For Joab and Abessa his brother laid wait continually for Abenner, because he slew Asael their brother at Gabaon in the battle.

(2Sa 3:31) And David said to Joab and to all the people with him, Rend your garments, and gird yourselves with sackcloth, and lament before Abenner. And king David followed the bier.

(2Sa 3:32) And they bury Abenner in Chebron: and the king lifted up his voice, and wept at his tomb, and all the people wept for Abenner.

(2Sa 3:33) And the king mourned over Abenner, and said, Shall Abenner die according to the death of Nabal?

(2Sa 3:34) Thy hands were not bound, and thy feet were not put in fetters: one brought thee not near as Nabal; thou didst fall before children of iniquity.

(2Sa 3:35) And all the people assembled to weep for him. And all the people came to cause David to eat bread while it was yet day: and David swore, saying, Elohim do so to me, and more also, if I eat bread or any thing else before the sun goes down.

(2Sa 3:36) And all the people took notice, and all things that the king did before the people were pleasing in their sight.

(2Sa 3:37) So all the people and all Israel perceived in that day, that it was not of the king to slay Abenner the son of Ner.

(2Sa 3:38) And the king said to his servants, Know ye not that a great prince is this day fallen in Israel?

(2Sa 3:39) And that I am this day a mere kinsman of his, and as it were a subject; but these men the sons of Saruia are too hard for me: YHVH reward the evil-doer according to his wickedness.

(2Sa 4:1) And Jebosthe the son of Saul heard that Abenner the son of Ner had died in Chebron; and his hands were paralyzed, and all the men of Israel grew faint.

(2Sa 4:2) And Jebosthe the son of Saul had two men that were captains of bands: the name of the one was Baana, and the name of the other Rechab, sons of Remmon the Berothite of the children of Benjamin; for Beroth was reckoned to the children of Benjamin.

(2Sa 4:3) And the Berothites ran away to Gethaim, and were sojourners there until this day.

(2Sa 4:4) And Jonathan Saul's son had a son lame of his feet, five years old, and he was in the way when the news of Saul and Jonathan his son came from Jezrael, and his nurse took him up, and fled; and it came to pass as he hasted and retreated, that he fell, and was lamed. And his name was Memphibosthe.

(2Sa 4:5) And Rechab and Baana the sons of Remmon the Berothite went, and they came in the heat of the day into the house of Jebosthe; and he was sleeping on a bed at noon.

(2Sa 4:6) And, behold, the porter of the house winnowed wheat, and he slumbered and slept: and the brothers Rechab and Baana went privily into the house:

(2Sa 4:7) And Jebosthe was sleeping on his bed in his chamber: and they smite him, and slay him, and take off his head: and they took his head, and went all the night by the western road.

(2Sa 4:8) And they brought the head of Jebosthe to David to Chebron, and they said to the king, Behold the head of Jebosthe the son of Saul thy enemy, who sought thy life; and YHVH has executed for my lord the king vengeance on his enemies, as it is this day: even on Saul thy enemy, and on his seed.

(2Sa 4:9) And David answered and Rechab and Baana his brother, the sons of Remmon the Berothite, and said to them, As YHVH lives, who has redeemed my soul out of all affliction;

(2Sa 4:10) he that reported to me that Saul was dead, even he was as one bringing glad tidings before me: but I seized him and slew him in Sekelac, to whom I ought, as he thought, to have given a reward for his tidings.

(2Sa 4:11) And now evil men have slain a righteous men in his house on his bed: now then I will require his blood of your hand, and I will destroy you from off the earth.

(2Sa 4:12) And David commanded his young men, and they slay them, and cut off their hands and their feet; and they hung them up at the fountain in Chebron: and they buried the head of Jebosthe in the tomb of Abenezzer the son of Ner.

(2Sa 5:1) And all the tribes of Israel come to David to Chebron, and they said to him, Behold, we are thy bone and thy flesh.

(2Sa 5:2) And heretofore Saul being king over us, thou was he that didst lead out and bring in Israel: and YHVH said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be for a leader to my people Israel.

(2Sa 5:3) And all the elders of Israel come to the king to Chebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Chebron before YHVH; and they anoint David king over all Israel.

(2Sa 5:4) David was thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years.

(2Sa 5:5) Seven years and six months he reigned in Chebron over Juda, and thirty-three years he reigned over all Israel and Juda in Jerusalem.

(2Sa 5:6) And David and his men, departed to Jerusalem, to the Jebusite that inhabited the land: and it was said to David, Thou shalt not come in hither: for the blind and the lame withstood him, saying, David shall not come in hither.

(2Sa 5:7) And David took first the hold of Sion: this is the city of David.

(2Sa 5:8) And David said on that day, Every one that smites the Jebusite, let him attack with the dagger both the lame and the blind, and those that hate the soul of David. Therefore they say, The lame and the blind shall not enter into the house of YHVH.

(2Sa 5:9) And David dwelt in the hold, and it was called the city of David, and he built the city itself round about from the citadel, and he built his own house.

(2Sa 5:10) And David advanced and became great, and YHVH Almighty was with him.

(2Sa 5:11) And Chiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar wood, and carpenters, and stone-masons: and they built a house for David.

(2Sa 5:12) And David knew that YHVH had prepared him to be king over Israel, and that his kingdom was exalted for the sake of his people Israel.

(2Sa 5:13) And David took again wives and concubines out of Jerusalem, after he came from Chebron: and David had still more sons and daughters born to him.

(2Sa 5:14) And these are the names of those that were born to him in Jerusalem; Sammus, and Sobab, and Nathan, and Solomon.

(2Sa 5:15) And Ebear, and Elisue, and Naphec, and Jephies.

(2Sa 5:16) And Elisama, and Elidae, and Eliphath, (5:16A) Samae, Jessibath, Nathan, Galamaan, Jebaar, Theesus, Eliphath, Naged, Naphec, Janathan, Leasamys, Baalimath, Eliphaath.

(2Sa 5:17) And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over Israel; and all the Philistines went up to seek David; and David heard of it, and went down to the strong hold.

(2Sa 5:18) And the Philistines came, and assembled in the valley of the giants.

(2Sa 5:19) And David enquired of YHVH, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into my hands? and YHVH said to David, Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thine hands.

(2Sa 5:20) And David came from Upper Breaches, and smote the Philistines there: and David said, YHVH has destroyed the hostile Philistines before me, as water is dispersed; therefore the name of that place was called Over Breaches.

(2Sa 5:21) And they leave there their gods, and David and his men with him took them.

(2Sa 5:22) And the Philistines came up yet again, and assembled in the valley of Giants.

(2Sa 5:23) And David enquired of YHVH: and YHVH said, Thou shalt not go up to meet them: turn from them, and thou shalt meet them near the place of weeping.

(2Sa 5:24) And it shall come to pass when thou hearest the sound of a clashing together from the grove of weeping, then thou shalt go down to them, for then YHVH shall go forth before thee to make havoc in the battle with the Philistines.

(2Sa 5:25) And David did as YHVH commanded him, and smote the Philistines from Gabaon as far as the land of Gazera.

(2Sa 6:1) And David again gathered all the young men of Israel, about seventy thousand.

(2Sa 6:2) And David arose, and went, he and all the people that were with him, and some of the rulers of Juda, on an expedition to a distant place, to bring back thence the ark of Elohim, on which the name of YHVH of Host who dwells between the cherubs upon it is called.

(2Sa 6:3) And they put the ark of YHVH on a new waggon, and took it out of the house of Aminadab who lived on the hill, and Oza and his brethren the sons of Aminadab drove the waggon with the ark.

(2Sa 6:4) And his brethren went before the ark.

(2Sa 6:5) And David and the children of Israel were playing before YHVH on well-tuned instruments mightily, and with songs, and with harps, and with lutes, and with drums, and with cymbals, and with pipes.

(2Sa 6:6) And they come as far as the threshing floor of Nachor: and Oza reached forth his hand to the ark of Elohim to keep it steady, and took hold of it; for the ox shook it out of its place.

(2Sa 6:7) And YHVH was very angry with Oza; and Elohim smote him there: and he died there by the ark of YHVH before Elohim.

(2Sa 6:8) And David was dispirited because YHVH made a breach upon Oza; and that place was called the breach of Oza until this day.

(2Sa 6:9) And David feared YHVH in that day, saying, How shall the ark of YHVH come in to me?

(2Sa 6:10) And David would not bring in the ark of the covenant of YHVH to himself into the city of David: and David turned it aside into the house of Abeddara the Gethite.

(2Sa 6:11) And the ark of YHVH lodged in the house of Abeddara the Gethite three months, and YHVH blessed all the house of Abeddara, and all his possessions.

(2Sa 6:12) And it was reported to king David, saying, YHVH has blessed the house of Abeddara, and all that he has, because of the ark of YHVH. And David went, and brought up the Ark of YHVH from the house of Abeddara to the city of David with gladness.

(2Sa 6:13) And there were with him bearing the ark seven bands, and for a sacrifice a calf and lambs.

(2Sa 6:14) And David sounded with well-tuned instruments before YHVH, and David was clothed with a fine long robe.

(2Sa 6:15) And David and all the house of Israel brought up the ark of YHVH with shouting, and with the sound of a trumpet.

(2Sa 6:16) And it came to pass as the ark arrived at the city of David, that Melchol the daughter of Saul looked through the window, and saw king David dancing and playing before YHVH; and she despised him in her heart.

(2Sa 6:17) And they bring the ark of YHVH, and set it in its place in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it: and David offered whole-burnt-offerings before YHVH, and peace-offerings.

(2Sa 6:18) And David made an end of offering the whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of YHVH of Hosts.

(2Sa 6:19) And he distributed to all the people, even to all the host of Israel from Dan to Bersabee, both men and women, to every one a cake of bread, and a joint of meat, and a cake from the frying-pan: and all the people departed every one to his home.

(2Sa 6:20) And David returned to bless his house. And Melchol the daughter of Saul came out to meet David and saluted him, and said, How was the king of Israel glorified to-day, who was to-day uncovered in the eyes of the handmaids of his servants, as one of the dancers wantonly uncovers himself!

(2Sa 6:21) And David said to Melchol, I will dance before YHVH. Blessed be YHVH who chose me before thy father, and before all his house, to make me head over his people, even over Israel: therefore I will play, and dance before YHVH.

(2Sa 6:22) And I will again uncover myself thus, and I will be vile in thine eyes, and with the maid-servants by whom thou saidst that I was not had in honour.

(2Sa 6:23) And Melchol the daughter of Saul had no child till the day of her death.

(2Sa 7:1) And it came to pass when the king sat in his house, and YHVH had given him an inheritance on every side free from all his enemies round about him;

(2Sa 7:2) that the king said to Nathan the prophet, Behold now, I live in a house of cedar, and the ark of YHVH dwells in the midst of a tent.

(2Sa 7:3) And Nathan said to the king, Go and do all that is in thine heart, for YHVH is with thee.

(2Sa 7:4) And it came to pass in that night, that the word of YHVH came to Nathan, saying,

(2Sa 7:5) Go, and say to my servant David, Thus says YHVH, Thou shalt not build me a house for me to dwell in.

(2Sa 7:6) For I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought up the children of Israel out of Egypt to this day, but I have been walking in a lodge and in a tent, (2Sa 7:7) wheresoever I went with all Israel. Have I ever spoken to any of the tribes of Israel, which I commanded to tend my people Israel, saying, Why have ye not built me a house of Cedar?

(2Sa 7:8) And now thus shalt thou say to my servant David, Thus says YHVH Almighty, I took thee from the sheep-cote, that thou shouldest be a prince over my people, over Israel.

(2Sa 7:9) And I was with thee wheresoever thou wentest, and I destroyed all thine enemies before thee, and I made thee renowned according to the renown of the great ones on the earth.

(2Sa 7:10) And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant them, and they shall dwell by themselves, and shall be no more distressed; and the son of iniquity shall no more afflict them, as he has done from the beginning, (2Sa 7:11) from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel: and I will give thee rest from all thine enemies, and YHVH will tell thee that thou shalt build a house to him.

(2Sa 7:12) And it shall come to pass when thy days shall have been fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, even thine own issue, and I will establish his kingdom.

(2Sa 7:13) He shall build for me a house to my name, and I will set up his throne even for ever.

(2Sa 7:14) I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son. And when he happens to transgress, then will I chasten him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the sons of men.

(2Sa 7:15) But my mercy I will not take from him, as I took it from those whom I removed from my presence.

(2Sa 7:16) And his house shall be made sure, and his kingdom for ever before me, and his throne shall be set up for ever.

(2Sa 7:17) According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so Nathan spoke to David.

(2Sa 7:18) And king David came in, and sat before YHVH, and said, Who am I, YHVH, my Lord, and what is my house, that thou hast loved me hitherto?

(2Sa 7:19) Whereas I was very little before thee, YHVH, my Lord, yet thou spakest concerning the house of thy servant for a long time to come. And is this the law of man, YHVH, my Lord?

(2Sa 7:20) And what shall David yet say to thee? and now thou knowest thy servant, YHVH, my Lord.

(2Sa 7:21) And thou hast wrought for thy servant's sake, and according to thy heart thou hast wrought all this greatness, to make it known to thy servant,

(2Sa 7:22) that he may magnify thee, O my Lord; for there is no one like thee, and there is no Elohim, but thou among all of whom we have heard with our ears.

(2Sa 7:23) And what other nation in the earth is as thy people Israel? whereas Elohim was his guide, to redeem for himself a people to make thee a name, to do mightily and nobly, so that thou shouldst cast out nations and their tabernacles from the presence of thy people, whom thou didst redeem for thyself out of Egypt?

(2Sa 7:24) And thou has prepared for thyself thy people Israel to be a people for ever, and thou, Lord, art become their Elohim.

(2Sa 7:25) And now, O my Lord, the Almighty Lord Elohim of Israel, confirm the word for ever which thou hast spoken concerning thy servant and his house: and now as thou hast said, (2Sa 7:26) Let thy name be magnified for ever.

(2Sa 7:27) Almighty Lord Elohim of Israel, thou hast uncovered the ear of thy servant, saying, I will build thee a house: therefore thy servant has found in his heart to pray this prayer to thee.

(2Sa 7:28) And now, YHVH my Lord, thou art Elohim; and thy words will be true, and thou hast spoken these good things concerning thy servant.

(2Sa 7:29) And now begin and bless the house of thy servant, that it may continue for ever before thee; for thou, YHVH, my Lord, hast spoken, and the house of thy servant shall be blessed with thy blessing so as to continue for ever.

(2Sa 8:1) And it came to pass after this, that David smote the Philistines, and put them to flight, and David took the tribute from out of the hand of the Philistines.

(2Sa 8:2) And David smote Moab, and measured them out with lines, having laid them down on the ground: and there were two lines for slaying, and two lines he kept alive: and Moab became servants to David, yielding tribute.

(2Sa 8:3) And David smote Adraazar the son of Raab king of Suba, as he went to extend his power to the river Euphrates.

(2Sa 8:4) And David took a thousand of his chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen: and David houghed all his chariot horses, and he reserved to himself a hundred chariots.

(2Sa 8:5) And Syria of Damascus comes to help Adraazar king of Suba, and David smote twenty-two thousand men belonging to the Syrian.

(2Sa 8:6) And David placed a garrison in Syria near Damascus, and the Syrians became servants and tributaries to David: and YHVH preserved David whithersoever he went.

(2Sa 8:7) And David took the golden bracelets which were on the servants of Adraazar king of Suba, and brought them to Jerusalem. And Susakim king of Egypt took them, when he went up to Jerusalem in the days of Roboam son of Solomon.

(2Sa 8:8) And king David took from Metebac, and from the choice cities of Adraazar, very much brass: with that Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the lavers, and all the furniture.

(2Sa 8:9) And Thou the king of Hemath heard that David had smitten all the host of Adraazar.

(2Sa 8:10) And Thou sent Jedduram his son to king David, to ask him of his welfare, and to congratulate him on his fighting against Adraazar and smiting him, for he was an enemy to Adraazar: and in his hands were vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and vessels of brass.

(2Sa 8:11) And these king David consecrated to YHVH, with the silver and with the gold which he consecrated out of all the cities which he conquered, (2Sa 8:12) out of Idumea, and out of Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec, and from the spoils of Adraazar son of Raab king of Suba.

(2Sa 8:13) And David made himself a name: and when he returned he smote Idumea in Gebelem to the number of eighteen thousand.

(2Sa 8:14) And he set garrisons in Idumea, even in all Idumea: and all the Idumeans were servants to the king. And YHVH preserved David wherever he went.

(2Sa 8:15) And David reigned over all Israel: and David wrought judgment and justice over all his people.

(2Sa 8:16) And Joab the son of Saruia was over the host; and Josaphat the son of Achilud was keeper of the records.

(2Sa 8:17) And Sadoc the son of Achitob, and Achimelech son of Abiathar, were priests; and Sasa was the scribe,

(2Sa 8:18) and Banaeas son of Jodae was councillor, and the Chelethite and the Phelethite, and the sons of David, were princes of the court.

(2Sa 9:1) And David said, Is there yet any one left in the house of Saul, that I may deal kindly with him for Jonathan's sake?

(2Sa 9:2) And there was a servant of the house of Saul, and his name was Siba: and they call him to David; and the king said to him, Art thou Siba? and he said, I am thy servant.

(2Sa 9:3) And the king said, Is there yet a man left of the house of Saul, that I may act towards him with the mercy of Elohim? and Siba said to the king, There is yet a son of Jonathan, lame of his feet.

(2Sa 9:4) And the king said, Where is he? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he is in the house of Machir the son of Amiel of Lodabar.

(2Sa 9:5) And king David went, and took him out of the house of Machir the son Amiel of Lodabar.

(2Sa 9:6) And Memphibosthe the son of Jonathan the son of Saul comes to the king David, and he fell upon his face and did obeisance to him: and David said to him, Memphibosthe: and he said, Behold thy servant.

(2Sa 9:7) And David said to him, Fear not, for I will surely deal mercifully with thee for the sake of Jonathan thy father, and I will restore to thee all the land of Saul the father of thy father; and thou shalt eat bread at my table continually.

(2Sa 9:8) And Memphibosthe did obeisance, and said, Who am I thy servant, that thou hast looked upon a dead dog like me?

(2Sa 9:9) And the king called Siba the servant of Saul, and said to him, All that belonged to Saul and to all his house have I given to the son of thy lord.

(2Sa 9:10) And thou, and thy sons, and thy servants, shall till the land for him; and thou shalt bring in bread to the son of thy lord, and he shall eat bread: and Memphibosthe the son of thy lord shall eat bread continually at my table. Now Siba had fifteen sons and twenty servants.

(2Sa 9:11) And Siba said to the king, According to all that my lord the king has commanded his servant, so will thy servant do. And Memphibosthe did eat at the table of David, as one of the sons of the king.

(2Sa 9:12) And Memphibosthe had a little son, and his name was Micha: and all the household of Siba were servants to Memphibosthe.

(2Sa 9:13) And Memphibosthe dwelt in Jerusalem, for he continually ate at the table of the king; and he was lame in both his feet.

(2Sa 10:1) And it came to pass after this that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Annon his son reigned in his stead.

(2Sa 10:2) And David said, I will shew mercy to Annon the son of Naas, as his father dealt mercifully with me. And David sent to comfort him concerning his father by the hand of his servants; and the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon.

(2Sa 10:3) And the princes of the children of Ammon said to Annon their lord, Is it to honour thy father before thee that David has sent comforters to thee? Has not David rather sent his servants to thee that they should search the city, and spy it out and examine it?

(2Sa 10:4) And Annon took the servants of David, and shaved their beards, and cut off their garments in the midst as far as their haunches, and sent them away.

(2Sa 10:5) And they brought David word concerning the men; and he sent to meet them, for the men were greatly dishonoured: and the king said, Remain in Jericho till your beards have grown, and then ye shall return.

(2Sa 10:6) And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed; and the children of Ammon sent, and hired the Syrians of Baethraam, and the Syrians of Suba, and Roob, twenty thousand footmen, and the king of Amalec with a thousand men, and Istob with twelve thousand men.

(2Sa 10:7) And David heard, and sent Joab and all his host, even the mighty men.

(2Sa 10:8) And the children of Ammon went forth, and set the battle in array by the door of the gate: those of Syria, Suba, and Roob, and Istob, and Amalec, being by themselves in the field.

(2Sa 10:9) And Joab saw that the front of the battle was against him from that which was opposed in front and from behind, and he chose out some of all the young men of Israel, and they set themselves in array against Syria.

(2Sa 10:10) And the rest of the people he gave into the hand of Abessa his brother, and they set the battle in array opposite to the children of Ammon.

(2Sa 10:11) And he said, If Syria be too strong for me, then shall ye help me: and if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, then will we be ready to help thee.

(2Sa 10:12) Be thou courageous, and let us be strong for our people, and for the sake of the cities of our Elohim, and YHVH shall do that which is good in his eyes.

(2Sa 10:13) And Joab and his people with him advanced to battle against Syria, and they fled from before him.

(2Sa 10:14) And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians were fled, and they fled from before Abessa, and entered into the city: and Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jerusalem.

(2Sa 10:15) And the Syrians saw that they were worsted before Israel, and they gathered themselves together.

(2Sa 10:16) And Adraazar sent and gathered the Syrians from the other side of the river Chalamak, and they came to Ælam; and Sobac the captain of the host of Adraazar was at their head.

(2Sa 10:17) And it was reported to David, and he gathered all Israel, and went over Jordan, and came to Ælam: and the Syrians set the battle in array against David, and fought with him.

(2Sa 10:18) And Syria fled from before Israel, and David destroyed of Syria seven hundred chariots, and forty thousand horsemen, and he smote Sobac the captain of his host, and he died there.

(2Sa 10:19) And all the kings the servants of Adraazar saw that they were put to the worse before Israel, and they went over to Israel, and served them: and Syria was afraid to help the children of Ammon any more.

(2Sa 11:1) And it came to pass when the time of the year for kings going out to battle had come round, that David sent Joab, and his servants with him, and all Israel; and they destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabbath: but David remained at Jerusalem.

(2Sa 11:2) And it came to pass toward evening, that David arose off his couch, and walked on the roof of the king's house, and saw from the roof a woman bathing; and the woman was very beautiful to look upon.

(2Sa 11:3) And David sent and enquired about the woman: and one said, Is not this Bersabee the daughter of Eliab, the wife of Urias the Chettite?

(2Sa 11:4) And David sent messengers, and took her, and went in to her, and he lay with her: and she was purified from her uncleanness, and returned to her house.

(2Sa 11:5) And the woman conceived; and she sent and told David, and said, I am with child.

(2Sa 11:6) And David sent to Joab, saying, Send me Urias the Chettite; and Joab sent Urias to David.

(2Sa 11:7) And Urias arrived and went in to him, and David asked him how Joab was, and how the people were, and how the war went on.

(2Sa 11:8) And David said to Urias, Go to thy house, and wash thy feet: and Urias departed from the house of the king, and a portion of meat from the king followed him.

(2Sa 11:9) And Urias slept at the door of the king with the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house.

(2Sa 11:10) And they brought David word, saying, Urias has not gone down to his house. And David said to Urias, Art thou not come from a journey? why hast thou not gone down to thy house?

(2Sa 11:11) And Urias said to David, The ark, and Israel, and Juda dwell in tents; and my lord Joab, and the servants of my lord, are encamped in the open fields; and shall I go into my house to eat and drink, and lie with my wife? how should I do this? as thy soul lives, I will not do this thing.

(2Sa 11:12) And David said to Urias, Remain here to-day also, and to-morrow I will let thee go. So Urias remained in Jerusalem that day and the day following.

(2Sa 11:13) And David called him, and he ate before him and drank, and he made him drunk: and he went out in the evening to lie upon his bed with the servants of his lord, and went not down to his house.

(2Sa 11:14) And the morning came, and David wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Urias.

(2Sa 11:15) And he wrote in the letter, saying, Station Urias in front of the severe part of the fight, and retreat from behind him, so shall he be wounded and die.

(2Sa 11:16) And it came to pass while Joab was watching against the city, that he set Urias in a place where he knew that valiant men were.

(2Sa 11:17) And the men of the city went out, and fought with Joab: and some of the people of the servants of David fell, and Urias the Chettite died also.

(2Sa 11:18) And Joab sent, and reported to David all the events of the war, so as to tell them to the king.

(2Sa 11:19) And he charged the messenger, saying, When thou hast finished reporting all the events of the war to the king, (2Sa 11:20) then it shall come to pass if the anger of the king shall arise, and he shall say to thee, Why did ye draw nigh to the city to fight? knew ye not that they would shoot from off the wall?

(2Sa 11:21) Who smote Abimelech the son of Jerobaal son of Ner? did not a woman cast a piece of a millstone upon him from above the wall, and he died in Thamasi? why did ye draw near to the wall? then thou shalt say, Thy servant Urias the Chettite is also dead.

(2Sa 11:22) And the messenger of Joab went to the king to Jerusalem, and he came and reported to David all that Joab told him, all the affairs of the war. And David was very angry with Joab, and said to the messenger, Why did ye draw nigh to the wall to fight? knew ye not that ye would be wounded from off the wall? Who smote Abimelech the son of Jerobaal? did not a woman cast upon him a piece of millstone from the wall, and he died in Thamasi? why did ye draw near to the wall?

(2Sa 11:23) And the messenger said to David, The men prevailed against us, and they came out against us into the field, and we came upon them even to the door of the gate.

(2Sa 11:24) And the archers shot at thy servants from off the wall, and some of the king's servants died, and thy servant Urias the Chettite is dead also.

(2Sa 11:25) And David said to the messenger, Thus shalt thou say to Joab, Let not the matter be grievous in thine eyes, for the sword devours one way at one time and another way at another: strengthen thine array against the city, and destroy it, and strengthen him.

(2Sa 11:26) And the wife of Urias heard that Urias her husband was dead, and she mourned for her husband.

(2Sa 11:27) And the time of mourning expired, and David sent and took her into his house, and she became his wife, and bore him a son: but the thing which David did was evil in the eyes of YHVH.

(2Sa 12:1) And YHVH sent Nathan the prophet to David; and he went in to him, and said to him, There were two men in one city, one rich and the other poor.

(2Sa 12:2) And the rich man had very many flocks and herds.

(2Sa 12:3) But the poor man had only one little ewe lamb, which he had purchased, and preserved, and reared; an it grew up with himself and his children in common; it ate of his bread and drank of his cup, and slept in his bosom, and was to him as a daughter.

(2Sa 12:4) And a traveller came to the rich man, and he spared to take of his flocks and of his herds, to dress for the traveller that came to him; and he took the poor man's lamb, and dressed it for the man that came to him.

(2Sa 12:5) And David was greatly moved with anger against the man; and David said to Nathan, As YHVH lives, the man that did this thing shall surely die.

(2Sa 12:6) And he shall restore the lamb seven-fold, because he has not spared.

(2Sa 12:7) And Nathan said to David, Thou art the man that has done this. Thus says YHVH Elohim of Israel, I anointed thee to be king over Israel, and I rescued thee out the hand of Saul;

(2Sa 12:8) and I gave thee the house of thy lord, and the wives of thy lord into thy bosom, and I gave to thee the house of Israel and Juda; and if that had been little, I would have given thee yet more.

(2Sa 12:9) Why hast thou set at nought the word of YHVH, to do that which is evil in his eyes? thou hast slain Urias the Chettite with the sword, and thou hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and thou hast slain him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

(2Sa 12:10) Now therefore the sword shall not depart from thy house for ever, because thou has set me at nought, and thou hast taken the wife of Urias the Chettite, to be thy wife.

(2Sa 12:11) Thus says YHVH, Behold, I will raise up against thee evil out of thy house, and I will take thy wives before thine eyes, and will give them to thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun.

(2Sa 12:12) For thou didst it secretly, but I will do this thing in the sight of all Israel, and before the sun.

(2Sa 12:13) And David said to Nathan, I have sinned against YHVH. And Nathan said to David, And YHVH has put away thy sin; thou shalt not die.

(2Sa 12:14) Only because thou hast given great occasion of provocation to the enemies of YHVH by this thing, thy son also that is born to thee shall surely die.

(2Sa 12:15) And Nathan departed to his house. And YHVH smote the child, which the wife of Urias the Chettite bore to David, and it was ill.

(2Sa 12:16) And David enquired of Elohim concerning the child, and David fasted, and went in and lay all night upon the ground.

(2Sa 12:17) And the elders of his house arose and went to him to raise him up from the ground, but he would not rise, nor did he eat bread with them.

(2Sa 12:18) And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died: and the servants of David were afraid to tell him that the child was dead; for they said, Behold, while the child was yet alive we spoke to him, and he hearkened not to our voice; and thou should we tell him that the child is dead? so would he do himself harm.

(2Sa 12:19) And David understood that his servants were whispering, and David perceived that the child was dead: and David said to his servants, Is the child dead? and they said, He is dead.

(2Sa 12:20) Then David rose up from the earth, and washed, and anointed himself, and changed his raiment, and went into the house of Elohim, and worshipped him; and went into his own house, and called for bread to eat, and they set bread before him and he ate.

(2Sa 12:21) And his servants said to him, What is this thing that thou hast done concerning the child? while it was yet living thou didst fast, and weep, and watch: and when the child was dead thou didst rise up, and didst eat bread, and drink.

(2Sa 12:22) And David said, While the child yet lived, I fasted and wept; for I said, Who knows if YHVH will pity me, and the child live?

(2Sa 12:23) But now it is dead, why should I fast thus? shall I be able to bring him back again? I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me.

(2Sa 12:24) And David comforted Bersabee his wife, and he went in to her, and lay with her; and she conceived and bore a son, and he called his named Solomon, and YHVH loved him.

(2Sa 12:25) And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name Jeddedi, for YHVH's sake.

(2Sa 12:26) And Joab fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and took the royal city.

(2Sa 12:27) And Joab sent messengers to David, and said, I have fought against Rabbath, and taken the city of waters.

(2Sa 12:28) And now gather the rest of the people, and encamp against the city, and take it beforehand; lest I take the city first, and my name be called upon it.

(2Sa 12:29) And David gathered all the people, and went to Rabbath, and fought against it, and took it.

(2Sa 12:30) And he took the crown of Molchom their king from off his head, and the weight of it was a talent of gold, with precious stones, and it was upon the head of David; and he carried forth very much spoil of the city.

(2Sa 12:31) And he brought forth the people that were in it, and put them under the saw, and under iron harrows, and axes of iron, and made them pass through the brick-kiln: and thus he did to all the cities of the children of Ammon. And David and all the people returned to Jerusalem.

(2Sa 13:1) And it happened after this that Abessalom the son of David had a very beautiful sister, and her name was Themar; and Amnon the son of David loved her.

(2Sa 13:2) And Amnon was distressed even to sickness, because of Themar his sister; for she was a virgin, and it seemed very difficult for Amnon to do anything to her.

(2Sa 13:3) And Amnon had a friend, and his name was Jonadab, the son of Samaa the brother of David: and Jonadab was a very cunning man.

(2Sa 13:4) And he said to him, What ails thee that thou art thus weak? O son of the king, morning by morning? wilt thou not tell me? and Amnon said, I love Themar the sister of my brother Abessalom.

(2Sa 13:5) And Jonadab said to him, Lie upon thy bed, and make thyself sick, and thy father shall come in to see thee; and thou shalt say to him, Let, I pray thee, Themar my sister come, and feed me with morsels, and let her prepare food before my eyes, that I may see and eat at her hands.

(2Sa 13:6) So Amnon lay down, and made himself sick; and the king came in to see him: and Amnon said to the king, Let, I pray thee, my sister Themar come to me, and make a couple of cakes in my sight, and I will eat them at her hand.

(2Sa 13:7) And David sent to Themar to the house, saying, Go now to thy brother's house, and dress him food.

(2Sa 13:8) And Themar went to the house of her brother Amnon, and he was lying down: and she took the dough and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and baked the cakes.

(2Sa 13:9) And she took the frying pan and poured them out before him, but he would not eat. And Amnon said, Send out every man from about me. And they removed every man from about him.

(2Sa 13:10) And Amnon said to Themar, Bring in the food into the closet, and I will eat of thy hand. And Themar took the cakes which she had made, and brought them to her brother Amnon into the chamber.

(2Sa 13:11) And she brought them to him to eat, and he caught hold of her, and said to her, Come, lie with me, my sister.

(2Sa 13:12) And she said to him, Nay, my brother, do not humble me, for it ought not to be so done in Israel; do not this folly.

(2Sa 13:13) And I, whither shall I remove my reproach? and thou shalt be as one of the fools in Israel. And now, speak, I pray thee, to the king, for surely he will not keep me from thee.

(2Sa 13:14) But Amnon would not hearken to her voice; and he prevailed against her, and humbled her, and lay with her.

(2Sa 13:15) Then Amnon hated her with very great hatred; for the hatred with which he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her, for the last wickedness was greater than the first: and Amnon said to her, Rise, and be gone.

(2Sa 13:16) And Themar spoke to him concerning this great mischief, greater, said she, than the other that thou didst me, to send me away: but Amnon would not hearken to her voice.

(2Sa 13:17) And he called his servant who had charge of the house, and said to him, Put now this woman out from me, and shut the door after her.

(2Sa 13:18) And she had on her a variegated robe, for so were the king's daughters that were virgins attired in their apparel: and his servant led her forth, and shut the door after her.

(2Sa 13:19) And Themar took ashes, and put them on her head; and she rent the variegated garment that was upon her: and she laid her hands on her head, and went crying continually.

(2Sa 13:20) And Abessalom her brother said to her, Has thy brother Amnon been with thee? now then, my sister, be silent, for he is thy brother: be not careful to mention this matter. So Themar dwelt as a widow in the house of her brother Abessalom.

(2Sa 13:21) And king David heard of all these things, and was very angry; but he did not grieve the spirit of his son Amnon, because he loved him, for he was his first-born.

(2Sa 13:22) And Abessalom spoke not to Amnon, good or bad, because Abessalom hated Amnon, on account of his humbling his sister Themar.

(2Sa 13:23) And it came to pass at the end of two whole years, that they were shearing sheep for Abessalom in Belasor near Ephraim: and Abessalom invited all the king's sons.

(2Sa 13:24) And Abessalom came to the king, and said, Behold, thy servant has a sheep-shearing; let now the king and his servants go with thy servant.

(2Sa 13:25) And the king said to Abessalom, Nay, my son, let us not all go, and let us not be burdensome to thee. And he pressed him; but he would not go, but blessed him.

(2Sa 13:26) And Abessalom said to him, And if not, let I pray thee, my brother Amnon go with us. And the king said to him, Why should he go with thee?

(2Sa 13:27) And Abessalom pressed him, and he sent with him Amnon and all the king's sons; and Abessalom made a banquet like the banquet of the king.

(2Sa 13:28) And Abessalom charged his servants, saying, Mark when the heart of Amnon shall be merry with wine, and I shall say to you, Smite Amnon, and slay him: fear not; for is it not I that command you? Be courageous, and be valiant.

(2Sa 13:29) And the servants of Abessalom did to Amnon as Abessalom commanded them: and all the sons of the king rose up, and they mounted every man his mule, and fled.

(2Sa 13:30) And it came to pass, when they were in the way, that a report came to David, saying, Abessalom has slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.

(2Sa 13:31) Then the king arose, and rent his garments, and lay upon the ground: and all his servants that were standing round him rent their garments.

(2Sa 13:32) And Jonadab the son of Samaa brother of David, answered and said, Let not my Lord the king say that he has slain all the young men the sons of the king, for Amnon only of them all is dead; for he was appointed to death by the mouth of Abessalom from the day that he humbled his sister Themar.

(2Sa 13:33) And now let not my lord the king take the matter to heart, saying, All the king's sons are dead: for Amnon only of them is dead.

(2Sa 13:34) And Abessalom escaped: and the young man the watchman, lifted up his eyes, and looked; and, behold, much people went in the way behind him from the side of the mountain in the descent: and the watchman came and told the king, and said, I have seen men by the way of Oronen, by the side of the mountain.

(2Sa 13:35) And Jonadab said to the king, Behold, the king's sons are present: according to the word of thy servant, so has it happened.

(2Sa 13:36) And it came to pass when he had finished speaking, that, behold, the king's sons came, and lifted up their voices and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept with a very great weeping.

(2Sa 13:37) But Abessalom fled, and went to Tholmi son of Emiud the king of Gedsur to the land of Chamaachad: and king David mourned for his son continually.

(2Sa 13:38) So Abessalom fled, and departed to Gedsur, and was there three years.

(2Sa 13:39) And king David ceased to go out after Abessalom, for he was comforted concerning Amnon, touching his death.

(2Sa 14:1) And Joab the son of Saruia knew that the heart of the king was toward Abessalom.

(2Sa 14:2) And Joab sent to Thecoe, and took thence a cunning woman, and said to her, Mourn, I pray thee, and put on mourning apparel, and anoint thee not with oil, and thou shalt be as a woman mourning for one that is dead thus for many days.

(2Sa 14:3) And thou shalt go to the king, and speak to him according to this word. And Joab put the words in her mouth.

(2Sa 14:4) So the woman of Thecoe went in to the king and fell upon her face to the earth, and did him obeisance, and said, Help, O king, help.

(2Sa 14:5) And the king said to her, What is the matter with thee? And she said, I am indeed a widow woman, and my husband is dead.

(2Sa 14:6) And moreover thy handmaid had two sons, and they fought together in the field, and there was no one to part them; and the one smote the other his brother, and slew him.

(2Sa 14:7) And behold the whole family rose up against thine handmaid, and they said, Give up the one that smote his brother, and we will put him to death for the life of his brother, whom he slew, and we will take away even your heir: so they will quench my coal that is left, so as not to leave my husband remnant or name on the face of the earth.

(2Sa 14:8) And the king said to the woman, Go in peace to thy house, and I will give commandment concerning thee.

(2Sa 14:9) And the woman of Thecoe said to the king, On me, my lord, O king, and on my father's house be the iniquity, and the king and his throne be guiltless.

(2Sa 14:10) And the king said, Who was it that spoke to thee? thou shalt even bring him to me, and one shall not touch him any more.

(2Sa 14:11) And she said, Let now the king remember concerning his Lord Elohim in that the avenger of blood is multiplied to destroy, and let them not take away my son. And he said, As the lord lives, not a hair of thy son shall fall to the ground.

(2Sa 14:12) And the woman said, Let now thy servant speak a word to my lord the king. And he said, Say on.

(2Sa 14:13) And the woman said, Why hast thou devised this thing against the people of Elohim? or is this word out of the king's mouth as a transgression, so that the king should not bring back his banished?

(2Sa 14:14) For we shall surely die, and be as water poured upon the earth, which shall not be gathered up, and Elohim shall take the life, even as he devises to thrust forth from him his outcast.

(2Sa 14:15) And now whereas I came to speak this word to my lord the king, the reason is that the people will see me, and thy handmaid will say, Let one now speak to my lord the king, if peradventure the king will perform the request of his handmaid;

(2Sa 14:16) for the king will hear. Let him rescue his handmaid out of the hand of the man that seeks to cast out me and my son from the inheritance of Elohim.

(2Sa 14:17) And the woman said, If now the word of my lord the king be gracious, well: for as an angel of Elohim, so is my lord the king, to hear good and evil: and YHVH thy Elohim shall be with thee.

(2Sa 14:18) And the king answered, and said to the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the matter which I ask thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king by all means speak.

(2Sa 14:19) And the king said, Is not the hand of Joab in all this matter with thee? and the woman said to the king, As thy soul lives, my lord, O king, there is no turning to the right hand or to the left from all that my lord the king has spoken; for thy servant Joab himself charged me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid.

(2Sa 14:20) In order that this form of speech might come about it was that thy servant Joab has framed this matter: and my lord is wise as is the wisdom of an angel of Elohim, to know all things that are in the earth.

(2Sa 14:21) And the king said to Joab, Behold now, I have done to thee according to this thy word: go, bring back the young man Abessalom.

(2Sa 14:22) And Joab fell on his face to the ground, and did obeisance, and blessed the king: and Joab said, To-day thy servant knows that I have found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, for my lord the king has performed the request of his servant.

(2Sa 14:23) And Joab arose, and went to Gedsur, and brought Abessalom to Jerusalem.

(2Sa 14:24) And the king said, Let him return to his house, and not see my face. And Abessalom returned to his house, and saw not the king's face.

(2Sa 14:25) And there was not a man in Israel so very comely as Abessalom: from the sole of his foot even to the crown of his head there was no blemish in him.

(2Sa 14:26) And when he polled his head, (and it was at the beginning of every year that he polled it, because it grew, heavy upon him,) even when he polled it, he weighed the hair of his head, two hundred shekels according to the royal shekel.

(2Sa 14:27) And there were born to Abessalom three sons and one daughter, and her name was Themar: she was a very beautiful woman, and she becomes the wife of Roboam son of Solomon, and she bears to him Abia.

(2Sa 14:28) And Abessalom remained in Jerusalem two full years, and he saw not the king's face.

(2Sa 14:29) And Abessalom sent to Joab to bring him in to the king, and he would not come to him: and he sent to him the second time, and he would not come.

(2Sa 14:30) And Abessalom said to his servants, Behold, Joab's portion in the field is next to mine, and he has in it barley; go and set it on fire. And the servants of Abessalom set the field on fire: and the servants of Joab come to him with their clothes rent, and they said to him, The servants of Abessalom have set the field on fire.

(2Sa 14:31) And Joab arose, and came to Abessalom into the house, and said to him, Why have thy servants set my field on fire?

(2Sa 14:32) And Abessalom said to Joab, Behold, I sent to thee, saying, Come hither, and I will send thee to the king, saying, Why did I come out of Gedsur? it would have been better for me to have remained there: and now, behold, I have not seen the face of the king; but if there is iniquity in me, then put me to death.

(2Sa 14:33) And Joab went in to the king, and brought him word: and he called Abessalom, and he went in to the king, and did him obeisance, and fell upon his face to the ground, even in the presence of the king; and the king kissed Abessalom.

(2Sa 15:1) And it came to pass after this that Abessalom prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him.

(2Sa 15:2) And Abessalom rose early, and stood by the side of the way of the gate: and it came to pass that every man who had a cause, came to the king for judgment, and Abessalom cried to him, and said to him, Of what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Israel.

(2Sa 15:3) And Abessalom said to him, See, thy affairs are right and clear, yet thou hast no one appointed of the king to hear thee.

(2Sa 15:4) And Abessalom said, O that one would make me a judge in the land; then every man who had a dispute or a cause would come to me, and I would judge him!

(2Sa 15:5) And it came to pass when a man came near to do him obeisance, that he stretched out his hand, and took hold of him, and kissed him.

(2Sa 15:6) And Abessalom did after this manner to all Israel that came to the king for judgment; and Abessalom gained the hearts of the men of Israel.

(2Sa 15:7) And it came to pass after forty years, that Abessalom said to his father, I will go now, and pay my vows, which I vowed to YHVH in Chebron.

(2Sa 15:8) For thy servant vowed a vow when I dwelt at Gedsur in Syria, saying, If YHVH should indeed restore me to Jerusalem, then will I serve YHVH.

(2Sa 15:9) And the king said to him, Go in peace. And he arose and went to Chebron.

(2Sa 15:10) And Abessalom sent spies throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, When ye hear the sound of the trumpet, then shall ye say, Abessalom is become king in Chebron.

(2Sa 15:11) And there went with Abessalom two hundred chosen men from Jerusalem; and they went in their simplicity, and knew not anything.

(2Sa 15:12) And Abessalom sent to Achitophel the Theconite, the counsellor of David, from his city, from Gola, where he was sacrificing: and there was a strong conspiracy; and the people with Abessalom were increasingly numerous.

(2Sa 15:13) And there came a messenger to David, saying, the heart of the men of Israel is gone after Abessalom.

(2Sa 15:14) And David said to all his servants who were with him in Jerusalem, Rise, and let us flee, for we have no refuge from Abessalom: make haste and go, lest he overtake us speedily, and bring evil upon us, and smite the city with the edge of the sword.

(2Sa 15:15) And the king's servants said to the king, In all things which our lord the king chooses, behold we are thy servants.

(2Sa 15:16) And the king and all his house went out on foot: and the king left ten women of his concubines to keep the house.

(2Sa 15:17) And the king and all his servants went out on foot; and abode in a distant house.

(2Sa 15:18) And all his servants passed on by his side, and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and they stood by the olive tree in the wilderness: and all the people marched near him, and all his court, and all the men of might, and all the men of war, six hundred: and they were present at his side: and every Chelethite, and every Phelethite, and all the six hundred Gittites that came on foot out of Geth, and they went on before the king.

(2Sa 15:19) And the king said to Ethi, the Gittite, Why dost thou also go with us? return, and dwell with the king, for thou art a stranger, and thou has come forth as a sojourner out of thy place.

(2Sa 15:20) Whereas thou camest yesterday, shall I to-day cause thee to travel with us, and shalt thou thus change thy place? thou didst come forth yesterday, and to-day shall I set thee in motion to go along with us? I indeed will go whithersoever I may go: return then, and cause thy brethren to return with thee, and may YHVH deal mercifully and truly with thee.

(2Sa 15:21) And Ethi answered the king and said, As YHVH lives and as my lord the king lives, in the place wheresoever my lord shall be, whether it be for death or life, there shall thy servant be.

(2Sa 15:22) And the king said to Ethi, Come and pass over with me. So Ethi the Gittite and the king passed over, and all his servants, and all the multitude with him.

(2Sa 15:23) And all the country wept with a loud voice. And all the people passed by over the brook of Kedron; and the king crossed the brook Kedron: and all the people and the king passed on toward the way of the wilderness.

(2Sa 15:24) And behold also Sadoc, and all the Levites were with him, bearing the ark of the covenant of YHVH from Baethar: and they set down the ark of Elohim; and Abiathar went up, until all the people had passed out of the city.

(2Sa 15:25) And the king said to Sadoc, Carry back the ark of Elohim into the city: if I should find favour in the eyes of YHVH, then will he bring me back, and he will shew me it and its beauty.

(2Sa 15:26) But if he should say thus, I have no pleasure in thee; behold, here I am, let him do to me according to that which is good in his eyes.

(2Sa 15:27) And the king said to Sadoc the priest, Behold, thou shalt return to the city in peace, and Achimaas thy son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar, your two sons with you.

(2Sa 15:28) Behold, I continue in arms in Araboth of the desert, until there come tidings from you to report to me.

(2Sa 15:29) So Sadoc and Abiathar brought back the ark of YHVH to Jerusalem, and it continued there.

(2Sa 15:30) And David went up by the ascent of the mount of Olives, ascending and weeping, and had his head covered, and went barefooted: and all the people that were with him covered every man his head; and they went up, ascending and weeping.

(2Sa 15:31) And it was reported to David, saying, Achitophel also is among the conspirators with Abessalom. And David said, YHVH my Elohim, disconcert, I pray thee, the counsel of Achitophel.

(2Sa 15:32) And David came as far as Ros, where he worshipped Elohim: and behold, Chusi the chief friend of David came out to meet him, having rent his garment, and earth was upon his head.

(2Sa 15:33) And David said to him, If thou shouldest go over with me, then wilt thou be a burden to me;

(2Sa 15:34) but if thou shall return to the city, and shalt say to Abessalom, Thy brethren are passed over, and the king thy father is passed over after me: and now I am thy servant, O king, suffer me to live: at one time even of late I was the servant of thy father, and now I am thy humble servant so shalt thou disconcert for me, the counsel of Achitophel.

(2Sa 15:35) And, behold, there are there with thee Sadoc and Abiathar the priests; and it shall be that every word that thou shalt hear of the house of the king, thou shalt report it to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests.

(2Sa 15:36) Behold, there are there with them their two sons, Achimaas the son of Sadoc, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar; and by them ye shall report to me every word which ye shall hear.

(2Sa 15:37) So Chusi the friend of David went into the city, and Abessalom was lately gone into Jerusalem.

(2Sa 16:1) And David passed on a little way from Ros; and, behold, Siba the servant of Memphibosthe came to meet him; and he had a couple of asses laden, and upon them two hundred loaves, and a hundred bunches of raisins, and a hundred cakes of dates, and bottle of wine.

(2Sa 16:2) And the king said to Siba, What meanest thou by these? and Siba, said, The asses are for the household of the king to sit upon, and the loaves and the dates are for the young men to eat, and the wine is for them that are faint in the wilderness to drink.

(2Sa 16:3) And the king said, And where is the son of thy master? and Siba said to the king, Behold, he remains in Jerusalem; for he said, To-day shall the house of Israel restore to me the kingdom of my father.

(2Sa 16:4) And the king said to Siba, Behold, all Memphibosthe's property is thine. And Siba did obeisance and said, My lord, O king, let me find grace in thine eyes.

(2Sa 16:5) And king David came to Baurim; and, behold, there came out from thence a man of the family of the house of Saul, and his name was Semei the son of Gera. He came forth and cursed as he went, (2Sa 16:6) and cast stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people and all the mighty men were on the right and left hand of the king.

(2Sa 16:7) And thus Semei said when he cursed him, Go out, go out, thou bloody man, and man of sin.

(2Sa 16:8) YHVH has returned upon thee all the blood of the house of Saul, because thou hast reigned in his stead; and YHVH has given the kingdom into the hand of Abessalom thy son: and, behold, thou art taken in thy mischief, because thou art a bloody man.

(2Sa 16:9) And Abessa the son of Saruia said to the king, Why does this dead dog curse my lord the king? let me go over now and take off his head.

(2Sa 16:10) And the king said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Saruia?
even let him alone, and so let him curse, for YHVH has told him to curse
David: and who shall say, Why hast thou done thus?

(2Sa 16:11) And David said to Abessa and to all his servants, Behold, my son who came forth out of my bowels seeks my life; still more now may the son of Benjamin: let him curse, because YHVH has told him.

(2Sa 16:12) If by any means YHVH may look on my affliction, thus shall he return me good for his cursing this day.

(2Sa 16:13) And David and all the men with him went on the way: and Semei went by the side of the hill next to him, cursing as he went, and casting stones at him, and sprinkling him with dirt.

(2Sa 16:14) And the king, and all the people with him, came away and refreshed themselves there.

(2Sa 16:15) And Abessalom and all the men of Israel went into Jerusalem, and Achitophel with him.

(2Sa 16:16) And it came to pass when Chusi the chief friend of David came to Abessalom, that Chusi said to Abessalom, Let the king live.

(2Sa 16:17) And Abessalom said to Chusi, Is this thy kindness to thy friend?
why wentest thou not forth with thy friend?

(2Sa 16:18) And Chusi said to Abessalom, Nay, but following whom YHVH, and this people, and all Israel have chosen, his will I be, and with him I will dwell.

(2Sa 16:19) And again, whom shall I serve? should I not in the presence of his son? As I served in the sight of thy father, so will I be in thy presence.

(2Sa 16:20) And Abessalom said to Achitophel, Deliberate among yourselves concerning what we should do.

(2Sa 16:21) And Achitophel said to Abessalom, Go in to thy father's concubines, whom he left to keep his house; and all Israel shall hear that thou hast dishonoured thy father; and the hands of all that are with thee shall be strengthened.

(2Sa 16:22) And they pitched a tent for Abessalom on the roof, and Abessalom went in to his father's concubines in the sight of all Israel.

(2Sa 16:23) And the counsel of Achitophel, which he counselled in former days, was as if one should enquire of the word of Elohim: so was all the counsel of Achitophel both to David and also to Abessalom.

(2Sa 17:1) And Achitophel said to Abessalom, Let me now choose out for myself twelve thousand men, and I will arise and follow after David this night:

(2Sa 17:2) and I will come upon him when he is weary and weak-handed, and I will strike him with terror; and all the people with him shall flee, and I will smite the king only of all.

(2Sa 17:3) And I will bring back all the people to thee, as a bride returns to her husband: only thou seekest the life of one man, and all the people shall have peace.

(2Sa 17:4) And the saying was right in the eyes of Abessalom, and in the eyes of all the elders of Israel.

(2Sa 17:5) And Abessalom said, Call now also Chusi the Arachite, and let us hear what is in his mouth, even in his also.

(2Sa 17:6) And Chusi went in to Abessalom, and Abessalom spoke to him, saying, After this manner spoke Achitophel: shall we do according to his word? but if not, do thou speak.

(2Sa 17:7) And Chusi said to Abessalom, This counsel which Achitophel has counselled this one time is not good.

(2Sa 17:8) And Chusi said, Thou knowest thy father and his men, that they are very mighty, and bitter in their spirit, as a bereaved bear in the field, [and as a wild boar in the plain]: and thy father is a man of war, and will not give the people rest.

(2Sa 17:9) For, behold, he is now hidden in one of the hills or in some other place: and it shall come to pass when he falls upon them at the beginning, that some one will certainly hear, and say, There has been a slaughter among the people that follow after Abessalom.

(2Sa 17:10) Then even he that is strong, whose heart is as the heart of a lion, it shall utterly melt: for all Israel knows that thy father is mighty, and they that are with him are mighty men.

(2Sa 17:11) For thus I have surely given counsel, that all Israel be generally gathered to thee from Dan even to Bersabee, as the sand that is upon the sea-shore for multitude: and that thy presence go in the midst of them.

(2Sa 17:12) And we will come upon him in one of the places where we shall find him, and we will encamp against him, as the dew falls upon the earth; and we will not leave of him and of his men so much as one.

(2Sa 17:13) And if he shall have taken refuge with his army in a city, then shall all Israel take ropes to that city, and we will draw it even into the river, that there may not be left there even a stone.

(2Sa 17:14) And Abessalom, and all the men of Israel said, The counsel of Chusi the Arachite is better than the counsel of Achitophel. For YHVH ordained to disconcert the good counsel of Achitophel, that YHVH might bring all evil upon Abessalom.

(2Sa 17:15) And Chusi the Arachite said to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests, Thus and thus Achitophel counselled Abessalom and the elders of Israel; and thus and thus have I counselled.

(2Sa 17:16) And now send quickly and report to David, saying, Lodge not this night in Araboth of the wilderness: even go and make haste, lest one swallow up the king, and all the people with him.

(2Sa 17:17) And Jonathan and Achimaas stood by the well of Rogel, and a maid-servant went and reported to them, and they go and tell king David; for they might not be seen to enter into the city.

(2Sa 17:18) But a young man saw them and told Abessalom: and the two went quickly, and entered into the house of a man in Baurim; and he had a well in his court, and they went down into it.

(2Sa 17:19) And a woman took a covering, and spread it over the mouth of the well, and spread out ground corn upon it to dry, and the thing was not known.

(2Sa 17:20) And the servants of Abessalom came to the woman into the house, and said, Where are Achimaas and Jonathan? and the woman said to them, They are gone a little way beyond the water. And they sought and found them not, and returned to Jerusalem.

(2Sa 17:21) And it came to pass after they were gone, that they came up out of the pit, and went on their way; and reported to king David, and said to David, Arise ye and go quickly over the water, for thus has Achitophel counselled concerning you.

(2Sa 17:22) And David rose up and all the people with him, and they passed over Jordan till the morning light; there was not one missing who did not pass over Jordan.

(2Sa 17:23) And Achitophel saw that his counsel was not followed, and he saddled his ass, and rose and departed to his house into his city; and he gave orders to his household, and hanged himself, and died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

(2Sa 17:24) And David passed over to Manaim: and Abessalom crossed over Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him.

(2Sa 17:25) And Abessalom appointed Amessai in the room of Joab over the host. And Amessai was the son of a man whose name was Jether of Jezrael: he went in to Abigaia the daughter of Naas, the sister of Saruia the mother of Joab.

(2Sa 17:26) And all Israel and Abessalom encamped in the land of Galaad.

(2Sa 17:27) And it came to pass when David came to Manaim, that Uesbi the son of Naas of Rabbath of the sons of Ammon, and Machir son of Amiel of Lodabar, and Berzelli the Galaadite of Rogellim,

(2Sa 17:28) brought ten embroidered beds, (with double coverings,) and ten caldrons, and earthenware, and wheat, and barley, and flour, and meal, and beans, and pulse,

(2Sa 17:29) and honey, and butter, and sheep, and cheeses of kine: and they brought them to David and to his people with him to eat; for one said, The people is faint and hungry and thirsty in the wilderness.

(2Sa 18:1) And David numbered the people with him, and set over them captains of thousands and captains of hundreds.

(2Sa 18:2) And David sent away the people, the third part under the hand of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Abessa the son of Saruia, the brother of Joab, and the third part under the hand of Ethi the Gittite. And David said to the people, I also will surely go out with you.

(2Sa 18:3) And they said, Thou shalt not go out: for if we should indeed flee, they will not care for us; and if half of us should die, they will not mind us; for thou art as ten thousand of us: and now it is well that thou shalt be to us an aid to help us in the city.

(2Sa 18:4) And the king said to them, Whatsoever shall seem good in your eyes I will do. And the king stood by the side of the gate, and all the people went out by hundreds and by thousands.

(2Sa 18:5) And the king commanded Joab and Abessa and Ethi, saying, Spare for my sake the young man Abessalom. And all the people heard the king charging all the commanders concerning Abessalom.

(2Sa 18:6) And all the people went out into the wood against Israel; and the battle was in the wood of Ephraim.

(2Sa 18:7) And the people of Israel fell down there before the servants of David, and there was a great slaughter in that day, even twenty thousand men.

(2Sa 18:8) And the battle there was scattered over the face of all the land: and the wood consumed more of the people than the sword consumed among the people in that day.

(2Sa 18:9) And Abessalom went to meet the servants of David: and Abessalom was mounted on his mule, and the mule came under the thick boughs of a great oak; and his head was entangled in the oak, and he was suspended between heaven and earth; and the mule passed on from under him.

(2Sa 18:10) And a man saw it, and reported to Joab, and said, Behold, I saw Abessalom hanging in an oak.

(2Sa 18:11) And Joab said to the man who reported it to him, And, behold, thou didst see him: why didst thou not smite him there to the ground? and I would have given thee ten pieces of silver, and a girdle.

(2Sa 18:12) And the man said to Joab, Were I even to receive a thousand shekels of silver, I would not lift my hand against the king's son; for in our ears the king charged thee and Abessa and Ethi, saying, Take care of the young man Abessalom for me, (2Sa 18:13) so as to do no harm to his life: and nothing of the matter will be concealed from the king, and thou wilt set thyself against me.

(2Sa 18:14) And Joab said, I will begin this; I will not thus remain with thee. And Joab took three darts in his hand, and thrust them into the heart of Abessalom, while he was yet alive in the heart of the oak.

(2Sa 18:15) And ten young men that bore Joab's armour compassed Abessalom, and smote him and slew him.

(2Sa 18:16) And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing Israel, for Joab spared the people.

(2Sa 18:17) And he took Abessalom, and cast him into a great cavern in the wood, into a deep pit, and set up over him a very great heap of stones: and all Israel fled every man to his tent.

(2Sa 18:18) Now Abessalom while yet alive had taken and set up for himself the pillar near which he was taken, and set it up so as to have the pillar in the king's dale; for he said he had no son to keep his name in remembrance: and he called the pillar, Abessalom's hand, until this day.

(2Sa 18:19) And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said, Let me run now and carry glad tidings to the king, for YHVH has delivered him from the hand of his enemies.

(2Sa 18:20) And Joab said to him, Thou shalt not be a messenger of glad tidings this day; thou shalt bear them another day; but on this day thou shalt bear no tidings, because the king's son is dead.

(2Sa 18:21) And Joab said to Chusi, Go, report to the king all that thou hast seen. And Chusi did obeisance to Joab, and went out.

(2Sa 18:22) And Achimaas the son of Sadoc said again to Joab, Nay, let me also run after Chusi. And Joab said, Why wouldest thou thus run, my son? attend, thou hast no tidings for profit if thou go.

(2Sa 18:23) And he said, Why should I not run? and Joab said to him, Run. And Achimaas ran along the way of Kechar, and outran Chusi.

(2Sa 18:24) And David was sitting between the two gates: and the watchman went up on the top of the gate of the wall, and lifted up his eyes, and looked, and behold a man running alone before him.

(2Sa 18:25) And the watchman cried out, and reported to the king. And the king said, If he be alone, there are good tidings in his mouth. And the man came and drew near.

(2Sa 18:26) And the watchman saw another man running: and the watchman cried at the gate, and said, And look, another man running alone. And the king said, He also brings glad tidings.

(2Sa 18:27) And the watchman said, I see the running of the first as the running of Achimaas the son of Sadoc. And the king said, He is a good man, and will come to report glad tidings.

(2Sa 18:28) And Achimaas cried out and said to the king, Peace. And he did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground, and said, Blessed be YHVH thy Elohim, who has delivered up the men that lifted up their hands against my lord the king.

(2Sa 18:29) And the king said, Is the young man Abessalom safe? and Achimaas said, I saw a great multitude at the time of Joab's sending the king's servant and thy servant, and I knew not what was there.

(2Sa 18:30) And the king said, Turn aside, stand still here. And he turned aside, and stood.

(2Sa 18:31) And, behold, Chusi came up, and said to the king, Let my lord the king hear glad tidings, for YHVH has avenged thee this day upon all them that rose up against thee.

(2Sa 18:32) And the king said to Chusi, Is it well with the young man Abessalom? and Chusi said, Let the enemies of my lord the king, and all whosoever have risen up against him for evil, be as that young man.

(2Sa 18:33) And the king was troubled, and went to the chamber over the gate, and wept: and thus he said as he went, My son Abessalom, my son, my son Abessalom; would Elohim I had died for thee, even I had died for thee, Abessalom, my son, my son!

(2Sa 19:1) And they brought Joab word, saying, Behold, the king weeps and mourns for Abessalom.

(2Sa 19:2) And the victory was turned that day into mourning to all the people, for the people heard say that day, The king grieves after his son.

(2Sa 19:3) And the people stole away that day to go into the city, as people steal away when they are ashamed as they flee in the battle.

(2Sa 19:4) And the king hid his face: and the king cried with a loud voice, My son Abessalom! Abessalom my son!

(2Sa 19:5) And Joab went in to the king, into the house, and said, Thou hast this day shamed the faces of all thy servants that have delivered thee this day, and have saved the lives of thy sons and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and of thy concubines,

(2Sa 19:6) forasmuch as thou lovest them that hate thee, and hatest them that love thee; and thou hast this day declared, that thy princes and thy servants are nothing in thy sight: for I know this day, that if Abessalom were alive, and all of us dead to-day, then it would have been right in thy sight.

(2Sa 19:7) And now arise, and go forth, and speak comfortably to thy servants; for I have sworn by YHVH, that unless thou wilt go forth to-day, there shall not a man remain with thee this night: and know for thyself, this thing will indeed be evil to thee beyond all the evil that has come upon thee from thy youth until now.

(2Sa 19:8) Then the king arose, and sat in the gate: and all the people reported, saying, Behold, the king sits in the gate. And all the people went in before the king to the gate; for Israel had fled every man to his tent.

(2Sa 19:9) And all the people disputed among all the tribes of Israel, saying, King David delivered us from all our enemies, and he rescued us from the hand of the Philistines: and now he has fled from the land, and from his kingdom, and from Abessalom.

(2Sa 19:10) And Abessalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in battle: and now why are ye silent about bringing back the king? And the word of all Israel came to the king.

(2Sa 19:11) And king David sent to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests, saying, Speak to the elders of Israel, saying, Why are ye the last to bring back the king to his house? whereas the word of all Israel is come to the king to his house.

(2Sa 19:12) Ye are my brethren, ye are my bones and my flesh: why are ye the last to bring back the king to his house?

(2Sa 19:13) And ye shall say to Amessai, Art thou not my bone and my flesh? and now Elohim do so to me, and more also, if thou shalt not be commander of the host before me continually in the room of Joab.

(2Sa 19:14) And he bowed the heart of all the men of Juda as that of one man; and they sent to the king, saying, Return thou, and all thy servants.

(2Sa 19:15) And the king returned, and came as far as Jordan. And the men of Juda came to Galgala on their way to meet the king, to cause the king to pass over Jordan.

(2Sa 19:16) And Semei the son of Gera, the Benjamite, of Baurim, hasted and went down with the men of Juda to meet king David.

(2Sa 19:17) And a thousand men of Benjamin were with him, and Siba the servant of the house of Saul, and his fifteen sons with him, and his twenty servants with him: and they went directly down to Jordan before the king,

(2Sa 19:18) and they performed the service of bringing the king over; and there went over a ferry-boat to remove the household of the king, and to do that which was right in his eyes. And Semei the son of Gera fell on his face before the king, as he went over Jordan;

(2Sa 19:19) and said to the king, Let not my lord now impute iniquity, and remember not all the iniquity of thy servant in the day in which my lord went out from Jerusalem, so that the king should mind it.

(2Sa 19:20) For thy servant knows that I have sinned: and, behold, I am come to-day before all Israel and the house of Joseph, to go down and meet my lord the king.

(2Sa 19:21) And Abessai the son of Saruia answered and said, Shall not Semei therefore be put to death, because he cursed YHVH's anointed?

(2Sa 19:22) And David said, What have I to do with you, ye sons of Saruia, that ye as it were lie in wait against me this day? to-day no man in Israel shall be put to death, for I know not if I this day reign over Israel.

(2Sa 19:23) And the king said to Semei, Thou shalt not die: and the king swore to him.

(2Sa 19:24) And Memphibosthe the son of Saul's son went down to meet the king, and had not dressed his feet, nor pared his nails, nor shaved himself, neither had he washed his garments, from the day that the king departed, until the day when he arrived in peace.

(2Sa 19:25) And it came to pass when he went into Jerusalem to meet the king, that the king said to him, Why didst thou not go with me, Memphibosthe?

(2Sa 19:26) And Memphibosthe said to him, My lord, O king, my servant deceived me; for thy servant said to him, Saddle me the ass, and I will ride upon it, and go with the king; for thy servant is lame.

(2Sa 19:27) And he has dealt deceitfully with thy servant to my lord the king: but my lord the king is as an angel of Elohim, and do thou that which is good in thine eyes.

(2Sa 19:28) For all the house of my father were but as dead men before my lord the king; yet thou hast set thy servant among them that eat at thy table: and what right have I any longer even to cry to the king?

(2Sa 19:29) And the king said to him, Why speakest thou any longer of thy matters? I have said, Thou and Siba shall divide the land.

(2Sa 19:30) And Memphibosthe said to the king, Yea, let him take all, since my lord the king has come in peace to his house.

(2Sa 19:31) And Berzelli the Galaadite came down from Rogellim, and crossed over Jordan with the king, that he might conduct the king over Jordan.

(2Sa 19:32) And Berzelli was a very old man, eighty years old; and he had maintained the king when he dwelt in Manaim; for he was a very great man.

(2Sa 19:33) And the king said to Berzelli, Thou shalt go over with me, and I will nourish thine old age with me in Jerusalem.

(2Sa 19:34) And Berzelli said to the king, How many are the days of the years of my life, that I should go up with the king to Jerusalem?

(2Sa 19:35) I am this day eighty years old: can I then distinguish between good and evil? Can thy servant taste any longer what I eat or drink? can I any longer hear the voice of singing men or singing women? and wherefore shall thy servant any longer be a burden to my lord the king?

(2Sa 19:36) Thy servant will go a little way over Jordan with the king: and why does the king return me this recompense?

(2Sa 19:37) Let, I pray thee, thy servant remain, and I will die in my city, by the tomb of my father and of my mother. And, behold, thy servant Chamaam shall go over with my lord the king; and do thou to him as it seems good in thine eyes.

(2Sa 19:38) And the king said, Let Chamaam go over with me, and I will do to him what is good in my sight; and whatsoever thou shalt choose at my hand, I will do for thee.

(2Sa 19:39) And all the people went over Jordan, and the king went over; and the king kissed Berzelli, and blessed him; and he returned to his place.

(2Sa 19:40) And the king went over to Galgala, and Chamaam went over with him: and all the men of Juda went over with the king, and also half the people of Israel.

(2Sa 19:41) And behold, all the men of Israel came to the king, and said to the king, Why have our brethren the men of Juda stolen thee away, and caused the king and all his house to pass over Jordan, and all the men of David with him?

(2Sa 19:42) And all the men of Juda answered the men of Israel, and said, Because the king is near of kin to us: and why were you thus angry concerning this matter? have we indeed eaten of the king's food? or has he given us a gift, or has he sent us a portion?

(2Sa 19:43) And the men of Israel answered the men of Juda, and said, We have ten parts in the king, and we are older than you, we have also an interest in David above you: and why have ye thus insulted us, and why was not our advice taken before that of Juda, to bring back our king? And the speech of the men of Juda was sharper than the speech of the men of Israel.

(2Sa 20:1) And there was a transgressor so called there, and his name was Sabee, a Benjamite, the son of Bochori: and he blew the trumpet, and said, We have no portion in David, neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jessae: to thy tents, O Israel, every one.

(2Sa 20:2) And all the men of Israel went up from following David after Sabee the son of Bochori: but the men of Juda adhered to their king, from Jordan even to Jerusalem.

(2Sa 20:3) And David went into his house at Jerusalem: and the king took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and he put them in a place of custody, and maintained them, and went not in to them; and they were kept living as widows, till the day of their death.

(2Sa 20:4) And the king said to Amessai, Call to me the men of Juda for three days, and do thou be present here.

(2Sa 20:5) And Amessai went to call Juda, and delayed beyond the time which David appointed him.

(2Sa 20:6) And David said to Amessai, Now shall Sabee the son of Bochori do us more harm than Abessalom: now then take thou with thee the servants of thy lord, and follow after him, lest he find for himself strong cities, so will he blind our eyes.

(2Sa 20:7) And there went out after him Amessai and the men of Joab, and the Cherethites, and the Phelethites, and all the mighty men: and they went out from Jerusalem to pursue after Sabee the son of Bochori.

(2Sa 20:8) And they were by the great stone that is in Gabaon: and Amessai went in before them: and Joab had upon him a military cloak over his apparel, and over it he was girded with a dagger fastened upon his loins in its scabbard: and the dagger came out, it even came out and fell.

(2Sa 20:9) And Joab said to Amessai, Art thou in health, my brother? and the right hand of Joab took hold of the beard of Amessai to kiss him.

(2Sa 20:10) And Amessai observed not the dagger that was in the hand of Joab: and Joab smote him with it on the loins, and his bowels were shed out upon the ground, and he did not repeat the blow, and he died: and Joab and Abessai his brother pursued after Sabee the son of Bochori.

(2Sa 20:11) And there stood over him one of the servants of Joab, and said, Who is he that is for Joab, and who is on the side of David following Joab?

(2Sa 20:12) And Amessai was weltering in blood in the midst of the way. And a man saw that all the people stood still; and he removed Amessai out of the path into a field, and he cast a garment upon him, because he saw every one that came to him standing still.

(2Sa 20:13) And when he was quickly removed from the road, every man of Israel passed after Joab to pursue after Sabe the son of Bochori.

(2Sa 20:14) And he went through all the tribes of Israel to Abel, and to Bethmacha; and all in Charri too were assembled, and followed after him.

(2Sa 20:15) And they came and besieged him in Abel and Phermacha: and they raised a mound against the city and it stood close to the wall; and all the people with Joab proposed to throw down the wall.

(2Sa 20:16) And a wise woman cried from the wall, and said, Hear, hear; say, I pray ye, to Joab, Draw near hither, and I will speak to him.

(2Sa 20:17) And he drew nigh to her, and the woman said to him, Art thou Joab? and he said, I am. And she said to him, Hear the words of thy handmaid; and Joab said, I do hear.

(2Sa 20:18) And she spoke, saying, Of old time they said thus, Surely one was asked in Abel, and Dan, whether the faithful in Israel failed in what they purposed; they will surely ask in Abel, even in like manner, whether they have failed.

(2Sa 20:19) I am a peaceable one of the strong ones in Israel; but thou seekest to destroy a city and a mother city in Israel: why dost thou seek to ruin the inheritance of YHVH?

(2Sa 20:20) And Joab answered and said, Far be it, far be it from me, that I should ruin or destroy.

(2Sa 20:21) Is not the case thus, that a man of mount Ephraim, Sabe, son of Bochori by name, has even lifted up his hand against king David? Give him only to me, and I will depart from the city. And the woman said to Joab, Behold, his head shall be thrown to thee over the wall.

(2Sa 20:22) And the woman went in to all the people, and she spoke to all the city in her wisdom; and they took off the head of Sabe the son of Bochori; and took it away and threw it to Joab: and he blew the trumpet, and the people separated from the city away from him, every man to his tent: and Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

(2Sa 20:23) And Joab was over all the forces of Israel: and Banaias the son of Jodae was over the Cherethites and over the Phelethites.

(2Sa 20:24) And Adoniram was over the tribute: and Josaphath the son of Achiluth was recorder.

(2Sa 20:25) And Susa was scribe: and Sadoc and Abiathar were priests.

(2Sa 20:26) Moreover Iras the son of Iarin was priest to David.

(2Sa 21:1) And there was a famine in the days of David three years, year after year; and David sought the face of YHVH. And YHVH said, There is guilt upon Saul and his house because of his bloody murder, whereby he slew the Gabaonites.

(2Sa 21:2) And King David called the Gabaonites, and said to them; (now the Gabaonites are not the children of Israel, but are of the remnant of the Amorite, and the children of Israel had sworn to them: but Saul sought to smite them in his zeal for the children of Israel and Juda.)

(2Sa 21:3) And David said to the Gabaonites, What shall I do to you? and wherewithal shall I make atonement, that ye may bless the inheritance of

YHVH?

(2Sa 21:4) And the Gabaonites said to him, We have no question about silver or gold with Saul and with his house; and there is no man for us to put to death in Israel.

(2Sa 21:5) And he said, What say ye? speak, and I will do it for you. And they said to the king, The man who would have made an end of us, and persecuted us, who plotted against us to destroy us, let us utterly destroy him, so that he shall have no standing in all the coasts of Israel.

(2Sa 21:6) Let one give us seven men of his sons, and let us hang them up in the sun to YHVH in Gabaon of Saul, as chosen out for YHVH. And the king said, I will give them.

(2Sa 21:7) But the king spared Memphibosthe son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the oath of YHVH that was between them, even between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

(2Sa 21:8) And the king took the two sons of Respha the daughter of Aia, whom she bore to Saul, Hermonoi and Memphibosthe, and the five sons of Michol daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Esdriel son of Berzelli the Moulathite.

(2Sa 21:9) And he gave them into the hand of the Gabaonites, and they hanged them up to the sun in the mountain before the lord: and they fell, even the seven together: moreover they were put to death in the days of harvest at the commencement, in the beginning of barley-harvest.

(2Sa 21:10) And Respha the daughter of Aia took sackcloth, and fixed it for herself on the rock in the beginning of barley harvest, until water dropped upon them out of heaven: and she did not suffer the birds of the air to rest upon them by day, nor the beasts of the field by night.

(2Sa 21:11) And it was told David what Respha the daughter of Aia the concubine of Saul had done, [and they were faint, and Dan, the son of Joa of the offspring of the giants overtook them.]

(2Sa 21:12) And David went and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son, from the men of the sons of Jabis Galaad, who stole them from the street of Baethsan; for the Philistines set them there in the day in which the Philistines smote Saul in Gelbue.

(2Sa 21:13) And he carried up thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and gathered the bones of them that had been hanged.

(2Sa 21:14) And they buried the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his son, and the bones of them that had been hanged, in the land of Benjamin in the hill, in the sepulchre of Cis his father; and they did all things that the king commanded: and after this Elohim hearkened to the prayers of the land.

(2Sa 21:15) And there was yet war between the Philistines and Israel: and David went down and his servants with him, and they fought with the Philistines, and David went.

(2Sa 21:16) And Jesbi, who was of the progeny of Rapha, and the head of whose spear was three hundred shekels of brass in weight, who also was girt with a club, even he thought to smite David.

(2Sa 21:17) And Abessa the son of Saruia helped him and smote the Philistine, and slew him. Then the men of David swore, saying, Thou shalt not any longer go out with us to battle, and thou shalt not quench the lamp of Israel.

(2Sa 21:18) And after this there was a battle again with the Philistines in Geth: then Sebocha the Astatothite slew Seph of the progeny of Rapha.

(2Sa 21:19) And there was a battle in Rom with the Philistines; and Eleanan son of Ariorgim the Bethleemite slew Goliath the Gittite; and the staff of his spear was as a weaver's beam.

(2Sa 21:20) And there was yet a battle in Geth: and there was a man of stature, and the fingers of his hands and the toes of his feet were six on each, four and twenty in number: and he also was born to Rapha.

(2Sa 21:21) And he defied Israel, and Jonathan son of Semei brother of David, smote him.

(2Sa 21:22) These four were born descendants of the giants in Geth, the family of Rapha; and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

(2Sa 22:1) And David spoke to YHVH the words of this song, in the day in which YHVH rescued him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul.

(2Sa 22:2) And the song was thus: YHVH, my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer, (2Sa 22:3) my Elohim; he shall be to me my guard, I will trust in him: he is my protector, and the horn of my salvation, my helper, and my sure refuge; thou shalt save me from the unjust man.

(2Sa 22:4) I will call upon YHVH who is worthy to be praised, and I shall be saved from my enemies.

(2Sa 22:5) For the troubles of death compassed me, the floods of iniquity amazed me:

(2Sa 22:6) the pangs of death surrounded me, the agonies of death prevented me.

(2Sa 22:7) When I am afflicted I will call upon YHVH, and will cry to my Elohim, and he shall hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry shalt come into his ears.

(2Sa 22:8) And the earth was troubled and quaked, and the foundations of heaven were confounded and torn asunder, because YHVH was wroth with them.

(2Sa 22:9) There went up a smoke in his wrath, and fire out of his mouth devours: coals were kindled at it.

(2Sa 22:10) And he bowed the heavens, and came down, and there was darkness under his feet.

(2Sa 22:11) And he rode upon the cherubs and did fly, and was seen upon the wings of the wind.

(2Sa 22:12) And he made darkness his hiding-place; his tabernacle round about him was the darkness of waters, he condensed it with the clouds of the air.

(2Sa 22:13) At the brightness before him coals of fire were kindled.

(2Sa 22:14) YHVH thundered out of heaven, and the Most High uttered his voice.

(2Sa 22:15) And he sent forth arrows, and scattered them, and he flashed lightning, and dismayed them.

(2Sa 22:16) And the channels of the sea were seen, and the foundations of the world were discovered, at the rebuke of YHVH, at the blast of the breath of his anger.

(2Sa 22:17) He sent from above and took me; he drew me out of many waters.

(2Sa 22:18) He delivered me from my strong enemies, from them that hated me, for they were stronger than I.

(2Sa 22:19) The days of my affliction prevented me; but YHVH was my stay.

(2Sa 22:20) And he brought me into a wide place, and rescued me, because he delighted in me.

(2Sa 22:21) And YHVH recompensed me according to my righteousness; even according to the purity of my hands did he recompense me.

(2Sa 22:22) Because, I kept the ways of YHVH, and did not wickedly depart from my Elohim.

(2Sa 22:23) For all his judgments and his ordinances were before me: I departed not from them.

(2Sa 22:24) And I shall be blameless before him, and will keep myself from my iniquity.

(2Sa 22:25) And YHVH will recompense me according to my righteousness, and according to the purity of my hands in his eye-sight.

(2Sa 22:26) With the holy thou wilt be holy, and with the perfect man thou wilt be perfect, (2Sa 22:27) and with the excellent thou wilt be excellent, and with the froward thou wilt be froward.

(2Sa 22:28) And thou wilt save the poor people, and wilt bring down the eyes of the haughty.

(2Sa 22:29) For thou, Lord, art my lamp, and YHVH shall shine forth to me in my darkness.

(2Sa 22:30) For by thee shall I run as a girded man, and by my Elohim shall I leap over a wall.

(2Sa 22:31) As for the Mighty One, his way is blameless: the word of YHVH is strong and tried in the fire: he is a protector to all that put their trust in him.

(2Sa 22:32) Who is strong, but YHVH? and who will be a Creator except our Elohim?

(2Sa 22:33) It is the Mighty One who strengthens me with might, and has prepared my way without fault.

(2Sa 22:34) He makes my feet like hart's feet, and sets me upon the high places.

(2Sa 22:35) He teaches my hands to war, and has broken a brazen bow by my arm.

(2Sa 22:36) And thou hast given me the shield of my salvation, and thy propitious dealing has increased me, (2Sa 22:37) so as to make room under me for my going, and my legs did not totter.

(2Sa 22:38) I will pursue my enemies, and will utterly destroy them; and I will not turn again till I have consumed them.

(2Sa 22:39) And I will crush them, and they shall not rise; and they shall fall under my feet.

(2Sa 22:40) And thou shalt strengthen me with power for the war; thou shalt cause them that rise up against me to bow down under me.

(2Sa 22:41) And thou hast caused mine enemies to flee before me, even them that hated me, and thou hast slain them.

(2Sa 22:42) They shall cry, and there shall be no helper; to YHVH, but he hearkens not to them.

(2Sa 22:43) And I ground them as the dust of the earth, I beat them small as the mire of the streets.

(2Sa 22:44) And thou shalt deliver me from the striving of the peoples, thou shalt keep me to be the head of the Gentiles: a people which I knew not served me.

(2Sa 22:45) The strange children feigned obedience to me; they hearkened to me as soon as they heard.

(2Sa 22:46) The strange children shall be cast away, and shall be overthrown out of their hiding places.

(2Sa 22:47) YHVH lives, and blessed be my guardian, and my Elohim, my strong keeper, shall be exalted.

(2Sa 22:48) YHVH who avenges me is strong, chastening the nations under me, (2Sa 22:49) and bringing me out from my enemies: and thou shalt set me on high from among those that rise up against me: thou shalt deliver me from the violent man.

(2Sa 22:50) Therefore will I confess to thee, YHVH, among the Gentiles, and sing to thy name.

(2Sa 22:51) He magnifies the salvation of his king, and works mercy for his anointed, even for David and for his seed for ever.

(2Sa 23:1) And these are the last words of David. Faithful is David the son of Jessae, and faithful the man whom YHVH raised up to be the anointed of the Elohim of Jacob, and beautiful are the psalms of Israel.

(2Sa 23:2) The Spirit of YHVH spoke by me, and his word was upon my tongue.

(2Sa 23:3) The Elohim of Israel says, A watchman out of Israel spoke to me a parable: I said among men, How will ye strengthen the fear of the anointed?

(2Sa 23:4) And in the morning light of Elohim, let the sun arise in the morning, from the light of which YHVH passed on, and as it were from the rain of the tender grass upon the earth.

(2Sa 23:5) For my house is not so with the Mighty One: for he has made an everlasting covenant with me, ready, guarded at every time; for all my salvation and all my desire is, that the wicked should not flourish.

(2Sa 23:6) All these are as a thorn thrust forth, for they shall not be taken with the hand, (2Sa 23:7) and a man shall not labour among them; and one shall have that which is fully armed with iron, and the staff of a spear, and he shall burn them with fire, and they shall be burnt in their shame.

(2Sa 23:8) These are the names of the mighty men of David: Jebosthe the Chananite is a captain of the third part: Adinon the Asonite, he drew his sword against eight hundred soldiers at once.

(2Sa 23:9) And after him Eleanan the son of his uncle, son of Dudi who was among the three mighty men with David; and when he defied the Philistines they were gathered there to war, and the men of Israel went up.

(2Sa 23:10) He arose and smote the Philistines, until his hand was weary, and his hand clave to the sword: and YHVH wrought a great salvation in that day, and the people rested behind him only to strip the slain.

(2Sa 23:11) And after him Samaia the son of Asa the Arachite: and the Philistines were gathered to Theria; and there was there a portion of ground full of lentiles; and the people fled before the Philistines.

(2Sa 23:12) And he stood firm in the midst of the portion, and rescued it, and smote the Philistines; and YHVH wrought a great deliverance.

(2Sa 23:13) And three out of the thirty went down, and came to Cason to David, to the cave of Odollam; and there was an army of the Philistines, and they encamped in the valley of Raphain.

(2Sa 23:14) And David was then in the strong hold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethleem.

(2Sa 23:15) And David longed, and said, Who will give me water to drink out of the well that is in Bethleem by the gate? now the band of the Philistines was then in Bethleem.

(2Sa 23:16) And the three mighty men broke through the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well that was in Bethleem in the gate: and they took it, and brought it to David, and he would not drink it, but poured it out before YHVH.

(2Sa 23:17) And he said, YHVH, forbid that I should do this, that I should drink of the blood of the men who went at the risk of their lives: and he would not drink it. These things did these three mighty men.

(2Sa 23:18) And Abessa the brother of Joab the son of Saruia, he was chief among the three, and he lifted up his spear against three hundred whom he slew; and he had a name among three.

(2Sa 23:19) Of those three he was most honourable, and he became a chief over them, but he reached not to the first three.

(2Sa 23:20) And Banaeas the son of Jodae, he was abundant in mighty deeds, from Cabeseel, and he smote the two sons of Ariel of Moab: and he went down and smote a lion in the midst of a pit on a snowy day.

(2Sa 23:21) He smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man, and in the hand of the Egyptian was a spear as the side of a ladder; and he went down to him with a staff, and snatched the spear from the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

(2Sa 23:22) These things did Banaeas the son of Jodae, and he had a name among the three mighty men.

(2Sa 23:23) He was honourable among the second three, but he reached not to the first three: and David made him his reporter. And these are the names of King David's mighty men.

(2Sa 23:24) Asael Joab's brother; he was among the thirty. Eleanan son of Dudi his uncle in Bethleem.

(2Sa 23:25) Saema the Rudaeen.

(2Sa 23:26) Selles the Kelothite: Iras the son of Isca the Thecoite.

(2Sa 23:27) Abiezer the Anothite, of the sons of the Anothite.

(2Sa 23:28) Ellon the Aoite; Noere the Netophatite.

(2Sa 23:29) Esthai the son of Riba of Gabaeth, son of Benjamin the Ephrathite; Asmoth the Bardiamite; Emasu the Salabonite:

(2Sa 23:30) Adroi of the brooks.

(2Sa 23:31) Gadabiel son of the Arabothaeite.

(2Sa 23:32) the sons of Asan, Jonathan;

(2Sa 23:33) Samnan the Arodite; Amnan the son of Arai the Saraurite.
(2Sa 23:34) Aliphaleth the son of Asbites, the son of the Machachachite; Eliab the son of Achitophel the Gelonite.
(2Sa 23:35) Asarai the Carmelite the son of Uraeoerchi.
(2Sa 23:36) Gaal the son of Nathana. The son of much valour, the son of Galaaddi. Elie the Ammanite.
(2Sa 23:37) Gelore the Bethorite, armour-bearer to Joab, son of Saruia.
(2Sa 23:38) Iras the Ethirite. Gerab the Ethenite.
(2Sa 23:39) Urias the Chettite: thirty-seven in all.
(2Sa 24:1) And YHVH caused his anger to burn forth again in Israel, and Satan stirred up David against them, saying, Go, number Israel and Juda.
(2Sa 24:2) And the king said to Joab commander of the host, who was with him, Go now through all the tribes of Israel and Juda, from Dan even to Bersabee, and number the people, and I will know the number of the people.
(2Sa 24:3) And Joab said to the king, Now may YHVH add to the people a hundred-fold as many as they are, and may the eyes of my lord the king see it: but why does my lord the king desire this thing?
(2Sa 24:4) Nevertheless the word of the king prevailed against Joab and the captains of the host: And Joab and the captains of the host went out before the king to number the people of Israel.
(2Sa 24:5) And they went over Jordan, and encamped in Aroer, on the right of the city which is in the midst of the valley of Gad and Eliezer.
(2Sa 24:6) And they came to Galaad, and into the land of Thabason, which is Adasai, and they came to Danidan and Udan, and compassed Sidon.
(2Sa 24:7) And they came to Mapsar of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Evite and the Chananite: and they came by the South of Juda to Bersabee.
(2Sa 24:8) And they compassed the whole land; and they arrived at Jerusalem at the end of nine months and twenty days.
(2Sa 24:9) And Joab gave in the number of the census of the people to the king: and Israel consisted of eight hundred thousand men of might that drew sword; and the men of Juda, five hundred thousand fighting men.
(2Sa 24:10) And the heart of David smote him after he had numbered the people; and David said to YHVH, I have sinned grievously, YHVH, in what I have now done: remove, I pray thee, the iniquity of thy servant, for I have been exceedingly foolish.
(2Sa 24:11) And David rose early in the morning, and the word of YHVH came to the prophet Gad, the seer, saying, Go, and speak to David, saying, (2Sa 24:12) Thus saith YHVH, I bring one of three things upon thee: now choose thee one of them, and I will do it to thee.
(2Sa 24:13) And Gad went in to David, and told him, and said to him, Choose one of these things to befall thee, whether there shall come upon thee for three years famine in thy land; or that thou shouldest flee three months before thine enemies, and they should pursue thee; or that there should be for three days mortality in thy land. Now then decide, and see what answer I shall return to him that sent me.
(2Sa 24:14) And David said to Gad, On every side I am much straitened: let me fall now into the hands of YHVH, for his compassions are very many; and let me not fall into the hands of man.
(2Sa 24:15) So David chose for himself the mortality: and they were the days of wheat-harvest; and YHVH sent a pestilence upon Israel from morning till noon, and the plague began among the people; and there died of the people from Dan even to Bersabee seventy thousand men.

(2Sa 24:16) And the angel of YHVH stretched out his hand against Jerusalem to destroy it, and YHVH repented of the evil, and said to the angel that destroyed the people, It is enough now, withhold thine hand. And the angel of YHVH was by the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite.

(2Sa 24:17) And David spoke to YHVH when he saw the angel smiting the people, and he said, Behold, it is I that have done wrong, but these sheep what have they done? Let thy hand, I pray thee, be upon me, and upon my father's house.

(2Sa 24:18) And Gad came to David in that day, and said to him, Go up, and set up to YHVH and altar in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite.

(2Sa 24:19) And David went up according to the word of Gad, as YHVH commanded him.

(2Sa 24:20) And Orna looked out, and saw the king and his servants coming on before him: and Orna went forth, and did obeisance to the king with his face to the earth.

(2Sa 24:21) And Orna said, Why has my lord the king come to his servant? and David said, To buy of thee the threshing-floor, in order to build an altar to YHVH that the plague may be restrained from off the people.

(2Sa 24:22) And Orna said to David, Let my lord the king take and offer to YHVH that which is good in his eyes: behold, here are oxen for a whole-burnt-offering, and the wheels and furniture of the oxen for wood.

(2Sa 24:23) Orna gave all to the king: and Orna said to the king, YHVH thy Elohim bless thee.

(2Sa 24:24) And the king said to Orna, Nay, but I will surely buy it of thee at a fair price, and I will not offer to YHVH my Elohim a whole-burnt-offering for nothing. So David purchased the threshing-floor and the oxen for fifty shekels of silver.

(2Sa 24:25) And David built there an altar to YHVH, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings: and Solomon made an addition to the altar afterwards, for it was little at first. And YHVH hearkened to the land, and the plague was stayed from Israel.

1 Kings.

(1Ki 1:1) And king David was old and advanced in days, and they covered him with clothes, and he was not warmed.

(1Ki 1:2) And his servants said, Let them seek for the king a young virgin, and she shall wait on the king, and cherish him, and lie with him, and my lord the king shall be warmed.

(1Ki 1:3) So they sought for a fair damsel out of all the coasts of Israel; and they found Abisag the Somanite, and they brought her to the king.

(1Ki 1:4) And the damsel was extremely beautiful, and she cherished the king, and ministered to him, but the king knew her not.

(1Ki 1:5) And Adonias the son of Aggith exalted himself, saying, I will be king; and he prepared for himself chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him.

(1Ki 1:6) And his father never at any time checked him, saying, Why hast thou done thus? and he was also very handsome in appearance, and his mother bore him after Abessalom.

(1Ki 1:7) And he conferred with Joab the son of Saruia, and with Abiathar the priest, and they followed after Adonias.

(1Ki 1:8) But Sadoc the priest, and Banaeas the son of Jodae, and Nathan the prophet, and Semei, and Resi, and the mighty men of David, did not follow Adonias.

(1Ki 1:9) And Adonias sacrificed sheep and calves and lambs by the stone of Zoelethi, which was near Rogel: and he called all his brethren, and all the adult men of Juda, servants of the king.

(1Ki 1:10) But Nathan the prophet, and Banaeas, and the mighty men, and Solomon his brother, he did not call.

(1Ki 1:11) And Nathan spoke to Bersabee the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonias the son of Aggith reigns, and our lord David knows it not?

(1Ki 1:12) And now come, let me, I pray, give thee counsel, and thou shalt rescue thy life, and the life of thy son Solomon.

(1Ki 1:13) Haste, and go in to king David, and thou shalt speak to him, saying, Hast not thou, my lord, O king, sworn to thine handmaid, saying, Thy son Solomon shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne? why then does Adonias reign?

(1Ki 1:14) And behold, while thou art still speaking there with the king, I also will come in after thee, and will confirm thy words.

(1Ki 1:15) So Bersabee went in to the king into the chamber: and the king was very old, and Abisag the Somanite was ministering to the king.

(1Ki 1:16) And Bersabee bowed, and did obeisance to the king; and the king said, What is thy request?

(1Ki 1:17) And she said, My lord, thou didst swear by YHVH thy Elohim to thine handmaid, saying, Thy son Solomon shall reign after me, and shall sit upon my throne.

(1Ki 1:18) And now, behold, Adonias reigns, and thou, my lord, O king, knowest it not.

(1Ki 1:19) And he has sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and Abiathar the priest and Joab the commander-in-chief of the host; but Solomon thy servant he has not called.

(1Ki 1:20) And thou, my lord, O king, the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, to tell them who shall sit upon the throne of my lord the king after him.

(1Ki 1:21) And it shall come to pass, when my lord the king shall sleep with his fathers, that I and Solomon my son shall be offenders.

(1Ki 1:22) And behold, while she was yet talking with the king, Nathan the prophet came. And it was reported to the king, (1Ki 1:23) Behold, Nathan the prophet is here: and he came in to the king's presence, and did obeisance to the king with his face to the ground.

(1Ki 1:24) And Nathan said, My lord, O king, didst thou say, Adonias shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne?

(1Ki 1:25) For he has gone down to-day, and has sacrificed calves and lambs and sheep in abundance, and has called all the king's sons, and the chiefs of the army, and Abiathar the priest; and, behold, they are eating and drinking before him, and they said, Long live king Adonias.

(1Ki 1:26) But he has not invited me thy servant, and Sadoc the priest, and Banaeas the son of Jodae, and Solomon thy servant.

(1Ki 1:27) Has this matter happened by the authority of my lord the king, and hast thou not made known to thy servant who shall sit upon the throne of my lord the king after him?

(1Ki 1:28) And king David answered and said, Call me Bersabee: and she came in before the king, and stood before him.

(1Ki 1:29) And the king swore, and said, As YHVH lives who redeemed my soul out of all affliction, (1Ki 1:30) as I swore to thee by YHVH Elohim of Israel, saying, Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead, so will I do this day.

(1Ki 1:31) And Bersabee bowed with her face to the ground, and did obeisance to the king, and said, Let my lord king David live for ever.

(1Ki 1:32) And king David said, Call me Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaeas the son of Jodae: and they came in before the king.

(1Ki 1:33) And the king said to them, Take the servants of your lord with you, and mount my son Solomon upon my own mule, and bring him down to Gion.

(1Ki 1:34) And there let Sadoc the priest and Nathan the prophet anoint him to be king over Israel, and do ye sound the trumpet, and ye shall say, Let king Solomon live.

(1Ki 1:35) And he shall sit upon my throne, and reign in my stead: and I have given charge that he should be for a prince over Israel and Juda.

(1Ki 1:36) And Banaeas the son of Jodae answered the king and said, So let it be: may YHVH Elohim of my lord the king confirm it.

(1Ki 1:37) As YHVH was with my lord the king, so let him be with Solomon, and let him exalt his throne beyond the throne of my lord king David.

(1Ki 1:38) And Sadoc the priest went down, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaeas son of Jodae, and the Cherethite, and the Phelethite, and they mounted Solomon upon the mule of king David, and led him away to Gion.

(1Ki 1:39) And Sadoc the priest took the horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon, and blew the trumpet; and all the people said, Let king Solomon live.

(1Ki 1:40) And all the people went up after him, and they danced in choirs, and rejoiced with great joy, and the earth quaked with their voice.

(1Ki 1:41) And Adonias and all his guests heard, and they had just left off eating: and Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, and said, What means the voice of the city in tumult?

(1Ki 1:42) While he was yet speaking, behold, Jonathan the son of Abiathar the priest came in: and Adonias said, Come in, for thou art a mighty man, and thou comest to bring glad tidings.

(1Ki 1:43) And Jonathan answered and said, Verily our lord king David has made Solomon king:

(1Ki 1:44) and the king has sent with him Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaeas the son of Jodae, and the Cherethite, and the Phelethite, and they have mounted him on the king's mule;

(1Ki 1:45) and Sadoc the priest and Nathan the prophet have anointed him in Gion, and have gone up thence rejoicing, and the city resounded: this is the sound which ye have heard.

(1Ki 1:46) And Solomon is seated upon the throne of the kingdom.

(1Ki 1:47) And the servants of the king have gone in to bless our lord king David, saying, Elohim make the name of Solomon better than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne; and the king worshipped upon his bed.

(1Ki 1:48) Moreover thus said the king, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Israel, who has this day appointed one of my seed sitting on my throne, and my eyes see it.

(1Ki 1:49) And all the guests of Adonias were dismayed, and every man went his way.

(1Ki 1:50) And Adonias feared because of Solomon, and arose, and departed, and laid hold on the horns of the altar.

(1Ki 1:51) And it was reported to Solomon, saying, Behold, Adonias fears king Solomon, and holds the horns of the altar, saying, Let Solomon swear to me this day, that he will not slay his servant with the sword.

(1Ki 1:52) And Solomon said, If he should be a valiant man, there shall not a hair of his fall to the ground; but if evil be found in him, he shall die.

(1Ki 1:53) And king Solomon sent, and they brought him away from the altar; and he went in and did obeisance to king Solomon: and Solomon said to him, Go to thy house.

(1Ki 2:1) And the days of David drew near that he should die: and he addressed his son Solomon, saying, I go the way of all the earth:

(1Ki 2:2) but be thou strong, and shew thyself a man;

(1Ki 2:3) and keep the charge of YHVH thy Elohim, to walk in his ways, to keep the commandments and the ordinances and the judgments which are written in the law of Moses; that thou mayest understand what thou shalt do in all things that I command thee:

(1Ki 2:4) that YHVH may confirm his word which he spoke, saying, If thy children shall take heed to their way to walk before me in truth with all their heart, I promise thee, saying, there shall not fail thee a man on the throne of Israel.

(1Ki 2:5) Moreover thou knowest all that Joab the son of Saruia did to me, what he did to the two captains of the forces of Israel, to Abenner the son of Ner, and to Amessai the son of Jether, that he slew them, and shed the blood of war in peace, and put innocent blood on his girdle that was about his loins, and on his sandal that was on his foot.

(1Ki 2:6) Therefore thou shalt deal with him according to thy wisdom, and thou shalt not bring down his grey hairs in peace to the grave.

(1Ki 2:7) But thou shalt deal kindly with the sons of Berzelli the Galaadite, and they shall be among those that eat at thy table; for thus they drew nigh to me when I fled from the face of thy brother Abessalom.

(1Ki 2:8) And, behold, there is with thee Semei the son of Gera, a Benjamite of Baurim: and he cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to Jordan to meet me, and I swore to him by YHVH, saying, I will not put thee to death with the sword.

(1Ki 2:9) But thou shalt by no means hold him guiltless, for thou art a wise man, and wilt know what thou shalt do to him, and shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to the grave.

(1Ki 2:10) And David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David.

(1Ki 2:11) And the days which David reigned over Israel were forty years; he reigned seven years in Chebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

(1Ki 2:12) And Solomon sat on the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was established greatly.

(1Ki 2:13) And Adonias the son of Aggith came in to Bersabee the mother of Solomon, and did obeisance to her: and she said, Dost thou enter peaceably? and he said, Peaceably:

(1Ki 2:14) I have business with thee. And she said to him, Say on.

(1Ki 2:15) And he said to her, Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel turned their face toward me for a king; but the kingdom was turned from me and became my brother's: for it was appointed to him from YHVH.

(1Ki 2:16) And now I make one request of thee, do not turn away thy face. And Bersabee said to him, Speak on.

(1Ki 2:17) And he said to her, Speak, I pray thee, to king Solomon, for he will not turn away his face from thee, and let him give me Abisag the Somanite for a wife.

(1Ki 2:18) And Bersabee said, Well; I will speak for thee to the king.

(1Ki 2:19) And Bersabee went in to king Solomon to speak to him concerning Adonias; and the king rose up to meet her, and kissed her, and sat on the throne, and a throne was set for the mother of the king, and she sat on his right hand.

(1Ki 2:20) And she said to him, I ask of thee one little request; turn not away my face from thee. And the king said to her, Ask, my mother, and I will not reject thee.

(1Ki 2:21) And she said, Let, I pray thee, Abisag the Somanite be given to Adonias thy brother to wife.

(1Ki 2:22) And king Solomon answered and said to his mother, And why hast thou asked Abisag for Adonias? ask for him the kingdom also; for he is my elder brother, and he has for his companion Abiathar the priest, and Joab the son of Saruia the commander-in-chief.

(1Ki 2:23) And king Solomon swore by YHVH, saying, Elohim do so to me, and more also, if it be not that Adonias has spoken this word against his own life.

(1Ki 2:24) And now as YHVH lives who has established me, and set me on the throne of my father David, and he has made me a house, as YHVH spoke, this day shall Adonias be put to death.

(1Ki 2:25) So king Solomon sent by the hand of Banaeas the son of Jodae, and he slew him, and Adonias died in that day.

(1Ki 2:26) And the king said to Abiathar the priest, Depart thou quickly to Anathoth to thy farm, for thou art worthy of death this day; but I will not slay thee, because thou hast borne the ark of the covenant of YHVH before my father, and because thou was afflicted in all things wherein my father was afflicted.

(1Ki 2:27) And Solomon removed Abiathar from being a priest of YHVH, that the word of YHVH might be fulfilled, which he spoke concerning the house of Heli in Selom.

(1Ki 2:28) And the report came to Joab son of Saruia; for Joab had turned after Adonias, and he went not after Solomon: and Joab fled to the tabernacle of YHVH, and caught hold of the horns of the altar.

(1Ki 2:29) And it was told Solomon, saying, Joab has fled to the tabernacle of YHVH, and lo! he has hold of the horns of the altar. And king Solomon sent to Joab, saying, What ails thee, that thou hast fled to the altar? and Joab said, Because I was afraid of thee, and fled for refuge to YHVH. And Solomon sent Banaeas son of Jodae, saying, Go and slay him, and bury him.

(1Ki 2:30) And Banaeas son of Jodae came to Joab to the tabernacle of YHVH, and said to him, Thus says the king, Come forth. And Joab said, I will not come forth, for I will die here. And Banaeas son of Jodae returned and spoke to the king, saying, Thus has Joab spoken, and thus has he answered me.

(1Ki 2:31) And the king said to him, Go, and do to him as he has spoken, and kill him: and thou shalt bury him, and thou shalt remove this day the blood which he shed without cause, from me and from the house of my father.

(1Ki 2:32) And YHVH has returned upon his own head the blood of his unrighteousness, inasmuch as he attacked two men more righteous and better than himself, and slew them with the sword, and my father David knew not of their blood, even Abenner the son of Ner the commander-in-chief of Israel, and Amessa the son of Jether the commander-in-chief of Juda.

(1Ki 2:33) And their blood is returned upon his head, and upon the head of his seed for ever: but to David, and his seed, and his house, and his throne, may there be peace for ever from YHVH.

(1Ki 2:34) So Banaeas son of Jodae went up, and attacked him, and slew him, and buried him in his house in the wilderness.

(1Ki 2:35) And the king appointed Banaeas son of Jodae in his place over the host; and the kingdom was established in Jerusalem; and as for Sadoc the priest, the king appointed him to be high priest in the room of Abiathar. And Solomon son of David reigned over Israel and Juda in Jerusalem: and YHVH gave understanding to Solomon, and very much wisdom, and largeness of heart, as the sand by the sea-shore.

And the wisdom of Solomon abounded exceedingly beyond the wisdom of all the ancients, and beyond all the wise men of Egypt: and he took the daughter of Pharaoh, and brought her into the city of David, until he had finished building his own house, and the house of YHVH first, and the wall of Jerusalem round about. In seven years he made and finished them.

And Solomon had seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eight thousand hewers of stone in the mountain: and Solomon made the sea, and the bases, and the great lavers, and the pillars, and the fountain of the court, and the brazen sea-and he built the citadel as a defence above it, he made a breach in the wall of the city of David: thus the daughter of Pharaoh went up out of the city of David to her house which he built for her. Then he built the citadel: and Solomon offered up three whole-burnt-offerings in the year, and peace-offerings on the altar which he built to YHVH, and he burnt incense before YHVH, and finished the house. And these are the chief persons who presided over the works of Solomon; three thousand and six hundred masters of the people that wrought the works. And he built Assur, and Magdo, and Gazer, and upper Baethoron, and Ballath: only after he had built the house of YHVH, and the wall of Jerusalem round about, afterwards he built these cities.

And when David was yet living, he charged Solomon, saying, Behold, there is with thee Semei the son of Gera, of the seed of Benjamin out of Chebron: he cursed me with a grievous curse in the day when I went into the camp; and he came down to meet me at Jordan, and I swore to him by YHVH, saying, He shall not be slain with the sword. But now do not thou hold him guiltless, for thou art a man of understanding, and thou wilt know what thou shalt do to him, and thou shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to the grave.

(1Ki 2:36) And the king called Semei, and said to him, Build thee a house in Jerusalem, and dwell there, and thou shalt not go out thence any whither.

(1Ki 2:37) And it shall come to pass in the day that thou shalt go forth and cross over the brook Kedron, know assuredly that thou shalt certainly die: thy blood shall be upon thine head. And the king caused him to swear in that day.

(1Ki 2:38) And Semei said to the king, Good is the word that thou hast spoken, my lord O king: thus will thy servant do. And Semei dwelt in Jerusalem three years.

(1Ki 2:39) And it came to pass after the three years, that two servants of Semei ran away to Anchus son of Maacha king of Geth: and it was told Semei, saying, Behold, thy servants are in Geth.

(1Ki 2:40) And Semei rose up, and saddled his ass, and went to Geth to Anchus to seek out his servants: and Semei went, and brought his servants out of Geth.

(1Ki 2:41) And it was told Solomon, saying, Semei is gone out of Jerusalem to Geth, and has brought back his servants.

(1Ki 2:42) And the king sent and called Semei, and said to him, Did I not adjure thee by YHVH, and testify to thee, saying, In whatsoever day thou shalt go out of Jerusalem, and go to the right or left, know certainly that thou shalt assuredly die?

(1Ki 2:43) And why hast thou not kept the oath of YHVH, and the commandment which I commanded thee?

(1Ki 2:44) And the king said to Semei, Thou knowest all thy mischief which thy heart knows, which thou didst to David my father: and YHVH has recompensed thy mischief on thine own head.

(1Ki 2:45) And king Solomon is blessed, and the throne of David shall be established before YHVH for ever.

(1Ki 2:46) And Solomon commanded Banaeas the son of Jodae, and he went forth and slew him.

And king Solomon was very prudent and wise: and Juda and Israel were very many, as the sand which is by the sea for multitude, eating, and drinking, and rejoicing: and Solomon was chief in all the kingdoms, and they brought gifts, and served Solomon all the days of his life. And Solomon began to open the domains of Libanus, and he built Thermae in the wilderness. And this was the daily provision of Solomon, thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of ground meal, ten choice calves, and twenty oxen from the pastures, and a hundred sheep, besides stags, and does, and choice fed birds. For he ruled in all the country on this side the river, from Raphi unto Gaza, over all the kings on this side the river: and he was at peace on all sides round about; and Juda and Israel dwelt safely, every one under his vine and under his fig tree, eating and drinand feasting, from Dan even to Bersabee, all the days of Solomon. And these were the princes of Solomon; Azariu son of Sadoc the priest, and Orniu son of Nathan chief of the officers, and he went to his house; and Suba the scribe, and Basa son of Achithalam recorder, and Abi son of Joab commander-in-chief, and Achire son of Edrai was over the levies, and Banaeas son of Jodae over the household and over the brickwork, and Cachur the son of Nathan was counsellor.

And Solomon had forty thousand brood mares for his chariots, and twelve thousand horses. And he reigned over all the kings from the river and to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt: so Solomon the son of David reigned over Israel and Juda in Jerusalem.

(1Ki 3:1) Nevertheless the people burnt incense on the high places, because a house had not yet been built to YHVH.

(1Ki 3:3) And Solomon loved YHVH, so as to walk in the ordinances of David his father; only he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

(1Ki 3:4) And he arose and went to Gabaon to sacrifice there, for that was the highest place, and great: Solomon offered a whole-burnt-offering of a thousand victims on the altar in Gabaon.

(1Ki 3:5) And YHVH appeared to Solomon in a dream by night, and YHVH said to Solomon, Ask some petition for thyself.

(1Ki 3:6) And Solomon said, Thou hast dealt very mercifully with thy servant David my father according as he walked before thee in truth, and in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee, and thou hast kept for him this great mercy, to set his son upon his throne, as it is this day.

(1Ki 3:7) And now, YHVH my Elohim, thou hast appointed thy servant in the room of David my father; and I am a little child, and know not my going out an my coming in.

(1Ki 3:8) But thy servant is in the midst of thy people, whom thou hast chosen, a great people, which cannot be numbered.

(1Ki 3:9) Thou shalt give therefore to thy servant a heart to hear and to judge thy people justly, and to discern between good and evil: for who will be able to judge this thy great people?

(1Ki 3:10) And it was pleasing before YHVH, that Solomon asked this thing.

(1Ki 3:11) And YHVH said to him, Because thou hast asked this thing of me, and hast not asked for thyself long life, and hast not asked wealth, nor hast asked the lives of thine enemies, but hast asked for thyself understanding to hear judgment;

(1Ki 3:12) behold, I have done according to thy word: behold, I have given thee an understanding and wise heart: there has not been any one like thee before thee, and after thee there shall not arise one like thee.

(1Ki 3:13) And I have given thee what thou hast not asked, wealth and glory, so that there has not been any one like thee among kings.

(1Ki 3:14) And if thou wilt walk in my way, to keep my commandments and my ordinances, as David thy father walked, then will I multiply thy days.

(1Ki 3:15) And Solomon awoke, and, behold, it was a dream: and he arose and came to Jerusalem, and stood before the altar that was in front of the ark of the covenant of YHVH in Sion: and he offered whole-burnt-offerings, and sacrificed peace-offerings, and made a great banquet for himself and all his servants.

(1Ki 3:16) Then there appeared two harlots before the king, and they stood before him.

(1Ki 3:17) And the one woman said, Hear me, my lord; I and this woman dwelt in one house, and we were delivered in the house.

(1Ki 3:18) And it came to pass on the third day after I was delivered, this woman also was delivered: and we were together; and there was no one with us besides our two selves in the house.

(1Ki 3:19) And this woman's child died in the night; because she overlaid it.

(1Ki 3:20) and she arose in the middle of the night, and took my son from my arms, and laid him in her bosom, and laid her dead son in my bosom.

(1Ki 3:21) and I arose in the morning to suckle my son, and he was dead: and, behold, I considered him in the morning, and, behold, it was not my son whom I bore.

(1Ki 3:22) And the other woman said, No, but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son. So they spoke before the king.

(1Ki 3:23) and the king said to them, Thou sayest, This is my son, even the living one, and this woman's son is the dead one: and thou sayest, No, but the living is my son, and the dead is thy son.

(1Ki 3:24) And the king said, Fetch a sword. And they brought a sword before the king.

(1Ki 3:25) And the king said, Divide the live child, the suckling, in two; and give half of it to one, and half of it to the other.

(1Ki 3:26) And the woman whose the living child was, answered and said to the king, (for her bowels yearned over her son) and she said, I pray thee, my lord, give her the child, and in nowise slay it. But the other said, Let it be neither mine nor hers; divide it.

(1Ki 3:27) Then the king answered and said, Give the child to her that said, 'Give it to her, and by no means slay it:' she is its mother.

(1Ki 3:28) and all Israel heard this judgment which the king judged, and they feared before the king; because they saw that the wisdom of Elohim was in him, to execute judgment.

(1Ki 4:1) And king Solomon reigned over Israel.

(1Ki 4:2) And these are the princes which he had; Azarias son of Sadoc.

(1Ki 4:3) Eliaph, and Achia son of Seba, scribes; and Josaphat son of Achilud, recorder.

(1Ki 4:4) And Banaeas son of Jodae over the host; and Sadoc and Abiathar were priests.

(1Ki 4:5) And Ornia the son of Nathan was over the officers; and Zabuth son of Nathan was the king's friend.

(1Ki 4:6) And Achisar was steward, and Eliac the chief steward; and Eliab the son of Saph was over the family: and Adoniram the son of Audon over the tribute.

(1Ki 4:7) And Solomon had twelve officers over all Israel, to provide for the king and his household; each one's turn came to supply for a month in the year.

(1Ki 4:8) And these were their names: Been the son of Or in the mount of Ephraim, one.

(1Ki 4:9) The son of Dacar, in Makes, and in Salabin, and Baethsamys, and Elon as far as Bethanan, one.

(1Ki 4:10) The son of Esdi in Araboth; his was Socho, and all the land of Opher.

(1Ki 4:11) All Nephthador belonged to the son of Aminadab, Tephath daughter of Solomon was his wife, one.

(1Ki 4:12) Bana son of Achiluth had Ithaanach, and Mageddo, and his was the whole house of San which was by Sesathan below Esrae, and from Bethsan as far as Sabelmaula, as far as Maeber Lucam, one.

(1Ki 4:13) The son of Naber in Raboth Galaad, to him fell the lot of Ergab in Basan, sixty great cities with walls, and brazen bars, one.

(1Ki 4:14) Achinadab son of Saddo, had Maanaim.

(1Ki 4:15) Achimaas was in Nephthalim, and he took Basemmath daughter of Solomon to wife, one.

(1Ki 4:16) Baana son of Chusi, in Aser and in Baaloth, one,

(1Ki 4:17) Josaphat son of Phuasud was in Issachar.

(1Ki 4:18) Semei son of Ela, in Benjamin.

(1Ki 4:19) Gaber son of Adai in the land of Gad, the land of Seon king of Esebon, and of Og king of Basan, and one officer in the land of Juda.

(1Ki 4:22) And these were the requisite supplies for Solomon: in one day thirty measures of fine flour, and sixty measures of fine pounded meal, (1Ki 4:23) and ten choice calves, and twenty pastured oxen, and a hundred sheep, besides stags, and choice fatted does.

(1Ki 4:24) For he had dominion on this side the river, and he was at peace on all sides round about.

(1Ki 4:27) And thus the officers provided king Solomon: and they execute every one in his month all the orders for the table of the king, they omit nothing.

(1Ki 4:28) And they carried the barley and the straw for the horses and the chariots to the place where the king might be, each according to his charge.

(1Ki 4:29) And YHVH gave understanding to Solomon, and very much wisdom, and enlargement of heart, as the sand on the seashore.

(1Ki 4:30) And Solomon abounded greatly beyond the wisdom of all the ancients, and beyond all the wise men of Egypt.

(1Ki 4:31) And he was wiser than all other men: and he was wiser than Gaethan the Zarite, and than Ænan, and than Chalcad and Darala the son of Mal.

(1Ki 4:32) And Solomon spoke three thousand proverbs, and his songs were five thousand.

(1Ki 4:33) And he spoke of trees, from the cedar in Libanus even to the hyssop which comes out through the wall: he spoke also of cattle, and of birds, and of reptiles, and of fishes.

(1Ki 4:34) And all the nations came to hear the wisdom of Solomon, and ambassadors from all the kings of the earth, as many as heard of his wisdom. And Solomon took to himself the daughter of Pharaoh to wife, and brought her into the city of David until he had finished the house of YHVH, and his own house, and the wall of Jerusalem. Then went up Pharaoh the king of Egypt, and took Gazer, and burnt it and the Chananite dwelling in Mergab; and Pharaoh gave them as a dowry to his daughter the wife of Solomon: and Solomon rebuilt Gazer.

(1Ki 5:1) And Chiram king of Tyre sent his servants to anoint Solomon in the room of David his father, because Chiram always loved David.

(1Ki 5:2) And Solomon sent to Chiram, saying,

(1Ki 5:3) Thou knewest my father David, that he could not build a house to the name of YHVH my Elohim because of the wars that compassed him about, until YHVH put them under the soles of his feet.

(1Ki 5:4) And now YHVH my Elohim has given me rest round about; there is no one plotting against me, and there is no evil trespass against me.

(1Ki 5:5) And, behold, I intend to build a house to the name of YHVH my Elohim, as YHVH Elohim spoke to my father David, saying, Thy son whom I will set on thy throne in thy place, he shall build a house to my name.

(1Ki 5:6) And now command, and let men cut wood for me out of Libanus: and, behold, my servants shall be with thy servants, and I will give thee the wages of thy service, according to all that thou shalt say, because thou knowest that we have no one skilled in cutting timber like the Sidonians.

(1Ki 5:7) And it came to pass, as soon as Chiram heard the words of Solomon, that he rejoiced greatly, and said, Blessed be Elohim to-day, who has given to David a wise son over this numerous people.

(1Ki 5:8) And he sent to Solomon, saying, I have listened concerning all that thou hast sent to me for: I will do all thy will: as for timber of cedar and fir, (1Ki 5:9) my servants shall bring them down from Libanus to the sea: I will form them into rafts, and bring them to the place which thou shalt send to me about; and I will land them there, and thou shalt take them up: and thou shalt do my will, in giving bread to my household.

(1Ki 5:10) So Chiram gave to Solomon cedars, and fir trees, and all his desire.

(1Ki 5:11) And Solomon gave to Chiram twenty thousand measures of wheat as food for his house, and twenty thousand baths of beaten oil thus Solomon gave to Chiram yearly.

(1Ki 5:12) And YHVH gave wisdom to Solomon as he promised him; and there was peace between Chiram and Solomon, and they made a covenant between them.

(1Ki 5:13) And the king raised a levy out of all Israel, and the levy was thirty thousand men.

(1Ki 5:14) And he sent them to Libanus, ten thousand taking turn every month: they were a month in Libanus and two months at home: and Adoniram was over the levy.

(1Ki 5:15) And Solomon had seventy thousand bearers of burdens, and eighty thousand hewers of stone in the mountain;

(1Ki 5:16) besides the rulers that were appointed over the works of Solomon, there were three thousand six hundred masters who wrought in the works.

(1Ki 5:18) And they prepared the stones and the timber during three years.

(1Ki 6:0) And it came to pass in the four hundred and fortieth year after the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt, in the fourth year and second month of the reign of king Solomon over Israel, (1Ki 6:1) In the fourth year he laid the foundation of the house of YHVH, in the month Ziu, even in the second month.

(1Ki 6:2) And the house which the king built to YHVH was forty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and its height five and twenty cubits.

(1Ki 6:3) And the porch in front of the temple twenty cubits was its length according to the breadth of the house in front of the house: and he built the house, and finished it.

(1Ki 6:4) And he made to the house secret windows inclining inward.

(1Ki 6:5) And against the wall of the house he set chambers round about the temple and the ark.

(1Ki 6:6) The under side was five cubits broad, and the middle part six, and the third was seven cubits broad; for he formed an interval to the house round about without the house, that they might not touch the walls of the house.

(1Ki 6:7) And the house was built in the construction of it with rough hewn stones: and there was not heard in the house in the building of it hammer or axe, or any iron tool.

(1Ki 6:8) And the porch of the under side was below the right wing of the house, and there was a winding ascent into the middle chamber, and from the middle to the third story.

(1Ki 6:9) So he built the house and finished it; and he made the ceiling of the house with cedars.

(1Ki 6:10) And he made the partitions through all the house, each five cubits high, and enclosed each partition with cedar boards.

(1Ki 6:13) And king Solomon sent, and took Chiram out of Tyre, (1Ki 6:14) the son of a widow woman; and he was of the tribe of Nephthalim, and his father was a Tyrian; a worker in brass, and accomplished in art and skill and knowledge to work every work in brass: and he was brought in to king Solomon, and he wrought all the works.

(1Ki 6:15) And he framed the walls of the house within with cedar boards, from the floor of the house and on to the inner walls and to the beams: he lined the parts enclosed with boards within, and compassed the inward parts of the house with planks of fir.

(1Ki 6:15) And he framed the walls of the house within with cedar boards, from the floor of the house and on to the inner walls and to the beams: he lined the parts enclosed with boards within, and compassed the inward parts of the house with planks of fir.

(1Ki 6:16) And he built the twenty cubits from the top of the wall, one side from the floor to the beams, and he made it from the oracle to the most holy place.

(1Ki 6:16) And he built the twenty cubits from the top of the wall, one side from the floor to the beams, and he made it from the oracle to the most holy place.

(1Ki 6:17) that the king commanded that they should take great and costly stones for the foundation of the house, and hewn stones.

(1Ki 6:17) that the king commanded that they should take great and costly stones for the foundation of the house, and hewn stones.

(1Ki 6:17) that the king commanded that they should take great and costly stones for the foundation of the house, and hewn stones.

(1Ki 6:18) And the men of Solomon, and the men of Chiram hewed the stones, and laid them for a foundation.

(1Ki 6:18) And the men of Solomon, and the men of Chiram hewed the stones, and laid them for a foundation.

(1Ki 6:19) in front of the oracle in the midst of the house within, in order to put there the ark of the covenant of YHVH.

(1Ki 6:19) in front of the oracle in the midst of the house within, in order to put there the ark of the covenant of YHVH.

(1Ki 6:20) The length was twenty cubits, and the breadth was twenty cubits, and the height of it was twenty cubits. And he covered it with perfect gold, and he made an altar in front of the oracle, and covered it with gold.

(1Ki 6:20) The length was twenty cubits, and the breadth was twenty cubits, and the height of it was twenty cubits. And he covered it with perfect gold, and he made an altar in front of the oracle, and covered it with gold.

(1Ki 6:21) And he set up the pillars of the porch of the temple: and he set up the one pillar, and called its name Jachum: and he set up the second pillar, and called its name Boloz.

(1Ki 6:22) And he covered the whole house with gold, till he had finished gilding the whole house.

(1Ki 6:23) And he made in the oracle two cherubs of ten cubits measured size.

(1Ki 6:23) And he made in the oracle two cherubs of ten cubits measured size.

(1Ki 6:24) And the wing of one cherub was five cubits, and his other wing was five cubits; ten cubits from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other wing.

(1Ki 6:24) And the wing of one cherub was five cubits, and his other wing was five cubits; ten cubits from the tip of one wing to the tip of the other wing.

(1Ki 6:25) Thus it was with the other cherub, both were alike finished with one measure.

(1Ki 6:25) Thus it was with the other cherub, both were alike finished with one measure.

(1Ki 6:26) And the height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it with the second cherub.

(1Ki 6:26) And the height of the one cherub was ten cubits, and so was it with the second cherub.

(1Ki 6:27) And both the cherubs were in the midst of the innermost part of the house; and they spread out their wings, and one wing touched the wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings in the midst of the house touched each other.

(1Ki 6:27) And both the cherubs were in the midst of the innermost part of the house; and they spread out their wings, and one wing touched the wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall; and their wings in the midst of the house touched each other.

(1Ki 6:28) And he covered the cherubs with gold.

(1Ki 6:28) And he covered the cherubs with gold.

(1Ki 6:29) He graved all the walls of the house round about with the graving of cherubs, and he sculptured palm trees within and without the house.

(1Ki 6:29) He graved all the walls of the house round about with the graving of cherubs, and he sculptured palm trees within and without the house.

(1Ki 6:30) And he covered the floor of the house within and without with gold.

(1Ki 6:30) And he covered the floor of the house within and without with gold.

(1Ki 6:31) And for the door-way of the oracle he made doors of juniper wood, there were porches in a four-fold way.

(1Ki 6:31) And for the door-way of the oracle he made doors of juniper wood, there were porches in a four-fold way.

(1Ki 6:32) And the height of one wheel was a cubit and a half.

(1Ki 6:33) And the work of the wheels was as the work of chariot wheels: their axles, and their felloes, and the rest of their work, were all molten.

(1Ki 6:34) In both the doors were planks of fir; the one door had two leaves and their hinges, and the other door had two leaves and turned on hinges,

(1Ki 6:34) In both the doors were planks of fir; the one door had two leaves and their hinges, and the other door had two leaves and turned on hinges,

(1Ki 6:35) being carved with cherubs, and there were palm-trees and open flower-leaves, and it was overlaid with gold gilt upon the engraving.

(1Ki 6:35) being carved with cherubs, and there were palm-trees and open flower-leaves, and it was overlaid with gold gilt upon the engraving.

(1Ki 6:36) And he built the inner court, three rows of hewn stones, and a row of wrought cedar round about, and he made the curtain of the court of the porch of the house that was in front of the temple.

(1Ki 6:36) And he built the inner court, three rows of hewn stones, and a row of wrought cedar round about, and he made the curtain of the court of the porch of the house that was in front of the temple.

(1Ki 6:37) According to the same form he made all the ten bases, even one order and one measure to all.

(1Ki 6:38) In the eleventh year, in the month Baal, this is the eighth month, the house was completed according to all its plan, and according to all its arrangement.

(1Ki 6:38) In the eleventh year, in the month Baal, this is the eighth month, the house was completed according to all its plan, and according to all its arrangement.

(1Ki 6:39) And he put five bases on the right side of the house, and five on the left side of the house: and the sea was placed on the right side of the house eastward in the direction of the south.

(1Ki 6:40) And Chiram made the caldrons, and the pans, and the bowls; and Chiram finished making all the works that he wrought for king Solomon in the house of YHVH:

(1Ki 6:41) two pillars and the wreathen works of the pillars on the heads of the two pillars; and the two net-works to cover both the wreathen works of the flutings that were upon the pillars.

(1Ki 6:42) The four hundred pomegranates for both the net-works, two rows of pomegranates for one net-work, to cover both the wreathen works of the bases belonging to both pillars.

(1Ki 6:43) And the ten bases, and the ten lavers upon the bases.

(1Ki 6:44) And one sea, and the twelve oxen under the sea.

(1Ki 6:45) And the caldrons, and pans, and bowls, and all the furniture, which Chiram made for king Solomon for the house of YHVH: and there were eight and forty pillars of the house of the king and of the house of YHVH: all the works of the king which Chiram made were entirely of brass.

(1Ki 6:46) In the country round about Jordan did he cast them, in the clay land between Socchoth and Sira.

(1Ki 6:47) There was no reckoning of the brass of which he made all these works, from the very great abundance, there was no end of the weight of the brass.

(1Ki 6:48) And king Solomon took the furniture which Chiram made for the house of YHVH, the golden altar, and the golden table of shewbread.

(1Ki 6:49) And he put the five candlesticks on the left, and five on the right in front of the oracle, being of pure gold, and the lamp-stands, and the lamps, and the snuffers of gold.

(1Ki 6:50) And there were made the porches, and the nails, and the bowls, and the spoons, and the golden censers, of pure gold: and the panels of the doors of the innermost part of the house, even the holy of holies, and the golden doors of the temple.

(1Ki 6:51) So the work of the house of YHVH which Solomon wrought was finished; and Solomon brought in the holy things of David his father, and all the holy things of Solomon; he put the silver, and the gold, and the furniture, into the treasures of the house of YHVH.

(1Ki 7:1) And Solomon built a house for himself in thirteen years.

(1Ki 7:2) And he built the house with the wood of Libanus; its length was a hundred cubits, and its breadth was fifty cubits, and its height was of thirty cubits, and it was made with three rows of cedar pillars, and the pillars had side-pieces of cedar.

(1Ki 7:3) And he formed the house with chambers above on the sides of the pillars, and the number of the pillars was each row forty and five,

(1Ki 7:4) and there were three chambers, and space against space in three rows.

(1Ki 7:5) And all the doors and spaces formed like chambers were square, and from door to door was a correspondence in three rows.

(1Ki 7:6) And he made the porch of the pillars, they were fifty cubits long and fifty broad, the porch joining them in front; and the other pillars and the thick beam were in front of the house by the porches.

(1Ki 7:7) And there was the Porch of seats where he would judge, the porch of judgment.

(1Ki 7:8) And their house where he would dwell, had one court communicating with these according to this work; and he built the house for the daughter of Pharaoh whom Solomon had taken, according to this porch.

(1Ki 7:9) All these were of costly stones, sculptured at intervals within even from the foundation even to the top, and outward to the great court, (1Ki 7:10) founded with large costly stones, stones of ten cubits and eight cubits long.

(1Ki 7:11) And above with costly stones, according to the measure of hewn stones, and with cedars.

(1Ki 7:12) There were three rows of hewn stones round about the great hall, and a row of sculptured cedar: and Solomon finished all his house.

(1Ki 8:1) And it came to pass when Solomon had finished building the house of YHVH and his own house after twenty years, then king Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel in Sion, to bring the ark of the covenant of YHVH out of the city of David, this is Sion, (1Ki 8:2) in the month of Athanin.

(1Ki 8:3) And the priests took up the ark,
(1Ki 8:4) and the tabernacle of testimony, and the holy furniture that was in the tabernacle of testimony.
(1Ki 8:5) And the king and all Israel were occupied before the ark, sacrificing sheep and oxen, without number.
(1Ki 8:6) And the priests bring in the ark into its place, into the oracle of the house, even into the holy of holies, under the wings of the cherubs.
(1Ki 8:7) For the cherubs spread out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark and its holy things above.
(1Ki 8:8) And the holy staves projected, and the ends of the holy staves appeared out of the holy places in front of the oracle, and were not seen without.
(1Ki 8:9) There was nothing in the ark except the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant which Moses put there in Choreb, which tables YHVH made as a covenant with the children of Israel in their going forth from the land of Egypt.
(1Ki 8:10) And it came to pass when the priests departed out of the holy place, that the cloud filled the house.
(1Ki 8:11) And the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud, because the glory of YHVH filled the house.
(1Ki 8:14) And the king turned his face, and the king blessed all Israel, (and the whole assembly of Israel stood:)
(1Ki 8:15) and he said, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Israel to-day, who spoke by his mouth concerning David my father, and has fulfilled it with his hands, saying,
(1Ki 8:16) From the day that I brought out my people Israel out of Egypt, I have not chosen a city in any one tribe of Israel to build a house, so that my name should be there: but I chose Jerusalem that my name should be there, and I chose David to be over my people Israel.
(1Ki 8:17) And it was in the heart of my father to build a house to the name of YHVH Elohim of Israel.
(1Ki 8:18) And YHVH said to David my father, Forasmuch as it came into thine heart to build a house to my name, thou didst well that it came upon thine heart.
(1Ki 8:19) Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house, but thy son that has proceeded out of thy bowels, he shall build the house to my name.
(1Ki 8:20) And YHVH has confirmed the word that he spoke, and I am risen up in the place of my father David, and I have sat down on the throne of Israel, as YHVH spoke, and I have built the house to the name of YHVH Elohim of Israel.
(1Ki 8:21) And I have set there a place for the ark, in which is the covenant of YHVH, which YHVH made with our fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt.
(1Ki 8:22) And Solomon stood up in front of the altar before all the congregation of Israel; and he spread out his hands toward heaven:
(1Ki 8:23) and he said, Lord Elohim of Israel, there is no Elohim like thee in heaven above and on the earth beneath, keeping covenant and mercy with thy servant who walks before thee with all his heart;

(1Ki 8:24) which thou hast kept toward thy servant David my father: for thou hast spoken by thy mouth and thou hast fulfilled it with thine hands, as at this day.

(1Ki 8:25) And now, YHVH Elohim of Israel, keep for thy servant David my father, the promises which thou hast spoken to him, saying, There shall not be taken from thee a man sitting before me on the throne of Israel, provided only thy children shall take heed to their ways, to walk before me as thou hast walked before me.

(1Ki 8:26) And now, YHVH Elohim of Israel, let, I pray thee, thy word to David my father be confirmed.

(1Ki 8:27) But will Elohim indeed dwell with men upon the earth? if the heaven and heaven of heavens will not suffice thee, how much less even this house which I have built to thy name?

(1Ki 8:28) Yet, YHVH Elohim of Israel, thou shalt look upon my petition, to hear the prayer which thy servant prays to thee in thy presence this day, (1Ki 8:29) that thine eyes may be open toward this house day and night, even toward the place which thou saidst, My name shall be there, to hear the prayer which thy servant prays at this place day and night.

(1Ki 8:30) And thou shalt hearken to the prayer of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, which they shall pray toward this place; and thou shalt hear in thy dwelling-place in heaven, and thou shalt do and be gracious.

(1Ki 8:31) Whatsoever trespasses any one shall commit against his neighbor, and if he shall take upon him an oath so that he should swear, and he shall come and make confession before thine altar in this house,

(1Ki 8:32) then shalt thou hear from heaven, and do, and thou shalt judge thy people Israel, that the wicked should be condemned, to recompense his way upon his head; and to justify the righteous, to give to him according to his righteousness.

(1Ki 8:33) When thy people Israel falls before enemies, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall return and confess to thy name, and they shall pray and supplicate in this house, (1Ki 8:34) then shalt thou hear from heaven, and be gracious to the sins of thy people Israel, and thou shalt restore them to the land which thou gavest to their fathers.

(1Ki 8:35) When the heaven is restrained, and there is no rain, because they shall sin against thee, and they shall pray toward this place, and they shall make confession to thy name, and shall turn from their sins when thou shalt have humbled them,

(1Ki 8:36) then thou shalt hear from heaven, and be merciful to the sins of thy servant and of thy people Israel; for thou shalt shew them the good way to walk in it, and thou shalt give rain upon the earth which thou hast given to thy people for an inheritance.

(1Ki 8:37) If there should be famine, if there should be death, because there should be blasting, locust, or if there be mildew, and if their enemy oppress them in any one of their cities, with regard to every calamity, every trouble,

(1Ki 8:38) every prayer, every supplication whatever shall be made by any man, as they shall know each the plague of his heart, and shall spread abroad

his hands to this house,

(1Ki 8:39) then shalt thou hearken from heaven, out of thine established dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt do, and recompense to every man according to his ways, as thou shalt know his heart, for thou alone knowest the heart of all the children of men:

(1Ki 8:40) that they may fear thee all the days that they live upon the land, which thou hast given to our fathers.

(1Ki 8:41) And for the stranger who is not of thy people,

(1Ki 8:42) when they shall come and pray toward this place,

(1Ki 8:43) then shalt thou hear them from heaven, out of thine established dwelling-place, and thou shalt do according to all that the stranger shall call upon thee for, that all the nations may know thy name, and fear thee, as do thy people Israel, and may know that thy name has been called on this house which I have builded.

(1Ki 8:44) If it be that thy people shall go forth to war against their enemies in the way by which thou shalt turn them, and pray in the name of YHVH toward the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built to thy name, (1Ki 8:45) then shalt thou hear from heaven their supplication and their prayer, and shalt execute judgment for them.

(1Ki 8:46) If it be that they shall sin against thee, (for there is not a man who will not sin,) and thou shalt bring them and deliver them up before their enemies, and they that take them captive shall carry them to a land far or near,

(1Ki 8:48) and they shall turn to thee with all their heart, and with all their soul, in the land of their enemies whither thou hast carried them captives, and shall pray to thee toward their land which thou hast given to their fathers, and the city which thou hast chosen, and the house which I have built to thy name:

(1Ki 8:49) then shalt thou hear from heaven thine established dwelling-place,

(1Ki 8:50) and thou shalt be merciful to their unrighteousness wherein they have trespassed against thee, and according to all their transgressions wherewith they have transgressed against thee, and thou shalt cause them to be pitied before them that carried them captives, and they shall have compassion on them:

(1Ki 8:51) for they are thy people and thine inheritance, whom thou broughtest out of the land of Egypt, out of the midst of the furnace of iron.

(1Ki 8:52) And let thine eyes and thine ears be opened to the supplication of thy servant, and to the supplication of thy people Israel, to hearken to them in all things for which they shall call upon thee.

(1Ki 8:53) Because thou hast set them apart for an inheritance to thyself out of all the nations of the earth, as thou spokest by the hand of thy servant Moses, when thou broughtest our fathers out of the land of Egypt, YHVH Elohim. Then spoke Solomon concerning the house, when he had finished building it He manifested the sun in the heaven: YHVH said he would dwell in darkness: build thou my house, a beautiful house for thyself to dwell in anew. Behold, is not this written in the book of the song?

(1Ki 8:54) And it came to pass when Solomon had finished praying to YHVH all this prayer and supplication, that he rose up from before the altar of YHVH, after having knelt upon his knees, and his hands were spread out towards heaven.

(1Ki 8:55) And he stood, and blessed all the congregation of Israel with a loud voice, saying, (1Ki 8:56) Blessed be YHVH this day, who has given rest to his people Israel, according to all that he said: there has not failed one word among all his good words which he spoke by the hand of his servant Moses.

(1Ki 8:57) May YHVH our Elohim be with us, as he was with our fathers; let him not desert us nor turn from us, (1Ki 8:58) that he may turn our hearts toward him to walk in all his ways, and to keep all his commandments, and his ordinances which he commanded our fathers.

(1Ki 8:59) And let these words, which I have prayed before YHVH our Elohim, be near to YHVH our Elohim day and night, to maintain the cause of thy servant, and the cause of thy people Israel for ever.

(1Ki 8:60) that all the nations of the earth may know that YHVH Elohim, he is Elohim, and there is none beside.

(1Ki 8:61) And let our hearts be perfect toward YHVH our Elohim, to walk also holily in his ordinances, and to keep his commandments, as at this day.

(1Ki 8:62) And the king and all the children of Israel offered sacrifice before YHVH.

(1Ki 8:63) And king Solomon offered for the sacrifices of peace-offering which he sacrificed to YHVH, two and twenty thousand oxen, and hundred and twenty thousand sheep: and the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of YHVH.

(1Ki 8:64) In that day the king consecrated the middle of the court in the front of the house of YHVH; for there he offered the whole-burnt-offering, and the sacrifices, and the fat of the peace-offerings, because the brazen altar which was before YHVH was too little to bear the whole-burnt-offering and the sacrifices of peace-offerings.

(1Ki 8:65) And Solomon kept the feast in that day, and all Israel with him, even a great assembly from the entering in of Hemath to the river of Egypt, before YHVH our Elohim in the house which he built, eating and drinking, and rejoicing before YHVH our Elohim seven days.

(1Ki 8:66) And on the eighth day he sent away the people: and they blessed the king, and each departed to his tabernacle rejoicing, and their heart was glad because of the good things which YHVH had done to his servant David, and to Israel his people.

(1Ki 9:1) And it came to pass when Solomon had finished building the house of YHVH, and the king's house, and all the work of Solomon, whatever he wished to perform, (1Ki 9:2) that YHVH appeared to Solomon a second time, as he appeared in Gabaon.

(1Ki 9:3) And YHVH said to him, I have heard the voice of thy prayer, and thy supplication which thou madest before me: I have done for thee according to all thy prayer: I have hallowed this house which thou hast built to put my name there for ever, and mine eyes and my heart shall be there always.

(1Ki 9:4) And if thou wilt walk before me as David thy father walked, in holiness of heart and uprightness, and so as to do according to all that I commanded him, and shalt keep my ordinances and my commandments:

(1Ki 9:5) then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom in Israel for ever, as I spoke to David thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man to rule in Israel.

(1Ki 9:6) But if ye or your children do in any wise revolt from me, and do not keep my commandments and my ordinances, which Moses set before you, and ye go and serve other gods, and worship them:

(1Ki 9:7) then will I cut off Israel from the land which I have given them, and this house which I have consecrated to my name I will cast out of my sight; and Israel shall be a desolation and a by-word to all nations.

(1Ki 9:8) And this house, which is high, shall be so that every one that passes by it shall be amazed, and shall hiss; and they shall say, Wherefore has YHVH done thus to this land, and to this house?

(1Ki 9:9) And men shall say, Because they forsook YHVH their Elohim, who brought out their fathers from Egypt, out of the house of bondage, and they attached themselves to strange gods, and worshipped them, and served them: therefore YHVH has brought this evil upon them. Then Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharaoh out of the city of David into his house which he built for himself in those days.

(1Ki 9:10) During twenty years in which Solomon was building the two houses, the house of YHVH, and the house of the king, (1Ki 9:11) Chiram king of Tyre helped Solomon with cedar wood, and fir wood, and with gold, and all that he wished for: then the king gave Chiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

(1Ki 9:12) So Chiram departed from Tyre, and went into Galilee to see the cities which Solomon gave to him; and they pleased him not. And he said, (1Ki 9:13) What are these cities which thou hast given me, brother? And he called them Boundary until this day.

(1Ki 9:14) And Chiram brought to Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold, (1Ki 9:26) even that for which king Solomon built a ship in Gasion Gaber near Ælath on the shore of the extremity of the sea in the land of Edom.

(1Ki 9:27) And Chiram sent in the ship together with the servants of Solomon servants of his own, mariners to row, men acquainted with the sea.

(1Ki 9:28) And they came to Sophira, and took thence a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and brought them to king Solomon.

(1Ki 10:1) And the queen of Saba heard of the name of Solomon, and the name of YHVH, and she came to try him with riddles.

(1Ki 10:2) And she came to Jerusalem with a very great train; and there came camels bearing spices, and very much gold, and precious stones: and she came in to Solomon, and told him all that was in her heart.

(1Ki 10:3) And Solomon answered all her questions: and there was not a question overlooked by the king which he did not answer her.

(1Ki 10:4) And the queen of Saba saw all the wisdom of Solomon, and the house which he built,

(1Ki 10:5) and the provision of Solomon and the sitting of his attendants, and the standing of his servants, and his raiment, and his cup-bearers, and his whole-burnt-offering which he offered in the house of YHVH, and she was utterly amazed.

(1Ki 10:6) And she said to king Solomon, It was a true report which I heard in my land of thy words and thy wisdom.

(1Ki 10:7) But I believed not them that told me, until I came and my eyes saw: and, behold, the words as they reported to me are not the half: thou hast exceeded in goodness all the report which I heard in my land.

(1Ki 10:8) Blessed are thy wives, blessed are these thy servants who stand before thee continually, who hear all thy wisdom.

(1Ki 10:9) Blessed be YHVH thy Elohim, who has taken pleasure in thee, to set thee upon the throne of Israel, because YHVH loved Israel to establish him for ever; and he has made thee king over them, to execute judgment with justice, and in their causes.

(1Ki 10:10) And she gave to Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and very many spices, and precious stones: there had not come any other spices so abundant as those which the queen of Saba gave to king Solomon.

(1Ki 10:11) And the ship of Chiram which brought the gold from Suphir, brought very much hewn timber and precious stones.

(1Ki 10:12) And the king made the hewn timber into buttresses of the house of YHVH and the king's house, and lyres and harps for singers: such hewn timber had not come upon the earth, nor have been seen anywhere until this day.

(1Ki 10:13) And king Solomon gave to the queen of Saba all that she desired, whatsoever she asked, besides all that he had given her by the hand of king Solomon: and she returned, and came into her own land, she and her servants.

(1Ki 10:14) And the weight of gold that came to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold.

(1Ki 10:15) Besides the tributes of them that were subjects, both merchants and all the kings of the country beyond the river, and of the princess of the land.

(1Ki 10:16) And Solomon made three hundred spears of beaten gold: three hundred shekels of gold were upon one spear.

(1Ki 10:17) And three hundred shields of beaten gold: and three pounds of gold were in one shield: and the king put them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

(1Ki 10:18) And the king made a great ivory throne, and gilded it with pure gold.

(1Ki 10:19) The throne had six steps, and calves in bold relief to the throne behind it, and side-pieces on either hand of the place of the seat, and two lions standing by the side-pieces, (1Ki 10:20) and twelve lions standing there on the six steps on either side: it was not so done in any other kingdom.

(1Ki 10:21) And all the vessels made by Solomon were of gold, and the lavers were golden, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were of pure gold; there was no silver, for it was not accounted of in the days of Solomon.

(1Ki 10:22) For Solomon had a ship of Tharsis in the sea with the ships of Chiram: one ship came to the king every three years out of Tharsis, laden with gold and silver, and wrought stones, and hewn stones.

This was the arrangement of the provision which king Solomon fetched to build the house of YHVH, and the house of the king, and the wall of Jerusalem, and the citadel; to fortify the city of David, and Assur, and Magdal, and Gazer, and Baethoron the upper, and Jethermath, and all the cities of the chariots, and all the cities of the horsemen, and the fortification of Solomon which he purposed to build in Jerusalem and in all the land, so that none of the people should rule over him that was left of the Chettite and the Amorite, and the Pherezite, and the Chananite, and the Evite, and the Jebusite, and the Gergesite, who were not of the children of Israel, their descendants who had been left with him in the land, whom the children of Israel could not utterly destroy; and Solomon made them tributaries until this day. But of the children of Israel Solomon made nothing; for they were the warriors, and his servants and rulers, and captains of the third order, and the captains of his chariots, and his horsemen. (1Ki 10:23) And Solomon increased beyond all the kings of the earth in wealth and wisdom.

(1Ki 10:24) And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom which YHVH had put into his heart.

(1Ki 10:25) And they brought every one their gifts, vessels of gold, and raiment, and stacte, and spices, and horses, and mules, a rate year by year.

(1Ki 10:26) And Solomon had four thousand mares for his chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen: and he put them in the cities of his chariots, and with the king in Jerusalem: and he ruled over all the kings from the river to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt.

(1Ki 10:27) And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem as stones, and he made cedars as the sycamores in the plain for multitude.

(1Ki 10:28) And the goings forth of Solomon's horsemen was also out of Egypt, and the king's merchants were of Thecue; and they received them out of Thecue at a price.

(1Ki 10:29) And that which proceeded out of Egypt went up thus, even a chariot for a hundred shekels of silver, and a horse for fifty shekels of silver: and thus for all the kings of the Chettians, and the kings of Syria, they came out by sea.

(1Ki 11:0) And king Solomon was a lover of women.

(1Ki 11:1) And he took strange women, as well as the daughter of Pharao, Moabitish, Ammanitish women, Syrians and Idumeans, Chettites, and Amorites;

(1Ki 11:2) of the nations concerning whom YHVH forbade the children of Israel, saying, Ye shall not go in to them, and they shall not come in to you, lest they turn away your hearts after their idols: Solomon clave to these in love.

(1Ki 11:3) And he had seven hundred wives, princesses, and three hundred concubines.

(1Ki 11:4) And it came to pass in the time of the old age of Solomon, that his heart was not perfect with YHVH his Elohim, as was the heart of David his father.

(1Ki 11:5) and to Astarte the abomination of the Sidonians.

(1Ki 11:6) And Solomon did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH: he went not after YHVH, as David his father. And the strange women turned away his heart after their gods.

(1Ki 11:7) Then Solomon built a high place to Chamos the idol of Moab, and to their king the idol of the children of Ammon, (1Ki 11:8) And thus he acted towards all his strange wives, who burnt incense and sacrificed to their idols.

(1Ki 11:9) And YHVH was angry with Solomon, because he turned away his heart from YHVH Elohim of Israel, who had appeared twice to him, (1Ki 11:10) and charged him concerning this matter, by no means to go after other gods, but to take heed to do what YHVH Elohim commanded him; neither was his heart perfect with YHVH, according to the heart of David his father.

(1Ki 11:11) And YHVH said to Solomon, Because it has been thus with thee, and thou hast not kept my commandments and my ordinances which I commanded thee, I will surely rend thy kingdom out of thy hand, and give it to thy servant.

(1Ki 11:12) Only in thy days I will not do it for David thy father's sake: but I will take it out of the hand of thy son.

(1Ki 11:13) Only I will not take away the whole kingdom: I will give one tribe to thy son for David my servant's sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen.

(1Ki 11:14) And YHVH raised up an enemy to Solomon, Ader the Idumaeen, and Esrom son of Eliadae who dwelt in Raama, and Adadezer king of Suba his master; (and men gathered to him, and he was head of the conspiracy, and he seized on Damasec,) and they were adversaries to Israel all the days of Solomon: and Ader the Idumaeen was of the seed royal in Idumaea.

(1Ki 11:15) And it happened, that while David was utterly destroying Edom, while Joab captain of the host was going to bury the dead, when they slew every male in Idumaea;

(1Ki 11:16) (for Joab and all Israel abode there six months in Idumaea, until he utterly destroyed every male in Idumaea;)

(1Ki 11:17) that Ader ran away, he and all the Idumaeans of the servants of his father with him; and they went into Egypt; and Ader was then a little child.

(1Ki 11:18) And there rise up men out of the city of Madiam, and they come to Pharan, and take men with them, and come to Pharao king of Egypt: and Ader went in to Pharao, and he gave him a house, and appointed him provision.

(1Ki 11:19) And Ader found great favour in the sight of Pharao, and he gave him his wife's sister in marriage, the elder sister of Thekemina.

(1Ki 11:20) And the sister of Thekemina bore to him, even to Ader, Ganebath her son; and Thekemina brought him up in the midst of the sons of Pharao, and Ganebath was in the midst of the sons of Pharao.

(1Ki 11:21) And Ader heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the captain of the host was dead; and Ader said to Pharao, Let me go, and I will return to my country.

(1Ki 11:22) And Pharao said to Ader, What lackest thou with me? that lo! thou seekest to depart to thy country? and Ader said to him, By all means let me go.

(1Ki 11:23) So Ader returned to his country; this is the mischief which Ader did, and he was a bitter enemy of Israel, and he reigned in the land of Edom.

(1Ki 11:26) And Jeroboam the son of Nabat, the Ephrathite of Sarira, the son of a widow, was servant of Solomon.

(1Ki 11:27) And this was the occasion of his lifting up his hands against king Solomon: now king Solomon built the citadel, he completed the fortification of the city of David his father.

(1Ki 11:28) And the man Jeroboam was very strong; and Solomon saw the young man that he was active, and he set him over the levies of the house of Joseph.

(1Ki 11:29) And it came to pass at that time, that Jeroboam went forth from Jerusalem, and Achia the Selonite the prophet found him in the way, and caused him to turn aside out of the way: and Achia was clad with a new garment, and they two were alone in the field.

(1Ki 11:30) And Achia laid hold of his new garment that was upon him, and tore it into twelve pieces:

(1Ki 11:31) and he said to Jeroboam, Take to thyself ten pieces, for thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, Behold, I rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give thee ten tribes.

(1Ki 11:32) Yet he shall have two tribes, for my servant David's sake, and for the sake of Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel.

(1Ki 11:33) Because he forsook me, and sacrificed to Astarte the abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chamos, and to the idols of Moab, and to their king the abomination of the children of Ammon, and he walked not in my ways, to do that which was right before me, as David his father did.

(1Ki 11:34) Howbeit I will not take the whole kingdom out of his hand, (for I will certainly resist him all the days of his life,) for David my servant's sake, whom I have chosen.

(1Ki 11:35) But I will take the kingdom out of the hand of his son, and give thee ten tribes.

(1Ki 11:36) But to his son I will give the two remaining tribes, that my servant David may have an establishment continually before me in Jerusalem, the city which I have chosen for myself to put my name there.

(1Ki 11:37) And I will take thee, and thou shalt reign as thy soul desires, and thou shalt be king over Israel.

(1Ki 11:38) And it shall come to pass, if thou wilt keep all the commandments that I shall give thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do that which is right before me, to keep my ordinances and my commandments, as David my servant did, that I will be with thee, and will build thee a sure house, as I built to David.

(1Ki 11:41) And the rest of the history of Solomon, and all that he did, and all his wisdom, behold are not these things written in the book of the life of Solomon?

(1Ki 11:42) And the days during which Solomon reigned in Jerusalem over all Israel were forty years.

(1Ki 11:43) And Solomon slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David his father. And it came to pass when Jeroboam son of Nabat heard of it, even while he was yet in Egypt as he fled from the face of Solomon and dwelt in Egypt, he straightway comes into his own city, into the land of Sarira in the mount of Ephraim. And king Solomon slept with his fathers, and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 12:1) And king Roboam goes to Sikima; for all Israel were coming to Sikima to make him king.

(1Ki 12:3) And the people spoke to king Roboam, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy;

(1Ki 12:4) but do thou now lighten somewhat of the hard service of thy father, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

(1Ki 12:5) And he said to them, Depart for three days, and return to me. And they departed.

(1Ki 12:6) And the king referred the matter to the elders, who stood before Solomon his father while he was yet living, saying, How do ye advise that I should answer this people?

(1Ki 12:7) And they spoke to him, saying, If thou wilt this day be a servant to this people, and wilt serve them, and wilt speak to them good words, then will they be thy servants continually.

(1Ki 12:8) But he forsook the counsel of the old men which they gave him, and consulted with the young men who were brought up with him, who stood in his presence.

(1Ki 12:9) And he said to them, What counsel do ye give? And what shall I answer to this people who speak to me, saying, Lighten somewhat of the yoke which thy father has put upon us?

(1Ki 12:10) And the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before his face, spoke to him, saying, Thus shalt thou say to this people who have spoken to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou now lighten it from off us: thus shalt say to them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

(1Ki 12:11) And whereas my father did lade you with a heavy yoke, I also will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

(1Ki 12:12) And all Israel came to king Roboam on the third day, as the king spoke to them, saying, Return to me on the third day.

(1Ki 12:13) And the king answered the people harshly; and Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men which they counselled him.

(1Ki 12:14) And he spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

(1Ki 12:15) And the king hearkened not to the people, because the change was from YHVH, that he might establish his word which he spoke by Achia the Selonite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat.

(1Ki 12:16) And all Israel saw that the king did not hearken to them: and the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David? neither have we any inheritance in the son of Jessae. Depart, O Israel, to thy tents: now feed thine own house, David. So Israel departed to his tents.

(1Ki 12:18) And the king sent Adoniram who was over the tribute; and they stoned him with stones, and he died: and king Roboam made haste to rise to flee to Jerusalem.

(1Ki 12:19) So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day.

(1Ki 12:20) And it came to pass when all Israel heard that Jeroboam had returned out of Egypt, that they sent and called him to the assembly, and they made him king over Israel: and none followed the house of David except the tribe of Juda and Benjamin only.

(1Ki 12:21) And Roboam went into Jerusalem, and he assembled the congregation of Juda, and the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred and twenty thousand young men, warriors, to fight against the house of Israel, to recover the kingdom to Roboam the son of Solomon.

(1Ki 12:22) And the word of YHVH came to Samaia the man of Elohim, saying,

(1Ki 12:23) Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

(1Ki 12:24) Thus saith YHVH, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight with your brethren the sons of Israel: return each man to his own home; for this thing is from me; and they hearkened to the word of YHVH, and they ceased from going up, according to the word of YHVH.

So king Solomon sleeps with his fathers, and is buried with his fathers in the city of David; and Roboam his son reigned in his stead in Jerusalem, being sixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twelve years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Naanan, daughter of Ana son of Naas king of the children of Ammon. And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and walked not in the way of David his father.

And there was a man of mount Ephraim, a servant to Solomon, and his name was Jeroboam: and the name of his mother was Sarira, a harlot: and Solomon made him head of the levies of the house of Joseph: and he built for Solomon Sarira in mount Ephraim; and he had three hundred chariots of horses: he built the citadel with the levies of the house of Ephraim; he fortified the city of David, and aspired to the kingdom, And Solomon sought to kill him; and he was afraid, and escaped to Susakim king of Egypt, and was with him until Solomon died.

And Jeroboam heard in Egypt that Solomon was dead: and he spoke in the ears of Susakim king of Egypt, saying, Let me go, and I will depart into my land: and Susakim said to him, Ask and request, and I will grant it thee. And Susakim gave to Jeroboam Anoth the eldest sister of Thekemina his wife: she was great among the daughters of the king, and she bore to Jeroboam Abia his son: and Jeroboam said to Susakim, Let me indeed go, and I will depart.

And Jeroboam departed out of Egypt, and came into the land of Saria that was in mount Ephraim, and thither the whole in mount Ephraim, and thither the whole tribe of Ephraim assembles, and Jeroboam built a fortress there.

And his young child was sick with a very severe sickness; and Jeroboam went to enquire concerning the child: and he said to Anoth his wife, Arise, go, enquire of Elohim concerning the child, whether he shall recover from his sickness.

Now there was a man in Selom, and his name was Achia: and he was sixty years old, and the word of YHVH was with him. And Jeroboam said to his wife, Arise, and take in thine hand loaves for the man of Elohim, and cakes for his children, and grapes, and a pot of honey. And the woman arose, and took in her hand bread, and two cakes, and grapes, and a pot of honey, for Achia: and the man was old, and his eyes were dim, so that he could not see. And she arose, up from Sarira and went; and it came to pass when she had come into the city to Achia the Selonite, that Achia said to his servant, Go out now to meet Anoth the wife of Jeroboam, and thou shalt say to her, Come in, and stand not still: for thus saith YHVH, I send grievous tidings to thee. And Ano went in to the man of Elohim; and Achia said to her, Why hast thou brought me bread and grapes, and cakes, and a pot of honey? Thus saith YHVH, Behold, thou shalt depart from me, and it shall come to pass when thou hast entered into the city, even into Sarira, that thy maidens shall come out to meet thee, and shall say to thee, The child is dead: for thus saith YHVH, Behold, I will destroy every male of Jeroboam, and there shall be the dead of Jeroboam in the city, them the dogs shall eat, and him that eat, and he shall lament for the child, saying, Woe is me, Lord! For there has been found in him some good thing touching YHVH.

And the woman departed, when she heard this: and it came to pass as she entered into Sarira, that the child died; and there came forth a wailing to meet her. And Jeroboam went to Sikima in mount Ephraim, and assembled there the tribes of Israel; and Roboam the son of Solomon went up thither. And the word of YHVH came to Samaias son of Enlami, saying, Take to thyself a new garment which has not gone into the water, and rend it into twelve pieces; and thou shalt give some to Jeroboam, and shalt say to him, thus saith YHVH, Take to thyself ten pieces to cover thee: and Jeroboam took them: and Samaias said, Thus saith YHVH concerning the ten tribes of Israel.

And the people said to Roboam the son of Solomon, Thy father made his yoke heavy upon us, and made the meat of his table heavy; and now thou shalt lighten them upon us, and we will serve thee. And Roboam said to the people, Wait three days, and I will return you an answer: and Roboam said, Bring in to me the elders, and I will take counsel with them what I shall answer to the people on the third day, So Roboam spoke in their ears, as the people sent to him to say: and the elders of the people said, Thus the people have spoken to thee.

And Roboam rejected their counsel, and it pleased him not: and he sent and brought in those who had been brought up with him; and he said to them, Thus and thus has the people sent to me to say: and they that had been brought up with him said, Thus shalt thou speak to the people saying, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins; my father scourged you with whips, but I will rule you with scorpions.

And the saying pleased Roboam, and he answered the people as the young men, they that were brought up with him, counselled him: and all the people spoke as one man, every one to his neighbor, and they cried out all together, saying, We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the son of Jessae: to they tents, O Israel, every one; for this man is not for a prince or a ruler over us. And all the people was dispersed from Sikima, and they departed every one to his tent: and Roboam strengthened himself and departed, and mounted his chariot, and entered into Jerusalem: and there follow him the whole tribe of Juda, and the whole tribe of Benjamin. And it came to pass at the beginning of the year, that Roboam gathered all the men of Juda and Benjamin, and went up to fight with Jeroboam at Sikima. And the word of YHVH came to Sameas the man of Elohim, saying, Speak to Roboam king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda and Benjamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying, Thus saith YHVH, Ye shall not go up, neither shall ye fight with your brethren the sons of Israel: return every man to his house, for this thing is from me. And they hearkened to the word of YHVH, and forbore to go up, according to the word of YHVH.

(1Ki 12:25) And Jeroboam built Sikima in mount Ephraim and dwelt in it, and went forth thence and built Phaniel.

(1Ki 12:26) And Jeroboam said in his heart, Behold, now the kingdom will return to the house of David.

(1Ki 12:27) If this people shall go up to offer sacrifice in the house of YHVH at Jerusalem, then the heart of the people will return to YHVH, and to their master, to Roboam king of Juda, and they will slay me.

(1Ki 12:28) And the king took counsel, and went, and made two golden heifers, and said to the people, Let it suffice you to have gone hitherto to Jerusalem: behold thy gods, O Israel, who brought thee up out of the land of Egypt.

(1Ki 12:29) And he put one in Bethel, and he put the other in Dan.

(1Ki 12:30) And this thing became a sin; and the people went before one as far as Dan, and left the house of YHVH.

(1Ki 12:31) And he made houses on the high places, and made priests of any part of the people, who were not of the sons of Levi.

(1Ki 12:32) And Jeroboam appointed a feast in the eighth month, on the fifteenth day of the month, according to the feast in the land of Juda;

(1Ki 12:33) and went up to the altar which he made in Baethel to sacrifice to the heifers which he made, and he placed in Baethel the priests of the high places which he had made. And he went up to the altar which he had made, on the fifteenth day in the eighth month, at the feast which he devised out of his own heart; and he made a feast to the children of Israel, and went up to the altar to sacrifice.

(1Ki 13:1) And behold, there came a man of Elohim out of Juda by the word of YHVH to Baethel, and Jeroboam stood at the altar to sacrifice.

(1Ki 13:2) And he cried against the altar by the word of YHVH, and said, O altar, altar, thus saith YHVH, Behold, a son is to be born to the house of David, Josias by name; and he shall offer upon thee the priests of the high places, even of them that sacrifice upon thee, and he shall burn men's bones upon thee.

(1Ki 13:3) And in that day one shall give a sign, saying, This is the word which YHVH has spoken, saying, Behold, the altar is rent, and the fatness upon it shall be poured out.

(1Ki 13:4) And it came to pass when king Jeroboam heard the words of the man of Elohim who called on the altar that was in Baethel, that the king stretched forth his hand from the altar, saying, Take hold of him. And, behold, his hand, which he stretched forth against him, withered, and he could not draw it back to himself.

(1Ki 13:5) And the altar was rent, and the fatness was poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of Elohim gave by the word of YHVH.

(1Ki 13:6) And king Jeroboam said to the man of Elohim, Intreat YHVH thy Elohim, and let my hand be restored to me. And the man of Elohim intreated YHVH, and he restored the king's hand to him, and it became as before.

(1Ki 13:7) And the king said to the man of Elohim, Enter with me into the house, and dine, and I will give thee a gift.

(1Ki 13:8) And the man of Elohim said to the king, If thou shouldest give me the half of thine house, I would not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, neither will I drink water in this place; for thus YHVH charged me by his word, saying, (1Ki 13:9) Eat no bread, and drink no water, and return not by the way by which thou camest.

(1Ki 13:10) So he departed by another way, and returned not by the way by which he came to Baethel.

(1Ki 13:11) And there dwelt an old prophet in Baethel; and his sons came and told him all the works that the man of Elohim did on that day in Baethel, and the words which he spoke to the king: and they turned the face of their father.

(1Ki 13:12) And their father spoke to them, saying, Which way went he? and his sons shew him the way by which the man of Elohim who came out of Juda went up.

(1Ki 13:13) And he said to his sons, Saddle me the ass: and they saddled him the ass, and he mounted it, (1Ki 13:14) and went after the man of Elohim, and found him sitting under an oak: and he said to him, Art thou the man of Elohim that came out of Juda?

And he said to him, I am.

(1Ki 13:15) And he said to him, Come with me, and eat bread.

(1Ki 13:16) And he said, I shall not by any means be able to return with thee, neither will I eat bread, neither will I drink water in this place.

(1Ki 13:17) For thus YHVH commanded me by word, saying, Eat not bread there, and drink not water, and return not thither by the way by which thou camest.

(1Ki 13:18) And he said to him, I also am a prophet as thou art; and an angel spoke to me by the word of YHVH, saying, Bring him back to thee into thy house, and let him eat bread and drink water: but he lied to him.

(1Ki 13:19) And he brought him back, and he ate bread and drank water in his house.

(1Ki 13:20) And it came to pass while they were sitting at the table, that the word of YHVH came to the prophet that brought him back;

(1Ki 13:21) and he spoke to the man of Elohim that came out of Juda, saying, Thus saith YHVH, Because thou hast resisted the word of YHVH, and hast not kept the commandment which YHVH thy Elohim commanded thee, (1Ki 13:22) but hast returned, and eaten bread and drunk water in the place of which he spoke to thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat bread, and shalt not drink water; therefore thy body shall in nowise enter into the sepulchre of thy fathers.

(1Ki 13:23) And it came to pass after he had eaten bread and drunk water, that he saddled the ass for him, and he turned and departed.

(1Ki 13:24) And a lion found him in the way, and slew him; and his body was cast out in the way, and the ass was standing by it, and the lion also was standing by the body.

(1Ki 13:25) And, behold, men were passing by, and saw the carcase cast in the way, and the lion was standing near the carcase: and they went in and spoke of it in the city where the old prophet dwelt.

(1Ki 13:26) And the prophet that turned him back out of the way heard, and said, This is the man of Elohim who rebelled against the word of YHVH.

(1Ki 13:28) And he went and found the body cast in the way, and the ass and the lion were standing by the body: and the lion had not devoured the body of the man of Elohim, and had not torn the ass.

(1Ki 13:29) And the prophet took up the body of the man of Elohim, and laid it on his ass; and the prophet brought him back to his city, to bury him in his own tomb, (1Ki 13:30) and they bewailed him, saying, Alas, brother.

(1Ki 13:31) And it came to pass after he had lamented him, that he spoke to his sons, saying, Whenever I die, bury me in this tomb wherein the man of Elohim is buried; lay me by his bones, that my bones may be preserved with his bones.

(1Ki 13:32) For the word will surely come to pass which he spoke by the word of YHVH against the altar in Baethel, and against the high houses in Samaria.

(1Ki 13:33) And after this Jeroboam turned not from his sin, but he turned and made of part of the people priests of the high places: whoever would, he consecrated him, and he became a priest for the high places.

(1Ki 13:34) And this thing became sin to the house of Jeroboam, even to its destruction and its removal from the face of the earth.

(1Ki 14:1) And Roboam son of Solomon ruled over Juda. Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in the city Jerusalem, which YHVH chose to put his name there out of all the tribes of Israel: and his mother's name was Naama the Ammonitess.

(1Ki 14:22) And Roboam did evil in the sight of YHVH; and he provoked him in all the things which their fathers did in their sins which they sinned.

(1Ki 14:23) And they built for themselves high places, and pillars, and planted groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree.

(1Ki 14:24) And there was a conspiracy in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which YHVH removed from before the children of Israel.

(1Ki 14:25) And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Susakim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem;

(1Ki 14:26) and took all the treasures of the house of YHVH, and the treasures of the king's house, and the golden spears which David took out of the hand of the sons of Adrazaar king of Suba, and brought them into Jerusalem, even all that he took, and the golden shields which Solomon had made, [and carried them away into Egypt.]

(1Ki 14:27) And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them; and the chiefs of the body guard, who kept the gate of the house of the king, were placed in charge over them.

(1Ki 14:28) And it came to pass when the king went into the house of YHVH, that the body guard took them up, and fixed them in the chamber of the body guard.

(1Ki 14:29) And the rest of the history of Roboam, and all that he did, behold, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(1Ki 14:30) And there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam continually.

(1Ki 14:31) And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Abiu his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 15:1) And in the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam son of Nabat, Abiu son of Roboam reigns over Juda.

(1Ki 15:2) And he reigned three years over Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Maacha, daughter of Abessalom.

(1Ki 15:3) And he walked in the sins of his father which he wrought in his presence, and his heart was not perfect with YHVH his Elohim, as was the heart of his father David.

(1Ki 15:4) Howbeit for David's sake YHVH gave him a remnant, that he might establish his children after him, and might establish Jerusalem.

(1Ki 15:5) Forasmuch as David did that which was right in the sight of YHVH: he turned not from any thing that he commanded him all the days of his life.

(1Ki 15:7) And the rest of the history of Abiu, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And there was war between Abiu and Jeroboam.

(1Ki 15:8) And Abiu slept with his fathers in the twenty-fourth year of Jeroboam; and he is buried with his fathers in the city of David: And Asa his son reigns in his stead.

(1Ki 15:9) In the four and twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Israel, Asa begins to reign over Juda.

(1Ki 15:10) And he reigned forty-one years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Ana, daughter of Abessalom.

(1Ki 15:11) And Asa did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, as David his father.

(1Ki 15:12) And he removed the sodomites out of the land, and abolished all the practices which his fathers had kept up.

(1Ki 15:13) And he removed Ana his mother from being queen, forasmuch as she gathered a meeting in her grove: and Asa cut down her retreats, and burnt them with fire in the brook of Kedron.

(1Ki 15:14) But he removed not the high places; nevertheless the heart of Asa was perfect with YHVH all his days.

(1Ki 15:15) And he brought in the pillars of his father, he even brought in his gold and silver pillars into the house of YHVH, and his vessels.

(1Ki 15:16) And there was war between Asa and Baasa king of Israel all their days.

(1Ki 15:17) And Baasa king of Israel went up against Juda, and built Rama, so that no one should go out or come in for Asa king of Juda.

(1Ki 15:18) And Asa took all the silver and the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of YHVH, and in the treasures of the king's house, and gave them into the hands of his servants; and king Asa sent them out to the son of Ader, the son of Taberema son of Azin king of Syria, who dwelt in Damascus, saying, (1Ki 15:19) Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: lo! I have sent forth to thee gold and silver for gifts: come, break thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may go up from me.

(1Ki 15:20) And the son of Ader hearkened to king Asa, and sent the chiefs of his forces to the cities of Israel; and they smote Ain, Dan, and Abel of the house of Maacha, and all Chennereth, as far as the whole land of Nephthali.

(1Ki 15:21) And it came to pass when Baasa heard it, that he left off building Rama, and returned to Thersa.

(1Ki 15:22) And king Asa charged all Juda without exception: and they take up the stones of Rama and its timbers with which Baasa was building; and king Asa built with them upon the whole hill of Benjamin, and the watch-tower.

(1Ki 15:23) And the rest of the history of Asa, and all his mighty deeds which he wrought, and the cities which he built, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? Nevertheless in the time of his old age he was diseased in his feet.

(1Ki 15:24) And Asa slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Josaphat his son reigns in his stead.

(1Ki 15:25) And Nabat son of Jeroboam reigns over Israel in the second year of Asa king of Juda, and he reigned two years in Israel.

(1Ki 15:26) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and walked in the way of his father, and in his sins wherein he caused Israel to sin.

(1Ki 15:27) And Baasa son of Achia, who was over the house of Belaan son of Achia, conspired against him, and smote him in Gabathon of the Philistines; for Nabat and all Israel were besieging Gabathon.

(1Ki 15:28) And Baasa slew him in the third year of Asa son of Asa king of Juda; and reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 15:29) And it came to pass when he reigned, that he smote the whole house of Jeroboam, and left none that breathed of Jeroboam, until he has destroyed him utterly, according to the word of YHVH which he spoke by his servant Achia the Selonite, (1Ki 15:30) for the sins of Jeroboam, who led Israel into sin, even by his provocation wherewith he provoked YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(1Ki 15:31) And the rest of the history of Nabat, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 15:33) And in the third year of Asa king of Juda, Baasa the son of Achia begins to reign over Israel in Thersa, twenty and four years.

(1Ki 15:34) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and walked in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and in his sins, as he caused Israel to sin.

(1Ki 16:1) And the word of YHVH came by the hand of Ju son of Anani to Baasa, saying,

(1Ki 16:2) Forasmuch as I lifted thee up from the earth, and made thee ruler over my people Israel; and thou hast walked in the way of Jeroboam, and hast caused my people Israel to sin, to provoke me with their vanities;

(1Ki 16:3) Behold, I raise up enemies after Baasa, and after his house; and I will make thy house as the house of Jeroboam son of Nabat.

(1Ki 16:4) Him that dies of Baasa in the city the dogs shall devour, and him that dies of his in the field the birds of the sky shall devour.

(1Ki 16:5) Now the rest of the history of Baasa, and all that he did, and his mighty acts, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 16:6) And Baasa slept with his fathers, and they bury him in Thersa; and Ela his son reigns in his stead.

(1Ki 16:7) And YHVH spoke by Ju the son of Anani against Baasa, and against his house, even all the evil which he wrought before YHVH to provoke him to anger by the works of his hands, in being like the house of Jeroboam; and because he smote him.

(1Ki 16:8) And Ela son of Baasa reigned over Israel two years in Thersa.

(1Ki 16:9) And Zambri, captain of half his cavalry, conspired against him, while he was in Thersa, drinking himself drunk in the house of Osa the steward at Thersa.

(1Ki 16:10) And Zambri went in and smote him and slew him, and reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 16:11) And it came to pass when he reigned, when he sat upon his throne,

(1Ki 16:12) that he smote all the house of Baasa, according to the word which YHVH spoke against the house of Baasa, and to Ju the prophet, (1Ki 16:13) for all the sins of Baasa and Ela his son, as he led Israel astray to sin, to provoke YHVH Elohim of Israel with their vanities.

(1Ki 16:14) And the rest of the deeds of Ela which he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 16:15) And Zambri reigned in Thersa seven days: and the army of Israel was encamped against Gabathon of the Philistines.

(1Ki 16:16) And the people heard in the army, saying, Zambri has conspired and smitten the king: and the people of Israel made Ambri the captain of the host king in that day in the camp over Israel.

(1Ki 16:17) And Ambri went up, and all Israel with him, out of Gabathon; and they besieged Thersa.

(1Ki 16:18) And it came to pass when Zambri saw that his city was taken, that he goes into the inner chamber of the house of the king, and burnt the king's house over him, and died.

(1Ki 16:19) Because of his sins which he committed, doing that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, so as to walk in the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and in his sins wherein he caused Israel to sin.

(1Ki 16:20) And the rest of the history of Zambri, and his conspiracies wherein he conspired, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 16:21) Then the people of Israel divides; half the people goes after Thamni the son of Gonath to make him king; and half the people goes after Ambri.

(1Ki 16:22) The people that followed Ambri overpowered the people that followed Thamni son of Gonath; and Thamni died and Joram his brother at that time, and Ambri reigned after Thamni.

(1Ki 16:23) In the thirty-first year of king Asa, Ambri begins to reign over Israel twelve years: he reigns six years in Thersa.

(1Ki 16:24) And Ambri bought the mount Semeron of Semer the lord of the mountain for two talents of silver; and he built upon the mountain, and they called the name of the mountain on which he built, after the name of Semer the lord of the mount, Semeron.

(1Ki 16:25) And Ambri did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and wrought wickedly beyond all that were before him.

(1Ki 16:26) And he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and in his sins wherewith he caused Israel to sin, to provoke YHVH Elohim of Israel by their vanities.

(1Ki 16:27) And the rest of the acts of Ambri, and all that he did, and all his might, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 16:28) And Ambri slept with his fathers, and is buried in Samaria; and Achaab his son reigns in his stead.

And in the eleventh year of Ambri Josaphat the son of Asa reigns, being thirty-five years old in the beginning of his reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Gazuba, daughter of Seli. And he walked in the way of Asa his father, and turned not from it, even from doing right in the eyes of YHVH: only they removed not any of the high places; they sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. Now the engagements which Josaphat made with the king of Israel, and all his mighty deeds which he performed, and the enemies whom he fought against, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? and the remains of the prostitution which they practiced in the days of Asa his father, he removed out of the land: and there was no king in Syria, but a deputy.

And king Josaphat made a ship at Tharsis to go to Sophir for gold: but it went not, for the ship was broken at Gasion Gaber. Then the king of Israel said to Josaphat, I will send forth thy servants and my servants in the ship: but Josaphat would not. And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and is buried with his fathers in the city of David: and Joram his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 16:29) In the second year of Josaphat king of Juda, Achaab son of Ambri reigned over Israel in Samaria twenty-two years.

(1Ki 16:30) And Achaab did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and did more wickedly than all that were before him.

(1Ki 16:31) And it was not enough for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, but he took to wife, Jezabel the daughter of Jethebaal king of the Sidonians; and he went and served Baal, and worshiped him.

(1Ki 16:32) And he set up an alter to Baal, in the house of his abominations, which he built in Samaria.

(1Ki 16:33) And Achaab made a grove; and Achaab did yet more abominably, to provoke YHVH Elohim of Israel, and to sin against his own life so that he should be destroyed: he did evil above all the kings of Israel that were before him.

(1Ki 16:34) And in his days Achiel the Baethelite built Jericho: he laid the foundation of it in Abiron his first-born, and he set up the doors of it in Segub his younger son, according to the word of YHVH which he spoke by YAHshua the son of Naue.

(1Ki 17:1) And Eliu the prophet, the Thesbite of Thesbae of Galaad, said to Achaab, As YHVH Elohim of hosts, the Elohim of Israel, lives, before whom I stand, there shall not be these years dew nor rain, except by the word of my mouth.

(1Ki 17:2) And the word of YHVH came to Eliu, saying,

(1Ki 17:3) Depart hence eastward, and hide thee by the brook of Chorrath, that is before Jordan.

(1Ki 17:4) And it shall be that thou shalt drink water of the brook, and I will charge the ravens to feed thee there.

(1Ki 17:5) And Eliu did according to the word of YHVH, and he sat by the brook of Chorrath before Jordan.

(1Ki 17:6) And the ravens brought him loaves in the morning, and flesh in the evening and he drank water of the brook.

(1Ki 17:7) And it came to pass after some time, that the brook was dried up, because there had been no rain upon the earth.

(1Ki 17:8) And the word of YHVH came to Eliu, saying,

(1Ki 17:9) Arise, and go to Sarepta of the Sidonian land: behold, I have there commanded a widow-woman to maintain thee.

(1Ki 17:10) And he arose and went to Sarepta, and came to the gate of the city: and, behold, a widow-woman was there gathering sticks; and Eliu cried after her, and said to her, Fetch me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drink.

(1Ki 17:11) And she went to fetch it; and Eliu cried after her, and said, Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of the bread that is in thy hand.

(1Ki 17:12) And the woman said, As YHVH thy Elohim lives, I have not a cake, but only a handful of meal in the pitcher, and a little oil in a cruse, and, behold, I am going to gather two sticks, and I shall go in and dress it for myself and my children, and we shall eat it and die.

(1Ki 17:13) And Eliu said to her, Be of good courage, go in and do according to thy word: but make me thereof a little cake, and thou shalt bring it out to me first, and thou shalt make some for thyself and thy children last.

(1Ki 17:14) For thus saith YHVH, The pitcher of meal shall not fail, and the cruse of oil shall not diminish, until the day that YHVH gives rain upon the earth.

(1Ki 17:15) And the woman went and did so, and did eat, she, and he, and her children.

(1Ki 17:16) And the pitcher of meal failed not, and the cruse of oil was not diminished, according to the word of YHVH which he spoke by the hand of Eliu.

(1Ki 17:17) And it came to pass afterward, that the son of the woman the mistress of the house was sick; and his sickness was very severe, until there was no breath left in him.

(1Ki 17:18) And she said to Eliu, What have I to do with thee, O man of Elohim? hast thou come in to me to bring my sins to remembrance, and to slay my son?

(1Ki 17:19) And Eliu said to the woman, Give me thy son. And he took him out of her bosom, and took him up to the chamber in which he himself lodged, and laid him on the bed.

(1Ki 17:20) And Eliu cried aloud, and said, Alas, YHVH, the witness of the widow with whom I sojourn, thou hast wrought evil for her in slaying her son.

(1Ki 17:21) And he breathed on the child thrice, and called on YHVH, and said, YHVH my Elohim, let, I pray thee, the soul of this child return to him.

(1Ki 17:22) And it was so, and the child cried out,

(1Ki 17:23) and he brought him down from the upper chamber into the house, and gave him to his mother; and Eliu said, See, thy son lives.

(1Ki 17:24) And the woman said to Eliu, Behold, I know that thou art a man of Elohim, and the word of YHVH in thy mouth is true.

(1Ki 18:1) And it came to pass after many days, that the word of YHVH came to Eliu in the third year, saying, Go, and appear before Achaab, and I will bring rain upon the face of the earth.

(1Ki 18:2) And Eliu went to appear before Achaab: and the famine was severe in Samaria.

(1Ki 18:3) And Achaab called Abdiu the steward. Now Abdiu feared YHVH greatly.

(1Ki 18:4) And it came to pass when Jezabel smote the prophets of YHVH, that Abdiu took a hundred prophets, and hid them by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water.

(1Ki 18:5) And Achaab said to Abdiu, Come, and let us go through the land, and to the fountains of water, and to the brooks, if by any means we may find grass, and may save the horses and mules, and so they will not perish from the tents.

(1Ki 18:6) And they made a division of the way between them to pass through it: Achaab went one way, and Abdiu went by another way alone.

(1Ki 18:7) And Abdiu was alone in the way; and Eliu came alone to meet him: and Abdiu hasted, and fell upon his face, and said, My lord Eliu, art thou indeed he?

(1Ki 18:8) And Eliu said to him, I am: go say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here.

(1Ki 18:9) And Abdiu said, What sin have I committed, that thou givest thy servant into the hand of Achaab to slay me?

(1Ki 18:10) As YHVH thy Elohim lives, there is not a nation or kingdom, whither my lord has not sent to seek thee; and if they said, He is not here, then has he set fire to the kingdom and its territories, because he has not found thee.

(1Ki 18:11) And now thou sayest, Go, tell thy lord, Behold, Eliu is here.

(1Ki 18:12) And it shall come to pass when I shall have departed from thee, that the Spirit of YHVH shall carry thee to a land which I know not, and I shall go in to tell the matter to Achaab, and he will not find thee and will slay me: yet thy servant fears YHVH from his youth.

(1Ki 18:13) Has it not been told to thee my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the prophets of YHVH, that I hid a hundred men of the prophets of YHVH, by fifty in a cave, and fed them with bread and water?

(1Ki 18:14) And now thou sayest to me, Go, say to thy master, Behold, Eliu is here: and he shall slay me.

(1Ki 18:15) And Eliu said, As YHVH of Hosts before whom I stand lives, to-day I will appear before him.

(1Ki 18:16) And Abdiu went to meet Achaab, and told him: and Achaab hasted forth, and went to meet Eliu.

(1Ki 18:17) And it came to pass when Achaab saw Eliu, that Achaab said to Eliu, Art thou he that perverts Israel?

(1Ki 18:18) And Eliu said, I do not pervert Israel; but it is thou and thy father's house, in that ye forsake YHVH your Elohim, and thou hast gone after Baalim.

(1Ki 18:19) And now send, gather to me all Israel to mount Carmel, and the prophets of shame four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, that eat at Jezabel's table.

(1Ki 18:20) And Achaab sent to all Israel, and gathered all the prophets to mount Carmel.

(1Ki 18:21) And Eliu drew near to them all: and Eliu said to them, How long wilt ye halt on both feet? if YHVH be Elohim, follow him; but if Baal, follow him. And the people answered not a word.

(1Ki 18:22) And Eliu said to the people, I am left, the only one prophet of YHVH; and the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men, and the prophets of the groves four hundred.

(1Ki 18:23) Let them give us two oxen, and let them choose one for themselves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it on the wood, and put no fire on the wood: and I will dress the other bullock, and put on no fire.

(1Ki 18:24) And do ye call loudly on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of YHVH my Elohim, and it shall come to pass that the Elohim who shall answer by fire, he is Elohim. And all the people answered and said, The word which thou hast spoken is good.

(1Ki 18:25) And Eliu said to the prophets of shame, Choose to yourselves one calf, and dress it first, for ye are many; and call ye on the name of your god; but apply no fire.

(1Ki 18:26) And they took the calf and drest it, and called on the name of Baal from morning till noon, and said, hear us, O Baal, hear us. And there was no voice, neither was there hearing, and they ran up and down on the altar which they had made.

(1Ki 18:27) And it was noon, and Eliu the Thesbite mocked them, and said, Call with a loud voice, for he is a god; for he is meditating, or else perhaps he is engaged in business, or perhaps he is asleep, and is to be awaked.

(1Ki 18:28) And they cried with a loud voice, and cut themselves according to their custom with knives and lancets until the blood gushed out upon them.

(1Ki 18:29) And they prophesied until the evening came; and it came to pass as it was the time of the offering of the sacrifice, that Eliu the Thesbite spoke to the prophets of the abominations, saying, Stand by for the present, and I will offer my sacrifice. And they stood aside and departed.

(1Ki 18:30) And Eliu said to the people, Come near to me. And all the people came near to him.

(1Ki 18:31) And Eliu took twelve stones, according to the number of the tribes of Israel, as YHVH spoke to him, saying, Israel shall be thy name.

(1Ki 18:32) And he built up the stones in the name of YHVH, and repaired the altar that had been broken down; and he made a trench that would hold two measures of seed round about the altar.

(1Ki 18:33) And he piled the cleft wood on the altar which he had made, and divided the whole-burnt-offering, and laid it on the wood, and laid it in order on the altar, and said, Fetch me four pitchers of water, and pour it on the whole-burnt-offering, and on the wood. And they did so.

(1Ki 18:34) And he said, Do it the second time. And they did it the second time. And he said, Do it the third time. And they did it the third time.

(1Ki 18:35) And the water ran round about the altar, and they filled the trench with water.

(1Ki 18:36) And Eliu cried aloud to the heaven, and said, Lord Elohim of Abraam, and Isaac, and Israel, answer me, YHVH, answer me this day by fire, and let all this people know that thou art YHVH, the Elohim of Israel, and I am thy servant, and for thy sake I have wrought these works.

(1Ki 18:37) Hear me, YHVH, hear me, and let this people know that thou art YHVH Elohim, and thou hast turned back the heart of this people.

(1Ki 18:38) Then fire fell from YHVH out of heaven, and devoured the whole-burnt-offerings, and the wood and the water that was in the trench, and the fire licked up the stones and the earth.

(1Ki 18:39) And all the people fell upon their faces, and said, Truly YHVH is Elohim; he is Elohim.

(1Ki 18:40) And Eliu said to the people, Take the prophets of Baal; let not one of them escape. And they took them; and Eliu brings them down to the brook Kisson, and he slew them there.

(1Ki 18:41) And Eliu said to Achaab, Go up, and eat and drink, for there is a sound of the coming of rain.

(1Ki 18:42) And Achaab went up to eat and to drink; and Eliu went up to Carmel, and stooped to the ground, and put his face between his knees, (1Ki 18:43) and said to his servant, Go up, and look toward the sea. And the servant looked, and said, There is nothing: and Eliu said, Do thou then go again seven times.

(1Ki 18:44) And the servant went again seven times: and it came to pass at the seventh time, that, behold, a little cloud like the sole of a man's foot brought water; and he said, Go up, and say to Achaab, make ready thy chariot, and go down, lest the rain overtake thee.

(1Ki 18:45) And it came to pass in the meanwhile, that the heaven grew black with clouds and wind, and there was a great rain. And Achaab wept, and went to Jezrael.

(1Ki 18:46) And the hand of YHVH was upon Eliu, and he girt up his loins, and ran before Achaab to Jezrael.

(1Ki 19:1) And Achaab told Jezabel his wife all that Eliu had done, and how he had slain the prophets with the sword.

(1Ki 19:2) And Jezabel sent to Eliu, and said, If thou art Eliu and I am Jezabel, Elohim do so to me, and more also, if I do not make thy life by this time to-morrow as the life of one of them.

(1Ki 19:3) And Eliu feared, and rose, and departed for his life: and he comes to Bersabee to the land of Juda, and he left his servant there.

(1Ki 19:4) And he himself went a day's journey in the wilderness, and came and sat under a juniper tree; and asked concerning his life that he might die, and said, Let it be enough now, YHVH, take, I pray thee, my life from me; for I am no better than my fathers.

(1Ki 19:5) And he lay down and slept there under a tree; and behold, some one touched him, and said to him, Arise and eat.

(1Ki 19:6) And Eliu looked, and, behold, at his head there was a cake of meal and a cruse of water; and he arose, and ate and drank, and returned and lay down.

(1Ki 19:7) And the angel of YHVH returned again, and touched him, and said to him, Arise, and eat, for the journey is far from thee.

(1Ki 19:8) And he arose, and ate and drank, and went in the strength of that meat forty days and forty nights to mount Choreb.

(1Ki 19:9) And he entered there into a cave, and rested there; and, behold, the word of YHVH came to him, and he said, What doest thou here, Eliu?

(1Ki 19:10) And Eliu said, I have been very jealous for YHVH Almighty, because the children of Israel have forsaken thee: they have digged down thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword; and I only am left alone, and they seek my life to take it.

(1Ki 19:11) And he said, Thou shalt go forth to-morrow, and shalt stand before YHVH in the mount; behold, YHVH will pass by. And, behold, a great and strong wind rending the mountains, and crushing the rocks before YHVH; but YHVH was not in the wind; and after the wind an earthquake; but YHVH was not in the earthquake:

(1Ki 19:12) and after the earthquake a fire; but YHVH was not in the fire: and after the fire the voice of a gentle breeze.

(1Ki 19:13) And it came to pass when Eliu heard, that he wrapt his face in his mantle, and went forth and stood in the cave: and, behold, a voice came to him and said, What doest thou here, Eliu?

(1Ki 19:14) And Eliu said, I have been very jealous for YHVH Almighty; for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant, and they have overthrown thine altars, and have slain thy prophets with the sword! and I am left entirely alone, and they seek my life to take it.

(1Ki 19:15) And YHVH said to him, Go, return, and thou shalt come into the way of the wilderness of Damascus: and thou shalt go and anoint Azael to be king over Syria.

(1Ki 19:16) And Ju the son of Namessi shalt thou anoint to be king over Israel; and Elisaie the son of Saphat shalt thou anoint to be prophet in thy room.

(1Ki 19:17) And it shall come to pass, that him that escapes from the sword of Azael, Ju shall slay; and him that escapes from the sword of Ju, Elisaie shall slay.

(1Ki 19:18) And thou shalt leave in Israel seven thousand men, all the knees which had not bowed themselves to Baal, and every mouth which had not worshipped him.

(1Ki 19:19) And he departed thence, and finds Elisaie the son of Saphat, and he was ploughing with oxen; there were twelve yoke before him, and he with the twelve, and he passed by to him, and cast his mantle upon him.

(1Ki 19:20) And Elisaie left the cattle, and ran after Eliu and said, I will kiss my father, and follow after thee. And Eliu said, Return, for I have done a work for thee.

(1Ki 19:21) And he returned from following him, and took a yoke of oxen, and slew them, and boiled them with the instruments of the oxen, and gave to the people, and they ate: and he arose, and went after Eliu, and ministered to him.

(1Ki 20:1) And Nabuthai the Jezraelite had a vineyard, near the threshingfloor of Achaab king of Samaria.

(1Ki 20:2) And Achaab spoke to Nabuthai, saying, Give me thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs, for it is near my house: and I will give thee another vineyard better than it; or if it please thee, I will give thee money, the price of this thy vineyard, and I will have it for a garden of herbs.

(1Ki 20:3) And Nabuthai said to Achaab, My Elohim forbid me that I should give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

(1Ki 20:4) And the spirit of Achaab was troubled, and he lay down upon his bed, and covered his face, and ate no bread.

(1Ki 20:5) And Jezabel his wife went in to him, and spoke to him, saying, Why is thy spirit troubled, and why dost thou eat no bread?

(1Ki 20:6) And he said to her, Because I spoke to Nabuthai the Jezraelite, saying, Give me thy vineyard for money; or if thou wilt, I will give thee another vineyard for it: and he said, I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

(1Ki 20:7) And Jezabel his wife said to him, Dost thou now thus act the king over Israel? arise, and eat bread, and be thine own master, and I will give thee the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezraelite.

(1Ki 20:8) And she wrote a letter in the name of Achaab, and sealed it with his seal, and sent the letter to the elders, and to the freemen who dwelt with Nabuthai.

(1Ki 20:9) And it was written in the letters, saying, Keep a fast, and set Naboth in a chief place among the people.

(1Ki 20:10) And set two men, sons of transgressors, before him, and let them testify against him, saying, He blessed Elohim and the king: and let them lead him forth, and stone him, and let them die.

(1Ki 20:11) And the men of his city, the elders, and the nobles who dwelt in his city, did as Jezabel sent to them, and as it had been written in the letters which she sent to them.

(1Ki 20:12) And they proclaimed a fast, and set Nabuthai in a chief place among the people.

(1Ki 20:13) And two men, sons of transgressors, came in, and sat opposite him, and bore witness against him, saying, Thou hast blessed Elohim and the king. And they led him forth out of the city, and stoned him with stones, and he died.

(1Ki 20:14) And they sent to Jezabel, saying, Nabuthai is stoned, and is dead.

(1Ki 20:15) And it came to pass, when Jezabel heard it, that she said to Achaab, Arise, take possession of the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezraelite, who would not sell it to thee: for Nabuthai is not alive, for he is dead.

(1Ki 20:16) And it came to pass, when Achaab heard that Nabuthai the Jezraelite was dead, that he rent his garments, and put on sackcloth. And it came to pass afterward, that Achaab arose and went down to the vineyard of Nabuthai the Jezraelite, to take possession of it.

(1Ki 20:17) And YHVH spoke to Eliu the Thesbite, saying,

(1Ki 20:18) Arise, and go down to meet Achaab king of Israel, who is in Samaria, for he is in the vineyard of Nabuthai, for he has gone down thither to take possession of it.

(1Ki 20:19) And thou shalt speak to him, saying, Thus saith YHVH, Forasmuch as thou hast slain and taken possession, therefore thus saith YHVH, In every place where the swine and the dogs have licked the blood of Nabuthai, there shall the dogs lick thy blood; and the harlots shall wash themselves in thy blood.

(1Ki 20:20) And Achaab said to Eliu, Hast thou found me, mine enemy? and he said, I have found thee: because thou hast wickedly sold thyself to work evil in the sight of YHVH, to provoke him to anger;

(1Ki 20:21) behold, I bring evil upon thee: and I will kindle a fire after thee, and I will utterly destroy every male of Achaab, and him that is shut up and him that is left in Israel.

(1Ki 20:22) And I will make thy house as the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and as the house of Baasa son of Achia, because of the provocations wherewith thou hast provoked me, and caused Israel to sin.

(1Ki 20:23) And YHVH spoke of Jezabel, saying, The dogs shall devour her within the fortification of Jezrael.

(1Ki 20:24) Him that is dead of Achaab in the city shall the dogs eat, and him that is dead of him in the field shall the birds of the sky eat.

(1Ki 20:25) But Achaab did wickedly, in that he sold himself to do that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, as his wife Jezabel led him astray.

(1Ki 20:26) And he did very abominably in following after the abominations, according to all that the Amorite did, whom YHVH utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

(1Ki 20:27) And because of the word, Achaab was pierced with sorrow before YHVH, and he both went weeping, and rent his garment, and girt sackcloth upon his body, and fasted; he put on sackcloth also in the day that he smote Nabuthai the Jezraelite, and went his way.

(1Ki 20:28) And the word of YHVH came by the hand of his servant Eliu concerning Achaab, and YHVH said, (1Ki 20:29) Hast thou seen how Achaab has been pricked to the heart before me? I will not bring on the evil in his days, but in his son's days will I bring on the evil.

(1Ki 21:1) And the son of Ader gathered all his forces, and went up and besieged Samaria, he and thirty-two kings with him, and all his horse and chariots: and they went up and besieged Samaria, and fought against it.

(1Ki 21:2) And he sent into the city to Achaab king of Israel, and said to him, Thus says the son of Ader, (1Ki 21:3) Thy silver and thy gold are mine, and thy wives and thy children are mine.

(1Ki 21:4) And the king of Israel answered and said, As thou hast said, my lord, O king, I am thine, and all mine also.

(1Ki 21:5) And the messengers came again, and said, Thus says the son of Ader, I sent to thee, saying, Thou shalt give me thy silver and thy gold, and thy wives and thy children.

(1Ki 21:6) For at this time to-morrow I will send my servants to thee, and they shall search thy house, and the houses of thy servants, and it shall be that all the desirable objects of their eyes on which they shall lay their hands, they shall even take them.

(1Ki 21:7) And the king of Israel called all the elders of the land, and said, Take notice now and consider, that this man seeks mischief: for he has sent to me concerning my wives, and concerning my sons, and concerning my daughters: I have not kept back from him my silver and my gold.

(1Ki 21:8) And the elders and all the people said to him, Harken not, and consent not.

(1Ki 21:9) And he said to the messengers of the son of Ader, Say to your master, All things that thou hast sent to thy servant about at first I will do; but this thing I shall not be able to do. And the men departed, and carried back the answer to him.

(1Ki 21:10) And the son of Ader sent to him, saying, So do Elohim to me, and more also, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for foxes to all the people, even my infantry.

(1Ki 21:11) And the king of Israel answered and said, Let it be sufficient; let not the humpbacked boast as he that is upright.

(1Ki 21:12) And it came to pass when he returned him this answer, he and all the kings with him were drinking in tents: and he said to his servants, Form a trench. And they made a trench against the city.

(1Ki 21:13) And, behold, a prophet came to Achaab king of Israel, and said, Thus saith YHVH, Hast thou seen this great multitude? behold, I give it this day into thine hands; and thou shalt know that I am YHVH.

(1Ki 21:14) And Achaab said, Whereby? And he said, Thus saith YHVH, by the young men of the heads of the districts. And Achaab said, Who shall begin the battle? and he said, Thou.

(1Ki 21:15) And Achaab numbered the young men the heads of the districts, and they were two hundred and thirty: and afterwards he numbered the people, even every man fit for war, seven thousand.

(1Ki 21:16) And he went forth at noon, and the son of Ader was drinking and getting drunk in Socchoth, he and the kings, even thirty and two kings, his allies.

(1Ki 21:17) And the young men the heads of the districts went forth first; and they send and report to the king of Syria, saying, There are men come forth out of Samaria.

(1Ki 21:18) And he said to them, If they come forth peaceably, take them alive; and if they come forth to war, take them alive:

(1Ki 21:19) and let not the young men the heads of the districts go forth of the city. And the force that was behind them

(1Ki 21:20) smote each one the man next to him; and each one a second time smote the man next to him: and Syria fled, and Israel pursued them; and the son of Ader, even the king of Syria, escapes on the horse of a horseman.

(1Ki 21:21) And the king of Israel went forth, and took all the horses and the chariots, and smote the enemy with a great slaughter in Syria.

(1Ki 21:22) And the prophet came to the king of Israel, and said, Strengthen thyself, and observe, and see what thou shalt do; for at the return of the year the son of Ader king of Syria comes up against thee.

(1Ki 21:23) And the servants of the king of Syria, even they said, The Elohim of Israel is a Elohim of mountains, and not a Elohim of valleys; therefore has he prevailed against us: but if we should fight against them in the plain, verily we shall prevail against them.

(1Ki 21:24) And do thou this thing: Send away the kings, each one to his place, and set princes in their stead.

(1Ki 21:25) And we will give thee another army according to the army that was destroyed, and cavalry according to the cavalry, and chariots according to the chariots, and we will fight against them in the plain, and we shall prevail against them. And he hearkened to their voice, and did so.

(1Ki 21:26) And it came to pass at the return of the year, that the son of Ader reviewed Syria, and went up to Apheca to war against Israel.

(1Ki 21:27) And the children of Israel were numbered, and came to meet them: and Israel encamped before them as two little flocks of goats, but Syria filled the land.

(1Ki 21:28) And there came the man of Elohim, and said to the king of Israel, Thus saith YHVH, Because Syria has said, YHVH Elohim of Israel is a Elohim of the hills, and he is not a Elohim of the valleys, therefore will I give this great army into thy hand, and thou shalt know that I am YHVH.

(1Ki 21:29) And they encamp one over against the other before them seven days. And it came to pass on the seventh day that the battle drew on, and Israel smote Syria, even a hundred thousand footmen in one day.

(1Ki 21:30) And the rest fled to Apheca, into the city; and the wall fell upon twenty-seven thousand men that were left: and the son of Ader fled, and entered into an inner chamber, into a closet.

(1Ki 21:31) And he said to his servants, I know that the kings of Israel are merciful kings: let us now put sackcloth upon our loins, and ropes upon our heads, and let us go forth to the king of Israel, if by any means he will save our souls alive.

(1Ki 21:32) So they girt sackcloth upon their loins, and put ropes upon their heads, and said to the king of Israel, Thy servant the son of Ader says, Let our souls live, I pray thee. And he said, Does he yet live? He is my brother.

(1Ki 21:33) And the men divined, and offered drink-offerings; and they caught the word out of his mouth, and said, Thy brother the son of Ader. And he said, Go ye in and fetch him. And the son of Ader went out to him, and they cause him to go up to him into the chariot.

(1Ki 21:34) And he said to him, The cities which my father took from thy father I will restore to thee; and thou shalt make streets for thyself in Damascus, as my father made streets in Samaria; and I will let thee go with a covenant. And he made a covenant with him, and let him go.

(1Ki 21:35) And a certain man of the sons of the prophets said to his neighbour by the word of YHVH, Smite me, I pray, And the man would not smite him.

(1Ki 21:36) And he said to him, Because thou hast not hearkened to the voice of YHVH, therefore, behold, as thou departest from me, a lion shall smite thee: and he departed from him, and a lion found him, and smote him.

(1Ki 21:37) And he finds another man, and says, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man smote him, and in smiting wounded him.

(1Ki 21:38) And the prophet went and stood before the king of Israel by the way, and bound his eyes with a bandage.

(1Ki 21:39) And it came to pass as the king passed by, that he cried aloud to the king, and said, Thy servant went out to war, and, behold, a man brought another man to me, and said to me, Keep his man; and if he should by any means escape, then thy life shall go for his life, or thou shalt pay a talent of silver.

(1Ki 21:40) And it came to pass, that thy servant looked round this way and that way, and the man was gone. And the king of Israel said to him, Behold, thou hast also destroyed snares set for me.

(1Ki 21:41) And he hasted, and took away the bandage from his eyes; and the king of Israel recognized him, that he was one of the prophets.

(1Ki 21:42) And he said to him, Thus saith YHVH, Because thou hast suffered to escape out of thine hand a man appointed to destruction, therefore thy life shall go for his life, and thy people for his people.

(1Ki 21:43) And the king of Israel departed confounded and discouraged, and came to Samaria.

(1Ki 22:1) And he rested three years, and there was no war between Syria and Israel.

(1Ki 22:2) And it came to pass in the third year, that Josaphat king of Juda went down to the king of Israel.

(1Ki 22:3) And the king of Israel said to his servants, Know ye that Remmath Galaad is ours, and we are slow to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria?

(1Ki 22:4) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Wilt thou go up with us to Remmath Galaad to battle?

(1Ki 22:5) And Josaphat said, As I am, so art thou also; as my people, so is thy people; as my horses, so are thy horses. And Josaphat king of Juda said to the king of Israel, Enquire, I pray thee, of YHVH to-day.

(1Ki 22:6) And the king of Israel gathered all the prophets together, about four hundred men; and the king said to them, Shall I go up to Remmath Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? and they said, Go up, and YHVH will surely give it into the hands of the king.

(1Ki 22:7) And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Is there not here a prophet of YHVH, that we may enquire of YHVH by him?

(1Ki 22:8) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, There is one man here for us to enquire of YHVH by; but I hate him, for he does not speak good of me, but only evil; Michaias son of Jembla. And Josaphat king of Juda said, Let not the king say so.

(1Ki 22:9) And the king of Israel called a eunuch and said, Bring hither quickly Michaias son of Jembla.

(1Ki 22:10) And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Juda sat, each on his throne, armed in the gates of Samaria; and all the prophets prophesied before them.

(1Ki 22:11) And Sedekias son of Chanaan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith YHVH, With these thou shalt push Syria, until it be consumed.

(1Ki 22:12) And all the prophets prophesied in like manner, saying, Go up to Remmath Galaad, and the thing shall prosper, and YHVH shall deliver it and the king of Syria into thine hands.

(1Ki 22:13) And the messenger that went to call Michaias spoke to him, saying, Behold now, all the prophets speak with one mouth good concerning the king, let now thy words be like the words of one of them, and speak good things.

(1Ki 22:14) And Michaias said, As YHVH lives, whatsoever YHVH shall say to me, that will I speak.

(1Ki 22:15) And he came to the king: and the king said to him, Michaias, shall I go up to Remmath Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? and he said, Go up, and YHVH shall deliver it into the hand of the king.

(1Ki 22:16) And the king said to him, How often shall I adjure thee, that thou speak to me truth in the name of YHVH?

(1Ki 22:17) And he said, Not so. I saw all Israel scattered on the mountains as a flock without a shepherd: and YHVH said, Is not Elohim lord of these? let each one return to his home in peace.

(1Ki 22:18) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, Did I not say to thee that this man does not prophesy good to me, for he speaks nothing but evil?

(1Ki 22:19) And Michaias said, Not so, it is not I: hear the word of YHVH; it is not so. I saw the Elohim of Israel sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven stood about him on his right hand and on his left.

(1Ki 22:20) And YHVH said, Who will deceive Achaab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall in Remmath Galaad? and one spoke one way, and another another way.

(1Ki 22:21) And there came forth a spirit and stood before YHVH, and said, I will deceive him.

(1Ki 22:22) And YHVH said to him, Whereby? And he said, I will go forth, and will be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And he said, Thou shalt deceive him, yea, and shalt prevail: go forth, and do so.

(1Ki 22:23) And now, behold, YHVH has put a false spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, and YHVH has spoken evil against thee.

(1Ki 22:24) And Sedekias the son of Chanaan came near and smote Michaias on the cheek, and said, What sort of a spirit of YHVH has spoken in thee?

(1Ki 22:25) And Michaias said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go into an innermost chamber to hide thyself there.

(1Ki 22:26) And the king of Israel said, Take Michaias, and convey him away to Semer the keeper of the city;

(1Ki 22:27) and tell Joas the king's son to put this fellow in prison, and to feed him with bread of affliction and water of affliction until I return in peace.

(1Ki 22:28) And Michaias said, If thou return at all in peace, YHVH has not spoken by me.

(1Ki 22:29) So the king of Israel went up, and Josaphat king of Juda with him to Remmath Galaad.

(1Ki 22:30) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, I will disguise myself, and enter into the battle, and do thou put on my raiment. So the king of Israel disguised himself, and went into the battle.

(1Ki 22:31) And the king of Syria had charged the thirty-two captains of his chariots, saying, Fight not against small or great, but against the king of Israel only.

(1Ki 22:32) And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat king of Juda, that they said, this seems to be the king of Israel. And they compassed him about to fight against him; and Josaphat cried out.

(1Ki 22:33) And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw that this was not the king of Israel, that they returned from him.

(1Ki 22:34) And one drew a bow with a good aim, and smote the king of Israel between the lungs and the breast-plate: and he said to his charioteer, Turn thine hands, and carry me away out of the battle, for I am wounded.

(1Ki 22:35) And the war was turned in that day, and the king was standing on the chariot, against Syria from morning till evening; and he shed the blood out of his wound, into the bottom of the chariot, and died at even, and the blood ran out of the wound into the bottom of the chariot.

(1Ki 22:36) And the herald of the army stood at sunset, saying, Let every man go to his own city and his own land, (1Ki 22:37) for the king is dead. And they came to Samaria, and buried the king in Samaria.

(1Ki 22:38) And they washed the chariot at the fountain of Samaria; and the swine and the dogs licked up the blood, and the harlots washed themselves in the blood, according to the word of YHVH which he spoke.

(1Ki 22:39) And the rest of the acts of Achaab, and all that he did, and the ivory house which he built, and all the cities which he built, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(1Ki 22:40) And Achaab slept with his fathers, and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 22:41) And Josaphat the son of Asa reigned over Juda: in the fourth year of Achaab king of Israel began Josaphat to reign.

(1Ki 22:42) Thirty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and five years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Azuba daughter of Salai.

(1Ki 22:43) And he walked in all the way of Asa his father: he turned not from it, even from doing that which was right in the eyes of YHVH.

(1Ki 22:44) Only he took not away any of the high places: the people still sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

(1Ki 22:45) And Josaphat was at peace with the king of Israel.

(1Ki 22:46) And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, and his mighty deeds, whatever he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(1Ki 22:51) And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried by his fathers in the city of David his father, and Joram his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ki 22:52) And Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria: in the seventeenth year of Josaphat king of Juda, Ochozias son of Achaab reigned over Israel in Samaria two years.

(1Ki 22:53) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and walked in the way of Achaab his father, and in the way of Jezabel his mother, and in the sins of the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who caused Israel to sin.

54And he served Baalim, and worshipped them, and provoked YHVH Elohim of Israel, according to all that had been done before him.

2 Kings.

(2Ki 1:1) And Moab repelled against Israel after the death of Achaab.

(2Ki 1:2) And Ochozias fell through the lattice that was in his upper chamber in Samaria and was sick; and he sent messengers, and said to them, Go and enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron, whether I shall recover of this my sickness. And they went to enquire of him.

(2Ki 1:3) And an angel of YHVH called Eliu the Thesbite, saying, Arise, and go to meet the messengers of Ochozias king of Samaria, and thou shalt say to them, Is it because there is no Elohim in Israel, that ye go to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? but it shall not be so.

(2Ki 1:4) For thus saith YHVH, The bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die. And Eliu went, and said so to them.

(2Ki 1:5) And the messengers returned to him, and he said to them, Why have ye returned?

(2Ki 1:6) And they said to him, A man came up to meet us, and said to us, Go, return to the king that sent you, and say to him, Thus saith YHVH, Is it because there is no Elohim in Israel, that thou goest to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? it shall not be so: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die.

(2Ki 1:7) So they returned and reported to the king as Eliu said: and he said to them, What was the manner of the man who went up to mid you, and spoke to you these words?

(2Ki 1:8) And they said to him, He was a hairy man, and girt with a leathern girdle about his loins. And he said, This is Eliu the Thesbite.

(2Ki 1:9) And he sent to him a captain of fifty and his fifty; and he went up to him: and, behold, Eliu sat on the top of a mountain. And the captain of fifty spoke to him, and said, O man of Elohim, the king has called thee, come down.

(2Ki 1:10) And Eliu answered and said to the captain of fifty, And if I am a man of Elohim, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. And fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty.

(2Ki 1:11) And the king sent a second time to him another captain of fifty, and his fifty. And the captain of fifty spoke to him, and said, O man of Elohim, thus says the king, Come down quickly.

(2Ki 1:12) And Eliu answered and spoke to him, and said, If I am a man of Elohim, fire shall come down out of heaven, and devour thee and thy fifty. And fire came down out of heaven, and devoured him and his fifty.

(2Ki 1:13) And the king sent yet again a captain and his fifty. And the third captain of fifty came, and knelt on his knees before Eliu, and entreated him, and spoke to him and said, O man of Elohim, let my life, and the life of these fifty thy servants, be precious in thine eyes.

(2Ki 1:14) Behold, fire came down from heaven, and devoured the two first captains of fifty: and now, I pray, let my life be precious in thine eyes.

(2Ki 1:15) And the angel of YHVH spoke to Eliu, and said, Go down with him, be not afraid of them. And Eliu rose up, and went down with him to the king.

(2Ki 1:16) And Eliu spoke to him, and said, Thus saith YHVH, Why hast thou sent messengers to enquire of Baal fly, the god of Accaron? it shall not be so: the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down from it, for thou shalt surely die.

(2Ki 1:17) So he died according to the word of YHVH which Eliu has spoken.

(2Ki 1:18) And the rest of the acts of Ochozias which he did, behold, are they not written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel? and Joram son of Achaab reigns over Israel in Samaria twelve years beginning in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Juda: and he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, only not as his brethren, nor as his mother: and he removed the pillars of Baal which his father made, and broke them in pieces: only he was joined to the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who led Israel to sin; he departed not from them. And YHVH was very angry with the house of Achaab.

(2Ki 2:1) And it came to pass, when YHVH was going to take Eliu with a whirlwind as it were into heaven, that Eliu and Elisaie went out of Galgala.

(2Ki 2:2) And Eliu said to Elisaie, Stay here, I pray thee; for Elohim has sent me to Baethel. And Elisaie said, As YHVH lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee; so they came to Baethel.

(2Ki 2:3) And the sons of the prophets who were in Baethel came to Elisaie, and said to him, Dost thou know, that YHVH this day is going to take thy lord away from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; be silent.

(2Ki 2:4) And Eliu said to Elisaie, Stay here, I pray thee; for YHVH has sent me to Jericho. And he said, As YHVH lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee. And they came to Jericho.

(2Ki 2:5) And the sons of the prophets who were in Jericho drew near to Elisaie, and said to him, Dost thou know that YHVH is about to take away thy master to-day from thy head? And he said, Yea, I know it; hold your peace.

(2Ki 2:6) And Eliu said to him, Stay here, I pray thee, for YHVH has sent me to Jordan. And Elisaie said, As YHVH lives and thy soul lives, I will not leave thee: and they both went on.

(2Ki 2:7) And fifty men of the sons of the prophets went also, and they stood opposite afar off: and both stood on the bank of Jordan.

(2Ki 2:8) And Eliu took his mantle, and wrapped it together, and smote the water: and the water was divided on this side and on that side, and they both went over on dry ground.

(2Ki 2:9) And it came to pass while they were crossing over, that Eliu said to Elisaie, Ask what I shall do for thee before I am taken up from thee. And Elisaie said, Let there be, I pray thee, a double portion of thy spirit upon me.

(2Ki 2:10) And Eliu said, Thou hast asked a hard thing: if thou shalt see me when I am taken up from thee, then shall it be so to thee; and if not, it shall not be so.

(2Ki 2:11) And it came to pass as they were going, they went on talking; and, behold, a chariot of fire, and horses of fire, and it separated between them both; and Eliu was taken up in a whirlwind as it were into heaven.

(2Ki 2:12) And Elisaie saw, and cried, Father, father, the chariot of Israel, and the horseman thereof! And he saw him no more: and he took hold of his garments, and rent them into two pieces.

(2Ki 2:13) And Elisaie took up the mantle of Eliu, which fell from off him upon Elisaie; and Elisaie returned, and stood upon the brink of Jordan;

(2Ki 2:14) and he took the mantle of Eliu, which fell from off him, and smote the water, and said, Where is YHVH Elohim of Eliu? and he smote the waters, and they were divided hither and thither; and Elisaie went over.

(2Ki 2:15) And the sons of the prophets who were in Jericho on the opposite side saw him, and said, The spirit of Eliu has rested upon Elisaie. And they came to meet him, and did obeisance to him to the ground.

(2Ki 2:16) And they said to him, Behold now, there are with thy servants fifty men of strength: let them go now, and seek thy lord: peradventure the Spirit of YHVH has taken him up, and cast him into Jordan, or on one of the mountains, or on one of the hills. And Elisaie said, Ye shall not send.

(2Ki 2:17) And they pressed him until he was ashamed; and he said, Send. And they sent fifty men, and sought three days, and found him not.

(2Ki 2:18) And they returned to him, for he dwelt in Jericho: and Elisaie said, Did I not say to you, Go not?

(2Ki 2:19) And the men of the city said to Elisaie, Behold, the situation of the city is good, as our lord sees; but the waters are bad, and the ground barren.

(2Ki 2:20) And Elisaie said, Bring me a new pitcher, and put salt in it. And they took one, and brought it to him.

(2Ki 2:21) And Elisaie went out to the spring of the waters, and cast salt therein, and says, Thus saith YHVH, I have healed these waters; there shall not be any longer death thence or barren land.

(2Ki 2:22) And the waters were healed until this day, according to the word of Elisaie which he spoke.

(2Ki 2:23) And he went up thence to Baethel: and as he was going up by the way there came up also little children from the city, and mocked him, and said to him, Go up, bald-head, go up.

(2Ki 2:24) And he turned after them, and saw them, and cursed them in the name of YHVH. And, behold, there came out two bears out of the wood, and they tore forty and two children of them.

(2Ki 2:25) And he went thence to mount Carmel, and returned thence to Samaria.

(2Ki 3:1) And Joram the son of Achaab began to reign in Israel in the eighteenth year of Josaphat king of Juda, and he reigned twelve years.

(2Ki 3:2) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, only not as his father, nor as his mother: and he removed the pillars of Baal which his father had made.

(2Ki 3:3) Only he adhered to the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin; he departed not from it.

(2Ki 3:4) And Mosa king of Moab was a sheep-master, and he rendered to the king of Israel in the beginning of the year, a hundred thousand lambs, and a hundred thousand rams, with the wool.

(2Ki 3:5) And it came to pass, after the death of Achaab, that the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

(2Ki 3:6) And king Joram went forth in that day out of Samaria, and numbered Israel.

(2Ki 3:7) And he went and sent to Josaphat king of Juda, saying, The king of Moab has rebelled against me: wilt thou go with me against Moab to war? And he said, I will go up: thou art as I, I am as thou; as my people, so is thy people, as my horses, so are thy horses.

(2Ki 3:8) And he said, What way shall I go up? and he said, The way of the wilderness of Edom.

(2Ki 3:9) And the king of Israel went, and the king of Juda, and the king of Edom: and they fetched a compass of seven days' journey; and there was no water for the army, and for the cattle that went with them.

(2Ki 3:10) And the king of Israel said, Alas! that YHVH should have called the three kings on their way, to give them into the hand of Moab.

(2Ki 3:11) And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of YHVH, that we may enquire of YHVH by him? And one of the servants of the king of Israel answered and said, There is here Elisaie son of Saphat, who poured water on the hands of Eliu.

(2Ki 3:12) And Josaphat said, He has the word of YHVH. And the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Juda, and the king of Edom, went down to him.

(2Ki 3:13) And Elisaie said to the king of Israel, What have I to do with thee? go to the prophets of thy father, and the prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel said to him, Has YHVH called the three kings to deliver them into the hands of Moab?

(2Ki 3:14) And Elisaie said, As YHVH of hosts before whom I stand lives, unless I regarded the presence of Josaphat the king of Juda, I would not have looked on thee, nor seen thee.

(2Ki 3:15) And now fetch me a harper. And it came to pass, as the harper harped, that the hand of YHVH came upon him.

(2Ki 3:16) And he said, Thus saith YHVH, Make this valley full of trenches.

(2Ki 3:17) For thus saith YHVH, Ye shall not see wind, neither shall ye see rain, yet this valley shall be filled with water, and ye, and your flocks, and your cattle shall drink.

(2Ki 3:18) And this is a light thing in the eyes of YHVH: I will also deliver Moab into your hand.

(2Ki 3:19) And ye shall smite every strong city, and ye shall cut down every good tree, and ye shall stop all wells of water, and spoil every good piece of land with stones.

(2Ki 3:20) And it came to pass in the morning, when the sacrifice was offered, that, behold! waters came from the way of Edom, and the land was filled with water.

(2Ki 3:21) And all Moab heard that the three kings were come up to fight against them; and they cried out on every side, even all that were girt with a girdle, and they said, Ho! and stood upon the border.

(2Ki 3:22) And they rose early in the morning, and the sun rose upon the waters, and Moab saw the waters on the opposite side red as blood.

(2Ki 3:23) And they said, This is the blood of the sword; and the kings have fought, and each man has smitten his neighbour; now then to the spoils, Moab.

(2Ki 3:24) And they entered into the camp of Israel; and Israel arose and smote Moab, and they fled from before them; and they went on and smote Moab as they went.

(2Ki 3:25) And they razed the cities, and cast every man his stone on every good piece of land and filled it; and they stopped every well, and cut down every good tree, until they left only the stones of the wall cast down; and the slingers compassed the land, and smote it.

(2Ki 3:26) And the king of Moab saw that the battle prevailed against him; and he took with him seven hundred men that drew sword, to cut through to the king of Edom: and they could not.

(2Ki 3:27) And he took his eldest son whom he had designed to reign in his stead, and offered him up for a whole-burnt-offering on the walls. And there was a great indignation against Israel; and they departed from him, and returned to their land.

(2Ki 4:1) And one of the wives of the sons of the prophets cried to Elisaie, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant feared YHVH: and the creditor is come to take my two sons to be his servants.

(2Ki 4:2) And Elisaie said, What shall I do for thee? tell me what thou hast in the house. And she said, Thy servant has nothing in the house, except oil wherewith I anoint myself.

(2Ki 4:3) And he said to her, Go, borrow for thyself vessels without of all thy neighbours, even empty vessels; borrow not a few.

(2Ki 4:4) And thou shalt go in and shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and thou shalt pour forth into these vessels, and remove that which is filled.

(2Ki 4:5) And she departed from him, and shut the door upon herself and upon her sons: they brought the vessels near to her, and she poured in until the vessels were filled.

(2Ki 4:6) And she said to her sons, Bring me yet a vessel. And they said to her, There is not a vessel more. And the oil stayed.

(2Ki 4:7) And she came and told the man of Elohim: and Elisaie said, Go, and sell the oil, and thou shalt pay thy debts, and thou and thy sons shall live of the remaining oil.

(2Ki 4:8) And a day came, when Elisaie passed over to Soman, and there was a great lady there, and she constrained him to eat bread: and it came to pass as often as he went into the city, that he turned aside to eat there.

(2Ki 4:9) And the woman said to her husband, See now, I know that this is a holy man of Elohim who comes over continually to us.

(2Ki 4:10) Let us now make for him an upper chamber, a small place; and let us put there for him a bed, and a table, and a stool, and a candlestick: and it shall come to pass that when he comes in to us, he shall turn in thither.

(2Ki 4:11) And a day came, and he went in thither, and turned aside into the upper chamber, and lay there.

(2Ki 4:12) And he said to Giezi his servant, Call me this Somanite. and he called her, and she stood before him.

(2Ki 4:13) And he said to him, Say now to her, Behold, thou hast taken all this trouble for us; what should I do for thee? Hast thou any request to make to the king, or to the captain of the host? And she said, I dwell in the midst of my people.

(2Ki 4:14) And he said to Giezi, What must we do for her? and Giezi his servant said, Indeed she has no son, and her husband is old.

(2Ki 4:15) And he called her, and she stood by the door.

(2Ki 4:16) And Elisaie said to her, At this time next year, as the season is, thou shalt be alive, and embrace a son. And she said, Nay, my lord, do not lie to thy servant.

(2Ki 4:17) And the woman conceived, and bore a son at the very time, as the season was, being alive, as Elisaie said to her.

(2Ki 4:18) And the child grew: and it came to pass when he went out to his father to the reapers,

(2Ki 4:19) that he said to his father, My head, my head. and his father said to a servant, carry him to his mother.

(2Ki 4:20) And he carried him to his mother, and he lay upon her knees till noon, and died.

(2Ki 4:21) And she carried him up and laid him on the bed of the man of god; and she shut the door upon him, and went out.

(2Ki 4:22) And she called her husband, and said, Send now for me one of the young men, and one of the asses, and I will ride quickly to the man of Elohim, and return.

(2Ki 4:23) And he said, Why art thou going to him to-day? It is neither new moon, nor the Sabbath. And she said, It is well.

(2Ki 4:24) And she saddled the ass, and said to her servant, Be quick, proceed: spare not on my account to ride, unless I shall tell thee. Go, and thou shalt proceed, and come to the man of Elohim to mount Carmel.

(2Ki 4:25) And she rode and came to the man of Elohim to the mountain: and it came to pass when Elisaie saw her coming, that he said to Giezi his servant, See now, that Somanite comes.

(2Ki 4:26) Now run to meet her, and thou shalt say, Is it well with thee? is it well with thy husband? is it well with the child? and she said, It is well.

(2Ki 4:27) And she came to Elisaie to the mountain, and laid hold of his feet; and Giezi drew near to thrust her away. And Elisaie said, Let her alone, for her soul is much grieved in her, and YHVH has hidden it from me, and has not told it me.

(2Ki 4:28) And she said, Did I ask a son of my lord? For did I not say, Do not deal deceitfully with me?

(2Ki 4:29) And Elisaie said to Giezi, Gird up thy loins, and take my staff in thy hand, and go: if thou meet any man, thou shalt not salute him, and if a man salute thee thou shalt not answer him: and thou shalt lay my staff on the child's face.

(2Ki 4:30) And the mother of the child said, As YHVH lives and as thy soul lives, I will not leave thee. And Elisaie arose, and went after her.

(2Ki 4:31) And Giezi went on before her, and laid his staff on the child's face: but there was neither voice nor any hearing. So he returned to meet him, and told him, saying, The child is not awaked.

(2Ki 4:32) And Elisaie went into the house, and, behold, the dead child was laid upon his bed.

(2Ki 4:33) And Elisaie went into the house, and shut the door upon themselves, the two, and prayed to YHVH.

(2Ki 4:34) And he went up, and lay upon the child, and put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands; and bowed himself upon him, and the flesh of the child grew warm.

(2Ki 4:35) And he returned, and walked up and down in the house: and he went up, and bowed himself on the child seven times; and the child opened his eyes.

(2Ki 4:36) And Elisaie cried out to Giezi, and said, Call this Somanite. So he called her, and she came in to him: and Elisaie said, Take thy son.

(2Ki 4:37) And the woman went in, and fell at his feet, and did obeisance bowing to the ground; and she took her son, and went out.

(2Ki 4:38) And Elisaie returned to Galgala: and a famine was in the land; and the sons of the prophets sat before him: and Elisaie said to his servant, Set on the great pot, and boil pottage for the sons of the prophets.

(2Ki 4:39) And he went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a vine in the field, and gathered of it wild gourds, his garment full; and he cast it into the caldron of pottage, for they knew them not.

(2Ki 4:40) And he poured it out for the men to eat: and it came to pass, when they were eating of the pottage, that lo! they cried out, and said, There is death in the pot, O man of Elohim. And they could not eat.

(2Ki 4:41) And he said, Take meal, and cast it into the pot. And Elisaie said to his servant Giezi, Pour out for the people, and let them eat. And there was no longer there any hurtful thing in the pot.

(2Ki 4:42) And there came a man over from Baetharisa, and brought to the man of Elohim twenty barley loaves and cakes of figs, of the first-fruits. And he said, Give to the people, and let them eat.

(2Ki 4:43) And his servant said, Why should I set this before a hundred men? and he said, Give to the people, and let them eat; for thus saith YHVH, They shall eat and leave.

(2Ki 4:44) And they ate and left, according to the word of YHVH.

(2Ki 5:1) Now Naiman, the captain of the host of Syria, was a great man before his master, and highly respected, because by him YHVH had given deliverance to Syria, and the man was mighty in strength, but a leper.

(2Ki 5:2) And the Syrians went forth in small bands, and took captive out of the land of Israel a little maid: and she waited on Naiman's wife.

(2Ki 5:3) And she said to her mistress, O that my lord were before the prophet of Elohim in Samaria; then he would recover him from his leprosy.

(2Ki 5:4) And she went in and told her lord, and said, Thus and thus spoke the maid from the land of Israel.

(2Ki 5:5) And the king of Syria said to Naiman, Go to, go, and I will send a letter to the king of Israel. And he went, and took in his hand ten talents of silver, and six thousand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment.

(2Ki 5:6) And he brought the letter to the king of Israel, saying, Now then, as soon as this letter shall reach thee, behold, I have sent to thee my servant Naiman, and thou shalt recover him from his leprosy.

(2Ki 5:7) And it came to pass, when the king of Israel read the letter, that he rent his garments, and said, Am I Elohim, to kill and to make alive, that this man sends to me to recover a man of his leprosy? consider, however, I pray you, and see that this man seeks an occasion against me.

(2Ki 5:8) And it came to pass, when Elisaie heard that the king of Israel had rent his garments, that he sent to the king of Israel, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy garments? Let Naiman, I pray thee, come to me, and let him know that there is a prophet in Israel.

(2Ki 5:9) So Naiman came with horse and chariot, and stood at the door of the house of Elisaie.

(2Ki 5:10) And Elisaie sent a messenger to him, saying, Go and wash seven times in Jordan, and thy flesh shall return to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

(2Ki 5:11) And Naiman was angry, and departed, and said, Behold, I said, He will by all means come out to me, and stand, and call on the name of his Elohim, and lay his hand upon the place, and recover the leper.

(2Ki 5:12) Are not the Abana and Pharphar, rivers of Damascus, better than all the waters of Israel? may I not go and wash in them, and be cleansed? and he turned and went away in a rage.

(2Ki 5:13) And his servants came near and said to him, Suppose the prophet had spoken a great thing to thee, wouldest thou not perform it? yet he has but said to thee, Wash, and be cleansed.

(2Ki 5:14) So Naiman went down, and dipped himself seven times in Jordan, according to the word of Elisaie: and his flesh returned to him as the flesh of a little child, and he was cleansed.

(2Ki 5:15) And he and all his company returned to Elisaie, and he came and stood before him, and said, Behold, I know that there is no Elohim in all the earth, save only in Israel: and now receive a blessing of thy servant.

(2Ki 5:16) And Elisaie said, As YHVH lives, before whom I stand, I will not take one. And he pressed him to take one: but he would not.

(2Ki 5:17) And Naiman said, Well then, if not, let there be given to thy servant, I pray thee, the load of a yoke of mules; and thou shalt give me of the red earth: for henceforth thy servant will not offer whole-burnt-offering or sacrifice to other gods, but only to YHVH by reason of this thing.

(2Ki 5:18) And I let YHVH be propitious to thy servant when my master goes into the house of Remman to worship there, and he shall lean on my hand, and I shall bow down in the house of Remman when he bows down in the house of Remman; even let YHVH, I pray, be merciful to thy servant in this matter.

(2Ki 5:19) And Elisaie said to Naiman, Go in peace. And he departed from him a little way.

(2Ki 5:20) And Giezi the servant of Elisaie said, Behold, my Lord has spared this Syrian Naiman, so as not to take of his hand what he has brought: as YHVH lives, I will surely run after him, and take somewhat of him.

(2Ki 5:21) So Giezi followed after Naiman: and Naiman saw him running after him, and turned back from his chariot to meet him.

(2Ki 5:22) And Giezi said, All is well: my master has sent me, saying, Behold, now are there come to me two young men of the sons of the prophets from mount Ephraim; give them, I pray thee, a talent of silver, and two changes of raiment.

(2Ki 5:23) And Naiman said, Take two talents of silver. And he took two talents of silver in two bags, and two changes of raiment, and put them upon two of his servants, and they bore them before him.

(2Ki 5:24) And he came to a secret place, and took them from their hands, and laid them up in the house, and dismissed the men.

(2Ki 5:25) And he went in himself and stood before his master; and Elisaie said to him, (2Ki 5:26) Whence comest thou, Giezi? and Giezi said, Thy servant has not been hither or thither. And Elisaie said to him, Went not my heart with thee, when the man returned from his chariot to meet thee? and now thou hast received silver, and now thou hast received raiment, and olive yards, and vineyards, and sheep, and oxen, and menservants, and maidservants.

(2Ki 5:27) The leprosy also of Naiman shall cleave to thee, and to thy seed for ever. And he went out from his presence leprous, like snow.

(2Ki 6:1) And the sons of the prophets said to Elisaie, Behold now, the place wherein we dwell before thee is too narrow for us.

(2Ki 6:2) Let us go, we pray thee, unto Jordan, and take thence every man a beam, and make for ourselves a habitation there.

(2Ki 6:3) And he said, Go. And one of them said gently, Come with thy servants. And he said, I will go.

(2Ki 6:4) And he went with them, and they came to Jordan, and began to cut down wood.

(2Ki 6:5) And behold, one was cutting down a beam, and the axe head fell into the water: and he cried out, Alas! master: and it was hidden.

(2Ki 6:6) And the man of Elohim said, Where did it fall? and he shewed him the place: and he broke off a stick, and threw it in there, and the iron came to the surface.

(2Ki 6:7) And he said, Take it up to thyself. And he stretched out his hand, and took it.

(2Ki 6:8) And the king of Syria was at war with Israel: and he consulted with his servants, saying, I will encamp in such a place.

(2Ki 6:9) And Elisaie sent to the king of Israel, saying, Take heed that thou pass not by that place, for the Syrians are hidden there.

(2Ki 6:10) And the king of Israel sent to the place which Elisaie mentioned to him, and saved himself thence not once or twice.

(2Ki 6:11) And the mind of the king of Syria was very much disturbed concerning this thing; and he called his servants, and said to them, Will ye not tell me who betrays me to the king of Israel?

(2Ki 6:12) And one of his servants said, Nay, my Lord, O king, for Elisaie the prophet that is in Israel reports to the king of Israel all the words whatsoever thou mayest say in thy bedchamber.

(2Ki 6:13) And he said, Go, see where this man is, and I will send and take him. And they sent word to him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothaim.

(2Ki 6:14) And he sent thither horses, and chariots, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed about the city.

(2Ki 6:15) And the servant of Elisaie rose up early and went out; and, behold, a host compassed the city, and horses and chariots: and the servant said to him, O master, what shall we do?

(2Ki 6:16) And Elisaie said, Fear not, for they who are with us are more than they that are with them.

(2Ki 6:17) And Elisaie prayed, and said, Lord, open, I pray thee, the eyes of the servant, and let him see. And YHVH opened his eyes, and he saw: and, behold, the mountain was full of horses, and there were chariots of fire round about Elisaie.

(2Ki 6:18) And they came down to him; and he prayed to YHVH, and said, Smite, I pray thee, this people with blindness. And he smote them with blindness, according to the word of Elisaie.

(2Ki 6:19) And Elisaie said to them, This is not the city, and this is not the way: follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye seek. And he led them away to Samaria.

(2Ki 6:20) And it came to pass when they entered into Samaria, that Elisaie said, Open, I pray thee, YHVH, their eyes, and let them see. And YHVH opened their eyes, and they saw; and, behold, they were in the midst of Samaria.

(2Ki 6:21) And the king of Israel said to Elisaie, when he saw them, Shall I not verily smite them, my father?

(2Ki 6:22) And he said, Thou shalt not smite them, unless thou wouldest smite those whom thou hast taken captive with thy sword and with thy bow:

set bread and water before them, and let them eat and drink, and depart to their master.

(2Ki 6:23) And he set before them a great feast, and they ate and drank: and he dismissed them and they departed to their master. And the bands of Syria came no longer into the land of Israel.

(2Ki 6:24) And it came to pass after this, that the son of Ader king of Syria gathered all his army, and went up, and besieged Samaria.

(2Ki 6:25) And there was a great famine in Samaria: and, behold, they besieged it, until an ass's head was valued at fifty pieces of silver, and the fourth part of a cab of dove's dung at five pieces of silver.

(2Ki 6:26) And the king of Israel was passing by on the wall, and a woman cried to him, saying, Help, my lord, O king.

(2Ki 6:27) And he said to her, Unless YHVH help thee, whence shall I help thee? from the corn-floor, or from the wine-press?

(2Ki 6:28) And the king said to her, What is the matter with thee? And the woman said to him, This woman said to me, Give thy son, and we will eat him to-day, and we will eat my son to-morrow.

(2Ki 6:29) So we boiled my son, and ate him; and I said to her on the second day, Give thy son, and let us eat him: and she has hidden her son.

(2Ki 6:30) And it came to pass, when the king of Israel heard the words of the woman, that he rent his garments; and he passed by on the wall, and the people saw sackcloth within upon his flesh.

(2Ki 6:31) And he said, Elohim do so to me and more also, if the head of Elisaie shall stand upon him this day.

(2Ki 6:32) And Elisaie was sitting in his house, and the elders were sitting with him; and the king sent a man before him: before the messenger came to him, he also said to the elders, Do ye see that this son of a murderer has sent to take away my head? See, as soon as the messenger shall have come, shut the door, and forcibly detain him at the door: is not the sound of his master's feet behind him?

(2Ki 6:33) While he was yet speaking with them, behold, a messenger came to him: and he said, Behold, this evil is of YHVH; why should I wait for YHVH any longer?

(2Ki 7:1) And Elisaie said, Hear thou the word of YHVH; Thus saith YHVH, As at this time, to-morrow a measure of fine flour shall be sold for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel, in the gates of Samaria.

(2Ki 7:2) And the officer on whose hand the king rested, answered Elisaie, and said, Behold, if YHVH shall make flood-gates in heaven, might this thing be? and Elisaie said, Behold, thou shalt see with thine eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

(2Ki 7:3) And there were four leprous men by the gate of the city: and one said to his neighbour, Why sit we here until we die?

(2Ki 7:4) If we should say, Let us go into the city, then there is famine in the city, and we shall die there: and if we sit here, then we shall die. Now then come, and let us fall upon the camp of the Syrians: if they should take us alive, then we shall live; and if they should put us to death, then we shall only die.

(2Ki 7:5) And they rose up while it was yet night, to go into the camp of Syria; and they came into a part of the camp of Syria, and behold, there was no man there.

(2Ki 7:6) For YHVH had made the army of Syria to hear a sound of chariots, and a sound of horses, even the sound of a great host: and each man said to his fellow, Now has the king of Israel hired against us the kings of the Chettites, and the kings of Egypt, to come against us.

(2Ki 7:7) And they arose and fled while it was yet dark, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses in the camp, as they were, and fled for their lives.

(2Ki 7:8) And these lepers entered a little way into the camp, and went into one tent, and ate and drank, and took thence silver, and gold, and raiment; and they went and returned thence, and entered into another tent, and took thence, and went and hid the spoil.

(2Ki 7:9) And one man said to his neighbour, We are not doing well thus: this day is a day of glad tidings, and we hold our peace, and are waiting till the morning light, and shall find mischief: now them come, and let us go into the city, and report to the house of the king.

(2Ki 7:10) So they went and cried toward the gate of the city, and reported to them, saying, We went into the camp of Syria, and, behold, there is not there a man, nor voice of man, only horses tied and asses, and their tents as they were.

(2Ki 7:11) And the porters cried aloud, and reported to the house of the king within.

(2Ki 7:12) And the king rose up by night, and said to his servants, I will now tell you what the Syrians have done to us. They knew that we are hungry; and they have gone forth from the camp and hidden themselves in the field, saying, They will come out of the city, and we shall catch them alive, and go into the city.

(2Ki 7:13) And one of his servants answered and said, Let them now take five of the horses that were left, which were left here; behold, they are the number left to all the multitude of Israel; and we will send thither and see.

(2Ki 7:14) So they took two horsemen; and the king of Israel sent after the king of Syria, saying, Go, and see.

(2Ki 7:15) And they went after them even to Jordan: and, behold, all the way was full of garments and vessels, which the Syrians had cast away in their panic. and the messengers returned, and brought word to the king.

(2Ki 7:16) And the people went out, and plundered the camp of Syria: and a measure of fine flour was sold for a shekel, according to the word of YHVH, and two measures of barley for a shekel.

(2Ki 7:17) And the king appointed the officer on whose hand the king leaned to have charge over the gate: and the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died, as the man of Elohim had said, who spoke when the messenger came down to him.

(2Ki 7:18) So it came to pass as Elisaie had spoken to the king, saying, Two measures of barley shall be sold for a shekel, and a measure of fine flour for a shekel; and it shall be as at this time to-morrow in the gate of Samaria.

(2Ki 7:19) And the officer answered Elisaie, and said, Behold, if YHVH makes flood-gates in heaven, shall this thing be? and Elisaie said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not eat thereof.

(2Ki 7:20) And it was so: for the people trampled on him in the gate, and he died.

(2Ki 8:1) And Elisaie spoke to the woman, whose son he had restored to life, saying, Arise, and go thou and thy house, and sojourn wherever thou mayest sojourn: for YHVH has called for a famine upon the land; indeed it is come upon the land for seven years.

(2Ki 8:2) And the woman arose, and did according to the word of Elisaie, both she and her house; and they sojourned in the land of the Philistines seven years.

(2Ki 8:3) And it came to pass after the expiration of the seven years, that the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines to the city; and came to cry to the king for her house and for her lands.

(2Ki 8:4) And the king spoke to Giezi the servant of Elisaie the man of Elohim, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great things which Elisaie has done.

(2Ki 8:5) And it came to pass, as he was telling the king how he had restored to life the dead son, behold, the woman whose son Elisaie restored to life came crying to the king for her house and for her lands. And Giezi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Elisaie restored to life.

(2Ki 8:6) And the king asked the woman, and she told him: and the king appointed her a eunuch, saying, Restore all that was hers, and all the fruits of the field from the day that she left the land until now.

(2Ki 8:7) And Elisaie came to Damascus; and the king of Syria the son of Ader was ill, and they brought him word, saying, The man of Elohim is come hither.

(2Ki 8:8) And the king said to Azael, Take in thine hand a present, and go to meet the man of Elohim, and enquire of YHVH by him, saying, Shall I recover of this my disease?

(2Ki 8:9) And Azael went to meet him, and he took a present in his hand, and all the good things of Damascus, forty camels' load, and came and stood before him, and said to Elisaie, Thy son the son of Ader, the king of Syria, has sent me to thee to enquire, saying, Shall I recover of this my disease?

(2Ki 8:10) And Elisaie said, Go, say, Thou shalt certainly live; yet YHVH has shewed me that thou shalt surely die.

(2Ki 8:11) And he stood before him, and fixed his countenance till he was ashamed: and the man of Elohim wept.

(2Ki 8:12) And Azael said, Why does my lord weep? And he said, Because I know all the evil that thou wilt do to the children of Israel: thou wilt utterly destroy their strong holds with fire, and thou wilt slay their choice men with the sword, and thou wilt dash their infants against the ground, and their women with child thou wilt rip up.

(2Ki 8:13) And Azael said, Who is thy servant? a dead dog, that he should do this thing? And Elisaie said, YHVH has shewn me thee ruling over Syria.

(2Ki 8:14) And he departed from Elisaie, and went in to his lord; and he said to him, What said Elisaie to thee? and he said, He said to me, Thou shalt surely live.

(2Ki 8:15) And it came to pass on the next day that he took a thick cloth, and dipped it in water, and put it on his face, and he died: and Azael reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 8:16) In the fifth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, and while Josaphat was king of Juda, Joram the son of Josaphat king of Juda began to reign.

(2Ki 8:17) Thirty and two years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

(2Ki 8:18) And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Achaab; for the daughter of Achaab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH.

(2Ki 8:19) But YHVH would not destroy Juda for David his servant's sake, as he said he would give a light to him and to his sons continually.

(2Ki 8:20) In his days Edom revolted from under the hand of Juda, and they made a king over themselves.

(2Ki 8:21) And Joram went up to Sior, and all the chariots that were with him: and it came to pass after he had arisen, that he smote Edom who compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots; and the people fled to their tents.

(2Ki 8:22) Yet Edom revolted from under the hand of Juda till this day. Then Lobna revolted at that time.

(2Ki 8:23) And the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 8:24) So Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of his father David: and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 8:25) In the twelfth year of Joram son of Achaab king of Israel, Ochozias son of Joram began to reign.

(2Ki 8:26) Twenty and two years old was Ochozias when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: and the name of his mother was Gotholia, daughter of Ambri king of Israel.

(2Ki 8:27) And he walked in the way of the house of Achaab, and did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, as did the house of Achaab.

(2Ki 8:28) And he went with Joram the son of Achaab to war against Azael king of the Syrians in Remmoth Galaad; and the Syrians wounded Joram.

(2Ki 8:29) And king Joram returned to be healed in Jezrael of the wounds with which they wounded him in Remmoth, when he fought with Azael king of Syria. And Ochozias son of Joram went down to see Joram the son of Achaab in Jezrael, because he was sick.

(2Ki 9:1) And Elisaie the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him, Gird up thy loins, and take this cruse of oil in thy hand, and go to Remmoth Galaad.

(2Ki 9:2) And thou shalt enter there, and shalt see there Ju the son of Josaphat son of Namessi, and shalt go in and make him rise up from among his brethren, and shalt bring him into a secret chamber.

(2Ki 9:3) And thou shalt take the cruse of oil, and pour it on his head, and say thou, Thus saith YHVH, I have anointed thee king over Israel: and thou shalt open the door, and flee, and not tarry.

(2Ki 9:4) And the young man the prophet went to Remmoth Galaad.

(2Ki 9:5) And he went in, and, behold, the captains of the host were sitting; and he said, I have a message to thee, O captain. And Ju said, To which of all us? And he said, To thee, O captain.

(2Ki 9:6) And he arose, and went into the house: and he poured the oil upon his head, and said to him, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, I have anointed thee to be king over the people of YHVH, even over Israel.

(2Ki 9:7) And thou shalt utterly destroy the house of Achaab thy master from before me, and shalt avenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of YHVH, at the hand of Jezabel, (2Ki 9:8) and at the hand of the whole house of Achaab: and thou shalt utterly cut off from the house of Achaab every male, and him that is shut up and left in Israel.

(2Ki 9:9) And I will make the house of Achaab like the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and as the house of Baasa the son of Achia.

(2Ki 9:10) And the dogs shall eat Jezabel in the portion of Jezreel, and there shall be none to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

(2Ki 9:11) And Ju went forth to the servants of his lord, and they said to him, Is all well? Why came this mad fellow in to thee? And he said to them, Ye know the man, and his communication.

(2Ki 9:12) And they said, It is wrong: tell us now. And Ju said to them, Thus and thus spoke he to me, saying, and he said, Thus saith YHVH, I have anointed thee to be king over Israel.

(2Ki 9:13) And when they heard it, they hasted, and took every man his garment, and put it under him on the top of the stairs, and blew with the trumpet, and said, Ju is king.

(2Ki 9:14) So Ju the son of Josaphat the son of Namessi conspired against Joram, and Joram was defending Remmoth Galaad, he and all Israel, because of Azael king of Syria.

(2Ki 9:15) And king Joram had returned to be healed in Jezrael of the wounds which the Syrians had given him, in his war with Azael king of Syria. And Ju said, If your heart is with me, let there not go forth out of the city one fugitive to go and report to Jezrael.

(2Ki 9:16) And Ju rode and advanced, and came down to Jezrael; for Joram king of Israel was getting healed in Jezrael of the arrow-wounds wherewith the Syrians had wounded him in Rammath in the war with Azael king of Syria; for he was strong and a mighty man: and Ochozias king of Juda was come down to see Joram.

(2Ki 9:17) And there went up a watchman upon the tower of Jezrael, and saw the dust made by Ju as he approached; and he said, I see dust. And Joram said, Take a horseman, and send to meet them, and let him say, Peace.

(2Ki 9:18) And there went a horseman to meet them, and said, Thus says the king, Peace. And Ju said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn behind me. And the watchman reported, saying, The messenger came up to them, and has not returned.

(2Ki 9:19) And he sent another horseman, and he came to him, and said, Thus says the king, Peace. And Ju said, What hast thou to do with peace? turn behind me.

(2Ki 9:20) And the watchman reported, saying, He came up to them, and has not returned: and the driver drives Ju the son of Namessi, for it is with furious haste.

(2Ki 9:21) And Joram said, Make ready. And one made ready the chariot: and Joram the king of Israel went forth, and Ochozias king of Juda, each in his chariot, and they went to meet Ju, and found him in the portion of Nabuthai the Jezraelite.

(2Ki 9:22) And it came to pass when Joram saw Ju, that he said, Is it peace, Ju? And Ju said, How can it be peace? as yet there are the whoredoms of thy mother Jezabel, and her abundant witchcrafts.

(2Ki 9:23) And Joram turned his hands, and fled, and said to Ochozias, Treachery, Ochozias.

(2Ki 9:24) And Ju bent his bow with his full strength, and smote Joram between his arms, and his arrow went out at his heart, and he bowed upon his knees.

(2Ki 9:25) And Ju said to Badecar his chief officer, Cast him into the portion of ground of Nabuthai the Jezraelite, for I and thou remember, riding as we were on chariots after Achaab his father, that YHVH took up this burden against him, saying, (2Ki 9:26) Surely, I have seen yesterday the blood of Nabuthai, and the blood of his sons, saith YHVH; and I will recompense him in this portion, saith YHVH. Now then, I pray thee, take him up and cast him into the portion, according to the word of YHVH.

(2Ki 9:27) And Ochozias king of Juda saw it, and fled by the way of Baethgan. And Ju pursued after him, and said, Slay him also. And one smote him in the chariot at the going up of Gai, which is Jebloom: and he fled to Mageddo, and died there.

(2Ki 9:28) And his servants put him on a chariot, and brought him to Jerusalem, and they buried him in his sepulchre in the city of David.

(2Ki 9:29) And in the eleventh year of Joram king of Israel, Ochozias began to reign over Juda.

(2Ki 9:30) And Ju came to Jezrael; and Jezabel heard of it, and coloured her eyes, and adorned her head, and looked through the window.

(2Ki 9:31) And Ju entered into the city; and she said, Had Zambri, the murderer of his master, peace?

(2Ki 9:32) And he lifted up his face toward the window, and saw her, and said, Who art thou? Come down with me. And two eunuchs looked down towards him.

(2Ki 9:33) And he said, Throw her down. And they threw her down; and some of her blood was sprinkled on the wall, and on the horses: and they trampled on her.

(2Ki 9:34) And Ju went in and ate and drank, and said, Look now, after this cursed woman, and bury her, for she is a king's daughter.

(2Ki 9:35) And they went to bury her; but they found nothing of her but the skull, and the feet, and the palms of her hands.

(2Ki 9:36) And they returned and told him. And he said, It is the word of YHVH, which he spoke by the hand of Eliu the Thesbite, saying, In the portion of Jezrael shall the dogs eat the flesh of Jezabel.

(2Ki 9:37) And the carcass of Jezabel shall be as dung on the face of the field in the portion of Jezrael, so that they shall not say, This is Jezabel.

(2Ki 10:1) And Achaab had seventy sons in Samaria. And Ju wrote a letter, and sent it into Samaria to the rulers of Samaria, and to the elders, and to the guardians of the children of Achaab, saying.

(2Ki 10:2) Now then, as soon as this letter shall have reached you, whereas there are with you the sons of your master, and with you chariots and horses, and strong cities, and arms, (2Ki 10:3) do ye accordingly look out the best and fittest among your master's sons, and set him on the throne of his father, and fight for the house of your master.

(2Ki 10:4) And they feared greatly, and said, Behold, two kings stood not before him: and how shall we stand?

(2Ki 10:5) So they that were over the house, and they that were over the city, and the elders and the guardians, sent to Ju, saying, We also are thy servants, and whatsoever thou shalt say to us we will do; we will not make any man king: we will do that which is right in thine eyes.

(2Ki 10:6) And Ju wrote them a second letter, saying, If ye are for me, and hearken to my voice, take the heads of the men your master's sons, and bring them to me at this time to-morrow in Jezrael. Now the sons of the king were seventy men; these great men of the city brought them up.

(2Ki 10:7) And it came to pass, when the letter came to them, that they took the king's sons, and slew them, even seventy men, and put their heads in baskets, and sent them to him at Jezrael.

(2Ki 10:8) And a messenger came and told him, saying, They have brought the heads of the king's sons. And he said, Lay them in two heaps by the door of the gate until the morning.

(2Ki 10:9) And the morning came, and he went forth, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye are righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: but who slew all these?

(2Ki 10:10) See now that there shall not fall to the ground anything of the word of YHVH which YHVH spoke against the house of Achaab: for YHVH has performed all that he spoke of by the hand of his servant Eliu.

(2Ki 10:11) And Ju smote all that were left of the house of Achaab in Jezrael, and all his great men, and his acquaintance, and his priests, so as not to leave him any remnant.

(2Ki 10:12) And he arose and went to Samaria, and he was in the house of sheep-shearing in the way.

(2Ki 10:13) And Ju found the brethren of Ochozias king of Juda, and said, Who are ye? And they said, We are the brethren of Ochozias, and we have come down to salute the sons of the king, and the sons of the queen.

(2Ki 10:14) And he said, Take them alive. And they slew them at the shearing-house, forty and two men: he left not a man of them.

(2Ki 10:15) And he went thence and found Jonadab the son of Rechab coming to meet him; and he saluted him, and Ju said to him, Is thy heart right with my heart, as my heart is with thy heart? And Jonadab said, It is. And Ju said, If it is then, give me thy hand. And he gave him his hand, and he took him up to him into the chariot.

(2Ki 10:16) And he said to him, Come with me, and see me zealous for YHVH. And he caused him to sit in his chariot.

(2Ki 10:17) And he entered into Samaria, and smote all that were left of Achaab in Samaria, until he had utterly destroyed him, according to the word of YHVH, which he spoke to Eliu.

(2Ki 10:18) And Ju gathered all the people, and said to them, Achaab served Baal a little; Ju shall serve him much.

(2Ki 10:19) Now then do all ye the prophets of Baal call all his servants and his priests to me; let not a man be wanting: for I have a great sacrifice to offer to Baal; every one who shall be missing shall die. But Ju did it in subtilty, that he might destroy the servants of Baal.

(2Ki 10:20) And Ju said, Sanctify a solemn festival to Baal, and they made a proclamation.

(2Ki 10:21) And Ju sent throughout all Israel, saying, Now then let all Baal's servants, and all his priests, and all his prophets come, let none be lacking: for I am going to offer a great sacrifice; whosoever shall be missing, shall not live. So all the servants of Baal came, and all his priests, and all his prophets: there was not one left who came not. And they entered into the house of Baal; and the house of Baal was filled from one end to the other.

(2Ki 10:22) And he said to the man who was over the house of the wardrobe, Bring forth a robe for all the servants of Baal. And the keeper of the robes brought forth to them.

(2Ki 10:23) And Ju and Jonadab the son of Rechab entered into the house of Baal, and said to the servants of Baal, Search, and see whether there is among you any of the servants of YHVH, or only the servants of Baal, by themselves.

(2Ki 10:24) And he went in to offer sacrifices and whole-burnt-offerings; and Ju set for himself eighty men without, and said, Every man who shall escape of the men whom I bring into your hand, the life of him that spares him shall go for his life.

(2Ki 10:25) And it came to pass, when he had finished offering the whole-burnt-offering, that Ju said to the footmen and to the officers, Go ye in and slay them; let not a man of them escape. So they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the footmen and the officers cast the bodies forth, and went to the city of the house of Baal.

(2Ki 10:26) And they brought out the pillar of Baal, and burnt it.

(2Ki 10:27) And they tore down the pillars of Baal, and made his house a draught-house until this day.

(2Ki 10:28) So Ju abolished Baal out of Israel.

(2Ki 10:29) Nevertheless Ju departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin: these were the golden heifers in Baethel and in Dan.

(2Ki 10:30) And YHVH said to Ju, Because of all thy deeds wherein thou hast acted well in doing that which was right in my eyes, according to all things which thou hast done to the house of Achaab as they were in my heart, thy sons to the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel.

(2Ki 10:31) But Ju took no heed to walk in the law of YHVH Elohim of Israel with all his heart: he departed not from following the sins of Jeroboam, who made Israel to sin.

(2Ki 10:32) In those days YHVH began to cut Israel short; and Azael smote them in every coast of Israel;

(2Ki 10:33) from Jordan eastward all the land of Galaad belonging to the Gadites, of Gaddi and that of Ruben, and of Manasses, from Aroer, which is on the brink of the brook of Arnon, and Galaad and Basan.

(2Ki 10:34) And the rest of the acts of Ju, and all that he did, and all his might, and the wars wherein he engaged, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 10:35) And Ju slept with his fathers; and they buried him in Samaria: and Joachaz his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 10:36) And the days which Ju reigned over Israel were twenty-eight years in Samaria.

(2Ki 11:1) And Gotholia the mother of Ochozias saw that her son was dead, and she destroyed all the seed royal.

(2Ki 11:2) And Josabee daughter of king Joram, sister of Ochozias, took Joas the son of her brother, and stole him from among the king's sons that were put to death, secreting him and his nurse in the bedchamber, and hid him from the face of Gotholia, and he was not slain.

(2Ki 11:3) And he remained with her hid in the house of YHVH six years: and Gotholia reigned over the land.

(2Ki 11:4) And in the seventh year Jodae sent and took the captains of hundreds of the Chorri and of the Rhasim, and brought them to him into the house of YHVH, and made a covenant of YHVH with them, and adjured them, and Jodae shewed them the king's son.

(2Ki 11:5) And charged them, saying, This is the thing which ye shall do.

(2Ki 11:6) Let a third part of you go in on the Sabbath-day, and keep ye the watch of the king's house in the porch; and another third in the gate of the high way, and a third at the gate behind the footmen; and keep ye the guard of the house.

(2Ki 11:7) And there shall be two parties among you, even every one that goes out on the Sabbath, and they shall keep the guard of YHVH's house before the king.

(2Ki 11:8) And do ye compass the king about every man with his weapon in his hand, and he that goes into the ranges shall die: and they shall be with the king in his going out and in his coming in.

(2Ki 11:9) And the captains of hundreds did all things that the wise Jodae commanded; and they took each his men, both those that went in on the Sabbath-day, and those that went out on the Sabbath-day, and went in to Jodae the priest.

(2Ki 11:10) And the priest gave to the captains of hundreds the swords and spears of king David that were in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 11:11) And the footmen stood each with his weapon in his hand from the right corner of the house to the left corner of the house, by the altar and the house round about the king.

(2Ki 11:12) And he brought forth the king's son, and put upon him the crown and gave him the testimony; and he made him king, and anointed him: and they clapped their hands, and said, Long live the king.

(2Ki 11:13) And Gotholia heard the sound of the people running, and she went in to the people to the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 11:14) And she looked, and, behold, the king stood near a pillar according to the manner; and the singers and the trumpeters were before the king and all the people of the land even rejoicing and sounding with trumpets: and Gotholia rent her garments, and cried, A conspiracy, a conspiracy.

(2Ki 11:15) And Jodae the priest commanded the captains of hundreds who were over the host, and said to them, Bring her forth without the ranges, and he that goes in after her shall certainly die by the sword. For the priest said, Let her not however be slain in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 11:16) And they laid hands upon her, and went in by the way of the horses' entrance into the house of YHVH, and she was slain there.

(2Ki 11:17) And Jodae made a covenant between YHVH and the king and the people, that they should be YHVH's people; also between the king and the people.

(2Ki 11:18) And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and tore it down, and completely broke in pieces his altars and his images, and they slew Mathan the priest of Baal before the altars. And the priest appointed overseers over the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 11:19) And he took the captains of the hundreds, and the Chorri, and the Rhasim, and all the people of the land, and brought down the king out of the house of YHVH; and they went in by the way of the gate of the footmen of the king's house, and seated him there on the throne of the kings.

(2Ki 11:20) And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was at rest: and they slew Gotholia with the sword in the house of the king.

(2Ki 11:21) Joas was seven years old when he began to reign.

(2Ki 12:1) Joas began to reign in the seventh year of Ju, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Sabia of Bersabee.

(2Ki 12:2) And Joas did that which was right in the sight of YHVH all the days that Jodae the priest instructed him.

(2Ki 12:3) Only there were not any of the high places removed, and the people still sacrificed there, and burned incense on the high places.

(2Ki 12:4) And Joas said to the priests, As for all the money of the holy things that is brought into the house of YHVH, the money of valuation, as each man brings the money of valuation, all the money which any man may feel disposed to bring into the house of YHVH, (2Ki 12:5) let the priests take it to themselves, every man from the proceeds of his sale: and they shall repair the breaches of the house in all places wheresoever a breach shall be found.

(2Ki 12:6) And it came to pass in the twenty-third year of king Joas the priests had not repaired the breaches of the house.

(2Ki 12:7) And king Joas called Jodae the priest, and the other priests, and said to them, Why have ye not repaired the breaches of the house? now then receive no more money from your sales, for ye shall give it to repair the breaches of the house.

(2Ki 12:8) And the priests consented to receive no more money of the people, and not to repair the breaches of the house.

(2Ki 12:9) And Jodae the priest took a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it by the altar in the house of a man belonging to the house of YHVH, and the priests that kept the door put therein all the money that was found in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 12:10) And it came to pass, when they saw that there was much money in the chest, that the king's scribe and the high priest went up, and they tied up and counted the money that was found in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 12:11) And they gave the money that had been collected into the hands of them that wrought the works, the overseers of the house of YHVH; and they gave it out to the carpenters and to the builders that wrought in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 12:12) And to the masons, and to the hewers of stone, to purchase timber and hewn stone to repair the breaches of the house of YHVH, for all that was spent on the house of YHVH to repair it.

(2Ki 12:13) Only there were not to be made for the house of YHVH silver plates, studs, bowls, or trumpets, any vessel of gold or vessel of silver, of the money that was brought into the house of YHVH:

(2Ki 12:14) for they were to give it to the workmen, and they repaired therewith the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 12:15) Also they took no account of the men into whose hands they gave the money to give to the workmen, for they acted faithfully.

(2Ki 12:16) Money for a sin-offering, and money for a trespass-offering, whatever happened to be brought into the house of YHVH, went to the priests.

(2Ki 12:17) Then went up Azael king of Syria, and fought against Geth, and took it: and Azael set his face to go against Jerusalem.

(2Ki 12:18) And Joas king of Juda took all the holy things which Josaphat, and Joram, Ochozias, his fathers, and kings of Juda had consecrated, and what he had himself dedicated, and all the gold that was found in the treasures of YHVH's house and the king's house, and he sent them to Azael king of Syria; and he went up from Jerusalem.

(2Ki 12:19) And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 12:20) And his servants rose up and made a conspiracy, and smote Joas in the house of Mallo that is in Sela.

(2Ki 12:21) And Jezirchar the son of Jemuath, and Jezabuth Somer's son, his servants, smote him, and he died; and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Amessias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 13:1) In the twenty-third year of Joas son of Ochozias king of Juda began Joachaz the son of Ju to reign in Samaria, and he reigned seventeen years.

(2Ki 13:2) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, and walked after the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin; he departed not from them.

(2Ki 13:3) And YHVH was very angry with Israel, and delivered them into the hand of Azael king of Syria, and into the hand of the son of Ader son of Azael, all their days.

(2Ki 13:4) And Joachaz besought YHVH, and YHVH hearkened to him, for he saw the affliction of Israel, because the king of Syria afflicted them.

(2Ki 13:5) And YHVH gave deliverance to Israel, and they escaped from under the hand of Syria: and the children of Israel dwelt in their tents as heretofore.

(2Ki 13:6) Only they departed not from the sins of the house of Jeroboam, who led Israel to sin: they walked in them moreover the grove also remained in Samaria.

(2Ki 13:7) Whereas there was not left any army to Joachaz, except fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand infantry: for the king of Syria had destroyed them, and they made them as dust for trampling.

(2Ki 13:8) And the rest of the acts of Joachaz, and all that he did, and his mighty acts are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 13:9) And Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria: and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 13:10) In the thirty-seventh year of Joas king of Juda, Joas the son of Joachaz began to reign over Israel in Samaria sixteen years.

(2Ki 13:11) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH; he departed not from all the sin of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin: he walked in it.

(2Ki 13:12) And the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, and his mighty acts which he performed together with Amessias king of Juda, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 13:13) And Joas slept with his fathers, and Jeroboam sat upon his throne, and he was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

(2Ki 13:14) Now Elisaie was sick of his sickness, whereof he died: and Joas king of Israel went down to him, and wept over his face, and said, My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the horseman thereof!

(2Ki 13:15) And Elisaie said to him, Take bow and arrows. And he took to himself a bow and arrows.

(2Ki 13:16) And he said to the king, Put thy hand on the bow. And Joas put his hand upon it: and Elisaie put his hands upon the king's hands.

(2Ki 13:17) And he said, Open the window eastward. And he opened it. And Elisaie said, Shoot. And he shot. And Elisaie said, The arrow of YHVH's deliverance, and the arrow of deliverance from Syria; and thou shalt smite the Syrians in Aphec until thou have consumed them.

(2Ki 13:18) And Elisaie said to him, Take bow and arrows. And he took them. And he said to the king of Israel, Smite upon the ground. And the king smote three times, and stayed.

(2Ki 13:19) And the man of Elohim was grieved at him, and said, If thou hadst smitten five or six times, then thou shouldest have smitten Syria till thou hadst consumed them; but now thou shalt smite Syria only thrice.

(2Ki 13:20) And Elisaie died, and they buried him. And the bands of the Moabites came into the land, at the beginning of the year.

(2Ki 13:21) And it came to pass as they were burying a man, that behold, they saw a band of men, and they cast the man into the grave of Elisaie: and as soon as he touched the bones of Elisaie, he revived and stood up on his feet.

(2Ki 13:22) And Azael greatly afflicted Israel all the days of Joachaz.

(2Ki 13:23) And YHVH had mercy and compassion upon them, and had respect to them because of his covenant with Abraam, and Isaac, and Jacob; and YHVH would not destroy them, and did not cast them out from his presence.

(2Ki 13:24) And Azael king of Syria died, and the son of Ader his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 13:25) And Joas the son of Joachaz returned, and took the cities out of the hand of the son of Ader the son of Azael, which he had taken out of the hand of Joachaz his father in the war: thrice did Joas smite him, and he recovered the cities of Israel.

(2Ki 14:1) In the second year of Joas the son of Joachaz king of Israel, did Amessias also the son of Joas the king of Juda begin to reign.

(2Ki 14:2) Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Joadim of Jerusalem.

(2Ki 14:3) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, but not as David his father: he did according to all things that his father Joas did.

(2Ki 14:4) Only he removed not the high places: as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

(2Ki 14:5) And it came to pass when the kingdom was established in his hand, that he slew his servants that had slain the king his father.

(2Ki 14:6) But he slew not the sons of those that had slain him; according as it is written in the book of the laws of Moses, as YHVH gave commandment, saying, The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, and the children shall not be put to death for the fathers; but every one shall die for his own sins.

(2Ki 14:7) He smote of Edom ten thousand in the valley of salt, and took the Rock in the war, and called its name Jethoel until this day.

(2Ki 14:8) Then Amessias sent messengers to Joas son of Joachaz son of Ju king of Israel, saying, Come, let us look one another in the face.

(2Ki 14:9) And Joas the king of Israel sent to Amessias king of Juda, saying, The thistle that was in Libanus sent to the cedar that was in Libanus, saying, Give my daughter to thy son to wife: and the wild beasts of the field that were in Libanus passed by and trod down the thistle.

(2Ki 14:10) Thou hast smitten and wounded Edom, and thy heart has lifted thee up: stay at home and glorify thyself; for wherefore art thou quarrelsome to thy hurt? So both thou wilt fall and Juda with thee.

(2Ki 14:11) Nevertheless Amessias hearkened not: so Joas king of Israel went up, and he and Amessias king of Juda looked one another in the face in Baethsamys of Juda.

(2Ki 14:12) And Juda was overthrown before Israel, and every man fled to his tent.

(2Ki 14:13) And Joas king of Israel took Amessias the son of Joas the son of Ochozias, in Baethsamys; and he came to Jerusalem, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, beginning at the gate of Ephraim as far as the gate of the corner, four hundred cubits.

(2Ki 14:14) And he took the gold, and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of YHVH, and in the treasures of the king's house, and the hostages, and returned to Samaria.

(2Ki 14:15) And the rest of the acts of Joas, even all that he did in his might, how he warred with Amessias king of Juda, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 14:16) And Joas slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel; and Jeroboam his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 14:17) And Amessias the son of Joas king of Juda lived after the death of Joas son of Joachaz king of Israel fifteen years.

(2Ki 14:18) And the rest of the acts of Amessias, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 14:19) And they formed a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem, and he fled to Lachis: and they sent after him to Lachis, and slew him there.

(2Ki 14:20) And they brought him upon horses; and he was buried in Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David.

(2Ki 14:21) And all the people of Juda took Azarias, and he was sixteen years old, and made him king in the room of his father Amessias.

(2Ki 14:22) He built Æloth, and restored it to Juda, after the king slept with his fathers.

(2Ki 14:23) In the fifteenth year of Amessias son of Joas king of Juda began Jeroboam son of Joas to reign over Israel in Samaria forty and one years.

(2Ki 14:24) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

(2Ki 14:25) He recovered the coast of Israel from the entering in of Æmath to the sea of Araba, according to the word of YHVH Elohim of Israel, which he spoke by his servant Jonas the son of Amathi, the prophet of Gethchopher.

(2Ki 14:26) For YHVH saw that the affliction of Israel was very bitter, and that they were few in number, straitened and in want, and destitute, and Israel had no helper.

(2Ki 14:27) And YHVH said that he would not blot out the seed of Israel from under heaven; so he delivered them by the hand of Jeroboam the son of Joas.

(2Ki 14:28) And the rest of the acts of Jeroboam and all that he did, and his mighty deeds, which he achieved in war, and how he recovered Damascus and Æmath to Juda in Israel, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 14:29) And Jeroboam slept with his fathers, even with the kings of Israel; and Zacharias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 15:1) In the twenty-seventh year of Jeroboam king of Israel Azarias the son of Amessias king of Juda began to reign.

(2Ki 15:2) Sixteen years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jechelia of Jerusalem.

(2Ki 15:3) And he did that which was right in the eyes of YHVH, according to all things that Amessias his father did.

(2Ki 15:4) Only he took not away any of the high places: as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places.

(2Ki 15:5) And YHVH plagued the king, and he was leprous till the day of his death; and he reigned in a separate house. And Joatham the king's son was over the household, judging the people of the land.

(2Ki 15:6) And the rest of the acts of Azarias, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 15:7) And Azarias slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David: and Joatham his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 15:8) In the thirty and eighth year of Azarias king of Juda Zacharias the son of Jeroboam began to reign over Israel in Samaria six months.

(2Ki 15:9) And he did that which was evil in the eyes of YHVH, as his fathers had done: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin.

(2Ki 15:10) And Sellum the son of Jabis and others conspired against him, and they smote him in Keblaam, and slew him, and he reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 15:11) And the rest of the acts of Zacharias, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

(2Ki 15:12) This was the word of YHVH which he spoke to Ju, saying, Thy sons of the fourth generation shall sit upon the throne of Israel: and it was so.

(2Ki 15:13) And Sellum the son of Jabis reigned: and in the thirty and ninth year of Azarias king of Juda began Sellum to reign a full month in Samaria.

(2Ki 15:14) And Manaem the son of Gaddi went up out of Tharsila, and came to Samaria, and smote Sellum the son of Jabis in Samaria, and slew him.

(2Ki 15:15) And the rest of the acts of Sellum, and his conspiracy wherein he was engaged, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

(2Ki 15:16) Then Manaem smote both Thersa and all that was in it, and its borders extending beyond Thersa, because they opened not to him: and he smote it, and ripped up the women with child.

(2Ki 15:17) In the thirty and ninth year of Azarias king of Juda began Manaem the son of Gaddi to reign over Israel in Samaria ten years.

(2Ki 15:18) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

(2Ki 15:19) In his days went up Phua king of the Assyrians against the land: and Manaem gave to Phua a thousand talents of silver to aid him with his power.

(2Ki 15:20) And Manaem raised the silver by a tax upon Israel, even on every mighty man in wealth, to give to the king of the Assyrians, fifty shekels levied on each man; and the king of the Assyrians departed, and remained not there in the land.

(2Ki 15:21) And the rest of the acts of Manaem, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel?

(2Ki 15:22) And Manaem slept with his fathers; and Phakesias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 15:23) In the fiftieth year of Azarias king of Juda, began Phakesias the son of Manaem to reign over Israel in Samaria two years.

(2Ki 15:24) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH: he departed not from the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin.

(2Ki 15:25) And Phakee the son of Romelias, his officer, conspired against him, and smote him in Samaria in the front of the king's house, with Argob and Aria, and with him there were fifty men of the four hundred: and he slew him, and reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 15:26) And the rest of the acts of Phakesias, and all that he did, behold, they are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

(2Ki 15:27) In the fifty-second year of Azarias king of Juda began Phakee the son of Romelias to reign over Israel in Samaria twenty years.

(2Ki 15:28) And he did that which was evil in the eyes of YHVH: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who led Israel to sin.

(2Ki 15:29) In the days of Phakee king of Israel came Thalgath-phellasar king of the Assyrians, and took Ain, and Abel, and Thamaacha, and Anioch, and Kenez, and Asor, and Galaa, and Galilee, even all the land of Nephthali, and carried them away to the Assyrians.

(2Ki 15:30) And Osee son of Ela formed a conspiracy against Phakee the son of Romelias, and smote him, and slew him, and reigned in his stead, in the twentieth year of Joatham the son of Azarias.

(2Ki 15:31) And the rest of the acts of Phakee, and all that he did, behold, these are written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Israel.

(2Ki 15:32) In the second year of Phakee son of Romelias king of Israel began Joatham the son of Azarias king of Juda to reign.

(2Ki 15:33) Twenty and five years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jerusa daughter of Sadoc.

(2Ki 15:34) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, according to all things that his father Azarias did.

(2Ki 15:35) Nevertheless he took not away the high places: as yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places. He built the upper gate of YHVH's house.

(2Ki 15:36) And the rest of the acts of Joatham, and all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 15:37) In those days YHVH began to send forth against Juda Raasson king of Syria, and Phakee son of Romelias.

(2Ki 15:38) And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of David his father: and Achaz his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 16:1) In the seventeenth year of Phakee son of Romelias began Achaz the son of Joatham king of Juda to reign.

(2Ki 16:2) Twenty years old was Achaz when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem; and he did not that which was right in the eyes of YHVH his Elohim faithfully, as David his father had done.

(2Ki 16:3) And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea, he made his son to pass through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen whom YHVH cast out from before the children of Israel.

(2Ki 16:4) And he sacrificed and burnt incense on the high places, and upon the hills, and under every shady tree.

(2Ki 16:5) Then went up Raasson king of Syria and Phakee son of Romelias king of Israel against Jerusalem to war, and besieged Achaz, but could not prevail against him.

(2Ki 16:6) At that time Raasson king of Syria recovered Ælath to Syria, and drove out the Jews from Ælath, and the Idumeans came to Ælath, and dwelt there until this day.

(2Ki 16:7) And Achaz sent messengers to Thalgath-phellasar king of the Assyrians, saying, I am thy servant and thy son: come up, deliver me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Israel, who are rising up against me.

(2Ki 16:8) And Achaz took the silver and the gold that was found in the treasures of the house of YHVH, and of the king's house, and sent gifts to the king.

(2Ki 16:9) And the king of the Assyrians hearkened to him: and the king of the Assyrians went up to Damascus and took it, and removed the inhabitants, and slew king Raasson.

(2Ki 16:10) And king Achaz went to Damascus to meet Thalgath-phellasar king of the Assyrians at Damascus; and he saw an altar at Damascus. And king Achaz sent to Urias the priest the pattern of the altar, and its proportions, and all its workmanship.

(2Ki 16:11) And Urias the priest built the altar, according to all the directions which king Achaz sent from Damascus.

(2Ki 16:12) And the king saw the altar, and went up to it,

(2Ki 16:13) and offered his whole-burnt-offering, and his meat-offering, and his drink-offering, and poured out the blood of his peace-offerings on the brazen altar that was before YHVH.

(2Ki 16:14) And he brought forward the one before the house of YHVH from between the altar and the house of YHVH, and he set it openly by the side of the altar northwards.

(2Ki 16:15) And king Achaz charged Urias the priest, saying, Offer upon the great altar the whole-burnt-offering in the morning and the meat-offering in the evening, and the whole-burnt-offering of the king, and his meat-offering, and the whole-burnt-offering of all the people, and their meat-offering, and their drink-offering; and thou shalt pour all the blood of the whole-burnt-offering, and all the blood of any other sacrifice upon it: and the brazen altar shall be for me in the morning.

(2Ki 16:16) And Urias the priest did according to all that king Achaz commanded him.

(2Ki 16:17) And king Achaz cut off the borders of the bases, and removed the laver from off them, and took down the sea from the brazen oxen that were under it, and set it upon a base of stone.

(2Ki 16:18) And he made a base for the throne in the house of YHVH, and he turned the king's entrance without in the house of YHVH because of the king of the Assyrians.

(2Ki 16:19) And the rest of the acts of Achaz, even all that he did, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 16:20) And Achaz slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Ezekias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 17:1) In the twelfth year of Achaz king of Juda began Osee the son of Ela to reign in Samaria over Israel nine years.

(2Ki 17:2) And he did evil in the eyes of YHVH, only not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

(2Ki 17:3) Against him came up Salamanassar king of the Assyrians; and Osee became his servant, and rendered him tribute.

(2Ki 17:4) And the king of the Assyrians found iniquity in Osee, in that he sent messengers to Segor king of Egypt, and brought not a tribute to the king of the Assyrians in that year: and the king of the Assyrians besieged him, and bound him in the prison-house.

(2Ki 17:5) And the king of the Assyrians went up against all the land, and went up to Samaria, and besieged it for three years.

(2Ki 17:6) In the ninth year of Osee the king of the Assyrians took Samaria, and carried Israel away to the Assyrians, and settled them in Alae, and in Abor, near the rivers of Gozan, and in the mountains of the Medes.

(2Ki 17:7) For it came to pass that the children of Israel had transgressed against YHVH their Elohim, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt, from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and they feared other gods,

(2Ki 17:8) and walked in the statutes of the nations which YHVH cast out before the face of the children of Israel, and of the kings of Israel as many as did such things,

(2Ki 17:9) and in those of the children of Israel as many as secretly practised customs, not as they should have done, against YHVH their Elohim:

(2Ki 17:10) and they built for themselves high places in all their cities, from the tower of the watchmen to the fortified city. And they made for themselves pillars and groves on every high hill, and under every shady tree.

(2Ki 17:11) And burned incense there on all high places, as the nations did whom YHVH removed from before them, and dealt with familiar spirits, and they carved images to provoke YHVH to anger.

(2Ki 17:12) And they served the idols, of which YHVH said to them, Ye shall not do this thing against YHVH.

(2Ki 17:13) And YHVH testified against Israel and against Juda, even by the hand of all his prophets, and of every seer, saying, Turn ye from your evil ways, and keep my commandments and my ordinances, and all the law which I commanded your fathers, and all that I sent to them by the hand of my servants the prophets.

(2Ki 17:14) But they hearkened not, and made their neck harder than the neck of their fathers.

(2Ki 17:15) And they kept not any of his testimonies which he charged them; and they walked after vanities, and became vain, and after the nations round about them, concerning which YHVH had charged them not to do accordingly.

(2Ki 17:16) They forsook the commandments of YHVH their Elohim, and made themselves graven images, even two heifers, and they made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served Baal.

(2Ki 17:17) And they caused their sons and their daughters to pass through the fire, and used divinations and auspices, and sold themselves to work wickedness in the sight of YHVH, to provoke him.

(2Ki 17:18) And YHVH was very angry with Israel, and removed them out of his sight; and there was only left the tribe of Juda quite alone.

(2Ki 17:19) Nay even Juda kept not the commandments of YHVH their Elohim, but they walked according to the customs of Israel which they practised, and rejected YHVH.

(2Ki 17:21) Forasmuch as Israel revolted from the house of David, and they made Jeroboam the son of Nabat king: and Jeroboam drew off Israel from following YHVH, and led them to sin a great sin.

(2Ki 17:22) And the children of Israel walked in all the sin of Jeroboam which he committed; they departed not from it, (2Ki 17:23) until YHVH removed Israel from his presence, as YHVH spoke by all his servants the prophets; and Israel was removed from off their land to the Assyrians until this day.

(2Ki 17:24) And the king of Assyria brought from Babylon the men of Chutha, and men from Aia, and from Æmath, and Seppharvaim, and they were settled in the cities of Samaria in the place of the children of Israel: and they inherited Samaria, and were settled in its cities.

(2Ki 17:25) And it was so at the beginning of their establishment there that they feared not YHVH, and YHVH sent lions among them, and they slew some of them.

(2Ki 17:26) And they spoke to the king of the Assyrians, saying, The nations whom thou hast removed and substituted in the cities of Samaria for the Israelites, know not the manner of the Elohim of the land: and he has sent the lions against them, and, behold, they are slaying them, because they know not the manner of the Elohim of the land.

(2Ki 17:27) And the king of the Assyrians commanded, saying, Bring some Israelites thence, and let them go and dwell there, and they shall teach them the manner of the Elohim of the land.

(2Ki 17:28) And they brought one of the priests whom they had removed from Samaria, and he settled in Baethel, and taught them how they should fear YHVH.

(2Ki 17:29) But the nations made each their own gods, and put them in the house of the high places which the Samaritans had made, each nation in the cities in which they dwelt.

(2Ki 17:30) And the men of Babylon made Socchoth Benith, and the men of Chuth made Ergel, and the men of Haemath made Asimath.

(2Ki 17:31) And the Evites made Eblazer and Tharthac, and the inhabitant of Seppharvaim did evil when they burnt their sons in the fire to Adramelech and Anemelech, the gods of Seppharvaim.

(2Ki 17:32) And they feared YHVH, yet they established their abominations in the houses of the high places which they made in Samaria, each nation in the city in which they dwelt: and they feared YHVH, and they made for themselves priests of the high places, and sacrificed for themselves in the house of the high places.

(2Ki 17:33) And they feared YHVH, and served their gods according to the manner of the nations, whence their lords brought them.

(2Ki 17:34) Until this day they did according to their manner: they fear YHVH, and they do according to their customs, and according to their manner, and according to the law, and according to the commandment which YHVH commanded the sons of Jacob, whose name he made Israel.

(2Ki 17:35) And YHVH made a covenant with them, and charged them, saying, Ye shall not fear other gods, neither shall ye worship them, nor serve them, nor sacrifice to them:

(2Ki 17:36) but only to YHVH, who brought you up out of the land of Egypt with great strength and with a high arm: him shall ye fear, and him shall ye worship; to him shall ye sacrifice.

(2Ki 17:37) Ye shall observe continually the ordinances, and the judgments, and the law, and the commandments which he wrote for you to do; and ye shall not fear other gods.

(2Ki 17:38) Neither shall ye forget the covenant which he made with you: and ye shall not fear other gods.

(2Ki 17:39) But ye shall fear YHVH your Elohim, and he shall deliver you from all your enemies.

(2Ki 17:40) Neither shall ye comply with their practice, which they follow.

(2Ki 17:41) So these nations feared YHVH, and served their graven images: yea, their sons and their son's sons do until this day even as their fathers did.

(2Ki 18:1) And it came to pass in the third year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel that Ezekias son of Achaz king of Juda began to reign.

(2Ki 18:2) Five and twenty years old was he when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty and nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Abu, daughter of Zacharias.

(2Ki 18:3) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his father David did.

(2Ki 18:4) He removed the high places, and broke in pieces the pillars, and utterly destroyed the groves, and the brazen serpent which Moses made: because until those days the children of Israel burnt incense to it: and he called it Neesthan.

(2Ki 18:5) He trusted in YHVH Elohim of Israel; and after him there was not any like him among the kings of Juda, nor among those that were before him.

(2Ki 18:6) And he clave to YHVH, he departed not from following him; and he kept his commandments, as many as he commanded Moses.

(2Ki 18:7) And YHVH was with him; and he was wise in all that he undertook:

and he revolted from the king of the Assyrians, and served him not.

(2Ki 18:8) He smote the Philistines even to Gaza, and to the border of it, from the tower of the watchmen even to the strong city.

(2Ki 18:9) And it came to pass in the fourth year of King Ezekias (this is the seventh year of Osee son of Ela king of Israel,) that Salamanassar king of the Assyrians came up against Samaria, and besieged it.

(2Ki 18:10) And he took it at the end of three years, in the sixth year of Ezekias, (this is the ninth year of Osee king of Israel, when Samaria was taken.)

(2Ki 18:11) And the king of the Assyrians carried away the Samaritans to Assyria, and put them in Alae and in Abor, by the river Gozan, and in the mountains of the Medes;

(2Ki 18:12) because they hearkened not to the voice of YHVH their Elohim, and transgressed his covenant, even in all things that Moses the servant of YHVH commanded, and hearkened not to them, nor did them.

(2Ki 18:13) And in the fourteenth year of king Ezekias came up Sennacherim king of the Assyrians against the strong cities of Juda, and took them.

(2Ki 18:14) And Ezekias king of Juda sent messengers to the king of the Assyrians to Lachis, saying, I have offended; depart from me: whatsoever thou shalt lay upon me, I will bear. And the king of Assyria laid upon Ezekias king of Juda a tribute of three hundred talents of silver, and thirty talents of gold.

(2Ki 18:15) And Ezekias gave all the silver that was found in the house of YHVH, and in the treasures of the king's house.

(2Ki 18:16) At that time Ezekias cut off the gold from the doors of the temple, and from the pillars which Ezekias king of Juda had overlaid with gold, and gave it to the king of the Assyrians.

(2Ki 18:17) And the king of the Assyrians sent Tharthan and Raphis and Rapsakes from Lachis to king Ezekias with a strong force against Jerusalem. And they went up and came to Jerusalem, and stood by the aqueduct of the upper pool, which is by the way of the fuller's field.

(2Ki 18:18) And they cried to Ezekias: and there came to him Heliakim the son of Chelcias the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and Joas the son of Saphat the recorder.

(2Ki 18:19) And Rapsakes said to them, Say now to Ezekias, Thus says the king, the great king of the Assyrians, What is this confidence wherein thou trustest?

(2Ki 18:20) Thou hast said, (but they are mere words,) I have counsel and strength for war. Now then in whom dost thou trust, that thou hast revolted from me?

(2Ki 18:21) See now, art thou trusting for thyself on this broken staff of reed, even upon Egypt? whosoever shall stay himself upon it, it shall even go into his hand, and pierce it: so is Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that trust on him.

(2Ki 18:22) And whereas thou hast said to me, We trust on YHVH Elohim: is not this he, whose high places and altars Ezekias has removed, and has said to Juda and Jerusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Jerusalem?

(2Ki 18:23) And now, I pray you, make an agreement with my lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will give thee two thousand horses, if thou shalt be able on thy part to set riders upon them.

(2Ki 18:24) How then wilt thou turn away the face of one petty governor, from among the least of my lord's servants? whereas thou trustest for thyself on Egypt for chariots and horsemen.

(2Ki 18:25) And now have we come up without YHVH against this place to destroy it? YHVH said to me, Go up against this land, and destroy it.

(2Ki 18:26) And Heliakim the son of Chelkias, and Somnas, and Joas, said to Rapsakes, Speak now to thy servants in the Syrian language, for we understand it; and speak not with us in the Jewish language: and why dost thou speak in the ears of the people that are on the wall?

(2Ki 18:27) And Rapsakes said to them, Has my master sent me to thy master, and to thee, to speak these words? has he not sent me to the men who sit on the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own water together with you.

(2Ki 18:28) And Rapsakes stood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jewish language, and spoke, and said, Hear the words of the great king of the Assyrians:

(2Ki 18:29) thus says the king, Let not Ezekias encourage you with words: for he shall not be able to deliver you out of his hand.

(2Ki 18:30) And let not Ezekias cause you to trust on YHVH, saying, YHVH will certainly deliver us; this city shall not be delivered into the hand of the king of the Assyrians: hearken not to Ezekias:

(2Ki 18:31) for thus says the king of the Assyrians, Gain my favour, and come forth to me, and every man shall drink of the wine of his own vine, and every man shall eat of his own fig-tree, and shall drink water out of his own cistern;

(2Ki 18:32) until I come and remove you to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, and bread and vineyards, a land of olive oil, and honey, and ye shall live and not die: and do not ye hearken to Ezekias, for he deceives you, saying, YHVH shall deliver you.

(2Ki 18:33) Have the Elohim of the nations at all delivered each their own land out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians?

(2Ki 18:34) Where is the god of Haemath, and of Arphad? where is the god of Sepharvaim, Ana, and Aba? for have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

(2Ki 18:35) Who is there among all the gods of the countries, who have delivered their countries out of my hand, that YHVH should deliver Jerusalem out of my hand?

(2Ki 18:36) But the men were silent, and answered him not a word: for there was a commandment of the king, saying, Ye shall not answer him.

(2Ki 18:37) And Heliakim the son of Chelcias, the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and Joas the son of Saphat the recorder came in to Ezekias, having rent their garments; and they reported to him the words of Rapsakes.

(2Ki 19:1) And it came to pass when king Ezekias heard it, that he rent his clothes, and put on sackcloth, and went into the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 19:2) And he sent Heliakim the steward, and Somnas the scribe, and the elders of the priests, clothed with sackcloth, to Esaias the prophet the son of Amos.

(2Ki 19:3) And they said to him, Thus says Ezekias, This day is a day of tribulation, and rebuke, and provocation: for the children are come to the travail-pangs, but the mother has no strength.

(2Ki 19:4) Peradventure YHVH thy Elohim will hear all the words of Rapsakes, whom the king of Assyria his master has sent to reproach the living Elohim and to revile him with the words which YHVH thy Elohim has heard: and thou shalt offer thy prayer for the remnant that is found.

(2Ki 19:5) So the servants of king Ezekias came to Esaias.

(2Ki 19:6) And Esaias said to them, Thus shall ye say to your master, Thus saith YHVH, Be not afraid of the words which thou hast heard, wherewith the servants of the king of the Assyrians have blasphemed.

(2Ki 19:7) Behold, I send a blast upon him, and he shall hear a report, and shall return to his own land; and I will overthrow him with the sword in his own land.

(2Ki 19:8) So Rapsakes returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against Lobna: for he heard that he had departed from Lachis.

(2Ki 19:9) And he heard concerning Tharaca king of the Ethiopians, saying, Behold, he is come forth to fight with thee: and he returned, and sent messengers to Ezekias, saying, (2Ki 19:10) Let not thy Elohim on whom thou trustest encourage thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be delivered into the hands of the king of the Assyrians.

(2Ki 19:11) Behold, thou hast heard all that the kings of the Assyrians have done in all the lands, to waste them utterly: and shalt thou be delivered?

(2Ki 19:12) Have the gods of the nations at all delivered them, whom my fathers destroyed; both Gozan, and Charran, and Raphis, and the sons of Edem who were in Thaesthen?

(2Ki 19:13) Where is the king of Haemath, and the king of Arphad? and where is the king of the city of Seppharvaim, of Ana, and Aba?

(2Ki 19:14) And Ezekias took the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and he went up to the house of YHVH, and he spread it before YHVH, (2Ki 19:15) and said, YHVH Elohim of Israel that dwellest over the cherubs, thou art the only god in all the kingdoms of the earth; thou hast made heaven and earth.

(2Ki 19:16) Incline thine ear, YHVH, and hear: open, Lord, thine eyes, and see: and hear the words of Sennacherim, which he has sent to reproach the living Elohim.

(2Ki 19:17) For truly, Lord, the kings of Assyria have wasted the nations, (2Ki 19:18) and have cast their gods into the fire: because they are no gods, but the works of men's hands, wood and stone; and they have destroyed them.

(2Ki 19:19) And now, YHVH our Elohim, deliver us out of his hand, and all the kingdoms of the earth shall know that thou alone art YHVH Elohim.

(2Ki 19:20) And Esaias the son of Amos sent to Ezekias, saying, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of hosts, the Elohim of Israel, I have heard thy prayer to me concerning Sennacherim king of the Assyrians.

(2Ki 19:21) This is the word which YHVH has spoken against him; The virgin daughter of Sion has made light of thee, and mocked thee; the daughter of Jerusalem has shaken her head at thee.

(2Ki 19:22) Whom hast thou reproached, and whom hast thou reviled? and against whom hast thou lifted up thy voice, and raised thine eyes on high? Is it against the Holy One of Israel?

(2Ki 19:23) By thy messengers thou hast reproached YHVH, and hast said, I will go up with the multitude of my chariots, to the height of the mountains, to the sides of Libanus, and I have cut down the height of his cedar, and his choice cypresses; and I have come into the midst of the forest and of Carmel.

(2Ki 19:24) I have refreshed myself, and have drunk strange waters, and I have dried up with the sole of my foot all the rivers of fortified places.

(2Ki 19:25) I have brought about the matter, I have brought it to a conclusion; and it is come to the destruction of the bands of warlike prisoners, even of strong cities.

(2Ki 19:26) And they that dwelt in them were weak in hand, they quaked and were confounded, they became as grass of the field, or as the green herb, the grass growing on houses, and that which is trodden down by him that stands upon it.

(2Ki 19:27) But I know thy down-sitting, and thy going forth, and thy rage against me.

(2Ki 19:28) Because thou was angry against me, and thy fierceness is come up into my ears, therefore will I put my hooks in thy nostrils, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou camest.

(2Ki 19:29) And this shall be a sign to thee; eat this year the things that grow of themselves, and in the second year the things which spring up: and in the third year let there be sowing, and reaping, and planting of vineyards, and eat ye the fruit of them.

(2Ki 19:30) And he shall increase him that has escaped of the house of Juda: and the remnant shall strike root beneath, and it shall produce fruit above.

(2Ki 19:31) For from Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and he that escapes from the mountain of Sion: the zeal of YHVH of host shall do this.

(2Ki 19:32) Is it not so? Thus saith YHVH concerning the king of the Assyrians, He shall not enter into this city, and he shall not shoot an arrow there, neither shall a shield come against it, neither shall he heap a mound against it.

(2Ki 19:33) By the way by which he comes, by it shall he return, and he shall not enter into this city, saith YHVH.

(2Ki 19:34) And I will defend this city as with a shield, for my own sake, and for my servant David's sake.

(2Ki 19:35) And it came to pass at night that the angel of YHVH went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and eighty-five thousand: and they rose early in the morning, and, behold, these were all dead corpses.

(2Ki 19:36) And Sennacherim king of the Assyrians departed, and went and returned, and dwelt in Nineve.

(2Ki 19:37) And it came to pass, while he was worshipping in the house of Meserach his god, that Adramelech and Sarasar his sons smote him with the sword: and they escaped into the land of Ararath; and Asordan his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 20:1) In those days was Ezekias sick even to death. And the prophet Esaias the son of Amos came in to him, and said to him, Thus saith YHVH, Give charge to thy household; for thou shalt die, and not live.

(2Ki 20:2) And Ezekias turned to the wall, and prayed to YHVH, saying, (2Ki 20:3) Lord, remember, I pray thee, how I have walked before thee in truth and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thine eyes. And Ezekias wept with a great weeping.

(2Ki 20:4) And Esaias was in the middle court, and the word of YHVH came to him, saying,

(2Ki 20:5) Turn back, and thou shalt say to Ezekias the ruler of my people, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of thy father David, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will heal thee: on the third day thou shalt go up to the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 20:6) And I will add to thy days fifteen years; and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians, and I will defend this city for my own sake, and for my servant's David sake.

(2Ki 20:7) And he said, Let them take a cake of figs, and lay it upon the ulcer, and he shall be well.

(2Ki 20:8) And Ezekias said to Esaias, What is the sign that YHVH will heal me, and I shall go up to the house of YHVH on the third day?

(2Ki 20:9) And Esaias said, This is the sign from YHVH, that YHVH will perform the word which he has spoken, the shadow of the dial shall advance ten degrees: or if it should go back ten degrees this would also be the sign.

(2Ki 20:10) And Ezekias said, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the shadow return ten degrees backward on the dial.

(2Ki 20:11) And Esaias the prophet cried to YHVH: and the shadow returned back ten degrees on the dial.

(2Ki 20:12) At that time Marodach Baladan, son of Baladan king of Babylon, sent letters and a present to Ezekias, because he had heard that Ezekias was sick.

(2Ki 20:13) And Ezekias rejoiced at them, and shewed all the house of his spices, the silver and the gold, the spices, and the fine oil, and the armory, and all that was found in his treasures: there was nothing which Ezekias did not shew them in his house, and in all his dominion.

(2Ki 20:14) And Esaias the prophet went in to king Ezekias, and said to him, What said these men? and whence came they to thee? And Ezekias said, they came to me from a distant land, even from Babylon.

(2Ki 20:15) And he said, What saw they in thy house? And he said, They saw all things that are in my house: there was nothing in my house which I shewed not to them; yea, all that was in my treasures also.

(2Ki 20:16) And Esaias said to Ezekias, Hear the word of YHVH:

(2Ki 20:17) Behold, the days come, that all things that are in thy house shall be taken, and all that thy fathers have treasured up until this day, to Babylon; and there shall not fail a word, which YHVH has spoken.

(2Ki 20:18) And as for thy sons which shall come forth of thee, which thou shalt beget, the enemy shall take them, and they shall be eunuchs in the house of the king of Babylon.

(2Ki 20:19) And Ezekias said to Esaias, Good is the word of YHVH which he has spoken: only let there be peace in my days.

(2Ki 20:20) And the rest of the acts of Ezekias, and all his might, and all that he made, the fountain and the aqueduct, and how he brought water into the city, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 20:21) And Ezekias slept with his fathers: and Manasses his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 21:1) Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Apsiba.

(2Ki 21:2) And he did that which was evil in the eyes of YHVH, according to the abominations of the nations which YHVH cast out from before the children of Israel.

(2Ki 21:3) And he built again the high places, which Ezekias his father had demolished; and set up an altar to Baal, and made groves as Achaab king of Israel made them; and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

(2Ki 21:4) And he built an altar in the house of YHVH, whereas he had said, In Jerusalem I will place my name.

(2Ki 21:5) And he built an altar to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 21:6) And he caused his sons to pass through the fire, and used divination and auspices, and made groves, and multiplied wizards, so as to do that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, to provoke him to anger.

(2Ki 21:7) And he set up the graven image of the grove in the house of which YHVH said to David, and to Solomon his son, In this house, and in Jerusalem which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, will I even place my name for ever.

(2Ki 21:8) And I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, even of those who shall keep all that I commanded, according to all the commandments which my servant Moses commanded them.

(2Ki 21:9) But they hearkened not; and Manasses led them astray to do evil in the sight of YHVH, beyond the nations whom YHVH utterly destroyed from before the children of Israel.

(2Ki 21:10) And YHVH spoke by his servants the prophets, saying,

(2Ki 21:11) Forasmuch as Manasses the king of Juda has wrought all these evil abominations, beyond all that the Amorite did, who lived before him, and has led Juda also into sin by their idols, (2Ki 21:12) it shall not be so. Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, Behold, I bring calamities upon Jerusalem and Juda, so that both the ears of every one that hears shall tingle.

(2Ki 21:13) And I will stretch out over Jerusalem the measure of Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achaab: and I will wipe Jerusalem as a jar is wiped, and turned upside down in the wiping.

(2Ki 21:14) And I will reject the remnant of my inheritance, and will deliver them into the hands of their enemies; and they shall be for a plunder and for a spoil to all their enemies:

(2Ki 21:15) forasmuch as they have done wickedly in my sight, and have provoked me from the day that I brought out their fathers out of Egypt, even until this day.

(2Ki 21:16) Moreover Manasses shed very much innocent blood, until he filled Jerusalem with it from one end to the other, beside his sins with which he caused Juda to sin, in doing evil in the eyes of YHVH.

(2Ki 21:17) And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and all that he did, and his sin which he sinned, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 21:18) And Manasses slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his house, even in the garden of Oza: and Amos his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 21:19) Twenty and two years old was Amos when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Mesollam, daughter of Arus of Jeteba.

(2Ki 21:20) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, as Manasses his father did.

(2Ki 21:21) And he walked in all the way in which his father walked, and served the idols which his father served, and worshipped them.

(2Ki 21:22) And he forsook YHVH Elohim of his fathers, and walked not in the way of YHVH.

(2Ki 21:23) And the servants of Amos conspired against him, and slew the king in his house.

(2Ki 21:24) And the people of the land slew all that had conspired against king Amos; and the people of the land made Josias king in his room.

(2Ki 21:25) And the rest of the acts of Amos, even all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 21:26) And they buried him in his tomb in the garden of Oza: and Josias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 22:2) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, and walked in all the way of David his father; he turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

(2Ki 22:3) And it came to pass in the eighteenth year of king Josias, in the eighth month, the king sent Sapphan the son of Ezelias the son of Mesollam, the scribe of the house of YHVH, saying, (2Ki 22:4) Go up to Chelcias the high priest, and take account of the money that is brought into the house of YHVH, which they that keep the door have collected of the people.

(2Ki 22:5) And let them give it into the hand of the workmen that are appointed in the house of YHVH. And he gave it to the workmen in the house of YHVH, to repair the breaches of the house, (2Ki 22:6) even to the carpenters, and builders, and masons, and also to purchase timber and hewn stones, to repair the breaches of the house.

(2Ki 22:7) Only they did not call them to account for the money that was given to them, because they dealt faithfully.

(2Ki 22:8) And Chelcias the high priest said to Saphan the scribe, I have found the book of the law in the house of YHVH. And Chelcias gave the book to Sapphan, and he read it.

(2Ki 22:9) And he went into the house of YHVH to the king, and reported the matter to the king, and said, Thy servants have collected the money that was found in the house of YHVH, and have given it into the hand of the workmen that are appointed in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 22:10) And Sapphan the scribe spoke to the king, saying, Chelcias the priest has given me a book. And Sapphan read it before the king.

(2Ki 22:11) And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the book of the law, that he rent his garments.

(2Ki 22:12) And the king commanded Chelcias the priest, and Achikam the son of Sapphan, and Achobor the son of Michaias, and Sapphan the scribe, and Asaias the king's servant, saying, (2Ki 22:13) Go, enquire of YHVH for me, and for all the people, and for all Juda, and concerning the words of this book that has been found: for the wrath of YHVH that has been kindled against us is great, because our fathers hearkened not to the words of this book, to do according to all the things written concerning us.

(2Ki 22:14) So Chelcias the priest went, and Achicam, and Achobor, and Sapphan, and Asaias, to Oлда the prophetess, the mother of Sellem the son of Thecuan son of Aras, keeper of the robes; and she dwelt in Jerusalem in Masena; and they spoke to her.

(2Ki 22:15) And she said to them, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, Say to the man that sent you to me,

(2Ki 22:16) Thus saith YHVH, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, and upon them that dwell in it, even all the words of the book which the king of Juda has read:

(2Ki 22:17) because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense to other gods, that they might provoke me with the works of their hands: therefore my wrath shall burn forth against this place, and shall not be quenched.

(2Ki 22:18) And to the king of Juda that sent you to enquire of YHVH, thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, As for the words which thou hast heard;

(2Ki 22:19) because thy heart was softened, and thou was humbled before me, when thou heardest all that I spoke against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, that it should be utterly destroyed and accursed, and thou didst rend thy garments, and weep before me; I also have heard, saith YHVH.

(2Ki 22:20) It shall not be so therefore: behold, I will add thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy tomb in peace, and thine eyes shall not see any among all the evils which I bring upon this place.

(2Ki 23:1) So they reported the word to the king: and the king sent and gathered all the elders of Juda and Jerusalem to himself.

(2Ki 23:2) And the king went up to the house of YHVH, and every man of Juda and all who dwelt in Jerusalem with him, and the priests, and the prophets, and all the people small and great; and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that was found in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 23:3) And the king stood by a pillar, and made a covenant before YHVH, to walk after YHVH, to keep his commandments and his testimonies and his ordinances with all the heart and with all the soul, to confirm the words of this covenant; even the things written in this book. And all the people stood to the covenant.

(2Ki 23:4) And the king commanded Chelcias the high priest, and the priests of the second order, and them that kept the door, to bring out of the temple of YHVH all the vessels that were made for Baal, and for the grove, and all the host of heaven, and he burned them without Jerusalem in the fields of Kedron, and took the ashes of them to Baethel.

(2Ki 23:5) And he burned the idolatrous priests, whom the kings of Juda had appointed, (and they burned incense in the high places and in the cities of Juda, and the places around about Jerusalem); and them that burned incense to Baal, and to the sun, and to the moon, and to Mazuroth, and to all the host of heaven.

(2Ki 23:6) And he carried out the grove from the house of YHVH to the brook

Kedron, and burned it at the brook Kedron, and reduced it to powder, and cast its powder on the sepulchres of the sons of the people.

(2Ki 23:7) And he pulled down the house of the sodomites that were by the house of YHVH, where the women wove tents for the grove.

(2Ki 23:8) And he brought up all the priest from the cities of Juda, and defiled the high places where the priests burned incense, from Gaebal even to Bersabee; and he pulled down the house of the gates that was by the door of the gate of YAHshua the ruler of the city, on a man's left hand at the gate of the city.

(2Ki 23:9) Only the priests of the high places went not up to the altar of YHVH in Jerusalem, for they only ate leavened bread in the midst of their brethren.

(2Ki 23:10) And he defiled Tapheth which is in the valley of the son of Ennom, constructed for a man to cause his son or his daughter to pass through fire to Moloch.

(2Ki 23:11) And he burned the horses which the king of Juda had given to the sun in the entrance of the house of YHVH, by the treasury of Nathan the king's eunuch, in the suburbs; and he burned the chariot of the sun with fire.

(2Ki 23:12) And the altars that were on the roof of the upper chamber of Achaz, which the kings of Juda had made, and the altars which Manasses had made in the two courts of the house of YHVH, did the king pull down and forcibly remove from thence, and cast their dust into the brook of Kedron.

(2Ki 23:13) And the king defiled the house that was before Jerusalem, on the right hand of the mount of Mosthath, which Solomon king of Israel built to Astarte the abomination of the Sidonians, and to Chamos the abomination of Moab, and to Moloch the abomination of the children of Ammon.

(2Ki 23:14) And he broke in pieces the pillars, and utterly destroyed the groves, and filled their places with the bones of men.

(2Ki 23:15) Also the high altar in Baethel, which Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin, had made, even that high altar he tore down, and broke in pieces the stones of it, and reduced it to powder, and burnt the grove.

(2Ki 23:16) And Josias turned aside, and saw the tombs that were there in the city, and sent, and took the bones out of the tombs, and burnt them on the altar, and defiled it, according to the word of YHVH which the man of Elohim spoke, when Jeroboam stood by the altar at the feast: and he turned and raised his eyes to the tomb of the man of Elohim that spoke these words.

(2Ki 23:17) And he said, What is that mound which I see? And the men of the city said to him, It is the grave of the man of Elohim that came out of Juda, and uttered these imprecations which he imprecated upon the altar of Baethel.

(2Ki 23:18) And he said, Let him alone; let no one disturb his bones. So his bones were spared, together with the bones of the prophet that came out of Samaria.

(2Ki 23:19) Moreover Josias removed all the houses of the high places that were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel made to provoke YHVH, and did to them all that he did in Baethel.

(2Ki 23:20) And he sacrificed all the priests of the high places that were there on the altars, and burnt the bones of men upon them, and returned to Jerusalem.

(2Ki 23:21) And the king commanded all the people, saying, Keep the passover to YHVH your Elohim, as it is written in the book of this covenant.

(2Ki 23:22) For a passover such as this had not been kept from the days of the judges who judged Israel, even all the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Juda.

(2Ki 23:23) But in the eighteenth year of king Josias, was the passover kept to YHVH in Jerusalem.

(2Ki 23:24) Moreover Josias removed the sorcerers, and the wizards, and the theraphin, and the idols, and all the abominations that had been set up in the land of Juda and in Jerusalem, that he might keep the words of the law that were written in the book, which Chelcias the priest found in the house of YHVH.

(2Ki 23:25) There was no king like him before him, who turned to YHVH with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his strength, according to all the law of Moses; and after him there rose not one like him.

(2Ki 23:26) Nevertheless YHVH turned not from the fierceness of his great anger, wherewith he was wroth in his anger against Juda, because of the provocations, wherewith Manasses provoked him.

(2Ki 23:27) And YHVH said, I will also remove Juda from my presence, as I removed Israel, and will reject this city which I have chosen even Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

(2Ki 23:28) And the rest of the acts of Josias, and all that he did, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 23:29) And in his days went up Pharao Nechao king of Egypt against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates: and Josias went out to meet him: and Nechao slew him in Mageddo when he saw him.

(2Ki 23:30) And his servants carried him dead from Mageddo, and brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his sepulchre: and the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king in the room of his father.

(2Ki 23:31) Twenty and three years old was Joachaz when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias of Lobna.

(2Ki 23:32) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his fathers did.

(2Ki 23:33) And Pharao Nechao removed him to Rablaam in the land of Emath, so that he should not reign in Jerusalem; and imposed a tribute on the land, a hundred talents of silver, and a hundred talents of gold.

(2Ki 23:34) And Pharao Nechao made Eliakim son of Josias king of Juda king over them in the place of his father Josias, and he changed his name to Joakim, and he took Joachaz and brought him to Egypt, and he died there.

(2Ki 23:35) And Joakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharao; but he assessed the land to give the money at the command of Pharao: they gave the silver and the gold each man according to his assessment together with the people of the land to give to Pharao Nechao.

(2Ki 23:36) Twenty-five years old was Joakim when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jeldaph, daughter of Phadail of Ruma.

(2Ki 23:37) And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

(2Ki 24:1) In his days went up Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and Joakim became his servant three years; and then he turned and revolted from him.

(2Ki 24:2) And the lord sent against him the bands of the Chaldeans, and the bands of Syria, and the bans of Moab, and the bands of the children of Ammon, and sent them into the land of Juda to prevail against it, according to the word of YHVH, which he spoke by his servants the prophets.

(2Ki 24:3) Moreover it was the purpose of YHVH concerning Juda, to remove them from his presence, because of the sins of Manasses, according to all that he did.

(2Ki 24:4) Moreover he shed innocent blood, and filled Jerusalem with innocent blood, and YHVH would not pardon it.

(2Ki 24:5) And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, behold, are not these written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda?

(2Ki 24:6) And Joakim slept with his fathers: and Joachim his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ki 24:7) And the king of Egypt came no more out of his land: for the king of Babylon took away all that belonged to the king of Egypt from the river of Egypt as far as the river Euphrates.

(2Ki 24:8) Eighteen years old was Joachim when he began to reign, an he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Nestha, daughter of Ellanastham, of Jerusalem.

(2Ki 24:9) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his father did.

(2Ki 24:10) At that time went up Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon to Jerusalem, and the city was besieged.

(2Ki 24:11) And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came against the city, and his servants besieged it.

(2Ki 24:12) And Joachim king of Juda came forth to the king of Babylon, he and his servants, and his mother, and his princes, and his eunuchs; and the king of Babylon took him in the eighth year of his reign.

(2Ki 24:13) And he brought forth thence all the treasures of the house of YHVH, and the treasures of the king's house, and he cut up all the golden vessels which Solomon the king of Israel had made in the temple of YHVH, according to the word of YHVH.

(2Ki 24:14) And he carried away the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and all the captains, and the mighty men, taking captive ten thousand prisoners, and every artificer and smith: and only the poor of the land were left.

(2Ki 24:15) And he carried Joachim away to Babylon, and the king's mother, and the king's wives, and his eunuchs: and he carried away the mighty men of the land into captivity from Jerusalem to Babylon.

(2Ki 24:16) And all the men of might, even seven thousand, and one thousand artificers and smiths: all were mighty men fit for war; and the king of Babylon carried them captive to Babylon.

(2Ki 24:17) And the king of Babylon made Batthanias his son king in his stead, and called his name Sedekias.

(2Ki 24:18) Twenty and one years old was Sedekias when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Amital daughter of Jeremias.

(2Ki 24:19) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all that Joachim did.

(2Ki 24:20) For it was according to YHVH's anger against Jerusalem and on Juda, until he cast them out of his presence, that Sedekias revolted against the king of Babylon.

(2Ki 25:1) And it came to pass in the ninth year of his reign, in the tenth month, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came, and all his host, against Jerusalem; and he encamped against it, and built a mound against it.

(2Ki 25:2) And the city was besieged until the eleventh year of king Sedekias on the ninth day of the month.

(2Ki 25:3) And the famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

(2Ki 25:4) And the city was broken up, and all the men of war went forth by night, by the way of the gate between the walls, this is the gate of the king's garden: and the Chaldeans were set against the city round about: and the king went by the way of the plain.

(2Ki 25:5) And the force of the Chaldeans pursued the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all his army was dispersed from about him.

(2Ki 25:6) And they took the king, and brought him to the king of Babylon to Reblatha; and he gave judgment upon him.

(2Ki 25:7) And he slew the sons of Sedekias before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Sedekias, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon.

(2Ki 25:8) And in the fifth month, on the seventh day of the month (this is the nineteenth year of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon), came Nabuzardan, captain of the guard, who stood before the king of Babylon, to Jerusalem.

(2Ki 25:9) And he burnt the house of YHVH, and the king's house, and all the houses of Jerusalem, even every house did the captain of the guard burn.

(2Ki 25:10) And the force of the Chaldeans pulled down the wall of Jerusalem round about.

(2Ki 25:11) And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard removed the rest of the people that were left in the city, and the men who had deserted to the king of Babylon, and the rest of the multitude.

(2Ki 25:12) But the captain of the guard left of the poor of the land to be vine-dressers and husbandmen.

(2Ki 25:13) And the Chaldeans broke to pieces the brazen pillars that were in the house of YHVH, and the bases, and the brazen sea that was in the house of YHVH, and carried their brass to Babylon.

(2Ki 25:14) And the caldrons, and the shovels, and the bowls, and the censers, and all the brazen vessels with which they minister, he took.

(2Ki 25:15) And the captain of the guard took the fire-pans, and the gold and silver bowls.

(2Ki 25:16) Two pillars, and one sea, and the bases which Solomon made for the house of YHVH: there was no weight of the brass of all the vessels.

(2Ki 25:17) The height of one pillar was eighteen cubits, and the chapter upon it was of brass: and the height of the chapter was three cubits: the border, and the pomegranates on the chapter round about were all of brass: and so it was with the second pillar with its border.

(2Ki 25:18) And the captain of the guard took Saraias the high-priest, and Sophonias the second in order, and the three doorkeepers.

(2Ki 25:19) And they took out of the city one eunuch who was commander of the men of war, and five men that saw the face of the king, that were found in the city, and the secretary of the commander-in-chief, who took account of the people of the land, and sixty men of the people of the land that were found in the city.

(2Ki 25:20) And Nabuzardan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Reblatha.

(2Ki 25:21) And the king of Babylon smote them and slew them at Reblatha in the land of Æmath. So Juda was carried away from his land.

(2Ki 25:22) And as for the people that were left in the land of Juda, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon left, even over them he set Elohimolias son of Achicam son of Saphan.

(2Ki 25:23) And all the captains of the host, they and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had thus appointed Elohimolias, and they came to Elohimolias to Massephath, both Ismael the son of Nathanias, and Jona son of Careth, and Saraias, son of Thanamath the Netophathite, and Jezonias son of a Machathite, they and their men.

(2Ki 25:24) And Elohimolias swore to them and their men, and said to them, Fear not the incursion of the Chaldeans; dwell in the land, and serve the king of Babylon, and it shall be well with you.

(2Ki 25:25) And it came to pass in the seventh month that Ismael son of Nathanias son of Helisama, of the seed royal, came, and ten men with him, and he smote Elohimolias, that he died, him and the Jews and the Chaldeans that were with him in Massepha.

(2Ki 25:26) And all the people, great and small rose up, they and the captains of the forces, and went into Egypt; because they were afraid of the Chaldeans.

(2Ki 25:27) And it came to pass in the thirty-seventh year of the carrying away of Joachim king of Juda, in the twelfth month, on the twenty-seventh day of the month, that Eviamarodec king of Babylon in the first year of his reign lifted up the head of Joachim king of Juda, and brought him out of his prison-house.

(2Ki 25:28) And he spoke kindly to him, and set his throne above the thrones of the kings that were with him in Babylon;

(2Ki 25:29) And changed his prison garments: and he ate bread continually before him all the days of his life.

(2Ki 25:30) And his portion, a continual portion, was given him out of the house of the king, a daily rate for every day all the days of his life.

(1Ch 4:37) and Zuza the son of Saphai, the son of Alon, the son of Jedia, the son of Semri, the son of Samaias.

(1Ch 4:38) These went by the names of princes in their families, and they increased abundantly in their fathers' households.

(1Ch 4:39) And they went till they came to Gerara, to the east of Gai, to seek pasture for their cattle.

(1Ch 4:40) And they found abundant and good pastures, and the land before them was wide, and there was peace and quietness; for there were some of the children of Cham who dwelt there before.

(1Ch 4:41) And these who are written by name came in the days of Ezekias king of Juda, and they smote the people's houses, and the Minaeans whom they found there, and utterly destroyed them until this day: and they dwelt in their place, because there was pasture there for their cattle.

(1Ch 4:42) And some of them, even of the sons of Symeon, went to mount Seir, even five hundred men; and Phalaettia, and Noadia, and Raphaia, and Oziel, sons of Jesi, were their rulers.

(1Ch 4:43) And they smote the remnant that were left of Amalec, until this day.

(1Ch 5:1) And the sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel (for he was the first-born; but because of his going up to his father's couch, his father gave his blessing to his son Joseph, even the son of Israel; and he was not reckoned as first-born;

(1Ch 5:2) for Judas was very mighty even among his brethren, and one was to be a ruler out of him: but the blessing was Joseph's).

(1Ch 5:3) The sons of Ruben the first-born of Israel; Enoch, and Phallus, Asrom, and Charmi.

(1Ch 5:4) The sons of Joel; Semei, and Banaia his son: and the sons of Gug the son of Semei.

(1Ch 5:5) His son was Micha, his son Recha, his son Joel,

(1Ch 5:6) his son Beel, whom Thagla-phallasar king of Assyria carried away captive: he is the chief of the Rubenites.

(1Ch 5:7) And his brethren in his family, in their distribution according to their generations; the chief, Joel, and Zacharia.

(1Ch 5:8) And Balec the son of Azuz, the son of Sama, the son of Joel: he dwelt in Aroer, and even to Nabab, and Beelmasson.

(1Ch 5:9) And he dwelt eastward to the borders of the wilderness, from the river Euphrates: for they had much cattle in the land of Galaad.

(1Ch 5:10) And in the days of Saul they made war upon the sojourners in the land; and they fell into their hands, all of them dwelling in their tents eastward of Galaad.

(1Ch 5:11) The sons of Gad dwelt over against them in the land of Basan even to Sela.

(1Ch 5:12) Joel the first-born, and Sapham the second, and Janin the scribe in Basan.

(1Ch 5:13) And their brethren according to the houses of their fathers; Michael, Mosollam, and Sebee, and Joree, and Joachan, and Zue, and Obed, seven.

(1Ch 5:14) These are the sons of Abichaia the son of Uri, the son of Idai, the son of Galaad, the son of Michael, the son of Jesai, the son of Jeddai, the son of Buz, (1Ch 5:15) who was the brother of the son of Abdiel, the son of Guni, he was chief of the house of their families.

(1Ch 5:16) They dwelt in Galaad, in Basan, and in their villages, and in all the country round about Saron to the border.

(1Ch 5:17) The enumeration of them all took place in the days of Joatham king of Juda, and in the days of Jeroboam king of Israel.

(1Ch 5:18) The sons of Ruben and Gad, and the half-tribe of Manasse, of mighty men, bearing shields and sword, and bending the bow, and skilled in war, were forty and four thousand and seven hundred and sixty, going forth to battle.

(1Ch 5:19) And they made war with the Agarenes, and Itureans, and Naphiseans, and Nadabeans, (1Ch 5:20) and they prevailed against them: and the Agaraeans were given into their hands, they and all their tents: for they cried to Elohim in the battle, and he hearkened to them, because they trusted on him.

(1Ch 5:21) And they took captive their store; five thousand camels, and two hundred and fifty thousand sheep, two thousand asses, and a hundred thousand men.

(1Ch 5:22) For many fell slain, because the war was of Elohim. And they dwelt in their place until the captivity.

(1Ch 5:23) And the half-tribe of Manasse dwelt from Basan to Baal, Ermon, and Sanir, and to the mount Aermon: and they increased in Libanus.

(1Ch 5:24) And these were the heads of the houses of their families; Opher, and Sei, and Eliel, and Jeremia, and Oduia, and Jediel, mighty men of valour, men of renown, heads of the houses of their families.

(1Ch 5:25) But they rebelled against the Elohim of their fathers, and went a-whoring after the gods of the nations of the land, whom Elohim cast out from before them.

(1Ch 5:26) And the Elohim of Israel stirred up the spirit of Phaloch king of Assyria, and the spirit of Thagla-phallasar king of Assyria, and carried away Ruben and Gaddi, and the half-tribe of Manasse, and brought them to Chaach, and Chabor, and to the river Gozan, until this day.

(1Ch 6:1) The sons of Levi: Gedson, Caath, and Merari.

(1Ch 6:2) And the sons of Caath; Ambram, and Issaar, Chebron, and Oziel.

(1Ch 6:3) And the sons of Ambram; Aaron, and Moses, and Mariam: and the sons of Aaron; Nadab, and Abiud, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

(1Ch 8:7) and Nooma, and Achia and Gera, he removed them, and he begot Aza, and Jachicho.

(1Ch 8:8) And Saarin begot children in the plain of Moab, after that he had sent away Osin and Baada his wives.

(1Ch 8:9) And he begot of his wife Ada, Jolab, and Sebia, and Misa, and Melchas, (1Ch 8:10) and Jebus, and Zabia, and Marma: these were heads of families.

(1Ch 8:11) And of Osin he begot Abitol, and Alphaal.
(1Ch 8:12) And the sons of Alphaal; Obed, Misaal, Semmer: he built Ona, and Lod, and its towns:
(1Ch 8:13) and Beria, and Sama; these were heads of families among the dwellers in Elam, and they drove out the inhabitants of Geth.
(1Ch 8:14) And his brethren were Sosec, and Arimoth,
(1Ch 8:15) and Zabadia, and Ored, and Eder,
(1Ch 8:16) and Michael, and Jespha, and Joda, the sons of Beria:
(1Ch 8:17) and Zabadia, and Mosollam, and Azaki, and Abar,
(1Ch 8:18) and Isamari, and Jexlias, and Jobab, the sons of Elphaal:
(1Ch 8:19) and Jakim, and Zachri, and Zabdi,
(1Ch 8:20) and Elionai, and Salathi,
(1Ch 8:21) and Elieli, and Adaia, and Baraia, and Samarath, sons of Samaith:
(1Ch 8:22) and Jesphan, and Obed, and Eliel,
(1Ch 8:23) and Abdon, and Zechri, and Anan,
(1Ch 8:24) and Anania, and Ambri, and Ælam, and Anathoth,
(1Ch 8:25) and Jathin, and Jephadias, and Phanuel, the sons of Sosec:
(1Ch 8:26) and Samsari, and Saarias, and Gotholia, (1Ch 8:27) and Jarasia, and Eria, and Zechri, son of Iroam.
(1Ch 8:28) These were heads of families, chiefs according to their generations: these dwelt in Jerusalem.
(1Ch 8:29) And the father of Gabaon dwelt in Gabaon; and his wife's name was Moacha.
(1Ch 8:30) And her first-born son was Abdon, and Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Nadab, and Ner, (1Ch 8:31) and Gedur and his brother, and Zacchur, and Makeloth.
(1Ch 8:32) And Makeloth begot Samaa: for these dwelt in Jerusalem in the presence of their brethren with their brethren.
(1Ch 8:33) And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Melchisue, and Aminadab, and Asabal.
(1Ch 8:34) And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal; and Meribaal begot Micha.
(1Ch 8:35) And the sons of Micha; Phithon, and Melach, and Tharach, and Achaz.
(1Ch 8:36) And Achaz begot Jada, and Jada begot Salaemath, and Asmoth, and Zambri; and Zambri begot Maesa; (1Ch 8:37) and Maesa begot Baana: Rraphaea was his son, Elasa his son, Esel his son.
(1Ch 8:38) And Esel had six sons, and these were their name; Ezricam his first-born, and Ismael, and Saraia, and Abdia, and Anan, and Asa: all these were the sons of Esel.
(1Ch 8:39) And the sons of Asel his brother; Ælam his first-born, and Jas the second, and Eliphalet the third.
(1Ch 8:40) And the sons of Ælam were mighty men, bending the bow, and multiplying sons and grandsons, a hundred and fifty. All these were of the sons of Benjamin.
(1Ch 9:1) And this is all Israel, even their enrolment: and these are written down in the book of the kings of Israel and Juda, with the names of them that were carried away to Babylon for their transgressions.
(1Ch 9:2) And they that dwelt before in their possessions in the cities of Israel, the priests, the Levites, and the appointed ones.

(1Ch 9:3) And there dwelt in Jerusalem some of the children of Juda, and of the children of Benjamin, and of the children of Ephraim, and Manasse.

(1Ch 9:4) And Gnothi, and the son of Samiud, the son of Amri, the son of Ambraim, the son of Buni, son of the sons of Phares, the son of Juda.

(1Ch 9:5) And of the Selonites; Asaia his first-born, and his sons.

(1Ch 9:6) Of the sons of Zara; Jeel, and their brethren, six hundred and ninety.

(1Ch 9:7) And of the sons of Benjamin; Salom, son of Mosollam, son of Odouia, son of Asinu.

(1Ch 9:8) And Jemnaa son of Jeroboam, and Elo: these are the sons of Ozi the son of Machir: and Mosollam, son of Saphatia, son of Raguel, son of Jemnai;

(1Ch 9:9) and their brethren according to their generations, nine hundred and fifty-six, all the men were heads of families according to the houses of their fathers.

(1Ch 9:10) And of the priests; Jodae, and Joarim, and Jachin,

(1Ch 9:11) and Azaria the son of Chelcias, the son of Mosollam, the son of Sadoc, the son of Maraioth, the son of Achitob, the ruler of the house of Elohim;

(1Ch 9:12) and Adaia son of Iraam, son of Phascor, son of Melchia, and Maasaia son of Adiel, son of Ezira, son of Mosollam, son of Maselmoth, son of Emmer;

(1Ch 9:13) and their brethren, chiefs of their families, a thousand seven hundred and sixty, mighty men for the work of the ministration of the house of Elohim.

(1Ch 9:14) And of the Levites; Samaia son of Asob, son of Ezricam, son of Asabia, of the sons of Merari.

(1Ch 9:15) And Bacbacar, and Ares, and Galaal, and Matthanias son of Micha, son of Zechri, son of Asaph;

(1Ch 9:16) and Abdia, son of Samia, son of Galaal, son of Idithun, and Barachia son of Ossa, son of Helcana who dwelt in the villages of the Notephatites.

(1Ch 9:17) The door-keepers; Salom, Acum, Telmon, and Diman, and their brethren; Salom was the chief;

(1Ch 9:18) and he waited hitherto in the king's gate eastward: these are the gates of the companies of the sons of Levi.

(1Ch 9:19) And Sellum the son of Core, the son of Abiasaph, the son of Core, and his brethren belonging to the house of his father, the Corites were over the works of the service, keeping the watches of the tabernacle, and their fathers over the camp of the Lord, keeping the entrance.

(1Ch 9:20) And Phinees son of Eleazar was head over them before the Lord, and these were with him.

(1Ch 9:21) Zacharias the son of Mosollami was keeper of the door of the tabernacle of witness.

(1Ch 9:22) All the chosen porters in the gates were two hundred and twelve, these were in their courts, this was their distribution: these David and Samuel the seer established in their charge.

(1Ch 9:23) And these and their sons were over the gates in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the tabernacle, to keep watch.

(1Ch 9:24) The gates were toward the four winds, eastward, westward, northward, southward.

(1Ch 9:25) And their brethren were in their courts, to enter in weekly from time to time with these.

(1Ch 9:26) For four strong men have the charge of the gates; and the Levites were over the chambers, and they keep watch over the treasures of the house of Elohim.

(1Ch 9:27) For the charge was upon them, and these were charged with the keys to open the doors of the temple every morning.

(1Ch 9:28) And some of them were appointed over the vessels of service, that they should carry them in by number, and carry them out by number.

(1Ch 9:29) And some of them were appointed over the furniture, and over all the holy vessels, and over the fine flour, the wine, the oil, the frankincense, and the spices.

(1Ch 9:30) And some of the priests were makers of the ointment, and appointed to prepare the spices.

(1Ch 9:31) And Matthathias of the Levites, (he was the first-born of Salom the Corite,) was set in charge over the sacrifices of meat-offering of the pan belonging to the high priest.

(1Ch 9:32) And Banaias the Caathite, from among their brethren, was set over the shewbread, to prepare it every Sabbath.

(1Ch 9:33) And these were the singers, heads of families of the Levites, to whom were established daily courses, for they were employed in the services day and night.

(1Ch 9:34) These were the heads of the families of the Levites according to their generations; these chiefs dwelt in Jerusalem.

(1Ch 9:35) And Jeel the father of Gabaon dwelt in Gabaon; and his wife's name was Moocha.

(1Ch 9:36) And his first-born son was Abdon, and he had Sur, and Kis, and Baal, and Ner, and Nadab, (1Ch 9:37) and Gedur and his brother, and Zacchur, and Makeloth.

(1Ch 9:38) And Makeloth begot Samaa: and these dwelt in the midst of their brethren in Jerusalem, even in the midst of their brethren.

(1Ch 9:39) And Ner begot Kis, and Kis begot Saul, and Saul begot Jonathan, and Melchisue, and Aminadab, and Asabal.

(1Ch 9:40) And the son of Jonathan was Meribaal: and Meribaal begot Micha.

(1Ch 9:41) And the sons of Micha were Phithon and Malach, and Tharach.

(1Ch 9:42) And Achaz begot Jada: and Jada begot Galemeth, and Gazmoth, and Zambri; and Zambri begot Massa.

(1Ch 9:43) And Massa begot Baana, and Rhaphaia was his son, Elasa his son, Esel his son.

(1Ch 9:44) And Esel had six sons, and these were their names; Esricam his first-born, and Ismael, and Saraia, and Abdia, and Anan, and Asa: these were the sons of Esel.

(1Ch 10:1) Now the Philistines warred against Israel; and they fled from before the Philistines, and fell down slain in mount Gelbue.

(1Ch 10:2) And the Philistines pursued after Saul, and after his sons; and the Philistines smote Jonathan, and Aminadab, and Melchisue, sons of Saul.

(1Ch 10:3) And the battle prevailed against Saul, and the archers hit him with bows and arrows, and they were wounded of the bows.

(1Ch 10:4) And Saul said to his armour-bearer, Draw thy sword, and pierce me through with it, lest these uncircumcised come and mock me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was greatly afraid: so Saul took a sword, and fell upon it.

(1Ch 10:5) And his armour-bearer saw that Saul was dead, and he also fell upon his sword.

(1Ch 10:6) So Saul died, and his three sons on that day, and all his family died at the same time.

(1Ch 10:7) And all the men of Israel that were in the valley saw that Israel fled, and that Saul and his sons were dead, and they left their cities, and fled: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

(1Ch 10:8) And it came to pass on the next day that the Philistines came to strip the slain, and they found Saul and his sons fallen on mount Gelbue.

(1Ch 10:9) And they stripped him, and took his head, and his armour, and sent them into the land of the Philistines round about, to proclaim the glad tidings to their idols, and to the people.

(1Ch 10:10) And they put their armour in the house of their god, and they put his head in the house of Dagon.

(1Ch 10:11) And all the dwellers in Galaad heard of all that the Philistines had done to Saul and to Israel.

(1Ch 10:12) And all the mighty men rose up from Galaad, and they took the body of Saul, and the bodies of his sons, and brought them to Jabis, and buried their bones under the oak in Jabis, and fasted seven days.

(1Ch 10:13) So Saul died for his transgressions, wherein he transgressed against Elohim, against the word of the Lord, forasmuch as he kept it not, because Saul enquired of a wizard to seek counsel, and Samuel the prophet answered him:

(1Ch 10:14) and he sought not the Lord: so he slew him, and turned the kingdom to David the son of Jesse.

(1Ch 11:1) And all Israel came to David in Chebron, saying, Behold, we are thy bones and thy flesh.

(1Ch 11:2) And heretofore when Saul was king, thou wast he that led Israel in and out, and the Lord of Israel said to thee, Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be for a ruler over Israel.

(1Ch 11:3) And all the elders of Israel came to the king to Chebron; and king David made a covenant with them in Chebron before the Lord: and they anointed David to be king over Israel, according to the word of the Lord by Samuel.

(1Ch 11:4) And the king and his men went to Jerusalem, this is Jebus; and there the Jebusites the inhabitants of the land said to David, (1Ch 11:5) Thou shalt not enter in hither. But he took the strong hold of Sion: this is the city of David.

(1Ch 11:6) And David said, Whoever first smites the Jebusite, even he shall be chief and captain. And Joab the son of Saruia went up first, and became chief.

(1Ch 11:7) And David dwelt in the strong hold; therefore he called it the city of David.

(1Ch 11:8) And he fortified the city round about.

(1Ch 11:9) And David continued to increase, and the Lord Almighty was with him.

(1Ch 11:10) And these are the chiefs of the mighty men, whom David had, who strengthened themselves with him in his kingdom, with all Israel, to make him king, according to the word of the Lord concerning Israel.

(1Ch 11:11) And this is the list of the mighty men of David; Jesebada, son of Achaman, first of the thirty: he drew his sword once against three hundred whom he slew at one time.

(1Ch 11:12) And after him Eleazar son of Dodai, the Achochite: he was among the three mighty men.

(1Ch 11:13) He was with David in Phasodamin, and the Philistines were gathered there to battle, and there was a portion of the field full of barley; and the people fled before the Philistines.

(1Ch 11:14) And he stood in the midst of the portion, and rescued it, and smote the Philistines; and the Lord wrought a great deliverance.

(1Ch 11:15) And three of the thirty chiefs went down to the rock to David, to the cave of Odollam, and the camp of the Philistines was in the giants' valley.

(1Ch 11:16) And David was then in the hold, and the garrison of the Philistines was then in Bethleem.

(1Ch 11:17) And David longed, and said, Who will give me water to drink of the well of Bethleem, that is in the gate?

(1Ch 11:18) And the three broke through the camp of the Philistines, and they drew water out of the well that was in Bethleem, which was in the gate, and they took it, and came to David: but David would not drink it, and poured it out to the Lord, and said, (1Ch 11:19) Elohim forbid that I should do this thing: shall I drink the blood of these men with their lives? for with the peril of their lives they brought it. So he would not drink it. These things did the three mighty men.

(1Ch 11:20) And Abisa the brother of Joab, he was chief of three: he drew his sword against three hundred slain at one time, and he had a name among the second three.

(1Ch 11:21) He was more famous than the two others of the three, and he was chief over them; yet he reached not to the first three.

(1Ch 11:22) And Banaia the son of Jodae was the son of a mighty man: many were his acts for Cabasael: he smote two lion-like men of Moab, and he went down and smote a lion in a pit on a snowy day.

(1Ch 11:23) And he smote an Egyptian, a wonderful man five cubits high; and in the hand of the Egyptian there was a spear like a weavers' beam; and Banaia went down to him with a staff, and took the spear out of the Egyptian's hand, and slew him with his own spear.

(1Ch 11:24) These things did Banaia son of Jodae, and his name was among the three mighties.

(1Ch 11:25) He was distinguished beyond the thirty, yet he reached not to the first three: and David set him over his family.

(1Ch 11:26) And the mighty men of the forces were, Asael the brother of Joab, Eleanan the son of Dodo of Bethleem,

(1Ch 11:27) Samaoth the Arorite, Chelles the Phelonite,

(1Ch 11:28) Ora the son of Ekkis the Thecoite, Abiezer the Anathothite, (1Ch 11:29) Sobochai the Usathite, Eli the Achonite,

(1Ch 11:30) Marai the Netophathite, Chthad the son of Nooza the Netophathite, (1Ch 11:31) Airi the son of Rebie of the hill of Benjamin, Banaias the Pharathonite, (1Ch 11:32) Uri of Nachali Gaas, Abiel the Garabaethite,
(1Ch 11:33) Azbon the Baromite, Eliaba the Salabonite,
(1Ch 11:34) the son of Asam the Gizonite, Jonathan the son of Sola the Ararite,
(1Ch 11:35) Achim the son of Achar the Ararite, Elphat the son of Thyrophar
(1Ch 11:36) the Mechorathrite, Achia the Phellonite, (1Ch 11:37) Esere the Charmadaite, Naarai the son of Azobai,
(1Ch 11:38) Joel the son of Nathan, Mebaal son of Agari,
(1Ch 11:39) Sele the son of Ammoni, Nachor the Berothite, armour-bearer to the son of Saruia, (1Ch 11:40) Ira the Jethrite, Gaber the Jethrite,
(1Ch 11:41) Uria the Chettite, Zabet son of Achaia,
(1Ch 11:42) Adina son of Saeza, a chief of Ruben, and thirty with him,
(1Ch 11:43) Anan the son of Moocha, and Josaphat the Matthanite, (1Ch 11:44) Ozia the Astarothite, Samatha and Jeiel sons of Choatham the Ararite, (1Ch 11:45) Jediel the son of Sameri, and Jozae his brother the Thosaite, (1Ch 11:46) Eliel the Maoite, and Jaribi, and Josia his son, Ellaam, and Jethama the Moabite, (1Ch 11:47) Daliel, and Obeth, and Jessiel of Mesobia.
(1Ch 12:1) And these are they that came to Sikelag, when he yet kept himself close because of Saul the son of Kis; and these were among the mighty, aiding him in war,
(1Ch 12:2) and using the bow with the right hand and with the left, and slingers with stones, and shooters with bows. Of the brethren of Saul of Benjamin,
(1Ch 12:3) the chief was Achiezer, and Joas son of Asma the Gabathite, and Joel and Jophalet, sons of Asmoth, and Berchia, and Jeul of Anathoth,
(1Ch 12:4) and Samaias the Gabaonite a mighty man among the thirty, and over the thirty; and Jeremia, and Jeziel, and Joanan, and Jozabath of Gadarathiim, (1Ch 12:5) Azai and Arimuth, and Baalia, and Samaraia, and Saphatias of Charaephiel, (1Ch 12:6) Helcana, and Jesuni, and Ozriel, and Jozara, and Sobocam, and the Corites, (1Ch 12:7) and Jelias and Zabadia, sons of Iroam, and the men of Gedor.
(1Ch 12:8) And from Gad these separated themselves to David from the wilderness, strong mighty men of war, bearing shields and spears, and their faces were as the face of a lion, and they were nimble as roes upon the mountains in speed.
(1Ch 12:9) Aza the chief, Abdia the second, Eliab the third,
(1Ch 12:10) Masmana the fourth, Jeremias the fifth,
(1Ch 12:11) Jethi the sixth, Eliab the seventh,
(1Ch 12:12) Joanan the eighth, Eleazer the ninth,

(1Ch 12:13) Jeremia the tenth, Melchabanai the eleventh.

(1Ch 12:14) These were chiefs of the army of the sons of Gad, the least one commander of a hundred, and the greatest one of a thousand.

(1Ch 12:15) These are the men that crossed over Jordan in the first month, and it had overflowed all its banks; and they drove out all the inhabitants of the valleys, from the east to the west.

(1Ch 12:16) And there came some of the sons of Benjamin and Juda to the assistance of David.

(1Ch 12:17) And David went out to meet them, and said to them, If ye are come peaceably to me, let my heart be at peace with you: but if ye are come to betray me to my enemies unfaithfully, the Elohim of your fathers look upon it, and reprove it.

(1Ch 12:18) And the Spirit came upon Amasai, a captain of the thirty, and he said, Go, David, son of Jesse, thou and thy people, peace, peace be to thee, and peace to thy helpers, for thy Elohim has helped thee. And David received them, and made them captains of the forces.

(1Ch 12:19) And some came to David from Manasse, when the Philistines came against Saul to war: and he helped them not, because the captains of the Philistines took counsel, saying, With the heads of those men will he return to his master Saul.

(1Ch 12:20) When David was going to Sikelag, there came to him of Manasse, Edna and Jozabath, and Rodiel, and Michael, and Josabaith, and Elimuth, and Semathi: these are the captains of thousands of Manasse.

(1Ch 12:21) And they fought on the side of David against a troop, for they were all men of might; and they were commanders in the army, because of their might.

(1Ch 12:22) For daily men came to David, till they amounted to a great force, as the force of Elohim.

(1Ch 12:23) And these are the names of the commanders of the army, who came to David to Chebron, to turn the kingdom of Saul to him according to the word of the Lord.

(1Ch 12:24) The sons of Juda, bearing shields and spears, six thousand and eight hundred mighty in war.

(1Ch 12:25) Of the sons of Symeon mighty for battle, seven thousand and a hundred.

(1Ch 12:26) Of the sons of Levi, four thousand and six hundred.

(1Ch 12:27) And Joadas the chief of the family of Aaron, and with him three thousand and seven hundred.

(1Ch 12:28) And Sadoc, a young man mighty in strength, and there were twenty-two leaders of his father's house.

(1Ch 12:29) And of the sons of Benjamin, the brethren of Saul, three thousand: and still the greater part of them kept the guard of the house of Saul.

(1Ch 12:30) And of the sons of Ephraim, twenty thousand and eight hundred mighty men, famous in the houses of their fathers.

(1Ch 12:31) And of the half-tribe of Manasse, eighteen thousand, even those who were named by name, to make David king.

(1Ch 12:32) And of the sons of Issachar having wisdom with regard to the times, knowing what Israel should do, two hundred; and all their brethren with them.

(1Ch 12:33) And of Zabulon they that went out to battle, with all weapons of war, were fifty thousand to help David, not weak-handed.

(1Ch 12:34) And of Nephthali a thousand captains, and with them men with shields and spears, thirty-seven thousand.

(1Ch 12:35) And of the Danites men ready for war twenty-eight thousand and eight hundred.

(1Ch 12:36) And of Aser, they that went out to give aid in war, forty thousand.

(1Ch 12:37) And from the country beyond Jordan, from Ruben, and the Gadites, and from the half-tribe of Manasse, a hundred and twenty thousand, with all weapons of war.

(1Ch 12:38) All these were men of war, setting the army in battle array, with a peaceful mind towards him, and they came to Chebron to make David king over all Israel: and the rest of Israel were of one mind to make David king.

(1Ch 12:39) And they were there three days eating and drinking, for their brethren had made preparations.

(1Ch 12:40) And their neighbours, as far as Issachar and Zabulon and Nephthali, brought to them upon camels, and asses, and mules, and upon calves, victuals, meal, cakes of figs, raisins, wine, and oil, calves and sheep abundantly: for there was joy in Israel.

(1Ch 13:1) And David took counsel with the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, even with every commander.

(1Ch 13:2) And David said to the whole congregation of Israel, If it seem good to you, and it should be prospered by the Lord our Elohim, let us send to our brethren that are left in all the land of Israel, and let the priests the Levites who are with them in the cities of their possession come, and let them be gathered to us.

(1Ch 13:3) And let us bring over to us the ark of our Elohim; for men have not enquired at it since the days of Saul.

(1Ch 13:4) And all the congregation said that they would do thus; for the saying was right in the eyes of all the people.

(1Ch 13:5) So David assembled all Israel, from the borders of Egypt even to the entering in of Hemath, to bring in the ark of Elohim from the city of Jarim.

(1Ch 13:6) And David brought it up: and all Israel went up to the city of David, which belonged to Juda, to bring up thence the ark of the Lord Elohim who sits between the cherubim, whose name is called on it.

(1Ch 13:7) And they set the ark of Elohim on a new waggon brought out of the house of Aminadab: and Oza and his brethren drove the waggon.

(1Ch 13:8) And David and all Israel were playing before the Lord with all their might, and that together with singers, and with harps, and with lutes, with timbrels, and with cymbals, and with trumpets.

(1Ch 13:9) And they came as far as the threshing-floor: and Oza put forth his hand to hold the ark, because the bullock moved it from its place.

(1Ch 13:10) And the Lord was very angry with Oza, and smote him there, because of his stretching forth his hand upon the ark: and he died there before Elohim.

(1Ch 13:11) And David was dispirited, because the Lord had made a breach on Oza: and he called that place the Breach of Oza until this day.

(1Ch 13:12) And David feared Elohim that day, saying, How shall I bring the ark of Elohim in to myself?

(1Ch 13:13) So David brought not the ark home to himself into the city of David, but he turned it aside into the house of Abeddara the Gethite.

(1Ch 13:14) And the ark of Elohim abode in the house of Abeddara three months: and Elohim blessed Abeddara and all that he had.

(1Ch 14:1) And Chiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar timbers, and masons, and carpenters, to build a house for him.

(1Ch 14:2) And David knew that the Lord had designed him to be king over Israel; because his kingdom was highly exalted, on account of his people Israel.

(1Ch 14:3) And David took more wives in Jerusalem: and there were born to David more sons and daughters.

(1Ch 14:4) And these are the names of those that were born, who were born to him in Jerusalem; Samaa, Sobab, Nathan, and Solomon,

(1Ch 14:5) and Baar, and Elisa, and Eliphaleth,

(1Ch 14:6) and Nageh, and Naphath, and Japhie,

(1Ch 14:7) and Elisamae, and Eliade, and Eliphala.

(1Ch 14:8) And the Philistines heard that David was anointed king over all Israel: and all the Philistines went up to seek David; and David heard it, and went out to meet them.

(1Ch 14:9) And the Philistines came and assembled together in the giants' valley.

(1Ch 14:10) And David enquired of Elohim, saying, Shall I go up against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said to him, Go up, and I will deliver them into thy hands.

(1Ch 14:11) And he went up to Baal Pharasin, and David smote them there; and David said, Elohim has broken through enemies by my hand like a breach of water: therefore he called the name of that place, the Breach of Pharasin.

(1Ch 14:12) And the Philistines left their gods there; and David gave orders to burn them with fire.

(1Ch 14:13) And the Philistines once more assembled themselves in the giants' valley.

(1Ch 14:14) And David enquired of Elohim again; and Elohim said to him, Thou shalt not go after them; turn away from them, and thou shalt come upon them near the pear trees.

(1Ch 14:15) And it shall be, when thou shalt hear the sound of their tumult in the tops of the pear trees, then thou shalt go into the battle: for Elohim has gone out before thee to smite the army of the Philistines.

(1Ch 14:16) And he did as Elohim commanded him: and he smote the army of the Philistines from Gabaon to Gazera.

(1Ch 14:17) And the name of David was famous in all the land; and the Lord put the terror of him on all the nations.

(1Ch 15:1) And David made for himself houses in the city of David, and he prepared a place for the ark of Elohim, and made a tent for it.

(1Ch 15:2) Then said David, It is not lawful for any to bear the ark of Elohim, but the Levites; for the Lord has chosen them to bear the ark of the Lord, and to minister to him for ever.

(1Ch 15:3) And David assembled all Israel at Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the Lord to the place which he had prepared for it.

(1Ch 15:4) And David gathered together the sons of Aaron the Levites.
(1Ch 15:5) Of the sons of Caath; there was Uriel the chief, and his brethren, a hundred and twenty.
(1Ch 15:6) Of the sons of Merari; Asaia the chief, and his brethren, two hundred and twenty.
(1Ch 15:7) Of the sons of Gedson; Joel the chief, and his brethren, a hundred and thirty.
(1Ch 15:8) Of the sons of Elisaphat; Semei the chief, and his brethren, two hundred.
(1Ch 15:9) Of the sons of Chebrom; Eliel the chief, and his brethren eighty.
(1Ch 15:10) Of the sons of Oziel; Aminadab the chief, and his brethren a hundred and twelve.
(1Ch 15:11) And David called Sadoc and Abiathar the priests, and the Levites, Uriel, Asaia, and Joel, and Semaia, and Eliel, and Aminadab, (1Ch 15:12) and said to them, Ye are the heads of the families of the Levites: sanctify yourselves, you and your brethren, and ye shall carry up the ark of the Elohim of Israel, to the place which I have prepared for it.
(1Ch 15:13) For because ye were not ready at the first, our Elohim made a breach upon us, because we sought him not according to the ordinance.
(1Ch 15:14) So the priests and the Levites sanctified themselves, to bring up the ark of the Elohim of Israel.
(1Ch 15:15) And the sons of the Levites took the ark of Elohim, (as Moses commanded by the word of Elohim according to the scripture) upon their shoulders with staves.
(1Ch 15:16) And David said to the chiefs of the Levites, Set your brethren the singers with musical instruments, lutes, harps, and cymbals, to sound aloud with a voice of joy.
(1Ch 15:17) So the Levites appointed Æman the son of Joel; Asaph the son of Barachias was one of his brethren; and Æthan the son of Kisaesus was of the sons of Merari their brethren;
(1Ch 15:18) and with them their brethren of the second rank, Zacharias, and Oziel, and Semiramoth, and Jeiel, and Elioel, and Eliab, and Banaia, and Maasaia, and Matthathia, and Eliphena, and Makellia, and Abdedom, and Jeiel, and Ozias, the porters.
(1Ch 15:19) And the singers, Æman, Asaph, and Æthan, with brazen cymbals to make a sound to be heard.
(1Ch 15:20) Zacharias, and Oziel, Semiramoth, Jeiel, Oni, Eliab, Maasaes, Banaeas, with lutes, on alaemoth.
(1Ch 15:21) And Mattathias, and Eliphalu, and Makenia, and Abdedom, and Jeiel, and Ozias, with harps of Amasenith, to make a loud noise.
(1Ch 15:22) And Chonena chief of the Levites was master of the bands, because he was skilful.
(1Ch 15:23) And Barachia and Elcana were door-keepers of the ark.
(1Ch 15:24) And Somnia, and Josaphat, and Nathanael, and Amasai, and Zacharia, and Banaea, and Eliezer, the priests, were sounding with trumpets before the ark of Elohim: and Abdedom and Jeia were door-keepers of the ark of Elohim.
(1Ch 15:25) So David, and the elders of Israel, and the captains of thousands, went to bring up the ark of the covenant from the house of Abdedom with gladness.

(1Ch 15:26) And it came to pass when Elohim strengthened the Levites bearing the ark of the covenant of the Lord, that they sacrificed seven calves and seven rams.

(1Ch 15:27) And David was girt with a fine linen robe, and all the Levites who were bearing the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the singers, and Chonenias the master of the band of singers; also upon David there was a robe of fine linen.

(1Ch 15:28) And all Israel brought up the ark of the covenant of the Lord with shouting, and with the sound of a horn, and with trumpets, and with cymbals, playing loudly on lutes and harps.

(1Ch 15:29) And the ark of the covenant of the Lord arrived, and came to the city of David; and Melchol the daughter of Saul looked down through the window, and saw king David dancing and playing: and she despised him in her heart.

(1Ch 16:1) So they brought in the ark of Elohim, and set it in the midst of the tabernacle which David pitched for it; and they offered whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings before Elohim.

(1Ch 16:2) And David finished offering up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings, and blessed the people in the name of the Lord.

(1Ch 16:3) And he divided to every man of Israel (both men and women), to every man one baker's loaf, and a cake.

(1Ch 16:4) And he appointed before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, Levites to minister and lift up the voice, and to give thanks and praise the Lord Elohim of Israel:

(1Ch 16:5) Asaph was the chief, and next to him Zacharias, Jeiel, Semiramoth, and Jeiel, Mattathias, Eliab, and Banaeas, and Abdedom: and Jeiel sounding with musical instruments, lutes and harps, and Asaph with cymbals:

(1Ch 16:6) and Banaeas and Oziel the priests sounding continually with trumpets before the ark of the covenant of Elohim in that day.

(1Ch 16:7) Then David first gave orders to praise the Lord by the hand of Asaph and his brethren.

(1Ch 16:8) Song. Give thanks to the Lord, call upon him by his name, make known his designs among the people.

(1Ch 16:9) Sing songs to him, and sing hymns to him, relate to all people his wonderful deeds, which the Lord has wrought.

(1Ch 16:10) Praise his holy name, the heart that seeks his pleasure shall rejoice.

(1Ch 16:11) Seek the Lord and be strong, seek his face continually.

(1Ch 16:12) Remember his wonderful works which he has wrought, his wonders, and the judgments of his mouth;

(1Ch 16:13) ye seed of Israel his servants, ye seed of Jacob his chosen ones.

(1Ch 16:14) He is the Lord our Elohim; his judgments are in all the earth.

(1Ch 16:15) Let us remember his covenant for ever, his word which he commanded to a thousand generations, (1Ch 16:16) which he covenanted with Abraham, and his oath sworn to Isaac.

(1Ch 16:17) He confirmed it to Jacob for an ordinance, to Israel as an everlasting covenant,

(1Ch 16:18) saying, To thee will I give the land of Chanaan, the line of your inheritance:

(1Ch 16:19) when they were few in number, when they were but little, and dwelt as strangers in it;

(1Ch 16:20) and went from nation to nation, and from one kingdom to another people.

(1Ch 16:21) He suffered not a man to oppress them, and he reprov'd kings for their sakes, (1Ch 16:22) saying, Touch not my anointed ones, and deal not wrongfully with my prophets.

(1Ch 16:23) Sing ye to the Lord, all the earth; proclaim his salvation from day to day.

(1Ch 16:24) Declare among the nations his glory, his wondrous deeds among all peoples.

(1Ch 16:25) For the Lord is great, and greatly to be praised: he is to be feared above all gods.

(1Ch 16:26) For all the gods of the nations are idols; but our Elohim made the heavens.

(1Ch 16:27) Glory and praise are in his presence; strength and rejoicing are in his place.

(1Ch 16:28) Give to the Lord, ye families of the nations, give to the Lord glory and strength.

(1Ch 16:29) Give to the Lord the glory belonging to his name: take gifts and offer them before him; and worship the Lord in his holy courts.

(1Ch 16:30) Let the whole earth fear before him; let the earth be established, and not be moved.

(1Ch 16:31) Let the heavens rejoice, and let the earth exult; and let them say among the nations, The Lord reigns.

(1Ch 16:32) The sea with its fullness shall resound and the tree of the field, and all things in it.

(1Ch 16:33) Then shall the trees of the wood rejoice before the Lord, for he is come to judge the earth.

(1Ch 16:34) Give thanks to the Lord, for it is good, for his mercy is for ever.

(1Ch 16:35) And say ye, Save us, O Elohim of our salvation, and gather us, and rescue us from among the heathen, that we may praise thy holy name, and glory in thy praises.

(1Ch 16:36) Blessed be the Lord Elohim of Israel from everlasting and to everlasting: And all the people shall say, Amen. So they praised the Lord.

(1Ch 16:37) And they left there Asaph and his brethren before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, to minister before the ark continually, according to the service of each day: from day to day.

(1Ch 16:38) And Abdedom and his brethren were sixty and eight; and Abdedom the son of Idithun, and Osa, were to be door-keepers.

(1Ch 16:39) And they appointed Sadoc the priest, and his brethren the priests, before the tabernacle of the Lord in the high place in Gabaon, (1Ch 16:40) to offer up whole-burnt-offerings continually morning and evening, and according to all things written in the law of the Lord, which he commanded the children of Israel by Moses the servant of Elohim.

(1Ch 16:41) And with him were Æman and Idithun, and the rest chosen out by name to praise the Lord, for his mercy endures for ever.

(1Ch 16:42) And with them there were trumpets and cymbals to sound aloud, and musical instruments for the songs of Elohim: and the sons of Idithun were at the gate.

(1Ch 16:43) And all the people went every one to his home: and David returned to bless his house.

(1Ch 17:1) And it came to pass as David dwelt in his house, that David said to Nathan the prophet, Behold, I dwell in a house of cedar, but the ark of the covenant of the Lord is under curtains of skins.

(1Ch 17:2) And Nathan said to David, Do all that is in thy heart; for Elohim is with thee.

(1Ch 17:3) And it came to pass in that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying, (1Ch 17:4) Go and say to David my servant, Thus said the Lord, Thou shalt not build me a house for me to dwell in it.

(1Ch 17:5) For I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought up Israel until this day, but I have been in a tabernacle and a tent,

(1Ch 17:6) in all places through which I have gone with all Israel: did I ever speak to any one tribe of Israel whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, Why is it that ye have not built me a house of cedar?

(1Ch 17:7) And now thus shalt thou say to my servant David, Thus saith the Lord Almighty, I took thee from the sheepfold, from following the flocks, to be a ruler over my people Israel:

(1Ch 17:8) and I was with thee in all places whither thou wentest, and I destroyed all thine enemies from before thee, and I made for thee a name according to the name of the great ones that are upon the earth.

(1Ch 17:9) And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant him, and he shall dwell by himself, and shall no longer be anxious; and the son of iniquity shall no longer afflict him, as at the beginning, (1Ch 17:10) and from the days when I appointed judges over my people Israel. Also I have humbled all thine enemies, and I will increase thee, and the Lord will build thee a house.

(1Ch 17:11) And it shall come to pass when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, that I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.

(1Ch 17:12) He shall build me a house, and I will set up his throne for ever.

(1Ch 17:13) I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and my mercy will I not withdraw from him, as I withdrew it from them that were before thee.

(1Ch 17:14) And I will establish him in my house and in his kingdom for ever; and his throne shall be set up for ever.

(1Ch 17:15) According to all these words, and according to all this vision, so spoke Nathan to David.

(1Ch 17:16) And king David came and sat before the Lord, and said, Who am I, YHVH Elohim? and what is my house, that thou hast loved me for ever?

(1Ch 17:17) And these things were little in thy sight, O Elohim: thou hast also spoken concerning the house of thy servant for a long time to come, and thou hast looked upon me as a man looks upon his fellow, and hast exalted me, YHVH Elohim.

(1Ch 17:18) What shall David do more toward thee to glorify thee? and thou knowest thy servant.

(1Ch 17:19) And thou hast wrought all this greatness according to thine heart.

(1Ch 17:20) YHVH, there is none like thee, and there is no Elohim beside thee, according to all things which we have heard with our ears.

(1Ch 17:21) Neither is there another nation upon the earth such as thy people Israel, whereas Elohim led him in the way, to redeem a people for himself, to make for himself a great and glorious name, to cast out nations from before thy people, whom thou redeemedst out of Egypt.

(1Ch 17:22) And thou hast appointed thy people Israel as a people to thyself for ever; and thou, Lord, didst become a Elohim to them.

(1Ch 17:23) And now, Lord, let the word which thou spakest to thy servant, and concerning his house, be confirmed for ever, and do thou as thou hast spoken.

(1Ch 17:24) And let thy name be established and magnified for ever, men saying, Lord, Lord, Almighty Elohim of Israel: and let the house of thy servant David be established before thee.

(1Ch 17:25) For thou, YHVH my Elohim, hast revealed to the ear of thy servant that thou wilt build him a house; therefore thy servant has found a willingness to pray before thee.

(1Ch 17:26) And now, Lord, thou thyself art Elohim, and thou hast spoken these good things concerning thy servant.

(1Ch 17:27) And now thou hast begun to bless the house of thy servant, so that it should continue for ever before thee: for thou, Lord, hast blessed it, and do thou bless it for ever.

(1Ch 18:1) And it came to pass afterwards, that David smote the Philistines, and routed them, and took Geth and its villages out of the hand of the Philistines.

(1Ch 18:2) And he smote Moab; and the Moabites became servants to David, and tributaries.

(1Ch 18:3) And David smote Adraazar king of Suba of Emath, as he was going to establish power toward the river Euphrates.

(1Ch 18:4) And David took of them a thousand chariots, and seven thousand horsemen, and twenty thousand infantry: and David houghed all the chariot horses, but there were reserved of them a hundred chariots.

(1Ch 18:5) And the Syrian came from Damascus to help Adraazar king of Suba; and David smote of the Syrian army twenty and two thousand men.

(1Ch 18:6) And David put a garrison in Syria near Damascus; and they became tributary servants to David: and the Lord delivered David wherever he went.

(1Ch 18:7) And David took the golden collars that were on the servants of Adraazar, and brought them to Jerusalem.

(1Ch 18:8) And David took out of Matabeth, and out of the chief cities of Adraazar very much brass: of this Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the brazen vessels.

(1Ch 18:9) And Thoa king of Emath heard that David had smitten the whole force of Adraazar king of Suba.

(1Ch 18:10) And he sent Aduram his son to king David to ask how he was, and to congratulate him because he had fought against Adraazar, and smitten him; for Thoa was the enemy of Adraazar.

(1Ch 18:11) And all the golden and silver and brazen vessels, even these king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and the gold which he took from all the nations; from Idumaea, and Moab, and from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines, and from Amalec.

(1Ch 18:12) And Abesa son of Saruia smote the Idumeans in the valley of Salt, eighteen thousand.

(1Ch 18:13) And he put garrisons in the valley; and all the Idumaeans became David's servants: and the Lord delivered David wherever he went.

(1Ch 18:14) So David reigned over all Israel; and he executed judgment and justice to all his people.

(1Ch 18:15) And Joab the son of Saruia was over the army, and Josaphat the son of Achilud was recorder.

(1Ch 18:16) And Sadoc son of Achitob, and Achimelech son of Abiathar, were the priests; and Susa was the scribe;

(1Ch 18:17) and Banaeas the son of Jodae was over the Cherethite and the Phelethite, and the sons of David were the chief deputies of the king.

(1Ch 19:1) And it came to pass after this, that Naas the king of the children of Ammon died, and Anan his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ch 19:2) And David said, I will act kindly toward Anan the son of Naas, as his father acted kindly towards me. And David sent messengers to condole with him on the death of his father. So the servants of David came into the land of the children of Ammon to Anan, to comfort him.

(1Ch 19:3) And the chiefs of the children of Ammon said to Anan, Is it to honour thy father before thee, that David has sent comforters to thee? Have not his servants come to thee that they might search the city, and to spy out the land?

(1Ch 19:4) And Anan took the servants of David, and shaved them, and cut off the half of their garments as far as their tunic, and sent them away.

(1Ch 19:5) And there came men to report to David concerning the men: and he sent to meet them, for they were greatly disgraced: and the king said, Dwell in Jericho until your beards have grown, and return.

(1Ch 19:6) And the children of Ammon saw that the people of David were ashamed, and Anan and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of silver to hire for themselves chariots and horsemen out of Syria of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maacha, and from Sobal.

(1Ch 19:7) And they hired for themselves two and thirty thousand chariots, and the king of Maacha and his people; and they came and encamped before Medaba: and the children of Ammon assembled out of their cities, and came to fight.

(1Ch 19:8) And David heard, and sent Joab and all the host of mighty men.

(1Ch 19:9) And the children of Ammon came forth, and set themselves in array for battle by the gate of the city: and the kings that were come forth encamped by themselves in the plain.

(1Ch 19:10) And Joab saw that they were fronting him to fight against him before and behind, and he chose some out of all the young men of Israel, and they set themselves in array against the Syrian.

(1Ch 19:11) And the rest of the people he gave into the hand of his brother

Abesai, and they set themselves in array against the children of Ammon.

(1Ch 19:12) And he said, If the Syrian should prevail against me, then shalt thou deliver me: and if the children of Ammon should prevail against thee, then will I deliver thee.

(1Ch 19:13) Be of good courage, and let us be strong, for our people, and for the cities of our Elohim: and the Lord shall do what is good in his eyes.

(1Ch 19:14) So Joab and the people that were with him set themselves in battle array against the Syrians, and they fled from them.

(1Ch 19:15) And the children of Ammon saw that the Syrians fled, and they also fled from before Abesai, and from before Joab his brother, and they came to the city: and Joab came to Jerusalem.

(1Ch 19:16) And the Syrian saw that Israel had defeated him, and he sent messengers, and they brought out the Syrians from beyond the river; and Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces of Adraazar was before them.

(1Ch 19:17) And it was told David; and he gathered all Israel, and crossed over Jordan, and came upon them, and set the battle in array against them. So David set his army in array to fight against the Syrians, and they fought against him.

(1Ch 19:18) And the Syrians fled from before Israel; and David slew of the Syrians seven thousand riders in chariots, and forty thousand infantry, and he slew Sophath the commander-in-chief of the forces.

(1Ch 19:19) And the servants of Adraazar saw that they were defeated before Israel, and they made peace with David and served him: and the Syrians would not any more help the children of Ammon.

(1Ch 20:1) And it came to pass at the return of the year, at the time of the going forth of kings to war, that Joab gathered the whole force of the army, and they ravaged the land of the children of Ammon; and he came and besieged Rabba. But David abode in Jerusalem. And Joab smote Rabba and destroyed it.

(1Ch 20:2) And David took the crown of Molchom their king off his head, and the weight of it was found to be a talent of gold, and on it were precious stones; and it was placed on the head of David: and he brought out the spoils of the city which were very great.

(1Ch 20:3) And he brought out the people that were in it, and sawed them asunder with saws, and cut them with iron axes, and with harrows: and thus David did to all the children of Ammon. And David and all his people returned to Jerusalem.

(1Ch 20:4) And it came to pass afterward that there was again war with the Philistines in Gazer: then Sobochai the Sosathite smote Saphut of the sons of the giants, and laid him low.

(1Ch 20:5) And there was war again with the Philistines; and Eleanan the son of Jair smote Lachmi the brother of Goliath the Gittite, and the wood of his spear was as a weavers' beam.

(1Ch 20:6) And there was again war in Geth, and there was a man of extraordinary size, and his fingers and toes were six on each hand and foot, four and twenty; and he was descended from the giants.

(1Ch 20:7) And he defied Israel, and Jonathan the son of Samaa the brother of David slew him.

(1Ch 20:8) These were born to Rapha in Geth; all four were giants, and they fell by the hand of David, and by the hand of his servants.

(1Ch 21:1) And the devil stood up against Israel, and moved David to number Israel.

(1Ch 21:2) And king David said to Joab and to the captains of the forces, Go, number Israel from Bersabee even to Dan, and bring me the account, and I shall know their number.

(1Ch 21:3) And Joab said, May the Lord add to his people, a hundred-fold as many as they are, and let the eyes of my lord the king see it: all are the servants of my lord. Why does my lord seek this thing? do it not, lest it become a sin to Israel.

(1Ch 21:4) Nevertheless the king's word prevailed against Joab; and Joab went out and passed through all Israel, and came to Jerusalem.

(1Ch 21:5) And Joab gave the number of the mustering of the people to David: and all Israel was a million and a hundred thousand men that drew sword: and the sons of Juda were four hundred and seventy thousand men that drew sword.

(1Ch 21:6) But he numbered not Levi and Benjamin among them; for the word of the king was painful to Joab.

(1Ch 21:7) And there was evil in the sight of the Lord respecting this thing; and he smote Israel.

(1Ch 21:8) And David said to Elohim, I have sinned exceedingly, in that I have done this thing: and now, I pray thee, remove the sin of thy servant; for I have been exceedingly foolish.

(1Ch 21:9) And the Lord spoke to Gad the seer, saying,

(1Ch 21:10) Go and speak to David, saying, Thus saith the Lord, I bring three things upon thee: choose one of them for thyself, and I will do it to thee.

(1Ch 21:11) And Gad came to David, and said to him, Thus saith the Lord, Choose for thyself, (1Ch 21:12) either three years of famine, or that thou shouldest flee three months from the face of thine enemies, and the sword of thine enemies shall be employed to destroy thee, or that the sword of the Lord and pestilence should be three days in the land, and the angel of the Lord shall be destroying in all the inheritance of Israel. And now consider what I shall answer to him that sent the message.

(1Ch 21:13) And David said to Gad, They are very hard for me, even all the three: let me fall now into the hands of the Lord, for his mercies are very abundant, and let me not fall by any means into the hands of man.

(1Ch 21:14) So the Lord brought pestilence upon Israel: and there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

(1Ch 21:15) And Elohim sent an angel to Jerusalem to destroy it: and as he was destroying, the Lord saw, and repented for the evil, and said to the angel that was destroying, Let it suffice thee; withhold thine hand. And the angel of the Lord stood by the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite.

(1Ch 21:16) And David lifted up his eyes, and saw the angel of the Lord, standing between the earth and the heaven, and his sword drawn in his hand, stretched out over Jerusalem: and David and the elders clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

(1Ch 21:17) And David said to Elohim, Was it not I that gave orders to number the people? and I am the guilty one; I have greatly sinned: but these sheep, what have they done? YHVH Elohim, let thy hand be upon me, and upon my father's house, and not on thy people for destruction, YHVH!

(1Ch 21:18) And the angel of the Lord told Gad to tell David, that he should go up to erect an altar to the Lord, in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite.

(1Ch 21:19) And David went up according to the word of Gad, which he spoke in the name of the Lord.

(1Ch 21:20) And Orna turned and saw the king; and he hid himself and his four sons with him. Now Orna was threshing wheat.

(1Ch 21:21) And David came to Orna; and Orna came forth from the threshing-floor, and did obeisance to David with his face to the ground.

(1Ch 21:22) And David said to Orna, Give me thy place of the threshing-floor, and I will build upon it an altar to the Lord: give it me for its worth in money, and the plague shall cease from among the people.

(1Ch 21:23) And Orna said to David, Take it to thyself, and let my lord the king do what is right in his eyes: see, I have given the calves for a whole-burnt-offering, and the plough for wood, and the corn for a meat-offering; I have given all.

(1Ch 21:24) And king David said to Orna, Nay; for I will surely buy it for its worth in money: for I will not take thy property for the Lord, to offer a whole-burnt-offering to the Lord without cost to myself.

(1Ch 21:25) And David gave to Orna for his place six hundred shekels of gold by weight.

(1Ch 21:26) And David built there an altar to the Lord, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings and peace-offerings: and he cried to the Lord, and he answered him by fire out of heaven on the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, and it consumed the whole-burnt-offering.

(1Ch 21:27) And the Lord spoke to the angel; and he put up the sword into its sheath.

(1Ch 21:28) At that time when David saw that the Lord answered him in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite, he also sacrificed there.

(1Ch 21:29) And the tabernacle of the Lord which Moses made in the wilderness, and the altar of whole-burnt-offerings, were at that time in the high place at Gabaon.

(1Ch 21:30) And David could not go before it to enquire of Elohim; for he hastened not because of the sword of the angel of the Lord.

(1Ch 22:1) And David said, This is the house of the Lord Elohim, and this is the altar for whole-burnt-offering for Israel.

(1Ch 22:2) And David gave orders to gather all the strangers that were in the land of Israel; and he appointed stone-hewers to hew polished stones to build the house to Elohim.

(1Ch 22:3) And David prepared much iron for the nails of the doors and the gate; the hinges also and brass in abundance, there was no weighing of it.

(1Ch 22:4) And cedar trees without number: for the Sidonians and the Tyrians brought cedar trees in abundance to David.

(1Ch 22:5) And David said, My son Solomon is a tender child, and the house for me to build to the Lord is for superior magnificence for a name and for a glory through all the earth: I will make preparation for it. And David prepared abundantly before his death.

(1Ch 22:6) And he called Solomon his son, and commanded him to build the house for the Lord Elohim of Israel.

(1Ch 22:7) And David said to Solomon, My child, it was in my heart to build a house to the name of the Lord Elohim.

(1Ch 22:8) But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, Thou hast shed blood abundantly, and hast carried on great wars: thou shalt not build a house to my name, because thou hast shed much blood upon the earth before me.

(1Ch 22:9) Behold, a son shall be born to thee, he shall be a man of rest; and I will give him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name shall be Solomon, and I will give peace and quietness to Israel in his days.

(1Ch 22:10) He shall build a house to my name; and he shall be a son to me, and I will be a father to him; and I will establish the throne of his kingdom in Israel for ever.

(1Ch 22:11) And now, my son, the Lord shall be with thee, and prosper thee; and thou shalt build a house to the Lord thy Elohim, as he spoke concerning thee.

(1Ch 22:12) Only may the Lord give thee wisdom and prudence, and strengthen thee over Israel, both to keep and to do the law of the Lord thy Elohim.

(1Ch 22:13) Then will he prosper thee, if thou take heed to do the commandments and judgments which the Lord commanded Moses for Israel: be courageous and strong; fear not, nor be terrified.

(1Ch 22:14) And, behold, I according to my poverty have prepared for the house of the Lord a hundred thousand talents of gold, and a million talents of silver, and brass and iron without measure; for it is abundant; and I have prepared timber and stones; and do thou add to these.

(1Ch 22:15) And of them that are with thee do thou add to the multitude of workmen; let there be artificers and masons, and carpenters, and every skilful workman in every work;

(1Ch 22:16) in gold and silver, brass and iron, of which there is no number. Arise and do, and the Lord be with thee.

(1Ch 22:17) And David charged all the chief men of Israel to help Solomon his son, saying, (1Ch 22:18) Is not the Lord with you? and he has given you rest round about, for he has given into your hands the inhabitants of the land; and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

(1Ch 22:19) Now set your hearts and souls to seek after the Lord your Elohim: and rise, and build a sanctuary to your Elohim to carry in the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of Elohim, into the house that is to be built to the name of the Lord.

(1Ch 23:1) And David was old and full of days; and he made Solomon his son king over Israel in his stead.

(1Ch 23:2) And he assembled all the chief men of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites.

(1Ch 23:3) And the Levites numbered themselves from thirty years old and upward; and their number by their polls amounted to thirty and eight thousand men.

(1Ch 23:4) Of the overseers over the works of the house of the Lord there were twenty-four thousand, and there were six thousand scribes and judges;

(1Ch 23:5) and four thousand door-keepers, and four thousand to praise the Lord with instruments which he made to praise the Lord.

(1Ch 23:6) And David divided them into daily courses, for the sons of Levi, for Gedson, Caath, and Merari.

(1Ch 23:7) And for the family of Gedson, Edan, and Semei.

(1Ch 23:8) The sons of Edan were Jeiel, the chief, and Zethan, and Joel, three.

(1Ch 23:9) The sons of Semei; Salomith, Jeiel, and Dan, three: these were the chiefs of the families of Edan.

(1Ch 23:10) And to the sons of Semei, Jeth, and Ziza, and Joas, and Beria: these were the four sons of Semei.

(1Ch 23:11) And Jeth was the chief, and Ziza the second: and Joas and Beria did not multiply sons, and they became only one reckoning according to the house of their father.

(1Ch 23:12) The sons of Caath; Ambram, Isaar, Chebron, Oziel, four.

(1Ch 23:13) The sons of Ambram; Aaron and Moses: and Aaron was appointed for the consecration of the most holy things, he and his sons for ever, to burn incense before the Lord, to minister and bless in his name for ever.

(1Ch 23:14) And as for Moses the man of Elohim, his sons were reckoned to the tribe of Levi.

(1Ch 23:15) The sons of Moses; Gersam, and Eliezer.

(1Ch 23:16) The sons of Gersam; Subael the chief.

(1Ch 23:17) And the sons of Eliezer were, Rabia the chief: and Eliezer had no other sons; but the sons of Rabia were very greatly multiplied.

(1Ch 23:18) The sons of Isaar; Salomoth the chief.

(1Ch 23:19) The sons of Chebron; Jeria the chief, Amaria the second, Jeziel the third, Jekemias the fourth.

(1Ch 23:20) The sons of Oziel; Micha the chief, and Isia the second.

(1Ch 23:21) The sons of Merari; Mooli, and Musi: the sons of Mooli; Eleazar, and Kis.

(1Ch 23:22) And Eleazar died, and he had no sons, but daughters: and the sons of Kis, their brethren, took them.

(1Ch 23:23) The sons of Musi; Mooli, and Eder, and Jarimoth, three.

(1Ch 23:24) These are the sons of Levi according to the houses of their fathers; chiefs of their families according to their numbering, according to the number of their names, according to their polls, doing the works of service of the house of the Lord, from twenty years old and upward.

(1Ch 23:25) For David said, The Lord Elohim of Israel has given rest to his people, and has taken up his abode in Jerusalem for ever.

(1Ch 23:26) And the Levites bore not the tabernacle, and all the vessels of it for its service.

(1Ch 23:27) For by the last words of David was the number of the Levites taken from twenty years old and upward.

(1Ch 23:28) For he appointed them to wait on Aaron, to minister in the house of the Lord, over the courts, and over the chambers, and over the purification of all the holy things, and over the works of the service of the house of Elohim;

(1Ch 23:29) and for the shew-bread, and for the fine flour of the meat-offering, and for the unleavened cakes, and for the fried cake, and for the dough, and for every measure;

(1Ch 23:30) and to stand in the morning to praise and give thanks to the Lord, and so in the evening;

(1Ch 23:31) and to be over all the whole-burnt-offerings that were offered up to the Lord on the Sabbaths, and at the new moons, and at the feasts, by number, according to the order given to them, continually before the Lord.

(1Ch 23:32) And they are to keep the charge of the tabernacle of witness, and the charge of the holy place, and the charges of the sons of Aaron their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord.

(1Ch 24:1) And they number the sons of Aaron in their division, Nadab, and Abiud, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.

(1Ch 24:2) And Nadab and Abiud died before their father, and they had no sons: so Eleazar and Ithamar the sons of Aaron ministered as priests.

(1Ch 24:3) And David distributed them, even Sadoc of the sons of Eleazar, and Achimelech of the sons of Ithamar, according to their numbering, according to their service, according to the houses of their fathers.

(1Ch 24:4) And there were found among the sons of Eleazar more chiefs of the mighty ones, than of the sons of Ithamar: and he divided them, sixteen heads of families to the sons of Eleazar, eight according to their families to the sons of Ithamar.

(1Ch 24:5) And he divided them according to their lots, one with the other; for there were those who had charge of the holy things, and those who had charge of the house of the Lord among the sons of Eleazar, and among the sons of Ithamar.

(1Ch 24:6) And Samaias the son of Nathanael, the scribe, of the family of Levi, wrote them down before the king, and the princes, and Sadoc the priest, and Achimelech the son of Abiathar were present; and the heads of the families of the priests and the Levites, each of a household were assigned one to Eleazar, and one to Ithamar.

(1Ch 24:7) And the first lot came out to Joarim, the second to Jedia,

(1Ch 24:8) the third to Charib, the fourth to Seorim,

(1Ch 24:9) the fifth to Melchias, the sixth to Meiamin,

(1Ch 24:10) the seventh to Cos, the eighth to Abia,

(1Ch 24:11) the ninth to Jesus, the tenth to Sechenias,

(1Ch 24:12) the eleventh to Eliabi, the twelfth to Jacim,

(1Ch 24:13) the thirteenth to Oppha, the fourteenth to Jesbaal,

(1Ch 24:14) the fifteenth to Belga, the sixteenth to Emmer,

(1Ch 24:15) the seventeenth to Chezin, the eighteenth to Aphese,

(1Ch 24:16) the nineteenth to Phetaea, the twentieth to Ezekel,

(1Ch 24:17) the twenty-first to Achim, the twenty-second to Gamul, (1Ch 24:18) the twenty-third to Adallai, the twenty-fourth to Maasai.

(1Ch 24:19) This is their numbering according to their service to go into the house of the Lord, according to their appointment by the hand of Aaron their father, as the Lord Elohim of Israel commanded.

(1Ch 24:20) And for the sons of Levi that were left, even for the sons of Amram, Sobael: for the sons of Sobael, Jedia.

(1Ch 24:21) For Raabia, the chief was Isaari,

(1Ch 24:22) and for Isaari, Salomoth: for the sons of Salomoth, Jath.

(1Ch 24:23) The sons of Ecdiu; Amadia the second, Jaziel the third, Jecmoam the fourth.

(1Ch 24:24) For the sons of Oziel, Micha: the sons of Micha; Samer.
(1Ch 24:25) The brother of Micha; Isia, the son of Isia; Zacharia.
(1Ch 24:26) The sons of Merari, Mooli, and Musi: the sons of Ozia, (1Ch 24:27) That is, the sons of Merari by Ozia, his sons were Isoam, and Sacchur, and Abai.
(1Ch 24:28) To Mooli were born Eleazar, and Ithamar; and Eleazar died, and had no sons.
(1Ch 24:29) For Kis; the sons of Kis; Jerameel.
(1Ch 24:30) And the sons of Musi; Mooli, and Eder, and Jerimoth. These were the sons of the Levites according to the houses of their families.
(1Ch 24:31) And they also received lots as their brethren the sons of Aaron before the king; Sadoc also, and Achimelech, and the chiefs of the families of the priests and of the Levites, principal heads of families, even as their younger brethren.
(1Ch 25:1) And king David and the captains of the host appointed to their services the sons of Asaph, and of Æman, and of Idithun, prophesiers with harps, and lutes, and cymbals: and their number was according to their polls serving in their ministrations.
(1Ch 25:2) The sons of Asaph; Sacchur, Joseph, and Nathanas, and Erael: the sons of Asaph were next the king.
(1Ch 25:3) To Idithun were reckoned the sons of Idithun, Elohimolias, and Suri, and Iseas, and Asabias, and Matthathias, six after their father Idithun, sounding loudly on the harp thanksgiving and praise to the Lord.
(1Ch 25:4) To Æman were reckoned the sons of Æman, Bukias, and Matthathias, and Oziel, and Subael, and Jerimoth, and Ananias, and Anan, and Heliatha, and Elohimollathi, and Rometthiezer, and Jesbasaca, and Mallithi, and Otheri, and Meazoth.
(1Ch 25:5) All these were the sons of Æman the king's chief player in the praises of Elohim, to lift up the horn. And Elohim gave to Æman fourteen sons, and three daughters.
(1Ch 25:6) All these sang hymns with their father in the house of Elohim, with cymbals, and lutes, and harps, for the service of the house of Elohim, near the king, and Asaph, and Idithun, and Æman.
(1Ch 25:7) And the number of them after their brethren, those instructed to sing to Elohim, every one that understood singing was two hundred and eighty-eight.
(1Ch 25:8) And they also cast lots for the daily courses, for the great and the small of them, of the perfect ones and the learners.
(1Ch 25:9) And the first lot of his sons and of his brethren came forth to Asaph the son of Joseph, namely, Elohimolias: the second Heneia, his sons and his brethren being twelve.
(1Ch 25:10) The third Zacchur, his sons and his brethren were twelve:
(1Ch 25:11) the fourth Jesri, his sons and his brethren were twelve:
(1Ch 25:12) the fifth Nathan, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:13) the sixth Bukias, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:14) the seventh Iseriel, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:15) the eighth Josia, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:16) the ninth Matthathias, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:17) the tenth Semeia, his sons and his brethren, twelve:

(1Ch 25:18) the eleventh Asriel, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:19) the twelfth Asabia, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:20) the thirteenth Subael, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:21) the fourteenth Matthathias, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:22) the fifteenth Jerimoth, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:23) the sixteenth Anania, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:24) the seventeenth Jesbasaca, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:25) the eighteenth Ananias, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:26) the nineteenth Mallithi, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:27) the twentieth Heliatha, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:28) the twenty-first Otheri, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:29) the twenty-second Elohimollathi, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:30) the twenty-third Meazoth, his sons and his brethren, twelve:
(1Ch 25:31) the twenty-fourth Romethiezer, his sons and his brethren,
twelve:
(1Ch 26:1) And for the divisions of the gates: the sons of the Corites were Mosellemia, of the sons of Asaph.
(1Ch 26:2) And Mosellemia's first-born son was Zacharias, the second Jadiel, the third Zabadia, the fourth Jenuel,
(1Ch 26:3) the fifth Jolam, the sixth Jonathan, the seventh Elionai, the eighth Abdedom.
(1Ch 26:4) And to Abdedom there were born sons, Samaias the first-born,
Jozabath the second, Joath the third, Sachar the fourth, Nathanael the fifth, (1Ch 26:5) Amiel the sixth, Issachar the seventh, Phelathi the eighth: for Elohim blessed him.
(1Ch 26:6) And to Samaias his son were born the sons of his first-born, chiefs over the house of their father, for they were mighty.
(1Ch 26:7) The sons of Samai; Othni, and Raphael, and Obed, and Elizabeth, and Achiud, mighty men, Heliu, and Sabachia, and Isbacom.
(1Ch 26:8) All these were of the sons of Abdedom, they and their sons and their brethren, doing mightily in service: in all sixty-two born to Abdedom.
(1Ch 26:9) And Mosellemia had eighteen sons and brethren, mighty men.
(1Ch 26:10) And to Osa of the sons of Merari there were born sons, keeping the dominion; though he was not the first-born, yet his father made him chief of the second division.
(1Ch 26:11) Chelcias the second, Tablai the third, Zacharias the fourth: all these were the sons and brethren of Osa, thirteen.
(1Ch 26:12) To these were assigned the divisions of the gates, to the chiefs of the mighty men the daily courses, even their brethren, to minister in the house of the Lord.
(1Ch 26:13) And they cast lots for the small as well as for the great, for the several gates, according to their families.
(1Ch 26:14) And the lot of the east gates fell to Selemias, and Zacharias: the sons of Soaz cast lots for Melchias, and the lot came out northward.
(1Ch 26:15) To Abdedom they gave by lot the south, opposite the house of Esephim.
(1Ch 26:16) They gave the lot for the second to Osa westward, after the gate of the chamber by the ascent, watch against watch.

(1Ch 26:17) Eastward were six watchmen in the day; northward four by the day; southward four by the day; and two at the Esephim, (1Ch 26:18) to relieve guard, also for Osa westward after the chamber-gate, three. There was a ward over against the ward of the ascent eastward, six men in a day, and four for the north, and four for the south, and at the Esephim two to relieve guard, and four by the west, and two to relieve guard at the pathway.

(1Ch 26:19) These are the divisions of the porters for the sons of Core, and to the sons of Merari.

(1Ch 26:20) And the Levites their brethren were over the treasures of the house of the Lord, and over the treasures of the hallowed things.

(1Ch 26:21) These were the sons of Ladan, the sons of the Gersonite: to Ladan belonged the heads of the families: the son of Ladan the Gersonite was Jeiel.

(1Ch 26:22) The sons of Jeiel were Zethom, and Joel; brethren who were over the treasures of the house of the Lord.

(1Ch 26:23) To Amram and Issaar belonged Chebron, and Oziel.

(1Ch 26:24) And Subael the son of Gersam, the son of Moses, was over the treasures.

(1Ch 26:25) And Rabias was son to his brother Eliezer, and so was Josias, and Joram, and Zechri, and Salomoth.

(1Ch 26:26) This Salomoth and his brethren were over all the sacred treasures, which David the king and the heads of families consecrated, and the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and princes of the host,

(1Ch 26:27) things which he took out of cities and from the spoils, and consecrated some of them, so that the building of the house of Elohim should not want supplies;

(1Ch 26:28) and over all the holy things of Elohim dedicated by Samuel the prophet, and Saul the son of Kis, and Abenner the son of Ner, and Joab the son of Saruia, whatsoever they sanctified was by the hand of Salomoth and his brethren.

(1Ch 26:29) For the Issaarites, Chonenia, and his sons were over the outward ministration over Israel, to record and to judge.

(1Ch 26:30) For the Chebronites, Asabias and his brethren, a thousand and seven hundred mighty men, were over the charge of Israel beyond Jordan westward, for all the service of the Lord and work of the king.

(1Ch 26:31) Of the family of Chebron Urias was chief, even of the Chebronites according to their generations, according to their families. In the fortieth year of his reign they were numbered, and there were found mighty men among them in Jazer of Galaad.

(1Ch 26:32) And his brethren were two thousand seven hundred mighty men, chiefs of their families, and king David set them over the Rubenites, and the Gaddites, and the half-tribe of Manasse, for every ordinance of the Lord, and business of the king.

(1Ch 27:1) Now the sons of Israel according to their number, heads of families, captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and scribes ministering to the king, and for every affair of the king according to their divisions, for every ordinance of coming in and going out monthly, for all the months of the year, one division of them was twenty-four thousand.

(1Ch 27:2) And over the first division of the first month was Isboaz the son of Zabdiel: in his division were twenty-four thousand.

(1Ch 27:3) Of the sons of Tharez one was chief of all the captains of the host for the first month.

(1Ch 27:4) And over the division of the second month was Dodia the son of Ecchoc, and over his division was Makelloth also chief: and in his division were twenty and four thousand, chief men of the host.

(1Ch 27:5) The third for the third month was Banaias the son of Jodae the chief priest: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:6) This Banaeas was more mighty than the thirty, and over the thirty: and Zabad his son was over his division.

(1Ch 27:7) The fourth for the fourth month was Asael the brother of Joab, and Zabadias his son, and his brethren: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:8) The fifth chief for the fifth month was Samaoth the Jezraite: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:9) The sixth for the sixth month was Hoduias the son of Ekkes the Thecoite: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:10) The seventh for the seventh month was Chelles of Phallus of the children of Ephraim: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:11) The eighth for the eighth month was Sobochai the Usathite, belonging to Zarai: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:12) The ninth for the ninth month was Abiezer of Anathoth, of the land of Benjamin: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:13) The tenth for the tenth month was Meera the Netophathite, belonging to Zarai: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:14) The eleventh for the eleventh month was Banaias of Pharathon, of the sons of Ephraim: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:15) The twelfth for the twelfth month was Choldia the Netophathite, belonging to Gothoniel: and in his division were twenty and four thousand.

(1Ch 27:16) And over the tribes of Israel, the chief for Ruben was Eliezer the son of Zechri: for Symeon, Saphatias the son of Maacha:

(1Ch 27:17) for Levi, Asabias the son of Camuel: for Aaron, Sadoc:

(1Ch 27:18) for Juda, Eliab of the brethren of David: for Issachar, Ambri the son of Michael:

(1Ch 27:19) for Zabulon, Samaeas the son of Abdiu: for Nephthali, Jerimoth the son of Oziel:

(1Ch 27:20) for Ephraim, Ose the son of Ozia: for the half-tribe of Manasse, Joel the son of Phadaea:

(1Ch 27:21) for the half-tribe of Manasse in the land of Galaad, Jadai the son of Zadaeas, for the sons of Benjamin, Jasiel the son of Abenner:

(1Ch 27:22) for Dan, Azariel the son of Iroab: these are the chiefs of the tribes of Israel.

(1Ch 27:23) But David took not their number from twenty years old and under: because the Lord said that he would multiply Israel as the stars of the heaven.

(1Ch 27:24) And Joab the son of Saruia began to number the people, and did not finish the work, for there was hereupon wrath on Israel; and the number was not recorded in the book of the chronicles of king David.

(1Ch 27:25) And over the king's treasures was Asmoth the son of Odiel; and over the treasures in the country, and in the towns, and in the villages, and in the towers, was Jonathan the son of Ozia.

(1Ch 27:26) And over the husbandmen who tilled the ground was Esdri the son of Chelub.

(1Ch 27:27) And over the fields was Semei of Rael; and over the treasures of wine in the fields was Zabdi the son of Sephni.

(1Ch 27:28) And over the oliveyards, and over the sycamores in the plain country was Ballanan the Gedorite; and over the stores of oil was Joas.

(1Ch 27:29) And over the oxen pasturing in Saron was Satrai the Saronite; and over the oxen in the valleys was Sophat the son of Adli.

(1Ch 27:30) And over the camels was Abias the Ismaelite; and over the asses was Jadas of Merathon.

(1Ch 27:31) And over the sheep was Jaziz the Agarite. All these were superintendents of the substance of king David.

(1Ch 27:32) And Jonathan, David's uncle by the father's side, was a counsellor, a wise man: and Jeel the son of Achami was with the king's sons.

(1Ch 27:33) Achitophel was the king's counsellor: and Chusi the chief friend of the king.

(1Ch 27:34) And after this Achitophel Jodae the son of Banaeas came next, and Abiathar: and Joab was the king's commander-in-chief.

(1Ch 28:1) And David assembled all the chief men of Israel, the chief of the judges, and all the chief men of the courses of attendance on the person of the king, and the captains of thousands and hundreds, and the treasurers, and the lords of his substance, and of all the king's property, and of his sons, together with the eunuchs, and the mighty men, and the warriors of the army, at Jerusalem.

(1Ch 28:2) And David stood in the midst of the assembly, and said, Hear me, my brethren, and my people: it was in my heart to build a house of rest for the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and a place for the feet of our Lord, and I prepared materials suitable for the building:

(1Ch 28:3) but Elohim said, Thou shalt not build me a house to call my name upon it, for thou art a man of war, and hast shed blood.

(1Ch 28:4) Yet the Lord Elohim of Israel chose me out of the whole house of my father to be king over Israel for ever; and he chose Juda as the kingly house, and out of the house of Juda he chose the house of my father; and among the sons of my father he preferred me, that I should be king over all Israel.

(1Ch 28:5) And of all my sons, (for the Lord has given me many sons,) he has chosen Solomon my son, to set him on the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Israel.

(1Ch 28:6) And Elohim said to me, Solomon thy son shall build my house and my court: for I have chosen him to be my son, and I will be to him a father.

(1Ch 28:7) And I will establish his kingdom for ever, if he continue to keep my commandments, and my judgments, as at this day.

(1Ch 28:8) And now I charge you before the whole assembly of the Lord, and in the audience of our Elohim, keep and seek all the commandments of the Lord our Elohim, that ye may inherit the good land, and leave it for your sons to inherit after you for ever.

(1Ch 28:9) And now, my son Solomon, know the Elohim of thy fathers, and serve him with a perfect heart and willing soul: for the Lord searches all hearts, and knows every thought: if thou seek him, he will be found of thee; but if thou shouldest forsake him, he will forsake thee for ever.

(1Ch 28:10) See now, for the Lord has chosen thee to build him a house for a sanctuary, be strong and do it.

(1Ch 28:11) And David gave Solomon his son the plan of the temple, and its buildings, and its treasuries, and its upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the place of the atonement,

(1Ch 28:12) and the plan which he had in his mind of the courts of the house of the Lord, and of all the chambers round about, designed for the treasuries of the house of Elohim, and of the treasuries of the holy things, and of the chambers for resting:

(1Ch 28:13) and the plan of the courses of the priests and Levites, for all the work of the service of the house of the Lord, and of the stores of vessels for ministration of the service of the house of the Lord.

(1Ch 28:14) And he gave him the account of their weight, both of gold and silver vessels.

(1Ch 28:15) He gave him the weight of the candlesticks, and of the lamps.

(1Ch 28:16) He gave him likewise the weight of the tables of shewbread, of each table of gold, and likewise of the tables of silver:

(1Ch 28:18) And he shewed him the weight of the utensils of the altar of incense, which was of pure gold, and the plan of the chariot of the cherubs that spread out their wings, and overshadowed the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

(1Ch 28:19) David gave all to Solomon in the Lord's handwriting, according to the knowledge given him of the work of the pattern.

(1Ch 28:20) And David said to Solomon his son, Be strong, and play the man, and do: fear not, neither be terrified; for the Lord my Elohim is with thee; he will not forsake thee, and will not fail thee, until thou hast finished all the work of the service of the house of the Lord. And behold the pattern of the temple, even his house, and its treasury, and the upper chambers, and the inner store-rooms, and the place of propitiation, and the plan of the house of the Lord.

(1Ch 28:21) And see, here are the courses of the priests and Levites for all the service of the house of the Lord, and there shall be with thee men for every workmanship, and every one of ready skill in every art: also the chief men and all the people, ready for all thy commands.

(1Ch 29:1) And David the king said to all the congregation, Solomon my son, whom the Lord has chosen, is young and tender, and the work is great; for it is not for man, but for the Lord Elohim.

(1Ch 29:2) I have prepared according to all my might for the house of my Elohim gold, silver, brass, iron, wood, onyx stones, and costly and variegated stones for setting, and every precious stone, and much Parian marble.

(1Ch 29:3) And still farther, because I took pleasure in the house of my Elohim, I have gold and silver which I have procured for myself, and, behold, I have given them to the house of my Elohim over and above, beyond what I have prepared for the holy house.

(1Ch 29:4) Three thousand talents of gold of Suphir, and seven thousand talents of fine silver, for the overlaying of the walls of the sanctuary:

(1Ch 29:5) for thee to use the gold for things of gold, and the silver for things of silver, and for every work by the hand of the artificers. And who is willing to dedicate himself in work this day for the Lord?

(1Ch 29:6) Then the heads of families, and the princes of the children of Israel, and the captains of thousands and captains of hundreds, and the overseers of the works, and the king's builders, offered willingly.

(1Ch 29:7) And they gave for the works of the house of the Lord five thousand talents of gold, and ten thousand gold pieces, and ten thousand talents of silver, and eighteen thousand talents of brass, and a hundred thousand talents of iron.

(1Ch 29:8) And they who had precious stone, gave it into the treasuries of the house of the Lord by the hand of Jeiel the Gedsonite.

(1Ch 29:9) And the people rejoiced because of the willingness, for they offered willingly to the Lord with a full heart: and king David rejoiced greatly.

(1Ch 29:10) And king David blessed the Lord before the congregation, saying, Blessed art thou, YHVH Elohim of Israel, our Father, from everlasting and to everlasting.

(1Ch 29:11) Thine, YHVH, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the might: for thou art Lord of all things that are in heaven and upon the earth: before thy face every king and nation is troubled.

(1Ch 29:12) From thee come wealth and glory: thou, YHVH, rulest over all, the Lord of all dominion, and in thy hand is strength and rule; and thou art almighty with thy hand to increase and establish all things.

(1Ch 29:13) And now, Lord, we give thanks to thee, and praise thy glorious name.

(1Ch 29:14) But who am I, and what is my people, that we have been able to be thus forward in offering to thee? for all things are thine, and of thine own have we given thee, (1Ch 29:15) for we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, as all our fathers were: our days upon the earth are as a shadow, and there is no remaining.

(1Ch 29:16) YHVH our Elohim, as for all this abundance which I have prepared that a house should be built to thy holy name, it is of thy hand, and all is thine.

(1Ch 29:17) And I know, Lord, that thou art he that searches the hearts, and thou lovest righteousness. I have willingly offered all these things in simplicity of heart; and now I have seen with joy thy people here present, willingly offering to thee.

(1Ch 29:18) YHVH Elohim of Abraham, and Isaac, and Israel, our fathers, preserve these things in the thought of the heart of thy people for ever, and direct their hearts to thee.

(1Ch 29:19) And to Solomon my son give a good heart, to perform thy commandments, and to observe thy testimonies, and thine ordinances, and to accomplish the building of thy house.

(1Ch 29:20) And David said to the whole congregation, Bless ye the Lord our Elohim. And all the congregation blessed the Lord Elohim of their fathers, and they bowed the knee and worshipped the Lord, and did obeisance to the king.

(1Ch 29:21) And David sacrificed to the Lord, and offered up whole-burnt-offerings to the Lord on the morrow after the first day, a thousand calves, a thousand rams, a thousand lambs, and their drink-offerings, and sacrifices in abundance for all Israel.

(1Ch 29:22) And they ate and drank joyfully that day before the Lord: and they made Solomon the son of David king a second time, and anointed him king before the Lord, and Sadoc to the priesthood.

(1Ch 29:23) And Solomon sat upon the throne of his father David, and was highly honoured; and all Israel obeyed him.

(1Ch 29:24) The princes, and the mighty men, and all the sons of king David his father, were subject to him.

(1Ch 29:25) And the Lord magnified Solomon over all Israel, and gave him royal glory, such as was not upon any king before him.

(1Ch 29:26) And David the son of Jessae reigned over Israel forty years;

(1Ch 29:27) seven years in Chebron, and thirty-three years in Jerusalem.

(1Ch 29:28) And he died in a good old age, full of days, in wealth, and glory: and Solomon his son reigned in his stead.

(1Ch 29:29) And the rest of the acts of David, the former and the latter, are written in the history of Samuel the seer, and in the history of Nathan the prophet, and in the history of Gad the seer, (1Ch 29:30) concerning all his reign, and his power, and the times which went over him, and over Israel, and over all the kingdoms of the earth.

2 Chronicles.

(2Ch 1:1) And Solomon the son of David was established over his kingdom, and YHVH his Elohim was with him, and increased him exceedingly.

(2Ch 1:2) And Solomon spoke to all Israel, to the captains of thousands, and to the captains of hundreds, and to the judges, and to all the rulers over Israel, even the heads of the families;

(2Ch 1:3) and Solomon and all the congregation went to the high place that was in Gabaon, where was Elohim's tabernacle of witness, which Moses the servant of YHVH made in the wilderness.

(2Ch 1:4) But David had brought up the ark of Elohim out of the city of Cariathiarim; for David had prepared a place for it, for he had pitched a tabernacle for it in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 1:5) And the brazen altar which Beseleel the son of Urias, the son of Or, had made, was there before the tabernacle of YHVH: and Solomon and the congregation enquired at it.

(2Ch 1:6) And Solomon brought victims thither to the brazen altar that was before YHVH in the tabernacle, and offered upon it a thousand whole-burnt-offerings.

(2Ch 1:7) In that night Elohim appeared to Solomon, and said to him, Ask what I shall give thee.

(2Ch 1:8) And Solomon said to Elohim, Thou hast dealt very mercifully with my father David, and hast made me king in his stead.

(2Ch 1:9) And now, YHVH Elohim, let, I pray thee, thy name be established upon David my father; for thou hast made me king over a people numerous as the dust of the earth.

(2Ch 1:10) Now give me wisdom and understanding, that I may go out and come in before this people: for who shall judge this thy great people?

(2Ch 1:11) And Elohim said to Solomon, Because this was in thy heart, and thou hast not asked great wealth, nor glory, nor the life of thine enemies, and thou hast not asked long life; but hast asked for thyself wisdom and understanding, that thou mightest judge my people, over whom I have made thee king:

(2Ch 1:12) I give thee this wisdom and understanding; and I will give thee wealth, and riches, and glory, so that there shall not have been any like thee among the kings before thee, neither shall there be such after thee.

(2Ch 1:13) And Solomon came from the high place that was in Gabaon to Jerusalem, from before the tabernacle of witness, and reigned over Israel.

(2Ch 1:14) And Solomon collected chariots and horsemen: and he had fourteen hundred chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen: and he set them in the cities of chariots, and the people were with the king in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 1:15) And the king made silver and gold in Jerusalem to be as stones, and cedars in Judea as sycamores in the plain for multitude.

(2Ch 1:16) And Solomon imported horses from Egypt, and the charge of the king's merchants for going was as follows, and they traded,

(2Ch 2:1) And Solomon said that he would build a house to the name of YHVH, and a house for his kingdom.

(2Ch 2:2) And Solomon gathered seventy thousand men that bore burdens, and eighty thousand hewers of stone in the mountain, and there were three thousand six hundred superintendents over them.

(2Ch 2:3) And Solomon sent to Chiram king of Tyre, saying, Whereas thou didst deal favourably with David my father, and didst send him cedars to build for himself a house to dwell in,

(2Ch 2:4) behold, I also his son am building a house to the name of YHVH my Elohim, to consecrate it to him, to burn incense before him, and to offer shewbread continually, and to offer up whole-burnt-offerings continually morning and evening, and on the Sabbaths, and at the new moons, and at the feasts of YHVH our Elohim: this is a perpetual statute for Israel.

(2Ch 2:5) And the house which I am building is to be great: for YHVH our Elohim is great beyond all gods.

(2Ch 2:6) And who will be able to build him a house? for the heaven and heaven of heavens do not bear his glory: and who am I, that I should build him a house, save only to burn incense before him?

(2Ch 2:7) And now send me a man wise and skilled to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in purple, and in scarlet, and in blue, and one that knows how to grave together with the craftsmen who are with me in Juda and in Jerusalem, which materials my father David prepared.

(2Ch 2:8) And send me from Libanus cedar wood, and wood of juniper, and pine; for I know that thy servants are skilled in cutting timber in Libanus: and, behold, thy servants shall go with my servants, (2Ch 2:9) to prepare timber for me in abundance: for the house which I am building must be great and glorious.

(2Ch 2:10) And, behold, I have given freely to thy servants that work and cut the wood, corn for food, even twenty thousand measures of wheat, and twenty thousand measures of barley, and twenty thousand measures of wine, and twenty thousand measures of oil.

(2Ch 2:11) And Chiram king of Tyre answered in writing, and sent to Solomon, saying, Because YHVH loved his people, he made thee king over them.

(2Ch 2:12) And Chiram said, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Israel, who made heaven and earth, who has given to king David a wise son, and one endowed with knowledge and understanding, who shall build a house for YHVH, and a house for his kingdom.

(2Ch 2:13) And now I have sent thee a wise and understanding man who belonged to Chiram my father

(2Ch 2:14) (his mother was of the daughters of Dan, and his father was a Tyrian), skilled to work in gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, and in stones and wood; and to weave with purple, and blue, and fine linen, and scarlet; and to engrave, and to understand every device, whatsoever thou shalt give him to do with thy craftsmen, and the craftsmen of my lord David thy father.

(2Ch 2:15) And now, the wheat, and the barley, and the oil, and the wine which my lord mentioned, let him send to his servants.

(2Ch 2:16) And we will cut timber out of Libanus according to all thy need, and we will bring it on rafts to the sea of Joppa, and thou shalt bring it to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 2:17) And Solomon gathered all the foreigners that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering with which David his father numbered them; and there were found a hundred and fifty-three thousand six hundred.

(2Ch 2:18) And he made of them seventy thousand burden-bearers, and eighty thousand hewers of stone, and three thousand six hundred taskmasters over the people.

(2Ch 3:1) And Solomon began to build the house of YHVH in Jerusalem in the mount of Amoria, where YHVH appeared to his father David, in the place which David had prepared in the threshing-floor of Orna the Jebusite.

(2Ch 3:2) And he began to build in the second month, in the fourth year of his reign.

(2Ch 3:3) And thus Solomon began to build the house of Elohim: the length in cubits even the first measurement from end to end, was sixty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

(2Ch 3:4) And the portico in front of the house, its length in front of the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and its height a hundred and twenty cubits: and he gilded it within with pure gold.

(2Ch 3:5) And he lined the great house with cedar wood, and gilded it with pure gold, and carved upon it palm-trees and chains.

(2Ch 3:6) And he garnished the house with precious stones for beauty; and he gilded it with gold of the gold from Pharuim.

(2Ch 3:7) And he gilded the house, and its inner walls, and the door-posts, and the roofs, and the doors with gold; and he carved cherubs on the walls.

(2Ch 3:8) And he built the holy of holies, its length was according to the front of the other house, the breadth of the house was twenty cubits, and the length twenty cubits: and he gilded it with pure gold for cherubs, to the amount of six hundred talents.

(2Ch 3:9) And the weight of the nails, even the weight of each was fifty shekels of gold: and he gilded the upper chamber with gold.

(2Ch 3:10) And he made two cherubs in the most holy house, wood-work, and he gilded them with gold.

(2Ch 3:11) And the wings of the cherubs were twenty cubits in length: and one wing of five cubits touched the wall of the house: and the other wing of five cubits touched the wing of the other cherub.

(2Ch 3:13) And the wings of these cherubs expanded were of the length of twenty cubits: and they stood upon their feet, and their faces were toward the house.

(2Ch 3:14) And he made the vail of blue, and purple, and scarlet, and fine linen, and wove cherubs in it.

(2Ch 3:15) Also he made in front of the house two pillars, in height thirty-five cubits, and their chapters of five cubits.

(2Ch 3:16) And he made chains, as in the oracle, and put them on the heads of the pillars; and he made a hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chains.

(2Ch 3:17) And he set up the pillars in front of the temple, one on the right hand and the other on the left: and he called the name of the one on the right hand 'Stability,' and the name of the one on the left 'Strength.'

(2Ch 4:1) And he made a brazen altar, the length of it twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits, and the height ten cubits.

(2Ch 4:2) And he made the molten sea, in diameter ten cubits, entirely round, and the height of it five cubits, and the circumference thirty cubits.

(2Ch 4:3) And beneath it the likeness of calves, they compass it round about: ten cubits compass the laver round about, they cast the calves two rows in their casting,

(2Ch 4:4) wherein they made them twelve calves, three looking northwards, and three westwards, and three southwards, and three eastwards: and the sea was upon them above, and their hinder parts were inward.

(2Ch 4:5) And its thickness was a hand-breadth, and its brim as the brim of a cup, graven with flowers of lilies, holding three thousand measures: and he finished it.

(2Ch 4:6) And he made ten lavers, and set five on the right hand, and five on the left, to wash in them the instruments of the whole-burnt-offerings, and to rinse the vessels in them; and the sea was for the priests to wash in.

(2Ch 4:7) And he made the ten golden candlesticks according to their pattern, and he put them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

(2Ch 4:8) And he made ten tables, and put them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left: and he made a hundred golden bowls.

(2Ch 4:9) Also he made the priests' court, and the great court, and doors to the court, and their panels were overlaid with brass.

(2Ch 4:10) And he set the sea at the corner of the house on the right, as it were fronting the east.

(2Ch 4:11) And Chiram made the fleshhooks, and the fire-pans, and the grate of the altar, and all its instruments: and Chiram finished doing all the work which he wrought for king Solomon in the house of Elohim:

(2Ch 4:12) two pillars, and upon them an embossed work for the chapiters on the heads of the two pillars, and two nets to cover the heads of the chapiters which are on the heads of the pillars;

(2Ch 4:13) and four hundred golden bells for the two nets, and two rows of pomegranates in each net, to cover the two embossed rims of the chapiters which are upon the pillars.

(2Ch 4:14) And he made the ten bases, and he made the lavers upon the bases;

(2Ch 4:15) and the one sea, and the twelve calves under it;

(2Ch 4:16) and the foot-baths, and the buckets, and the caldrons, and the flesh-hooks, and all their furniture (which Chiram made, and brought to king Solomon in the house of YHVH) of pure brass.

(2Ch 4:17) In the country round about Jordan the king cast them, in the clay ground in the house of Socchoth, and between that and Saredatha.

(2Ch 4:18) So Solomon made all these vessels in great abundance, for the quantity of brass failed not.

(2Ch 4:19) And Solomon made all the vessels of the house of YHVH, and the golden altar, and the tables, and upon them were to be the loaves of shewbread;

(2Ch 4:20) also the candlesticks, and the lamps to give light according to the pattern, and in front of the oracle, of pure gold.

(2Ch 4:21) And their snuffers, and their lamps were made, and he made the bowls, and the censers, and the fire-pans, of pure gold.

(2Ch 4:22) And there was the inner door of the house opening into the holy of holies, and he made the inner doors of the temple of gold. So all the work which Solomon wrought for the house of YHVH was finished.

(2Ch 5:1) And Solomon brought in the holy things of his father David, the silver, and the gold, and the other vessels, and put them in the treasury of the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 5:2) Then Solomon assembled all the elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, even the leaders of the families of the children of Israel, to Jerusalem, to bring up the ark of the covenant of YHVH out of the city of David, this is Sion.

(2Ch 5:3) And all Israel were assembled unto the king in the feast, this is the seventh month.

(2Ch 5:4) And all the elders of Israel came; and all the Levites took up the ark, (2Ch 5:5) and the tabernacle of witness, and all the holy vessels that were in the tabernacle; and the priests and the Levites brought it up.

(2Ch 5:6) And king Solomon, and all the elders of Israel, and the religious of them, and they of them that were gathered before the ark, were sacrificing calves and sheep, which could not be numbered or reckoned for multitude.

(2Ch 5:7) And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of YHVH into its place, into the oracle of the house, even into the holy of holies, under the wings of the cherubs.

(2Ch 5:8) And the cherubs stretched out their wings over the place of the ark, and the cherubs covered the ark, and its staves above.

(2Ch 5:9) And the staves projected, and the heads of the staves were seen from the holy place in front of the oracle, they were not seen without: and there they were to this day.

(2Ch 5:10) There was nothing in the ark except the two tables which Moses placed there in Choreb, which Elohim gave in covenant with the children of Israel, when they went out of the land of Egypt.

(2Ch 5:11) And it came to pass, when the priests went out of the holy place, (for all the priests that were found were sanctified, they were not then arranged according to their daily course,)

(2Ch 5:12) that all the singing Levites assigned to the sons of Asaph, to Æman, to Idithun, and to his sons, and to his brethren, of them that were clothed in linen garments, with cymbals and lutes and harps, were standing before the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests, blowing trumpets.

(2Ch 5:13) And there was one voice in the trumpeting and in the psalm-singing, and in the loud utterance with one voice to give thanks and praise YHVH; and when they raised their voice together with trumpets and cymbals, and instruments of music, and said, Give thanks to YHVH, for it is good, for his mercy endures for ever: then the house was filled with the cloud of the glory of YHVH.

(2Ch 5:14) And the priests could not stand to minister because of the cloud: for the glory of YHVH filled the house of Elohim.

(2Ch 6:1) Then said Solomon, YHVH said that he would dwell in thick darkness.

(2Ch 6:2) But I have built a house to thy name, holy to thee, and prepared for thee to dwell in for ever.

(2Ch 6:3) And the king turned his face, and blessed all the congregation of Israel: and all the congregation of Israel stood by.

(2Ch 6:4) And he said, Blessed be YHVH Elohim of Israel: he has even fulfilled with his hands as he spoke with his mouth to my father David, saying, (2Ch 6:5) From the day when I brought up my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no city of all the tribes of Israel, to build a house that my name should be there; neither did I choose a man to be a leader over my people Israel.

(2Ch 6:6) But I chose Jerusalem that my name should be there; and I chose David to be over my people Israel.

(2Ch 6:7) And it came into the heart of David my father, to build a house for the name of YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(2Ch 6:8) But YHVH said to my father David, Whereas it came into thy heart to build a house for my name, thou didst well that it came into thy heart.

(2Ch 6:9) Nevertheless thou shalt not build the house; for thy son who shall come forth out of thy loins, he shall build the house for my name.

(2Ch 6:10) And YHVH has confirmed this word, which he spoke; and I am raised up in the room of my father David, and I sit upon the throne of Israel as YHVH said, and I have built the house for the name of YHVH Elohim of Israel:

(2Ch 6:11) and I have set there the ark in which is the covenant of YHVH, which he made with Israel.

(2Ch 6:12) And he stood before the altar of YHVH in the presence of all the congregation of Israel, and spread out his hands.

(2Ch 6:13) For Solomon had made a brazen scaffold, and set it in the midst of the court of the sanctuary; the length of it was five cubits, and the breadth of it five cubits, and the height of it three cubits: and he stood upon it, and fell upon his knees before the whole congregation of Israel, and spread abroad his hands to heaven, (2Ch 6:14) and said, Lord Elohim of Israel, there is no Elohim like thee in heaven, or on the earth; keeping covenant and mercy with thy servants that walk before thee with their whole heart.

(2Ch 6:15) Even as thou hast kept them with thy servant David my father, as thou hast spoken to him in words: thou hast both spoken with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thy hands, as it is this day.

(2Ch 6:16) and now, Lord Elohim of Israel, keep with thy servant David my father the things which thou spakest to him, saying, There shall not fail thee a man before me sitting on the throne of Israel, if only thy sons will take heed to their way to walk in my law, as thou didst walk before me.

(2Ch 6:17) And now, Lord Elohim of Israel, let, I pray thee, thy word be confirmed, which thou hast spoken to thy servant David.

(2Ch 6:18) For will Elohim indeed dwell with men upon the earth? if the heaven and the heaven of heavens will not suffice thee, what then is this house which I have built?

(2Ch 6:19) Yet thou shalt have respect to the prayer of thy servant, and to my petition, YHVH Elohim, so as to hearken to the petition and the prayer which thy servant prays before thee this day:

(2Ch 6:20) so that thine eyes should be open over this house by day and by night, towards this place, whereon thou saidst thy name should be called, so as to hear the prayer which thy servant prays towards this house.

(2Ch 6:21) And thou shalt hear the supplication of thy servant, and of thy people Israel, whatsoever prayers they shall make towards this place: and thou shalt hearken in thy dwelling-place out of heaven, yea thou shalt hear, and be merciful.

(2Ch 6:22) If a man sin against his neighbour, and he bring an oath upon him so as to make him swear, and he come and swear before the altar in this house;

(2Ch 6:23) then shalt thou hearken out of heaven, and do, and judge thy servants, to recompense the transgressor, and to return his ways upon his head: and to justify the righteous, to recompense him according to his righteousness.

(2Ch 6:24) And if thy people Israel should be put to the worse before the enemy, if they should sin against thee, and then turn and confess to thy name, and pray and make supplication before thee in this house;

(2Ch 6:25) then shalt thou hearken out of heaven and shalt be merciful to the sins of thy people Israel, and thou shalt restore them to the land which thou gavest to them and to their fathers.

(2Ch 6:26) When heaven is restrained, and there is no rain, because they shall have sinned against thee, and when they shall pray towards this place, and praise thy name, and shall turn from their sins, because thou shalt afflict them;

(2Ch 6:27) then shalt thou hearken from heaven, and thou shalt be merciful to the sins of thy servants, and of thy people Israel; for thou shalt shew them the good way in which they shall walk; and thou shalt send rain upon thy land, which thou gavest to thy people for an inheritance.

(2Ch 6:28) If there should be famine upon the land, if there should be death, a pestilent wind an blight; if there should be locust and caterpillar, and if the enemy should harass them before their cities: in whatever plague and whatever distress they may be;

(2Ch 6:29) Then whatever prayer and whatever supplication shall be made by any man and all thy people Israel, if a man should know his own plague and his own sickness, and should spread forth his hands toward this house;

(2Ch 6:30) then shalt thou hear from heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt be merciful, and shalt recompense to the man according to his ways, as thou shalt know his heart to be; for thou alone knowest the heart of the children of men:

(2Ch 6:31) that they may reverence all thy ways all the days which they live upon the face of the land, which thou gavest to our fathers.

(2Ch 6:32) And every stranger who is not himself of thy people Israel, and who shall have come from a distant land because of thy great name, and thy mighty hand, and thy high arm; when they shall come and worship toward this place;

(2Ch 6:33) then shalt thou hearken out of heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, and shalt do according to all that the stranger shall call upon thee for; that all the nations of the earth may know thy name, and that they may fear thee, as thy people Israel do, and that they may know that thy name is called upon this house which I have built.

(2Ch 6:34) And if thy people shall go forth to war against their enemies by the way by which thou shalt send them, and shall pray to thee toward this city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house which I have built to thy name; (2Ch 6:35) then shalt thou hear out of heaven their prayer and their supplication, and maintain their cause.

(2Ch 6:36) Whereas if they shall sin against thee, (for there is no man who will not sin,) and thou shalt smite them, and deliver them up before their enemies, and they that take them captive shall carry them away into a land of enemies, to a land far off or near;

(2Ch 6:37) and if they shall repent in their land whither they were carried captive, and shall also turn and make supplication to thee in their captivity, saying, We have sinned, we have transgressed, we have wrought unrighteously;

(2Ch 6:38) and if they shall turn to thee with all their heart and all their soul in the land of them that carried them captives, whither they carried them captives, and shall pray toward their land which thou gavest to their fathers, and the city which thou didst choose, and the house which I built to thy name:

(2Ch 6:39) then shalt thou hear out of heaven, out of thy prepared dwelling-place, their prayer and their supplication, and thou shalt execute justice, and shalt be merciful to thy people that sin against thee.

(2Ch 6:40) And now, Lord, let, I pray thee, thine eyes be opened, and thine ears be attentive to the petition made in this place.

(2Ch 6:41) And now, YHVH Elohim, arise into thy resting-place, thou, and the ark of thy strength: let thy priests, YHVH Elohim, clothe themselves with salvation, and thy sons rejoice in prosperity.

(2Ch 6:42) YHVH Elohim, turn not away the face of thine anointed: remember the mercies of thy servant David.

(2Ch 7:1) And when Solomon had finished praying, then the fire came down from heaven, and devoured the whole-burnt-offerings and the sacrifices; and the glory of YHVH filled the house.

(2Ch 7:2) And the priests could not enter into the house of YHVH at that time, for the glory of YHVH filled the house.

(2Ch 7:3) And all the children of Israel saw the fire descending, and the glory of YHVH was upon the house: and they fell upon their face to the ground on the pavement, and worshipped, and praised YHVH; for it is good to do so, because his mercy endures for ever.

(2Ch 7:4) And the king and all the people were offering sacrifices before YHVH.

(2Ch 7:5) And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of calves twenty and two thousand, of sheep a hundred and twenty thousand: so the king and all the people dedicated the house of Elohim.

(2Ch 7:6) And the priests were standing at their watches, and the Levites with instruments of music of YHVH, belonging to king David, to give thanks before YHVH, for his mercy endures for ever, with the hymns of David, by their ministry: and the priests were blowing the trumpets before them, and all Israel standing.

(2Ch 7:7) And Solomon consecrated the middle of the court that was in the house of YHVH: for he offered there the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat of the peace-offerings, for the brazen altar which Solomon had made was not sufficient to receive the whole-burnt-offerings, and the meat-offerings, and the fat.

(2Ch 7:8) And Solomon kept the feast at that time seven days, and all Israel with him, a very great assembly, from the entering in of Æmath, and as far as the river of Egypt.

(2Ch 7:9) And on the eighth day he kept a solemn assembly: for he kept a feast of seven days as the dedication of the altar.

(2Ch 7:10) And on the twenty-third day of the seventh month he dismissed the people to their tents, rejoicing, and with a glad heart because of the good deeds which YHVH had done to David, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

(2Ch 7:11) So Solomon finished the house of YHVH, and the king's house: and in whatever Solomon wished in his heart to do in the house of YHVH and in his own house, he prospered.

(2Ch 7:12) And YHVH appeared to Solomon by night, and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and I have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice.

(2Ch 7:13) If I should restrain the heaven and there should be no rain, and if I should command the locust to devour the trees, and if I should send pestilence upon my people;

(2Ch 7:14) then if my people, on whom my name is called, should repent, and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their evil ways, I also will hear from heaven, and I will be merciful to their sins, and I will heal their land.

(2Ch 7:15) And now my eyes shall be open, and my ears attentive to the prayer of this place.

(2Ch 7:16) And now I have chosen and sanctified this house, that my name should be there for ever: and my eyes and my heart shall be there always.

(2Ch 7:17) And if thou wilt walk before me as David thy father did, and wilt do according to all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ordinances and my judgments;

(2Ch 7:18) then will I establish the throne of thy kingdom, as I covenanted with David thy father, saying, There shall not fail thee a man ruling in Israel.

(2Ch 7:19) But if ye should turn away, and forsake my ordinances and my commandments, which I have set before you, and go and serve other gods, and worship them;

(2Ch 7:20) then will I remove you from the land which I gave them; and this house which I have consecrated to my name I will remove out of my sight, and I will make it a proverb and a by-word among all nations.

(2Ch 7:21) And as for this lofty house, every one that passes by it shall be amazed, and shall say, Wherefore has YHVH done thus to this land, and to this house?

(2Ch 7:22) And men shall say, Because they forsook YHVH Elohim of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and they attached themselves to other gods, and worshipped them, and served them: and therefore he has brought upon them all this evil.

(2Ch 8:1) And it came to pass after twenty years, in which Solomon built the house of YHVH, and his own house, (2Ch 8:2) that Solomon rebuilt the cities which Chiram had given to Solomon, and caused the children of Israel to dwell in them.

(2Ch 8:3) And Solomon came to Baesoba, and fortified it.

(2Ch 8:4) And he built Thoedmor in the wilderness, and all the strong cities which he built in Emath.

(2Ch 8:5) And he built Baethoron the upper, and Baethoron the lower, strong cities, they had walls, gates, and bars;

(2Ch 8:6) and Balaath, and all the strong cities which Solomon had, and all his chariot cities, and cities of horsemen, and all things that Solomon desired according to his desire of building, in Jerusalem, and in Libanus, and in all his kingdom.

(2Ch 8:7) As for all the people that was left of the Chettites, and the Amorites, and the Pherezites, and the Evites, and the Jebusites, who are not of Israel, (2Ch 8:8) but were of the children of them whom the children Israel destroyed not, that were left after them in the land, even them did Solomon make tributaries to this day.

(2Ch 8:9) But Solomon did not make any of the children of Israel servants in his kingdom; for, behold, they were warriors and rulers, and mighty men, and captains of chariots and horsemen.

(2Ch 8:10) And these are the chiefs of the officers of king Solomon, two hundred and fifty overseeing the work among the people.

(2Ch 8:11) And Solomon brought up the daughter of Pharao from the city of David to the house which he had built for her: for he said, My wife shall not dwell in the city of David, the king of Israel, for the place is holy into which the ark of YHVH has entered.

(2Ch 8:12) Then Solomon offered up to YHVH whole-burnt-offerings on the altar which he had built to YHVH before the temple, (2Ch 8:13) according to the daily rate, to offer up sacrifices according to the commandments of Moses, on the Sabbaths, and at the new moons, and at the feasts, three times in the year, at the feast of unleavened bread, and at the feast of weeks, and at the feast of tabernacles.

(2Ch 8:14) And he established, according to the order of his father David, the courses of the priests, and that according to their public ministrations: and the Levites were appointed over their charges, to praise and minister before the priests according to the daily order: and the porters were appointed according to their courses to the different gates: for thus were the commandments of David the man of Elohim.

(2Ch 8:15) They transgressed not the commandments of the king concerning the priests and the Levites with regard to everything else, and with regard to the treasures.

(2Ch 8:16) Now all the work had been prepared from the day when the foundation was laid, until Solomon finished the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 8:17) Then Solomon went to Gasion Gaber, and to Ælath near the sea in the land of Idumea.

(2Ch 8:18) And Chiram sent by the hand of his servants ships, and servants skilled in naval affairs; and they went with the servants of Solomon to Sophira, and brought thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and they came to king Solomon.

(2Ch 9:1) And the queen of Saba heard of the name of Solomon, and she came to Jerusalem with a very large force, to prove Solomon with hard questions, and she had camels bearing spices in abundance, and gold, and precious stones: and she came to Solomon, and told him all that was in her mind.

(2Ch 9:2) And Solomon told her all her words; and there passed not a word from Solomon which he told her not.

(2Ch 9:3) And the queen of Saba saw the wisdom of Solomon, and the house which he had built, (2Ch 9:4) and the meat of the tables, and the sitting of his servants, and the standing of his ministers, and their raiment; and his cupbearers, and their apparel; and the whole-burnt-offerings which he offered up in the house of YHVH; then she was in ecstasy.

(2Ch 9:5) And she said to the king, It was a true report which I heard in my land concerning thy words, and concerning thy wisdom.

(2Ch 9:6) Yet I believed not the reports until I came, and my eyes saw: and, behold, the half of the abundance of thy wisdom was not told me: thou hast exceeded the report which I heard.

(2Ch 9:7) Blessed are thy men, blessed are these thy servants, who stand before thee continually, and hear thy wisdom.

(2Ch 9:8) Blessed be YHVH thy Elohim, who took pleasure in thee, to set thee upon his throne for a king, to YHVH thy Elohim: forasmuch as YHVH thy Elohim loved Israel to establish them for ever, therefore he has set thee over them for a king to execute judgment and justice.

(2Ch 9:9) And she gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and spices in very great abundance, and precious stones: and there were not any where else such spices as those which the queen of Saba gave king Solomon.

(2Ch 9:10) And the servants of Solomon and the servants of Chiram brought gold to Solomon out of Suphir, and pine timber, and precious stones.

(2Ch 9:11) And the king made of the pine timber steps to the house of YHVH, and to the king's house, and harps and lutes for the singers: and such were not seen before in the land of Juda.

(2Ch 9:12) And king Solomon gave to the queen of Saba all that she requested, besides all that she brought to king Solomon: and she returned to her own land.

(2Ch 9:13) And the weight of the gold that was brought to Solomon in one year was six hundred and sixty-six talents of gold, (2Ch 9:14) besides what the men who were regularly appointed and the merchants brought, and all the kings of Arabia and princes of the land: all brought gold and silver to king Solomon.

(2Ch 9:15) And king Solomon made two hundred shields of beaten gold: there were six hundred shekels of pure gold to one shield.

(2Ch 9:16) And three hundred buckles of beaten gold: the weight of three hundred gold shekels went to one buckler: and the king placed them in the house of the forest of Lebanon.

(2Ch 9:17) And the king made a great throne of ivory, and he gilded it with pure gold.

(2Ch 9:18) And there were six steps to the throne, riveted with gold, and elbows on either side of the seat of the throne, and two lions standing by the elbows:

(2Ch 9:19) and twelve lions standing there on the six steps on each side. There was not the like in any other kingdom.

(2Ch 9:20) And all king Solomon's vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the forest of Lebanon were covered with gold: silver was not thought anything of in the days of Solomon.

(2Ch 9:21) For a ship went for the king to Tharsis with the servants of Chiram: once every three years came vessels from Tharsis to the king, laden with gold, and silver, and ivory, and apes.

(2Ch 9:22) And Solomon exceeded all other kings both in riches and wisdom.

(2Ch 9:23) And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom, which Elohim had put in his heart.

(2Ch 9:24) And they brought every one his gifts, silver vessels and golden vessels, and raiment, myrrh and spices, horses and mules, a rate every year.

(2Ch 9:25) And Solomon had four thousand mares for chariots, and twelve thousand horsemen; and he put them in the chariot cities, and with the king in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 9:26) And he rules over all the kings from the river even to the land of the Philistines, and to the borders of Egypt.

(2Ch 9:27) And the king made gold and silver in Jerusalem as stones, and cedars as the sycamore trees in the plain for abundance.

(2Ch 9:28) And Solomon imported horses from Egypt, and from every other country.

(2Ch 9:29) And the rest of the acts of Solomon, the first and the last, behold, these are written in the words of Nathan the prophet, and in the words of Achia the Selonite, and in the visions of Joel the seer concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat.

(2Ch 9:30) And Solomon reigned over all Israel forty years.

(2Ch 9:31) And Solomon fell asleep, and they buried him in the city of David his father: and Roboam his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 10:1) And Roboam came to Sychem: for all Israel came to Sychem to make him king.

(2Ch 10:2) And it came to pass when Jeroboam the son of Nabat heard it, (now he was in Egypt, forasmuch as he had fled thither from the face of king Solomon, and Jeroboam dwelt in Egypt,) that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

(2Ch 10:3) And they sent and called him: and Jeroboam and all the congregation came to Roboam, saying, (2Ch 10:4) Thy father made our yoke grievous: now then abate somewhat of thy father's grievous rule, and of his heavy yoke which he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

(2Ch 10:5) And he said to them, Go away for three days, and then come to me. So the people departed.

(2Ch 10:6) And king Roboam assembled the elders that stood before his father Solomon in his life-time, saying, How do ye counsel me to return an answer to this people?

(2Ch 10:7) And they spoke to him, saying, If thou wouldest this day befriend this people, and be kind to them, and speak to them good words, then will they be thy servants for ever.

(2Ch 10:8) But he forsook the advice of the old men, who took counsel with him, and he took counsel with the young men who had been brought up with him, who stood before him.

(2Ch 10:9) And he said to them, What do ye advise that I should answer this people, who spoke to me, saying, Ease somewhat of the yoke which thy father laid upon us?

(2Ch 10:10) And the young men that had been brought up with him spoke to him, saying, Thus shalt thou speak to the people that spoke to thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, and do thou lighten somewhat of it from us; thus shalt thou say, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

(2Ch 10:11) And whereas my father chastised you with a heavy yoke, I will also add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, and I will chastise you with scorpions.

(2Ch 10:12) And Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam on the third day, as the king had spoken, saying, Return to me on the third day.

(2Ch 10:13) And the king answered harshly; and king Roboam forsook the counsel of the old men, (2Ch 10:14) and spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying, My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to it: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

(2Ch 10:15) And the king hearkened not to the people, for there was a change of their minds from Elohim, saying, YHVH has confirmed his word, which he spoke by the hand of Achia the Selonite concerning Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and concerning all Israel;

(2Ch 10:16) for the king did not hearken to them. And the people answered the king, saying, What portion have we in David, or inheritance in the son of Jessae? to thy tents, O Israel: now see to thine own house, David. So all Israel went to their tents.

(2Ch 10:17) But the men of Israel, even those who dwelt in the cities of Juda, remained and made Roboam king over them.

(2Ch 10:18) And king Roboam sent to them Adoniram that was over the tribute; and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, and he died. And king Roboam hastened to mount his chariot, to flee to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 10:19) So Israel rebelled against the house of David until this day.

(2Ch 11:1) And Roboam came to Jerusalem; and he assembled Juda and Benjamin, a hundred and eighty thousand young men fit for war, and he waged war with Israel to recover the kingdom to Roboam.

(2Ch 11:2) And the Word of YHVH came to Samaias the man of Elohim, saying,

(2Ch 11:3) Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, and to all Juda and Benjamin, saying, (2Ch 11:4) Thus saith YHVH, Ye shall not go up, and ye shall not war against your brethren: return every one to his home; for this thing is of me. And they hearkened to the word of YHVH, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

(2Ch 11:5) And Roboam dwelt in Jerusalem, and he built walled cities in Judea.

(2Ch 11:6) And he built Bethleem, and Ætan and Thecoe,

(2Ch 11:7) and Baethsura, and Sochoth, and Odollam,

(2Ch 11:8) and Geth, and Marisa, and Ziph,

(2Ch 11:9) and Adorai, and Lachis, and Azeca,

(2Ch 11:10) and Saraa, and Ælom, and Chebron, which belong to Juda and Benjamin, walled cities.

(2Ch 11:11) And he fortified them with walls, and placed in them captains, and stores of provisions, oil and wine,

(2Ch 11:12) shields and spears in every several city, and he fortified them very strongly, and he had on his side Juda and Benjamin.

(2Ch 11:13) And the priests and the Levites who were in all Israel were gathered to him out of all the coasts.

(2Ch 11:14) For the Levites left the tents of their possession, and went to Juda to Jerusalem, because Jeroboam and his sons had ejected them so that they should not minister to YHVH.

(2Ch 11:15) And he made for himself priests of the high places, and for the idols, and for the vanities, and for the calves which Jeroboam made.

(2Ch 11:16) And he cast out from the tribes of Israel those who set their heart to seek YHVH Elohim of Israel: and they came to Jerusalem, to sacrifice to YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 11:17) And they strengthened the kingdom of Juda; and Juda strengthened Roboam the son of Solomon for three years, for he walked three years in the ways of David and Solomon.

(2Ch 11:18) And Roboam took to himself for a wife, Moolath daughter of Jerimuth the son of David, and Abigaia daughter of Heliab the son of Jessae.

(2Ch 11:19) And she bore him sons; Jeus, and Samoria, and Zaam.

(2Ch 11:20) And afterwards he took to himself Maacha the daughter of Abessalom; and she bore him Abia, and Jetthi, and Zeza, and Salemoth.

(2Ch 11:21) And Roboam loved Maacha the daughter of Abessalom more than all his wives and all his concubines: for he had eighteen wives and sixty concubines; and he begot twenty-eight sons, and sixty daughters.

(2Ch 11:22) And he made Abia the son of Maacha chief, even a leader among his brethren, for he intended to make him king.

(2Ch 11:23) And he was exalted beyond all his other sons in all the coasts of Juda and Benjamin, and in the strong cities; and he gave them provisions in great abundance: and he desired many wives.

(2Ch 12:1) And it came to pass when the kingdom of Roboam was established, and when he had grown strong, that he forsook the commandments of YHVH, and all Israel with him.

(2Ch 12:2) And it came to pass in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Susakim king of Egypt came up against Jerusalem, because they had sinned against YHVH, (2Ch 12:3) with twelve hundred chariots, and sixty thousand horses: and there was no number of the multitude that came with him from Egypt; Libyans, Trogodytes, and Ethiopians.

(2Ch 12:4) And they obtained possession of the strong cities, which were in Juda, and came to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 12:5) And Samaias the prophet came to Roboam, and to the princes of Juda that were gathered to Jerusalem for fear of Susakim, and said to them, Thus said YHVH, Ye have left me, and I will leave you in the hand of Susakim.

(2Ch 12:6) And the elders of Israel and the king were ashamed, and said, YHVH is righteous.

(2Ch 12:7) And when YHVH saw that they repented, then came the word of YHVH to Samaias, saying, They have repented; I will not destroy them, but I will set them in safety for a little while, and my wrath shall not be poured out on Jerusalem.

(2Ch 12:8) Nevertheless they shall be servants, and know my service, and the service of the kings of the earth.

(2Ch 12:9) So Susakim king of Egypt went up against Jerusalem, and took the treasures that were in the house of YHVH, and the treasures that were in the king's house: he took all; and he took the golden shields which Solomon had made.

(2Ch 12:10) And king Roboam made brazen shields instead of them. And Susakim set over him captains of footmen, as keepers of the gate of the king.

(2Ch 12:11) And it came to pass, when the king went into the house of YHVH, the guards and the footmen went in, and they that returned to meet the footmen.

(2Ch 12:12) And when he repented, the anger of YHVH turned from him, and did not destroy him utterly; for there were good things in Juda.

(2Ch 12:13) So king Roboam strengthened himself in Jerusalem, and reigned: and Roboam was forty and one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned seventeen years in Jerusalem, in the city which YHVH chose out of all the tribes of the children of Israel to call his name there: and his mother's name was Noomma the Ammanitess.

(2Ch 12:14) And he did evil, for he directed not his heart to seek YHVH.

(2Ch 12:15) And the acts of Roboam, the first and the last, behold, are they not written in the book of Samaia the prophet, and Addo the seer, with his achievements.

(2Ch 12:16) And Roboam made war with Jeroboam all his days. And Roboam died with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Abia his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 13:1) In the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam Abia began to reign over Juda.

(2Ch 13:2) He reigned three years in Jerusalem. And his mother's name was Maacha, daughter of Uriel of Gabaon. And there was war between Abia and Jeroboam.

(2Ch 13:3) And Abia set the battle in array with an army, with mighty men of war, even four hundred thousand mighty men: and Jeroboam set the battle in array against him with eight hundred thousand, they were mighty warriors of the host.

(2Ch 13:4) And Abia rose up from the mount Somoron, which is in mount Ephraim, and said, Hear ye, Jeroboam, and all Israel:

(2Ch 13:5) Is it not for you to know that YHVH Elohim of Israel has given a king over Israel for ever to David, and to his sons, by a covenant of salt?

(2Ch 13:6) But Jeroboam the son of Nabat, the servant of Solomon the son of David, is risen up, and has revolted from his master:

(2Ch 13:7) and there are gathered to him pestilent men, transgressors, and he has risen up against Roboam the son of Solomon, while Roboam was young and fearful in heart, and he withstood him not.

(2Ch 13:8) And now ye profess to resist the kingdom of YHVH in the hand of the sons of David; and ye are a great multitude, and with you are golden calves, which Jeroboam made you for gods.

(2Ch 13:9) Did ye not cast out the priests of YHVH, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, and make to yourselves priests of the people of any other land? whoever came to consecrate himself with a calf of the heard and seven rams, he forthwith became a priest to that which is no god.

(2Ch 13:10) But we have not forsaken YHVH our Elohim, and his priests, the sons of Aaron, and the Levites, minister to YHVH; and in their daily courses

(2Ch 13:11) they sacrifice to YHVH whole-burnt-offering, morning and evening, and compound incense, and set the shewbread on the pure table; and there is the golden candlestick, and the lamps for burning, to light in the evening: for we keep the charge of YHVH Elohim of our fathers; but ye have forsaken him.

(2Ch 13:12) And, behold, YHVH and his priests are with us at our head, and the signal trumpets to sound an alarm over us. Children of Israel, fight not against YHVH Elohim of our fathers; for ye shall not prosper.

(2Ch 13:13) Now Jeroboam had caused an ambush to come round upon him from behind: and he himself was before Juda, and the ambush behind.

(2Ch 13:14) And Juda looked back, and, behold, the battle was against them before and behind: and they cried to YHVH, and the priests sounded with the trumpets.

(2Ch 13:15) And the men of Juda shouted: and it came to pass, when the men of Juda shouted, that YHVH smote Jeroboam and Israel before Abia and Juda.

(2Ch 13:16) And the children of Israel fled from before Juda; and YHVH delivered them into their hands.

(2Ch 13:17) And Abia and his people smote them with a great slaughter: and there fell slain of Israel five hundred thousand mighty men.

(2Ch 13:18) So the children of Israel were brought low in that day, and the children of Juda prevailed, because they trusted on YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 13:19) And Abia pursued after Jeroboam, and he took from him the cities, Baethel and her towns, and Jesyna and her towns, and Ephron and her towns.

(2Ch 13:20) And Jeroboam did not recover strength again all the days of Abia: and YHVH smote him, and he died.

(2Ch 13:21) But Abia strengthened himself, and took to himself fourteen wives, and he begot twenty-two sons, and sixteen daughters.

(2Ch 13:22) And the rest of the acts of Abia, and his deeds, and his sayings, are written in the book of the prophet Addo.

(2Ch 14:1) And Abia died with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David; and Asa his son reigned in his stead. In the days of Asa the land of Juda had rest ten years.

(2Ch 14:2) And he did that which was good and right in the sight of YHVH his Elohim.

(2Ch 14:3) And he removed the altars of the strange gods, and the high places, and broke the pillars in pieces, and cut down the groves:

(2Ch 14:4) and he told Juda to seek earnestly YHVH Elohim of their fathers, and to perform the law and commandments.

(2Ch 14:5) And he removed from all the cities of Juda the altars and the idols, and established in quietness

(2Ch 14:6) fortified cities in the land of Juda; for the land was quiet, and he had no war in these years; for YHVH gave him rest.

(2Ch 14:7) And he said to Juda, Let us fortify these cities, and make walls, and towers, and gates, and bars: we shall prevail over the land, for as we have sought out YHVH our Elohim, he has sought out us, and has given us rest round about, and prospered us.

(2Ch 14:8) And Asa had a force of armed men bearing shields and spears in the land of Juda, even three hundred thousand, and in the land of Benjamin two hundred and eighty thousand targeteers and archers: all these were mighty warriors.

(2Ch 14:9) And Zare the Ethiopian went out against them, with a force of a million, and three hundred chariots; and came to Maresa.

(2Ch 14:10) And Asa went out to meet him, and set the battle in array in the valley north of Maresa.

(2Ch 14:11) And Asa cried to YHVH his Elohim, and said, YHVH, it is not impossible with thee to save by many or by few: strengthen us, YHVH our Elohim; for we trust in thee, and in thy name have we come against this great multitude. YHVH our Elohim, let not man prevail against thee.

(2Ch 14:12) And YHVH smote the Ethiopians before Juda; and the Ethiopians fled.

(2Ch 14:13) And Asa and his people pursued them to Gedor; and the Ethiopians fell, so that they could not recover themselves; for they were crushed before YHVH, and before his host; and they took many spoils.

(2Ch 14:14) And they destroyed their towns roundabout Gedor; for a terror of YHVH was upon them: and they spoiled all their cities, for they had much spoil.

(2Ch 14:15) Also they destroyed the tents of cattle, and the Alimazons, and took many sheep and camels, and returned to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 15:1) And Azarias the son of Oded upon him came the Spirit of YHVH, (2Ch 15:2) and he went out to meet Asa, and all Juda and Benjamin, and said, Hear me, Asa, and all Juda and Benjamin. YHVH is with you, while ye are with him; and if ye seek him out, he will be found of you; but if ye forsake him, he will forsake you.

(2Ch 15:3) And Israel has been a long time without the true Elohim, and without a priest to expound the truth, and without the law.

(2Ch 15:4) But he shall turn them to YHVH Elohim of Israel, and he will be found of them.

(2Ch 15:5) And in that time there is no peace to one going out, or to one coming in, for the terror of YHVH is upon all that inhabit the lands.

(2Ch 15:6) And nation shall fight against nation, and city against city; for Elohim has confounded them with every kind of affliction.

(2Ch 15:7) But be ye strong, and let not your hands be weakened: for there is a reward for your work.

(2Ch 15:8) And when Asa heard these words, and the prophesy of Adad the prophet, then he strengthened himself, and cast out the abominations from all the land of Juda and Benjamin, and from the cities which Jeroboam possessed, in mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of YHVH, which was before the temple of YHVH.

(2Ch 15:9) And he assembled Juda and Benjamin, and the strangers that dwelt with him, of Ephraim, and of Manasse, and of Symeon: for many of Israel were joined to him, when they saw that YHVH his Elohim was with him.

(2Ch 15:10) And they assembled at Jerusalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Asa.

(2Ch 15:11) And he sacrificed to YHVH in that day of the spoils which they brought, seven hundred calves and seven thousand sheep.

(2Ch 15:12) And he entered into a covenant that they should seek YHVH Elohim of their fathers with all their heart and with all their soul.

(2Ch 15:13) And that whoever should not seek YHVH Elohim of Israel, should die, whether young or old, whether man or woman.

(2Ch 15:14) And they swore to YHVH with a loud voice, and with trumpets, and with cornets.

(2Ch 15:15) And all Juda rejoiced concerning the oath: for they swore with all their heart, and they sought him with all their desires; and he was found of them: and YHVH gave them rest round about.

(2Ch 15:16) And he removed Maacha his mother from being priestess to Astarte; and he cut down the idol, and burnt it in the brook of Kedron.

(2Ch 15:17) Nevertheless they removed not the high places: they still existed in Israel: nevertheless the heart of Asa was perfect all his days.

(2Ch 15:18) And he brought in the holy things of David his father, and the holy things of the house of Elohim, silver, and gold, and vessels.

(2Ch 15:19) And there was no war waged with him until the thirty-fifth year of the reign of Asa.

(2Ch 16:1) And in the thirty-eighth year of the reign of Asa, the king of Israel went up against Juda, and built Rama, so as not to allow egress or ingress to Asa king of Juda.

(2Ch 16:2) And Asa took silver and gold out of the treasures of the house of YHVH, and of the king's house, and sent them to the son of Ader king of Syria, which dwelt in Damascus, saying, (2Ch 16:3) Make a covenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I have sent thee gold and silver: come, and turn away from me Baasa king of Israel, and let him depart from me.

(2Ch 16:4) And the son of Ader hearkened to king Asa, and sent the captains of his host against the cities of Israel; and smote Æon, and Dan, and Abelmain, and all the country round Nephthali.

(2Ch 16:5) And it came to pass when Baasa heard it he left off building Rama, and put a stop to his work:

(2Ch 16:6) then king Asa took all Juda, and took the stones of Rama, and its timber, with which Baasa had built; and he built with them Gabae and Maspha.

(2Ch 16:7) And at that time came Anani the prophet to Asa king of Juda, and said to him, Because thou didst trust on the king of Syria, and didst not trust on YHVH thy Elohim, therefore the army of Syria is escaped out of thy hand.

(2Ch 16:8) Were not the Ethiopians and Libyans a great force, in courage, in horsemen, in great numbers? and did not He deliver them into thy hands, because thou trustedst in YHVH?

(2Ch 16:9) For the eyes of YHVH look upon all the earth, to strengthen every heart that is perfect toward him. In this thou hast done foolishly; henceforth there shall be war with thee.

(2Ch 16:10) And Asa was angry with the prophet, and put him in prison, for he was angry at this: and Asa vexed some of the people at that time.

(2Ch 16:11) And, behold, the acts of Asa, the first and the last, are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

(2Ch 16:12) And Asa was diseased in his feet in the thirty-ninth year of his reign, until he was very ill: but in his disease he sought not to YHVH, but to the physicians.

(2Ch 16:13) And Asa slept with his fathers, and died in the fortieth year of his reign.

(2Ch 16:14) And they buried him in the sepulchre which he had dug for himself in the city of David, and they laid him on a bed, and filled it with spices and all kinds of perfumes of the apothecaries; and they made for him a very great funeral.

(2Ch 17:1) And Josaphat his son reigned in his stead, Josaphat strengthened himself against Israel.

(2Ch 17:2) And he put garrisons in all the strong cities of Juda, and appointed captains in all the cities of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

(2Ch 17:3) And YHVH was with Josaphat, for he walked in the first ways of his father, and did not seek to idols;

(2Ch 17:4) but he sought to YHVH Elohim of his father, and walked in the commandments of his father, and not according to the works of Israel.

(2Ch 17:5) And YHVH prospered the kingdom in his hand; and all Juda gave gifts to Josaphat; and he had great wealth and glory.

(2Ch 17:6) And his heart was exalted in the way of YHVH; and he removed the high places and the groves from the land of Juda.

(2Ch 17:7) And in the third year of his reign, he sent his chief men, and his mighty men, Abdias and Zacharias, and Nathanael, and Michaias, to teach in the cities of Juda.

(2Ch 17:8) And with them were the Levites, Samaias, and Nathanias, and Zabdias, and Asiel, and Semiramoth, and Jonathan, and Adonias, and Tobias, and Tobadonias, Levites, and with them Elisama and Joram, the priests.

(2Ch 17:9) And they taught in Juda, and there was with them the book of the law of YHVH, and they passed through the cities of Juda, and taught the people.

(2Ch 17:10) And a terror of YHVH was upon all the kingdoms of the land round about Juda, and they made no war against Josaphat.

(2Ch 17:11) And some of the Philistines brought to Josaphat gifts, and silver, and presents; and the Arabians brought him seven thousand seven hundred rams.

(2Ch 17:12) And Josaphat increased in greatness exceedingly, and built in Judea places of abode, and strong cities.

(2Ch 17:13) And he had many works in Judea: and the mighty men of war, the men of strength, were in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 17:14) And this is their number according to the houses of their fathers; even the captains of thousands in Juda were, Ednas the chief, and with him mighty men of strength three hundred thousand.

(2Ch 17:15) And after him, Joanan the captain, and with him two hundred eighty thousand.

(2Ch 17:16) And after him Amasias the son of Zari, who was zealous for YHVH; and with him two hundred thousand mighty men of strength.

(2Ch 17:17) And out of Benjamin there was a mighty man of strength, even Eliada, and with him two hundred thousand archers and targeteers.

(2Ch 17:18) And after him Jozabad, and with him a hundred and eighty thousand mighty men of war.

(2Ch 17:19) These were the king's servants besides those whom the king put in the strong cities in all Judea.

(2Ch 18:1) And Josaphat had yet great wealth and glory, and he connected himself by marriage with the house of Achaab.

(2Ch 18:2) And he went down after a term of years to Achaab to Samaria: and Achaab slew for him sheep and calves, in abundance, and for the people with him, and he much desired him to go up with him to Ramoth of the country of Galaad.

(2Ch 18:3) And Achaab king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth of the country of Galaad? And he said to him, As I am, so also art thou, as thy people, so also is my people with thee for the war.

(2Ch 18:4) And Josaphat said to the king of Israel, Seek, I pray thee, YHVH to-day.

(2Ch 18:5) And the king of Israel gathered the prophets, four hundred men, and said to them, Shall I go to Ramoth Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? And they said, Go up, and Elohim shall deliver it into the hands of the king.

(2Ch 18:6) And Josaphat said, Is there not here a prophet of YHVH besides, that we may enquire of him?

(2Ch 18:7) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, There is yet one man by whom to enquire of YHVH; but I hate him, for he does not prophesy concerning me for good, for all his days are for evil: this is Michaias the son of Jembla. And Josaphat said, Let not the king say so.

(2Ch 18:8) And the king called an eunuch, and said, Fetch quickly Michaias the son of Jembla.

(2Ch 18:9) And the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Juda were sitting each on his throne, and clothed in their robes, sitting in the open space at the entrance of the gate of Samaria: and all the prophets were prophesying before them.

(2Ch 18:10) And Sedekias son of Chanaan made for himself iron horns, and said, Thus saith YHVH, With these thou shalt thrust Syria until it be consumed.

(2Ch 18:11) And all the prophets prophesied so, saying, Go up to Ramoth Galaad, and thou shalt prosper; and YHVH shall deliver it into the hands of the king.

(2Ch 18:12) And the messenger that went to call Michaias spoke to him, saying, Behold, the prophets have spoken favourably concerning the king with one mouth; let now, I pray thee, thy words be as the words of one of them, and do thou speak good things.

(2Ch 18:13) And Michaias said, As YHVH lives, whatever Elohim shall say to me, that will I speak.

(2Ch 18:14) And he came to the king, and the king said to him, Michaias, shall I go up to Ramoth Galaad to battle, or shall I forbear? And he said, Go up, and thou shalt prosper, and they shall be given into your hands.

(2Ch 18:15) And the king said to him, How often shall I solemnly charge thee that thou speak to me nothing but truth in the name of YHVH?

(2Ch 18:16) And he said, I saw Israel scattered on the mountains, as sheep without a shepherd: and YHVH said, These have no commander; let each return to his home in peace.

(2Ch 18:17) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Said I not to thee, that he would not prophesy concerning me good, but evil?

(2Ch 18:18) But he said, Not so. Hear ye the word of YHVH: I saw YHVH sitting on his throne, and all the host of heaven stood by on his right hand and on his left.

(2Ch 18:19) And YHVH said, Who will deceive Achaab king of Israel, that he may go up, and fall in Ramoth Galaad? And one spoke this way, and another spoke that way.

(2Ch 18:20) And there came forth a spirit, and stood before YHVH, and said, I will deceive him. And YHVH said, Whereby?

(2Ch 18:21) And he said, I will go forth, and will be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And YHVH said, Thou shalt deceive him, and shalt prevail: go forth, and do so.

(2Ch 18:22) And now, behold, YHVH has put a false spirit in the mouth of these thy prophets, and YHVH has spoken evil against thee.

(2Ch 18:23) Then Sedekias the son of Chanaan drew near, and smote Michaias on the cheek, and said to him, By what way passed the Spirit of YHVH from me to speak to thee?

(2Ch 18:24) And Michaias said, Behold, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go from chamber to chamber to hide thyself.

(2Ch 18:25) And the king of Israel said, Take Michaias, and carry him back to Emer the governor of the city, and to Joas the captain, the king's son;

(2Ch 18:26) and ye shall say, Thus said the king, Put this fellow into the prison house, and let him eat the bread of affliction, and drink the water of affliction, until I return in peace.

(2Ch 18:27) And Michaias said, If thou do at all return in peace, YHVH has not spoken by me. And he said, Hear, all ye people.

(2Ch 18:28) So the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Juda, went up to Ramoth Galaad.

(2Ch 18:29) And the king of Israel said to Josaphat, Disguise me, and I will enter into the battle: and do thou put on my raiment. so the king of Israel disguised himself, and entered into the battle.

(2Ch 18:30) Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of the chariots that were with him, saying, Fight neither against small nor great, but only against the king of Israel.

(2Ch 18:31) And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat, that they said, It is the king of Israel: and they compassed him about to fight against him: and Josaphat cried out, and YHVH delivered him; and Elohim turned them away from him.

(2Ch 18:32) And it came to pass, when the captains of the chariots saw that it was not the king of Israel, that they turned away from him.

(2Ch 18:33) And a man drew a bow with a good aim, and smote the king of Israel between the lungs and the breast-plate: and he said to the charioteer, Turn thine hand, drive me out of the battle, for I am wounded.

(2Ch 18:34) And the battle turned in that day; and the king of Israel remained on the chariot against Syria until evening, and died at sunset.

(2Ch 19:1) And Josaphat king of Juda returned to his house at Jerusalem.

(2Ch 19:2) And there went out to meet him Jeu the prophet the son of Anani, and said to him, King Josaphat, doest thou help a sinner, or act friendly towards one hated of YHVH? Therefore has wrath come upon thee from YHVH.

(2Ch 19:3) Nevertheless some good things have been found in thee, forasmuch as thou didst remove the groves from the land of Juda, and didst direct thine heart to seek after YHVH.

(2Ch 19:4) And Josaphat dwelt in Jerusalem: and he again went out among the people from Bersabee to the mount of Ephraim, and turned them back to YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 19:5) And he appointed judges in all the strong cities of Juda, city by city.

(2Ch 19:6) And he said to the judges, Take good heed what ye do: for ye judge not for man, but for YHVH, and with you are matters of judgment.

(2Ch 19:7) And now let the fear of YHVH be upon you, and be wary, and do your duty: for there is no unrighteousness with YHVH our Elohim, neither is it for him to respect persons, nor take bribes.

(2Ch 19:8) Moreover Josaphat appointed in Jerusalem some of the priests, and Levites, and heads of houses of Israel, for the judgment of YHVH, and to judge the dwellers in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 19:9) And he charged them, saying, Thus shall ye do in the fear of YHVH, in truth and with a perfect heart.

(2Ch 19:10) Whatsoever man of your brethren that dwell in their cities shall bring the cause that comes before you, between blood and blood, and between precept and commandment, and ordinances and judgments, ye shall even decide for them; so they shall not sin against YHVH, and there shall not be wrath upon you, and upon your brethren: thus ye shall do, and ye shall not sin.

(2Ch 19:11) And, behold, Amarias the priest is head over you in every matter of YHVH; and Zabdias the son of Ismael is head over the house of Juda in every matter of the king; and the scribes and Levites are before you: be strong and active, and YHVH shall be with the good.

(2Ch 20:1) And after this came the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them some of the Minaeans, against Josaphat to battle.

(2Ch 20:2) And they came and told Josaphat, saying, There is come against thee a great multitude from Syria, from beyond the sea; and, behold, they are in Asan Tamar, this is Engadi.

(2Ch 20:3) And Josaphat was alarmed, and set his face to seek YHVH earnestly, and he proclaimed a fast in all Juda.

(2Ch 20:4) And Juda gathered themselves together to seek after YHVH: even from all the cities of Juda they came to seek YHVH.

(2Ch 20:5) And Josaphat stood up in the assembly of Juda in Jerusalem, in the house of YHVH, in front of the new court.

(2Ch 20:6) And he said, YHVH Elohim of my fathers, art not thou Elohim in heaven above, and art not thou Lord of all the kingdoms of the nations? and is there not in thy hand the might of dominion, and there is no one who can resist thee?

(2Ch 20:7) Art not thou YHVH that didst destroy the inhabitants of this land before the face of thy people Israel, and didst give it to thy beloved seed of Abraham for ever?

(2Ch 20:8) And they dwelt in it, and built in it a sanctuary to thy name, saying,

(2Ch 20:9) If there should come upon us evils, sword, judgment, pestilence, famine, we will stand before this house, and before thee, (for thy name is upon this house,) and we will cry to thee because of the affliction, and thou shalt hear, and deliver.

(2Ch 20:10) And now, behold, the children of Ammon, and Moab, and mount Seir, with regard to whom thou didst not permit Israel to pass through their border, when they had come out of the land of Egypt, (for they turned away from them, and did not destroy them;)

(2Ch 20:11) yet now, behold, they make attempts against us, to come forth to cast us out from our inheritance which thou gavest us.

(2Ch 20:12) YHVH our Elohim, wilt thou not judge them? for we have no strength to resist this great multitude that is come against us; and we know not what we shall do to them: but our eyes are toward thee.

(2Ch 20:13) And all Juda was standing before YHVH, and their children, and their wives.

(2Ch 20:14) And Oziel the son of Zacharias, of the children of Banaias, of the sons of Eleiel, the sons of Matthanias the Levite, of the sons of Asaph, upon him came the Spirit of YHVH in the assembly:

(2Ch 20:15) and he said, Hear ye, all Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and king Josaphat: Thus saith YHVH to you, even you, Fear not, neither be alarmed, before all this great multitude; for the battle is not years, but Elohim's.

(2Ch 20:16) To-morrow go ye down against them: behold, they come up by the ascent of Assis, and ye shall find them at the extremity of the river of the wilderness of Jeriel.

(2Ch 20:17) It is not for you to fight: understand these things, and see the deliverance of YHVH with you, Juda and Jerusalem: fear not, neither be afraid to go forth to-morrow to meet them; and YHVH shall be with you.

(2Ch 20:18) And Josaphat bowed with his face to the ground with all Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem, and they fell before YHVH to worship YHVH.

(2Ch 20:19) And the Levites of the children of Caath, and they of the sons of Core, rose up to praise YHVH Elohim of Israel with a loud voice on high.

(2Ch 20:20) And they rose early in the morning and went out to the wilderness of Thecoe: and as they went out, Josaphat stood and cried, and said, Hear me, Juda, and the dwellers in Jerusalem; put your trust in YHVH Elohim, and your trust shall be honored; trust in his prophet, and ye shall prosper.

(2Ch 20:21) And he took counsel with the people, and set appointed men to sing psalms and praises, to give thanks, and sing the holy songs of praise in going forth before the host: and they said, Give thanks to YHVH, for his mercy endures for ever.

(2Ch 20:22) And when they began the praise and thanksgiving, YHVH caused the children of Ammon to fight against Moab, and the inhabitants of mount Seir that came out against Juda; and they were routed.

(2Ch 20:23) Then the children of Ammon and Moab rose up against the dwellers in mount Seir, to destroy and consume them; and when they had made an end of destroying the inhabitants of Seir, they rose up against one another so that they were utterly destroyed.

(2Ch 20:24) And Juda came to the watch-tower of the wilderness, and looked, and saw the multitude, and, behold, they were all fallen dead upon the earth, not one escaped.

(2Ch 20:25) And Josaphat and his people went out to spoil them, and they found much cattle, and furniture, and spoils, and precious things: and they spoiled them, and they were three days gathering the spoil, for it was abundant.

(2Ch 20:26) And it came to pass on the fourth day they were gathered to the Valley of Blessing; for there they blessed YHVH: therefore they called the name of the place the Valley of Blessing, until this day.

(2Ch 20:27) And all the men of Juda returned to Jerusalem, and Josaphat led them with great joy; for YHVH gave them joy over their enemies.

(2Ch 20:28) And they entered into Jerusalem with lutes and harps and trumpets, going into the house of the lord.

(2Ch 20:29) And there was a terror of YHVH upon all the kingdoms of the land, when they heard that YHVH fought against the enemies of Israel.

(2Ch 20:30) And the kingdom of Josaphat was at peace; and his Elohim gave him rest round about.

(2Ch 20:31) And Josaphat reigned over Juda, being thirty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned twenty-five years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Azuba, daughter of Sali.

(2Ch 20:32) And he walked in the ways of his father Asa, and turned not aside from doing that which was right in the sight of YHVH.

(2Ch 20:33) nevertheless the high places yet remained; and as yet the people did not direct their heart to YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 20:34) And the rest of the acts of Josaphat, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the history of Jeu the son of Anani, who wrote the book of the kings of Israel.

(2Ch 20:35) And afterwards Josaphat king of Juda entered into an alliance with Ochozias king of Israel, (now this was an unrighteous man,)

(2Ch 20:36) by acting with and going to him, to build ships to go to Tharsis: and he built ships in Gasion Gaber.

(2Ch 20:37) And Eliezer thee son of Dodia of Marisa prophesied against Josaphat, saying, Forasmuch as thou hast allied thyself with Ochozias, YHVH has broken thy work, and thy vessels have been wrecked. And they could not go to Tharsis.

(2Ch 21:1) And Josaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Joran his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 21:2) And he had brothers, the six sons of Josaphat, Azarias, and Jeiel, and Zacharias, and Azarias, and Michael, and Zaphatias: all these were the sons of Josaphat king of Juda.

(2Ch 21:3) And their father gave them many gifts, silver, and gold, and arms, together with fortified cities in Juda: but he gave the kingdom to Joram, for he was the first-born.

(2Ch 21:4) And Joram entered upon his kingdom, and strengthened himself, and slew all his brothers with the sword, and some of the princes of Israel.

(2Ch 21:5) When he was thirty and two years old, Joram succeeded to his kingdom, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 21:6) And he walked in the way of the kings of Israel, as did the house of Achaab; for a daughter of Achaab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH:

(2Ch 21:7) nevertheless YHVH would not utterly destroy the house of David, because of the covenant which he made with David, and as he said to him that he would give a light to him and his sons for ever.

(2Ch 21:8) In those days Edom revolted from Juda, and they made a king over themselves.

(2Ch 21:9) And Joram went with the princes, and all the cavalry with him: and it came to pass that he arose by night, and smote Edom that compassed him about, and the captains of the chariots, and the people fled to their tents.

(2Ch 21:10) And Edom revolted from Juda until this day. Then Lomna at that time revolted from under his hand, because he forsook YHVH Elohim of his fathers.

(2Ch 21:11) For he built high places in the cities of Juda, and caused the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, and led Juda astray.

(2Ch 21:12) And there came to him a message in writing from Eliu the prophet, saying, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of thy father David, Because thou hast not walked in the way of thy father Josaphat, nor in the ways of Asa king of Juda,

(2Ch 21:13) but hast walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, and hast caused Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem to go a-whoring, as the house of Achaab caused Israel to go a-whoring, and thou hast slain thy brethren, the sons of thy father, who were better than thyself;

(2Ch 21:14) behold, YHVH shall smite thee with a great plague among thy people, and thy sons, and thy wives, and all thy store:

(2Ch 21:15) and thou shalt be afflicted with a grievous disease, with a disease of the bowels, until thy bowels shall fall out day by day with the sickness.

(2Ch 21:16) So YHVH stirred up the Philistines against Joram, and the Arabians, and those who bordered on the Æthiopians:

(2Ch 21:17) and they went up against Juda, and prevailed against them, and took away all the store which they found in the house of the king, and his sons, and his daughters; and there was no son left to him but Ochozias the youngest of his sons.

(2Ch 21:18) And after all these things YHVH smote him in the bowels with an incurable disease.

(2Ch 21:19) And it continued from day to day: and when the time of the days came to two years, his bowels fell out with the disease, and he died by a grievous distemper: and his people performed no funeral, like the funeral of his fathers.

(2Ch 21:20) He was thirty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. And he departed without honour, and was buried in the city of David, but not in the tombs of the kings.

(2Ch 22:1) And the inhabitants of Jerusalem made Ochozias his youngest son king in his stead: for the band of robbers that came against them, even the Arabians and the Alimazonians, had slain all the elder ones. So Ochozias son of Joram king of Juda reigned.

(2Ch 22:2) Ochozias began to reign when he was twenty years old, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Gotholia, the daughter of Ambri.

(2Ch 22:3) And he walked in the way of the house of Achaab; for his mother was his counsellor to do evil.

(2Ch 22:4) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH as the house of Achaab had done: for they were his counselors after the death of his father to his destruction.

(2Ch 22:5) And he walked in their counsels, and he went with Joram son of Achaab king of Israel to war against Azael king of Syria to Ramoth Galaad: and the archers smote Joram.

(2Ch 22:6) And Joram returned to Jezrael to be healed of the wounds wherewith the Syrians smote him in Ramoth, when he fought against Azael king of Syria. And Ochozias son of Joram, king of Juda, went down to see Joram the son of Achaab at Jezrael because he was sick.

(2Ch 22:7) And destruction from Elohim came upon Ochozias in his coming to Joram; for when he had come, Joram went out with him against Jeu the son of Namessei, the anointed of YHVH against the house of Achaab.

(2Ch 22:8) And it came to pass, when Jeu was taking vengeance on the house of Achaab, that he found the princes of Juda and the brethren of Ochozias ministering to Ochozias, and he slew them.

(2Ch 22:9) And he gave orders to seek Ochozias: and they took him while he was healing his wounds in Samaria, and they brought him to Jeu, and he slew him; and they buried him, for they said, He is the son of Josaphat, who sought YHVH with all his heart. So there was none in the house of Ochozias to secure their power in the kingdom.

(2Ch 22:10) And Gotholia the mother of Ochozias saw that her son was dead, and she arose and destroyed all the seed royal in the house of Juda.

(2Ch 22:11) But Josabeeth, the daughter of the king, took Joas the son of Ochozias and rescued him secretly out of the midst of the sons of the king that were put to death, and she placed him and his nurse in a bedchamber. So Josabeeth daughter of king Joram, sister of Ochozias, wife of Jodae the priest, hid him, and she even hid him from Gotholia, and she did not slay him.

(2Ch 22:12) And he was with him hid in the house of Elohim six years; and Gotholia reigned over the land.

(2Ch 23:1) And in the eighth year Jodae strengthened himself, and took the captains of hundreds, Azarias the son of Joram, and Ismael the son of Joanan, and Azarias the son of Obed, and Maasaeas the son of Adia, and Elisaphan the son of Zacharias, with him unto the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 23:2) And they went round about Juda, and gathered the Levites out of all the cities of Juda, and heads of the families of Israel, and they came to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 23:3) and all the congregation of Juda made a covenant with the king in the house of Elohim. And he shewed them the king's son, and said to them, Lo, let the king's son reign, as YHVH said concerning the house of David.

(2Ch 23:4) Now this is the thing which ye shall do. Let a third part of you, even of the priests and of the Levites, enter in on the Sabbath, even into the gates of the entrances;

(2Ch 23:5) and let a third part be in the house of the king; and another third at the middle gate: and all the people in the courts of YHVH's house.

(2Ch 23:6) And let not any one enter into the house of YHVH, except the priests and the Levites, and the servants of the Levites; they shall enter in, because they are holy: and let all the people keep the watch of YHVH.

(2Ch 23:7) And the Levites shall compass the king round about, every man's weapon in his hand; and whoever else goes into the house shall die: but they shall be with the king when he goes out, and when he comes in.

(2Ch 23:8) And the Levites and all Juda did according to all that the priest Jodae commanded them, and they took each his men from the beginning of the Sabbath to the end of the Sabbath, for Jodae the priest did not dismiss the courses.

(2Ch 23:9) And Jodae gave to the men the swords, and the shields, and the arms, which had belonged to King David, in the house of Elohim.

(2Ch 23:10) And he set the whole people, every man with his arms, from the right side of the house to the left side of the altar and the house, over against the king round about.

(2Ch 23:11) And he brought out the king's son, and put on him the crown and the testimony, and Jodae the priest and his sons proclaimed him king, and anointed him, and said, Long live the king!

(2Ch 23:12) And Gotholia heard the sound of the people running, and acknowledging and praising the king: and she went in to the king into the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 23:13) And she looked, and, behold, the king stood in his place, and the princes and trumpets were at the entrance, and the princes were round the king: and all the people of the land rejoiced, and sounded the trumpets, and there were the singers singing with instruments, and singing hymns of praise. and Gotholia rent her robe, and cried, ye surely are plotting against me.

(2Ch 23:14) And Jodae the priest went forth, and Jodae the priest charged the captains of hundreds, even the captains of the host, and said to them, Thrust her forth outside the house, and follow her, and let her be slain with the sword. For the priest said, Let her not be slain in the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 23:15) So they let her go out; and she went through the horsemen's gate of the house of the king, and they slew her there.

(2Ch 23:16) And Jodae made a covenant between himself, and the people, and the king, that the people should be YHVH's.

(2Ch 23:17) And all the people of the land went into the house of Baal, and tore down it and its altars, and they ground his images to powder, and they slew Matthan the priest of Baal before his altars.

(2Ch 23:18) And Jodae the priest committed the works of the house of YHVH into the and of the priests and Levites, and he re-established the courses of the priests and Levites which David appointed over the house of YHVH, and he appointed them to offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH, as it is written in the law of Moses, with gladness, and with songs by the hand of David.

(2Ch 23:19) And the porters stood at the gates of the house of YHVH, that no one unclean in any respect should enter in.

(2Ch 23:20) And he took the heads of families, and the mighty men, and the chiefs of the people, and all the people of the land, and they conducted the king into the house of YHVH; and he went through the inner gate into the king's house, and they seated the king on the throne of the kingdom.

(2Ch 23:21) And all the people of the land rejoiced; and the city was quiet: and they slew Gotholia.

(2Ch 24:1) Joas was seven years old when he began to reign, and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Sabia of Bersabee.

(2Ch 24:2) And Joas did that which right in the sight of YHVH all the days of Jodae the priest.

(2Ch 24:3) And Jodae took to himself two wives, and they bore sons and daughters.

(2Ch 24:4) And it came to pass afterward that it came into the heart of Joas to repair the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 24:5) And he gathered the priests and the Levites, and said to them, Go out into the cities of Juda, and collect money of all Israel to repair the house of YHVH from year to year, and make haste to speak of it. But the Levites hastened not.

(2Ch 24:6) And king Joas called Jodae the chief, and said to him, Why hast thou not looked after the Levites, so that they should bring from Juda and Jerusalem that which was prescribed by Moses the man of Elohim, when he assembled Israel at the tabernacle of witness?

(2Ch 24:7) For Gotholia was a transgressor, and her sons tore down the house of Elohim; for they offered the holy things of the house of YHVH to Baalim.

(2Ch 24:8) And the king said, Let a box be made, and let it be put at the gate of the house of YHVH without.

(2Ch 24:9) And let men proclaim in Juda and in Jerusalem, that the people should bring to YHVH, as Moses the servant of Elohim spoke concerning Israel in the wilderness.

(2Ch 24:10) And all the princes and all the people gave, and brought in, and cast into the box until it was filled.

(2Ch 24:11) And it came to pass, when they brought in the box to the officers of the king by the hand of the Levites, and when they saw that the money was more than sufficient, then came the king's scribe, and the officer of the high priest, and emptied the box, and restored it to its place. Thus they did day by day, and collected much money.

(2Ch 24:12) And the king and Jodae the priest gave it to the workmen employed in the service of the house of YHVH, and they hired masons and carpenters to repair the house of YHVH, also smiths and braziers to repair the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 24:13) And the workmen wrought, and the works prospered in their hands, and they established the house of YHVH on its foundation, and strengthened it.

(2Ch 24:14) And when they had finished it, they brought to the king and to Jodae the remainder of the money, and they made vessels for the house of YHVH, vessels of service for whole-burnt-offerings, and gold and silver censers: and they offered up whole-burnt-offerings in the house of YHVH continually all the days of Jodae.

(2Ch 24:15) And Jodae grew old, being full of days, and he died, being a hundred and thirty years old at his death.

(2Ch 24:16) And they buried him with the kings in the city of David, because he had dealt well with Israel, and with Elohim and his house.

(2Ch 24:17) And it came to pass after the death of Jodae, that the princes of Juda went in, and did obeisance to the king. Then the king hearkened to them.

(2Ch 24:18) And they forsook the house of YHVH Elohim of their fathers, and served the Astartes and idols: and there was wrath upon Juda and Jerusalem in that day.

(2Ch 24:19) yet he sent prophets to them, to turn them to YHVH; but they hearkened not: and he testified to them, but they obeyed not.

(2Ch 24:20) And the Spirit of Elohim came upon Azarias the son of Jodae the priest, and he stood up above the people, and said, Thus saith YHVH, Why do ye transgress the commandments of YHVH? so shall ye not prosper; for ye have forsaken YHVH, and he will forsake you.

(2Ch 24:21) And they conspired against him, and stone him by command of king Joas in the court of YHVH's house.

(2Ch 24:22) So Joas remembered not the kindness which his father Jodae had exercised towards him, but slew his son. And as he died, he said, YHVH look upon it, and judge.

(2Ch 24:23) And it came to pass after the end of the year, that the host of Syria went up against him, and came against Juda and Jerusalem: and they slew all the chiefs of the people among the people, and all their spoils they sent to the king of Damascus.

(2Ch 24:24) For the army of Syria came with few men, yet Elohim gave into their hands a very large army, because they had forsaken the Elohim of their fathers; and he brought judgments on Joas.

(2Ch 24:25) And after they had departed from him, when they had left him in sore diseases, then his servants conspired against him because of the blood of the son of Jodae the priest, and slew him on his bed, and he died, and they buried him in the city of David, but they buried him not in the sepulchre of the kings.

(2Ch 24:26) And they that conspired against him were Zabed the son of Samaath the Ammanite, and Jozabed the son of Samareth the Moabite.

(2Ch 24:27) And all his sons, and the five came to him: and the other matters, behold, they are written in the book of the kings. And Amasias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 25:1) Amasias began to reign when he was twenty and five years old, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem; and his mother's name was Joadaen of Jerusalem.

(2Ch 25:2) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, but not with a perfect heart.

(2Ch 25:3) And it came to pass, when the kingdom was established in his hand, that he slew his servants who had slain the king his father.

(2Ch 25:4) But he slew not their sons, according to the covenant of the law of YHVH, as it is written, and as YHVH commanded, saying, The fathers shall not die for the children, and the sons shall not die for the fathers, but they shall die each for his own sin.

(2Ch 25:5) And Amasias assembled the house of Juda, and appointed them according to the houses of their families for captains of thousands and captains of hundreds in all Juda and Jerusalem: and he numbered them from twenty years old and upwards, and found them three hundred thousand able to go out to war, holding spear and shield.

(2Ch 25:6) Also he hired of Israel a hundred thousand mighty men for a hundred talents of silver.

(2Ch 25:7) And there came a man of Elohim to him, saying, O king, let not the host of Israel go with thee; for YHVH is not with Israel, even all the sons of Ephraim.

(2Ch 25:8) For if thou shalt undertake to strengthen thyself with these, then the lord shall put thee to flight before the enemies: for it is of YHVH both to strengthen and to put to flight.

(2Ch 25:9) And Amasias said to the man of Elohim, But what shall I do for the hundred talents which I have given to the army of Israel? And the man of Elohim said, YHVH can give thee much more than these.

(2Ch 25:10) And Amasias separated from the army that came to him from Ephraim, that they might go away to their place; and they were very angry with Juda, and they returned to their place with great wrath.

(2Ch 25:11) And Amasias strengthened himself, and took his people, and went to the valley of salt, and smote there the children of Seir ten thousand.

(2Ch 25:12) And the children of Juda took ten thousand prisoners, and they carried them to the top of the precipice, and cast them headlong from the top of the precipice, and they were all dashed to pieces.

(2Ch 25:13) And the men of the host whom Amasias sent back so that they should not go with him to battle, went and attacked the cities of Juda, from Samaria to Baethoron; and they smote three thousand among them, and took much spoil.

(2Ch 25:14) And it came to pass, after Amasias had returned from smiting Idumea, that he brought home the gods of the children of Seir, and set them up for himself as gods, and bowed down before them, and he sacrificed to them.

(2Ch 25:15) And the anger of YHVH came upon Amasias, and he sent him a prophet, and he said to him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which have not rescued their own people out of thine hand?

(2Ch 25:16) And it came to pass when the prophet was speaking to him, that he said to him, have I made thee king's counsellor? take heed lest thou be scourged: and the prophet forebore, and said, I know that Elohim is disposed against thee to destroy thee, because thou hast done this thing, and hast not hearkened to my counsel.

(2Ch 25:17) And Amasias king of Juda took counsel, and sent to Joas, son of Joachaz, son of Jeu, king of Israel, saying, Come, and let us look one another in the face.

(2Ch 25:18) And Joas king of Israel sent to Amasias king of Juda, saying, The thistle that was in Libanus sent to the cedar that was in Libanus, saying, Give thy daughter to my son to wife; but, behold, thy wild beasts of the field that are in Libanus shall come: and the wild beasts did come, and trod down the thistle.

(2Ch 25:19) Thou hast said, Behold, I have smitten Idumea, and thy stout heart exalts thee: now stay at home; for why dost thou implicate thyself in mischief, that thou shouldst fall, and Juda with thee.

(2Ch 25:20) Nevertheless Amasias hearkened not, for it was of YHVH to deliver him into the enemy's hands, because he sought after the gods of the Idumeans.

(2Ch 25:21) So Joas king of Israel went up; and they saw one another, he and Amasias king of Juda, in Baethsamys, which is of Juda.

(2Ch 25:22) And Juda was put to flight before Israel, and they fled every man to his tent.

(2Ch 25:23) And Joas king of Israel took prisoner Amasias king of Juda, son of Joas, son of Joachaz, in Baethsamys, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he pulled down part of the wall of Jerusalem from the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, four hundred cubits.

(2Ch 25:24) And he took all the gold and the silver, and all the vessels that were found in the house of YHVH and with Abdedom, and the treasures of the king's house, and the hostages, and he returned to Samaria.

(2Ch 25:25) And Amasias the son of Joas king of Juda lived after the death of Joas the son of Joachaz king of Israel fifteen years.

(2Ch 25:26) And the rest of the acts of Amasias, the first and the last, Lo! are they not written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel?

(2Ch 25:27) And at the time when Amasias departed from YHVH, then they formed a conspiracy against him; and he fled from Jerusalem to Lachis: and they sent after him to Lachis, and slew him there.

(2Ch 25:28) And they took him up on horses, and buried him with his fathers in the city of David.

(2Ch 26:1) Then all the people of the land took Ozias, and he was sixteen years old, and they made him king in the room of his father Amasias.

(2Ch 26:2) He built Ælath, he recovered it to Juda, after the king slept with his fathers.

(2Ch 26:3) Ozias began to reign at the age of sixteen years, and he reigned fifty-two years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jechelia of Jerusalem.

(2Ch 26:4) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, according to all that Amasias his father did.

(2Ch 26:5) And he sought YHVH in the days of Zacharias, who understood the fear of YHVH; and in his days he sought YHVH, and YHVH prospered him.

(2Ch 26:6) And he went out and fought against the Philistines, and pulled down the walls of Geth, and the walls of Jabner, and the walls of Azotus, and he built cities near Azotus, and among the Philistines.

(2Ch 26:7) And YHVH strengthened him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt on the rock, and against the Minaeans.

(2Ch 26:8) And the Minaeans gave gifts to Ozias; and his fame spread as far as the entering in of Egypt, for he strengthened himself exceedingly.

(2Ch 26:9) And Ozias built towers in Jerusalem, both at the gate of the corners, and at the valley gate, and at the corners and he fortified them.

(2Ch 26:10) And he built towers in the wilderness, and dug many wells, for he had many cattle in the low country and in the plain; and vinedressers in the mountain country and in Carmel: for he was a husbandman.

(2Ch 26:11) And Ozias had a host of warriors, and that went out orderly to war, and returned orderly in number; and their number was made by the hand of Jeiel the scribe, and Maasias the judge, by the hand of Ananias the king's deputy.

(2Ch 26:12) The whole number of the chiefs of families of the mighty men of war was two thousand six hundred;

(2Ch 26:13) and with them was a warrior force, three hundred thousand and seven thousand and five hundred: these waged war mightily to help the king against his enemies.

(2Ch 26:14) And Ozias prepared for them, even for all the host, shields, and spears, and helmets, and breastplates, and bows, and slings for stones.

(2Ch 26:15) And he made in Jerusalem machines invented by a wise contriver, to be upon the towers and upon the corners, to cast darts and great stones:

and the fame of their preparation was heard at a distance; for he was wonderfully helped, till he was strong.

(2Ch 26:16) And when he was strong, his heart was lifted up to his destruction; and he transgressed against YHVH his Elohim, and went into the temple of YHVH to turn incense on the altar of incense.

(2Ch 26:17) And there went in after him Azarias the priest, and with him eighty priests of YHVH, mighty men.

(2Ch 26:18) And they withstood Ozias the king, and said to him, It is not for thee, Ozias, to burn incense to YHVH, but only for the priests the sons of Aaron, who are consecrated to sacrifice: go forth of the sanctuary, for thou hast departed from YHVH; and this shall not be for glory to thee from YHVH god.

(2Ch 26:19) And Ozias was angry, and in his hand was the censer to burn incense in the temple: and when he was angry with the priests, then the leprosy rose up in his forehead before the priests in the house of YHVH, over the altar of incense.

(2Ch 26:20) And Azarias the chief priest, and the other priests, turned to look at him, and, behold, he was leprous in his forehead; and they got him hastily out thence, for he also hastened to go out, because YHVH had rebuked him.

(2Ch 26:21) And Ozias the king was a leper to the day of his death, and he dwelt as a leper in a separate house; for he was cut off from the house of YHVH: and Joathan his son was set over his kingdom, judging the people of the land.

(2Ch 26:22) And the rest of the acts of Ozias, the first and the last, are written by Jessias the prophet.

(2Ch 26:23) And Ozias slept with his fathers, and they buried him with his fathers in the field of the burial place of the kings, for they said, He is a leper; and Joatham his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 27:1) Joatham was twenty and five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Jerusa, daughter of Sadoc.

(2Ch 27:2) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his father Ozias did: but he went not into the temple of YHVH. And still the people corrupted themselves.

(2Ch 27:3) He built the high gate of the house of YHVH, and he built much in the wall of Opel.

(2Ch 27:4) In the mountain of Juda, and in the woods, he built both dwelling-places and towers.

(2Ch 27:5) He fought against the king of the children of Ammon, and prevailed against him: and the children of Ammon gave him even annually a hundred talents of silver, and ten thousand measures of wheat, and ten thousand of barley. These the king of the children of Ammon brought to him annually in the first and second and third years.

(2Ch 27:6) Joatham grew strong, because he prepared his ways before YHVH his Elohim.

(2Ch 27:7) And the rest of the acts of Joatham, and his war, and his deeds, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

(2Ch 27:9) And Joatham slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David: and Achaz his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 28:1) Achaz was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: and he did not that which was right in the sight of YHVH, as David his father.

(2Ch 28:2) But he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, for he made graven images.

(2Ch 28:3) And he sacrificed to their idols in the valley of Benennom, and passed his children through the fire, according to the abominations of the heathen, whom YHVH cast out from before the children of Israel.

(2Ch 28:4) And he burnt incense upon the high places, and upon the roofs, and under every shady tree.

(2Ch 28:5) And YHVH his Elohim delivered him into the hand of the king of Syria; and he smote him, and took captive of them a great band of prisoners, and carried him to Damascus. Also Elohim delivered him into the hands of the king of Israel, who smote him with a great slaughter.

(2Ch 28:6) And Phakee the son of Romelias king of Israel, slew in Juda in one day a hundred and twenty thousand mighty men; because they had forsaken YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 28:7) And Zechri, a mighty man of Ephraim, slew Maasias the king's son, and Ezrican the chief of his house, and Elcana the king's deputy.

(2Ch 28:8) And the children of Israel took captive of their brethren three hundred thousand, women, and sons, and daughters, and they spoiled them of much property, and brought the spoils to Samaria.

(2Ch 28:9) And there was there a prophet of YHVH, his name was Oded: and he went out to meet the host that were coming to Samaria, and said to them, Behold, the wrath of YHVH Elohim of your fathers is upon Juda, and he has delivered them into your hands, and ye have slain them in wrath, and it has reached even to heaven.

(2Ch 28:10) And now ye talk of keeping the children of Juda and Jerusalem for servants and handmaidens. Lo, am I not with you to testify for YHVH your Elohim?

(2Ch 28:11) And now hearken to me, and restore the prisoners of your brethren whom ye have taken: for the fierce anger of YHVH is upon you.

(2Ch 28:12) And the chiefs of the sons of Ephraim rose up, Udias the son of Joanas, and Barachias the son of Mosolamoth, and Ezekias the son of Sellem, and Amasias the son of Eldai, against those that came from the war, (2Ch 28:13) and said to them, Ye shall not bring in hither the prisoners to us, for whereas sin against YHVH is upon us, ye mean to add to our sins, and to our trespass: for our sin is great, and the fierce anger of YHVH is upon Israel.

(2Ch 28:14) So the warriors left the prisoners and the spoils before the princes and all the congregation.

(2Ch 28:15) And the men who were called by name rose up, and took hold of the prisoners, and clothed all the naked from the spoils, and gave them garments and shoes, and gave them food to eat, and oil to anoint themselves with, and they helped also every one that was weak with asses, and placed them in Jericho, the city of palm-trees, with their brethren; and they returned to Samaria.

(2Ch 28:16) At that time king Achaz sent to the king of Assyria to help him, and on this occasion,

(2Ch 28:17) because the Idumeans had attacked him, and smitten Juda, and taken a number of prisoners.

(2Ch 28:18) Also the Philistines had made an attack on the cities of the plain country, and the cities of the south of Juda, and taken Baethsamys, and [the things in the house of YHVH, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes: and they gave to the king] Ælon, and Galero, and Socho and her villages, and Thamna and her villages, and Gamzo and her villages: and they dwelt there.

(2Ch 28:19) For YHVH humbled Juda because of Achaz king of Juda, because he grievously departed from YHVH.

(2Ch 28:20) And there came against him Thalgaphellasar king of Assyria, and he afflicted him.

(2Ch 28:21) And Achaz took the things that were in the house of YHVH, and the things in the house of the king, and of the princes, and gave them to the king of Assyria: but he was no help to him,

(2Ch 28:22) but only troubled him in his affliction: and he departed yet more from YHVH, and king Achaz said, (2Ch 28:23) I will seek after the gods of Damascus that smite me. And he said, Forasmuch as the gods of the king of Syria themselves strengthen them, therefore will I sacrifice to them, and they will help me. But they became a stumbling-block to him, and to all Israel.

(2Ch 28:24) And Achaz removed the vessels of the house of YHVH, and cut them in pieces, and shut the doors of the house of YHVH, and made to himself altars in every corner in Jerusalem:

(2Ch 28:25) and in each several city in Juda he made high places to burn incense to strange gods: and they provoked YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 28:26) And the rest of his acts, and his deeds, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

(2Ch 28:27) And Achaz slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David; for they did not bring him into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel: and Ezekias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 29:1) And Ezekias began to reign at the age of twenty-five years, and he reigned twenty-nine years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Abia, daughter of Zacharias.

(2Ch 29:2) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his father David had done.

(2Ch 29:3) And it came to pass, when he was established over his kingdom, in the first month, he opened the doors of the house of YHVH, and repaired them.

(2Ch 29:4) And he brought in the priests and the Levites, and put them on the east side, (2Ch 29:5) and said to them, Hear, ye Levites: now sanctify yourselves, and sanctify the house of YHVH Elohim of your fathers, and cast out the impurity from the holy places.

(2Ch 29:6) For our fathers have revolted, and done that which was evil before YHVH our Elohim, and have forsaken him, and have turned away their face from the tabernacle of YHVH, and have turned their back.

(2Ch 29:7) And they have shut up the doors of the temple, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, and have not offered whole-burnt-offerings in the holy place to the Elohim of Israel.

(2Ch 29:8) And YHVH was very angry with Juda and Jerusalem, and made them an astonishment, and a desolation, and a hissing, as ye see with your eyes.

(2Ch 29:9) And, behold, your fathers have been smitten with the sword, and your sons and your daughters and your wives are in captivity in a land not their own, as it is even now.

(2Ch 29:10) Therefore it is now in my heart to make a covenant, a covenant with YHVH Elohim of Israel, that he may turn away his fierce wrath from us.

(2Ch 29:11) And now be not wanting to your duty, for YHVH has chosen you to stand before him to minister, and to be ministers and burners of incense to him.

(2Ch 29:12) Then the Levites rose up, Maath the son of Amasi, and Joel the son of Azarias, of the sons of Caath: and of the sons of Merari, Kis the son of Abdi, and Azarias the son of Haelel: and of the sons of Gedsoni, Jodaad the son of Zemmath, and Joadam: these were the sons of Joacha.

(2Ch 29:13) And of the sons of Elisaphan; Zambri, and Jeiel: and of the sons of Asaph; Zacharias, and Matthanias:

(2Ch 29:14) and of the sons of Æman; Jeiel, and Semei: and of the sons of Idithun; Samaisa, and Oziel.

(2Ch 29:15) And they gathered their brethren, and they purified themselves according to the king's command by the order of YHVH, to purify the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 29:16) And the priests entered into the house of YHVH, to purify it, and they cast out all the uncleanness that was found in the house of YHVH, even into the court of the house of YHVH: and the Levites received it to cast into the brook of Kedron without.

(2Ch 29:17) And Ezekias began on the first day, even on the new moon of the first month, to purify, and on the eighth day of the month they entered into the temple of YHVH: and they purified the house of YHVH in eight days; and on the thirteenth day of the first month they finished the work.

(2Ch 29:18) And they went in to king Ezekias, and said, We have purified all the things in the house of YHVH, the altar of whole-burnt-offering, and its vessels, and the table of shew-bread, and its vessels;

(2Ch 29:19) and all the vessels which king Achaz polluted in his reign, in his apostasy, we have prepared and purified: behold, they are before the altar of YHVH.

(2Ch 29:20) And king Ezekias rose early in the morning, and gathered the chief men of the city, and went up to the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 29:21) And he brought seven calves, seven rams, seven lambs, seven kids of goats for a sin-offering, for the kingdom, and for the holy things, and for Israel: and he told the priests the sons of Aaron to go up to the altar of YHVH.

(2Ch 29:22) And they slew the calves, and the priests received the blood, and poured it on the altar: and they slew the rams, and poured the blood upon the altar: also they slew the lambs, and poured the blood round the altar.

(2Ch 29:23) And they brought the goats for a sin-offering before the king and the congregation; and laid their hands upon them.

(2Ch 29:24) And the priests slew them, and offered their blood as a propitiation on the altar; and they made atonement for all Israel: for the king said, The whole-burnt-offering, and the sin-offering are for all Israel.

(2Ch 29:25) And he stationed the Levites in the house of YHVH with cymbals, and lutes, and harps, according to the commandment of king David, and of Gad the king's seer, and Nathan the prophet: for by the commandment of YHVH the order was in the hand of the prophets.

(2Ch 29:26) And the Levites stood with the instruments of David, and the priests with the trumpets.

(2Ch 29:27) And Ezekias told them to offer up the whole-burnt-offering on the altar: and when they began to offer the whole-burnt-offering, they began to sing to YHVH, and the trumpets accompanied the instruments of David king of Israel.

(2Ch 29:28) And all the congregation worshipped, and the psalm-singers were singing, and the trumpets sounding, until the whole-burnt-sacrifice had been completely offered.

(2Ch 29:29) And when they had done offering it, the king and all that were present bowed, and worshipped.

(2Ch 29:30) And king Ezekias and the princes told the Levites to sing hymns to YHVH in the words of David, and of Asaph the prophet: and they sang hymns with gladness, and fell down and worshipped.

(2Ch 29:31) Then Ezekias answered and said, Now ye have consecrated yourselves to YHVH, bring near and offer sacrifices of praise in the house of YHVH. And the congregation brought sacrifices and thank-offerings into the house of YHVH; and every one who was ready in his heart brought whole-burnt-offerings.

(2Ch 29:32) And the number of the whole-burnt-offerings which the congregation brought, was seventy calves, a hundred rams, two hundred lambs: all these were for a whole-burnt-offering to YHVH.

(2Ch 29:33) And the consecrated calves were six hundred, and the sheep three thousand.

(2Ch 29:34) But the priests were few, and could not flay the whole-burnt-offering, so their brethren the Levites helped them, until the work was finished, and until the priests had purified themselves: for the Levites more zealously purified themselves than the priests.

(2Ch 29:35) And the whole-burnt-offering was abundant, with the fat of the complete peace-offering, and the drink-offerings of the whole-burnt-sacrifice. So the service was established in the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 29:36) And Ezekias and all the people rejoiced, because Elohim has prepared the people: for the thing was done suddenly.

(2Ch 30:1) And Ezekias sent to all Israel and Juda, and wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come into the house of YHVH to Jerusalem, to keep the passover to YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(2Ch 30:2) For the king, and the princes, and all the congregation in Jerusalem, designed to keep the passover in the second month.

(2Ch 30:3) For they could not keep it at that time, because a sufficient number of priest had not purified themselves, and the people was not gathered to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 30:4) And the proposal pleased the king and the congregation.

(2Ch 30:5) And they established a decree that a proclamation should go through all Israel, from Bersabee to Dan, that they should come and keep the passover to YHVH Elohim of Israel at Jerusalem: for the multitude had not done it lately according to the scripture.

(2Ch 30:6) And the posts went with the letters from the king and the princes to all Israel and Juda, according to the command of the king, saying, Children of Israel, return to YHVH Elohim of Abraam, and Isaac, and Israel, and bring back them that have escaped even those that were left of the hand of the king of Assyria.

(2Ch 30:7) And be not as your fathers, and your brethren, who revolted from YHVH Elohim of their fathers, and he gave them up to desolation, as ye see.

(2Ch 30:8) And now harden not your hearts, as your fathers did: give glory to YHVH Elohim, and enter into his sanctuary, which he has sanctified for ever: and serve YHVH your Elohim, and he shall turn away his fierce anger from you.

(2Ch 30:9) For when ye turn to YHVH, your brethren and your children shall be pitied before all that have carried them captives, and he will restore you to this land: for YHVH our Elohim is merciful and pitiful, and will not turn away his face from you, if we return to him.

(2Ch 30:10) So the posts went through from city to city in mount Ephraim, and Manasse, and as far as Zabulon: and they as it were laughed them to scorn, and mocked them.

(2Ch 30:11) But the men of Aser, and some of Manasses and of Zabulon, were ashamed, and came to Jerusalem and Juda.

(2Ch 30:12) And the hand of YHVH was present to give them one heart to come, to do according to the commands of the king and of the princes, by the word of YHVH.

(2Ch 30:13) And a great multitude were gathered to Jerusalem to keep the feast of unleavened bread in the second month, a very great congregation.

(2Ch 30:14) And they arose, and took away the altars that were in Jerusalem, and all on which they burnt incense to false gods they tore down and cast into the brook Kedron.

(2Ch 30:15) Then they killed the passover on the fourteenth day of the second month: and the priests and the Levites repented, and purified themselves, and brought whole-burnt-offerings into the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 30:16) And they stood at their post, according to their ordinance, according to the commandment of Moses the man of Elohim: and the priests received the blood from the hand of the Levites.

(2Ch 30:17) For a great part of the congregation was not sanctified; and the Levites were ready to kill the passover for every one who could not sanctify himself to YHVH.

(2Ch 30:18) For the greatest part of the people of Ephraim, and Manasse, and Issachar, and Zabulon, had not purified themselves, but ate the passover contrary to the scripture. On this account also Ezekias prayed concerning them, saying, (2Ch 30:19) The good Lord be merciful with regard to every heart that sincerely seeks YHVH Elohim of their fathers, and is not purified according to the purification of the sanctuary.

(2Ch 30:20) And YHVH hearkened to Ezekias, and healed the people.

(2Ch 30:21) And the children of Israel who were present in Jerusalem kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great joy; and they continued to sing hymns to YHVH daily, and the priests and the Levites played on instruments to YHVH.

(2Ch 30:22) And Ezekias encouraged all the Levites, and those that had good understanding of YHVH: and they completely kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days, offering peace-offerings, and confessing to YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 30:23) And the congregation purposed together to keep other seven days: and they kept seven days with gladness.

(2Ch 30:24) For Ezekias set apart for Juda, even for the congregation, a thousand calves and seven thousand sheep; and the princes set apart for the people a thousand calves and ten thousand sheep: and the holy things of the priests abundantly.

(2Ch 30:25) And all the congregation, the priests and the Levites, rejoiced, and all the congregation of Juda, and they that were present of Jerusalem, and the strangers that came from the land of Israel, and the dwellers in Juda.

(2Ch 30:26) And there was great joy in Jerusalem: from the days of Solomon the son of David king of Israel there was not such a feast in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 30:27) Then the priests the Levites rose up and blessed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came into his holy dwelling-place, even into heaven.

(2Ch 31:1) And when all these things were finished, all Israel that were found in the cities of Juda went out, and broke in pieces the pillars, and cut down the groves, and tore down the high places and the altars out of all Judea and Benjamin, also of Ephraim and Manasse, till they made an end: and all Israel returned, every one to his inheritance, and to their cities.

(2Ch 31:2) And Ezekias appointed the courses of the priests and the Levites, and the courses of each one according to his ministry, to the priests and to the Levites, for the whole-burnt-offering, and for the peace-offering, and to praise, and to give thanks, and to minister in the gates, and in the courts of the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 31:3) And the king's proportion out of his substance was appointed for the whole-burnt-offerings, the morning and the evening one, and the whole-burnt-offerings for the Sabbaths, and for the new moons, and for the feasts that were ordered in the law of YHVH.

(2Ch 31:4) And they told the people who dwelt in Jerusalem, to give the portion of the priests and the Levites, that they might be strong in the ministry of the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 31:5) And as he gave the command, Israel brought abundantly first-fruits of corn, and wine, and oil, and honey, and every fruit of the field: and the children of Israel and Juda brought tithes of everything abundantly.

(2Ch 31:6) And they that dwelt in the cities of Juda themselves also brought tithes of calves and sheep, and tithes of goats, and consecrated them to YHVH their Elohim, and they brought them and laid them in heaps.

(2Ch 31:7) In the third month the heaps began to be piled, and in the seventh month they were finished.

(2Ch 31:8) And Ezekias and the princes came and saw the heaps, and blessed YHVH, and his people Israel.

(2Ch 31:9) Then Ezekias enquired of the priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

(2Ch 31:10) And Azarias the priest, the chief over the house of Sadoc, spoke to him, and said, From the time that the first-fruits began to be brought into the house of YHVH, we have eaten and drunk, and left even abundantly; for YHVH has blessed his people, and we have left to this amount.

(2Ch 31:11) And Ezekias told them yet farther to prepare chambers for the house of YHVH; and they prepared them, (2Ch 31:12) and they brought thither the first-fruits and the tithes faithfully: and Chonenias the Levite was superintendent over them, and Semei his brother was next.

(2Ch 31:13) and Jeiel, and Ozias, and Naeth, and Asael, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Samachia, and Maath, and Banaias, and his sons, were appointed by Chonenias and Semei his brother, as Ezekias the king, and Azarias who was over the house of YHVH commanded.

(2Ch 31:14) And Core, the son of Jemna the Levite, the porter eastward, was over the gifts, to distribute the first-fruits of YHVH, and the most holy things,

(2Ch 31:15) by the hand of Odom, and Benjamin, and Jesus, and Semei, and Amarias, and Sechonias, by the hand of the priests faithfully, to give to their brethren according to the courses, as well to great as small;

(2Ch 31:16) besides the increase of males from three years old and upward, to every one entering into the house of YHVH, a portion according to a daily rate, for service in the daily courses of their order.

(2Ch 31:17) This is the distribution of the priests according to the houses of their families; and the Levites in their daily courses from twenty years old and upward were in their order, (2Ch 31:18) to assign stations for all the increase of their sons and their daughters, for the whole number: for they faithfully sanctified the holy place.

(2Ch 31:19) As for the sons of Aaron that executed the priests' office, even those from their cities the men in each several city who were named expressly, were appointed to give a portion to every male among the priests, and to every one reckoned among the Levites.

(2Ch 31:20) And Ezekias did so through all Juda, and did that which was good and right before YHVH his Elohim.

(2Ch 31:21) And in every work which he began in service in the house of YHVH, and in the law, and in the ordinances, he sought his Elohim with all his soul, and wrought, and prospered.

(2Ch 32:1) And after these things and this faithful dealing, came Sennacherim king of the Assyrians, and he came to Juda, and encamped against the fortified cities, and intended to take them for himself.

(2Ch 32:2) And Ezekias saw that Sennacherim was come, and that his face was set to fight against Jerusalem.

(2Ch 32:3) And he took counsel with his elders and his mighty men to stop the wells of water which were without the city: and they helped him.

(2Ch 32:4) And he collected many people, and stopped the wells of water, and the river that flowed through the city, saying, Lest the king of Assyria come, and find much water, and strengthen himself.

(2Ch 32:5) And Ezekias strengthened himself, and built all the wall that had been pulled down, and the towers, and another wall in front without, and fortified the strong place of the city of David, and prepared arms in abundance.

(2Ch 32:6) And he appointed captains of war over the people, and they were gathered to meet him to the open place of the gate of the valley, and he encouraged them, saying,

(2Ch 32:7) Be strong and courageous, and fear not, neither be dismayed before the King of Assyria, and before all the nation that is with him: for there are more with us than with him.

(2Ch 32:8) With him are arms of flesh; but with us is YHVH our Elohim to save us, and to fight our battle. And the people were encouraged at the words of Ezekias king of Juda.

(2Ch 32:9) And afterward Sennacherim king of the Assyrians sent his servants to Jerusalem; and he went himself against Lachis, and all his army with him, and sent to Ezekias king of Juda, and to all Juda that was in Jerusalem, saying, (2Ch 32:10) Thus says Sennacherim king of the Assyrians, On what do ye trust, that ye will remain in the siege in Jerusalem?

(2Ch 32:11) Does not Ezekias deceive you, to deliver you to death and famine and thirst, saying, YHVH our Elohim will deliver us out of the hand of the king of Assyria?

(2Ch 32:12) Is not this Ezekias who has taken down his altars and his high places and has spoken to Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem, saying, Ye shall worship before this altar and burn incense upon it?

(2Ch 32:13) Know ye not what I and my fathers have done to all the nations of the countries? Could the gods of the nations of all the earth at all rescue their people out of my hand?

(2Ch 32:14) Who is there among all the gods of those nations whom my fathers utterly destroyed, worthy of trust? Could they deliver their people out of my hand, that your Elohim should deliver you out of my hand?

(2Ch 32:15) Now then, let not Ezekias deceive you, and let him not make you thus confident, and believe him not: for no god of any kingdom or nation is at all able to deliver his people out of my hand, or the hand of my fathers: therefore your Elohim shall not deliver you out of my hand.

(2Ch 32:16) And his servants continued to speak against YHVH Elohim, and against his servant Ezekias.

(2Ch 32:17) And he wrote a letter to reproach YHVH Elohim of Israel, and spoke concerning him, saying, As the gods of the nations of the earth have not delivered their people out of my hand, so the Elohim of Ezekias shall by no means deliver his people out of my hand.

(2Ch 32:18) And he cried with a loud voice in the Jews' language to the people of Jerusalem on the wall, calling them to assist them, and pull down the walls, that they might take the city.

(2Ch 32:19) And he spoke against the Elohim of Jerusalem, even as against the gods of the nations of the earth, the works of the hands of men.

(2Ch 32:20) And king Ezekias and Esaias the prophet the son of Amos prayed concerning these things, and they cried to heaven.

(2Ch 32:21) And YHVH sent an angel, and he destroyed every mighty man and warrior, and leader and captain in the camp of the king of Assyria: and he returned with shame of face to his own land and came into the house of his god: and some of them that came out of his bowels slew him with the sword.

(2Ch 32:22) So YHVH delivered Ezekias and the dwellers in Jerusalem out of the hand of Sennacherim King of Assyria, and out of the hand of all his enemies, and gave them rest round about.

(2Ch 32:23) And many brought gifts to YHVH to Jerusalem, and presents to Ezekias king of Juda; and he was exalted in the eyes of all the nations after these things.

(2Ch 32:24) In those days Ezekias was sick even to death, and prayed to YHVH: and he hearkened to him, and gave him a sign.

(2Ch 32:25) But Ezekias did not recompense YHVH according to the return which he made him, but his heart was lifted up: and wrath came upon him, and upon Juda and Jerusalem.

(2Ch 32:26) And Ezekias humbled himself after the exaltation of his heart, he and the dwellers in Jerusalem; and the wrath of YHVH did not come upon them in the days of Ezekias.

(2Ch 32:27) And Ezekias had wealth and very great glory: and he made for himself treasuries of gold, and silver, and precious stones, also for spices, and stores for arms, and for precious vessels;

(2Ch 32:28) and cities for the produce of corn, and wine, and oil; and stalls and mangers for every kind of cattle, and folds for flocks;

(2Ch 32:29) and cities which he built for himself, and store of sheep and oxen in abundance, for YHVH gave him a very great store.

(2Ch 32:30) The same Ezekias stopped up the course of the water of Gion above, and brought the water down straight south of the city of David. And Ezekias prospered in all his works.

(2Ch 32:31) Notwithstanding, in regard to the ambassadors of the princes of Babylon, who were sent to him to enquire of him concerning the prodigy which came upon the land, YHVH left him, to try him, to know what was in his heart.

(2Ch 32:32) And the rest of the acts of Ezekias, and his kindness, behold, they are written in the prophecy of Esaias the son of Amos the prophet, and in the book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

(2Ch 32:33) And Ezekias slept with his fathers, and they buried him in a high place among the sepulchres of the sons of David: and all Juda and the dwellers in Jerusalem gave him glory and honour at his death. And Manasses his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 33:1) Manasses was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty-five years in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 33:2) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all the abominations of the heathen, whom YHVH destroyed from before the face of the children of Israel.

(2Ch 33:3) And he returned and built the high places, which his father Ezekias had pulled down, and set up images to Baalim, and made groves, and worshipped all the host of heaven, and served them.

(2Ch 33:4) And he built altars in the house of YHVH, concerning which YHVH said, In Jerusalem shall be my name for ever.

(2Ch 33:5) And he built altars to all the host of heaven in the two courts of the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 33:6) He also passed his children through the fire in the valley of Benennom; and he divined, and used auspices, and sorceries, and appointed those who had divining spirits, and enchanters, and wrought abundant wickedness before YHVH, to provoke him.

(2Ch 33:7) And he set the graven image, the molten statue, the idol which he made, in the house of Elohim, of which Elohim had said to David and to Solomon his son, In this house, and Jerusalem, which I have chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, I will put my name for ever;

(2Ch 33:8) and I will not again remove the foot of Israel from the land which I gave to their fathers, if only they will take heed to do all things which I have commanded them, according to all the law and the ordinances and the judgments given by the hand of Moses.

(2Ch 33:9) So Manasses led astray Juda and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, to do evil beyond all the nations which YHVH cast out from before the children of Israel.

(2Ch 33:10) And YHVH spoke to Manasses, and to his people: but they hearkened not.

(2Ch 33:11) And YHVH brought upon them the captains of the host of the king of Assyria, and they took Manasses in bonds, and bound him in fetters, and brought him to Babylon.

(2Ch 33:12) And when he was afflicted, he sought the face of YHVH his Elohim, and was greatly humbled before the face of the Elohim of his fathers;

(2Ch 33:13) and he prayed to him: and he hearkened to him, and listened to his cry, and brought him back to Jerusalem to his kingdom: and Manasses knew that YHVH he is Elohim.

(2Ch 33:14) And afterward he built a wall without the city of David, from the southwest southward in the valleys and at the entrance through the fish-gate, as men go out by the gate round about, even as far as Opel: and he raised it much, and set captains of the host in all the fortified cities in Juda.

(2Ch 33:15) And he removed the strange gods, and the graven image out of the house of YHVH, and all the altars which he had built in the mount of the house of YHVH, and in Jerusalem, and without the city.

(2Ch 33:16) And he repaired the altar of YHVH, and offered upon it a sacrifice of peace-offering and thank-offering, and he told Juda to serve YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(2Ch 33:17) Nevertheless the people still sacrificed on the high places, only to YHVH their Elohim.

(2Ch 33:18) And the rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer to Elohim, and the words of the seers that spoke to him in the name of the Elohim of Israel, (2Ch 33:19) behold, they are in the account of his prayer; and Elohim hearkened to him. And all his sins, and his backslidings, and the spots on which he built the high places, and set there groves and graven images, before he repented, behold, they are written in the books of the seers.

(2Ch 33:20) And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the garden of his house: and Amon his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 33:21) Amon was twenty and two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 33:22) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, as his father Manasses did: and Amon sacrificed to all the idols which his father Manasses had made, and served them.

(2Ch 33:23) And he was not humbled before YHVH as his father Manasses was humbled; for his son Amon abounded in transgression.

(2Ch 33:24) And his servants conspired against him, and slew him in his house.

(2Ch 33:25) And the people of the land slew the men who had conspired against king Amon; and the people of the land made Josias his son king in his stead.

(2Ch 34:1) Josias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned thirty-one years in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 34:2) And he did that which was right in the sight of YHVH, and walked in the ways of his father David, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left.

(2Ch 34:3) And in the eighth year of his reign, and he being yet a youth, he began to seek YHVH Elohim of his father David: and in the twelfth year of his reign he began to purge Juda and Jerusalem from the high places, and the groves, and the ornaments for the altars, and the molten images.

(2Ch 34:4) And he pulled down the altars of Baalim that were before his face, and the high places that were above them; and he cut down the groves, and the graven images, and broke in pieces the molten images, and reduced them to powder, and cast it upon the surface of the tombs of those who had sacrificed to them.

(2Ch 34:5) And he burnt the bones of the priests upon the altars, and purged Juda and Jerusalem.

(2Ch 34:6) And he did so in the cities of Manasse, and Ephraim, and Symeon, and Nephthali, and the places round about them.

(2Ch 34:7) And he pulled down the altars and the groves, and he cut the idols in small pieces, and cut off all the high places from all the land of Israel, and returned to Jerusalem.

(2Ch 34:8) And in the eighteenth year of his reign, after having cleansed the land, and the house, he sent Saphan the son of Ezelias, and Maasa prefect of the city, and Juach son of Joachaz his recorder, to repair the house of YHVH his Elohim.

(2Ch 34:9) And they came to Chelcias the high priest, and gave the money that was brought into the house of Elohim, which the Levites who kept the gate collected of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of the princes, and of every one that was left in Israel, and of the children of Juda and Benjamin, and of the dwellers in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 34:10) And they gave it into the hand of the workmen, who were appointed in the house of YHVH, and they gave it to the workmen who wrought in the house of YHVH, to repair and strengthen the house.

(2Ch 34:11) They gave it also to the carpenters and builders, to buy squared stones, and timber for beams to cover the houses which the kings of Juda had destroyed.

(2Ch 34:12) And the men were faithfully engaged in the works: and over them were superintendents, Jeth and Abdias, Levites of the sons of Merari, and Zacharias and Mosollam, of the sons of Caath, appointed to oversee; and every Levite, and every one that understood how to play on musical instruments.

(2Ch 34:13) And overseers were over the burden-bearers, and over all the workmen in the respective works; and of the Levites were appointed scribes, and judges, and porters.

(2Ch 34:14) And when they brought forth the money that had been brought into the house of YHVH, Chelcias the priest found a book of the law of YHVH given by the hand of Moses.

(2Ch 34:15) And Chelcias answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I have found a book of the law in the house of YHVH. And Chelcias gave the book to Saphan.

(2Ch 34:16) And Saphan brought in the book to the king, and moreover gave an account to the king, saying, This is all the money given into the hand of thy servants that work.

(2Ch 34:17) And they have collected the money that was found in the house of YHVH, and given it into the hand of the overseers, and into the hand of them that do the work.

(2Ch 34:18) And Saphan the scribe brought word to the king, saying, Chelcias the priest has given me a book. And Saphan read it before the king.

(2Ch 34:19) And it came to pass, when the king heard the words of the law, that he rent his garments.

(2Ch 34:20) And the king commanded Chelcias, and Achicam the son of Saphan, and Abdom the son of Michaias, and Saphan the scribe, and Asia the servant of the king, saying, (2Ch 34:21) Go, enquire of YHVH for me, and for every one that is left in Israel and Juda, concerning the words of the book that is found: for great is the wrath of YHVH which has been kindled amongst us, because our fathers have not hearkened to the words of YHVH, to do according to all the things written in this book.

(2Ch 34:22) And Chelcias went, and the others whom the king told, to Olda the prophetess, the wife of Sellem son of Thecoe, son of Aras, who kept the commandments; and she dwelt in Jerusalem in the second quarter: and they spoke to her accordingly.

(2Ch 34:23) And she said to them, Thus has YHVH Elohim of Israel said, Tell the man who sent you to me,

(2Ch 34:24) Thus saith YHVH, Behold, I bring evil upon this place, even all the words that are written in the book that was read before the king of Juda:

(2Ch 34:25) because they have forsaken me, and burnt incense to strange gods, that they might provoke me by all the works of their hands; and my wrath is kindled against this place, and it shall not be quenched.

(2Ch 34:26) And concerning the king of Juda, who sent you to seek YHVH, thus shall ye say to him, Thus saith YHVH Elohim of Israel, As for the words which thou has heard, (2Ch 34:27) forasmuch as thy heart was ashamed, and thou was humbled before me when thou heardest my words against this place, and against the inhabitants of it, and thou wast humbled before me, and didst rend thy garments, and didst weep before me; I also have heard, saith YHVH.

(2Ch 34:28) Behold, I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be gathered to thy grave in peace, and thine eyes shall not look upon all the evils which I am bringing upon this place, and upon the inhabitants of it. And they brought back word to the king.

(2Ch 34:29) And the king sent and gathered the elders of Juda and Jerusalem.

(2Ch 34:30) And the king went up to the house of YHVH, he and all Juda, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and the priests, and the Levites, and all the people great and small: and he read in their ears all the words of the book of the covenant that were found in the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 34:31) And the king stood at a pillar, and made a covenant before YHVH, to walk before YHVH, to keep his commandments and testimonies, and his ordinances, with all his heart and with all his soul, so as to perform the words of the covenant that were written in this book.

(2Ch 34:32) And he caused all that were found in Jerusalem and Benjamin to stand; and the inhabitants of Jerusalem made a covenant in the house of YHVH Elohim of their fathers.

(2Ch 34:33) And Josias removed all the abominations out of the whole land which belonged to the children of Israel, and caused all that were found in Jerusalem and in Israel, to serve YHVH their Elohim all his days: he departed not from following YHVH Elohim of his fathers.

(2Ch 35:1) And Josias kept a passover to YHVH his Elohim; and sacrificed the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

(2Ch 35:2) And he appointed the priests at their charges, and encouraged them for the services of the house of YHVH.

(2Ch 35:3) And he told the Levites that were able to act in all Israel, that they should consecrate themselves to YHVH: and they put the holy ark in the house which Solomon the son of David king of Israel built: and the king said, Ye must not carry anything on your shoulders: now then minister to YHVH your Elohim, and to his people Israel.

(2Ch 35:4) And prepare yourselves according to the houses of your families, and according to your daily courses, according to the writing of David king of Israel, and the order by the hand of his son Solomon.

(2Ch 35:5) And stand ye in the house according to the divisions of the houses of your families for your brethren the sons of the people; so also let there be for the Levites a division of the house of their family.

(2Ch 35:6) And kill ye the passover, and prepare it for your brethren, to do according to the word of YHVH, by the hand of Moses.

(2Ch 35:7) And Josias gave as an offering to the children of the people, sheep, and lambs, and kids of the young of the goats, all for the passover, even for all that were found, in number amounting to thirty thousand, and three thousand calves, these were of the substance of the king.

(2Ch 35:8) And his princes gave an offering to the people, and to the priests, and to the Levites: and Chelcias and Zacharias and Jeiel the chief men gave to the priests of the house of Elohim, they even gave for the passover sheep, and lambs, and kids, two thousand six hundred, and three hundred calves.

(2Ch 35:9) And Chonenias, and Banaeas, and Samaeas, and Nathanael his brother, and Asabias, and Jeiel, and Jozabad, heads of the Levites, gave an offering to the Levites for the passover, of five thousand sheep and five hundred calves.

(2Ch 35:10) And the service was duly ordered, and the priests stood in their place, and the Levites in their divisions, according to the command of the king.

(2Ch 35:11) And they slew the passover, and the priests sprinkled the blood from their hand, and the Levites flayed the victims.

(2Ch 35:12) And they prepared the whole-burnt-offering to give to them, according to the division by the houses of families, even to the sons of the people, to offer to YHVH, as it is written in the book of Moses.

(2Ch 35:13) And thus they did till the morning. And they roasted the passover with fire according to the ordinance; and boiled the holy pieces in copper vessels and caldrons, and the feast went on well, and they quickly served all the children of the people.

(2Ch 35:14) And after they had prepared for themselves and for the priests, for the priests were engaged in offering the whole-burnt-offerings and the fat until night, then the Levites prepared for themselves, and for their brethren the sons of Aaron.

(2Ch 35:15) And the sons of Asaph the psalm-singers were at their post according to the commands of David, and Asaph, and Æman, and Idithom, the prophets of the king: also, the chiefs and the porters of the several gates; it was not for them to stir from the service of the holy things, for their brethren the Levites prepared for them.

(2Ch 35:16) So all the service of YHVH was duly ordered and prepared in that day, for keeping the passover, and offering the whole-burnt-sacrifices on the altar of YHVH, according to the command of king Josias.

(2Ch 35:17) And the children of Israel that were present kept the passover at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

(2Ch 35:18) And there was no passover like it in Israel from the days of Samuel the prophet, or any king of Israel: they kept not such a passover as Josias, and the priests, and the Levites, and all Juda and Israel that were present, and the dwellers in Jerusalem, kept to YHVH.

(2Ch 35:19) In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias this passover was kept, after all these things that Josias did in the house. And king Josias burnt those who had in them a divining spirit, and the wizards, and the images, and the idols, and the sodomites which were in the land of Juda and in Jerusalem, that he might confirm the words of the law that were written in the book which Chelcias the priest found in the house of YHVH. There was no king like him before him, who turned to YHVH with all his heart, and all his soul, and all his strength, according to all the law of Moses, and after him there rose up none like him. Nevertheless YHVH turned not from the anger of his fierce wrath, wherewith YHVH was greatly angry against Juda, for all the provocations wherewith Manasses provoked him: and YHVH said, I will even remove Juda also from my presence, as I have removed Israel, and I have rejected the city which I chose, even Jerusalem, and the house of which I said, My name shall be there.

(2Ch 35:20) And Pharaoh Nechao king of Egypt went up against the king of the Assyrians to the river Euphrates, and king Josias went to meet him.

(2Ch 35:21) And he sent messengers to him, saying, What have I to do with thee, O king of Juda? I am not come to-day to war against thee; and Elohim has told me to hasten: beware of the Elohim that is with me, lest he destroy thee.

(2Ch 35:22) However, Josias turned not his face from him, but strengthened himself to fight against him, and hearkened not to the words of Nechao by the mouth of Elohim, and he came to fight in the plain of Mageddo.

(2Ch 35:23) And the archers shot at king Josias; and the king said to his servants, Take me away, for I am severely wounded.

(2Ch 35:24) And his servants lifted him out of the chariot, and put him in the second chariot which he had, and brought him to Jerusalem; and he died, and was buried with his fathers: and all Juda and Jerusalem lamented over Josias.

(2Ch 35:25) And Jeremias mourned over Josias, and all the chief men and chief women uttered a lamentation over Josias until this day: and they made it an ordinance for Israel, and, behold, it is written in the lamentations.

(2Ch 35:26) And the rest of the acts of Josias, and his hope, are written in the law of YHVH.

(2Ch 35:27) And his acts, the first and the last, behold, they are written in the book of the kings of Israel and Judah.

(2Ch 36:1) And the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and anointed him, and made him king over Jerusalem in the room of his father.

(2Ch 36:2) Joachaz was twenty-three years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Amital, daughter of Jeremias of Lobna. And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his fathers had done. And Pharaoh Nechao bound him in Deblatha in the land of Æmath, that he might not reign in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 36:3) And the king brought him over to Egypt; and imposed a tribute on the land, a hundred talents of silver and a talent of gold.

(2Ch 36:4) And Pharaoh Nechao made Eliakim the son of Josias king over Juda in the room of his father Josias, and changed his name to Joakim. And Pharaoh Nechao took his brother Joachaz and brought him into Egypt, and he died there: but he had given the silver and gold to Pharaoh. At that time the land began to be taxed to give the money at the command of Pharaoh; and every one as he could borrowed the silver and the gold of the people of the land, to give to Pharaoh Nechao.

(2Ch 36:5) Joachim was twenty-five years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and his mother's name was Zechora, daughter of Nerias of Rama. And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH, according to all that his fathers did. In his days came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon into the land, and he served him three years, and then revolted from him. And YHVH sent against them the Chaldeans, and plundering parties of Syrians, and plundering parties of the Moabites, and of the children of Ammon, and of Samaria; but after this they departed, according to the word of YHVH by the hand of his servants the prophets. Nevertheless the wrath of YHVH was upon Juda, so that they should be removed from his presence, because of the sins of Manasses in all that he did, and for the innocent blood which Joakim shed, for he had filled Jerusalem with innocent blood; yet YHVH would not utterly destroy them.

(2Ch 36:6) And Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came up against him, and bound him with brazen fetters, and carried him away to Babylon.

(2Ch 36:7) And he carried away a part of the vessels of the house of YHVH to Babylon, and put them in his temple in Babylon.

(2Ch 36:8) And the rest of the acts of Joakim, and all that he did, behold, are not these things written in the book of the chronicles of the kings of Juda? And Joakim slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in Ganozae: and Jechonias his son reigned in his stead.

(2Ch 36:9) Jechonias was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH.

(2Ch 36:10) And at the turn of the year, king Nabuchodonosor sent, and brought him to Babylon, with the precious vessels of the house of YHVH, and made Sedekias his father's brother king over Juda and Jerusalem.

(2Ch 36:11) Sedekias was twenty-one years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 36:12) And he did that which was evil in the sight of YHVH his Elohim: he was not ashamed before the prophet Jeremias, nor because of the word of YHVH;

(2Ch 36:13) in that he rebelled against king Nabuchodonosor, which he adjured him by Elohim not to do: but he stiffened his neck, and hardened his heart, so as not to return to YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(2Ch 36:14) And all the great men of Juda, and the priests, and the people of the land transgressed abundantly in the abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of YHVH which was in Jerusalem.

(2Ch 36:15) And YHVH Elohim of their fathers sent by the hand of his prophets; rising early and sending his messengers, for he spared his people, and his sanctuary.

(2Ch 36:16) Nevertheless they sneered at his messengers, and set at nought his words, and mocked his prophets, until the wrath of YHVH rose up against his people, till there was no remedy.

(2Ch 36:17) And he brought against them the king of the Chaldeans, and slew their young men with the sword in the house of his sanctuary, and did not spare Sedekias, and had no mercy upon their virgins, and they led away their old men: he delivered all things into their hands.

(2Ch 36:18) And all the vessels of the house of Elohim, the great and the small, and the treasures of the house of YHVH, and all the treasures of the king and the great men; he brought all to Babylon.

(2Ch 36:19) And he burnt the house of YHVH, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, and burnt its palaces with fire, and utterly destroyed every beautiful vessel.

(2Ch 36:20) And he carried away the remnant to Babylon; and they were servants to him and to his sons until the establishment of the kingdom of the Medes.

(2Ch 36:21) That the word of YHVH by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, until the land should enjoy its Sabbaths in resting and Sabbath keeping all the days of its desolation, till the accomplishment of seventy years.

(2Ch 36:22) In the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, after the fulfillment of the word of YHVH by the mouth of Jeremias, YHVH stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and told him to make proclamation in writing throughout all his kingdom, saying, (2Ch 36:23) Thus says Cyrus king of the Persians to all the kingdoms of the earth, YHVH Elohim of heaven has given me power, and he has commanded me to build a house to him in Jerusalem, in Judea. Who is there of you of all his people? His Elohim shall be with him, and let him go up.

Ezra.

(Ezr 1:1) Now in the first year of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of YHVH by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, YHVH stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians, and he issued a proclamation through all his kingdom, and that in writing, saying, (Ezr 1:2) Thus said Cyrus king of the Persians, YHVH Elohim of heaven has given me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he has given me a charge to build him a house in Jerusalem that is in Judea.

(Ezr 1:3) Who is there among you of all his people? for his Elohim shall be with him, and he shall go up to Jerusalem that is in Judea, and let him build the house of the Elohim of Israel: he is the Elohim that is in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 1:4) And let every Jew that is left go from every place where he sojourns, and the men of his place shall help him with silver, and gold, and goods, and cattle, together with the voluntary offering for the house of Elohim that is in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 1:5) Then the chiefs of the families of Juda and Benjamin arose, and the priests, and the Levites, all whose spirit YHVH stirred up to go up to build the house of YHVH that is in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 1:6) And all that were round about strengthened their hands with vessels of silver, with gold, with goods, and with cattle, and with presents, besides the voluntary offerings.

(Ezr 1:7) And king Cyrus brought out the vessels of the house of YHVH, which Nabuchodonosor had brought from Jerusalem, and put in the house of his god.

(Ezr 1:8) And Cyrus king of the Persians brought them out by the hand of Mithradates the treasurer, and he numbered them to Sasabasar, the chief man of Juda.

(Ezr 1:9) And this is their number: thirty gold basons, and a thousand silver basons, nine and twenty changes, thirty golden goblets, (Ezr 1:10) and four hundred and ten double silver vessels, and a thousand other vessels.

(Ezr 1:11) All the gold and silver vessels were five thousand four hundred, even all that went up with Sasabasar from the place of transportation, from Babylon to Jerusalem.

(Ezr 2:1) And these are the people of the land that went up, of the number of prisoners who were removed, whom Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away to Babylon, and they returned to Juda and Jerusalem, every man to his city;

(Ezr 2:2) who came with Zorobabel: Jesus, Neemias, Saraias, Reelias, Mardocheus, Balasan, Masphar, Baguai, Reum, Baana. The number of the people of Israel:

(Ezr 2:3) the children of Phares, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

(Ezr 2:4) The children of Saphatia, three hundred and seventy-two.

(Ezr 2:5) The children of Ares, seven hundred and seventy-five.

(Ezr 2:6) The children of Phaath Moab, belonging to the sons of Jesue and Joab, two thousand eight hundred and twelve.

(Ezr 2:7) The children of Ælam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

(Ezr 2:8) The children of Zatthua, nine hundred and forty-five.
(Ezr 2:9) The children of Zacchu, seven hundred and sixty.
(Ezr 2:10) The children of Banui, six hundred and forty-two.
(Ezr 2:11) The children of Babai, six hundred and twenty-three.
(Ezr 2:12) The children of Asgad, a thousand two hundred and twenty-two.
(Ezr 2:13) The children of Adonicam, six hundred and sixty-six.
(Ezr 2:14) The children of Bague, two thousand and fifty-six.
(Ezr 2:15) The children of Addin, four hundred and fifty-four.
(Ezr 2:16) The children of Ater the son of Ezekias, ninety eight.
(Ezr 2:17) The children of Bassu, three hundred and twenty-three.
(Ezr 2:18) The children of Jora, a hundred and twelve.
(Ezr 2:19) The children of Asum, two hundred and twenty-three.
(Ezr 2:20) The children of Gaber, ninety-five.
(Ezr 2:21) The children of Bethlaem, a hundred and twenty-three.
(Ezr 2:22) The children of Netopha, fifty-six.
(Ezr 2:23) The children of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight.
(Ezr 2:24) The children of Azmoth, forty-three.
(Ezr 2:25) The children of Cariathiarim, Chaphira, and Beroth, seven hundred and forty-three.
(Ezr 2:26) The children of Rama and Gabaa, six hundred and twenty-one.
(Ezr 2:27) The men of Machmas, a hundred and twenty-two.
(Ezr 2:28) The men of Baethel and Aia, four hundred and twenty-three.
(Ezr 2:29) The children of Nabu, fifty-two.
(Ezr 2:30) The children of Magebis, a hundred and fifty-six.
(Ezr 2:31) The children of Elamar, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.
(Ezr 2:32) The children of Elam, three hundred and twenty.
(Ezr 2:33) The children of Lodadi and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-five.
(Ezr 2:34) The children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five.
(Ezr 2:35) The children of Senaa, three thousand six hundred and thirty.
(Ezr 2:36) And the priests, the sons of Jedua, belonging to the house of Jesus, were nine hundred and seventy-three.
(Ezr 2:37) The children of Emmer, a thousand and fifty-two.
(Ezr 2:38) The children of Phassur, a thousand two hundred and forty-seven.
(Ezr 2:39) The children of Erem, a thousand and seven.
(Ezr 2:40) And the Levites, the sons of Jesus and Cadmiel, belonging to the sons of Oduia, seventy-four.
(Ezr 2:41) The sons of Asaph, singers, a hundred and twenty-eight.
(Ezr 2:43) The Nathinim: the children of Suthia, the children of Asupha, the children of Tabaoth,

(Ezr 2:44) the sons of Cades, the children of Siaa, the children of Phadon, (Ezr 2:45) the children of Labano, the children of Agaba, the sons of Acub, (Ezr 2:46) the children of Agab, the children of Selami, the children of Anan, (Ezr 2:47) the children of Geddel, the children of Gaar, the children of Raia, (Ezr 2:48) the children of Rason, the children of Necoda, the children of Gazem, (Ezr 2:49) the children of Azo, the children of Phase, the children of Basi, (Ezr 2:50) the children of Asena, the children of Mounim, the children of Nephusim,
(Ezr 2:52) the children of Basaloth, the children of Mauda, the children of Arsa, (Ezr 2:53) the children of Barcos, the children of Sisara, the children of Thema,
(Ezr 2:56) the children of Jeela, the children of Darcon, the children of Gedel,
(Ezr 2:58) All the Nathanim, and the sons of Abdeselma were three hundred and ninety-two.
(Ezr 2:59) And these are they that went up from Thelmelech, Thelaresa, Cherub, Hedan, Emmer: and they were not able to tell the house of their fathers, and their seed, whether they were of Israel:
(Ezr 2:60) the children of Dalaea, the children of Bua, the children of Tobias, the children of Necoda, six hundred and fifty-two.
(Ezr 2:61) And of the children of the priests, the children of Labeia, the children of Akkus, the children of Berzellai, who took a wife of the daughter of Berzellai the Galaadite, and was called by their name.
(Ezr 2:62) These sought their genealogy as though they had been reckoned, but they were not found; and they were removed, as polluted, from the priesthood.
(Ezr 2:63) And the Athersastha told them that they should not eat of the most holy things, until a priest should arise with Lights and Perfections.
(Ezr 2:64) And all the congregation together were about forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty;
(Ezr 2:65) besides their men-servants and maid-servants, and these were seven thousand three hundred and thirty-seven: and among these were two hundred singing men and singing women.
(Ezr 2:66) Their horses were seven hundred and thirty-six, their mules, two hundred and forty-five.
(Ezr 2:67) Their camels, four hundred and thirty-five; their asses, six thousand seven hundred and twenty.

(Ezr 2:68) And some of the chiefs of families, when they went into the house of YHVH that was in Jerusalem, offered willingly for the house of Elohim, to establish it on its prepared place.

(Ezr 2:69) According to their power they gave into the treasury of the work pure gold sixty-one thousand pieces, and five thousand pounds of silver, and one hundred priests' garments.

(Ezr 2:70) So the priests, and the Levites, and some of the people, and the singers, and the porters, and the Nathinim, dwelt in their cities, and all Israel in their cities.

(Ezr 3:1) And the seventh month came on, and the children of Israel were in their cities, and the people assembled as one man at Jerusalem.

(Ezr 3:2) Then stood up Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren the priests, and Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and his brethren, and they built the altar of the Elohim of Israel, to offer upon it whole-burnt-offerings, according to the things that were written in the law of Moses the man of Elohim.

(Ezr 3:3) And they set up the altar on its place, for there was a terror upon them because of the people of the lands: and the whole-burnt-offerings was offered up upon it to YHVH morning and evening.

(Ezr 3:4) And they kept the feast of tabernacles, according to that which was written, and offered whole-burnt-offerings daily in number according to the ordinance, the exact daily rate.

(Ezr 3:5) And after this the perpetual whole-burnt-offering, and offering for the season of new moon, and for all the hallowed feasts to YHVH, and for every one that offered a free-will-offering to YHVH.

(Ezr 3:6) On the first day of the seventh month they began to offer whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH: but the foundation of the house of YHVH was not laid.

(Ezr 3:7) And they gave money to the stone-hewers and carpenters, and meat and drink, and oil, to the Sidonians, and Tyrians, to bring cedar trees from Libanus to the sea of Joppa, according to the grant of Cyrus king of the Persians to them.

(Ezr 3:8) And in the second year of their coming to the house of Elohim in Jerusalem, in the second month, began Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and the rest of their brethren the priests and the Levites, and all who came from the captivity to Jerusalem, and they appointed the Levites, from twenty years old and upward, over the workmen in the house of YHVH.

(Ezr 3:9) And Jesus and his sons and his brethren stood, Cadmiel and his sons the sons of Juda, over them that wrought the works in the house of Elohim: the sons of Enadad, their sons and their brethren the Levites.

(Ezr 3:10) And they laid a foundation for building the house of YHVH: and the priests in their robes stood with trumpets and the Levites the sons of Asaph with cymbals, to praise YHVH, according to the order of David king of Israel.

(Ezr 3:11) And they answered each other with praise and thanksgiving to YHVH, saying, For it is good, for his mercy to Israel endures for ever. And all the people shouted with a loud voice to praise YHVH at the laying the foundation of the house of YHVH.

(Ezr 3:12) But many of the priests and the Levites, and the elder men, heads of families, who had seen the former house on its foundation, and who saw this house with their eyes, wept with a loud voice: but the multitude shouted with joy to raise a song.

(Ezr 3:13) And the people did not distinguish the voice of the glad shout from the voice of the weeping of the people: for the people shouted with a loud voice, and the voice was heard even from afar off.

(Ezr 4:1) And they that afflicted Juda and Benjamin heard, that the children of the captivity were building a house to YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(Ezr 4:2) And they drew near to Zorobabel, and to the heads of families, and said to them, We will build with you; for as ye do, we seek to serve our Elohim, and we do sacrifice to him from the days of Asaradan king of Assur, who brought us hither.

(Ezr 4:3) then Zorobabel, and Jesus and the rest of the heads of the families of Israel said to them, It is not for us and you to build a house to our Elohim, for we ourselves will build together to YHVH our Elohim, as Cyrus the king of the Persians commanded us.

(Ezr 4:4) And the people of the land weakened the hands of the people of Juda, and hindered them in building, (Ezr 4:5) and continued hiring persons against them, plotting to frustrate their counsel, all the days of Cyrus king of the Persians, and until the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

(Ezr 4:6) And in the reign of Assuerus, even in the beginning of his reign, they wrote a letter against the inhabitants of Juda and Jerusalem.

(Ezr 4:7) And in the days of Arthasastha, Tabeel wrote peaceably to Mithradates and to the rest of his fellow-servants: the tribute-gatherer wrote to Arthasastha king of the Persians a writing in the Syrian tongue, and the same interpreted.

(Ezr 4:8) Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe wrote an epistle against Jerusalem to King Arthasastha, saying,

(Ezr 4:9) Thus has judged Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and the rest of our fellow-servants, the Dinaeans, the Apharsathachaeans, the Tarphalaeans, the Apharsaeans, the Archyaeans, the Babylonians, the Susanachaeans, Davaeans, (Ezr 4:10) and the rest of the nations whom the great and noble Assenaphar removed, and settled them in the cities of Somoron, and the rest of them beyond the river.

(Ezr 4:11) This is the purport of the letter, which they sent to him: Thy servants the men beyond the river to king Arthasastha.

(Ezr 4:12) Be it known to the king, that the Jews who came up from thee to us have come to Jerusalem the rebellious and wicked city, which they are building, and its walls are set in order, and they have established the foundations of it.

(Ezr 4:13) Now then be it known to the king, that if that city be built up, and its walls completed, thou shalt have no tribute, neither will they pay anything, and this injures kings.

(Ezr 4:14) And it is not lawful for us to see the dishonour of the king:

therefore have we sent and made known the matter to the king;

(Ezr 4:15) That examination may be made in thy fathers' book of record; and thou shalt find, and thou shalt know that city is rebellious, and does harm to kings and countries, and there are in the midst of it from very old time refuges for runaway slaves: therefore this city has been made desolate.

(Ezr 4:16) We therefore declare to the king, that, if that city be built, and its walls be set up, thou shalt not have peace.

(Ezr 4:17) Then the king sent to Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and the rest of their fellow-servants who dwelt in Samaria, and the rest beyond the river, saying, Peace; and he says, (Ezr 4:18) The tribute-gatherer whom ye sent to us, has been called before me.

(Ezr 4:19) And a decree has been made by me, and we have examined, and found that city of old time exalts itself against kings, and that rebellions and desertions take place within it.

(Ezr 4:20) And there were powerful kings in Jerusalem, and they ruled over all the country beyond the river, and abundant revenues and tribute were given to them.

(Ezr 4:21) Now therefore make a decree to stop the work of those men, and that city shall no more be built.

(Ezr 4:22) See that ye be careful of the decree, not to be remiss concerning this matter, lest at any time destruction should abound to the harm of kings.

(Ezr 4:23) Then the tribute-gatherer of king Arthasatha read the letter before Reum the chancellor, and Sampsa the scribe, and his fellow-servants: and they went in haste to Jerusalem and through Juda, and caused them to cease with horses and an armed force.

(Ezr 4:24) Then ceased the work of the house of Elohim in Jerusalem, and it was at a stand until the second year of the reign of Darius king of the Persians.

(Ezr 5:1) And Aggaeus the prophet, and Zacharias the son of Addo, prophesied a prophecy to the Jews in Juda and Jerusalem in the name of the Elohim of Israel, even to them.

(Ezr 5:2) Then rose up Zorobabel the son of Salathiel, and Jesus the son of Josedec, and began to build the house of Elohim that was in Jerusalem: and with them were the prophets of Elohim assisting them.

(Ezr 5:3) At the same time came there upon them Thanthanai, the governor on this side the river, and Satharbuzanai, and their fellow-servants, and spoke thus to them, Who has ordained a decree for you to build this house, and to provide this preparation?

(Ezr 5:4) Then they spoke thus to them, What are the names of the men that build this city?

(Ezr 5:5) But the eyes of Elohim were upon the captivity of Juda, and they did not cause them to cease till the decree was brought to Darius; and then was sent by the tribute-gatherer concerning this (Ezr 5:6) the copy of a letter, which Thanthanai, the governor of the part on this side the river, and Satharbuzanai, and their fellow-servants the Apharsachaeans who were on this side of the river, sent to king Darius.

(Ezr 5:7) They sent an account to him, and thus it was written in it: All peace to king Darius.

(Ezr 5:8) Be it known to the king, that we went into the land of Judea, to the house of the great Elohim; and it is building with choice stones, and they are laying timbers in the walls, and that work is prospering, and goes on favorably in their hands.

(Ezr 5:9) Then we asked those elders, and thus we said to them, Who gave you the order to build this house, and to provide this preparation?

(Ezr 5:10) And we asked them their names, in order to declare them to thee, so as to write to thee the names of their leading men.

(Ezr 5:11) And they answered us thus, saying, We are the servants of the Elohim of heaven and earth, and we are building the house which had been built many years before this, and a great king of Israel built it, and established it for them.

(Ezr 5:12) But after that our fathers provoked the Elohim of heaven, he gave them into the hands of Nabuchodonosor the Chaldean, king of Babylon, and he destroyed this house, and carried the people captive to Babylon.

(Ezr 5:13) And in the first year of king Cyrus, Cyrus the king made a decree that this house of Elohim should be built.

(Ezr 5:14) And the gold and silver vessels of the house of Elohim, which Nabuchodonosor brought out from the house that was in Jerusalem, and carried them into the temple of the king, them did king Cyrus bring out from the temple of the king, and gave them to Sabanasar the treasurer, who was over the treasurer;

(Ezr 5:15) and said to him, Take all the vessels, and go, put them in the house that is in Jerusalem in their place.

(Ezr 5:16) Then that Sabanazar came, and laid the foundations of the house of Elohim in Jerusalem: and from that time even until now it has been building, and has not been finished.

(Ezr 5:17) And now, if it seem good to the king, lest search be made in the treasure-house of the king at Babylon, that thou mayest know if it be that a decree was made by king Cyrus to build that house of Elohim that was in Jerusalem, and let the king send to us when he has learnt concerning this matter.

(Ezr 6:1) Then Darius the king made a decree, and caused a search to be made in the record-offices, where the treasure is stored in Babylon.

(Ezr 6:2) And there was found in the city, in the palace, a volume, and this was the record written in it.

(Ezr 6:3) In the first year of king Cyrus, Cyrus the king made a decree concerning the holy house of Elohim that was in Jerusalem, saying, Let the house be built, and the place where they sacrifice the sacrifices. (Also he appointed its elevation, in height sixty cubits; its breadth was of sixty cubits.)

(Ezr 6:4) And let there be three strong layers of stone, and one layer of timber; and the expense shall be paid out of the house of the king.

(Ezr 6:5) And the silver and the gold vessels of the house of Elohim, which Nabuchodonosor carried off from the house that was in Jerusalem, and carried to Babylon, let them even be given, and be carried to the temple that is in Jerusalem, and put in the place where they were set in the house of Elohim.

(Ezr 6:6) Now, ye rulers beyond the river, Satharbazanai, and their fellow-servants the Apharsachaeans, who are on the other side of the river, give these things, keeping far from that place.

(Ezr 6:7) Now let alone the work of the house of Elohim: let the rulers of the Jews and the elders of the Jews build that house of Elohim on its place.

(Ezr 6:8) Also a decree has been made by me, if haply ye may do somewhat in concert with the elders of the Jews for the building of that house of Elohim: to wit, out of the king's property, even the tributes beyond the river, let there be money to defray the expenses carefully granted to those men, so that they be not hindered.

(Ezr 6:9) And whatever need there may be, ye shall give both the young of bulls and rams, and lambs for whole-burnt-offerings to the Elohim of heaven, wheat, salt, wine, oil:—let it be given them according to the word of the priests that are in Jerusalem, day by day whatsoever they shall ask;

(Ezr 6:10) that they may offer sweet savours to the Elohim of heaven, and that they may pray for the life of the king and his sons.

(Ezr 6:11) And a decree has been made by me, that every man who shall alter this word, timber shall be pulled down from his house, and let him be lifted up and slain upon it, and his house shall be confiscated.

(Ezr 6:12) And may the Elohim whose name dwells there, overthrow every king and people who shall stretch out his hand to alter or destroy the house of Elohim which is in Jerusalem. I Darius have made a decree; let it be diligently attended to.

(Ezr 6:13) Then Thanthanai the governor on this side beyond the river, Satharbazanai, and his fellow-servants, according to that which king Darius sent, so they did diligently.

(Ezr 6:14) And the elders of the Jews and the Levites built, at the prophecy of Aggaeus the prophet, and Zacharias the son of Addo: and they built up, and finished it, by the decree of the Elohim of Israel, and by the decree of Cyrus, and Darius, and Arthasastha, kings of the Persians.

(Ezr 6:15) And they finished this house by the third day of the month Adar, which is the sixth year of the reign of Darius the king.

(Ezr 6:16) And the children of Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the rest of the children of the captivity, kept the dedication of the house of Elohim with gladness.

(Ezr 6:17) And they offered for the dedication of the house of Elohim a hundred calves, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, twelve kids of the goats for a sin-offering for all Israel, according to the number of the tribes of Israel.

(Ezr 6:18) And they set the priests in their divisions, and the Levites in their separate orders, for the services of Elohim in Jerusalem, according to the writing of the book of Moses.

(Ezr 6:19) And the children of the captivity kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month.

(Ezr 6:20) For the priests and Levites were purified, all were clean to a man, and they slew the passover for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the priests, and for themselves.

(Ezr 6:21) And the children of Israel ate the passover, even they that were of the captivity, and every one who separated himself to them from the uncleanness of the nations of the land, to seek YHVH Elohim of Israel.

(Ezr 6:22) and they kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with gladness, because YHVH made them glad, and he turned the heart of the king of Assyria to them, to strengthen their hands in the works of the house of the Elohim of Israel.

(Ezr 7:1) Now after these things, in the reign of Arthasastha king of the Persians, came up Esdras the son of Saraias, the son of Azarias, the son of Chelcias, (Ezr 7:2) the son of Selum, the son of Sadduc, the son of Achitob,

(Ezr 7:3) the son of Samarias, the son of Esria, the son of Mareoth,

(Ezr 7:4) the son of Zaraia, the son of Ozias, the son of Bokki, (Ezr 7:5) the son of Abisue, the son of Phinees, the son of Eleazar, the son of Aaron the first priest.

(Ezr 7:6) This Esdras went up out of Babylon; and he was a ready scribe in the law of Moses, which YHVH Elohim of Israel gave: and the king gave him leave, for the hand of YHVH his Elohim was upon him in all things which he sought.

(Ezr 7:7) And some of the children of Israel went up, and some of the priests, and of the Levites, and the singers, and the door-keepers, and the Nathinim, to Jerusalem, in the seventh year of Arthasastha the king.

(Ezr 7:8) And they came to Jerusalem in the fifth month, this was the seventh year of the king.

(Ezr 7:9) For in the first day of the first month he began the going up from Babylon, and in the first day of the fifth month, they came to Jerusalem, for the good hand of his Elohim was upon him.

(Ezr 7:10) For Esdras had determined in his heart to seek the law, and to do and teach the ordinances and judgments in Israel.

(Ezr 7:11) And this is the copy of the order which Arthasastha gave to Esdras the priest, the scribe of the book of the words of the commandments of YHVH, and of his ordinances to Israel.

(Ezr 7:12) Arthasastha, king of kings, to Esdras, the scribe of the law of YHVH Elohim of heaven, Let the order and the answer be accomplished.

(Ezr 7:13) A decree is made by me, that every one who is willing in my kingdom of the people of Israel, and of the priests and Levites, to go to Jerusalem, be permitted to go with thee.

(Ezr 7:14) One has been sent from the king and the seven councillors, to visit Judea and Jerusalem, according to the law of their Elohim that is in thine hand.

(Ezr 7:15) And for the house of YHVH there have been sent silver and gold, which the king and the councillors have freely given to the Elohim of Israel, who dwells in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 7:16) And all the silver and gold, whatsoever thou shalt find in all the land of Babylon, with the freewill-offering of the people, and the priests that offer freely for the house of Elohim which is in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 7:17) And as for every one that arrives there, speedily order him by this letter to bring calves, rams, lambs, and their meat-offerings, and their drink-offerings; and thou shalt offer them on the altar of the house of your Elohim which is in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 7:18) And whatever it shall seem good to thee and to thy brethren to do with the rest of the silver and the gold, do as it is pleasing to your Elohim.

(Ezr 7:19) And deliver the vessels that are given thee for the service of the house of Elohim, before Elohim in Jerusalem.

(Ezr 7:20) And as to the rest of the need of the house of thy Elohim, thou shalt give from the king's treasure-houses,

(Ezr 7:21) and from me, whatever it shall seem good to thee to give. I king Arthasatha have made a decree for all the treasuries that are in the country beyond the river, that whatever Esdras the priest and scribe of the Elohim of heaven may ask you, it shall be done speedily, (Ezr 7:22) to the amount of a hundred talents of silver, and a hundred measures of wheat, and a hundred baths of wine, and a hundred baths of oil, and salt without reckoning.

(Ezr 7:23) Let whatever is in the decree of the Elohim of heaven, be done: take heed lest any one make an attack on the house of the Elohim of heaven, lest at any time there shall be wrath against the realm of the king and his sons.

(Ezr 7:24) Also this has been declared to you, with respect to all the priests, and Levites, the singers, porters, Nathinim and ministers of the house of Elohim, let no tribute be paid to thee; thou shalt not have power to oppress them.

(Ezr 7:25) And thou, Esdras, as the wisdom of Elohim is in thy hand, appoint scribes and judges, that they may judge for all the people beyond the river, all that know the law of YHVH thy Elohim; and ye shall make it known to him that knows not.

(Ezr 7:26) And whosoever shall not do the law of Elohim, and the law of the king readily, judgment shall be taken upon him, whether for death or for chastisement, or for a fine of his property, or casting into prison.

(Ezr 7:27) Blessed be YHVH Elohim of our fathers, who has put it thus into the heart of the king, to glorify the house of YHVH which is in Jerusalem;

(Ezr 7:28) and has given me favour in the eyes of the king, and of his councillors, and all the rulers of the king, the exalted ones. And I was strengthened according to the good hand of Elohim upon me, and I gathered chief men of Israel to go up with me.

(Ezr 8:1) And these are the heads of their families, the leaders that went up with me in the reign of Arthasatha the king of Babylon.

(Ezr 8:2) Of the sons of Phinees; Gerson: of the sons of Ithamar; Daniel: of the sons of David; Attus.

(Ezr 8:3) Of the sons of Sachania, and the sons of Phoros; Zacharias: and with him a company of a hundred and fifty.

(Ezr 8:4) Of the sons of Phaath-Moab; Eliana the son of Saraia, and with him two hundred that were males.

(Ezr 8:5) And of the sons of Zathoes; Sechenias the son of Aziel, and with him three hundred males.

(Ezr 8:6) And of the sons of Adin; Obeth the son of Jonathan, and with him fifty males.

(Ezr 8:7) And of the sons of Elam; Isaeas the son of Athelia, and with him seventy males.

(Ezr 8:8) And of the sons of Saphatia; Zabadias the son of Michael, and with him eighty males.

(Ezr 8:9) And of the sons of Joab; Abadia the son of Jeiel, and with him two hundred and eighteen males.

(Ezr 8:10) And of the sons of Baani; Selimuth the son of Josephia, and with him a hundred and sixty males.

(Ezr 8:11) And of the sons of Babi; Zacharias the son of Babi, and with him twenty-eight males.

(Ezr 8:12) And of the sons of Asgad; Joanan the son of Accatan, and with him a hundred and ten males.

(Ezr 8:13) And of the sons of Adonicam were the last, and these were their names, Eliphalat, Jeel, and Samaea, and with them sixty males.

(Ezr 8:14) And of the sons of Baguae, Uthai, and Zabud, and with him seventy males.

(Ezr 8:15) And I gathered them to the river that comes to Evi, and we encamped there three days: and I reviewed the people and the priests, and found none of the sons of Levi there.

(Ezr 8:16) And I sent men of understanding to Eleazar, to Ariel, to Semeias, and to Alonam, and to Jarib, and to Elnatham, and to Nathan, and to Zacharias, and to Mesollam, and to Joarim, and to Elnathan.

(Ezr 8:17) And I forwarded them to the rulers with the money of the place, and I put words in their mouth to speak to their brethren the Athinim with the money of the place, that they should bring us singers for the house of our Elohim.

(Ezr 8:18) And they came to us, as the good hand of our Elohim was upon us, even a man of understanding of the sons of Mooli, the son of Levi, the son of Israel, and at the commencement came his sons and his brethren, eighteen.

(Ezr 8:19) And Asebia, and Isaia of the sons of Merari, his brethren and his sons, twenty.

(Ezr 8:20) And of the Nathinim; whom David and the princes had appointed for the service of the Levites there were two hundred and twenty Nathinim; all were gathered by their names.

(Ezr 8:21) And I proclaimed there a fast, at the river Aue, that we should humble ourselves before our Elohim, to seek of him a straight way for us, and for our children, and for all our property.

(Ezr 8:22) For I was ashamed to ask of the king a guard and horsemen to save us from the enemy in the way: for we had spoken to the king, saying, The hand of our Elohim is upon all that seek him, for good; but his power and his wrath are upon all that forsake him.

(Ezr 8:23) So we fasted, and asked of our Elohim concerning this; and he hearkened to us.

(Ezr 8:24) And I gave charge to twelve of the chiefs of the priests, to Saraia, to Asabia, and ten of their brethren with them.

(Ezr 8:25) And I weighed to them the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of the first-fruits of the house of our Elohim, which the king, and his councillors, and his princes, and all Israel that were found, had dedicated.

(Ezr 8:26) I even weighed into their hands six hundred and fifty talents of silver, and a hundred silver vessels, and a hundred talents of gold;

(Ezr 8:27) and twenty golden bowls, weighing about a thousand drachms, and superior vessels of fine shining brass, precious as gold.

(Ezr 8:28) And I said to them, Ye are holy to YHVH; and the vessels are holy; and the silver and the gold are freewill-offerings to YHVH Elohim of our fathers.

(Ezr 8:29) Be watchful and keep them, until ye weigh them before the chief priests and the Levites, and the chiefs of families in Jerusalem, at the chambers of the house of YHVH.

(Ezr 8:30) So the priests and the Levites took the weight of the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, to bring to Jerusalem into the house of our Elohim.

(Ezr 8:31) And we departed from the river of Aue on the twelfth day of the first month, to come to Jerusalem: and the hand of our Elohim was upon us, and delivered us from the hand of the enemy and adversary in the way.

(Ezr 8:32) And we came to Jerusalem, and abode there three days.

(Ezr 8:33) And it came to pass on the fourth day that we weighed the silver, and the gold, and the vessels, in the house of our Elohim, into the hand of Merimoth the son of Uria the priest; and with him was Eleazar the son of Phinees, and with them Jozabad the son of Jesus, and Noadia the son of Banaia, the Levites.

(Ezr 8:34) All things were reckoned by number and weight, and the whole weight was written down.

(Ezr 8:35) At that time the children of the banishment that came from the captivity offered whole-burnt-offerings to the Elohim of Israel, twelve calves for all Israel, ninety-six rams, seventy-seven lambs, twelve goats for a sin-offering; all whole-burnt-offerings to YHVH.

(Ezr 8:36) And they gave the king's mandate to the king's lieutenants, and the governors beyond the river: and they honoured the people and the house of Elohim.

(Ezr 9:1) And when these things were finished, the princes drew near to me, saying, The people of Israel, and the priests, and the Levites, have not separated themselves from the people of the lands in their abominations, even the Chananite, the Ethite, the Pherezite, the Jebusite, the Ammonite, the Moabite, and the Moserite and the Amorite.

(Ezr 9:2) For they have taken of their daughters for themselves and their sons; and the holy seed has passed among the nations of the lands, and the hand of the rulers has been first in this transgression.

(Ezr 9:3) And when I heard this thing, I rent my garments, and trembled, and plucked some of the hairs of my head and of my beard, and sat down mourning.

(Ezr 9:4) Then there assembled to me all that followed the word of the Elohim of Israel, on account of the transgression of the captivity; and I remained mourning until the evening sacrifice.

(Ezr 9:5) And at the evening sacrifice I rose up from my humiliation; and when I had rent my garments, then I trembled, and I bow myself on my knees, and spread out my hands to YHVH Elohim, (Ezr 9:6) and I said, YHVH, I am ashamed and confounded, O my Elohim, to lift up my face to thee: for our transgressions have abounded over our head, and our trespasses have increased even to heaven.

(Ezr 9:7) From the days of our fathers we have been in a great trespass until this day: and because of our iniquities we, and our kings, and our children, have been delivered into the hand of the kings of the Gentiles by the sword, and by captivity, and by spoil, and with shame of our face, as at this day.

(Ezr 9:8) And now our Elohim has dealt mercifully with us, so as to leave us to escape, and to give us an establishment in the place of his sanctuary, to enlighten our eyes, and to give a little quickening in our servitude.

(Ezr 9:9) For we are slaves, yet in our servitude YHVH our Elohim has not deserted us; and he has extended favour to us in the sight of the kings of the Persians, to give us a quickening, that they should raise up the house of our Elohim, and restore the desolate places of it, and to give us a fence in Juda and Jerusalem.

(Ezr 9:10) What shall we say, our Elohim, after this? for we have forsaken thy commandments, (Ezr 9:11) which thou hast given us by the hand of thy servants the prophets, saying, The land, into which ye go to inherit it, is a land subject to disturbance by the removal of the people of the nations for their abominations, wherewith they have filled it from one end to the other by their uncleanness.

(Ezr 9:12) And now give not your daughters to their sons, and take not of their daughters for your sons, neither shall ye seek their peace or their good for ever: that ye may be strong, and eat the good of the land, and transmit it as an inheritance to your children for ever.

(Ezr 9:13) And after all that is come upon us because of our evil deeds, and our great trespass, it is clear that there is none such as our Elohim, for thou has lightly visited our iniquities, and given us deliverance;

(Ezr 9:14) whereas we have repeatedly broken thy commandments, and intermarried with the people of the lands: be not very angry with us to our utter destruction, so that there should be no remnant or escaping one.

(Ezr 9:15) YHVH Elohim of Israel, thou art righteous; for we remain yet escaped, as at this day: behold, we are before thee in our trespasses: for we cannot stand before thee on this account.

(Ezr 10:1) So when Esdras had prayed, and when he had confessed, weeping and praying before the house of Elohim, a very great assembly of Israel came together to him, men and women and youths; for the people wept, and wept aloud.

(Ezr 10:2) And Sechenias the son of Jeel, of the sons of Elam, answered and said to Esdras, We have broken covenant with our Elohim, and have taken strange wives of the nations of the land: yet now there is patience of hope to Israel concerning this thing.

(Ezr 10:3) Now then let us make a covenant with our Elohim, to put away all the wives, and their offspring, as thou shalt advise:

(Ezr 10:4) arise, and alarm them with the commands of our Elohim; and let it be done according to the law. Rise up, for the matter is upon thee; and we are with thee: be strong and do.

(Ezr 10:5) Then Esdras arose, and caused the rulers, the priests, and Levites, and all Israel, to swear that they would do according to this word: and they swore.

(Ezr 10:6) And Esdras rose up from before the house of Elohim, and went to the treasury of Joanan the son of Elisub; he even went thither: he ate no bread, and drank no water; for he mourned over the unfaithfulness of them of the captivity.

(Ezr 10:7) And they made proclamation throughout Juda and Jerusalem to all the children of the captivity, that they should assemble at Jerusalem, saying, (Ezr 10:8) Every one who shall not arrive within three days, as is the counsel of the rulers and the elders, all his substance shall be forfeited, and he shall be separated from the congregation of the captivity.

(Ezr 10:9) So all the men of Juda and Benjamin assembled at Jerusalem within the three days. This was the ninth month: on the twentieth day of the month all the people sat down in the street of the house of YHVH, because of their alarm concerning the word, and because of the storm.

(Ezr 10:10) And Esdras the priest arose, and said to them, Ye have broken covenant, and have taken strange wives, to add to the trespass of Israel.

(Ezr 10:11) Now therefore give praise to YHVH Elohim of our fathers, and do that which is pleasing in his sight: and separate yourselves from the peoples of the land, and from the strange wives.

(Ezr 10:12) Then all the congregation answered and said, This thy word is powerful upon us to do it.

(Ezr 10:13) But the people is numerous, and the season is stormy, and there is no power to stand without, and the work is more than enough for one day or for two; for we have greatly sinned in this matter.

(Ezr 10:14) Let now our rulers stand, and for all those in our cities who have taken strange wives, let them come at appointed times, and with them elders from every several city, and judges, to turn away the fierce wrath of our Elohim from us concerning this matter.

(Ezr 10:15) Only Jonathan the son of Asael, and Jazias the son of Thecoe were with me concerning this; and Mesollam, and Sabbathai the Levite helped them.

(Ezr 10:16) And the children of the captivity did thus: and Esdras the priest, and heads of families according to their house were separated, and all by their names, for they returned in the first day of the tenth month to search out the matter.

(Ezr 10:17) And they made an end with all the men who had taken strange wives by the first day of the first month.

(Ezr 10:18) And there were found some of the sons of the priests who had taken strange wives: of the sons of Jesus the son of Josedec, and his brethren; Maasia, and Eliezer, and Jarib, and Gadalia.

(Ezr 10:19) And they pledged themselves to put away their wives, and offered a ram of the flock for a trespass-offering because of their trespass.

(Ezr 10:20) And of the sons of Emmer; Anani, and Zabdia.

(Ezr 10:21) And of the sons of Eram; Masael, and Elia, and Samaia, and Jeel, and Ozia.

(Ezr 10:22) And of the sons of Phasur; Elionai, Maasia, and Ismael, and Nathanael, and Jozabad, and Elasa.

(Ezr 10:23) And of the Levites; Jozabad, and Samu, and Colia (he is Colitas,) and Phetheia, and Judas, and Eliezer.

(Ezr 10:24) And of the singers; Elisab: and of the porters; Solmen, and Telmen, and Oduth.

(Ezr 10:25) Also of Israel: of the sons of Phoros; Ramia, and Azia, and Melchia, and Meamin, and Eleazar, and Asabia, and Banaia.

(Ezr 10:26) And of the sons of Helam; Matthania, and Zacharia, and Jaiel, and Abdia, and Jarimoth, and Elia.

(Ezr 10:27) And of the sons of Zathua; Elionai, Elisub, Matthanai, and Armoth, and Zabad, and Oziza.

(Ezr 10:28) And of the sons of Babei; Joanan, Anania, and Zabu, and Thali.

(Ezr 10:29) And of the sons of Banui; Mosollam, Maluch, Adaias, Jasub, and Saluia, and Remoth.

(Ezr 10:30) And of the sons of Phaath Moab; Edne, and Chalel, and Banaia, Maasia, Matthania, Beseleel, and Banui, and Manasse.

(Ezr 10:31) And of the sons of Eram; Eliezer, Jesia, Melchia, Samaias, Semeon, (Ezr 10:32) Benjamin, Baluch, Samaria.

(Ezr 10:33) And of the sons of Asem; Metthania, Matthatha, Zadab, Eliphalet, Jerami, Manasse, Semei.

(Ezr 10:34) And of the sons of Bani; Moodia, Amram, Uel, (Ezr 10:35) Banaia, Badaia, Chelkia,

(Ezr 10:36) Uvania, Marimoth, Eliasiph,

(Ezr 10:37) Matthania, Matthanai:

(Ezr 10:38) and so did the children of Banui, and the children of Semei,

(Ezr 10:39) and Selemia, and Nathan, and Adaia,

(Ezr 10:40) Machadnabu, Sesei, Sariu,

(Ezr 10:41) Ezriel, and Selemia, and Samaria,

(Ezr 10:42) and Sillum, Amaria, Joseph.

(Ezr 10:43) Of the sons of Nabu; Jael, Matthanias, Zabad, Zebennas, Jadai, and Joel, and Banaia.

(Ezr 10:44) All these had taken strange wives, and had begotten sons of them.

Nehemiah.

(Neh 1:1) The words of Neemias the son of Chelcia. And it came to pass in the month Cheseleu, of the twentieth year, that I was in Susan the palace.

(Neh 1:2) And Anani, one of my brethren, came, he and some men of Juda; and I asked them concerning those that had escaped, who had been left of the captivity, and concerning Jerusalem.

(Neh 1:3) And they said to me, The remnant, even those that are left of the captivity, are there in the land, in great distress and reproach: and the walls of Jerusalem are thrown down, and its gates are burnt with fire.

(Neh 1:4) And it came to pass, when I heard these words, that I sat down and wept, and mourned for several days, and continued fasting and praying before the Elohim of heaven.

(Neh 1:5) And I said, Nay, I pray thee, YHVH Elohim of heaven, the mighty, the great and terrible, keeping thy covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to those that keep his commandments:

(Neh 1:6) let now thine ear be attentive, and thine eyes open, that thou mayest hear the prayer of thy servant, which I pray before thee at this time, this day both day and night, for the children of Israel thy servants, and make confession for the sins of the children of Israel, which we have sinned against thee: both I and the house of my father have sinned.

(Neh 1:7) We have altogether broken covenant with thee, and we have not kept the commandments, and the ordinances, and the judgments, which thou didst command thy servant Moses.

(Neh 1:8) Remember, I pray thee, the word wherewith thou didst charge thy servant Moses, saying, If ye break covenant with me, I will disperse you among the nations.

(Neh 1:9) But if ye turn again to me, and keep my commandments, and do them; if ye should be scattered under the utmost bound of heaven, thence will I gather them, and I will bring them into the place which I have chosen to cause my name to dwell there.

(Neh 1:10) Now they are thy servants and thy people, whom thou hast redeemed with thy great power, and with thy strong hand.

(Neh 1:11) Turn not away, I pray thee, YHVH, but let thine ear be attentive to the prayer of thy servant, and to the prayer of thy servants, who desire to fear thy name: and prosper, I pray thee, thy servant this day, and cause him to find mercy in the sight of this man. Now I was the king's cup-bearer.

(Neh 2:1) And it came to pass in the month Nisan of the twentieth year of king Arthasastha, that the wine was before me: and I took the wine, and gave it to the king: and there was not another before him.

(Neh 2:2) And the king said to me, Why is thy countenance sad, and dost thou not control thyself? and now this is nothing but sorrow of heart. Then I was very much alarmed, (Neh 2:3) and I said to the king, Let the king live for ever: why should not my countenance be said, forasmuch as the city, even the home of the sepulchres of my fathers, has been laid waste, and her gates have been devoured with fire?

(Neh 2:4) And the king said to me, For what dost thou ask thus? So I prayed to the Elohim of heaven.

(Neh 2:5) And I said to the king, If it seem good to the king, and if thy servant shall have found favour in thy sight, I ask that thou wouldest send him into Juda, to the city of the sepulchres of my fathers; then will I rebuild it.

(Neh 2:6) And the king, and his concubine that sat next to him, said to me, For how long will thy journey be, and when wilt thou return? and the proposal was pleasing before the king, and he sent me away, and I appointed him a time.

(Neh 2:7) And I said to the king, If it seem good to the king, let him give me letters to the governors beyond the river, so as to forward me till I come to Juda;

(Neh 2:8) and a letter to Asaph the keeper of the garden which belongs to the king, that he may give me timber to cover the gates, and for the wall of the city, and for the house into which I shall enter. And the king gave to me, according as the good hand of Elohim was upon me.

(Neh 2:9) And I came to the governors beyond the river, and I gave them the king's letters. (Now the king had sent with me captains of the army and horsemen.)

(Neh 2:10) And Sanaballat the Aronite heard it, and Tobia the servant, the Ammonite, and it was grievous to them that a man was come to seek good for the children of Israel.

(Neh 2:11) So I came to Jerusalem, and was there three days.

(Neh 2:12) And I rose up by night, I and a few men with me; and I told no man what Elohim put into my heart to do with Israel; and there was no beast with me, except the beast which I rode upon.

(Neh 2:13) And I went forth by the gate of the valley by night, and to the mouth of the well of fig trees, and to the dung-gate: and I mourned over the wall of Jerusalem which they were destroying, and her gates were devoured with fire.

(Neh 2:14) And I passed on to the fountain gate, and to the king's pool; and there was no room for the beast to pass under me.

(Neh 2:15) And I went up by the wall of the brook by night, and mourned over the wall, and passed through the gate of the valley, and returned.

(Neh 2:16) And the sentinels knew not why I went, nor what I was doing; and until that time I told it not to the Jews, or to the priests, or to the nobles, or to the captains, or to the rest of the men who wrought the works.

(Neh 2:17) Then I said to them, Ye see this evil, in which we are, how Jerusalem is desolate, and her gates have been set on fire: come, and let us build throughout the wall of Jerusalem, and we shall be no longer a reproach.

(Neh 2:18) And I told them of the hand of Elohim which was good upon me, also about the words of the king which he spoke to me: and I said, Let us arise and build. And their hands were strengthened for the good work.

(Neh 2:19) And Sanaballat the Aronite, and Tobia the servant, the Ammonite, and Gesam the Arabian, heard it, and they laughed us to scorn, and came to us, and said, What is this thing that ye are doing? are ye revolting against the king?

(Neh 2:20) And I answered them, and said to them, The Elohim of heaven, he shall prosper us, and we his servants are pure, and we will build: but ye have no part, nor right, nor memorial, in Jerusalem.

(Neh 3:1) Then Eliasub the high priest, and his brethren the priests, rose up, and built the sheep-gate; they sanctified it, and set up the doors of it; even to the tower of the hundred they sanctified it, to the tower of Anameel.

(Neh 3:2) And they builded by the side of the men of Jericho, and by the side of the sons of Zacchur, the son of Amari.

(Neh 3:3) And the sons of Asana built the fish-gate; they roofed it, and covered in its doors, and bolts, and bars.

(Neh 3:4) And next to them the order reached to Ramoth the son of Uria, the son of Accos, and next to them Mosollam son of Barachias the son of Mazebel took his place: and next to them Sadoc the son of Baana took his place.

(Neh 3:5) And next to them the Thecoim took their place; but the Adorim applied not their neck to their service.

(Neh 3:6) And Joida the son of Phasec, and Mesulam son of Basodia, repaired the old gate; they covered it in, and set up its doors, and its bolts, and its bars.

(Neh 3:7) And next to them repaired Maltias the Gabaonite, and Evaron the Meronothite, the men of Gabaon and Maspha, to the throne of the governor on this side the river.

(Neh 3:8) And next to him Oziel the son of Arachias of the smiths, carried on the repairs: and next to them Ananias the son of one of the apothecaries repaired, and they finished Jerusalem to the broad wall.

(Neh 3:9) And next to them repaired Raphaea the son of Sur, the ruler of half the district round about Jerusalem.

(Neh 3:10) And next to them repaired Jedaia the son of Eromaph, and that in front of his house: and next to him repaired Attuth son of Asabania.

(Neh 3:11) And next to him repaired Melchias son of Heram, and Asub son of Phaath Moab, even to the tower of the furnaces.

(Neh 3:12) And next to him repaired Sallum the son of Alloes, the ruler of half the district round about Jerusalem, he and his daughters.

(Neh 3:13) Anun and the inhabitants of Zano repaired the gate of the valley: they built it, and set up its doors, and its bolts, and its bars, and a thousand cubits of the wall as far as the dung-gate.

(Neh 3:14) And Melchia the son of Rechab, the ruler of the district round about Beth-accharim, repaired the dung-gate, he and his sons; and they covered it, and set up its doors, and its bolts, and its bars.

(Neh 3:15) But Solomon the son of Choleze repaired the gate of the fountain, the ruler of part of Maspha; he built it, and covered it, and set up its doors and its bars, and the wall of the pool of the skins by the meadow of the king, and as far as the steps that lead down from the city of David.

(Neh 3:16) After him repaired Neemias son of Azabuch, ruler of half the district round about Bethsur, as far as the garden of David's sepulchre, and as far as the artificial pool, and as far as the house of the mighty men.

(Neh 3:17) After him repaired the Levites, even Raum the son of Bani: next to him repaired Asabia, ruler of half the district round about Keila, in his district.

(Neh 3:18) And after him repaired his brethren, Benei son of Enadad, ruler of half the district round about Keila.

(Neh 3:19) And next to him repaired Azur the son of YAHshua, ruler of Masphai, another portion of the tower of ascent, where it meets the corner.

(Neh 3:20) After him repaired Baruch the son of Zabub, a second portion, from the corner as far as the door of the house of Eliasub the high priest.

(Neh 3:21) After him repaired Meremoth the son of Uria the son of Accos, a second part from the door of the house of Eliasub, to the end of the house of Eliasub.

(Neh 3:22) And after him repaired the priests, the men of Ecchechar.

(Neh 3:23) And after him repaired Benjamin and Asub over against their house: and after him repaired Azarias son of Maasias the son of Ananias, the parts near to his house.

(Neh 3:24) After him repaired Bani the son of Adad, another portion from the house of Azaria as far as the corner and to the turning,

(Neh 3:25) of Phalach the son of Uzai, opposite the corner, and where is also the tower that projects from the king's house, even the upper one of the prison-house: and after him repaired Phadaea the son of Phoros.

(Neh 3:26) And the Nathinim dwelt in Ophal, as far as the garden of the water-gate eastward, and there is the projecting tower.

(Neh 3:27) And after them the Thecoim repaired, another portion opposite the great projecting tower, even as far as the wall of Ophla.

(Neh 3:28) The priests repaired above the horse-gate, every man over against his own house.

(Neh 3:29) And after him Sadduc the son of Emmer repaired opposite his own house: and after him repaired Samaea son of Sechenia, guard of the east-gate.

(Neh 3:30) After him repaired Anania son of Selemia, and Anom, the sixth son of Seleph, another portion: after him Mesulam the son of Barachia repaired over against his treasury.

(Neh 3:31) After him repaired Melchia the son of Sarephi as far as the house of the Nathinim, and the chapmen over against the gate of Maphecad, and as far as the steps of the corner.

(Neh 3:32) And between that and the sheep-gate the smiths and chapmen repaired.

(Neh 4:1) Now it came to pass, when Sanaballat heard that we were building the wall, that it was grievous to him, and he was very angry, and railed against the Jews.

(Neh 4:2) And he said before his brethren (that is the army of the Samaritans) Is it true that these Jews are building their city? do they indeed offer sacrifices? will they prevail? and will they this day restore the stones, after they have been burnt and made a heap of rubbish?

(Neh 4:3) And Tobias the Ammanite came near to him, and said to them, Do they sacrifice or eat in their place? shall not a fox go up and pull down their wall of stones?

(Neh 4:4) Hear, O our Elohim, for we have become a scorn; and return thou their reproach upon their head, and make them a scorn in a land of captivity,

(Neh 4:5) and do not cover their iniquity.

(Neh 4:7) But it came to pass, when Sanaballat and Tobia, and the Arabians, and the Ammanites, heard that the building of the walls of Jerusalem was advancing, and that the breaches began to be stopped, that it appeared very grievous to them.

(Neh 4:8) And all of them assembled together, to come to fight against Jerusalem, and to destroy it utterly.

(Neh 4:9) So we prayed to our Elohim and set watchmen against them day and night, because of them.

(Neh 4:10) And Juda said, The strength of the enemies is broken, yet there is much rubbish, and we shall not be able to build the wall.

(Neh 4:11) And they that afflicted us said, They shall not know, and they shall not see, until we come into the midst of them, and slay them, and cause the work to cease.

(Neh 4:12) And it came to pass, when the Jews who lived near them came, that they said to us, They are coming up against us from every quarter.

(Neh 4:13) So I set men in the lowest part of the place behind the wall in the lurking-places, I even set the people according to their families, with their swords, their spears, and their bows.

(Neh 4:14) And I looked, and arose, and said to the nobles, and to the captains, and to the rest of the people, Be not afraid of them: remember our great and terrible Elohim, and fight for your brethren, your sons, your daughters, your wives, and your houses.

(Neh 4:15) And it came to pass, when our enemies heard that it was made known to us, and Elohim had frustrated their counsel, that we all returned to the wall, every man to his work.

(Neh 4:16) And it came to pass from that day that half of them that had been driven forth, wrought the work, and half of them kept guard; and there were spears, and shields, and bows, and breast-plates, and rulers behind the whole house of Juda,

(Neh 4:17) even of them that were building the wall:—and those who carried the burdens were under arms: each with one hand wrought his work, and with the other held his dart.

(Neh 4:18) And the builders wrought each man having his sword girt upon his loins, and so they built: and the trumpeter with his trumpet next to him.

(Neh 4:19) And I said to the nobles, and to the rulers, and to the rest of the people, The work is great and abundant, and we are dispersed upon the wall, each at a great distance from his brother.

(Neh 4:20) In whatsoever place ye shall hear the sound of the cornet, thither gather yourselves together to us; and our Elohim shall fight for us.

(Neh 4:21) So we continued labouring at the work: and half of them held the spears from the rising of the morning until the stars appeared.

(Neh 4:22) And at that time I said to the people, Lodge ye every man with his servant in the midst of Jerusalem, and let the night be a watch-time to you, and the day a work-time.

(Neh 4:23) And I was there, and the watchmen behind me, and there was not a man of us that put off his garments.

(Neh 5:1) And the cry of the people and their wives was great against their brethren the Jews.

(Neh 5:2) And some said, We are numerous with our sons and our daughters; so we will take corn, and eat, and live.

(Neh 5:3) And some said, As to our fields and vineyards and houses, let us pledge them, and we will take corn, and eat.

(Neh 5:4) And some said, We have borrowed money for the king's tributes:—our fields, and our vineyards, and houses are pledged.

(Neh 5:5) And now our flesh is as the flesh of our brethren, our children are as their children: yet, behold, we are reducing our sons and our daughters to slavery, and some of our daughters are enslaved: and there is no power of our hands, for our fields and our vineyards belong to the nobles.

(Neh 5:6) And I was much grieved as I heard their cry and these words.

(Neh 5:7) And my heart took counsel within me, and I contended against the nobles, and the princes, and I said to them, Should every man demand of his brother what ye demand? And I appointed against them a great assembly, (Neh 5:8) and I said to them, We of our free-will have redeemed our brethren the Jews that were sold to the Gentiles; and do ye sell your brethren? and shall they be delivered to us? And they were silent, and found no answer.

(Neh 5:9) And I said, The thing which ye do is not good; ye will not so walk in the fear of our Elohim because of the reproach of the Gentiles our enemies.

(Neh 5:10) Both my brethren, and my acquaintances, and I, have lent them money and corn: let us now leave off this exaction.

(Neh 5:11) Restore to them, I pray, as at this day, their fields, and their vineyards, and their olive-yards, and their houses, and bring forth to them corn and wine and oil of the money.

(Neh 5:12) And they said, We will restore, and we will not exact of them; we will do thus as thou sayest. Then I called the priests, and bound them by oath to do according to this word.

(Neh 5:13) And I shook out my garment, and said, So may Elohim shake out every man who shall not keep to this word, from his house, and from his labours, he shall be even thus shaken out, as an outcast and empty. And all the congregation said, Amen, and they praised YHVH: and the people did this thing.

(Neh 5:14) From the day that he charged me to be their ruler in the land of Juda, from the twentieth year even to the thirty-second year of Arthasastha, twelve years, I and my brethren ate not provision extorted from them.

(Neh 5:15) But as for the former acts of extortion wherein those who were before me oppressed them, they even took of them their last money, forty didrachms for bread and wine; and the very outcasts of them exercised authority over the people: but I did not so, because of the fear of Elohim.

(Neh 5:16) Also in the work of the wall I treated them not with rigor, I bought not land: and all that were gathered together came thither to the work.

(Neh 5:17) And the Jews, to the number of a hundred and fifty men, besides those coming to us from the nations round about, were at my table.

(Neh 5:18) And there came to me for one day one calf, and I had six choice sheep and a goat; and every ten days wine in abundance of all sorts: yet with these I required not the bread of extortion, because the bondage was heavy upon this people.

(Neh 5:19) Remember me, O Elohim, for good, in all that I have done to this people.

(Neh 6:1) Now it came to pass, when Sanaballat, and Tobias, and Gesam the Arabian, and the rest of our enemies, heard that I had built the wall, and that there was no opening left therein; (but hitherto I had not set up the doors on the gates;)

(Neh 6:2) that Sanaballat and Gesam sent to me, saying, Come and let us meet together in the villages in the plain of Ono. But they were plotting to do me mischief.

(Neh 6:3) So I sent messengers to them, saying, I am doing a great work, and I shall not be able to come down, lest the work should cease: as soon as I shall have finished it, I will come down to you.

(Neh 6:4) And they sent to me again to this effect; and I sent them word accordingly.

(Neh 6:5) Then Sanaballat sent his servant to me with an open letter in his hand.

(Neh 6:6) And in it was written, It has been reported among the Gentiles that thou and the Jews are planning to revolt: therefore thou art building the wall, and thou wilt be a king to them.

(Neh 6:7) And moreover thou has appointed prophets to thyself, that thou mightest dwell in Jerusalem as a king over Juda: and now these words will be reported to the king. Now then, come, let us take counsel together.

(Neh 6:8) And I sent to him, saying, It has not happened according to these words, even as thou sayest, for thou framest them falsely out of thy heart.

(Neh 6:9) For all were trying to alarm us, saying, Their hands shall be weakened from this work, and it shall not be done. Now therefore I have strengthened my hands.

(Neh 6:10) And I came into the house of Semei the son of Dalaias the Son of Metabeel, and he was shut up; and he said, Let us assemble together in the house of Elohim, in the midst of it, and let us shut the doors of it; for they are coming by night to slay thee.

(Neh 6:11) And I said, Who is the man that shall enter into the house, that he may live?

(Neh 6:12) And I observed, and, behold, Elohim had not sent him, for the prophecy was a fable devised against me:

(Neh 6:13) and Tobias and Sanaballat had hired against me a multitude, that I might be frightened, and do this, and sin, and become to them an ill name, that they might reproach me.

(Neh 6:14) Remember, O Elohim, Tobias and Sanaballat, according to these their deeds, and the prophetess Noadia, and the rest of the prophets who tried to alarm me.

(Neh 6:15) So the wall was finished on the twenty-fifth day of the month Elul, in fifty-two days.

(Neh 6:16) And it came to pass, when all our enemies heard of it, that all the nations round about us feared, and great alarm fell upon them, and they knew that it was of our Elohim that this work should be finished.

(Neh 6:17) And in those days letters came to Tobias from many nobles of Juda, and those of Tobias came to them.

(Neh 6:18) For many in Juda were bound to him by oath, because he was son-in-law of Sechenias the son of Herae; and Jonan his son had taken the daughter of Mesulam the son of Barachia to wife.

(Neh 6:19) And they reported his words to me, and carried out my words to him: and Tobias sent letters to terrify me.

(Neh 7:1) And it came to pass, when the wall was built, and I had set up the doors, and the porters and the singers and the Levites were appointed, (Neh 7:2) that I gave charge to Ananias my brother, and Ananias the ruler of the palace, over Jerusalem: for he was a true man, and one that feared Elohim beyond many.

(Neh 7:3) And I said to them, The gates of Jerusalem shall not be opened till sunrise; and while they are still watching, let the doors be shut, and bolted; and set watches of them that dwell in Jerusalem, every man at his post, and every man over against his house.

(Neh 7:4) Now the city was wide and large; and the people were few in it, and the houses were not built.

(Neh 7:5) And Elohim put it into my heart, and I gathered the nobles, and the rulers, and the people, into companies: and I found a register of the company that came up first, and I found written in it as follows:

(Neh 7:6) Now these are the children of the country, that came up from captivity, of the number which Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon carried away, and they returned to Jerusalem and to Juda, every man to his city;

(Neh 7:7) with Zorobabel, and Jesus, and Neemia, Azaria, and Reelma, Naemani, Mardocheus, Balsan, Maspharath, Esdra, Boguia, Inaum, Baana, Masphar, men of the people of Israel.

(Neh 7:8) The children of Phoros, two thousand one hundred and seventy-two.

(Neh 7:9) The children of Saphatia, three hundred and seventy-two.

(Neh 7:10) The children of Era, six hundred and fifty-two.

(Neh 7:11) The children of Phaath Moab, with the children of Jesus and Joab, two thousand six hundred and eighteen.

(Neh 7:12) The children of Ælam, a thousand two hundred and fifty-four.

(Neh 7:13) The children of Zathuia, eight hundred and forty-five.

(Neh 7:14) The children of Zacchu, seven hundred and sixty.

(Neh 7:15) The children of Banui, six hundred and forty-eight.

(Neh 7:16) The children of Bebi, six hundred and twenty-eight.

(Neh 7:17) The children of Asgad, two thousand three hundred and twenty-two.

(Neh 7:18) The children of Adonicam, six hundred and sixty-seven.

(Neh 7:19) The children of Bagoi, two thousand and sixty-seven.

(Neh 7:20) The children of Edin, six hundred and fifty-five.

(Neh 7:21) The children of Ater, the son of Ezekias, ninety-eight.

(Neh 7:22) The children of Esam, three hundred and twenty-eight.

(Neh 7:23) The children of Besei, three hundred and twenty-four.

(Neh 7:24) The children of Arip, a hundred and twelve: the children of Asen, two hundred and twenty-three.

(Neh 7:25) The children of Gabaon, ninety-five.

(Neh 7:26) The children of Baethalem, a hundred and twenty-three: the children of Atopha, fifty-six.

(Neh 7:27) The children of Anathoth, a hundred and twenty-eight.

(Neh 7:28) The men of Bethasmoth, forty-two.

(Neh 7:29) The men of Cariatharim, Caphira, and Beroth, seven hundred and forty-three.

(Neh 7:30) The men of Arama and Gabaa, six hundred and twenty.

(Neh 7:31) The men of Machemas, a hundred and twenty-two.

(Neh 7:32) The men of Baethel and Ai, a hundred and twenty-three.

(Neh 7:33) The men of Nabia, a hundred and fifty-two.

(Neh 7:34) The men of Elamaar, one thousand two hundred and fifty-two.

(Neh 7:35) The children of Eram, three hundred and twenty.

(Neh 7:36) The children of Jericho, three hundred and forty-five.

(Neh 7:37) The children of Lodadid and Ono, seven hundred and twenty-one.

(Neh 7:38) The children of Sanana, three thousand nine hundred and thirty.

(Neh 7:39) The priests; the sons of Jodae, pertaining to the house of Jesus, nine hundred and seventy-three.

(Neh 7:40) The children of Emmer, one thousand and fifty-two.

(Neh 7:41) The children of Phaseur, one thousand two hundred and forty-seven.

(Neh 7:42) The children of Eram, a thousand and seventeen.

(Neh 7:43) The Levites; the children of Jesus the son of Cadmiel, with the children of Uduia, seventy-four.

(Neh 7:44) The singers; the children of Asaph, a hundred and forty-eight.

(Neh 7:50) the children of Raaia, the children of Rasson, the children of Necoda,
(Neh 7:51) the children of Gezam, the children of Ozi, the children of Phese,
(Neh 7:52) the children of Besi, the children of Meinon, the children of Nephosasi,
(Neh 7:54) the children of Basaloth, the children of Mida, the children of Adasan,
(Neh 7:55) the children of Barcue, the children of Sisarath, the children of Thema,
(Neh 7:58) the children of Jelet, the children of Dorcon, the children of Gadael,
(Neh 7:60) All the Nathinim, and children of the servants of Solomon, were three hundred and ninety-two.
(Neh 7:61) And these went up from Thelmeleth, Thelaresa, Charub, Eron, Jemer: but they could not declare the houses of their families, or their seed, whether they were of Israel.
(Neh 7:62) The children of Dalaia, the children of Tobia, the children of Necoda, six hundred and forty-two.
(Neh 7:63) And of the priests; the children of Ebia, the children of Acos, the children of Berzelli, for they took wives of the daughters of Berzelli the Galaadite, and they were called by their name.
(Neh 7:64) These sought the pedigree of their company, and it was not found, and they were removed as polluted from the priesthood.
(Neh 7:65) And the Athersastha said, that they should not eat of the most holy things, until a priest should stand up to give light.
(Neh 7:66) And all the congregation was about forty-two thousand three hundred and sixty,
(Neh 7:67) besides their men-servants and their maid-servants: these were seven thousand three hundred and thirty seven: and the singing-men and singing-women, two hundred and forty-five.
(Neh 7:69) Two thousand seven hundred asses.
(Neh 7:70) And part of the heads of families gave into the treasury to Neemias for the work a thousand pieces of gold, fifty bowls, and thirty priests' garments.
(Neh 7:71) And some of the heads of families gave into the treasuries of the work, twenty thousand pieces of gold, and two thousand three hundred pounds of silver.

(Neh 7:72) And the rest of the people gave twenty thousand pieces of gold, and two thousand two hundred pounds of silver, and sixty-seven priests' garments.

(Neh 7:73) And the priests, and Levites, and porters, and singers, and some of the people, and the Nathinim, and all Israel, dwelt in their cities.

(Neh 8:1) And the seventh month arrived, and the children of Israel were settled in their cities; and all the people were gathered as one man to the broad place before the water-gate, and they told Esdras the scribe to bring the book of the law of Moses, which YHVH commanded Israel.

(Neh 8:2) So Esdras the priest brought the law before the congregation both of men and women, and every one who had understanding was present to hearken, on the first day of the seventh month.

(Neh 8:3) And he read in it from the time of sun-rise to the middle of the day, before the men and the women; and they understood it, and the ears of all the people were attentive to the book of the law.

(Neh 8:4) And Esdras the scribe stood on a wooden stage, and there stood next to him Mattathias, and Samaeas, and Ananias, and Urias, and Chelcia, and Massia, on his right hand; and on his left Phadaeas, and Misael, and Melchias, and Asom, and Asabadma, and Zacharias, and Mesollam.

(Neh 8:5) And Esdras opened the book before all the people, for he was above the people; and it came to pass when he had opened it, that all the people stood.

(Neh 8:6) And Esdras blessed YHVH, the great Elohim: and all the people answered, and said, Amen, lifting up their hands: and they bowed down and worshipped YHVH with their face to the ground.

(Neh 8:7) And Jesus and Banaias and Sarabias instructed the people in the law, and the people stood in their place.

(Neh 8:8) And they read in the book of the law of Elohim, and Esdras taught, and instructed them distinctly in the knowledge of YHVH, and the people understood the law in the reading.

(Neh 8:9) And Neemias, and Esdras the priest and scribe, and the Levites, and they that instructed the people, spoke and said to all the people, It is a holy day to YHVH our Elohim; do not mourn, nor weep. For all the people wept when they heard the words of the law.

(Neh 8:10) And the governor said to them, Go, eat the fat, and drink the sweet, and send portions to them that have nothing; for the day is holy to our Lord: and faint not, for YHVH is our strength.

(Neh 8:11) And the Levites caused all the people to be silent, saying, Be silent, for it is a holy day, and despond not.

(Neh 8:12) So all the people departed to eat, and to drink, and to send portions, and to make great mirth, for they understood the words which he made known to them.

(Neh 8:13) And on the second day the heads of families assembled with all the people, also the priests and Levites, to Esdras the scribe, to attend to all the words of the law.

(Neh 8:14) And they found written in the law which YHVH commanded Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in booths, in the feast in the seventh month:

(Neh 8:15) and that they should sound with trumpets in all their cities, and in Jerusalem. And Esdras said, Go forth to the mountain, and bring branches of olive, and branches of cypress trees, and branches of myrtle, and branches of palm trees, and branches of every thick tree, to make booths, according to that which was written.

(Neh 8:16) And the people went forth, and brought them, and made booths for themselves, each one upon his roof, and in their courts, and in the courts of the house of Elohim, and in the streets of the city, and as far as the gate of Ephraim.

(Neh 8:17) And all the congregation who had returned from the captivity, made booths, and dwelt in booths: for the children of Israel had not done so from the days of Jesus the son of Naue until that day: and there was great joy.

(Neh 8:18) And Esdras read in the book of the law of Elohim daily, from the first day even to the last day: and they kept the feast seven days; and on the eighth day a solemn assembly, according to the ordinance.

(Neh 9:1) Now on the twenty-fourth day of this month the children of Israel assembled with fasting, and in sackcloths, and with ashes on their head.

(Neh 9:2) And the children of Israel separated themselves from every stranger, and stood and confessed their sins, and the iniquities of their fathers.

(Neh 9:3) And they stood in their place, and read in the book of the law of YHVH their god: and they confessed their sins to YHVH, and worshipped YHVH their Elohim.

(Neh 9:4) And there stood upon the stairs, of the Levites, Jesus, and the sons of Cadmiel, Sechenia the son of Sarabia, sons of Choneni; and they cried with a loud voice to YHVH their Elohim.

(Neh 9:5) And the Levites, Jesus and Cadmiel, said, Rise up, bless YHVH our Elohim forever and ever: and let them bless thy glorious name, and exalt it with all blessing and praise.

(Neh 9:6) And Esdras said, Thou art the only true Lord; thou madest the heaven, and the heaven of heavens, and all their array, the earth, and all things that are in it, the seas, and all things in them; and thou quickenest all things, and the hosts of heaven worship thee.

(Neh 9:7) Thou art YHVH Elohim, thou didst choose Abram, and broughtest him out of the land of the Chaldeans, and gavest him the name of Abraam:

(Neh 9:8) and thou foundest his heart faithful before thee, and didst make a covenant with him to give to him and to his seed the land of the Chananites, and the Chettites, and Amorites, and Pherezites, and Jebusites, and Gergesites; and thou hast confirmed thy words, for thou art righteous.

(Neh 9:9) And thou sawest the affliction of our fathers in Egypt, and thou heardest their cry at the Red Sea.

(Neh 9:10) And thou shewedst signs and wonders in Egypt, on Pharaoh and all his servants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knowest that they behaved insolently against them: and thou madest thyself a name, as at this day.

(Neh 9:11) And thou didst cleave the sea before them, and they passed through the midst of the sea on dry land; and thou didst cast into the deep them that were about to pursue them, as a stone in the mighty water.

(Neh 9:12) And thou guidedst them by day by a pillar of cloud, and by night by a pillar of fire, to enlighten for them the way wherein they should walk.

(Neh 9:13) Also thou camest down upon mount Sina, and thou spakest to them out of heaven, and gavest them right judgments, and laws of truth, ordinances, and good commandments.

(Neh 9:14) And thou didst make known to them thy holy Sabbath; thou didst enjoin upon them commandments, and ordinances, and a law, by the hand of thy servant Moses.

(Neh 9:15) And thou gavest them bread from heaven for their food, and thou broughtest them forth water from a rock for their thirst; and thou badest them go in to inherit the land over which thou stretchedst out thy hand to give it them.

(Neh 9:16) But they and our fathers behaved proudly, and hardened their neck, and did not hearken to thy commandments, (Neh 9:17) and refused to listen, and remembered not thy wonders which thou wroughtest with them; and they hardened their neck, and appointed a leader to return to their slavery in Egypt: but thou, O Elohim, art merciful and compassionate, long-suffering, and abundant in mercy, and thou didst not forsake them.

(Neh 9:18) And still farther they even made to themselves a molten calf, and said, These are the gods that brought us up out of Egypt: and they wrought great provocations.

(Neh 9:19) Yet thou in thy great compassions didst not forsake them in the wilderness: thou didst not turn away from them the pillar of the cloud by day, to guide them in the way, nor the pillar of fire by night, to enlighten for them the way wherein they should walk.

(Neh 9:20) And thou gavest thy good Spirit to instruct them, and thou didst not withhold thy manna from their mouth, and gavest them water in their thirst.

(Neh 9:21) And thou didst sustain them forty years in the wilderness; thou didst not allow anything to fail them: their garments did not wax old, and their feet were not bruised.

(Neh 9:22) Moreover, thou gavest them kingdoms, and didst divide nations to them: and they inherited the land of Seon king of Esebon, and the land of Og king of Basan.

(Neh 9:23) And thou didst multiply their children as the stars of heaven, and broughtest them into the land of which thou spakest to their fathers;

(Neh 9:24) And they inherited it: and thou didst destroy from before them the dwellers in the land of the Chananites, and thou gavest into their hands them and their kings, and the nations of the land, to do unto them as it pleased them.

(Neh 9:25) And they took lofty cities, and inherited houses full of all good things, wells dug, vineyards, and oliveyards, and every fruit tree in abundance: so they ate, and were filled, and grew fat, and rioted in thy great goodness.

(Neh 9:26) But they turned, and revolted from thee, and cast thy law behind their backs; and they slew thy prophets, who testified against them to turn them back to thee, and they wrought great provocations.

(Neh 9:27) Then thou gavest them into the hand of them that afflicted them, and they did afflict them: and they cried to thee in the time of their affliction, and thou didst hear them from thy heaven, and in thy great compassions gavest them deliverers, and didst save them from the hand of them that afflicted them.

(Neh 9:28) But when they rested, they did evil again before thee: so thou leftest them in the hands of their enemies, and they ruled over them: and they cried again to thee, and thou heardest them from heaven, and didst deliver them in thy great compassions.

(Neh 9:29) And thou didst testify against them, to bring them back to thy law: but they hearkened not, but sinned against thy commandments and thy judgments, which if a man do, he shall live in them; and they turned their back, and hardened their neck, and heard not.

(Neh 9:30) Yet thou didst bear long with them many years, and didst testify to them by thy Spirit by the hand of thy prophets: but they hearkened not; so thou gavest them into the hand of the nations of the land.

(Neh 9:31) But thou in thy many mercies didst not appoint them to destruction, and didst not forsake them; for thou art strong, and merciful, and pitiful.

(Neh 9:32) And now, O our Elohim, the powerful, the great, the mighty, and the terrible, keeping thy covenant and thy mercy, let not all the trouble seem little in thy sight which has come upon us, and our kings, and our princes, and our priests, and our prophets, and our fathers, and upon all thy people, from the days of the kings of Assur even to this day.

(Neh 9:33) But thou art righteous in all the things that come upon us; for thou hast wrought faithfully, but we have greatly sinned.

(Neh 9:34) And our kings, and our princes, and our priests, and our fathers, have not performed thy law, and have not given heed to thy commandments, and have not kept thy testimonies which thou didst testify to them.

(Neh 9:35) And they did not serve thee in thy kingdom, and in thy great goodness which thou gavest to them, and in the large and fat land which thou didst furnish before them, and they turned not from their evil devices.

(Neh 9:36) Behold, we are servants this day, and as for the land which thou gavest to our fathers to eat the fruit of it and the good things of it, behold, we are servants upon it:

(Neh 9:37) and its produce is abundant for the kings whom thou didst appoint over us because of our sins; and they have dominion over our bodies, and over our cattle, as it pleases them, and we are in great affliction.

(Neh 9:38) And in regard to all these circumstances we make a covenant, and write it, and our princes, our Levites, and our priests, set their seal to it.

(Neh 10:1) And over them that sealed were Neemias the Artasastha, son of Achalia, and Zedekias,

(Neh 10:2) the son of Araea, and Azaria, and Jeremia,

(Neh 10:3) Phasur, Amaria, Melchia,

(Neh 10:4) Attus, Sebani, Maluch,

(Neh 10:5) Iram, Meramoth, Abdia,

(Neh 10:6) Daniel, Gannathon, Baruch,

(Neh 10:7) Mesulam, Abia, Miamin,

(Neh 10:8) Maazia, Belgai, Samaia; these were priests.

(Neh 10:9) And the Levites; Jesus the son of Azania, Banaiu of the sons of Enadad, Cadmiel

(Neh 10:10) and his brethren, Sabania, Oduia, Calitan, Phelia, Anan,

(Neh 10:11) Micha, Roob, Asebias,

(Neh 10:12) Zacchor, Sarabia, Sebania,

(Neh 10:13) Odum, the sons of Banuae.

(Neh 10:14) The heads of the people; Phoros, Phaath Moab, Elam, Zathuia, (Neh 10:15) the sons of Bani, Asgad, Bebai,

(Neh 10:16) Adania, Bagoi, Hedin

(Neh 10:17) Ater, Ezekia, Azur,

(Neh 10:18) Oduia, Esam, Besi,

(Neh 10:19) Ariph, Anathoth, Nobai,

(Neh 10:20) Megaphes, Mesullam, Ezir,

(Neh 10:21) Mesozebel, Saduc, Jeddua,

(Neh 10:22) Phaltia, Anan, Anaea,

(Neh 10:23) Osee, Anania, Asub,

(Neh 10:24) Aloes, Phalai, Sobec,

(Neh 10:25) Reum, Essabana, Maasia,

(Neh 10:26) and Aia, Ænan, Enam,

(Neh 10:27) Maluch, Eram, Baana.

(Neh 10:28) And the rest of the people, the priests, the Levites, the porters, the singers, the Nathinim, and every one who drew off from the nations of the land to the law of Elohim, their wives, their sons, their daughters, every one who had knowledge and understanding,

(Neh 10:29) were urgent with their brethren, and bound them under a curse, and entered into a curse, and into an oath, to walk in the law of Elohim, which was given by the hand of Moses, the servant of Elohim; to keep and to do all the commandments of YHVH, and his judgments, and his ordinances;

(Neh 10:30) and that we will not, they said, give our daughters to the people of the land, nor will we take their daughters to our sons.

(Neh 10:31) And as for the people of the land who bring wares and all manner of merchandise to sell on the Sabbath-day, we will not buy of them on the Sabbath or on the holy day: and we will leave the seventh year, and the exaction of every debt.

(Neh 10:32) And we will impose ordinances upon ourselves, to levy on ourselves the third part of a didrachm yearly for the service of the house of our Elohim;

(Neh 10:33) the shewbread, and the continual meat-offering, and for the continual whole-burnt-offering, of the Sabbaths, of the new moon, for the feast, and for the holy things, and the sin-offerings, to make atonement for Israel, and for the works of the house of our Elohim.

(Neh 10:34) And we cast lots for the office of wood-bearing, we the priests, and the Levites, and the people, to bring wood into the house of our Elohim, according to the house of our families, at certain set times, year by year, to burn on the altar of YHVH our Elohim, as it is written in the law:

(Neh 10:35) and to bring the first-fruits of our land, and the first-fruits of the fruit of every tree, year by year, into the house of YHVH:

(Neh 10:36) the first-born of our sons, and of our cattle, as it is written in the law, and the first-born of our herds and of our flocks, to bring to the house of our Elohim, for the priests that minister in the house of our Elohim.

(Neh 10:37) And the first-fruits of our corn, and the fruit of every tree, of wine, and of oil, will we bring to the priests to the treasury of the house of Elohim; and a tithe of our land to the Levites: for the Levites themselves shall receive tithes in all the cities of the land we cultivate.

(Neh 10:38) And the priest the son of Aaron shall be with the Levites in the tithe of the Levite: and the Levites shall bring up the tenth part of their tithe to the house of our Elohim, into the treasuries of the house of Elohim.

(Neh 10:39) For the children of Israel and the children of Levi shall bring into the treasuries the first-fruits of the corn, and wine, and oil; and there are the holy vessels, and the priests, and the ministers, and the porters, and the singers: and we will not forsake the house of our Elohim.

(Neh 11:1) And the chiefs of the people dwelt in Jerusalem: and the rest of the people cast lots, to bring one of every ten to dwell in Jerusalem the holy city, and nine parts in the other cities.

(Neh 11:2) And the people blessed all the men that volunteered to dwell in Jerusalem.

(Neh 11:3) Now these are the chiefs of the province who dwelt in Jerusalem, and in the cities of Juda; every man dwelt in his possession in their cities: Israel, the priests, and the Levites, and the Nathinim, and the children of the servants of Solomon.

(Neh 11:4) And there dwelt in Jerusalem some of the children of Juda, and of the children of Benjamin. Of the children of Juda; Athaia son of Azia, the son of Zacharia, the son of Samaria, the son of Saphatia, the son of Maleleel, and some of the sons of Phares;

(Neh 11:5) and Maasia son of Baruch, son of Chalaza, son of Ozia, son of Adaia, son of Joarib, son of Zacharias, son of Seloni.

(Neh 11:6) All the sons of Phares who dwelt in Jerusalem were four hundred and sixty-eight men of might.

(Neh 11:7) And these were the children of Benjamin; Selo son of Mesulam, son of Joad, son of Phadaia, son of Coleia, son of Maasias, son of Ethiel, son of Jesia.

(Neh 11:8) And after him Gebe, Seli, nine hundred and twenty-eight.

(Neh 11:9) And Joel son of Zechri was overseer over them: and Juda son of Asana was second in the city.

(Neh 11:10) Of the priests: both Jadia son of Joarib, and Jachin.

(Neh 11:11) Saraia, son of Elchia, son of Mesulam, son of Sadduc, son of Marioth, son of Ætoth, was over the house of Elohim.

(Neh 11:12) And their brethren doing the work of the house were eight hundred and twenty-two: and Adaia son of Jeroam, son of Phalalia, son of Amasi, son of Zacharia, son of Phassur, son of Melchia,

(Neh 11:13) and his brethren, chiefs of families, two hundred and forty-two: and Amasia son of Esdriel, son of Mesarimith, son of Emmer, (Neh 11:14) and his brethren, mighty men of war, a hundred and twenty-eight: and their overseer was Badiel son of one of the great men.

(Neh 11:15) And of the Levites; Samaia, son of Esricam,

(Neh 11:17) Matthanias son of Micha, and Jobeb son of Samui, (Neh 11:18) two hundred and eighty-four.

(Neh 11:19) And the porters; Acub, Telamin, and their brethren, a hundred and seventy-two.

(Neh 11:22) And the overseer of the Levites was the son of Bani, son of Ozi, son of Asabia, the son of Micha. Of the sons of Asaph the singers some were over the house of Elohim, (Neh 11:23) For so was the king's commandment concerning them.

(Neh 11:24) And Phathaia son of Baseza was in attendance on the king in every matter for the people,

(Neh 11:25) and with regard to villages in their country district: and some of the children of Juda dwelt in Cariatharboc,

(Neh 11:26) and in Jesu,

(Neh 11:27) and in Bersabee:

(Neh 11:30) And their villages were Lachis and her hands: and they pitched their tents in Bersabee.

(Neh 11:31) And the children of Benjamin dwelt from Gabaa to Machmas.

(Neh 11:36) And of the Levites there were divisions to Juda and to Benjamin.

(Neh 12:1) Now these are the priests and the Levites that went up with Zorobabel the son of Salathiel and Jesus: Saraia, Jeremia, Esdra,

(Neh 12:2) Amaria, Maluch,

(Neh 12:3) Sechenia

(Neh 12:7) These were the chiefs of the priests, and their brethren in the days of Jesus.

(Neh 12:8) And the Levites were, Jesus, Banui, Cadmiel, Sarabia, Jodae, Matthanias: he was over the bands, (Neh 12:9) and his brethren were appointed to the daily courses.

(Neh 12:10) And Jesus begot Joakim, and Joakim begot Eliasib, and Eliasib begot Jodae, (Neh 12:11) and Jodae begot Jonathan, and Jonathan begot Jadu.

(Neh 12:12) And in the days of Joakim, his brethren the priests and the heads of families were, belonging to Saraia, Amaria; to Jeremia, Anania;

(Neh 12:13) to Esdra, Mesulam; to Amaria, Joanan;

(Neh 12:14) to Amaluch, Jonathan; to Sechenia, Joseph;

(Neh 12:15) to Are, Mannas; to Marioth, Elcai;

(Neh 12:16) to Adadai, Zacharia; to Ganathoth, Mesolam;

(Neh 12:17) to Abia, Zechri; to Miamin, Maadai; to Pheleti, one;

(Neh 12:18) to Balgas, Samue; to Semia, Jonathan;

(Neh 12:19) to Joarib, Matthanai; to Edio, Ozi;

(Neh 12:20) to Salai, Callai; to Amec, Abed;

(Neh 12:21) to Elkia, Asabias; to Jedeiu, Nathanael.

(Neh 12:22) The Levites in the days of Eliasib, Joada, and Joa, and Joanan, and Idua, were recorded heads of families: also the priests, in the reign of Darius the Persian.

(Neh 12:23) And the sons of Levi, heads of families, were written in the book of the chronicles, even to the days of Joanan son of Elisue.

(Neh 12:24) And the heads of the Levites were Asabia, and Sarabia, and Jesu: and the sons of Cadmiel, and their brethren over against them, were to sing hymns of praise, according to the commandment of David the man of Elohim, course by course.

(Neh 12:25) When I gathered the porters,

(Neh 12:26) it was in the days of Joakim son of Jesus, son of Josedec, and in the days of Neemia: and Esdras the priest was scribe.

(Neh 12:27) And at the dedication of the wall of Jerusalem they sought the Levites in their places, to bring them to Jerusalem, to keep a feast of dedication and gladness with thanksgiving, and they sounded cymbals with songs, and had psalteries and harps.

(Neh 12:28) And the sons of the singers were assembled both from the neighbourhood round about to Jerusalem, and from the villages, (Neh 12:29) and from the country: for the singers built themselves villages by Jerusalem.

(Neh 12:30) And the priests and the Levites purified themselves, and they purified the people, and the porters, and the wall.

(Neh 12:31) And they brought up the princes of Juda on the wall, and they appointed two great companies for thanksgiving, and they passed on the right hand on the wall of the dung-gate.

(Neh 12:32) And after them went Osaia, and half the princes of Juda,

(Neh 12:33) and Azarias, and Esdras, and Mesollam,

(Neh 12:34) and Juda, and Benjamin, and Samaias and Jeremia.

(Neh 12:35) And some of the sons of the priest with trumpets, Zacharias son of Jonathan, son of Samaias, son of Matthania, son of Michaia, son of Zacchur, son of Asaph:

(Neh 12:36) and his brethren, Samaia, and Oziel, Gelol, Jama, Aia, Nathanael, and Juda, Anani, to praise with the hymns of David the man of Elohim; and Esdras the scribe was before them,

(Neh 12:37) at the gate, to praise before them, and they went up by the steps of the city of David, in the ascent of the wall, above the house of David, even to the water-gate (Neh 12:39) of Ephraim, and to the fish-gate, and by the tower of Anameel, and as far as the sheep-gate.

(Neh 12:42) And the singers were heard, and were numbered.

(Neh 12:43) And in that day they offered great sacrifices, and rejoiced; for Elohim had made them very joyful: and their wives and their children rejoiced: and the joy in Jerusalem was heard from afar off.

(Neh 12:44) And in that day they appointed men over the treasuries, for the treasures, the first-fruits, and the tithes, and for the chiefs of the cities who were assembled among them, to furnish portions for the priests and Levites: for there was joy in Juda over the priests and over the Levites that waited.

(Neh 12:45) And they kept the charges of their Elohim, and the charges of the purification, and ordered the singers and the porters, according to the commandments of David and his son Solomon.

(Neh 12:46) For in the days of David Asaph was originally first of the singers, and they sang hymns and praise to Elohim.

(Neh 12:47) And all Israel in the days of Zorobabel, and in the days of Neemias, gave the portions of the singers and the porters, a daily rate: and consecrated them to the Levites: and the Levites consecrated them to the sons of Aaron.

(Neh 13:1) In that day they read in the book of Moses in the ears of the people; and it was found written in it, that the Ammonites and Moabites should not enter into the congregation of Elohim for ever;

(Neh 13:2) because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them to curse them: but our Elohim turned the curse into a blessing.

(Neh 13:3) And it came to pass, when they heard the law, that they were separated, even every alien in Israel.

(Neh 13:4) And before this time Eliasib the priest dwelt in the treasury of the house of our Elohim, connected with Tobias;

(Neh 13:5) and he made himself a great treasury, and there they were formerly in the habit of bestowing the offerings, and the frankincense, and the vessels, and the tithe of the corn, and the wine, and the oil, the ordered portion of the Levites, and singers, and porters; and the first-fruits of the priests.

(Neh 13:6) But in all this time I was not in Jerusalem; for in the thirty-second year of Arthasastha king of Babylon I came to the king, and after a certain time I made my request of the king;

(Neh 13:7) and I came to Jerusalem, and I understood the mischief which Eliasib had done in the case of Tobias, in making for him a treasury in the court of the house of Elohim.

(Neh 13:8) And it appeared very evil to me: so I cast forth all the furniture of the house of Tobias from the treasury.

(Neh 13:9) And I gave orders, and they purified the treasuries: and I restored thither the vessels of the house of Elohim, and the offerings, and the frankincense.

(Neh 13:10) And I understood that the portion of the Levites had not been given: and they had fled every one to his field, the Levites and the singers doing the work.

(Neh 13:11) And I strove with the commanders, and said, Wherefore has the house of Elohim been abandoned? and I assembled them, and set them in their place.

(Neh 13:12) And all Juda brought a tithe of the wheat and the wine and the oil into the treasuries, (Neh 13:13) to the charge of Selemia the priest, and Sadoc the scribe, and Phadaea of the Levites: and next to them was Anan the son of Zacchur, son of Matthanias; for they were accounted faithful: it was their office to distribute to their brethren.
