Over 300 residents packed the Kent Community School auditorium Wednesday night to hear and be heard on a decision to allow the New England Aquarium to proceed with its development plans to construct a new facility in Dry Dock 2 in the Charlestown Navy Yard. The Charlestown Neighborhood Council Aquarium Committee-of-the-Whole held the meeting to allow residents to comment on the proposal in an open forum. Thirty-one residents rose to the microphone to express their opinions on the pros and cons of placing a "World Class" aquarium within this com-

Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee Seeks Community Support

The Charlestown Veterans/Bunker Hill Day Commemorative Committee is seeking the support of the residents of Charlestown for the 1989 Bunker Hill Day celebration. It is hoped that the events will serve as a significant and meaningful tribute to our patriot forefathers on this, the 214th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill.

The Bunker Hill Day Parade, the highlight of the celebration, will be held on Sunday, June 18, commencing at 12:30 p.m. from the Hayes Square area of town. This should be one of the largest and most outstanding parades in the Greater Boston area.

Some of the top musical units already committed to the parade include: The Fralinger String (Mummers) Band of Philadelphia mentioned as either "The Most Recognized Sound in String Bands" or "The Musical Kings of Mummery;" Dot Slamin Hill's Post 156, American Legion Band of

Waltham; Boston Crusaders Drum and Bugle Corps; Spirit of America Marching Band of Orleans, Mass. from the Community of Jesus — winner of the 1986 Philadelphia "National Independence Day Parade - Spirit of America Award."

Also, in the line of march will be the Kevin Barry Irish American Pipes and Drums; Westbrook Connecticut Fife and Drums; 18th Connecticut Regiment Ancient Fifes and Drums; (continued on page 10)

The Atrium of Building 149 in the Charlestown Navy Yard was filled with music, talk and laughter on Saturday, May 6 as over 450 friends of Camp Bunker Hill gathered for a Spring Dance.

Recent budget cuts jeopardized the funding for the 19-year-old camp that provides some 60 Charlestown youngsters the opportunity to spend the summer at the Hale Reservation in Westwood. At the camp the counselors are able to blend therapeutic techniques with recreational activities to help the troubled children of Charlestown.

Charlestown Says: Save The Library

by Lynn Peters

The Charlestown Branch Library was anything but quiet last week when residents, library workers, friends and trustees, and elected officials spoke out loudly against cuts in the city's library budget.

With all the focus of late on bettering education and keeping young people off the streets, getting cheap on book buying and closing library doors seem contradictory.

"The schools haven't given me as much as the libraries have," one mother of four told the more than 75 people who gathered at the local library May 4.

Like this Charlestown mother, others spoke on this neighborhood's need to strengthen the library, not to limit its service. The library is also a social place for Charlestown's retired, who go to meet and mix.

More than 50,000 books move through the Charlestown Branch Library for the seventh largest circulation of the 25 branches that make up the Boston Public Library system. Nearly 1,000 adults use 60 different cent in the last six years. This growth is threatened by the cuts in the city's fiscal 1990 budget for libraries. Here in Charlestown, library users will lose programs, will only be able to visit three days a week and may say good-bye to some of the librarians.

According to Kevin Moloney, president of the Boston Public Library Board of Trustees, the nearly 5 percent budget cut, from last

ARE YOUR BUYERS
FINANCIALLY QUALIFIED?

With home prices increasing, many prospective purchasers are having to stretch themselves financially to buy a home, especially if they are first time buyers. Virtually all purchase agreements allow buyers to get out of the contract if they can't qualify for a mortgage. So it is important for you to get some reassurances before you make a commitment to your buyers.

While there is no way to be absolutely sure your purchasers will obtain financing, using a professional Realtor will minimize the risk that they are not financially qualified. We work with buyers to help them determine what they can afford. We know how to stretch buying dollars with different financing alternatives, including Adjustable Rate Mortgages. We also know how to write contract addenda to require timely loan applications and a prequalifying letter from a reputable lender. If there are potential difficulties, we are trained to resolve them quickly, one way or another; so if they cannot complete the transaction, the contract can be voided before you have invested a lot of time in trying to make things work.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Silva Realty Associates are ready to serve you. Call us at 242-7470 or drop by our offices at 142 Main Street in Charlestown.

Michael and Linda Lacey of Salem Street Avenue will be among 48 foster families from across the state honored by the Massachusetts Association for Professional Foster Care on Saturday, May 13 for outstanding service.

For 15 years the Laceys have opened their home to 25 children who stayed as long as a year and a half or as short as a night. The Laceys are caring for five children in their home now. "We work to get them back to their families and it's nice to see them reunited," says Linda. "The children come back to see us, and bring their kids with them."

Charlestown's Laceys Honored As Outstanding Foster Parents

The Laceys will be among foster parents from private agencies and the Department of Social Services recognized for going the extra yard with the children.

"In a sense, in every home, each foster parent is a silent hero, going about the daily business of helping children and families," Jean Bergstrom, MAPFC president, comments. The fourth Annual Foster Parent Recognition Awards Event will be held at the Sheraton Tara Hotel in Framingham. Dave Madsen, Springfield's WWLP-TV22 newsanchor and Today's Child program host will emcee the event with DSS Commissioner Marie A. Matava.

May is Foster Parent Month in Massachusetts and recently was declared National Foster Care Month.

"This is a time to pay tribute to each and every foster family across the Commonwealth," Matava says. "They willingly share their expertise, homes and hearts to benefit children and families and believe in children, our most precious resource."

Walter Dacey Chosen Employee Of The Year

tenance staff. Dacey became eligible for Employee of the Year when he was selected as Employee of the Month for August 1988.

"Walter's quality of work, accompanied by its timely completion, is excellent. He is dependable and reliable, and has taken it upon himself to learn the overall operation of the Schrafft Center," stated Tony Gentile, operations manager.

On being selected Employee of the Year, Dacey was given a trip for two to the Caribbean and $500 cash.

MATTERS OF THE HEART

DIABETES

Diabetes Mellitus is the third leading cause of death in the United States with an estimated 14 million Americans suffering from this disease. Every American has a one in five chance of developing diabetes with 500,000 newly afflicted each year. Diabetes is an abnormally and persistently high concentration of sugar in the blood stream, resulting from an absolute or relative lack of insulin secreted by the pancreas.

Type 1 or insulin-dependent diabetes occurs when the pancreas produces no insulin at all. Also referred to as "juvenile diabetes" this presumably results from immune destruction of the pancreatic cells perhaps triggered by a virus. There is usually a rapid development of symptoms such as thirst, weight loss and frequency of urination. Such individuals require daily administration of insulin by needles.

The majority of diabetics (85 to 95 percent) are afflicted by Type 2 or non-insulin dependent diabetes. These individuals are unable to make proper use of insulin that the pancreas produces as a consequence of aging and obesity. Their insulin levels are usually normal or elevated, however their cells are resistant to the effects of insulin. The onset of diabetes in this group is usually less abrupt and severe and progresses slowly. Few require insulin for the control of low blood sugar with diet, exercise and possibly oral medications usually effective in controlling symptoms.

Complications from diabetes include the acute complications resulting from either very high uncontrolled sugars or too low blood (hypoglycemia) from the administration of too high doses of insulin. Long term or silent damage to small and large blood vessels result from exposure to persistently high levels of blood sugar over years. The silent damage of diabetes can affect every organ and can result in strokes, cataracts, blindness, heart attacks, vascular disease, digestive disorders, kidney disease and skin and nerve disease. Half of all diabetics die from heart disease and 40 percent of all juvenile diabetics die of renal failure.

As noted above, treatment depends upon the type of diabetes one suffers from with exercise and diet important adjuncts. It is hoped that by achieving as close to normal blood sugar levels as possible that one can avoid the debilitating consequences of this disease.

Unfortunately, many individuals remain undiagnosed and unaware of their condition. Consequently, we suggest the routine testing of one's blood sugar particularly when there is a family history of diabetes which places an individual at high risk for this disease.

Charlestown Says: Save The Library

year's $19.4 million to $18.3, is actually a $3-4 million crisis.

"We need $1.5 million just to keep our employees at the level they're at, $1.2 million for building maintenance," Moloney told those gathered. "It's a $3-4 million problem just to keep the library system going the way it ran this year." Moloney also said that $300,000 of the $18.3 million budget would have to be held in reserve for unemployment compensation for more than 100 employees who will lose their jobs.

But former budget director Robert Ciolek said, "There's no money out there."

Ciolek blamed the problem on legislators on Beacon Hill who have cut local aid, and said there is not much hope for change.

City Councillors Michael McCormack, Robert Travaglini, Rosaria Salerno, and School Committeeman John Nucci pledged support and the councillors vowed to rally against those cuts as the budget reaches them for a vote.

"I intend to say to the mayor to either up the library budget or I will reject the rest of it," McCormack said. A representative from City Council President Christopher Iannella's office told residents to keep the cards and letters coming opposing the cuts in the libraries.

The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library circulated pre-written letters at the meeting for residents to sign, and a citywide rally is scheduled for Tuesday, May 16 at 7 p.m. at the Boston Public Library's new building in Copley Square.

Others can send their own letters to legislators, city councillors and the mayor to oppose the cuts.

Moe Gillen, on behalf of the Charlestown Neighborhood Council, wrote, "The (library) services we receive from city and state government are vital to the well-being of our community and they must not fall prey to unthinking managers who cannot see beyond the bottom line to true human need."

Camp Bunker Hill Spring Dance — A Social And Financial Success

(continued from page one) event, a Steering Committee was formed, and in true Charlestown fashion, residents and business persons joined with personnel from Mass. General Hospital and rallied to support the event through the purchase of tickets, advertisements in the program book and donations to the silent auction and food table.

The event had been termed a dance and food festival and it lived up to its name. The dance floor was crowded throughout the evening as DJ Eric Johnson played everyone's favorites. The food tables were laden with a variety of hot and cold foods, cheeses and desserts donated by area caterers and restaurants. The endless line for the buffet was a tribute to those who donated the many and varied trays of food.

A silent auction brought generous bids on such items as Red Sox baseball tickets, autographed sports equipment and even a beanpot autographed by the Boston City Council.

A spirited auction for a chauffeured limousine ride and dinner with Charlie Clabaugh, administrative assistant to Boston City Councillor Robert Travaglini, was offered to the three highest bidders, and the event was enjoyed by the gathering. Clabaugh was stunned as he had not been informed of the auction before it began, but took it in good spirit. Travaglini started the auction at $1 and the audience took over with the bids climbing rapidly. It was "going, going, gone" to three women, Sharon Hudgins, Nancy Keyes and Pat Reilly, who bid a combined total of $546 for the dinner at Tecce's Restaurant via a limo provided by Tom Clarke of T.C. Catalyst.

During the evening, Dorothy Connolly, Charlestown liaison for Massport, presented a donation of $3,000 to Thomas Panowicz, director of Camp Bunker Hill, on behalf of Massport.

Peggy Carolan, manager of Bunker Hill Health Center, didn't have a final total on the funds raised by the event but she did state that "it was a financial and social success." She expressed her thanks and that of the camp to all who supported the event.

MASSPORT donated $3,000 to Camp Bunker Hill at Saturday night's fund-raising dance. Dorothy Connolly, Charlestown liaison for Massport, presented the check to Thomas Panowicz, director of Camp Bunker Hill.

Bunker Hill Day Parade Committee Seeks Community Support

 Deep River Junior Ancient and Tories Fife and Drums Corps; Colonial Band of Lawrence; the New Liberty Jazz Band; Tony Barrie Marching Band of Saugus; Clan MacPherson Pipes & Drums; Colonial Pipers Bagpipe Band; and the nationally acclaimed and one of the bicentennial - 1975 Bunker Hill Day parade favorites — the NSA Bands (a Buddhist cultural group with headquarters in Boston).

As you are most likely aware, due to the fiscal constraints imposed on the city of Boston under Proposition 2½, the funds available from the city to underwrite parades are limited. Thus financial assistance must once again be sought from the community — from you, the residents, local business people and community organizations, in order to make this 214th commemoration of the Battle of Bunker Hill a success.

The fund raising for the parade and commemorative celebration is being carried out by a small but dedicated group of residents. These people are giving many hours of their time to make this a truly memorable celebration for the community and they need the support of every resident, whether he or she be a life-long Townie or a newer resident of the town.

Monies must be raised in order to pay the fee or expenses of each band, drum corps, color guard or other unit that takes part in the parade. Music units charge from $800 to over $1,700 to participate in the parade if they are from Massachusetts, and much more for those units that are being brought in from distant states — none of them come for free.

There are several ways you, the resident, local business person or community organization can help.

- Send in a donation to the Parade Committee using the coupon on the bottom of this page. Once again this year, the Monument will be featured weekly in the Patriot so the community can see the results of the fund-raising efforts. Contributions of $25 or more will be acknowledged under the Monument.

- Drop your change (or more if possible) in canisters that are located in the local stores.

- Buy a 1989 Bunker Hill Day Parade Booster for a minimum of $1.

- Attend the Chief Marshal's Irish Night on Friday, May 12 at 8 p.m. at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 W. School St.

- Buy a chance at $1 per chance ($10 per book) on numerous prizes to be raffled off on Saturday, May 20 between noon and 3 p.m. at the Bunker Hill Day Parade Grand Irish Bola at the Knights of Columbus lower hall, 75 W. School St.

Organizations or businesses that are interested in sponsoring a unit for the parade should contact the Parade General Chairman, James W. Conway, at 241-9511 or evenings at 242-6187.

The Chief Marshal of the June 18 Bunker Hill Day Parade is Martin J. "Marty" O'Brien Jr., a Vietnam U.S. Army veteran, commander of the Borden-Fields Post 544, VFW of Charlestown and a member of Bunker Hill Post 26, A.L., Council 62, K. of C., Bunker Hill Irish Heritage Society and an active member of the Parade Committee.

Both Chief Marshal O'Brien and the Parade Committee welcome the assistance of anyone interested in helping to make this Bunker Hill Day Parade, dedicated in honor of "The Irish Contribution At The Battle of Bunker Hill," an outstanding success. Help is needed on the various fund-raising committees as well as in the organization of the parade and the commemorative exercises.

The next Parade Committee meeting will be held on Tuesday, May 16 at 7 p.m. on the first floor, One Thompson Square.

New Start For Charlestown's Headstart Center

by Kathy Giordano

When Johnny and Suzie awoke on Thursday morning, Dec. 17, 1987, they found out they had no school. This usually happy news for most schoolchildren, was not so for these two preschoolers and their 158 classmates. They literally had — no school.

On that fateful day 17 months ago, an arsonist's fire ravaged the building that housed a world known to them as safe, secure and loving; a place away from home where they were cared for and at the same time taught the basics in early education.

By mid-morning the news of the blaze at the Old Kent School in Hayes Square spread throughout the community as fast as the still smoldering flames spread from classroom to classroom during the long hours of the night. The warmth of the morning sun was not enough to change the cold reality that gone from these children's lives were the books and toys they used each day, the art work they hung so proudly on the walls, their classroom pets, and worst of all, the sense of well-being and security that had been felt in their hearts. It was no longer a place where a child's imagination and hopes could be lifted beyond his wildest dreams, but now a sight that turned those dreams into nightmares filled with insecurities and fear of the unknown. The Charlestown Headstart Program was — gone.

While the arson squad was still sifting through the rubble on Moulton Street, Kennedy Center workers started the task at hand — to rebuild its Early Childhood Center. No time for tears or the inevitable "why?" Space had to be found for the programs that were housed in the building. The children, who primarily came from single-parent or low-income working families, needed the structure of their Headstart and preschool and after-school day-care programs.

Within days of the fire, classroom space was found for 20 after-school day-care students at the Harvard/Kent School across the street. The First Baptist Church on Monument Square would find space for the 28 preschool day-care students. Classroom space still had to be found for the remaining children in the Headstart program.

A call for help went out to the community through the pages of the Patriot. Within days, Thomas Flatley of The Flatley Co. in The Schrafft Center offered the use of the center's child-care facility, and by February 1988, 80 children were attending reduced-hours classes there. Families were encouraged to enroll their older children in kindergarten at the public schools.

With the children settled into their new surroundings, fund-raising activities began. It was estimated at that time that $100,000 would be needed to refurbish the building. That figure has risen drastically during the year to more than $1 million, in order to meet current building codes and day-care regulations. Work will have to be done to renovate seven classrooms and the motor (gym) room, the heating, electrical and plumbing systems, as well as the repair of the roof and replacement of windows, doors, furnishings and supplies.

Fund raising began with a grassroots organization of parents, teachers, business people and elected officials. Through the pages of the Patriot, this community campaign raised over $40,000. Other contributions started flowing in as well. The Boston Public Facilities Department donated the building and adjacent land to the Kennedy Center plus an additional $50,000 grant. The Boston Redevelopment Authority gave a planning grant of $25,000.

The U.S. Department of Health and Human Services granted the program $75,000. The Massachusetts Department of Education granted $75,000. Private foundations added another $36,000 with $20,000 coming from the Hyams Foundation, $12,000 from the Bank of New England and $4,000 from the Gannett Foundation. A single event held in Building 149 in the Navy Yard co-sponsored by Mayor Raymond L. Flynn and The Raymond Group raised $35,000. A bake sale at Newworld Bank, a spaghetti dinner by the Kiwanis Club, dances sponsored by the Knights of Columbus, plus raffles and monetary donations by residents kept the fund-raising efforts alive.

Other help came from the Newworld Bank with a construction loan for $1.1 million; approval for $1.1 million permanent financing through the Massachusetts Industrial Financing Agency for a purchased services provider bond pool; certification from the Massachusetts Department of Social Services (DSS) for day-care contract amendments up to $86,000 annually to be used for debt services; and pro bono legal representation from Hale and Dorr.

According to Kate McDonough, executive director of the Kennedy Center, the services of the Kenney Development Co. "made all the difference in getting the project where it is today. Bob Kenney worked with us for the past 16 months giving donated services in the form of hiring an architect and contractor, obtaining the services of a lawyer and management of the project through its completion."

McDonough said residents had expressed their concerns as to why the building has been left untouched asking, "Why not patch it up and use it?" She stated that the damage from the fire was so extensive that major renovations are necessary to meet current building codes. When the structure is completed, estimated to be in November 1989, not only will classrooms be modernized, but the building will be handicapped-accessible. It will be able to accommodate offices for all support personnel and will include exterior renovations and a new playground for the center and the community. In addition, the lot next to the building will be utilized as a public park, stated McDonough.

The arsonist whose horrendous act caused such havoc in the community was convicted and originally sentenced to serve six to eight years at Framingham State Prison. Her sentence was suspended with the stipulation that she receive continued drug and alcohol counseling. Incarceration was also waived because she was pregnant at the time of sentencing, according to Lt. Henry Hickey of the Fire Investigation Unit. This chapter is closed and now it is time to look ahead.

After many months of heartache, headache and anxiety, the day that will mark a new beginning for the Early Childhood Center has arrived. On Friday, May 19 at 2 p.m. a groundbreaking ceremony will take place at the site of the burnt-out building on Moulton Street in Hayes Square.

The Kennedy Center staff and board members hope that the community will join them on this happy occasion to share their anticipation for the future and allow them to express their gratitude to all who aided the effort to bring this day to fruition.

Leslie Enlists In Navy

Stephanie M. Leslie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leslie of 146 Medford St., recently enlisted in the Navy and will leave for recruit training at Orlando, Fla., in October.

Leslie, a senior at Charlestown High School, enlisted under the delayed entry program for placement in the Navy's apprenticeship training program in engineering.

The delayed entry program allows high school seniors to secure a job and guaranteed training in the Navy and complete their education before leaving for recruit training.

Under the apprenticeship training program, Leslie will gain general Navy experience and exposure to Navy occupations within the engineering community. She will later select an area and receive the formal schooling.

Dry Dock 2 Wins Vote Of Council — Aquarium To Proceed With Planning

The question at hand was not "Should the aquarium come into Charlestown?" but rather "Should the aquarium be placed in Dry Dock 2 at Gate 4 or a Dry Dock 5 in the Yard's End section of the Navy Yard?"

John Prescott, executive director of the aquarium, told the audience that the placement of the proposed aquarium in Dry Dock 5 was not feasible. Dry Dock 5, he explained, is 50 percent smaller, 38 percent less full and 29 percent shorter than Dry Dock 2. Because of this difference in size, programs and exhibits, such as underwater walking with the whales, would have to change and he noted that these are im-

School Benefit

St. Francis de Sales Parish will sponsor a dinner dance on Friday, May 19 at 8 p.m. in the Bishop Lawton Hall, 313 Bunker Hill St., to benefit the school. The menu will be Chinese food, and music will be provided by Alan and Tony of the D.J. Connection.

Tickets are $15 and can be purchased from Betty Kelly at 242-3312, Alice Ringer at 242-0126, Mary Beth Murray, the ushers at mass, and from the rectory and school office.

portant to the institution. Prescott informed the council that if the aquarium was not allowed to develop in Dry Dock 2, "it won't work. It would be back to basics. We'd either have to look into enlarging our present site on Central Wharf or look someplace else."

Paul Barrett, director of Neighborhood Projects for the Boston Redevelopment Authority, stated that the community had to decide if the benefits derived from the aquarium being built in the Navy Yard outweigh any negative aspects. He said that a decision had to be made on a site for the aquarium before comprehensive studies on traffic, parking and access could be made. He stated that once the site was established, the process would continue and these problems would be discussed.

Council members and residents expressed their desire to explore further the possibility of the aquarium coming into the Navy Yard, but most residents were apprehensive about losing open space in Shipyard Park as a result of the move.

The floor remained open for 2½ hours with Council Chairman Dennis McLaughlin allowing anyone who wished to speak an opportunity to express their opinions. Council members then remarked on the issues raised by the residents and voiced their concerns and ideas on each of the Dry Docks.

A motion was made to table a vote on the Dry

Docks until another time, due to the late hour, but this was defeated and a vote was taken by the council.

The motion to give approval to the New England Aquarium to continue to develop a proposal for Dry Dock 2 was voted on and passed by a 14 to 5 vote. The council vote went as follows: Francis Coleman - no; Stephen Collins - yes; Jim Conway - yes; Terry Cullen - no; Tom Cunha - yes; Ellen D'Ambrosio - yes; Bill Galvin - yes; Moe Gillen - no; Nancy Keyes - yes; Dan Kovacevic - no; Peter Looney - yes; John

Lynch - yes; Jim Mansfield - yes; Kate McDonough - yes; Susan Mellen - yes; Kevin Roche - yes; Mel Stillman - yes; Ken Stone - no; and Chairman Dennis

McLaughlin - yes. (Due to the lateness of the hour and deadline constraints, a more detailed report will follow in next week's "Patriot.")

Two Local Youths To Compete At Adare, Ireland

Charlestown's Jamie Smith, 13, and Stephen Power, 16, are part of the Boston Police Athletic League's (PAL) seven-player basketball team competing in Adare, Ireland from May 11-18. Smith and Power are among 10 young athletes selected citywide to compete against boys from England, Wales, the Republic of Ireland, France and Northern Ireland in the week-long basketball and boxing tournament.

PAL is the official youth program of the Boston Police Department, and those involved are volunteers. The tournament is sponsored by the Father Joe Young Association of Boston, a non-profit youth cultural exchange organization between Boston and Limerick, Ireland. Charlestown's Leo Boucher of the Boston Parks and Recreation Department will accompany the boys to Ireland with PAL and Father Joe representatives.

Jamie is the son of Robert and Mary Smith of 218A Main St. and is a seventh-grader at Boston Latin School. Stephen is the son of Stephen Power of 9 Hill St. and is a sophomore at Don Bosco High School.

• THANKS

The education department hosted a party May 4 to show its appreciation for the volunteers who made it possible to service the educational needs of club kids. Approximately 30 volunteers received a certificate of recognition from the club in conjunction with WBZ-TV 4's "Time to Care" program.

The volunteers came from all over the greater Boston area, many having heard about the opportunities at the club through Boston Partners in Education and the Harvard Business School. The volunteers participate in a variety of activities, including tutoring in all academic subjects, computer games and arts and crafts. Without the help of these dedicated men and women, the Boys and Girls Club would not be able to reach as many kids as it currently does. It is with the sincerest gratitude that we recognize these individuals. Anyone interested in tutoring or other volunteer activities in the education department can contact Connie MacDonald at 242-1775.

• CLUBHOUSE MEMBERS WALKED FOR HUNGER

Club members participated in the 20th Annual Walk for Hunger to benefit Project Bread last Sunday. Members Tom and George Collins and Dee Fitzgerald and staff members Kelly Fitzgerald and Eileen O'Brien made it 13 miles. It was a great day for a walk, and we had lots of laughs and fun along the way. Can't wait to walk again in the 21st Annual Walk For Hunger!

1989 PAL Street Hockey League

Charlestown youngsters are invited to join the Boston Police Athletic League (PAL) Street Hockey League, which plays Tuesday and Thursday nights at Wainwright Park on Melbourne Street in Dorchester.

Three years ago PAL started a pilot program in Dorchester. The success of this program and the continued support and endorsement from residents have allowed PAL's Street Hockey League to continue to grow. This summer, 136 kids on 12 teams will be coached by volunteer police officers and civilians.

Sign-ups will take place at Wainwright Park on Thursday, May 11 and Tuesday, May 16 at 7 p.m. For information, contact Detective Henry Berlo at 247-4433.

• Can You Help Out? . . . Tommy Truong of Charlestown, a student at Boston College High School, lies in a coma at Mass. General after an aneurysm in his brain burst while waiting for open heart surgery. Tommy will turn 17 on May 21st and has had quite a life! He and his brother Peter fled Vietnam in 1981 by being carried by their father Joseph to freedom - one under each arm. Tommy's mother has not been allowed to leave Vietnam, but students of the high school have been raising funds by themselves for her trip to Boston if she is allowed to come to see her son before it's too late. If you would like to help in some way, call Fr. Charles Kelley, vice principal of spiritual formation at 436-3900, for more information. By the way, this young man has worked at the Charlestown Branch Library.

• Watch Out . . . Local businesses have been the target of a money scam this past week. A female enters the stores asking for a $20 bill for two $10s. When the $20 is given, she states that she made a mistake and wanted change for a $20. Fast fingers produce a single dollar bill and the woman starts to persist that she's been swindled. She makes quite a scene, we're told. Police have been notified. Word to the wise to be - alert!

• Pier 1 Is The Place To Be . . . On Sunday, May 14 to see the Ha'Penny Morris Dancers perform at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. See you down the Yard, folks!

• Happy Birthday . . . Ken Stone! His big day is May 15th!

• Questions of the Week . . . Who was that swash-buckling bartender in the BIG black Buick tooling around town? It suits him to a "T" . . . and . . . Who were those lovely ladies seen at The Playhouse in Amesbury last Monday evening enjoying dinner and theater? Conversations between the eight will be kept secret - but OH, what I could tell! . . . AND, last but not least . . . Was that who I thought dining with Chuckie Chevalier at the Coffee Shop this week? Why, yes, it was none other than the voice of the Boston Celtics - Johnny Most!! We ARE impressed, Chuckie!

• Oh, You Beautiful Doll . . . Hurry and get down and register for the Charlestown Rose Contest! Don't put it off! Only a few have taken out applications! You could be the "Rose" for 1989! Go to the Mary Colbert Apartments, 20 Devens St., this Monday between 6:30 and 8:30 p.m.!

• Vacationers . . . Peggy Carolan from BHHC has just returned from a week in Aruba . . . and . . . Kathy Petrie of the Warren Tavern was seen tanned from a week in St. Croix.

• Checking Those Addresses . . . another culprit in the continuing saga of Charlestown businesses using Boston addresses! Latest addition to the list is the National Park Service - headquartered in the Charlestown Navy Yard - but using a Boston, Mass. 02129 address on stationery.

• We Know Where You Live, Tom . . . recent article in the Boston Globe stated that Tom McNicholas lived outside of Boston. For the record, Tom not only has lived in Charlestown all his life, he has resided at the same address on Washington Street the whole time. . . while we are talking about Tom, let us wish him a happy birthday on May 16th, and to his wife Marge on May 15th - and a happy anniversary to both of them on May 17th!

• New Arrivals . . . Our congratulations to Danny and Carolyn (Wrenn) Shannon on the birth of their daughter Erin Kathleen Shannon on Tuesday, May 9th . . . and to Andy and Peggy (Thornton) Whelan who, along with daughter Megan, welcomed Andrew Maher Whelan into their family on Tuesday, May 9th! ## Matt O'Neil Scholarship Award Banquet Held At The Knights Of Columbus Hall

The annual Matt O'Neil Scholarship Award Banquet was held recently at the Knights of Columbus Hall. Family members and friends joined together for this yearly tribute to the late Matt O'Neil, who devoted so much of his time and talents to the youth of this community. The event also serves as a fund raiser to perpetuate the scholarship awarded in his name to a Charlestown youth toward his or her first year in college.

The Scholarship Committee announced that this year's recipient is Pamela Jean Doherty. A lifelong resident of Charlestown, Doherty lives with her parents, Mary (Vesey) and Norman Doherty, and her sister Melissa at 11 Ellwood St.

Doherty, who will be graduating from Mount St. Joseph Academy this month, will attend Northeastern University in the fall. While at the Mount, she was a member of the SADD organization, the student council, the science and social justice clubs and was on the yearbook staff. In addition, Doherty achieved honor roll status for each of her four years and was selected to "Who's Who Among High School Students" for her junior and senior years.

Doherty was unable to attend the banquet and was represented by her sister.

Matt O'Neil Jr. expressed his thanks and that of the committee to all who attended the banquet and wished Doherty well in all her future endeavors.

Judy Was There To Help

Mayor Raymond Flynn
Boston City Hall

Dear Mayor Flynn:

This letter is to inform you that without the help and dedication of Judy Evers of your office, the children of CharlesNewtown Housing could have been badly hurt. Even worse, a life could have been taken.

Our dilemma started five months ago with stolen cars being driven through an iron fence along the Little Mystic. There was approximately 100 feet of fencing down in the water. This fence is adjacent to the CharlesNewtown Housing Development, which houses 262 tenants along with their children. Not one agency, such as the BRA, Massport, state, or city, would own up to the fact that they own the property. They could have repaired the fence if we knew who owned it.

I called upon Judy Evers like I have in the past. She agreed to help me. Judy tracked down the rightful owner. We found out that the owner was the city of Boston, which in turn, gave it to the School Department in June of 1988.

Needless to say, as of today's date this safety hazard is now in the process of being repaired. Thanks to Judy's hard work and dedication, no lives will be lost and no injury to any child will occur. You and your office should consider yourselves very lucky to have such a woman who is dedicated and hard working toward her job.

In the past, we have had numerous problems and no one seems to help or care about this town or this particular development. The fact that you or your office could ever think about cutting back Judy's job because of funding would be detrimental to this town and all of its residents.

We ask that you find someplace else to cut so that the right person, such as Judy Evers, can and will continue her endless hours of hard work and dedication to this town.

Sincerely yours,

Donna Hartung, Property Manager
CharlesNewtown Cooperative

To The Kids Of C.Y.H.A.

I would like to thank all of you for remembering me at your annual pizza party. The plaque was beautiful and brought back many good memories of my youth hockey days.

As the old saying goes ... "It's great to get away, but it's even greater to come home."

Thanks again,
Jim Vesey

Thank You

I would like to extend my deep appreciation to the Collier family and Boston Fire Department, Engine 32.

On April 11, I was very badly hurt near Bunker Hill and Sullivan streets. I fell on the broken sidewalk on Bunker Hill Street. My grandson Erik Saitta, an 8-year-old, second-grade student at St. Francis de Sales, went to the Collier family for help, and they called for medical assistance. I was taken to the hospital, treated and sent home for one week of bed rest. My family met me at the hospital. Erik really kept his wits about him and was a great help to me.

Thank you very much,
Mrs. Ethel (Madden) Cunniffe

Let Us Give It A Chance

There is a leaflet circulating the neighborhood about saving Shipyard Park. One of the statements on the leaflet is "First Dewey Beach . . . Now Shipyard Park."

Dewey Beach? As children we swam from the high bridge, the low bridge, the warehouse, the arm, the Everett bridge, baby beach and many more places, but never at Dewey beach. The reason? It was too dangerous, and not only dangerous, but it was filthy.

And Dry Dock 2 is dangerous. Just who is going to be responsible when a child gets hurt there? The Charlestown Preservation Society? I doubt it. Then we will get the old Pontius Pilate treatment. Of course, we can build a 10-foot fence around the dry dock and watch it all crumble into the harbor. Eventually that is what is going to happen. Dry docks are built to be kept dry. With millions of gallons of water pouring in and out for the past 15 years, much structural damage has been done.

If a cure for blindness were discovered and a clinic wanted to locate here in Charlestown, the Preservation Society would be up in arms shouting "Ya, after they are cured, they will be driving cars and what about traffic problems and where are they going to park?"

Our community is very fortunate to be considered as a site for the aquarium, Dry Dock 2 will be repaired and maintained. Let us give it a chance and work out some of the realistic problems.

Dan O'Neil

P.S.: I never swam at Stoney Beach.

THE FACT OF CHRIST IS NOT ENOUGH

America is blessed above all nations in regard to the knowledge of the fact of Christ's life, death and resurrection. Most Americans know who Jesus Christ is, and what He did. But few have made these facts a part of their inner man as God purposed. God says, of the facts of Jesus Christ presented in the Bible, "These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God." I John 5:13. Our churches have not failed to pass on the facts about Jesus Christ but rather have failed to invite sinners to repent and accept what Jesus came to do, namely, to die for our sins. "For He hath made Him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in HIM." II Cor. 5:21. "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." Rom. 10:13. Will you accept Jesus Christ as your Savior from sin? If we can be of help contact us.

Schlichte Teams Up For The Community

Charlestown native Helen Chin Schlichte has what it takes. Community-consciousness, Commitment and Clout — the three C's that will help raise big dollars to meet community needs. And most importantly, she cares. She cares about her co-workers and their families, the homeless, teens in trouble, the neglected elderly, and other needy people in the community.

That was important to 1989 United Way General Campaign Chairman Peter E. Madden, president of State Street Bank and Trust Co., when he recently recruited Schlichte as one of his team players for the United Way of Massachusetts Bay Campaign Cabinet.

Schlichte, assistant to the Massachusetts secretary for administration and finance, is associate chairman of the United Way's 1989 Commonwealth of Massachusetts Employees Campaign (COMEC) division. Along with her fellow Campaign cabinet members, she is already gearing up for the annual fall campaign and has begun recruiting volunteers, conducting meetings and making plans to ensure a successful campaign to raise more than $49 million.

In Schlichte's 35 years as a United Way volunteer, she says she chose to work with the United Way all these years because she has seen the good it does.

"I have been involved in many components of the United Way operations. As a longtime member of several United Way agency boards, I have seen how the United Way helps the agencies," said Schlichte. Also, a member of the United Way board of directors and campaign cabinet for several years, Schlichte added, "I've had the opportunity to serve on various committees where I get to contribute a lot, but I also get to learn a lot too."

"My entire working career has been spent in state government," said Schlichte, "so, volunteering with United Way gives me a wonderful opportunity to have some connection with the private sector."

In addition to volunteering for the United Way, Schlichte donates her time and skills to a variety of other community organizations and projects including, the Greater Boston Council, Boy Scouts of America, American Red Cross of Massachusetts Bay; School Volunteers for Boston; South Cove Manor Nursing Home and New England Deaconess Hospital.

Schlichte said, "One of the wonderful things about the United Way is that, not only does it maintain a base of the traditional services that are needed by folks in the community, but it's also on top of the emerging issues. Issues like affordable housing, AIDS, substance abuse and youth development for high-risk teens."

Special Needs Education Workshop

ucation Plan (IEP), advocacy and helpful hints for parents. Child care and on-site parking will be provided. For further information, please call the Capitol Office for Children at 567-1950.

Adult Discussion Group Meeting

On Friday, May 12, Mary Clarke from Boston Green Space Alliance will be speaking to the Adult Discussion Group at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St., at 10 a.m. She will present an update on citywide projects that improve our neighborhoods. will begin with a social hour at 6 p.m. followed by the business meeting.

Board of Appeal Hearing

A public hearing will be held at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, May 16 by the Board of Appeal of the City of Boston in Room 801, City Hall, seeking variances from the terms of the Boston Zoning Code:

Charlestown Volunteers Sought For Boston Youth Campaign

The Boston Youth Campaign is kicking off around the city, and Charlestown neighbors, business people, and church, athletic and activity groups are being asked to volunteer in any way possible to give local kids a summer off the streets. The campaign is being pitched by Mayor Raymond Flynn and has a 5,000-volunteer goal.

Harry Grill, campaign coordinator, told potential Charlestown recruits last weekend that the idea is to give kids choices this summer.

"We're in competition with the values learned on the streets," Grill said. "We're asking adults and businesses to give kids another option."

Not just activities for the athletic, the Boston Youth Campaign is an attempt to attract volunteers who can spend time with children doing things like playing games, giving art, carpentry or gardening lessons, or chaperoning events. Local business people are being sought to let a youngster help out or to hire one part time. Church and club organizers are being asked to open their doors and give kids safer places to hang out and do things than hang on street corners. Grill said the possibilities are endless.

"It's the little things that show goodwill, compassion and concern," he said. "The campaign is a spirit."

Of his push for options for Boston children this summer, Flynn said: "I'm not just asking people to write a check. I want them to become personally invested in the future of the kids of this city."

Get involved by contacting John Lynch or Jeff McGann at Charlestown Community Schools at 242-2770.
