BEACHCOMBER
HOT TUBS

“Extraordinary Vision”

the story of making a statement to our community, and the world

Keith Scott, Founder, Beachcomber Hot Tubs Worldwide

BE INSPIRED, CHALLENGED AND ENCOURAGED BY THIS MURAL PAINTING.

In one out of a million businesses, there comes a visionary who sees what other people don't see. They see opportunities that others are not able to see even if they wanted to. Keith Scott, the Founder of Beachcomber are a good example of that type of business. The extraordinary vision that he developed within Beachcomber is a success story like no other, and continues around the world in back yards everywhere. Still family run today, Beachcomber Hot Tubs is a driving force in the pursuit of relaxation, connection and stress relief at home, escaping from the pressures of daily life, improving health. A Beachcomber Hot Tub connects family, friends and loved ones through recuperative, healing waters. This sounds like a lofty pursuit - but in the words of Beachcomber owners around the world...

"We absolutely love our newest addition. We use our Beachcomber daily, it definitely has become a lifestyle. It has turned our backyard into a place of tranquility." Mark and Joanna

...we know that we are in the right company. With a 98% referral rating, Beachcomber has become the hot tub of choice for many thousands that seek quality and longevity in a hot tub. We are now represented in over 40 countries around the globe.

Keith wanted to make a statement to our families, our employees, our business neighbors, our community, our retail stores, our city, and our hot tub owners across the world with this painting. To bring something of great beauty to enjoy, to do something to celebrate the love of art and creativity, and to be inspired by the lives of dreamers who thought anything was possible in their field of endeavor.

"This Legends of the Millennium painting is here for all to admire and enjoy, but most of all, to be inspired and challenged by the accomplishments and dreams of these famous faces. We can all learn from their achievements, and from their mistakes. This painting is our gift to you, and to our world." Keith Scott, Founder, Beachcomber Hot Tubs

LEGENDS OF THE MILLENNIUM

SOUTH FACING WALL 13245 COMBER WAY, SURREY BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA

Two very special faces flank Beachcomber's front door. We see our front door as a very important statement about the way we think - the entire door, frame and side panels are all glass; transparency is important to us, to invite the world into our home-away-from-home, our corporate offices and factory facility. These two faces on each side of our glass entry door are special; they are both Canadian First Nations men, and accomplished artisans who use natural materials for their canvas. Each one is special in our minds!

BILL REID

1920 – 1998

William 'Bill' Ronald Reid was a Canadian artist who created jewelry, sculptures and paintings. His work is featured on the Canadian twenty dollar bill. His mother was a Haida native, and grew up around the symbolisms of his nation. He was instrumental in the creation of the Museum of Anthropology located at the University of British Columbia. Many of his works are displayed throughout the world, including the Canadian Embassy in Washington D.C. Reid was an environmentalist, participating in many protests surrounding the destruction of forests and natural lands. We appreciate his passion to save our planet and to preserve a heritage for our children. We too are concerned with our environment and do all we can to be energy efficient, and to wisely use our resources. Bill Reid's portrait is an inspiration that we meet each day as we enter our offices in Surrey, B.C. A famous quote:

"All things must die, and great art must be a living thing, or it is not art at all."

SIMON CHARLIE

1920 – 2005

Simon was a long time personal friend of Beachcomber. As a master carver and member of the Cowichan Nation, he was near and dear to our hearts. The Scott family holds one of the largest Simon Charlie private art collections in the world. His carved totems stand in halls, homes, businesses and private collections the world over, including the McDonald's Corporate offices in Chicago, The Canadian Parliament Buildings in Ottawa and the Royal B.C. Museum in Victoria and many others. He received The Order of Canada in 2001. Simon carved Keith and Judy Scott's first corporate sign from natural clear western red cedar, which still stands at the offices to this day.

One of Simon Charlie's works in natural cedar, part of the Scott Family Heritage Private Collection

CHIEF DAN GEORGE

1899 – 1981

Born 'Geswanouth Slahoot', the icon of Canadian First Nations. He was a poet and a writer, and began a long acting career in 1960. As Chief of the Salish Indian Band, Burrard Inlet, Vancouver B.C., George became an international statesman for civil rights, and was named as an officer of the Order of Canada in 1971. We were proud to host the Vancouver 2010 Olympic Games in our city, and even more proud that the Chief's famous poem 'My Heart Soars', was quoted during the opening ceremonies. It was our honor to have his son, Leonard George dedicate our factory mural at a special ceremony in 2000 with local dignitaries, honored guests, friends and family. A quote from his famous poem, beautifully presented at the Olympic opening ceremony:

"The beauty of the trees, the softness of the air, the fragrance of the grass, speaks to me. And my heart soars."

JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

1917 – 1963

JFK was no doubt one of the most famous of the American Presidents. He saw service in World War II as a Torpedo boat Commander, and received The Purple Heart for bravery, among other awards. His political career took off after being nominated to run against Nixon in 1960; he won by a slim margin to become America's 35th President. He and wife Jackie ushered in a magical era called 'Camelot', until he was fatally shot in November 1963 in Dallas, Texas. We all wonder what might have been, had he lived. A famous quote:

"Ask not what your country can do for you - ask what you can do for your country".

HRH DIANA, PRINCESS OF WALES

1961 – 1997

At just 20 years of age, Diana Spencer married into the most famous Royal Family in the world. Wedding HRH The Prince of Wales in 1981, Diana soon gave birth to two sons, Princes William and Harry, providing the heirs to the Throne of England. As Patron of over 100 charities, her most recent work was to eradicate land mines in Vietnam and other war torn countries, to protect the children and families to make a way to have a peaceful life. She was tragically killed along with boyfriend Dodi Fayed in Paris, in a car accident in 1997. A famous quote:

"Everyone needs to be valued. Everyone has the potential to give something back if only they had the chance."

ALBERT EINSTEIN

1879 - 1955

Einstein emigrated to the United States in 1933 as the Nazis were coming to power, and became a US citizen in 1940. Einstein mastered his famous theory of relativity " $E=Mc^2$ ". He participated in the Manhattan Project with Bertrand Russell, creating technology for the first atom bomb. He produced hundreds of books and articles in his life time, is generally regarded as one of the most prolific intellects in human history, and was named 'TIME'S Man of the Century'. His name has become synonymous with 'genius'. A famous quote:

"A man should look for what is, and not for what he thinks should be."

MAHATMA GHANDI

1869 - 1948

One of the most colorful figures in India, Gandhi became hugely popular as a religious icon and lawyer. He had tremendous influence with civil rights and promoting peace and non-violence. He believed in resistance to tyranny through mass civil disobedience, and inspired civil rights movements around the world. He was tragically assassinated in 1948. We are honored to have Gandhi's image on our wall as a symbol of the desire for peace in our world. He was a leader with humility, passion and determination, giving us all a role model for world peace. A famous quote:

"An eye for an eye makes the whole world blind".

MOTHER TERESA

1910 - 1997

Born Agnes Gonxha Bojaxhiu, Mother Teresa as she was later known started her religious life at 18 years of age. Living and ministering to the poor in the worst slums of the world in Calcutta, India, Mother Teresa gave her entire life to serving people in the lowest eschalons of society. She is an icon for peace and giving. She recieved the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979, and ministered for 45 years under the mission she founded called the 'Missionaries of Charity' in Calcutta. Who could not be inspired by her ministry? We are humbled and honoured to have her image grace our factory wall, and look to her life's story for inspiration and encouragement to do what's right in our own lives. A famous quote:

"Intense love does not measure, it just gives."

WALT DISNEY

1901 – 1966

Walt Disney is a household name known the world over, for his creation of some of the world's most beloved children's stories and characters. He pioneered animated pictures featuring Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Dumbo and many others, who live in the hearts and minds of people everywhere. He created the world renowned Disney Theme Parks. His last movie was the famous Disney animated film, 'Jungle Book'. Disney inspires us to find the wonder in life as a child would, to love and build family values, to dream of what can happen, and to take the steps needed to move out and create something of lasting value. A famous quote:

"All our dreams can come true, if we have the courage to pursue them."

BILL GATES

1955 -

As one of the original members of the age of computers, Bill Gates founded Microsoft in 1975 along with Paul Allen and changed the face of the world. Now worth billions, he is amongst the wealthiest people on the planet. As past chairman of the world's leading software manufacturer, he and his wife Melinda are now involved in philanthropy, and are challenging other wealthy people to donate millions to various charities to make the world a better place. Keith Scott placed him highest on The Wall, even above Neil Armstrong, putting him even higher than the moon - up in 'cyberspace'. A famous quote:

"As we look ahead into the next century, leaders will be those who empower others".

NEIL ARMSTRONG

1930 - 2012

Armstrong made history by being the first man to set foot on the moon. As a test pilot and war veteran, he had already set his place in history. But on that famous July day in 1969, Apollo 11 astronauts stepped on to the moon, first Neil Armstrong and then Buzz Aldrin, along with Mike Collins in orbit. Along with many accolades and awards, Armstrong entered his place in human history, and into the Hall of Fame in 1994. His famous and endearing quote, has been repeated the world over ever since he spoke it:

"One small step for man, one giant leap for mankind."

MARILYN MONROE

1926 - 1962

Marilyn will be remembered as the most famous American actress, sex symbol and beauty icon. She became a controversial household name for beauty, bleached blonde hair and Hollywood glamour; she produced many classic movies including 'Gentlemen prefer blondes' in 1953. Her cinematic work and youthful, sexy looks will remain in the history books forever as the 'blonde bombshell'. Her famous singing performance of 'Happy Birthday' to USA President John F. Kennedy is memorable imagery of Marilyn's personality and magnetism. A famous quote:

"What do I wear in bed? Why, Chanel No. 5, of course."

CHARLES LINDBURGH

1902 - 1974

Charles was most famous for his solo flight in his single engine plane, the 'Spirit of St Louis'. He crossed the Atlantic Ocean, from New York to Paris in just 24 hours in 1927. He became an overnight hero as he landed his plane after flying 3600 miles / 5800 km. The kidnapping and tragic murder of his two year old son in 1932 also put him again in the public eye. He continued his support for the war effort in the 40's with many combat missions flown to his credit. He was a true individual, during a tumultuous time in history - he was not afraid to tackle hard things. A famous quote:

"It is the greatest shot of adrenaline to be doing what you have wanted to do so badly. You almost feel you could fly without the plane".

FRANK LLOYD WRIGHT

1867 - 1959

This famous American architect lived a colourful, controversial life, and designed over 1000 projects during his career. He first coined the term 'Organic Architecture', using open plans into his work, as seen in his home called Taliesin West. He loved incorporating the outdoors into a house, also seen in his famous home 'Fallingwater', located in Pennsylvania. One of his most famous works is New York's spectacular Guggenheim Museum, built in 1959. We love architecture too, and are inspired by Wright's desire and commitment to create natural beauty. A famous quote:

"An architect's most useful tools are an eraser at the drafting board, and a wrecking bar at the site."

LOUIS ARMSTRONG

1899 – 1981

Nicknamed 'Satchmo', Armstrong was an inventive singer and trumpet player. He recorded hundreds of songs over his career, blending his charisma and talent into a Jazz Fusion. He crossed the lines of colour in a country that was racially divided in those days, and made his skin colour secondary to his amazing talent, to every audience. He was a pivotal figure in the Jazz and Dixieland music industry throughout his career. Armstrong helped shape modern music, and supported the civil rights movements that were brewing at that time in American history. A famous quote:

"There are some people that if they don't know, you can't tell them."

1929 – 1968

King was a Baptist preacher and a famous civil rights leader for bringing awareness to racism in the United States. He won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1963 after his famous speech that contained the immortal words 'I Have a Dream', delivered during a protest march in Washington. He led the Montgomery Bus Boycott after the infamous arrest of Rosa Parks, the lady who refused to give up her seat to a white man on the bus. The boycott lasted 385 days and led to the end of segregation on transit. In 1968, he was tragically shot while delivering a speech on April 4th in Memphis. A famous quote:

"An individual has not started living until he can rise above the narrow confines of his individualistic concerns, to the broader concerns of all humanity."

THE DALAI LAMA

1935 –

Tenzin Gyatso is the 14th Dalai Lama - Dalai meaning 'Ocean' and Lama meaning 'Guru'. He has been the religious leader of the Gelug sect of Tibetan Buddhism since 1950, and lives in exile in India, away from his Tibetan homeland. His devotees believe him to be the reincarnation of a long line of spiritual leaders who have chosen to be reborn over the centuries to enlighten others. He has appeared to the world as an advocate for peace, winning the Nobel Peace Prize in 1989. Canada stands for peace along with the Dalai Lama, and enjoys one of the best standards of living in the world. We feel privileged to have started in 1978 in Canada, where our factory remains today to showcase this beautiful mural painting. A famous quote:

"Be kind whenever possible. It is always possible."

ELVIS AARON PRESLEY

1935 - 1977

Elvis was the world's most famous singer and cultural icon. He ushered in the age of rock 'n roll with his new flair and interpretation of African American music. Elvis also starred in 33 films, and was nominated for 14 Grammys, won three, and has sold more than one billion albums to date, even long after his death. His first hit in 1956, 'Heartbreak Hotel' forever changed the music industry and its artists with his influence. Elvis died at the age of 42 in August, 1977. He was a trend setter - someone who stood out above all others. We want to be the same in the spa and hot tub industry - to stand out with creativity and a love for hot tubbing!

"I happened to come along in the music business when there was no trend."

TERRY FOX

1958 - 1981

Until the age of 18, Terry Fox was a quiet Canadian teenager - until he suffered a leg amputation due to cancer. He created 'The Marathon of Hope' and ran with a prosthetic leg, 3358 miles / 5373 km across Canada to raise awareness for cancer research starting in 1980. The foundation has raised over 25 million dollars to date for the cause. Terry never made it across Canada, as cancer took him before he finished his race. But his memory has challenged and inspired millions, to continue to search for a cure for cancer. Beachcomber's support for children and families living with cancer has been close to our hearts, having lost our friend and family member Frank Scott to cancer in 2005. Since then, Beachcomber has participated in many events and fundraisers to show our support to find a cure. As a young Canadian committed to his cause, and one that touches people across the globe, Terry Fox holds a special place in our hearts here at Beachcomber. He is also placed on the corner, flanking both walls to link the dreamers and the sports heroes together with his passion and commitment. A famous quote:

"Even if I don't finish, we need others to continue. It's got to keep going without me".

SPORTS HEROS OF THE MILLENNIUM

WEST FACING WALL 132nd STREET and COMBER WAY, SURREY BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA

MAURICE 'ROCKET' RICHARD

1921 – 2000

'The Rocket' was a fierce competitor in the game of Hockey, and played for the Montreal Canadiens from 1942 - 1960. He was the first to score 50 goals in one season (1944 - 45), in 50 games. He was also the first to score 500 goals in a career. He amassed an amazing 421 assists for a total of 965 points in 978 games, and retired as the NHL's all time lead scorer. Richard led his team to win the Stanley Cup eight times in Montreal and has won many awards through the years. We love 'The Rocket', as he proudly represents an outstanding athlete and spokesman for the game, from our Quebec nation within the Canadian union. A famous quote:

"I hate to lose."

JOHN LANDY

1930 -

This Australian Olympic track athlete is most well known for his race to break the four minute mile. In the famous August 1954 one-mile race at the British Empire Games in Vancouver Canada, Landy lost to Roger Bannister by a fraction as he turned his head to check on his status. This race was heard over the radio waves by more than 100 million people, and was dubbed 'The Miracle Mile' and 'The Race of the Century'. He has been awarded numerous honorary degrees including a Doctor of Laws from the University of Victoria, among others. A famous quote:

"The mile has a classic symmetry... it's a play in four acts."

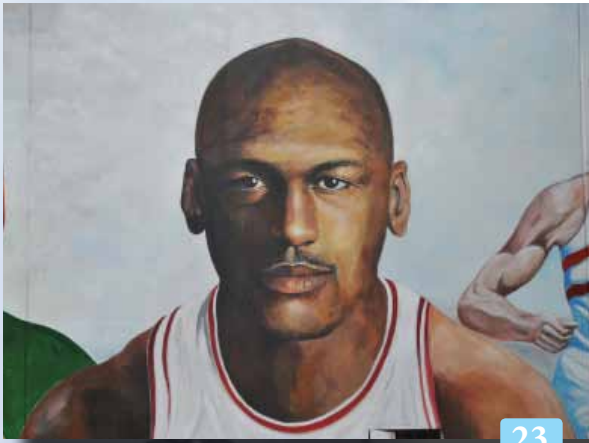

ROGER BANNISTER

1929 - 2018

Now Sir Roger Bannister, this English athlete is best known for his victory at the British Empire Games in May, 1954 in Vancouver Canada. He beat fellow runner John Landy by a fraction, and became the first man on record to officially break the 4 minute mile at 3:59.4 minutes. Just 46 days later, Landy would beat his record at a race in Finland at 3:58. Bannister went on to become a distinguished Neurologist until his retirement in 2001. Having this record broken in Beachcomber's home town makes this even more memorable for all of us at Beachcomber. A famous quote:

"No one can say 'you must not run faster than this, or jump higher than that.' The human spirit is indomitable."

MICHAEL JORDAN

1963 -

'Mr. Basketball' has wowed the world with his incredible athletic talent in the game of Basketball, for 14 seasons. Now retired, Jordan remains as the man who changed the game forever. He was one of the most effectively marketed sports figures of our age, endorsing products like the still-famous Air Jordan sneakers by Nike. ESPN named him the greatest North American athlete of the 20th century, second only to Babe Ruth (who lives just four faces down on our wall). We love Jordan for his raw talent, and for his love for the game. A famous quote:

"I can accept failure, everyone fails at something. But I can't accept not trying."

PELÉ (EDISON ARANTES DO NASCIMENTO)

1941 -

Brazilian soccer great Pele, after his retirement in 1974, is still thought of as one of the greatest soccer players who ever lived. In his career he scored 1280 goals in 1363 games, making him the top scorer of all time. He is also known for his outspoken vocal support to improve the social conditions for the poor - he dedicated his 1000th goal to the poor children of Brazil. We love Pele, because in spite of being famous, he has a heart for those that are less fortunate and takes steps to try to better the conditions of others. A famous quote:

"Enthusiasm is everything. It must be taut and vibrating, like a guitar string."

NANCY GREENE

1943 -

Nancy won the Canadian Ski Championship nine times, and the USA three times. She took home a Gold Medal in 1968 at the Winter Olympics in Grenoble, France, and was awarded Canada's highest civilian honor, The Order of Canada, and many other accolades too numerous to list. Greene has become a Canadian icon and has represented Canada well around the world. We love Nancy for her positive attitude - her nickname 'Tiger' is fitting with her 'go for it' attitude. She has earned her place on our Sports Legend West Wall and we are proud of her strength and stability throughout her career.

"You must have a commitment to work hard, and to never give up."

SPORTS HEROS OF THE MILLENNIUM

WEST FACING WALL 132nd STREET and COMBER WAY, SURREY BRITISH COLUMBIA, CANADA

BILLIE JEAN KING

1943 -

Billie Jean changed the way the sport of Tennis treated women. She made a breakthrough in women's Tennis, winning in her career 39 Grand Slam Titles, among many others. She won the famous 'battle of the sexes' in 1973 over Bobby Riggs, winning over $100,000. Her public life as a lesbian and campaigning for human rights won her the Presidential Medal of Freedom from USA President Barack Obama, in 2009. At Beachcomber, we love her spirit and the fact that she has been able to be true to herself, and stand tall in her career and her life. A famous quote:

"Be bold. If you're going to make an error, make a doozy, and don't be afraid to hit the ball."

MUHAMMAD ALI

1942 - 2016

Born 'Cassius Clay' in 1942, he is a three time World Heavyweight Champion. After converting to Islam, he changed his name to Muhammad Ali. He was a Gold Medalist in the 1960 Summer Olympics in Rome, and then turned professional, and retired in 1981. He defeated world champion George Foreman in the boxing spectacle 'Rumble in the Jungle' in Zaire, Africa. He retired in 1981, and now suffers from Parkinson's syndrome. In 1999, he was crowned "Sportsman of the Century" by Sports Illustrated. Few people have been as colourful, charismatic or controversial as Ali, and we love the fact that he made his own brand by being unique. A famous quote:

"Float like a butterfly, sting like a bee."

GEORGE 'BABE' RUTH

1895 – 1948

George 'Babe' Ruth began his career with the Boston Red Sox, and was sold to the Yankees in 1919. He was nicknamed 'the Sultan of Swat' during the height of his career in the 1920's with the New York Yankees baseball team. Ruth was the first player to hit 60 home runs in one season, 1927; a record that he held for 34 years, until 1961. He held his record of 714 home runs until Hank Aaron beat it in 1974! He was well known for his flamboyant lifestyle as well as his talent and his charity, and died at the young age of 53. Babe had honest, home grown talent, and he used it to the best of his ability to entertain and thrill thousands. A famous quote:

"Yesterday's home runs don't win today's games."

JACK NICKLAUS

1940 -

This famous golfer nicknamed 'The Golden Bear' was voted individual Athlete of the Century by the USAA. He won 18 career major championships on the PGA Tour, over an amazing span of 24 years. He is thought of as one of the greatest golfers of all time. He has designed golf courses, hosted his own 'Masters Tournament events, written books including 'Golf My Way', produced golf instructional videos and participated in many charity efforts. We respect that Nicklaus has been an excellent and honorable spokesperson for the sport, all his life. A famous quote:

"I think I fail a bit less than everyone else."

JACKIE JOYNER KERSEE

1962 -

Jackie started in track and field in the early days of her career, as well as women's basketball, scoring 1,167 points during her collegiate career. She was honoured as one of the top 15 in UCLA's women's basketball. She is ranked among the all time greatest athletes in the women's heptathlon as well as the women's long jump. She won three Gold, one Silver and two Bronze Olympic Medals in those four different events. Sports Illustrated Magazine for women voted her the Greatest Female Athlete of the 20th Century. A famous quote:

"It is better to look ahead and prepare than to look back and regret."

WAYNE GRETZKY

1961 -

Nicknamed 'The Great One' with his jersey number 99, Wayne rose to fame in the game of hockey in Canada. Playing nine years with the Edmonton Oilers, he led his team to four Stanley Cup Championships. Wayne has received the Hart Trophy nine times, the Art Ross Trophy for most points in a season ten times, five Lady Byng Trophies and many other accolades. Known for his small town boyish look, charm and amazing talent in hockey, Gretzky retired in 1999 at the age of 38, after 1072 goals in his career. Wayne inspires us to follow your dreams and never give up!

"You miss 100% of the shots you don't take."

“The Artist”

A Lifetime of creating original art, over a 50 year career

Paul Ygartua, Master Artist

Paul also painted an amazing Fresco inside the domed ceiling in our offices. Visit this amazing piece of art, at 13245 Comber Way, Surrey B.C. Canada. We would love to meet you and give you a tour!

Paul has been painting for over 50 years, and has a creative spirit like no other. After studying at the Liverpool Art College, Paul decided to emigrate to Canada where his talent quickly became evident at shows and exhibitions. One highlight was the United Nations Pavilion at Expo 86, the international expo held in the port city of Vancouver. The evidence of his talent can be seen first hand when you watch him paint with a fluid, quick stroke, to bring these faces to amazing, large scale life; he is able to work quickly and deliberately in a number of different painting styles.

Paul and his wife Joanne met Keith and Judy Scott at the Pacific National Exhibition in Vancouver. Their friendship was quickly fused through their mutual love of art and architecture. It was shortly after that time that the Scotts commissioned Paul to begin the design and painting of the Beachcomber Mural to celebrate the Millennium in 2000.

Paul and Joanne enjoy the warm summers at their Vancouver home, and travel abroad to Spain and France throughout the latter part of the year. They take on special commissions, attend and exhibit at festivals and shows throughout the region.

“In each work that I am going to begin, I put all my passion, feelings and will, in order to conceive something new and create with my brushes a fantasy capable of stirring the imagination...”
Paul Ygartua
