Do you feel like there's no one you can talk to?

Stress, anxiety, depression and feelings of loss are possible experiences people have as they adjust to and live with a cancer diagnosis ... but why face it alone? Communication and support can help in your journey, and this is why The Eye Cancer Foundation sponsors the NYECC Support Group. Facilitated by Karen Campbell, a Licensed Clinical Social Worker with over 24 years of experience in her field, these sessions provide an opportunity to meet others who share similar experiences with you.
