6-8 adding up the weight slowly while doing one set of each and 5-8 reps (not trying to destroy my muscles w these cuz i need to be MY BEST for my working weight)

A: I have not used these test kits myself but from knowledge of analytical chemistry and information that is available about them, I can give you some further information. These are colorimetric tests, where some rather general chemical reactions occur, such as reactions with conjugated double bonds, which are hardly unique to anabolic steroids ...
