This is the problem of the peaceful revolution.

There is supposed to be an armed fascist organization that slaughters everyone who says this

There was no law that could judge Sadat.
Insisting on something impossible has no meaning,
there was no way to punish and stop his injustice
except through assassination.

It is good to gloat over their deaths
and rejecting their families is the only way to stop many cases.

The issue is not that we left Tahrir square early in January 2011,
but we stopped setting fire to police stations early in January 2011.
