I want you to join us every single Tuesday where you'll get a short, actionable training on how to build wealth from the inside out. You get a little bit of strategy Little bit of mindset, and a hell of a lot of tough love with raw, real, authentic advice on how to navigate this crazy world of entrepreneurship. In today's episode, I'm going to be sharing with you how inspired action and creation can actually make you filthy rich. Yes, I'm talking not just well, but the feeling of richness and the being of the woman and the person that you're going to be when you're able to tap into that creativity that you have, and really take inspired action. You're going to love this episode. This is essentially how I have operated my entire business for the last six years and has been able to help me generate over two and a half million dollars in courses, sales, coaching, all of that great stuff online. So if you're aspiring to make six figures, multiple six figures millions of dollars a year. You want to Definitely tap into the strategies that I'm sharing with you today. So let's go ahead and get started.

All right, welcome to date 29 of wealth from within how inspired action and creation will make you literally rich. So, first things first, I cannot believe that we are almost at 30 days and the fact that you're still here just really shows me a lot about your commitment to yourself and to just really raising the bar and raising those standards. And stepping into that person and stepping into it fast. And I want you to really start embracing and embodying these lessons. I know we've been taking little steps, baby steps with each lesson, and they're building upon each other. But I want you also to take a look back and see just how far you've come. What amazing and awesome realizations you've had so far, and the shifts that you've already made. Remember, we need to have that awareness, we need to collect that evidence, we need to see that this is working. So don't forget to look back at how far you've come and just how far you can go. If you really start to implement this stuff. Don't just listen, don't just do the journaling prompts. I want you to actually start living it I want it to be a way of life. Now. It is time to put the pedal to the metal and that's what today's lesson is all about. It's about taking inspired action and creating from a place of inspiration and also intuition and then taking actual action putting our fears aside and presenting this inspired offering to our audience in a way that makes it super irresistible. I'm sure you're wondering, how do I do that? This is not really about doing any kind of specific strategy or tactic or step by step. But it's really about listening. And it's really about not only listening to ourselves, but also listening to our clients and what our people need and what they're saying, and maybe what they're not saying that we can feel, and that we can hear just because we're tapping in and we're tuned in to our ideal client and the person that we really are here to serve. What I want you to do is, trust your gut, trust yourself and act fast. If you get an idea or inspiration to create a program, maybe it's not even a paid thing. Maybe it's a free thing, free opt in, maybe it's an idea that you get for a live stream, maybe it is a paid offering. Maybe it's a shift in your packages, maybe it's a shift in your rates. I want you to start listening to that and trusting yourself. and trusting that that's coming from somewhere. It's not just there randomly, it's there for a reason. So I want you to start trusting, listening and then acting fast. Here's the deal, guys. Remember, money loves speed. So once we get those inspirations, we need to act fast. Because ideas essentially do have a shelf life. I mean, I don't know about you, but I have so many ideas you throughout the day, and I dumped them at the end of the night, I throughout the day, I'm typing things into my notes in my iPhone, I put the ideas out there. I'm like, Oh, I want to do that. Or I want to do that. Oh, that sounds amazing. And then if I take too long to really act on it, or I look back on it, you know, days later, a week later or something like that. The idea just doesn't really excite me anymore. I don't feel that inspiration for that idea anymore. If you've got something that's amazing. You've got to act on it fast that you know, I really want to address that sometimes we have a lot of ideas. So how do we know which ones to act on? I say I feel the ones that you're most excited about. is on the Ones that you're most inspired to create and act on the ones that are easy and inflow and that are going to be super easy for you to just put together and monetize it. When you're excited when you're excited about an offer or just anything new that you're creating, people feel that right. It's all about energy. And people will get excited to there's a short video that I want you to watch with today's lesson. Some of you may have already seen it. It really is about this idea of creating these inspired offerings. And just going with it this has happened multiple times to me in my business, where I've literally like woken up at maybe two o'clock in the morning and maybe five o'clock in the morning working up in the middle of the night with this idea that I'm like, I need to put this out there. There's nothing holding me back. I need to put it out there. I'm canceling my appointments. I'm changing things around because I need to write an email for this I need to get on Livestream I need to start telling people about this right now. So when you get that I want you to act on it. Even if it's two o'clock in the morning, anything like I want you to And I want you to trust that it's coming from somewhere. I did this most recently with one of my other mindset courses, which was me, which was extremely manifestation experience. And it's something that I kind of was thinking about for a while about starting to teach people how I manifested and things like that. But it never really I never really got the hit for the idea. And then one day, it literally was like a calling. It was like a download that was like you need to start teaching this. You're ready to start teaching this. You've been hinting at it for a while. Now's the time. And so I decided to create it. And I believe it was either Monday or Tuesday. I was like, Okay, I want to do this. I'm going to put it out there. I'm going to create an email. I'm going to send it out. And we're starting on Monday. So it was literally a week. I think it was really like six days that I had to really promote this thing and get it out there within those six days because of my excitement because people could feel my energy what I was creating, and there's also that trust, right because there's just this aura around with What I was creating and how powerful and impactful it was going to be and how excited I was about it, that I ended up getting over 100 actually ended up being 111 people go figure 111 people in six days said absolutely yes to the program. It literally was an idea that I just woke up in the middle of the night and decided to do trust your gut, act fast. And remember, money loves speed. As far as your journaling prompts today, I really want you to think about what inspired action can you take right now? Where are you not listening to yourself? What can you do right now today this week that can start training that muscle? What is an idea or an invention that maybe you thought of? And you didn't take action on but then you saw someone else do it and run with it? I know this happens all the time. It happens to me all the time. I'm like, why did I create that? Why did I jump on that? Why didn't I say that first. So I just want you to get the wheels turning and think about to like how many opportunities you may have lost because You didn't act fast. Maybe you had an idea for an opt in, or a masterclass or program and you didn't act fast enough. And then literally that day, or maybe a couple weeks later or a month later, you saw someone doing this same exact thing. But they took the inspired action, and they made it happen. Now, here's the biggie, I want you to think of an offer that you can put together and put out to your audience this week. Obviously, if you have something else going on in your business, and you're doing a launch or promotion, and you can't do it, then do it next week. Really, if you are not in the middle of a launch, I want you to tap in. And I want you to think of an offer that you can put together to your audience. Maybe it's something that you've been sitting on for a while and you just maybe have some fears around it or you're not sure if it's the right thing. I want you to really tap in and find that inspiration. Find that thing that your audience needs right now. And create and put that offer out. You don't need a sales page. You don't need any fancy launch process. Our Facebook ads, the excitement that you have and the energy that you have when you put this thing out there is going to speak for itself. The last question, it really is really what are some of the things that end up holding you back from putting the pedal to the metal? Essentially what this is, is awareness and truth. We've talked about awareness a million times in this course already, and we're only on day 29. But having that awareness around what could possibly stop me, you know, is it going to be maybe I don't want to be rejected, maybe I don't want people to think it's stupid. Maybe it needs to be perfect. Be honest with yourself and have some truth here about what are some of the things that either could hold you back from putting this offer out, or have held you back from really putting the pedal to the metal and acting on that inspiration. That is it for today's lesson how inspired action and creation will make you rich now I can't wait to see what you guys come up with and how you can just tap in and use that. use that to your advantage and use it not only for yourself but also to serve others Alright, so that wraps it up for today's show on how inspired action and creation can literally make you rich. Now speaking of inspired offerings, I invite you to check out met familiar, it was just a few weeks ago that I can see this epic experience. For those of you who don't know or haven't heard, that came to me as a divine download. And at first I really didn't know what it would be, but I knew it was going to be something great. I took the idea I ran with it almost immediately. And as soon as I took action, the right things fell into place for me to make this a reality. By the way, I'm going to be diving deeper into how to take ideas and go from literally an idea to impact to cash in this program. So men familiar is a powerful and energetic marketing mindset and manifesting experience to show up more confidently create more wealth and attract the success you desire. I invite you to work with me for six weeks to embody your next level income, power, visibility, impact, and start making the money you know you deserve. This is not program that's just about mindset. And it's not just about marketing. It's a powerful combination of both plus so much more.
