Fun In The Sun At The Training Field's Fall Flea Market

THE FRIENDS OF THE TRAINING FIELD were blessed with a not-too-hot, not-too-cold Saturday on Oct. 3 as they sponsored their annual Fall Flea Market, featuring tables with giftware, crafts and, of course, the white elephant specials. Freedom Trail walkers joined the locals for a fun event. At the left, Charlestown resident Allan Kueny relaxes from the flea market hubbub as he takes the "pause that refreshes" and tries out an antique chair before it is sold . . . On the top right is Sophie Sachor who is in the city as a student and intern from her homeland of Switzerland . . . At the bottom right is Lizette Jaco, community coordinator from the MGH HealthCare Center who utilized a table at the fair to make WIC information available to the attendees. (photos by Anja K. Parcel P-2 Takes Center Stage At Development Committee Meeting

On Oct. 1, the Charlestown Neighborhood Council (CNC) Development Committee took its first step in the process that will bring Parcel P-2, located at the intersection of Bunker Hill and Main streets, from a 64,000-square-foot lot of land to moderate-income and market-rate homes at the gateway to Charlestown.

Tom Cunha, who chairs the Development Committee, made it clear at the outset that he has more than a casual interest in the land as his home is directly across Bunker Hill Street from the parcel. Development Committee members present for the meeting, that saw more than 100 people in the upper hall of the K. of C., included Bill McCabe, Edna Kelly, Jim Conway, Peg Bradley, Peter Looney and Don Haska. Also present were CNC members Tony Troiano, Kate McDonough and Marty O'Brien.

Cunha told the gathering that the Boston Redevelopment Authority (BRA) has some schemes illustrating what could be built on that site, adding that the residents will be asked to give input as to what will become the Request For Proposal (RFP) which will be then offered to potential developers by the BRA.

Cunha added that not everyone in the room will be happy with the RFP, but the process won't end with the CNC vote. There will be opportunities to address concerns before the Zoning Board of Appeal as well as the BRA Board as the process continues. He stated that it is his hope that the end result of the process will be something the community wants for this site.

Cunha introduced Tom O'Malley, BRA project director, who, in turn introduced Paul Santana, financial analyst for the Department of Neighborhood Development (DND), along

Father Dan Mahoney To Celebrate Catholic Television Mass

Father Daniel Mahoney, chief chaplain of the Boston Fire Department, will celebrate Boston Catholic Television's Mass on Sunday, Oct. 11 at 7:30 a.m. on WHDH-TV, channel 7, to close out Fire Prevention Week in the city of Boston.

Members of the Boston Fire Department's St. Florian Society will join Father Mahoney in the celebration of the Eucharist. Firefighters from Firefighters Local 718 will serve the Mass, perform the scripture readings and act as cross bearers and acolytes.

According to Father Mahoney, "The Boston Fire Department is the only department in the country to have a live TV Mass. They are honored to have such a privilege and consider it a blessing for their profession." The St.Florian Society is a group within the fire department that provides faith service to fellow firefighters and their families for ceremonies like funerals.

As a Boston Fire Department chaplain for 34 years and the chief chaplain for the department since 1991, Father Mahoney provides family counseling, visits sick and retired firefighters, and attends wakes and funerals for firefighters and their families. He said, "The least part of my job is going to the fires."

FATHER DANIEL J. MAHONEY

In addition to his duties as chief chaplain, Father Mahoney is the pastor of St. Francis de Sales, the oldest church in Charlestown. He has seen many changes in Charlestown during his tenure, through the busing crises of the 1970s to the present-day housing boom with an influx of professionals moving to the neighborhood.

Father Mahoney is no stranger to television, as he had a part in an episode of "Spencer for Hire" and was consulted during the making of "Blown Away" which were both filmed in Charlestown.

He emphasized the importance of the televised Mass as he said, "The more people that see the Mass, the better off we all are."

The Sunday Mass is aired weekly from channel 7's studios in conjunction with Boston Catholic Television (BCTV). An estimated three million viewers watch the program each Sunday. It is the longest running continuous live program in history, airing every Sunday since Jan.1, 1955.

BCTV is a viewer-funded cable television station directed by Monsignor Frank McFarland. Said Monsignor McFarland about the TV Mass, "It is a cause of unity for Catholics in the New England area. It reminds them they are not alone, they belong somewhere. They feel less alienated."

Monsignor McFarland continued, "Beside the senior citizens who write and support the Boston Catholic Television Center, there are many who are confined in prisons and half-way houses. They watch the Mass and gain consolation, hope and encouragement."

TIPS FOR FINDING GREAT TENANTS

When you buy an investment property, finding and keeping good tenants is very important. We've found that a little caution during the screening process can save a lot of headaches later on.

Many property owners rely on an intuitive sense of how a prospect feels to them. While this is an important aspect of a landlord's decision-making process, following up intuition with some fact checking is also definitely worthwhile. Have prospective tenants fill out an application giving employment references and the names and addresses of previous landlords. The application should also include written permission for you to run a credit

In most areas, it is difficult and expensive to evict someone who turns out to be less than a model tenant. Only after you check their references and credit history should you make a commitment to allow them to move in. To keep good tenants, many successful investors charge slightly lower than market rents. They make it up in very low vacancy rates.

'Edward Everett' The Other Speaker At Gettysburg' At The Charlestown Branch Library

Acclaimed Dorchester actor and historian, Jim Cooke, will present his portrayal of Edward Everett, illustrious 19th century statesman, famed orator and former Charlestown resident, on Thursday evening, Oct. 22, at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. The library is wheelchair accessible.

Edward Everett was born in Dorchester in 1794, the son of a clergyman. A man of many parts, Everett had a distinguished academic record as student and professor at Harvard College before launching his public career as U.S. Congressman from the Middlesex District which included Charlestown.

Other offices followed, including Governor of Massachusetts. Ambassador to Great Britain, U.S. Secretary of State, President of Harvard College, U.S. Senator and Vice Presidential candidate.

JAMES COOKE as "Edward Everett'

Edward Everett lived in Charlestown from 1830 to 1837 while Congressman and, later, Governor. His house at 16 Harvard St. still stands, a designated Boston

Landmark. He was active in civic affairs: a speaker in the town's Lyceum lecture series, organizer of a charitable relief effort, and instigator of a fund drive among Harvard alumni that resulted in the John Harvard memorial in the Phipps Street Burying Ground.

Renowned for his oratory, Edward Everett was asked, in 1863, to be the dedication speaker at the Gettysburg national cemetery. His two-hour speech was enthusiastically received by the crowd who were then stunned by the briefness of President Abraham Lincoln's three minute address which followed. History was the final arbiter of which was the more memorable (and memorizable).

Jim Cooke is a noted performer of solo historic roles whose repertoire also includes Daniel Webster and Calvin Coolidge. The program, sponsored by The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library, will begin at 7.30 p.m. and be followed by a reception.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

Friends Of The Library Celebrate Opening Of New Garden

Bathed in the glow of sunset at the end of a perfect Indian summer day, the community joined The Friends of the Charlestown Branch Library at a recent garden party in celebration of the completion of the new garden behind the library.

Amid pleasant conversation and the lilting strains of an Irish harp, beautifully played by concert harpist Mairead Loughnane Doherty, the celebrants enjoyed food and drink, highlighted by baskets of focaccia contributed by Biga Bread. The refreshment table was decorated with candles and a floral display provided by Bunker Hill Florist.

The garden is the result of a Friends vision going back many years and brought to reality by their hard work and monetary contributions. The garden was dedicated in a ceremony designed by former Friends board member Christina Wilhelm, who consults on rites and ceremonies as a vocation.

Friends President Carl Zellner, assisted by Wilhelm, led off the ceremony by dedicating the garden to "all Friends members, past, present and future, in honor of their support of the community's library." Accordingly, the garden was named the Friendship Garden. A paving stone so inscribed was unveiled by Friends Landscape Chair Georgette Maloof and garden designer and paver, David Hawk, landscape architect. Branch Librarian Maureen Marx accepted the garden on behalf of the library and thanked the Friends for their gift. Wilhelm then spoke a blessing of the garden.

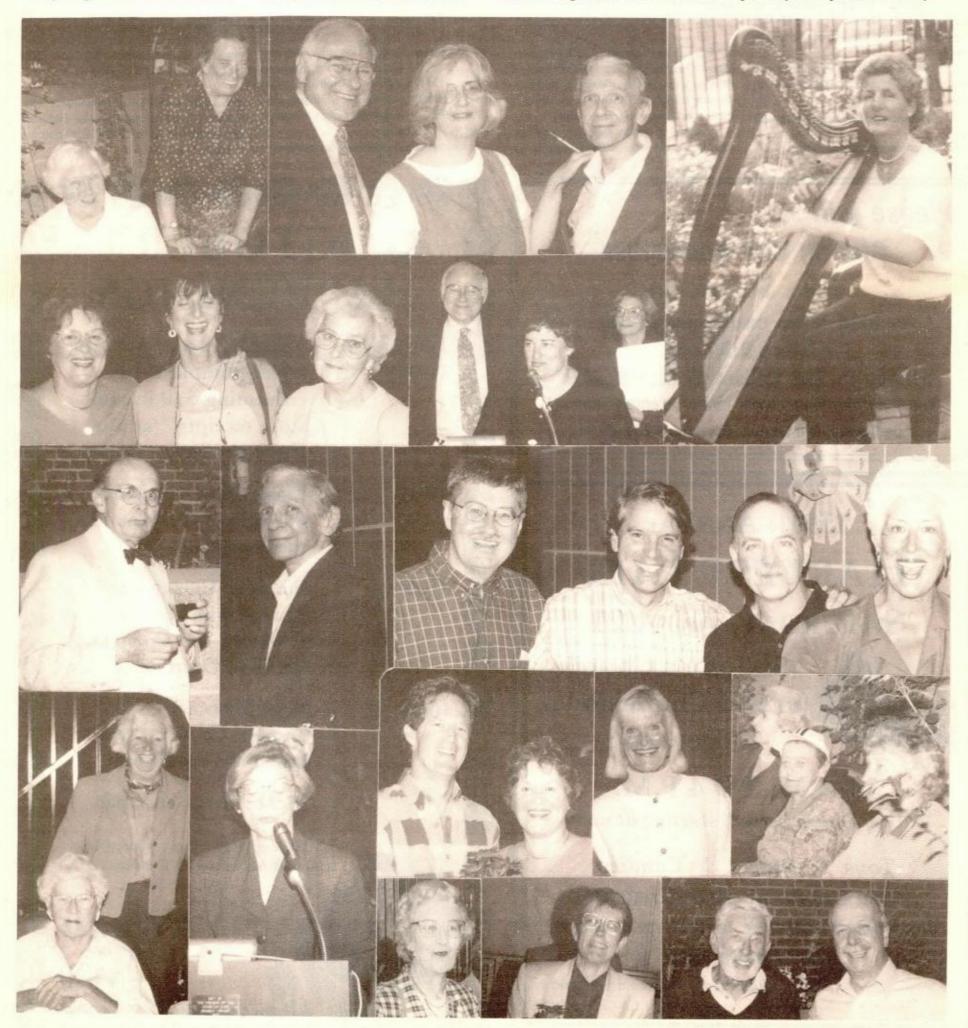

Next, Mary Jo Campbell, a niece of former Branch Librarian Mary K. Harris who founded the Friends during her tenure in 1953, was introduced. Campbell, herself a BPL Branch Librarian, spoke of Harris' love of Charlestown, its people and its library and the vision that brought about the Friends. Harris is retired and living in Florida. Her interest in the Friends continues unabated and she receives all their mailings. Campbell was asked to unveil a paving stone, inscribed in honor of Mary K. Harris, librarian and Friends founder.

Friends Board member Kathryn Downing then spoke at length of the manifold contributions to the community made by Oren McCleary over many years. His good works have included leadership of many community organizations, including the Friends of the Library, archival work, support of the arts, historical film-making, gardening, fund raising, and community activism for historic preservation. He has played a leadership role in the development of three community gardens, the Community Garden, the Rev. Walcott Cutler Wildflower Garden and, most recently, the Sprouts Garden for youngsters. In recognition of his community spirited accomplishments, a third paving stone was unveiled by Downing that bears the inscription, "In Honor of Oren McCleary, Friend and Gardener." McCleary was present to receive his accolades and acknowledged them in a brief speech of apprecia-

Zellner then revealed a new enhancement of the garden, a bird bath of Irish limestone carved by an Irish sculptor, the gift of Heather O'Loughlin and John Russell as a tribute to their grandmothers, and so inscribed on the base. The bird bath was selected from a collection imported by Robert Spencer of Minerva Design who carried out its installation. Marx did the unveiling as Zellner expressed the Friends' gratitude to the donors for this remarkable addition to the garden.

At this point, Maloof and Hawk were reintroduced and lauded for their leadership in bringing the garden into being; Maloof for the selection, planting and TLC of the shrubs and flowers; Hawk for the garden's overall design and his hard work in the laying of the brick paving. Gifts were given to both as tokens of the Friends' appreciation; a "gardening angel" pin to Maloof and a book of poems on gardens to Hawk.

The ceremony was brought to a fitting close by Wilhelm's reading of Kahlil Gibran's reflections on "beauty," accompanied by the harp music of Doherty.

tive, Ed McKinnon, were honored along with linebacker Jake Picard. These guys led a solid defensive attack that kept the Townies in most of the games.

On the other side of the ball, wide receiver Orlando Soto was voted an All-Star for the second time in three years, as was the man who gets him the ball, Quarterback Mike Mareno. Rounding out the offensive awards was long-time guard Jack Coneeney.

Townie players also received some special recognition. After retiring to the coaching staff in 1997, Fran McCarthy centered the line this season without missing a down, a job worthy of the league's Comeback Player of the Year Award. Defensive lineman Rich Grecco was named the Defensive Rookie of the Year for his dominating play at tackle.

These awards are evidence of the Townies formula for breaking out of the cellar this year. Traditionally, the Townies have been the youngest team in the league which was sometimes evident in their inexperienced play. However, this season a number of veterans came back to assume some much-needed leadership roles and the result was the league's most improved record.

The past season is only a small sample of things to come for the Townies Football organization. The Townies appreciate all the support they have received all season.

Anyone looking for directions to Sunday evenings clash can call the Townie Hotline at 886-0166.

"Let us assist you in your business and tax planning"

by Nicholas C. Pino Counsellor to Small Businesses

KEEPING YOUR BUSINESS ALL IN THE FAMILY

In addition to the unified credit, which exempts $625,000 of an estate from taxes, owners of family businesses may be able to take advantage of a new exclusion to shield even more of their estate from taxation. The total amount of the business that can be excluded is $1.3 million, minus the amount of the regular unified credit used. For example, if an individual dies in 1998 and has used the full allowable unified credit of $625,000, the amount of that individual's family-owned business exclusion would be reduced to $675,000 ($1.3 million minus $625.00).

To qualify for the family-owned business exclusion, the following requirements must be met:

- You or members of your family must own at least 50% of the business. If two families are involved, the two families must own 70% of the business, and your family must own at least 30% of the business. If three families own the business, the three families must own 90% of the business, and your family must own at least 30% of the business.
- The value of the business must exceed 50% of your total estate.
- You or members of your family must have materially participated in the business for at least five of the last eight years before your death.

In addition, at least one qualified heir or family member must materially participate in the business for any five years in an eight-year period during the 10 years after your death. If your heirs do not fulfill the material participation requirement after your death, the estate tax savings are subject to recapture.

For assistance with your business and personal estate tax planning, call our office.

Parcel P-2 Takes Center Stage At Development Committee Meeting

O'Malley said one- and two-family home ownership was being looked at with a mix of market-value and moderate-income homes. He said moderate income homes would have a sale price of $165,000 and the income guidelines would be $55,000 for a family of four. He added that he would like to-see 30 percent of the site at moderate rate, stating that it would be a developmental challenge to create first-class quality housing. He gave a price of $275,000 as an example for a market-rate unit

O'Malley went on to say that the proposal would offer no exterior differences on the market- and moderaterate housing. The variations would be with the interior finishes and amenities. He said that his aim is for developer selection by early spring 1999.

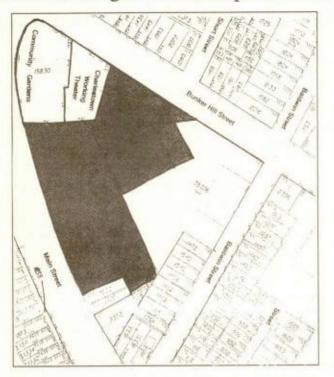

In looking at the site, O'Malley pointed out that the Charlestown Working Theater and the Community Gardens have been deeded their respective parts of the parcel and that will remain permanently.

The mention by O'Malley that two streets, Charles Street and Charles Street Place, formerly public ways, are now considered private ways created an uproar. Some residents were concerned that this would "landlock" their Main and Baldwin street properties, many of which have parking in their rear vards. Concerns were also raised that private ways would limit parking by narrowing the streets and hinder public safety vehicle and area utility access.

Cunha questioned treatment of the streets, including snow plowing, cleaning and trash removal. O'Malley said this could be addressed in the RFP. Cunha added that if the streets were private, a tenants association would have to be mandated in the RFP.

A question was raised as to the cost of the land to the developer. O'Mallev said that land for affordable units would cost zero, while land for market-rate housing would be at market rate.

A Baldwin Street resident questioned whether there would be access for the disabled. O'Malley told her that the ADA guidelines must be complied with and the number of accessible units is based on the total.

Numerous concerns were expressed on the density of housing on the parcel, with one resident saying the schemes made the area "feel like the city." Many neighbors asked that the small triangle adjacent to the theater be left open for a park and a place where the neighborhood and theater children could go. It was also noted that the 30-foot trees that separate the back yards of Baldwin Street and the pared that it would be prohibitive on this site. He did note that a creative developer might come up with a plan for parking under the house at first-floor level. Cunha added that the 17 community meetings on zoning resulted in more parking per new unit in Charlestown than what is required by the city. A Baldwin Street resident parking, O'Malley respond-asked that units of 21- or 22feet be considered, rather the 18-foot width of the Main Street Townhouses. He added that this would decrease the number of units and thus the number of people looking for parking.

O'Malley explained the deed restriction from the BRA that comes with an affordable unit. The restriction keeps the unit affordable for 30 years, allowing a 5

As the meeting drew to an end, Cunha was asked to list some issues that the BRA should address in the RFP. They included: assurances that there would be no landlocked properties; an opportunity to address the number of units, starting with 24 and working down; parking; open space; public access; assurances that the developer will keep his/her word on plans; retain trees at back of parcel; how to set affordability; and how to address the public vs. private streets on the parcel.

Cunha called the parcel a "big gap," noting that "it needs to be a neighborhood."

A draft RFP is scheduled to be made available at the next committee meeting, set for 7 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 15 at Bishop Lawton Hall. St. Francis de Sales Church, 313 Bunker Hill St.

BOB D'S BEAT BY BOB DECRISTOFORO

- Sound the Alarm . . . This week is Fire Prevention Week and, while we realize that fire prevention and safety is a 365day-a-year assignment, this is the week that it is stressed in an official way. When we were in school, this week was a special time. As we've "grown," maybe this week has lost some of its importance. It shouldn't. As co-chair of the North End Public Safety Committee, fire prevention and safety is the theme we are pushing for the entire month of October. Here are a few timely reminders:
 - Test your smoke detectors
 - Call 911 in case of an emergency
 - Don't play with lighters and matches
 - Crawl low under smoke
 - Plan two ways out of every room
 - If your clothes catch on fire, stop, drop and roll
 - Don't fool around in a fire drill
 - Don't block fire hydrants

It's also important, especially this month, to offer a special "Thanks and Salute" to the men and women, who serve on the fire department. You are special people and, too often, but not intentionally, we forget to let you know how much we appreciate what you do 24 hours a day every day of the year. We know you are there, and we do appreciate you. God bless all our firefighters!

Minter is Here . . . Get out the boots. Turn up the heat. Pull out a couple of extra blankets. Find some good books. Winter is here! It arrived around 7:37 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 3, 1998. The Red Sox were defeated 2-1 by Cleveland in the American League Divisional Series abruptly ending a magnificent baseball season. When the baseball season ends in Boston, winter is here.

Working at Fenway Park for 31 seasons is an unbelievable, almost unreal experience. On Saturday, I left the old, very old, ballyard very disappointed. I really thought this would be the year, and once again it wasn't. After a good while, my discouragement became encouragement, thanks to a young man we all now as Nomar. I thought about what he did, how after the loss, he returned to the field to greet and thank all his teammates, but he also turned and applauded the Fenway Fans for "believing in us all year." In his postgame interview, Nomar said that "after playing 165 games, we still want to keep playing." We, too, want to keep going. The next game is at Kansas City on April 5, 1999, and summer will return again.

College Board . . . Northeastern hit the road on the weekend and hit it hard, falling to Delaware 27-20. In Bridgewater, the Bears moved to 2-2, clobbering Framingham 57-26, and out in North Andover, Merrimack was clobbered by AIC 59-7.

Plymouth State, hello Tim Warren, stayed perfect, defeating Western Connecticut 19-9. The Panthers are now 4-0, and Curry College, hello Greg McNeil, picked up its second win of the season stopping MIT 28-7.

If you are looking for something to do tonight, Boston College will be hosting Virginia Tech at 8 p.m.

Proline . . . With the opening of the NHL season, some of our college board "stars" have graduated - Boston College's Marty Reasoner seems to have won a spot with the St. Louis Blues, and he will be in town on Saturday, Oct. 10, when the Blues take on the Bruins in the season opener.

Boston University's Hobey Baker winner Chris Drury should be in the Colorado Avalanche lineup, and BU teammate Tom Poti will be playing for Edmonton.

- CYO Track . . . The annual CYO Track and Field Day returns to St. John's Seminary grounds on Monday, Oct. 12. The Columbus Day event brings hundreds of youngsters together, including St. Catherine's, from all around the Archdiocese. Father Ron Coyne is the director of this
- High School Prep Notebook . . . Danny Ryan is coaching football at Buckingham, Browne and Nichols, and Rob McIntosh is coaching over at Brookline High.

Cedric Warren kept his word, scoring two touchdowns to help Charlestown whip Brighton, 26-0. Tony Hobbs also had a pair for the reinvigorated Townies. Sean Goode got his first points of the year, and QB Freddy Arroyo had a TD

Boston English picked up its second straight win, downing Burke 20-0. John Rice had two touchdowns for the Bulldogs. East Boston socked Latin Academy 48-6. The undefeated Jets got touchdowns from six different players -Wendy Moise, Steve Ashman, Rick DeMers, Tom DeFreitas, and Wayne Harris. South Boston also remains undefeated, tipping Dorchester 35-0. Billy Finklea had three touchdowns, but even more impressive is the fact that Southie has not given up a point in all three wins.

Newton South defeated Madison Park 14-6 in a nonleague game. Jimmy Holder had the touchdown for Madison. West Roxbury rolled over O'Bryant 26-8. Furlance Bascombe was the hero for Westie.

Boston Latin and Wayland locked to a 21-21 tie. Steve Barry scored one touchdown and threw another for Latin. The Wolf Pack is 2-0-1.

Duxbury belted Catholic Memorial 40-7 and BC High made it two in a row defeating Rutland, Vermont 14-7. Rob Patchett had both Eagle touchdowns. Xaverian halted Malden Catholic 41-6. Everett hammered Somerville 46-6.

Austin Prep stung Arlington Catholic 26-7. Steve Grillo had three touchdowns leading Savio Prep past Cathedral 27-14. Hull shut out Matignon 6-0. Lowell Catholic shut out St. Clement 6-0, and Kamula Ellis and Jim Rabideau led the offense as Pope John stopped Georgetown 34-6.

Education Plus... October and November have become the traditional "open search" months for those who will be going on to their next level of education in the fall of 1999. With this in mind, schools now hold their annual Open Houses, and Information Nights. As I receive this information I will pass it on. As you know, education is one of the comerstones of "Bob D's Beat".

On Sunday, Nov. 1, Newton Country Day, a Sacred Heart School - grades 5-12 for girls, invites you and your daughter to its annual Open House from 1-3 p.m.

Did you know that Charlestown High School can nominate as many as 10 students to participate in the Simmons College Upward Bound Program? The Math-Science program at Simmons College is a federally funded enrichment program established to help first-generation college-bound or low-income high school students. The primary goal of the program is to have students enter and succeed in higher education in the field of science or math. Charlestown High School students in grades 9 through 11 are eligible.

POP WARNER CORNER

The longest road trip of the year down Route 95 to Norwood was a successful one, once again, as the locals returned home with three big wins and two tough loses. As the second half of the season begins this Sunday in Braintree, the program at the halfway point has an impressive overall record of 14 wins and 6 losses. The "B-Team" and "D-Team" remain undefeated and in first place, while the "A-Team" is battling for first place in the Bay State League. The "C-Team" at a solid 2-2 remains in play-off contention. The "E-Team" continues its improvement each week and, with the many solid football players that Bobby Allen and crew continue to produce, this gives the program a solid foundation for many years to come.

Each week there are lessons to be learned and the "D-Team" learned the biggest lesson of the year. Without the services of the injured Joey Burke, the team seemed as flat as wall paint and appeared to overlook winless Dedham. It took a Joel "Shorty" Castillo 10-yard jaunt in overtime to put away Dedham, in an exciting 26-20 victory to improve to 4-0. Neil Gillis ran for well over 100 yards on the day to set up Matty Dyer and Ryan Allen for the Townie scores. Corey Ferreira, Steve Fleures and Tommy Gomperts played tough for the Townies in the thriller of the day. A word to the wise, take one game at a time as each game is the most important of the year.

The "B-Team" improved to 4-0 as they overpowered Norwood on both sides of the ball to record a 26-6 victory. Bucky Jones "took it to the house" twice on the day with assists from Jimmy Murphy who opened many a hole through the Dedham defense. John Allen and Steven Awbrey both hit pay dirt and Chris D'Anjou was instrumental in directing the Townie offense. Give credit to Paul Collins and Nevin Lonergan who do the job week in and week out in the trenches and give the offense the push to move the opposing defense off the ball.

The "E-Team" parents deserve the most credit as they were up before the sun even rose over the Tobin Bridge. I am also of the opinion that no game should start at 7:30 a.m. and President Jack Schievink voted nay to this early start at the league's annual meeting. With all said and done, the E-Team performed admirably as they ended up on the short end of a 12-0 battle. Matt

Michael Yandle

Derek O'Brien

Whelan, Jon Harrington, Jonathan Doe and Kevin Black shook off the early morning doldrums to play exceptionally well in this early bird special. The team was without the services of injured Michael Woods who will be out for a few weeks and his reckless style of hitting the holes was missed on offense.

With a 2-2 record at the midway point of the season, the "C-Team" is still in the running and knocking on the play-off door as they enter the second half of the season. The efforts of Steven Byrnes and Derek "The Crusher" Matarazzo were just not enough as Dedham prevailed 28-0. It's back to the drawing board for Coach Larry Getchell as he hopes the improved play of Byrnes and Matarazzo, who was a force when inserted as middle linebacker, and the play of his existing staff will get them over the hump next week in Braintree. John Woods, Chris Dacey, P.J. Arroyo and Brent Getchell shined for the Townies and give the team hope that they will turn it around.

Brian McCrary rumbled in for the only score of the day and Kevin O'Neil converted the extra point as the "A-Team" shut down Dedham 7-6. Dedham led early on 6-0, but the efforts of Ryan Getchell, who was a force on defense, led the Townies with an interception and numerous tackles on the day to keep the score intact until the Townie offense got untracked. The A-Team improved to 3-1 on the year as they continue their drive to the play-offs.

Thanks again to all the parents who drove to Norwood to support the teams, especially the E-Team parents who provided rides for those who needed them. Next week, it's off to Braintree for all the teams except the E-Team, who will play Brookline in a controlled scrimmage in Charlestown. Brookline was forced to drop out of the league, as they could not field the minimum four-team requirement, though they have been allowed to scrimmage teams until they are able to field the league minimum.

It was a great job once again by all our cheerleaders!

Tickets are available down at the football field for Motown Night at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 75 West School St. at 7:30 p.m. on Friday evening, Oct. 16. We hope all parents and friends support our first fund raiser since Dicky McManus and the Irish Revolution left town for greener pastures.

Objection To Parcel P-2

All affected parties:

I protest the inaction of the city (BRA) to provide adequate police and fire protection to my neighborhood by abandoning Charles Street and Charles Street Place.

The BRA simply decided to erase a street and an easement from their maps so they can walk away from a civic duty to its taxpayers to provide protection. The back side of the even-numbered section between Baldwin Street and Main Street will become a private venue if the BRA continues with the proposal process, simply signing away property now under its jurisdiction.

Charles Street was always a street, people lived there. If a private entity takes control of this property, maximized density driven by maximized profits will drive scenarios similar to those displayed at the meeting.

The examples shown used a FAR (floor area ratio) of land to square foot of living space equation. This formula is used to determine the maximum amount of housing which can be legally crammed into this parcel. There is no housing shortage here in Charlestown. The idea of maximizing density in such a confined area is not driven by need, but by greed and the disinterest of the city to supply what it has already taxed the current residents of that area for, safety and a good quality of life.

Privatization of such a large area places the responsibility of such things as snow and trash removal, water and sewer, street lighting, electric and cable TV, into the hands of an association. Local government and taxes were put in place to assure these things would be taken care of in a quality way. The public should not have to worry about a neighboring association having economic problems affecting others. A privatized development this size is nothing more than a housing development without the financial support of the federal government.

Charles Street should be enlarged to accommodate police and fire apparatus and dual-sided parking, parking which will be used up by the new properties slated for minimal parking spaces. Charles Street Place was always an easement to the rear of properties located on Baldwin Street. This street should be updated from a private way to regular street with one-sided parking.

Charles Street Place turns left from Charles Street onto Main Street, allowing three access routes in and out of the 65,000-foot area by police, fire and local residents. An area this large, left inaccessible, will become a haven for crime, including dumpster fires created by difficulty of vehicle access.

The BRA should offer the current residents of Baldwin Street abutting Charles Street Place (even side between Bunker and Main) the option of curb cuts along the rears of theses houses if they desire to create driveways to their properties. This constitutes a proactive approach to resolving current and potential parking difficulty if this project is built, Lighting similar to that of Baldwin Street (gaslights) should be added to these streets to keep with the current charm of the area.

This parcel is the north-sided entry to our town, not the exit! This parcel should welcome visitors and guests to Charlestown. Replacing the streets to a workable pass-way is the responsibility of the city. Safety of the current residents and abutters, who recently received a large tax hike, is the responsibility of the city. Preserving the stability of the look of the area, lighting, esthetics, etc. is the responsibility of the city. The BRA cannot be allowed to erase these two streets in order to transfer a parcel of property to the private sector that has nothing but profit as a driving force. Local government has a responsibility, not an EXCUSE! Replace the streets and lower the density.

Sincerely, Neil McLaughlin Baldwin Street Resident -

(The odd side of the street, not the side I proposed driveways for!)

Charlestown Committee Seeks To Help Irish Youngster

This is James Dillon, son of John and Annette Dillon of Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland. James is 4 years old and has two older sisters.

James is autistic which leaves him out of contact with the world around him. Autistic children withdraw into a lonely world of their own and have serious communication and behavioral problems.

James has yet to say a child's first words - "Da" or "Mummy."

Boston Higashi School helps children like James conquer the obstacles they encounter along the road toward social independence and his family feels that this is James only hope of achieving some degree of independence and dignity. The cost per year is 55,000 Irish Punt, which is approximately $82,000, he will need to spend three years maximum in this residential school in Boston.

Family and friends are rallying to help send James to Boston and major fund raising is now under way in Charlestown, County Mayo, Ireland.

NOW, we have a chance to help a Townie. If everyone in Charlestown, Massachusetts gave just a dollar we could

There will never be an uncle, like our Uncle Tom, Whose friendly smile kept us warm. He'd take us everywhere throughout the Hub, With a sense of humor all of us loved. From Fenway to the Garden, all of us went. To circuses and ball games, just to name some events. Tom knew many people wherever we'd go, From the "Bullgang Crew" to the great DiMaggio. One lucky nephew, my brother Paul, Met Joltin' Joe when Joe passed him two balls! It's been fifteen years since God called Tom home, Yet his memory remains fast and strong. He had a grip like a lobster, a heart filled with gold, We became richer people as part of his fold. He's up there with Nana, Patsy and Pipes, Buster and Hannah, all with Jesus Christ.

Face painting takes place upstairs both days from 1 to 4 p.m., and storytelling will be at 1, 2 and 3 p.m.

Tickets for the Haunted House are $4 and include face painting and storytelling. Tickets for face painting and storytelling alone are $2. Come join us for frights and fun!

Since 1981, in a small village named Medjugorje in Bosnia-Herzegovina, The Blessed Virgin Mary has been appearing and giving messages to the world. She tells us that God has sent her to our world and these years she is spending with us are a time of Grace granted by God. On the 25th of each month she sends her message.

MESSAGE OF SEPTEMBER 25, 1998

"Dear children!

Today, I call you to become my witnesses by living the faith of your fathers. Little children, you seek signs and messages and do not see that with every morning sunrise, God calls you to convert and to return to the way of truth and salvation. You speak much, little children, but you work little on your conversion. That is why, convert and start to live my messages, not with your words but with your life. In this way, little children, you will have the strength to decide for the true conversion of the heart. Thank you for having responded to my call."

'Caribbean For Kids' Concert

The group "Caribbean For Kids" will perform a multi-cultural repertoire of songs to a Caribbean beat, plus familiar and traditional Caribbean tunes, during a children's concert at the Charlestown Branch Library, 179 Main St. today, Thursday afternoon, Oct. 8.

They will also demonstrate a limbo dance with some audience participation, as well as a call and response rhythm challenge. Children of all ages and their families are cordially invited to attend.

The 4 p.m. concert is a Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) program and is cosponsored, in part, by a grant from the Massachusetts Biomedical Corporation and the RIF Project. Each child who attends will receive two free books.

Attention all Boston Water and Sewer Commission Customers

The Central A: tery/Tunnel Project has closed the bridge located on Summer Street between the South Boston Haul Road and D Street to make way for construction of the Massachusetts Turnpike (I-90) extension through this area. The bridge will be dismantled and another built in its place. However, construction is estimated to last two years.

As a result, vehicular and pedestrian traffic traveling up Summer Street from the South Station area towards the Boston Water and Sewer Commission (BWSC) will be redirected, increasing travel distance from South Station to BWSC.

New directions to the Boston Water and Sewer Commission's 425 Summer Street facility are as follows:

Vehicular: Vehicles traveling up Summer Street from the South Station area will be diverted off Summer Street to Congress Street before the closed bridge (bearing to the left). Drivers will travel along Congress Street, past the World Trade Center to D Street. Drivers will take a right onto D Street and then a left to reconnect with Summer Street. BWSC is located on the corner of D and Summer Streets at number 425.

Pedestrian: Pedestrians walking from South Station may travel the same route as vehicles, remaining to the right hand side of the new road configuration. A wide, well-lit sidewalk will be installed for the safety of all pedestrians.

Bill Payment: We apologize for any inconvenience this construction may cause.

Any questions regarding the detour to BWSC may be directed to BWSC Community Relations

Department at 330-9400. Please check your bill for the nearest BWSC payment locations.

For more information on the Central Artery/Tunnel Project, please visit the project's website at www.bigdig.com. The project's TDD phone number is 426-3085.
